

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., DEC. 27, 1907.

The Duty of the Hour.

As the date approaches when the Acadia second forward movement must be completed those having the matter in hand are naturally filled with apprehension. The raising of the $100,000 within the prescribed time means very much to Acadia—more, perhaps, than many of the friends of the university realize. It not only means that for every dollar the fund is short at the end of the year the college loses a dollar from Mr. Rockefeller's gift, but the condition upon which Mr. Carnegie has promised $50,000 for a new science building is that the full amount of $100,000 shall be in the hands of the college authorities by the end of the year—thus enabling them to take advantage of Mr. Rockefeller's offer in full. Failure, then, means a serious loss to the college and its friends are therefore putting forth strenuous efforts to have the matter fully closed within the next few days.

The successful outcome of this project also means much to Wolfville and its citizens. Success means the spending of $100,000 here next year in the new building, and a widening of the college influence, increased attendance of students—and hence increased business to merchants and others. What is the college worth to Wolfville? A conservative estimate has placed the total expenditure of money at $50,000 per annum, and this is only one of the advantages which we reap because of the college being located in our town. It is quite possible that few of our people ever stop to consider this matter, but we feel sure a little thought will convince any person as to the importance of the college as a factor in the growth and prosperity of our town, and the desirability of its continued extension and development.

What then should be the attitude of our people towards the present crisis? Every day we read of towns offering large bonuses to induce industrial institutions to locate within their borders. Wolfville has not been without experience of this kind, as special privilege have from time to time been granted desirable concerns to induce them to make our town their home. This is regarded good business and thus large industries have been built up and communities have prospered. Does it not then become apparent that any assistance which can be given by our town or its citizens at this time will be well invested and well worth while?

We do not know how our people in the past have responded to the canvas made in the interest of the Acadia second forward movement, but presume they have not been niggardly in their gifts—in fact we know of some very generous contributions having been made. If there are any however, who have not as yet contributed what they properly should to this project, we trust they will give the matter due consideration and so far as they are able assist in this final effort to reach the point aimed at. The time is short, and whatever is done must be done within a very few days.

The Dominion Railway Commission is making enquiries into the rates charged by the express companies of Canada. It is certainly about time that this leech was taken in hand as the rates charged are away and beyond all reason. Why, people from the Old Country wonder at the long suffering of the people of Canada in this respect. The Commission should deal in no half-hearted manner with this monopoly. The whole business now done by the Express Company should be handed over to the Post Office Department to be run by them as the Parcel Post as in England, and the public will benefit by at least a reduction of half what is now paid.

Rev. C. W. Stark, pastor of the Methodist church at St. Cloud, Minn., finding that city and county officials refused to enforce the Sunday liquor laws, and that saloon-keepers arrested for their violation escaped punishment, brought impeachment proceedings against the Mayor, winning in all the tribunals up to the Supreme Court. And now the lid is on all over the State on Sundays. Other Mayors may take notice of what one man can do.

Sir Thomas Sutherland, presiding at a meeting in London, referring to the Japanese awakening, said, 'the sons of the people that had lain dormant for centuries had suddenly awakened to almost supernatural activity.' He said he thought that the Japanese, unfairly, were forcing the Japanese Steamship company to increase its weekly sailing, and the entire British trade between Bombay and Japan had been wiped out by the Japanese.

The feature of the Dominion Commercial Travelers' association annual dinner, which was held recently in Montreal, was a great ovation tendered to R. L. Borden, the conservative leader. When Mr. Borden rose to reply to the 'Parliament of Canada' he was greeted with loud cheering and it was several minutes before he could proceed. Hon. Sydney Fisher also replied to the toast.

Eight thousand workmen in the Tropicana nitrate fields in Chili have gone on strike, and troops have been ordered to the scene of trouble.

Concerning Libel Suits.

The course of the Nineteenth Century Magazine, which to escape action for libel at the suit of Sir Fred Borden has expressed its regret that in copying from the Canadian press it may have prejudicially affected the reputation of the Canadian minister of militia, seems to have given great pluck and solace to a Kentville contemporary. The Western Chronicle concludes that the alleged apology of the English magazine entirely establishes Sir Fred's reputation for morality and sobriety. Rendered valiant it challenges other papers to follow the example of the Nineteenth Century in quoting from the columns of the Calgary Eyeopener strictures upon Sir Fred, and holds out lurid threats to any paper which may take up its challenge.

In point of fact the Nineteenth Century's statement has not the significance as far as Sir Fred's reputation is concerned. This magazine in the first instance never presumed to make the statements concerning Sir Fred upon its own knowledge. It simply quoted a statement as it was current in Canada and gave its authority. It did not pretend to have any personal knowledge of the truth or falsity of the charge. The Nineteenth Century is not in a position either to affirm or deny the truth of the Eyeopener's assertion. Any statement which it may make, therefore, adapted to free it from the annoyance of complications with obscure colonial politicians can have no bearing whatever upon the truth or falsity of the Eyeopener's charges.

It is evident that this is the view taken by Sir Fred himself. He has stated that the publication of these regrets will not cause him to discontinue his libel suit. If the Nineteenth Century's apology established his innocence why should he go on with his action? In that event nothing could be gained from a prosecution of the suit but revenge or money. It is clear from what the English journal says that in quoting what it did not have any animus against Sir Fred and there is therefore no excuse for revenge. Sir Fred's position in this country is altogether too lucrative at the present to make it necessary that he should resort to tactics of this kind in order to raise money. The public must pretty well understand that anything that the Nineteenth Century or any other paper that has no personal knowledge of the offence complained of, may do or fail to do, can have little effect in rehabilitating Sir Fred's reputation.

So far as we know there is only one man that pretends to have personal knowledge of Sir Fred Borden's alleged improper conduct in this particular instance and who claims that he is in a position to prove the truthfulness of his assertions. This man is the editor of the Eyeopener and the surprising thing is that he is the one man that Sir Fred seems least anxious to proceed against.

Why is it that the Western Chronicle in its zeal for libel suits has never thought to advise its doctory knight to establish his claims to the virtues of Sir Galahad by the successful prosecution of the journal which is the source of all these damaging reports? The excuse that the proprietor of the Eyeopener is financially a. g. and could not therefore be made to pay damages is no excuse at all. It is not Sir Fred's finances that is affected by this plain speaking by the Eyeopener it is his character. This is one of the cases where a good name is rather to be chosen than great riches.

Granted that the proprietor of the Eyeopener could not be made to pay damages for libel he could, nevertheless, be jailed if his statements are proved to be untrue or the courts could restrain him from similar publications in the future. Then, too, Sir Fred's innocence would be established and that should be worth more to him than any financial consideration. Until the Eyeopener's statements are proved to be false they will stand at face value with the most of people in this country. Sir Fred owes it to his constituents if not to himself to vindicate his reputation by speedy proceedings against the journal which his friends hope is speaking falsely concerning him.

Until this is done any amount of stage play with journals thousands of miles from the scene of action will have little or no effect upon public opinion. Challenges to journals which do not profess to know and which therefore are not in a position to prove the truth or falsity of the damaging reports to enter the lists as defendants in libel suits will be regarded by thinking people as the silliest sort of bluff.

Dr. Edward Young celebrated the 93rd anniversary of his birth at his home in Washington, D. C., on the 11th. Mr. Young, though a citizen of the United States, was a native of Falmouth, N. S. For eleven years he was United States consul at Windsor, N. S., and is personally known to many of our readers. Dr. Young was one of the earliest students of Horton Academy, and he always manifested a lively interest in our educational work. His life has been long, vigorous and successfully devoted to useful work in the service of his adopted country. He has lived a wholesome and temperate life and carried his years lightly. A Washington paper says of Dr. Young: 'He does not look the nonagenarian.' Though slightly stooped, his carriage is firm and alert, his voice clear and strong, his eyesight good—in short, he does not look a day more than seventy, and even many men who have reached seventy fail to carry their years as lightly as Dr. Young carries his.

The Brown Tail Moth.

At the Nova Scotia Fruit Growers' Association the subscriber announced that the Department of Agriculture would, from December 20th until the 1st of June next, pay a bounty of 10 cents per nest for every Brown-Tailed Moth nest containing caterpillars which are picked and, subsequently destroyed, either by the College authorities or by the several men, whose names are mentioned below. It is recommended that any who find nests of these caterpillars should put them away securely in a box of some kind and, when they have gathered together a sufficient number, forward them, by express or mail, in a secure box, to the Agricultural College, at Truro, or to Mr. Morton, Principal Academy, Digby; H. G. Payne, Granville Ferry; F. C. Johnson, Bridgetown; R. J. Messenger, Bridge town; G. H. Vroom, Middleton; S. C. Parker, Berwick; C. Perry Foote, Lakeville; R. W. Starr, Wolfville. These men are authorized to examine specimens after which to destroy them and send report to the Agricultural College, Truro. In addition to the bounties, the Department will pay the expenses of either mailing or expressing the Brown-Tailed Moth nests to any of the above gentlemen or to the College at Truro. It is understood that this bounty will not be permanently continued. It is merely a temporary measure, decided upon in order if possible to insure a complete eradication of this pest from the Province, and will be discontinued after the present season.

The hearty co-operation of school teachers and citizens of all classes, in this effort to destroy the Brown-Tailed Moth nests, is asked on behalf of the Department of Agriculture by the subscriber.

The mill in Waterville owned by Mr. Noble Lloyd was burned at an early hour on Sabbath morning last. The fire was first observed about 3 o'clock and was making such headway that scarcely anything could be saved. The establishment comprised a rotary saw mill, shingle mill, grist mill, etc., and its destruction is a great loss to the community. Mr. Lloyd's loss will exceed $6000. There was no insurance.—Berwick Register.

There are applications for 111 licenses to sell liquor in the city of Halifax during 1908. Only 50 can be granted.

A special meeting of the town Council will be held this evening to clear up the business of the year.

Christmas passed off quietly in Wolfville. The day was mild and one of the most pleasant of the season.

Quite a severe electrical storm took place on Monday evening, a somewhat unusual occurrence for this season of the year.

The Browning Club will meet on Monday evening of next week at the home of Mrs. (Rev.) D. W. Crandall, Westwood avenue.

The congregation of St. Andrew's church enjoyed an exceedingly well rendered solo last Sunday morning by Miss Edith Thomson.

The staff of the Wolfville branch of the Bank of Montreal has issued a neat folder with the season's greetings to friends and patrons of the bank.

The music at the Baptist church on Sunday last was appropriate to the season and of a very high order, and was much enjoyed by the congregation.

WANTED—About Jan'y first a furnished house in Wolfville, having modern improvements, and not less than four bedrooms. Apply P. O. Box 158, Wolfville.

The remains of the late Rev. Isaiah Wallace are to be brought to Wolfville for interment. The funeral is to take place on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, the service being at the Baptist church.

THE ACADIAN has received the announcement of the birth of a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. F. Marion Brown at Helena, Mont., on Dec. 8th. Mrs. Brown was formerly Miss Margaret M. Moore, of this town. The little girl is named Frances Margaret.

The balance of Christmas Goods will be sold by auction at the 'Grotto' Saturday evening, Dec. 28th. Everything must be closed out. Come and get bargains in Fancy Crockeryware, Toys, Games, Books, etc.

J. D. CHAMBERS.

The annual meeting of the Kings County Farmers' Association will be held at Kentville on Dec. 31st at 2 p. m. and 7.30 p. m. The address of the president, reports of the secretary and treasurer, election of officers, appointment of delegates to Antigonish meeting and addresses by college men from Truro will comprise the program.

The election of Mr. R. W. Starr, of this town, to the responsible and honorable position of president of the Nova Scotia Fruit Growers' Association is most fitting. Probably no man in Nova Scotia has been more closely connected with fruit growing than Mr. Starr, who has been a life-long friend of the Association. THE ACADIAN extends congratulations.

Five room tenement to let. Apply to E. B. Shaw, Wolfville.

The winter term for Mr. Emery's pupils in voice and piano forte begins Dec. 30th—new pupils are already being registered. Mr. Emery is planning another home music early in January. The programme to be rendered by Miss Marie Lyons, pianist, assisted by two vocal pupils. Miss Joy Lawrence, too, will give a piano recital soon. At Mr. Emery's, presenting an entirely new programme.

A very useful book has been added to the public school library. The title is 'Farm Weeds' and the volume was donated by the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa. A large, full-page illustration of each weed in natural colors, is accompanied by a detailed and popular description of the weed and its habits. Suggestions for exterminating or controlling each weed are given. It has been placed in the library with the hope that it will be freely consulted by those who may need such a book.

The death of Miss George Heim occurred on Friday last at the home of Mr. E. C. Johnson, of this town. The cause of her death was pneumonia, the result of a cold contracted on the Friday previous. She was a native of Black River and was in her 59th. For many years she resided in Wolfville, where she was much respected. She was a faithful member of the Presbyterian church, and the funeral, which was held on Sunday afternoon at Black River, was conducted by Rev. David Wright, pastor of St. Andrew's church. It was very largely attended.

The marriage took place on Christmas Day at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Card, Hiltown, of Miss Ruby E. Card and Dr. M. E. DeVine, of Kingston. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. D. Spidel, of Kentville. The groom, who recently established a flourishing practice at Kingston, is a clever and popular member of the medical fraternity, while the bride, who is a half sister of Mrs. B. O. Davison, of this town and was for a number of years a resident of Wolfville, is a very popular young lady. THE ACADIAN extends to Dr. and Mrs. DeVine its very best wishes for their happiness and prosperity.

We wish all our patrons who have contributed to making the past year the most successful of the 23 years of our business a very happy and prosperous New Year.

I want to thank you for getting this new cure for Kidney and Rheumatism trouble into this country. For 15 years I have suffered more or less with Rheumatism. For 6 months at a time I could do no work or sleep but little. After trying about 25 different kinds of Rheumatism medicine without avail I became completely discouraged but thought I must try the new Kurestello Pills and I am so glad to say that I can now work nearly as well as ever. Have engaged to work on our new wharf. Can sleep all right. Have not felt half so well for years and I don't believe there is any medicine that can cure Rheumatism and build a man up like it. It is getting a great name around here.

'But, dear,' said the caller, 'I don't see why you should care to change the name of your charming little country place. Idlewild is so romantic. It seems to signify dreary idleness.'

'That's just the trouble,' replied the housewife. 'It was so suggestive.'

Complicated Liver Troubles

Mr. John Wilson, carpenter, Wolfville, Ont., writes:—'Some years ago I was afflicted with kidney trouble, and I became so run down and emaciated that my entire appearance was suggestive of physical decline. As time went on the complaint grew worse and became complicated with liver trouble. I had had pains across the back and up the spinal column, had bad spells with my heart, pain under the right shoulder, biliousness, the "about half" the time, indigestion, fever, and restlessness at night, and depression of spirits.
 "I spent about one hundred dollars in medicine, with no perceptible result. Doctor after doctor proved likewise of no avail."
 "Finally, on the advice of a friend, I began taking Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and in a short time the bad symptoms began to gradually disappear, and by the time I had used five or six boxes I was enjoying better health than I had in many years, all of which is due to the virtues of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills." 25 cents a box, at all dealers.

Piles

To prove to you that Dr. Chase's Ointment is a certain and absolute cure for each and every form of itching, bleeding and protruding piles.

Dr. Chase's Ointment

An Irishman on his way home late at night asked a pedestrian the time. The latter thinking he was a dangerous tramp waiting for an opportunity to snatch his watch, swung his heavy stick and knocked the Irishman down.

Markham, Ont. C. B. BILLING.

An old lady was visiting some relatives, one of whom had recently entered the ministry. She had not seen him since his boyhood, and was therefore anxious to attend service at his church.

At dinner, subsequent to the Sunday sermon she heard delivered by nephew, it was observed that she was singularly silent. Suddenly she broke her long silence by asking her nephew:

'Frank, why did you enter the ministry?'

'Why not,' exclaimed the young man, 'what a question. I entered the ministry because I was called.'

Just a suspicion of a smile came to the old lady's face as she responded: 'Are you sure, Frank, that it wasn't some other voice you heard?'

Do What You Can.

There always are those who wrap their talents for service in the napkin not worth white. They feel that they could not do so much because their ability is so small, and there are those who do not try to do anything.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

The Children's Favorite Coughs, Colds, Croup and Whooping Cough.

Of late years the organized temperance movement has been directed to wards securing legislation for the abatement and final routing out of the traffic.

From this brief summary it may be seen that if the progress of the past quarter century is maintained by the present generation there would be little doubt that the present half century should see the destruction of the liquor traffic in every civilized country.

Tobacco Prohibited.

The Surgeon-General of the United States Army, in giving his reason for prohibiting tobacco in the National Military and Naval Academies at West Point and Annapolis, says:

'Before all other things the future health and usefulness of the lad educated at the Military School require the absolute interdiction of tobacco.'

Professor Richard McSherry, President of the Baltimore Academy of Medicine, declares that 'the effect of tobacco on schoolboys and young persons is so marked and injurious as not to be open to discussion, and its use should be discouraged and opposed by every parent and teacher of youth, and shunned by every young man.'

Of thirteen physicians whose opinion was recently asked, every one is decided in saying that the use of tobacco, in smoking and chewing, is 'exceedingly injurious, both physically and mentally.'

One says 'that boys and young men who use it, rarely, if ever, make well developed men; or if developed in size, there is a great lack of endurance and vital force and of mental activity.'

Another, that he has seen cases of partial and almost complete idiocy in young boys, caused by the use of tobacco. Another, that 'it causes nervous prostration, and seriously affects the eyesight.'

Another, that 'it destroys a healthy appetite, and prevents digestion, and thus starves the physical system, and so produces dwarfed and emaciated specimens of boys and young men.'

Another, that 'the spinal cord and the brain are affected by its poisonous action; and still another, that 'its active principle, nicotine, diffuses itself in the blood with great rapidity, and corresponds in its mode of action to that terrible poison, prussic acid.'

Tells of Cure

30 Years of Piles. Mr. G. A. Swartz, Copenhagen, Elgin Co., Ont., writes:—'I have been afflicted with piles for more than thirty years and have tried various remedies in most cases with very unsatisfactory results.'

Dr. Chase's Ointment, and if they do and don't find it to be all that is claimed for it I miss my guess. For many years I had severe itching on my arms and legs, especially during the winter months. The ointment drove it away like magic.'
