RECREATION HALL FUND

Nearly Two Hundred Dollars Raised Toward the Recreation Hall for County Institutions to Cost Six Hundred Dollars.

Those who were present at the County Institutions' Christmas festival and those who read the account of the same in the last issue of the Monitor-Sentinel, will recall the great need shown by Superintendent Hillz, at a Reception Hall for the joint use of both institutions, but particularly for the use of the Hospital patients.

We are pleased to say that sufficient encouragement (as shown below) has already been given to warrant the scheme suggested now being taken up in earnest speaking of the hospital more particularly.

The need of such a hall is readily apparent to all acquainted with the real life of the institution but for those not so informed the following will be of interest:

The average number of patients in the Hospital alone is over fifty. For the preservation of good order, certain restraints and disciplinary measures are necessary. It is felt that if a hall could be provided sufficiently large, more freedom could be allowed, and especially at this season of the year when, for obvious reasons the patients are almost wholly confined to very limited space within the hospital building. That such freedom would be appreciated by the patients can be vouched for by those who have had experience amongst them, and it is hardly necessary to point out that the relaxation from the discipline that is necessary within the hospital walls, which would be thus afforded would add to the general welfare of the patients as well as their happiness. Add to this other uses to which the hall could be put, such as the holding of religious services under better conditions, the giving of entertainments, of social gatherings such as the Christmas festivities, and it will be readily seen what a boon such a building would be and that any who contribute toward it will be helping in a truly humanitarian cause. In this connection it may be stated that whilst the hall shall be for the use of the patients and inmates of the County Institutions, it shall not be absorbed by them, but kept distinct and apart as a gift by friends of the cause of humanity, for such purposes as outlined above, and that this shall be secured in the deed of trust. The fame of the Annapolis County Institutions has travelled far and wide. They are already ready models for other public bodies creating the like, and if to what already exists could be added the proposed Recreation Hall by the generosity of a kind general public and friends (and it is hoped, by a grant from the County Authorities) that fame would indeed be enhanced.

The size of the Hall proposed is 60x30 feet and, it is hoped, by the strictest economy to erect it for the modest sum of SIX HUNDRED DOLLARS. Below is appended the amounts already subscribed and additions are now earnestly invited from friends and the general public. It is to be noted that subscriptions will not be called for, (unless otherwise desired by the donor) until April 1st, when it is hoped that enough will be in hand to warrant the work being undertaken. The Rev. E. Underwood has been asked and has kindly consented to act as treasurer of the fund, to whom contributions or promises may be sent or if preferable to Mr. A. F. Hillz, Superintendent of the County Hospital, Bridgetown. The Monitor-Sentinel will also publish subscriptions received from week to week.

Fred C. Ryerson Ends His Life

Yarmouth, Jan. 8.—Frederick C. Ryerson, who conducted a music store here, committed suicide yesterday afternoon by jumping overboard from the steamer Boston two hours after the ship sailed from Boston for Yarmouth. A boat was immediately launched, but as the ship was running at fifteen knots per hour there was little or no opportunity to rescue the unfortunate man, who was never seen after his rash act. Ryerson left his watch and other effects aboard of the steamer, also letters for his sister here, an officer of the steamer and one or two friends here. He left Yarmouth on Wednesday evening, and when he boarded the steamer he did not announce that he intended taking passage, informing the United States immigration officials that he was going aboard to see one of the engineers. He thus avoided inspection, and when the steamer reached Boston the American authorities would not permit him to land. He was considerably worried the day he left there and apparently decided to forfeit his life in preference to returning. He was the youngest son of the late Samuel M. Ryerson, and was about fifty years of age and leaves one sister.

POSTER-MCLEOD

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of the bride's cousins, the Misses Jamieson, 37 White Place, Brookline, Mass., on Dec. 30, 1909. The contracting parties were residents of Lawrencetown, Annapolis Co. N. S., the groom Mr. Frank G. Foster, a prosperous young farmer of Lawrencetown and Miss Margaret McLeod, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McLeod, also of Lawrencetown. The ceremony was performed in the parlor, which had been beautifully decorated with roses and plants. The Rev. W. W. Hillz officiated, and several of the families of the contracting parties were present. They received many gifts and many also upon their arrival home.

Mr. and Mrs. Foster will be "at home" to their friends on Wednesday and Thursday, Jan. 12th and 13th, afternoons and evenings at their residence Lawrencetown.

Only One Boat Missing

Halifax, Jan. 7.—(Special)—The missing fishing schooner Hazel Maud, of Dover, with Capt. Rhynold and two men has arrived safely at Dover, the crew nearly dead from exhaustion. There is now but one boat missing, the Junitta of Whitehead, Capt. Reuben Munroe and two men.

There is still some hope for her as she was reported by Harvey Munroe on Wednesday with a double reefed mainsail set and riding apparently to drag, the day after the storm.

Nova Scotia Has Had a Prosperous Year

Nova Scotia closes the year with a great record of industrial progress and commercial achievement. It has shaken off all the effects of the world-wide depression which affected its major industries and has more than fulfilled the anticipations held at the outset. With the single exception of coal mining, which has been retarded by the unsettling troubles in Cape Breton and Springhill, every industry and every branch of commercial life has made substantial success and in many cases marked progress.

Agriculture has had by far the greatest year in the history of the province, the crops have been large and the prices reached high water marks. The total production of the province as estimated by the secretary of agriculture, is within a few hundred thousands of twenty-nine millions, which is several millions larger than the highest previous record.

The fishermen had an exceedingly good year. The bank catch was large, relatively speaking, and the prices were high. The lobster fishery suffered somewhat from the effects of the inflated prices of 1908, but the industry is now established on a firm foundation and the prospect is that the coming season will be one of the best in its history. Nova Scotia and Newfoundland have now practically the only available supply of lobsters and those engaged in the industry are alive to the need of better methods for the preservation and propagation of these very valuable food fish.

Lumber recovered from the depression and showed very large exports, the total value being about five million dollars.

In coal mining, the strike in Cape Breton and Springhill had the effect of unsettling the trade with the result that the coal shipments saw a falling off of 830,000 tons chiefly in the St. Lawrence market, a weakness which the American operators were quick to take advantage of. One of the most serious factors confronting the Nova Scotia Coal operators is the invasion of the St. Lawrence market by the American Coal operators, who apparently are ready to dump coal there in the hope of ousting the Nova Scotia miners.

Manufacturing had a good year, all the plants were busy, many expanded and the output was largely increased. Extensive development plans are being made in all the industrial centres for the new year.

In Great Britain alone it is estimated that five million dollars will be expended during 1910 in development work. Great development is taking place at Joggins Mines and Chamaeco and in fact all over the province plans are in preparation for larger operations in the new year. The Nova Scotia Steel Company had the largest output in its history and in spite of the strike in the coal mines which retarded its operations the Dominion Steel Coy., reports a great year, with the prospect of still greater expansion in the new year.

Financially the year was the greatest Nova Scotia has ever enjoyed and all its financial institutions report largely increased turnovers. Business on the whole was excellent and free from any very serious financial embarrassment. The failure for the year numbered 89 with a total liability of $206,000 and assets of $191,000. In Newfoundland the failures numbered 13, with liabilities of $100,000, and assets of $26,000. The most serious feature of the year has been the falling off in the coal output, due to the strike, on account of which the province suffers the loss of over $100,000 in revenue but conditions in the coal mining districts are now much more hopeful and the promise is that in common with other industries coal mining will witness the greatest expansion yet during 1910.—Staff correspondent of the St. John Sun.

To make neat buttonholes in thin material with the least trouble, embroider them before cutting the cloth. Mark the size desired with a pencil and work around this. Lay up just a thread or two between the two rows buttonhole stitch. Later pierce those threads between the embroidery and a neat and shapely buttonhole is the result.

Sketch of Mr Porter's Career.

(Yarmouth Herald)

Mr. George H. Porter, well known to a large number of the oldest residents of Yarmouth, died at Bridgetown on New Year's eve, after an illness of one week of pneumonia and heart failure. Mr. Porter was born in Yarmouth on the 27th November and was consequently 74 years of age. Charles F. Dyke, and upon the removal of the latter to Bridgetown, Mr. Porter continued in his employ. When Mr. Dyke returned to Yarmouth Mr. Porter entered the St. James hotel at Bridgetown as an accountant, which position he held until his death. The remains arrived in Yarmouth on Saturday and the funeral took place from Wesley church yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Porter was gifted with a genial and kindly disposition, which made him many friends, who will learn of his demise with much regret. For several years he was employed with Mr. Charles F. Dyke, and upon the removal of the latter to Bridgetown, Mr. Porter continued in his employ. When Mr. Dyke returned to Yarmouth Mr. Porter entered the St. James hotel at Bridgetown as an accountant, which position he held until his death. Home Teams Play Hockey at Bridgetown Rink

The hockey season was opened in the Bridgetown Rink on New Year's morning by a game between the Bankers and Wizards which was won by the Bankers by a score of 2-0. This was the first time that either of the teams had played together, and considering this, the hockey was exceptionally good. The line-up was—Bankers—F. Kinney, point, H. cover point, L. Ruggles, rover, Bentley, centre, Simpson and C. Hoyt, wings.

Wizards—Dargie, goal, Longmire point, R. Donaghy, cover point, Beckwith, rover, H. Donaghy, centre, A. Kinney and H. Hayward, wings. There are rumors of a possible hockey league for some of the valley towns and a picked Bridgetown team should make a very good showing, if it materializes. However, the patrons of hockey are promised very good hockey this winter by the town team.

FRUZE HER KNEE.

When "Our Own Correspondent" Has Been at Fault.

Lord Lansdowne made use of the present participle "winning" in a recent speech, but owing to an outburst of applause, the reporters took it down as "mincing." All that is, save one, who, not catching the word at all, bravely wrote down "without hesitation" at a venture. Hence a good deal of what the strenuous hawkers call "great fun and amusement."

But Lord Lansdowne is not the only sufferer by misreporting, nor is he likely to be the last. Sometimes the mistake is due to defective acoustics, sometimes to the inaudibility of the speaker. And sometimes, but very rarely, the reporter is at fault.

Such a reporter is the hero of a story which the late David Christie Murray was fond of telling. The reporter and Mr. Murray were colleagues on a provincial paper, and the former was sent to "take down" in the technical term—a well-known local speaker at a political meeting. The orator wound up his speech with the well-known Tompkinsian flourish: "Kind hearts are more than coronets, and simple faith than Norman blood."

And this is how it appeared in the paper:

"The speaker concluded by remarking that, in his opinion, kind hearts were superior to coronets, and there could be no doubt as to the advantage over Norman blood possessed by simple faith."

A few weeks ago Mr. Lewis Harcourt referred in a speech to what he termed "the fiscal juggle." By some means or other the phrase reached the newspapers as "the fiscal guggle," and for a whole week a controversy raged as to the meaning of the remark. Learned philologists attempted to elucidate the puzzle, which was finally solved by a letter of explanation sent to an evening paper—The Globe—by one of the reporters who was present at the time the speech was delivered.

In the very same week as witnessed the bungling over, Lord Lansdowne's speech, no less a person than his great opponent, Mr. Asquith, fell a victim. At the Eighty Club dinner the Premier spoke of "democracy-centred Conservatism," but the lively imagination of one reporter transformed it into "democracy-centred Conservatism."

"Democracy is folly!" earnestly exclaimed Bishop Magee in the House of Lords on a celebrated occasion. How horrified was the prelate to read in the papers next morning that he had given utterance to the very Bacchanalian sentiment, "Democracy is jolly!" Lord Salisbury was a master phrasemaker; but one of his best ones was spoiled when a careless reporter turned his reference to "manacles and Manitoba" into the meaningless "manacles and men at the Bar."

Sir William Harcourt was badly misquoted once in an English paper. "Great Diana of the Ephesians!" he exclaimed upon the platform; but a careless reporter wrote "Great Diana!" What a felle this is! Lack of knowledge of familiar quotations is a prolific source of misreporting. For instance, a speaker once made use of the well-known lines from Milton's "Paradise Lost":

"But come, thou goddess, fair and free,
In heav'n ye slept Euphrosyna."

The country reporter deputed to "take him down" was in despair. He had heard of "Euphrosyna" in some mysterious utterance. But, following his pen, and produced the following gem:

"But come, thou goddess, fair and free,
In heav'n she slept, and froze her knee."

The speaker was "taken down" in more senses than one!

Manxland as Sanctuary.

The Isle of Man, which is now a happy resort of tourists, was long a sanctuary of British and foreign debtors who fled thither in myriads. Of this degenerate period a whimsical versifier relates:

When Satan tried his arts in vain
The worship of our Lord to gain
"The word," said he, "and all be thine.
Except one spot, which must be mine.
That little place—'tis but a span,
By mortals called yule Isle of Man:
This is a place I cannot spare,
For all my choicest friends live there."
With the passing of an act in 1814, which made it possible to prosecute a debtor on the island for debts contracted outside it, his Satanic Majesty is supposed to have withdrawn these paperions.—From "The Isle of Man," by Agnes Herbert.

London's Subways.

London is underun by a network of subways, or tubes, to use the British name for an underground line. These roads have been constructed and are still owned and operated by wholly or partly independent companies. The lines cross and intersect at various points, making it possible by transfers to go almost anywhere underground. The total mileage—constructed, authorized and projected—is 145 1/2 miles, and the total authorized capital of the nine existing companies is $377,769,000.

Kept Him to the Rules.

Sir Frederick Theagar, while engaged in the conduct of a case, objected to the irregularity of the counsel on the opposite side, who, in examining his witnesses, put leading questions.

"I have a right," answered the counsel, "to deal with my witnesses as I please."

"To that I offer no objection," rejoined Sir Frederick; "you may deal as you like; but you shan't lead."

Did His Best.

A certain English mayor, whose period of office had come to an end, was surveying the work of the year. "I have endeavored," he said with an air of conscious rectitude, "to administer justice without swerving to partiality, on the one hand, or impartiality, on the other."

Yarmouth's Seized Liquor

(Yarmouth Times)

An emergency meeting of the town council was held at 5.20 on Friday afternoon. Present—Mayor Kelley, Councillors Fuller, Kianey, Stoneman, Perrin, Coun. Porter came in later. Coun. Perrin at first declined to take his seat, but afterwards changed his mind to take part in the discussion.

The Mayor explained that the meeting was called to consider the disposal of the liquor forfeited to the Crown last February and since then stored in Coun. Guest's cellar. Deputy Town Solicitor Chipman rehearsed the history of the case. Stipendiary Peiton had applied to Attorney-General Pipes for instructions and the reply was that the liquor could not be ordered to be destroyed. The stipendiary had then declared it forfeited to the Crown, and it had been stored as stated. A few days later Attorney-General Pipes reversed his decision, but too late, as the liquor was then out of the stipendiary's jurisdiction.

The Minister of Justice for the Dominion was then appealed to, but refused to exercise any jurisdiction in the matter. On Aug. 28th the Recorder had detailed the case to Attorney-General Pipes and asked for his ratification. No reply was vouchsafed to this letter, and after the Attorney-General's death the new appointee was approached for a ruling. By letter dated Dec. 28th 1909 Attorney-General McLaughlin, and declined to take any action or give any directions in the matter. There the case stands.

Coun. Stoneman: "As Recorder of the town do you advise the destruction of the liquor?"

The Deputy Town Solicitor: I anticipated this question, and prepared an opinion which I will read."

Yarmouth, N. S. Dec. 31 1909.

To the Mayor and Town Council of the Town of Yarmouth,

—RE FORFEITED LIQUOR—

In my opinion the town should not be called upon to deal with the liquor which was ordered forfeited to the Crown by the Stipendiary Magistrate on the fourth day of February, last, and which owing to the unconsidered opinion of the then Attorney-General of this province the stipendiary magistrate refused to order destroyed. In fact I doubt very much whether in strict law the town should deal with it.

The liquor having been forfeited to the Crown, I think it should be dealt with by the Crown through its executive officers, either the Attorney-General of the Dominion or the Attorney-General of the Province. Both of the latter have, however, disclaimed jurisdiction and have declined to take any action or give any direction in respect to the matter.

Under these circumstances, the responsibility of the prosecution under which this liquor was forfeited, and as at any time some one may be called upon to remove and look after the liquor from where it is now stored, it would look as if a practical way out of the difficulty would be for this Council to instruct the present (Hon. J. Templeton) Act Inspector to dispose of the liquor in such way as to me may seem best.

Yours etc.,
LEWIS CHIPMAN
Deputy Town Solicitor.

The Mayor: "It seems absurd to keep this liquor stored so long a time. Coun. Perrin: "It is absurd for this town to destroy a thousand dollars' worth of property which can be sold and the proceeds devoted to some public utility. I do not think one of this council would destroy it were it forfeited to him. We would dispose of it like any other merchandise. This council has no spite against the liquor itself. It is the liquor-dealer who is the law-breaker. We each have our own ideas on the traffic, but the liquor is a commercial commodity, and should be treated as such. The Dominion and Provincial authorities decline to authorize the destruction of an article of commerce, recognized as such under the Dominion laws. I do not think that the town can even claim it. The Recorder's opinion does not advise its destruction. There is no sense in destroying it. Send it to St. John or to Halifax for sale, and hand the proceeds over to the Poor Board, the Hospital, or some other public utility. If it is destroyed I insist that it must be accounted for bottle by bottle as the invoice specifies it."

John Fuller: "Coun. Perrin wants the town to go into wholesale liquor dealing." (At this point Coun. Perrin and Coun. Fuller exchanged pleasantries.)

Coun. Fuller continuing: "By the stipendiary's decision this liquor was thrown on the town's hands. The government refuse to deal with it. What is there left except for the town to do so. Personally I object going into the traffic actually or by implication. This liquor is an eyesore to the town. Was illegally brought here, to be illegally offered for sale. We must destroy it."

Coun. Kinney: "Everybody knows I have no love for the stuff. This particular liquor was brought here contrary to law and forfeited to the Crown. Both governments refuse to dispose of it. I will never be a party to its sale. The case would be different were it ordinary merchandise. I therefore make the following motion:

Resolved—That in view of the fact that both the Attorney-General for the Dominion of Canada and the Attorney-General of the Province of Nova Scotia have refused to take any action regarding or to give any directions with respect to the liquor ordered forfeited by the Stipendiary Magistrate of the town of Yarmouth on the fourth day of February A. D. 1909, this council doth hereby instruct the present Canada Temperance Act Inspector, Everett S. Durand, to cause said liquor to be destroyed at as early a date as possible.

Seconded by Coun. Porter.

Coun. Perrin: "By what process of law can the town council turn itself into the Crown? The liquor was forfeited to the Crown, not to the town council. The Crown assumes no responsibility, why should we? If the owners should enter an action the town might be liable."

Coun. Stoneman: "I wonder if the Recorder thinks the town takes no chance in destroying the liquor. A thousand dollars worth is a mere bagatelle in St. John or Halifax. Better send it there. The fact is we can't stop the liquor traffic in Yarmouth. If we keep outside liquor out of it manufactured here, and the main staff is responsible for untimely death suicides and other deplorable fatalities. It would be better if those who have it could get pure liquor. The liquor business in Yarmouth is in a much worse state than ever before within my recollection. I would vote against destroying this liquor."

Coun. Fuller: "Have we a right to sell it and pocket the money?"

Coun. Stoneman: "We have neither the right to sell it nor destroy it, but as much right to do the one as the other."

Coun. Fuller (to Recorder): "Is that resolution the proper course to pursue? Do you advise that as the best course to take under the circumstances?"

Deputy Recorder Chipman: The liquor was forfeited to the Crown. It is on the hands of the town. The proper officials refuse to deal with it. What then is to be done with it? I absolutely refuse, however to guarantee the town against risks. I wish to say, though, that the owners cannot take out certiorari proceedings now as the time has elapsed, and nearly every liquor dealer in town has sworn that he has nothing to do with it. I think the risk is small."

Coun. Fuller: "Have we any right to take it and sell it?"

Deputy Recorder Chipman: "I don't think you have. I want to say this however, that the law provides for its destruction, and if the Attorney-General had not given a contrary opinion in his first letter the Stipendiary would have ordered it destroyed."

On the vote being taken Councillors Fuller, Kianey, Porter, voted in the affirmative. Coun. Perrin in the negative. Coun. Stoneman had previously withdrawn.

Coun. Perrin stated that there was reason to believe that some of the liquor seized had since disappeared. He didn't believe that Coun. Guest or any other councillor knew anything of this, but he wanted an exactly kept of the liquor destroyed. After a lengthy discussion it was moved by Coun. Fuller that a memorandum of the liquor destroyed shall be kept by the Scott Act Inspector and a copy of said memorandum be furnished to the council, also a copy of the memorandum taken at the time of the seizure, so that the two memoranda can be compared by this council.

Seconded by Coun. Porter and passed unanimously. Coun. Perrin still objecting, however, that the motion did not exactly cover the point he had raised.

Adjourned.

WASTED VITALITY

The other day I happened to hear a little conversation between a girl who was obsessed of the insane fad of wearing practically the same clothes on a midwinter day as she would in midsummer.

In case there are any girls obsessed with that peculiar fad among my readers or any mothers of girls obsessed with that fad, I'm going to chronicle the gist of that conversation.

"It's an extremely foolish thing to do," said the doctor.

"But, doctor, I'm not cold," said the girl.

"No," said the doctor, "maybe you aren't. But do you know why?"

"Your body is manufacturing heat to protect you. The energy and vitality that ought to go into other things is used up in supplying the warmth that should be supplied by suitable clothing."

Have YOU energy to waste?

Can you perform all the duties that claim you and enjoy all the pleasures that await you and still have a surplus of energy?

If you can do this and have positive information that you will always be able to do it maybe you have energy to throw away keeping your body warm.

FATHER AND MOTHER.

There are two of the most beautiful words in the English language that it seems to me do not bear spoken half enough.

And these are "father" and "mother."

Surely these terms are infinitely more pleasant and dignified than "mamma" and "papa", or "pa" and "ma," or any other way of "dressing our parents that we have, and yet you hear "mother" and "father" in one home to ten where you hear some other title employed.

Strangely enough, too, you hear "father" about one half as often as you do "mother."

In several homes where I go the children sneak of "papa" and "mother" or even "pa" and "mother."

Anyone will admit it's a very simple thing to teach your children to call you by these dignified and beautiful names.

Why not begin today and do it?

DON'T COUGH!

Every time you cough it means that Nature is dislodging phlegm from the delicate membranes of the throat or lungs. In doing so that membrane becomes inflamed, strained—maybe broken.

There's the danger point! Broken tissue means letting down the body's defences against disease—germs await just such an entrance—Consumption itself starts that way.

Don't take that chance. Shiloh's Cure loosens coughs—removes phlegm—soothes inflamed membranes—rests the breathing tract—builds up and heals damaged tissue—puts the throat and lungs in a state of robust health. Get Shiloh's Cure quickly and cure that Cough!

SAYS COOK WILL PROVE HE WAS THERE.

New York, Jan. 2.—Willam L. Cook, brother of Dr. Frederick A. Cook, declared today that Mrs. Cook had joined her husband and that he was in communication with them. Mrs. Cook is believed to have the explorer's original records of his North Pole quest in her possession.

"Dr. Cook has by no means abandoned his intention to prove conclusively, despite the verdict of the Copenhagen University, that he reached the North Pole," said his brother.

"The talk that Mrs. Cook is estranged from the doctor and that she 'and his detractors will have a pre-contemplates a suit for separation, with large alimony, is unwarranted. Mrs. Cook is standing by her husband and will continue to do so until death separates them. Just now she is of immeasurable comfort to him and together they are planning and working for the future."

"I have positive information that Dr. Cook and his wife will publicly appear together, and that they will be a great change in feelings." "Is Dr. Cook in the country or abroad?" he was asked.

PEANUT SHELLS THE BASIS OF BREAKFAST FOOD?

"In a recent freight train wreck it was discovered that several cars consigned to breakfast food concerns were loaded with peanut shells from the peanut butter factories in the south," said President John Fitzpatrick.

SARTORIAL MATTERS.

Colored Collars Are New, but Not So Becoming as White.

The newest collar is of chiffon in the color of the bodice, finished at the top with a roll of velvet. In many cases the colored collar is not so becoming as the white one that we have been wearing. But everybody with a memory of the fickleness of fashion was sure that a change would soon come.

Strings serving no practical purposes are a feature in millinery. They are knotted loosely at the back or brought around to the front and tied with artistic negligence. They are frequently of black velvet.

The garment seen in the cut is suitable for a young girl or small woman, and it will be pretty used either as a separate coat or in combination with a skirt to form a costume. For either purpose serge or lightweight broadcloth will make up most satisfactorily. The coat has been designed so it can be made at home without difficulty.

A pattern of this coat may be had in three sizes—for girls from fourteen to eighteen years of age. Send 10 cents to this office, giving number 4234, and it will be promptly forwarded to you by mail.

FEMINE FANCIES.

A New Trimming For Summer Gowns.

The Charm of the Jacket.

Plain, coarse chain stitching that looks very much like the kind that children use to decorate their dolls' clothes is the latest freak of fashion not only for gowns, but for shirt waists. Gowns are worked in the simple stitch in braid patterns and usually in soft colors. Shirt waists stamped with braid patterns are outlined with the loose, long chain stitch. Stems with coarse, solid work are also made in this way.

Nowadays it would seem that every well-groomed woman wears a duffel jacket. And there is nothing more becoming than these duffel jackets. There is an evasive air about them that is hard to define. Their very crispness and freshness—for one of course would not think of wearing one more than once or twice at most—give a woman a well-groomed air.

The waist illustrated will be pretty made from any clinging material and will be suitable for wear to complete a two-piece costume. The sleeves can be finished in either leg of mutton style or in regulation shirt waist fashion.

A pattern of this waist may be had in six sizes—from 24 to 42 inches bust measure. Send 10 cents to this office, giving number 4234, and it will be promptly forwarded to you by mail.

FASHIONS ON THE FLY.

Summer Frocks Will Have Coats to Match—Expensive, but Smart.

The new skirts have as many as seven and nine gores with panels set in the center. Next summer there will be no such thing as a separate coat for any dress. Most every frock will be made in three piece style.

The newest and smartest gowns are not using as many tucked net yokes as formerly, but the tucks may have a revival in the summer.

The charming little bridge coat slipped on over any simple evening dress is an exceedingly smart accessory.

The gown illustrated is wonderfully smart and stylish. The fashionable panel front is emphasized by the trim-

VANITY'S VISIONS.

The Smart Black Coat—When Remodeling an Old Gown.

Hip length black coats of silk, broad or satin are worn with the direct tunic and lace gowns. This combination is quite a contrast and very stunning.

A smart blouse shop is displaying a waist in sheer white linen tucked across the front and fastened on the left side. Running from the point of the shoulder down to the belt on each side are lace ruffles. The sleeves are long and trimmed with bands of lace and lace frills.

The blouse illustrated is a simple affair that is attractive for all seasons. The low collar is very comfortable, but it can be made with a stock and plain long sleeves, when it becomes somewhat different in effect. For general wear French flannel is a good material to use, the dotted variety being smart; in fact, any fabric adapted to a tailored finish is suitable.

Prevention of Tuberculosis in Schools.

A summary of the important principles of hygiene should be printed on the covers of school books; and also the following rules:—

Never spit except when absolutely necessary, and then only into a spittoon, or into a piece of rag or a handkerchief used for that purpose alone. When you return home burn the rag before it becomes dry, or place the handkerchief in water till ready for the wash.

Never spit on a slate, floor, sidewalk or playground.

Do not pick your nose or wipe it on your hand or sleeve.

Do not wet your fingers in your mouth when turning the leaves of books.

Do not put pencils into your mouth or wet them with your lips.

Do not hold money in your mouth. Do not put pins in your mouth. Do not put anything into your mouth except food and drink.

Do not swap apple cores, candy, chewing gum, hard candy, food, whistles, pea shooters, mouth organs or anything that is used in the mouth.

Pare or wash fruit before use—Never cough or sneeze while facing anyone. Turn your face to one side and hold a handkerchief before your mouth.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is not a common, every-day cough mixture. It is a meritorious remedy for all the troublesome and dangerous complications resulting from cold in the head, throat, chest or lungs. Sold by all dealers.

An indefatigable worker who has had to contend with a great deal of serious illness was under the necessity of writing about her illness as having hindered her in certain work for which she was committed to others. At the conclusion of her letter she said: "You will excuse, I am sure, this reference to so personal a matter. I felt that I really ought to let you understand my frequent remissions. One of my aims has been, and still is, to maintain some other character than that of a woman with an ailment. To do what work I can is my greatest happiness." There is cheery heroism for us! Silence over our troubles may not cure them, but it at least checks their growth.

Have you a weak throat? If so, you cannot be too careful. You cannot begin to treat it too early. Each cold makes you more liable to another and the last is always the harder to cure. If you will take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy at the outset you will be saved much trouble. Sold by all dealers.

HOPE THEY HAVE DISCOVERED SUCCESSFUL CANCER TREATMENT.

Manila, Jan. 3.—A conditional and preliminary report of what is hoped will prove to be a successful specific treatment of cancer was presented before the Manila Medical Society tonight. The treatment consists in making the patient immune from the further progress of the disease by the use of vaccine prepared from his own cancer.

Experiments have been made both in cases where an operation was possible and where it was not. A variety in the matter of the progress of the disease has been afforded for experiment and the results have been uniformly encouraged.

A number of the patients who have been cured apparently, were exhibited before the society. The medical authorities here express a wish to watch these cases over an extended period for a possible recurrence of the malady before they accept the treatment as successful.

CURED OF CONSTIPATION

Mr. Andrews praises Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills.

Mr. George Andrews of Halifax, N.S., writes: "For many years I have been troubled with chronic Constipation. This ailment never comes single-handed, and I have been a victim to the many illnesses that constipation brings in its train. Medicine after medicine I have taken in order to find relief, but one and all left me in the same hopeless condition. It seemed that nothing would expel from me the one ailment that caused so much trouble, yet at last I read about these Indian Root Pills.

That was indeed a lucky day for me, for I was so impressed with the statements made that I determined to give them a fair trial.

They have regulated my stomach and bowels. I am cured of constipation, and I claim they have no equal as a medicine."

For over half a century Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills have been curing constipation and clogged, inactive kidneys, with all the ailments which result from them. They cleanse the whole system and purify the blood. Sold everywhere at 25c a box.

Soothes and Heals While It Cleanses

You could eat and relish every ingredient used in making Taylor's Infants' Delight. The Olive Oil is the first pressing from perfect fruit, and is far choicer than is usually served on our tables. Coconut oil, because of its purity and palatableness, is used for butter in warm climates. It is far too expensive to be used for this purpose away from the tropics.

Soaps made from coarse animal fats are rank poison to baby's tender skin. Much of the chafing, burning and discomfort could be avoided if more care were taken in the selection of soap for baby's bath.

Infants' Delight Soap

will be found wonderfully soothing by those whose skin is roughened, chafed or tender from any cause, and so healing in its action that after a few days' use, the skin will be white as snow and soft as velvet.

You owe it to yourself and to the comfort of your little ones to use this soap for baby's bath today.

WEDNESDAY, January 12, 1910.

There is likely to be a lively contest for civic honors next month. It is announced that three candidates and possibly a fourth, will be in the running for mayor. The names prominently mentioned are the present
Mayor, H. Ruggles, Ex-Mayor, W. J.
Hoyt and councillor Geo. Dixon. The retiring councillors this year are W.
R. Longmire, W. A. Calder and N. E.
Chute. We trust Messrs. Longmire
and Calder may be persuaded to accept re-nomination as they have been two of the most active and influential members of the civic board included.
Mr. Longmire, we understand, has been offered a nomination for mayor
but has declined.

Many citizens feel that the interests of the town would be better served if a public meeting were called to nominate a candidate or even two candidates for mayor. In this way it would be possible to bring out a man who would decline to seek the office in a manner who would fill the office in a manner to serve the best interests of the town. As at present the custom has been for small cliques to bring forward their candidates, and the general public is not consulted in the selection. The contest is likely to excite a good deal of bad feeling which might otherwise be avoided. A town divided into cliques with petty jealousies and wrangling cannot expect to make growth or progress.

The bitter fight waged between the Dominion Iron and Steel Co.
and the Dominion Coal Company has reached an unresolvable conclusion. Arrangements have been practically completed for merging the two great industrial companies into one. Mr.
James Ross, the manager of the Coal Company has retired from his position and has sold out his interests. Mr.
Ross was the leading spirit in the action of his company breaking its contract to supply the Iron and Steel Company with coal. The new company will be capitalized for $35, 000,000 common and $8,000,000 preferred stock. The merging of the two companies appears to be a national alliance as their interests are in common.

Among the many well-compiled articles descriptive of the progress of the various provincial towns in the Chronicle's great New Year's number was one from the Chronicle's staff correspondent in Bridgetown, to which we hoped to give space in this issue, but pressure of local news has crowded it out. Although the facts it contains are already familiar to the readers of the Monitor-Sentinel, it makes an interesting review of the year's progress in Bridgetown. The entire issue of the New Year's number of the Chronicle teems with valuable information regarding the Province presented in such a manner as to inspire the reader with pride in our wonderful "little province" and the sea.

ST. JAMES' CHURCH NOTES

be from 7 until 8 for the present.
The ladies of St. James' church commence their winter sewing circle tomorrow, (Thursday). The meetings will be held weekly at the Rectory, on Thursday afternoons, beginning at 2.30, until further notice.

Next Sunday the services in St.
James' church will be at 9 (Holy Communion) and 11 a. m. and 7 p. m.
and the collections for the Foreign Missionary work of the church in response to the annual Epiphany appeal.

Smith Cove

Rev. C. W. Walden's friends were glad to see him the other day as he looked in on them on his way to New Brunswick, where he is engaged in evangelical work.

The business meeting of the Baptist congregation was held Tuesday afternoon. The reports from the different departments were encouraging and a prosperous year is anticipated.

Mr. Isaac B. Nelson contemplates going to the States for a number of months to engage in his avocation of builder and contractor.

Mr. A. M. Gidney, M. P. P. has been quite ill, but is now convalescent.

Mr. Simeon Sully's friends surprised him Thursday night, and reminded him pleasantly that he occasionally much joy when he entered this world some years ago, and that he is still the soul of geniality. A very pleasant evening was spent by all.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie J. Dowley spent Christmas and the New Year with Mr. Dowley's mother.

Miss Francis Austin spent the holidays at Weymouth. On her return home she was accompanied by her nephew, Carl Brooks.

Mr. Frank McGuire went to Boston last week to accept a position on the Central Vermont Railway. He was formerly in the General Passenger Agent's department of the D.A.R.
The school has re-opened after the Christmas vacation. The teachers,
Mr. Longley and Miss Lambertson, spent a happy Christmas at their homes, and all are glad to see them back again.

Capt. Austin is suffering from the effects of a severe cold, which is a malady that seems to be quite prevalent.

Mr. Norman Sully is taking advantage of the slack times this winter to acquire a thorough knowledge of vocal and instrumental music which he contends should be the aim of every daddy who has an ear for music.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Chase, of New York, remembered all the residents of the Cove this Christmas, sending each of them dainty cards with the greetings of the season.

Mrs. Benjamin Hunt sneaks enthusiastically of the neighborliness of Mr.
Mrs., and Miss Gidney. Their little acts of kindness are daily manifestations which are productive of much good cheer in the journey through life. Now if all neighbors would be kind cheering and praising each other how pleasant conversation would grow, how the bitterness would depart and the sweetness come in. happiness in life is promoted by little acts of kindness that any child is capable of. Get below the surface, underneath the boasting of pomp and power beneath the glamor of beauty and wealth and the vanity of conceit and you will find an unutterable longing for the heart throbs, which manifest themselves so quietly, tenderly and gently which are so soothing and renewing that people recognize them at once as the lights of the Kingdom that never passes away. Pessimistic persons and these are so many, dwell so much under the clouds that hopes depart and they lose sight of the Kingdom which is at hand, right in our midst. The veil can be easily drawn aside and it is so simple, that men and women in their mad scramble after the spectacular miss it entirely and plunge headlong into regions where all is vanity, nothing but vanity and only vanity continually.

Mr. G. C. Banks, after spending some months in Brookfield, Col. Co., accompanied by his daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton, has returned.

Mr. Ervin Leonard, of Kingsston, has been visiting friends in this place
for the past week.

Miss Lilla Parker and sister, Beesie, of Torbrook, have been visiting at the home of Mr. Edwin Banks.

Miss Grace Durling is spending a few days with friends in Bridgetown.

Miss Sadie Banks has spent the past two weeks at the home of Mr.
W. R. Rook, in Springfield.

Miss Chute and pupils gave a very pleasant concert at the close of her school in East Inglesville.

Miss Frellick, of West Inglesville, is

GEORGE M. LAKE

HAUNTING THE HOUSE.

Things Seen at the Portals of Britain's Parliament.

Thanks to the Parliamentary correspondent, the world and this wife know pretty nearly everything of interest connected with the interior of the House of Commons. With a picturesque wealth of detail, the idiosyncrasies and the personal appearances of hon. and right hon. gentlemen have been described for the edification of the multitude. And even the furniture of the building has not been allowed to escape the lynx-eye of the writer, who forms an indispensable adjunct to the assembly which fore-gathers under the shadow of Big Ben.

But the British House of Commons from the exterior has received but scant treatment at the hands of the scribes.

The country cousin, or whoever it may be who has business at the House, is bound to feel a moment of agonizing suspense. How can he, one of the humblest, perhaps of the great man's constituents, hope to pass those imposing policemen and those closed doors? But his doubts are soon at rest. The urbanity of the man in blue is overwhelming. He is courteously handed to a green van, and which the officer, addressing him as "sir," tells him to write his name and address and the name of the member he desires to see.

Then a messenger, resplendent in evening-dress, diamond studs, watch card, and the period of anxiety, now intensified, recommences.

Suddenly, his own name falls on his wandering ears. Startled, he turns round, and there, with a smile on his face, stands the man who has been sent there by his—and other—votes. A hearty handshake, and the two walk away to a secluded corner for a brief chat.

Frequently, a seat in the Strangers'
Gallery follows. But, in any case, the country cousin emerges from the House the happiest man in the whole of London.

Another picture. A horny-handed son of toil, a red handkerchief round his neck, a cheap cloth cap on his head, and his trousers clipped just below the knee with straps. Obviously, a navvy. This card is sent in, and in a few minutes the navvy and an outstanding K.C. are chatting easily together.

Then, you should see the look of hopeless misery which settles on the face of the visitor if his pilgrimage is in vain. "Cards returned. Members not in the House!" called out in stentorian tones by the military-looking messenger. A sentence which constitutes the death-knell of many a country cousin's hopes. Disconsolately, he turns away.

"After comin' all this way, too!"
you can hear him mutter.
Observe, too, that aggressive young gentleman in a knickerbocker suit, who is doubtless a political Hercules
in the village which he has his home in. As the minutes go by the frown on his brow deepens. At last his ears is returned—"Members not in the House." Visions of a searching inquisition by the local committee at the importance of the matter, and being to be out when so distinguished a personage calls flash into his mind.

"That's the worst of the navvy and ber who cannot be found!" he growls.
"I'll see we have another next time!"

Bengalee Tortured.
A Bengalee of Jessore, named Hri-day Nath Bose, was admitted sometime ago to the Bambai Medical Hospital, suffering from serious injuries. Before his death Hriday made a declaration to the members of the police that his injuries were the result of police ill-treatment, violence having been resorted to for the purpose of making him confess in connection with a charge of theft which had been preferred against him. On this declaration being recorded, a religious enquiry was ordered, and the official report is to the following effect:

Hriday Nath Bose was an inhabitant of the village of Bathaman, in the jurisdiction of Thana Kalgunge, District Jessore. On Feb. 11 last he was arrested on a charge of theft in the house of the Rajah of Naldanga, and was taken to the Rajah's house. There the police Daroga ordered a Chowkidar, and a jamadar of the rajah to assault
the deceased. They assaulted him first with kicks and fists, and then rolled a bamboo on his chest, whereon he became unconscious. He was retained in the dala of the rajah for two days, and then allowed to go home, where he was confined to bed.
His wife, Rangini Dasi, complained against the rajah before the Deputy Magistrate of Hriday, but the complaint was dismissed. The deceased was then brought to the Medical College Hospital by his relatives for treatment, where he expired after making a dying declaration before Babu Kedar Nath Bose, an honorary magistrate.

Almost Indestructible.
A creeping moss is found in Jamma-ica in Barbados, and in certain other islands of the West Indies, which is called the "life tree," or more properly the "life plant." The powers of vitality of this strange freak of nature are said to be beyond those of any other known plant. It is absolutely indestructible by any means except immersion in boiling water or by application of a red-hot iron. It may be cut and divided in any manner, and the smallest shreds remaining will throw out roots, grow, and form buds. The leaves of this extraordinary plant have been placed in a closed, air-tight, dark box, without moisture, for the purpose of testing its vitality, but invariably without effect on the plant's duration of life.

A Thrilling Hobby.
A strange hobby is indulged in by Mr. Bertram Wallis, the popular King of Cadonia. This London actor possesses not only a marvelous collection of weapons of every kind, both ancient and modern, but in the course of his travels abroad has been able to pick up many strange and interesting instruments of torture, and owns with pride that he has a probably unrivalled collection of Indian tom-hawks, knives, spears, etc. He has also many bows and arrows, and guns of types almost prehistoric, but remarkably interesting.

LOCAL AND SPECIAL.

The thanks of the Monitor-Sentinel are due the Manufacturer's Life Association and Isaac Whitman, agent for Frost and Wood Co., for handsome calendars.

A Lawrencetown correspondent wishes us to state that the Band will play at the Rink near the station on Thursday evening if the weather is favorable.

The marriage of Miss Lelia Maud, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. H. Gilliat, is announced to take place on Wednesday the 19th inst. to Mr. LeRoy Elmer, of Upper Granville.

F. W. Foster, of Kingston, Kings, recently appointed by the Dominion government to a position connected with the immigration department in London, sailed on the Granplan on Saturday.

Nova Scotians are organizing a fifteen million dollar company to operate gold-silver-copper properties in New Mexico. It would appear as if that capital could be profitably employed at home.

Mr. A. B. Bishop has re-opened his skating rink which was so well patronized last year. Although the large rink is attracting a large number well patronized.

Belcher's Farmers Almanac comes to us like an old familiar friend with a fund of information ever new and ever welcome. It is published by the McAlpine Publishing Co., Ltd., Halifax and is well worth its price 25c.

Berwick Register.—Mr. Manley Weathers showed us on Tuesday a number of fox skins from animals which he had recently shot. Among them is a magnificent specimen of a silver grey fox, one of the finest we have ever seen.

The death occurred at Victoriavale on Saturday of Mrs. Harry Archibald, leaving her husband and one daughter. Mrs. Archibald was Miss Ethel Young, of Dartmouth, and is survived by her mother and several brothers and sisters in that town.

The Carnival to take place this evening at the Bridgetown Skating Rink is exciting great interest. This is the first of the season and doubtless a large number of skaters in costume will be on the ice. Some of the costumes, we understand, will be quite elaborate.

The death occurred at Cambridge, Mass., of Annie C. Banks at the age of 37 years. Miss Banks was a daughter of the late Sydney Banks, of Port Lorne, Nova Scotia, and sister to James Banks who died in September last. She was only ill about 24 hours with pneumonia.

Friday of this week is the last day for the payment of taxes to qualify for a vote at the coming elections and as about $2,000 of last year's taxes remain unpaid a large number of electors are at present not qualified to take part in the selection of the next mayor and councillors.

The Yarmouth Times of the 4th inst. says: The liquor seized last winter and stored in R. F. Guest's cellar for safe-keeping, is being destroyed today. Chief Durgan and Officer Baine are cracking the necks of the bottles while Norman Jeffery is checking their work. The beer contained in barrels will be removed and probably dumped into the harbor.

Policeman Eggleston having departed for a holiday visit without giving the council a satisfactory explanation of his absence, they took occasion on Monday night to appoint a successor. Mr. Goldsmith, Mr. Eggleston had previously asked to have his resignation accepted to take effect Jan. 1st but the council declined his request and held him to his term of engagement. His whereabouts are at present unknown.

The question of the disposal of the liquors seized under the Canada Temperance Act by the Yarmouth Inspector some months ago, has been settled by their destruction as authorized by the town council after much discussion. The argument of the councillors as quoted by the Times forms interesting reading and we have reprinted it from the columns of that journal. The article will be found on the second page of this issue.

The Digby Courier states the stores of Digby will close every night at 6.30 from now till May 1st, an arrangement which last winter proved a splendid success. It seems to us that this is a good example for Bridgetown and other Valley towns to follow, for during the winter season at least there can be little profit in keeping the stores open in the evenings and much to be gained by store-keepers and clerks in having the winter evenings for recreation or devoting attention if they choose to public affairs.

PERSONAL.

Capt. and Mrs. W. R. Lonemire returned on Saturday from a holiday trip to Boston.

Mr. John Copeland, of Perotte, spent a few days of last week with his cousin, Mrs. Fred Rice.

Miss Emma Hoffman and little sister, Tina, are spending a few weeks with their aunt at Nietaux.

Mrs. Hugh Fraser and Miss Quirk received word yesterday of the death of their cousin, Miss Annie Randall, of Middleton, from pneumonia.

Miss Nellie Rice, of Amesbury, Mass who has been spending the Christmas holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Rice, returned last Wednesday.

PURITY FLOUR And Its Keeping Qualities

SOME people find it necessary to buy a considerable quantity of flour at one time—sufficient to last for a long period. Naturally they are anxious to procure a flour of the kind best adapted to lengthy storage.

There are two important reasons why PURITY FLOUR possesses these qualities. One is that it is made entirely from Manitoba Hard Wheat. The other lies in the fact that the careful milling necessary to produce "Purity" absolutely excludes all low-grade particles of the wheat berry. It's the high grade Manitoba Hard Wheat Flour that keeps—stands longest storage.

That's "Purity." "Purity" flour may cost a little more, but is more than worth the difference. Try it. Watch results both for quality and yield.

The Discovery of a Hero

BY HARRIET LUMIS SMITH

Richard Burnett was hunting a hero. He was a slender dark-eyed youth with a capacity for enthusiasm which was the subject of amused comment among his friends. He had been one of the boys who threw themselves ardently into collecting postage stamps and birds' eggs. His present specialty, so said his sister, Henrietta, was collecting heroes. The papers had given a full account of the deed which had aroused Richard's enthusiasm. The squall of the previous Sunday had overturned a small boat on the bay, precipitating into the water three men, two of whom could not swim. The third man, Geo. Hall, had saved his own life and that of his two companions, a feat that called for tremendous physical endurance as well as tenacity and courage.

Richard Burnett had waxed eloquent as he expatiated on the qualities displayed by his hero. "I'd like to shake his hand," declared Richard, "and tell him what I think of him. He has a wife and children it seems, and yet, apparently, it never occurred to him to desert his friends of his who were helpless without him. I've a mind to look him up and tell him how fine I think it was."

Richard's impulse would probably have spent itself in enjoyment if it had not been for Henrietta, who disapproved the idea and threw doubts on the reality of the heroic Richard admired.

"The newspapers exaggerate everything so," said Henrietta, studying the cut representing George Hall, a square-jawed individual, partly eclipsed by a derby hat, set jauntily on one side. "And if he is a hero he does not look it!" And this settled the matter for Richard.

The locality which was the home of George Hall was unfamiliar to Richard, in spite of the fact he had lived in the same city all his life. The equal buildings, the sidewalks swarming with children, the unfamiliar tones spoken on all sides gave him the feeling of being very far from home. It seemed that the newspaper had made a mistake in giving the address of the house of whom Richard was in search. If his native stubbornness had not been reinforced by the thought of what Henrietta might say he would probably have given up the hunt and gone home.

Last success crowned his efforts. Triumphantly he climbed three flights of stairs and knocked at one of several doors opening on the same landing. An old gentleman answered the knock—a gentle-faced old man with a patrician, white beard, and wearing a blue gingham apron. "Dear me, what is the matter?" "He does, but he's out now. Walk in." The gentleman held the door hospitably, and Richard entered. A pale-faced young woman sat in a rocking-chair, wrapping in a quilt. Several children were peering over the top of the door.

Richard felt that it behooved him to explain his presence. "I read in yesterday's papers how Mr. Hall rescued his two friends from drowning. It interested me very much. I felt as if I wanted to tell him how fine I thought it." He looked at the old man with interest.

"Perhaps you are his father." The old man seemed amused by the visitor's mistake. "I'm just a neighbor who dropped in. This is Mrs. Hall. And them"—he waved his hand toward the nervous like brood of children—"are his little ones. Now, if you'll excuse me a minute."

He turned toward the stove and gave his attention to something that was steaming there; tasted it gravely added a little salt, and poured some broth into a coarse earthen bowl. "There," he said, crossing to the sick woman's side, "just try that."

The sick woman sipped obediently, then sat down the bowl, and sobbed. "Oh, Grandpa Galloway! she said in a choked voice, "I don't know what we should do without you!" "There! there! You drink a little more of that nice soup," said the old man, soothingly, "then you'll feel so much better you won't know yourself!"

The woman sobbed again! "I don't know as I want to feel a better!" she cried. "If it weren't for the children I wouldn't want to get well. If only we could all die together! Life's so hard! Her form heaved convulsively. Richard had a bewildered feeling that only the peeping children remembered his presence in the room.

"Life ain't easy," the old man said gently. "But it's pleasant for all that!" The woman was staring at him wistfully. "I never saw anybody like you, Grandpa Galloway. You're an old man, and you work hard, and some day you won't be able to work any more, and there's nobody to look after you." Her thin hands fluttered restlessly. "And you don't act as if there was anything to worry about." "There isn't. My heavenly Father's looking out for me," said the old man simply. "Take a sip more of the soup, child. That's right." He patted her shoulder. "And now I guess the babies are ready for the rest."

He was feeding the children in turn a spoonful to each bird-like mouth. In the door opened suddenly, and a lad of eleven or twelve marched in triumphantly. "I've sold out, Grandpa Galloway!" "So soon!" The old man made a sound expressive admiration. "Then you're ready for your supper, John. If you're hungry you needn't wait for me. I'll come when I've fed these babies."

"I'll wait," said the boy, looking at Richard with a frank curiosity which seemed to remind the old man of the stranger's presence. With a wave of the hand toward the nervous, he remarked, "One of my boys."

"Your grandson?" questioned Richard. "Oh, no!" The old man seemed quite amused. "They all call me Grandpa Galloway," he explained. "I guess there isn't a man in the city whose got such a swarm of grandchildren."

"He fixed up a bed for two of us in his room," explained the lad, shrewdly guessing from Richard's expression that his curiosity was not yet satisfied. "And he's teaching us to read write."

"And they're learning lots of other things," said the old man. "To be kind to everybody, and to speak the truth always, and to be honest." He nodded complacently toward the lad waiting at the door. "They're learning."

"When he left the room he motioned Richard to follow him, and with a word of good-night to the listless figure in the chair, Richard obeyed. Outside on the landing the old man dropped his voice.

"I'm afraid it won't be much use for you to wait to see George. I'm sorry, but he isn't out in till late. George is a good-hearted fellow, and brave as a lion. Yes, sir, he's not afraid of anything. But it frets him when his wife's sick, and the children restless. He shook his head and sighed. "It's a great pity, but he won't be home till very late."

The proprietor of the small shop on the first floor was ready to talk on the subject regarding which Richard questioned him. "Old Grandpa Galloway, yes, he's just about half crazy to help everybody. Sometimes the very ones he has helped has stolen from him, and that's been the last he's seen of them, but it never seems to make any difference. He still goes right on doing for somebody else. He shares his room, and he teaches them and tries to bring them up right. Some of these boys have turned out pretty well, I must say."

He ran his fingers through his hair, and seemed to fall into a fit of musing, oddly incompatible with his alert air of being on the lookout lest a stray penny should escape him.

"He's a cheery old fellow," said the grocer. "He's old, you know, and one day he's likely to be laid up with rheumatism and go to the poorhouse. He's not got anything of course, and yet you'd think he owned a bank, if you saw him go smiling off to his work morning after morning, and some smiling home at night. Never seems to worry about himself and the

Why Green Flour When You Can Get Five Roses

Age is a wonderful improver—in certain things, and flour is one of these. Practically all cheap flours are "green" flours. Up till five or six months after milling, good flour will go on improving steadily in quality and dryness, developing many admirable traits which it would not otherwise possess.—For instance, clearer color, smoother "feel," increased absorption, and so on. It is in obedience to this same principle that good wine gets better, and a mere "fiddle" develops into a valuable violin.

But it must be good in the beginning. At the end of a century or more, a cigar box would hardly become a masterpiece. Marvels of cleanliness and care are these storerooms of ours. To visit them would gladden the heart of the most fastidious housekeeper. "Wouldn't you, Madam, really?"

It can only get worse with age. Your dough cannot rise—shows poor grading in the loaf, with a crumbling crumb and sticky crust. Your best pastry efforts are rewarded with corresponding pastry evils.

When your friends are seated round the table, comes the discovery, the very embarrassing crestfallen apologies. FIVE ROSES, Madam, is milled right from perfect materials in a sanitary plant cleaner than your own kitchen, if that be possible. It is packed right and stored awhile in our own store-houses, until expert examiners declare it aged to proper dryness, without a trace of acidity. FIVE ROSES is drier, and being drier absorbs more water, producing more of those light, toothsome, flaky loaves and rolls which tickle the knowing palate and fill a vacant place most pleasantly. Those extra leaves pay more than the difference in first cost. Since you want a flour fully mated and seasoned, that cannot spoil or sour on your hands or misbehave in any way, that does not acquire the "swarm habit" but improves with age, if you want this flour, Madam, you will prefer our FIVE ROSES from your grocer.

richest man in this city couldn't be more free-handed about helping other folks. Everybody who is in trouble else he'll listen all night. That's the sort he is. Well, it takes all kinds of people to make up a world, they say, but it isn't often that you run across just Grandpa Galloway's kind."

It was late when Richard reached home, Henrietta seated near the drop-light with her embroidery, looked up from her work with a teasing smile. "Now I shall expect you to tell the whole truth," she said lightly. "Did you find a hero, and did he measure up to your expectations?" "I found a hero," Richard replied, "and he fully measured up to my expectations." And something in his face as he gave the answer, checked the laugh upon his sister's lips.

VICTIMS OF ZERO WEATHER. Toronto, Ont., Jan. 6.—Ernest Zuset, one of the victims of the crossing accident at Beasville, died today. His sister, Marion is still unconscious at the Woodstock hospital. Three little children were frozen to death at Yellow Grass, near Regina, while going from home to visit grandparents, two miles away. Sheriff Whitehead, of Weyburn is missing, and fears are that he has perished. Lawrence Thornbly, sixteen years old, was found frozen to death near Estevan, Man. He went out to look for horses and failed to return.

HOPE TO PROVE THAT COOK REACHED POLE. Port Jervis, N. Y., Jan. 6.—In a statement in the Port Jervis Gazette tonight Theodore H. Cook, brother of Dr. Frederick A. Cook, the explorer, says that he received a letter from Dr. Cook last Friday. In this letter the explorer said that he was flying in a secluded town in Germany, and that his wife is with him. Both are happy to get away from the public, while the doctor is seeing to recuperate his broken health. There is no truth, the brother says, in the reports of divorce proceedings started by Mrs. Cook. Just as soon as the doctor's health will permit it is said an expedition will be organized to go to Greenland and trace the course of Dr. Cook to Bradley Land. It is possible to cross the open lands at that time, and they find Bradley land as described, it will be regarded as conclusive evidence that Dr. Cook was at the North Pole on April 9, 1908.

Dr. Cook does not wish to cast any doubt on the Danish experts who passed verdict on his brother's record for he believes them honest and sincere. But he says facts and figures are more positive than the mere conclusions of a small body of scientific men who may honestly er-

MINARD'S LINIMENT CO., LTD. Gentlemen.—I have used MINARD'S LINIMENT from time to time for the past twenty years. It was recommended to me by a prominent physician of Montreal, who called it the "Great Nova Scotia Liniment." It does the doctor's work; it is particularly good in cases of rheumatism and sprains. Yours truly, G. G. DUSTAN, Chartered Accountant Halifax, N. S. Sept. 21, 1906.

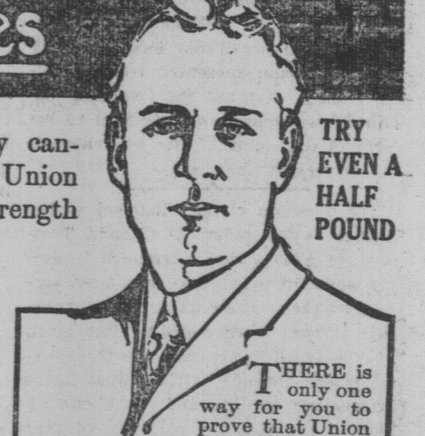

UNION BLEND TEA the Tea that satisfies

THE best customers I have are people who simply cannot learn to like ordinary tea—they find in Union Blend a richness and delicacy coupled with a strength that other teas do not even approach.

They gladly pay the price—forty cents a pound—because they realize it is tea economy. It is economy, because it goes half as far again as ordinary tea; indeed, being unaccustomed to its strength, most people make it too strong at first. Then, they learn that a little Union Blend makes more tea and makes it far better than can be made from a good deal of the common kind.

Go to your grocer and get a pound packet of Union Blend—be sure my picture is on the end—and try it for yourself. One single pound carries conviction.

Union Blend one pound packets—the good packets only—contain coupons that are worth money to you. But this is only an advertisement—the tea itself is worth the price, fully.

TRY EVEN A HALF POUND. There is only one way for you to prove that Union Blend Tea is all I claim—better than other teas. Try it. If it is not up to your expectations, I stand to lose more than you do. For my advertising can only induce you to try it once—can only introduce Union Blend to you; after that, its own quality must continue to sell it. Yet I am not only willing but anxious to risk the test—will you give me that chance? Go to your grocer, get a single pound—or a half pound if you prefer—and I shall be perfectly satisfied to accept your decision.

Sheriff's Sale

1909 A. No. 17,877
IN THE SUPREME COURT

Between:
THE EASTERN TRUST COMPANY, Executor of and under the last Will and Testament of CLARA KILLAM, late of Yarmouth, deceased
PLAINTIFF
and
F. L. MILNER, representing the heirs and other persons interested in the estate of JOHN T. ANDERSON, deceased.
DEFENDANT

To be sold at Public Auction by the Sheriff of the County of Annapolis or his deputy at the County Court House, at Bridgetown, in the said county, on Tuesday, the 8th day of February, A. D. 1910, at 12 o'clock noon pursuant to an order of foreclosure and sale made herein and dated the 16th day of November, A. D. 1909, unless, before the day appointed for such sale, the amount due to the plaintiff with its costs be paid to it or its solicitor.

All the estate, right, title and equity of redemption of the late John T. Anderson, deceased and of all persons claiming or entitled by, from or under him in and to ALL and singular those certain lots, pieces or parcels of land situate, lying and being at ROUND HILL in the County of Annapolis, Province of Nova Scotia, conveyed to the said John T. Anderson by William Spurr and wife by deed bearing date the first day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five, the same being bounded and described as follows:—

FIRST: ALL that certain lot beginning at the main post road leading from Annapolis to Bridgetown on the eastern side of the Spurr road, so called, at Round Hill, thence southerly along the east side of said Spurr road to the north line of lands now or formerly of William Wagstaff, thence easterly along the north line of lands now or formerly of said Wm. Wagstaff, to the west line of lands now or formerly owned by Bernard W. Spurr; thence northerly along said Bernard W. Spurr's line to the said post road; thence westerly along said post road to the place of beginning, containing twenty-three acres, more or less.

SECOND: ALL that certain other lot of land, beginning on the east side of the Spurr road at the southwest corner of lands now or formerly owned by William Criss, thence southerly along the east side of the said road one and a quarter miles; thence westerly along the north line to the east line of lands, now or formerly, of Joseph A. and Samuel Bancroft; thence southerly along the said Bancroft's east line to the base line of the Township lots; thence along the said base line easterly to lands now or formerly of Thomas Spurr (being the west line of said last mentioned lands); thence northerly along the west line of said lands now or formerly, of Thomas Spurr to the southeast corner of lands now or formerly of the said William Criss; thence westerly along the said William Criss's south line to the Spurr road at the place of beginning, containing, by estimation, two hundred acres, be the same more or less.

THIRD: Also, another certain lot, piece or parcel of marsh land beginning at the south-west corner of a certain board fence, bounded on the east by marsh, now or formerly owned by Isaac Healy, running north two degrees west forty-two rods to land belonging to Daniel Cameron, thence north eighty-three and a half degrees west eleven rods and eleven links following a board fence which is the south boundary of land, now or formerly belonging to said Daniel Cameron; thence south two degrees east forty-two rods to a stake; thence south eighty-three and a half degrees east eleven rods and eleven links to the corner of the first named board fence at the place of beginning, containing three acres more or less.

FOURTH: Also, another piece or parcel of marsh land beginning at a certain stake in the board fence in the south line of land, now or formerly, belonging to Daniel Cameron, being distant from Isaac Healy's west line at right angles eleven rods and eleven links; thence north eighty-three and a half degrees west continuing as the board fence runs north-westerly and thence westerly until it makes eleven rods and seven links at right angles; thence south two degrees east forty-three rods to a stake; thence south eighty-three and a half degrees east eleven rods and seven links to a stake; thence north two degrees west forty-two rods to the place of beginning containing three acres more or less. Saving, excepting and reserving however, from this deed and from the effect thereof two acres conveyed by said William Spurr and wife to Thomas Wagstaff by deed dated September 1889 and recorded in Liber 80 folio 278, also two acres conveyed by said William Spurr and wife to William Criss by deed dated 24th July, 1892, and recorded in Liber 80 folio 387, also one quarter of an acre conveyed by said William Spurr and wife to the Windsor and Annapolis Railway Company by deed dated 30th May, 1893, and recorded in Liber 99, folio 24-25. ALSO all singular those certain lots, pieces and parcels of land situate, lying and being at Round Hill aforesaid in the County of Annapolis and conveyed to the said John T. Anderson by George Rufus Whitman and wife by deed herein bearing date the first day of April, A. D. 1895, the same being bounded as follows: viz., FIRST: All that certain lot of land bounded on the south by the main post road; on the north by lands of Bernard Spurr, containing ten acres more or less. SECOND: All that garden lot bounded on the north by the main post road, on the east by lands of Edwin Anderson and on the west by lands of Bernard Spurr, containing ten acres more or less. THIRD: The salt marsh lot bounded on the north by the Annapolis River; on the south and west by the creek and on the east by lands of Bernard Spurr. FOURTH: ALL that certain wood lot bounded on the north by lands of Robert Spurr, Jr., on the south by lands of Edwin Anderson and on the west by lands of B. D. Spurr, containing one hundred acres more or less. FIFTH: All that piece or parcel of land situate as aforesaid on the north side of the main post road bounded as follows:— Commencing on the main post road to front the western front door so as to include the hall door of the dwelling house in the western end; thence running parallel with the eastern line of said homestead northerly to the river; thence along the river westerly until it comes to where a line of the middle ditch of the salt marsh strikes the river; thence along said ditch southerly to the creek; thence along said creek easterly to the end of the market fence; thence northerly to a oak marsh with three straight marks diagonally; thence in a direct line to the end of the stone wall southerly to the main post road aforesaid; thence easterly along said road to the place of beginning. SIXTH: And except all those certain parts of the said described lands and premises which have heretofore been conveyed to the Windsor and Annapolis Railway Company.

TERMS:— Ten per cent deposit at time of sale; remainder on delivery of deed.

IMMEDIATE RELIEF
From Coughs, Colds, Sore Throats and Hoarseness by Using Hyomei.
When you catch cold you want to get rid of it as quickly as you can. You don't want to lie around the house for a week swallowing nauseating drugs.
Why not avoid all this? Why not relieve your cold in five minutes? Why not cure it over night? You can do it by using Hyomei, the sure and guaranteed cure for colds, coughs, sore throat, catarrh, bronchitis and asthma.
William Guest, of Ayr, Ont., says: "Broth's Hyomei, has proven to be a most satisfactory treatment for nasal catarrh and bronchial trouble. I have doctored considerably for these troubles, and conscientiously say that nothing ever used has given me such quick and lasting benefit as this remedy. I have found it especially good for cold in the head and throat. I am very glad to endorse Hyomei as an article of uncommon merit."
Hyomei (pronounced High-oh-mee) is medicated and antiseptic air. You breathe it into the lungs through a small pocket inhaler and its soothing influence as it passes over the inflamed membrane of the respiratory tract, stops the mucous discharge, allays the inflammation and the cold is cured. A complete Hyomei outfit costs $1.00 and S. N. Weare will refund your money if it fails to cure.

Joker's Corner

EMBARRASSING FOR HIM

A Milwaukee man and his wife recently received a call from an old friend whom they had not seen for years before the three sat down to a little supper in the German style, the wife, seeing a favorable opportunity, whispered to her husband: "We have only three bottles of beer in the house—just enough to sound. Don't ask him to have more."
"Very well," answered the husband, who chanced to be thinking of something else at the time.
Half an hour later, the host, to his wife's consternation, asked the guest to take more beer. The invitation was politely declined, but still the host did not desist. A dozen times the caller was urged to drink; a dozen times he firmly refused.
When he had departed the wife took her husband to task. "What on earth made you persist so? Didn't I tell you there were only three bottles? Why did you insist upon his having more beer, more beer, more beer?"
"Mercy!" exclaimed the husband. "I forgot entirely."
"But," continued the wife, "why did you suppose I was kicking you under the table?"
"My dear," blandly replied the husband, "you didn't kick me!"

STRIKING FOR HOME

An Irish recruit who ran at the first shot, in his first battle was unmercifully laughed at for his cowardice by the whole regiment, but he was equal to the occasion.
"Run, is it?" he repeated scornfully.
"Faith, an' I didn't hater. I just observed the general's express orders. He told us, 'Strike for home and ver country,' and I struck for home. 'Thim that struck for their country is the best yet.'—Harper's Weekly.

THE REAL TEST

'Tis a cinch to be bright and cheerful
When the chaos worth while is gone;
But the chao' worth while is the one
That can smile
When his wife says, "Pet,
Breakfast is not ready yet,
I just had to wait
Till you patched up the stove."
Smile then—ah, that is the man.

MY CREED.

I would be true, for there are those who trust me;
I would be strong, for there is much to suffer;
I would be brave, for there is much to dare;
I would be giving and forget the gift;
I would be friend of all—the foe—the friendless;
I would be humble, for I know my weakness;
I would look up—and laugh—and love and live.

HOUSE FURNISHINGS

For many of us it is not a matter of not begin to use both sides of our mouth in chewing your food you are going to have serious trouble with those teeth on the left side some time." I had evidently grown in the habit of unconsciously using but one side of my mouth while eating and the other teeth were weakening in consequence.

EXPLAINED.

"Don't you want your nice bread and butter, Anne?" asked her father, Anne shook her head. "It's a shame to waste such nice bread and butter. I'll eat it myself," continued her father.
Anne watched the process with big eyes and a look of expectancy on her face. Finally, when the last mouthful had disappeared, Anne asked: "Papa, did it tickle?"
"Tickle," said her father, "why not? What do you mean?"
"I thought it would tickle," said Anne. "It had a long hair on it."

BODY COVERED WITH ECZEMA

YET ZAM-BUK CURED HIM

Mr. A. M. Brooks, of Wellington St. Steelton, says:
"Ten months ago I contracted eczema, which at first appeared on my neck, later spreading to my chest and body. The doctor thought this was caused by the irritation of my shirt collar and the poison and steam from the pulp, as I was then employed at the Pulp Mill. I began doct'ring—but instead of the disease being checked it showed signs of becoming worse; and my neck, chest, and my whole body was soon in a frightful condition. The skin actually peeled off, leaving the flesh raw."
"I suffered cruelly from the terrible itching and soreness, and was completely confined to the house. Not seeing or feeling any improvement, I next resorted to the ordinary salves and ointments recommended for skin diseases, but although I gave each preparation a fair trial, none seemed powerful enough to bring about a cure until I began using Zam-Buk."
"From the first application of Zam-Buk I had some relief, and as I persevered with its use daily the soreness was by degrees drawn completely vanished. Scabs or scales formed over the raw flesh, but Zam-Buk soon cleared away all these and gradually the cure was naturally gradual, it was complete."
"If you suffer from any skin disease don't make the above mistake, and try all sorts of things before Zam-Buk. Get Zam-Buk first! Eczema, ulcers, abscesses, poisoned wounds, cuts, cold sores, scald sores, face eruptions, chaps, red, rough patches—all are healed and cured by Zam-Buk. Best balm for babies' rashes. All druggists and stores at 50c. box, or beat free of Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price.

THE LATE KING LEOPOLD

Leopold II. of Belgium, has passed into history, leaving behind him a record that must make his obituary brief, if the writers observe the maxim that nothing but good should be said of the dead. He came to the throne of Belgium in 1835 as the successor of his father, Leopold I. who was the first King after that country had become independent of Holland. The elder Leopold was the son of the Duke of Saxe-Coburg, and was therefore a near relative of both Queen Victoria and Prince Albert of Great Britain, who frequently resorted to him for confidential advice, especially on international questions. Within a dozen years after his accession to the throne Leopold II. acquired a special footing in West Africa by financing out of his private fortune Stanley's expedition for the exploration of the Congo country. In 1885 the sovereignty of it was conceded to him by an international Congress at Berlin, but on conditions which—so at least it is alleged by Christian missionaries of all denominations—he never made even a decent pretence of fulfilling. The Congo country has become in some sense a "barbaric colony," and no doubt the parties to the Congress will promptly put a stop to all irregularities, to call them by no harsher name. If King Leopold is entitled to credit for something in the doing of which he carefully observed the Scriptural injunction not to let his left hand know what his right hand is doing, he must know what his right hand is doing.

Would You Provide for the Care of Canada's Needy Consumptives?

THEN SEND YOUR CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE MUSKOKA FREE HOSPITAL FOR CONSUMPTIVES

A national institution that accepts patients from all parts of Canada. Here is offered the best of medical and nursing care. Being received daily—

John D. McNaughton, New Liskeard, Ont.: A young man not belonging here, and suffering from tuberculosis, consumption, is being kept by one of the hotels here. He has no means and has been refused admission to our hospital. The conditions where he is kept are such that he could not be admitted to your Free Hospital for Consumptives? If not, could you inform me where he can be sent, and what steps are necessary to secure prompt admittance?

FOR A SINGLE PATIENT HAS EVER BEEN RECEIVED ADMITTED TO THE MUSKOKA FREE HOSPITAL FOR CONSUMPTIVES.

Since the hospital was opened in April, 1902, one thousand five hundred and twenty-four patients have been treated in this one institution, representing people from every province in the Dominion. For the week ending November 23rd, 1909, one hundred and twenty-five patients were in residence. Ninety-six of these are not paying a cent for their maintenance—absolutely free. The other twenty-nine paid from $2.00 to $10.00 a week. No one pays more than $4.00. Suitable cases are admitted promptly on completion of application papers.

A GRATEFUL PATIENT

Norah P. Canham: Enclosed you will find receipt for my ticket from Gravenhurst, hoping that you will be able to oblige me with the fare. I was at your Sanatorium ten months, and I was sent away from there as an apparent cure. I am now working in the city, and I am feeling fine. I was most thankful for the care I got from the doctors and staff, and I must say that I spent the time of my life while I was there.

Discovered at Last! A Preparation That Will Positively Grow Hair

After many years hard study consisting of hundreds of experiments a preparation has been perfected that will not only destroy the dandruff germ, but will produce a new growth of hair. This remedy has been placed on the market for sale, and although they could command almost any price for this preparation, yet they have placed the price of this remedy, which they call salvia, at 50c and $1.00 a bottle, and it is sold with a guarantee to grow the hair and kill dandruff. Mr. Warren has secured the agency for Bridgetown.
