LONDON, Sept. 10, 2.59 p. m.—The official press bureau has given out the following official statement: "The battle continued yesterday. The enemy has been driven back all along the line. Sir John French reports that our first corps has buried 200 German dead and taken 12 maxim guns. Some prisoners also were taken. "Our second army corps has captured 352 prisoners and a battery. The Germans suffered heavily. Their men are stated to be very exhausted. "British troops have crossed the River Marne in a northerly direction."

BRITAIN IS THRILLED BY REPORT TO-DAY FROM GEN. FRENCH

Exultant Messages are Received From Russia—Entire Situation Makes the Nation Hopeful of Victorious Finish of Struggle.

[By Special Wire to the Courier]

LONDON, Sept. 10, 10.25 a. m.—Exultant messages from Petrograd and admissions of disastrous (from Vienna) indicate that the long series of military misfortunes marking the history of the dual monarchy are about to be capped with an unparalleled debacle, which may not only open the road to Berlin, but bring Austria to sue for peace.

The armies in the west seem as if passing to watch the fatal drama of Russia, the outcome of which may have a tremendous effect on the plans of the invaders in the western theatre of war, as well as upon the allies themselves in that region.

The news from Belgium indicates that the Germans are preparing for eventualities by rushing re-inforcements southward. The first definite indication of this movement is given in a despatch from Belgium which relates that the German force that has been waiting outside Ghent for the levy of provisions demanded from that city left hurriedly in a southeasterly direction.

England has looked hopefully for the Russian "steam roller" to get under way, but the impetus which the Russian army in the eastern theatre of the war already has acquired has fairly taken away the breath of even the military experts. The movement of the Russian advance has been so speedy that the German divisions arriving on the Vistula are hardly likely to arrive in time to assist their sorely pressed ally in Galicia.

Reports from Petrograd indicate that the Russian armies already are driving the Germans before them on the western bank of the Vistula. In this region the only base left for a rallying point for the Austrian and German forces is Cracow, the old capital of the kingdom of Poland, situated in Galicia, is a broad plain on the left bank of the Vistula, and not more than thirty miles from the frontier of Silesia. If this place falls before the onslaught of the Russians, it is felt in London that the annihilation of the Austro-German armies in southeast may result.

The Russian advance now occupies a straight line from Koenigsberg on the Baltic in East Prussia to Cracow. If Austria is disposed of a tremendous battle line from 200 to 300 miles long may sweep into the German Empire.

Many English breakfasts went unshared this morning while the people read the graphic account by Field Marshal Sir John French commander-in-chief of the British forces on the continent, of the heroic fight made by the British expeditionary force to keep from being annihilated. Like a wild cat, pursued by hounds, the British force backed stubbornly towards the River Oise, constantly showing its teeth, but realizing that it must attain the river or perish. General French's frank confession has fallen like a bomb shell on the English public, who up to the present time has not been permitted to know how hard pressed their army has been. On August 26, the British forces, according to the commander, faced the bulk and strength of four German army corps and were in danger of being surrounded and destroyed. The heroic stand of General Smith-Dorrien on the British left undoubtedly saved the day. On this day the British stood alone; even the French cavalry

SIR JOHN FRENCH SENDS HIS FIRST OFFICIAL REPORT TELLING OF HEAVY BATTLES

He Praises Great Work of Smith-Dorrien and Other Generals--British Troops Were Terribly Pressed For Four Days but Their Behaviour Showed Wonderful Valor All Through.

[By Special Wire to the Courier]

LONDON, Sept. 10.—The text of the report of Field Marshal, Sir John French, in command of the British forces in France, covering the British operations since they landed in France, was made public to-day.

The report is addressed to Earl Kitchener, the Secretary of War, and its publication indicates that the government is responding to the public demand for fuller information on the progress of operations, so far as the British forces are concentrated in France.

The report is published in the London Gazette, the official organ. It follows:

"The transportation of the troops from England by rail and sea was effected in the best order and without a check. Concentration was practically completed on the evening of Friday, August 21, and I was able to make disposition to move the force during Saturday to positions I considered most favorable from which to commence the operations which General Joffre requested me to undertake. The line extended along the line of the canal from Conde on the west through Mons and Binche on the east.

"During August 22 and 23 the advance squadrons did some excellent work, some of them penetrating as far as Soignies (a town of Belgium ten miles north-east of Mons) and several encounters took place in which our troops showed to great advantage.

"On Sunday, the 23rd, reports began to come in to the effect that the enemy was commencing an attack on the Mons line apparently in some strength. The position on Mons was being particularly threatened.

"The commander of the first corps had pushed his flank back to some high ground south of Bray and the fifth cavalry evacuated Binche moving slightly south. The enemy thereupon occupied Binche.

"The right of the third division under General Hamilton was at Mons, which formed a somewhat dangerous salient, and I directed the commander of the second corps if threatened seriously to draw back the centre behind Mons. This was done before dark.

"In the meantime, about five in the afternoon I received a most unexpected message from General Joffre by telegraph telling me that at least three German corps were moving on my position in front and that a second corps was engaged in a turning movement from the direction of Tournai. He also informed me that the two reserve French divisions and the Fifth French army corps on my right were retiring. The Germans having on the previous day gained possession of the passage of the Sambre between Charleroi and Namur.

"In view of the possibility of my being driven from the Mons position I had previously ordered a position in the rear to be reconnoitered. This position rested on the fortress of Maubeuge on the right and extended west to Jeanlen, southeast of Valenciennes on the left. The position was reported difficult to hold, because standing crops and buildings made the sighting of trenches very difficult and limited the fire in many important localities. It nevertheless, afforded a few good artillery positions.

"When the news of the retirement of the French and the German force threatening on my front reached me I endeavored to confirm it by aeroplane reconnaissance, and as a result of this I determined to effect a retirement to the Maubeuge position at daybreak on the 24th.

"A certain amount of fighting continued along the whole line throughout the night and at daybreak on the 24th, the second division from the neighborhood of Harmignies made a powerful demonstration as if to retake Binche. This was supported by the artillery of both the first and the second division while the first division took up a supporting position in the neighborhood of Peissant. Under cover of this demonstration the second corps retired on the line of Dour, Quarembule and Frameries. The third division on the right of the corps suffered considerable loss in this operation from the enemy who had retaken Mons.

The second corps halted on this line where they entrenched themselves enabling Sir Douglas Haig, with the first corps, gradually to withdraw to the new position and he effected this without much further loss reaching the line from Bavay to Maubeuge about seven in the evening.

"Towards midnight the enemy was reported difficult to hold, because standing crops and buildings made the sighting of trenches very difficult and limited the fire in many important localities. It nevertheless, afforded a few good artillery positions.

WAR SUMMARY

[By Special Wire to the Courier] The silence of Berlin and Bordeaux up to early afternoon emphasizes the decisive character of the battle being fought east of Paris and along a line of a hundred miles or more.

There are indications that the Germans are reinforcing their centre which is bearing the brunt of the British-French onslaught and are making a tremendous effort to regain the ground lost to the allies—estimated by the latter to be 25 miles. There are evidences also that the allies are strengthening their left wing.

The Russian advance is described at Petrograd as now occupying almost a straight line from Koenigsberg on the Baltic in East Prussia to Cracow.

The Russians are said to be driving the Germans before them on the west bank of the Vistula.

It is believed that a stout stand of the Germans and Austrians will be made at Cracow.

According to Serbian advice, Serbian troops have crossed the River Save and are successfully invading Hungary. Montenegrin troops are in Bosnia hoping to incite a revolution in that Austrian province.

Premier Asquith has called upon Parliament to add another half million men to the army.

A message from Vienna says it is officially admitted that Archduke Frederick lost 120,000 men in the recent fighting in Galicia.

The detailed experiences of the British army during the first week of fighting in France are told in the report of Sir John French, commander of the British expeditionary force and made public in full to-day. Sir John describes his forces as making an orderly withdrawal in the face of overwhelming odds. It should be noted that the report makes no reference to events subsequent to August 28.

A despatch from Tokio says that Japan has been made a party to the agreement by which none of the enemies of Germany and Austria will make peace without previous consent of its allies.

American Ambassador at London, Walter H. Page, has informed President Wilson that Great Britain is determined not to make peace until she has decisively defeated Germany.

In Petrograd it is believed that Austria will soon sue for peace in order to avoid the dissolution of the dual monarchy.

A Copenhagen despatch says that a large German squadron has been observed along the Gulf of Bothnia, steaming east.

An official statement issued at London just before three o'clock this afternoon says that the Germans have been driven back all along the line. The statement, however, appears to refer to the fighting of yesterday and adds little to what had already been made known by the French ministry of war.

GREATEST ARMY EVER RAISED BY THE BRITISH

Asquith Appeals to Parliament for Power to Raise Another Half Million.

[By Special Wire to the Courier]

LONDON, Sept. 10.—12.38 p.m.—Premier Asquith to-day asked parliament to add another half million men of all ranks to the regular army.

The supplementary estimates issued in the form of a white paper asking parliament to vote this increase, say it represents the probable excess beyond the similar increase voted August 5, which will be required for active service.

This will bring the total of all ranks in the army to the unprecedented figure for Great Britain of 1,185,400 men.

JAPAN WILL STICK.

PETROGRAD, Sept. 9, via London 10, 6.56 a.m.—A despatch from Tokio states that Japan has joined the agreement of the allies not to conclude peace without the consent of the allied nations. Japan has informed Russia, the despatch says that she will not make peace with Germany until the war in Germany is ended, even if Japan occupied Kia-Chow before then.

TURN OF THE TIDE IS SURELY EVIDENCED NOW

Remarkable Change is Found in the Position of the Two Big Armies—Enemy's Line of Communication Has Been Cut.

[By Special Wire to the Courier]

LONDON, Sept. 10.2.10 a.m.—The correspondent of The Daily Telegraph in France, describing the turn of the tide in favor of the allied forces, says:

"From trustworthy sources it is reported that we have already cut part of the German line of communication in the east and it seems highly probable that we shall soon be able to drive them back upon their ammunition and supply column.

"At the same time one cannot withhold a tribute of admiration to the extraordinary and efficient way in which the German cavalry played their part. It now seems certain that the German advance, which so scared us last week, was the throwing forward of a screen of cavalry to mask the enemy's flanking movement eastward and that they had no present intention of investing Paris. The two chief factors in this war are artillery and exhaustion. It is undoubtedly a contest of guns.

"While the great battle is raging to the eastward of Paris the western region of France is gradually being relieved of Germans. They have been seen as far west and south as Gisors, nineteen miles southwest of Beauvais, but they are now eighty miles from Gisors and how they have been driven to evacuate this region so rapid is one of the mysteries of the great campaign, which is being partly revealed by the official despatches."

FULL TIME RESUMED IN THE DOMINION TEXTILE MILLS.

The stimulating effect of present conditions upon the Canadian cotton industry has resulted in the resumption of full working time in the ten mills of the Dominion Textile Co., Limited. During the eight months prior to the commencement of the war in Europe the 7,000 employees of this company were working on an average only 70 per cent of full time.

AFTER GERMANY'S TRADE.

When Germany went to war she took care to draw the sword against her best customers. The amounts of Germany's exports to the various countries are given herewith. They show that Germany sent more goods to Great Britain than to any other country, while Russia is in second place, and France third.

AS OTHERS SEE US.

(From the Victoria Colonist) The New York Globe says: "Great Britain stands outside the struggle, and the whole affair has been above reproach. There is no doubt at all that this is the opinion of all disinterested judges and we have little doubt that intelligent Germans in Germany would say the same thing if they knew all the facts."

HEROIC ACTION.

War is only a sort of dramatic representation of a sort of dramatic symbol of a thousand forms of duty. I never went into battle I never was under fire but I fancy that there are some things just as hard to do as to go under fire.

BRITISH GOLD RESERVES.

Aside from those of the Bank of England, little publicity is given the gold reserves of British banks. The Bank of England issues a weekly statement as to its own reserves, and a few financiers consider that this system should be obligatory on all banking houses.

compare with the records gathered from the annual reports issued by the deputy master of the Mint.

A Canadian Banker to the Monetary Times expressed the opinion that the joint stock banks of England have been accumulating gold for some time past, and that Great Britain is therefore in a much stronger gold position than has been shown by recent Bank of England statements.

IS FRANCE HOARDING SILVER?

Paper notes of fifty centimes, one franc and two francs (10, 20 and 40 centimes) are being printed under the authorization of the government by the Paris Chamber of Commerce to supply change.

themselves with a ready-made merchant marine they will probably secure the lion's share of Germany's trade in South America, where an immense market is opening up.

Germany, after the war, will have to start all over again to build up her foreign trade. She will find the market for her goods monopolized in the possession of alert and resourceful competitors. Germany even if she wins in this war is out of business as an exporter for twenty years; and if she loses, as she will, the handicap will permit for a longer period. Germany is finding out that War Lords are expensive luxuries to possess.

DESCRIPTION AND MAP OF THE FORTIFICATIONS THAT GUARD PARIS

More Than Holding Own, is Opinion of all Experts in Great Britain To-day

(By Special Wire to The Courier) LONDON, Sept. 10, 1.58 p.m.—That the allies are doing a little more than holding their own is the deduction of English observers made to-day from the meagre news otherwise available of the momentous struggle which already has progressed four days in the region of the River Marne.

DASTARDLY TRICK

German Ruse in Mine-flying Discovered by Trawler. (By Special Wire to The Courier) LONDON, Sept. 9, 8.17 a.m.—The master of the Grimby steam trawler Agatha reports that while fishing in the North Sea he sighted a ship's boat aloft and suspecting that some disaster had occurred went towards it.

LIVER ILLS

Are Cured by HOOD'S PILLS. A careful examination revealed that a mine had been attached to the lifeboat by ropes and wires in such a manner as to explode and blow up any ship which steamed alongside the lifeboat to pick it up.

centre our advance is slow but general." It is pointed out by these writers that the allies had prepared their centre for the most formidable and dangerous attack, which if successful would have divided their forces. To have this evidence from the German rushing tactics has been at least temporarily countered, has given more courage to British optimists who believe that the Germans are feeling the pressure, and have found it necessary to hurry up reinforcements from Belgium and practically denude upper Alsace of troops that are being rushed to the central fighting zone.

LEFT GHENT ALONE.

PARIS Sept. 10, 2 a.m.—An Antwerp despatch to Havas Agency dated Wednesday gives the following official communication: "The Germans did not enter Ghent to-day but contented themselves with calling out the mayors and demanding of him that he furnish provisions, to be delivered to (not row) moorings at Beirlegem."

SHOOTING WELL

OTTAWA, Sept. 10.—On his return to Ottawa from Valcartier to-day Col. the Hon. Sam Hughes stated that difficulty in obtaining cloth for uniforms was causing the delay in outfitting the troops. The shooting of the men he says, is encouraging. In quick firing yesterday, one company fired ten shots in 75 seconds, and averaged "magpies" three points each shot.

really serious scale, may claim the early attention of the German general and result possibly in further relieving the pressure on France. Premier Aquino said 439,000 men, exclusive of the territorials had joined the army since the declaration of war. On one day he said 33,290 men had enlisted. The average enlistment in the army in an ordinary year was 35,000 men. In moving a resolution authorizing the raising of an additional half million men, the Premier said that the time had not come to relax efforts to obtain more troops. After the reserves have been called out there were 400,000 men with the colors. On August 6 he proposed that an additional half million men be recruited, making a total of 900,000 men.

THANKSGIVING, MONDAY.

A despatch to the Courier says the government has altered the date of Thanksgiving Day this year to Monday, October 13. It had been fixed for October 8, but the fact that the latter date falls on Thursday, is understood to be the reason for the change. Monday being much more convenient.

NATIONAL FRIENDSHIP.

My other message is to assure you that the friendship you entertain for the people of the United States is reciprocated by them far more universally and far more heartily than ever before. There is a friendship of governments and a friendship of nations. The former may shift with the shifting of material interests or be affected by the relations of each power with other powers, but the latter rests on solid permanent foundations. With our two peoples it is based on community of speech, of literature, of institutions, of beliefs, of traditions from the past, of ideals for the future. In all these things the British and American peoples are closer than any two other peoples can be. Nature and history have meant them to be friends. James Bryce, former Ambassador at Washington, to the British.

CIDER TIME.

Cider barrels nigh the woodshead, A frolic 'at the bung; Boys with straws absorb'n' liquid— I wish that I was young, Lay'n' fat upon a barrel Suck'n' juice today, And you, old chum, was pumpin' with me—

Cool and sweet as clover honey—

Luscious, limpid juice— Pints or quarts as free as water— Can't you feel it ooze And kind o' trickle down your gullet? Same as long ago? Ain't it fun to think about it? Just as if 'twas so? —Jabe Smith in Rural Farmer.

The German right wind is steadily retreating before the allied troops. Besides the U. S. cutter, which is again hunting for the roused members of Stenansson's expedition, another vessel, the Corwin has been sent on the search by J. Linderberg, a Nome millionaire friend of the explorer.

HIT HARD BY BRITISH TRIP HAMMER THE GERMANS RETIRING

Left End of Curved Line Driven Across the River Marne and British Forces Are Following Up the Advantage Gained.

(By Special Wire to the Courier)

PARIS, Sept. 10.—The left end of the curved battle line which on September 7 extended in the segment of a slight circle from Meaux to Vitry-Le-Francois, about 100 miles to the east of Paris, was hit by the English trip hammer yesterday and forced to double back for a distance of approximately 25 miles.

The Germans seem to have realized that they have been led into a dangerous position, for they have brought up reinforcements for their left. In spite, however, of their desperate attacks, the English troops not only held the ground already gained, but forged ahead.

While the official reports failed to indicate the direction in which the Germans have retired, it is believed here that they have withdrawn in the direction of Epernay, a town about 70 miles from Paris.

The British troops having crossed the River Marne, are now in a position to follow up their success. They are menacing the Germans constantly with a turning movement.

In spite of the continued sobriety of the French capital, communications on the progress of these engagements, it is evident that the actions of yesterday and the day before constituted one of the most hotly fought battles of the war.

Yesterday evening a large number of automobiles, loaded with stretchers, speeded out of Paris toward the east. This fact might suggest also that yesterday's action was one of the most costly advantages so far gained by the allies.

RUSH TO RESCUE

German Army Division is Endeavoring to Save the Austrians.

(By Special Wire to the Courier)

LONDON, Sept. 10.—The Times has received the following message from its Petrograd correspondent:

"I understand that a German army division proceeding along the banks of the River Vistula formed a vanguard of the German forces hurrying to relieve the hard-pressed Austrians, and that these reinforcements are advancing by way of Czestochowa and Kielce."

Experienced observers here believe that they will not arrive in time.

"I hear on excellent authority that General Samsonoff's staff officers are all safe with the exception of one killed. Thus the story that General Samsonoff and all of his staff were killed by German shells was evidently false."

GOOD REASON THIS

Fleets Are Sparring Austria-Hungary As Peace is Possible.

(By Special Wire to the Courier)

ROME, Sept. 9.—via Paris, Sept. 9.—2.27 a.m.—The newspaper Giornale D'Italia, in remarking that the Anglo-French fleet in the Adriatic never displayed energetic action, advances the supposition that England and France, whose relations with Austria are traditionally friendly are purposely sparing the Hapsburg monarchy with the idea of inducing her to come to terms separately from Germany, despite the Triple Alliance, thus isolating Berlin.

The Giornale D'Italia describes the situation in Austria as critical as the Russians have annihilated the army corps composed of soldiers of German and Hungarian nationalities. Those remaining are mostly composed of Slav, Bohemian and Italian nationalities, which it says, cannot be trusted against Russia, Serbia and Montenegro.

Routine business was included in the program, and the outcome of the meeting was that things will shortly develop for the employment of men at the advancing of the city public works.

PARIS IS VERY BUSY

Clear of Enemy

Germany has Completely Evacuated Northern Part of France.

[By Special Wire to the Courier] LONDON, Sept. 10.—A despatch to the Reuter's Telegram company from Paris reports a French military doctor as saying that the proportion of severely wounded in the fighting in France is only about five per cent. He confirmed the reports that the German troops had completely evacuated to northern region of France with the exception of a few small parties of Uhlans, who are being entrusted with the difficult task of guarding communications. These Uhlans are gradually backing eastward. The situation is so much improved, according to the doctor that many emigrants, whose villages are no longer threatened by the Germans are returning to their homes.

Traffic has been partially resumed on the northern railway. Two reconnaissance trains went west yesterday to places where heavy fighting occurred recently. The neighborhood was found cleared of the enemy, but the ground was strewn with the putrefying bodies of dead horses.

[By Special Wire to the Courier] PARIS, Sept. 10, 2.20 p.m.—All morning a long line of couriers in automobiles coming from the fighting lines east of the city has been arriving at the headquarters of General Gallieni, the military commander of Paris.

An automobilist attached to the headquarters of Sir John French, who is in the department of Seine and Marne, came into Paris this morning. Speaking of the situation to the east, he said the spirits of the British soldiers were wonderful and that they were confident of winning.

The British troops are in much greater force than commonly is supposed, this man said. Figures for military reasons must be avoided. One hundred thousand Germans passed through Greycy en Brie in the department of Seine and Marne, Sunday night and Monday morning. They were returning. A part of this column was marching eight men abreast.

A large detachment of German cavalry which was cut off from the army and took refuge in a forest last night is now surrounded by French troops.

Military Notes

Active Service

Men are daily presenting themselves at the armories for enlistment for the war, but as there has been no call for men and no orders to accept them, they are being registered and will be notified when called upon.

These men for the most part live at too great a distance from the armories to permit being taken on the regulars. This special Fall opening offer affords these gentlemen a splendid opportunity to see if the Tip Top Tailors can make good their claim.

Non-Com's

Any non-commissioned officer of the Dufferins who wishes to qualify at Toronto should leave his name with Sgt.-Major Oxtoby. The usual pay and allowance will be granted, during his stay at Toronto.

Team Shoot

The annual team competitions for rifle shoot the next Saturday afternoon, commencing with the Hamilton-McCarthy trophy, the teams leave the armories at 1.30. Nearly all the companies have entered.

Recruits

Adjut. Ballachy will examine the recruit class to-night. This squad is of the finest ever passed into the regiment and numbers over fifty. A number of ex-service men are included.

Non-Com's Class

The non-commissioned officer's class is being held on Wednesday night.

B. C. I. Cadets

The B. C. I. Cadets will hold their organization meeting on Friday afternoon at the Collegiate. Fall drill will commence next week.

GOOD NEWS FOR MEN WHO NEED NEW CLOTHES

Owing to the present unsettled conditions of business when many men perhaps find it harder than usual to finance a new suit or overcoat, the Tip Top Tailors have decided to announce their Fall opening by giving a pair of extra trousers to each Brantford man who leaves his measure on Saturday or Monday, September 12th and 14th.

The entire new Fall display, over 500 of the choicest materials ever shown in this city for Fall and Winter will be given to choose from at the Company's established price of "Always $14 to Measure." This is about the greatest tailoring offer ever given in the city.

Since their tailoring shop was opened in Brantford, these enterprising $14 tailors have received no complaint that they are aware of from any of their patrons. If there happens to be any man in Brantford who has any complaint to make, no matter how small, the Tip Top Tailors will be obliged if he will come to the store and secure perfect satisfaction, or get a new suit or overcoat. The Company's mottoes are: "A satisfied customer is the best advertisement" and "Give the value and you get the business."

OFFICIAL REPORT.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—The French embassy to day received the official despatch from Bordeaux, bearing yesterday's date: "The right wing of the Germans has been withdrawn from the Petit Morin through fighting on the eighth and has been sharply attacked on the right bank of the Ourcq. Our troops are making progress at Sezanne. A sharp fight is taking place in our center with alternations of progress and recession. The situation continues to be favorable at Nancy and in the Vosges on the right wing."
