The REFUGEES

By A. CONAN DOYLE,
Author of "The Return of Sherlock Holmes"

"Ah, sire, I would that you could see that great land. It is so vast, sire, so rich, so beautiful! Where are there such hills, such forests, such rivers? And it is all for us if we will but take it. Who is there to stand in our way? A few nations of scattered Indians and a thin strip of English farmers and fishermen. Turn your thoughts there, sire, and in a few years you would be able to stand upon your citadel at Quebec and to say there is one great empire here from the snows of the north to the warm southern gulf and from the waves of the ocean to the great plains beyond Marquette's river, and the name of this empire is France, and her king is Louis, and her flag is the fleur-de-lis."

"On my word, count," said the king, "you have caught something of this gift of Indian eloquence of which we have heard. But about these English folk. They are Huguenots, are they not?"

"For the most part, especially in the north."

"Then it might be a service to the holy church to send them packing. Tell me now, Frontenac, what force would you need to clear these people out of one regiment, two regiments and perhaps a frigate or two?"

But the ex-governor shook his grizzled head. "You do not know them, sire," said he. "They are a stern folk, these. We in Canada, with all our gracious help, have found it hard to hold our own. To put New England into your majesty's hands I would ask 15,000 of your best troops and twenty ships of the line."

Long-sufferingly from his chair and caught up his cane. "The matter may stand until our council. Reverend father, it has struck the hour of chapel, and all else may wait until we have paid our duties to heaven."

CHAPTER III.

WHILE Louis had been affording his court that which he had opened up to be the highest of human pleasures, the sight of the royal face, the young officer of the guard outside had been very busy passing on the titles of the numerous applicants for admission and exchanging usually a smile or a few words of greeting with them, for his frank, handsome face was a well known one at the court. Three years ago he had been an unknown subaltern bush fighting with Algonquins and Iroquois in the wilds of Canada. An exchange had brought him back to France and into the regiment of Picardy, but the lucky chance of having seized the bride of the king's horse one winter's day in Fontainebleau when the creature was plunging within a few yards of a deep gravel pit had done for him what ten campaigns might have failed to accomplish.

A gentleman very richly dressed in black and silver advanced, as the door opened, with the assured air of a man whose rights are beyond dispute. Captain de Catinot, however, took a quick step forward, and barred him off from the door.

"I am very sorry, M. de Vivonne," said he, "but you are forbidden the presence."

"Forbidden the presence! I? You are mad!" He stepped back with gray face and staring eyes, one shaking hand half raised in protest.

"I assure you that it is his order."

"If I could have one word with the king."

"Unfortunately, monsieur, it is impossible."

The angry nobleman stamped his foot and stared at the door as though he had some thoughts of forcing a passage. Then, turning on his heel, he hastened away down the corridor with the air of a man who has come to a decision.

"There, now," grumbled De Catinot to himself, as he pulled his thick dark mustache, "he is off to make some fresh mischief. I'll have his sister here presently, as like as not, and a pleasant little choice between breaking my orders and making an enemy of her for life. By my faith, here is a lady, as I feared. Ah, heaven be praised, it is a friend and not a foe. Good morning, Mlle. Nanon."

"Good morning, Captain de Catinot."

The newcomer was a tall, graceful brunette, her fresh face and sparkling black eyes the brighter in contrast with her plain dress.

"A note from Mme. de Maintenon"

A Hair Dressing

Nearly every one likes a fine hair dressing. Something to make the hair more manageable; to keep it from being too rough, or from splitting at the ends. Something, too, that will feed the hair at the same time, a regular hair-food. Well-fed hair will be strong, and will remain where it belongs—on the head, not on the comb!

to the king. You will hand it to him, will you not?"

"Certainly, mademoiselle. And how is madame?"

"Oh, her director has been with her all the morning, and his talk is very, very good, but it is also very sad. We are not very cheerful when M. Gode has been to see us. But I forget, monsieur is a Huguenot and knows nothing of directors."

"Oh, but I do not trouble about such differences."

"Ah, if monsieur could talk to Mme. de Maintenon a little! She would convert him."

"I would rather talk to Mlle. Nanon, but—"

"Oh!" There was an exclamation, a whisk of dark skirts, and the subreptitious disappeared down a side passage.

Along the broad lighted corridor was gliding a very stately and beautiful lady, tall, graceful and exceedingly haughty. The lady was past her first youth, it is true, but the magnificent curves of her queenly figure, the purity of her complexion, the brightness of her deep lashed eyes and the clear regularity of her features enabled her still to claim to be the most handsome woman in the court of France.

"Ah, it is Captain de Catinot!" said Mme. de Montespan, with a smile.

"Your humble servant, madame."

"I am fortunate in finding a friend here, for there has been some ridiculous mistake this morning."

"I am concerned to hear it."

"It was about my brother, M. de Vivonne. It is almost too laughable to mention, but he was actually refused admission to the levee."

"It was my misfortune to have to refuse him, madame."

"You, Captain de Catinot? And by what right?" She had drawn up her superb figure, and her large blue eyes were blazing with indignant astonishment.

"The king's order, madame."

"The king! Is it likely that the king would cast a public slight upon my family? From whom had you this preposterous order?"

"Direct from the king through Bonfons."

"Absurd! Do you think that the king would cast a public slight upon my family? From whom had you this preposterous order?"

knot of Switzers, whose sergeant had drawn them off a few paces and who stood open eyed, staring at the scene. "I tell you that I will see the king." "You will ruin me if you pass." "And none the less I shall do so." The matter looked serious. De Catinot was a man of resource, but for once he was at his wit's end. Mme. de Montespan's resolution, as it was called in her presence, or, if contrary, as it was termed behind her back, was proverbial. If she attempted to force her way, would be venture to use violence upon one who only yesterday held the fortunes of the whole court in the hollow of her hand and who, with her beauty, her wit and her energy, might very well be in the same position tomorrow? If she passed him, then his future was ruined with the king, who never brooked the smallest deviation from his orders.

"If madame would deign to wait," said he soothingly, "the king will be on his way to the chapel in an instant." "It is not yet time."

"I think the hour has just gone."

"And why should I wait like a lackey?"

"It is but a moment, madame."

"No, I shall not wait." She took a step forward toward the door.

But the guardsman's quick ear had caught the sound of moving feet from within, and he knew that he was master of the situation. "I will take madame's message," said he.

"Ah, you have recovered your senses! Go, tell the king that I wish to speak with him."

He must gain a little time yet. "Shall I say it through the lord in waiting?"

"No, yourself."

"Publicly?"

"No, no; for his private ear."

NATURE AND A WOMAN'S WORK

LYDIA E. PINKHAM

Nature and a woman's work combined have produced the grandest remedy for woman's ills that the world has ever known.

In the good old-fashioned days of our grandmothers they relied upon the roots and herbs of the field to cure disease and mitigate suffering.

The Indians on our Western Plains to-day can produce roots and herbs for every ailment, and cure diseases that baffle the most skilled physicians who have spent years in the study of drugs.

From the roots and herbs of the field Lydia E. Pinkham more than thirty years ago gave to the women of the world a remedy for their peculiar ills, more potent and efficacious than any combination of drugs.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is now recognized as the standard remedy for woman's ills.

Mrs. J. M. Tweedale, 12 Napanee Street, Toronto, Canada, writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I was a great sufferer from female troubles, had those dreadful bearing down pains, and during my monthly periods I suffered so I had to go to bed. I doctored for a long time but the doctor's treatment failed to help me. My husband saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised and got a bottle for me. I commenced its use and soon felt better. I kept on taking it until I was well and an entirely different woman. I also found that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made childbirth much easier for me. I would recommend your Vegetable Compound to every woman who is afflicted with female troubles."

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Tweedale, it will do for other suffering women.

TOBIQUE

(Special News Service.)

TOBIQUE, Wednesday.—We had a very heavy rainstorm last Sunday, which was the heaviest of the season. Farmers are thankful for it, as the ground was rather dry.

Miss Agnes Lagassay of Green Point is visiting friends at Seven Mile Ridge. Mr. Jos. Bartholot and family of Balmoral have removed here last Saturday, and are making improvements on their new residence.

Mr. George St. Onge of Campbellton was here on business last Friday.

We regret to hear that our school teacher, Miss Annie Porter, has resigned her position, and will be leaving on the 26th of June.

Mr. Peter Savoy of Dalhousie drove here last Sunday.

Mr. Joseph Tardie, Jr., and Mr. Simon Dittie of Balmoral paid us a flying visit last Saturday.

A young man of this place, by the name of Eugene Theriault reported having had a narrow escape while coming from the drives of the port Logan last week. He was met on the road by a big moose who pretended to play with him, but the young man soon saw that the game the animal was playing was getting hard on the nerves and therefore made for an axe which he chanced to see by the roadside. With his weapon he succeeded to defend himself although the game lasted for about an hour. Neither the man nor the animal were wounded, though, and Mr. Theriault could only save the hide and heart of the moose. The animal ran off at full speed, so he did not dare to kill him. That's what he should have done, for he was at his self defence, but he was afraid of the law. He knew the law was harder on a poor man, who kills a moose than on a gentleman.

CONTRACTORS READY TO COMMENCE WORK ON EEL RIVER BAR BRIDGE

Large Number of Applicants for the Position of Inspector of Masonry--Getting Inch Arran Ready for Business.

PATRIOTIC CONCERT SUCCESS

DALHOUSIE, Thursday. — Messrs. J. Coleman of Campbellton, John C. McLean and James McPherson, contractors for the substructure of the Eel River bridge were in town yesterday. They are about ready to begin work. Over 500 barrels of cement have been purchased and there is a large quantity of other material on the spot. Mr. A. R. Watson, returned home after spending a month with their friends in Toronto. Both have enjoyed their visit and are very much improved in health. Mr. John Hamilton of New Carlisle replaced Mr. Haddow in the Custom House during his absence.

Mayor W. S. Montgomery returned home on Tuesday from England. He was for one month absent. Asked as to whether his trip had any public significance his worship said no. He was across representing old friends of their family who had stock in vessels.

Mr. Beresford of Ottawa has arrived here to look after the interests of Mr. Charleston, the contractor of the bridge. Rev. I. Bate, pastor of St. Mary's Episcopal Church, left on Sunday morning with his son, Alban, for a three-months' trip to England to visit his friends. Before leaving several members of his congregation presented him with a well filled purse and wished him a happy journey and a speedy return.

The patriotic concert given by the pupils of the public school last week was a great success. The Morris hall was crowded to the door. The quartette by Mrs. Potts and Messrs. Trueman, Storer and Lennox, and the duet by Mrs. Potts and Mr. Storer were very much enjoyed. One draw back to the concert was the noise made by the boys. This is nothing new in the shiretown and in future the policeman must attend all public functions and see that perfect order is kept.

Very much sympathy is felt for Mr. and Mrs. McKean of St. Omer on account of the death of their little twin daughter, Mary, who died on Saturday after a brief illness. The remains of the little one were brought here on Monday evening and placed in St. Mary's Episcopal church for the night. The funeral took place from the church on Tuesday morning. The service was conducted by Rev. E. E. de la Roche.

AN ASSASSIN WAS AFTER DREYFUS

PARIS, Thursday. — At the conclusion of the ceremony this morning in connection with the placing of the body of M. Emile Zola in the Pantheon on and while the procession was emerging from the Portico to witness a defile of the troops a member of the Staff of the French Militaire, who gave his name as Gregoire fired two shots point blank at Major Alfred Dreyfus. The latter, however, was not hurt.

ANOTHER FINE ATTRACTION HERE

H. Wilnot Young's Company Drew Crowded House and Pleased All Last Evening.

EXTRA GOOD SPECIALTIES

The Opera House was well filled last evening when H. Wilnot Young's company appeared in "Thorns and Orange Blossoms." The play is Mr. Young's dramatization of Bertha M. Clay's novel and brought out the strength of the company in the style. The company is one of the best that has ever visited this town. Miss Marjorie Adams captured the audience in her rendition of the part of Lady Violet Rivers. Her acting is true to life and unaffected and she was frequently applauded.

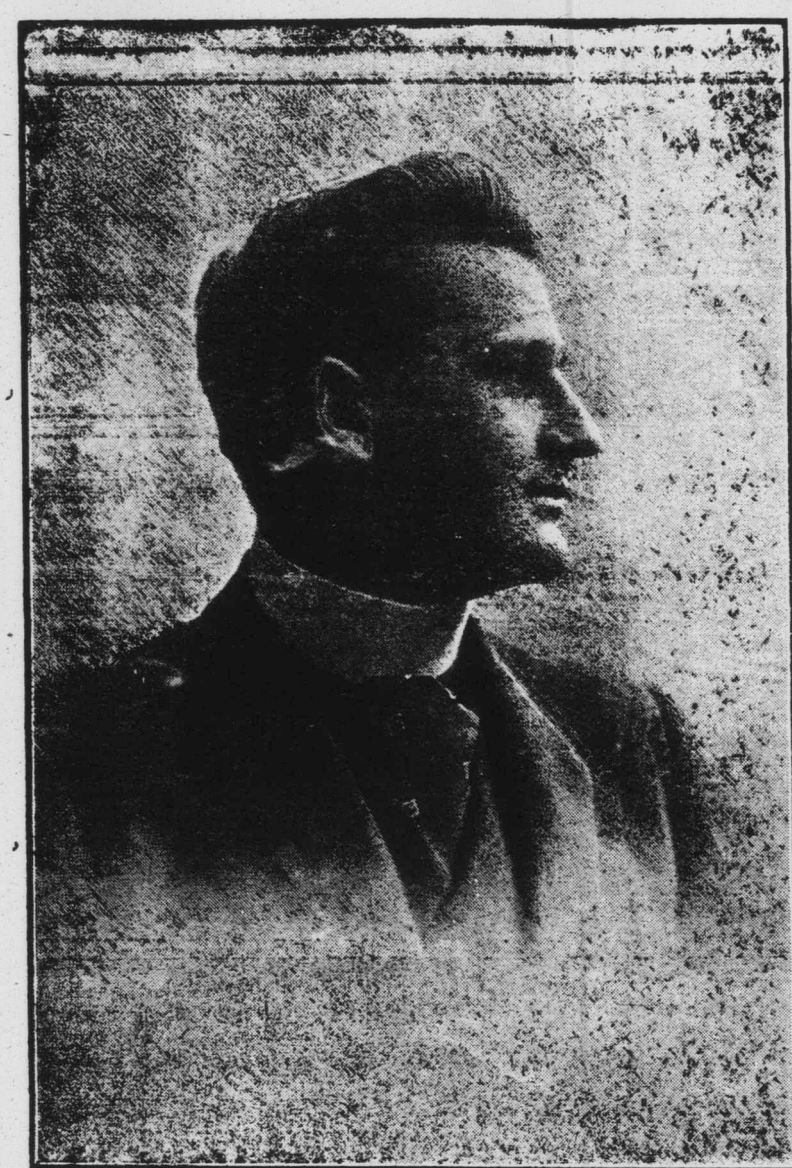

Mr. Young as Lord Randolph Rivers was all that could be desired in the part and made a good impression. In the last act Mr. Young's little girl, 4 years of age, appeared in the part of Randolph, Jr., and spoke her lines in clear, distinct tones that brought down the house. She is perhaps the youngest actress on the stage. She will probably be seen to greater advantage in the matinee performance Saturday afternoon.

The other members of the company acquitted themselves in a creditable manner, in fact there was not an interesting part in the whole performance. The specialties between the acts were of a high order and provoked much laughter and applause.

To-night "The Wages of Sin," a strong melo-drama without the usual "blood and thunder" scenes will be put on and will certainly draw a bumper house.

ARE YOU A DYSPETIC? Nine people out of ten suffer from dyspepsia and don't know it. Half the pale cheeks, poor appetite and sleepless nights are the direct result of dyspepsia. The cause lies in the failure of the stomach and kidneys are clogged, and unable to do their work. Nothing puts vigor into those organs as fast as Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They tone up the whole digestive system, regulate and strengthen the stomach, absolutely cure dyspepsia. Simple to take and sure to cure—better try Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

BREEZY BUDGET FROM BATHURST

Another Good Attraction Billed for the Opera House Next Week.

SOCIAL & PERSONAL

(Special News Service.) BATHURST, Thursday. — The Jerome McCallie Stock Company left this morning for Richibucto where they will open a three nights' engagement. The weather seems very unsettled of late and it is hardly safe to cross the street without your umbrella to keep you dry coming back.

E. W. Seeley, Moncton, is in town a large steamer is expected in a day or two to load lumber for Messrs. Adams, Burns and Sumner Company. Archie Alexander was arrested on Water street last evening for creating a disturbance.

"Thorns and Orange Blossoms" as presented by the H. Wilnot Young Stock Company, is one of the season's pronounced successes. The leading players, Marjorie Adams as Lady Violet Rivers, and Wilnot Young as Lord Randolph, have met with enthusiastic success, while Baby Marguerite, the four-year-old actress, plays a prominent part.

This will be the bill to usher in the engagement of the Young Stock Co. at the Opera House here on Monday evening, June 8th. The bill for Tuesday evening will be "The Wages of Sin," and on Wednesday, the closing number will be "The Son of Monte Cristo."

PARASOLS FROM SOUTH AFRICA

Handle Composed of Pampas Grasses and Jewels Wove in Bamboo.

THE VERY LATEST

(Special News Service.) PARIS, Tuesday. — It is not often that Paris gets its fashion ideas from the Congo, but this is true of the latest style in sunshades. This week four of the principal houses in Paris sent models to the race course supplied with sunshades, the handles of which were composed of a combination of pampas grass and precious jewels. The grass is woven in native African style on a light bamboo base, and then studded with pearls, sapphires and emeralds. The general effect is extremely cool and refreshing. The linen of the parasol is itself embroidered with grass in a variety of fancy designs. Some parasols are so richly adorned that the price runs to thousands of dollars.

The fashion was inaugurated by the young administrator of the Congo Colony, who sent a number of grass-handled parasols to his women acquaintances in Paris. He now has a hundred natives employed in doing the work and cannot supply the demand.

EIGHT MEN WERE DROWNED IN THE ST. JOHN RIVER

FREDERICTON, Thursday. — An- other large number of stream drivers arrived from the head waters of the St. John river last night and corroborated the report that eight men em- ployed on W. J. Noble's drive for the Cushing Company had been drowned by the breaking of a bateau while they were shooting the rapids at the mouth of the Big Black River on Tuesday. The men say at Edmund- ston they learned the report was true and only two of the bodies had been recovered.

Reports were circulated at Edmund- ston yesterday that some of the vic- tims of the disaster came from this city but it is learned that the unfur-fortunate men were residents of the St. Basil district in Madawaska. They had secured an old bateau and were on their way home after the drive when they met with such untimely deaths.

Road stream drivers who came down from the head waters of the St. John river last night report that so far as can be learned four other men lost their lives by drowning on the upper St. John this year making at least twelve fatalities altogether. It has been a record year for drowning on the drives.

THE NEXT CONVENTION

(Special News Service.)
MONCTON, Monday.—On Sunday
Rev. Dr. Heine of the Canadian Bible Society occupied the pulpit of the first Baptist Church, and explaining the work and methods of the Society with the many different nationalities of of immigrants to Canada. Dr. Heine related certain incidents which had come under his observation with regard to immigration. Those emigrants from all parts of Europe, who speak so many languages and who land in Canada, Dr. Heine claimed are good citizens and gladly as a rule, received the new testament which they are always supplied with. The discourse was plain and interesting.

The Maritime provinces and Quebec were well represented at the Convention of the Brotherhood of Railroad employes held in Boston on May 11, 12, 13 and 14th. The delegates there speak well of their treatment by the American brethren. It was unanimously decided to hold the next convention in Moncton in June 1909.
Robt P. Neil was re-elected Grand President and Geo. L. Thompson Grand Secretary. Treasurer. The Brotherhood is growing rapidly both in popularity and numerical strength and bids fair of becoming one of the strongest organizations in the continent.

Strangers visiting Moncton say they are surprised to find the liquor traffic in Moncton so completely suppressed, or nearly so, as they find it at the present time. Chief Riddout is bringing to his aid some good officers who will endeavor to enforce all the laws, as long as the Commissioner back them up.
The sermon in the Central Methodist Church on Sunday evening by Rev.
Mr. Strothart on the Cowardice of Elijah in fleeing from Jezebel, was a very instructive and impressive effort.
Mr. Strothart is a forcible, plain speaker and strikes home the shoulder.
Prof. Perry led the choir throughout after the sermon there was a large number coming in from other churches for the special occasion. All seemed delighted with the service.

The forward movement of the First Baptist Church has been successful and the $14,000 has all been subscribed and a large portion has been paid. The rest will be paid in a short time.
The next Orange Walk of this county will take place at Petticoat.
James Hayward, I. C. R. driver who left the service some time ago on account of his eyes and was recently superannuated, is now in the hospital here, and has been for six weeks. Eye surgery set in and kept him back for some time but he is now improving.
Mr. Henry LeBlanc of the I. C. R. audit office, takes Ivy Avar's place as inspector of scales, while Mr.
Avar takes Mr. G. H. Pick's place as superintendent. What a nice thing it is to have a friend at court.

There is a lot of building going on in Moncton this season. Mr. D. White the well known contractor has several houses under way at present.
Mr. W. L. Creighton, adv. agt. I. C.
R. went to St. John this morning on railway business.
Because a few burglaries have taken place in Moncton it is no reason why the Scott Act should be left to shirk for itself. When burglars commit depredations they do so with the firm determination of not being found out.
But if it be possible for their work to be discovered Moncton police force is going to do it, and enforce other laws as well.

TAFT THE MAN SAYS MORGAN

LONDON, Saturday.—Secretary of War William H. Taft, will be the next President of the United States and financial troubles in America will soon be over, so said J. Pierpont Morgan in his arrival here from Vienna and in his dual role of political and financial prophet he said it emphatically.

Reporter—Here is a list of all the foreign diplomats present at the banquet.
Editor—An what does the interrogation mark in the centre of the list mean?
Reporter—Oh, that stands for the Chinese diplomat.

It snowed here for a few minutes yesterday morning but melted as it fell. Further south, between Bathurst and Rogersville it snowed quite hard and the ground was quite white.
At Rogersville there was two inches of "the beautiful".

ANOTHER CASE.

A mild case of smallpox was yesterday discovered here. The patient is George Montgomery of Moncton, assistant to C. S. McCarthy, air brake inspector of the I. C. R. Montgomery has not been in Moncton for some time. He was examined by Drs.
Pinault and Latham and the case was pronounced smallpox, and immediately removed to the isolation hospital. The air brake inspection car was thoroughly fumigated.

But that lady has been to the millinery opening, whispered the big waiter in the white apron.
What makes you think so? asked the cashier.

Why I said, Madam, what kind of trimmings do you like with your steak? and she says, Why, make it black lace and two bunches of red cherries with wire leaves.

The bashful man had stolen a kiss.
—I hope I haven't rumbled your feelings? he ventured.
Oh bother the feelings, retorted the pretty girl, in confusion. You have rumbled my hair and my shirt waist.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific cause. It is that cause that first correctly led Dr. Shoop to the discovery of his Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, where brought that success that original and highly vital principle, no other lasting accomplishment was ever to be had.
For stomach distress, bloating, flatulencies, indigestion, loss of appetite, and all the ills that follow, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Bottles of Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend.

BLACK CAPE

BLACK CAPE, Tuesday.—Mr. J. J.
Hall Kelly, M. P. P., held two meetings on Friday evening in the school house at Black Cape. At six o'clock and at eight o'clock he addressed the people of the district. At the first meeting Mr. Kelly was warmly received by a large majority.

Several of our young men who have come up from New Port some time ago, where they had been working on the A. C. & W. railway, left today by train for that place to resume work.

nets out. We hope the fishing will be successful.

day for Paspébiac, P. Q., where she will be the guest of her parents, Mr.
and Mrs. Frederic Munro.

The weather for the past week has been fine and the farmers are advancing well with their crop. Yesterday's rain will be a great help to hay, which promises fine at present.

The Graphic will in all probability enjoy a weekly budget of news from our thriving little village.

NEW CARLISLE

PABOS MILLS

PABOS MILLS, Monday.—A thunder storm of unusual severity passed over this section of the country last week.
For a short time rain fell in torrents,
and the situation for a few minutes was exceedingly tempestuous. The storm affected to some extent the electric wires, burning out a few telephones, etc.

Rumor says that the sun is hard on peoples eyes in this village. It must be owing to the great amount of saw dust lying around which draws the sun. But saw dust will not accumulate any more, as the Grand Pabos Lumber Co. are building a furnace to burn all refuse, and will have everything up to date, and all modern machinery in their mill which will be the finest of the coast.

Hon. Mr. Lemaux of Gaspé passed through here on Thursday enroute to his home.

Mr. Cote, representing the Acme Mfg. Co., was a recent visitor in this place.

Mr. Braman paid a flying visit to Port Daniel last week.

Mr. Comeau, representing P. P.
Reid & Co., Campbellton, called on the Grand Pabos Lumber Co. one day last week.

A party of young folks enjoyed an outing on the bay in the Company's steam launch recently.

Quite a pretty wedding took place on Monday, June 1st in St. Dominique church when Mrs. Anselme Broom was united in holy wedlock to Mr. Lucien Giroux, both of this place. The bride was very becomingly attired in cream luster, with bag to match. The bride and groom were unattended.

The service was conducted by Rev.
St. Laurence. We join in wishing them a happy and prosperous life.
Mr. Beaudin was the guest of Miss Tre day on Sunday.

Lessers, J. P. C. Beauchemin and F.
Robicheaud spent the week end in Port Daniel.

Clementine—If you should dare to kiss me I should say Oh, sugar.
—Clarence—And I guess I'd say the same.

WISDOM FOR WOMEN

Soap well applied to drawer slides will keep the drawers in furniture and closets from sticking.

Mice can be kept away by gum camphor sprinkled round their haunts; water, or 'croton bugs, by borax and camphor or red pepper.

Before using a new broom, let it stand in warm water for a few minutes to soften the bristles. If a broom should get very dry and time it would be well to repeat.

Patent leather shoes should be cleaned with milk, or a dog's tears may be rubbed into them. The soles and heels of such shoes are,
of course, to be cleaned with blacking.

A black leather bag can always be kept in capital condition by mixing two tablespoonfuls of milk and rubbing this well into the bag. After it has thoroughly dried it should be polished with a camellia leaf.

A good supply of dish towels is a necessity. Health and comfort are promoted by an abundance of every furnishing in the kitchen department. For dish rags buy some white mosquito netting—a quarter of a yard is sufficient for one—which should be folded back and forth as many times as it will allow, and then tucked in the same way, that a comforter is made.

SWISS 'CREAM.—Required: Three sponge cakes, a little apricot jam, two tablespoonfuls of white wine, one pint of custard, half an ounce of isinglass, quarter of a pint of whipped cream,
half an ounce of chopped pistachio nuts.

This quantity will make a medium sized mould. Cut the sponge cakes into three slices, with the jam between each. Pour over these sufficient white wine to moisten. Have the custard flavored with sherry and the grated rind of a lemon. Dissolve the isinglass in a little water, and strain it into the whipped cream. Arrange the pieces of cakes in an oiled mould and the cream to the gusset, fill up the mould slowly, and leave until set.
Turn out to serve and scatter the chopped nuts over.

If the water in which windows are washed is blued they will retain their brilliance longer and polish easier.

The coarseness of cake is frequently due to its standing too long before being placed in the oven.

Wring chamomile out of soapy water in which it has been used without rinsing. When it dries, it will be soft and serviceable, instead of stiff.

COLD CHEESE SOUFFLE.—Required:
one ounce and a half of Parmesan cheese, one gill of apple jelly, one ounce and a half of Gruyere, one gill of cream, cayenne and made mustard.
Whip the cream with the apple jelly, stir in the cheese which must be finely grated, season to taste with pepper, salt and made mustard, serve in china ramekin cases with grated cheese on the top of each.

DROPPED SCONES.—One cupful of flour, some of buttermilk, two tablespoonfuls of soft sugar, three quarter teaspoonful carbonate soda, one-quarter teaspoonful tartaric acid, and add gradually the buttermilk, beating well with the back of a spoon. Have ready a hot griddle or iron plate, rubbed over with the suet, and drop the batter in spoonfuls. One spoonful makes a scone.

When covered with bubbles on top turn with a bread knife and cook till a nice light brown.

Paint will stick to tinware if the surface be scratched first with a piece of rough pumice stone or coarse sandpaper, and then a thin coat of shellac varnish be applied before the paint is put on.

young man dropped the lines either side of the runaway. It was then that the owl by the roadside.

ed the old nag as she gave a horse laugh and showed her long yellow teeth.
