CALL GOES OUT TO FIGHT UNION GOVERNMENT FROM SOLDIER ORGANIZATIONS

Has Made No Effort To Relieve Distressing Circumstances of Returned Men, Claims "The Veteran"—More Right To Consideration Than Grand Trunk and $2,500 M. P.'s.

The G. W. V. A. have received circulars from the official organ, the Veteran, calling for every returned man, no matter what returned soldiers' organization he belonged to, to get out and fight the present Government, which comes in for a severe criticism.

The Government is given a severe dressing down, for breaking faith and for making no attempt to relieve the distressing circumstances of some of the returned men. Parliamentary members are accused of being insincere in their expression of appreciation for the services rendered by the Canadian troops.

According to the paper, the Canadian Patriotic Association would never have been established had the Government done its duty at the start. The Veteran states that the cup of insult has been filled to overflowing by the action of the Government in turning over seven million dollars of surplus funds of the Canadian Patriotic Association for the purpose of charitably relieving starvation conditions in some veterans' families.

The Government is attacked for their obvious open challenge in refusing the returned men their sympathetic consideration. The paper states that the veteran has a great deal more right to be considered than the Grand Trunk Railway or the members of Parliament who accepted $2,500 for their work in Canada during the war.

The veteran circular goes on to attack the press of the country, saying that there are not half a dozen papers in the dominion that will fight for the returned man and expose the camouflaged statements of the Government. The Union regime is severely attacked for having sent out literature in which there were a great number of camouflaged statements concerning re-establishment. These statements, it is claimed by G. W. V. A. headquarters, will have to be offset by a dominion-wide campaign, not by the mere scratching of a name on a petition.

W. M. GUY RECEIVES NEW APPOINTMENT ON PERE MARQUETTE

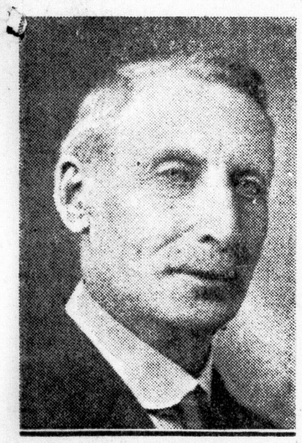

Popular Londoner Receives a Well Deserved Promotion.

GOES TO WALKERVILLE

Head Offices To Be Removed There As Soon As Possible—Succeeds R. W. Youngs.

Long, faithful and efficient service on the part of W. M. Guy of this city has resulted in his appointment to the position of freight agent of the Eastern Canadian division of the Pere Marquette Railway. He succeeds R. W. Youngs, who held the position for many years prior to his death last November.

Mr. Guy has been with the company 24 years, and has served in the capacity of chief clerk of the local division office and traveling agent since the opening of the local division office, and traveling agent since the opening of the office here in 1904. Prior to the sixteen years spent in this city he acted as agent in St.

W. M. GUY.

Thomas for eight years, and was transferred to the traffic department when the division office was opened.

F. N. Goodfellow, the present chief clerk in Mr. Guy's office, will succeed him as the travelling freight agent, and George E. Walton, late of the district freight office of the G. T. R., has received the appointment of chief clerk. There has been a general shake-up on the Pere Marquette owing to the passing of the road along with other American roads from federal control to private interests.

With regard to the probability of the local office being moved to Walkerville, Mr. Guy said the move was contemplated. It was deemed advisable to have the division office located on the company's lines. The office was located in this city during the time the Pere Marquette ran into London over the L. and P. S. R. He said that the change would likely take place as soon as suitable space could be secured in Walkerville.

GEN. JANIN BOYCOTTED.

London, March 6.—Major-Gen. Jules Janin, commander of the Czecho-Slovak army in Russia, says the Times Chita correspondent, has been boycotted by all the Russians for signing the order delivering up Admiral Kolchak to the Reds. The correspondent adds that Janin justified his action on the ground that the Reds threatened to tear up the rails if Kolchak was not surrendered, and that the death of one man was preferable to the stoppage of the evacuation of the Allied troops.

NO MORE WEDDING BELLS FOR MARY; SHE'S HAD ENOUGH

"Queen of the Movies" Will Devote Her Life To the Screen.

PRAISES FORMER HUBBY

Owen Moore a Charming Fellow, But They Failed To Agree.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 6.—Mary Pickford will never marry again, but will devote the remainder of her life to motion pictures, according to an interview she gave here last night to the Los Angeles Times. This was the first statement she had made to the press since she was granted a divorce from Owen Moore Tuesday at Minden, Nevada.

"I sought a divorce because I wanted to be free," Miss Pickford said. "Mr. Moore is a charming man and most genial, but there are many instances where even two genial persons cannot agree. I went to Minden three weeks ago with mother. I had not planned to secure a divorce at that time. I was nervous and unable to work at the studio, and wanted a rest. While I was there I was informed that Mr. Moore was not far away, working on location.

"Then I determined it was the opportune time. I had no knowledge beforehand that Mr. Moore would not contest the case, so I immediately secured a lawyer and filed my complaint.

"Some people think my divorce was secured to permit me to marry again," she continued. "This is not so. Mr. Moore and I have been separated for three years, and I wanted a divorce, but it was simply to avoid such a situation as I have found myself in today that I put it off so long."

HURON AND BRUCE IS HAVING OWN TROUBLE

No Trains On Grand Trunk Branch in Last Twenty-Four Hours.

No Huron and Bruce trains have left or arrived in this city since yesterday morning, because of the huge snowdrifts which blocked the line until early this morning. The train which left this city yesterday morning and which was stuck in a drift north of Londesboro was released a little after midnight.

The morning service both out of this city and out of Wingham was cancelled, but trains will be run this evening Although snowplows worked on the line all day yesterday and last night another plow was sent up to Wingham this morning to guard against further trouble.

The St. Marys branch of the G. T. R. suffered considerably from the storm also, but was opened before midnight Friday. The blockade was made complete by a derailment of some freight cars connected to a way freight at St. Pauls. The drifting snow hindered the work of the auxiliary. Another train was stalled at Parkhill. Officials at Stratford reported this morning that all lines on the Stratford division were open.

The C. P. R. reported several delays in its service, but that no trains were stalled.

AMERICAN DAIRY FIRM TO LOCATE IN THIS CITY

To Buy Products of Western Ontario Farmers—Build On L. and P. S. R.

Recognizing London as the sale centre for the dairy products of many Western Ontario farmers, representatives from a large dairy firm of the United States waited on Dr. Hugh Stevenson, M. P. P., yesterday to discuss the matter. This firm is most anxious to establish a branch in Canada and chose London for their headquarters. They plan to locate at some point on the London and Port Stanley Railway.

After a favorable interview with Dr. Stevenson, the representatives of the firm expect to return to the city in two weeks to complete the necessary arrangements.

ASK POWER TO DEAL WITH CIVIC QUESTIONS

Evidence of Special Meetings Shown in Advertisements.

ST. RAILWAY QUESTION

This and Other Matters To Be Put in Annual City of London Bill.

Notice of application to the Legislature for power to deal with a number of civic questions was given today by the city in a two-column advertisement. This gives evidence of meetings which were not open to the public and points to frequent caucuses in the city solicitor's office.

The application for power to deal with the street railway question is different from the proposal moved by Ald. John Bridge at the last meeting of the council. A scheme of commission government is also outlined, although this has never been publicly discussed by the council.

The clause dealing with the street railway is as follows: "Notice is hereby given that application will be made to the Legislature to authorize the city to enter into an agreement with the London Street Railway Company to increase the fares under bylaw 916, and the agreement confirming the same, under such terms, conditions and agreements as to the council of the said corporation may seem meet, after the bylaw providing for such an agreement has been submitted to and has received the assent of the municipal electors of the said city."

The clause, as moved by Ald. John Bridge at the last meeting of the city council, was: "Application for power to the council with the consent of the electors to purchase the London Street Railway franchise, if a price satisfactory to the council can be secured, or for the operation of the road on cost principles subject to a satisfactory agreement between the city and the company covering service, provision that the provisions of bylaw 916 shall not be invalid by the proposed agreement, capital expenditure for pavements, construction and other matters of operation."

Formal notice is also given that application will be made for authority to operate motor busses and for power to issue $30,000 debentures to buy four such busses.

Authority is also asked to make an agreement with the company to change the location of the track on Central avenue between Richmond and Wellington streets.

WANTS INFORMATION CONCERNING PAY TO CANADIAN SOLDIERS

A. R. McMaster of Brome Gives Notice of Question.

Ottawa, March 6.—The question of soldiers' pay and the exchange rate is raised by a request of which A. R. McMaster, Brome, has given notice that he will make in the House on Monday. Mr. McMaster asks for a copy, under an order of the House, of all correspondence, agreements and contracts, between the Government and any banks, touching upon the payment of officers and men in the C. E. F., especially as regards the rates of exchange prevailing between Canadian and British currency and the manner in which the same affected the pay of Canadian soldiers, together with copies of all departmental or other Government orders or regulations with the subject of soldiers' pay, and the effect of fluctuations of exchange thereon.

LONG TIME BEFORE GERMAN FLAG WILL BE SEEN UPON HIGH SEAS

Berlin, March 6.—Captain Persius, naval expert of the Berliner Tageblatt, discussing the position of Germany's mercantile marine, says:

"It will require much time and patience before we are again able to behold the German merchantman's flag on the high seas."

Captain Persius declares he finds it most depressing to observe the British and Japanese flags predominant in the port of Hamburg, which is now in the control of foreign interests. He predicts an over-abundance of tonnage for all nations as a result of the present building activities.

World's Worst War Is Yet To Come, When Women Will Join To Conquer Men, Says Writer

Horrible Picture Is Portrayed by Edouard Pontie, French Novelist, Who Further Claims Legalized Polygamy Alone Will Prevent Bloodshed.

Paris, March 6.—"The world's greatest and bloodiest war will be fought between armies of men and women," was the sensational prediction made today by Edouard Pontie, well-known French writer and bitter opponent of woman suffrage.

"The army of amazons will have superior numbers over the army of men," continued M. Pontie. "Women are eager to revenge the long ages of submission to man, and it is possible they may conquer.

"I believe that the only way to forestall this struggle is by legalizing polygamy, thus reducing the numbers of unmarried women. But polygamy is not practicable unless the high cost of living is reduced. A man cannot afford more than one wife at present.

"France is not the only nation possessing an excess of women over men. The same regrettable disproportion is found throughout nearly the whole of Europe.

"The apostles of feminism say that the problem will be solved by opening all avenues of work to women, so that all can become self-supporting, and have no need for husbands. Perhaps this is true, but when that condition of affairs arrives we shall no longer have the two sexes living in harmony. Then will come the frightful war wherein women will become brutalized and use all their force and artifices to overcome men.

"It is manifest that bigamy is becoming more and more common. Reports from the United States and France show this to be true."

PERU AND BOLIVIA MAY GO TO WAR

Diplomatic Relations Have Reached the Breaking Point.

La Paz, Bolivia, March 6.—Diplomatic and official circles expect a rupture of relations with Peru will be caused by the communication the Peruvian foreign minister, Dr. Melitop F. Porras, has sent to Bolivia. Anti-Peruvian meetings are being arranged, and the situation is considered delicate.

Foreign Minister Porras, in his communication, protests against an agreement Bolivia made with Chile, with a view to obtaining the port of Africa. He says Peru will never admit of such negotiations for territories belonging to Peru, and protests against the "immoral attitude" of Bolivia, declaring Bolivia's action is an insult to Chile. He recalls that Peru has made many sacrifices to protect Bolivia.

"Traffic difficulties with Russia being great just now," the correspondent adds, "it would surprise no one if Enver attempted to fly to Moscow. Indeed, he already has made one unsuccessful aerial attempt. Talaat Pasha, former grand vizier, also is in Germany."

ALLIES MAY OCCUPY TURKISH CAPITAL AS RESULT OF TURK CRUELTY TO THE ARMENIANS

London Daily Telegraph's Version of Report Is That Britain Is Taking the Initiative and Has Asked France and Italy To Co-operate in Movement.

London, March 6.—The Daily Telegraph today makes a feature of a report that the Allies have decided on the military and naval occupation of Constantinople in consequence of the treatment of the Armenians by the Turks.

The newspaper's version of the report represents Great Britain as determined to occupy the Turkish capital, and says she has invited France and Italy to co-operate, and that their replies are awaited.

TURKEY'S ATROCITIES COMMITTED UPON HELPLESS ARMENIANS MAY DEPRIVE HER OF POSSESSIONS

Cilician Massacre May Result in the Allied Supreme Council Altering Line Proposed As Boundary — France and Great Britain Are Agreed On Point, But Italy's Attitude Is Doubtful.

London, March 6.—There is likelihood that the Cilician massacre may cost Turkey much of what the treaty of peace would otherwise have left her, according to expressions heard in inner circles at Whitehall, where Allied foreign ministers continue framing the Turkish settlement. It is believed, among other things, the proposed western boundary from Enos, on the Aegean Sea, to Midia, on the Black Sea, may be abandoned and the line may be drawn much further east. This would limit Turkish possessions in Europe to the narrow peninsula north of the Sea of Marmora.

France and Great Britain are credited with being in agreement in this respect, but there is less certainty expressed as to Italy's attitude, and the matter is yet to be settled definitely. Another effect of the Cilician outrage is said to be unanimous sentiment among members of the foreign ministers' council toward totally depriving Turkey of an army and permitting her to maintain only a force of gendarmes. This scheme, which has been discussed for some time, seemed recently to be doomed to abandonment, but it is now said to be the most probable solution of the question.

BRITISH CLASH WITH TURKS.

Constantinople, March 6.—British forces in the Mesopotamian oil regions, particularly near Kerkuk and Mosul, have been engaged in constant skirmishes with tribesmen and Turkish irregulars.

The horrors of Armenian massacres and deportations during the great struggle are blandly dismissed by the Turks with the statement that the Turkish army suffered at the hands of the Armenians and that the deportations were necessary. It is also contended that the recent massacre at Marash does not approach Greek atrocities against the Turks when the former landed at Smyrna last year under orders of the supreme council of the peace conference. Nationalist leaders also say frankly that many clashes similar to that at Marash are inevitable if the Europeans insist on partitioning portions of Turkey where the Turks predominate.

AGREEMENT IS REACHED.

Paris, March 6.—Complete agreement on features of the Turkish treaty has been reached, says Pertinax, political editor of the Echo de Paris, who adds that the operation of the Turkish financial control commission will be quite distinct from the administration of the Ottoman debt. The supreme council, he says, is about to take up the establishment of a judicial commission and definitely settle zones to be accorded Greece, Italy, France and Great Britain in Asia Minor. Plans contemplated would forbid the maintenance of Allied garrisons, but Allied officers would command forces of Turkish gendarmes. These officers would be nominated by the Sultan at the suggestion of the powers.

BYRON MEETINGS IN TOWN HALL

Trustee William Neno Will Insist They Be Held There in Future.

Byron, March 6.—Wm. Neno, who headed the polls here in the election for village trustees in January last will insist that in future all meetings of the board be held in the town hall.

"The meeting held in Mr. W. R. Wadsworth's house last Tuesday I do not consider legal," said Mr. Neno today. "There was no chairman or secretary appointed," continued Mr. Neno, "and things did not look regular to me.

"Mr. Wadsworth signed several documents and passed them over to Mr. Wallace Merriam to sign, intimating that was all that was necessary in the matter. I was not allowed to see the documents. This is not the proper way of conducting the village business, and I am going to insist on the meetings being held in the town hall, one reason being that I cannot speak freely in a man's own house. I don't know when the next meeting is going to be held."

DUMPS COAL OVER STATION PLATFORM

Grand Trunk Car Breaks Arch and Spreads Black Diamonds.

When the arch on a loaded coal car broke at 8:15 o'clock this morning, the platform of the Grand Trunk station was ripped up for a distance of 200 feet. The car, which was a New York Central one, and which was part of a westbound freight train, remained on the platform for an hour, when the auxiliary came and cleared away the wreck. The breaking of the arch caused the box of the car to settle down on the rear truck. As a result, the car slewed and was derailed. The accident did not hold up the traffic, as only No. 3 track was blocked.

EX-PAPER CONTROLLER WITHDRAWS WHEN HE IS TOLD HIS ACTION EMBARRASSED BOARD

R. A. Pringle, K. C., Appeared for a Newsprint Manufacturer.

OBJECTIONS ARE RAISED

Commissioners Murdock and O'Connor Tell Him Plainly What They Think.

Ottawa, March 6.—A dramatic incident at one of the hearings this week before the board of commerce, sitting as paper controller, occurred when R. A. Pringle, K.C., who was paper controller from the creation of that office until six weeks ago, appeared before the board as counsel for one of the newsprint manufacturers.

Both Commissioner O'Connor and Commissioner Murdock questioned the ethics of Mr. Pringle's appearing in that capacity under the circumstances, and after a lengthy argument, Mr. Pringle withdrew.

The two commissioners were embarrassed when Mr. Pringle, at the hearing being opened, proceeded to present the case of a newsprint manufacturer, referred to certain statements which he said had been made during his term as paper controller.

Mr. Murdock said the board of commerce, as paper controller, had not received the co-operation it had a right to expect from Mr. Pringle as the former incumbent of that office, and added that he thought it strange that Mr. Pringle should now appear as counsel for a newsprint manufacturer to contest an order made by the board as paper controller. Mr. Pringle pleaded that his object was to assist the board. "You are embarrassing me," said Commissioner O'Connor.

Mr. Pringle then withdrew.

UNIVERSITY WOMEN'S CLUB LIKELY TO BE ORGANIZED IN CITY

Preliminary Steps Taken At Meeting Held Last Night.

FEDERATION PRESIDENT

Believes Every Graduate Owes Debt To the State.

Preliminary steps toward the organization of a University Women's Club in London were taken last night at a meeting held under the auspices of the Western University Alumnae. Mrs. R. F. McWilliams of Winnipeg, president of the Federation of Women's University Clubs in Canada, was present for the occasion. The direct result of the meeting was the appointment of the president and secretary of the Western University Alumnae to confer with graduates of the other universities represented in the city, with a view to forming a club here. At last night's meeting there were representatives from Western, Toronto, Queen's, McGill and Cornell. Mrs. Neville presided at the meeting.

Mrs. McWilliams, who has been visiting the various university centres in the East with a view to obtaining new clubs for the federation, radiates enthusiasm as she talks. She gives as the motive of a stronger union of university women in the country, not a desire for intellectual exclusiveness, but rather a desire to create a saner public opinion.

Women Should Do Big Things.

"A great many of the difficulties which confront the world today are the result of a confused mass of thinking," she declared. "People with untrained minds jump to certain conclusions and then proceed to lead masses of others like them into the same way of thinking. If we could only take the minds of college women, who have had a certain amount of training, and turn them definitely towards solving this problem, we should be doing big things for the country. The leaders of the people should be trained thinkers, and they are sadly lacking today.

"The real object of this federation of women's clubs, then, is to stimulate the interest of university women in public affairs and afford them an opportunity for expressing their opinions publicly. In addition, it is to promote the higher education of women by the establishment of a scholarship to send university women to some British university. We need the reaction of British university women on our country today."

The speaker emphasized the fact that every university graduate owed a big debt to the state for her education, and should therefore feel it her duty to give back something to that state.

By Organizing Can Serve Country.

She felt that by organizing throughout Canada the university women could best serve the country, further pointing out that this step of federating the university women's clubs and alumnae in Canada was but preliminary to an affiliation with the International University Women's Club, which was organized a short time ago in London, England, by the British and American university women.

Mrs. McWilliams also spoke briefly of the work of the Council of Fifty in Ottawa, which meeting she came east to attend, and which was an outcome of the big educational conference held in Winnipeg last June.

At the close of the meeting, a reception was held in honor of Mrs. McWilliams, the wives of the faculty of Western University acting as hostesses.

LECTURED ON RUSKIN

Miss Warren Tells Women of Great Writer's Life.

The memory of the immortal John Ruskin was brought back to the lovers of his drawings and his many books last evening, when Miss Emily Warren, historical painter and landscapist, gave an illustrated lecture on "The Haunts and Homes of Ruskin" to the Women's Canadian Club in St Andrew's Hall. Miss Warren was a pupil of John Ruskin, and therefore in a position to impart to her interested audience many intimate stories of his goodness, noble spirit and kindness, and his love of all that was beautiful.

Miss Warren, preparatory to showing the most beautiful set of colored slides shown for some time, all reproductions of oil paintings, gave a little sketch of the life of John Ruskin. The son of a wealthy wine merchant and a Scotchman by birth, John Ruskin inherited a large fortune, and early in his youth traveled extensively all over the European continent, where he made Rome, Florence and Naples his home during the time spent there. At this point of her lecture Miss Warren showed some of his best drawings, and referred to his book, "Mornings in Florence."

Pictures of Ruskin in his study at his home, Brantwood, Coniston, Lancashire and different views of Brantwood in wonderful colorings were shown by Miss Warren. At intervals she recited some of his short poems. The speaker said that few people knew that Ruskin also dabbled in music, but she had seen several of his pieces. His rooms at Oxford, where he graduated, and some of his manuscripts were among the interesting slides shown.

Following her lecture Miss Warren showed some original letters of Ruskin, and some drawings. Some of her own paintings, exceptionally good ones, were also exhibited. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered to Miss Warren by Miss Blackburn for her illustrated talk.

ESTIMATED OUTLAY FOR PUBLIC WORKS IN 1920 IS $118,000

No. 2 Committee Tentatively Approves Expenditures Totalling This Amount—$62,871 For Streets, $12,647 For Sewers and Culverts.

Estimated expenditures of approximately $118,600 for public works during 1920 were tentatively approved by No. 2 committee of the city council at a special meeting last night. Fixed charges account for $15,000 of this amount, leaving a total of $102,000. This is $40,000 more than last year, when the total expenditure, exclusive of fixed charges, was $61,357.

A notable feature of the meeting was that no reductions were made in the estimates presented by City Engineer Brazier. He stated that he had cut his figures to the very limit. Members of the committee agreed with him after they had looked over the proposed work. All salaries were left over for a special meeting. The streets general estimates were increased by $11,750. The city engineer only asked for $10,000 for gravel and $3,000 for the labor required to use it. On the suggestion of Mayor Little and Ald. G. B. Drake $6,050 was added to buy a stone crusher and $700 for two additional graders. His added equipment will supply more material, so that the labor estimate was advanced to $8,000 to cover the cost of using it.

To Commence Survey.

Five thousand dollars was added for commencing a complete survey of the city. The draft of the estimates presented by the engineer provided for $500 for completing a map of the city which is now under construction. He stated that this would be approximately correct, and would show the sewer system.

Mayor Little thought a proper survey of the whole city should be commenced.

He pointed out that such a survey is constantly in demand, and would be more so if extensive town-planning measures were adopted. Mr. Brazier said such a survey would cost from $30,000 to $40,000, and would require the services of an Ontario land surveyor for two or three years. The mayor suggested that $5,000 be placed in the estimates to get the work under way. Ald. C. G. Moorhead said that government aid could be obtained in the work, and suggested that no definite appropriation be made until it was learned what help the Government would give. Government help will be sought, but in the meantime this estimate will stand.

The members of the committee were unanimous in declaring that the streets in general should receive more attention this year.

"It is all right to put down our permanent highways as fast as we can, but we must keep our other streets in better shape in the meantime than we have in the past," said Mayor Little.

Ald. Drake pointed out that additional graders would make more work of this nature possible. At present only two were available. He moved that provision be made for two more, so that one would be available for work in each ward.

Mayor Little did not regard gravel as satisfactory for road repairing. He suggested increasing the estimate of $10,000 to $15,000, and purchasing crushed stone instead. After discussion, the estimate for gravel was retained, and provision was made for a stone crusher. It is thought that suitable materials can be obtained from the river bed, and can be broken up for road purposes.

Sewers and Culverts.

The estimate for streets was the largest in No. 2 committee's program, totalling, with the additions, $62,871. Estimated expenditure of $12,647 on sewers and culverts was next on the list. Upkeep of bridges was third with a total of $10,130. Included in this sum was $1,785 for replanking Ridout street bridge. This will not be required if the Legislature approves the building of a new bridge. New sidewalks for Dundas street bridge will cost $850. Oxford street bridge will require $4,260. This will provide for replanking the roadway and other general repairs.

Repainting Wellington street bridge will cost $550. Only small expenditures will be made on other bridges for general repairs. Ten dollars is provided for traffic signs at each bridge.

Office expenses will be about $6,373. The city's share of garbage collection charges will be $3,045; of pavement sweeping, $6,553; of street cleaning, $1,366; and of street watering and oiling, $4,800. Maintenance of the south-end bathing camp will cost $890, and of the north branch bathing camp $448.

The sum called for by these estimates is additional to that which will be raised by local improvement and frontage taxes. These latter expenditures do not affect this year's tax rate. They will be charged against the property next year when the actual cost is known.

"GENERAL" GRANT HELD ON SHOOTING CHARGE

ST. CATHARINES, March 5.—James "General" Grant, colored veteran, who won military medal in France with the 23rd Howitzer Battery, was arrested this morning, charged with shooting with intent to kill his brother, Arthur, who also served overseas. The brothers had a quarrel at their home last night. The wounded brother says James pulled his revolver three times, but it was discharged only once, the bullet going through his hand.

VETERANS TENDER A VOTE OF THANKS TO LONDON ADVERTISER

Grateful For Assistance To G. A. C. and Returned Soldiers Generally.

Organizer J. F. Marsh of the Grand Army of Canada addressed another of the reorganization meetings of the local post last night at 380 Richmond street. He outlined the drive which has been started to increase the membership and told the members to stick together and make their branch one of the leading posts in Canada.

It was reported that a communication had been received, asking for gratuity petition forms from Blenheim. Much interest in the gratuity question, it was stated, had been taken in that place.

The hall committee reported that no progress had been made in regard to permanent quarters for the association, but definite plans would be made shortly.

A mass meeting will be held in St. Thomas tonight. Organizer Marsh and G. Tustin are making the final arrangements to put a branch of the G. A. C. on a good footing in that place.

A sick committee was appointed to deal with any cases of sickness or distress among the members. Those appointed were Comrades Hardy, Williamson, Martin, Fullarton and Tustin.

Final arrangements were made for the big mass meeting which will be held in the Patricia Theatre on Sunday night, when Capt. Tupper (the fighting parson), will speak, assisted by Organizer Marsh and Dr. H. A. Stevenson.

At the conclusion of the meeting a vote of thanks was passed unanimously to the London Advertiser, for the assistance it had given to the G. A. C. and to the returned soldiers in general.

DANCE MARKS THE OPENING OF NEW McCLARY BUILDING

Delightful Evening Spent by Employees and Friends.

The new building which the McClary Manufacturing Company has been adding to its plant on the south side of York street has now been completed, and is ready for occupancy. Its formal opening was held on Thursday evening last, taking, as is customary with the company, the form of a reception-dance to the employees and their friends.

In spite of the inclemency of the weather, about 300 persons were present, and a most delightful evening was spent. Refreshments of ice cream, cake and chocolates were served from a nicely-arranged booth erected for the occasion, and the Roselle Pococke Orchestra furnished a most enjoyable program of dance music. The dancing began with a grand march led by Col. Gartshore and Mrs. Cleghorn. A temporary elevated platform had been built for the orchestra. Also men's and ladies' cloak-rooms had been fitted up for the evening, leaving nothing to be desired for the comfort or entertainment of the evening's guests. Credit is due for the completeness of all arrangements to the committee in charge, composed of George Moll, chairman, Robert MacDonald, W. H. Westbury and W. Durham.

The decoration were of pure white, in keeping with the white interior finish of the building.

Outside, the building is of red pressed brock, steel construction, with a maximum of window lighting, and with laminated floors, with hardwood top finish, throughout. It comprises basement and five floors.

In placing it on the south side of York street, adjacent to the storage and shipping building already owned by the McClary Company, it was built to conform to the curve of a new switch which has just been put in from the east, off the main line of the Grand Trunk Railway, so that goods may be loaded from this new shipping building directly into the cars. Seven cars may be loaded at one time.

In addition, the switch crosses York street, and runs the entire length of the Company's plant on the north side of the street, that is, from York clear through to King street. This section of the switch will be used for unloading raw materials directly into the manufacturing plant, which occupies this block between York and King streets.

Another new building which is now being erected at the McClary foundry plant will be ready for opening in about two weeks, it is expected.

TO USE SURPLUS OF RED TRIANGLE FUND TO TRAIN VETERANS

Money Will Be Distributed To "Y" Branches For This Purpose.

A considerable money surplus remaining in the hands of the national council of the Y. M. C. A., representing the unexpended balance of the Red Triangle Fund subscribed for work among the Canadian troops during the war, is to be distributed among the various "Y" branches to be used in educating returned soldiers. A proportion of this money will be available for the local branch, which will apply it to retraining courses for veterans. The schooling, which will be given, will follow the general lines of the D. S. C. R. courses, but will not be only for men who are unable to follow their former occupation owing to disability.

Instructors will be procured for the courses, which will not be confined to a certain number, but will conform to the wishes of the men as to what courses they wish to take. It is considered too late now to commence the classes this winter, so they will be held over until next fall.

The soldiers will be required to pay a certain deposit on starting the course. If 75 per cent of the lectures are attended the money will be refunded; otherwise 25 per cent of the cost of the training will be charged up to the student.

Commercial and technical classes will be held at night, so that the men will not have to leave their present work to attend the school.

The decision as to the disposition of the fund was reached by the national council after considering the best way of helping the returned man to re-establish himself, as the fund was originally subscribed for him.

FREE LECTURE WELL WORTH HEARING

Mr. W. C. Goffatt, who spent four years in the great Peace River country, will lecture on the present and future possibilities of the district. Mr. Goffatt will speak of the 35,000,000 acres of agricultural land, equal to that of old Ontario; the great mineral resources; the fine waterways; the pleasing climate and the unusual activity by large and small companies and private interests, at present developing what eminent geologists say are the largest oil pools in the world. Mr. Goffatt was formerly mayor of Orillia, and has given several lectures since his return from Peace River, on which he has been complimented on the valuable and instructive information he has given. One should certainly know all about the natural resources of this country, and this is a splendid opportunity for London people to get a lot of valuable information on the Peace River country. This lecture will be held in Hyman Hall on Tuesday evening, March 9, at 8 o'clock.

G. R. AND L. E. AND N. RAILWAYS TO SPEND $1,500,000 ON ROADS

Extensive Improvements To Be Carried Out During the Summer.

GALT, March 5.—An important announcement was made today by Manager M. W. Kirkwood of the Grand River and Lake Erie and Northern Railways to the effect that these companies would during the coming summer spend $1,500,000 on improvements to their lines. Work is to be started immediately, contracts having already been awarded for some of the new work, and tenders are now being called for new rolling stock and equipment. The greater proportion of the appropriation will be spent on the Grand River Railway line on which little money has been spent since the outbreak of the war. Manager Kirkwood recently interviewed the head officials of the C. P. R. at Montreal, presenting his plans of extensions and improvements which was approved, and final confirmation has just been received.

The G. W. V. A. this evening entertained the members of the Burns Club at a social gathering. Cards, games and refreshments were on the program.

Fevers and Other Prostrating Diseases That Exhaust the Blood.

There is often that extreme tired feeling, loss of appetite, tendency to anemia, nerve exhaustion, inactive bowels, constipation and great danger of still further prostration and serious illness.

Hood's Sarsaparilla first works upon the blood. It is remarkable how promptly its purifying, vitalizing effects are noticed. It "makes food taste good," promotes assimilation so as to help secure the greatest nourishment possible, promotes digestion. Nerve strength and cheery health inevitably follow, further danger is avoided and the glad-to-be-alive feeling again prevails. To read this is well, to realize it yourself is better.

OXFORD COUNTY HAS NO CASES FOR COURT

WOODSTOCK, March 5. — Oxford County's record in civil and criminal cases this year is a clean one. For the session of the supreme court of Ontario, with jury, which onens here on Monday, March 8 there are no cases on the docket. Hon. John F. Orde, successor to Mr. Justice Falconbridge, is to preside and R. N. Ball has been appointed counsel for the crown. Under the circumstances notices have been sent to the jurors not to attend.

The local board of health has decided that the ban on children who have not been vaccinated and who consequently have not been allowed to attend school, will be raised on March 13, providing no new cases of smallpox develop in the meantime. At the present time there are no cases of smallpox in the city, and no cases of diphtheria. There are a few cases of scarlet fever, however.

PLANNING TO BUILD 50 HOUSES AT INGERSOLL

INGERSOLL, March 5. — Definite developments are expected in connection with the movement for the erection of 50 houses during the coming summer. The recommendation was made recently, following a citizens' meeting that the housing commission undertake the erection of this number. As a result of further consideration of the matter a deputation will wait upon the Government at Toronto on Monday relative to securing an additional loan. Of the amount approved for house building last year only $55,000 remains, which is insufficient for this year's work.

The death of Mrs. Todd, wife of John Todd, formerly of West Oxford, occurred suddenly yesterday at Owossa, Mich., where she had been residing for several years. She was well known here. Her maiden name was Nettie Greenwood, and for a number of years after her marriage she resided at Swea burg.

THINK ALDERMAN WOULD CAUSE A HORSE TO LAUGH

R. E. O. Cackle At Idea of Fighting Street Railway With Busses.

THE WESTERN FAIR

Of No Value, They Say—Advice to the Grand Trunk Stockholders.

The Real Estate Owners met last night in solemn conclave, and spent much of their extremely valuable time in discussing matters of public interest.

It is not known whether the members brought hammers or axes with them to the meeting. At any rate they passed the following resolutions in due and solemn form:

Give Him Air, Boys!

"Resolved, that whereas it is said by those who profess to know, that certain things will make a horse laugh, and in the event of a prize being offered for the best equine hilarity, this association thinks that the alderman who proposed the purchase of four gasoline 'busses and a wheelbarrow to go out and fight the street railway should receive first consideration. What must be the opinion of the street railway directors when confronted with such childish twaddle? Is it any wonder they look upon the council as a joke, and meet them with indifference akin to contempt?"

Opinions Differ.

"Resolved, that in the opinion of this association the Western Fair is of no value to London, practically or financially. It is simply a relic of the past, and its place is with the shuttle and the spinning-wheel and stack, and before another dollar is spent upon extension or new grounds, the question of retaining or abolishing the institution should be submitted to a vote of the ratepayers."

Listen to This!

"Resolved, that all the Grand Trunk stockholders need to do is to sit tight, say nothing, and wait a few years for the public ownership bubble to explode. Government management, excessive and unreasonable demands from labor, together with irregular and dismembered service to its patrons, will do the trick, and after that all they will have to do is step in and recoup themselves in the clean-up, and the precious people will be poorer, and considerably wiser."

WOMAN IS FOUND DEAD IN YORK STREET HOUSE

Mrs. F. K. Saunders Thought To Have Died in Fit.

Mrs. F. K. Saunders was found lying face downwards on the floor of her bedroom, dead, by one of her boarders yesterday at 5 o'clock at No. 5 York street.

Mrs. Saunders had been subject to fits and it is thought by Dr. Cameron Wilson, who was called, that while in a fit she died. He thinks that she had been dead for at least two hours when her body was found, and that death was due to natural causes. Mrs. Saunders is survived by her husband. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Prevent Influenza — Internal Bathing the Best Method.

Did it ever occur to you that if the system is kept perfectly clean, both inside as well as out, how much easier it would be to keep yourself free from contagion? It is only when the blood is not kept clean and pure that you are unable to throw off disease.

The great cause of impure blood is constipation, allowing accumulated waste to remain in the system, especially the colon, where the entire blood circulation passes every twenty-four hours. There, poisons are taken up by the blood and the system becomes a prey to any infectious disease that may be prevalent.

The only method of properly keeping the colon and intestines clean is by bathing internally. The J. B. L. Cascade is the only perfect appliance for this purpose, and only purified warm water is used. It positively removes constipation and keeps the system as clean and healthy as nature intended it should be.

If you want to avoid being sick or to regain your health, keep your system clean and your blood pure. Thousands of Canadians have proven this wonderful health-giving method, and scores have been restored to perfect health by using the J. B. L. Cascade without taking drugs of any kind.

There should be a J. B. L. Cascade in every home. It is being shown and explained at Standard Drug Company, Limited.

STILL IN LOVE WITH SNOWBANK

Edith Campbell Insists On Sleeping in "the Beautiful."

Edith Campbell, colored, is still in love with a snowbank at the corner of High and Chester streets, much to the annoyance of the police. For the third time in as many months, she appeared in police court charged with vagrancy. This time her brother appeared and promised that he would keep her home.

Last evening word was received at Carling street that Edith was back at the old stand again. The police car went out and as on the two other occasions had great difficulty in getting through the deep snow to its destination.

Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon decided to remand her for a week and have her examined as to her sanity by Dr. James D. Wilson, jail physician.

CASKET TO ILDERTON ON G. T. R. SNOWPLOW

Undertaker Finds a Way To Beat Snowdrifts.

Because there was no express or freight service on the Huron and Bruce lines, owing to the huge snowdrifts that blockaded the road, a casket for which an emergency call came to this city from Ilderton, was forwarded to that town on a snowplow. Early yesterday morning the wife of the station agent at Ilderton died, and it was found necessary to send to London for a casket.

The undertaker in this city to whom the request had come placed the coffin in the hands of the express company before it was known that the evening Bruce train was to be cancelled. It was discovered, however, that a snowplow was scheduled to leave this city at 6 o'clock in order to fight the drifts between here and Wingham, and an order was secured from the chief dispatcher permitting forwarding of the shipment by the plow.

1885 VETERANS TO MEET ON APRIL 7

Old-Time Warriors To Hold a Reunion, Marking Anniversary.

The members of the old 7th Regiment Association, the veterans of 1885, have planned to hold a meeting on April 7 similar to the meeting held on the same date three years ago, which marked the anniversary of the day they left London. The ranks of the veterans are pretty slim, just about 50 members remaining.

Col. A. M. Smith is president of the association, and Col. W. M. Gartshore is second in command. Others belonging to the Association who fought in the Northwest Rebellion are George M. Reid, Major John Graham, Percy Moore, Harry Bapty and A. G. Chisholm.

HARROW TO HAVE NEW TOWN HALL, CONCRETE PAVEMENT AND HYDRO

Harrow, March 5.—Harrow and South Colchester board of trade held its annual banquet Thursday night in the I. O. O. F. Hall, when about 100 men sat down to supper served by the Rebekahs. On account of the sudden break-up of the roads, the representatives of Windsor Chamber of Commerce failed to arrive. The Border City's Male Quartet arrived at 11 p.m. and were enthusiastically received. Addresses were given by Messrs. C. and P. Clarke, Reeve Ferris, Johnson, Dejohn, Durrant, Adams, Richardson and Thrasher.

As the outcome, 29 new members were secured, and a movement set on foot to build a new town hall and to boost the electrification of the P. M. Railway.

Land has gone up already to $200 an acre, and if the community can secure proper railroad facilities, Frank Clarke of the Clarke, Limited, said tonight there was no reason why land should not sell for $800 an acre in ten years.

A. P. Ferris told the meeting that he had received 69 cents a pound for his tobacco, the highest price ever paid in Canada. Reeve Ferris said the town was assured of a concrete pavement being built in the summer.

A. J. Dejohn has bought G. Michael's house at a figure that would have been considered fabulous five years back.

The Christian Science Church will have a new ceiling put up at a cost of $650.

These two contracts bring building figures for this month to a total of $9,150.

BLIZZARD CHECKS FLOODS IN EAST

Pennsylvania and Delaware Rivers Overflowed Banks.

Philadelphia, Pa., March 6.—Freezing temperatures, which came on the heels of a raging snow, wind and rain storm, were expected today to check the floods which last night broke over Eastern Pennsylvania and Delaware, causing heavy damage and driving many persons from their homes.

The storm, which raged from 8 o'clock last night until shortly before daylight, was one of the most severe of the winter. Driven by a strong northwest gale, the snow piled up in big drifts and brought the trolley service in this city to a standstill.

Virtually every stream in this section of the state overflowed its banks yesterday, and ice gorges, broken by the high water, swept away bridges and railroad tracks. Telegraph and telephone service was put out of commission in many places, and a number of towns and cities were in darkness last night by the flooding of power plants. Scores of houses along the banks of the swollen streams washed away and many mills and factories had to shut down because of flooded boiler rooms. Men, women and children marooned in their homes, were rescued in boats, some of them being taken from second story windows.

Towns along the Schuylkill and Susquehanna rivers appeared to be the heaviest sufferers. Reading, Lancaster, Harrisburg, Williamsport and Wilkes-barre reported heavy damage. Parts of all these towns were inundated, and much of the surrounding low land was under water. Most of them were without suburban trolley service.

ISSUE DEBENTURES FOR L. AND P. S. R.

City To Apply For $105,000 From Legislature.

Application will be made to the Legislature for permission to issue $105,000 debentures for the purchase of an electric locomotive and passenger cars for the London and Port Stanley Railway. Formal notice to this effect was given by the city today.

It was at first planned to have the credit of the road extended to cover these purchases. Ald. O. I. Cunningham declared that this course would be illegal and that debentures must be issued. His contention evidently proved correct, judging by the notice of application today.

LONDON CONTROLS HAMILTON DIVISION OF GRAND TRUNK

Change Decided On At Meeting in Toronto Yesterday.

As a result of a meeting of a Grand Trunk superintendents in Toronto yesterday an announcement has been made that the London and Hamilton divisions of the road are to be amalgamated and will be controlled by the London office under the supervision of C. Forrester, superintendent of the local division. While much heavy business will be added to the local division many miles of rails that have been for several years under the control of London will now pass into the jurisdiction of Stratford.

The arrangement will be the same as that which prevailed prior to 1913, when a change was made. There will be no Hamilton division, and the headquarters in that place will pass out of existence. While the traffic in the London division will be much heavier, the district will contain practically the same mileage as during the past few years.

The local division will now consist of the lines running between Sarnia Tunnel and Niagara Falls, Niagara Falls to Hamilton, to Toronto, Port Colborne to Dalhousie, London to Wingham, London to Glencoe, and Glencoe to Kingscourt Junction, London has lost the lines between Goderich and Black Rock, Brantford to Tillsonburg Junction, Tavistock Junction to Port Dover, and Simcoe to Port Rowan.

SUSPENDS SENTENCE

John Donohue and O. Harrison Allowed to Go in Court Today.

John Donohue and Oswald Harrison, who were convicted in police court a weeks ago of stealing brass from the C. P. R., were let go on suspended sentence by Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon this morning.

Crown Attorney J. B. McKillop was willing that this should be done. Chief of Police W. T. T. Williams also favored letting the men go.

Donohue's case was unfortunate, the court thought, as he had a physical disability. He had been in court several times, but had not been convicted of an indictable offence.

"Liquor seems to be your chief trouble," remarked the court.

"It's my only fault," responded Donohue.

"You are quite able to support yourself," said Magistrate Graydon to Harrison. "If I suspend sentence and you are suspected of anything at any time you will be brought and sentenced on this charge."

WEAK, NERVOUS CHILDREN QUICKLY GAIN STRENGTH UNDER FOLLOWING PLAN

Nervousness, just like weakness, is a family predisposition. We inherit tendencies to disease just as we inherit physical resemblances. The strain of study, social duties, work at home—these all tend to make nervous troubles among children. No wonder that St. Vitus Dance, Epilepsy and constant headaches have become alarmingly common. Pale, nervous, listless young people are met everywhere.

It is nothing short of criminal for parents to neglect signs of weakness in their children. By ignoring the slightest symptom of nervous or mental strain, you may condemn your child to lifelong invalidism. If any member of your family complains of headaches, fear of going into dark places, give them that wonderful tonic. "Ferrozone." Strength of body and mind, hardy nerves, ability to study with comfort, all the attributes of health quickly follow the use of Ferrozone. It establishes strength, color, endurance, vim—does this by filling the whole system with nourishment and tissue-forming materials.

It's because we know the enormous good that Ferrozone will do, because we are sure every child and even grown folks will be permanently benefited, that we urge you to give it a trial. All dealers sell Ferrozone in 50c boxes, six for $2.50, or direct by mail from The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

RAILROADS TIED UP BY STORM OF WIND, RAIN, ICE AND SNOW

No Train Reached Wingham From London; One Passenger, Two Freights Stalled.

Wingham, March 5.—Only the snowplow passed through here today on the C. P. R. Teeswater-Wroxeter branch, and only one train got through on the Palmerston-Kincardine branch of the G. T. R., owing to the severity of yesterday's storm, which refilled many of the snow cuttings with drifted snow and coated the rails in the open spaces with ice.

No trains have arrived here from London for nearly 24 hours, though three are stalled in drifts between Clinton and Denfield—one passenger train and two freights. It was reported here tonight that the snowplow and two engines left London at 6:30 p.m., with Engineers Carson and Hunter in charge, with orders to open the whole line.

Farmers who have been able to get into town declare that last night's storm has made the country road impassable for milk or mail drivers. The storm is still raging this afternoon.

WOULD HAVE JUDGES DISPOSE OF ALL THE CASES ON DOCKET

R. L. Brackin, M.P.P., Declares Hardship Is Caused Litigants by Postponements.

CHATHAM, March 5. — R. L. Brackin, M. L. A. for West Kent, expects to introduce a bill at the coming session of the Ontario Legislature, to provide for legislation which will insist upon Ontario judges disposing of all cases slated for trial in courts of various towns before an adjournment is made. In an interview today, Mr. Brackin pointed out that as a general rule a judge stays in a town about a week, and invariably leaves before all the cases have been dealt with. When a case is not reached, and has to be laid over to a subsequent session, the delay is an annoyance as well as a source of expense to the litigating parties. He cited the case of Bruce Bradley versus the Bailey Tobacco Company, slated for trial here, which was adjourned to the Sarnia court, and which on two subsequent occasions had not been reached.

The member for West Kent is of the opinion that crown attorneys and magistrates should not be allowed to practice law in a private way, and has intimated that he may introduce a bill to provide for such legislation. Mr. Brackin will also urge free text books for children in the public schools, a matter which was strongly recommended at a mass meeting of workingmen recently held here.

FORETELLS A FLOOD.

Henry Cartier, keeper of the lighthouse at the mouth of the River Thames, predicts a serious flood if the river ice should break up quickly. He stated today that Lake St. Clair is still frozen solid, with ice in many parts three feet thick. Owners of farms on the banks of the Thames, particularly near Prairie Siding and low-lying Dover Township lands, are alarmed at the prospects, and are being urged by the lighthousekeeper to adopt protective measures for their livestock in the event of an early break-up of the river ice. Near Prairie Siding the river is very winding and ice jams usually occur during a freshet. The lighthouse-keeper reports that the dangers have been added owing to the fact that no ice-breaker has been at work at the mouth of the river this winter.

The Gray-Dort Motors, Limited, intend to remodel the old brick school house at the corner of Park and Centre street to serve as a club-house for Gray-Dort employees. The club is part of the employees' welfare scheme which has been inaugurated.

MUST LEAVE WALLACEBURG.

Stanley Wztukuse, an Austrian, after spending a week in jail on a vagrancy charge, was released today on his promise not to live in Wallaceburg, as his presence there might be an embarrassment to a young married couple. The alien was arrested on the complaint of the husband, who alleged that his bride of one month ran away with the Austrian, and registered at a local hotel as man and wife.

The local Retail Merchants' Association has indorsed a recommendation of City Engineer Adams that a new rapid and gravity filter system be constructed at a cost of approximately $336,000, as a solution to the city's water problem. The water commission will not act on the report until recommendations are received from the board of health and the chamber of commerce. Chairman Westman is of the opinion that the Lake Erie scheme should be reopened.

DEATH OF MICHAEL CASSIDY.

CAYUGA, March 5.—After a brief illness, Michael Cassidy, one of Cayuga's most highly-esteemed residents and a member of the town council, died at his home Thursday forenoon. The immediate cause of death was a paralytic stroke. Deceased was in his 69th year, and had lived in Seneca Township all his life, until coming to Cayuga about five years ago. He was unmarried and is survived by one sister, Miss Ellen Cassidy, who lived with him. The funeral takes place on Saturday to St. Stephen's Church and thence to the R. C. Cemetery.

Owing to the illness of Rev. W. Y. Fidelis, who is suffering from a nervous breakdown, the Methodist Church will be closed for a couple of weeks. His many friends are pleased to know that the little rest he took with his brother at the Canboro parsonage has had a beneficial effect and that another rest with friends in Rainham will, he hopes, fit him again for his clerical duties.

A most interesting afternoon was spent at the home of Miss MacFarlane on Wednesday, on the occasion of the monthly W. M. meeting of Knox Church. Mrs. G. Herod led and a number of other members assisted. Mrs (Rev.) W. G. Blake will lead the April meeting.

WALL STREET.

New York, March 6—Wall Street, 10:45 a.m.—Because of the storm and consequent interruption to suburban traffic, the opening of the stock exchange session today was postponed until 10:30 o'clock. First transactions showed a preponderance of declines, although these were mostly fractional. Mexican Petroleum was the only marked exception at a loss of 1¼ points. This was soon recovered, motor issues and their specialties leadin gthe moderate rally. Trading was very light and restricted to speculative issues. Exchange on London reacted 5c from yesterday's final price in preliminary quotations.

WEEKLY FINANCIAL REVIEW.

New York, March 6.—Wall Street Weekly Review).—A sudden uprush in foreign exchange which brought the pound sterling some fifty cents over its low record of a month ago, and concurrent in rates to the other allied countries, were the foremost features of the week in the financial market.

The rise was attended by circumstantial reports of early gold imports on a huge scale from England and possibly France, but these were almost entirely discredited in high bankers' quarters.

International financiers are agreed that the foreign credit situation weighs heavily over the world's commerce, but over that the British trade balance is in process of rapid readjustment, with marked betterment in the French situation.

There was a pronounced slackening of business in stocks, which were irregular at best, save for resumption of pool operations in motors, oils and affiliated issues. Reasons for the strength of these shares were furnished by further advances in oil products, crude and refined, pressure of activity reported by automobile manufacturers and rumors of higher prices for motor accessories.

Rails derived little benefit from their return to private ownership, although low-grade issues were occasionally active at moderate advances. The decision of the United States supreme court in the United States Steel "trust" case came as a pleasant surprise to leading industrial interests, but was without material influence as a market factor.

Rates for call loans eased in the latter part of the week, but in no other branch of the money market was there any alteration from the stringent conditions of the past month.

May rye opened unchanged at $1 85.

The Methodist Ladies' Aid met at the home of Mrs. T. H. Moloy Wednesday afternoon. There was a good attendance. A "ten cent tea" was served by Mrs. T. H. Moloy.

Mrs. F. Tuck left today en route for England. She expects to set sail from New York on Saturday.

The funeral of Mrs. George Williamson, Lake Shore road, took place on Wednesday from her late residence to Ravenswood Cemetery. She is survived by her husband and three small children. WALKERVILLE MAN ROBBED BY BANDITS; THIEVES GET $400

Border Utilities Commission and Windsor To Hold Joint Conference.

WINDSOR, March 5.—Members of the Windsor water board and the Essex Border Utilities Commission are to confer on Saturday in an effort to bring about an amicable settlement in the controversy involved in the proposal of a joint metropolitan system of water supply to serve the nine border municipalities. Following the return from Toronto of Secretary Baxter and Solicitor Sale of the Essex Border Utilities Commission where they went to give evidence in the hearing of Windsor's appeal against the apportionment of costs and the valuation alloted for the city's present plant, negotiations were opened for the joint conference of the two boards. The members of the water board met "en camera" at the city hall today and agreed to confer with the utilities commission tomorrow.

HELD UP BY BANDITS.

Held up by armed bandits as he was closing his store, James Edwards, Walkerville merchant, 18 Wyandotte street, was locked in a rear room, his pockets rifled of $375 in cash and his till relieved of $25 more. The police have clues to the culprits, but up to a late hour tonight had not succeeded in making any arrests.

Although the three occupants escaped when Detective Shea of the Fifth police precinct, Detroit, emptied his revolver in their direction, the Detroit police captured a flat bottomed boat equipped with runners to negotiate frozen parts of the river and loaded with 108 quarts of Canadian whiskey which the trio of rum runners were attempting to smuggle into Detroit at the foot of Lakeview avenue.

FAVOR EARLY CLOSING.

Members of the Retail Jewelers' Association of Windsor favor early closing for Saturday night, and have appealed to the executive of the Border Cities Retail Merchants' Association to agree to the demands of the clerks' union for shorter hours, particularly on Saturdays, following the example of Detroit.

Milton Alexander, prominent Detroit advertising man, has been secured by the Retail Merchants' Association to give the first of a series of addresses on various phases of mercantile business.

MUST BOIL WATER.

Following a test of the city's water today, Dr. F. A. Adams, M. H. O., ordered all citizens to boil water before using it for drinking purpose. He declared it absolutely unfit for consumption. As a result of a break in a delicate diaphragm in the chlorination equipment which cannot be repaired for several days. Children in the schools were warned and told to carry the information home to their parents.

Charles W. Tarr, vice-president and general manager of the engineering firm of Morris Knowles, Limited, and consulting engineer of the Essex Border Utilities Commission, has resigned to accept a position in Elyria, Ohio, where he will have charge of the installation of a large water purification system. While here he had supervision over the building of five miles of the interceptor trunk sewer that connects the nine border municipalities. A successor has not been appointed.

WIDOW RECEIVES $1,600.

Payment of $1,600 to the widow of Maurice Small, who died January 30 of pneumonia, was made today by the Canadian Salt Company under its new group insurance plan, the deceased having been in the employ of the company at the time of his death.

Charged with breaking and entering with intent to rob, Harry Carroll appeared in Sandwich police court this afternoon, and for the first time since his arrest after a stiff battle with Assistant Chief of Police Pillon. His arm, which was seriously injured in his attempt to escape, is now practically healed.

ORGANIZE "CO-OP." SOCIETY.

Laborites and war veterans are strongly represented on the provisional directorate of the newly-formed Windsor Co-operative Society, organized last night, following an address by George Keen of Brantford, editor of the Canadian Co-Operator, who condemned the Government at Ottawa for inefficiency, charged it with responsibility for profiteering, and urged the necessity of co-operative stores as a solution.

During his address he charged the Union Government with utter lack of sincerity in its attempts to combat the high cost of living and referred to the resignation of Judge Robson of Winnipeg from the board of commerce as one indication of the Government's attitude. He charged the Dominion Government with lack of sincerity in this matter and read from a newspaper article, the reported reason why Judge Robson resigned.

He declared that the Government soothed public opinion by appointing a board to look into the matter, but held no systematic investigation of what should be charged for each commodity, with the result that the manufacturers did as they pleased without hindrance from Government authorities. He stated that last week the board of commerce took off the regulations affecting sugar and immediately the price of sugar went up. He also touched on the rent situation and compared the action taken by the British Government with the action, or as he said, lack of action, taken by the Canadian Government. He said that in this country throughout the war period, no regulations were applied in regard to rent charged by proprietors of property.

HERE TOMORROW.

J. Vernon McKenzie, Canadian trade commissioner to Scotland, will arrive in this city on Sunday and will spend all day Monday here. He has asked the local chamber of commerce to arrange a meeting for him with all the manufacturers in this city who desire to make inquiries in Scotland. He is to visit other points in Western Ontario before he leaves for the Canadian West.

MOCCASIN DANCE AT RINK.

The sudden change in the weather which turned March into its real old-fashioned character was welcomed by at least one group of citizens tonight. The local lawn bowling association had made arrangements to hold a moccasin dance at the rink, and it was at first feared that it would be necessary to postpone the event on account of the absence of ice. The sudden return of the cold weather, however, put the surface at the local rink in excellent condition, and several hundred people indulged in this novel form of sport. Hot coffee and sandwiches were served by the members of the club.

NO SUGAR FAMINE.

That there will be an ample supply of sugar in this district within the next few days is the information disclosed tonight by the local retail and wholesale grocers. Mr. Harding of the Harding Company, who has just returned from the meeting of the wholesale grocers, predicts an ample supply shortly.

SEEK SICK SOLDIER.

A telegram received by the local police today requested information concerning Frank Hall, a veteran of the great war, who is ill in an English hospital, and who is said to have enlisted from this city. Mr. Hall, as far as is known, did not reside here. The address given in the telegram is 10 Alma street, but no information can be obtained at that place.

DEATH OF MISS SCOTT.

CURED HIS RHEUMATISM!

"I am 83 years old, and I doctored for rheumatism ever since I came out of the army, over 50 years ago. Like many others, I spent money freely for so-called 'cures' and I have read about 'Uric Acid' until I could almost taste it. I could not sleep nights or walk without pain; my hands were so sore and stiff I could not hold a pen. But now I am again in active business and can walk with ease or write all day with comfort. Friends are surprised at the change." You might just as well attempt to put out a fire with oil as try to get rid of your rheumatism, neuritis and like complaints by taking treatment supposed to drive Uric Acid out of your blood and body. It took Mr. Ashelman fifty years to find out the truth. He learned how to get rid of the true cause of his rheumatism, other disorders, and recover his strength from "The Inner Mysteries," now being distributed freely by an authority who devoted over twenty years to the scientific study of this trouble. If any reader of The Advertiser wishes "The Inner Mysteries of Rheumatism," overlooked by doctors and scientists for centuries past, simply send a postcard or letter to H. P. Clearwater, 22nd street, Hallowell, Maine. Send now lest you forget. If not a sufferer, cut out this notice and hand this good news and opportunity to some afflicted friend. All who send will receive it by return mail without any charge whatever.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE CONTINUES ADVANCE; GOLD IMPORTS DENIED

New York Financiers Say Gold Shipments Improbable.

NEW YORK, March 5.—Foreign exchange continued to advance today in the face of denials from foremost local and foreign interests of any immediate prospect of European gold imports, even in moderate volume.

J. P. Morgan & Co., financial agents of the British Government here, declared that they were without knowledge of such a movement. Advices from London also pointed to the slight probability of gold shipments here in the immediate future. There were further accessions to the gold movement to South America, but trade authorities believe exports to that country will soon cease. Several moderate imports of the metal from Canada were said to be without bearing upon the reported Anglo-French situation.

Trading in British bills during the day was quite extensive, with only moderate transactions in French exchange. Operations were characterized as largely speculative and partly in the nature of short covering.

At its high mark of $3.30 for demand bills, the London rate was 12 cents to the pound over yesterday's maximum, and 51 cents above the minimum recorded on February 4. After the close of the stock market offering of bills on London forced the price back to $3.65¼ with variable reactions in French and Italian quotations.

Canadians dollars are now quoted at 88.25 cents.

MISSING WOMAN IS FOUND IN GARRET OF HER OWN HOME

Mrs. Wilmot Reid of Cottam Mysteriously Disappeared On Tuesday Last.

COTTAM, March 5.—Mrs. Wilmot Reid, whose mysterious disappearance from her home here last Tuesday caused a great sensation, was late this afternoon found by her husband in a lean-to of the garret of the house. Mrs. Reid was alive but very weak, and had apparently been lying where she was found since Tuesday forenoon. Her protection from the bitter cold of nights has been nothing more than her ordinary housedress, and she had had nothing to eat for practically four whole days.

The discovery of Mrs. Reid followed the hearing by her husband of a strange sound in the garret, which led to his making an investigation, with the result stated. The garret had been previously searched, but owing to the fact that there were no windows in the lean-to where Mrs. Reid was found only a brief glance was given to it at that time.

Immediately on her discovery a doctor was called to attend Mrs. Reid, and it is hoped that the effects of the slight mental lapse which led to her action will soon be overcome and that she will suffer no harm by her exposure to hunger and cold.

PREDICT FRESH IRISH TRAGEDY IF RIGOR STAYS

Dublin Dispatch Says Martial Law May Cause Dangerous Complications.

BLAME VISCOUNT FRENCH

London Post Says "Shameful" —Mocks Maddened Victims, Says News.

LONDON, March 5.—The Graphic today features a Dublin dispatch saying that the Irish situation is changing remarkably. The dispatch declares that nothing can avert a fresh tragedy except the utmost coolness on the part of the authorities, and that any increase in the rigor of martial law will inevitably precipitate such a tragedy, causing dangerous complications for England in America.

The chief danger, according to the Graphic advices, is on the widespread conviction that a small Dublin Castle clique is bent on getting Ireland's youth into the open, so that the morale of the Sinn Fein may be broken by bloody repression. This, however, the dispatch says, is having one good result in causing the Sinn Fein leaders to avoid provocation at all costs.

COWARDLY POLICY.

LONDON, March 5.—The speech of Sir Horace Plunkett at Dublin last night, in which he sharply criticized the new Irish home rule bill, taken with Ian MacPherson's defense of the Irish administration in the House of Commons, formed the basis of comment in some of the morning newspapers. The Daily News, severely condemning the new home rule measures, asks:

"Can the insincere jugglers who are thus mocking the maddened victims of their cowardly policy be relied upon to give real effect to the slight promise of happier development which may be hidden in its crooked promises."

The Post charges Viscount French, lord lieutenant of Ireland, with responsibility for the present "shameful" position. The newspaper tells the viceroy his duty is to order that after a given date all proven guilty of crimes of violence be courtmartialled and shot. Otherwise, the Post says, he ought to resign.

"Viscount French was appointed to govern Ireland," the Post declares. "He has failed. He must know he has failed, and it is inconceivable how he justifies his continuation in office."

MacPHERSON FOR REPRESSION.

LONDON, March 5.—Ian MacPherson, chief secretary for Ireland, rebutting in the House of Commons last night attacks on the Irish administration, said: "It is obvious we are up against a tremendously dangerous situation in Ireland." He added that the Sinn Fein had at least two hundred thousand men prepared to commit murder at any hour of the day or night.

Secretary MacPherson asserted he had received letters from loyalists in the west and south of Ireland, begging the Government to take steps to get them out of the country. The Easter rebellion of 1916 had not been stamped out, he said, and had left behind it a spirit more malignant and revolutionary than Ireland had ever known.

CANADA WANTS BACK 16,000 FREIGHT CARS IN UNITED STATES

Good Weather Will Assist Return, Says Washington.

STATEMENT MISLEADING

Canadian Association Says 16,000 Is Excess of Cars Over U. S. Total.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Canada is renewing insistently her demand that 16,000 freight cars, owned by her railways and now in the United States, be returned, and bringing pressure to bear on the car service division of the American Railway Association. It has even been said here that Canada will not permit more cars to cross the border until those in this country are sent back, although no such ultimatum has been received by the car service division.

Want Good Weather.

"The greatest relief we could have from the situation is ten days of good weather in the New England States, so we could get the cars into that territory and through to Canada," said an official today. He said the car movement to Eastern Canada was chiefly through Maine and New Hampshire, which were now ice-locked and snowbound.

"Canadian cars have been crowding into this country since the winter of 1918-19," he continued. "The weather, however, last winter, as everyone knows, was mild, and the car movement was not hampered by weather conditions."

According to this official instructions have been given to all railroads to return cars to Canada as soon as unloaded and not to use them in the meantime for other routes.

MISLEADING SAYS MONTREAL REPORT

MONTREAL, March 5.—The press dispatch emanating from Washington today in regard to the car situation as between Canada and the United States is misleading, says a statement by the Canadian Railway Association. It states that Canadian railways now have 16,000 cars in the United States. The facts are that United States railways had at February 1, 57,034 Canadian cars on their rails, and 16,000 only represents the excess balance of Canadian box-cars on United States lines over the number of United States cars on Canadian lines.

March figures wil lshow this unfavorable balance has been largely increased in February, as during that month on car orders placed by the United States Railroad Administration for delivery of 279 empty box-cars per diem to Canadian railways to offset in a measure the heavy excess loaded movement southbound, only 583 cars were delivered to Canadian railways out of a total of 8,019 that should have been turned over.

This failure of the United States Railways to meet their obligations has made it necessary for the individual Canadian carriers to prohibit the loading of their cars to points on United States lines in order to protect domestic traffic, and has placed Canadian shippers of paper, pulpwood, timber and mine products to points in the United States in a most serious situation which can only be relieved by energetic action on the part of the United States railroad authorities to have Canadian cars returned to their owners or to send United States cars to Canada to offset the heavy excess balance of Canadian cars in the United States.

SPANISH INFLUENZA

How to protect yourself against it and check an attack. . .

1—Do not alarm yourself needlessly, but be careful; follow as much as possible the elementary rules of hygiene. Treat a common cold as if it was a serious ailment and on the appearance of the first sign of fever, call in the doctor.

2—Avoid crowds, meetings, etc., as they favor contamination.

3—Breathe pure air as much as possible; breathe through the nose and not through your mouth. Seek the sun rays—they kill the germs—and walk to and from your place of business every day.

4—Keep the windows of your bedroom open at night, and in daytime those of your office as much as possible, avoiding, however, drafts.

5—Eat nourishing and easily digested foods, and chew them well and completely.

6—Always wash your hands before meals.

7—Use saline mouth washes and gargles morning and evening. (Riga Water, rich in salts, is indicated in these cases.) Use also vaporizations of liquid petroleum, containing Camphor, Menthol and Eucalyptol.

8—Keep the alimentary tract clean and healthy by taking every morning a glassful of Riga Purgative Water, which insures, without griping or nauseating, the regular and normal action of the bowels, the best protection against disease, the best insurance of health.

Spanish Influenza is a contagious disease caused by a germ found especially in the saliva and secretions of the nose, throat and bronchi. The above advice followed faithfully will reduce to the minimum the chances of being overcome by the disease.

The celebrated Dr. Metchnikoff has proven conclusively that Influenza like all other contagious diseases finds its greatest number of victims among people habitually constipated. During epidemics he advises to keep the bowels free by the use of a saline purgative water like Riga Purgative Water. Follow his advice; you will never have to regret it.

Upon hearing from you, this valuable little book of private information for men will be sent by return mail, in plain, sealed envelope. Please call or write today.

There is a new and marvelous method for restoring lost manly strength, for renewing vigor, which every man should know of, a self-restorer which operates without the use of drugs or medicines, a new way to treat yourself for your ills and weaknesses. See description below.

Please remember that a man is not one day older than he actually feels, and therefore, no matter what your age, if you are young or elderly, married or single, large or small, if I can show you, reader, how you, yourself, may actually add to your system nerves and blood, the very nerve force or vigor which may have been drained away, and which is necessary to make you strong, vigorous and capable again, then I have shown you the real secret of personal strength, and how you can again be filled with vigor, and again be just as powerful in your influence, and just as thoroughly manly in your capacity as the biggest, fullest-blooded, most successful fellow of your acquaintance.

The new self-treatment for the restoration of manly strength, to which I refer above, is a little, light-weight VITALIZING Appliance of my invention, which is now meeting with a tremendous demand, and being used by men everywhere all over the world. This little VITALIZER, weighing only several ounces, is comfortably buckled on the body and worn all night. It is so small and compact that even a roommate would not suspect that you were wearing it. If, however, this VITALIZER is small in size, it is not small in power, for it generates a great tangible FORCE, which can be measured on scientific instruments, a POWER which I call VIGOR or NERVE ENERGY, and it sends this marvelous FORCE into your blood, organs and nerves while you sleep. All you have to do is to lead a decent, manly man's life, free from excesses and dissipation, then use the VITALIZER nothing more. If this is followed out, and the VITALIZER does for you what these others say it does for them, then all the pain or weakness will disappear from the small of your back—possibly from the first night's use—and you will be restored to a strong, vigorous, manly, capable man, without a needless ache, pain or weakness. Please remember, I am not asking you to buy one of these VITALIZERS, but merely request you to first send for the free book described below, a section of which is devoted to an explanation of this VITALIZER, and gives you its whole wonderful story, so that you may know what intelligent young and elderly men everywhere are saying about it.

Create New Animal by Cross-Breeding Buffalo and Cattle

Cattalo Is Name Given To Fur-Bearing Creature.

MONTREAL, March 5. — Maxwell Graham, director of park animals, who is in charge of an exhibition of buffalo robes and heads, stated this morning that a new animal had been created, called "cattalo," by cross-breeding buffalo and common cattle. This new breed retains much of the hardiness of the bison and is inured to facing driving storms. It has a coat of shorter but glossier hair than the buffalo, and, in the opinion of many, makes a more beautiful robe. So far great success has attended the Government's experiments in the cross-breeding of buffalo and cattle, and its efforts will be carried still further. The departments of the interior and agriculture are making the experiments.

COUNSEL TELLS JURY STRIKERS AIMED AT BOLSHEVIST GOVT.

Queen Laughs At Andrews, Draws Reprimand.

ABUSED PRIVILEGES

Claims Agitators of Discontent Among Workers Misused Rights of Speech.

WINNIPEG, March 5.—With remarks leading to the general conclusion that the accused had taken part in a campaign aimed at creating discontent among the workers and inducing them to support the establishment of a Bolshevist form of government in Canada, A. J. Andrews, senior counsel for the crown, started his address to the jury this afternoon in the case of the seven strike leaders charged with seditious conspiracy.

Mr. Andrews made a start following the summary dismissal by Mr. Justice Metcalfe of the motions made by the defence for the withdrawal of the cases from the jury. He spoke for the full three hours of the session, but had not anything like concluded when the court adjourned. It is expected that the remainder of the address will occupy the full time of the court tomorrow.

A loud laugh by Alderman Queen, one of the accused, while Mr. Andrews was speaking; an indignant outburst by Mr. Andrews; a protest and explanation by Queen and a dignified but scathing reprimand for the latter by the judge provided a dramatic incident.

Abused Privilege.

Mr. Andrews was expiating on the manner in which agitators had abused the privilege of speech, and was declaring that the reasons they had put forward for getting the privilege was all "claptrap" when the accused alderman gave way to his merriment with a laugh that could be heard all over the courtroom.

Counsel up to this point had been speaking in quiet, dispassionate style, but the laughter made him flare up at once, and, raising his voice to a high pitch, he turned the flow of his eloquence directly at Queen.

"All claptrap," counsel exclaimed, even like the laugh of the man who does not realize his position, of the gentleman who sits here laughing at the jury, and who, if the court liked to exercise its rights, would be sitting in the dock instead of at the counsel table."

Queen Rose to Speak.

Queen rose to his feet to speak, but was cut short by Mr. Andrews with the remark:

"My lord, I call your attention to the unseemly conduct of the accused."

The defendant kept on his feet and declared: "My lord, I want to take objection to Mr. Andrews saying I laughed at the jury. It was his actions that provoked the laughter."

The explanation brought the following retort from his lordship:

"Very well, you had better not allow yourself to give way to merriment in the court. If you want to laugh, laugh to yourself. I don't seen anything very humorous in the position of the accused myself."

Mr. Andrews was about to enlarge on the point, but was told by the judge that the less said about it the better. The incident, however, made the air electrical.

CLOGGED NOSTRILS OPEN, BREATHING MADE EASY, CATARRH CURED!

New Method Very Successful.

It is a new method of treatment, that of medicated air, and cannot fail to be beneficial. It goes wherever air can go, thus reaching all the affected parts. It purifies as by fire, simply burning up the disease germs.

Catarrhozone is a non-poisonous and healing agent; it therefore acts upon the mucous tissues of the throat, nasal passages, and bronchial tubes, destroying all microbe life, and at the same time heals up all the inflamed parts.

As a cure for Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, La Grippe; as a strengthener for the throat, Catarrhozone cannot be equalled.

It is a guaranteed cure, and is highly indorsed by prominent physicians who use Catarrhozone in their practice.

Sufficient Catarrhozone for two months' use, price $1.00; smaller size, 50c; at all dealers.

"Diamond Queen" Takes Poison

NEW YORK, March 5.—Antoinette Bonner, internationally known as "the diamond queen," committed suicide today by drinking poison after she had been placed under arrest, charged with theft of diamonds valued at $2,000.

She was arrested in the office of Joseph B. Kislinger, with whom she was brought back from Paris in 1914 to face charges of large jewelry thefts in New York.

"You'll never take me alive," she cried as she snatched a vial from her handbag and swallowed the contents. In the handbag the police later found uncut diamonds valued at $50,000 and several hundred dollars in cash.

Miss Bonner worked New York from 1909 until 1913. She left suddenly for Europe with Kislinger in the latter year, and afterwards Maiden Lane diamond merchants announced that they had missed $200,000 worth of stones.

TO CONSULT WILSON ON TREATY BEFORE SENATE TAKES VOTE

WSHINGTON, March 5.—With another failure to ratify the peace treaty impending, Democratic senators decided today to seek personal consultation with President Wilson before the decisive vote is taken. They wished to know definitely how far he would go in indorsing a compromise, and also to have a clear understanding of his views on the treaty as a campaign issue, should another Senate deadlock force it into politics.

The only action taken on the floor was the readoption, without change, of another of the Republican reservations, providing that the reparations commission shall not interfere with trade between the United States and Germany, except by the consent of this Government. The vote was 41 to 22, six Democrats joining with the majority.

INDIANS DYING OF FLU IN THE NORTH

PORT ARTHUR, March 5.—Indian Agent Brown has received a wire from Magistrate Depew of White River which states that the Indians ar dying of influenza, and that there is no one to care for the sick or bury the dead. He asks for authority to incur expenses to care for the stricken Indians of that section.

MUSICAL SOCIETY FORMED.

Reid; secretary, Dr. W. A. Kaufman; treasurer, A. J. Collins; auditors, John Zimmerman; executive committee, the officers, C. Strahn, G. Kneisel, A. Wicker and F. Berger.

Mr. and Mrs. Jonas Snyder returned from a two-weeks' visit with their son in Brantford.

Robert Walters, for several years employed at the Glasgow Warehouse Company, severed connections and is engaged by the Peppler Bros. general store.

The funeral of Mrs. John Neeb, who died of heart-failure, was held Thursday afternoon from her residence on Dearn street. Interment was made in Wellington street Lutheran Cemetery.

HORTICULTURISTS ASK GREATER INTEREST ON GOVERNMENT'S PART

Control of Tree-Cutting — Stimulation of Horticulture At O. A. C.

GUELPH, March 5.—Local horticulturists were the guests at supper this evening of the students attending the short course in horticulture and landscape gardening at the O. A. C., in the course of which some plain speaking was indulged in as to the lack of equipment and teachers at the O. A. C. and the urgent need for developing this branch of the Ontario education department.

The chair was occupied by Prof. J. Crow, and speeches were delivered by W. W. Gammage, florist, of London; W. E. Given, manager of the John Connon Company, London; E. B. Hamilton, president of the Ontario Horticultural Association; Dr. F. E. Bennett, president of St. Thomas Horticultural Society; Lockie Wilson, president of the provincial horticultural department; ex-Mayor Carter; A. H. McLennan, president of the Vegetable Growers' Export Company, and Prof. Thomson, Toronto University.

Resolutions Adopted.

The following resolutions were unanimously passed:

"That this meeting place itself on record as being in favor of legislation compelling the Hydro-Electric Power Commission, Bell Telephone Company, Niagara Power Company and other similar corporations, when about to string wire or erect transmission lines which are likely to injure or interfere with growing trees, to obtain the permission of the Ontario Department of Forestry, the council of the municipality through which such lines may pass and the owner of such trees, before commencing such works."

"That this meeting petition the minister of agriculture for the appointment of a permanent organizer, whose duties shall be to visit different municipalities where horticultural societies do not exist and emphasize the advisability of establishing such societies, to aid in their establishment and generally to stimulate interest in horticulture throughout the province. Whereas the department of horticulture of the O. A. C., in connection with the landscape gardening division is not permitted, and facilities are not present to enable the staff to prosecute other than rural beautification, therefore be it resolved that the minister of agriculture be petitioned to grant permission and give facilities to enable the department of horticulture to advise and help in the work of horticultural societies in either town or country throughout the province."

"That whereas a great number of returned soldiers are desirous of taking up small holdings, and whereas Ontario is so situated that a considerable portion of the southwest section is especially suited for horticultural work, and is becoming the horticultural centre for the Dominion, and whereas many other of our young men in the future will naturally turn to horticultural pursuits, resolved that the honorable minister of agriculture for Ontario be petitioned to provide a more suitable building and more up-to-date equipment of glass houses, tools and machinery be installed, and that additional staff be employed, both in college and extension work."

The annual concert of the O. A. C. Athletic Association was held tonight at the MacDonald Hall, an excellent program being given by the entertainers. The gymnasium team gave a good exhibition. The Mac girls also presented some drills which were very pleasing.

FAVOR DEEP WATERWAYS.

At its meeting this afternoon the Guelph Chamber of Commerce heartily indorsed the project of deepening the St. Lawrence River, and will send delegates when the matter comes before Parliament. A strong resolution was passed, calling upon the Ontario Government to conserve the timber limits and requesting that for every tree cut another be planted.

The Wellington and Waterloo Railway wrote and informed the board that they had applied to Parliament for an enabling act to permit the construction of a radial between Guelph and Kitchener, and asked for their co-operation and assistance. No action was taken.

DEATH OF NEWSPAPER MAN.

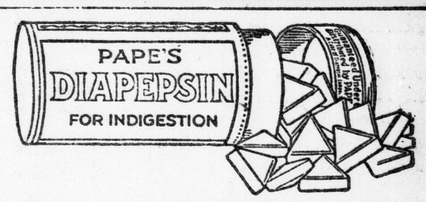

The death took place this afternoon of Donald MacDonald, a well-known newspaperman of this city, following an illness of about three weeks. He came to Guelph from Scotland a few years ago, and was a student at the O. A. C., later going into newspaper work. He enlisted in 1914, and served all through the war with the 15th Battalion, being once wounded.

Who Will Help Rebuild THE BURNED CHURCH?

On February 7, at 4 o'clock in the morning, fire broke out in the beautiful new Egerton Street Baptist Church at London, Ont., and in two hours all that was left was a heap of smoking ruins.

The church was dedicated only five years ago, since when the people, composed exclusively of wage-earners, have made an heroic struggle to pay the interest and reduce the principal. The building cost some $30,000. Insurance amounted to $20,000, which must all be paid over to the original contractors. The congregation is left with nothing—must start again at rock bottom.

Yet immediately upon the heels of their disaster, these people insisted upon playing their part in the great forward movement, and have raised one-half their objective,

AND NOT A MONEYED MAN IN THE CONGREGATION

Before the ruins were cold came offers of help. A check for $50 from a local Methodist layman was the first tangible expression of sympathy. A prominent Anglican and a Presbyterian each sent checks for $100. Last Sunday, a little girl of three presented the minister with her savings bank containing coppers gathered for months, and insisted upon the acceptance of her $3.52 to help build a new church.

Two soldiers at Guelph Military Hospital sent $5.00 and $1.00, respectively. A retired minister from a small Ontario town sent $25, regretting what he termed the smallness of his gift, and stating that his salary had stopped last April. To date, something over $2,000 has been received without any appeal having been made, but the people of this church will have to raise many times that sum, and

They Can't Do It Alone!

The undermentioned committee, acting upon their own realization of the sore need of the churchless congregation, decided to make a general appeal for assistance in their behalf, although not asked to do so.

The amount to be raised has been set at $20,000. No general personal canvass will be made, but it is hoped that the amount will be secured in response to this appeal between March 8 and 15. Checks may be made payable to "Egerton Street Rebuilding Fund," and mailed to N. Mills, Esq., treasurer, Dominion Savings Building, London, Canada. For those preferring to remit later, the coupon herewith may be mailed instead.

NO CLASS CONSTRUCTION.

Speaking Thursday night before the Middlesex Milk Producers' Association, Premier Drury gave an effective answer to those who have been accusing the premier and the U. F. O. of planning class legislation. Mr. Drury's statement of the Farmer-Labor Government's policies makes it clear that there will be no exploiting of the urban interests for the benefit of the agricultural section of the province. Citizen, not class construction, is to be the new administration's guide. No better slogan or motto could be imagined than this. It necessarily involves the co-operation of all classes and in this important hour of reconstruction is quite as applicable to the entire country as to Ontario. Mr. Drury is setting a pace with Canada's premier province that will be closely watched by the rest of the Dominion. If he is successful in carrying out his stated intentions Ontario will be giving the nation a lead that is admirable in every way. Progress we must if we are to hold our own in the industrial and social race that is ahead, but the best, safest advance will be achieved through hearty, unselfish co-operation of all elements. Get together and be tolerant of other viewpoints and the difficult problems will be solved is Mr. Drury's opinion, and his policies are calculated to promote this better understanding.

BOLSHEVISM'S GRAND WORK.

A great English newspaper, determined to get the truth about the situation in Russia, has sent a number of trained newspapermen to visit all parts of Russia and send out the facts. The first report of this commission has been published and is a description of conditions prevailing at Petrograd, the Russian metropolis and former capital. What was once a rich, prosperous, happy city, is now in the grip of starvation and diseases of many and dreadful types. The daily death rate from typhus, dysentery, cholera and influenza is over 4,000, a number so great that it is impossible to bury all the corpses after a sanitary and decent fashion and many of them are being dropped through the ice of the rivers or buried in suburban snowdrifts. The investigator found the hospitals and similar institutions undermanned and undersupplied with food and medicines, with the result that scores of patients die from neglect and lack of nourishment. Vermin has invaded the community, and the stoppage of the city's sewers through lack of the normal water supply daily causes fresh breeding spots for the pestilence. Perhaps the most discouraging feature is the profound depression that has come upon the populace. The morale of the people has reached the lowest point possible. There is no desire to fight back, none of the aggressive spirit which is needed to rescue the community from its terrible plight.

All this is what the doctrine of Lenine and Trotzky has done for Russia's greatest city. Parlor Bolsheviki and others in this happy and healthy Canada of ours, who are championing these fellows should consider the horrible spectacle of Petrograd under Red rule and cease their propaganda. There is no place in the national life of Canada for Bolshevism as interpreted by its present supreme leaders.

A CANADIAN NIGHT.

Canadian winters we admit are trying to the nerves—a source of trouble and annoyance to the stoker of furnaces, and the man who pays for the coal, but to the youthful Canadian lover of outdoor sport, a cold moonlight night on a long winding snow piled road, offers allurement that Sunny California can never hope to offer. If you doubt the statement, Mr. Pessimist, with your collar turned up and your hands shoved deep into your pockets, just hunt up that old pair of snowshoes that the dust and the attic has claimed, hustle into your woolen sweater, and take a tramp out under the starry sky. Get away from the cluttered houses of the city, leave the bookworms in their slippers before the grate, and hie off to the far fields, where it's moonlight, snow and shadow.

There's not a sound, save somewhere merry sleighbells echo, and there is not a break to the stillness of the snow-laden fields—except for the crunch of feet on the diamond snowdust which the moon weaves into a silken scarf to cover the old earth. The smoke from a solitary farmhouse, tucked cosily amongst the pines, like a sleepy child, curls low, for it is a cold night, and there's a nip and string to the air that makes one step briskly. Sometimes a faithful old collie comes—a black speck in the snowy whiteness of the farm lane, and pokes an inquisitive nose into our hands and then hurries back again to his vigil.

On goes the tramp—past the trees—tall sentinels of the road, their black limbs edged with little lacy outlines against the grey of the sky. Around the bend in the road one catches the first glimpse of the lights of the city, like a necklace of pearls.

Five miles of the most wonderful medicine nature distills—fresh air, and with cheeks like two Canadian Spies—an appetite that only old winter can give an edge to, eyes a-sparkle, blood coursing merrily, you seek the warmth of the burning embers of the cosy fireside.

"INDUSTRY AND HUMANITY."

ARTICLE NO. 13.

INVENTION AND DEVELOPMENT ON LARGE SCALE.

During the past century the influence of inventions and the development of business on a large world-wide scale have made industry as it affects humanity a moving picture. A little over a hundred years ago there was no steam navigation. If steamboats and railways were stopped, and the world turned back to the old way, what a different world this would be. We take them as naturally as air and light. We do not realize how the world ever got on without them. We look on electricity in much the same way. And so on with many inventions. How few printers of today using the linotype, remember the consternation its introduction brought to the printers of a former day, who could carry a rule in their vest pocket, all the tools they needed, and move from place to place, with the certainty that they could get as much work as they needed, as a sub, as long as they wished to stay in any one place. How many men who leave at nine in the morning, go to Toronto, transact their business and reach home at nine the same night, stop to think that men still living took two days to go by stage coach, and two more to return, spending about a week to do what is now done in a day.

Mr. King says with reference to invention and the development of industry on a large scale:

"If antagonism to invention has been considerable, how much greater has been the opposition aroused by the development of the organization of industry on a large scale? Possibly no prejudice has surpassed in intensity that which has been felt against 'capitalism'. Nor are there lacking ample grounds for the prejudice. In the first place, the substitution of large scale organization in industry for the domestic system, made possible by capitalist direction in the last century and a half, has wrought more change in the social order than the combined forces of many preceding centuries. The transition has been accompanied by inconceivable hardship and injustice. The large scale organization of industry has been mainly, if not all but exclusively, responsible for the shifting of industrial processes, the divorce between agriculture and manufacturing, the congestion in cities, the rivalry between men and machines, the increased competition between foreign and domestic labor, and the competition of women and children with men. It has helped to break up communities and households, and to scatter their families over all quarters of the globe. Worst of all, it has occasioned the instability characteristic of modern industrial life, and has rendered inevitable the commercial depressions, the financial panics and the violent industrial crises which may become recurring phenomena in our times."

What was it that brought to America the great wealth engaged in its gigantic enterprises. Prior to the American war millionaries were few. Whose votes introduced that which caused what Mr. King has described, widening the gulf between the capitalist employer and employee, and involving the community in periodical industrial depression.

There are those who believe that industrial depressions will come regularly about seven years apart. There are those who believe with our banks decreasing in number and increasing in resources and power they can make or unmake prosperity. There are stages of development in industry, and to each stage a different treatment to abolish wrongs would be necessary. The banks wield a tremendous power for good or evil, and to what extent good or evil results will depend on the minds and hearts composing the leaders, and among the leaders one will likely be the leader of the leaders.

[Kansas City Star.]

Mr. Lloyd George's policy toward Russia may not suit everybody, but it cannot be denied there is something solid and British about it: if you can't lick 'em, trade with 'em.

AVOID CONFUSION.

[Hamilton Spectator.]

Now that the daylight-saving period is again approaching, it might be well to draw the attention of the Dominion Government to the fact that unless definite action is taken on this matter the people will have to submit to the same inconvenience and confusion that prevailed last year. There is still a wide diversity of opinion as to the wisdom of pushing the clocks on an hour in the spring to turn them back again in the fall. In many industrial centres in Canada workmen are inclined to favor the idea of starting an hour earlier in the morning for the purpose of getting away in the afternoon to prosecute garden work or indulge in outdoor recreation, but in Hamilton and other places the proposal has not met with approval from the majority.

If the railways are again to run on the daylight-saving schedule, while half the cities and towns remain on the old time, the deplorable mix-up of last year will be repeated. Decisive action on the part of the government is necessary to regulate this matter. To the average individual it matters little whether the daylight-saving advocates or the standard time supporters win out. But by all means let us have unity.

3,500 CADET GRADUATES WHO FELL.

[London Times.]

No more beautiful war memorial has been undertaken than the enlargement of Sandhurst Chapel. Long ago the old building was found inadequate, for in 1913 the number of cadets was increased from 350 to 700. Over 3,500 officers educated at the Royal Military College at Sandhurst fell in the war. It was they, as two succeeding commandants of the college have truly said, who made the cavalry and infantry of the old army, which we rejoice to honor under the name of "Contemptibles." How to hold them in remembrance? An architect of taste and ingenuity was called in to advise, and planned a beautiful enlargement of the chapel, changing its character where it needed changing to make it adequate, and providing for separate memorials to regiments and individauls. The estimated cost of the structural work is £26,000.

Miss Ada Ganon of Davenport gave an interesting and instructive talk on Ireland's claim for freedom, a cause for which she has been fighting for seven hundred and fifty years.

WHILE AMERICA GAGS.

[St. John Telegraph.]

As an example of the way the British are treating people who a few months ago were fighting the allied armies, Mr. Balfour told parliament recently that Great Britain had already spent nearly £13,000,000 ($65,000,000) to relieve the suffering in Vienna, where thousands of women and children have died from starvation. "We have also offered to spend another £10,000,000," he said, "provided others adequately share the burden. I do not believe any man in the house feels more acutely than I do the horror of what is going on outside our own boundaries." Mr. Balfour was loudly cheered when he said that Britons should make every reasonable effort to help, "whether the people are our ex-enemies or our allies."

HIS ONE PROTECTION.

[Toronto Star.]

A clergyman writes the Star to thank us for our editorial articles on the board of commerce. He writes as one of the "unorganized public," who finds himself being gradually crushed by the steadily increasing high cost of living. "I have nearly always voted Conservative and Union, and campaigned for the latter," he writes, "but if the Government does not heartily support the board I shall vote and use such influence as I possess against them, as for people like me things could hardly be much worse and might be better."

THE SMELL OF LONDON.

[London Sphere.]

The air of London, which we abuse for its foulness when we come into it from the country, is impregnated with character. Its public buildings, as I have indicated, have each their own atmosphere (that of the Law Courts is particularly repulsive, official and yet rather unwashed), and even its streets are so distinguished, from Piccadilly, where the motor predominates over the horse, to Guilford street, where the horse is triumphant, and to the Embankment, where the putrid mud, Thames water and sea conflict with various success according to wind and tide.

Need one stress the local odors, those which drift across Soho Square, sickly with Seville oranges or tart with vinegar, according to the activities of Messrs. Crosse & Blackwell, to the famous smell of new bread from a baker's shop? This latter, but how immeasurably more fantastic and savory, was characteristic of certain streets of Paris in peace times. Very likely these observations, set down haphazard in a frigid catalogue, appear a little ridiculous, but consider what use could be made of them by a modern continental poet who would exploit them cunningly to evoke just the right corner of London, just the right touch of cynicism or bathos.

RULES MUST BE OBEYED.

[Pittsburg Chronicle-Dispatch.]

The new doorkeeper at the local museum had evidently learned the rules by heart before taking over the job.

"Here, sir, you must leave your umbrella at the door," he said to a visitor who was going straight through the turnstile.

"But I haven't an umbrella."

"Then you must go back and get one," was the stern reply. "No one is allowed to pass in here unless he leaves his umbrella at the door."

THEATRES OF THE SIXTIES.

[J. M. Ross in Toronto Telegram.]

The marvelous development of the movie picture form of amusement, and the rapid building of many huge theatres to hold the people in the last few years, recalls the main and only theatre of Toronto, the old Royal Lyceum. Here the Holman family had, with themselves, a very clever stock company, from which many theattrical stars graduated to the larger field of patronage in the great theatres of New York and Chicago. A portion of the old building still stands in Theatre lane, between Bay and York streets.

Among the actors who won their histrionic spurs in Toronto, and whose names became household words in the amusement world, were Denman Thompson, W. H. Crane, Davidge, Drew, and in the minstrel world our home product, Colin Burgess —"Cool" was his stage name.

With what wondering delight can the old-timers recall the spectacular extravaganza termed the "Black Crook," with Sallie Holman as the Queen of the Fairies, her sister Julia attendant Nymph, jolly old Spackman, Allan Halford, graceful and distingue, Alf Holman, Andy Crane, Davidge, Lyons, Joseph Banks, and many others whom I forget, Toulmin, leader of the orchestra. What delightful hours young and old Toronto spent in that old theatre. Here the stock company, under the management of George Holman and Mrs. Holman, who presided at the piano, ran many of the popular old plays, as the "Ticket of Leave Man," "Colleen Bawn," with Crane as Myles Coppleman, who always scored a success in the song of the "Royal Artillery." Nothing was too difficult for this stock company to present, sometimes two or three different plays a week. After years of experience and the world's judgment, it was shown that the Holman troupe was an aggregation of stars which old Toronto may well be proud to remember.

THE GROWTH OF LIFE ASSURANCE NO PROFITEERING.

The Hon. Job E. Hedges, general counsel for the Life Insurance Presidents, addressed the annual gathering of life underwriters at the Astor House. He gave staggering figures respecting insurance in New York city, and among other things said:

"With the public atmosphere redolent with charges of profiteering, life insurance need offer neither excuse nor apology. I mention the word 'profiteering' because it has assumed a definite form and understanding in the public mind. It means to the average citizen a taking of money at the expense of the necessity of an individual. It signifies advantaging by another's misfortune. It means unjust acquisition without adequate opportunity for defence. It means an absence of an altruistic sense of obligation, which altruism should embrace the common purposes of social, civic and governmental stability. From all of these life insurance stands unscathed. The large increases in taxation and in expenses generally, the losses from the war, and the infinitely greater ones from the epidemic of influenza, have been met courageously, logically, instantly. There has been no excuse offered, and, except in a few instances of abnormally low rates, no increase in rates from these unusual demands upon the resources of the companies.

"There necessarily has been some readjustment in dividends, but that readjustment has been predicated on stability in the interest of the policyholder. To the individual policyholder these readjustments largely have been infinitesimal and almost inappreciable. The question of an insurance dividend or premium return has theoretically and practically been a variable one. It has been advertised as such, computed as such, and known as such. Dividends are the means of adjusting the estimated cost of insurance to the actual cost. They are a movable scale to measure and care for unusual, unexpected, unforeseeable conditions. Dividends mark to the benefit of the policyholder the advantage of years unaffected by calamity or unexpected plague or disease. Generally speaking, after-war premium rates are not greater than before the war. In fact, the present generation pays no more for life insurance than did its predecessor. There has been no advantage taken of anyone, and the recent war and all the losses referred to have merely been an incident to the theory and practice of life insurance, which every intelligent man had a right to expect would lead to readjustments, and at which every intelligent person should be surprised in consequence of the slight effect it had upon him individually."

LOVE OF THE WILD

BY ARCHIE P. McKISHNIE

He broke off, his jaw dropping. Boy sprang to his feet, his face twitching in a fury of hate. His strong teeth had bitten blood from his tightened lips. He gazed across to where the scar of civilization lay upon the Wild. The two older men glanced at each other and the father shook his head. The question asked in Paisley's glance was beyond all answering from him.

Not until the red sun had cut a disk in the misty eastern skies did Boy turn and sit down weakly on a stool. Then Paisley was the first to break the gloomy silence.

"Boy," he said, putting his hands on the shoulders of that drooping form, "me'n you have been through close shaves together; have chopped logs again the next two best choppers in Bushwhackers' Place; have hunted and fished together. And I reckon we're pals now if we're ever goin' to be. It's 'cause I've been through purty much the same thing as you're goin' through now that I want to speak a word. You've made up your mind to get even with the teacher. Boy, don't you do it—not until you're sure o' what you may only fancy now. Why, you'd finish him if you ever got started. Let me help you untangle this riddle, and let me give Simpson his deserts like a good pal ought to do."

Boy shook his head.

"Bill," he said in low, even tones, "you've a mighty big claim on me. I know that better'n you do. You know that I'd follow any advice of yours in reason, same's I've always done. I'll promise to do this much. I'll let you find for sure that he was with the gang before I do it; but it's got to be done by me, Bill."

He wrung Paisley's hand, smiling bravely, then passed into the next room.

Paisley felt in his pocket and brought forth a smoke-grimed pipe. He twisted off a piece of Canada-Green tobacco the size of a walnut, crammed it into the spacious bowl, and, applying a coal from the fire, smoked as though his life depended upon his filling the room with blue smoke in a specified time. Next, he turned to Big McTavish, who sat before the fire.

"It's funny, ain't it?" he whispered, nodding toward the other room.

McTavish drew himself up slowly.

"What's funny, Bill?"

Paisley drew his stool over close to that of the father. His face was working and the blue clouds of raw tobacco floated from his lips in mountains. He placed the stool down and, sitting on it peered into the older man's troubled face.

"Mac," he said gently, "there ain't the likes of that boy of yours anywhere on this continent. He's got a heart that's open to everythin' that needs sympathy, and he's got a heart that's hell when it gets sot on a thing. It's sot on Gloss, and I reckon no earthly power is goin' to keep them two from makin' a clean job of it. But, Mac, Boy's heart don't stop there, by a long ways. It's got a hatin' side to it, and a regular Injun-hatin' side it is, too. I'd naturally want to know that I had a clean slate with the white punter before I tried interferin' with anythin' Boy called his." Paisley jerked his head sideways. "And I reckon Gloss is his, 'cause they are just made for each other. Well, now this teacher chap he seems to think different—or else why should he interfere in havin' Gloss kidnapped away? He's just about let himself commit suicide with his conceit. He's a bad one, and maybe deserves all he'd get; but you and me mustn't let Boy at him. Now, it's for you to save Boy from himself. I'm goin' over and have it out with Simpson now, and then I'm goin' to warn him what he's in for if he keeps hangin' around these parts. Boy'll never forgive me for warnin' him, but I can't help that. I'm goin, now," he concluded, rising, "and you see that you don't let Boy out of your sight till I'm back."

Paisley reached for his cap and gun and stole from the house. It had frozen during the night, and an open slash across the creek showed where a skiff had crossed not many hours before. Reaching the clump of willows where his own canoe lay hidden, Paisley pulled it forth and crossed the creek, breaking the thin ice with his paddle. At Ross's landing he found a three-seated skiff. There were two empty bottles on its bottom and a crumpled handkerchief beneath one of the seats. Paisley picked up the handkerchief. It was linen and not of a kind used by the people of the bush. He put it in his pocket and walked slowly towards widow Ross's home. On the threshold he was met by Mary Ann. There were dark shadows beneath her eyes and her lips trembled when she spoke his name.

"Bill Paisley," she whispered, and, closing the door behind her, she motioned him into the open lean-to. "Hallibut's boat was burned last night. I suppose you know it."

"Yes, I know it, Mary Ann."

"Did you see Mr. Simpson last night, Bill?" she asked.

"No."

"Well, he went deer hunting by starlight with some men from Bridgetown, and he was hurt in some way. I heard them come back here three hours ago, and they were talkin' about it. They had a couple of extra horses with them. They took him away with them."

"A couple of extra horses?" mused Bill. Aloud he asked:

"Is he comin' back here any more, Mary Ann?"

"I don't know," she replied. "I hope not."

"You hope not?" he said quickly. "Are you sure. They do say you and him are——"

"I can't help what they say," she said wearily. "I'm glad he's gone, Bill."

Paisley stood his rifle against a tree. His face was aglow with hope.

"Mary Ann," he said gently, "you've known me a long time, and you know just why I ask this question. Has he been square with you?"

She gazed at him in wonderment.

"Square with me?" she exclaimed, and laughed. "Well, you better believe he has been."

Paisley caught the girl's hands and held them tight.

"And didn't you care for him a lot?" he asked huskily.

"No," she answered her face averted, "I didn't care for him at all. He wasn't my style, Bill."

"Mary Ann," said the Bushwhacker, "so long's I thought you liked Simpson better'n me I kept away. Now, if I could learn somehow that you cared more for me than you do anybody else, 'give my life,' as Mrs. Declute says, if I wouldn't ask you right out to be Mrs. Paisley. I've got a nice home all to myself and three old socks crammed with greenbacks made out of pelts, hid away again' a weddin'-day with you. "I somehow knowed or thought I knowed, you didn't mean right down am I to be your old man or am I not?"

"You are, Bill," she whispered, hiding her face on his shoulder.

Widow Ross, coming out hurriedly from the house with a steaming pot of potatoes in her hand, saw something that almost made her drop her burden. There stood long Bill Paisley with his arms about her Mary Ann's waist.

"Bill Paisley," gasped the widow, advancing, "you get right away from Mary Ann. Ain't you ashamed of yourself? You're old enough to know better. Now, get right away from my girl, or I'll scald you with this hot potato water.

"She ain't your girl no more, widder" grinned Paisley. "She's mine now."

"Mary Ann," commanded her mother sternly, "answer me—be you?"

"Yes, ma," answered Mary Ann, and she snuggled down again.

"Well," flared the widow, "if it's so, it's so, Bill Paisley," she cried, "you get off my property and don't you come back here no more. You kin steal a poor widder's only daughter," she sobbed, dropping the kettle and covering her face with her apron, "but you can't come here and do it. You'd better get off my place."

Paisley patted the girl's hair and picked up his rifle.

"I'm sorry you take it that way, widder," he stammered, "I hate to go, and now I smell that bacon you've been cookin' I just naturally hate to go more'n ever. I always said that widder Ross could fry bacon like no other woman this side of the creek."

"Me'n Mary Ann be the only women remember them pies you made for Mac's loggin'-bee, and the puddin' for Declute's, too."

"I suppose there's no hurry for your goin'," sighed Mrs. Ross, "and I'll own I did cook more'n enough meat this mornin'; for why I don't know. So if you want to, you kin come in and eat breakfast. But," she added, "you'll sure have to get off my property after you've et."

The good lady picked up her kettle and whisked into the house. Paisley smiled at Mary Ann.

"Yoy always have such a way of gettin' round ma," laughed the girl.

"Mary Ann, you've got a proper good ma," said Bill earnestly.

As they entered the house young Tom came running up the path.

"Isn't it awful?" he cried. "They think poor old Noah was burnt with the schooner. They found his skiff floatin' near the middle grounds."

CHAPTER XXV.

And the Day After.

It was nearly mid-day when Paisley sought his skiff once more and made to cross to Bushwhackers' Place. It had turned bitterly cold within the last couple of hours and the ice upon the surface of the creek was almost too thick to break with a paddle. Out across Rond Eau black wisps of duck were rising from the water and fluttering upward like smoke puffs, melting in a broken line into the hanging snow-clouds. Declute was standing on the opposite shore. He spoke as Paisley's boat parted the sere rushes.

"They'll all go today, Bill. By night thar won't be a duck on the bay."

"Been over to Mac's?" asked Paisley. His eyes were on the low-lying hulk of the charred schooner and his shaggy brows were puckered in a scowl.

"Just come from there," answered the other. "Seems like old Nick has been loose amongst us las' night, it does."

"Then you've heard?" Bill nodded toward the black patch on the white waves.

"It was me seen it first," replied Declute. "I seen her burnin' near mornin'. Man, but it was a wild sight! Red sky above her and red water all about her. Arter daylight come I get's in my boat and goes over to the hull. Injun Noah's skiff was there floatin' bottom up near the middle ground."

Declute felt for his pipe, and threw the charred match down with a shudder.

"You told Mac, I suppose?"

"Yep, they know it, and Gloss she is takin' on some. I guess she thought a lot of poor old Noah."

"I reckon she did," agreed Paisley, "he brought her up here nigh twenty years ago."

They found Big McTavish carrying fodder from the corn-stalk stack into the log-stable. From the chinks of the barn between the logs came the white breath of the oxen, and the chickens released from their coop ran in and out of its open door.

"Bill," said the big man, his blue eyes humid with feeling, "it looks as though poor old Noah went with the schooner."

"It does," nodded Paisley. "Mac we all know who it was burned the boat, as we know Hallibut to be, it's awful to think he would sacrifice that old man so's there wouldn't be a witness against him when he tries to prove we did it. It's awful!"

Boy came up, his face worn and his eyes heavy. He placed the spade he carried inside the stable door and turned away up the path.

Paisley stepped forward and threw his arm about Boy's shoulder.

"You're shakin'," he said, "you ain't just yourself. I guess maybe Joe had more soul in his poor dog's body than all them cut-throats had among the lot of them, but Joe is done with this life. Boy, don't you take it hard."

Why Women Grow Old More Quickly Than Men

Greater Percentage of Anaemia—Lack of Iron in the Blood—Among Women Makes Them Lose Much of Their Youth, Beauty and Former Attractiveness, and Become Fretful, Nervous and Run-Down—

What Women Need Is Not Cosmetics or Stimulating Drugs, But Plenty of Pure Red Blood, Rich in Iron

Physician Explains How Organic Iron—Nuxated Iron—Enriches the Blood, Strengthens the Nerves, Builds Up Physical Power, and Often Makes Weak, Pale, Careworn Women Look and Feel Years Younger.

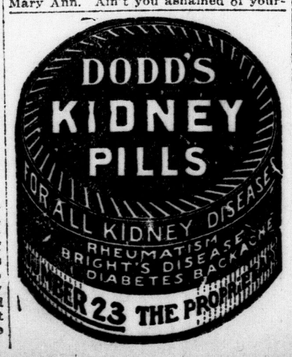

Look for the woman who appears younger than a man of the same age and you will find the exception to that vast majority upon whom anaemia—lack of iron in the blood—has fastened its grip, and is gradually sapping the health, vitality and beauty which every woman so longs to retain. In most cases men safeguard their health better than women by eating coarser foods, being more out-of-doors, and leading more active lives, thereby keeping their blood richer in iron and their bodies in better physical condition. The very moment a woman allows herself to become weak, nervous and run-down, she is placing a drain upon her whole system, which overtaxes the power of blood to renew waste tissue and keep active the natural life forces of the body. There are thousands of women who are ageing and breaking down at a time when they should be enjoying that perfect bodily health which comes from plenty of iron in the blood, simply because they are not awake to their condition. For want of iron a woman may look and feel haggard and all run-down—while at 50 or 60, with good health and plenty of iron in her blood, she may still be young in feeling, and so full of life and attractiveness as to defy detection of her real age. But a woman cannot have beautiful, rosy cheeks or an abundance of strength and endurance without iron, and physicians below have been asked to explain why they prescribe organic iron — Nuxated Iron — to help supply this deficiency and aid in building a race of stronger, healthier women.

Among other physicians asked for an opinion was Dr. George H. Baker, formerly Physician and Surgeon, Monmouth Memorial Hospital, New Jersey, who says: "What women need to put roses in their cheeks is that spring time of health into their veins is not cosmetics or stimulating drugs, but plenty of rich, pure blood. Without this no woman can do credit to herself or to her work. Iron is one of the greatest of all strength and blood builders, and I have found nothing in my experience so effective for helping to make strong, healthy, red-blooded women as Nuxated Iron."

Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept.), New York, and the Westchester County Hospital, says: "Many a woman who is run-down, easily tired out, nervous and irritable, suffers from iron deficiency and does not know it. I am convinced that there are thousands of such women who, simply by taking Nuxated Iron, might readily build up their red corpuscles, increase physical energy, and get themselves into a condition to ward off the millions of disease germs that are almost continually around us. I consider Nuxated Iron one of the foremost blood and body builders—the best to which I have ever had recourse."

Manufacturers' Note: Nuxated Iron, which is prescribed and recommended above by physicians, is not a secret remedy, but one which is well known to druggists everywhere. Unlike the older inorganic iron products, it is easily assimilated, does not injure the teeth, make them black, nor upset the stomach. The manufacturers guarantee successful and entirely satisfactory results to every purchaser or they will refund your money. It is dispensed in this city by Cairncross & Lawrence, Standard Drug Company, Taylor Drug Company, and all other druggists.

DOES MOTORIST OWN THE EARTH?

Enters House, Helps Himself To Ashes and Leaves Box On Front Steps.

Here's a story for your paper, and I wish you'd heard it. "Does the motorist own the earth?" said a femine voice over the wire yesterday afternoon. It seems that the woman in question had heard a noise in her back kitchen and opened the door to confront a man fumbling about the place as if he owned it, and apparently in search of something. "I might have been frightened to death," she declared, but proved that she was not, by immediately asking the man what he wanted.

"Oh, I've stalled my car in front and I was just looking around to see if I could find a spade or something to shovel away the snow," was the rejoinder. And he calmly continued his search. At last he came to the conclusion that the best thing which the out-kitchen offered for his purposes, was a box of ashes, reposing there against the arrival of the garbage collector. And shouldering this he proceeded to the front, and was successful in getting his car extricated from the drift by throwing the ashes down in front of the wheel.

The next thing that the owner of the house heard was a chugging in the street, and all that was left of the officious motorist was the disreputable old ashbox reposing on the front door step.

FURTHER RESULTS IN THE GIRL GUIDE LAUNDRY EXAM.

Examiners Show Surprise At Efficiency of Girls' Work.

In one line at any rate the Girl Guides, through their training, will be able to help solve that great problem involved in the high cost of living, judging from the results of the laundry examination now being tried throughout the city.

Miss Mary Moore and Miss Stella Macklin, the examiners in this test, have been most pleasantly surprised by the proficency shown by the Guides along this line, and by the enthusiasm of those competing. They asserted that it was difficult to mention any Guides who excelled especially, so well done was all the work.

This afternoon the examination was continued at First Methodist Church. The following Guides of First Methodist Church were successful: Evelyn White, Gwen. Ferguson, Dorothy Coleridge, Florence Langton, Marjorie Mortimer, Eleanor Ferguson, Eleanor Burdick, Ruth Hickson, Mabel Carson, Mabel Whittock, Florence West, Enid Coleridge, Clarissa Peever, Doreen Detlor, Marion Manning, Margaret Plewes, Eleanor Manning, Helen Langford, Grace Cape, Edra Burridge, Kathleen Ashton, Alice Green, Dorothea Read, Jeanette Johnston, Katherine Day, Thelma Tummins, Jean Henderson, Doris Johnston, Elsie Sumner, Isabel Morimer, Capt. Grace Mann, Lieuts. F. Magee, Marguerite Gibson, Kathleen Stickney, Harriet Manning and Capt. Doris Plewes (of the Senior Guides).

Jean Williams and Frances North of St. Paul's Company, and Ivy Cotterill of Knox Church Company, also were successful.

The work of Miss Grace Cape, Miss Grace Mann, Miss Doris Plewes and Miss F. Magee were especially mentioned by the examiners.

The following Senior Guides also passed the test for finisher. (In addition to passing the laundry test, for finisher the Guides are required to launder and finish a stiff linen collar, fine muslin, lace and linen): Jeanette Johnston, Katherine Day, Thelma Tummins, Jean Henderson and Capt. Doris Plewes.

A further examination will take place Friday evening at 8 o'clock at Cronyn Memorial Church, corner of William and Queen's avenue.

SOCIAL and PERSONAL

TELL IT TO THE SOCIETY EDITOR.

Miss Ida Lunenfeld and Sam Lunenfeld of Galt are visiting Mrs. J. Fox, Hayman Court.

Miss Mary Mara left on Wednesday last to visit Dr. and Mrs. Radcliffe, 36 Vinscarth road, Toronto. She will attend the opening of parliament and a number of functions to be given in her honor.

An interesting social event will take place on Friday, March 19, when the Campbell Becher Chapter will hold an afternoon bridge at Wong's Cafe, the proceeds to be in aid of the Sick Children's Hospital.

Mrs. Louisa Boyden announces the engagement of her youngest daughter, Eva Louise, to George B. Elliott, Oakville, second son of Mrs. Mathilda J. Elliott, Toronto, the marriage to take place this month.

A delightful coming social event is the leap-year dance which will be held in the Western "U" Gymnasium on the evening of Friday, March 12. The invitations for this party have been already extended, and are unique in that they come from the women to the men.

Among the out-of-town guests at the Purim Ball Wednesday were Miss Rhea Moritzsky, Miss Rosen and Mr. Moritzsky of Windsor, who are the guests of Mrs. J. Harris, King street. Miss Rhea Maidenberg of Hamilton is also a guest of her aunt, Mrs. Harris, King street.

As a token of their esteem for her the employees of the London Printing and Lithographing Company presented Mrs. Russell Parker (formerly Daisy Nutkins), with a case of Community silver and an address. The presentation was made at the home of Miss Emmerton, 643 Elias street, on Thursday night, Miss L. Laing reading the address, and Miss Elsie Parker making the presentation.

FAUST—BOWES.

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. W. D. Bowes, Harriston, on Wednesday last, when his daughter Ruth was united in marriage to Mr. Harry Faust, also of Harriston, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. Mr. Wright of the Methodist Church. The happy couple have taken up residence in the Taylor home on Thomas street.

WESTLAKE—PAGE.

An interesting event took place at the Methodist parsonage, Wroxeter, Wednesday afternoon, when Miss Emma Page of England, was united in marriage to Wm. Westlake, Rev. F. Stride officiating. They were attended by Miss Kathleen Westlake and A. Page.

The marriage is the outcome of a war romance. Mr. Westlake being one of the five Westlake brothers who saw extensive active service, all returning safely. He first met his bride while on leave in England. Mr. and Mrs. Westlake will reside on the groom's farm in Howick.

CREAM SOUP.

We have learned so much of our cooking from the French that we use many of their words, and really have no words in English to express the exact ideas. The French word puree means the pulp of cooked vegetable strained through a sieve and thinned with milk or cream. A cream soup, or a cream of vegetable soup is a thin puree, made with a large proportion of milk. This is really a very good way to use old or tough vegetables. The soup may be thickened with flour or cornstarch, unless the vegetable contains much starch, such as beans or potatoes.

The thickening is spoken of as "binding material," and we say that we bind the soup with flour or cornstarch. The effect of the cooked flour is to make the soup thick enough to hold the particles of vegetables in suspension and prevent them from falling to the bottom of the dish.

The following example of a cream soup gives the method as well as the recipe:

Green Pea Soup: If canned peas are used, take one pint of peas, one quart of boiling water, one pint of milk, two level teaspoonfuls of flour, two level teaspoonfuls of butter, one level teaspoonful of salt, and one-eighth teaspoonful of pepper. If the peas are old, add a teaspoonful of sugar. Cook the peas in a very little water if there is not sufficient juice, and strain. Heat the milk, add the strained vegetable and the water, some onion salt, salt and pepper, and re-heat. Melt the butter, rub the flour into it, and stir into the soup, stirring constantly until the soup is thoroughly done and smooth. Serve with croutons. Make the croutons by buttering half-inch slices of bread, cutting into small squares, and browning them evenly in the oven.

This general method applies to all vegetable cream soups except those made with a very acid vegetable such as tomatoes, in which the acid curdles the milk unless a small quantity of baking soda is added to neutralize it. In such a soup the milk and flour should not be combined with the vegetable until just before serving, when the soda should be added to the vegetable, mixed in well, and then the two liquids should be combined and served at once.

TEACHERS TO BE GUESTS OF LORNE AVENUE CLUB

$100 Already Raised Towards War Memorial in School Yard.

The big membership drive being conducted by the Lorne Avenue Mothers' Club was brought to a close with the meeting held on Thursday night at the school, the side captained by Mrs. Osborne winning. As a result the losing side headed by Mrs. Belcher will undertake the refreshments at an interesting meeting to be held on March 18, when there will be a round-table talk with the teachers of the school, the teachers being the guests of the club.

The memorial in honor of the Lorne Avenue boys, who were killed at the front, which is to be erected by the club in the school yard, was the source of much discussion, and to raise the needed funds a series of teas will be shortly held. Already the club has almost $100 towards this fund.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

From Little Good-for-Nothing.

Dear Miss Grey,—Here I am coming to your Cosy Corner for some help. Don't you think this kind o' weather is just terrible? We certainly have some nice high snowdrifts to go through, but that's just jake for young girls and boys, don't you think? Now for my questions: I got a pair of shoes; the vamp is black, the tops are light grey nu-buck. Could you advise me of anything I could clean them with. Somebody told me about using gasoline, but I hear it eats the shoe. Would you please give me some information about this?

I thank you, dear Cynthia, for mailing my letters on to the other correspondents. I certainly appreciate it. Pansy is going to crochet me a nightgown yoke.

Please send me the stocking foot pattern, as Mother is anxious to have a try at it. You know, Miss Grey, I take after my Dad; I wear a pair of hose until there is a hole in it and then buy another pair. That is about every fourth or fifth day—some expense eh?

I am inclosing a quarter for C. H. fund; will send more soon. I forgot my purse—it is at home, and it's too stormy to go back.

LITTLE GOOD-FOR-NOTHING.

Ans.—I have sent the stocking foot pattern post haste. It won't do to encourage this reckless Boxite, and besides, if you keep on poor Dad will have to wear his hands out to keep you shod. Thanks for the contribution to the fund. I think perhaps the shoe merchant could give you something to clean those shoes. Gasoline sometimes leaves a stain, so, rather than risk it, I would consult the shoe merchant from whom you purchased the boots. Call again.

Helpful Complexion. Hint.

Dear Cynthia,—I have been a silent reader for some time, and always look for the helpful things. So I will try to help someone.

About a poor complexion everyone can improve their looks if they try. Wash the face in warm lather, with some good soap, next with clear warm water, next with cold, next with snow or ice. Don't say you have not time, you can do it in five minutes.

And it pays. I improved mine wonderfully. Don't give up in a week, do it for a month, and see what a difference. I had a muddy dark yellow complexion, and it improved mine, so people would ask me what I used.

Excuse long letter; will call again with some more help. BLUE JAY.

Ans.—You are very helpful, Blue Jay.

Here's a Helper.

Dear Miss Grey,—I think your page is great. I am inclosing a little selection I always like. Please, Miss Grey, send me Marelynne's address. She wants to correspond. Would any boys like to correspond with me? I am a boy of 20, small for my age, but like writing to anybody. I will have to ring off. If anybody wants help call on me. A FARMER BOY.

Ans.—Well, Farmer Boy, we are glad to have your helping hand. Suppose before long you will be busy out on the Canadian soil with the plow. If Marelynne will send in her address to me I will forward it on to you. Thanks for your contribution of poem.

About Books.

Dear Cynthia, Grey.—Since some of you have stated talking books I am going to have a little say, too. I quite agree with you that we have some nice Canadian authors. I have read several of Marion Keith's Nellie McClung's and all of the Anne books by L. M. Montgomery. "Anne" used to be my favorite heroine a few years ago, and think she is a great little character. I see where the Anne books are in moving pictures now, playing in Toronto, and can hardly wait till the picture comes here to see it.

Marion Keith's book called "In Orchard Glen" is also delightful. It is so nice to get a book where the story is laid in Canada and not far from home.

Have any of your readers read "K" by Mary Roberts Rinehart? Think it is a dandy story, also her Sub-Deb stories about Barbara (Bab) are good. Another good book written by a Canadian is "Up the Hill and Over" by Isabel Ecclestone McKay. Think the Mail-Box is a daily little spot since all the feuds are settled. SUZANNE.

Wants Song.

Dear Miss Grey,—Well, here I am again bothering. I am going to say what I have to say and stop. First of all I have a piece of music; it is called "There's Music in the Air." I have two verses of it, and I was wondering if there was any more, it is such a pretty piece.

The music of it is very pretty, this is why I am asking, also one of the girls said she would copy a yoke pattern. I just don't remember her name. If she will send it I will be very glad. I wish I was Ura Kid's Pal with some of her nice things. Well, I guess I had better stop. Zoria Milk Maid, when are you coming over to see me? We have lots of snow now. Well, good-bye all.

NURSE'S SISTER.

P. S.—What kind of a writer am I?

Ans.—Song referred to readers; also crochet pattern.

Your writing is a bit cramped; try a little free arm movement. This gives a neater appearance to the writing.

Here's a Sign of Spring.

Dear Miss Grey,—I have been a silent reader of your page for some time, and very much appreciate the helpful hints and recipes sent in by the various readers.

I. Will you please tell me what day April 2, 1899, came on?

I will try to be of help next time I visit you. Yours sincerely,

BIRDIE.

Ans.—When did you get back from the South, Birdie? We'll take it that you are an omen of spring. Fly in again any time.

1. Sunday.

Has Lost a Son.

Dear Miss Grey,—Being a regular reader of the Mail-Box, I stepped in this evening to tell Turkey if she wrote me I would tell her all I know about raising turkeys, as I have been at it the last 30 years.

I have a dear boy laying in an honored grave in England, and I have often wondered since the snow came if God's beautiful white mantle of snow covered his grave, but I got a letter from Orpington a few days ago, saying that the graves of the dear Canadian boys buried in the Canadian corner of the churchyard were green, and there were flowers put on them every week, and at Christmas there was a beautiful cross put on my son's grave. I would not have felt it so hard had my dear boy lived till the cruel war was over, and his brother had come safely through. That was his whole worry, to see the war over and his brother safe back in England, but he died in a military hospital October 23, 1918, aged 23 years and 23 days. He is just another brave Canadian who died for his country. OLD 66.

Ans.—I am sending you Turkey's address so that you will be able to write her with regard to turkeys. You have great reason to be proud of your brave son, who gave his life for his country.

Here's Mother Carey.

Dear Miss Grey,—I am sure your page has been a great help to the housekeeper in the homes during the last few years. We have appreciated, sometimes the humor, more often the wisdom, and also the discussions. Surely it is not right to say there has been war in your Mail-Box. They were just setting forth their points in their debate, were they not? I see where someone asked for a pattern of rompers for her babe. I have a wee laddie who is just about to emerge from rompers to man's trousers, so I am sending you the pattern to be forwarded if she has not already received one. I was interested in the discussion of favorite authors, as we are rather bookworms, and have a small collection of books. For anyone who is interested I would like to suggest the following authors: Thomas Dixon, Knowles, Harold Bell Wright, Winston Churchill, Marion Keith, Ralph Connor. There are so many more good ones it would take too much space to mention them. Inclosed find 25 cents from baby's own particular fund for other babes less fortunate. Please may I have the stocking-foot pattern?

MOTHER CAREY.

Ans.—What a bright, cheery letter, Mother Carey. It fairly radiates optimism. Glad you enjoy our page. Stocking-foot pattern mailed to you, and the donation for the "kiddies'" fund gratefully received.

As regards the war in the Mail-Box, I think we have signed an armistice. Dear knows we have had war a-plenty without one cropping out in our peaceful Cosy Corner.

Wants Mitt Pattern.

Dear Miss Grey,—Inclosed find a small donation for C. H. fund. If you please, send me the mitt pattern. I have the stocking-foot pattern, and like it fine. Could any of the readers tell me how to trim a ground grapevine? They tell me if it is not trimmed properly it will bleed to death. If people were more spiritually minded they would not teach their children anything of Santa Claus, for it is of the flesh, and what we sow here on earth we reap in eternity. My boy made a fireless cooker, and it is not much good. He made it like the one in The Advertiser. I would like to know more about it, if it is really any good. IGNORANCE.

Ans. — Donation received, many thanks. Mitt pattern mailed. Perhaps some of our farmer readers will be able to help you re the grapevine. Honestly, Ignorance, have you ever regretted your faith in dear old Santa Claus? Of course, one can teach the children that he really represents the spirit of giving, but I myself cannot see the harm in this delightful old belief—the children do adore him so. I am sure no great harm is done. Perhaps some of our readers have made a fireless cooker, and may be able to help you.

Billie Has a Sweet Tooth.

Dear Miss Grey,—I am greatly interested in your Mail-Box and enjoy the many letters and ideas in it. I wonder if any of your readers would send me some candy recipes. Am making up a number of boxes of it, but my recipes are rather limited. I would particularly like a recipe for marshmallows.

1. Could you tell me what to do with a dark blue gabardine dress which has very conspicuous perspiration stains under the arms?

2. What day did September 19, 1900, fall on

Inclosed is an addressed envelope and my offering. BILLIE.

Ans.—Come among Pageites, let's help Billie out with some candy recipes.

1. Re stains, try sponging with warm water first, and then apply chloroform. This leaves no high water mark. I would try a little first, and experiment.

2. Thursday.

Thanks for donation.

She Likes Mail-Box.

Dear Miss Grey,—I think the Mail-Box is just lovely; it is so full of helpful hints. Would you please tell me, Miss Grey, what (B. H.) means, when a letter is finished thus, I remain as B. H." Anyone who wishes to cure chapped hands should use glycerine and rosewater. It is very healing and keeps the hands soft. I would like to correspond with Musical Harry, A Farmer's Daughter, or anyone about my age (19). If they will write. I am sending my address to Miss Grey.

SUNNY MAY.

Ans.—I am afraid I don't know what B. H. stands for, unless it is the initials of the writer. I will hold your address and forward correspondence. Glad you enjoy our cosy chats.

Wants to Correspond.

Dear Miss Grey,—I am a farmer's boy of 16, and would like to correspond with boys and girls about my age. Would like them to write first. I will leave my address with Miss Grey.

CAYUGA.

Ans.—Come on, Junior Pageites, who wants to correspond with Cayuga. Don't everybody speak at once. Be sure to inclose plain stamped envelope in your letter, to be forwarded.

MARCH WEATHER DANGEROUS TO BABY

Our Canadian March weather—one day bright, but sloppy, the next blustery and cold—is extremely hard on children. Conditions make it necessary for the mothers to keep the little ones indoors. They are often confined to overheated, badly ventilated rooms and catch colds which rack their whole system. To guard against these colds and to keep the baby well till the better, brighter days come along, a box of Baby's Own Tablets should be kept in the house and an occasional dose given the baby to keep his stomach and bowels working regularly. The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which never fail to regulate the stomach and bowels and thus they relieve colds and simple fevers and keep the baby fit. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

WHAT'S IN A NAME

EUNICE.

Eunice, like Evangeline, is one of the "glad" names in the lexicon of feminine cognomens. Like Evangeline also, it comes from the Greek word meaning well or happy. Eunice is translated to mean "happy victory."

Because of its significance, the Greek word from which Eunice was derived was taken over in early times by the Christians, who adored names of happy augury. The names coming from this favorite word are almost beyond enumeration, but curiously, only a few of them have survived to modern times.

Eunice is one of these latter names. It made its appearance as Eunike, one of the fifty Nereids. Her name straightway became popular among Greek women, but it remained for Eunice, the Jewish mother of Timothy to give it vogue in the days of early Christianity. English lovers of Bible names have favored it for centuries, and it is still popular in all the countries of Europe though particularly adapted to English and American usage.

The topaz is the talismanic gem assigned to Eunice. "The chrysolite of sunrise," Shelly calls it. It is said to preserve its wearer from all dangers and to warn of approaching evil by paling in color, but it will be rendered impotent unless it is set in gold. To dream of it signifies that no harm shall befall. Tuesday is Eunice's lucky day and five her lucky number. The chrysanthemum, signifying cheerfulness, is her flower.

Puppy Stories by Vincent G. Perry

ACRUISING. Part Five.

Now, Betty was very glad to stay in Mr. Bear's cave with her family, and in return for his kindness in letting them remain she kept the place free from rats. Mr. Bear, it turned out, wasn't a wild bear at all, but one who had been brought up in the city and belonged to a circus man. The circus man, however, had not been nice to him, so one time when Mr. Bear was traveling up the lake in a big boat, he had jumped overboard and swam for the island. That was some weeks before Betty and her family drifted there in their chicken coop, and he had made himself this nice home in the meantime.

It was not long before Betty's puppies grew quite strong and were able to run about by themselves. Betty in the past had let her master name her puppies, but now that she was far away from her master she had to name them all herself. The very smallest one she called Tiny; the one with the bright silkey coat Silkey; the one with the shiniest coat Shiney; the one with the black spot on his back Spotty, and the little round, chubby one Fatty. In a day or two the puppies soon learned their names, and answered to them without trouble. Mr. Bear liked all the names, too. He said they called him Bruno in the circus, his right name was Starblack, but he preferred just to be called Mr. Bear, for as the landlord of the house he thought he should be shown proper respect.

One day Mr. Bear announced that he was going on a long hunting trip and would not be back for days.

"Can't I go with you, Mr. Bear?" asked Tiny, but Mr. Bear refused his request.

Tiny, like most smallest members of families, was spoiled, so when Mr. Bear refused to take him he sat up a great holler. But Mr. Bear was firm and marched off alone.

"Keep on the lookout for the Wolf," he called back to Betty. "He is a cruel animal and may steal some of your children."

Betty was busy chasing a rat just then, and paid little heed to his warning. Not long after Mr. Bear had disappeared Silkey set up a great holler. "The Wolf, the Wolf!" he cried.

Sure enough. Betty caught sight of two evil eyes gleaming from behind a bush.

"Into the cave!" she cried to her puppies, and then what a scramble there was.

"One, two, three of you," cried Betty in fright. "Where are the others?"

Tiny and Fatty were missing.

But just then Fatty hove into sight. He had heard Silkey's cry, but was so fat he had not been able to run as fast as the others, and here he was now, coming right into the Wolf's path.

Betty cried out to him, but it was too late. Mr. Wolf caught hold of him by the neck, and poor Fatty gave a cry of fright. Betty did not stop to think, but dashed forward to rescue her puppy. Angrily she threw herself upon the Wolf, and because he was so surprised the Wolf let go of Fatty, and the chubby puppy ran to the cave. But how about Betty. The big Wolf was more than a match for her. It might have gone hard with her had not a big familiar black body hove into sight. Mr Bear had returned. The Wolf turned and fled when he caught sight of Mr. Bear.

"Where is Tiny?" cried Betty.

"Here I am," came tearfully from a little dog behind Mr. Bear. It was Tiny.

"He followed me, and I had to bring him back," said Mr. Bear.

"And Mr. Bear spanked me," wailed Tiny.

"I am sure you deserved it," said Betty, but just the same she was glad Tiny had disobeyed, for if Mr. Bear had not returned goodness knows what might have happened to her and her little family.

MRS. OAKES SPEAKS IN PRAISE OF DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

She Had Severe Backache Before Using Dodd's Kidney Pills, But Now She Says She Is Quite Well Again.

Hastings, Ont., March 5.—(Special)—Among the women in this section who are shouting the praises of Dodd's Kidney Pills is Mrs. John Oakes, one of our highly respected residents. Nor does Mrs. Oakes fail to give the reason.

"Before using Dodd's Kidney Pills," she states, "I suffered with severe backaches. Now I am quite well again.

"I am highly pleased with Dodd's Kidney Pills. They have given me the best of satisfaction."

In those last two sentences, Mrs. Oakes gives the reason why Dodd's Kidney Pills are so universally popular with the women of Canada. They give satisfaction. Women in all parts of Canada are every day stating that they suffered from kidney ills and found relief in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

If you haven't used Dodd's Kidney Pills ask your neighbors about them. They have been in use in Canada for more than a quarter of a century and have earned a place in the family medicine chest almost everywhere.

Three Extra Periods Fail To Decide Victor in Kitchener Contest

Greatest Game Ever Seen in Toronto Arena Results in 4-All Tie—Great Exhibition of Skill.

TORONTO, March 5.—Ending in a tie, 4 to 4, Kitchener and Granites battled in the Arena here tonight in the O. H. A. Senior semi-finals until three periods of overtime were played. It was one of the greatest exhibitions of skill, stamina and determination ever witnessed in the big ice palace, and a very large crowd witnessed the titanic struggle. The contest was abandoned for the night, when the three overtime periods had been played, according to the rules governing O. H. A. games, so that it is not known yet which team will face the Hamilton Tigers in the finals.

Tremendous excitement was shown throughout the overtime contest, as the result of tonight's game meant that the winning team had a chance, not only to win the O. H. A. Senior championship and have the right to battle for the Allan Cup, but might have a trip to the Olympic games as representatives of Canada—provided, of course, that the winner of the Kitchener-Granite game defeated the Hamilton Tigers, the winners of the other senior group.

PINEHURST, March 5.—Two of the three Ontario semi-finalists won their way through the finals today. J. L. Weller of Hamilton was eliminated from the fourth sixteen by George Vankueren of Englewood.

W. L. Furst of Hamilton came through in the tenth division at the expense of D. O. Everhard of Great Neck.

F. C. Newton of Brookline and Sam Graham of Greenwich, the medalist in the spring tournament at Pinehurst, will meet in the final contest for the President's trophy.

Newton defeated D. P. Merriman of Waterbury in today's semi-finals, and Graham disposed of Carman Messmore of Ardsley.

KINGSTON, March 5.—In the first semi-final intermediate O. H. A. game here tonight, Collingwood defeated the Kingston team by a score of 2 to 1. The game was one of the fastest seen on local ice this year, and luck played an important role in deciding the winner.

PALMERSTON LOSES TO FAST WIARTON TEAM BY 6 GOALS

Take Northerners Over the Bumps in First of Semi-Finals.

WIARTON, March 5.—Wiarton goes to Palmerston Monday with a six-goal lead in the Northern League semi-finals, having taken the team from the Railroad Town over the bumps for a 7-to-1 trimming tonight. At no time was the result in doubt. While the visitors had excellent teamplay, the locals back-checked them to a standstill.

In the first period Palmerston had to change goal umpires over a disputed goal. Palmerston tried hard to score in the final period, but could not get through the locals' defence. Dad Ashley and Brown played their usual effective game. Rock, Miers and Allan Ashley worked a three-man combination on several occasions. Nimmo had many chances on long shots, and cleared himself easily. Cully Rocker and White were Palmerston's best men.

The line-up:

No Championship Games To Be Played Before March 22

Championship of Coast Not Yet Decided, and Will Be Impossible To Stage Series Earlier.

VANCOUVER, March 5.—As the Pacific Coast Association teams are still fighting for the championship of this section, Frank Patrick has informed the National Hockey League that March 22 would be the earliest date possible for the coast champions to line up in Ottawa for the Stanley Cup series. As he believes that the chances for good ice in the east at the present time are not good, Mr. Patrick has tendered the Senators an invitation to come to the coast, and a reply is expected today.

ROUGH BASKETBALL GAME WON BY ROYAL CITY GIRLS

Several Stratford Girls Injured in Well-Played Game at Guelph.

GUELPH, March 5.—In one of the fastest games here this season, the Stratford Collegiate Institute basketball team went down to defeat before the speedy Guelph Collegiate girls by a score of 15 to 10, in a group game for the John Whyte Cup.

The game, although inclined to be a trifle rough at times, was very well played, and kept the spectators on their feet throughout. Several of the Stratford players were slightly injured, but managed to finish the game.

The half time score was 4 to 3 in Guelph's favor. In the second half the Stratford players came back strong and scored two baskets in quick succession, but the Guelph players secured the lead and held it until the final whistle.

Prior to the premier attraction an exhibition game was played between the local Y and collegiate boys, the former winning by 35 to 14. The line-up::

"ORANGE LILY SAVED MY LIFE."

These words or expressions having the same meaning are contained in hundreds of the letters I have received during the past year. Many were from women who had suffered agonies from falling of womb; others from women who had escaped dangerous surgical operations, as the tumors and ulcers had been removed by the action of Orange Lily; and others who had suffered from suppressed menstruation, leucorrhoea, painful periods, etc. For all these and the other troubles known in general as Women's Disorders, Orange Lily furnishes a positive, scientific, never-failing cure. It is applied direct to the suffering organs, and its operation is certain and beneficial. As a trial actually proves its merit, I hereby offer to send, absolutely free, a box worth 45c, sufficient for ten days' treatment, to every suffering woman who will write for it. Inclose 3 stamps. DOCTOR TELLS HOW TO STRENGTHEN EYESIGHT 50 PER CENT IN ONE WEEK'S TIME IN MANY INSTANCES

A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home.

Philadelphia, Pa. Do you wear glasses? Are you a victim of eye strain or other eye weaknesses? If so, you will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope for you. Many whose eyes were failing say they have had their eyes restored through the principle of this wonderful free prescription. One man says, after trying it, "I was almost blind; could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without any glasses and my eyes do not water any more. At night they would pain dreadfully; now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for fifteen days everything seems clear. I can even read fine print without glasses." It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and multitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by following the simple rules. Here is the prescription: Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Bon-Opto tablets. Drop one Bon-Opto tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and allow to dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eye two to four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start and inflammation will quickly disappear. If your eyes are bothering you, even a little, take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have been saved if they had cared for their eyes in time.

Note: Another prominent physician to whom the above article was submitted, said: "Bon-Opto is a very remarkable remedy. Its constituent ingredients are well known to eminent eye specialists and widely prescribed by them. The manufacturers guarantee it to strengthen eyesight 50 per cent in one week's time in many instances or refund the money. It can be obtained from any good druggist and is one of the very few preparations I feel should be kept on hand for regular use in almost every family." It is sold in this city by the Standard Drug Company, W. T. Strong and others.

FRANCE AGAINST PRESSURE UPON SMALL NATIONS

Refuses To Force Peace-Making On Russian Border With Soviets.

HAS NOT SIGNED TEXT

Wants Reservations in Economic Declaration of Supreme Council.

PARIS, March 5.—France has neither signed nor approved the declaration regarding the economic situation of Europe which the Allied supreme council has proposed to make, it was declared today.

The original text of the Allied declaration, it is stated, begins by setting forth that the small nations bordering on Russia must be obliged to make peace with the Russian Soviet Government in order that the economic revival may begin. It follows with the statement that Germany must be provided with the means of resuming industrial activity, and that since the prosperity of Europe depends upon the prosperity of all countries it is proposed that a loan be made to Germany guaranteed by German assets in priority to reparation payments, the loan payments to be controlled by neutral commissions.

Instructions are being sent to Ambassador Cambon in London, it was declared this afternoon, that he sign the declaration with the following reservations:

First—France will not join in any pressure upon the small countries along the Russian border to oblige them to make peace with the soviets;

Second—France will not consent to giving priority over reparations on any assets of Germany pledged for that purpose;

Third—France will not consent to the control of German payments on any loans Germany may make by another organization than the reparations commission.

THE PLAGUE OF PIMPLES

Body Covered With Them.

The primary cause of pimples arises from the blood not being in a good condition. When the blood becomes impure you will find that pimples will break out all over the body, but more particularly on the forehead, nose and chin, and although they are not a dangerous trouble they are very unsightly. What you need when pimples or boils break out is a real good blood purifying medicine such as Burdock Blood Bitters

This preparation has been on the market for over 40 years and is the most reliable remedy for all troubles arising from a bad condition of the blood. It removes all the impurities from the system, and will leave a clear, healthy skin.

Mr. Emerson G. Goodwin, Cambridge, N. B., writes: "For nearly two years I suffered from boils and pimples on my face and neck, and nearly all of my body was covered with the pimples. I tried most everything, but got no relief. One day a friend advised me to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and after using three bottles the pimples and boils had all left me and there is no sign of them returning. I can strongly recommend B. B. B. to anyone who is troubled with skin disease."

LIBERALS WILL DEMAND GOVT.'S RESIGNATION IF MOTION IS LOST

Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King Makes This Announcement To Convention.

EAST ONTARIO LIBERALS

Leader Declares the People Have Been Grossly Deceived.

OTTAWA, March 5.—(By Canadian Press.)—That if the amendment calling for a general election is defeated by the Government when the vote is taken, probably Tuesday night, the Liberals would go across the country from the Atlantic to the Pacific and ask the people to rise up with them and demand that the Government resign, was the statement of Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, leader of the Opposition, addressing the annual convention of the Eastern Ontario Liberals here tonight.

"The people of Canada have been grossly deceived and they are asking today for a chance to express themselves. Any member of the House who votes for a continuation of the present administration is defaming the name of Liberalism, no matter what excuse he may seek to give," Hon. Mr. King declared. "The people are in a state of unrest, mainly because they want a chance to govern themselves. This right to govern themselves is one of the fundamental principles of Liberalism. I am prepared to trust the people, and I believe with Gladstone that the true meaning of Liberalism is to trust the people and qualify it with prudence. Today we have on Parliament Hill what Gladstone described as the opposite of Liberalism, mistrust of the people, qualified with fear."

Examine Their Policies.

Referring to what he termed new policies, Hon. Mr. King exhorted his hearers to examine their policies very closely and not to be alarmed by their presence.

"If they stand for what is right and just and the principles of government by the people themselves, then they are Liberals, no matter by what other name they may call themselves.

"Liberals are not opposed to the farmers. They are not opposed to labor, to women, or to manufacturers, but they are opposed to any one class seeking to obtain privileges for themselves which they are unwilling to grant to the masses," he said.

Bouquet for Lady Laurier.

Lady Laurier, before the speeches were delivered, was presented with a beautiful bouquet. It was also said that the first issue of the new Liberal organ will be issued tomorrow.

H. H. Dewart, K.C., M.P.P., was heartily cheered. He started by stating that Liberalism stood for principle and not opportunity. He stated that under the franchise laws of 1917 no other result was possible than the one which had occurred in the Dominion. The one good feature about the election was that after years of fight and much work Mr. Dewart had got Sir William Hearst to admit the women of Ontario to the ballot.

Mr. Dewart scored the present methods of preparing the voters' lists. In certain Toronto constituencies 25,900 names had to be added to the lists after the lists were supposed to be prepared and corrected. In Toronto and the surrounding constituencies 35,000 names were added—names left off the lists by the Government's partisan enumerators.

SEARCH CANADA FOR ARNSTEIN, CHARGED WITH BOND THEFT

NEW YORK, March 5.—New York detectives are now in Canada, searching for Jules W. Arnstein, who is charged with being the instigator of the five-million-dollar "bond plot" here, according to reports published here today.

It is said that this became known last night, when the wife of one of them received a telephone message from her husband. He said:

"I am in Canada."

Arnstein, it is said, fled to Canada in order to escape extradition and in order to be in a better position to bargain on what terms he would give himself up to the district attorney's office.

Police authorities this morning would make no statement regarding Arnstein's reported flight to Canada. They have admitted previously that a Montreal man, described as a "broker" was under suspicion of being implicated in the bond robberies.

LINDSAY OR MOWAT LIKELY TO SUCCEED JUDGE FALCONBRIDGE

OTTAWA, March 5.—The vacancy in the superior court bench of Ontario created by the death of the late Chief Justice Falconbridge will, it is believed here, be filled by the appointment of either G. G. S. Lindsay, K.C., of Toronto, or H. M. Mowat, K.C., M.P. for Parkdale. It is further believed that Hon. A. K. MacLean, who recently retired from the Government here, will be appointed a judge of the exchequer court of Canada. Provision has already been made for an extra judge of that tribunal.

NORTH BAY MAN IS KILLED WHEN TRAIN CRASHES INTO RIG

NORTH BAY, Ont., March 5. — A fatal accident occurred here last night, when Eavrd Doyle was instantly killed. He and a companion were driving across the C. N. R. tracks and were struck by the eastbound passenger train. They were in a covered rig and did not see the train coming. When found Doyle was dead and his companion unconscious. He was taken to the hospital, where it was found no bones were broken, but internal injuries are feared.

DIRECTORS FAIL TO AGREE UPON STEEL MERGER

Three-Hour Session At Montreal Ends Without Definite Decision.

ENGLISH SUGGESTIONS

No Immediate Action To Be Taken by Board On Development Plan.

MONTREAL, March 5.—Directors of the Dominion Steel Corporation, after a three-hour session here this afternoon, dispersed without arriving at any definite decision on the matter of the much discussed consolidation of the company with the Nova Scotia Steel and Coal Company, or with respect to the recommendations of the expert English engineers involving an outlay of around $25,000,000 on the plants and properties in Cape Breton and elsewhere.

No Official Statement.

Although no official announcement was made following the meeting, it is understood that a full discussion of both the subjects referred to above was indulged in, with a lack of unanimity of opinion developing in each. As to the proposed deal with Scotia, the matter, it is believed, is still one of terms, there being some sharp divergences in the views expressed as to the basis on which a consolidation might be effected. Pourparlers will be continued in the hope of arriving at a settlement of the outstanding difficulties.

No immediate action will be taken by the board in regard to the English recommendations.

Desires to Retire.

President Mark Workman again expressed his desire to retire from the presidency in order to devote himself to more personal affairs, but it is understood that, at the request of his colleagues, Mr. Workman will probably remain in office for some time yet.

In attendance at the meeting were Major-General Sir Newton Moore, Lieut.-Colonel W. Grant Morden, and Benjamin Talbot, members of the London advisory committee of the corporation. Out-of-town directors present included Sir Henry Pellatt, Sir Wm. MacKenzie and J. H. Plummer of Toronto, and Hector McInnes, K.C., of Halifax.

CANADA'S NET DEBT JUMPED $16,000,000 DURING FEBRUARY

OTTAWA, March 5.—(By Canadian Press).—Figures expressed in the last budget speech of a reduction in revenue from customs duties are shown by the latest returns of the finance department to be groundless. During the eleven months of the fiscal year, up to February 28, customs revenue was twelve millions ahead of the corresponding period of the previous year.

Increase in net debt during the month of February was $15,849,000, small as compared with recent increases. The net debt now totals $1,915,995,923. War expenditure during the eleven months totals $207,179,000, in comparison with $276,296,000, the expenditure in the corresponding period of the previous fiscal year. During February, however, war expenditure was scarcely one-fourth of what it was in February, 1919. The apparent ups and downs in war expenditure, it is explained, are due to the presentation of overseas accounts.

Revenue from direct taxation was during February nearly twenty million dollars as compared with less than eight millions in February, 1919.

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache.

The American men and women must guard constantly against Kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

Nearly Insane From Leg Ulcers

She tells of suffering and brief story of her cure.

Read these two letters from Sarah D. Lawrence of Rayburk, Ontario. "I can't sleep at night from leg ulcers. I am in pain most of the time. I have doctored but no use. A lady from Winnipeg says that D. D. D. cured her of a bad case of eczema. That her sores are all healed. Can you help me?"

Now a few words from a later letter. "I have used D. D. D. as directed, and my leg is completely well."

Why not be convinced and try this remedy today for any form of skin disease? One application and the itch is gone. Your money back if relief doesn't come from the first bottle. $1.00 a bottle. Try D. D. D. Soap, too.

Insane After 24 Hours in Seance With Ouija Board

Three Women Arrested—Would Not Heed Men's Pleas To Stop.

MARTINEZ, Calif., March 5.—After their arrest as insane suspects following a twenty-four-hour seance with ouija boards, three women were committed to state hospitals for the insane by the superior court here today.

The women were in a group of seven arrested in a house at El Cerrito, near here, yesterday.

The three men of the party testified at the hearing that they had tried to induce the women to cease the ouija seances, but without effect. The men admitted that the last seance in which they participated had lasted 24 hours, and they were so devoted to the boards that they did not take time off to eat or sleep.

FIGHT COMMUTATION RATES AT TORONTO

TORONTO, March 5.—Toronto, Oakville and intervening municipalities opened their fight against increased commutation fares before the Dominion Railway Board at the city hall this morning. Opposition to the proposed increases centered on the contention that they would involve hardships for hundreds of suburban residents journeying daily to and from their place of business to their suburban homes.

Premier Drury appeared before the board as the representative of Halton County, and delivered a brief appeal on behalf of the councillors.

ANOTHER EPIDEMIC OF THE SPANISH INFLUENZA

A great many authorities have predicted a return of that terrible plague which swept Canada from one end to the other not long ago and left so many deaths in its wake, and those who did survive were left in a great many cases with some serious after-effect such as weak heart, shattered nerves, impoverished blood and a general weakened and exhausted condition of the system.

If you are rundown, heart not just right, nerves a little shaky, take a few boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and fortify your system against this terrible plague.

If you had the "Flu" before and it left you with any bad after-effect Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will bring you back to health and strength.

Mrs. C. C. Palmer, Keppel, Sask., writes: "I wish to inform you of the great good Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills did for me. After a bad attack of the Spanish influenza my heart and nerves were left in a very bad condition. I got two boxes of your pills and must say they are the best I ever used, and I have taken a great many different kinds. I will always keep Heart and Nerve Pills in the house."

TAKE THE WORD OF YOUR OWN NEIGHBORS

You Cannot Afford to Experiment With Your Health---People in All Parts of Cana a Highly Recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a System Builder.

There is not a nook or corner in Canada, in the cities, towns, villages and on farms, where Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have not been used. From one end of the country to the other they have brought back to bread-winners, their wives and families the splendid treasure of new health and new strength. You have only to ask your neighbors and they can tell you of some nerve-shattered man, some suffering woman, ailing youth or unhappy anaemic girl, who owes their present health and strength to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

For many years Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been a household remedy not only in America but throughout the world. When Canadian soldiers landed in England they found advertised on all sides Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. To the men from Australia, from New Zealand, from South Africa and India, these same advertisements were like familiar home friends. When these men crossed to France one of the first signs that greeted their eyes was "Pilules Pink pour Personnes Pales du Dr. Williams.' The world-wide use of this Canadian remedy can be accounted for only by the merit these wonderful blood-making pills possess. Thousands of statements from grateful people who have been cured of ills due to weak, watery blood and shattered nerves, have been published. Some of these may have been your neighbors—all of them were somebody's neighbors, and you can safely take their word for the benefit they have found through the timely use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER.

If more people knew how many ills and pains are due to thin, watery blood and how easily this condition could be remedied through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, a great deal of suffering would be avoided. Men and women often suffer from stomach trouble, headaches and backaches, palpitation of the heart, and nervous complaints such as neuralgia, without suspecting that the whole trouble lies in weak, watery blood. The statement of Mrs. J. J. Murray, Corbetton, Ont., shows the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in cases of this kind. She says: "A few years ago my daughter, Lillie, was in a very badly run-down condition. She was pale, thin, and scarcely able to go about. The least exertion made her heart palpitate so violently that we were actually afraid one of these spells might carry her off. She slept so badly that often she would lie awake until nearly morning. Treatment did not seem to help her and we were almost in despair when a friend advised the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. A few weeks' use of this medicine showed a decided improvement, and a further use of the pills fully restored her health, and she has since been a strong, healthy girl. Some time later I was taken ill myself, being run-down from household care. A doctor was called in, but his medicine did not seem to bring back my strength, and remembering what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills had done for my daughter, I decided to drop the doctor's medicine and try them. The results that followed were like those in my daughter's case, and through the use of the pills I was soon a well woman, I am glad to give my experience in the hope that some other sufferer may find the way to health."

NURSING MOTHERS.

It is useless to tell a hard-working woman to take life easily and not to worry. Care of the home and the children always bring their worries. But it is the duty of every woman to save her strength as much as possible, and to keep her blood supply in a healthy condition. Her future good health depends upon this. Mrs. B. Kilgour, Cabri, Sask., says: "I have taken Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for a considerable time, and have found them of the greatest benefit for my blood and nerves. I was terribly nervous and rundown and was nursing my baby at the time I began taking the pills, and since taking them I feel like a different woman. My appetite is better, my blood purer and my nerves steadier and altogether I feel a hundred per cent better. I will certainly recommend the pills to everybody I can."

WEAK AND NERVOUS.

Good health is the secret of happiness, and the one chief secret of good health is rich, red blood. This rich, red blood can always be had through a fair use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The value of the pills for this purpose is proved by Mrs. Carrey Boudreau, Beaumont, N. B., who says: "When I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I was very weak and nervous. I was always tired and my eyes were dull and heavy and I suffered greatly with headaches. But through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I am again a well woman in the full enjoyment of life, and I am quite willing the whole world should know the benefit I have found through this medicine."

AFTER INFLUENZA.

Strenuous work on a farm has much to do with the rundown conition of many who follow that occupation, and accounts for the readiness in which they fall victims to serious debilitating troubles. Mrs. Geo. Cutnbert, a farmer's wife who has proved the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, says: "This past year my husband and myself have had to do all the work on our half-section farm. I had an attack of influenza, and this, coupled with heavy work, left me badly rundown. I sent for a supply of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and by the time I had taken two boxes I was beginning to feel stronger, and through their further use I was again feeling quite fit. Indeed I believe that had it not been for the pills I would not have been able to do my work. I may add that while using the pills I took Pinklets occasionally as a laxative, and found them a great help."

LIKE A NEW PERSON.

When a girl or a woman is pale and feeble, feels tired out at the slightest exertion, is troubled with headaches or backaches, it is a sure sign that the blood is thin and watery, and that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills should be taken to restore the blood to that rich, red condition necessary to good health. Through the use of these pills, Miss E. E. Hubley, Seabright, N. S., was restored to good health. She says: "I have found that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills tone up the nerves and system and make one feel like a new person. When I started using them I was in very poor health and suffering from many of the symptoms of anaemia. Soon after beginning their use I found myself growing better, and after giving them a fair trial I found my health fully restored. As a result of what they did in my own case I can recommend them to all weak people as a great blood-builder."

WHAT DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS WILL DO.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a blood builder and nerve tonic. The rich, red blood that they make not only carries color to the cheeks and lips but gives vigor to the exhausted nerves and quiets the pains of neuralgia and sciatica. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain no opiates nor harmful drugs: they restore health and strength, but do not give temporary stimulation.

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50c a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

AT THE GRAND.

TWICE TODAY, 2:30 AND 8:15.—John Cort's sensational musical comedy, "Listen Lester."

MONDAY, TUESDAY, WEDNESDAY, THURSDAY, Daily at 2:15 and 7:30—Drury Lane's most spectacular melodrama, "The Still Alarm," 5 act, B. F. Keith's Vaudeville—"Look Pleasant," Frank Jerome, Otto and Sheridan, Skipper, Kennedy and Reeves; the Rials.

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY, Evenings 8:00; Saturday Matinee, 2:00—The New York Winter Garden's most stupendous revue, "The Passing Show."

The Immortal Stage Play, "The Still Alarm" Now Filmed. Grandfather Carried Back to His Boyhood Days by the Grand's Announcement of the First Showing.

"The Still Alarm," famous the world over as Drury Lane's greatest melodrama, few productions in the history of the theatre have been received with greater enthusiasm than that afforded this thrilling spectacle. The theatre of the spoken drama has its limitations and there is not today a stage large enough to accommodate this gigantic attraction as a play in its entirety, but now we have a new form of expression —the motion picture—which has no limitations, and in the film interpretation all of the human pathos, the romantic moments, and smashing climaxes are presented with bewildering reality, the burning of the laboratories, the maddening race for life by the fire department, "the still alarm," clanging fire engines, the falling walls and thrilling escape, are presented with sound effects which create a high pitch of nerve-tingling sensations. "The Still Alarm" will be shown for four days only, commencing Monday, with a special matinee daily, the regular B. F. Keith big time vaudeville will also be shown, as well as an extra added attraction.

Excellent List of Vaudeville Attractions at the Grand First Half of Next Week.

The vaudeville bill at the Grand the first half of next week, presented on the same program with "The Still Alarm" and other film features, has the personal guarantee of the management of being the best and most varied of the many all-feature bills that have been seen at the Grand this season.

Heading the five-act vaudeville program will be the musical comedy, "Look Pleasant," presented by Will Harris, one of the best known producers in the vaudeville field. Mr. Harris has picked a capable company to present this musical gem. There are seven people in the cast, mostly beautiful girls, all of whom sing, dance and wear stunning costume creations. An elaborate scenic and electrical display is a prominent feature of the offering. Billed as a very unusual comedy trio, Skipper, Kennedy and Reeves are sure to convulse the audience with their melange of funnisims and songs. Skipper, the comedian of the trio, provides heaps of laughter by his funny antics. This act introduces some ensemble singing that is as distinctive as the funmaking. "A Boy, a Girl, a Pair of Rings and a Few Old Hats" constitute the rather euphonious billing for the exceedingly clever offering of Fred and Daisy Rial. Fred Rial besides being an exceptional expert on the rings, juggles hats in the most wonderful manner. He is a comedian of unquestionable ability and most satisfactorily entertains in the character of an eccentric, ably assisted by his charming partner. Elizabeth Otto and Eileen Sheridan, two charmingly clever young misses, will be heard in a refined offering of comedy songs and music. Frank Jerome, the Variety Vendor, will complete the bill.

THE PASSING SHOW.

"The Passing Show of 1918," from the Winter Garden, New York, will be the attraction at the Grand Friday and Saturday evenings and Saturday matinee. "The Passing Show of 1918" is without a doubt the most popular New York Winter Garden spectacle ever turned out by that world famous temple of amusement. A world of new material has been added to this revue since it was seen at the Winter Garden. New song numbers, new costumes and scenery bring it up to the minute—and many of the older members of the cast have been replaced by new-blood—each change improving the entertainment to a marked degree—and there are a lot of new chorus beauties—each selected with an eye to making the chorus ensembles the most beautiful ever seen in a musical play. The very pick of the famed New York Winter Garden beauties have been selected to grace "The Passing Show of 1918" with the result that the audience fairly gasps in speechless admiration. "The Passing Show of 1918" is in two colossal acts and fifteen huge, colorful, tuneful scenes. There are fully two scores of musical numbers in it—many of them new and up-to-the-minute and an augmented orchestra. Willie and Eugene Howard continue to head the stellar cast with a big assortment of new comedy and songs; also a brand new musical instrument imitation, even better than their former ones. Roy Cummings, with a new version of his "nut" act is still with the show, as is Will H. Philbrick, Edward Basse, Helen Carrington, Emily Miles, John Burke, Leets Corder and Dorsha. The seat sale opens Monday.

"MISLEADING WIDOW" AT LOEW'S FIRST HALF OF NEXT WEEK.

The feature film attraction for London's popular playhouse for the first half of the week wil be the ever-lovable and charming Billie Burke in "The Misleading Widow." The story has to do with the adventures that befell Mrs. Betty Taradine, a beautiful widow, when she announced that her missing husband had died in South Africa. The purpose of Betty's news was to collect the "deceased's" insurance, but instead it brought the wandering spouse on the scene with laughable results. The picture is one of the most attractive in which Miss Burke has yet appeared and will delight screen lovers, who never tire of the entertaining genius of this popular movie star.

The vaudeville bill for the week is an all-star program of diversified and joyable entertainment. The first half will offer—The Musical Waylands, Two Jazz Babies in a musical melange of syncopation, Arthur De Voy and Company in an amusing little one-act comedy "The Peacemaker," McLaughlin & Evans, in a novel dancing and singing turn "A Courtship on the Bowery," Joe Taylor and May Francis, two Ko Ko Nuts in a conglomeration of nonsense that will cause a riot of fun with their nut comedy, The Wyoming Trio, real cowboys from the Golden West will offer a novel turn of Western pastimes.

An amusing fun frolic from the Sennett joy factory "Back to the Kitchen" will feature the film comedy portion of the program and the Loew Weekly of World Events in Pictures will complete a meritorious bill that should play to capacity houses at every performance.

CANSTANCE TALMADGE WILL BE THE FILM ATTRACTION FOR THE LAST HALF OF THE WEEK IN "A VIRTUOUS VAMP."

"A Virtuous Vamp," in which Constance Talmadge takes the part of a winsome girl, who innocently makes all men fall in love with her will be seen at Loew's for the last half of next week. As Nellie Jones, Constance finally falls in love with the one man who is absolutely indifferent to her attentions. The vaudeville for the last half again presents an all-star bill. Stanley, in startling twists and turns, the Bennett Twins, two winsome young misses billed the "Million Dollar Kids," will offer a melange of song, dance and cut-up; Pearl Abbott and Co. in an amusing playlet "Silver Threads"; Grey & Klumker, in a hodge-podge of nonsense; and Girls of the Altitude, an aerial sensation, with an amusing and hilarious Hank Mann comedy "Broken Bubbles" and Loew's Weekly to complete a program of merit.

From "The Eyes of Youth," the year's sensation in pictures, showing at the Allen Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

AT THE ALLEN.

TODAY—Double program: Jack Pickford in "Tom Sawyer" and Tom Moore in "Toby's Bow."

MONDAY, TUESDAY, WEDNESDAY—The year's most sensational photoplay "The Eyes of Youth," featuring Clara Kimball Young and all-star cast. Allen News, selected Comedies; Allen 18-piece orchestra, and magnificent organ direction of Maurice Poure.

THURSDAY, FRIDAY, SATURDAY—Madge Kennedy in "The Blooming Angel" and Constance Talmadge in "Up the Road With Sally."

COMING—Jack Holt, Katherine McDonald, and all-star famous players cast in "The Woman Thou Gavest Me."

DOUBLE FEATURE PROGRAM AT THE ALLEN TODAY. TOM SAWYER, BY JACK PICKFORD AND TOM MOORE'S NEW PRODUCTION.

Presented at the Allen today is one of the most excellent double programs which has yet been offered to the theatregoers of the city. "Tom Sawyer," that delightful comedy of boyhood adventures down by the Mississippi; a picture which brings vividly to life the escapades of Mark Twain's two famous boy characters, Tom Sawyer and Huckleberry Finn, is the feature attraction; and the added feature is Tom Moore's new photoplay, "Toby's Bow," a charming comedy romance of the south; of a young New Yorker who went to the dark-eyed beauties of Carolina's old families to choose his bride.

The Allen orchestra, under the direction of Maurice Poure present the overture from Chu Chin Chow, and among the numerous special attractions are delightful comedies, scenics and the always interesting Allen News Pictorial.

THE SENSATION OF THE YEAR. "THE EYES OF YOUTH," IS PRESENTED AT THE ALLEN, MONDAY, TUESDAY, WEDNESDAY.

Following is an extract from the Toronto Mail and Empire upon the year's sensation in motion pictures, "The Eyes of the South," which is presented at the Allen, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, starring Clara Kimball Young with an exceptional cast.

"The Eyes of the South" proves, as expected, a better picture than it was a drama, despite its tremendous success on the stage. It is the last word in a movie with a punch. Sensation follows sensation in quick succession, for, as a matter of fact, the story consists of three short melodramas, each one working up a striking climax.

One witnesses the gay life of an opera singer in Paris and also sees how an American millionaire can frame up a story to wreck the character of his wife and divorce her. To fans who like sensations that follow one another thick and fast, "Eyes of the South" will make a strong appeal. It is gorgeously gowned and magnificently produced; and a picture illustrating the amazing experiences of a young woman entering the threshold of life.

Owing to the tremendous cost of this production prices are slightly increased

COMING ALLEN ATTRACTIONS.

TREATMENT FOR INFLUENZA CASES

Simple Home Treatment To Ward Off Attacks in Early Stages.

The appearance in last year's epidemic of influenza taught us that the disease should be fought in its early stages. Here the symptoms are similar to a cold in the head and the same treatment should be used, usually with effective results.

Any physician will tell you that the drugs to use in such cases are Cascara, Phenacetine, Quinine, Salol, Caffein Citrate and Camphor Monobromate. The action of these is to quickly break up the cold and even conquer an advanced stage of Grippe.

These drugs are offered the public in Grip-Fix, a preparation for use in the home. It has been on the market for ten years and did wonderful work during the 'flu epidemic of last year. It comes in capsule form convenient to take and giving quick action. It relieves a cold in a night and usually breaks up an attack of grippe in 48 hours. There is nothing in Grip-Fix which works injury to the system. On the contrary, it has a general toning up effect.

Grip-Fix is for sale by all druggists. Get a box today and have it in the house. Prompt treatment of colds is half the battle. When asking your druggist for it be sure to get Reid's Grip Fix as there is no preparation "just as good" for colds. It sells at 35 cents per box.

The New Edison RE-CREATES music, talking machines imitate music. Proof of this statement lies in the fact that The New Edison is the only sound-reproducing instrument on the market today that can stand the test of comparison with the original artist's voice or playing. MARY PICKFORD, IN TEARS, REACHES HOME, DODGES REPORTERS Stumbled and Fell As She Fled From Train.

LOS ANGELES, March 5.—Mary Pickford, weeping and worn, stumbled from the train here today on her return from Minden, Nevada, where she obtained a divorce decree Tuesday from Owen Moore.

Miss Pickford waited until the passengers had all left the car, then peered out, and, seeing newspapermen and cameramen, flanked by a crowd of the curious, she fled the opposite side of the car. As she ran, with tears streaming down her face, she stumbled and fell. Her mother helped her up, and they fled to a waiting automobile and sped away.

Miss Pickford would not pause to answer the questions fired at her by eager interviewers, but her mother spoke for her.

"This in entirely a personal matter" she said, "and neither the papers nor the public have any right to be prying into it. Why can't you leave the poor little girl alone. She's nervous and broken up. Can't you see she's crying. This is needless cruelty."

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using this well-known old recipe for making cough syrup at home. It is simple and cheap but it really has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth) from any druggist, pour it into a 16-oz. bottle and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make 16 ounces. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its healing effect on the membranes.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

DR THOMAS' ECLECTRIC OIL

A Skin Tightener To Reduce Wrinkles

In beauty culture, as in the treatment of physical ailments, the tendency nowadays is to seek the removal of causes, rather than to treat symptoms or effects. In the matter of wrinkles, for instance, we know that the lines or furrows are caused by the skin becoming loose in places, so it does not perfectly fit the flesh beneath. The skin then "wrinkles" or sags. Naturally the proper thing to do is to tighten the skin—make it fit—then there's no room for lines, wrinkles and folds, and no surplus skin to sag or bag.

The best known formula for the purpose is: Saxolite, one ounce, dissolved in one-half pint of witch-hazel. Use as a wash lotion. The effect is truly remarkable, especially as results are almost immediate. Ask the druggist for the powdered saxolite, which dissolves very quickly.—Advt.

GUARD AGAINST THE 'FLU

Serious Outbreaks of Influenza All Over Canada.

GOOD HEALTH IS THE SUREST SAFEGUARD

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" Brings Vigor and Vitality and Thus Protects Against Disease.

There can be no doubt that the situation regarding the spread of Influenza throughout Canada is one of grave concern. It is quite true that the number of cases does not constitute an epidemic such as caused the suffering and sorrow during the terrible days of 1918. Yet there is no disguising the fact that everyone should be on their guard against the disease.

In Montreal alone, from January 20th to February 21st, three thousand, one hundred and twenty-two cases of Influenza and 139 deaths from the disease were reported to the Health Department.

If the outbreak had come at the beginning of the winter instead of the end, we might reasonably feel that the very cold weather would check the spread of the disease. But coming as it has, at the end of the winter, there is grave fear that an epidemic may occur. For spring, with its slush and rain under foot, its dampness and chill, its constant changing from cold to warm and back again, is a prolific source of coughs and colds, pleurisy and pneumonia.

The best protection, in fact, the only safeguard against the 'Flu is, GOOD HEALTH.

Those who are not as well and strong as they should be; those who are underweight; those who are "rundown" through overwork or sickness; should build up at once. What they need is a Blood-purifier, a body-builder, a strength-giver, like "Fruit-a-tives," the wonderful fruit medicine.

"Fruit-a-tives" regulates the kidneys and bowels, causing these organs to eliminate waste regularly and naturally as nature intended. "Fruit-a-tives" keeps the skin active, and insures an abundant supply of pure, rich blood. "Fruit-a-tives" tones up and strengthens the organs of digestion, sharpens the appetite, brings restful sleep and renews the vitality of the nervous system. "Fruit-a-tives" contains everything that an ideal tonic should have; to purify the blood, to build up strength and vigor, and to regulate the eliminating organs, so that the whole system would be in the best possible condition to resist disease.

Now is the time to build up your health and strength, not only as a precaution against the ravages of Influenza, but also to protect you against "spring fever" and the inevitable reaction which comes with the appearance of warmer weather. Get a box of "Fruit-a-tives" today and let this fruit medicine keep you well.

"Fruit-a-tives" is sold by all dealers at 50c a box, 6 boxes for $2.50, trial size 25c, or sent postpaid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

Now is the time to take special care of the complexion if you wish to look well the rest of the year. The March winds have a strong tendency to bring out freckles that may stay all Summer unless removed. Now is the time to use Othine—double strength.

This preparation for the removal of freckles was written by a prominent physician and is usually so successful that it is sold by druggists under guarantee to refund the money if it fails. Get an ounce of Othine—double strength, and even a few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the smaller freckles even vanishing entirely.

LET a woman ease your suffering. I want you to write, and let me tell you of my simple method of home treatment, send you ten days' free trial, post-paid, and put you in touch with women in Canada who will gladly tell what my method has done for them.

SQUANDERING, BORROWING BY UNION GOVT. CAUSE OF HIGH EXCHANGE RATE, SAYS CLARK

Red Deer Member, Former Union Government Supporter, Declares Lowered Credit Due To Extravagance—Three Others Score Administration For Failure To Conscript Wealth As Well As Men, Will Support Liberal Election Demand—Major Andrews, Unionist, Bolts To Cross-Benchers.

(Special To The Advertiser.)

OTTAWA, March 5.—That the depreciation of the Canadian dollar in the United States and the adverse rate of exchange against the Dominion was the result of lowered credit in Canada, which, in turn, was the direct and immediate result of faulty and improvident financing on the part of the present and late Borden Government, was the emphatic statement made in the House today by Dr. Michael Clark of Red Deer, who was elected in 1917 as a supporter of Union, but who is now with the farmers' party.

After having spent beyond its income, the member for Red Deer declared, the Government went into the hands of the money-lenders. Inflation in currency, squandering and borrowing to pay for what they had squandered, such had been the record of the predecessor of the present finance minister. "And to quote Carlyle," declared Dr. Clark, "squandering and borrowing is no way to check a deficit."

Supreme Condemnation.

"The supreme condemnation of the finance department," he said, "is to be found in the success of the Victory Loan last year. We had been told that the money could not be raised unless the bonds were exempted from income taxation, but when the exemption was abolished last year we raised more than on any previous loan. There is plenty of wealth in the country—that has been proven by the success of these loans—and that wealth should furnish ample revenue if the Government only had the backbone to impose direct taxation effectively."

"If I may offer some advice to the new finance minister," said Dr. Clark, "I would tell him to fail by 100 per cent to follow the principles followed by his predecessor, Sir Thomas White. I would tell him to do the very opposite of what he did."

New Zealand's Record.

"In 1917-18," said Dr. Clark, "the Government of New Zealand, with one-eighth the population of Canada, had raised $25,000,000 through income tax. Had Canada done as well on a basis of population, she would have raised $200,000,000. If that amount had been raised each year of the war the national debt would now be a billion, instead of over two billion dollars, and the exchange situation would not be as it is.

"In the old days," continued Dr. Clark, "we boasted that we were in the war to the last man and the last dollar. I venture to say that there are a good many dollars standing between some supporters of the Government and their last dollar."

The member for Red Deer declared that the whole situation had a strong bearing on the amendment of Mr. King, which he proposed to support. The people had rights as well as members of the House.

"There is a distinct feeling in the country," said Major Andrews of Centre Winnipeg, Liberal-Unionist, "that the Government has failed to do what it should have done in the taxing of war profits. There was conscription of men, but I am afraid that there was not enough conscription of wealth." The member for Centre Winnipeg thereupon declared it to be his intention to vote for the King amendment, calling for a general election. He further declared his intention of going to the cross-benches, where he would be more free to express his opinion. He will not, however, join the Farmers' party.

Support Amendment.

Thereafter Levi Thomson of Qu'Appelle and Thomas McNutt of Saltcoats also rose and expressed the opinion that wealth had not been sufficiently taxed, and that they would vote for the amendment. These men also were elected in support of Union Government in 1917.

Incidentally it may be noted that in the upper chamber yesterday Senator Schaffner, former Conservative M. P. for Souris, rose and accused the Government categorically of having been too merciful upon the men who had made money from the war.

So far no Government member has undertaken to refute the charges made.

PALE, SALLOW WOMEN NEED VINOL

It Makes Rich, Red Blood, Creates Natural Strength, the Glow of Health and a Magnetic Personality.

Women, who are overworked, weak, all rundown, no energy and hardly able to drag about, if you could only realize what VINOL, our cod liver and iron tonic, will do for you, there would not be enough in Canada to supply the demand.

Miss Phyllis Jones, W. Toronto, Ont., says: "I was rundown, nervous, and losing flesh rapidly, and had fainting spells, so I had to stop work for weeks at a time. My doctor told me to take VINOL. I did and after two or three days I commenced to feel better. I have gained flesh rapidly and feel better in every way since taking it."

What VINOL did for Miss Jones it will do for every pale, sallow, weak, overworked woman. Every such woman in Canada should ask her druggist for VINOL today and start on the road to a healthy, happy existence. Your druggist will return your money if Vinol fails to help you.

ANOTHER UNIONIST BOLTS TO CROSS-BENCHES; WILL SUPPORT ELECTION MOVE

OTTAWA, March 5.—Cross-benchers in the House today acquired a new name and convert. The "National Progressive Party," so Dr. Clark of Red Deer referred to the movement led by Mr. Crerar, and, speaking a little later, Major Andrews of Winnipeg, announced his intention of voting for the Opposition amendment, then of passing over to the cross-benches. On several occasions last session Major Andrews took his seat on the cross-benches. He told the House today how, when last he cast a vote against the Government, he placed his resignation in the hands of his constituents. They declined to accept it. They gave him a free hand. Now, therefore, although he "did not like this sort of thing," he would join the cross-benchers. He would feel freer there.

Major Andrews, it may be added, is the first Government member to announce his intention of supporting the amendment.

No Class Legislation.

Previously Dr. Clark strongly disclaimed any intention on the part of the "National Progressive Party" of class legislation.

"Had there been no class legislation before?" Dr. Clark asked. Yet there was "holy horror" when farmers began to talk. What about the Canadian Manufacturers' Association? Dr. Clark pressed.

"So far as I have been able to see," Dr. Clark went on, "nine-tenths of the activities of that body are political activities."

Mr. Middlebro of North Grey interposed a question. "Would you approve of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association putting candidates in the field?" he questioned sharply, as ministerial members cheered.

There were counter-cheers from the cross-benches as Dr. Clark replied: "The Canadian Manufacturers' Association always had candidates in the field and members in the House."

Interests in Politics.

Mr. Middlebro retorted that the answer was no reply. On this, Dr. Clark responded that certainly he was not in favor of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association putting candidates in the field. But were there not already "interests" in politics. The battle of the farmers was the outcome of the conditions under which they lived and "surely it is time for a more honest democracy at home."

Dr. Clark announced that he, too, would support the amendment.

Two other cross-benchers, Mr. MacNutt of Saltcoats, and Mr. Levi Thompson of Qu'Appelle, also contributed to the debate before the House rose at 6 o'clock to adjourn until Monday. Mr. MacNutt, in the course of his remarks, submitted a scheme of redistribution based on an estimated increase of 1,718,738 in population. Such an increase, Mr. MacNutt said, would give a total House membership of 247, with an increase of 18 seats for the four western provinces.

Who Is to Economize?

Dr. Michael Clark, in resuming the debate on the address in the House this afternoon, evoked applause and laughter when congratulating Sir George Foster on the vivacity and virility of his speech. He expressed the wish that the acting prime minister might long be spared "to grace the halls of Parliament, and teach the young idea how to shoot."

He twitted the Government on its preaching of economy.

"Who were to economize?

"The veterans, some of whom could not get enough to eat last winter?

"The working men could just about make ends meet.

"The farmers had no expensive carpets or antique furniture in their houses.

"As for the profiteers, the Government should compel them to practice economy, not preach it to them."

Not Class Party.

Dr. Clark did not believe that the Farmers' party was a class party. He did not agree with Hon. Arthur Meighen in tracing the origin of a given policy to class politics. It was largely an accident that for the moment those who supported the policy of the Council of Agriculture were so many of them farmers. But the farmers had been so hard hit by the tariff that they had been forced to study economics in precisely the same way as working men or women, or members of both front benches of the House, if the latter were placed in a like position. Moreover, there was nothing wrong with class politics until class selfishness crept in.

"No one can accuse the farmers of selfishness, for the first thing they ask for in their platform is that all duties shall be taken off the things they produce so that all may benefit by such a measure," he said.

The farmers asked that the duties be taken off everything they produced. That was an example of unselfishness which other classes might well copy.

Duty Off Tobacco?

Mr. J. W. Brien, South Essex, asked Dr. Clark if he would take the duty off tobacco as well as off foodstuffs. The member from Red Deer said he thought it should not have been necessary to ask as to his position on the tariff. He did not believe in tariffs at all. They were an iniquity. However, he did not expect to see free trade come by return post. He had seen many duties go on, but they never came off. At the present rate, it would require a large part of eternity to bring free trade in Canada.

Dr. Clark gave some advice to Sir Henry Drayton on becoming a successful minister of finance. "If," Dr. Clark said, "Sir Henry will go as far as he can in the opposite direction from his predecessor (Sir Thomas White), he will be a splendid minister of finance."

Dr. Clark said he had advocated income tax legislation in 1914. The Government failed to take his advice. In 1917, and in the intervening years spent with lavish hand, as perhaps they could not help doing, and they borrowed what they spent.

Success of Victory Loan.

The supreme condemnation of the finance department, said Dr. Clark, was to be found in the success of the last Victory Loan. We were told, he said, that we could not raise a Victory Loan if we taxed it. The last Victory Loan was taxed, and it was oversubscribed. The Victory Loan, he declared condemned the Government, because it showed that there was lots of money in the country if the Government had backbone to put the taxes where they could be borne.

Turning to the Mackenzie King amendment, the speaker said that he would have liked it better had it called for an election on the grounds of policy, rather than those of personnel. He objected to the reference to Sir Robert Borden. The prime minister, he said, was just as much a victim of the war as if he had been in the front line, and those who with him had formed the Union Government had carried out their duties during the war well. He thought, however, that there was justice in the contention that the Government had no tariff policy. If you had a government formed of gentlemen of divergent views on the tariff it was likely that the tariff would be laid aside and taken up as little as possible.

Light on Tariff.

Dr. Clark failed to see any great light on tariff questions in the speech of the leader of the Opposition. In fact, he expressed the opinion that the indications were that the Opposition had gone back since 1896 in tariff matters. At that time there was hope of free trade, at any rate between Canada and Great Britain. He wanted to know just how the Opposition stood on the tariff.

After twitting the leader of the Opposition for cabling congratulations to the Right Honorable Herbert H. Asquith, who, he said, was the father of the military service act in Britain, and the greatest living exponent of free trade, Mr. Clark said: "Little as I like this amendment, I shall vote for it on the grounds of broad public policy."

Coalition was necessary in wartime to deal with external foes, he said, but the moment war was over coalition was impossible. He did not deny, he said, that there was still plenty of ability left in the cabinet, but how could members of the cabinet with diametrically oppose views on the tariff get along together?

Wanted an Election.

Dr. Clark said the man who wanted an election now must be fond of adventures. He supported the amendment, however, because he felt the public had rights as well as the members of Parliament.

If an election were held now there would be enough progressive men returned to enforce their views and policies.

The minister of the interior had asked the leader of the Opposition what was wrong with Canada. Had the Government no conception of public feeling today? The people of Assiniboia and Carleton, N. B., had shown that they felt there was much wrong with the Government.

Mr. Meighen should ask the veterans. They had come back and had found men who had stayed at home occupying the best positions. Returned men in Canada had said that the Government had not the courage to take a fair amount of war profits from the men at home, while they were in the trenches being paid $1.10 per diem.

Fought For Democracy.

"Is this what the men went to fight for?" asked Dr. Clark. "They fought for democracy, freedom and justice. A little of the same would go very well at home."

Major Andrews of Winnipeg, who followed Dr. Clark, declared his intention to vote for the Opposition amendment, because he believed in an election as soon as possible. Everywhere in his constituency he had found a majority of the people desirous of change.

On the last occasion he voted against the Government, Major Andrews proceeded, he notified his constituents of his willingness to resign. But they would not accept his resignation.

"I may tell the House," Major Andrews proceeded, "that by constituents gace men an absolutely free hand. I am, therefore, going over to the cross-benches. I shall feel freer. I do not like to do this sort of thing; it goes against my grain. If a man gets his chance in caucus and in the lobbies, even though he finds himself among the minority, I cannot see how the business of the country is going to be carried on if he jumps the fence every time he fails to get his own way."

Vote For Election.

Thomas McNutt of Saltcoat, declared his intention of supporting the amendment, unless the Government would give assurance of a redistribution to come soon.

Levi Thomson of Qu'Appelle, said he had always held that an election should not be held until the men were back from the front, and had a chance to size up the situation. This time had come, and, failing the Government's undertaking to bring on an election next year, he would vote with the amendment. He wanted redistribution and believed there could be another election within two or three years, even if one were held next year.

A. L. Davidson, Annapolis, adjourned the debate, and the House adjourned at 6 o'clock until Monday afternoon.

Armstrong Bill.

First reading was given to a bill introduced in the House of Commons by J. E. Armstrong of Lambton East this afternoon to bring shipping on inland waterways under the jurisdiction of the Dominion Railway Commission. Mr. Armstrong presented a similar bill last session, but it was not adopted.

Mr. Mackenzie King asked if the Government had any announcement to make as to appointments to the board of management of the Canadian National Railways.

Hon. Dr. Reid, minister of railways—"The matter has not yet been finally decided."

Mr. King—"When is it likely to be decided?"

"Not for a few days," replied Dr. Reid.

Hon. Charles Murphy asked when the remainder of the correspondence in regard to the resignation of Judge Robson, as chairman of the board of commerce, might be expected.

Sir George Foster—"Such as can be brought down may be expected, I think, at the next sitting of the House."

NEW METHOD OF REDUCING FAT

A news item from abroad informs us that the American method of producing a slim, trim figure is meeting with astonishing success. This system, which has made such a wonderful impression over there, must be the Marmola Prescription Tablet method of reducing fat. It is safe to say that we have nothing better for this purpose in this country. Anything that will reduce the excess flesh two, three or four pounds a week, without injury to the stomach, the causing of wrinkles, the help of exercising or dieting, or interference with one's meals is a mighty important and useful addition to civilization's necessities. Just such a catalogue of good results, however, follow the use of these pleasant, harmless and economical little fat reducers. We say economical because Marmola Prescription Tablets (made in accordance with the famous prescription) can be obtained of any druggist or the makers, the Marmola Company, 864 Woodward avenue, Detroit, Mich., for one dollar the large case, which is a decidedly economical price, considering the number of tablets each case contains. They are harmless.

THE LONDON HOUSING COMMISSION has under consideration the question of house accommodation. There can be no doubt about the present lack of houses. It has been suggested that many citizens have larger houses than they need, and that they would be willing to rent rooms to satisfactory applicants as a temporary relief.

The Commission has requested the City Clerk to invite offers to rent rooms for this purpose.

It is necessary that something of this nature be done.

Any person who would be willing to rent rooms to suitable applicants are asked to communicate with the City Clerk, stating location, number of rooms and rental they are willing to accept, and the Commission will endeavor to find applicants that would be recommended after investigation

In this way it is hoped that some relief will be found for the present difficulty.

E. R. DENNIS, Chairman.
S. BAKER, City Clerk.

"NON-SKIDS" FOR DYSPEPTICS

If you have a skidding stomach—one that "upsets" every time you eat—you need a non-skid just as surely as your car does on an icy pavement; and the best little non-skid in the world for the prevention and relief of stomach "upsets" is Bi-nesia. Hundreds of folks right here in London, as well as many physicians and druggists, say that Bi-nes'a tablets, which are now obtainable of druggists everywhere, are the finest little stomach helpers and trouble preventers they ever tried. Get a package of Bi-nes'a Tablets today, and take three or four after each meal or whenever pain is felt. Money back if it fails to stop a "stomach skid" within five minutes.—Advt.

HELENE'S MARRIED LIFE

BY MAY CHRISTIE

Copyright, 1920, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate

XX.—A Friend in Need

By the front door Mr. Travis Lloyd was waiting for me. He was immaculately dressed for church. His silk hat shone, his shoes and gloves were perfect, and his overcoat had quite a youthful, snappy cut.

When he caught sight of me his whole face seemed to light up. But—unlike Tony—he volunteered neither compliment nor criticism. And we set off side by side.

It was a frosty morning. The hedgerows held a glittering mass of tiny diamonds. We walked along the hard country roads, breathing in the glorious air. It was difficult to think of treachery and love intrigues—or of last night's attempted burglary—on an enchanted day like this.

"I can't help feeling happy—and—optimistic," I remarked when we had walked a quarter of a mile.

Travis Lloyd smiled.

"Of course not," he said quietly. "You have everything in the world to make you happy." Then he added, in an almost inaudible tone:

"And everything in the world to make a man happy, too!"

We were rather silent then, until the church was reached.

The service was a quiet and soothing one. The choir of boys' voices seemed to hold a benediction. And the sermon braced me up miraculously.

As we emerged from the ivy-covered porch and walked down the mossy path to the church gate we spied a motor car drawn up in the roadside. Alice Anstruther sat in the driver's seat. She beckoned to me.

"That idiot of a nurse had to go up to town this morning on some urgent business!" She made a little face. "I drove her to the railway station and called on the way home for you, Helene. Remember your promise about nursing our invalid! Jump in, dear. You really are a friend in need!"

She scarcely looked at Travis Lloyd, beyond a rather chilly bow. He seemed disappointed that our walk home should be so summarily curtailed. But of course he couldn't raise objections when my mission was a charitable one.

I thanked him for his hospitality, and drove away with Alice. That enterprising young woman had already collected my baggage and borne it off from Thorny Grange! It occupied a portion of the back seat of the car.

In a short time we reached our destination. We partook of lunch. And then Alice, without further parley, led me upstairs to the sick man's room.

She paused on the threshold.

"I couldn't possibly go in," said she, shivering daintily. "I'm just terrified of illness! But you're so strong-minded and self-reliant, Helene! You won't be frightened if he gets a bit delirious? I don't think he gets violent—but of course in a brain case one never knows!" She made a little face. "Of course the nurse will be back tonight, so you needn't worry."

With beating heart I entered Jim's apartment. In the shadow of a big four-poster he was lying, very white and still. His eyes were closed. There was a bandage round his head.

I drew a chair up close to the bed and facing Jim. A well of love and pity sprang up within me at the sight of the poor boy's helplessness.

I leaned a little forward, touching one of his hands as it lay inertly on the counterpane.

"Jim!" I whispered softly. "Jim, my dear!"

No answer.

The clock upon the mantelpiece ticked the hours away. How quiet the room was! How eerily silent was the house!

After a time I think I must have fallen asleep. For everything seemed vague and unreal around about me. The ticking of the clock seemed far off and remote.

Then in my dreams I heard a well remembered voice murmuring:

"Helene!"

Something soft and caressing touched my cheek. I'm sure I smiled.

And then I woke up with a sudden start. The blood rushed to my head—then ebbed away. For Jim—my Jim—was sitting up in bed with his pale unconscious face thrust close to mine, his dark, wild eyes gazing deep into my own, and his lips moving in delirious muttering!

FINANCIAL, MARKET AND COMMERCIAL SECTION

PRODUCE IS FIRM ON LOCAL MARKET

Hay, Oats, Hogs, Potatoes All Scarce On Market Square.

Supplies were rather scarce on the local market today. The prices of hay, oats, hogs, both alive and dressed, and potatoes remain firm.

The attendance has been poor all week. Oats have been scarce. Hay has been in good demand and was plentiful during the early part of the week.

The roads are in fairly good shape today, although at times they were almost impassable for a heavy wagon, or sleigh. One load of oats managed to get through this morning.

WOOL MARKET.

BOSTON, Mass., March 5.—The Commercial Bulletin tomorrow will say:

"Transportation is getting a little freer with moderating weather, and the wool situation is, therefore, a little improved, but the position of the market is hardly changed. The Government sales this week have been poorly attended on the whole, and withdrawals have been heavy.

"The manufacturing situation is hardly changed, raw materials being the paramount need at the mills, supplies having been badly depleted through lack of freights."

WEATHER CONDITIONS SEND CHICAGO CORN PRICE DOWN

Tendency To Soar At First, Gives Way Later.

CHICAGO, March 5.—Weakness developed in the corn market today owing more or less to the fact that contrary to predictions the blizzard had not proved serious. Prices closed weak, ⅞c to 1⅝c net lower, with May, $1.41⅞ to $1.42⅛, and July, $1.35½ to $1.35⅝. Oats lost ⅞c to 1¼c, and provisions, 12c to 40c.

At first the corn market displayed a tendency to soar with sterling, and as a result of lightness of receipts. Advices, however, indicated that the scare about the blizzard was altogether disproportionate to the facts, and this put the bulls at a considerable disadvantage. Besides, May delivery showed a rise of 14c per bushel compared with last week's minimum. Agreat many holders appeared to deem the time opportune to realize profits. With buying power limited because of the elimination ofg much of the short interest on yesterday's bulge, the market sagged during most of the session and finished near the lowest point reached.

Cancelling of export sales had a depressing influence on the oats market. Furthermore, domestic shipping demand was poor.

Provisions weakened with grain. Stockyard interests were said to have turned to the selling side, despite the strength of sterling, and the hog market.

JUMP IN EXCHANGE RESULTS IN BULLISH FEELING IN TORONTO

Brazilian Centre of Active Buying—Makes Net Gain of 2 5-8 Points.

TORONTO, March 5.—With the pound sterling soaring again, bullish sentiment on the Toronto Stock Exchange increased again today, and the general run of stocks scored substantial gains.

Brazilian was the centre of active buying, such as had not been seen in this issues in weeks, and a strong opening at 47 was followed by a further advance to 48, and the closing price of 47⅞ showed a net gain of 2⅝ points. Brazilian is now 7½ points above the low of a few weeks ago, the stock being one of those which, for obvious reasons, is peculiarly responsive to fluctuations in sterling exchange.

Atlantic Sugar was relatively neglected, only 290 shares being traded in, and the closing price, 97¼, showed a net gain of ⅜ point. Dominion Canners was bought aggressively, and sold up to 60, closing ½ a point below the best for a net gain of 1½ points.

There was brisk inquiry for Canada Cement, and the price rose 1⅝ points to 68.

The steel stocks were dull but firm. Dominion, 1½ points higher at 71½, and Steel of Canada, ¾ point up at 97¾. Maple Leaf rallied 2½ points ta 177, and Canada Steamships, ¾ point to 74.

The paper stocks were conspicuously strong. Spanish River advanced 1 point to 85½, with the preferred advancing 6 points to 129. The first sale of Riordon in some days was at 183, a gain of 8½ points.

War bonds were quieter with prices steady.

In the unlisted group Blak Lake, common was again active, slightly more than 1,000 shares changing hands, all at 11¼, unchanged from Thursday.

Dominion Foundry in response to a revival of rumors of absorption by Canada Car and Foundry rose from 81 to 84, but the closing bid dropped to 81.

The day's transactions: Listed stocks, 2,220 shares; bonds, par value, $88,250; unlisted stocks, 2,277 shares, including 460 mining shares.

British Exchange Advances on New York Stock Market Rise Said To Be Speculative

Maximum of $3.70 Quoted For Demand Bills On London Before Close of Market—Fifty-One Cents Over February's Low Record.

NEW YORK, March 5.—Interest in the international credit situation obscured all other events in the securities markets today, although reports of impending heavy gold shipments from England, and possibly France, lacked confirmation.

Additions to the already large exports of gold from this centre to South America was announced, but these were offset in part by the receipt of gold from Canada, with prospects of further shipments from across the northern border.

Exchange on England, France and other leading European markets was again very strong, a maximum of $3.70 being quoted for demand bill on London before the close of the stock market. This is an advance of 12c from yesterday's highest accepted trading rate, and 51c over the low record of February.

Dealers in exchange described today's operations as chiefly speculative, and based not so much on prospective gold imports as increasing signs that England will readjust her adverse trade balance in due course.

Stocks were generally strong. Popular shares of the motor and oil varieties dominated the dealings at extreme gains of 2 to 8½ points. Strength of these issues was coincidental with further advances in prices of crude and refined oils, an increased dividend for Chandler Motors, and rumors of an early rise in prices of motor tires.

Steels, equipments, shippings and sundry specialties participated in the advance, which lost much of its force in the later dealings. Exchange then was strongest and call loans eased from the 9 per cent opening to 6 per cent. Sales of stocks amounted to 875,000 shares.

Aside from the firmness of foreign issues, the bond market was featureless, most domestic rails and industrials showing moderate irregularity with the Liberty group. The sales of bonds, par value, amounted to $12,750,000.

Old U. S. bonds were unchanged on call.

EVENING STOCK LETTER.

[Jones, Easton, McCallum Co., Ltd.]

NEW YORK, March 5.—Having become accustomed to unfavorable bank statements, it is more than likely that anticipation of an unfavorable showing tomorrow exercised an adverse influence on market operations today. The story of gold imports did not produce any great market enthusiasm. One reason is that the story is not confirmed. The bankers who represent the foreign government in financial operations have apparently not been the authors of the report. It is always well to be a little on guard and not accept matters of this kind at full value. We have had a fair volume of business today, but the early strength was not maintained. During the midsession it became apparent that there were longs who were willing to part with their stocks on the bulge, and this supply resulted in fair recessions through the list.

In a general way there is nothing really new; the same influences are operating both for and against values. In view, however, of the level of values, the chances favor the buyers on the weak days.

TO NEED $8,000,000 MORE FOR HOUSING PLAN, IS ESTIMATE

Building Cost 125 Per Cent Greater Than 1913 Says Ellis.

TORONTO, March 5.—The cost of constructing houses in the province of Ontario is about 125 per cent greater than it was before the war, according to J. A. Ellis, director of the bureau of municipal affairs, in a report to the Ontario Government on housing for last year. Lumber prices have increased so much, Mr. Ellis states, that it is almost as costly to erect a frame house as a brick building.

"If all the requirements of the various municipalities for 1920 are met, about $8,000,000 more will have to be appropriated in addition to the $10,625,000 already appropriated," says the report.

Mr. Ellis' report gives in detail the work accomplished, and shows that 99 municipalities passed bylaws last year, and proceeded with the building of houses under the Ontario housing act. He points out a scheme financed by the city itself.

The Government has not announced its policy on the housing question yet, and has made no promises to the municipalities in connection with housing.

WASHINGTON ISSUES TEXT OF PREMIERS' NOTE TO PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, March 5.—The text of the note from the British and French premiers on the Adriatic situation, to which President Wilson's reply was delivered in London today, was made public tonight by the state department today. It conforms closely to the summary cabled from London February 27, and emphasizes the importance attached by the premiers to the fact that Mr. Wilson had previously "expressed his willingness" to accept a settlement arrived at by direct negotiations between Italy and Jugo-Slavia.

It has been assumed here that the president's reply will be found on publication to deal mainly with the invitation of the premiers that he join them in formally proposing such negotiations to the Italian and Jugo-Slav governments.

No intimation of his answer, however, has been given out, and owing to the fact that it was necessary for the president's most recent note to reach Premier Millerand in France, it will not be made public until Monday.

FARMER AND LABOR MEMBERS IN CAUCUS FOR FIRST TIME

TORONTO, March 5.—For the first time since the new Government of Ontario was organized a caucus was held today attended by Farmer and Labor members of the Legislature. "It was simply a get-together meeting," one minister explained afterward, "to give the ministers a chance to tell what legislation they proposed to bring before the session. We want the members to know what is coming up, so they can think about it, and then be able to proceed intelligently on it."

Premier Drury said there was no statement to be given out as to the caucus.

Nothing of a very contentious nature is anticipated in the program for the session. It is expected that the eight-hour day wanted by labor will only reach the stage of a commission being appointed to investigate the feasibility of such an act, and the question may be dealt with at a later session.

NIAGARA RAILWAY DISPUTE SETTLED

ST. CATHARINES, March 5.—There will be no strike on the Niagara, St. Catharines and Toronto Railway. This was decided here today, when the men voted to accept an agreement entered into in Toronto yesterday at a conference between a committee of the men and officials of the company.

The agreement provides for increases ranging from 3 cents to 5 cents an hour. The new maximum rate for passenger crews will be 50 cents an hour and for freight crews 52 cents an hour. Overtime will be paid for at the rate of time and a half, except for the first hour of overtime, which is to be 15 cents in addition to the regular rate. Freight crews are to work ten hours a day, and passenger crews nine hours. Shop repair men are to receive increases of from 3 cents to 5 cents an hour, with time and a half for all overtime.

At The Theaters

AT THE GRAND.

"Listen Lester," certainly appealed to the large audience which crowded the Grand Opera last night. The vehicle is billed as a musical entertainment, and to this might be added that it is a dancing delight. Every member of the company is a dancer of more than average ability, while several are stars.

Joseph Mack as Lester Lite, a porter, who spends most of his time hunting for the tell-tale love letters of Col. Rufus Dodge (Irving Brooks), makes the best of his role as the star comedian. His eccentric dancing drew him rounds of applause.

Gus Shy as William Penn Jun., was the hardest worker on the stage. Gus instilled a lot of pep into the show, and the audience was always glad to se him make an appearance. Mr. Shy was a little shy when it came to warbling songs, but he more than made up for it when it came to tripping the light fantastic.

Virginia Watson as Miss Mary Dodge is a winsome little lady and is an actress of no mean ability. Miss Watson has a smile all her own, and her duet, "Waiting For You," with Jean Leoni was exceptionally good.

Mayme Gerhue as Miss Arbutus Guilty rolled her eyes to good adavntage, for the gallery, otherwise known as the "gods," applauded her every time she appeared. Miss Gerhue was quite properly billed as a "live one."

Mrs. Tillie Mumm (Jean Thomas), a widow looking for a husband, made the most of her part, as did Irving Brooks, first as Col. Dodge and then as Col. Ford.

The songs were up to the usual musical comedy standard, the best being "Waiting For You," "When Shadows Fall" and "I'd Love To."

The offering will be repeated at the Grand Opera House this afternoon and evening.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

Anyone who has the blues and cannot get rid of them should visit the Majestic Theatre and see "It Pays To Advertise," which will be presented by the Forest City Dramatic Club this afternoon and evening, after a successful showing last night to a large audience.

"It Pays To Advertise" is a scream from start to finish. What usual advertising will do and the circumstances it can draw people into is very cleverly shown in three acts by an excellent cast, under the direction of Miss Jean Walker.

Rodney Martin, son of a millionaire soap merchant, comes home from college. He has been spending too much money to suit his father, and is told that he must work for a living. A stenographer in the office of young Martin's father, who has been pulling Rodney's heart-strings, tries to make him work, but he only falls in love, and then has the luck of being disinherited until he does make good.

Here is where Rodney gets into the advertising business with a publicity agent. They advertise a soap, which later sells so well that Cyrus Martin's income is threatened by his son's business. The office of the Thirteen Soap Company is a very busy place. Signs of every sort decorate the walls, an outstanding one being "Thirteen Soap Unlucky for Dirt." A French maiden appears, who causes much amusement in her hurried and flurried French manner. Here is where the fun starts, although the audience has been kept in a constant titter throughout every act.

Those in the cast, each of whom does his or her part cleverly, are Miss Edith M. Maitland, Miss Ella Moote, Miss Jean Walker, J. Hunter, Russell Knight, John Graham, Wendell Hughes, C. Wideman and Alex Morrison.

ONTARIO BONDS ISSUE OF $5,000,000 SOLD TO DEALERS' SYNDICATE

TORONTO, March 5.—An issue of bonds amounting to $5,000,000 has been sold by the Province of Ontario to a syndicate of Toronto and United States bond dealers. The purchasers are Aemilius Jarvis & Co., Toronto, and the Continental and Commercial Trust Company, Harris Trust and Savings Co., and Halsey, Stewart & Co., Chicago. The bonds are for five years and bear 5½ per cent.

The purchase price was 100.65 and interest, which means the province borrows on a 5.35 per cent basis. It is understood the securities will be offered in the United States on a 7 per cent. basis.

The money is required in part to pay off maturing obligations in the United States.

WOULD RAISE MOTOR FEES TO AID ROADS

TORONTO, March 5.—That Ontario will have the best system of roads on the continent, if the authorities get the proper backing, was the statement today of W. A. McLean, deputy minister of highways, to the Ontario Good Roads Association, which concluded their convention here today. The association approved of the raising of motor fees to meet the cost of highways, and also agreed that the act should be amended to permit the commission to spend money on tree-planting. The provincial highways policy of Hon. F. C. Biggs was indorsed. L. E. Allen, C.E., of Belleville, was elected president.

Other officers elected were as follows: Vice-presidents, T. J. Mahoney, Hamilton, and W. H. Brown, Chesley; secretary-treasurer, Hon. George S. Henry, Todmorden; directors, F. A. Senacal, Plantaganet; J. A. Sanderson, Oxford Station; William Nugent, Belleville; W. H. Pugsley, Richmond Hill; Major T. L. Kennedy, M.P.P., Dixie; J. E. Jamieson, Singhampton; John Currie, Strathroy; J. E. Waters, Niagara-on-the-Lake, and S. L. Squire, Toronto.

DEAD ENGINEER IS BLAMED FOR WRECK

ELIZABETH, N.J., March 5.—William Sells, engineer of an express train which ran into a work train at Elizabethport last Wednesday, killing four persons, and who was himself killed, is held responsible for the wreck. The prosecutor found that he was waving at another engineer, and lost sight of a signal.

MOTHER AND SISTER DEAD

AILSA CRAIG, March 5.—Word has been received from R. J. Croft of Toronto, formerly editor of the Ailsa Craig Banner, of the death of his mother and sister of Toronto, from the flu. Both were well-known here, having visited their son while in town.

The funeral of Miss Kate Crawford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Crawford of this place, whose death occurred at Toronto on Thursday, February 26, after a few days' illness, was held from her home here this week, and was largely attended. Deceased was in her 21st year, and besides her parents leaves to mourn her loss three sisters, Margaret, Mary and Jeanette, all living at home.

Lloyd Saunders of this place has purchased the home of Mr. Elmer Risdale on Main street, and will move there shortly. Mr. Risdale has accepted a position on the G. T. R. at Stratford.

The Foresters held a special meeting on Monday evening in their lodgeroom, and after the business part adjourned to Mrs. Munro's refreshment parlors where they all enjoyed an oyster supper.

DUTCH NOTE TELLS ALLIES HOLLAND WILL WATCH EX-KAISER

Says Conscious of Duties Regarding Wilhelm.

THE HAGUE, March 5.—The Dutch Government, in its answer to the Allied note, while appreciating the motives actuating the Allies, declares its inability to change its previous decisions. It says it is not forgetful of the inhuman acts committed during the war, but since Holland is not a party to the Versailles treaty, the Queen's Government finds itself in a different position from other powers with regard to these acts.

"Since the Government's supreme duty is to respect the constitutional laws of the Kingdom," the note continues, "it can only emphasize that it would be committing an act contrary to law and justice and incompatible with the national honor, if it consented to violate these laws by abolishing the rights accorded to a fugitive finding himself on Dutch territory."

Conscious of Duties.

Protesting that this attitude does not put Holland outside the community of nations, the note declares Holland is fully conscious of the duties the presence of the former emperor lays on the Netherlands Government with regard to the country's own interests, as well as international security.

The note protests that, contrary to the impression derived from the Allied note, the Dutch Government from the beginning has observed the obligations entailed by these duties.

Necessary Limitations.

The Government, the note says, will continue to do so, being able in the exercise of Dutch sovereignty to take on the spot all precautionary measures deemed requisite to subject the freedom of the former emperor to necessary limitations.

The Netherlands Government says it is anxious to place these declarations on record in the most formal manner and in conclusion declares it to be its opinion that these declarations, which prove that the Government realizes the dangers which the powers dread will dispel their apprehension.

The note is signed by Jonkheer von Karnebeek, the Dutch foreign minister.

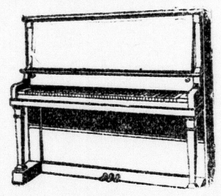

EXPECTS HIGHER-UPS TO BE ARRESTED FOR THEFT OF FREIGHT

FREDERICTON, N. S., March 5.—That officials higher up in the employ of the Canadian National Railway will soon be placed under arrest in the roundup of the railwaymen which is being made as a result of the extensive thefts of freight that have been taking place on the system in New Brunswick, declared a public official who is closely in touch with the case this morning.

The ten prisoners appearing in the police court this afternoon charged with thefts are all sectionmen or occupy other subservient positions, with the exception of one man, who is a locomotive engineer, and was in receipt of about $300 a month salary. Nine of the ten have pleaded guilty, but were not sentenced this afternoon, because it has been found advisable to have them here as witnesses, whereas if they were sentenced they would not then be available.

MISQUOTED, STATES GEDDES, REGARDING SINN FEIN OPINION

Ambassador Will Depart For United States April 3.

LONDON, March 5.—(By the Associated Press.) — April 3 has been tentatively fixed as the date of departure of Sir Auckland Geddes, the new British ambassador to the United States, for New York.

Sir Auckland told the Associated Press this morning that he had been misquoted in what purported to be interviews with him appearing in New York newspapers, in which it was declared he had characterized the Sinn Fein movement as "practically a religious scheme designed to secure power for the Roman Catholic Church."

Sir Auckland declared: "In the first place, I have granted no interview since my appointment to the Washington post. What I was quoted as saying must have been founded on my conversations of last Tuesday, in which I employed the platitude that Sinn Feinism is an intensely national movement.

"I have always believed the Irish complexities more political than religious. I think my reported optimism over the new home rule bill is understandable since I participated in its framing."

The ambassador said his reported espousal of a world loan to Germany was merely a reiteration of his conviction that one of the world's first duties was to help Germany to her feet, which sentiment he has frequently expressed in public addresses.

Sir Auckland said he would reserve comment on the Anglo-American situation and affairs until his arrival in the United States.
