

RECIPROCITY A LIVE ISSUE The result in Saskatchewan yesterday leaves no doubt as to the attitude of the farmers of that province on the issue of reciprocity. It is a live issue and must be met by any party that aspires to the votes of those who live in the west. The west must have a market, and that in effect is what the farmers of the sister province said to those in the seat of power at Ottawa.

TONING UP THE MUNICIPALITY Alderman Hornby, chairman of the investigating committee, which recently made its report to the city council, and which the commissioners purpose ignoring, in an interview yesterday, says the process of toning up the municipal atmosphere may be delayed, temporarily but will go on. He contradicts the suggestion that the council will take no further action.

LIBERALS WIN SASKATCHEWAN ELECTIONS WITH LARGELY INCREASED MAJORITY

Premier Scott Elected: Opposition Leader Haultain has Narrow Win; Liberals 34, Conservatives 13

SIX RIDINGS TO HEAR FROM Many Conservative Strongholds Captured; Gains Large in Districts where Reciprocity was Issue

BULLETIN—The last summary received before going to press gave 39 seats to the Liberals and 7 to the Conservatives, leaving 6 constituencies to be heard from.

REGINA, July 11—The Scott government achieved a sweeping victory today, carrying the province by a largely increased majority.

The defeat of the opposition was decisive and complete, former Conservative strongholds such as Souris, Pipestone, Last Mountain, Moose Mountain and Pheasant Hills, returning supporters of the government by substantial majorities.

In four city seats the opposition held their own fairly well, splitting even by holding Moose Jaw city and Prince Albert, the Liberals holding Regina and Saskatoon city.

In the country, however, the Liberals showed remarkable gains, the farmers apparently regarding the question of wider markets, which was such a prominent feature in the campaign, as of paramount importance, inasmuch as throughout the campaign the opposition leveled no criticism at the records and the policies of the government.

Haultain's Narrow Win—Mr. Haultain himself had a narrow win in South Okanagan. Final results tonight gave him only twenty of a majority. Two of his chief lieutenants, Dr. W. Elliott and Giles, both went down to defeat. Tremendous interest was taken in the result at the capital and throughout the province.

In the city, as soon as the returns definitely established the return of the government, the Liberals organized an impromptu procession and, with bands playing, paraded the city. Tomorrow it is proposed to organize a great demonstration, in which most of the successful Liberal candidates will participate.

The Liberals attribute their success to the record of the government, combined with the desire of the farmers of Saskatchewan to again go on record as demanding an outlet to the south for their grain.

Little To Say—Conservatives have little to say upon the results. They maintain that reciprocity was an issue that should not have been introduced into the campaign. They admit themselves defeated, however, after a hard straight fight, in which the opposition fought under more favorable conditions as to organization and party funds than in any of the previous contests since the province was created.

INTERFERENCE OF HON. ROBT. ROGERS IS REBUKED—Premier Scott.

REGINA, July 11—Premier Scott tonight after election results had been announced, expressed his gratification at the endorsement of his government. He attributed his victory to the record of his government and policies and further considered the verdict given as an emphatic expression of the people of Saskatchewan in favor of the larger markets. Mr. Scott stated further that the utter defeat of the opposition might be looked on as a stinging rebuke to interference in the election of the federal cabinet, represented by Hon. Robt. Rogers.

TO EXPLOIT CALGARY IN BRITISH ISLES IS PLAN OF ABLE PUBLICIST

Henry Hibbert, F.R.G.S., Here to Absorb Information for Lectures

Assisted by Industrial Bureau Takes 1,000 Feet of Moving Pictures

Is Profoundly Impressed With What He Has Seen in Alberta and West

Says He Will Tell His Auditors That Western Canada is Opportunity's Land

IN lectures that will be delivered during the coming winter before audiences ranging from 4,000 to 15,000 people in the leading cities of the British Isles, Calgary will be given a measure of publicity larger than it has yet received from any other source. This announcement is made as a result of the visit to this city during the last few days of Henry Hibbert, F.R.G.S., of Bradford, England, one of the ablest and best known travel lecturers in the British Isles.

Is Widely Travelled—Mr. Hibbert has been a lecturer for 28 years and in the United Kingdom holds the same position relatively as John L. Stoddard did in the United States. He has travelled in Switzerland, Sweden, Italy, Norway, Africa, Spain, Lapland, Iceland, and on the shores of Greenland, getting material for his lectures, and this year is making a tour of the United States and Canada, with the object of obtaining films for his lectures, to be given during the coming winter. The places which he is visiting for this purpose include: New York, Philadelphia, (Continued on page 9.)

CONTRACT APPROVED FOR ST. GEORGE'S ISLAND PAVILION AND STAND

The citizens of Calgary will soon be able to enjoy a first class park on St. George's Island, and when the new pavilion, the band stand, and club house is erected, for which a contract was approved last night by the parks board, it will add much in making the park attractive. There were three tenders for the construction of the new pavilion, namely: Swanstrom company, $5,989; H. Elnert, $4,500; and D. J. McLaughlin, $5,086. The board approved Mr. Elnert's tender as the lowest, and it will be sent to the city council at the next meeting for confirmation.

In order to give local manufacturers an opportunity to make tenders, the board laid over to the next meeting a proposal of Park Superintendent Iwerston to purchase two sets of hand gates, and two pairs of steel road gates, to be set up at each bridge entrance to the park. The gates will be set up so that the park's rules may be complied with regarding the parks to close at 7 p.m. They will be opened at 7 a.m. each day.

WATCHDOG OF TREASURY HAPPY; TAXES COMING INTO CITY'S COFFERS

Ratepayers are coming in rapidly with their taxes for the year, 300 more having paid up to date than at the same time last year, according to figures in the office of Treasurer T. S. Burns. It must be remembered, however, that there are twice as many on the rolls this year as last.

"It seems that the money is not so scarce in Calgary as all the marked Treasurer Burns yesterday, "considering that England is not at all flush at the present moment. It is a good thing for the treasurer's department that the small accounts are coming in so rapidly it will assist materially in conducting business next month, when the discount stops."

WAVING OF FLAG WILL NOT ALLAY FEELING OF WEST THAT IT WAS ROBBED

Retiring President of Toronto Board of Trade Make Some Remarkable Additions

Says It is Useless to Try to Disguise Fact That West Wants Reciprocity

It Cannot be Said Reciprocity is Dead While This Feeling Prevails in the West

Toronto, Ont., July 11.—"The one event of outstanding importance since our last annual meeting was the federal election, and so long as the downfall in the government upon its issue of reciprocity."

"It would be useless to attempt to disguise the fact that the west, especially Alberta and Saskatchewan, is keenly disappointed over its failure to obtain access to the larger markets of the United States, and so long as that feeling of disappointment prevails, we cannot be said that reciprocity is dead."

So declared Frank Beer, retiring president of the Toronto branch of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association at the annual meeting today.

"Wider markets for the west must have, but for its own good as well as the upholding of Canada as a whole, let us hope that they will come through the development of diversified manufacturing industries west of the Great Lakes."

HORNBY HAS HIS FIGHTING CLOTHES ON; SAYS FIGHT IS TO GO ON TO THE END

Chairman of Probe Committee in Belligerent Mood and Says Fight May be Delayed, But in the End the Council Will Control

SAYS NO POLITICS ARE INVOLVED IN INVESTIGATION

Engineer Child Says Grave Injustice Was Done Contracting Firm When Council Voted to Withhold the Retaining Wall Contract

If Commissioner Clarke, City Engineer Child, Medical Officer Estey and Sanitary Inspector Fox, who were severely criticised by the report of the council investigating committee, think that the matter has been ended by the failure of the commissioners to heed the council's mandate, they are doomed to disappointment, according to Alderman James A. Hornby, chairman of the investigating committee.

"We intend to keep right after them," said Alderman Hornby yesterday, referring to the attitude of the commissioners in disregarding the recommendation to dismiss the engineer, medical officer and sanitary inspector. "The matter will not be dropped. It may be delayed while some of the councilmen who were on the committee are out of town but we intend to push this investigation to a finish."

Alderman Hornby is indignant at the published communication of City Engineer Child attacking the committee, especially with reference to the charge that the committee did not give him an opportunity to appear and present rebuttal evidence.

To Investigate Engineer's Statements—"I am going to look into that further tomorrow," said Alderman Hornby last night. "City Clerk Miller was instructed by the committee to notify the city engineer to appear before the committee if he wished to refute the charges. I understand that the city clerk did as he was instructed and furthermore presented the engineer with a copy of the special engineer's report condemning the work that had been done. I have been told that the engineer admitted the truth of the report, saying that he had condemned the work himself, and that he had nothing more to say and that he would appear before the committee. I intend to investigate this personally tomorrow and satisfy myself that the engineer did receive the committee's invitation to appear before it."

London, July 11.—Premier Asquith presiding, flanked on the right and left by Canadian ministers, the committee will meet tomorrow to finally decide Canada's participation in the naval policy of the Empire.

The deputation was a state owned cable, but at any event material reduction in the present rates was urged. The deputation retired with the impression that something will shortly be done towards bettering the existing conditions.

Hon. Pelletier and his wife were later entertained at a dinner by the Postmaster General and Mrs. Samuels. The Premier was present at Premier Asquith's garden party. On Friday he will visit the Duke of Norfolk and spend the week-end at Arundel.

Mrs. MacMahon's Tea. Quite the brightest function of the month during Mrs. Charles MacMahon's of the Moxam Apartments, as hostess yesterday afternoon, when she entertained a number of friends in an informal drawing room tea, complimentary to Mrs. A. W. Goodman, and Mrs. Wilson, two interesting visitors in our city from Perth, Ontario.

The hostess donned for the occasion an exceedingly becoming gown of black charmeuse tulle, made in an elegantly simple mode, the only trimming being Quaker collar and cuffs of dull gold plaited lace.

Mrs. Goodman was prettily gowned in a creation of black silk and chiffon, the bodice elaborated with hand-drawn blue and white beaded passementerie. A large black chapeau completed her toilet. Mrs. Wilson chose a gown of the palest lavender, with a plastron of cream tulle, net and pipings of mauve velvet. She wore a modest white willow plumed hat.

Mrs. Norman Loughheed, who did the tea honors, wore a gown of pink and cream crepe de chene, draped in panther effect over white satin and finished with hand-drawn gold and blue applique. A white plumed hat with cream drap finished her toilette.

Mrs. J. Cairns, who cut the loes, wore a smart costume of navy blue serge with Irish crochet finishings and a pretty black and white hat.

Miss Stockert, a visitor from Boston, and Miss Freda Sweet, both in pretty lingerie gowns, assisted in serving. The afternoon's program was very pleasant, many of the ladies bringing their fancy work. Miss Freda Sweet, an exceptionally promising musician of our city, played two much appreciated piano solos.

The cosy rooms were enhanced with pink and white roses and carnations, which were placed in pretty vases about the rooms.

LITTLE GIRL'S corn colored frock of linen. Embroidery is prominent and extremely pretty in the make up of this frock. Corn yellow linen with the scooped yoke that buttons on, and edged with German vale, is particularly charming. A design of white embroidered daisies is introduced upon the wide box pleats in front and the white patent leather belt worn with this effective little gown gives it an unusually chic finish.

MRS. SARAH PLATT DECKER, NOTED LEADER OF WOMAN UPLIFT MOVEMENT, DEAD

Was Acknowledged Leader of Women of Colorado, Where Universal Suffrage Obtained; Might Have Been First Woman Member of Congress Had She Lived

San Francisco, July 11.—Mrs. Sarah Platt Decker, famed Colorado suffragist and clubwoman, died at 8 o'clock tonight at the Adler Sanitarium. She had been losing strength all day. Her daughter Edwin Chase, a great temperance advocate, who was known as the "Fighting and Praying Deacon."

Mrs. Decker was born in Melndoo Falls, Vermont, about 54 years ago. She came of noted ancestry. She was a descendant of John Adams and John Quincy Adams on her mother's side. Her father was Edwin Chase, a great temperance advocate, who was known as the "Fighting and Praying Deacon."

Mrs. Decker was one of the organizers and first president of the Women's club. She was elected president of the General Confederation of Women's clubs in 1904 at St. Louis, and was re-elected at Minneapolis in 1908.

Because money is easily earned in the West, the Western children have a far more liberal amount of it to spend. Everybody knows who susceptible the child is to the "glitter" of attractions and if he has his own money, in he goes to every kind of a cheap show. He buys anything that pleases his fancy, and for a few moments it is "a thing of joy," but he soon tires of it.

Cultivate the children's desire for books. I know a man who has never refused to give his boy money to buy any book for which the boy has expressed a desire. Tell your children stories. Every child loves stories, and then when they know that if they themselves learn to read they possess the key to a whole world—they will ask for books.

Again, teach them to be generous. A child's desire to do good is the easiest thing in the world to arouse. Let them save their money to give to the mission band or their Sunday school. Even the smallest children take the keenest delight in giving the Sunday school collection. Let your children contribute toward funds that are being raised to buy a sick class-mate a bunch of flowers, to buy a scrapbook for the children in the hospital or to erect a monument that commemorates some worthy individual or event.

Then in a city like Calgary there are many interesting outings for which children can save. Rides on the street car familiarize them with their own city.

TELEPHONE OPERATOR TAKES HER LIFE BECAUSE SHE WAS SWORN AT OVER PHONE

Vancouver, B. C., July 11.—The second mysterious suicide of the week by a young woman occurred early this morning when Miss Olive Smith, aged about 18, died in the city ambulance on the way to the hospital. She had taken carbolic acid and her groans were heard by other operators in the house where she was staying.

The inquest on the body of Miss Maud Harris who took her own life two days ago by gas poisoning showed that she was suffering mental tortures because a telephone subscriber had sworn at her over the phone in Bay View Exchange, where she worked. She felt exceedingly hurt at this incident and the same evening took her own life.

ELOPING SOCIETY-BELLE IS DYING PENNILESS IN A PARISIAN HOTEL

Mrs. Corwin-Hill, of Sheephead Bay, Fled With Actor After Numerous Escapades and Divorces from Two Husbands

New York, July 11.—Mrs. Roberta Mengies Corwin-Hill, the former "Belle of Sheephead Bay," whose numerous escapades recently culminated in her elopement with Conway Tearle, the actor, is said to be at the point of death in a Paris hotel.

In response to cablegrams, the father, mother and sister of the young woman are now on their way to Paris. A cabinman from Paris reported that Mrs. Corwin-Hill and her actor companion had been in dire distress for several weeks and that they were almost on the verge of being ordered from their hotel. American friends, it was reported, came to their assistance and supplied them with funds to last them until the arrival of Mrs. Hill's mother. The father of the young woman, according to the reports, recently cabled money to his daughter when first informed that she was in a penurious condition.

Elopers Were Seen in Paris Theatres
Reports from Paris concerning the eloping couple were to the effect that they were seen frequently at the theatres. The actor, it was reported, was seen in the company of the young woman, who was ever served a term in jail here for smuggling. After her release she hurried to Europe and remained abroad for about six months.

SENATOR LORIMER SHOULD HAVE KILLED WHITE, ASSERTS SENATOR M'COMBER

Singular Declaration Made in Dignified Senate of the United States; Others Say Illinois Man's Record Reeks With Rottness

Washington, July 11.—In a speech in defense of Lorimer in the senate this afternoon, Senator M'Comber of North Dakota, shouted oratorical fire. "It would be political murder," he cried, "if the senate should expel the statesman from Illinois."

Wrought up by the injustice, in his opinion, of the retrial of Lorimer, M'Comber declared that Lorimer would be morally innocent if he killed Representative Charles A. White. The latter's offense was that he had been paid money to vote for Lorimer.

The only reason White was now alive, the North Dakota senator asserted, was because of the "patience and forbearance of the man he offended."

"This movement against Mr. Lorimer," declared M'Comber, "is dominated by public sentiment and a trial on the law and facts is impossible."

There could not be an unbiased verdict by the membership of the senate, he said. Members of that body already had gone on record with votes to the effect that Lorimer had been elected through the use of "corrupt methods, and practices."

Chairman Dillingham of the investigation committee led off in the debate. He pointed out that a majority of the committee believed that the election of any kind of Lorimer, whose course of supply is to be the springs in the hills east of town from which a plentiful supply of good water can be secured by gravity pressure and at a moderate cost.

WHAT THE PRESS AGENTS SAY

One of the most interesting and picturesque regiments of soldiers in any part of the world is the camel corps maintained by the British government in Egypt and in India, and which former a picturesque feature of the magnificent Turner of the fairs, ceremonies which were enacted on the plain outside the city of Delhi, India, last December, when King George and Queen Mary of England were proclaimed Emperor and Empress of India and rulers of more than four hundred millions of people.

The history of the camel corps of the British army is an interesting one. They are not recognized as cavalry, but are really mounted infantry, each man the regiment being selected for his ability as a sharpshooter.

In 1883, when El Mahdi, "the false prophet," preached the holy war and raised the flag of revolt in Central Africa, General Lord Kitchener was placed by England in command of the troops that were quickly dispatched to that country from England to quell the rebellion.

The pick of the British army, the household cavalry, the Life Guards and the Horse Guards Blue, arrived in Egypt by their magnificent chargers. It took a very little time for General Kitchener to realize that these regiments were useless upon the sands of the Sahara desert. The horses not only fell victims to the climate, but they were useless, as every time they attempted to move they sank knee deep in the shifting sands.

Quick in action, General Kitchener impressed into the service from every point thousands of camels, and the novel sight was then presented of Tommy Atkins riding a camel in full regalia of war. The camel corps really saved the situation and led to the defeat of the hosts of fanatics who followed the green banner of the false prophet. From that day the camel corps has been an important branch of the British army of occupation in Egypt, the Sudan and India.

In the recent durbar coronation ceremonies in India, where King George and Queen Mary of England were proclaimed Emperor and Empress of India amidst scenes of gorgeous Oriental pageantry, the camel corps played an important part. In the magnificent kinemacolor pictures of the durbar, showing all the original colors of nature, the camera man secured most thrilling views of the British army, including the camel corps, being reviewed by the king-emperor. The kinemacolor views, which are being exhibited in New York at the New York theatre at the "1150 scale" of prices, have created a veritable sensation. The corporation controlling them has arranged for their exhibition in this city at the Sherman Grand theatre for one week, commencing Monday evening, July 15, with daily matinees. Prices for evening matinees will be 25 cents to $1.00, and all matinees will be 25 and 50 cents, with special rates for children.

BOYS CAPTURE CONVICT

Grand Junction, Colo., July 11.—Glen Schroeder and Phil Price, high school boys, are sharing today the distinction of being the youngest captors of an escapee convict in the history of the state. Unarmed, they captured Antonio Garcia, a Mexican jail trusty, last night.

Concluding a game of tennis in a lot near the county jail, the boys saw the prisoner leaving and gave chase. The Mexican hurled a rock at his pursuers, striking and badly injuring Phil. Schroeder took up the chase, caught the man and held him until help arrived.

NOT WORTH TROUBLE MILAN LAWYERS STRIKE

London, July 11.—It has just been learned that Richard Walters, an aged gardener who died recently in Auckland, New Zealand, was the long missing heir to a $15,000,000 estate in chancery.

Walters knew he was the heir and his employer urged him to prosecute his claim, but the old man said he was satisfied with his station in life and sent word that he regarded the fortune as not worth the trouble.
