FRANCE LETS GO RIGHTS TO NEWFOUNDLAND SHORE

Long Standing Difficulty Between the Two Powers Settled at Last.

Paris, March 17.—It is asserted positively in authoritative quarters that the agreement between France and Great Britain concerning Newfoundland has been concluded. The official say the negotiations relative to Morocco, Egypt and Siam are progressing in such a satisfactory manner as to promise early conclusions similar to those in the case of Newfoundland.

The differences over Newfoundland are of long standing. Great Britain claiming that the French right to occupy a strip of Newfoundland shores without payment of taxes and without being subject to Newfoundland laws, has prevented the proper exercise of provincial authority. The French territorial rights are relinquished, but the rights of offshore fishing are retained. Thus permitting Newfoundland to exercise authority throughout the island.

Concerning Morocco, it is expected that the negotiations will result in giving France a free hand in Northwest Africa, thus permitting the development and extension of the French colonial empire westward from Algeria.

Much significance is being attached to the settlement of these differences at the present time, as it is considered to be a practical realization of the friendship established under the peace of the French arbitration treaty, and also as an assurance that the Russo-Japanese war has not had the effect of disturbing the relations between the allies of the two belligerents.

and its melancholy present, among the deserted shrines of Glendalough and the ruins of Clonsilla. He was sorry to have missed Killarney, but he had sacrificed it to the Tipperary steep-chases and it was the costliest day of fun he ever had in his life.

His first essay at historical writing had been an attempt to show that the great troubles of Ireland were due to the malice of men but to accidents of history and nature. Seven dreadful centuries were drawing gradually to a close, and they might now hope for peace and justice.

Dr. Dollinger, the great German historian, had borne testimony to the loyalty of the early Irish Church to the papacy. To the English, the Irish were swept over Europe, which was convulsed by fear of the Papist, but the Irish had been despised and the plans of the cross. Looking down the centuries, St. Patrick's night had been established to mark the devotion of the Irish to the holy Christian faith.

COMMISSIONER BLAIR VS. MINISTER

The Globe says that the decision of the railway commission on the telephone case "has been received in certain quarters with hysterics, because some people live on excitement as a gas jet burns by a series of explosions."

Just what tone of voice should be used in discussing the telephone case we do not undertake to say. Certainly nothing is to be gained by silence and inaction.

Section 192.—Whenever any municipality, corporation or incorporated company has authority to construct, operate and maintain a telephone system in any district, and is desirous of obtaining telephone connection or communication with or within any station or premises of the company in such district, and cannot agree with the company with respect thereto, such municipality, corporation or incorporated company may apply to the board for leave therefor, and the board may order the company to provide such connection or communication upon such terms as to compensation, expense and any order and direct upon what terms and conditions such telephone connection or communication shall be constructed, operated and maintained.

It was certainly not understood in parliament that the Bell Company was to be compensated for the loss of its monopoly. Mr. Blair laid stress upon the inconvenience that would be caused to the railway company by the establishment of several telephone systems in the station building.

If they are ashamed why do they not seek for some mode of escape. Under a clause of this contract that my hon. friend wants this parliament to declare to be illegal when it is illegal, provision is made that the agreement, this contract or one that they are ashamed of has a clause which will enable them to terminate it. They can do it and do it all over and you do not need to ask parliament to discredit itself by assuming to declare that a contract which is valid and legal is illegal.

Minister Blair invited the C.P.R. to escape from its agreement if it is undesirable. Commissioner Blair dwells on the sacredness of the contract, and declares that the people must pay the damage occasioned by the destruction of the monopoly.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier in the course of the debate said that the Bell Telephone Company had nothing to do with the case before. "But who," he asked, "has brought the Bell Telephone Company into this debate? It is not in this debate at all. This is a bill of general interest, not for the profit or benefit of any company whatever, not for the profit or benefit of this company or of that company. It is a general bill for the regulation of trade and commerce on railways."

Next Wednesday Premier Ross will receive a deputation comprising representatives of thirty-four alumni associations, whose purpose it is to bring formally under the notice of the government the urgent need of Toronto University for a new and up-to-date physics building, and for the establishment of a chair of forestry. This is not a merely local matter, it immediately affects not only Toronto, but the whole Province of Ontario, and in its results is of no less than national interest.

It is to the university that the district looks for the final equipment, intellectually and scientifically of its youth, and upon the quality and effectiveness of the instruction imparted must in large measure depend the future of the Dominion itself.

The labor question has overshadowed the question of Briton vs. Boer. It is probable that the most interested in the dispute, the millions of farmers' institutes have not yet tackled the question of Chinese labor on the farm.

Leading papers of the United States insist that there is deep political significance in the supreme court decision abolishing the Northern Securities combine. The Republican press asserts, with much show of reason, that Roosevelt's prospects for re-election are materially improved.

The Northern Securities case was so strong that the government was forced to consider the cry of the west for redress. Dissolution of the syndicate under the Sherman act means the breaking of a trust that may be approached on similar grounds.

proposed to introduce Chinese labor into the Rand mines, under the ordinance recently passed thru the Transvaal legislature, especially in view of the omission from the ordinance, as finally adopted, of any clause providing for the consent of the laborer to his transfer from one employer to another.

For, since the working classes of Johannesburg have no voice in the government of their country, the duty of guarding their rights and interests devolves upon the imperial legislature. And it is an undoubted fact that the status of the Transvaal as a politically free and self-governing community is endangered by the official policy, with its inevitable tendency to exclude white British labor from the colony.

MARKET COMPARED IN VALUE. SAYS ARCHITECT. SIDDALL. Has 25 Men Now at Work, But Only a Few of the 224 Sections of Assessment Bill—Were Taken Up.

The property committee yesterday disposed of a number of minor matters. The St. Matthew's Bowling Club secured a reduction from $60 to $25 in the rental of grounds leased from the city.

Members on both sides of the legislature were shamrocked yesterday in honor of St. Patrick's Day, and there was no evening sitting, in order that everybody might be free to celebrate according to his own view.

Mr. Foster threw out the suggestion that the assessment bill should be taken up in the matter of piping St. Lawrence Market for gas. It had been laid over from last year, but the gas company was now prepared to install the amount of $400,000, use attorney-general said he had received protests that were so large in rural municipalities.

Mr. Gibson thought it should stand Mr. Willoughby would not exempt hospitals unless they had a free dispensary for the poor of the place. However, there was no change in the discussion on the exemption of municipalities.

The house went into committee on the bill to amend the act respecting the Ontario Land Office. Mr. Straton's bill respecting the Ontario Land Office was moved for the purpose of amending the act.

The following bills were read a third time: To consolidate the debt of the Corporation of Toronto (Morrison); to incorporate the Town of Orillia (Tudor); to incorporate the Town of Collingwood (Duff); respecting the Canadian Casualty and Boiler Insurance Company (Smyth).

Mr. Smyth will ask for return of copies of all deeds, documents, correspondence, valuations and memoranda in any way relating to the sale by the Crown to one James Conroy of the Town of Port Arthur in the district of Thunder Bay, dated on or about Sept. 17, 1903, comprising nine-twentieths of an acre and being part of reserve or block B, on the east side of Alton-street, in the Town of Port Arthur, and the Town of Collingwood.
