Wilson's Ship Was Head On For Thatcher's Island In Fog

Destroyer Headed Her Off But 1,000 Yards From Shore

BOSTON'S ROUSING WELCOME

City Thronged With People to Greet Chief Executive of Nation Speech in Mechanics Hall, Then Off to Warhington

Boston, Feb. 24.—President Wilson was the guest of Boston today. Thousands of people from all parts of New England arrived on early trains to swell the throngs in the streets through which it was arranged that he should pass on his way from Commonwealth pier to his hotel in the Back Bay district.

For the greater part of the crowd this was the only opportunity to see the president, as Mechanics hall, where he was to deliver his only address of the day, seats but 7,000 people. Buildings all along the route of the parade were ablaze with flags and bunting and recognition of the international character of the president's recent activities was shown in the frequent display of flags of the Allied nations.

The great steamer George Washington, upon which the president and his party made the voyage from Brest, dropped anchor off quarantine a little after dark last night. The most exciting moments of the trip came on Sunday afternoon, when it was suddenly discovered that the steamer, running through a dense fog, was headed directly for Thatcher's Island off Cape Ann. It was the destroyer, Harding, running ahead as a guardship, which discovered the danger and gave a warning signal. Engines were reversed and the ship was stopped 1,000 yards from shore, in deep water. The presidential party remained on board overnight. The storm which had hung over the coast for two days passed off to sea last night and the day opened clear.

The meeting at Mechanics Hall was set for half-past two o'clock this afternoon. A special train will start for Washington with the president and party at half-past four p. m.

President Wilson landed at Commonwealth pier at eight minutes to twelve. Accompanied by Mrs. Wilson he was transferred in the lower harbor from the steamer George Washington and escorted by aircraft, submarine chasers, torpedo boat destroyers and a flotilla of gunboat boats, reached the landing place on board the naval cutter Osprey.

The president looked as though the journey had agreed with him physically. Cheers from the thousands of people at Commonwealth pier greeted him as he stepped ashore. In the great shed of the pier built by the state and taken over by the navy department during the war as a housing place for recruits, there were assembled hundreds of state and city officials, legislators, representatives of the federal government, and a committee of women appointed to receive Mrs. Wilson.

Bosworth, vice-president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and in charge of the ocean services, when asked for an official statement in regard to the rumors that the best Atlantic ships of the C. P. O. S. will be transferred from St. John to the Portland route.

"Have you anything to say as to why the C. P. O. S. liners are being diverted to Portland?" Mr. Bosworth said, "On that I have nothing whatever to say," replied Mr. Bosworth.

WORD OF DESIGN TO KILL UNITED STATES PRESIDENT; ARRESTS MADE

Montreal, Feb. 24.—The Gazette publishes the following despatch from New York:

Acting on information that two Spanish anarchists had agreed to kill the president and would arrive in this city yesterday from Philadelphia on the way to Boston, secret service operatives raided two resorts of Spanish radicals, yesterday and arrested fourteen men.

Two of those arrested are suspected by the police of being a pair who were pledged to attempt the life of President Wilson. They were said to have arrived in this city from Philadelphia and to have planned to leave for Boston. While the secret service agents who uncovered the plot and planned the raids refused to give details of the conspiracy, it was learned that a thorough search of the two places which were raided made for a bomb which was to have been thrown at the presidential party on Monday if the plot had been carried out successfully. No bomb was found in this city.

Secret service agents who are at work on the conspiracy in Boston and Philadelphia were said to have been seeking to trace the bomb elsewhere.

Philadelphia, Feb. 24.—Ten Cubans and Spaniards were arrested here early yesterday by agents of the department of justice on information received from New York. A quantity of alleged seditious literature was seized and the authorities say the men arrested had some connection with those taken into custody in New York on Sunday.

PROPERTIES IN HEART OF CITY CHANGE HANDS

Dr. S. S. Skinner Sells Residence to C. A. Cameron and Purchases Berryman Home in Coburg Street

Two interesting transfers of real estate in the heart of the city have been arranged and are being completed this week. Both properties are well known to the citizens generally and the changes in ownership, which now are announced, set at rest some rumors regarding the possible future of these locations which have been current during the last week or so.

Dr. S. S. Skinner, who is giving up his military duties to resume private practice, has purchased the Berryman property in Coburg street for his own use. The new fill remains in his new quarters here long. This property includes a substantial and comfortable dwelling fronting on Coburg street and the lot extends back to Dorchester street, with stables fronting on the latter street.

The property in Charlotte street, between Francis street and the King Square, now occupied by Dr. Skinner, has been sold by him to George A. Cameron of the Modern Pharmacy. This lot is fifty by two hundred feet with large three story and basement brick residence and with large stables in the rear. It was formerly the property of the late Doctor Holden. Mr. Cameron said today that he had purchased the property as an investment, for the present it probably would be used as a somewhat exclusive lodging house, with the prospect of remodeling it later on as an apartment house.

A rental of $90 a month, he said, will be paid for the rooms in the Masonic building. Steps will be taken at once to fit them for their new use and in two or three weeks they will be ready for occupancy.

Meanwhile court sittings will be adjourned until the new premises are ready. There will be an unusual session of the county court which is due to meet tomorrow morning, when the court will convene on the steps of the old court house and will immediately adjourn until a later date.

JOHN GOLSWORDTHY'S ANALYSIS OF THE IRISH SITUATION

New York, Feb. 24.—It is not "wicked, tyrannous English" who stand in the way of national liberty for Ireland, but "the two Irish nations who stand in each other's way," said John Golswordthy, English novelist, at a dinner of the Society of Arts and Sciences in his honor here last night.

"Why is it that people over here seem so often to think that Ireland is a simple proposition?" he demanded, "is an irreconcilable national liberty all the time. The only trouble is that in Ireland there are two nations and they both want to be free. Furthermore, they insist that if one of them is free the other cannot possibly be."

Mr. Jones submitted a bill of $313.34 from T. McAvity & Sons, Ltd., incurred before he took office, for excavating for water main to the McAvity plant in Roxbury avenue from the new sixteen-inch main in Russell street. He explained that the work was done under agreement, owing to the fact that the city could not find laborers at the time. The bill was ordered paid.

Referring to the matter of the C. P. R. tracks in German street, West End, Mr. Fisher said that in dealing with another matter he had occasion to ask the company if they intended to acquire any land in West St. John, and was informed that they had no such intention. In view of this, he thought the city should take some action to secure the use of at least part of German street for a roadway. He moved that the C. P. R. be asked to name a date, not very distant, when it would remove its tracks from German street, St. John West, and provide a roadway connecting Union street with German street as provided in the agreement of several years ago.

For the benefit of the newer members of the council, the mayor explained that the C. P. R. agreement was made in view of an undertaking by the federal government to do certain work which had been held up by the war.

The motion was lost.

Mr. Fisher suggested that a second discount date be allowed this year, say three months later than the first, but it was agreed that, as the assessment might be late this year, it would not be advisable to make any change at present.

Demand Cash Bonus For Soldiers—From $1,000 to $2,000

Calgary, Feb. 24.—In speaking to a resolution which asked for the payment of $2,000 to every man that served in France, which was carried unanimously by a crowded meeting of veterans on Sunday afternoon, Major H. B. Eaton, M. P., declared that from a business point of view, the government owed a balance of money which was the sum between the soldier received for his services and what should have been paid to him.

RUSSIANS OF THE CANADIAN ARMY IN STABBING IN TORONTO

May be Fatal Result for Innocent Patron of Restaurant Where Trouble Occurred

Toronto, Feb. 24.—Vasili Nezbretsky, a Russian soldier who was with the Canadian forces overseas, was stabbed in the abdomen in a row in a restaurant here yesterday afternoon, and was removed to the general hospital in a critical condition. His alleged assailant, a so returned soldier, native of Russia, are in the military hospital badly beaten up, and under arrest. They are George Serebko and Wassil Kolomis. Policeman Lewis is in St. Michael's hospital suffering from a severely injured shoulder, bruises, which injures are said to have been sustained when he tried to arrest the man who did the stabbing.

The trouble started through an alleged unsatisfactory meal served to Serebko and Kolomis in the restaurant, which is run by a Russian. They left the table and were proceeding to the kitchen to remonstrate with the cook when they met Nezbretsky, who boarded them. They mistook him for the cook, and in a moment the innocent boarder was dangerously wounded by an army knife.

There was considerable excitement in the restaurant following the stabbing, and the police were summoned. Lewis saved his life. He came out of the fray with both the accused men limp and ready for hospital treatment. Greenberg was little the worse of the encounter.

ANOTHER TAKEN IN HOLD-UP CASE

Sensational Arrest in Connection With Theft of General Electric Pay Roll

Everett, Mass., Feb. 24.—Charles S. Whittemore, general auditor for the General Electric Company, was arrested at his home in Malden today charged with conspiracy and assault in connection with an attack on Frank D. Brown, assistant paymaster at the local plant but the company, who was held up on December 29, last and robbed of the weekly pay roll, amounting to $12,000.

Louis Bennett of Boston and Charles Mortall, alias Charles Celeste, also were arrested today in the same connection, a charge of assault being placed against them. Four men who were arrested in New York are already under indictment.

Brown had been to a bank in Everett in connection with the weekly pay roll for the company's foundry here and was on his way back to the plant with the money in a leather handbag when another machine suddenly drew across the road, and Brown's driver had to come to a halt. Almost immediately half a dozen men stepped out and forced Brown to deliver the bag. Their appearance was so sudden that neither Brown nor a guard who was riding with him had opportunity to resist. As the highwaymen turned and started away, one of them fired point blank at Brown, seriously wounding him. He recovered at a Boston hospital after several weeks.

Grave Warning As To Russia

GOVERNMENT TO ACT IF CONFERENCE WILL NOT AGREE

Statement Relative to Some Nova Scotia Coal Troubles SOME 1,500 MEN OUT OF WORK

Conference of Cape Breton Operators and Miners Reaches Agreement on the Eight Flour Day and Permission to Affiliate With U. M. W. of America Given

Halifax, N. S., Feb. 24.—A statement from Hon. E. H. Armstrong, commissioner of works and mines, appearing in the Chronicle this morning deals with the situation at Florence and Sydney Mines, growing out of the enforced unemployment of 1,500 miners, following action of the Nova Scotia Steel & Coal Company in closing down Number 5 Florence mine as a protest against alleged interference in their operations in the part of the Dominion Coal Company.

The commissioner states that some difficulty has been experienced in reaching the responsible authorities of the Dominion Coal Company, owing to absence of members of the board. A meeting of the board, however, had been summoned for this week and will take action on the proposition that the Scotia Company be permitted to enter the areas of the Dominion Coal Company adjoining the Florence area to the north.

The commissioner says his department has given every phase of the matter its careful consideration, and if its good offices in endeavoring to find a remedy for the acute situation at Sydney Mines should prove abortive, which the commissioner did not anticipate, the government, in his opinion, would not delay taking such steps as would best and most effectively solve the situation.

SOME STOCKS UP WITH A BOUND

Pools Resume Bullish Operations in Special Issues

New York, Feb. 24.—Pools resumed their bullish operations in the special issues at the active opening of today's stock market, motors, oils and tobaccos being especially conspicuous. Kelly-Springfield led the jump six and a quarter points to a new high price of 106 in the first half hour and advances of one and a half to five points marked the rise in Goodrich, United States Rubber, Ajax Rubber, General Motors, Sunatra, Tobacco and American Sugar. U. S. Steel added a fraction to its maximum quotations of the previous week but chipmunks and coppers eased moderately.

Noon Report.

According to reports current on the exchange the extensive trading of the first hour included considerable buying for the long account, as well as general short covering. This was borne out by the activity of commission business houses with interior connections. Pressure upon Marine Preferred, Baldwin Locomotive, and coppers invited prodding and consequent reactions of one to three points later, but not before oils, rubbers, tobaccos and equipments increased their early gains. At noon another expansive upward movement was in progress, led by various specialties which featured the strong first hour.

OFFICERS TORTURED BY THE BOLSHEVIKS

Matter May be Taken up by Supreme War Council—British Feel They Have Greatest Interest in Matter as They Captured Most

Paris, Feb. 24.—(By the Associated Press)—While the supreme war council has not discussed the disposition of the surrendered German warships, the naval experts of the council have studied the subject, British and American officers agreeing that the proper solution of the question will be to sink them in deep water. French and Italian officers do not take this view, and the experts do not soon reach an agreement, the matter may be taken up directly by the supreme war council.

The British navy has captured the greater number of German vessels taken during the war and the British delegates feel they have a greater interest in the determination of the question and they have the weight of the opinion of American experts with them.

One naval expert of the peace commission said today there were important reasons for complete destruction of the German ships. It had been suggested that they should be distributed among the Entente powers in proportion to the maritime losses sustained by each. On that basis the American share would be absurdly small. Then, he said, the distribution might involve disagreements and leave bad feeling among the powers and also provoke an enlargement of rival building programmes at great expense. At the same time, the German ships would not fit into any of the Entente navies.

Paris, Feb. 24.—Members of a French mission to Russia, headed by M. Duchesne, consul general at Petrograd, which was kept in prison by the Bolshhevik for five months, arrived in Paris last night.

Consul Charbaut, one of the number, told newspapermen that a cell adjacent to one of the cells in which the French were confined was occupied by five prisoners belonging to Allied nations. Two of them were Americans. The cell, he said, was only two yards square, and was reeking with vermin. The consul said the members of the party had endured many tortures at the hands of the Bolshhevik.

CLEMENCEAU WELL OUT OF DANGER

Paris, Feb. 24.—The most optimistic omens are seen in the decision of the doctors attending Premier Clemenceau to publish only one daily bulletin, beginning today. The premier has passed the dangerous point, and is well on the road to recovery. All danger of pulmonary congestion, it is said, is remote. Marcel Hutin, in the Echo de Paris, predicts that the premier will preside at the peace conference on Thursday. The writer quotes the premier as teasing his doctors with this remark: "I am better, but it is not your fault. It is my good nature which has produced it." Dr. Laury, the premier's family physician, confessed that M. Clemenceau was right.

FREDERICTON NEWS

Edward McGoldrick, a young boy belonging to Fredericton, was severely burned in experiments with the tank of a motor truck which he found in the yard of a local garage. A petition to be presented before the Dominion House of Commons for the validation of the order-in-council concerning the manufacture, importation and inter-provincial shipment of liquor, was largely signed on Sunday by members of the Brunswick street Baptist church. The Carleton Club is to play four stinks against the Fredericton club this afternoon and tonight.

LIBERAL M. P'S AND SENATORS IN CAUCUS

Ottawa, Feb. 24.—The caucus of Liberal members of parliament and senators which met this morning to decide upon a policy for the opposition during the session adjourned after a two hour session and will meet again this afternoon. A resolution of sympathy with Lady Laurier was passed and then a general discussion took place. The trend was to the effect that the policy of the session should be placed in the hands of a small management committee, with Jas. A. Robb, chief Liberal whip, as chairman, but this will not be definitely decided until later in the day. One interesting expression of opinion by some of the members was that Sir Wilfrid Laurier's seat in the house should remain vacant for the session, or until the question of the permanent leadership of the party is decided.

ORDER OF DANIELS REVEALS CASES OF ALLEGED GRAFTING

Two Officers of Third District to be Tried by Court-Martial — One Already Convicted

Washington, Feb. 24.—Lieutenant Benjamin Davis, of Plymouth, Pa., attached to the medical corps, and Ensign Paul Beck, of New York City, both members of the naval reserve forces, have been put under arrest at New York awaiting court martial in connection with charges of bribery and graft in the third naval district. In making this announcement, Secretary Daniels revealed that the arrest of a third naval officer had been ordered. The name of this officer was not made public, however, as the naval authorities believe this would interfere with the progress of the general inquiry now being conducted by orders of Mr. Daniels. Lieutenant Davis already has been court-martialed and sentenced to three years imprisonment, but approval of this verdict is being withheld, Secretary Daniels said, pending the investigation of ten other charges against the officer. A veteran under arrest prospered so well during the period of alleged grafting that he was enabled on one occasion to give a "very small party" to a Broadway theatrical favorite at a cost of $800. The former medical examiner's arrest, it is said, was the result of work of Joseph Whitehead, a member of the naval department, who was formerly stationed at Boston. Whitehead is the son of Mrs. Kelly Evans, a wealthy New York woman, who formerly lived in Atlanta, Ga. Hearing rumors that the lieutenant would arrange a transfer "for a price," Whitehead is said to have approached him and applied for transfers for himself and for Jack Pickford, a motion picture actor, who was a friend of Whitehead.

A conference was arranged at a hotel and naval intelligence department operatives recorded Whitehead's dictating with the officer by means of dictographs. After the conference the officer was arrested and $600 in marked bills, which had been handed to him by Whitehead, were taken from his pocket. The officer, it was said, confessed and surrendered bank books showing a long list of deposits in excess of his salary as a naval officer. Another report was to the effect that seven naval officers and forty yeomen were connected with the alleged grafting, and that the name of a high naval officer of the district had been brought into the case as a suspected "man higher up." This officer, it was reported, had deposited in banks in New York and other cities, since the United States entered the war, sums aggregating $20,000. The "man higher up," it was reported, worked through one or more yeomen, who proposed payments of money as a means of gaining favoritism, and conducted negotiations which began with a formal dinner to the "man higher up," and culminated in payments of money to him through the yeomen. The investigator working on the case, it was said, had one flashlight photograph of a dinner given to the "man higher up," showing this man, several yeomen and some of the men who have made affidavits accusing those under arrest with having solicited and accepted bribes. The amount of money said to have been collected from aspirants for preferment is reported to be in the neighborhood of $600,000.

JAPS WANT EQUIPMENT SEIZED BY AMERICANS

Request for Arms, Horses and Other Things Taken From Cosacks

Viadivostok, Feb. 19.—(By the Associated Press)—The Japanese staff here has requested Col. Styer of the American army to turn over to the Japanese the arms, horses and equipment of the Cosack troops of General Kalmikoff, who mutinied late in January and then surrendered their arms and horses to the Americans. A short time ago Major-General Graves, American commander, refused a verbal demand of the Japanese staff that he cease to protect the 1,600 revolutionaries of Kalmikoff's forces, on the ground that Kalmikoff's record was not good, that he represented no authorized authority, and that there was no guaranty that he would not revive the reign of terror in the Usuri-Khabarovsk district which caused protests to be made by General Graves to General Otani, the Japanese commander-in-chief. The Japanese now contend that the equipment of these Cosacks belong to them. Up to this time General Graves has not been inclined to concede this claim without assurances that the men when released will not be victims of Kalmikoff's vengeance. ASSUMES HIS FORMER POSITION Joseph K. Kennedy, recently returned from overseas, has received his discharge from military duties and has resumed his former position as salesman in Waterbury & Rising's Union street store. "Joe's" shoe patrons and friends are all glad to see him back "on the job," and many have called on him today (his first on duty) to shake hands with him.

CHURCHES HONOR FALLEN SOLDIERS

A memorial service was held in German street Baptist church, last evening in honor of the members of the church who have fallen in battle. The church was packed. There was a specially arranged ceremonial, the feature of which was a touching and impressive address delivered by the pastor, Rev. S. S. Poole, the keynote of which was sacrifice. The honored dead of the church for whom the service was held are as follows:

David Wells, November 6, 1917, aged eighteen years.
 William H. Milton, December 4, 1917, aged twenty-two years.
 Alfred R. McKinnon, December 16, 1917, aged thirty-three years.
 Kenneth E. Daley, June 27, 1918, aged twenty years.
 Walter C. Smith, September 30, 1918, aged twenty-three years.
 H. Rutherford Simms, October 14, 1918, aged twenty-eight years.
 In St. James' Church.

A memorial service was held last evening in St. James' Anglican church, Broad street, in honor of two former soldier members, during which the pastor, Rev. H. A. Cody, delivered a glowing eulogy of the departed. Those honored were Private George Ralph who had gone over with the 140th and after much service at the front had died in an English hospital in January, and Private John L. LeCain, a member of the first contingent who, after serving through the entire period of war, died recently in France of pneumonia.

RESPONSIBILITY FOR WAR.

Report Will Not Be Ready for Incorporation in Peace Treaty.

Paris, Feb. 24—(By the Associated Press)—Present indications are that nothing regarding the responsibility for the war beyond a declaration of general principles will be included in the preliminary treaty of peace. The special commission considering the liability of either governments or individuals to punishment has worked in great secrecy and has heard arguments on every side of the problem from experts in international law, but it is gathered that the only result that can be expected in time for incorporation in the peace treaty is an expression of opinion on the general principles that may be applied to the cases so far considered.

The Evening Times and Star

ST. JOHN, N. B., FEBRUARY 24, 1919

The St. John Evening Times is printed at 27 and 29 Canterbury street, every evening (Sunday excepted) by The St. John Times Printing and Publishing Co., Ltd., a company incorporated under the Joint Stock Companies Act.

THE LEGISLATURE

The New Brunswick legislature will soon be in session. There is naturally a great deal of interest in the course to be pursued by certain gentlemen who certainly ought not to be engaged any longer in making laws for this province.

TIMELY ADMONITION.

In the course of a striking sermon of which service was the keynote, Canon Armstrong in Trinity church last evening quoted startling figures to show how great is the need in Canada of child-welfare work.

It is well that the voice of the preacher recalls us to the higher aims of life, the nobler purposes, the unselfish spending of ourselves to make the world a more splendid heritage for generations yet unborn.

In a letter in today's Times Mr. F. G. Spencer outlines a proposal to bring to St. John in a series of three concerts each year for three years some of the greatest musicians in the world.

A BOYS INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL.

There is a Boys Industrial School in Portage la Prairie, Manitoba. The report of the superintendent shows there were 69 boys in the institution on June 30, 1918. Fifty boys were admitted during the year. Twenty-two were paroled.

"The farm in connection with the institution is being successfully managed. We have 18 to 20 boys who are continuously employed on the school farm.

"Our biggest problem here is the matter of segregation. In schools such as this, where we have the degenerates to deal with, as well as the delinquent and mental defective, segregation is absolutely necessary.

The educational system in this school is so planned that each boy is taught all the work of his grade as well as a trade, and the public school inspector regularly visits the school.

"We give the boys as much freedom as they can stand; that is to say if we can trust them they are allowed to move about freely, to the park, down town, and to the picture shows.

"The last sentence is especially significant. It shows that the boys have a sense of honor that can yet be appealed to.

"We have introduced a system of self-government among the boys. This most interesting experiment is proving to be one of the finest ever introduced into this school.

"The atmosphere of Paris is still electrical, with occasional flashes which indicate that the European storm still has serious possibilities.

BRITISH MINES CONTROLLER INFLUENZA VICTIM.

London, Feb. 23—Sir Guy Spencer Calthrop, controller of coal mines since 1917, died today of influenza.

Rev. Dr. J. A. Morison, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, in his sermon yesterday morning, made a startling revelation regarding the supply of men for the ministry.

"Why don't you make an oration on duty as sentry, one evening, at one of the national camps."

"The officer obeyed, but the sentry called again: 'Halt!'"

"See, here," said the officer, "I halted the first time."

"Yes, but the sergeant told us to say 'Halt' three times and then fire."

"Needless to say, the officer did not fire."

Dr. Effie L. Lobdell of Chicago could not sit still while such old-fashioned views were promulgated by an unprogressive medical "rube" from Iowa. She endorsed, from both moral and hygienic standpoints, the wearing of fewer clothes by women.

Dr. Jeannette Throckmorton of Charlton, Iowa, declared the customary street dress of women last summer was an offense to public decency. She blamed the good women of the country for allowing their daughters to "defy pneumonia and influenza with a lavalliere for protection."

NIGHT OPERATOR—ALL IN

Vinyl Made Him Feel Better, Look Better, Sleep Better.

Springfield, Mass.—"I am a night operator—was all run-down, couldn't sleep, nerve tonics without help—and I thought I would try Vinyl and I must say it has built me up so I feel better, look better, and sleep better."—Charles T. Harder.

The reason Vinyl was so successful in Mr. Harder's case, is because it contains beef and cod liver peptones, iron and manganese peptones and glycerophosphates, the very elements needed to build up a weakened, rundown system, make rich red blood and create strength.

Berlin, Feb. 24.—(By the Associated Press)—Herr Ramm, under-secretary of the ministry of agriculture, gave a gloomy picture of the prospects of the coming harvest at a meeting of the German Agricultural Society yesterday. He said that nothing better than half a normal crop could be expected this year. This was due to the lack of fertility and the impoverished condition of the soil.

Complaints of Lack of Care

Fourteen soldiers, who arrived in this city on the C. P. O. S. liner Metagama made allegations yesterday to the Great War Veterans' Association against the treatment received by themselves and their dependents on the passage across.

A conference was held at which Senator Thorne, E. Allan Schofield, George Warwick and Commissioner Bullock were present. A resolution was passed that the meeting place on record a demand for the fullest investigation by the Dominion government and that the guilty parties be punished.

One of those who died yesterday was Mrs. J. G. Woodgate, wife of Private Woodgate, of the 16th Infantry, Lloydminster (Alta). Private Woodgate said that his wife became ill during the first day out and that although he made several requests she did not receive adequate medical attention. Mrs. Woodgate complained of a pain in her lungs on the third day, but according to her husband her pulse and temperature were not taken. She died in the military hospital here.

Sergeant-Major R. H. Elderson, of the 18th Battalion, said that his wife, a daughter of less than three years of age, and a child of four months, were ill. He also charged medical neglect and intemperance, alleging that the military doctor refused to go to their quarters.

Later the temperature of the little girl was found to be over 100 and she was sent to the ship's hospital and later to the military hospital here. Sergeant-Major Elderson said that his quarters were unclean.

Private S. H. Scott, of the 194th Battalion, said that he reported to the military staff on the steamer on 7 a.m., on February 10 that his child was ill. He said that he was unable to obtain medical aid and gave the child some liniment. Finally a military officer, not a physician, went to his quarters and found that the child had a temperature of 104. The child was sent to the ship's hospital and later to the military hospital here where the child died yesterday.

Private Scott and most of the other complainants said that during the first three days of the trip their quarters were unclean.

HIGH STANDARD FOR TEACHERS Have Important Role to Play in the New Era Coming

(Toronto Globe.)

It was a high standard Hon. Dr. H. J. Cody held up to Toronto teachers assembled in the auditorium of the Central Technical School yesterday afternoon. Outstanding in the talk he gave them was his reminder that inseparably linked up with reconstruction is education. In that respect, he said, the teachers of the future citizens had an important role to play in the new era which is dawning on civilization.

"Perhaps what once was Utopian," he said, "is nearer the day of realization now that we have gone through the crucible of war than ever it was before. We have learned many lessons. Reconstruction formerly meant to us that every man should upon demobilization be put back as far as possible into the place he occupied before the war. But the great democratizing force of the war has had a reflex upon the people at home and we have now begun to look for a better world in many respects. Reconstruction means more than demobilization and restoration. It means securing of better things than we had in the days gone by. It means better equipment and a better distribution of the good things in life, a better distribution of the pleasures and pleasures and treasures.

"There is no single factor," he said, "that will play a larger part in the reconstruction of Canada than the factor of education. It is not only intimately bound up with social and industrial reconstruction, but it is bound in a sense with most of the elements of the post-war period policy. Upon the extent to which a country makes use of and develops the innate abilities of its citizens, its future prosperity, happiness and progress depend."

In a brief resume of a teacher's ideals

he said that first of all it was the teachers' duty to win the admiration and respect of the pupils under them. In this connection nothing so much withheld respect as mispronunciation of words and mis-statements not immediately corrected. "The child is a keen critic," Dr. Cody declared, "and rather merciful." Other ideals were lucid impartiality, judicious use of praise and blame, stimulating of the interrogative intelligence and personality.

"Education," he concluded, "is the transmission of life through the living to the living."

The new pipe organ in the Charlotte street Baptist church was used yesterday for the first time. Stanley Stout, a returned soldier, has been engaged as organist and choir master.

Rev. F. E. Boothroyd, pastor of the Zion Methodist church, delivered an eloquent address last evening on the evils of the liquor traffic.

LOOKS MORE LIKE AN EARLY PEACE

France Swings to View Of Her Allies

THE PACE ACCELERATED

Clemenceau Helping Towards This End and Confers With Allied Leaders—Germany First Enemy Nation to be Dealt With

Paris, Feb. 23.—(By the Associated Press)—The atmosphere around the peace conference has changed remarkably in the last few days. The delibera- tion and caution which marked the pro- ceedings of important commissions have given way, and even the most conserva- tive delegates are being carried forward at a great pace. Talk of early peace has been general.

The actual directing force toward that end has been Premier Clemenceau, who, even while reclining in his easy chair suffering from the wound given him by a would-be assassin, has summoned the premiers of four great powers to his side to impress upon them the need for hastening the peace in their hands. France Changes View

France originally doubted the wisdom of concluding peace before conditions crystallized in Germany and effective guarantees against further danger from that quarter had been provided and an opportunity had been assured so that devastated French and Belgian indus- trial areas could be restored.

Asked if the peace conference was a termination of the existence of the present tech- nical state of war so that even Germany may resume the normal ways of peace, Clemenceau replied that the treaty would be reflected today by Stephen Pichon, French foreign minister, in his Sunday talk with foreign newspaper correspondents. He said, in discussing the probable date when the treaty would be signed, that the work would be hastened so soon as the necessary foundation had been laid. He added that the end might be reached be- fore the middle of May, and that he saw no reason to doubt it.

Asked if the peace conference could then disperse, he replied that general principles which must govern the treaty of peace would be included in the treaty itself, while their application must be determined and made workable after- wards. This was understood as indicat- ing that some portion, at least, of the conference machinery must remain after the signature of the treaty.

It is believed by some that the treaty which will be signed first must be fol- lowed by another final treaty which will exactly prescribe the conditions to be met by the late enemy powers. Several months may elapse before this can be made ready.

M. Pichon said that Germany would be first dealt with, because of the greater importance of the problems presented in her case, but added there were im- portant peace questions for settlement in connection with Austria, Bulgaria and Turkey. Military experts, he said, have been instructed to examine them and have been in readiness for speedy adjust- ment.

The commissioners who are consider- ing reparations, the minister said, are near an agreement. The first question to be determined is what Germany owes and then what she can pay. When those are determined a plan can be de- vised by the Entente for dividing the reparation to be obtained among the Entente Powers.

In conclusion, M. Pichon said that Premier Clemenceau was about to un- dertake consideration of the Russian ques- tion, when he was shot. He said the subject would await his return to his official duties.

TWO GERMAN STEAMERS CAPTURED BY FRENCH

Were Navigating in the Baltic Sea Without Permission

Paris, Feb. 24.—The French destroyer Oriflamme captured on Feb. 19 in the Baltic Sea the German steamers Elbe and Berger, which were navigating with- out permission. The destroyer took her prizes into the Kiel Canal on the way to the nearest French port, but the German authorities closed the locks at Brunsbutel and endeavored to prevent the pas- sage of the destroyer and the steamers on the ground that the captures were il- legal.

After the commander of the destroyer had made an energetic protest the Ori- flamme and its prizes were allowed to proceed to Dunkirk. Under the terms of the armistice Ger- man vessels are liable to capture if they go to sea without special permission.

University Men and Mayors of Chief Cities—Say Blockade Cost 800,000 Lives

London, Feb. 24.—Thirty-six prominent members of scientific and medical faculties of German universities and twenty-two mayors of chief cities in that country have addressed a joint appeal to President Wilson and university faculties in neutral countries, urging the speedy appointment of a commission of experts from the Scandinavian states, Holland, Switzerland and Spain for the purpose of studying the food situation in Germany. The memorial says:

"Germany has laid down her arms upon being assured a peace of justice based on President Wilson's 'fourteen points.' The conditions of the armistice have made her absolutely defenceless. In spite of the mutual agreement to suspend all hostilities Germany's opponents continue the hunger blockade—the most severe and most crushing of all weapons applied against her during the war. Terrible numbers of civilian workmen, children and old people are dying from lack of food. The blockade cost the country 800,000 lives."

The petition concludes by declaring that the problem of rationing big cities in Germany is beset by gravest dangers and that "the German people are under- severely being driven into a hunger catastrophe."

Roomanians Claims

Paris, Feb. 24.—Roomanian claims before the peace conference are being con- sidered by a special commission headed by Andre Tardieu. The commission on Saturday heard Premier Briand and other Roomanians with regard to these claims.

Pimples Broke Out All Over Face, Arms and Neck

Pimples are a sure sign that the blood is not in its proper shape. While the skin is the seat of the irri- tating, unsightly pimples, the real disease is in the blood. Medicated lotions and powders may allay the itching and irritation, but never cure no matter how long and faithfully continued, and the condition is often aggravated as the skin permanently in- jured by their use. The disease is more than skin deep; the entire circulation is poisoned.

Bardeco Blood Bitters quickly and ef- fectually cures blood and skin troubles, because it goes direct to the root of the disease and stimulates and restores normal, healthy action to the different organs, cleanses and enriches the blood, and thus relieves the system of all poisonous secretions.

B. B. B. cures permanently because it leaves none of the original poison to fer- ment in the blood and cause a fresh at- tack. Miss E. M. Davidson, Daysland, Alta., writes:—"Last summer I was greatly troubled with pimples breaking out all over my face, arms and neck. I was ad- vised to try Bardeco's Blood Bitters, and after taking two bottles, the pimples had almost all disappeared. I shall always recommend this remedy to anyone afflicted with skin troubles."

Missing Number Many Thousands

British Lost 360,000 Who Are So Recorded

Germany to Be Searched

Allies Will Not Take Enemy's Word That All Prisoners Have Been Returned—Some Striking Disappearances

Perhaps the saddest of all the reports that come from the battlefield is that of "missing." Those for whom it records the fate of a dear one have their misery long drawn out, an aching pain that is less merciful than the swift stab that announces a death in action. In this war there are thousands of soldiers whose fate can only be guessed at. They were seen going into action and then all trace of them was lost. Germany had announced that she has no secret prison camps, and that every allied prisoner who is able to leave the country has been sent home. This in a measure—but only in a measure, since the word of no German is relied on—relieves the fears of thousands who believed that those near to them who had been reported missing might eventually be found hidden out of sight in some remote fortress. In France no fewer than 314,000 officers and men have been listed as "missing" in the British army the number is at least 360,000.

Hope will not completely die in the breasts of those who recall the fact that many years after the Franco-Prussian war, in some cases fifteen years, French soldiers who had been mourned as dead returned to their homes. They had been captives when the war ended, but for some petty breach of discipline had been cruelly sentenced to imprisonment. In that war, of course, Germany was the all-powerful conqueror, and could do almost as she pleased with the unfortunate Frenchmen in her hands. Today she would hardly dare to play any such tricks. It has often happened that men are missing in action and remain missing for years because of some accident that befalls them, such as the temporary or indeed permanent loss of memory or of reason. It is quite probable that there will be found an unusually large number thus inspeculated in the present war on account of the terrific effect of artillery upon the nerves.

However, it has been announced that the commissions of the Allies will make a thorough search of every hole and corner in Germany in which prisoners might be concealed. Nothing is taken for granted, for it is recalled by Culliffe Owen that at the treaty of Frankfurt the German government pledged its word that all French prisoners taken in the war of 1870-1 had been sent home. German savagery has never revealed itself more starkly than in the German policy with regard to prisoners in this war. Germany consistently refused to give the Allies information about Allied prisoners that was volunteered about German prisoners. In some cases searching and specific enquiries were made, and all knowledge of the fate of the missing men was denied. For example, Lord Farnham, who had figured among the dead for more than a year, turned up the other day, having been released from a German prison camp. When he was reported missing enquiries were made through King Alfonso and the Vatican, but nothing could be learned of his fate. It now transpires that he spent the time in a pestilential prison camp.

The Fate of Earl of Erne.

A remarkable case of disappearance is that of the Earl of Erne, who was a favorite equerry of King George, and as such well known to the Kaiser. He was also a man of striking appearance, standing six feet four inches. One morning in the retreat from Mons he rode back along the road to bring in a group of men whom he supposed to belong to his own regiment. He was seen to ride up to them and then the group closed round. Not a shot was fired, but Lord Erne was never seen or heard of again, though the most diligent search was made and requests for information laid before the Kaiser. His death has now been judicially assumed in England. Several other British officers of title and great estates have been listed with the missing, and judicial decisions have been necessary to permit their presumptive heirs to take their places. There may be some of the missing perhaps who have chosen to disappear for one or other of a dozen reasons that might suggest themselves. War offers great opportunities to those who seek this solution to problems of life that otherwise appear insoluble to them.

A remarkable case is that of Frederick Fermo-Hesketh, son of Sir Thomas Fermo-Hesketh. Early one Sunday morning he crossed from Holyhead to Kingston, and there vanished as though the earth had swallowed him. He was a young man of unusual stature and grace, and his father spent a fortune in an effort to solve the mystery of his fate, but it remains to this day a mystery. It is also worth recalling that the present Earl of Aberdeen owes his title and estates to the fact that his elder brother, the seventh Earl, disappeared in 1863, and was last heard of as a sailor before the mast bound from Boston to Melbourne. A similar break in the succession some fifty years or so ago, when Lord Edward St. Maur vanished in India, diverted the title and great estates of the Dukes of Somerset to the father of the present Duke. Many years later a man turned up in England claiming to be the missing peer, but he turned out to be a fraud.

will be used for the Allied army of occupation in Asia.

The three divisions in the Balkans are stationed in the Dobruja, which is the subject of considerable controversy between Roumania and Bulgaria, near Constantinople and the Dardanelles and in the vicinity of Salonki.

In Egypt and Palestine there might be more trouble with the Turks if a British force was not maintained there, while in Mesopotamia it is feared the inhabitants, freed even of Turkish control, would start fighting among themselves if not controlled by the military. These influences necessitate keeping a certain number of troops in these areas, in the opinion of the war office officials here.

The British have troops in Russia on the Murman coast, south of Archangel, and at Omsk, while at Vladivostok is a brigade of Canadians.

There is a British garrison of 70,000 in India and it is not expected to reduce this force until just before the heated season begins. Then it is planned to bring home about 30,000 if shipping facilities are available. This is an unusually large garrison for India but the war and colonial office officials believe a large garrison will be necessary for some time.

FINE SERVICE GIVEN BY BRITISH SCHOOL GIRLS.

(From Women's Section, Office of Director of Public Information.)

"The Girls' Patriotic Union" was formed in England in 1914 by girls attending private and public schools and the members have worked steadily ever since making bandages and Red Cross comforts, cultivating waste land, gathering blackberries for use in hospitals and for jam making. They collected garments for Serbian refugees and for men from torpedoed ships, organized entertainments for the wounded and took over the care of a number of prisoners of war. The union has contributed $1,000 to the mercantile marine funds and is the donor of one wing of the Star and Garter House for which the union contributed $5,000. In addition, many hats have been given to various groups of war workers and their latest scheme is to present a hut to the Q.M.A.A.C. (formerly known as the W.A.A.C.'s), many of whom were public and private school girls.

EUROPE AND ASIA ARE WELL SPOTTED WITH OUR FORCES

British Troops Kept in Some of the Out-of-the-Way Places For Safety Sake

London, Jan. 24.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—A glance at the maps of Europe and Asia on which are designated positions of British troops shows them to be rather well spotted. For one reason or another the British war department still considers it necessary to keep troops in some of the out-of-the-way places of the world. While it is planned to reduce most of the forces there is no immediate prospect of the withdrawal of any force.

In the Balkans the British are using their forces as a stabilizing influence against the varied ambitions of the several states. In Trans-Caspia, northwest of Afghanistan, they are protecting the population from Turkish excesses, the result of the refusal of the Turks to realize they have been beaten in the war. In Trans-Caucasia they are fighting the Russian Bolsheviks. In northern Italy they are acting as a buffer between the Italians and Jugo-Slavs until the peace conference settles differences there. Several commands are in Russia and fairly large forces are being maintained in India, Mesopotamia and northern Persia. Three divisions of the force sent to Italy in 1917 remain but in considerably reduced numbers. Many men have been demobilized and none sent to replace them. One battalion is at Fiume, another in Northern Tyrol. A part of this force girls was from their pocket money or earned outright and the time given to land work was taken from recreation periods. Herb gathering and herb growing have been taken up by these girls and the collection of old papers and bottles has yielded quite an income. One of the schools presented to the British

Red Cross an ambulance, earned by the donors. The glimpse of the personal element that permeates the finest realization of nationalism will not soon be lost on those patriotic girls. The next generation of Englishmen will be all the finer because these girls have done their duty to the utmost.

REGISTRATION OF W-S.S.

(War-Savings Stamps)

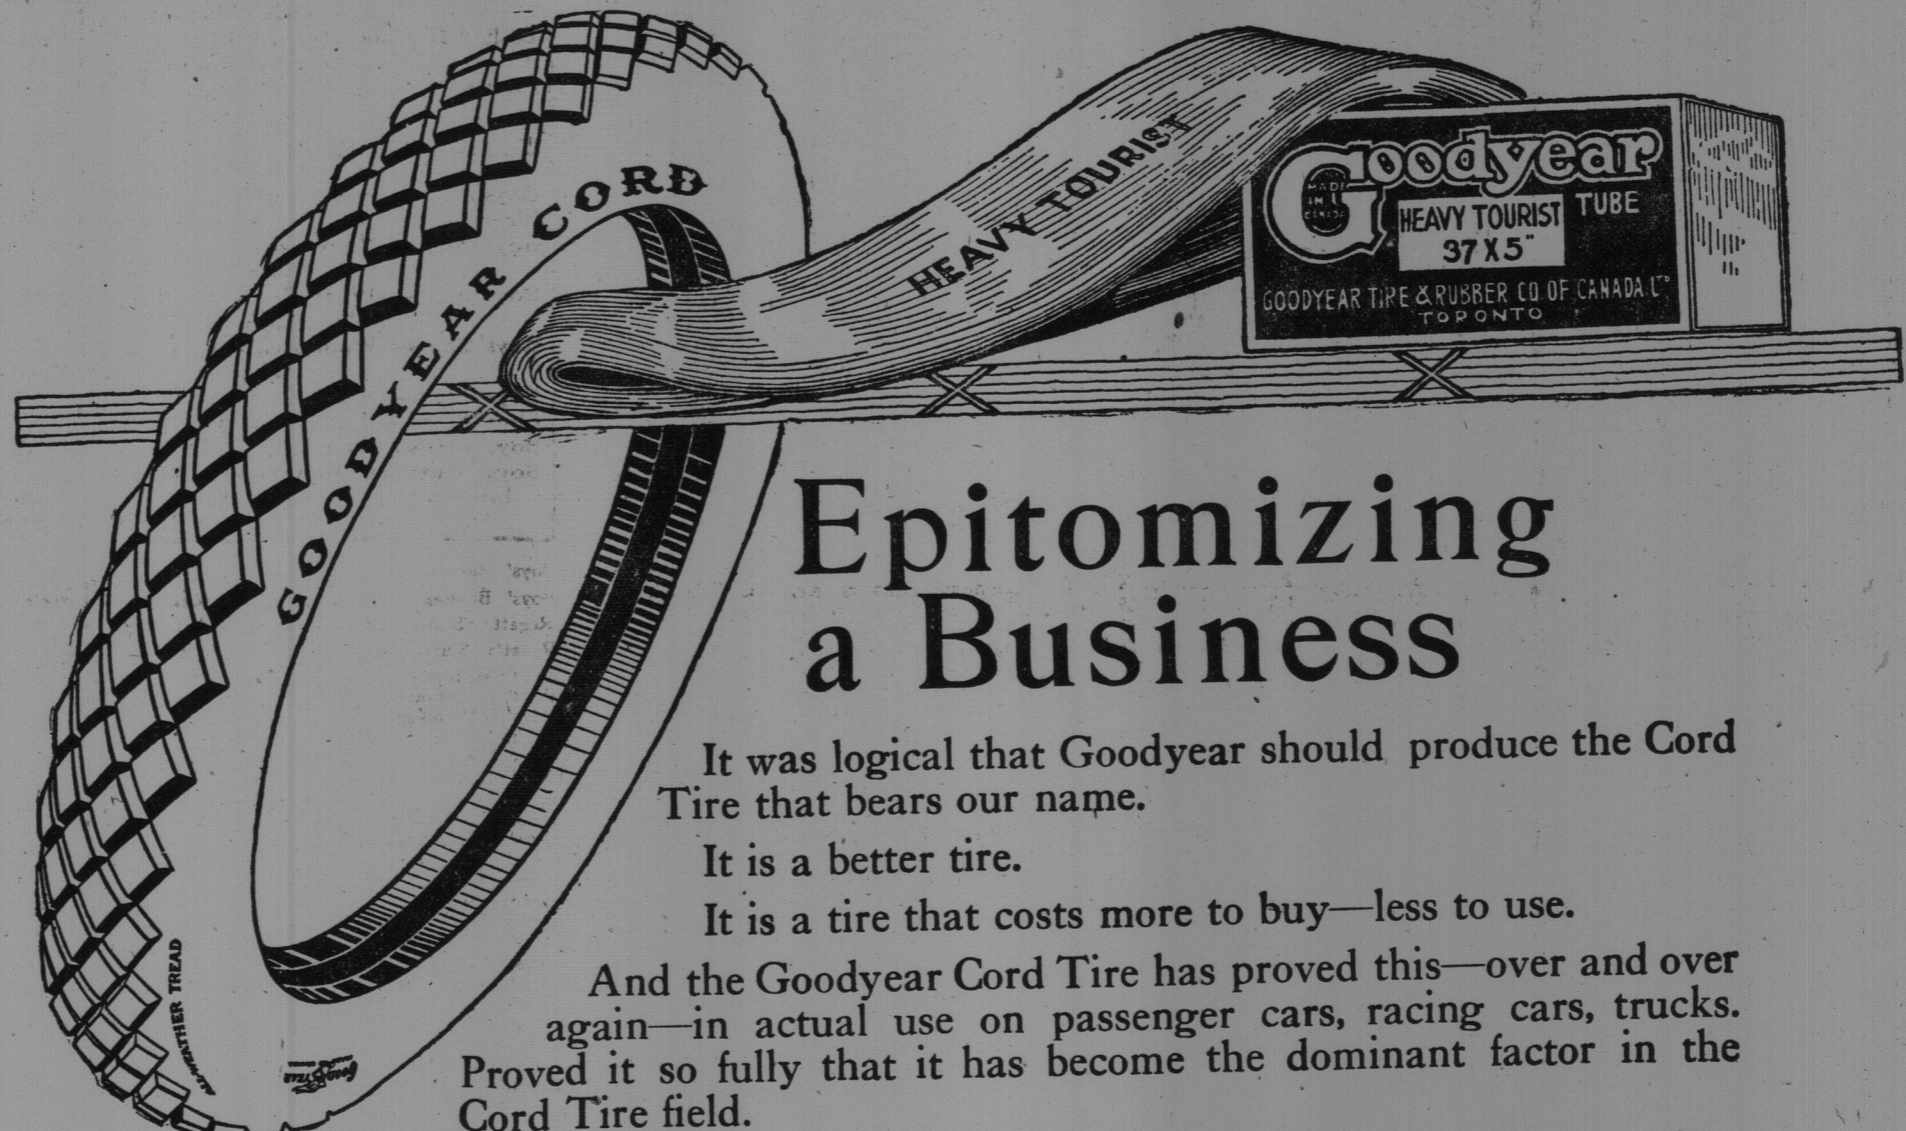

The Dominion of Canada offers you every safeguard for your investment in War-Savings Stamps.

Affix your W-S.S. (costing $4.01 each this month) to the Certificate provided, and ask the Postmaster at any Money-Order Post Office to register the stamp or stamps for you.

The stamps are then absolutely useless to anyone but yourself. If your registered W-S.S. are lost by theft, fire, or other cause, the interest continues to accumulate and you can obtain your money at the office where the stamps were registered.

Remember, that at the rate of interest allowed on W.S.S. four dollars would grow to $361.39 in 100 years.

EVERY time you are tempted to spend money needlessly, buy Thrift Stamps instead, at 25 cents each. Sixteen of these on a Thrift Card represent $4.00 in the purchase of a W-S.S.

Epitomizing a Business

It was logical that Goodyear should produce the Cord Tire that bears our name.

It is a better tire.

It is a tire that costs more to buy—less to use.

And the Goodyear Cord Tire has proved this—over and over again—in actual use on passenger cars, racing cars, trucks. Proved it so fully that it has become the dominant factor in the Cord Tire field.

We said it was logical that Goodyear should develop such a tire—because the Goodyear Cord Tire is an epitome of our business history.

Every Goodyear Tire development—and there have been many—has aimed at reducing motoring cost.

Motoring cost—NOT tire prices.

There is a difference.

Already the majority of the world's motorists realize this difference. They are buying tires for the service that is in them, not for the price down to which they are kept.

And as a result Goodyear Tires are the largest selling tires in the world.

An important link in the world-wide Goodyear organization is the Goodyear Service Station Dealer near you. Ask him about Goodyear Tires. Ask him, too, about Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes. You'll find them better tubes of longer life—tubes that will give greater service in any tire and are specially suited to the Goodyear Cord Tire.

Tim Healy's Place Is Unfilled

Was Chief Wit in British House of Commons—Cultured and Brilliant

(Toronto Mail.)

Speaking of tigers, it is to be noted that a celebrated specimen of the breed will roar no more at Westminster. Timothy Healy not being a member of the new parliament. He will be missed, for while he contributed no particular nuggets of wisdom to the output of the Commons he did give his colleagues many a hearty laugh, and a man who can make the Commons laugh is regarded as a sort of godsend. It is true that most of Tim Healy's wit was of a savage kind, which won him the nickname of the "Tiger," but remorseless wit that is directed at an opponent is relished by everybody except the opponent quite as much as though it were a genial humor. Mr. Healy is a Nationalist, of course, or rather he was a Nationalist. What he is now it is not easy to decide. He has displayed strong Sinn Fein sympathies; indeed, he represented that it was because of the ill-treatment of the Sinn Feiners by the British government that he decided not to stand as a candidate for North-East Cork, which, with other constituencies, he had represented for nearly forty years. Another reason which he did not make public may have been his doubt about being re-elected; another may have been his certainty of defeat.

Tim Healy did not pass out of public life like so many Nationalists by being devoured by the Frankenstein monster they had created. He left with a fine swag, "as a protest," he said, "against the infliction of two years imprisonment on a poor actor for singing two Irish songs published and long sung without objection." He added that he desired to make the seat available for the return to parliament of some such convict. Tim

Real LongLost Uncle Dies and Bequeaths Half a Million to Brother's Children.
By the death of an uncle who emigrated to Australia about thirty years ago, William Allison, a timekeeper employed at the London and North-Western locomotive sheds at Rugby, Eng., has inherited a fortune of £250,000.
The story, as related by Mr. Allison, is a romantic one. "Thirty years ago," he said, "my father's brother emigrated to Australia and with the small capital he possessed set up in business as a cattle rancher. He prospered and when he died last June he had amassed a fortune of £100,000.
"None of us," said Mr. Allison, "ever corresponded with him, but about three years ago a neighbor called my attention to an advertisement asking my father, who had died some time previously, to communicate with a firm of solicitors in Melbourne, Australia."
"My sister immediately wrote, but received no reply until, to our great surprise, we received news that my uncle was dead and that his entire fortune was to be divided between us."
"I had had to work hard all my life," he concluded, "and I am looking forward to giving my children a much better time than I have had."

Healy was one of that little band that helped win for the Nationalist party in the House of Commons the reputation of being the most cultured and brilliant group in the House, "wild Irishmen" though they were. Like several others whose names will occur to readers, his first reputation was made with his pen, for when he went to London he joined the staff of the Nation, and soon was entrusted with the preparation of its weekly London letter, which became rather a famous institution. As a lawyer he won renown, and in his early days at the bar he and Sir Edward Carson were often pitted against each other. It has been said that if Healy had ever learned to control his temper he might have rivalled Carson's fame as an advocate. Couldn't Rule Himself.

But this was something he never learned to do, and automatically he was disqualified from becoming a real leader. He had to follow other men, who may have been less brilliant, but who had greater common sense. His first political distinction came when Parnell appointed him secretary on his American tour. He came into contact with many prominent Americans and made a deep impression upon them. In parliament he also made his mark, but it was on account of his powers of repartee rather than for the constructive value of any bills he introduced. He wasn't heavy artillery; he was a sniper, but a deadly one. It is observed by Hayden Church in the Detroit Free Press that he was often a thorn in the flesh of his own party management. Party discipline he rebelled against. On one occasion he remarked: "There are two united parties in this House, and I am one of them." Indeed, he was, in a sense, his own party. Another report was made at the expense of the late Prof. "Tom" Kettle, a gallant and brilliant Irishman, if ever there was one. "They were opponents in an election, and when they appeared in a small village it was found that the village green was too small to hold a joint meeting. Therefore they decided to toss coins to decide which would be permitted to take charge."
Healy's Witticisms.
Healy won, and remarked "the kettle has lost its spout." The retort shows evidence of having been machine made, and the probability is that the story is imaginary. At any rate it is worth repeating, for if the witticism was not Healy's it is as good as any that are remembered about him. His retorts, whether worth remembering or not, were always instantaneous, so swift, as an Irishman might say, that the eye could hardly follow them. On one occasion he spoke of an Irish bill as "the offspring of a headache at the Irish office." He improved on this when he characterized another proposal for the governing of Ireland to be "like feeding a dog with a bit of its own tail." Again he said, "Mixed marriages are not an unmixed blessing," whereupon the House of Commons laughed, to that state of profound boredom had it descended. When acting in a divorce case, and the client of the opposition had wept in the witness box he referred to the spectacle as "the greatest miracle that has happened since Moses drew water from the rock." Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, as chief secretary for Ireland, he characterized as an attempt to govern Ireland by Scotch jokes.
No Place for Healy.
Mr. Healy was one of the oldest members of parliament in point of service. A silk hat he wore was almost as old, and was undoubtedly the most distinguished "hat" ever seen within the sacred precincts with the exception of the cap that Kier Hardie used to wear. Despite his unbecomingly in this respect, Mr. Healy is learned in the French and German languages, in ecclesiastical matters, in ornithology, music and art. He is a noted collector of old furniture and Sheffield plate, and can judge a piece of "Waterford" glass with experts. Shorthand is a minor accomplishment, and Mr. Church tells us that most of his correspondence with members of his family is carried by the system associated with the name of Sir Isaac Pittman. The day of Mr. Healy and those like him is over in the British Parliament. They contributed little but laughter and obstruction to the government of the country, and their humor hardly made amends for the seriousness of the obstacles they thrust under the wheels of progress. The surest test of Mr. Healy's unfitness for the new era is found in his own admission that he resigned in order that a convict might take his place.

TEN ST. JOHN MEN IN PARTY GIVEN WELCOME TODAY

Ten St. John boys arrived home this morning from Halifax, where they landed yesterday from the S. S. Canada, which brought them from Liverpool. The names and addresses follow: Spr. W. Brindle, 250 Wentworth street; L. Opl. H. H. Harry of 116 Spar Cove road; Pte. J. Hutcheon, 48 Bridge street; Pte. H. A. Jamison, 117 Acadia street; Pte. C. T. Livingstone, 96 Acadia street; Pte. W. F. McDonald, 66 City street; Pte. F. McInnis, 185 Bridge street; Pte. R. H. Polk, 191 Chesley street; Pte. H. L. Shaw, Mount Pleasant; Pte. H. Shaw, 40 Britain street.
They arrived in the city in a special car attached to the Halifax express. When they left the train they were met by Charles Robinson, secretary of the New Brunswick Soldiers Commission and escorted to the dining room, where Miss Munro, assisted by two other V. A. D. nurses waited on them. In the meanwhile Mr. Barker passed around cigarettes and fruit.
The men all spoke highly of the treatment on the steamer and were evidently impressed and deeply appreciated the welcome extended to them here. Some left after breakfast, for posts west while some remained here to receive tickets, etc., for their destinations.
The transportation of the soldiers, etc., was looked after at the station by Captain Ingleton, who was present on behalf of the Clearing Depot.
Among the outside boys to arrive was Pte. James Kearney of Regina, who came to No. 7 depot to visit relatives near Campbellton. He enlisted with the 9th Bataillon in May 1916, and after going overseas the same year was transferred into the 16th battalion. In July 1918 he was seriously wounded. While he was out on a bombing raid a shell burst close to him and three pieces of shrapnel entered his leg and thigh. He was in hospitals for nearly six months.
Private W. F. MacDonald, son of E. B. MacDonald, of 68 City road, was one who arrived home. He went overseas with the 14th Battalion St. Mary's Band under Bandmaster Williams. The band was in England only a short time when it was transferred to the Princess Patricia's, with which it went to France. The members of the band went into action at several places, including Arras, Avion, Valenciennes and Cambrai. It was at the latter place that Bandmaster Williams was killed and Harry Corps, a St. John man, was wounded. For four days the members of the band carried wounded and rations in and around Cambrai, and Pte. MacDonald had some narrow escapes. After having spent nearly three years in France he took sick on Oct. 15, 1918, and was invalided to England, where he was when the armistice was signed. When he got better he was sent to the Canadian concentration camp at Rhyll, Wales, to await transportation home. He was drafted three times before he received his final transportation. He said it was very disappointing to be drafted and on the morning one expected to leave to be told that the sailing was cancelled indefinitely.
There are about 20,000 Canadian soldiers at the concentration camp awaiting transportation home but, as the conditions seem to be getting better, they will probably come home faster now. The trip from England to Halifax was very pleasant and there were no complaints to make. The delay in England was compensated in Halifax by the short time which it took them to get transportation to their homes. Pte. MacDonald said the system in Halifax was excellent.

MILITARY NOTES.

HE WAS NOT DRINKING.
The Standard on Friday reported that Corp. Sheehan would be court-martialled for drunkenness and injury to property. No charge of drinking was made against this soldier. He was one of the original 20th and is described by his officers as a good soldier. The charge against him related to damage done to a motor car which he had taken out.

BRING GREAT MUSICIANS HERE
Three Important Concerts Yearly for Three Years
F. G. SPENCER'S PLAN
Proposes Guarantee Fund—Willing to Subscribe and do the Necessary Work—Bring This City Back into Musical World Again
St. John, N. B., Feb. 24th, 1919.

To the Editor of the Times:—
Sir:—May I encroach upon your space for the purpose of referring to a matter which I trust may be of some interest. Possibly few hear more complaints than the writer concerning the discrepancy between the past and present localities in respect to opportunities for hearing musical artists of note, which leads me to the conclusion that there is considerable unrest and mental rebellion because of the fact that we in St. John practically nothing to anticipate from year to year but one kind or class of entertainment. Many doubtless cast envious eyes over the amusement columns of newspapers in other cities, envying the opportunities of those who see and hear the individuals who are making musical history.
If this be true, is it absolutely essential that such a condition continue? Are the young men and women growing up in St. John to remain without educational advantages of this kind? Is it impossible again to place St. John on the map as a centre of musical life? It is not difficult to visualize the possibilities of the future if the present decade is allowed to see and hear nothing which might be thought of as at least a whit from the big centres of musical life.
For some time I have had an impression that I might be of some slight assistance in bettering these conditions, and in this connection beg briefly to outline the following proposals:—
I believe we have a sufficient number of business men in St. John who, if the matter were brought forcibly to their attention, would become the nucleus of a guarantee fund sufficiently large to promote and sustain a series of three important concerts yearly for three years, during which time the most prominent singers and musicians in the world might be heard, and with an understanding that there would be no profit, all feeling repaid in the knowledge of having been helpful in presenting these artists at a price which those who have neither the means or privilege of travel, might afford and which would not otherwise be available.
Personally, I would be quite willing to subscribe and do the work gratuitously, and to ascertain quickly whether the above expressed idea is a popular one, it is my intention to spend an entire day in the immediate future calling upon those who might be regarded as most likely to be interested. Obviously, however, it is impossible to talk with all, or to know just who they might be, so it would greatly facilitate matters if interested parties would communicate with me immediately and I will be very pleased indeed to call and discuss the plan in detail.
W. H. Golding has intimated that the Imperial owners have expressed themselves willing to abandon their restrictive policy on the required dates to accommodate a course of musical events such as described, which, however, is only characteristic of this firm's broad-mindedness and whose sacrifices in such matters are not properly understood save by those of us actively engaged in similar undertakings.
During the next few days I will greatly appreciate any phone messages or letters pertaining to the above and incidentally might add that the financial encouragement of the comparatively few is not any more essential to the success of the undertaking than the moral encouragement of the many.
Thanking you for your very valuable space, Mr. Editor, I beg to remain,
Yours very truly,
F. G. SPENCER.

BOY MISSING; NEWS OF HIM IS EAGERLY DESIRED
Three weeks ago a twelve year old boy left his home in the city to go on a visit out of town. He has not arrived at his destination and anxiety is deeply gripping his parents. The boy, while only twelve years old, looks to be fourteen. He was dressed in heavy black coat, with belt and buckle in the front, short dark trousers, black stockings, tan boots, with black rubbers and a heavy grey English cloth cap. The boy was neatly attired and is of attractive appearance and of good manners. Any information of him will be most gratefully received if sent to the Times or Telegraph. Giving of such information would be an act of much kindness to the distressed parents.
