CAMPBELLTON NEW BRUNSWICK, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 30, 1924

ENTS PER COPY

TO START TOUR IN A FEW DAYS

Mr. and Mrs. Dimock Leaving Shortly on Motor Trip Through U. S.—Home
Car a Wonder

The steady development of the recreation known as touring has resulted in the creation of many impulsive excursions in the nature of motor caravans, bungalow cars and house-cars by which tourists and motor-campers add much to the enjoyment of a holiday trip and instantly reduce expenses to a minimum, but it would be hard to find a more fully equipped and satisfactory house-car than that of Mr. S. W. Dimock in which, accompanied by Mrs. Dimock, he will take his annual holiday trip through a portion of the United States this winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Dimock plan on leaving here within the next few days.
Mr. Dimock is now putting the finishing touches on his house-car which, remodelled and greatly improved, will be in readiness tomorrow for their extended tour. They will start their trip by way of the Matapetia Valley and Montreal motoring out through Westport and crossing the International boundary at Trout River. Once across the border they will go through Buffalo, Rochester, Cleveland and other cities enroute to Kansas City where Mr. Dimock will undergo treatment for neuritis from where he has been suffering recently.
From Kansas City Mr. and Mrs.
Dimock will likely go to New Orleans and thence to Florida. They expect to be gone nearly six months.

In the house car, remodelled and improved every comfort has been provided for and this done in a way that utilizes the full use of available space and eliminates the objection of excessive weight. When completed for the trip this splendidly equipped house-car will weigh about the same as a limousine yet it offers all the advantages of a modern house on wheels. Built on the chassis of an ordinary Dodge touring car it is sufficiently high to permit the occupants to stand erect a luxury denied in many of the bun-gallow cars now in use throughout the country. Across the rear of the car are two large sleeping berths which are entirely comfortable. On one side is a clothes press where clothes may be hung in proper order, on the other a cupboard and sideboard, surprisingly complete in its arrangement.

The floor space is ample in size to assure comfort and also to accommodate all necessary luggage and equipment.
The driver's seat occupies its position directly behind the wheel while to one side will be a comfortable chair for the other occupant. An oil stove, desirably compact to facilitate its transportation, will also be a part of the equipment and cooking will be done on wide shelf in the front of the car. Every modern convenience has been provided for. The car will be electrically lighted and fitted for running water. Numerous windows assure plenty of light and proper provision has been made for adequate ventilation. Even a refrigerator, has been installed in a convenient part of the car and yet where it does not interfere with the roominess of the interior. A radio receiving set will also be installed and every other comfort that one would find at home arranged for.

In such a thoroughly equipped house-car Mr. and Mrs. Dimock should have a truly delightful trip.

DOCTOR DESY TO OPPOSE COTE

Was Chosen Last Week in New Carlisle as Conservative Candidate for Bon-venture

New Carlisle, P. Q., Oct. 27.—The Conservative Convention for the choice of a candidate in Bonaventure Co. took place in New Carlisle.
About 75 delegates attended. The Hall contained over 200 persons when the Chairman opened the meeting. Doctor Desy was the only candidate proposed. In accepting the nomination he thanked the delegates for the confidence they had just placed in him. He also thanked the friends of the party, who came from Quebec and River du Loys, to assist him.
He regretted that the time was so short for his campaign. He then entered into the life of the political situation and made general attacks against the Taschereau Government, saying that the electors should be tired of the automatic regime of the present government. The other speakers were Dr. Paquet, Mr. Lang-lais, Mr. Shink and Dr. Dussault.
Mr. Adamson Gagnon appeared as Sergeant-at-Arms of the Quebec Convention.

Next Friday is Halloween. Be sure everything that is not too heavy to be carried away is placed indoors as you will probably be seeing many things on the following morning.

Collier Stewart, son of Alderman D.
G. Stewart, who was thought to have been seriously injured one day last week, when he was run over by a horse driven by a boy on the school lane, and was removed to the home of Mrs. Alex. McKay, and later taken to his home, where the doctor found no serious injury, is reported doing nicely after such a narrow escape. The accident occurred at the forenoon recess of the Public School.

The Curriers of Dalhousie have already had two meetings of their Club. Preparations are being made for the coming winter for those who are so fond of the "roarin' game." Changes are being made in the rink, with the view of having a better ice for curling than in the past.

It was with great regret that some of our citizens read in this week's Quebec papers the account of the death of Miss Louise Picaud, one of Quebec's gifted young girls. Miss Picaud was only 21 years of age and admirably gifted. She was a sister of Mrs. Cannon, wife of Lucien Cannon K. C. member for Dorchester, P. Q.
Mr. H. A. Picaud, of Quebec, who has been so greatly afflicted by the will have the sympathy of many friends in her and bereavement.

On Tuesday evening in the basement hall of St. John's Presbyterian Church, there was a good attendance of citizens, to hear Mrs. Goforth of Toronto, lecture on her years' experience in China, and Mrs. Forbes, President of the Eastern Division of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society. Rev. Mr. Cameron presided. The lectures were the guests of Mrs. Fleck during their stay in Dalhousie.

With ideal weather, the contractors of the New Court House, expect to have all the elevators for the new building, and the extension to the jail, done this week. Preparations are in progress to despatch quickly the building of the concrete basement while the weather is so favorable.
Splendid progress is being made this week by the J. & D. A. Harquail Co. Ltd., at the Post Office, and Custom House repairs. The chimney, that was so shaken by the recent earthquake, has been replaced with a nice red brick top, which adds to the appearance of the building.

MRS. GEO. VERMETTE DIED SATURDAY

Deceased Lady Had Been in Failing Health for Some Time—59 Years of age

In the death of Mrs. George Vermette, who passed away at her home on Water Street about seven o'clock last Saturday morning, Campbellton has lost a much respected citizen. The deceased lady, who was 59 years of age, had been in failing health for some time. An anemic condition had developed, and treatment taken in Montreal a short time ago failed to effect a cure.
The late Mrs. Vermette who was formerly Esther Letellier, daughter of Chas. Letellier of Quebec City, was highly esteemed by a large circle of friends here and elsewhere and her death will be keenly felt.
Besides her bereaved husband the deceased leaves to mourn their loss three sons, Rene, Arthur and Wilfred, of all Campbellton, and four daughters, Mrs. James B. Keenan of Halifax, Mrs. Philip Dupuis of Campbellton and the Misses Grace and Rosa at home. The late Mrs. Vermette is also survived by four sisters, Mrs. Cleophas Robitaille of Montreal; Mrs. Leon Cantin, Campbellton; Mrs. Alphonse Leclerc of Montreal; and Miss Adeline Letellier of this town who made her home with the deceased.

The funeral services were held on Monday morning at 9 o'clock in the Church of Our Lady of Snows, and were very largely attended. Requiem High Mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Lantegnie of Athol and Rev. Fr. Verret, assistant parish priest here. The pallbearers were Messrs. A. C. Roy, Joseph Boudreau, John Harquail, Auguste Belanger, Paul Roy and Calixte Champoux.

Cemetery here.

here to attend the funeral services.

Keenan and daughters of Halifax; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Boudreau of Halifax; Mr. and Mrs. Verret of Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. Lantegnie of Athol; Mr. and Mrs. Robitaille of Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. Cantin of Campbellton; Mr. and Mrs. Leclerc of Montreal; and many others.

RECORD MOOSE HEAD

Chief Game Warden L. A. Gagnon has received a report from Restigouche county stating that an American sportsman, whose name was not given, has secured a moose on the south branch of the Kedgwick with antlers spreading 59 inches.
This is a record head for this season.

NORTH SHORE IS ACQUIRING REPUTATION AS A FINE SEED-POTATO GROWING COUNTRY

New Industry Has Attained Considerable Proportions in Last Few Years
MANY ENQUIRIES
Record Crops in Many Districts —Yield as High as 44 Barrels to One Planted

With the completion of potato-digging operations throughout Restigouche it is now possible to make from information available—a fair estimate of the total potato crop of this year in the county. Conditions and results vary so much in different sections however that accurate figures are out of the question but that the total yield will be well in excess of 100,000 barrels is the opinion of farmers and merchants along the coast.

It is further estimated that, totaling the marketable stock of the various potato growers, there will be nearly 100,000 barrels available for shipment.

Some Record Crops
While this year's crop is not of unusually large proportions in some districts there are other localities where farmers report a record yield.
It is a well known fact that in numerous districts along the Bay, both in the vicinity of New Mills and also near the southern county line some fields have this season produced as high as forty-four to one barrel of seed planted. Less than half that yield is considered quite satisfactory and in some sections ground "in good year" seldom yields more than from fifteen to eighteen.

Stock of Fine Quality
The fact, however, that many farmers in Restigouche have in recent years gone in for potato-raising somewhat extensively, is responsible, more than anything else, for the unprecedented crop in the county this fall. Although comparatively few people here are aware of it, Restigouche is rapidly acquiring an enviable reputation as a potato-growing country. Enquiries about this new industry has been received from the direction of Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick and other provinces. Farmers continue to display faith in their county as a potato-raising district of the first rank it will not be long until Restigouche potatoes occupy a distinguished place on the market.

This conjecture may be mildly regarded by many but the splendid quality of seed and table potatoes now being grown here strongly supports such a contention.

This year's crop is notably satisfactory in quality. In no district has there been reported even a slight loss through rot, canker, blight or any other disease to which spud all too often fall here. In other sections of the province farmers have experienced some difficulty in keeping their crops free from blight or some other disease which has gouged the crops in all localities are remarkable for stock of excellent quality and generous size.

Nothing can know more clearly than the above figures the remarkable growth of this branch of agriculture on the north shore in the past few years. And this has been attained through the fact that several farmers and large part of their cultivated acres have turned their attention to age over to the growing of seed potatoes.

This industry which is still new on the north shore has its inception in three sons, Rene, Arthur and Wilfred, of all Campbellton, and four daughters, Mrs. James B. Keenan of Halifax, Mrs. Philip Dupuis of Campbellton and the Misses Grace and
Rosa at home. The late Mrs. Ver-
mette is also survived by four sisters,
Mrs. Cleophas Robitaille of Montreal; Mrs. Leon Cantin, Campbellton; Mrs. Alphonse Leclerc of
town who made her home with the deceased.

SMUGGLED BOOZE AT NEW CARLISLE

Customs Officers Seize Carload of Liquor Said to Have been Loaded at Gascons

The over anxiety of shippers to have a car loaded with "fertilizer" rushed on its way, to a point on the I. N. R. Division of the C. N. R., avoided the suspicion of an agent of the Q. O. railway who notified the customs official. A search of the car (on Saturday) revealed a few bags of fertilizer covering up 600 cases of liquor. The liquor, which is said to have been loaded at Gascons, from a vessel, was immediately seized.

It is also said that a week or two ago another car billed as "fertilizer" was at the Tide Head yard on its way over the I. N. R. and it is possible this shipment, if it was liquor, evaded the authorities.

The New Carlisle shipment has been forwarded to Quebec.

CONSERVATIVES WIN IN G. B.

Have Majority over All Other Parties so Far as Present Returns Show

The results of the general election in Great Britain show the Conservatives winning a clear majority. The returns from the various constituencies show that the Conservatives have secured a large number of seats. The Labour Party has also made gains, but the Conservatives are in a strong position to form a government. The Irish Nationalists have also shown strength in some of the Irish constituencies. The election results are a clear indication of the popularity of the Conservative Party in Great Britain.

I believe in good government for Campbellton, and I shall assume my share of the civic responsibility that rests on the shoulders of all our citizens.

I believe in supporting local enterprises that make for community development, and shall contribute my moral support and energy to any worthy cause championed by them.

I believe in patronizing home merchants, for they are greatly responsible for our having good schools and churches, better roads and promotion of the general welfare of this community.

I believe in making Campbellton clean and attractive, for a healthy atmosphere is an inducement to honest and right-thinking citizens.

I believe in boosting my home town at every possible opportunity; that thinking, talking and acting progress is the quickest and surest way to bring permanent prosperity to Campbellton--the best town in Canada--because it is MY HOME!

In Beautiful England

A Brief Account of our Pleasant Experiences with The Canadian Weekly Newspaper Party on our Trip abroad
By H. B. ANSLOW

London, July 5.—To-day at the invitation of The Admiralty our party visited Weymouth to see the great North-Atlantic squadron.
Our party left London by special train at about 9 o'clock. The train was made up of the latest pattern vestibule cars, and two up-to-date dining cars were attached, as we were to have lunch en route. The weather was not very promising, but although it rained at intervals, these showers fortunately came while we were in the train or under cover.

When our special train arrived we were greeted by the Lord Mayor, and members of the city council. We were escorted to motor cars and driven to the Municipal pavilion.
This pavilion is almost entirely built of glass, and all the public functions were held there.

Here the Lord Mayor tendered our party a gracious welcome to the old port of Plymouth. Mr. Harold Hale, editor of the Orillia Packet, made a fine reply on behalf of our party. Before stepping into the tug to go out to see the fleet we were shown something of Weymouth which is quite a picturesque summer resort.

Though the town is an ancient one the spirit of enterprise prevails there. The town forms a crescent around the bay and the esplanade circling around the shore is very fine.
Recently the town had the width of the esplanade doubled with asphalt, making it much more attractive. A handsome pavilion has also been erected within recent years at the end of the esplanade. It is a beautiful summer resort, and we were only sorry that our stay had to be brief.

When we reached the dock and looked out over the great river and outer harbor, crowded with war ships of every description, we began to fear for the prospects of our trip. The great waves, we feared, that some of our party would not enjoy the sea. However we crowded upon two fleet drifters and proceeded to sail the fleet.

There were assembled here we were told over one hundred vessels ranging from the superdreadnoughts to submarines. The sea was dirty and our little boat bobbed up and down like a peanut shell. We began to fear for the prospects of our
trip. The great waves, we feared, that some of our party would not enjoy
the sea. However we crowded upon
sail the fleet.

We continued to sail through the fleet now and presently came to a fleet of submarines. The sea was impressed by their large size. The submerged to be about 350 feet long and had crews of twenty to thirty.
One of the subs while we were watching it, submerged. It took only a few seconds after she started to go down. We could see the periscope watching sharply a few hundred yards away. After staying down a few minutes she emerged, an operation that appeared as simple as the going down.

Our visit to the fleet being somewhat curtailed by the great ladies of Weymouth hurriedly got up an afternoon tea which was ready to serve as the pavilion when we arrived.
Some of those wonderful English strawberries with cream, cakes, and a cup of tea, just touched the aperitif, after blowing around the channel for a couple of hours. By the way I must not forget to mention the extraordinary phenomenon that though many of our party had developed sea sickness with the slightest provocation on the ocean, bouncing around like on a scenic railway as our small boat pitched over the waves that afternoon, hadn't the least effect on anybody.

At Weymouth one of the oldest Masonic lodges in England is located.
When the W. M. and members were informed that our party could not have afternoon tea at the Queen Elizabeth, they hurriedly gathered together the makings for a repast; cold ham, bread, strawberries, cake, cream etc. and invited thirty of the Masons of the party to visit their historic lodge room. There was such a rush to join the ranks of these fortunate that about fifty had the pleasure of going with this party. Here we were shown many rare and quaint objects familiar to the craft, and enjoyed one of the most entertaining hours of our entire trip. Here we saw one of the rare "breches bibles", and another, which was in use in the trenches during the war.

Entire morning we devoted to see the old castle of the Kings of France at London. We started at St. Pauls, then over to the Royal Exchange, which is celebrated the world over.

Our special train left for its return trip to London at about 7 o'- clock, and enroute we were again served with a full course dinner on the train.
Entire morning we devoted to see
the old castle of the Kings of France
at London. We started at St. Pauls,
then over to the Royal Exchange, then to The Bank of England and later spent a couple of hours in the Tower of London. On our way back to our hotel we passed through "Chopped" and the ladies as usual did some shopping, but we cannot remember that they made any purchases.

At the invitation of the Port authorities of London we were invited to see the docks of the world's greatest port. A large steam tug awaited us at Westminster wharf on a bright sunny morning to convey us around the docks. Our hosts were represented by the Port of London authorities, Mr. J. D. Gilbert M. P. and Sir Cyril Jackson K. B. E., and the Manager, Mr. Estell.

We steamed down the river at low tide past miles and miles of wharves until we came to the new King George V. and Royal Albert docks.
The former dock is about a mile long and 500 to 700 ft. in width. With its general equipment of floating cranes, electric trucks and other modern appliances the dock cost four and a half millions of pounds sterling. The Royal Albert is also a wonderfully equipped dock with three miles of quays and 86 acres of water area.

It is interesting to note that the Port of London authority controls and administers docks and tidal portion of the Thames for a distance of no less than 70 miles. The area of the various dock estates totals 3,238 acres, with lineal quays of 36 miles with the largest enclosed water area in the world. No less than 630 giant cranes are utilized in handling freight and there is warehousing accommodation for a million tons of freight. Since 1910 the sum of 10 millions of pounds sterling has been expended in improving the port.

Every day 1,000 vessels of all descriptions pass Gravesend and vessels drawing 36 feet navigate the river as far as the King George dock, a distance of 40 miles from the seaward limit of the port. Twenty millions of tons of goods enter the port annually. The principal imports are grain, timber, frozen meat, wool, fruit, liquor, tea, rubber.

The above figures are appalling but one must remember that London is not only the commercial centre of the British Empire but the market place of the world. It is an encouraging fact that the figures of tonnage handled for 1923 slightly exceeded the greatest prewar record.
In 200 years the trade of London has increased by 6,500 per cent.
Immense stocks of goods are held for merchants by the Port Authority. Tremendous modern warehouses are used for this purpose. We were shown through some of them by Mr.
Estell, the Manager of the Port of London. In the refrigerating warehouses where mutton from Australia, is stored, we saw muttons by the tens of thousands hanging in cold storage. Great Britain requires a period of 100 days for the supply of meat.
Nearly fifty per cent. of her consumption in this line is imported. The Smithfield meat market, London, is the greatest in the world. No less than 400,000 tons of meat of all descriptions were dealt with there in 1923.

London is also the world's greatest wool market. During 1923 bales of wool representing 67 millions of fleeces passed through the public sale.
And not only for wool and meat but for almost every other commodity, is London an international market where goods can always be sold.
What we saw during our visit convinced us that no effort is being spared to maintain London's preeminent position as the Port of the Empire and the Market of the World.

ROCKS ALONG BAY CHALEUR AND RESTIGOUCHE ARE RICH IN INTERESTING FOSSILS

Fine Collection Brought Here from Maguasha—Containing Fossils of Ancient Fish and Plant Remains—Numerous Fossil Beds Discovered in These Parts Years Ago—Geological Survey Made on Shores of Restigouche and Bay Chal-eur in 1880.

Although comparatively few of the young generation may know it, the shores of the Bay Chaleur, Restigouche, Cascapedia and Matapedia Rivers are, in places, rich in fossils, fauna and flora of fish and plant remains. Recently a most interesting collection of these fossils was secured by Mr. G. C. Woodward, American Consul here. These were obtained on the shore near Maguasha, Que.

The collection contains fossils of both plant and fish remains and also solidified fish bones. To one interested in geological research these fossils are most interesting. Doubtless an extensive examination of rocks along the Restigouche and the Bay Chaleur would disclose many even more remarkable fossiliferous concretions.

For the information of our readers we have obtained a very interesting item dealing with the discovery of these fossils. It is an extract from the book by Thomas Chesmer Weston, P.
G. S. A., published by Warick Bros.
& Rutter of Toronto in 1899 under the title "Reminiscences Among The Rocks". The extract follows:

Part of the summer of 1880, was spent in the examination of the shore rocks of Baie des Chaleurs, Cascapedia and Matapedia Rivers. Campbellton and other localities in that district.
The shore rocks of the Restigouche River near the back of Campbellton L. J. Station and those on the opposite shore are highly interesting containing as they do, a remarkable fauna and flora of fish and plant remains of Devonian age. Many fine fossils were collected from this locality by myself and later by Mr. Ford.
On the 11th of June, I crossed from Dalhousie to the north of Scoumenac Bay where I got board and lodging at a farm house, the occupants of which were an old couple and grown up son and daughter.

My field of research was along the shore towards Pt. Maguasha, Baie des Chaleurs, but chiefly on the shore of Scoumenac Bay. Here high cliffs of light yellowish grey sandstone occupy the shore. The rocks are of Devonian age and underlie the lower carboniferous conglomerates of the north shore of the Restigouche river.
It was in these Devonian cliffs of Scoumenac Bay that Mr. R. W. Ellis of the Geological Survey in 1879, discovered the curious crustacean Pterichthyris, or fish belonging to the Ganoidei-whichever it is. This discovery led to my present researches and during the next summer to those of Mr. Ford, also of the Geological Survey staff.

Some of the beds of these great sandstone cliffs contain nodules, or concretionary forms. The following description from my notes on concretion-ary forms published in Transactions of the Nova Scotia Institution of Science will suffice:

"The Upper Devonian fish and plant-bearing beds of Scoumenac Bay, Quebec, are prolific in fossiliferous concretions, which are composed of calcareo-arenaceous rock, and take various forms according to the shape of the nucleus, which, when a fish, is often so well preserved that every bone can be seen. One of these concretions obtained by A. H. Ford measures over twenty inches in length, and contains the skeleton of a fish almost as long. It is Chiroptera Canadensis (Whiteaves). In other concretions from this locality the writer and Mr. A. H. Ford found: Cly-ptopogon microlepis (Agassiz), Phaneropleuron curtip, Pterichthys Canadensis (Whiteaves), Eusthenop-teron Fordi, etc."

These concretions are scattered along the shore, being washed up by the waves of the bay. It was in one of these I discovered the first fossil fish known to the Survey, from these rocks.

The following day I collected from these same fossil fish-beds, fossil plants, among which were specimens of and old fashioned fern-which Sir William Dawson, who has since named Archaopteris Jacksoni.

COSTLY TOWN BUILT TO BE DESTROYED BY FLOOD

Destruction of a whole town by torrential river forms one of the striking consequences in "On the Banks of the Wabash," a J. Stuart Blackton production, which will be seen at the Opera House next Wed. and Thur. This is one of the most costly sets ever erected for the sole purpose of destroying it during the taking of scenes.

The building of the village and furnishing of the houses cost a tremendous sum, according to those in charge of the production for Vita-graph. The town of Cranberry Corners, built for the picture, was an exact replica of a town in Indiana and was constructed in Manassett Bay, Long Island, where the flood scenes were taken.

J. Stuart Blackton, who produced the picture, took advantage of the tides in filming these remarkable flood scenes in "On the Banks of the Wabash." The town was built while the tide was low. The flood scenes were taken as the water rapidly rose eight feet when the tide came in.

"On the Banks of the Wabash" is based upon the immortal song of the same name by Paul Dresser. The cast of all-star players includes Mary Carr, James Evans, Lumsden Hare and Mary MacLaren.

Public Bane
Caught Disease On the HANDS!
Skin disease threatens us every day. Invisible germs of blood-poison, eczema, etc., are waiting to infect the least cut or sore place. The money you use carries germs—you get them on the handles, rails and straps of the trains and street cars, and in a score of other ways. Solely through Zambuk, Mr. Henry C. Davis, of South 17th Street, Kansas City, U.S.A., has just escaped a virulent type of eczema, contracted, he suspects, through use of public towels.

"I had medical advice," he says, "and in addition all sorts of so-called eczema remedies, without finding the hoped-for relief. Zambuk treatment soon gave positive results. It took away the painful irritation and quickly purified and healed the deep troublesome sores."

MISTOOK WOODSMAN FOR A MOOSE

E. Laseras, 25, of Rose Settlement Accidentally Killed Yesterday

Another fatality of the hunting season occurred yesterday when E. Laseras, aged 25, of Rose Settlement, near Bathurst was accidentally shot and killed by a bullet from the rifle of Arthur St. Pies, a Fish warden who mistook the unfortunate man for a moose. The accident occurred near headwaters of the Causapual River.

It is understood that the victim of the affair was on his way to some lumbering operations in the interests of the Chaleur Bay Mills. It appears that he in the company of another man emerged from behind a knoll and the fish warden mistaking his outline among the trees for a moose, fired. The coroner viewed the remains but so far as the Graphic has been able to learn no inquest was held.

McNair, Reading by Mr. L. J. Gilmer and a violin solo by Miss Ima Currie. Mrs. Sharpe and Mrs. McNair were accompanists. The sum of $54.00 was realized for Acadia University.

OBITUARY

Helen Margaret Davidson
Sympathy is extended to Mr. & Mrs. Ervin Davidson, Nash creek, in their recent and bereavement, the death of their infant daughter Helen Margaret age four months and six days. She was ailing for weeks and in spite of everything loving hands could do she passed peacefully away on the twenty third of October.

Miss Harriet Henderson
The death of Miss Harriet Henderson occurred on Monday at the Soldiers' Memorial Hospital, after an operation for appendicitis. She was the youngest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Henderson and leaves to mourn her loss one sister, Mrs. P. A. MacDonald and three brothers, Everett J. Allan A., and James K. Henderson.

The funeral services were held yesterday afternoon. Services at the house and grave were conducted by the deceased's pastor Rev. W. W. McNair.

The death occurred very suddenly of Joseph Grey on the 21st inst., at St. John.

Mr. Grey had undergone an operation on October 18th and had been improving so that his condition was not considered serious. On the evening of the 17th he grew weaker and gradually sank and despite the best medical attention he failed to rally and passed away on the 21st.

The late Mr. Grey was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Grey, Belledune River, and is survived by his parents, his wife and two children, three brothers, Glasgow of Winnipeg, Oswald and Clarence at home, and six sisters, Mrs. Joseph Walsh, Boston, Mass., Mrs. William Dalgle, Newcastle, N.B., Mrs. Wm. Brown, St. John, Miss Grace Grey in the employ of the R. H. White Co., Boston, Mass., Miss Bertha Grey in the employ of the Maritime Clothing Co., St. John and Miss Naomi at home.

The funeral which was held Thursday at 11.30 o'clock has occasioned much regret among friends of the deceased and many expressions of sympathy for her bereaved husband and family of small children.

A few days before her death, the late Mrs. Dupure had given birth to a child, and both child and mother were doing as well as could be expected, when suddenly unexpected complications set in and the suffering young mother was rushed to the hospital. Here all the efforts of medical science were put into force, but it seemed apparent that only through the avenue of death was the patient sufferer to find relief.

The late Mrs. Dupure, whose maiden name was Alfredine Belanger, was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francois Belanger, of St. Charles de Caplin, P. Q. and was 32 years of age. The funeral services were held on Monday morning at eight o'clock to Our Lady of Snows Church, interment being made in the Catholic Cemetery.

The bereaved husband and family have the sympathy of the whole community.

WFDINGS

They will spend the next two weeks in New York and vicinity.

Six Favored Post Publishing Company in Case Tried At Sydney

Sydney, N. S., Oct. 21.—After five hours' deliberation the jury in the libel action brought by Hugh McAdam against The Post Publishing Company reported a disagreement at 6 o'clock last night. The final return showed three jurors favoring the plaintiff's claim and six favoring the defence.

THE CRITIC seemed struck with the picture.

"This snowstorm painting is very fine, indeed," he said to the artist. "It almost makes me cold to look at it."

"Yes, it must be realistic," admitted the other. "A fellow got into my studio one day in my absence, looked at the picture, and unconsciously put my overcoat on before he went out."

R. H. MacKay, one of the recently appointed Maritime directors of the C. N. R., passed through the city this afternoon homeward bound to New Glasgow, N. S., from Providence, and Rhode Island. He said he found business conditions very good in Boston with the feeling abroad that there was to be renewed activities following the presidential election. Increased prosperity in New England, he felt, would be reflected in the Maritime Provinces. He was delighted, he said, at the number of people he met who had been to these provinces during the past summer and he heard many expressions of approval concerning the good roads for automobiles, there seeming to be general surprise that the roads were so well adapted to automobile traffic. The good roads down this way were being talked about by motorists. Mr. MacKay said, and this circumstance he believed would result in large tourist travel by car in the coming years.

The Great Impersonation

A stirring story of love and adventure. By H. PHILLIPS OFFENSEN

One of the famous author's best.

Published by arrangement with The British & Colonial Press Limited.

CHAPTER XXI (continued from last week)

There was nothing in the least alarming about the appearance of Mr. Ludwig Miller. He had been ex- ceedingly well entertained in the hotel's private sitting-room and had the air of having done full justice to the hospitality which had been offered him. He rose to his feet at Dominey's en- trance and stood at attention. But for some slight indications of military training, he would have passed any- where as a highly respectable retired tradesman.

"Sir Edward Dominey?" he en- quired.

Dominey nodded assent. "That is my name. Have I seen you before?"

The man shook his head. "I am a cousin of Doctor Schmidt. I arrived in the Colony from Rhodesia, after your Excellency had left."

"And how is the doctor?"

"My cousin is, as always, busy in excellent health," was the reply. "He sends his respectful compliments and his good wishes. Also this letter."

With a little flourish the man pro- duced an envelope inscribed To Sir Edward Dominey, Baronet, Dominey Hall, in the County of Norfolk, England.

Dominey broke the seal just as Seaman entered.

"A messenger here from Doctor Schmidt," he announced. "Mr. Seaman came home from South Africa with me," he explained to his visit- or.

The two men looked steadily into each other's eyes. Dominey watch- ed them, fascinated. Neither betrayed himself by even the fall of an eyelid. Yet Dominey, his perceptive powers at their very keenest in this moment which told him was one of crisis, felt the unspoken, unbetrayed recogni- tion which passed between them. Some commonplace remark was ut- tered and responded to. Dominey read the few lines which seemed to take back for a moment to another world: "Honoured and Honourable Sir," "I send you my heartiest and most respectful greeting. Of the pro- cesses of all matters here you will learn from another source."

"I recommend to your notice and kindness my cousin, the bearer of this letter—Mr. Ludwig Miller. He will lay before you certain circumstances of which it is advisable for you to have knowledge. You may speak freely with him. He is in all re- spects to be trusted."

Dominey remarked, as he passed the letter to Seaman, "Come, what about these circumstances?"

Ludwig Miller looked around the little room and then at Seaman. Do- miney affected to misunderstand his hesitation.

"Our friend here knows every- thing," he declared. "You can speak to him as to myself."

The man began as one who has a story to tell.

"My cousin is a little mysterious," he said. "That the Englishman whom you left for dead at Big Bend, on the banks of the Blue River, has been heard of or sighted anywhere since."

Dominey shook his head incredu- lously. "I thought you have seen," he said. "I have not seen him."

"My cousin himself," Miller contin- ued, "was hard to convince. The man left his engagement with whisky enough to kill him, thirst enough to drink it all, and no food."

"So I found him," Dominey assent- ed, "deserted by his boys and raving. To silence him forever was a child's task."

"The task, however, was unperform- ed," the other persisted. "From three places in the Colony he has been heard of, struggling to make his way to the coast."

"Does he call himself by his own name?" Dominey asked.

"He does not," Miller admitted.

"My cousin, however, does me to point out to you the fact that in any case he would probably be shy of doing so. He is behaving in an absurd manner; he is in a very weakly state; and without a doubt he is to some de- gree insane. Nevertheless, the fact remains that he is in the Colony, or was three months ago, and that if he succeeds in reaching the coast you may at any time be surprised by a visit from him here. I am sent to warn you in order that you may take what steps may be necessary and he be placed at a disadvantage if he should appear."

"This is queer news you have brought me," Seaman said thought- fully.

"It is news which greatly disturbed Doctor Schmidt," the man replied. "He has had the natives up one after the other for cross-examination. Nothing can shake their story."

"If we believed it," Seaman contin- ued, "this other European, if he had business in this direction, might walk in here at any moment."

"It was to warn you of that possibi- lity that I am here."

"How much do you know person- ally?"

"I know nothing," he admitted. "I went out to East Africa some years ago."

"I am sorry to hear that," Seaman said. "I am sorry to hear that you were not able to see the man who was so badly treated."

"I am sorry to hear that," Seaman said. "I am sorry to hear that you were not able to see the man who was so badly treated."

"Johann Wolff," he repeated. "That is not my name. I am Ludwig Miller, and I know nothing of this matter beyond what I have told you. I am just a messenger."

"Once in Vienna and twice in Cra- cow, my friend, we have met," Seaman reminded him softly but very insis- tently.

The other shook his head gently. "A mistake. I have been in Vienna once, many years ago, but I never met you."

"You have no idea with whom you are talking?"

"Herr Seaman was the name, I un- derstood."

"It is a very good name," Seaman soothed. "Look here and think."

He nudged his coat and waistcoat and displayed a plain vest of chamade leather. Attached to the left-hand side of it was a brocade decoration, with lettering and a number. Miller stared at it blankly and shook his head.

"Information Department, Bureau Twelve, passport—The Day is com- ing," Seaman continued dropping his voice.

His listener shook his head and smiled with the puzzled ignorance of a child.

"The gentleman mistakes me for some one else," he replied. "I know nothing of these things."

Seaman sat and studied this obsti- nate visitor for several minutes with- out speaking, his finger tips pressed together, his eyebrows gently contract- ed. His vis-a-vis endured this scrutiny without flinching, calm, phle- gmatic, the very prototype of the bourgeois German of the tradesman class.

"Do you propose," Dominey en- quired, "to stay in these parts long?"

"One or two days—a week, per- haps," was the indifferent answer. "I have a cousin in Norwich who makes toys. I love the English country. I spend my holiday here, perhaps."

"Just so," Seaman muttered grimly. "The English country under a foot of snow! So you have nothing more to say to me, Johann Wolff?"

"I have executed my mission to his Excellency," was the apologetic reply. "I am sorry to have caused dis- pleasure to you, Herr Seaman."

The latter rose to his feet. Do- miney had already turned towards the door.

"You will spend the night here, of course, Mr. Miller?" he invited. "I dare say Mr. Seaman would like to have another talk with you in the morning."

"I shall gladly spend the night here, your Excellency," was the polite re- ply. "I do not think that I have anything to say, however, which would interest your friend."

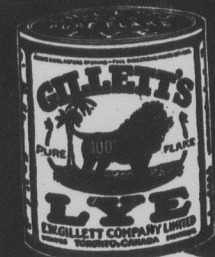

"You are making a great mistake, Wolff," Seaman declared angrily. "I am your superior in the Service, and your attitude towards me is indefen- sible."

"If the gentleman would only be- lieve," the culprit begged, "that he is mistaking me for some else!"

There was trouble in Seaman's face as the two men made their way to the front of the house and trouble in his tone as he answered his companion's query.

"What do you think of that fellow and his visit?"

"I do not know yet what to think, but there is a great deal that I know," Seaman replied gravely. "The man is a spy, a favourite in the Wilhelm- strasse and only made

Five Easy Recipes For the Fish Course

Codfish Tarts
Boil a pound of codfish and carefully flake it with a fork. Make a rich cream sauce and add to it the juice of an onion, juice of half a lemon, a teaspoonful of chopped parsley, a tablespoonful of washed capers halved, pepper, salt and a quarter teaspoonful of sugar. Add the fish. Line deep tartlet pans with the mixture, lattice the tops with tiny strips of paste and bake until the crust is done. Garnish with a spray of fresh watercress. Serve deviled eggs with the tarts.

Savory Sole
Select a thick, heavy flounder and have it filleted. Rinse the fillets, then poach them in hot water to which add a half teaspoonful of salt and a tablespoonful of vinegar. When done lift with a skimmer to a buttered dish that will stand over heat. Sprinkle with the juice of a half lemon and a half onion. Bake five minutes, dredge with a little flour and cook until a delicate brown. Serve in the dish that the fish is cooked in, and garnish with sliced lemon dipped in chopped parsley. Serve mint jelly and broiled potatoes with the dish.

Salmon Fritters
Flake finely a small can of salmon which should yield about a cupful. Have ready a batter made of a level cupful of flour, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, a teaspoonful of cornstarch, a saltspoonful each of salt and sugar, one beaten egg, a tablespoonful of melted butter and a half cupful of milk. Beat the batter very smoothly, then add the flaked fish. Drop by spoonfuls in hot fat and cook a delicate brown. Serve the fritters in a napkin with tartar sauce.

Scalloped Fish in Ramekins
Take cold fish left from boiled or broiled fish and flake enough to make a full cup or a little more. Add to the fish a half cupful of crumbs, a beaten egg, juice of an onion, a chopped hard boiled egg and a teaspoonful of finely minced red pepper. Fill buttered ramekins lightly with the mixture and add a tablespoonful of cream to each one. Bake ten or twelve minutes or until they are a delicate brown. Garnish with parsley.

Cod in Tomato Jelly.
Cook a can of tomatoes with celery, parsley, peppers and seasoning.

Add a half packet of gelatine and when melted strain the mixture over a cupful of cold flaked fish. Turn into individual moulds and set to harden. Serve on lettuce leaves.

To Solve the Problems of New Household Fabrics

There is no reasonable excuse for shabby curtains, hangings or furniture coverings. In these days, for materials are most fascinating and offered at prices that fit all pocket-books. If one wishes to be individual, she may get plain linens, crash, casement cloth, cotton materials or upholstery canvas, style her own stencils after individual designs and thus achieve effects that are distinctive.

The stencil outfit is simple and cheap to acquire. The stencils are to be had at art shops in many designs, but if cut at home the paper for them may be purchased already prepared, or it may be done at home by taking a cartridge paper and treating it to a coat of raw linseed oil on both sides. After the pattern is drawn it should be cut carefully with a sharp stencil-knife. The edges must be cut sharply and not ragged. A round brush is used like a stiff shaving brush, and the stencil plate must be kept wiped clean with a soft cloth so it will not blur the pattern in any way. Satins and shiny surfaces are hard to stencil, for they do not absorb as readily and it takes a practiced hand to be successful with them.

French percales are attracting attention among curtain materials and show many charming patterns. English chintzes are more popular than ever this season and many have most interesting and softly colorful designs taken from Chinese porcelain and old tapestries. Early colonial linens show the familiar thistle, wheat and corn-flower designs on soft nut-brown backgrounds. Cretonnes are suitably patterned for nearly all uses and the dark well covered grounds are serviceable where they are likely to have hard usage.

Bedroom curtains made of white cretonne or muslin are daintily ruffled with organdy in sunset colors. Ruffled top and bottom with rows of narrow ruffles between, they are dainty. Net curtains applied with cut-out designs of cretonne are new and quite unusual in appearance. To have the curtain individual they must be done at home, the work is easy to do and can be done in border formation, or in all over design depending on the style of the cut-outs.

The rubberized chintz that comes for bathroom curtains and for the shower curtain, may now be had in several patterns and it can be made to order to match the color scheme of the bathroom. Tie-dyed curtains in a light weight quality of cotton crepe are among the unusual things of the season. Art shops and individual makers are creating designs that are unique and in colors that are not to be had in any other way. Shaded curtains are a fad and they are very effective if the shading is not too dark, though the dark set part is always placed at the bottom of the window. The crepe in the shade had the material for this use as it comes in cobweb texture.

Curtain trimmings and tie-backs are of importance in the finishing of modern curtains and they are a study for those who know little about their infinite variety and the appropriateness of their use. One decorator who used pansy-shade tie-dyed curtains, cut the flowers from large sized pansy cretonne and mounted them on a stiff backing of crinoline for the tie-backs and secured a most charming effect which made the windows look unusual and French in conception. It is these odd touches that make a room attractive.

Where chintz is used in the bedroom, the dressing table is trimmed with it and it is used for a bedthrow as well. The chintz spreads are frequently trimmed with ball fringe dyed to match the most prominent color in the pattern.

A curious profession for a woman is that of a dinner taster. She is a product of Parisian refinement and spends a portion of each day visiting houses and tasting dishes intended for dinner. She suggests improvements and shows the cook new ways of preparing dishes. The duties are pleasant and the compensation ample.

HOW CANDIDATES ARE LINED UP

By-Elections in Quebec Provincial Elections are Creating Considerable Interest is making itself manifest at both Liberal and Conservative headquarters in preparation for the by-election in five Quebec counties. The Hon. P. J. Paré, chief Liberal organizer, is mustering his forces for an intensive campaign in which the heavy artillery of Liberalism will be ranged against the Conservative forces, headed by Mr. C. J. Lockwell.

The last Liberal convention was held yesterday in Ste. Anne, where Mr. J. H. Dillon was nominated to bear the Liberal standard. His opponent will be Mr. P. Monahan.

BUY-AT HOME AND MARITIME-MADE

Report of Hon. Dr. Foster, Chairman of Executive Committee

St. John, N. B., Oct. 28.—Hon. Dr. W. E. Foster, chairman of the executive committee of the "Buy-At-Home and Maritime-Made" campaign submitted a report on Friday showing that the movement was receiving strong support from merchants and various organizations and was meeting with gratifying success.

The Board of Trade, Retail Merchants' Association and the Maritime Manufacturers' Association have endorsed the movement which has proved popular in the three provinces. R. A. Macaulay had been well received in Halifax and A. L. Crosby, also acting on behalf of the committee, obtained strong endorsement from the St. Stephen Board of Trade and Mayor De Wolfe.

Representative men have spoken publicly on behalf of the campaign, business houses have distributed campaign literature in their mail bags and in a number of towns there have been displayed cards advocating the buying of Maritime-Made Goods.

Marked co-operation had been received from Mayor Pitts and J. D. McKenna, M. P., and support had been given by Sir Douglas Haas and Hon. Fred Magee, Hon. J. A. MacDonald, Minister of Public Works, and Hon. J. E. Hyatt, Minister of Agriculture. P. E. L. had greatly benefited the movement. Hance J. Logan, M. P., had been a strong supporter and although in its infancy the movement had already been responsible for improvements in its appeals both to reason and sentiment of our people and endeavored to inspire a resolute desire to support and encourage our manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers, by purchasing the products of our own business organizations. It inspires the consumer to make a real effort to spend as much of the yearly outlay in such a manner that the money spent will remain currently active within the Maritime Provinces. It impresses the fact that prosperity and expansion depend upon ready markets for the products of our workers and that the home market is of first importance.

LINER CUT BIG WHALE IN TWO

Berengaria Struck Giant Fish Death Blow, Off the Banks

The officers of the Cunarder Berengaria and Cherbourg, recently told how a mammoth fish met the mammoth liner at the tail end of the Grand Banks, Wednesday morning and what happened.

According to Chief Officer E. J. Rodgers, the whale was a 20-tonner and fully 80 feet long. The Berengaria was steaming at 23 knots and, with the weight of 75,000 tons of steel and iron behind her stem, struck the giant fish a death dealing blow just behind its midships. The shock was not felt at all on the liner. He believed the whale had died and was coming to the surface when the Berengaria struck it. The sea was dyed red for several feet and the whale was bent like the letter "Y" as it passed along the star-board side, and was only hanging together by a few feet of blubber and skin. The incident occurred just before 8 o'clock in the morning when there are not many of the first cabin passengers on deck. Capt. Irvine, the master of the Berengaria said that he had been nearly 40 years at sea in sailing vessels, warships, and steamships, and it was the first authentic case he had ever known of a big liner striking a whale.

The candidates will line up as follows on nomination day, October 29th:

Liberal: County: Opposition Quebec
E. Bedard L. Bastien
P. E. Cote Dr. L. P. Desy
A. E. Guillemaud G. E. Ladouceur
C. E. Therrien A. C. Crepeau
J. H. Dillon P. Monaghan
Ald. Lesage, assistant Liberal organizer, returned from St. Maurice County yesterday afternoon where, he believes, the Liberal candidate will attain an easy victory.

Dr. F. V. Faucher, M. L. A., for Quebec Centre, will be the speaker at a meeting of the St. Jean Baptiste Section of the society of the same name to be held in the Manoir Montmorency.

N. B. POTATOES ARE GOING TO ENGLAND

Must Pass Rigid Inspection Before Shipment to Ensure Entry

Fredericton, N. B., Oct. 28.—New Brunswick potatoes are allowed entry to the British Isles provided they are successful in passing the customary examination and certification prior to shipment.

This was the substance of a message which has been received by Harvey Mitchell, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, in reply to inquiries made of the Federal Government of Agriculture at Ottawa as a result of information received by the Provincial Department in connection with a consignment of 10,000 barrels of potatoes which were ready for shipment to England but which had been held up when the shippers were advised by the steamship company that a ban existed against the import of Canadian stock into the British Isles.

CARIBOU INCREASE NOW APPARENT

Protection of Animals is Having Effect—Herd of Nine Recently Seen on Tobique

(Fredericton Mail)
Reports of Chief Game Warden L. A. Gagnon indicate that caribou are showing signs of increase this season. Two animals have been protected for some years and still are protected. The possibility is that in time the caribou will become plentiful enough to permit hunting. Game Warden Gough of Tobique has informed the Chief Warden that he recently saw a herd of nine caribou in his territory. That was about a week ago and earlier in the autumn the caribou were seen in the same section. It is three years since they were first observed in the Tobique country. The increase which has been noticed is believed to be the result of breeding and not of migration. This is very encouraging.

Originally the caribou returned to New Brunswick from Quebec via the Matapedia Valley. It is believed that they came from the Gaspé Peninsula. Some years ago New Brunswick was an excellent caribou country and may be again. The animal has a migratory instinct and frequently changes its district of habitation. A theory which is strongly supported by fact is that with the increase in the number of deer the caribou move out of deer infested country.

ASKS INFORMATION OF LOST BOAT

Sailed from Iceland in August and Has Not Been Heard of Campbellton, N. B., Canada, October 14, 1924.

The Graphic Limited,
Campbellton, N. B.
Gentlemen:

Mr. Harrison Smith, editor of the Motorboat, a nautical publication issued in New York City, has requested through the Department of State at Washington, D. C., that any possible information be furnished regarding the whereabouts of the Norwegian yacht "LIEP ERICSON." Mr. Smith states in part as follows:

The LIEP ERICSON is a 40 ft. Norwegian double-ender equipped with an auxiliary engine, purchased by Mr. Nutting in Norway in the Spring. When last heard of the LIEP ERICSON was on the point of leaving Iceland about August second. In newspaper despatches from the world-fliers dated from Iceland this vessel and her crew were mentioned. Since leaving Iceland this yacht has not been heard of although Mr. Hildebrand was to cable the writer of this letter at the first opportunity. Since the coast of Greenland seems to have been surrounded by a considerable ice-sheet at that time, it is probable that they did not put into Greenland but headed straight for the coast of Labrador, the nearest point of land, in that case, being Cape Farewell. The yacht is now apparently a month or more overdue.

I will appreciate being advised of any information that may come to the attention of any of the readers of your paper regarding the above.

Respectfully yours,
G. C. Woodward,
American Consul.

NEW PAPER PLANT FOR EDMUNDSTON

Fraser Companies and Others Interested in New Venture on St. John River

Fredericton, Oct. 22.—Fredericton men who were in Edmundston during the week-end report having seen engineers making surveys for what was said to be development of the project for construction of the proposed new paper mill across the St. John river from Edmundston at Madawaska, Me. Edmundston people told them, they say, that the survey which was being made along Church street and across what is known as the Stevens property was not for the town or for either of the C. N. R. or the C. P. R. but for Fraser Companies, Limited. The impression seemed to be that the route was being mapped out for an overhead or underground carrier, by which pulp, manufactured at the Fraser plant at Edmundston, can be carried to the proposed new paper mill, which apparently is to be erected across the river at Madawaska.

Reports which are current in business circles are that the Frasers will be one of the three interests identified with the new plant and that the project will be of extensive proportions. In this connection it is again reported that the Brown Corporation, whose interests are said to represent $65,000,000, and which include extensive holdings in pulp, paper and hydro interests in the province of Quebec, are one of the interests to be identified with the new plant.

Ranger & Aroostook Railway, which has made elaborate changes in its year facilities at Madawaska, apparently in anticipation of extensive industrial development there.
