OFFICIAL.

The Governor, Newfoundland: LONDON, Sept. 21. In France there has been artillery activity. An enemy ammunition store was blown up near Perthes. In Russia, the Russians are retreating in the Vifna district. Some successes are reported on other points on the front.

BONAR LAW.

ST. PIERRE BULLETIN.

PARIS, via St. Pierre, Sept. 21. In Artois our batteries shelled German works. German artillery was very active on this front, directing their bombardment especially against Arras suburbs, with heavy calibre shells. Mining struggle continues in Roye district. In Eastern Artois the Germans exploded a mine near our trenches. In Lorraine and Woivre our batteries dispersed a German column of infantry travelling on a train running from Saint Maurice to Thillot. In Calonne trenches, districts of Apremont and Regneville, German works were seriously damaged by our artillery fire. Our long range batteries shelled Thiancourt railroad station. Observers noted a train leaving the station at full speed, whilst another was held up by our fire. Also between Puzieux and Dille we cut off the railroad track connecting Metz and Chantonnay. Several artillery contests are reported on the remainder of the front.

WILL CARE FOR PRISONERS.

GENEVA, Sept. 21. Austria, Germany and Russia have concluded an agreement, under which the American Red Cross will be authorized to send 25 doctors and 50 nurses to Russia and Serbia to care for German and Austrian prisoners of war. The greater part of the Red Cross workers have been heretofore in Germany and Austria.

SERBIAN INVASION COMMENCED.

BERLIN, Sept. 21. Official reports from Austrian and German headquarters and despatches from the Balkan capitals, show that the long expected Teutonic campaign against Serbia has now begun. Austrian and German artillery to-day is bombarding Serbian positions south of the Danube.

of the river frontier at various points along a hundred mile front, between the mouth of the Drina and Morava Rivers. The action is undoubtedly intended as a cover to the throwing of forces across the river and the seizure of a bridge head whence the steam roller can be sighted. Just where the crossing will be attempted is unknown.

RUSSIAN RETREAT EFFECTED.

PETROGRAD, Sept. 21. The withdrawal of the Russians from Vilna eastward instead of southward, is interpreted here as proof that the German cavalry has been unable to seriously impede the Russian retreat. Passing Ochmana and Soloy the Russians are now battling for crossings over the Villya River under conditions regarded as favorable. The Germans in their pursuit have occupied territory only as far as the Mereshank River. The Russians not only have destroyed bridges and tunnels along the railroad line, but the roads they have passed through the marshes. It is assumed that the Germans are now operating in three directions aiming at a general junction at Miensk with forces from Stomim.

THE SERBIAN WAR ZONE.

BERLIN, Sept. 21. It is reported from the Balkans, says the Overseas News Agency, that the Serbian Government has declared the Serbo-Bulgarian frontier district in the war zone. It is reported that the Bulgarian troops are concentrated near Serbian frontier, and that German-Austro-Hungarian troops have been concentrated since a certain date along the Serbian border.

THE SERBIAN CAMPAIGN.

BERLIN, Sept. 21. The report from the German headquarters staff announcing that German artillery had opened fire on the Serbian positions near the Danube, and had driven the Serbians from their positions, after silencing their batteries, is greeted by Serbian newspapers, says the Overseas News Agency, to-day, as opening on a large scale the German campaign against Serbia.

BULGARIAN MOBILIZATION.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21. General mobilization of the military forces of Bulgaria, effective to-day for the purpose of armed neutrality, has been ordered by the Bulgarian Government. The official announcement of this order has been communicated by his government to Panaretoff, the Bulgarian Minister here.

RUSSIAN SHIPS SINK GERMAN SUBMARINE.

ODESSA, Sept. 21. Russian ships have sunk a German submarine, which has been operating recently in the Black Sea.

TRANSPORT REPORTED TORPEDOED, SAYS BERLIN.

BERLIN, Sept. 21. A report given out to-day by an Overseas News Agency special telegram to the Frankfurter Zeitung, says that a German submarine torpedoed a 15,000 ton British transport off the island of Crete, in the Mediterranean, on Sept. 9th, but the newspaper stated that the British steamer Southland, serving as a transport, had been torpedoed.

NEUTRALITY OF THE NETHERLANDS.

THE HAGUE, Sept. 21. Queen Wilhelmina's speech from the throne to-day at the closing session of the States General, had for its keynote an expression of deep gratitude that the Netherlands had been spared the horror of war, the end of which was not even yet to be seen. The firm determination of the government to maintain our integrity and strictly to observe Dutch neutrality, meets with appreciation everywhere. The speech said our relations with all foreign powers continued to be friendly; our naval and military forces are ready for protection of the national interests. The Queen lamented the difficulties in trade arising from the war, and the scarcity of materials often endangered the production of the nation's factories, necessitating fresh taxation to meet abnormal expenditures. It concluded with an expression of hope and confidence that if the Netherlands remained spared to the end from being involved in war, the nation would resume its honorable place in the competition of nations. The auto in which the Queen and her daughter, Princess Juliana, were taken yesterday, collided in the woods with a motor car. The Queen's auto was damaged, but no one was injured.

THE NEW BUDGET.

LONDON, Sept. 21. Reginald McKenna, Chancellor of the Exchequer, in his budget speech to-day estimated that the government's revenue for the current year would be £72 million pounds, $1,160,000,000. The expenditures would reach 1,590 million pounds or 7,950 million dollars, and that the (dead weight) of debt at the close of the financial year would be 2,200 million pounds or 11 billion dollars. Mr. McKenna proposed an addition of forty per cent to the existing income tax, and the taxation of all incomes of £130 or more. The present minimum income is £160. The Chancellor proposed to increase the duty on sugar to $2.24 per hundred pounds. Heavy tax on the profits of manufacturers of war supplies was also proposed by the Chancellor. Fifty per cent of all war profits above the amount assessed for income tax last year will be subjected to a special tax which works out to sixty per cent of the profits. McKenna estimates that the total source for a full year as $150,000,000. An all round increase of fifty per cent, duty on tea, coffee, chicory, tobacco, dried fruits and other articles was suggested, also an increase of one hundred per cent on patent medicines. Another source of revenue is to be an increase in the tax on hats which is expected to bring $24,875,000. The Chancellor plans to abolish half penny postage, and impose additional charges for telegrams and telegraph messages. A tax of thirty-three per cent, ad valorem on all imported motor cars, bicycles, moving picture films, clocks, watches, musical instruments, glass and hats was also put forward by the Chancellor. It took him nearly two hours to reveal the secrets of his budget and his proposed mode of meeting enormous commitments arising from the war. The opening sentence led no doubt as to the drastic character of the measures he was to recommend. "I must ask the House," he said, "to sanction great and unprecedented burdens. I am confident that if the proposed taxes are accepted by the House, they will be accepted by the country." Emphasizing the difficulty of forming estimates in the time of war, McKenna gave the revenue and expenditures, accurately as he was able to. He said the revenue for the current year would be 272 million pounds, and expenditures 1,590 million pounds. Our national wealth is great, continued, and this debt will not cripple our resources, but we must not overlook the strain which such expenditure will impose on our sources of supply. It will be necessary to borrow again. Referring to the total expenditures the Chancellor said the navy was costing £190 million pounds, and the army 715 million pounds. The country had to bear external advances amounting to 42 million pounds. The total daily rate of expenditure would be upwards of £4,500,000, and the latter part of the year might rise to five million pounds. Ordinary services, he said, absorbed 70 million pounds, including provisions for the national debt. There is no record of a nation having voluntarily accepted a burden bearing so high a proportion to the total national income, for which provision has to be made for a single year. He said the new taxation he had to propose will satisfy neither the strict free trader nor the scientific tariff reformer. He pointed out that it was necessary to impose taxes for purposes purely temporary without regard to the permanent effect on trade. Consideration must be given to rates of foreign exchange. Imports must be restricted. If by taxation we can restrict imports, reduce consumption, and bring revenue, he continued, we shall have found an ideal fiscal system.

SIR JOHN FRENCH'S REPORT.

LONDON, Sept. 21. Sir John French's report, dated Sept. 21st, tells of operations along the British front, from September 19th, and says: The enemy artillery has increased its activity on our front during the past two days. We have replied effectively. On the 20th part of the forest of Houthulst was set fire by our artillery, causing big explosions. September 19th there were nine air combats. Two hostile aeroplanes were driven to the ground inside the German lines. One fell and was engulfed in flames. The engine of the other was set on fire.

MINERS LOSE THEIR LIVES AS A RESULT OF FIRE.

NINEATON, Eng., Sept. 21. Seventeen miners lost their lives to-day as the result of a fire in Exhall Colliery. About 250 workmen were trapped below the surface when the explosion occurred. The greater part, however, were rescued through the emergency shaft.

BALMY PEACE.

In nearly all parts of the world the death-dealing missiles are hurled; but here, on our shore, the cannon don't roar and the flags of the captains are furled. The farmer is threshing his hay, and storing his pumpkins away, and slucking his oats and shearing his shoats, improving the bright Autumn day. The housewife is baking her pies, and swatting the lingering flies; and over her head is no shadow of dread, no terror or fear in her eyes. Oh, here in our fair countryside, the blessings of peace still abide, it has windrows of grain and no windrows of slain, no blood-drunken soldiers here ride. In peace we can harvest our rye, in peace on our couches we lie, in peace we can sit by the fireside and knit, in peace we can marry and die. Ah, yes, but the Jingo exclaim, "The peace we enjoy is a shame! We ought to arise with a threat in our eyes, and join in the blood-letting game! We ought to go forth with a will, and climb on some nation and kill, and redder our dirks in the enemies' works—there's plenty of blood we can spill!" The Jingoos are wearisome frauds, and no one their whooping applauds, who is sound in the brain, who is sensible, sane—give thanks to your various gods!

FRESH AT NIGHT

If One Uses the Right Kind of Food. If by proper selection of food one can feel strong and fresh at the end of a day's work, it is worth while to know the kind of food that will produce this result. A school teacher in the West says in this connection: "At the time I commenced the use of Grape-Nuts my health was so poor that I thought I would have to give up my work altogether. I was rapidly losing in weight, had little appetite, was nervous and sleepless, and experienced, constantly, a feeling of exhaustion. "I tried various remedies without good results; then I determined to give particular attention to my food and have learned something of the properties of Grape-Nuts for rebuilding body, brain, and nerves. "Since using Grape-Nuts I have made a constant and rapid improvement in health, in spite of the fact that all this time I have been engaged in strenuous and exacting work. "I have gained twelve pounds in weight and have a good appetite, my nerves are steady and I sleep sound. I have such strength and reserve force that I feel almost as strong and fresh at the close of a day's work as at the beginning. "Before using Grape-Nuts I was troubled much with weak eyes but my vitality increased the eyes became stronger. "I never heard of another food as nutritious and economical as Grape-Nuts. "There's a Reason." Nuts given by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ont.

FRESH AT NIGHT

If One Uses the Right Kind of Food. If by proper selection of food one can feel strong and fresh at the end of a day's work, it is worth while to know the kind of food that will produce this result. A school teacher in the West says in this connection: "At the time I commenced the use of Grape-Nuts my health was so poor that I thought I would have to give up my work altogether. I was rapidly losing in weight, had little appetite, was nervous and sleepless, and experienced, constantly, a feeling of exhaustion. "I tried various remedies without good results; then I determined to give particular attention to my food and have learned something of the properties of Grape-Nuts for rebuilding body, brain, and nerves. "Since using Grape-Nuts I have made a constant and rapid improvement in health, in spite of the fact that all this time I have been engaged in strenuous and exacting work. "I have gained twelve pounds in weight and have a good appetite, my nerves are steady and I sleep sound. I have such strength and reserve force that I feel almost as strong and fresh at the close of a day's work as at the beginning. "Before using Grape-Nuts I was troubled much with weak eyes but my vitality increased the eyes became stronger. "I never heard of another food as nutritious and economical as Grape-Nuts. "There's a Reason." Nuts given by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ont.

WEDNESDAY, Sept. 22, 1915.

Heavier Taxation at Home.

The Great War is costing a heavy burden on the people at home not only in the toll of life and limb but in money. The income for the current year will be 272 million pounds and the expenditure will be about five times as much, or some 1,300 millions, leaving an addition to the National Debt of some 1,000 millions. Nearly half of this expenditure is being incurred by the army, but the Navy takes up a considerable sum which amounts to 150 million pounds. Advances to the Allies and Dominions amount to 40 million pounds. In all the army, navy and aid to allies will eat up 845 millions of this money. These expenditures will go for an additional loan and for increased taxation. Munition works will be called upon to pay sixty per cent of their profits into the Exchequer. Every person who has an income of £130 a year will have to pay part of it to revenue. The present minimum is £150, so that a large class of persons, hitherto free from income tax will be called upon to pay it now. Moreover the tax has been increased by two-thirds. The breakfast table too has been brought under contribution, the duty on tea, coffee and chicory has been increased 50 per cent. Smokers too will have to pay 50 per cent. more taxes on the tobacco they buy. Those who take patent medicine are called upon to pay double taxes on it. Half-penny postage is abolished and a penny stamp will have to be used in place of a cent stamp. Users of telephones and telegraphs will have the rates put up on them. Imported motor cars, bicycles, moving picture films, clocks, watches, musical instruments, plate glass and hats have been dropped on heavily and will be called upon to pay one-third of the value of their imports to the Exchequer, but even this will not seem out of the way to Newfoundlanders who are called upon to pay much larger rates on like articles.

CRESCENT PICTURE PALACE.

The Crescent Picture Palace presents to-day "The Apartment House Mystery," a strong Detective drama produced in two reels by the Kalem Company featuring the famous girl detective, Alice Joyce. "The Greater Love," is a vitagraph feature, being the wonderful story of self-abnegation for the woman he loves, with Dorothy Kelly and James Morrison. "The Fable of the City Crafters and the Unprotected Rules" is one of George Ade's comedy fables, a lively farce comedy is "The Grizzly Gulch Chariot Race." Tom Muix is the principal fun maker in this fine comedy. Harvey Collins sings "It takes a little rain with the sunshine to make the world go 'round."

BRITISH THEATRE.

The theatre-going public will be sorry to hear that the highly successful engagement of Madame Olive Timmons at the British will terminate on Saturday night. This lady has made many friends during her visit here, and is undoubtedly one of the greatest singers who ever appeared in Newfoundland. To-day she will sing the always popular "Mournerne" and "My Love is an Arbutus." The pictures selected are all of the highest calibre and include the celebrated two-reel photo-play "Table Hills of Kentucky." On Monday the great three-act comedy drama "David Garrick" will be shown.

LATE PATRIOTIC HIT AT THE NICKEL.

The Million Dollar Mystery will be continued at the Nickel Theatre this evening, and it should attract large audiences as it is one of the most sensational episodes ever given in the story. So that all may see the picture will be shown three times this evening. The first session starts at 7 o'clock sharp. All the pictures today are good. The Harmony boys, Messrs. Huskins and Cairns have a great song for this evening "When we've wound up the watch on the Rhine," the latest London success. This song was first given at the London Hippodrome where it was an immense success. All London was delighted with it. Everywhere it is popular and no doubt it will be so in St. John's. Hear it to-day.

ROSSLEY'S EAST END THEATRE.

In order to widen the range of interest in the competition, all competitors will have the opportunity of not only singing but of dancing and reciting. Mr. MacKenzie would like to make this competition so general that all classes of the community may join in the effort to make it a success that it might be continued during Mr. MacKenzie's engagement. There must be a considerable amount of talent in a city like St. John's, and Mr. MacKenzie will be glad to advise those who display ability as to the proper method of improving this talent. Prizes of five, three and two dollars to those who make the audience the best performers. The usual attractions will of course also be given and include Ian MacKenzie, the Scottish baritone in his Scottish "Song and Story" entertainment, Miss Rose Guerin, the splendid soprano and the phenomenal boy violinist, Mr. William Wallace with attractive feature films all entirely new.

A-Difficult Task

Editor Evening Telegram.—Dear Mr. Editor.—The writer has had the privilege of reading a pamphlet or booklet embodying a speech made by Hon. J. A. Anderson in the Legislative Council last June. This notable speech which deals with the Financial Outlook of the Colony, and the affairs of the Commercial Bank, should be read by everyone who is interested in the Colony's affairs. It is a masterly presentation of facts and figures, throwing light on a somewhat complex and much discussed matter. A perusal of the mass of figures and tabulated statements gives one some idea of the immense amount of patient research and diligent enquiry that must have been needed to compile this series of statements.

On Mr. Anderson has fallen the bulk of this labor and responsibility. By nature endowed with a genius for finance he has perhaps been able to entangle and set straight a complicated problem and we think no one will now question that he has accomplished an exceedingly arduous task faithfully and well. It certainly has not been an "easy job." Not many men would be eager to take it on. Some of Mr. Anderson's predecessors in this investigation seem to have succumbed to the worry and responsibility of it. And he has had to hear some harsh and unjust criticism in connection with his efforts which were "damned with faint praise" by those who should have known better. He pursued an unwavering course, however, and from this publication, we think, it is fully apparent that he has performed a very difficult task faithfully and well—a task that has absorbed his best energies and time for over thirteen years.

JUSTICE.

Met With Accident.

Mr. T. T. Cartwright, the well known commercial man, returned by the s.s. Portia badly injured in a carriage accident at Burin. Mr. Cartwright, in company with Mr. J. B. Orr, started to drive from Burin to Garnish and had barely started when the rear wheel collapsed, throwing them to the ground. Both were badly shaken up. Mr. Cartwright's injuries consisted of a badly disfigured face, a deep cut on the right hand and a badly bruised leg. Mr. Orr had two badly bruised legs and arm. The driver escaped without a scratch. Mr. Cartwright is suffering a lot of pain and is unable to get up, but no bones are broken, his attending physician says.

Heroic Action of Australian Airman in War.

London, Sept. 15.—The thrilling story of an Australian air pilot, who clung by one hand to the framework of a disabled aeroplane, five thousand feet over the enemy's lines, while executing repairs with the other, was told here to-day by an officer observer on leave of absence from Northern France.

"We had crossed the German lines and their guns were booming at us from way down below, when Cornstock (the pilot) noticed that our left wing was tilting down and not responding to the controls," said the officer.

"He swung out of the seat to the right side, but the plane continued to tilt and it looked as if we were going over sure.

"Cornstock acted quickly. He let himself down with nothing but thousands of feet beneath him, holding tight with his right hand and fumbling with the control wires where they were jammed under the body of the machine.

"The strain on his right arm must have been terrific. Seconds seemed hours as he swayed there, his legs dangling in space, while the machine swung over 'air bumps' and levered to the side.

"As a matter of fact it was all done in an instant. He was back in his seat, cool as ever."

We understand permanent repairs will be done here.

414th Day of the War TO-DAY'S Messages.

LONDON BUDGET.

LONDON, To-day. The German encircling movement against the Russian army which evacuated Vilna is appreciably intensified and tightened with the retreating forces virtually with rail communication and their retreat seems to have reached a most critical juncture. There is increasing misgiving in England with regard to the outcome of the manoeuvre. The latest Berlin official communication shows important advances by Field Marshal Von Hindenburg's right wing and progress by Prince Leopold Bavaria's centre. The only development from the point of view of the Allies is the greatest War Budget in the world's history, introduced in the Commons yesterday afternoon by Reginald McKenna, Chancellor of the Exchequer, another step towards financing the war which is now costing Britain nearly $20,000,000 daily. New military requirements and changes in the method of warfare have created over-night additional expenditures, which had not been reckoned with even in comparatively recent estimates. David Lloyd George, Munitions Minister, necessitating this budget, the third since the outbreak of hostilities, the most drastic and far reaching taxes in the history of the country, involving even free trade. Spirits and beer which have been the object of so much agitation remained untouched by the new schedules. The principal blow fell on incomes and the existing tax on incomes not only being jumped forty per cent, but its scope is widened, so as to catch even the workmen earning $14 weekly. Verily wealthy men must contribute to the Government more than one-third of their revenue. One cent mail will be abolished entirely. The weight heretofore carried in mails for two cents will be reduced. The rate of telegrams which is 12 cents for 12 words is increased to 18 cents. There is also to be a proportionate increase in telephone charges. Sugar and tea though largely increased will mean only an extra penny per pound. The burden for the general public for the scale of all sugar is now regulated by the Royal Commission, which will reduce the price to refiners and dealers. General debate on the Budget is yet to be heard, but it was apparent Mr. McKenna's suggestions were received by virtually a unanimous House. The Chancellor said incidentally that he would have occasion to call on the country for another war loan.

ARMENIANS RESCUED BY FRENCH. PARIS, To-day. The rescue by French warships of a large band of Armenians from pursuing Turks, is recounted in a statement issued last night by the Minister of Marine. The statement says: "Pursued by Turks, five thousand Armenians, three thousand of whom are women, children and old men, took refuge in Djebel Neussa Mountains at the end of July. They succeeded in keeping their assailants at bay till the beginning of September. Ammunition and provisions then gave out, and they would inevitably have succumbed had they not succeeded in getting word of their grave situation to the French cruiser. Immediately the cruisers of the French blockading squadron of the Syrian coast went to their help and took all of them to port Said, where they were installed in provisional camps."

RUSSIAN ARMY HAVE ESCAPED. LONDON, To-day. The Russians have escaped the toils of Vilna and Sant and retreated in good order, destroying all military works, and a considerable portion of the railway, according to a Petrograd correspondent of the Post, who says the strategic value of Vilna and Sant has been enormous. It was held by some of the Russian's best troops, and therefore risks are taken profitably which might have been fatal un-

LATEST Bulgaria on the Brink of War.

2.35 P.M.

SOFIA, To-day. Bulgaria apparently is on the brink of war. The people generally believe hostilities are imminent. The military authorities have taken possession of railways and ordinary traffic has been suspended. The Bulgarian Government announced last night that the territory ceded by Turkey along the line of the Dedagatch railroad would be occupied on October 6th. The official transfer will occur on October 11th, at which time the Bulgarian Administration will be installed.

The Right Sort of a Pal

(From the Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.)

Two boys, one the possessor of a permit, were fishing on a certain estate, when a game keeper suddenly darted from a thicket. The lad with the permit uttered a cry of fright, dropped his rod and ran off at top speed. The game keeper was led a swift chase. Then, wore out, the boy halted. The man seized him by the arm and said between pants: "Have you a permit to fish on this estate?" "Yes, to be sure," said the boy, quietly. "You have? Then show it to me." The boy drew the permit from his pocket. The man examined it and frowned in perplexity and anger. "Why did you run when you had this permit?" he asked. "To let the other boy get away," was the reply. "He didn't have one!"

PROSPERO COMING.—The Prospero left Seal Cove at 7 a.m. today, counting south, due here on Saturday.

WOMAN REPORTED MISSING.—Last night a woman named Milley, reported at the police station that her sister-in-law Elizabeth Milley was missing. She was engaged as domestic with a family named Whelan at Rossett's Lane. She left there yesterday morning and nothing has been heard of her since despite continual searches by the police and other parties.

THE GERMAN DEBT.

The German Empire in 1910 had a debt of a trifle more than $1,000,000, according to von Bernharti. After thirteen months of his policy of "world power or downfall," the interest on the German debt amounts to more than half that sum. The end is not yet in sight, and it may not be until long after the interest charges with pension tolls pass beyond the figures of the original principal. Extra are the debts of separate German States close to $4,000,000,000, according to the same high authority. The first causes of the war disappear as the light is to see who shall meet this debt. Close to every wheel of fortune stands the banker who must have his last say.—Brooklyn Eagle.

A FAMILY'S HEAVY LOSS.

(From the Dundee Advertiser.)

Few parents have suffered greater bereavement through the war than Mr. and Mrs. W. Field, of Streatham Common. They have just lost their fifth and only surviving son, the fourth within a year. Captain Clifford Field, R.M.L.L., lost his life in the sinking of the Aboukir when he tried to save some official papers. Second Lieutenant C. D. Field, of the Worcestershire Regiment, fell at the Dardanelles in June. A third son died in the year through ill-health, and the fourth son, Lieutenant Howard Field, of the Fourth Worcestershire Regiment, was killed in action on the 6th inst., at the Dardanelles. He was only twentyone, and had already been wounded at Ypres before he fell in the eastern front, where his gallantry led to mention in despatches.

WOMAN CHASER HAS BEEN CAPTURED.

In the neighborhood of Brazil Square quite a scene was created last night. The police heard the news that some females had been terrorized. Detective Byrne was quickly "on the job" and caught the culprit at his little "game" and without further ceremony marched him off to the police station. The accused proved to be a dude, who is only yet bordering on the quarter of a century mark. He was fined $10 or 20 days to-day for his conduct.

STRANDED SEAMAN.—Last night the police found a foreign seaman, who belonged to some vessel that left here recently. He had not anything to eat for 24 hours previously and had no place to go for lodgings, as he was penniless. He was given quarters at the lockup for the night. To-day he was before court and remanded for eight days. Meanwhile arrangements will be made to get him aboard a foreign bound vessel.

Complaint About a Building.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Mr. Editor.—Our City Commissioners sometimes display a great deal of zeal in the city's welfare with regard to the beautifying of the city, and correction of irregularities in the building lines. They even go so far as to dictate as to how a man should repair his back yard fence or the roof of his new house. But even this has its commensurable feature, for it shows that a principle has been adopted, which the Commissioners claim has been adhered to with Spartan persistence. But has it?

My particular grievance at this juncture is the allowing of the erection of a shed on Maxse St., which to put it mildly is an eyesore to every one in the neighborhood. The average man is under the impression that no building will be allowed on the front of any street which does not bear a certain conformity to houses already erected, and that nothing can be built that will detract from or tend to lessen the value of such property owners. But here we find this unsightly shed projecting out to a level of the street line blanketing good residences on either side and sending their market value away below par. Has the property owner and tax-payer no protection in such cases? How many of the Commissioners would sanction the erection of such a place by their own doors? It was noticed that our City Engineer paid a visit yesterday to this monument to our civic authorities' interest so we must assume that everything in connection therewith is in the proper order.

We go to considerable trouble from time to time to get in experts to report on our sewerage and water systems, and the Board of Health and S.P.C. issue pamphlets on matters pertaining to the prevention of diseases strongly advocating pure air and ventilation of our homes. Yet it is quite within the memory of the writer that a few years ago on practically the same site a petition to disallow the repairing of an old barn which was a cess pool and the grave menace to public health was deliberately ignored by the Council. Who can suffer the throwing open of their windows when all kinds of nauseating odors and disorderly conduct remain almost under one's door steps? Must the health of our children and the beauty of our city be sacrificed for one man's benefit, and is there no protection for property against such abuses. Compel such structures to go beyond the confines of the city and the Council will confer more lasting benefits than anything hitherto performed.

Very pleasant to take, this emulsion will not disagree with the stomach, and is easily assimilated. Price 25c. and 50c. a bottle. The larger size being much more economical in use.

Taxes on Amusements.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer is scarcely likely to have missed the interesting hint to himself contained in the announcement from Montreal that a tax of one cent is now charged on every ticket for a theatre, moving picture show, amusement or concert hall, circus, playground, race-course, or skating rink, the sum thus raised to be used to benefit charitable institutions in the city. On the principle that charity begins at home, the Treasury might be expected, if Mr. McKenna adopted a like notion here, to claim the resulting money for itself, and there are amusement providers in London who already are preparing themselves to meet such a demand. It has long been levied on theatre-goers in Paris in the form of a "droit des pauvres," taking to some extent the place of the poor rate exacted here; while in certain Dutch towns five per cent. is charged on the price of tickets for places of amusement in relief of the local rates—an impost with which the visitor is apt to show himself less satisfied than the resident. The idea there is what would be suggested here—that the tax should not be a percentage levied on the gross receipts of the manager, but be plainly marked as an addition to the price of every ticket issued either in advance or at the doors. The public thus would be enabled to know how much they were paying for pleasure and how much for patriotism, and the method of collection would be simplicity itself.—Birmingham Post.

MOUNTAIN CLIMBING.

By GEORGE FITCH.

Author of "At Good Old Sivas."

Mountain climbing is a method of playing tag with gravitation which is very popular with men who are tired of keeping up life insurance payments. It was invented as a sport in Switzerland and is more expensive than golf or Kelly Pool. Class A mountain climbing costs $50 a day exclusive of the undertaker's charges.

Mountain climbing is very difficult to learn, like aviation, because the man who makes a mistake does not often get a second chance. But when the pupil has become proficient he loves it beyond all other sports and is not happy unless he is holding a mountain peak in both arms and shining his way slowly aloft regardless of icicles.

When a mountain climber feels the fit coming on, he selects a tall, morose peak which has not been tampered with for some time. He then engages half a dozen guides and ties himself to them with a stout rope. Then he arises at 2 a.m., and after a light breakfast of coffee, rolls and frost bite, he walks seven miles in the snow to a point where the mountain rises straight up.

Here the mountain climber begins to enjoy himself. Sticking a finger in one crack and a toe in another he works slowly aloft, now and then holding on with his neck and ears, and feasting on the scenery below.

There is always plenty of scenery for the mountain climber. He can stop at any time and look down a mile or two. It is great comfort to him to know that if he drops his cigar all he has to do is to let go and he will land beside it in a few minutes.

After the mountain climber has crawled up 11,000 feet of snow and ice, has hung over Europe by a rope a few times and has worn off his finger ends scratching toeholds in the granite flanks of the peak, he reaches the summit. After this he has no interest in the mountain and leaves it right away. Some climbers thoughtless remove a hand from the mountain to scratch an ear and reach the bottom in almost no time, but this is considered bad form.

Mountain climbing is more fatal than aviation, but not as dangerous as deer hunting in Wisconsin. It is also a much fairer sport, because the mountain has some chance.

The Persecutors of To-Day!

By RUTH CAMERON.

RUTH CAMERON

A friend of mine is quite upset whenever her husband expresses his preference for the vocal selections on their music machine.

"How can you, Frederick?" she says. "They sound so unreal. Now the instrumental selections sound really natural. You certainly can't think any of those voices are so beautiful as the violin solos."

And when her husband insists that that is just what he thinks, she gives an exasperated sigh.

The Spirit of Persecution Still Lives. The horrors of the Inquisition, the burning of heretics, even the treatment of the Puritans are almost incomprehensible to us nowadays. We don't persecute people because they have different religious views from ours any longer. And yet the spirit, the state of mind behind that persecution is by no means a thing of the past in many of us.

We still want people to think as we do even in minor matters of taste, and though we do not torture them because they differ, we still persecute them with our protests, our arguments and our exasperated wonder at their persistent unwillingness to be exactly like us.

The woman who is exasperated because her husband persists in liking vocal music records is one example of this state of mind.

He Will Prefer Tennyson.

Another is a college girl who never ceases to reason with her father, because he prefers Tennyson to Browning. Vainly she proves to him that much of Tennyson is commonplace and sentimental. Vainly she quotes the learned writer who calls Tennyson one of the minor poets. In vain she reads him page after page of Browning's best. In vain she stigmatizes his intellect as of the Victorian age. Through it all that deluded parent still clings to his love of Tennyson.

I also know of two friends who cannot discuss De Maupassant versus our American short story writers without coming to high words. At other times they are the most harmonious and sympathetic of friends, but five minutes of such a discussion leaves them both sore and disgruntled.

What Difference Does It Make?

Why don't they keep away from such an unimportant topic, you wonder? I wonder, too. But they can't. Each is irresistibly drawn towards it by his passionate desire to make his friend think as he does in this absolutely unimportant matter.

People who have this passionate desire to make others conform to their view would doubtless be indignant if they were accused of colossal conceit. And yet what does it indicate but a belief that one's own way of thinking is the only, right way and what could be more colossal conceit than such a belief?

EELS AS VERMIN.

At a meeting held recently of one of the New Zealand acclimatization societies, the curator of a game farm reported that he had included eels in the list of vermin which caused the death of young pheasants, says 'Fishing News.' He gave his assurance that no less than 17 young birds had been lost owing to eels seizing their heads while they were in the act of drinking creek water. The deaths of innumerable young ducks had been caused by eels, and it was a common thing to see stores of ducks minus a leg, which had been dragged off by these voracious fish.

On Agricultural Society Matters. Hits the New Rather Hard, but Feels She is Justified in Doing So.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—Hardly was the ink dry on my letter promising another on the "apparently defunct" Agricultural Society than Tom received a notice to attend a meeting on Thursday night, 16th inst. I am putting it mild by saying I was surprised, indeed I almost blamed Tom for saying to some person that I had referred to that subject in my letter. He assured me he had not done so, and I came to the conclusion that it was only a go-in-side-dent (coincident) as Tom said when he hit the top of his finger instead of the nail he was driving.

Well, Mr. Editor, to return to my subject, Tom went to that meeting and I got all my work done and put on some pork and cabbage to cook by the time he came home (11 o'clock) and after giving him a glass of punch, to loosen his tongue, you know, I sat by the table and he in the four-barrel chair, and I said:—Now, Tom, for an interview on Agricultural Society matters. Had you a meeting?

We had, and a very good one indeed. When did you have the last?

Last March twelve months, when we elected our officers?

What was the cause of the long delay. Do you know?

Yes, I think. You see in the Fall of 1913 our hay was very scarce our Society arranged to import about 250 tons of hay, which we intended to sell at cost and charges, so as to save people from killing their cattle on account of the shortage.

Very commendable. Yes, go on.

Open the door, Min. It is very hot. All right, Thomas, dear, but (aside, the punch is working) don't lose the thread of your conversation. So you imported the hay.

Well we ordered it, and several minded men of the society backed a note on the bank (a mere matter of form some of them said) to pay for it. The hay was very slow in arriving, so the greater bulk of it was left over till the Spring time when it ought to have been sold, consequently there was extra work with extra pay for Mr. Norman Munn the energetic disposer of this cattle-saving hay. The cost was constantly increasing, but the charges could not be correspondingly increased, so it was evident that a loss would come in somewhere.

To my mind it would be unfair to have the note-backers lose any money, but they had the affair in their own hands. It was pressed hay, I presume, and if it was bought cheap as you told me at the time, and economy used in asking for tenders for storage, etc., the extra charges could have been added without bearing heavily on any person, and the hay could still be sold at cost and charges. But how did you manage?

Well, you see, our Society had in the funds about $200.00 gathered by Government grant, members fees, etc., and this had to be taken to make up the shortage.

Why did you not tell me this before, you surely knew it?

I was not aware that such a thing had happened, as we were not called together to discuss the subject, fearing a kick, I suppose.

Have all the accounts been presented and audited, and a general report made?

Not yet, Min, girl, but soon. Could any person imagine a crowd of women managing their affairs in that way. Ah, no. If they did they would never make $100 or $150 on a 5 cent Tom with ice cream and home-made candy in one afternoon.

One more question, and then I am done for the present. Where was this hay stored?

In the stores of Mr. Norman Munn and Mr. R. S. Munn. The storage has been paid I am glad to tell you.

No doubt, no doubt, Thomas. Well, you attend the next meeting and read, mark, learn, and inwardly digest that report, but mind you no more Agricultural Society meetings for you after that, ye men of the Society, and manage your affairs, and the sooner the women take charge of the country, lock, stock and barrel the better.

No, sir, you had punch enough for tonight, but I am fully convinced that a punching would do many men more good than punch; for I am down on the latter and only recommend it when you want to loosen the tongue, which fact in itself is enough to condemn the stuff.

But, Thomas, how can your Society expect the Government to give a grant or to give any assistance whatever to a body of men with so little interest in their work as to be 17 or 18 months without holding a meeting to discuss the ways and means of advancing the interests of agriculture generally.

There were no funds, and no pigs or rams sent by the Board, so there was no cause for a meeting.

Quite so, but according to your own statement you had over $200 in your funds, and on one business transaction you allowed that to slip from you. Had your business been managed by business men that could not have happened.

Your's very truly, MARY.

P.S.—The third letter of this series will be on Prohibition, a timely subject just now.—M.

Campaign On Against the Loan.

Lives of the Members of Anglo-French Commission Threatened.

New York, Sept. 15.—The pro-German campaign against the flotation of a billion dollar credit loan in the United States to Great Britain and France appeared to-day to assume the proportions of a country-wide plot, threatening even the personal safety of the six members of the Anglo-French financial commission.

Members of the commission, of which Lord Reading, Lord Chief Justice of England, is chairman, have doubled their bodyguards, it became known to-day. They have been requested by the police of New York not to announce in advance their plans for any day, and in no instance to appear on the streets without detectives guarding them.

More than fifty threatening letters have been received by the commission. Their contents run the scale from abuse to threats against the lives of the commission. Some of the most threatening of these letters have been turned over to the police for investigation, it is said, and New York city detectives are now reported to be engaged in seeking the writers.

British Labor Member Urges Munitions Need.

London, Sept. 13.—George Nicoll Barnes, Labor member of Parliament, speaking at Walworth on Saturday night, said he did not believe there was need for conscription, but it was needed "that the men we have sent out to fight our battle should be supported by the men in the workshops better than they are at the present moment."

Mr. Barnes continued: "Under the conditions caused by the war we ought to regard it as our solemn duty to turn out as much as possible in every workshop in the country. Speaking as a Trade Unionist and a member of the Amalgamated Society of Engineers, I am sorry to say I do not believe that has been done."

James O'Grady, another Labor member, who recently visited the front and conversed with Field-Marshal French and others in authority, said he had it from the Field-Marshal that this war had resolved itself into a battle between the workmen and mechanics of this country and the workmen and mechanics of Germany.

"In these circumstances," added Mr. O'Grady, "I say that every man who is not doing all he can to get the utmost productivity out of the workshops of this country is false to his country, is false to his mates who are fighting at the front, false to the ideals underlying the war."

BEST IN DISCIPLINE AND IN THE FIELD.

In all my experience, both at home and in South Africa, I have found that the regiments that were the best in discipline in the field, and in the barracks were the regiments that were best known for Temperance. They were more reliable than the others and they were certainly every bit as smart.—Field-Marshal Methuen.

Britain Has Drought of the Skies.

Commander Porte After Inspection, is Enthusiastic—Will Carry Two Guns and a Ton of Bombs, Some Weighing 200 Pounds.

New York, Sept. 16.—When the White Star Liner Adriatic docks in Liverpool this morning, one of the first passengers to land will be Squadron Commander John Cyril Porte, now in command of the Royal Naval Aviation Depot at Hendon. Commander Porte sailed from this port after having spent eighteen days in the United States and Canada on an inspection tour for the British Government. He arrived here on the Cunard steamer Tuscania on August 21, accompanied by W. A. Casson, a well-known King's counsel of London, who went back with him on the Adriatic.

With the understanding it would not be printed until he reached the other side, Commander Porte told something of England's air fighting. He said he was very well satisfied with the new type of aeroplane which he had accepted in behalf of the British Government. He said further that a large number of these giant aeroplanes had been ordered and were being built.

This class is bigger and faster than the German "Avatik" aeroplanes. The first one had its official test under Lieut. Porte's supervision, and exceeded all requirements by twenty per cent. Its wings are 102 feet over all, and carrying a load of 2,000 pounds, it attained a speed of 95 miles an hour. The carriage projects six feet in front and the same distance in the rear of the wings, so that rapid fire guns, mounted fore and aft, will have an unlimited range, both up and down, thus allowing it to attack aeroplanes both above and below. Hitherto it has been necessary for the aviator to climb above his enemy before he could deliver the death blow. The new class will have two propellers each driven by a 100 horse-power motor of the latest type, which combine economy of fuel with absolute lack of vibration.

Commander Porte was very enthusiastic about these "air destroyers," which are the most destructive type of air craft yet built for the war. They will carry at least two thousand pounds of explosives in the shape of bombs weighing 25, 50, 125 or 200 pounds. These last are so powerful that they can utterly destroy a battleship and badly damage even a modern battleship. Accuracy in bomb dropping is assured by a new device, which will be used for the first time with these machines.

Horwood Implicates all Four Ministers.

Winnipeg Architect Gives Sensational Evidence Regarding Contracts for Public Works—Money was Needed for Campaign Funds.

Winnipeg, Sept. 17.—A good deal of ground was covered to-day in the examination by the Crown of V. W.

Horwood, former provincial architect the first witness in the preliminary hearing of four members of Manitoba's last Cabinet. The names of all the accused ex-Ministers were mentioned in evidence, in the Crown's attempt to link them up with the charges of conspiracy to defraud the Province.

Sir Rodmond Roblin was said to have been concerned in some of the contracts for extras, while acting at one time as Minister of Public Works, and to have been present at a private meeting just before the last session of the Legislature, when he asked Hon. Dr. Montague if everything was all right in connection with the Parliamentary contracts.

Dr. Montague replied that everything was "fire proof."

The witness stated that Dr. Montague, when he first took office, was "very strict," and put Horwood to considerable inconvenience through his scrutiny of estimates in which Horwood was seeking to conceal campaign fund items. Horwood said that Dr. Simpson saw the Minister of Public Works, and after that the witness claimed he found no difficulty.

George R. Coldwell, who was acting Minister of Education for a great deal of the time during the earlier work on the buildings, was stated to have instructed Horwood that "he should be guided by Dr. R. N. Simpson in the manipulation of contracts, so that a campaign fund might be raised from the Parliament buildings. James H. Howden, former Attorney General, was mentioned less frequently. He was at the conference before the Legislature met, and was said to have remarked that a letter from Architect Simon, recommending the acceptance of Thomas Kelly's original tender, "cleared up the whole situation."

Thomas Kelly's part in the transaction about which Mr. Horwood was examined, was not inconspicuous, according to the evidence given. He recommended a change to brick in the foundation walls, largely, Mr. Horwood thought, because he had a large stock of brick on hand which he wanted to have used. When Horwood found it difficult to bring his detailed figures up to the $125,000, which was the figure he had to submit for the grillage for the south wing, Kelly advised him to include $64,800 for concrete between the grillage. He did this, including also excessive amounts of steel and rivets. He allowed for 190 tons of rivets alone. Mr. Horwood was unable to recall the amounts Dr. Simpson had given him in connection with the various contracts, to be included for campaign funds, but he said it was his practice to add to the proper allowance of steel, some times 25 per cent., some times 25 and 15 per cent., and some times 25, 15 and 10 per cent.

KATHERINE EMEISON, Treasurer.

St. John's, Sept. 21.

A Relic of Bye-Gone Times.

While the Council's employees were digging a drain on Market House Hill, known in the days gone by as Court House Hill, they discovered portions of the foundation of the old court house, which once was erected in that vicinity. The old court house was a wooden structure, and for years previous to its obliteration, was neither wind tight nor water tight, it was designated as a hen house by Chief Justice Norton, an Irishman, and the first Roman Catholic Chief Justice of Newfoundland. The gail was on the ground floor, and was a very unhealthy location for the upkeep of prisoners; the building covered the area on which now stands the Dept. of Public Works, with a scaffold, adjoining, on which in the year 1884, Downey Springs, Manderville, and Mrs. Snow were hanged. Downey was executed for the murder of Robert Crocker Brag, maid and child, of Harbor Grace; Malone, an accomplice, gave evidence for the Crown, and was given a reprieve, he was sentenced to incarceration at the King's pleasure; all the guilty parties were tried by Chief Justice Boulton, called like Lord Norbury, the "hanging judge." Judge Boulton was assisted by Justice Branton and Archibald. There's a story told in relation to the unfortunate man Downey. His body was taken to Harbor Grace, where it was hanged in irons on the "Reef" now called Gibbet Hill; some time afterwards after it had been reduced to a skeleton, some person or persons took it down to Dr. Sterling's house, and left it lying against the front door. The maid-servant hearing a knock came to the door, and on opening it she faintly seeing the skeleton; between its long fingers were placed a piece of paper, on which was written:

"O Doctor Sterling, come try your skill. For I am Downey, from Gibbet Hill."

Mrs. Snow was executed for assisting in the murder of her husband John Snow, of Port de Grave. Spring and Manderville were hanged for complicity in the same. The gail, or the old court house was once the temporary abode of Dr. Kelly, this was in 1888, when he was arrested for a breach of privilege of the legislature. Four years previously an attempt was made to burn the gail by a prisoner named Doyle.
