Question too New, Too Much Obscured to be Regarded, Says Mr. Foster.

(Toronto World.) Hon. George E. Foster took little more easily yesterday than for the previous three weeks, and an easy mind contributed to the effective restoration of a weary body.

THE DANGER THAT THREATENS.

The worst part of the business is in minor matters, the matters of great importance. That the government will take the country's vote and license to them to weaken the safeguards on public expenditure by inefficient and formal audit, and a license to go on sapping and undermining the independence of parliament by a vote of censure...

In an interview published in the Herald with Sir Wilfrid Laurier the latter expresses his willingness should the conservatives allow Aylesworth to be elected by acclamation in Gamspe, to even up by consenting to the return of Borden for some conservative constituency also by acclamation. It is quite likely that this will be the result.

MR. FOSTER'S VICTORY.

The election of Mr. Foster in North Toronto was a great tribute to the former minister from his fellow citizens. Not even the leader of the opposition was opposed to a conservative town, but the government had lived most of the opposition majority in two ridings, leaving the liberals a fighting chance in two, and a prospect of winning in one.

There may be the sake of courtesy be further investigation of the Russian torpedoes in the North Sea. But every one knows that there never were any Japanese craft on the European coast. How could they get there without any one seeing them? Where could they get coal and supplies? Where are they now? There is a limit to the length of time that any craft and especially a torpedo boat can remain at sea, and no port in Europe is available to Japan as a base of operations.

The proposition of Col. Sam Hughes to give up his seat for Mr. Borden, provided the electors consent, and the government party allow Mr. Borden and Mr. Aylesworth to be elected by acclamation in Victoria and Gaspe, has two arguments in its favor and one against it.

Port Arthur's day of doom has been long deferred, but it must be near at hand. It must be altogether impossible for relief to reach the city either from the Baltic fleet or Kurohara's Army. One can see no special object in further prolonging the agony.

We have yet to hear the opinions of Colonel Tucker and Col. H. McLean on the St. John election.

How would it do for Mr. Casgrain to oppose Mr. Aylesworth in Gaspe?

THE GLOBE AND MR. O'BRIEN.

It sometimes becomes necessary for the most careful newspaper to make retraction of statements published in good faith. In the news columns on Friday and editorially on Saturday this journal intimated that Mr. O'Brien was taking his defeat with philosophical good humor.

which we print in another column, reflects the temper and spirit of the managing director, this intimation must be withdrawn. For the convenience of the reader we print with the Globe article the observations of the Sun to which it is supposed to refer.

It is one of the advantages of postponing elections in a few constituencies that it affords a chance for a lightning change of candidates to make a place for a defeated minister. It is said that the people of Gaspe, who were to elect Solicitor General Lemieux by acclamation, will be invited to take Mr. Aylesworth instead.

MERE DETAILS.

The Globe charges this journal of the home with demanding a transcontinental railway and then denouncing the government scheme of a transcontinental railway. And suppose this is true. Does the Globe think that every advocate of a railway must support any scheme that any promoter may unload on any government?

The Transcript wants to know whether the Telegraph would have so strenuously opposed the G. T. P. if the government had bought the paper for $120,000. Anybody can answer that question. If the government had bought the Telegraph from Mr. Russell the government would have belonged to the government and would have supported the government policy.

THE ONLY SOLUTION.

One illustration of the value of the liberal gerrymander is found in Grey, where a county with 395 conservative majority elects one conservative and two liberals. The conservative majority was stacked in one riding where Dr. Sproull had a majority of 850.

BORDEN AND AYLESWORTH.

The proposition of Col. Sam Hughes to give up his seat for Mr. Borden, provided the electors consent, and the government party allow Mr. Borden and Mr. Aylesworth to be elected by acclamation in Victoria and Gaspe, has two arguments in its favor and one against it.

The argument against the proposal of Colonel Hughes is that it removes the colonel himself from the house of commons. He is a valuable and interesting member of the house, and his participation is especially desirable in the discussion of militia matters.

SISTERS OF CHARITY RELY ON PE-RU-NA TO FIGHT CATARRH, COUGHS, COLDS, GRIP.

All Over United States Use Pe-ru-na for Catarrh. From a Catholic institution in Ohio comes the following recommendation from the Sister Superior.

"Some years ago a friend of our institution recommended to us Dr. Hartman's Peru-na as an excellent remedy for the influenza which we then had several cases which threatened to be of a serious character.

"Dear Sir: A young girl who used the Peru-na was suffering from laryngitis and loss of voice. The Peru-na was able to say she is entirely cured."

Another recommendation from a Catholic institution in one of the Central States written by the Sister Superior reads as follows: "A number of years ago our attention was called to Dr. Hartman's Peru-na, and since then we have used it with wonderful results for grip, coughs, colds and catarrhal diseases of the head and stomach."

PICKED UP—DO you may have same by and paying charges. Seal Cove, Grand M.

NO ARGUMENT NEEDED

Every Sufferer from Catarrh Knows that Salves, Lotions, Washes, Sprays and Douches do not Cure.

Powders, lotions, salves, sprays and inhalers cannot really cure Catarrh, because this disease is a blood disease, and local applications, if they accomplish anything at all, simply give transient relief.

The catarrhal poison is in the blood and the mucous membrane of the nose, throat and trachea tries to relieve the system by secreting large quantities of mucus, the discharge sometimes closing up the nostrils, dropping into the throat, causing deafness by closing the Eustachian tubes, and after a time causing catarrh of stomach or serious throat and lung troubles.

A remedy to really cure catarrh must be an internal remedy which will cleanse the blood from catarrhal poison and remove the fever and congestion from the mucous membrane.

The best and most modern remedies for this purpose are antiseptics scientifically known as Red Gum, Blood Root and Hydrastin, and while each of these have been successfully used separately, yet it has been difficult to get them all combined in one palatable, convenient and efficient form.

The manufacturers of the new catarrh cure, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, have succeeded admirably in accomplishing this result. They are large, pleasant tasting lozenges, to be dissolved in the mouth, and reaching every part of the mucous membrane of the throat and finally the stomach.

Unlike many catarrh remedies, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets contain no cocaine, opiate or any injurious drug whatever and are equally beneficial for little children and adults.

Mr. C. R. Rembrandt of Rochester, N. Y., says: "I know of few people who have suffered as much as I from Catarrh of the head, throat and stomach. I used sprays, inhalers, and powders for months at a time with only slight relief and had no hope of cure. I had the means to make a change of climate, which seemed my only chance of cure.

"Last spring I read an account of some remarkable cures made by Stuart's Catarrh Tablets and promptly bought a fifty cent box from my druggist and obtained such positive benefit from that one package that I considered myself entirely free from the disgusting annoyance of catarrh; my head is clear, my digestion all I could ask and my hearing which had begun to fail as a result of the catarrh, has greatly improved until I feel I can hear as well as ever. They are a household necessity in my family."

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are sold by druggists at 50 cents for each bottle and for convenience and safety and prompt results they are undoubtedly the long looked for catarrh cure.

PORTLAND BUILT WITH JOY OVER THE G. T. P. VICTORY.

The Forest City People Are Burning Red Fire, Waving Their Hats, and Cheering for the Railroad Which Controls a Government.

BOSTON, Nov. 6.—The victory won by New England in the Canadian election is still a surprise for congratulation in the opinion of the newspapers. In their view the future of Portland is now assured—at the expense of course of Canadian taxpayers and Canadian ports. Portland appears to be reveling in a grand delirium of delight, now that it can freely express itself without furnishing campaign material for the Canadian party across the line.

A special despatch from Portland to the Boston American says: "The railroad is going to be a great thing for this city. Portland will have to be the eastern terminal by reason of its geographical location and superior natural advantages. There should be no rivalry between the two peoples, as they have too much in common.

"When the proposed Canadian road is completed it is going to help business in Portland materially. More products from the west will come here for shipment to European ports, which means more work for our people. It will also assist in increasing our population. There is no question in my mind that this city will be the terminal for the proposed railroad."

Charles M. Forbes, president of the Portland board of trade, observes: "The victory of the liberal party in Canada will make Portland the greatest outlet city of its kind in the country and one of the greatest export points in the country.

"Forty years ago Gen. George F. Shepley, who went out in command of a Maine regiment during the civil war, prophesied at that time that some day the Grand Trunk railway would extend its line to the Pacific coast and would compete with the Canadian Pacific in opening up western Canada, developing wheat fields, the product of which would be, for the most part, exported.

"Since that time the Grand Trunk has been acquiring land on the south side of Portland harbor and has been building docks and elevators in preparation for just this thing that has happened. Under the circumstances, the natural outlet of Canada.

"While commerce usually follows a river's course under ordinary circumstances, this is not ordinary, and Montreal loses the major part of the export business, or rather, fails to secure it because the great freight steamers, being built larger and larger each year, are unable to reach the narrow and dangerous places in the St. Lawrence river in the eight months it is open to navigation. The rest of the time the river is locked up by ice.

"The course of trade from Canada takes naturally the nearest port, which is Portland, and although in part Canadian products sent down by the Grand Trunk have been shipped by way of Boston and New York over the Vermont Canal, when fully justified, the products will naturally go direct to the nearest port—this city.

"Although Portland is prosperous, and her business has been steadily increasing, this railroad will cause the city to grow in importance, population and commerce with all the rapidity of a western boom town, and with the additional improvement that it will be permanent and will always continue."

The Biddeford, Me., Journal says: "In view of the result of the Canadian election, Thursday, Portland would seem to be fully justified in burning a little red fire and putting a little more carmine in the municipal paint. The Journal congratulates Portland, and it may not be out of bounds to say that our loyal and patriotic friends are also entitled to congratulations."

The Portland Advertiser says: "The success of the liberal party in the Canadian election certainly means much to Portland, as it does also, of course, to the Grand Trunk's eastern outlets generally. While the excited condition of our Canadian friends led them to see Portland in the light of a terrifying bugaboo—the cow fed in the provinces and milked in Maine, we very well understand that what we naturally earn from the outcome of the fight is simply our share of the general benefit.

"The liberal victory means that the Grand Trunk Pacific will be built—within a few years some rich territory will be opened up in southern central Canada, from Ottawa to Puget sound, and that there will be a large increase in volume of wheat traffic from those new farmlands to the Atlantic seaboard. Portland, being splendidly equipped for the handling of such traffic will logically become one of the beneficiaries of the new business, and we may reasonably expect that the business of this port will feel the increase in some practical way. The whole Canadian incident is of deep interest to the city, in that to some degree it contributes to the growth and the welfare of the community."

The Boston Advertiser, annexationist advocate, says: "Laurier stands more than for anything else in American politics, for the idea of breaking away from Great Britain and getting into more friendly relations with the United States. He it was who got the joint high com-

Gibson Refused to Shake Hands With Crocket.

A Rather Unpleasant Incident at York Declaration Proceedings—Mrs. G. J. Cotter Dead.

FREDERICTON, Nov. 7.—Declaration proceedings passed off quietly today. The official returns showed a majority for Mr. Crocket, the conservative candidate, of 182, the total vote being: Crocket, 3,098; Gibson, 2,934. It was nearly the largest, if not the largest, vote ever polled in the county of York in a federal election. Mr. Crocket carried every parish in the county but one, Kingsclear, and in this latter he reduced the majority of 80 or 90 to 45. Mr. Gibson had a majority of 102 in Fredericton and 215 in Marysville, which kept him from being swamped.

Both Mr. Crocket and Mr. Gibson addressed the electors after the sheriff had announced the due election of the former.

Mr. Crocket made a most neat and suitable speech in thanking the people for the support given him in the contest. He had carried on the fairest of campaigns, and he challenged any man to show a single instance in any of his speeches where he had not treated his opponent openly and honorably. There had been no appeals made to any race or religious prejudices, as had been insinuated, and he said that anyone who charged such uttered the basest of falsehoods. He had won this victory on account of the grand work done by the conservative party in York and on account of the independent electors placing good party and good government before prejudices.

Mr. Gibson spoke briefly. He thanked those who had voted for him, and he would accept the verdict, though he thought York had made a mistake.

At the conclusion of the speeches Mr. Crocket stepped forward and held out his hand. Mr. Gibson said, "I won't shake hands with you; I don't want to have anything to do with you," and other remarks.

The incident was not a very pleasing one even to the most ardent liberals, and no matter how strongly Mr. Gibson might have felt personally, the refusal to shake hands was not considered the wisest move.

The Gleaner the leading organ of the liberal party in York, in discussing the election in this constituency, says tonight editorially: "Leading liberals gracefully yield to Mr. Crocket the honors which he has won. And now that the battle is over they willingly admit that no other candidate in York was ever before forced to face such powerful combinations of influences as Mr. Crocket met and defeated on Thursday last. For the first time in the history of political struggle in this county the work in every mill and factory in Marysville was suspended, that every voter might be at the poll. The intercolonial was placed at the disposal of the party under special arrangement. Every mill in the city of Fredericton, whose owners or managers had signed Mr. Gibson's nomination paper, was closed for the first time on such an occasion, and the influence was used on the employes wherever it could be used. The pressure, whatever it amounted to, of the managers of other factories in town was also brought into service for Mr. Gibson. Special personal appeals were made, and the whole power of federal patronage was exerted to the fullest—all legitimate enough, it is true, in party warfare. While the necessity for the use of all this pressure and influence to the extreme is an open admission that the liberals were conscious of the fact from the beginning that they were into a contest with a candidate who would give them the battle of their lives, it speaks for their foresight and their party fealty that they left no stone unturned, no wire unspooled and no other influence undeployed that could possibly be brought to bear to defeat their opponent."

Mrs. Cotter, wife of Hon. Geo. J. Colter, died at her residence at the Mouth of the Keswick last evening, after a lingering illness. Mrs. Colter, who was a highly esteemed and much beloved lady, was in her 57th year at the time of her death. She was a daughter of Leonard Shipp of Lower Woodstock, and leaves surviving, besides a sorrowing husband, two sons, father and four brothers.

Additional Returns From the West—Mr. Borden's Defeat Causes Universal Regret—Jubilation in York County.

MONTRÉAL, Nov. 4.—When the returns are all in it is not likely that the liberals' majority in the new house will be above ten larger than in the last. The present standing is: Liberals, 135; conservatives, 72, and elections to be held 17.

Arrangements Being Made for the Seating of Members in the House of Commons --Warning to Fruit Packers.

OTTAWA, Nov. 6.—Lt. Col. Smith, sergeant at arms, is in the city and will spend a week or ten days in the capital. He has already commenced the work by meeting the members of the next house. The sergeant prepares the first draft according to a well established precedent, and then it goes before the leaders of his own supporters, and the leader of the opposition in like manner deciding the order of the seating of his followers.

Due to the great preponderance of liberals in the commons a large colony of ministerial supporters will have to be accommodated with seats to the left of Mr. Speaker.
