DILKE ATTACKS FOREIGN POLICY

A Warm Debate in the British House of Commons

OVER THE FAR EAST QUESTION

Lord Cranborne Says England Is Not Getting the Worst of It in Manchuria.

London, July 24.—When the House of Commons was in committee yesterday on the foreign office vote, Sir Charles Dilke (Advanced Radical) assailed the foreign policy of the Government which, he said, was strangely inconsistent. He compared the recent visit of King Edward to France and President Loubet's return visit to England with the Government's attitude towards Germany and accused the Government of cringing to Germany in the Venezuelan matter and "allowing themselves to be hoodwinked." But, Sir Charles added, when there was a popular cry against Germany, the Government had "hatched up the Canadian tariff grievance and lately the ministers had used language of absolute ferocity against Germany."

The Under Foreign Secretary, Lord Cranborne, replying, said the German Emperor had nothing whatever to do, directly or indirectly, with the communications in regard to the co-operation of Great Britain and Germany in the Venezuelan affair. He vindicated the policy of the Government in this matter and said Great Britain was on friendly terms with all the powers.

Continuing, the Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs denied that Great Britain was getting the worst of it in Manchuria, where, he said, Great Britain recognized the open door policy. Referring to the Canadian tariff question Lord Cranborne said they must put their own colonies first and an end must be put at once to the disabilities under which they suffered.

SIR CHARLES DILKE,
Who made a violent attack on Britain's Foreign Policy.

The criticism of the Government's foreign policy continued at the evening session.

Joseph Walton, a Liberal, who strongly favors an extension of British trade by means of colonial development, accused the Government of a succession of humiliating surrenders in China. He said the time had arrived from facing the situation in Manchuria and New Chwang.

The Under Foreign Secretary, Lord Cranborne, in reply, said that British trade in China was still increasing at a satisfactory rate, and he was confident of securing a full share of railway and other valuable concessions. The Government, he said, was fully aware of the situation in Manchuria. The great difficulty up to the present time in negotiating with Russia was that Great Britain had not been able to ascertain exactly what the Russian Government wanted, and the fact remained that Manchuria was still occupied. Russia's failure to fulfil her undertaking, he said, was satisfactory neither to Great Britain, Japan nor the United States. "Our ally, Japan," he said, "is becoming uneasy at the prolongation of the occupation of Manchuria, and we are equally anxious for some kind of a settlement. They are certain elements out of which an agreement ought to be possible, and if Russia is prepared to give due weight to our commercial rights and commercial interests, she will not find us irreconcilable to compromise."

Besides alluding to the Czar as a despot, Lord Cranborne made reference to France and Germany.

Mr. Redmond tried to make it appear that the British Government had suffered a rebuff in its representations to France in behalf of the expelled monks.

In replying, Lord Cranborne said that he was not surprised at Mr. Redmond's remarks, and he must agree with him in deploring what had occurred. "Such a measure as the association's law," he said, "could never have been passed in England, and we cannot be surprised if one may say so of great neighboring nation, that France would think it necessary to introduce such a law.

Lord Cranborne's remarks were the subject of special comment because of the presence in London of the French arbitrationists.

The St. Louis Bribers.

St. Louis, July 24.—Judge Ryan will on Monday pass sentence on Emil Hartmann, convicted of bribery, in connection with the city lighting deal, to six years in the penitentiary; J. J. Haningan and Louis Decker, convicted of perjury in connection with the suburban railway bill deal, to four years, and T. Ed Albright and John Sheridan, convicted of bribery in connection with the suburban railway bill deal, to five years' imprisonment. All are former members of the House of Delegates.

MYSTERY CLEARED UP

Sarnia, Ont., July 24.—Three weeks ago last Tuesday Mrs. Monski mysteriously disappeared from her home at Point Edward through the night, clad only in her night clothes. Ever since that time diligent search has been made for the woman, but up till today no trace of her whereabouts was forthcoming. This morning Mrs. Monski's body was found floating in the river here.

TRAIN TELEPHONES

Instrument Replaces Usual Signals and Warns Driver.

Vienna, July 24.—Between Tabor and Bechin, in Bohemia, the first electric railway in the Austrian Empire has been opened. The line is fifteen miles long, and the maximum speed obtained is 19 miles an hour. Each train consists of two cars, and is capable of carrying 36 tons of goods and 40 passengers. The interesting feature of this railway is that a telephone replaces the usual signals, and by this means the driver can ascertain if the line is clear. Each car carries a portable instrument of the simplest construction, and passengers can also make use of the telephone.

WILL ANNOUNCE POLICY MONDAY

Ministers in Council on G. T. P. Bill—Privileges and Elections Committee.

Ottawa, July 24. — The general impression here is that there will be no Grand Trunk Pacific announcement in the House till Monday. The ministers spent the entire morning in council. The privileges and elections committee this morning heard more evidence of the transfer of the property of George Loy, M. P., for Beauharnois, to C. B. Johnston, who in turn transferred it to the Government for the Valleyfield postoffice site. Mr. Loy repeated his statement made in the House that he sold in good faith to Johnston. Mr. Monk failed in an effort to introduce evidence as to an alleged attempt of Loy, as the mayor of Valleyfield, to alienate his property in order to effect a sale for the corporation. The inquiry was not concluded.

Justice Killam, of Manitoba, is named as the late Judge Armour's successor on the supreme court bench. If he takes the appointment it is unlikely that he will serve on the Treadgold commission.

TRAGIC DEATH OF MRS. J. J. FOY

Toronto, July 24.—A sad fatality occurred on the steamer Macassa yesterday afternoon, when Mrs. Marie Cuvillier Foy, wife of J. J. Foy, M. P. P. for South Toronto, in some way fell from the steamer into the water and was drowned. Nobody appears to have seen the accident, the alarm being given when the body was noticed floating in the water.

Mrs. Foy, who had been in ill-health for some time, for the past five months had been a patient in Ramage Hospital, conducted by Dr. Holford Walker, at 54 Isabella street. She had recovered very rapidly recently, however, and was in the habit of taking trips about the city and to the outside resorts. Yesterday, in company with another patient and two of the nurses, she left on the Macassa for a trip to Hamilton. The tragedy occurred just before 1 o'clock, when the Macassa was some two miles this side of Oakville. Mrs. Foy had left her companions to take a stroll around the boat, and a few minutes later came the cry that someone had fallen overboard.

Capt. Cooney stopped the boat as quickly as possible, and returned over the course. Mrs. Foy had been in the water about ten or twelve minutes when she was picked up by Mate Jas. Henderson and three of the Macassa's crew, who had lowered one of the lifeboats for the purpose. Efforts were made to resuscitate her, as she was still alive. She died, however, before the boat arrived at Hamilton. Dr. White, of Hamilton, who is a coroner, decided that an inquest was unnecessary.

Mr. J. J. Foy went to Hamilton and brought the body of Mrs. Foy home to his residence, 90 Isabella street. The funeral will take place on Saturday at 10 a.m. to Our Lady of Lourdes, and thence to St. Michael's Cemetery.

RALPH ROLLAND DIES

The Galt Wheelman Succumbs to Injuries Received.

Galt, July 24. — Ralph Rolland, the young man who plunged headlong into what is known as the tail race of the dam here on Tuesday, when returning from the scene of the wreck of the C. P. R. bridge, in trying to pass two ladies on his wheel, died in the hospital this evening. His remains will be taken to Listowel for interment.

JAPAN TAKES BRITAIN'S ADVICE

Decides Upon a Policy of Waiting and Watching.

WILL KEEP AFTER THOSE PORTS

Japanese Diplomat Denies Possibility of War, But Hints at a Powerful Alliance.

London, July 24.—Japan has decided to observe the policy of waiting and watching Russia, advocated by Great Britain. In the meantime she will urge China to carry out the assurances given to the United States respecting Manchuria, and will endeavor to obtain the opening of additional ports.

At the Japanese legation here the following statement was made by an official to the Associated Press: "I can assure you that the talk of war between Russia and Japan is an invention. Japan has not the least intention of taking that course. She proposes to wait and maintain her attitude of watchfulness. Japan and America are acting on the same lines, and it would be difficult for any other power to withstand the pressure they and Great Britain could apply."

It is said that Japan intends to do nothing till October, when the final evacuation of Manchuria must occur. The failure of Russia to withdraw from Manchuria would be followed by a serious move on the part of Japan.

The Russian embassy here regrets the confusion which has arisen in consequence of the publication of the report that Prince Ching, head of the Chinese foreign office, had written to U. S. Minister Conger, refusing to open ports in Manchuria. The Russian officials believe with Washington that the note was sent before China gave her assurances, and they assert positively that Russia intends to carry out to the letter the assurances she has given, and that she will not interpose obstacles in the way of China observing her pledge to Secretary Hay.

The Tokio correspondent of the Daily Mail confirms the reports of the alarm and resentment in Japan arising from the Russian operations in Manchuria and Corea. He says that the Japanese are accumulating stores and negotiating for the purchase of ships. A Japanese squadron is now off Vladivostock, where Russian vessels have been sent ready for action at any moment.

Siberian newspapers received in Tokio are as aggressive as the Japanese newspapers. The Novi Kraiu says that the Japanese must evacuate Corea if the Russians evacuate Manchuria. The Russians believe that their prestige will be lost if they give way, and that Japan will become predominant in China and Corea.

Marquis Ito's appointment to the Privy Council is favorable to peace, but Russia must retreat or there will be the greatest danger of war.

The Japanese believe that France and England will join in the expected conflict, which diplomatists think, might, if begun, continue for years, involving disastrous results to Japanest finances, and the creation of a sort of Balkan difficulty in Corea.

A REVOLUTION IN BULGARIA

Rumors of a Serious Outbreak That Is Semi-Officially Denied.

Belgrade, July 24.—Prince Ferdinand of Bulgaria, accompanied by his children, passed through this city at 4 o'clock this morning on his way to Vienna.

A dispatch last night from Vienna said the rumors were in circulation in Belgrade to the effect that a revolution had broken out in Bulgaria, and that Prince Ferdinand, on the advice of his ministry, had fled to Belgrade.

Vienna, July 24.—The reports that a revolution has broken out in Bulgaria, and that Prince Ferdinand has fled, are semi-officially characterized here as unfounded. It is explained that July 26 is the anniversary of the death of Prince Ferdinand's father, and that the immediate object of his present journey is to visit his grave at Coburn, which is Prince Ferdinand's annual custom.

A STRANGE VOW

Russian Fanatic Wears Heavy Chain for Two Years.

Vienna, July 24. — In the hospital of Koslow, in Central Russia, a curious operation has been performed on a woman only 27 years of age. As a consequence of a vow she had worn for two years iron chains about her body. The flesh had grown up round and through the links of these chains, and it was found necessary to remove them. The operation proved to be a very difficult one, for the chains were entirely hidden from view by the flesh, and each link had to be cut out separately.

THE OPEN MIND

Balfour Repeats Assertion as to Stand on New Policy.

London, July 24.—Addressing the Primrose League at a dinner last night at the Hotel Cecil, Premier Balfour warmly defended Colonial Secretary Chamberlain against unreasonable attacks because he had given expression to the views of the colonies on the fiscal question.

Mr. Balfour reiterated his previous statement that the Government approached the question with an open mind, and said it was folly to expect the ministry on a moment's notice to produce a formulated scheme on such a great subject.

RUSSIA ENTERS LIST

Will Compete in North Pacific Salmon Industry.

Tacoma, Wash., July 24.—With cheap labor and no restrictions to hamper them, the Russians, it is announced, are preparing to engage in salmon fishing on the Siberian coast on a large scale. They will be sharp competitors for the trade now controlled by the Alaskan salmon canneries. The canneries will be established at Pankara and Barankroft Bays on the Siberian coast.

GERMAN COURT TYRANNY

Causes a Grand Duchess to Go Into Exile.

Berlin, July 24.—Another German court is scandalized by the revolt of a young wife against the trammels of court etiquette and bureauancy.

Since her marriage two months ago the Grand Duchess Carolina of Saxe-Weimar has been carrying on a bitter struggle against entourage. She is of independent spirit and wanted to be mistress of her own household. A number of high courtiers who for years have been ruling the Weimar court brought powerful influence to bear to force the Grand Duchess to comply with their views of life. To escape this tyranny the Duchess has fled to Switzerland.

The Kaiser was at her wedding.

JUSTICE KILLAM FOR THE BENCH

The Chief Justice of Manitoba Appointed to Succeed Late Justice Armour.

Ottawa, July 24.—Mr. A. B. Aylesworth, being averse to accepting a judgeship, it is understood that Chief Justice A. G. Killam, of Manitoba, will be appointed to succeed the late Justice Armour on the Supreme Court Bench. The west has been pressing for representation in the supreme court for some time past, and apparently the movement is about to meet with success. The judiciary of the west could not have a better representative than Chief Justice Killam. He is a wise, upright and clever judge, and his urbane and courteous manners render him extremely popular with the bar and also with the general public.

WHAT BOTHA WANTS

Is Trying to Combat British Sentiments in the Transvaal.

Johannesburg, July 24.—Gen. Botha's attack on Lord Milner at Cape Town may be explained by the fact that the latter was too strong to be deluded into granting class concessions to Boers at variance with the Vereeniging peace terms.

Gen. Botha's aim is undoubtedly to use all possible means to employ the undivided strength of the Boers in combating British sentiments throughout the Transvaal, thus seeking to create a leverage for party ends.

MRS. McKEE ESCAPES

The Ex-Irish Postmistress Scales Sandwich Jail Walls.

Windsor, July 24. — Mrs. Ellen McKee, who was arrested this week by Detective Mahoney on the charge of embezzling postal funds in Ireland, made her escape from the jail at Sandwich last evening, and has not yet been recaptured. Governor Sparks allowed her to take the air in the women's yard every evening, and it was not thought necessary to have a guard with her, as the walls are high and nobody deemed that the frail woman would attempt to gain her liberty. However, she climbed up the frame of the door in the wall and got outside.

General Ward Killed.

New York, July 24. — Word was received here today that General J. H. Hobart Ward, a special term clerk of the supreme court, has been killed by being run over by an Erie Railroad train, somewhere in Monroe county. Gen. Ward was a veteran of the Mexican and civil wars, and was 80 years old. He was appointed clerk of the superior court in 1881, and later to clerk of the supreme court.

HEAVY COST OF CASTRO'S VICTORY

Fifteen Hundred Dead in the Streets of Bolivar.

29 GENERALS WERE CAPTURED

Also Sixty-One Colonels, Petty Officers Without Number and Much Ammunition.

Caracas, Venezuela, July 24. — Order has been re-established at Ciudad Bolivar. The following official telegram was sent by Gen. Gomez, commander-in-chief of the Venezuelan forces, which captured Ciudad Bolivar, to President Castro:

"Ciudad Bolivar, July 20, 1903. — On Sunday, July 19, the enemy opened fire on our lines. After 50 hours' deadly struggle we reoccupied the city. The result of our victory is as follows:

"Inspecting the battlefield we found more than 1,500 men killed or wounded on both sides.

"Our side has to lament the death of Gen. Henrique Urdaneta. On the side of the enemy, Gen. Aurelio Valbueno was killed and many other officers were recaptured, including 28 generals, among them being Rolando Guzman, Vasquez Farreras, Macdonaldo and Luigui Salazar, 61 colonels and many officers of low rank. All the latter have been set at liberty.

"We also captured 3,000 Mausers, six field guns and two hundred thousand cartridges.

"The traitor Ferreras and other companions escaped and are in hiding in the city.

"(Signed), Vinconte Gomez."

HE STOPPED THE TRAIN

Novel Method of Farmer for Halting Fast Express.

Winstead, Conn., July 24. — As the New York express on the Central New England Railway, which leaves here at 7:40 a.m., was approaching the flag station at West Norfolk recently, Engineer William A. Hearn saw a man hanging to the mail crane in front of the station. His first thought was that the man had committed suicide and he feared the body would be badly torn when the mail-catcher caught it.

He shut off steam and applied the air brakes. When the train came to a standstill in front of the station the engineer was surprised to see the supposed dead man release his grip on the crane, jump to the ground and board the train.

The man, who said he was a farmer, refused to divulge his name, told the disgusted trainmen that he had hung to the mail-crane by his hands so the engineer would see him and stop the train. A brakeman warned the farmer against repeating the performance, as he said the next time the mail catcher might catch him and dash out his brains.

THE BLACK HOLE OF ST. PETERSBURG

Horrible Treatment of Political Prisoners by the Czar's Soldiers.

Vienna, July 24.—The Neue Freie Presse publishes an account of the recent disturbances among political prisoners detained in a St. Petersburg house. The disturbances were caused by the incarceration in a black hole of prisoners for applauding a revolutionary declaration by one of them. With the object of liberating the unfortunates from confinement in damp and darkness the other prisoners refused all food for several days. The soldiers then quartered in cells the rebellious ones, whom they solaced with fisticuffs. The Grand Duke Vladimir appeared at the prison and ordered the immediate withdrawal of the soldiers. After inquiry the prisoners were liberated from the black hole. Similar disorders took place in Viborg prison. Twenty prisoners, mostly students, were maltreated, and thrown, fettered, into underground dens.

CANADA AT ST. LOUIS

Cereals To Be a Feature at the Big Exposition.

Ottawa, July 24.—Canadian exhibits for the St. Louis Fair are reaching the city every day, but it is not likely any will be forwarded for some months. At present there is a carload of valuable mineral specimens stored in the Imperial buildings, made up chiefly of gold and copper ores from British Columbia. A large quantity of grain samples is in store at the experimental farm, ready to be forwarded. Arrangements have been made for receiving in Ottawa all goods intended for exhibit. It has been ascertained that the Dominion will be able to exhibit oats weighing 40 pounds to the bushel, and all samples up to the standard of 34 pounds. Wheat weighing 64 pounds to the bushel has been secured from several portions of the Dominion. As far as possible, individual counties will be represented by exhibits. In cases where the crops were behind the average this year samples from last season's yield will be taken.

An Accidental Death.

McKeesport, Pa., July 24. — The coroner's jury last night returned a verdict of accidental death in the case of Evan Lewis, whom the strikers declared had been shot by a deputy, while Lewis was swimming the river. The companion of Lewis testified that the two had been drinking. No bullet wound was discovered on the body.

MUST KEEP ON GRINDING

The Hurdy-Gurdy Earl Won't Be an Earl.

London, July 24. — The committee on privileges of the House of Lords today decided against the claim of William Turnour Thomas Poulett, Viscount Hinton, the former organ-grinder in the streets of London, to the earldom of Poulett, and in favor of the late earl's son by a former marriage.

THE PACIFIC CABLE

The Iris on a Repairing and Inspecting Trip.

Victoria, July 24.—The cable steamer Iris, repair vessel of the Pacific Cable Board, arrived here yesterday from England, via Australia, Suva and Honolulu. She left Honolulu on July 4. The Iris will effect some minor repairs here and will lay a short cable from Bamfield Creek up the Alberni Canal. The land wires, running through a wooded section of Vancouver Island, have been in trouble periodically, and this cable is expected to remedy the trouble. After this work the Iris will pick up the Fanning Island-Suva section, to ascertain if there is anything wrong on that section, for messages have been received indistinctly recently at Suva, and it is feared there is some trouble on that section of the cable.

GERMANS WOULD LIKE AGREEMENT

The Kaiser's Empire Anxious to Have Tariff Settlement with Canada.

London, July 24. — The Times' Berlin correspondent says that, despite the faux pas of the German Foreign Office in threatening Britain with the withdrawal of the most favored nation treatment as a punishment for Canada's action, there is no doubt that Germany is now eager to have the Canadian tariff question settled with the utmost celerity. The progress of the tariff reform movement in England has created alarm, and the whole business world of Germany would like to see German interests withdrawn from the line of fire. So far as Britain and Canada are concerned, there is every reason for conducting negotiations as hitherto, with perfect coolness and deliberation. It would suit certain people in Berlin only too well if some precedent could be established by special arrangement, regulating Germany's relations with Canada so as to form a German barrier to the ultimate commercial federation of the British Empire on the basis of preferential trade.

MAY RETIRE FROM LIB. LEADERSHIP

Ex-Premier Greenway Anxious to Leave the Political Arena Permanently.

Winnipeg, July 24.—The report that ex-Premier Greenway will retire from the Liberal leadership, and also resign his seat in Mountain, is premature, but quite among the probabilities, as Mr. Greenway has frequently expressed a desire to leave the political arena permanently. It was only at the urgent request of Manitoba Liberals that he again accepted the leadership last year. Increasing years and ill health render it impossible for him to continue in active leadership much longer. Mr. Greenway cannot resign his seat until the first sitting of the new House, which will probably not be held until February. Should he retire it will be with the deepest regret of all true western Liberals. A tribute to his personal popularity is the fact that at the Crystal City poll, Mr. Greenway's home, in Monday's elections, he was given a majority of 166 out of a total poll of 256.

The Liberals have practically decided to allow the postponed elections to go by default. Conceding Kildonan, where the result is a tie, to the Conservatives, they will have 33 seats in the new House.

GIBBONS AND RAMPOLLA

American Prelate Said To Be Opposed to the Italian.

Paris, July 24. — The Rome correspondent of the Paris edition of the Herald telegraphs that if Cardinal Rampolla is not elected it will be due to the action of Cardinal Gibbons, who, it is asserted in Vatican circles, remained in Paris in order to unite the French cardinals against him. Cardinal Mathieu is still the most ardent supporter of Cardinal Rampolla. The correspondent further asserts that Cardinal Gibbons has succeeded in uniting the French cardinals around Cardinal Richard with a view of supporting a candidate whose policy will be a reaction against that of the late Pontiff. He also says that the alliance will endeavor at the conclave to enforce a condition that the new Pope transform the Sacred College into a true international institution.

Captain Kettle Won.

London, July 24.—Captain Kettle, the favorite, won the Liverpool Cup at the Liverpool July meeting today.

THE MUNCHAUSENS OF THE TORY PRESS

Ridiculous Yarns of the Conservative Journals

ABOUT THE DOMINION CABINET

Deliberate Lies Concocted to Create Uneasiness in the Minds of the Public.

Otawa, July 24. — It it evident to any thinking person who has read the Conservative newspapers during the past few days that an organized attempt is being made by means of fabrications to create the impression that serious dissensions exist in the cabinet. The publication of these pieces of fiction dates from about the time of the announcement in journals friendly to the Government of the general outlines of the Grand Trunk Pacific project, and they have continued ever since. They may be regarded as curious examples of ventures into the realms of romance, and are wholly lacking the essential elements of truth. The proper characterization, in fact, is that they are deliberate, downright lies. In political circles at Ottawa these yarns provoke nothing but amusement, and it is only lest their constant reiteration should cause some weight to be attached to them by persons farther removed from the political center that a denial becomes necessary.

One of the earliest of the fabrications set in circulation represented Mr. Sifton as intriguing against Mr. Blair. The latter gentleman promptly gave this report a denial, and testified that his relations with Mr. Sifton and the other members of the cabinet were of the most pleasant character. Foiled in that attempt, the journalistic Munchausens tried another tack. This time it was that a cabal was in progress against Hon. Mr. Fielding. Now, as everyone knows, the Finance Minister is on the most amicable terms with all his colleagues, and they entertain the kindliest feelings towards him. So highly colored a story the public could not follow, and they were hastily supplied with another canard.

The third attempt to establish cabinet dissensions resulted in the report that Hon. Mr. Paterson was threatening to resign, and had been actually seen in the House to shake his fist under the nose of the Prime Minister. The wildest freak of the imagination could not exceed this. Yet it is not more untruthful than the invention that Mr. Sifton and Mr. Fisher recently came to blows. These are not the days when cabinet ministers fight. That time vanished with the passing of the late Government, and never, it is to be hoped, will it return. The famous "bolt" from the Bowell cabinet is still fresh in people's minds. But that was only the climax of a long series of angry recriminations in the cabinet, the noise of which often penetrated to the corridors without. In those days "the ministerial scraps" were common talk, and were commented upon for their fierceness and their frequency. If there are two members of the cabinet who have always been on especially good terms they are Messrs. Sifton and Fisher. Under the circumstances, the attempt to make it appear that they quarreled and came to blows is laughable in the extreme.

The reason for the extraordinary reports which the Conservative press are now so industriously publishing is probably due to the belief that a general election is impending. They are bent upon trying to create uneasines in the public mind with respect to the Government, and are wholly indifferent as to the means employed. Such unscrupulous tactics, however, will wholly fail in their object, and the campaign is likely to rebound upon those who inaugurated it.

BIG DAMAGES SOUGHT

G. T. R. To Be Sued for Bush Fire Losses in Maine.

Montreal, July 24.—A number of Boston capitalists have notified the Grand Trunk Railway Company that it will be made defendant in a case for $250,000 damages as a result of the bush fires that occurred along the lines of the company through the State of Maine last June. It is alleged that the fires were started from engine sparks. The company has concluded arrangements for some of its officials to make a survey of the land in which the fire occurred.

BARR MADE MONEY

According to Reverend Gentleman's Chief Correspondent.

Montreal, July 24.—Mr. H. O. Mercer, of London, England, who acted as chief correspondent for Mr. Barr during the preparations for the sending of the colony, thinks that Mr. Barr made considerable money, and in this connection spoke as follows here today: "It would greatly surprise me if Mr. Barr has not made a good financial deal out of piloting the new colony to the Canadian Northwest. Right through I was in close touch with the work, and I know approximately how much money he made, even discounting the bonus he may receive from the Canadian Government. Where the mistake was made was in trying to bring so many people at one time into a new country, but Mr. Barr did not consider this. He wanted to get as many people as he could in order to make as much as possible out of the project. The present colony refuse to any longer regard him as their head, and there cannot be any doubt that, around London at least, he will not be allowed to organize any more parties."

MOSQUITOES ROUTE THEM

An Anti-Mosquito Meeting Broken Up by the Insects.

New York, July 24. — Ingloriously routed by an army of bloodthirsty mosquitoes, the Staten Island anti-mosquito meeting broke up last night in a disordered scramble.

Many impassioned speeches were exploited and a committee of public safety was appointed to proceed against the anopheles family. It was decided to drain the whole of Staten Island and not to leave as much as a tomato can full of stagnant breeding water. Health Commissioner Hederle promised to ask for a large appropriation to build dykes and drains.

Before President Cromwell could appoint the committee on public safety mosquitoes swarmed in such numbers that the meeting was adjourned.

A SOOTHING OIL.—To throw oil upon the troubled waters means to subdue to calmness the most boisterous sea. To apply Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil to the troubled body when it is racked with pain means speedy subjugation of the most refractory elements. It cures pain, heals bruises, takes the fire from wounds, and as a general household medicine is useful in many ailments. It is worth much.

There are many dirty roads to be crossed in life, but with a little patience you will always be able to find a clean crossing.

J. P. MORGAN SAVES $4.75

New York, July 24. — J. Pierpont Morgan believes $5 is too much money for one small boy to have all at one time, and demonstrated his belief in a most emphatic manner yesterday afternoon. Mr. Morgan had been down to the pier to meet his son, J. P., jun., who was returning from London. Upon his departure from the pier the great financier entered his cab to ride to his Wall street office. A little boy, who had been holding the door, was tipped a coin, which he clutched tightly. The boy stood on the curb watching the cab as it rolled away. About a block off the cab stopped and Morgan leaned his head out of the window and called Roundsman Paddy Hunt, who answered the summons on the run.

"Bring that boy who was holding the cab door here," said Mr. Morgan. Hunt got the boy and hustled him to the cab. Mr. Morgan ordered the little fellow to open his hand, and in the palm was a $5 gold piece.

"That's what I thought," ejaculated Morgan; then he exchanged a quarter for the $5 gold piece.

"Gee," said the astonished gamin, "I'm a sucker that I didn't skip wid dat gold money."

TALKED OF IRON MOLDERS' STRIKE

Government Offered to Arbitrate the Differences.

THE REDISTRIBUTION BILL

Committee Holds Its Final Meeting and Will Report to House Immediately.

Ottawa, July 23. — The redistribution committee met tonight and reported the schedule of constituencies that has been adopted. Mr. Borden moved the alternative propositions that have been suggested by the Opposition, so that they may also come before the House. Mr. Borden also submitted the following alternative subdivision of Perth: That the north riding shall consist of the townships of Wallace, Elma, Mornington, Ellice, city of Stratford, town of Listowel, village of Milverton. Population, 26,961.

South riding—Township of Hibbert, Fullerton, Downey, South Easthope, North Easthope, Logan, and the towns of St. Marys and Mitchell, and the village of Dublin. Population, 22,910.

Ottawa, July 23. — In the House of Commons today Mr. Smith, of Vancouver, called attention to the iron molders' strike at Toronto and the importation of men to take the strikers' places.

Sir Wm. Mulock said that the Government had placed itself in communication with representatives of both sides, and had offered the services of the department of labor to straighten out the difficulty.

Col. Sam Hughes expressed the fear that the sending back home of the iron molders who have been imported from Scotland to take the strikers' places, would have a bad effect on immigration.

Mr. Sifton answered that he had not given any attention to this phase of the problem.

Most of the afternoon was spent considering the bill for the inspection of seeds — a measure designed to secure purity of seeds and fixing certain penalties for violation of its provisions. Considerable opposition was shown to the bill on both sides of the House. All agreed that the object is a worthy one, but a general fear was expressed that the provisions of the act would not have the effect intended. Mr. Fisher consented that the time when the act shall go into force should be deferred until next July.

The bill was reported from committee and now stands for its third reading.

Brief reference was made by Col. Sam Hughes and Sir Frederick Borden to the trophy donated by the Gordon Highlanders for competition at the D. R. A. meet. The trophy, which was standing on the table of the House during the day, is intended by the Gordons as a memento of their association with the Canadians in South Africa.

The House then went into supply, taking up the estimates of Mr. Sifton's department.

The items relating to the Indian service were put through.

The Senate today passed a number of Government bills, and adjourned to Wednesday next.

JOCKO TRIES TO DIE

New York, July 24.—Warship surgeons worked for hours last night trying to resuscitate one Jocko, monkey and mascot of the monitor Florida, who for the second time in one week tried to commit suicide in spectacular fashion.

Jocko is known along the coast from Pensacola to Portsmouth. He has a distinguished career in the navy and has entertained and been entertained by Admiral Dewey and Rear Admiral Schley.

Born a Spaniard, he became an American when his ship, the torpedo boat Isla de Luzon, was captured during the Spanish-American war. On that occasion, officers state, Jocko sat on the port rail of the captured ship, and as the flag was hauled down he climber the staff and tried to throw down the American sailors. So well pleased were the victors with the monkey's pluck that they took him as a pet to their own ship.

Recently Jocko has been ailing. Two Spaniards who are touring the country visited the navy yard on Wednesday last. Jocko was introduced to them, as a matter of course. The visitors talked in pure Castilian to the mascot, and he seemed to become homesick at the sound of the old familiar phrases.

Officers say the monkey went aft after the visitors had left and actually wept, a most extraordinary thing for a monkey to do. He was found in the evening lying below a bunk and moaning piteously. Investigation showed that he had drunk potash, evidently, it is alleged, with suicidal intent.

Surgeons revived the monkey, but he seemed the victim of melancholia. Today the cook of the Florida, who understands Spanish pretty well, began to sing a Spanish love song entitled "La Senorita Bonita." The monkey listened for awhile, and then walked aft to the rail. There he sat for two hours, a far away look in his face and his hands crossed.

Unobserved, he went below. A pail of lye was there. The monkey seized the pail, climbed to the main deck, and, turning toward the river, waved his hand to the outgoing craft and drank the poison. He was picked up by Landsman Evans unconscious.

GOOD BLOOD, GOOD HEALTH.

Thin, Watery Blood is Made Rich by the Use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

When the blood is rich and pure there is a healthful glow to the complexion which speaks of the vigor and vitality of the system. There is no more certain way for pale, weak people to attain the glow of health than by the persistent use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, the great food cure, which forms new, rich blood and creates new nerve force. To protect you against imitations the portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box. 6

What a wonderful old world this would be if the men who think they know it all could only prove it.

MR. CHAMBERLAIN AND THE PEERS

Colonial Secretary Breaks Government Agreement

AS TO THE FISCAL DISCUSSION

Devonshire Says the Government Has by No Means Adopted the New Policy.

London, July 24. — The educational campaign on the tariff question, which Colonial Secretary Chamberlain has vigorously launched by means of leaflets and circulars issued under his supervision, though not bearing his name, came in for serious criticism in the House of Lords yesterday afternoon.

Earl Spencer, the Liberal leader in that House, complained that Mr. Chamberlain was practically violating the Government agreement, namely, that the fiscal discussion should be postponed until October. He said the distribution of such literature looked on its face as though the Government had taken up Mr. Chamberlain's views. Earl Spencer added that if Mr. Chamberlain remained in the Cabinet it would be almost impossible to disassociate his views from the policy of the Government as a whole.

The Duke of Devonshire, lord president of the council, and Conservative leader in the House, retorted that while he gathered from the remarks that the Premier ought to tell Mr. Chamberlain to resign, he feared this was a rather illogical procedure, since, though the Government had by no means yet adopted the views of the Colonial Secretary, the Government's investigation, so far as it had proceeded, had convinced the Premier and his colleagues that Mr. Chamberlain's impeachment of the fiscal policy was well founded, and that changes ought to be effected.

The best possible comment on the rumors of the dissolution of the British House this autumn is Mr. Chamberlain's fixture of January next for an address in the city of London, when, as he says, he will summarize in the metropolis of the empire the conclusions arrived at after his provincial campaign. This seems to confirm the Times' forecast of an election in March. Accepting an invitation to speak in the city of London, Mr. Chamberlain says: "I shall be glad to summarize in the empire's capital the fiscal conclusions at which I have arrived."

The Colonial Secretary, replying to a question in the House of Commons, said that no member of the Government had suggested a tax on raw materials. This narrows the possible operation of a preference to food products, and to that extent lessens the importance of the proposals from the standpoint of Australia, New Zealand and South Africa, who send Great Britain a comparatively small proportion of food supplies, but a good proportion of wood and other raw materials.

Mr. Chamberlain replies emphatically to the Duke of Devonshire's assertion that the colonies will be called upon under the preferential tariff policy to surrender some of their independence in fiscal, commercial and industrial legislation at least. Sir Gilbert Parker's article, written after a lengthy interview with Mr. Chamberlain, which is accepted as Mr. Chamberlain's views, says: "One could almost imagine the Duke was the spokesman of some distant, suspicious colony. His terrors of a bargain and his fears for colonial freedom rather belong to a time when Downing street was the cul-de-sac of colonial progress than to a time when they deal with the mother country, rather than are dominated by her. When Canada had a reciprocity treaty with the United States it was a stiff bargain, and lasted to the end with satisfaction to Canada. Canada did not relinquish her freedom when she made a business arrangement with the United States, although America outnumbered her in population fifteen times. If Canada entered tomorrow into a reciprocity treaty with the United States, would she surrender colonial freedom? Such a view is primitive in the extreme. Nations voluntarily entering into contract with each other are still free within their contract. It will be time enough to talk of a surrender of colonial freedom when the colonies themselves, which, however distant, are not necessarily benighted, express fear of or admit a danger."

Mount Forest, July 24.—The afternoon mixed train on the G. T. R. going to Durham Wednesday met with disaster. When about half-way between Holstein and Varney eight of the cars jumped the track and were pitched in confusion into the adjacent swamp, some of the trucks being buried out of sight. The cars, with their contents, were very badly smashed. The engine and two cars kept the track. The occupants of the passenger coach received a severe shaking up, but no one was seriously injured, except a commercial traveler, who was pitched over three or four seats, alighting in such a way as to wrench his back badly.

The crew also escaped with their lives, but Conductor Lavelle was not able to come down with his train this morning. A wrecking train is working at the scene, passengers being transferred in the meantime.

The accident is thought to have been caused by the truck of a coal car either breaking or leaving the track, and is very similar to the one that occurred on the same branch near Palmerston on May 8, only the loss to the company will be much heavier.

A Wreck in the West.

Winnipeg, Man., July 24. — A freight train coming east was thrown off the track Wednesday afternoon on the main line of the C. P. R., about 90 miles west of Winnipeg, resulting in some sixteen cars being ditched and broken. Some of them were very badly smashed up. Neither the engine nor the caboose left the track, and as far as can be learned no one was injured. The accident is supposed to have been due to the spreading of the rails.

Both are respectable girls, who worked as strippers in a local cigar factory, and they were induced to go to the States under false pretenses, it is believed. They are now being cared for at Syracuse, and their relatives here have been communicated with.

He Left Many Sorrowing Friends Behind Him.

St. Marys, July 24.—James Nelson, a stonemason, well known here and through East Nissouri, left town suddenly some days ago, and a warrant has been issued for his arrest. He returned a short time since from a trip to England, and on the strength of a story that he was bringing his wife to this country, borrowed money from every available source, farmers being his principal victims. He is understood to have gathered in at least $1,000. Chief Constable Young has sent a photo and description of Nelson to all Canadian police officials, but he had a week's start and is thought to have gone to the old country.

A LAMB OF A DOG

Amusing Case Before an Austrian Court of Justice.

Vienna, July 24. — An amusing trial has just ended at Prague, in which a dog played the leading part.

The owner of the dog, a manufacturer named Weinert, was sued by an engineer, who claimed damages for a bite from the animal, which had incapacitated him for work for a time. He also denounced the dog as a vicious one. At the trial a veterinary surgeon, who was called in, tried his utmost to irritate the dog by teasing him, but the animal kept its temper.

The complainant then demanded that in order to test its real disposition its owner should be turned out of court and the dog let loose among the audience. This was done after the animal had been muzzled.

The dog, however, continued to display the greatest good humor, holding up one paw after another and wagging its tail. Finally it ran to the judge, before whom it sat on its hind legs, begging in a most pathetic manner. The judge thereupon pronounced the judgment for its owner, referring the complainant to the civil court.

TO THOSE OF SEDENTARY OCCUPATION.—Men who follow sedentary occupations, which deprive them of fresh air and exercise, are more prone to disorders of the liver and kidneys than those who lead active outdoor lives. The former will find in Parmelee's Vegetable Pills a restorative without question the most efficacious on the market. They are easily procurable, easily taken, act expeditiously, and they are surprisingly cheap, considering their excellence.

Stock Speculation.

The discussion on stock gambling, raised by Mr. Bourassa in the House of Commons, had an academic interest if nothing more. It is not likely that any member of the House labors under the delusion that speculation in stocks can be prevented by legislation. The gambling instinct is an infirmity of human nature which must be dealt with by the conscience. If a man cannot gamble in one way, he can find a hundred other ways of gratifying the passion. The stock market is an indispensable part of the machinery of production, industry and commerce. In nearly every transaction between man and man there is an element of speculation, and in the wider operations of the stock exchange speculation is a necessary function. It is susceptible of grave abuses, however, and perhaps something might be done by legislation to prohibit or discourage the unnecessary and objectionable forms, or at all events to render it more difficult for persons of small means to operate on the market when they have no thought of investment. A contemporary suggests that a few summer schools scattered through the country for instructing the people, or instructing teachers who in turn would instruct the people, in reference to the use and meaning of money, the meaning of stocks and bonds, the effects of tariffs, the meaning of trade returns, the methods of operating in stocks, and the many interesting and important phases of the whole great question, might do a great deal of good. No doubt popular ignorance on these subjects is responsible for many of the tragedies of the stock market. In the United States authoritative voices were lifted in warning against the financial methods of the great trusts, whose securities have fallen to ruinous figures. It was proved to a demonstration that the steel trust, for instance, was capitalized beyond all proportion to its assets, and that the common stock consisted largely of water, but people seemed to be hypnotized by the very magnitude of the scheme. Probably a good many men are dabbling on the market who do not even understand the distinction between stocks and bonds, or between preference and common stock. A more general understanding of the principles of finance was never so badly needed as now.

The Crisis in the East.

The Manchurian situation is taking on a threatening aspect. The other day it was announced that the United States had succeeded in wresting from China an agreement to open several ports in Manchuria to foreign trade. The American press teemed with congratulations for Mr. Hay, in which the London Times and other British newspapers cordially joined, as a victory for Great Britain's traditional policy of the open door. Prince Ching the president of the Chinese Foreign Office, now writes to Mr. Conger, United States minister in China, refusing to open Manchurian towns on the ground that they are in the possession of Russian troops and complications would be likely to follow. This intelligence has created amazement in the United States and has brought Russian diplomacy more than ever under suspicion. The situation must be exasperating to the British foreign office when the Under Foreign Secretary, Lord Cranborne, in the course of a debate in the House of Commons, stigmatizes the Czar as a "despot," and openly charges Russia with failing to fulfill her undertakings. This is sensational language in the mouth of a British minister. It is distinctly a breach of official etiquette, an exhibition of "shirt-sleeves" diplomacy, which suggests extreme provocation. This warning to Russia is emphasized by Lord Cranborne's statement that Japan is becoming uneasy at the prolongation of the occupation of Manchuria. His lordship's candor or his indiscretion has permitted the public to look behind the scenes and the spectacle is not reassuring. Fortunately Russia has not succeeded in detaching the United States from Great Britain and Japan, and so long as Washington and London act together, there will be little fear of the ultimate result.

The C. P. R. earnings for June were greater than those of any railroad on the continent. The C. P. R. is a great "ad." for this country.

The Opposition learns with regret that there is no truth in the story that Hon. Clifford Sifton grabbed Hon. Sidney Fisher by the collar and made him sit down.

The Toronto Mail and Empire objects to the quantity of machinery imported from the United States last year. The importations included the Mail's new printing press.

It has been proved to the satisfaction of W. T. Stead and other investigators that a message may be transmitted by telepathy a distance of at least 125 miles. There is no immediate prospect of telepathy putting the post-office out of business, however.

Andrew Miscampbell, who will run again at Sault Ste. Marie, is denouncing the Government for corruption. His election at the Soo last year was one of the rottenest the Province has ever seen.

Perhaps it is better in the public interest that parties should break nearly even as in Ontario, than that one of them should be nearly wiped out as in Manitoba, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia. Too much opposition is better for a government than none at all.

A Sterner Test.

[Puck.]

Pat—Sure I'd lay down me loife for yez, Norah.

Norah—But would you lay down a carpet for me, Patrick?

Zola Pictures the Pope.

[From Zola's "Rome."]

In the same way as Pierre saw the Pope's room he saw his costume, his cassock of white cloth with white buttons, his white skull cap, his white cape and his white sash fringed with gold and broidered at either end with golden keys. His stockings were white, his slippers were of red velvet, and these again were broidered with golden keys. What surprised the young priest, however, was his holiness' face and figure, which now seemed so shrunken that he scarcely recognized them. This was his fourth meeting with the Pope. He had seen him walking in the Vatican gardens, enthroned in the Hall of Beatifications and pontifying in St. Peter's, and now he beheld him on that armchair in privacy, and looking so slight and fragile that he could not restrain a feeling of affectionate anxiety.

Leo's neck was particularly remarkable, slender beyond belief, suggesting the neck of some little, aged white bird. And his face, of the pallor of alabaster, was characteristically transparent, to such a degree, indeed, that one could see the lamp-light through his large, commanding nose, as if the blood had entirely withdrawn from that organ. A mouth of great length, with white, bloodless lips, streaked the lower part of the Papal countenance, and the eyes alone had remained young and handsome.

Superb eyes they were, brilliant like black diamonds, endowed with sufficient penetration and strength to lay souls open and force them to confess the truth aloud. Some scanty white curls emerged from under the white skull cap, thus whitely crowning the thin, white face, whose ugliness was softened by all this whiteness, this spiritual whiteness in which Leo XIII.'s flesh seemed as if it were but pure lily-white florescence.

"Nailed to the Fence."

[London (Eng.) Daily News.]

The Lobby Laureate sends me the following verses on a remark by a brilliant member of the Tory party who, on being asked as to what side he adhered to in the fiscal controversy, replied that "he had nailed his colors to the fence:

We've nailed our colors to the fence,
Whatever wind may blow,
So nobody can take offense,
Which ever way we go.
About Protection or Free Trade
We make no vain pretense;
Our firm, unswerving choice is made—
We're sitting on the fence.

We're sitting on the fence, my boys,
We're sitting on the fence;
And it will take a mighty wind
To blow us thence.

The muddy torrents round us rave,
The fog-cloud grows more dense;
But still our seats we mean to save
By sitting on the fence.
Then, brother-patriots, stand not by,
With idle fears dispense;
But wave, oh! wave your colors high,
Then nail them to the fence.

Named After Depew.

[Boston Post.]

"There is in a town in Western New York," says Chauncey M. Depew, "that bears no name, and in this town some persons by boring tapped a natural gas well, and thereupon formed 'the Depew Natural Gas Company, Limited.' Mr. Choate and I met shortly after this on a public occasion, when both were set down for speeches. He had the last word. After dealing with other matters he drew from his pocket the prospectus of the gas company and read it. Then he looked the company over, looked at me, and, reading the title at the head of the prospectus, querried with quiet emphasis: 'Why limited?'"

"What is your idea of a popular tune?"

"A popular tune," said the man who takes music seriously, "is one that gets to be universally disliked."

Peter M. Arthur's Methods.

[Montreal Gazette.]

The sudden and tragic death of Mr. P. M. Arthur, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, robs organized labor of the leader from whom it had most to learn. Many, many years ago Mr. Arthur recognized that if the strength of organized labor was to be built up on enduring lines they would have to be laid along the avenues of justice to the employer and respect for the freedom of the employe. The battle of organized labor must be won by right and not by might. It was in following out these principles that the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers became almost unique among labor organizations through its stand against sympathetic strikes and on its attitude towards non-union labor. The Brotherhood does not insist that the railway companies shall only employ its members. The companies may employ whom they like. The Brotherhood does not insist that men entering the employ of a company with which it has an agreement shall join its ranks. They may remain outside the Brotherhood if they prefer doing so. Explanations of the benefits of membership is afforded, but if the man cannot see those benefits no attempt is made to coerce him into accepting that which he refuses to accept of his own free will. There are some locomotive engineers outside the ranks of the Brotherhood today, but not many. There are none in the ranks who are there against their will. If they desire to sever their connection they are at liberty to do so. Live and let live is the Brotherhood motto. As a man the man outside the Brotherhood is just as good a man as he is inside it. If he cannot see that he is working against his own interests in remaining outside he is more to be pitied than blamed. The loss is his, not the Brotherhood's. The latter can get along without him better than he can get along without the Brotherhood. Some day he will realize it.

Again when times of slackness come and the discharge of men is necessary the Brotherhood does not demand that the services of its members be retained in preference to those of outsiders. Its belief is that the services of the older men should be retained, and it asks that this be done. But it does not insist upon it. The management has full liberty to discharge the men whom it sees fit to let out. The Brotherhood does not attempt to run the road. It merely insists upon one thing—that the road shall make a schedule, and that that schedule shall be paid all men, whether of the Brotherhood or not.

A FORECAST OF THE CONCLAVE

Cardinals Appear to Be Divided Into Two Camps,

FOR AND AGAINST RAMPOLLA

The Prussian Minister to the Vatican Said to Favor Election of Vannutelli.

Rome, July 24.—The nearer the conclave approaches the more two distinct tendencies are shown in the sacred college, especially among the cardinals of the curia, that is to say, those living in Rome, but in which the cardinals from the provinces as well as the foreign cardinals cannot help participating. These two tendencies spring from the personality of Cardinal Rampolla, as the great struggle continues to be in his favor or against him. If Rampolla finds that in the first ballot he has a considerable number of votes he will try again. If he has few votes and one of his opponents has many, he will renounce his chance and he and all his friends will support, first, Cardinal Gotti, with whom he now has come to some such agreement, and attempt to raise Gotti to the supreme office, with Rampolla as an ally. This would mean the maintenance of Pope Leo's policy on exactly the same lines and intrusted to the same men. But Gotti inspires great distrust, because, as he belongs to the religious orders, he would render the situation of the papacy extremely difficult at the present moment, considering the conditions prevailing in France, Spain and the Philippines. It seems, therefore, almost sure that if at the first ballot it is not probable that Gotti can be successful, this section of the sacred college will decide on Cardinal Di Pietro, one of Rampolla's most faithful followers. Rampolla, being a Sicilican, can count on the two Sicilican cardinals. One of them, however, Cardinal Celesia, archbishop of Palermo, is so old (he is almost 90) that his relatives strongly oppose his going to Rome to attend the conclave. For political reasons all Spanish cardinals are favorable to Rampolla, besides a dozen Italians, thus making a total of 25. But to be elected pope it is necessary to get altogether over 40 votes, as of the present 64 cardinals, not more than two or three will be absent from the conclave.

The anti-Rampolla tendency has more prominent candidates, such as Cardinals Oreglia., Serafino Vannutelli, Satolli, and Agliardi, which will cause difficulty in arriving at an agreement on any one of them. It is already foreshadowed that should the success of their opponents be this group will center all their votes on Cardinal Capecelatro, archbishop of Capua.

A cardinal who seemed to have considerable chance of success was Cardinal Sarto, the patriarch of Venice, but now he is scarcely thought of, because he does not know French and is not likely to learn it at 70 years of age.

It is understood that the Prussian minister accredited to the Vatican has received instructions to favor the election of Cardinal Serafino Vannutelli or Cardinal Agliardi. Cardinal Kopp, bishop of Brestlau, who arrived here yesterday, has been approached to the same effect.

A solemn funeral mass for the repose of the soul of Pope Leo was celebrated today in the Church of Saints Vincent and Anastasius. The doors of the church were decorated in black and gold and bore a long inscription in Latin. Inside the church was hung with black and gold, and on the high altar was a large golden cross and in the center stood an elaborate catafalque surmounted by a triple crown. In front of the catafalque was the coat of arms of the late Pontiff, with a profusion of flowers and many flags of clerical societies. Among the other funeral masses celebrated today was that in the choir chapel of St. Peter's, facing the chapel where the body of Pope Leo lies in state. A grand catafalque draped in black and gold was in the center of the chapel, and on it a triple crown held a conspicuous position, which with flickering candles around the catafalque and clouds of incense, gave a tone of mysticism to the chapel.

Still another most important mass was celebrated in the Church of Jesus, belonging to the Jesuits.

The most significant mass, however, was that celebrated in the Royal Chapel, known as the Church of the Sudario, by the court chaplain, by order of the King and Queen of Italy. When Pius IX. died, four months after his death, as this is four days after the death of Pope Leo, mass were celebrated in the Sudario Church for the repose of the soul of Victor Emmanuel, then lately deceased. Today it was celebrated for the repose of the soul of Leo XIII.

Cardinal Celesia, in an interview on the spirit which should inspire the conclave in the election of a new pope, said: "Now more than ever we need an energetic Pontiff; but, at the same time, he must be prudent. With extreme measures one cannot rule. With a middle course there is always something to gain. I have experienced this in my 53 years' rule in my bishopric. I have never juggled with my conscience or the duties of my office, but I have maintained most friendly relations and also cordial official relations with all the laymen and authorities with whom I come in contact. This is the secret of success. This was the glory of Pope Leo. With the help of God it will be that of his successor."

The report generally circulated that the body of Pope Leo was beginning to show signs of decomposition caused great excitement, but it is now contradicted by the doctors. Many people who had decided to visit the chapel of the sacrament, in St. Peter's, on the last day of the lying in state, and thus avoiding the crowd, hurried there today, fearing it would be buried tonight, while many persons in the provinces took the first trains to Rome, which resulted in a gathering at St. Peter's larger than that of yesterday. The work of the soldiers and police on duty was more arduous, owing to the burning sun and dust and the struggle to enter the cathedral, the fainting of women, screaming of children and the quarrels of the men.

Dr. Lapponi, in the face of doubts cast on the efficacy of his process of embalming, with the other doctors, today examined the body of the Pope, and found it to be in a perfect state of preservation. The dark color assumed by the face was attributed to the smoke of the many candles burning around.

Unless the unexpected occurs the interment will take place Saturday evening, as originally arranged.

It's a welcome cry to a well man. But

Alton, Ont., July 24. — The citizens are busy preparing for the commercial travelers' picnic on July 31 and Aug. 1. The drummers' smack is an annual event, which evokes much enthusiasm among the knights of the grip, and is of more than local interest, as it brings together representatives from most of the wholesale houses of Toronto and Hamilton. The proceedings include a concert under canvas, a travelers' banquet, and a varied list of athletic sports. The band of the Forty-eighth Highlanders has been engaged for the occasion.

WHITE HAD A FIT

But Police Thought He Was Drunk—He Takes Action.

Windsor, July 24. — The parents and friends of Holden White, a well-known news agent of Walkerville, have brought action against Sergts. Swartwood and England, and Patrolman McHugh, of the Detroit police, for arresting and unlawfully holding White on a charge of drunkenness. White is subject to epileptic fits, and was prostrated by one in front of Hotel Metropole, last Monday, when the police arrested him on the charge of drunkenness.

TUNA AT CAPE BRETON

A Monster Game Fish Appears in Northern Waters.

Halifax, July 24.—Tuna are reported to have struck into Mira Bay, C. B., in big schools, and sportsmen are hurrying to the scene to verify the report. Yesterday morning two Glace Bay men who went out in a tug hooked a fish 7 feet long. They played it all around the bay for six hours, the tug proceeding at half speed. At one time the monster grounded, but flopped clear and broke away. Local fishermen call them horse mackerel or albacore.

Tuna appeared on the Cape Breton coast two years ago, and a party of millionaires came from Kansas City to enjoy the sport, but the fish had gone before their arrival. These gentlemen will make a second journey to Cape Breton if the report is correct.

HAMILTON OLD BOYS

Big Excursion from Detroit to the Carnival.

Detroit, Mich., July 24. — A large and enthusiastic meeting of the Hamilton Old Boys was held last night, at which plans for attending the grand summer carnival at Hamilton, Aug. 17 to 20, were discussed. It was decided to leave by special train on Sunday morning, Aug. 16. The "boys" will go in uniform, which will consist of a pearl gray hat, blue sack coat and white duck trousers. A handsome cane has been specially designed for this occasion. A brass band will accompany the delegation and a special song, entitled, "Hamilton Old Boys," will be the song of the excursion.

The club, which has but recently been formed, already has a membership of 120, and is composed of some of the most prominent citizens of Detroit.

LATE PONTIFF'S WILL IS OPENED

Leo Leaves All His Property to His Successor

FOR THE USE OF THE CHURCH

Valuable Presents for Members of His Family and His Regular Physicians.

Rome, July 23.—From sunrise until sunset today thousands passed before the body of Leo XIII., lying in state in the Basilica of St. Peter's. It was originally intended that this opportunity to publicly view the remains should extend through three days, but tonight it is learned that the time is likely to be curtailed, and that the funeral may occur on Friday, instead of Saturday, owing to the evidences of decomposition. This is due to today's severe heat. The will of the dead Pope was opened at today's meeting of the congregation of cardinals. It consists of 36 pages in the handwriting of Leo XIII., and leaves all his property to his successor for the use of the church. To each member of his family he leaves a present, to be chosen from the valuable objects in his apartment. Similar presents are bequeathed to his physicians. The total amount of his property is not yet known. The prevailing impression of those who today passed before the iron gates of the chapel of the sacrament to view the remains was one of intense pity, combined with a certain sense of horror. The body was tilted up on the catafalque in order that all might see the terribly shrunken face. An ordinary skull in a frame of gold, lying in the midst of a mass of red robes, could scarcely have been more typical of death. Except at sunrise when the crush threatened a panic, all those who wished had an opportunity of entering St. Peter's. An important political factor was introduced into the ceremony by the entrance into St. Peter's of Italian soldiers, who remained there throughout the day to preserve order. Their presence is important as an indication of better relations between the Government and the Vatican.

Another feature which is causing comment along the same lines is the fact that Cardinal Oreglia, in receiving a group of the city fathers of Rome, who represent the clerical party, charged them to thank also their Liberal colleagues for the manifestations of sympathy which they showed during the illness of the Pope. In this connection additional interest attaches to today's meeting of the congregation of cardinals, where a proposition was presented by Cardinal Oreglia to send a note to the diplomatic body accredited to the Holy See, for the purpose of representing to the powers the condition of the papacy since the loss of its temporal power and the transfer of the capital of the Italian Government to Rome. From what leaks out, it appears that the proposition provoked considerable discussion, Cardinals Steinhurber, Mathieu and Vives Y. Tuto favoring the dispatch of a most energetic note concerning the question of reclaiming the papal rights. Cardinals Agliardi and Serafino Vannutelli advocated a milder tone. The majority of the congregation decided to pursue a middle course, and intrusted Mgr. Merry Del Val with the duty of drawing up the document for submission to another meeting of the congregation.

The commission of cardinals intrusted with the arrangements for the conclave has presented a plan which involves an expenditure of $1,400, and assures that everything will be in readiness for the opening of the conclave July 31. The apartment still occupied by Cardinal Rampolla will be divided into four rooms in order to accommodate four of the cardinals during the conclave. Now that the Pope's will has been opened the work of removing the things in his apartment which he bequeathed by the terms of the instrument has been begun. If the new Pontiff desired to occupy the same apartment, only the bedroom furniture will be changed. Following an ancient custom, however, the new Pope would not take possession of the old apartment until several months after his election.

AN OHIO TRAGEDY

Bartender Shoots a Woman, a Man and Himself.

Toledo, O., July 24.—A dispatch from Bucyrus, Ohio, says Charles Kent shot and instantly killed Mrs. Lou Rensel, shot John Sawyer and then killed himself at the Tensell saloon. Kent was bartender, and some time ago eloped with Mrs. Rensel to California. Recently they returned here. While Mrs. Rensel was entertaining Sawyer, Kent secured a revolver and shot Mrs. Rensel twice, both bullets taking effect. She died almost instantly. One of the shots penetrated the arms of Sawyer, whose injuries are slight. Kent then ran into an alley and blew out his brains.

TURBULENT RUSSIA

Forty Thousand on Strike and Riots Reported.

London, July 24. — Reports are reaching London of serious rioting among the strikers at Baku, Russia, where it was reported that 40,000 men are out. The reports say there has been much loss of property. In one case the strikers are alleged to have fired into a train conveying troops. It is alleged that political agitators are busy, and that the whole laboring population is in a state of insurrection, that railway lines have been torn up and ships detained. An official dispatch from St. Petersburg says that minor disturbances have occurred, but that the military has restored order. It is said that the newspaper reports of the matter are severely censored.

SAFE-BLOWERS ESCAPE

Two Women Confederates Affect a Jail-Delivery.

Chicago, July 24.—Dennis and Lattimere, said by the police to be two of the most expert safe blowers and bank robbers in the country, both of whom live in Chicago, escaped from jail at Waukesha, Wis., Wednesday night, through the cleverness of three women, it is believed. The jail delivery was planned in Chicago some time ago, and the local police had full information in regard to the plot. The authorities at Waukesha were notified and later were informed that the women had started for Waukesha with the saws and necessary tools. Despite this the Chicago women outwitted the sheriff and the escape was executed without a hitch.

HIS REASON WHY

Christopher Bishop Recommends Dodd's Kidney Pills—They Cured His Wife.

Clark's Beach, Nfld., July 20.—"There are hundreds of sufferers in Newfoundland who if they knew the good that is to be found in Dodd's Kidney Pills would get them and prove for themselves."

This is the statement of Christopher Bishop, of this place. Here are his reasons for making it:

"My wife suffered for three years with a weakness in the lower part of the back followed by shivering, causing weakness. Her legs were swollen from the knees down to the feet and she had a pain in the left side just under the ribs.

"After using five boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills the pain is gone and the swelling has disappeared."

NEGRO BUTTED DOOR IN

Broke the Glass, But It Didn't Hurt Him the Least Bit.

New York, July 24.—Gustav Beard, 33 years old, a negro elevator man, employed in the Deshler apartment house at 124 West One Hundred and Fourteenth street, was arraigned in the Harlem police court today on a charge of assault preferred by John F. White, a tenant of the house.

White told Magistrate Baker that he was at a party with his wife last night and that when they returned home at 1:30 o'clock they found Beard asleep in the hallway. "I woke him up," White said, "and asked him to take us upstairs. He refused and we insisted. Then he attacked my wife and myself and chased us out of the hall. I closed the door after us and he butted it with his head, breaking the glass."

Beard told the magistrate that the elevator was out of order and that when he tried to tell Mr. White, White banged his head against the glass door. Policeman Hooper, of the West One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street station, who made the arrest, said that when he arrived on the scene Beard was severely cut about the head and he found it necessary to have him removed to the J. Hood Wright Hospital.

"I guess he's been punished enough," Magistrate Baker said to White, "and if you will withdraw the complaint I'll let him off with a reprimand."

White consented and the negro was discharged.

DID CANADIANS WIN KOLOPORE?

A Recount of Score Says the Dominion Has the Cup.

THE EAST VERSUS WEST MATCH

Bisley Camp, July 24.—Yesterday was one of the most unpleasant days of the meet. The morning opened dull and chilly, with a varying wind blowing across the ranges. Later a drizzling rain set in and most of the competitors are prepared to make mediocre scores.

The following Canadians have won places in the second stage for the King's prize: Vroom, 40th; Spearing, 11th; Crowe, 134th; Elliott, 161st; Naughton, 211th. Eighty-six competitors, with scores of 94, will shoot off for the remaining 46 places in the 300 who go on to the second stage. Simpson, who does not get a place in the second stage, was 352nd, and wins £2; Stuart, 373rd, also gets £2, and White, 415th, gets £1. McGregor and Bayles also have won places in the second stage for the King's prize. Vroom wins Lord Strathcona's special prize, and Simpson gets the Canada Club's gold watch.

About all of the Canadian team are shooting in the St. George's match, which is open only to volunteers and retired volunteers. The first prize is a challenge vase and £20. Altogether £950 are given in prizes in this competition. The distances are 500 and 600 yards, and the number of shots is seven at each range. The Canadians scored as follows, at the 500-yard range:

In this match the Canadians scored as follows: McGregor 47, Stuart 46, Capt. J. M. Jones, Eighty-second Regiment, 34; Sergt. Russell, G. G. F. G., 33; Major Spearing, Fifty-third Regiment, 33; Capt Stuart, Sixth D. O. C., 33; Capt. Elliott, Twelfth Regiment, 32; Pte. McGregor, G. G. F. G., 32; Pte. Peddie, Sixth Royal Scots, 32; Pte. Smith, Thirty-first Regiment, 32; Sergt. White, Sixty-ninth Regiment, 32; Sergt. Bayles, Tenth R. G., 32; Capt. King, Forty-sixth Regiment, 31; Capt Crowe, Thirtieth Regiment, 31; Sergt. Drysdale, First P. W. F., 31; Sergt. Morris, Thirteenth Regiment, 31; Staff-Sergt. Hayhurst, Thirteenth Regiment, 31; Pte. McNaughton, Sixth Hussars, 31; Staff-Sergt. Simpson, Tenth R. G., 31; Pte. O'Brien, Thirtieth Regiment, 30; Staff-Sergt. Skeddon, Thirteenth Regiment, 30; Pte. Smith, B. R., 30; Sergt. W. A. Annand, 29; Lieut. Vroom, Sixty-ninth Regiment., 29; Capt. Jones, Eighty-second Regiment, 29; Capt. Elliott, Twelfth Regiment, 29; Staff-Sergt. Skeddon, Thirteenth Regiment, 29; Lieut. Vroom, Sixty-ninth Regiment, 29.

The scratch match, East vs. West, between Peddie and Stuart, of the Canadian team and six Americans, and eight Britishers was finished this morning. The shooting was at the disappearing targets, and the score was: East, 68; West, 65. The Canadian-American, or western team, were not at home with the targets, but did remarkably well.

Up to date the members of the Canadian team have won £150 in prizes. They have divided about 40 "lump" prizes.

McGregor shot exceedingly well in the Duke of Cambridge match this morning. The range was 900 yards, and the number of shots ten. The first prize is £20.

Montreal, July 23.—A special cable to the Star says: Later returns in the competition for the Rajah of Kolapore's cup give the Canadian team 20 additional points at the first range (200 yards). These increase the score from 267 to 287. Canada has, in consequence, won the cup by a majority of two points over Australia.

	200 yds.	500 yds.	600 yds.	T'l.
Canada	287	249	237	773
Natal	260	252	228	740
Australia	267	257	247	771
Mother Country	268	253	239	760
Guernsey	258	246	231	735

Ottawa, July 23.—There seems to be some misunderstanding about the result of the Kolapore cup contest at Bisley. On the first count Canada was given second place, and by reports sent out by correspondents yesterday the Canadian team went back to third and jumped to first place. A Montreal paper published from its correspondent a story to the effect that through the mistake being rectified Canada was put in first place and carried off the cup. A Toronto paper correspondent states that Canada went down to third place. The Montreal man's figures are: Canada, 773; the Toronto man's figures, 753. As this makes a difference of 20, it is quite likely that Canada did not win the cup, and more particularly as such an important fact was not noted by the regular press service. Australia won the cup with 771; mother country second with 760, and Canada third, with 753. There is not the slightest doubt Canada won the cup, or Col. Sherwood would have wired the fact independent of the press service.

THE GALT WRECK

The Engineer Says He Had the Right of Way.

Galt, Ont., July 24.—The adjourned coroner's inquest into the cause of the death of the late Hugh McMillan, of Sutton, one of the three victims of the rear-end collision on the C. P. R. bridge crossing the Grand River at Galt on Tuesday morning last, was resumed in the town hall here last evening before Coroner Radford and County Crown Attorney Bowlby. Conductors, engineers, firemen and brakemen of both trains, as well as the gentlemen riding in the van who escaped with only slight injuries, were examined. The evidence went to show that the red light signal of the semaphore was up against the second train. Engineer McConnell, of that train, however, swore positively that he first saw the green light, giving him right of way, but on getting nearer the bridge saw a red light, but not in time to bring his train to a standstill owing to slippery rails and down grade. The jury was locked up at 10:30 p.m.

THE FIGHTING PARSON

He Kills a Man, Fatally Wounds His Son and Says Grace.

Middleburg, Ky., July 24.—After killing one man fatally injuring another, Robert Lee, a minister at Linnie, said grace at the jail table in Liberty. Lee became involved in a quarrel with Ellis Woods and the latter's son, and the shooting followed, in which the preacher killed Woods and fatally wounded his son. "The fighting parson" was then arrested and taken to jail at Liberty, where he peacefully returned thanks at the table with the other prisoners.

A SECRET COMMITTEE

Grave Charge Made Against an American Labor Union.

New York, July 24.—The trial of Lawrence Murphy, accused of embezzling $12,000 from the Journeymen Stone Cutters' Association, of which he was treasurer, was continued yesterday. Murphy's counsel sought to prove that the "secret committee" of the Stone Cutters' Union was a band of conspirators and fearing the hand of the law decided to make Murphy the scapegoat. John Boyle, a member of the secret committee, testified to the reception of a check for $10,000 from the Brooklyn Stone Dealers' Association, and that the members of the committee voted themselves $1,600 for services to be rendered. He swore that Murphy got his money that way. The trial was adjourned until tomorrow.

KILLED DOG FOR SPITE

Baboon Hated the Crew and So Took Its Revenge.

New York, July 24.—With an Indian elephant and a baboon in the first cabin, a little black monkey and other monkeys of other colors in the second cabin, and a bamboo rat, several civet cats, and a clouded leopard in the steerage, the steamer Afridi came into port today. There was crape on the second cabin door and in the quarters of the civets, for two monkeys and one cat had been passed down to Davy Jones after having died in their bunks.

Besides the burials, the only incident of note was the killing of a Chow dog by the baboon. The baboon detested the Chinese crew of the Afridi. It was not big enough to indulge its hatred on their persons, but took as a substitute the Chinese dog. It caught and strangled it, gibbering fiendishly. The animals probably will go to the Bronx Zoological Gardens.

The Afridi came from Hong Kong, Borneo, Java, and other places in the far east. The star of the collection is the elephant, 3 years old. It stood the long trip well and will be sold by Capt. Golding to some local dealer. It a bit of rough weather crossing the Atlantic it was thrown and some of the skin was rubbed off its head.

BACK TO SCOTLAND

Molders' Union Will Stand Expense of Transportation.

Toronto, July 24. — The local molders' union Wednesday night decided that all the men imported from Great Britain who decided to return home would have their fares paid by the union. The Employers' Association protests against this fact, saying that at this time, when the Canadian Government is endeavoring to induce emigrants to come to Canada, the sending home of these men with the report that there is no room here for mechanics is calculated to do the country great injury.

Ottawa, Ont., July 24. — Society is in a flutter today over an elopement which took place Wednesday. Constance Walters, the pretty 17-year-old daughter of H. D. McWalters, manager of the public works department, was secretly married to L. A. Taillon, son of the manager of the Banque Nationale. The ceremony was performed by Viscar-General Routhier, at the archbishop's palace. Miss Walters left home on a pretense of going out to tea, but instead, met her waiting lover.

ew York, July 24—Noon.—The opening s quiet and without much feature ex- t a sharp break in B. R. T., attributed rumors that the company would have spend large sums on its system in the r future. After the first half hour mendous selling appeared in the whole . The liquidation was of the most ent character, and it was the unani- us opinion on the floor that the loans some large speculator or speculators e being sold out. The orders were ndled chiefly by houses with western nections, and this gave rise to a re- t that the loans were held by Pitts- g banks. Inquiries from leading tsburg houses failed to elicit any con- mation of this story. Naturally this mendous selling has enhanced the feel- of nervousness which already exists, has led to many disquieting rumors ecting various concerns. There is so nothing to show that these rumors well founded, and it is to be hoped t the day will pass without disaster. e market, however, shows an unfor- ate lack of support. LOCAL MARKET.

London, Friday, July 24.

There was a slim attendance at the market held here this forenoon. Should the weather be fine for the next ten days the wheat and hay harvest will be completed. Over one-third of the hay crop has yet to be cut. Notwithstanding the unfavorable weather most of the fields are in good shape, as the weather has been cool and the sun not hot enough to bleach the hay. Therefore all that is required is fine weather to enable the farmers to place it in their barns.

About 15 loads of hay were on the stand today and sales were excedingly slow, at $5 to $7 per ton.

One load of musty oats sold at 98c per cental.

AMERICAN MARKETS.

CHICAGO.

H. C. Becher, broker, Bank of Commerce Building, received the following by private wire from Bartlett, Frazier & Carrington yesterday:

Chicago, July 23.—The early advance in this market was purely in sympathy with the advance in corn. Traders bought freely on the advance, and were supplied by cash houses. Trade was very light and mostly room traders' market. The selling of long property later caused a break. Estimated receipts for tomorrow, 45 cars.

Corn—Today has been the most exciting in this market for some time. The opening found the pit crowded with brokers loaded with buying orders. The countryman was much in evidence all day on the buying side. Reports of very high temperatures throughout Kansas assisted in making the advances. Bad reports continued to come to hand from the west, telling of poor stand, uneven and tasseling out short. Receipts continue light and demand for shipment good. Estimated receipts for tomorrow, 135 cars.

Oats—Moderate sized buying by pit traders and commission houses in sympathy with strong corn and wheat caused a quick advance in oats at the opening. Trade is not broad, however, and outside interests were slight. Fair selling by commission houses lost half the advance. Under buying by pit shorts and higher price of corn, the price firmed up, closing at the top, with the market strong. Estimated receipts tomorrow, 130 cars.

Provisions opened with prices 5c higher on the strength in hogs at the yards, but weakened under selling of ribs, credited to the larger packers who sold them yesterday. Trade was light and in a general way prices followed the corn market. Private estimates of local stocks show 30,000 barrels of pork and 59,000 tierces of lard, and 28,500,000 ribs—an increase all around over last week's estimates. Western receipts liberal, at 53,000, against 33,000 a year ago. July lard was offered at 25c under September, and loose lard at 90c under the September, indicating the poor cash demand. Estimated receipts tomorrow, 15,000 hogs.

THE THOMASES TRESPASS

Two Coal-Blackened Candidates for the Jail Bath.

Just Three Days—Ballantine Chooses To Be Tried by Jury.

Tommy Atkins, the original English article, stood behind the lattice in police court today. Yet it wasn't a redcoat—it was a Thomas Atkins, who said he came from Liverpool "last May twelvemonth." He was a young man and with him was Thomas Richards, of Toronto, a man somewhat older than Atkins. They had been arrested by G. T. R. Constable Regan, riding on a tender, hidden behind the coal.

They certainly looked as if they had been sleeping in coal all their lives. Their faces made them appear as if they had been butting up against the coal trust. They may possibly have been eating coal, for they had no money when arrested. The English visitor had been a coachman in Quebec, and the Toronto man a cook at the King Edward Hotel. They had decided to go to Detroit and were beating their way.

The magistrate imposed a fine of $5 or a bath and three days in jail. They took the latter alternative—they hadn't a cent.

BALLANTINE AND HIS MOB.

The only other case that occupied the attention of the court was the preliminary hearing of George Ballantine, charged with attacking a peace officer in the pursuit of his duties. Upon the bench with Magistrate Love sat also Squire Edwards. The magistrate had scarcely started to ask Ballantine by whom he wanted to be tried than he said "not guilty." When the P. M. finished his usual question, Ballantine expressed a desire to be tried by a jury. The evidence was then taken of County Constable Sonley, who described the manner in which Ballantine got away from him and Constable Paisley, on Clarence street, the night of the 21st of April, 1902, when the warrant was issued against him. Constable Sonley told of being kicked by Ballantine who called on his friends for assistance, saying "these are county guys and have nothing to do with the city." The friends evidently helped him, as they were described by Constable Paisley as "a mob," which rather amused the prisoner. The magistrate commited Ballantine for trial.

The cases of the men, mentioned in last evening's paper as keeping a nuisance, were dropped. They paid the costs and promised the medical health officer to comply with his demands.

MARRIED IN IRELAND

Wedding of Mr. David Patterson, Jun., of London, and Miss Lizzie Brown.

The following account of the marriage of a young Londoner at Six-Mile Cross, County Tyrone, Ireland, will be of interest:

"A wedding of exceptional local interest took place on Thursday, 2nd inst., in Six-Mile Cross Presbyterian Church, the bride being Miss Lizzie Brown, second daughter of Mr. Robert Brown, one of the oldest and most prominent residents of Six-Mile Cross. The bridegroom is Mr. Patterson, and hails from London, Ontario. Punctually to the hour fixed for the ceremony the carriages arrived at the door of the meetinghouse, and the bride, attended by Miss Brown, sister, as bridegroom walked to the rails where they were awaited by the Rev. S. D. Stuart, the esteemed pastor of Six-Mile Cross congregation. The bride was given away by her Uncle, Mr. Downs, Dungannon. Quite a number of interested spectators witnessed the ceremony. The bride's dress was of silver gray Irish poplin, trimmed with lace and silk, with large graceful picture hat to match. The bridesmaid's dress corresponded with the bride's. Both carried charming bouquets of choice lillies, pink and cream roses and maiden hair fern, produced by a Belfast firm. At the conclusion of the ceremony the happy pair emerged in a shower of rice and shortly afterwards drove along the pleasant road to Carrickmore station to join the train en route for Scotland, where the honeymoon will be spent. The happy event created the liveliest interest in the locality, as the family is so well known. The bride's presents are both numerous and costly. Mr. and Mrs. Patterson will return to Six-Mile Cross prior to bidding adieu to Ireland and sailing for the new world, where the good wishes of the warm-hearted Six-Mile Cross friends for the future happiness and prosperity of the bride will follow them like a benediction."

Mr. David Patterson, jun., the groom, resides at 40 Cartwright street, and is employed with the McClary Manufacturing Company, city.

EARLY MORNING FIRE

The firemen were called out at 2:30 o'clock this morning owing to a blaze in the frame story and a half house at the northwest corner of Queen's avenue and Elizabeth streets, owned by Mr. Robert Hueston, liveryman. The house was vacant, and when the firemen arrived they found that the flames had burned the greater part of the stairway and some of the surrounding partitions. Before the fire was extinguished the damage done amounted to almost $300. Several holes were burned in the roof also. The cause of the blaze is a mystery, but it is supposed to be of incendiary origin, as the house had not been occupied for three months.

CHELSEA BRIDGE CONTRACT

The Land and Building Company Will Have Work Begun at Once.

Now that permission has been granted to the Chelsea Land and Building Company, to build a bridge across the Thames at the foot of Adelaide street, the company will proceed at once with the work. The plans have been completed for some time, and the contractors will arrive tomorrow.

It will be remembered that some time ago, when the county council was in session, an effort was made to have that body make a grant to the bridge or build it themselves, with a grant from the company. The county permission was granted to build, but the matter of a grant was laid over. The building of the bridge now will not interfere with an arrangement being reached with the county by which they will have an opportunity to get an advantage for the people of the surrounding country if they so desire.

The company, however, are going to build the bridge. They have not lost much time in getting to work at their proposed suburb, Chelsea Green, several houses having already been erected, after the necessary draining had been accomplished. The contractors have had orders not to delay the work in any way, and it is the hope of those interested that it will not be long before the employes of the McClary works and the London rolling mills will soon be housed there—at least, a good many of those who work at the works in this part of the city.

The bridge, of course, is a necessity, and the company have decided to build a substantial structure for general traffic. The superstructure will be of steel, with cement piers and abutments. The piers will be placed in either side of the river, the center span being 160 feet in length. There will be two approaches, each 50 feet, so that with the abutments that much farther on shore there will be ample waterway in case of any floods. It will be sufficiently strong to take stret cars across if ever that should be desired. A sidewalk is included in the plans. The bridge will cost in the neighborhood of $10,000.

Messrs. Moore & Henry are the architects, and the contractors are Messrs. Lewis & Geary, who will begin work next week.

LONDON'S LINE-UP.

St. Thomas lacrosse team is coming to London tomorrow to get trimmed. That is what the London fellows say, anyway. The London team have certainly been practicing with a view to retrieving their losses. The line-up, which is as follows, is sufficient guarantee that a strong game will be put up: Goal, Farr; point, Amos; cover La-Drew; first defense, Norris; second, Nicholson; third, Edwards; center, Pearson; third home, McLeod; second, Mills; first, Carter; outside, Cann, and inside, Kellaher. The game will be refereed by "Peter" Brebner, of St. Thomas.

DARCH & HUNTER'S TEAM WON.

Nine innings were played, the Darch & Hunter team winning by a score of 4 to 3. Scoring was made by the James Reid & Co. club in one inning only, three runs being tallied in the third. Several excellent plays were made, a particularly good catch being made by Mr. Fred Darch.

GOLDEN JUBILEE.

The golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. John Brunton, sen., of Allandale, was celebrated recently, when the happy couple were presented with a purse of gold by their children and grandchildren, and also received a gift of gold from Mr. J. Poucher. Amongst those present from a distance were Mr. Andrew Brunton and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Brunton, of this city; Mr. Douglas Brunton, of Depot Harbor, and Mr. Randolph Brunton, of Cleveland, Ohio. Mr. and Mrs. Brunton were married in Scotland, but have resided in Allandale for 40 years.

A CLEVER MONOLOGUIST.

As clever a monologuist as ever held the boards in this city is Miss Ray Cox, who is at Springbank in the second week of her engagement, which ends tomorrow. Miss Cox has a drollness which is always enjoyed, and her monologue is given in decidedly original style. Her idea of up-to-date humor conforms with that of a good many Londoners. Miss Cox's ability is not confined to the humorous, as was shown in her recitation of the last scene from "Lazarre." Marion and Deane are a team of clever dancing and singing artists, who put an audience in the best of humor from the moment they "come on." The rest of the bill is a good one.

TRAVELERS AND ST. JOHN'S GAME.

Expectations in Regard to New Hydraulic Pumps—Plenty of Water.

The work on the new hydraulic pumps at Springbank has been advanced very rapidly during the past month, and there is every indication that the machinery will be ready for operation by Sept 1. The turbine wheels are in place, and the attention of the workmen is now directed entirely to the upper parts.

There is plenty of water at Springbank. The frequent rains of the last three weeks have lessened the demand so much that it does not equal by a million gallons a day what was required during the dry weather in early June. At that time the reservoir went down to six feet, whereas it generally registers from 12 to 13 feet. At present water is going to waste at Springbank, but that does not mean that the lawn sprinkling regulations will not be rigidly enforced.

The Rose of Wentworth

But it had been spoiled for her from that moment, and that was why she had shivered when she had put it on.

Her lover had thought more of the cost than of the beauty of the robe in which she was to wed him; all the thought of pleasing him, all the pleasure of happy fancies which she had woven in with it, for his sake, alone, went for nothing with him. But she told no one of it; she kept it a secret in her own heart, and it had rankled there like a poisoned arrow.

She was as lovely as a dream, however, when she went down to meet him, and she saw his eyes brighten with a pride which half made up for the pain she had suffered over his former indifference.

She would not have a single orange blossom in her wreath.

Let the poor things have a rest," she had said when discussing the subject. "There will be one bride who will not load the air with their perfume.

And so she had chosen instead a beautiful garland of pure white heath with which to fasten her veil and delicate vines depending from it trailed down the whole length of her lovely dress.

She wore no ornaments save the network of pearls over her neck, and the fringe which finished it, and fell also over the tops of the long gloves, which came up on her arms to meet the tiny sleeves of her dress.

Save the delicate flush on her cheeks, and her scarlet lips, with her dark brows and hair, she was as "pure and chaste as snow" from the crown of her head to the sole of her white-slippered feet.

"I am very proud of my love today," Philip said as he met her at the foot of the stairs and led her out to the coach which was to convey her to the church.

Lady Elaine, who had followed her, heard the whispered words, and prayed most fervently that he might always love and be "very proud" of her.

Arley's heart bounded and thrilled over the fond sentence, little dreaming how soon, alas! it was to be pierced with a cruel wound, the scar of which would never disappear.

Arriving at the church, they were rejoined by Philip and Wil, also Annie Vane and her husband, and the cortege swept up the aisle to the altar, where a few brief moments were all that were necessary for the words to be spoken which bound Arley Wentworth to Philip Paxton for life.

The wedding breakfast was much like other breakfasts on similar occasions; the congratulations, good wishes and toasts were numerous and hearty; the bridal presents were properly inspected and admired, and finally the fair bride stole away to prepare for her journey.

She was nearly ready to return to her guests when there came a tap upon her door and a servant entered, bearing a note upon a silver tray.

"What is this?" Arley asked as she took it up and began to unfold it.

"A young person, madam, called a few moments ago and asked for you," the servant replied. "I told her that you could not be disturbed today, but she insisted that she must see you, and finally asked me if I would bring you this note."

Arley now gave her attention to the note and read these few words, very hastily written:

"Will you please grant me just a few moments, as I have something of the greatest importance to tell you before you go away? I would not have troubled you only that it is exceedingly important."

There was no name signed to this strange request, which was written in a delicate, ladylike hand.

"How singular!" murmured Arley, while a nervous tremor ran over her like a hot flame.

"Where is the lady?" she asked, feeling instinctively that it was a lady who had written the note.

In the crimson ante-room, and there is a gentleman with her, miss—madam."

Arley smiled at the girl's correction in addressing her; then she said:

"You may ask her to come up here. I think I can spare her ten minutes, as well as not," she added to herself, "and I am really quite curious to know what her important communication is."

The servant withdrew, and Arley stood looking out of the window, humming a little air softly to herself, and tapping out the time to it with her pretty boot while she waited for her visitor.

Never, as long as she lived, did she forget those few moments while she tarried for the stranger.

Her attitude, the room, with all its rich appointments, the graceful sweep of the curtains near which she was standing, the foggy street without, the leaden sky above, were all indelibly stamped upon her mind.

She remembered, too, how happy she was—for her depression had all vanished as by by magic—with what joy she looked forward to her journey with her husband—her husband! How the words thrilled her as she said them over to herself, with not a thought of the misery that was rushing to overtake her like a swift destroyer.

Then the door opened and she turned to see a fair, young girl of about her own age, enter the room and come forward to meet her.

She was slight and graceful in form; she had a fair complexion, with great, dark blue eyes, sunny-brown hair that waved prettily about her forehead, a delicate, clear-cut face, and small, autifully shaped hands and feet.

How quickly and keenly Arley noted nd took in all these details of her person!

How rapidly her eyes ran over every article of her dress, marking everything, from the tasteful, becoming hat to the tiny, perfectly-fitting boot, and yet there was nothing about the engaging stronger to betray that she had come up on an errand that was to dash the happiness from her lips, and rob her of everything that she prized most in life.

CHAPTER XI.

The young stranger appeared to be "every inch" the lady, and Arley wondered more and more who she could be and what she could want, that she should thus come to her on her wedding day; while, as she gazed upon that refined and delicate face, there seemed to be some strangely familiar look about it that puzzled her.

She had been so intent upon reading her face that she had spoken no word, and the young girl, who had advanced half-way across the room, suddenly stopped, as if ashamed at having intruded upon her.

This act recalled Lady Arley to herself, and she went forward to greet her, saying with her usual cordial frankness:

"You wish to see me—you have something to tell me? Will you please tell me whom I have the pleasure of receiving?"

The girl flushed a painful crimson at this question.

"That, and that alone, is my errand here today—to tell you who I am, though I shrink from giving you what, I fear, will be a painful shock," was the embarrassed and faltering reply. "My name is the counterpart of your own, or at least what your own has been until today—Arley Wentworth."

Arley gave her a startled look, and grew a trifle pale at this strange information.

"I can tell you nothing of my parentage," the girl continued, "for I know nothing about it; that I have yet to learn from others. My earliest recollections are of a very simple life with rough, but kind-hearted people. The men whom I was taught to call and regard as my father was a fisherman.

"Upon one occasion a severe storm overtook him, and he was driven far out to sea—in fact, his vessel came very near being wrecked, and he, with his small crew, barely escaped with their lives. When the storm passed they patched up their injured craft as well as they could, and then began their toilsome task of working back into port.

"While thus engaged one of the sailors descried a small object which excited his curiosity, tossing about on the still angry waves, like thistle-down upon the wind. He pointed it out to his captain, who also became very curious about it, and immediately launched a boat for the purpose of securing it. To his great astonishment he found it to be a child, carefully wrapped in a rubber waterproof, and lashed into the tray of a trunk. At first they thought I was dead—for I was that child—I was so benumbed with cold and wet; but after working over me for a while, they perceived signs of life, and, persevering in their efforts, they finally had the satisfaction of restoring me completely. The captain took me home to his wife, and having no children of their own, they concluded to adopt me and I was named Ina Corrillon.

'Their home was on the northern coast of Spain, not far from the city of Bayonne, in France. It was a rude little hut containing only three small rooms, which were furnished in the most meager manner, if, indeed, they could be said to be furnished at all.

"When I was 12, I was deprived, by accident, of even the care of these good fisher folk, and again thrown a waif upon the world. A heavy piece of timber, which was to be used in repairing the vessel belonging to Carlos Corrillon—my so-called father—was being hoisted to the deck, when the ropes gave way, and it came crashing down with tremendous force. Carlos was standing directly beneath it, and his wife, seeing his danger, sprang forward, thinking to ward off the fatal blow; she made a misstep and fell, and both husband and wife were crushed to death by the massive beam.

"I will not go into detail now regarding their burial and what followed, but simply state important facts. I was taken to Bayonne, after all was over, and put into a charity school.

Good Progress Made in Third Day's Games ot the Big Tournament.

The third day of victory and defeat on the London Bowling Grounds was perfect in every way. What better weather could have favored the tournament! Old Probs had tried to apply knockout drops the two days before, and as if tired of the attempt to disgruntle the bowlers, supplied for the third day cloudless skys, a sun not too warm, and tempering breezes. The bright weather disclosed this, that it was not the bowlers that the rain displeased, but the ladies who know bowlers. Bowling has long been a game for men. Those of all ages play it. It is not a violent game, yet it stirs the blood into an active circulation. It brings into play qualities that men like to think they possess. It requires good judgment, a cool head, accuracy, control, and develops the best characteristics of a true lover of sport, while satisfying the desire for excitement. This has all worked towards keeping it a man's game. How better please a woman, then, than to have her watch this game so largely forbidden to her, and so fascinating for the men. Many of them were welcomed to the lawns yesterday afternoon, and they added vivacity and charm to a constantly changing and always animated scene.

The sifting process in the Association match brought some of London's best rinks together. So many rinks from out-of-town came to the tourney that the Londoners have only infrequently opposed each other. It is as well that this has been so, for they went against men whose play they did not know, and could not estimate, instead of players whose style, abilities and peculiarities were known to them. There is a lot of difference between playing an unknown and a known quantity. Spectators showed that they were newly interested when a green was taken over by Dr. English and Mr. H. Finchamp, two London skips famous for their skill and success in more places than this city. Dr. English's rink entered the match as the result of their wonderful win from Fleming, of Chatham, the evening before. The Finchamp rink had been successful against one of the four Aylmer rinks. They fought each other to the last bowl, and the Finchamp rink won. Their opponents played fine bowls. It was regretted by their friends that they did not climb higher in the competition.

The Finchamp rink, later, was opposed to the J. D. Tytler four. This contest was spectacular. J. A. Carrick, Harry Gillies and Jack Brown play with Skip Finchamp. The latter is a remarkably fine player and a wise skip. His men are admirable and consistent shots. Yet, notwithstanding a magnificent effort, they were some shots down after the final throw. In this game many exciting ends were played. At no time during play was it either side's game. The Tillmann-Ward-Alexander-Tytler combination handled shrewd bowls, and the best that was done by the Finchampions was not good enough to beat them. This victory brought them within sight of the semi-finals, and further successes would have been joy to many who had watched their games. But in the next game they went against Wynn, of Toronto, and what could they do against a name like that? Of course Wynn won.

They are talking yet about the game that Elliott, of Mitchell, played with Porterfield, of Ridgetown. Every man that saw it swears that the finish of that match made every other finish of the tournament look like a meeting of the Pallbearers' Union. It was the swiftest and most blood-thrilling yet produced. No manipulation of pen and ink could adequately suggest the situation, and only those who saw the game know by what a series of splendid shots the Porterfield people first tied the score at the last end after being down, and in the extra end that broke the tie, won the game for Ridgetown.

Jackson, of Clinton, and Card, of Galt, play the finals for the trophy. The semi-finals were finished yesterday afternoon, but the finals were left until today, so that the principal performers had a chance to rest for a while after their long and arduous climb. Card defeated W. Spaulding, of Clinton, by 9 up in the semi-finals, and Mr. Jackson, of Clinton, won from D. Holmes, of Wingham, by 6 shots. Both the rinks that are now in the finals have many ardent supporters among the bowlers. Mr. Card is not as well known in London as his opponents, but it is announced that he has fallen under the fascination of the western tournament, and will come to London in the future oftener than he has in the past. Skip Jackson has plenty of friends and any number of admirers of the fine skill he has in the game. However, each side has the heartiest of well-wishes, and every man in the association will be glad to congratulate the winners, be they from Galt or Clinton.

Splendid progress was made yesterday. No delay was caused, and the trophy was practically completed, the Association brought well towards the finish, five rounds of the Consolation ended, and many of the singles and doubles played off. In the fifth round of the Association the McCallum rink, of Aylmer, was defeated by the excellent players who came along with W. Wynn, of Toronto. This was a rather surprising defeat, as many thought that this Aylmer rink would be up strong for the Association prize. They had put up many fine games, and their last was one of their best. Skip Wynn was one of the skips who was frequently congratulated yesterday upon his victories. He and his associates from Toronto have been handling their bowls in very able fashion. Every member of the rink is a capital fellow to bowl with, and their vanquished foes, who have felt their strength, are their sincerest admirers.

THE TURF.

AT BRIGHTON BEACH.

New York, July 23.—Amid the rousing cheers of 6,000 persons, James R. Keene's Birch Broom, with Redfern up, won the Brighton Oaks, for 3-year-old fillies, at Brighton Beach today. Sugenia Burch was an odds-on favorite, closing at 2 to 5, with Garvin and Birch Broom equal second choices, while 25 to 1 was laid against the added starter Tristesse. Tristesse was off in front, and led her field around the first turn and into the back stretch, with Birch Broom second and Eugenia Burch third. Passing the half-mile pole Redfern let his mount have her head, and she shot to the front, followed by Eugenia Burch. Rounding into the stretch the Keene filly was leading by a length, and won by a length and a half from Gravina, who closed with a great burst of speed in the stretch, and beat the favorite three-quarters of a length. M. AND M. WON BY JOHN TAYLOR.

Detroit, July 23.—John Taylor, the gray gelding, who ran away after an accident in the third heat of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' $10,000 stake yesterday at Grosse Pointe, and then won the fourth in impressive fashion this afternoon, won the fifth heat and the race from Wainscott, the heavily played favorite. There were only the two horses in the heat, the others having gone to the barn under the rules of the stake. After a perfect start John Taylor took the pole, and at the first turn was a half-length in the lead. The gray steadily increased the distance until at the half mile he was more than a length to the good. At the turn into the stretch Wainscott made a great effort, but he did not have the speed, and the race was John Taylor's by a length. The gray was not driven out at any time. In the unfinished 2:10 trot Dan T. won the deciding heat today. Summary:

Merchants' and Manufacturers' stake, $10,000, 2:24 trot—John Taylor 1, Wainscott 2. Best time, 2:10¼. Jim Ferry, Cole Direct, Robisola, Nervana, King Simmons, Bonnie Russell, Hie Boy, Robert, Robert Mac, Miss Jeanette, Shady Beattie also started.

WEIGHTS IN THE SARATOGA.

New York, July 23.—The weights for the last of the spring and summer handicaps, the $12,000 Saratoga handicap, at a mile and a quarter, for 3-year-olds and upward, to be run on the opening day of the Saratoga meeting, Aug. 3, have just been announced with the two most-talked-of horses of the season, Waterboy, winner of the Brighton, and McChesney, on equal terms, as the top weights, at 127 pounds. Hermis, who all the winter and spring was regarded as the most formidable opponent of McChesney, gets four pounds less weight.

There is an old Chinese proverb, "The Brain is in the Stomach," A simpler Anglo-Saxon maxim is, "A clean stomach makes a clear head."

CRICKET.

PLAYERS WERE SELECTED.

Toronto, July 23.—A committee meeting of the Ontario cricket clubs was held last night to select a team to represent Ontario against Quebec at Ottawa in the inter-provincial match on Aug. 14 and 15. The committee, after considerable discussion, selected over twenty names, and these players will be communicated with to see if they are available. They will probably also be asked if they will be available for the international matches. A meeting of the Ontario committee will be held on Monday night to select the team for Ottawa.

YACHTING.

OLD BOAT WON.

Atlantic Highlands, N. J., July 23.—A fluke and a shift of wind cheated Shamrock III. out of a victory in a drifting race with Shamrock I. off Sandy Hook today and gave the old boat the first victory she ever had over the new cup challenger. The boats had drifted about nine miles of the run before the wind to the turning mark with just enough wind to keep them moving, when Shamrock I.'s sails filled, and for 20 minutes she slipped away, leaving her sister racer almost becalmed. Beating back to the finish line a shift of wind gave the old boat an advantage. Shamrock I. gained five minutes by her good luck. She finished one minute and 52 seconds ahead and beat the challenger by 3 minutes and 50 seconds elapsed time. It would be unsafe, however, to infer from today's performance that the old boat could outsail the new one in light air.

RELIANCE HAD IT EASY.

Newport, R. I., July 23.—In a race for a special cup today the Reliance gave the Columbia the worst beating she has ever sustained in a contest sailed in a good whole sail breeze. Over a 38-mile course the new cup yacht finished 18 minutes and 49 seconds ahead of the old champion. The Constitution went to Bristol last night to ship a new topmast and did not arrive here today until too late to start in the race. The Columbia held her own for a few minutes after the start today, but as soon as the Reliance got her wind clear she hauled ahead and to the weather of the Columbia, outfooting her rapidly. Yachting sharps predicted a different outcome, claiming it was Columbia weather, and the result has sent the Reliance stock up. There was a smashing 12-knot breeze and the yachts were sent over a triangular course. Ed Morgan sailed the Columbia, while Capt. Barr guided the Reliance. Mr. Morgan got the advantage at the start, but a few minutes afterwards the Reliance crossed his bows and then it was a procession to the home stake. Twenty miles of the course was windward work. The Reliance behaved handsomely in the rough water today and outfooted and outpointed the sturdy old Columbia at all stages of the race. Yachtsmen say the results shows the Reliance is able and speedy under all conditions.

Ingersoll, Ont., July 23.—Ingersoll defeated Simcoe in a W. O. Baseball League match here today by a score of 8 to 4.

MAPLE LEAVES WON.

Alvinston, July 22.—The best exhibition of baseball that has been shown here this season was won by the Maple Leafs from the Inwood Seniors by a score of 16 to 8. The game was exciting and close till the eighth inning, when the locals made seven runs. Rube Patterson pitched good ball for the locals, Lurington and Crawford in the field made some good catches, McCrae fielded his position cleverly and Hayse and Simpson batted the ball hard.

TO MAKE NEW AGREEMENT.

Chicago, July 23. — The American League stands ready to act with the National in the forming of a new national agreement to govern baseball as soon as formal notice is received that the National has decided to stand by the Cincinnati peace treaty. President Ban Johnson says nothing definite can be done until Mr. Herrmann, chairman of the National League peace committee, has replied to a letter sent out by Mr. Johnson regarding the matter.

ABERDEENS THE VICTORS.

The Tipperaries were defeated by the Aberdeens on Wednesday at the C. P. R. diamond. The score was 8 to 0.

THE RING.

Boston, Mass., July 22. — While "Young Corbett," the champion featherweight, got the decision over Jimmy Briggs in their 10-round bout tonight before the Tammany Club, the Boston boy gained considerable prestige by staying the limit. It was the second time the two had met. Briggs used excellent ring judgment, and kept away from Corbett's swings.

"Mike Ward, undefeated welterweight boxer—undefeated through a series of the rawest, sneakingest and most atrocious robberies ever perpetrated in the history of the ring—is said to be after a battle with some of the acknowledged stars. As Ward will not trust himself outside of his own bailiwick, and will not dare to box anybody unless with his own referees—he owns two referees body and soul—the stars will hardly take much notice of him, and few battles are likely. Honest boxers of high class will no longer trust themselves in Ward's ring and under Ward's referees and the public will not go to see any ninth-raters robbed with impunity.

"The decision given Ward over Buddy Ryan is said to have capped the climax of the series. Ryan had fun with Ward, and towards the latter part of the fight had the Canadian howling "Foul" every time Buddy soaked him. Ward has no hitting power, never knocks out his man, and never even hits them hard enough to shake their heads. All he does is to stall with his left, duck, rush to clinches, and hang on, knowing that all he had to do is to stick the limit and the decision is his.

"The verdict given Ward over Kid Black was an outrage. Black had him on the run throughout the whole fight.

"The decision given Ward over Henry Fagin was a pitiful piece of cheap jobbery.

"The decision given Ward over Otto Sieloff was one of the rankest things on record. Sieloff nearly killed him.

"The decision given Ward over Gus Gardner is said to have been all right and merited.

"The decision awarded the Canadian over Buddy Ryan would have disgraced a hyena. Fine business. How long is this sort of thing going to continue? Isn't is time that there was at least a trifling change"

LATE ROBT. McCUTCHEON

He Was One of the Best-Known Pioneers of West Nissouri.

At his late residence, lot 25, con. 4, West Nissouri, there passed away on July 17, one of the pioneers of this township, Robert McCutcheon. He was born in 1839 near Killaloe, Ireland, and, with his parents, came to this country in 1843, settling on a farm about a mile from the village of Thorndale. He was soon inured to all the hardships incident to the life of the early settler, but the rugged constitution with which he was endowed made hard work only a pleasure for him. The men of the present generation can have but little idea of what farming meant in those days of chopping, logging, cradling, binding, and in all that work Robert McCutcheon was surpassed by few. In 1871 he married Margaret Powell, of Newbury, and settled on the farm, where he resided till his death. Of late years physical weakness prevented his active participation in the duties of the farm, but he retained his mental vigor to the last. On July 15 he was stricken with aparalysis, and lingered but two days, passing away at the comparatively early age of 64 years. He was a lifelong member of the Methodist Church and was a man of sterling integrity, and open-handed generosity, and was always active in his sympathy with every good cause. A very large number of his friends and relatives gathered on Sunday, July 19, to pay their last respects as he was laid to rest in Brown's Cemetery. A widow and three children mourn his loss, Mrs. Wilson Hobbs, West Nissouri, Lena and Ernest, at home. Three brothers and three sisters survive him, John and William, West Nissouri; Henry, of the firm of Webster & McCutcheon, of this city; Mrs. Robinson, Elderton; Mrs. Wilson, Thamesville; Mrs. Cunningham, West Nissouri; Fred W. C. McCutcheon, of the Collegiate Institute staff, is a nephew of the deceased.

JOHN HAYMAN, JUN., FELL FOUR STORIES AND IS DEAD

Survived Injuries Received by Fall Only a Few Hours.

He Was One of the Best-Known Contractors in London.

Mr. John Hayman, jun., a member of the firm of John Hayman & Sons, builders and contractors, died at Victoria Hospital at 7 o'clock last evening.

JOHN HAYMAN, JUN.

His death was the result of a fall sustained between 3 and 4 o'clock in the afternoon at a building being erected on Clarence street, for Messrs. Lawson & Jones.

Mr. Hayman fell from the fourth to the ground floor, a distance of thirty-five or forty feet, striking on a barrow-load of bricks, and receiving a fracture of the skull and internal injuries, the exact extent of which were not ascertained. It was apparent to the medical men called in that Mr. Hayman had very slight chance of recovery.

The building on which Mr. Hayman was working is a four-story structure, on the east side of Clarence, between King and York streets. It is nearing completion, the flooring of the upper story being in, and the walls so far advanced that they will be ready for the roof in a few days. Mr. Hayman had a general oversight of the work, and at the time of the accident he was superintending the hauling of some bricks from the ground floor. Instead of having these carried up by laborers, as is generally the case, the firm had adopted a more rapid and much easier plan—that of having the bricks hauled up in barrows through an elevator shaft, horse-power being used for the purpose. Mr. Hayman was moving towards the elevator shaft, with a pail of water in his hand, when he either slipped on the plank or walked over the edge of the opening, causing him to lose his balance and fall. None of the men on the building saw him until he had almost fallen to the floor below. There, a barrow loaded with bricks was ready to be drawn up, and on this Mr. Hayman fell, striking on his head and right side. When aid reached him he was found to be unconscious, and in this condition he remained until his death.

Dr. H. A. Kingsmill, who was summoned to the scene of the accident, made an examination at Victoria Hospital, together with Dr. Niven, and found Mr. Hayman had received a severe fracture at the base of the skull, besides internal injuries and bruises to the right side of the body.

The deceased was one of the best-known contractors in the city, having been a member of the firm of John Hayman & Sons for a number of years. He was 33 years of age, and is survived by a wife and two small children, besides his parents, seven brothers and two sisters, all of whom will have the sympathy of the community in their sudden bereavement. Mr. Hayman was a native of East London and an active member of the Memorial Church.

PROGRAM FOR OLD BOYS CELEBRATION COMPLETED

Committees Have Finished Their Work and All Is Ready.

Big Time in the Old Town Will Smash Records.

Cleveland Association Will Be the First to Arrive—They Come Sunday—Many Will Be Here Early.

"To make old London howl" is what one Cleveland paper says the Old Boys are coming home on Aug. 1 for. The local end of the celebration corroborates the statement, when the programme is considered—and the programme is now complete.

These Clevelanders are the first that are expected to arrive, which they are to do about 9:30 o'clock in the morning of Sunday, Aug. 2. The Detroit and Windsor contingents will be on hand about 11 o'clock the same morning. In the afternoon the Detroit band will render a sacred band concert and in the evening the band the Cleveland association are bringing will give another, both in Victoria Park.

This refers to the associations, of course. There are many who are coming individually from the clubs, who will get here on Saturday, so that really the big time begins on Saturday.

PLANS FOR MONDAY, AUG. 3.

By Monday, Aug. 3, everybody will be ready for the celebration. That morning the remainder of the associations are expected to arrive, and as the trains bring them in from the four points of the compass they will be met at the stations by members of the reception committee, who will escort them to the city hall. Here it has been arranged that the great register will be conducted. The friends at whose place the visitors say they are stopping will then have charge of them. They can take them home and talk old times or tell new news, but they must feed them by 1 o'clock.

At that time the big parade forms on the market square. There will be the visiting Old Boys, the corporation representatives in council, school board and other places, clubs and societies, and as many of the populace as want to get in the swim. From the market square they will go up Ridout street to Dundas and by way of the main thoroughfare of the old town to Queen's Park. The parade is to start at 1:15 o'clock. The Seventh Regiment will also parade to the park under the command of Col. Little. The regiment is expected to arrive at the park at 2 o'clock, at which time a massed band concert will be given by the various bands, which will be located on platforms in front of the grand stands.

The sports committee have arranged for the opening of this feature of the celebration at 2:30 o'clock, beginning with an exhibition of hurdle and high jumping by Mayor Beck's prize-winning horses. For the best turnout of men's carriage horses (double) the mayor is offering a medal, and Mrs. Beck is giving a medal for the best turnout of ladies' carriage horses (single). The races that have been arranged for by the committee include some new ones and all will afford plenty of amusement for the crowd. There are to be such interesting events as skipping and sunbonnet race, Happy Hooligan horse race, blind beggars' bun fight, fishing contest, tilting the ring, exhibition by veteran firemen and numerous other events, besides the tug-of-war and the usual running races and automobile races.

It is probable that a feature of the afternoon will be the trooping of the colors by the Seventh Regiment or other military maneuvers. The citizen soldiers are able now to make an excellent appearance and their military maneuvers will no doubt be a drawing card for the afternoon. They are also to take part in the evening when a grand tattoo will be given, under the auspices of Col. Little. This is to be preceded by a grand massed band concert at 8 o'clock. At 8.45 the Highland Cadets are to give an exhibition. A bull fight is to be pulled off at half past eight and a cooks' parade as soon after 9 as possible, with a grand cake walk as the final platform part in the programme. A grand military tattoo, under the auspices of Lieut.-Col Little, will conclude the evening performance.

The association is offering three prizes, $15, $10 and $5 for the best floral decorated carriage or wagon in the procession in the morning. A feature of the parade will be the representation of each school by a vehicle drawn by Shetland ponies. It is the desire of the association, who are going to so much pains to make this a grand success, to have as much decoration about the city as possible. That is why they want to encourage people to decorate their carriages. It is expected that every house in the city will be bountifully adorned. Places of business as well, it is to be hoped, will all be decorated. The city hall will be decorated, among other places.

TUESDAY AT SPRINGBANK.

At 10 o'clock Tuesday morning the International Association will meet at the city hall and in the afternoon the Old Boys will go to Springbank, where among other arrangements will be a big ball game between Old Boys, Canadians vs. United States. A reception will also be held for the visiting ladies. This event will be more in the nature of an at home, at which refreshments are to be served. The various events will be added to in interest by the playing of the different bands that will be about the park in the afternoon and evening.

The afternoon of Wednesday will be devoted to another visit to Springbank where a band concert will be given as well as the attractions of the street railway company at their theater. The rest of the day the Old Boys will wander where they will. There will be no official arrangements to preclude them from hunting up old friends, but a general good time will be expected to be given the visitors by the citizens of London.

TAKES THE REINS TODAY

Former Saginaw Secretary Arrives at Y. M. C. A.

Mr. A. S. Hopper an Experienced Association Man—Begins Today.

Mr. Albert S. Hopper arrived last evening from Ottawa, and this morning assumed charge of the Young Men's Christian Association of this city. The new secretary comes well recommended for his work in London, and there is no doubt but he will build up the institution and give stability to the work. Mr. Hopper gives promise that he will fill the important position with credit to himself and the association.

While born a Canadian, the most of his Y. M. C. A. experience has been gained in the United States, his last post being Saginaw, Mich. Mr. Hopper was brought up near Ottawa and educated there. He married a daughter of Dr. Stephen Wright, of that city.

Previous to his going to Saginaw he was associate state secretary of Texas, which position he filled satisfactorily until the Galveston flood, nearly three years ago, which wiped out so much of the Lone Star State. He then went to Saginaw, Mich., as secretary of the association there, which was having a hard struggle for existence. He resigned his position there in April, upon which occasion the board of directors recognized his faithful work by passing a resolution expressing the deep regret at his determination to withdraw from the leadership of that association.

"During Mr. Hopper's stay among us, of two years and a half," the resolution read, "he has endeared himself to us by his honest, faithful and devoted services to the welfare of our association. Our work has been strengthened in every department by Mr. Hopper's energy and tenacity of purpose."

The board of directors of the Saginaw association wished for Mr. Hopper and his family the greatest success in his new field of labor, with long life and happiness.

Mr. Hopper, however, was not long out of association work. Since April he has been following financial pursuits in his old home, Ottawa, but decided to accept the offer to come here. He gave up his Ottawa business for the work, before doing which he spent a few days in the city a few weeks ago looking into the field. He is well pleased with the city of London, and feels that the work here is of a promising nature.

EX-ALD. McMECHAN SAYS BOGUS NAMES ARE SIGNED

Appears in Protest Against Petition for Pavement.

City Solicitor Gives Decision in Case of Dundas Street Roadway.

There was a full attendance at the meeting last night of the Cooper committee of the city council, otherwise known as No. 2. The chief feature of the evening was the investigation by Ald. Cooper into the question, 'Where are the tools of the city works department?" also Ald. Cooper's hearing of ex-Ald. McMechan on sewer rentals and pavements. The latter matter was marked by a charge laid by the petitioner that bogus names had been attached to a previous petition for a pavement on King street between Maitland and Wellington streets.

Chairman Wyatt occupied his usual place and the other members of the committee were present, as well as the city engineer. After the routine business, Ald. Cooper arrived and proceeded to run the affair. The first thing Ald. Cooper had done, was the reading of petitions referred from the city council. There were several of these. They went through the regular proceedings.

When the petition of Harry Ryan and others was read, in which the construction was asked of a Warren's patent bithulithic pavement for King street, between Maitland and Wellington streets, Mr. J. H. McMechan was heard from. He said that they all wanted a pavement, but they were anxious to get competition. He pointed out that if tenders were advertised for, and it was found that it would be more economical to put down a pavement of other than the kind asked for, they would have to get another petition, the one before them being such that it would lead to complications. Since the pavement had been asked for the residents had come to the conclusion that it might be cheaper to get another kind of road, and he therewith presented a petition asking for the committee to withdraw their names from the petition previously signed by them.

BOGUS NAMES ON PETITION.

He thought it was too bad, but it had been learned that the first petition contained bogus names, and he presented a letter making this charge. They did that as a safeguard to work up the competition, for which they were anxious. Ald. Cooper explained to him that the only "legal and lawful" way to go about this was to present these petitions to the council. The committee had no right to receive them, and all they could do was to refer the matter to the assessment commissioner. Mr. McMechan then said that he had been told by the city clerk to present it to the committee. All they wanted, anyway, was to have the matter in the hands of the corporation before the original petition reached the commissioner. The matter was then referred to that official.

HAD CALLED HIM A THIEF.

While Mr. McMechan was present he wanted to be heard in the matter of a sewer. A motion was put through at the last meeting to compel him to pay rental for it. This he objected to, and at the meeting last night begged to be heard. "Well, go on and tell us what you know about it," generously replied Ald. Cooper. Mr. McMechan then complained that at the last meeting they had treated him as the meanest criminal in the land would not have been treated; they had called him a thief, tried and convicted him without giving him a chance to say a word in his own defense, charging him with stealing sewer usages. He claimed that the drain for three houses of his on Clarence street just south of South street, was put down by himself. He said he had explained the matter to Mr. Graydon, but that gentleman had not been able to take in what he said, and had come to the committee and charged him with stealing. He wanted the matter straightened and publicity given to the fact that he was not guilty.

Ald. Cooper adopted a judicial attitude and cross-examined him. "Did you get permission from the city engineer to build that drain?" he asked. Mr. McMechan had not, but had not thought anything of that, as nothing had ever been said of the matter. Ald. Cooper told him he knew he had no right to do any such thing and laid down the law on such matters.

The city engineer here explained that the sewer was not built by Mr. McMechan, but by the city, and called on Mr. Loveless, who was present, and who said that he had put the drain down, and it had been done for the city. Further explanations were necessary, the matter being so complicated that the chairman choked off further discussion by saying that they all understood the matter. In the end the previous action of the committee was confirmed.

ALD. COOPER VS. CITY SOLICITOR.

Then came the opinion of the city solicitor and Ald. Cooper in regard to the pavement on Dundas street between Wellington and Waterloo streets. The petition respecting this matter from H. G. Abbott and others, was referred to the assessment commissioner to report. Before doing this the following was read from the city solicitor:

"My opinion has been asked as to the power of the city council under the local improvement clauses of the municipal act, and the city bylaws, to construct a pavement on Dundas street between Wellington and Waterloo streets, to charge to the city a portion of the width of the pavement, being about 14 feet wide and the full width between the two streets; and to issue debentures, under the local improvement clauses of the municipal act, to pay for the part so charged to the city. I am of the opinion that the city has not the power to do this. The only way in which such a contribution can be made towards the cost of the pavement is out of the general rates, and then only when the estimates and bylaws for levying the taxes provide funds for that purpose."

"With all due respect," commented Ald. Cooper, "to Mr. Meredith's opinion, I don't think he is right, and I would tell him so if he was here." After a short dissertation upon this subject Ald. Cooper assented to the matter going to the assessment commissioner to report upon.

NO CLUE TO LOST TOOLS.

Ald. Cooper's next move was to hold an investigation into the mystery of the missing tools. The various ward foremen were present, and were individually and severally called upon to explain what they knew of the management of the tool chest. The tools were those that were missed some time ago, and of which the roller machine man had charge. No one knew anything about their whereabouts, but all stated that they knew there were several keys to the place, and it was quite evident from what was said that there was no system in the keeping of the property. A locking-the-stable-door-etc. resolution was passed favoring the stamping in future of all city tools, so that when any are lost they can be recognized. The ones in question were not marked, so that it was thought useless to call in the aid of detectives.

PERMISSION TO BRIDGE THAMES.

Communications referred from council in reference to inquiries received for sidewalks, etc, were in turn referred to the city engineer.

Col. Gartshore, president of the Chelsea Land and Building Company, petitioned for permission to build a traffic bridge across the Thames at the foot of Adelaide street. Ald. Cooper moved that the request be granted, subject to the approval of the city engineer and the city solicitor.

The engineer's communication in reference to a wide tire bylaw was again laid over, and the claim of Albert Hunter for water backing up and causing damage was referred to the engineer.

William Arbuckle was granted permission to connect with the Brighton street sewer.

The tender of J. A. McArthur was accepted. He will supply gravel for ward 1. That of Ross & Alexander for drawing gravel to wards two and four was also accepted. The engineer was instructed to ask for tenders for the winding and keeping in repair of the two city clocks.

The matter of constructing and retaining a wall on the west side of Richmond street, where a 42-inch tile is being put into Carling's Creek, was referred to the engineer and chairman with power to act. This was decided upon on the suggestion of Ald. Cooper, who had nothing more to bring up, and the meeting then adjourned.
