AN automobile agent endeavored to sell us a machine the other day. BASEBALL fans are already talking up a leg for the coming season. An attempt was made last season to boom the game in Watford and fair progress would have been made but for the wet weather, the frequent downpours of rain preventing practice. In a few weeks the fans will be clamoring for the game and it is necessary for those interested to get together and organize. Let a meeting be called.

DON'T wait until a man gets into trouble before lending him a helping hand; don't wait until he gets sick to extend him your sympathy; don't wait until he is dead to speak in eulogy of him. Strive to make him happy as he walks down the pathway of life, then you will have done some good, but if you wait until he dies, your helping hand, your sympathies and your eulogies will avail him nothing as he plunges into the Great Unknown.

A KING HAT and a 20th Century suit for Easter—a combination hard to beat.—A. BROWN & CO.

SHAMROCK linen sale, read ad.—SWIFT'S. 17th March, Monday.

A RATHER important change was made recently in a municipal bill in committee of the Ontario Legislature, pertaining to the time in which a person sustaining injury on a highway may enter action against a municipality to recover damages. Hereafter it will be three months instead of thirty days. It was contended that the thirty days' limitation, often defeated by its short period the object for which the provision was intended. The ninety days' notice will serve better to protect the interests of the poor and the ignorant members of the community.

RAINCOATS for men and women, the kind that keep out the rain.—SWIFT'S.

An exchange tells the story of a boy who was sent to market with a sack full of rabbits, lingering about town all day, and coming back without selling them. When asked by his mother why he had not sold the rabbits, he said that no one had asked him what he had in the sack. How many merchants are like this little boy? They have plenty of goods for sale, but fail to tell the people what is in the sack. If you expect to sell goods in this day and age you must open and keep shouting the merits of your stock in trade. Let the Guide-Advocate help you.

MANY local concert goes heard with regret of the death last week at Vancouver, of Miss Pauline Johnston, the talented Canadian author and entertainer. The following prize acoustic written by her is a gem in its line:

CANADA
Crown of her, young Vancouver; crest of her, old Quebec.
Atlantic and far Pacific sweeping her, keel to deck.
North of her, ice and Arctic; southward a rival's stealth;
A loft, her Empire's pennant; below, her nation's wealth.
Daughter of men and markets, bearing within her hold,
Appraised at highest value, cargoes of grain and gold.

DONALD G. CAMERON IS CALLED BY DEATH

Prominent G.T.R. Engineer and Active Church Worker of Allandale. Funeral at Watford.

(Toronto Globe.)

Barrie, March 9.—Donald G. Cameron, one of the most prominent locomotive engineers in Canada, died at 12.40 this morning at his home in Allandale. Death resulted from arterial sclerosis, after an illness of three weeks. He was sixty-two years of age. Mrs. Cameron survives. There are no children.

Nearly thirty years ago Mr. Cameron came here to the point Barrie, and had resided in this town since that time. For twenty-five years he was a member of the Grievance Committee of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and for the greater part of that time had been chairman, representing the men in all the negotiations with the Grand Trunk Railway management for years. A man of the highest integrity and exceptionally good judgment, his opinion carried very great weight with the management, and the amicable relationship that have existed between the management and the engineers for years may be attributed in a large degree to his wise counsel and to his courteous and moderate yet firm presentation of the demands of the men from time to time. A few months ago the engineers showed their appreciation of Mr. Cameron's services by presenting him with a purse of gold and a silver tea service for Mrs. Cameron.

Not only by the men but by the officials also Mr. Cameron was held in very high regard for the last eighteen months. He had not been doing the regular work of an engineer, having been appointed to a position on the staff as instructor in rules.

Mr. Cameron was a leading worker in the Essa Street Presbyterian Church, holding the positions of Church Treasurer, Clerk of Session and Sunday School Superintendent. His body will be taken on Wednesday morning from Allandale to Watford, where it will be interred.

THE FUNERAL

The remains arrived in Watford by special funeral car attached to the 2.45 p.m. train Wednesday, accompanied by a large number of members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and other friends. The cortege was formed at the station, headed by the local Oddfellows, the deceased being a prominent member of that Order, and while passing through the town all business places were closed.

It was one of the largest ever seen here, and showed the esteem in which the deceased was held by those who were intimately acquainted with him. Fully one hundred people from a distance were present and every division of the G.T.R. from Chicago to Montreal was represented.

Arriving at the Presbyterian church an impressive service was held, conducted by the pastor, Rev. J. C. Forster, and Rev. J. Ross, of the Wyoming Presbyterian church, who was intimately acquainted with the deceased and his work in the church.

Interment was made in the old Presbyterian cemetery, 4th line. At the grave the Oddfellows read their beautiful burial service and performed the last sad rites to a departed brother.

The floral offerings were numerous and very handsome.

Among the representatives of the Brotherhood of Engineers and friends who were present were:—A. E. Duffield, R. E. Allan, E. McGregor, John Livingstone, H. J. Barton, of Battle Creek, Mich.; J. S. McMillan, T. H. Smith, of Durand, Mich.; Wm. Conley, Chicago; W. W. McLeister, H. E. Steel, J. B. Wilson, Point Edwards; J. W. Jackson, Geo. Crawford, W. W. Elnor, C. W. Hand, F. Hardisty, R. E. LeSueur, Sarnia; Mrs. Coyle, Garry, Ill.; Miss Marigold and J. McNaughton, Port Huron; Geo. W. Ross, Leamington; Mrs. C. A. Moore, Sarnia; D. Hay, Stratford; Mrs. Burr, Stratford, and a number of others whose names could not be obtained. Locomotive engineers were here from Barrie, Toronto, Hamilton, Montreal and a number of other places, but as the train going east left soon after the funeral it was impossible to obtain their names.

Deceased was a native of Watford, being born on the 4th line. He is survived by two brothers, W. D., and Alex., of Watford; and three sisters, Mrs. John Ross, Warwick, and Miss Jean and Miss Jessie, of Watford.

Aylesworth—Fair

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at the Baptist parsonage on Thursday, March 6th, by the Rev. T. M. Mead, when Mr. Lon Aylesworth, of Watford, was united in marriage to Miss Margaret May Fair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Fair, 18 Sideroad. The bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr. Neil Fair, was attired in a travelling dress of dark blue cloth. Mr. Mansfield Thompson and Miss Agnes Currie witnessed the wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Aylesworth left by the 3 o'clock train for points east. Our heartiest congratulations accompany the young people, and best wishes for a happy future.

Henry Brake, a resident of Bothwell for 60 years, died last week, aged 88 years.

Board of Trade Meeting

The meeting called for Friday evening to reorganize the Board of Trade was well attended, about 35 representative men being present.

The meeting was called to order by Mr. T. B. Taylor, president of the old board, who explained that the object of the meeting was to reorganize. He explained how a live Board of Trade could be of assistance in promoting the welfare of the village and dealing with important matters that come up from time to time.

The election of officers was then taken up and resulted as follows:— President—T. B. Taylor. Vice-President—J. W. McLaren. Secretary—W. A. Wykesmith. Treasurer—R. Stapleford. Executive—S. Rivers, E. D. Swift, E. A. Brown, C. Howden, W. Harper, P. J. Dodds, W. R. Fitzgerald and Dr. Hicks.

It was decided to affiliate with the Amalgamated Boards of Trade of Lambton, but the appointment of representatives to the meetings of that board was left over until next meeting.

The secretary was instructed to communicate with the president of the Amalgamated Boards and endeavor to get a representative of that board to address the local board at an early date.

The membership fee was placed at $2.00, and about 30 of those present joined the organization.

Daughters of the Empire

March meeting of Tecumseh Chapter I.O.D.E. was held at the home of the regent, Mrs. N. B. Howden.

There were 18 members present and 7 visitors. The Chapter was pleased to welcome three new members, viz.—Mrs. Tanner, Miss McCaw and Mrs. Woods. Mrs. Lawrence was appointed a delegate to attend the annual meeting of the Order to be held at Winnipeg in May.

The paper for the day, "Suffragette Movement in England," was read by Mrs. de Gex and was interesting. Mrs. T. G. Mitchell and Mrs. Wood read clippings on the same. Miss Baird and Mrs. Baird gave interesting talks on sugar making, past and present. Mrs. Bennett on housecleaning. The ladies were delighted with Miss Norsworthy's solos. They were exceedingly nice and we trust she may favor us again. Miss McCaw rendered a very pleasing instrumental. A dainty luncheon was served. The place cards and table decorations were in honor of St. Patrick. Singing of the national anthem brought a very pleasant meeting to a close.

Next place of meeting at Mrs. W. E. Fitzgerald's, Mrs. Lowry assisting hostess. Subject, "The New Royal Family." Five minute talks on Marchioness of Lorne, Lady Aberdeen and Duchess of Connaught. Quotations from our school readers.

SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

How Mrs. Reed of Peoria, Ill., Escaped The Surgeon's Knife.

Peoria, Ill.—"I wish to let every one know what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. For two years I suffered, the doctor said I had a tumor and the only remedy was the surgeon's knife. My mother bought me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and today I am a well and healthy woman. For months I suffered from inflammation, and your Sanative Wash relieved me. I am glad to tell anyone what your medicines have done for me. You can use my testimonial in any way you wish and I will be glad to answer letters."—Mrs. CHRISTINA REED, 105 Mound St., Peoria, Ill.

Mrs. Lynch Also Avoided Operation. Jessup, Pa.—"After the birth of my fourth child, I had severe organic inflammation. I would have such terrible pains that it did not seem as though I could stand it. This kept up for three long months, until two doctors decided that an operation was needed. "Then one of my friends recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and after taking it for two months I was a well woman."—Mrs. JOSEPH A. LYNCH, Jessup, Pa.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

It is stated on good authority that the next governor-general of Canada will be General Lord Methuen, who was commander of the first division of the First Army Corps in the South African War from 1889 to 1902, and has had a most distinguished military career. As the Duke of Connaught returns to England in the spring on account of the illness of the Duchess of Connaught, it is likely his successor will be in Canada by the fall, the belief being that the Duke and Duchess will not return to Canada at all, having already served a longer term in the Dominion than was expected would be the case when the Duke was appointed to succeed Earl Grey.

Up to the late eighties the United States was the principal source from which Britain's outside cheese was drawn. Then Canada took the lead and still retains it. Now, according to the Scottish Trader, Australasia threatened to overtake this country. During the twelve months ended August 31, 1912, there was imported into the United Kingdom 1,473,000 pounds of cheese from Australia, 515,760,000 pounds from New Zealand, and 1,409,896,000 pounds from Canada, making a total of 1,927,129,000 lbs. Canada is still a long way in the lead, but Australasia is coming on fast.

The classification made by Dr. Bruce Smith, of Toronto, of the causes of poverty, in percentages is: Intemperance, 16; shiftlessness, 15; immortality, 13; stupidity, 8; ignorance, 5. Information of as much value, and probably wider interest, would be a similar classification of the causes of riches.

To place the merchantmen of Canada and the U. S. on an equal footing as regards the use of the Panama canal should toll be imposed on Canadian ships, the Canadian Government has provided for subsidies to ships that will have to use that route sufficient to offset any charges made by the United States. In fact Canada is preparing to give free tolls to her shipping through the Panama canal, no matter how the controversy re-free tolls for Yankee ships ends.

A six year old girl, attending school in Brooklyn, N. Y., died from the effects of swallowing a piece of lead from a blue pencil which she had been in the habit of putting in her mouth while at school. Doctors used every antidote known to science, but the child died from the effects of the poison. The habit of putting pencils in the mouth should not be tolerated for a moment. It is not only disgusting, but exceedingly dangerous.

A FIREMAN'S PERIL

How Zam-Buk Delivered Him.

At 215 Fraser Ave., Edmonton, Alta., lives W. P. Mahy, a former member of the local fire brigade, who has wonderful cause to be thankful for the curative powers of Zam-Buk. He says: "A serious skin disease broke out on my face, and spread until I was in a terrible state. The spots and little ulcers were frightfully irritating, and yet when scratched or rubbed they bled and smarted. Shaving caused me agony, and sometimes I would have to go two weeks without a shave. I tried home-made remedies, herb salver, and various other preparations, but the sores got no better. When Zam-Buk was mentioned I had little faith that it would be able to do me any good. I gave it a fair trial, however, and the first box made such a wonderful change for the better that it gave me encouragement to continue. I did so, and, to cut a long story short, Zam-Buk in the end quite cured me. My face is now clear of all traces of the terrible disease, which troubled me for so long."

Thousands of sufferers from eczema, blood poison, ulcers, chronic sore, piles, ringworm, cold sores, cuts, burns and skin injuries, have been relieved and cured, as was Mr. Mahy, by Zam-Buk. As a balm for all skin injuries and diseases it is without equal. All druggists and stores at 50c box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Refuse harmful substitutes.

In connection with the recent anniversary of the Kingsville Methodist church $2,450 was paid on the parsonage debt, together with the annual interest of $228. This leaves $1,350 to be met at the anniversary of 1914.

Nearly all children are subject to worms, and many are born with them. Spare them suffering by using Mather Graves' Worm Exterminator, the best remedy of the kind that can be had.

Mr. Dan Freese had his left hand badly lacerated Friday afternoon at the basket factory, Forest. He was tightening some bolts on the veneer machine when the wrench slipped, and in an effort to keep it from damaging the knife, his hand was caught between the bolt and the machine.

At Kingsville on Tuesday William Rollo was working with a gang of men testing and repairing the main gas line east of Wheatley, when the pipe suddenly burst, blowing Rollo about twenty-five feet into the air. In falling to the ground his leg was fractured and his face badly cut and bruised.

Allan McDougall, recognized as one of the best teachers in the West Middlesex inspectorate, has tendered his resignation to the trustees of S. S. No. 8, Carleton Place, where he has taught continuously for over 20 years. Mr. McDougall gives up the school to manage his farm, owing to the scarcity of help.

ASTHMA VICTIMS. The man or woman subject to asthma is indeed a victim. What can be more terrifying than to suddenly be seized with paroxysms of choking which seem to fairly threaten the existence of life itself. From such a condition Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy has brought many to completely restored health and happiness. It is known and prized in every section of this broad land.

SHILOH

THE AGE OF BEAUTY.

Time-Honored Question Being Debated By Paris Artists.

Just at present Paris is deeply interested over a delicate problem which several famous aesthetes are trying to solve. The question—as old as time itself but an ever absorbing topic for the passage of years—is "What is woman's hour of beauty and at what age is she most charming and most irresistible?"

Henri Harpignies, the famous landscape painter, gives his opinion that woman's period of greatest charm is between the ages of 16 and 20. He says:

"The sovereignty of human beauty is in pure and limpid perfection when it has not suffered the least injury from time, care, grief, or illness. It is only the things of nature which have their beauty accentuated by the passage of years."

"A very young man (M. Harpignies recently celebrated his 93d birthday) is as yet unable to appreciate the admirable and unique qualities of youth, and is allured by the artificial and questionable beauty of the more mature woman, and is attracted by what is called the charm of experience. It is only later that he learns the difference between the sham and the real. "Woman's hour of beauty is not in artificial light, but in the full power of the sun."

Antonio de Lagandara, the well-known portrait painter, declares that he finds it impossible to fix the age of the most charming women, saying: "Their period of beauty ranges from 18 to 40 and even later. Quite young women are most beautiful in the morning, during which there seems to be an understanding between them and the atmosphere, which gives them the adorable appearance of flowers and fruit, sprinkled with dew."

"But the hour of beauty for women less young is the evening, under the glittering lights which accord better with charms less tender and better made to support the admirable but dangerous complication of jewels and intelligent articles which add what may be called literary beauty to the plastic one."

"The third hour of beauty is at dusk—the exquisite and consoling moment of illusion."

Says the sculptor, Albert Bartholome, "no expression of beauty touches me if not illumined by the reflection of goodness, and I believe that it will be found in women easiest when they are young—between 18 and 25—when they still retain their illusions, and before this reflection is abolished by the evil influence of men and things." "As an artist," says Ferdinand Humbert, director of the Academy of Beaux-Arts, "I believe, with Bartholome, that the most beautiful time of womanhood is from 18 to 25—the form. But as a man I find that woman is never more seductive, more appealing, be she plain or lovely, than from 30 to 35. Intelligence, experience, tact and a divine sympathy for the sorrows and sins of the world add to whatever of natural charm she may have and the result is to me, at any rate, a perfect woman."

The average vote places 25 as the age when a woman is fairest. It has been noticed in the course of the argument that the older the expert the younger the age which he declares his ideal. The artist of 70, for instance, sees love lines only in the girl of 20 or 25 while 35 appeals to the critic of 30 or 40.

Aerial Taxicabs.

One of the great French aeroplane builders has constructed a veritable aerial taxicab. The machine has a body which looks like that of any taxicab. The passengers enter by a side door and view the landscape below through mica windows. Pneumatic cushions protect the passengers in rough landings. The pilot sits in front of the machine, like a chauffeur. There is even a speaking tube to facilitate communication between the passengers within the taxi and the chauffeur. A 100 horse power engine is mounted on top of the cab and with it the fuel tanks. The spread of wings is forty-three feet from tip to tip and the over all length is forty-six feet. Ready for flight, without passengers, the aeroplane weighs 1,540 pounds.

Lalande and Neptune.

The astronomer Lalande narrowly escaped being made famous by a discovery. He accidentally struck Neptune with his glass on May 8, 1785, but supposed it was a star. He put it down in his notebook as a star and recorded its exact situation. Two days later he struck it once more and made a record of it. But when he looked over his notes he found he had it down as being in two different places, and as a star cannot move in forty-eight hours he supposed he had made a mistake in one of his notes. If he had used his mind a little less mechanically he easily might have been a Columbus.—London Chronicle.

PILLS THAT HAVE BENEFITED THOUSANDS.—Known far and near as a sure remedy in the treatment of indigestion and all derangements of the stomach, liver and kidneys, Parrelle's Vegetable Pills have brought relief to thousands when other specifics have failed. Innumerable testimonials can be produced to establish the truth of this assertion. Once tried they will be found superior to all other pills in the treatment of the ailments for which they are prescribed.

Hot Soda Bath.

Once a week take a hot bicarbonate of soda bath. Buy a package of bicarbonate of soda (baking soda) and put three heaping teaspoonfuls in eight quarts of water. After the soda is put in the water stir it carefully so it will be all dissolved. Then stand in the tub and go over all the body with a stiff brush. It is all right to use soap, too. Rub the body until it is a bright pink. Then rinse off with clear water. You will find this a most refreshing, healthful bath.

A Reforming Influence.

"That automobile I bought has been doing wonders for me," said Mr. Chuggins. "Fresh air and all that sort of thing" "It has benefited me morally as well as physically. It has led me to avoid intoxicants and to lead a life that will insure me as beautiful an obituary as possible."

Father Fixed It.

Her Father—My boy, I like you, and I want you to marry my girl, but have you spoken to her mother about it? Suitor—No, sir. Her Father—Then to make it a sure thing for you I'll oppose the match.

Costermongers in Morocco.

In Morocco the costermonger recommends his wares by pledging the credit of a saint. "In the name of Mulai Idriss! Roast chestnuts!" "In the name of our Lord Mohammed Al Hadj! Popcorn! Popcorn!" "In the name of Sidna Ali-bu-Rhaleh! Melons! Nice, sweet melons!" "Allah is gracious! Beans! Fried beans!" "There be no might nor majesty save in Allah! Water! Cool Water!" These and the like are heard at every turn. Even the auctioneer who is calling out the price of a slave or the bids for a Rabat carpet is careful to interlard his professional talk freely with allusions to his Maker and the pathetic roll of Moorish saints.

Air Pressure.

At the level of the sea the pressure of the atmosphere on the piston of an engine is about fifteen pounds to the square inch, but decreases at higher altitudes. As this atmospheric pressure must be overcome by the steam pressure before any work can be done, it is evident that at the diminished air pressure of high altitudes more work can be obtained from a given pressure of steam than at the sea level, or, in other words, an equally effective pressure of steam can be obtained with the expenditure of less fuel. The difference, however, is not great enough to be of any practical importance.

A Familiar Path.

"Well, Jorocks, I understand you are to lead Mrs. Wingham-Jones-Smythe to the altar," said Bubbleton. "Not on your life," returned Jorocks. "She knows the way, I'm just going along."

A Conservative.

"I don't like to be always moving about," declared the cook. "Don't ch!" said the new janitor. "I've been in this apartment house a year. There's ninety families in it. I'm good for a year more."

At Cross Purposes.

"Ole Pengborn is working himself to skin and bone trying to keep that boy of his in college." "And what's the boy doing?" "Doing his best to be expelled."

When a mother detects from the writhings and fretting of a child that worms are troubling it, she can procure no better remedy than Miller's Worm Powders, which are guaranteed to totally expel worms from the system. They cause vomiting, but this need cause no anxiety, because it is but a manifestation of their thorough work. No worms can long exist where these Powders are used.

AMMUNITION IS TOO HIGH

The politician now may roar and swear, And at the other party rip and swear, He may blackguard the other candidate And shoot his mouth off at terrible rate.

He may call all his hearers liars, Consign them all to hades' fires, Slander the flag, his country and his state; Spit out venom, treason and foul hate.

But not one rot will at the traitor shoot, Bust on his mug and suffocate the brute, When formerly rote fell like the summer rain And smelted from California clear to Maine.

Well, no; it's not because men are so good— They'd fire the eggs if they just could— But rote today are worth their weight in gold.

And, like the girls, they never do grow old.

In Philadelphia wholesome caks they make,

In bad New York in egg nose rote they break,

While in Chicago the fair girls Use them to paste their cute spit curia.

C. M. BARNITZ.

HEN COMFORT FOR HEN PROFIT.

Zero cold storage was never meant for live chickens, though some keep them that way all winter and wonder at the few eggs and cuss at the big feed bills. The colder the house the higher the feed bill is a fact forgotten by advocates of the extreme open front for northern climes.

We have seen fanders fairly shovel feed into their hens in winter and receive few eggs in return, for the hens were converting the food intended for eggs into fat for fuel to burn to keep from freezing to death.

A hen lays up nothing for a rainy day, but if she has the chance like bruin she will lay on fat for the wintry day.

Thus as cold weather approaches her appetite increases and naturally craves those foods like corn that quickly turn to fat, and this is why we often find hens hog fat at the beginning of winter and unfit to lay those top-notch winter eggs.

The practical poultryman considers all this. He knows a healthy productive hen must have a certain proportion of fat, and he tries to keep them at that normal point by feeding the right proportion of carbohydrates and protein. At the same time he so arranges his poultry quarters that he conserves the hens' body heat at night and keeps them exercising in comfort in the day so that the blood circulation keeps them warm and healthy.

Ventilation does not mean that a man must live in the open and freeze to death.

Biddy originated in the tropics. Her natural laying season is in rainy spring. She is no arctic owl. Bred well, fed well and housed well, she will do well, but not otherwise.

FEATHERS AND EGGSHELLS.

In a 1,400 mile homing pigeon flight from Denver to Pittsburgh, War Horse and North Side Star, Pittsburgh birds, beat the world's record. The time was 6 days 7 hours 46 minutes 8 seconds. What a miracle that a pigeon can find its way home that distance through the trackless waste of air!

Starving fowls down to get them thin to molt and then feeding them strong to make them feather fast and lay is a method laid aside by those who have tried it. It is too strenuous and too unnatural. The starvation method is cruel and makes the flock targets for disease. Fowls that are kept in good condition do their molting easily and on time.

Warden J. K. Coddling of the Kansas penitentiary has an extensive poultry plant inside the walls, the birds being cared for by the convicts. It not only brings a pleasant variety into the daily monotonous routine, but insures a good chicken Christmas dinner for the prisoners.

No poultry raiser can expect chicks to mature well when they must con-

SYMPTOMS OF CONSUMPTION

Yield to Vinol.

The medical profession do not believe that consumption is inherited, but a person may inherit a weakness or tendency to that disease.

A prominent citizen of Evansville, Ind., writes: "I was ill for five months with pulmonary trouble, and had the best of doctors; I had hemorrhages and was in a very bad way. Through the advice of a friend I tried Vinol, and I feel that it saved my life. It is all you recommend it to be. I believe it is the greatest medicine on earth. I have advised others to try Vinol, and they have had the same results." (Name furnished on request.)

Vinol soothes and heals the inflamed surfaces and allays the cough. Vinol creates an appetite, strengthens the digestive organs and gives the patient strength to throw off incipient pulmonary diseases.

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you.

The death of Richard Laird, a former butcher of Wyoming, occurred in London.

The body was brought to Wyoming for interment. Deceased was a former resident of Plympton before coming to Wyoming, and was known as a hard working, law-abiding citizen. After coming to Wyoming, a number of incidents combined to unbalance him mentally and about a year ago he was taken to the London Asylum for the Insane. He is survived by his widow, who was unfortunate enough some years ago to lose an arm through blood-poisoning, and a daughter, Annie, who last year taught the townline school. The sympathy of the community is extended to them in their bereavement.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

The first map of the Dominion of Canada showing Ungava as a part of the province of Quebec, was hung in the Government offices on Friday. In the old map Ontario ranked as the largest province, but now it comes second to Quebec. By the annexation of Ungava the Province of Quebec gained seaboard on Hudson Bay, Hudson Strait and Ungava Bay, Ontario, although it absorbed the District of Patricia, is now far behind Quebec in the matter of land. The Province of Quebec at the present time totals 706,834 square miles, comprising 445,078,682 acres of land and 7,295,158 acres of lake, while the Province of Ontario square mileage is 407,262, made up of 234,555,240 acres of land and 26,203,444 of lake—leaving Quebec 299,572 square miles to the good over its sister province.

Every farmer who takes a paper that admits advertising to its columns receives the equivalent of a cash contribution, for were it not for the advertising to help pay for the cost of publishing the paper, the subscription price would necessarily be two or three times as much. A paper whose subscription price is $2, would be at least $3 if it had no advertising patronage, hence every subscriber virtually gets one dollar from the advertisers. It follows, then, that subscribers should have a kindly feeling for the advertisers in their paper, and give them the preference in the bestowal of their patronage; for the reason that one good turn deserves another.

Who would be president of Mexico when a job can be had in a powder mill where human life is comparatively safe.

Plans are on foot to establish a French newspaper in Windsor, to be devoted to the French-Canadian community of Western Ontario.

Seven farmers from the States arrived at Windsor on Tuesday with their household effects to settle on farms in Essex county.

The mayors of Windsor and Hamilton, have asked Hon. Mr. Hanna, provincial secretary, to have the privilege of voting on New Year's Day, which obtains in Toronto, extended to their cities. As Ottawa has expressed the same wish it is likely that legislation will be enacted to cover the matter.

Considerable worry has been caused among the farmers in the Aldborough who have given options on their farms to representatives of the syndicate of English capitalists. A number of farmers were so sure that their farms would be taken up at the option price that they have procured other pieces of land and a number have two farms on their hands.

A. Thompson, an Englishman who arrived in this country with no capital and now possesses a good ten-acre fruit farm at Lambeth, says "the man who cannot make a living in this country is no good anywhere." Last year he realized $400 per acre for strawberries; $100 from three-quarters of an acre of tomatoes, and $200 per acre for early potatoes.

The new co-operative plan of delivery came into force in Parkhill on Monday, March 3rd. This is a move which will recommend itself to all, as the service which the public will receive will be just as efficient and the cost of keeping store will be materially lessened. A merchant who formerly paid out from $450 to $500 a year for a driver and horse keep and repairs, will now pay only a fraction of that sum.

Judge D. F. MacWatt, of Sarnia, has granted the request of Forest Town Council for an enquiry into certain features of the local option vote here in January and will conduct an investigation in Forest on Friday, March 14th. Action by the Council was on the petition of 25 ratepayers. Messrs N. Trip and C. W. McCordie, speaking for them, stated that they could furnish evidence to show that a number of ballots cast in favor of the by-law in the second ward had been tampered with and spoiled after being counted, and before the recount by the county judge took place on January 31st.

This horse has travelled in Lambton County for seven years, and is the sire of a large number of high-priced and prize-winning horses. The horse breeders of Mr. Twamley's vicinity will do well to avail themselves of the opportunity of using this grand stock horse.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Taylor had a very exciting but comical experience the other evening. While sitting near the stove about 10.30 they heard a noise in the woodshed, which they thought to be someone entering. They waited a few minutes in breathless-silence, while the tramping sound continued. Then, having mustered up a little courage, Mr. Taylor went to the door and peered through a crack into the darkness beyond, where he recognized what he thought to be a man standing there with a bundle in each arm. This strange person, however, turned out to be a quiet old dairy cow, which had wandered in through the open door.

COMMUNICATIONS.

[We do not hold ourselves responsible for opinions expressed by correspondents.]

Editor Guide-Advocate:—

Dear Sir:—In this week's edition of your paper, I noticed an item concerning the get-rich-quick system. It said if a person deposited 1 cent in the bank on the first day of the month and doubled the amount to his credit on each succeeding day he would have accumulated $10,737,418.23 by the end of the month. I think that if the person who subscribed the item would work the problem out day by day he or she would arrive at a far different result. Not having anything to do at present I sat down and worked out the question, but the nearest I could get was $11,370,680.00. If the party who furnished the puzzle would publish his method of arriving at such an amount I would be glad to see such in print.

Yours respectfully,

A. F. ADAMS.

R. J. McCormick, M.P.P., on the Liquor Question.

R. J. McCormick, member of the Legislature for East Lambton, took part in the debate on the liquor question in the House last week. The Globe reports him as follows:—

Mr. R. J. McCormick (East Lambton) said he thought the time had come when the Province should make advance in the direction of temperance reform as well as in other directions. The very progress made by local option in recent years was the strongest indication of the need for more advanced temperance legislation. It was no argument to say that the late government had not done enough for temperance; for his own part he would admit it. But it was surprising to see the position taken by the hon. member for West Lambton (Mr. Hanna) in view of the recent local option contest in Sarnia. Coincident with the demand for the abolition of the bar there had come a call from all over the Province for men who would support the cause of temperance and carry its advocacy from day to day into the councils of the nation.

Mr. McCormick repudiated a statement published in The London Free Press, that the Liberal party would have to dispense with its present leader. "What has The Free Press to do with Mr. Rowell?" he declared amid applause. "We are proud of Mr. Rowell. He believes he is right and has the courage to stand for his convictions."

The mayor and clerk of Forest have been served with a notice of action by Cowan & Towers, Sarnia, acting for Miss Mary Brown, of that town, who broke one of her legs by falling on a walk here last week. Miss Brown evidently wants some compensation for the loss sustained.—Forest Free Press.

LIVER LAZINESS

Those Who Lack Energy and are Unsuccessful Should Read This Closely.

"I am only thirty years old, yet for almost two years I have felt more like seventy-five. I have found it difficult to sleep at night and in the morning feel so depressed and heavy that effort was difficult. My hands were always clammy and perspiration on slight effort would break out all over me. It was not unnatural that I should begin to brood over the chance that I should soon be unfit to do my work, and this dread made my sleepless nights perfect misery. After repeated trials of medicine and mixtures Dr. Hamilton's Pills gave me the first gleam of hope. From the very first I could see they were different in action from other pills. They didn't gripe and acted as naturally as if nature and not the pills were cleansing my clogged up system. My spirits rose, I felt much better, the sluggish action of the system gave way to normal activity. Dizziness and headaches ceased, appetite, good color, and ambition to work returned and have remained. I am like a new man and I thank Dr. Hamilton's Pills for it all."

This was the experience of J. E. Parkhurst, a well-known grocery dealer in Jefferson. Follow his advice, use Dr. Hamilton's Pills for your stomach, kidneys, and liver, and you'll enjoy long life and robust good health. All dealers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills. ## Another Bracelet

A Romance of the Neptune

By CLARISSA MACKIE

"Home again," sighed Madeline Trayle as the tourist ship Neptune sighted New York's jagged skyline once more.

"It has been a wonderful trip," observed her father, smiling down at the girl. "I believe Alex will testify to that."

Alexander Felton's contented face beamed happily upon the girl whom he had wooed and won on this Mediterranean trip. Each member of the party of seven, who had been drawn together by mutual interests, had enjoyed some unique experience or participated in an adventure to be related on those long evenings spent on the moonlit deck of the steamer. At their last port a newcomer had joined the ship, a charming girl, who proved to be a dear friend of Madeline Trayle's, and with this arrival of Emily Drake there was solved the mystery of a broken scent bottle, for she proved to be the owner of the toy, which had dropped from a latticed window in Beirut and been shattered on the stones at his feet. Young Clayton's devotion to Emily Drake during the homeward voyage had been marked, and the older people of the party smiled upon what appeared to be another romance.

Madeline Trayle's especial adventure had been connected with a filigree bracelet which her father had purchased from a peddler in Constantinople. She had been wearing the bit of Byzantine jewelry when, standing in the Suleiman mosque, a melancholy Turk had haughtily demanded to examine it, declaring that once it had belonged to his daughter, who had disappeared. After examining it closely he had returned it sadly, apologizing for his presumption in addressing the young American lady.

In relating this story to her companions on board the Neptune Madeline had declared that a friend of hers in New York possessed the duplicate of her filigree bracelet, (which upon examination had proved to have been "made in Germany" and was no doubt copied from the original trinket), and this friend proved to be none other than Emily Drake.

Emily said that her bracelet was in New York, and such was her interest in the incident of the melancholy Turk who had lost a daughter that she declared she would unearth the trinket as soon as she reached home and examine it for some secret mark.

"Perhaps we may be able to reunite father and daughter—if she is still living," ventured Emily, smiling.

It was several days after their landing that Emily Drake found an opportunity to call upon Madeline Trayle.

"Dear," she cried eagerly, "I've unearthed the filigree bracelet and cleaned it up, and I do believe there is some writing on the inside! Has your father got a strong magnifying glass?"

Professor Trayle produced the necessary instrument, and the three examined the bracelet in turn. At last the professor laid down the glass. "Emily, it looks to me as though you really owned the original filigree bracelet," he said.

"How lovely!" cried Emily.

HIS BLADDER WAS TERRIBLY INFLAMED

GIN PILLS Brought Relief

Larder Lake, Ont., March 26th.

"I had been suffering for some time with my Kidneys and Urine. I was constantly passing water, which was very scanty, sometimes as many as thirty times a day. Each time the pain was something awful, and no rest at night."

I heard of your GIN PILLS and decided to give them a trial at once. I sent my chum 60 miles to get them and I am pleased to inform you that in less than six hours, I felt relief.

In two days, the pain had left me entirely. I took about half a box and today I feel as well as ever and my kidneys are acting quite natural again."

SID CASTLEMAN.

GIN PILLS soothe the irritated bladder—heal the sick, weak, painful kidneys—and strengthen both these vital organs. Money back if they fail. 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50. Sample free if you write National Drug and Chemical Co., of Canada, Limited, Toronto, 139

"Isn't it wonderful?" breathed Madeline. "What does it say inside, father? I know there must be something written there or some secret mark, for the Turk looked inside and then said it was not the bracelet of his daughter."

"Just think of how many imitations he must have looked at, hoping to find the right one," murmured Emily. "But do tell us what it says, Professor Trayle."

"Look inside once more," he said, giving her the glass. "Do you not see some queer marks engraved there?"

"Yes, yes! They look like shorthand characters."

"It's Arabic. It reads 'To my daughter, Zerah.'"

"Zerah—what a lovely name! I can see her now—a languorous eyed beauty," cried Emily.

"Now we have a clew to work upon. I have such a splendid plan," said Madeline, her cheeks pink with excitement.

"Tell it to me."

"Let us each wear our bracelets and go from one Turkish shop to another, apparently looking for rugs or trinkets, and perhaps some woman, some shopkeeper's wife, may recognize the filigree bracelet, and thus we may find the owner and tell her that her father is waiting for her!"

"A wild goose chase," smiled the professor indulgently. "My dears, the chances are that Zerah is now and has been in Constantinople, perhaps hidden from her father's seeking eyes."

"No, I am sure that is not the case," protested Madeline warmly. "It's this way, father—"

"There, there, my dear; I should not try to discourage you," he smiled. "Run along on your pretty romantic errand. Only be careful that you do not go afoot, and beware of unsavory parts of the city without a proper escort. Perhaps Alexander will go along. You know he is a linguist and—"

"This is a matter for fathers and daughters, so we will ask you to escort us," said Madeline, and in the end Professor Trayle laughingly assented. Secretly he was attracted by the possibilities of the search.

"If you find Zerah—whether she is young and lovely or has become fat and hideous, as is often the unfortunate fate of oriental women, and she wants to return to her father, remember I will send her home again," he promised and was rewarded by the gratitude of the two girls, who had come to look upon the lost Zerah as a real person who would be found in the foreign quarter of New York, that clearing house of many nationalities.

The next day they started out on their strange search. As the limousine threaded its way among the narrow streets of the Syrian quarter—for they had decided to begin their search there—the two girls chattered about the bracelet and examined again and again the one Emily wore on her wrist outside her black glove.

Their first experience was disappointing. A Turkish shop, attended by two slender young men, who urged them to buy rugs, did not offer any hope of finding the lost Zerah; although Emily displayed her bracelet carelessly to their view.

It proved to be a disappointing quest. In and out of little dark, odorous shops they went. They interviewed Turkish women and men and children, but all stared stolidly at the filigree bracelet and shook their heads.

They were interested in selling goods to the rich Americans, not in tracing some mythical person named Zerah.

As the limousine drew up at the curb in front of Emily Drake's home and she stepped to the pavement Madeline leaned forward and pointed a finger at the flight of stone steps leading to the front door of the Drake home.

"Oh, Emily, we've been interviewing Byzantine women all day, and here is another one sitting on your doorstep!" Emily turned and looked.

There on the bottom step of the brown stone flight sat a lace peddler, a slender, worn looking woman with pathetic dark eyes and sad mouth. On her lap there rested a basket filled with laces and lace trimmed linens.

Professor Trayle and his daughter leaned from the motor and watched Emily as she approached the woman and picked up some laces with the hand that wore the filigree bracelet.

Instantly the woman's eyes flashed eagerly, and she laid a brown hand on Emily's wrist and muttered some foreign words.

"Professor Trayle, do come! I believe I've found her! Come and talk to her!" cried Emily in excitement. And the professor and his daughter obeyed at once.

The woman was holding Emily's hand, and tears were running down her cheeks as her fingers touched the silver bracelet.

"Zerah!" said the professor distinctly, and at sound of the name the woman started to her feet and stared wildly at him.

Then, speaking in her own language, he quieted her fears and asked her a few questions. He took the bracelet from Emily's wrist and showed it to her.

The two girls watched with delight mingled with awe the changing emotions on her face as she listened to the story Professor Trayle had to tell, and she nodded smilingly at last, and then, clutching the filigree bracelet to her bosom, she spoke in the same tongue, softly, melodiously, ending her narrative with a little despairing gesture.

"It is Zerah," said Professor Trayle at last. "Finding her here on Emily's doorstep is such a curious coincidence that I confess I am thrilled through. The bracelet is hers, and she prized it highly as her father's gift, but she learned to love a rascal, and she sold the bracelet in the bazaar in Constantinople and with the proceeds eloped to America with her lover, who has long since deserted her. Fearful of her father's anger, she has never dared communicate with him, although her heart is breaking for her old home."

"Of course she can go back again?" ventured Emily.

"Certainly. My promise holds good, and I shall send word to her father to meet her."

"Isn't this a perfectly lovely ending to the voyage of the Neptune?" asked Emily after they had seen Zerah cared for by the servants.

"Who dares say that romance is dead in the world?" demanded Madeline, laughing happily.

"I don't for one," confessed Professor Trayle.

Skips Show Results

Mr. Jas. Minro, of Lambeth, Ont., writes: "Interesting results followed my purchase of several sacks of Homestead Bone Black Fertilizer from H. Hamlyn of this place this fall to put on my wheat. I used a new International drill with fertilizer attachment and not being accustomed to the working of the attachment some skips were made in the field. The difference between the fertilized and the unfertilized parts of the field at the present time is truly astonishing. The portions fertilized are darker and much heavier. I intend using more in the spring.

Homestead Fertilizers are manufactured and sold by the Michigan Carbon Works, Detroit, Michigan, who will send free to any farmer their book on fertilizers with a handsome calendar postage paid. They want agents where they are not now represented. Address, Michigan Carbon Works, Postoffice Drawer 814-A, Detroit, Michigan, asking for terms.

A. A. Smith, of Kalamazoo, submitted to an operation at University hospital at Ann Arbor that is said to have never been performed before in the history of surgery. Part of the brain, diseased by an abscess, was removed and the brain of a dog was substituted. If he recovers he will always have something to growl about.

MUSCULAR RHEUMATISM SUBDUED.—When one is a sufferer from muscular rheumatism he cannot do better than to have the region rubbed with Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. There is no oil that so speedily shows its effect in subduing pain. Let the rubbing be brisk and continue until ease is secured. There is more virtue in a bottle of it than can be fully estimated.

CANKER AMONG TURKEYS.
 It's not often the big thirty pound gobbler with the red flannel cravat gets the sniffles and the sore throat. He swings up there in the tip top and seems to enjoy the wintry wind. He shoves his bald head under his thick coat and sleeps as sound as a fellow in a feather bed. But it's the young stock, especially those hatched late, where you find your winter patients, and these at times get those white spots in the mouth and throat, and such canker patches aren't so easy to treat, as turkeys are so nervous and strong. You can generally tell the victims by their manner of eating, and we have seen them with such a bunch of the cheesy matter in their mouths that they couldn't eat at all. Canker sometimes forms in the opening of the windpipe. The turk gasps for breath, and an examination shows the white plug with a little hole in the center, through which it breathes. At times the mouth roof cleft is filled. Thus the fowl cannot breathe through its nostrils, and it stands with mouth open. Canker is contagious and is found where are drafts, damp, foul air and

CANKER IN ROOF OF TURK'S MOUTH.

TURKEY'S LOWER JAW—NORMAL.
 It is easily spread where fowls eat from the same trough and drink from the same vessel. All poultry is subject to it, and we have found the ordinary yellow canker not difficult to cure unless complicated with other disease. The patient should be penned in a comfortable place and the canker patches be gently removed and the raw surface receive frequent applications of peroxide of hydrogen, and moist milk mash should be fed.

The wise turkey raiser has a comfortable, well ventilated shed, where he drives his flock to roost in severe winter weather, and this only shows his practical sense, for the wild turkey does not sleep on trees in the open, but seeks the deepest woods, where the wind cannot strike it.

DON'TS.
 Don't store high priced feed in a bug-horn granary.
 Don't sell all your best turkeys and keep the inferior for breeding.

GETTING KILLED IN THE ALPS.

Advice on How to Die Spectacularly Given By An Englishman.
 In 1910, 100 tourists were killed in the Alps. Last season the number was increased to 133. As to plain, simple accidents, not necessarily fatal, last year 400 experienced broken arms, legs and ribs. Once only the elite climbers. To-day everybody's doing it" and mountain climbing has developed into a mad scramble of thousands to reach some snow-capped summit. As most of these know but little of the technique of getting killed, an English writer who spends much of his time in Switzerland has taken it upon himself to offer various rules and suggestions.

"A fascinating way," he says, "is to go and pick edelweiss. This beautiful Alpine flower contrives to bloom overhanging the most perilous abysses. To pluck it one must approach from above. Descend slowly, therefore, clinging to some small shrub. If a passing guide chances to call warning, reply that you know what you are about, and that tourists, as well as guides, have a right to pick Alpine flowers. Lean slightly over the precipice, and as one hand grasps the alluring bloom, with the other hand pull on the shrub, which will come loose, roots and all. There will be a grating sound of loose, moving rock, the overhanging ledge will cave in, and one may soar, edelweiss in hand, into the void below. There will be three lines in the newspapers about it, and a caravan of expert guides will find the body.

"Sitting down in avalanche paths is sometimes effective. A friend of mine, dispensing with guides, climbed up above Pierre Pointue on the route up Mont Blanc, and deliberately sat down quietly to lunch in a gully where avalanches come down off the Aiguille du Midi every 15 minutes. Suddenly the air was filled with singing, flying stones and ice, the velocity making the smaller stones invisible. He failed to get hit, however, and disgusted, leaving everything behind, fled to Pierre Pointue, where he recommenced with absinthe cocktails.

"Climbing without heavily nailed boots, too, has its advantages. An American, who considers it common place to ascend Mont Blanc like everybody else, tried it with patent leather shoes. At the 'Junction' of the glaciers des Bossons and de Tacconnaz he slipped into a crevasse, dragging with him an English friend. Guides had great difficulty in getting them out. Hot words followed, the cool crevasse, and the two Anglo-Saxons, each blaming the other for what had happened, indulged in a warm pugilistic encounter in the snow.

"Nothing is easier than falling over a precipice. To get killed, therefore, the Alpinist with vertigo should tackle the Metehorn, Schreckhorn, or the Aiguille Verte. While it lasts the sensation of falling several thousand feet must be extraordinary."

Not Only In Canada.
 That outrageous bugaboo, "the cost of living," is evidently not confining its attentions to Canada alone, if one is to judge from some of the recent reports, which show that it is impossible to escape the monster by fleeing to other lands.

Take it in India, for example. There, in 1909, the wages of a staff of servants employed by a couple consisting usually of a butler, second boy, coolie, cook, sweeper and possibly a gardener, amounted to a little more than $23 a month. In 1912 the wages of the same staff amount to $32 a month.

From Australia comes a wail that prices in living commodities have advanced about 10 per cent. during the last year. Of all the foodstuffs cited as having advanced in price the once humble onion holds the proudest position, its price having gone up 344.44 per cent. beyond that of a year ago. Beef has advanced from four to seven cents a pound.

Constipation
 is an enemy within the camp. It will undermine the strongest constitution and ruin the most vigorous health. It leads to indigestion, biliousness, impure blood, bad complexion, sick headaches, and is one of the most frequent causes of appendicitis. To neglect it is slow suicide. Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills positively cure Constipation. They are entirely vegetable in composition and do not sicken, weaken or gripe. Preserve your health by taking

MARCH WEATHER RHEUMATIC WEATHER

Victims Can Cure Themselves With Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

With the coming of March, people who are afflicted with rheumatism begin to have unpleasant reminders of their trouble. The weather is changeable—balmy and springlike one day, raw, cold and piercing the next. It is such sudden changes of weather that sets the pangs and tortures of rheumatism, lumbago and sciatica going. But it must be borne in the mind that although weather conditions start the pains, the trouble is deeply rooted in the blood, and can only be cured through the blood. All the lotions and liniments in the world can't cure the rheumatism. Rubbing may seem to ease the pain while you are rubbing, but there its value ends. Only through the blood can you cure rheumatism. That's why Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have so many thousands of cures of this trouble to their credit. The new, rich blood which they actually make drives out the poisonous acid and rheumatism is vanquished. Among many sufferers from rheumatism who have been cured by this medicine is Miss Mary B. Kelly, South Dummer, Ont. Miss Kelly says: "Some time ago I had a very bad attack of rheumatism, at times I would be confined to bed for a couple of days and would seem almost paralyzed with the intense pain in my back and legs. At such times I could not walk and my joints were stiff and swollen. I consulted different doctors and took their medicine, but did not get more than temporary relief. At this time a neighbor advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I got a supply. After taking a few boxes I found they were greatly helping me, and I continued their use until the trouble completely disappeared. I can strongly recommend this medicine to others who suffer as I did from the pangs and tortures of rheumatism. If you suffer from rheumatism, or any other disease of the blood, begin to cure yourself to-day with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
