M. McLEOD, BUSINESS MANAGER.

live and vessels are scarce at advanced rates. We quote retail sales at $7.50 a bushel, and charge prices are nominally $5.25 a bushel. Scow's Circular gives the following warning to speculative dealers:

Of one thing the trade can hardly be too careful, and that is the advancing of prices above a fair rate; that will stop the demand and throw business into confusion. We have now a good trade, and there is no objection to take coal at the present rates; but if any clique of speculators obtain the mastery and run the price of coal up too high, it will but recall, and bring ruin to the business, at the very time least desirable.

We see no reason, after a careful study of the trade journals, why any considerable advance should be made in hard coal during the season of navigation. Any such advance will be merely speculative, and the results of the last coal corner were not so satisfactory to the operators as to make another one probable before winter has closed up a great many of the avenues of supply.

Sunday Liquor Selling.

The enforcement of the Sunday liquor law has been found difficult in St. John, where no legal or other resistance has been attempted, and the police deserve credit for the partial success that has attended their efforts. Evident vigilance is the only remedy. The desire to oblige customers and make a profit never sleep, and the police must be allowed to sleep.

There were on Sunday, at Turner's Hall, a strict watch over saloons, and the prompt arrest of intoxicated persons, will render our streets respectable. Sunday liquor seems to have a more demoralizing effect than any other, half the murders and assaults in some cities occurring on Sunday.

This fact, so much more than any other, has led to a determined effort to close the Chicago liquor saloons. The attempt has been crossing much excitement for the last two weeks. A dispatch from Chicago, dated yesterday, the 20th, says:

"The question of enforcing the Sunday law in Chicago is a subject which is now among both the friends and opponents of the law. Last evening there was a large meeting of Germans at 1234 State St., Turner's Hall, and resolutions were passed concerning the law as a relic of Puritanism and an infringement upon the Constitutional rights of citizens, declaring that they would oppose it, and use all means to secure its repeal, and questioning Mayor to support the enforcement of the law until organization of the common council and pledging themselves to execute the law at all hazards. At a meeting in the north division preliminary steps were taken to organize a committee for members of the legislature in the field."

As fast as arriving, they are cared for by the New York Society of Alsacians of Loraine, organized for that purpose. A hundred families are soon to settle near Alexandria, Va. (late of the Yarmouth Seminary), has been offered and has accepted the position of Principal of the Yarmouth High School, in Fredericton, the place having been vacated by the appointment of Mr. Foster to the Classical Chair in the University of New Brunswick.

An old Scotch lady had an evening party where there was a young man present who was to leave for an appointment in China. The Newfoundland mails contain little of interest. A few months ago, several men were captured in Boscawen by the people of Barrow harbor. Mining and lumbering speculations cause considerable activity just now, but the coal fisheries will not establish a case of the Queen's v. The potato blight has been very destructive, and coal is very high; so that the fishermen and millers suffer great privations in the coming winter.

At Hamilton, Ont., the other day, the 270 got heads "A. M. Y.," Martin came up at the Amizem. Martin was charged with stabbing one Batty, at the Beach, on the second of June last. Batty received a severe cut, and was surrounded by quite a number of the time, nevertheless "none of them saw the blow or would swear to it. The learned judge said it was a most extraordinary kind of eye-sight the people of Hamilton had, for he remembered, also, at least in this case of the Queen's v. McGrover, for stabbing Fred. Lucas, while Lucas was badly cut in the thigh and arm, and a crowd was standing around, no one saw anything of it. Thus it was, too, in the case of the Queen's v. Michael (Janey), for stabbing McKenna, no one saw the blow. His Lordship thought all this extraordinary.

The Union School, of Westfield, Chautauque county, N. Y., has had a very naughty professor of music and modern languages. A few months ago he secured a divorce from his wife on the ground that she had been guilty of adulterous practices with Rev. Dr. Thompson, of Jamestown, the latter testifying to the truth of the charge in Court. Before the decree was granted, however, Ainsworth eloped with one of his pupils, a very respectable young lady. His latest exploit was to desert his wife and hire a lively horse and buggy, and take the road to Orleans and sold the horse to a man who took it to Westfield, where he was taken up by a Westfield jeweller, which he took with him. On a subsequent occasion he was arrested for forgery and lodged in jail, and on being released on bail he hired a horse and rode away, selling the animal to pay his expenses of the journey.

There will be service in the Pitt Street Baptist Church to-morrow at 3 p. m. Seats free.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred. Hanford fell into a large excavation in front of the Pitt Street Baptist Church last evening and were considerably bruised. The excavation had no light to warn nor barrier to prevent danger, and it is only a wonder the parties were not more seriously injured.

A Handsome Wealth.

A very beautiful autumn wreath of wax flowers was presented to the window of Messrs. McMillan's bookstore. It was made by a young lady of St. George, and is so close an imitation of real leaves as to almost defy detection.

To Transient Advertisers.

The large and steadily increasing circulation of the Daily Tribune warrants us in recommending its use to our transient advertisers generally, as a first class advertising medium. In order to secure as large an advertising patronage as we believe the Tribune deserves, we are induced to offer specially advantageous terms for transient advertising, for terms of one or two months, with or without weekly changes.

A Profanely Registered Letter.

Mr. W. A. Moore to day received a letter from Boston, with the following inscription upon it:

"A duplicate of this letter containing some stolen by some damned Post Office thief! This contains but one dollar. May a four year old boy build a nest in the log of the one that would steal it." The wishes of the writer were respected by the postman, and the dollar came safely to hand.

A Missing Man.

Mr. Alfred E. Allan residing at No. 10 Dorchester street left his home between three and four o'clock on Tuesday afternoon and has not been seen since by his friends. He was aged 35, height 5 feet 10 inches, dark hair, black whiskers, pale complexion, had a quick active step, dressed in a black suit of clothes, round felt hat. Any information respecting his whereabouts will be gladly received by his family.

The Prize Ring in St. John.

A disgraceful fight occurred on Thursday, at the Pryor Range, a mile and a half from the city. Two young men, whose names we did not learn, for the sum of $10 a side, "pummelled" each other for one hour and fifteen minutes. At the one place that time ago was committed, this fight was conducted on the real Prize Ring principles.

The "Lizzie" Fanned.

It is stated that a letter received here by some of the family of Capt. Mahoney of the "Lizzie" Fanned, and dated at Guampae Islands, Sep. 23, gives a different explanation of the death of the captain's wife and child. It is written with evident emotion and states that Mrs. Mahoney died on the 21st day of August. She was laboring under a temporary aberration of the mind, and in one period of insanity killed her child and committed suicide. The captain's mind was so affected that he was required to bring the remains home with him.

A New Volume of Church Music.

A lady is canvassing in this city for subscription to a volume of hymns and chants composed by the late Rev. John Black. The compilation of the volume is nearly completed, and Messrs. Peter Ross are now negotiating with printers. The lady has met with a hearty reception, especially among the Episcopians. One well acquainted with the Rev. Dr. Black's musical compositions, says: "From the congregational nature of the music I judge that the book will become popular. It combines in a rich and beautiful harmony the feelings of joy, pathos and grandeur."

Harry Talbot's Band.

The appreciation in which Harry Talbot is held by the admirers of music and mirth was well shown by the fine audience present at the Opera House on the occasion of his farewell benefit last evening. The programme was up to the mark in every respect, and was well received by the audience. Harry Talbot was in his element and did his best to show he was not unmindful of the favor bestowed, while Mr. McAvoy was as usual perfectly at home. Mr. T. Clifford of St. John gave some gymnastic exhibitions of good effect, and the local star, Mr. Hugh Campbell, was the recipient of good applause. To-night will be the last of the season, and the company should have a bumper house.

A Park wanted in St. Stephen.

Our Border correspondent thinks an interesting town like St. Stephen certainly ought to have a Park. St. Stephen is in the second town in New Brunswick, in size, population and everything else. A good place to have a Park would be about a mile from the town, on the road to D. Main, P. E. Now is the time to secure this ground, when it can be bought cheaply.

No More for Gargates.

The present scarcity of horse flesh, owing to the epidemic which is travelling through the stable, public and private of our city, is causing many of those who have horses to be hauled to the farm and sold at a low price for their services. Large numbers of our merchants, who have goods discharging from vessels and steamers, could not procure carriage at any figure, and as a natural consequence, are at a stand still, some vessels being caused discharging.

Magazines Received.

Mr. W. K. Crawford, 88 King street, has received, Harper and other November Magazines.

The Horse Epidemic.

Many of the horses afflicted with disease in the stable about the city are slowly recovering from their ailment, and it is not thought the disease will assume a more serious aspect than it has yet had.

Professor Stone at the Institute.

Prof. Stone gave his second biological session in the Institute last evening to a good audience, and showed to good effect his power and skill in the science of which he is so enthusiastic a disciple. The prizes were distributed to the highest, a $50 gold piece, was won by Mr. Wm. Farrel, of Portland. The last session will be given this evening.

Officers of Victoria Temple of Honor.

At the regular meeting of Victoria Social Temple of Honor, at their hall, Princess street, last evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing term: Wm. T. B. R.; Bro. H. Jordan, B. V. T.; Bro. J. March, B. U.; Bro. L. Gallagher, B. R.; Bro. T. D. Denham, B. R.; Bro. S. J. Perkins, S. T.; Bro. G. K. B. R.; Bro. S. Leake, S. G.; Bro. J. Daley, B. S.

Daring Burglary.

Sometimes between one and two o'clock this morning the door of Mr. John McManus, on Peter wharf, was entered by some parties unknown and a silver watch, about $3 in value and some bottles of case liquor carried away. The burglars, who, from some indications, must be young persons, effected an entrance by cutting the pane of the large pane of glass which are under the shop window and light the cellar. Gaining the cellar they found a stairway leading to the premises above. The door being opened and entered the stairs of the first flat. The lock of this was forced and from this they proceeded through the hall to the dining room, which is immediately in the rear of the shop. The door between the two was fastened, but the burglars managed a dresser and out out two panes of a fastened window looking from one room to the other, and by this means were enabled to get the window open and enter the shop. They then unlocked the front door of the shop and made their escape, taking the key with them. The robbery was discovered at five o'clock, when the police were called. It would appear that the glass was cut with one of the steel cutters which have recently been hawked about the city, and this appears to have been the only tool used. In one place where the mark was cut the wood shows the mark of a very dull knife, such as a boy would carry. The family of Mr. McManus live on the premises, and some of them sleep on the same flat where the shop is, but so quietly was the work done that none of the family were disturbed. Mrs. McManus was up at one o'clock, and happened to look out of the window saw a boy running on the opposite side of the street, but of course thought nothing of the circumstance. Judging from some of the circumstances of the police, it does not seem a difficult matter to find the perpetrators of the burglary and bring them to account.

The Death at the Public Hospital.

Yesterday afternoon the Coroner concluded the inquest on the body of Robert Penney who met his death by jumping from a window in the third story of the Public Hospital to the ground as stated in yesterday's Tribune. Three witnesses were examined. The first was Rebecca McCully who was the nurse in charge of the patient at the time of his death. She stated that she had been in the institution and re-engaged on Monday last, at which time she took charge of Penney. She stated the man had been crazy at the time she took charge of him. In times, being sleepless and restless. He twisted sheets had been passed under the bed and brought up and tied over his waist and legs. He talked much incoherently on Wednesday night and was much worse than before. At some time after ten his wrists were tied down by the man-urser. The doctor made his last call at half past eleven, leaving nurse McCully at her own desire in charge. After this the patient grew much worse and at length in his craziness he jumped from the window, and was already stated, he ran down stairs for help and during her absence the occurrence took place.

Mrs. Higgins, the matron, corroborated the previous evidence in regard to the condition of Penney, and further stated that nurse McCully was one in whom every confidence was reposed.

Dr. Bartesque, the resident physician, testified as to the delirium of the patient, in mania is not unusual. In answer to a question by the foreman of the jury he stated his belief that had the grating of the window extended all the way up the accident would not have taken place. He further stated that one male and two female nurses are employed in the Hospital, and that any further assistance must be had from convalescents. In this way a large number of our patients have been attended during the year. Nurse McCully was, he said, as able as a man nurse, and no male nurse could have restrained Penney while suffering from acute mania.

The evidence did not appear to cast any blame upon those connected with the Hospital, but it was plain that a general feeling of regret was entertained that greater care should not have been taken by the Commissioners in having the window properly secured. This feeling was manifested when the jury, after bringing in a verdict in accordance with the facts, added the recommendation that the windows of the wards used for patients suffering from disease attended with delirium, etc., be grated to their full extent.
