Verdun Fighting Again Rages Furiously Battle There the Bitterest of Whole War Quebec City Was Swept by Great Tornado

DEADLOCK AT VERDUN HAS CHANGED; NOW TERRIFIC PITCHED BATTLE BEING WAGED

A Battle of Madmen in the Midst of a
Volcano Eruption--In Three Days
Germans Supposed to Have Used up
100,000 Men--About Douaumont Men
Fight in Tunnels.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

New York, May 25.—A cable to the New York Times from Paris, dated yesterday, says:
"Since Saturday the Verdun deadlock has changed to the most terrific pitched battle in history. Fully half a million men are engaged altogether, without a respite from slaughter. Whole regiments melt in a few minutes, but others take their places, only to perish in the same way.
"It is a battle of madmen in the midst of a volcano eruption," is the description given by a staff captain who left the fortress on a special mission yesterday afternoon. He continued:

TERRIFIC LOSSES.

"Between Saturday morning and noon Tuesday the Germans used up 100,000 men on the west Meuse front alone. That is the price they paid for the recapture of our recent gains and seizure of our outlying positions. From brigade to division moved down in a quarter hour's holocaust by our machine guns. Le Mort-Homme itself passed from our possession, but the crescent Bourras position to the south prevents the enemy from utilizing it.

IN THE HORROR OF DARKNESS

"The scene there is appalling, but is dwarfed in comparison with fighting around Douaumont. West of the Meuse at least, one dies in the open air, but at Douaumont is the horror of darkness, where the men fight in tunnels, screaming with the lust of butchery, deafened by shells and grenades, stifled by smoke.

THE WOUNDED FIGHT.

"Even the wounded refuse to abandon the struggle. As though possessed by devils they fight on until they fall senseless from loss of blood. A surgeon in a front line post told me that in a redoubt at the south part of the fort, of 200 French dead, fully half had more than two wounds. Those he was able to treat seemed utterly insane. They kept shouting war cries and their eyes blazed, and stranger of all they seemed indifferent to pain. At one moment anaesthetic ran out owing to the impossibility of bringing forward fresh supplies through the bombardment. Arms, even legs, were amputated without a groan, and even afterwards the men seemed not to have felt the shock. They asked for a cigarette or inquired how the battle was going.

A TERRIBLE TOLL.

"Our losses in re-taking the fort were less heavy than was expected as the enemy was demoralized by the cannonade--by far the most furious I have ever seen from French guns--and also was taken by surprise. But the subsequent action took a terrible toll. Cover was all blown to pieces. Every German rush was preceded by two or three hours of shell storm and then came a wave of attack in numbers that seemed unceasing. Again and again the defenders' ranks were renewed.
"Never have attacks been pushed home so continuously. The fight for Cemetery Hill at Gettysburg was no child's play, nor for Hougomont at Waterloo, but men have been flung 5,000' at a time at brief intervals for the last forty-eight hours. Practically the whole sector has been covered by a cannonade compared to which Gettysburg was a hailstorm and Waterloo mere fireworks. Some shell holes were thirty feet across, the explosion killing fifty men simultaneously.

DEAD HEAPED IN ROWS.

"Before our lines the German dead lie heaped in long rows. I am told one observer calculated there were 7,000 in a distance of 700 yards. Besides they cannot succor their wounded, whereas of ours one at least in three is removed safely to the rear. Despite the bombardment, supplies keep coming. Even the chloroform I spoke of, arrived after an hour's delay when two sets of bearers had been killed.

INEVITABLE EXHAUSTION.

"The dogged tenacity needed to continue the resistance far surpasses the furious clamor of the attack. We know, too, the Germans cannot long maintain their present sacrifices. Since Saturday the enemy has lost two, if not three, for each one of us. Every bombardment without, every rush checked, brings nearer the moment of inevitable exhaustion. Then will come our recompense for these days of horror."

VERDUN FRONT EAST OF THE MEUSE ATTACKED LAST NIGHT BY HUNS WHO GAINED FOOTING

No Slackening in the German's Efforts to Recover the Ground Lost at Verdun--Position on Dead Man's Hill-- Offensive Extended Eastward Towards the Meuse--French Have Many Reserves

Paris, May 25.—11.30 a.m.—German troops made an attack last night on French positions on the Verdun front east of the Meuse near the Mandremont quarry, and obtained a footing in one of the French trenches, the war office announced to-day.

London, May 25.—New York Times cable—A despatch to The Daily Chronicle from Paris says:
"There is no slackening in the frightful conflict on the Meuse heights. Throughout yesterday and last night an alternation of bombardment and assault continued across the Douaumont plateau, the Germans hesitating at no sacrifice, in order to recover the ground lost on Monday.
"The French artillery said to be quite equal in strength to the German batteries replied without cessation and the infantry lines hold firm. Night-fall sees no moderation of the fierceness of the struggle, which has now become a trial of endurance of the most extreme intensity.

ON DEAD MAN'S HILL.

"The position on the Dead Man's Hill front seems to be as follows:
"The French hold the crest of Hill 304 and the western slope, including a redoubt near the cross roads to the southwest of Hill 2067, that is, half way between the crest of Hill 304 and Avocourt wood; the Germans occupy the northwest north and northeast slopes of Hill 304, but not the broad summit. Dead Man's summit proper, Hill 265, is so narrow as to become untenable under the concentrated fire of many batteries. Unfortunately for the Crown Prince's regiments there is a line of hills of almost equal height, one behind another, from north to south. The next is Hill 795, and 300 yards behind this is a hill only 10 yards lower. It is against this latter, Hill 288, that the Germans are now hurrying their columns of assault. Their successive waves have been broken. A company managed to get into a French trench on the western slope last night. An immediate counter-attack was delivered and the position recovered.

TOWARDS THE EAST.

"During the night the German offensive was extended eastward toward the Meuse, large new contingents being brought into action. Notwithstanding the heroic resistance below the hillside which overlooks the village to the north, they succeeded in entering Cumieres, a difficult point to hold, and no importance in itself as the river valley is wholly dominated by hills on either side. A trench was also captured immediately. French are firmly dug in hills to the north of Cattancourt.

"The Times' military correspondent says this morning:
"The Germans continue to exhaust their army before Verdun to the point of extermination. They bring up divisions in reserve from every direction where one is to be found. There are ample French guns and there are still French troops in reserve in plenty for any purpose which may enter Joffre's mind."

PLENTY OF RESERVES

"When the writer visited Verdun, he found the whole countryside outside the fire zone filled with French reserves, and although the battle was raging with all the fury which had been its distinguishing characteristic, French pensionnaires were going off to their homes on furlough as if nothing was happening.

"The French practice has been to give the divisions a rest after serious fighting, in order to prevent their quality from deteriorating, and they can afford to do so because they have ample reserves.
"The Germans are not in this fortunate position, and so they have to draw their scattered divisions out of the line, fill them up from the field depots as best they may and hurry them back again into the fight."

TRUE BILL IS FOUND AGAINST REVOLT LEADERS

Casement and Bailey Have Indictments Returned Against Them.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

London, May 25.—The grand jury to-day returned true bills against Sir Roger Casement, leader of the Sinn Fein revolt, and Daniel J. Bailey, the former British soldier, who is held as his accomplice.

The action of the grand jury follows the preliminary hearing before a police magistrate at which Casement and Bailey withheld their defence and were held without bail pending the grand jury deliberations. Seventy-five grand jurors were summoned before Chief Justice Reading to-day and from their number 23 were selected to decide whether or not indictments for high treason should be returned against the two prisoners. Their decision was reached promptly.

After a short deliberation the jury returned true bills. The judge fixed the trial of Sir Roger for June 26.

In explaining the law to the jury the judge stated it was necessary treason should be proved by overt acts. In the indictment against Casement as it stood, he said, six overt acts were mentioned.

The court nominated Alexander Sullivan of Dublin, and Artemus Jones, who appeared for the defence at the preliminary hearing as counsel for Casement. It is understood that Prof. J. H. Morgan, who took part in the defence at the preliminary hearing also will appear but by stat-tute, only two attorneys can be nominated.

Hanan Gregory and W. T. Snull were named to defend Bailey. Thomas Scanlon, member of parliament and one of the secretaries of Irish party also will appear for Bailey.

PATHTIC IN DUBLIN

Dublin, May 25.—Astonishingly little interest is displayed here in the trial of Sir Roger Casement, both in political and general circles. Casement was almost entirely unknown here before the war. Since then vague reports of his activities in Germany have been all that have reached the Irish public in spite of the fact that he was in touch with the leaders of the recent rebellion.

As an element in Irish politics, Casement had no existence. The importance attached to his connection with the Sinn Fein revolt both in England and abroad is not quite understood in this country.

Fatal Accident

Ogdensburg, N. Y., May 25.—Casie and Gladys Caswell, daughters of Clinton Castleman, a farmer, were killed and Mr. Castleman and another daughter, Olive, were mortally injured yesterday when a wagon in which they were riding was struck by a Grand Trunk Railroad train on a crossing near Morrisburg, Ontario. Mr. Castleman and Olive were taken to the Brockville hospital.

300 METRES AVERAGE

Paris, May 25.—10.30 p.m.—(Verdun)—Inspection made by military authorities of maps of the Verdun region shows that within the last month German gains on the west bank of the Meuse from Cumieres to Avocourt, average a depth of 300 metres. The line eastward from the river is substantially the same as it was a month ago.

L. E. & N. RY. DEALING FOR A PASSENGER BOAT

Trying to Establish a Line Between Port Dover
and Cleveland.

The Courier to-day had a chat with Mr. Martin Todd, Manager of the Lake Erie and Northern Railway.

In response to queries he stated that they expected to run their cars to Simcoe some time next week and to Port Dover within a month.

BOAT LINE.
Asked as to the probable use of the Lake, Mr. Todd replied:
"We are now looking for a passenger boat with a light enough draught to make Port Dover harbor in its present condition. We may not succeed in finding such a vessel, but if we do, a service will be established between that place and Cleveland running three days a week."

"It is our intention as soon as the Dominion government, to establish a ferry car line probably between Port Dover and Port Erie. We want to get at the coal fields by this short route."

Sub Active Again
S. S. Washington the Latest Victim, According to Lloyds.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

London, May 25, 12:50 p.m.—The British steamship Washington, 5,080 tons gross, has been sunk by a submarine, according to an announcement made to-day at Lloyds shipping agency.

On her last eastern trip across the Atlantic the Washington left Newport News, April 12 and Norfolk two days later, bound for Genoa, where she arrived May 8.

Because the government is unable to get a postmaster to serve at Washington Harbor, Wis., the post office there has been discontinued.

Tide of Battle Flowed Against the French in Last Twenty-Four Hours

Germans Once More Hurlled Their Legions Against Fort Douaumont, and by Lavish Waste of Lives Succeeded in Partially Regaining Ground Lost.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

Paris, May 25.—The tide of battle at Verdun flowed against the French during the last twenty-four hours. The Germans, rallying from the smashing blows which took from them the greater part of Fort Douaumont, hurled their legions once more against the ruins which retain by courtesy the title of fort and, by a lavish expenditure of life succeeded in partially retrieving the ground they had lost on the right bank of the Meuse. They also gained a small advantage on the left side of the river. Military opinion here is not greatly concerned over the result of the day's fighting. Such incidents are regarded as inevitable in the strategy of action, and reaction upon which the stubborn defence of Verdun is based. The aim of the defenders is to inflict the greatest possible loss upon the enemy at the least possible cost to themselves. French counter-attacks are expected to restore the situation by to-morrow in favor of the republic.

The occupation of the village of Cumieres gives the Germans a slight advantage as to a certain extent commands the French lateral communications. However, the village is so well covered by the French artillery that the Germans will be unable to profit to any great extent by its possession.

velocity of 48 miles per hour, but the suddenness of the tornado and its sweeping force seemed to be fanned by a much higher wind. The property loss reaches many thousands of dollars.

TORNADO SWEEPS QUEBEC CITY

One Man Killed and Property Loss Amounts to Thousands.

Quebec, May 25.—Quebec was swept yesterday evening between five and five-thirty by the worst tornado registered here for years. One man, Evangeliste Belanger, 62, is dying. He was swept from a roof in St. Malo suburb, and picked up in the street with a dislocated hip, a broken leg and suffering from severe concussion. He is at the Hotel Dieu Hospital.

Scores of roofs were torn from houses and the trees that were felled are counted by hundreds. The hot-houses of the Sacred Heart Hospital were damaged to the extent of over one thousand dollars.

And we were "up in the air" about it because the wife knew nothing about cooking. She tried her best and meant well, I guess, but her first attempt at a meal convinced me.

So we had just about decided to eat in restaurants when suddenly my wife struck a bright idea. "Why don't you call 139 and insert a help wanted ad for a cook in The Courier," she said. And I did—

To The Editor

MOTORISTS AND TEAMSTERS.

Dear Sir—

In your issue of the 18th you publish a letter signed Motorist, and after reading it, I have come to the conclusion that he does not deny that the law is being broken. He then tries to make his own side good by pointing out distinctly what the law says regarding teams, etc. Why not state also distinctly the law regarding age and what is required of a motorist as well? Now, Sir, I am not a teamster but have been requested by the same to ask Motorist some questions. How can the law be observed when the sides of the roads are monopolized by the motorists. Why is it cars are allowed to stand on the main streets from early morning till night, except at noon, obstructing the road and often compelling teamsters to carry freight half a block. Teamsters avoid these streets as much as possible, owing to street cars, which at times have to wait nearly a block before teams can get near the curb, unless the teamster crosses to the wrong side of the road.

I write, try to observe the law. Of course, there are a few who are not so considerate; these should be brought to time the same as the motorists who do not obey the law. I also think farmers rigs need a little attention when one can see a horse tied to a post and the tail of the rig in the center of the road. In closing, I wish to ask Motorist why he wishes to conceal his identity. Any man who tries to do his best for his fellow man has nothing to be ashamed of. Hoping you will be kind enough to publish this in your valuable paper and thanking you for the same.

Yours truly,
Stephen Cayless,
163 Terrace Hill Street.

It has been reported that Jeremiah C. Lynch, of New York, has been convicted by a court-martial in Dublin of complicity in the Irish rebellion. It also has been asserted that James M. The waste paper basket in some offices is emptied once a day, sometimes twice a day. Besides scraps of paper and envelopes it usually contains many circulars addressed to the man who seldom opens them.

Thousands of dollars are wasted by circular publicity. There is no surer method of reaching the people you want than through the CLASSIFIED COLUMNS OF THE COURIER. There is no waste publicity in CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING. The Situation.

The developments of the last few hours are not of a satisfactory nature from the standpoint of the Allies, but at the same time they are in no sense discouraging.

The Huns in connection with the Verdun struggle, have made slight gains both on the East and West of the Meuse. They have captured the village of Cumieres, about six miles from Verdun, and Fort Douaumont.

The New York World sees the matter very clearly when during the course of an editorial urging the U. S. Congress to pass the bill for a greater U. S. navy it says: "There is only one military lesson of this war—sea power, sea power, sea power!"

Matters are not going very well for the Italians. The Austrian official statement claims that their troops have invaded Italy for a distance of eleven miles, after sweeping over the great frontier ridge.

In the British House last night, Sir Edward Grey, British Foreign Secretary, put the quietus on any present talk of peace. He pointed out (1) That before any suggestion could be considered, there would have to be agreement between Great Britain and her Allies.

The Quebec Issue as Backed by Laurier.

The recent Quebec Provincial election has far more of significance than the fact that a Liberal Government should have been retained in office, after eleven years of occupancy, by an overwhelming majority.

The Carranza government has requested that U. S. troops be withdrawn from Mexico and this will probably be done. Yet there are still some people resident across the border who imagine that the present big war would be ended if Uncle Sam called a halt!

Liberal papers outside of Quebec, have most distinctly failed to go into ecstasies over the triumph of the Couin Government there. They know that it was purely a race victory backed up by Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

Sir Sam Hughes is likely to return to the Old Land shortly in order to again take up the military matters upon which he was engaged, when because of the Carvell charges, he took the first available boat home. As for the charges themselves they are now so weak as to be unable to totter any more on to the front pages of Grit sheets.

President Wilson's address on peace before the League to Enforce Peace will be delivered in Washington on Saturday.

And Sir Wilfrid Laurier has openly lent himself to the whole miserable and devilish business. He fathered the recent sinister attempt to bring the bi-lingual issue into the Dominion House and by his deplorable action showed that had he been in power he would have attempted the throttling of Ontario and Ontario rights. By his course he sent the Western Liberals, under Hon. Mr. Oliver into open revolt and once more demonstrated himself to be, what he has always been at heart, a French-Canadian first, last and all the time, as against the rest of the Dominion.

Well, Quebec has invited the issue. She has set up the dictum of a solid French-Canadianism without regard to national needs, or progress, or Canadian unity. Instead of hanging their heads in shame in connection with what they have most distinctly failed to do in this war, they now have the consummate gall to seek to pose as dictators at home.

The Work of the British Navy.

There are still some people who put the question as to what the British navy has been doing. As a matter of fact John Bull's magnificent sea force has been the safeguard not alone of the Mother Land and all of the Dominions overseas, but also of the Allies. How long does anyone think that Canada would have been free from attack had the British levathians of the deep not guarded after what is described as a fearful struggle with a horrible toll of life, especially for the enemy.

With the best drilled, the best equipped, the best disciplined, the best officered and the best prepared army that the world has ever known, Germany is a besieged fortress.

The New York paper proceeds to say that had the war been between Great Britain and Germany alone, the Hun army would have been powerless, for with her incomparable navy no landing could have been effected on the soil of the Motherland or any of her possessions. The World concludes: "It is only because Great Britain is obliged to help France, Belgium and Russia that a huge British army is needed at all, and even with this disability, from a military point of view, it is the British Navy that has made everything else possible for the Allies."

With Germany in control of the sea, the war would have ended within three months and Germany would have been master of Europe. With Great Britain in control of the sea, a German victory was long ago made impossible.

Notes and Comments: Lieut. Arthur Turnbull who leaped from the strangers' gallery in the House of Commons, was snowed under in a British bye-election on Tuesday. He found it much easier to make a jump in the House, than to jump into it.

Laurier's pet child the Grand Trunk Pacific is not only a white elephant, but a whole herd of 'em.

The Carranza government has requested that U. S. troops be withdrawn from Mexico and this will probably be done. Yet there are still some people resident across the border who imagine that the present big war would be ended if Uncle Sam called a halt!

TRIBUTE TO THE "ANZACS"

"Pall Mall Gazette" Quotes C.P.R. Man's Appreciation.

On April 4th the "Pall Mall Gazette" of London, England, contained many views of the celebration of Anzac Day at Westminster Abbey commemorating the landing of troops from Australia and New Zealand on the Gallipoli Peninsula which occurred on April 25, 1916.

The solemn beauty of Westminster Abbey, which echoes with the story of our past, is a fitting shrine in which to commemorate the noble and valiant, the fortunate, and the sacrificial memories of those lives laid down, precious to the Empire, but because they symbolize the high qualities which throughout centuries have gone to the building up of the British race. The courage and the chivalry of our forefathers lived again in those countless heroes of Gallipoli who have passed on undimmed the traditions of our history.

As a Canadian, I speak with certainty when I say that in no part of the Empire is the service the Anzacs have rendered, more universally recognized than in Canada. We feel cognized than in Canada. We feel cognized than in Canada. We feel cognized than in Canada.

Sergt. Gillingwater Tells of His Life Near the Enemy.

Mr. W. F. Cockshutt, M.P., has received the following interesting letter from Sergt. Gillingwater from "Somewhere in France," in which he tells of some warm experiences with the enemy.

Yes, Brantford has done fine, and well represented out here. We are getting nice fine weather, out here these days, and everything is going fine. The Huns gave the British troops some gas last Sunday morning early, but met with a great reception. It was the heaviest bombardment I have heard of and a half. Neuve Chappelle was bad, but nothing to this. It was one continuous roar. I was up to — last Sunday week and it was too late to return so stayed overnight and intended to return 5 a.m. next morning. At 4 a.m., Fritz dropped 18 bombs. Damage nil. So I returned a little earlier than arranged. This place is a good ten miles from the firing line, and next morning they paid our quarters a visit. Let us off with eight. The only damage I could see was a few daisy roots in the fields thrown sky high. I have not seen any of the 19th Battalion lately. The 4th Battalion are in reserve now, and will be out resting in a week's time, and I will try and see both battalions while they are resting. Now I don't know of any further news interesting to you. So must close, wishing you the best of health, etc., and longing to see the boys of Brantford marching down Market street. I am sure there are many in Brantford wishing the same.

Yours truly, J. R. GILLINGWATER.

NUPTIAL NOTES

Llewellyn Brown; Edward Alfred Thomas and Lillian Rose Greentree, by Rev. Capt. A. E. Lavelle; Bertram Thomas Gunter and the Sophia Maud Guest, at Grace church by Rev. C. A PRESENTATION.

A large number of the young people and members of St. James' church Grandview, spent a very enjoyable evening last Friday in the Parish Hall. On this occasion Privates J. J. Garfield Wallace and Arthur Davidson, prominent workers in the church and Corporal Blacker of the 4th Battalion, returned from the front, were specially honored by being presented each with a solid gold military ring. A short complimentary address was made by the rector, and the presentations were made by Misses Della Riley, M. DeGrouchey, and Gladys Ratchell. Acknowledgments were suitably made. The recipients have been closely identified with the work of the church and Sunday school. The rings are handsomely engraved with the number of their Battalion surrounded with maple leaves and crossed rifles. A good musical program enlivened the evening which was concluded with refreshments served by the young people after which followed the National Anthem.

Report Not True.

By Special Wire to the Courier. Tokyo, May 25.—The foreign office has issued a denial of a report from Peking that Japan has offered safe conduct and sanctuary to Yuan Shi Kai in case he resigns the presidency of China and leaves the country. Discussion of the subject at the present time is considered premature. The report has been current that Yuan Shi Kai was negotiating for a residence in Japan.

N. G. Tally, a white man, of McNary, Miss., charged with an attempted assault on his own daughter, was lynched by an infuriated mob.

BRILLIANT SCENE AT GOLF LINKS YESTERDAY

President's Side Won Match Played by Small Margin.

May 24th was royally celebrated at the golf links. In the morning there was a team match, President vs. Captain, in which some forty golfers participated—quite a record crowd. The match was quite an exciting one, the result not being known until the last two players came in, when it was found that the President's side had won out by the narrow margin of 2 points. The Captain's therefore had the pleasure of setting for the excellent lunch served after the match at the club house. In the afternoon friendly foursomes were played.

The tennis courts were also open and a large number of enthusiasts played over the nets. The scene was particularly brilliant one in the afternoon, as a large number of guests motored up to the links. Afternoon tea was served by the ladies, participated in by two or three hundred members and friends. In the ladies' putting contest in the afternoon, on the beautiful oval in front of the club house, Miss Gibson and Miss N. Powell were the prize-winners.

Altogether the golf season opened up under the most brilliant auspices. The hostesses of the day were: Mrs. George D. Watt, Mrs. Robert Duncan and the Misses Fissette, Hart, Sweet, Oldham and Sanderson.

AEROPLANE AND GUNBOAT WAS DESTROYED

Italian Warship Scores Success Against Enemy in the Adriatic.

By Special Wire to the Courier. Rome, May 24, via Paris, May 25.—An Austrian aeroplane and an Austrian gunboat have been destroyed in a battle with an Italian gunboat in the Upper Adriatic. The crew of the Austrian craft were taken prisoner. A building on the outskirts of Porto Ferrajo was bombed by an Austrian submarine, which was driven off by the coast batteries before much damage was done.

Porto Ferrajo is the capital of the Island of Elba and if the Austrian submarine started from the Austrian side it must have almost completely circumnavigated Italy to reach its objective. The villa occupied by Napoleon during his exile to Elba stands on a height overlooking Porto Ferrajo.

WINIFRED BLACK WRITES ABOUT "Just Like a Woman"

Copyright, 1916, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

Winifred Black

"Two o'clock," said the younger woman's husband, trying not to be cross about it.

"Two o'clock?" echoed the other woman.

"In the morning?" they both groaned.

"In the morning," said the two men in chorus, and then they both tried to change the subject.

"Isn't there really any other train?" said the younger woman.

"If there is, we didn't get our tickets on it," said the younger woman's husband, trying to act as if the woman was, somehow, to blame for that.

"But the porter said—" began the other woman.

"Sensitive? Not at All!"

The other woman's husband pushed back his chair, set down his glass of ice water with a thump, put his elbows on the table and leaned forward and said with such distinctness that nobody in the car could help hearing and understanding every syllable:

"We don't care what the porter said, or what the porter thinks, or what the porter is going to think. We're not in the least interested as to what the conductors think, or the engineer, or the brakeman, or the head waiter of this dining car.

"We bought the tickets for this trip. It's a pity we didn't get them for the right train, but we didn't."

"It's a pleasure trip, or we thought it would be. Now, if you women will just stop wondering why we didn't come by the right train and what we're going to do between the time we get off at the station to change and daylight, and if you just please won't say another word about it any time, any how, maybe it will go on being a pleasure trip. As it is—"

"Why, George," said the other woman, hastily, "we didn't know you were so sensitive about it," and the other woman smiled one of those smiles that makes you wish she'd cry for a change.

"Sensitive!" burst out the other woman's husband.

"Sensitive!" almost shouted the younger woman's husband.

"Well, John," said the younger woman soothingly, "it is too bad to harp on it so. I'll forget if you will. Won't you, Mary?"

"I'll try," answered Mary, noncommittally, and nobody spoke till after the soup and the fish.

"What in the world—" began the younger woman.

"Oh, my dear," said the other woman, wearily, "don't bother about it. It was foolish of us even to mention it. When you've been married as long as I have, you'll realize that it's only one man in ten who ever gets the, or right ticket on the right train, or checks the trunk to the right place, or wires ahead and engages the right room at the right hotel. They're always too busy packing fishing rods or hunting up a favorite golf slice, or fretting too about a particular brand of cigars they want to be sure and take. A little thing like a ticket is nothing to them. But how they do hate to have you say anything about it!"

"Don't they?" agreed the younger woman. "Did you notice John's voice? Why, the way he spoke to me—why, I never was so surprised in my life! I felt so mortified I couldn't bear to look even toward the waiter."

"Oh, don't bother about the waiter," said the other woman. "He's heard men explaining about tickets before. They're all alike."

"Yes," said the younger woman. "They are. And wasn't it just like a man to pretend to be cross with me because I noticed it?"

Then they climbed into their section and took down their hair and put their watches in the tool of their shoes—and went to sleep.

"Just like a man!" "Just like a woman!" How queer it is that we go on saying this thing over and over. What does a woman want a man to be—just like a woman? And what does a man want a woman to be—just like a man?

"Don't suppose any woman ever lived who could really understand the mental processes of a man. And I know no man ever breathed who really knew just exactly what the woman he loved was really thinking when he thought she was thinking about him."

What a stupid world it would be if we were as much alike that there were no mysteries to solve between us—we men and women.

All the same, I do wonder why the men didn't buy the tickets on the right train—don't you?

The Joy of Mystery.

The two women talked the matter over together when the men had gone.

"What in the world—" began the younger woman.

"Oh, my dear," said the other woman, wearily, "don't bother about it. It was foolish of us even to mention it. ### Advice to Girls

By ANNIE LAURIE

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE: I am a young man attending school, and for two years I kept company with a girl whom I deeply loved. Last December I was strongly attracted by another girl. This aroused the jealousy of my former love, and consequently I ceased calling on her. Unfortunately I quarrelled with the second girl. Now, however, I am infatuated with the sister of the first. Do you think that calling on her would cause any hard feelings?

GEORGE.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE: I am a girl, 17 years of age. I work in a factory, and employed in the same building is a young man who runs the elevator. I think a great deal of him, and I know he thinks a lot of me. I would like to ask him to my home, but I don't know whether it would be proper or not. I have only known him for a short time. Kindly advise me what to do.

LONELY.

LONELY: If you are quite sure that this young man is the sort who would be worth knowing, why don't you ask your mother's permission to see him on your own evening?

There is no reason why you should not invite him to call upon you if you would like to have him. This is one of the few things we women have of singling out those whom we would make our friends.

Why Babies May Starve Though They're Well Fed

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSBERG

A. B. M. A. M. D. (Johns Hopkins University)

LOVING mothers and doting grandmothers sometimes see hunger in infants as often as some folks see ghosts in graveyards. It is, indeed, an ungrateful task to seek to show dotting elders that such signs as perspiration, bald patches where the infant's head rubs the pillow, thick joints and thick bones, bow-legs, knock-knees, turned-in toes, and the other multitudinous testimony of rickets, indicate—despite the huge quantity of food consumed—that the child is afflicted with a type of starvation.

That is to say, babies, even when fed to excess, may either through some inherited deficiency of certain structures such as the parathyroid or other glands, or through some essential ingredients of the rations fed them—vitamines, lime, phosphorus—are literally fasting when fed a feast. The simple child that lightly draws its breath, and feels its life in every limb, may be reared and raised successfully to escape death, and still in health and efficiency be a blot upon the boasting escutcheon of the grandmothers who "has raised dozens without any of this new fangled advice."

To be sure, asparagus tips, spinach, prune juice and carrot juice are ampler than drugs to escape death, and still in health and efficiency be a blot upon the boasting escutcheon of the grandmothers who "has raised dozens without any of this new fangled advice."

Besides, those present in fruits and vegetables, other forms are to be had with a doctor's prescription, as well as a little thyroid or adrenal gland, to help the child's flagging tissues.

Lime water in the infant's pabulum has a duplicated virtue. It yields the little one both lime and an alkaline mineral water. Thus it serves to combat the dread specter of diabetes and acidosis, which, let me again emphasize, has nothing to do with that confectionery bugaboo and man-of-straw called "acid condition" or "uric acid."

Moreover, fresh fruit and vegetable juices contain the vital elements called vitamins, and some times even topping them there was a chattering as of wood or tin gently brought together.

When I came out from the hut where I had passed the night, I discovered the reason. The women of the tribe had much elongated lips. Through the upper and the lower lips were inserted small wooden or tin saucers. It was most funny to hear them talk, as these saucers actually clapped together like castanets.

The reason for these disfigurements, other than the beauty they were supposed to lend the dusky belles, I never knew. But there is no doubt that here in darkest Africa the phrase "the clatter of gossiping lips" has a meaning more real than anywhere else on earth.

Notwithstanding this, any deformities or misplacements of bones and joints should be carefully studied and taken care of by some one particularly deputed to this work, namely, an orthopedic surgeon. While it is seldom necessary to apply an instrument, it is often

Many of the Fashions of Other Days Now Find New Favor

By ANNETTE BRADSHAW

Wrote about the "new look" startlingly in fashion, but after all is said and done, the styles that awaken our greatest admiration are those of other days. When we desire quaintness, charm and elegant simplicity we harken back to grandmothers' time.

In this modern interpretation of the "early Victorian" frock is introduced many old-time features; the bustle, hoop-skirt, chemisette, scalloped hem and ruffles of mull.

It is fashioned of old-lace taffeta and the snugly fitted bodice boasts of long sleeves, a full peplum and a neck-frill and chemisette of white mull.

The skirt is more complicated and consists of a full underskirt of taffeta with a scalloped hem. It is worn over a petticoat, divided by means of several rows of feather-boning.

The full overskirt has four ruffles across the back and sides, producing the bustle effect that is decidedly picturesque. The hem is scalloped to correspond with the underskirt.

The modern maid who elects to don a frock of this type, must wear a poke bonnet of black or blue straw with a trimming of roses, foliage and ribbon. Then she will be a charming reproduction of her great-grandmother.

Note the Chemisette, Scalloped Bustle and the Hoops.

But those people who thought that account there would be disappointed. At Agricultural College the City League was formally organized by a double header and, judging yesterday's contests, there were some pretty nifty ball players. These parts before the snow again.

LOCAL BASEBALL SEASON OPENED YESTERDAY WITH TWO WELL-CONTESTED GAMES

Good Crowd Turned Out at Agricultural Park to See the First of the City League Contests—Stars Put Over a Last Minute Victory Against Alerts, While 215th Swamped the Cubs by a Score of 6 to 0.

For the first time in six years Brantford saw yesterday a 24th of May, where it was not represented in the Canadian League. The reason is that this year there is no Canadian League. But those people who thought that on that account there would be no baseball were yesterday agreeably disappointed. At Agricultural Park the City League was formally opened by a double header and, judging from yesterday's contests, there will be some pretty nifty ball pulled off in these parts before the snow falls again.

All the ingredients that go to make up an opening day a success, were present yesterday. The weather was ideal, almost too hot. Mr. J. H. Fisher, M.P., favored the teams with his presence both in the parade and at the game.

The parade started at 1.30 from Victoria Park, and included the players, the bugle bands of the 125th and the 215th, Mr. J. H. Fisher, M.P., and other devotees of the sport anxious to take in all the fun.

Before the games started, Mr. Fisher went to the pitcher's box and faced the redoubtable colonel of the 215th, who was at bat, with Mr. R. J. Eacrett catching. After throwing one ball somewhat widely, like the late lamented Mr. Ryerson often did in a pinch, Mr. Fisher got one over the plate which Lt. Col. Harry Cockshutt cracked down to third base. It was a good single had he only run. Mr. Eacrett had nothing to do, but struck the right attitude and looked like a catcher.

THE FIRST GAME.

The first game was rather long drawn out. Mr. Fisher, by the way, presented the league with a dozen new walked. Summerhays fanned, and Peirce walked filling the bases, but Gleason hit the air. In the second they went out one, two, three. In the 3rd, Hays fanned, Currie walked but was caught stealing. Beckett walked, Summerhays singled and Peirce fouled out. The fourth inning was featured with the only double play of the afternoon. Gleason singled and stole. Hurley flew out to Brown who slipped to Slemm before Gleason could get back.

The 215th started early and kept on going. They missed fire in the first but Slemm got a counter in the second, thanks to a wild pitch. They added another in the third and kept playing along steadily, always having the edge until they broke away in the sixth. Then singles by Slemm and Armitage, a sacrifice by Bender, a walk to Brown and a sacrifice by Burkholder brought in two, while in the last inning one good hit and two errors counted more.

Captain Duff Slemm, who a few years ago was with the local pros, played at second base, and showed up well. Wood and Wooden also looked likely. Hurley pitched for Peets the last two innings, not a very wise change as the score shows.

There is no admission fee to these games, but a collection is taken up. All proceeds, barring a percentage to the parks board, goes for patriotic purposes. Double headers will be played every Saturday afternoon.

THE SECOND GAME.

The second game, though a one-sided affair, was a nifty little struggle, with the soldiers pulling off some smart plays. Summerhays was bad on the peg and they ran wild on the bases while the whole Cub infield "blew" periodically. However the 215th played smart inside baseball and looked far the best of the four yesterday.

The Cubs were dangerous only in the first inning. Hays struck out, Currie singled and stole second; Beckett

AMMUNITION CAPTURED FROM GERMANS IN CAMEROON CAMPAIGN

Taking stock of captured German munitions of war from the London Chamber.

After the fall of Garna to a combined British and French force operating from the north the spoils of war were found to be four guns (three pieces of 60-mm. and one piece of 37-mm. calibre), ten Maxim guns (of which only five were intact), and several hundred rifles.

The ammunition captured at the same time included 700 shells and about 80,000 cartridges. Much of this war material was collected under guard outside one of the forts (seen in the above view), where it was inspected by a group of French and British officers.

BOWLING SEASON OPENED YESTERDAY WITH BEAUTIFUL WEATHER IN ITS FAVOR

Increasingly Popular Sport Had Hundreds of its Adherents Playing at it on Victoria Day—Many Games Were Played and a Happy Time Spent by all the Contestants

With ideal weather, and all the greens appearing beautiful in the bright sunshine, the bowling season opened yesterday in Brantford. All the greens were crowded with devotees of the sport and in all cases a most enjoyable time was spent by the bowing fraternity.

AT THE PASTIMES.

No more enthusiastic opening was ever held on the Pastime bowling lawn than that of yesterday. The greens were in perfect shape, and the whole lawn was needed to accommodate the various contestants for the honors.

The usual president vs. vice-president game was not played, this function giving way to a real club tournament which lasted throughout the day. It furnished many surprises, some strong skips being put out of the running. Inglis, Spence, Ames and Corey fell by the wayside early in the day.

DUFFERIN CLUB.

There was a large attendance at the opening game yesterday at the Dufferin Bowling and Tennis Club. The contest was between sides chosen by the President and Vice-President and the former rinks won by a slight margin. Before the commencement of play President Dowling made a happy opening address. During the course of his remarks he welcomed the many new members and referred to the large number of old members either at the front or preparing to go there. At the close of his remarks three hearty cheers were given for them.

AT THE HEATHERS.

There was a big crowd at the Heather Bowling Club yesterday afternoon, when the green was formally declared open by the President for the ensuing season. The members themselves were there in good numbers (Continued on Page Nine.)

GERMANY'S DOMINATION OF WORLD
METAL TRADE HAS NOW BEEN ALL
DESTROYED AS RESULT OF WAR

Australia Destroys the Hold Germany Had Upon Its Mining Region—A Co-operative Organization of Mining Companies Deals With the Metals Industry.

Melbourne, Australia, May 24.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—What was described, before the war began, as Germany's "domination" of the world's metal trades through Teutonic commercial and industrial supremacy in Australian mining regions, has, after a year of systematized effort virtually been destroyed, according to a long statement issued by Hugh Mahon, Acting Attorney-General.

Negotiations instituted by William M. Hughes when Attorney-General and since prosecuted by him as Federal Prime Minister in England, have borne fruit in the creation of a co-operative organization of mining companies in Australia to deal with the commercial metals industry. Through this association, according to Mr. Mahon's statement, this giant business is being placed on a footing free from the possibility of foreign control in the future. This organization, the Associated Smelters' Proprietary, Limited, is probably the largest metallurgical establishment of its kind in the world—a smelting, refining and realization institution for the treatment of silver, lead, and gold ores and concentrates.

Mr. Mahon's statement tells also of the formation of an Australian Zinc Producers' Association, with which is affiliated every important zinc producing company with head offices in the Commonwealth. Through the medium of this association, its members have agreed to sell all their marketable zinc for a period of fifty years.

Replying to an intimation appearing in a London financial journal that Australia's metal industry was perhaps being exploited in the labor interest under the cover of banishing German influence, Mr. Mahon has asserted that the men interested in the metal organizations here have "little or no sympathy with the political opinions of the present (Labor) government" and that "no party purpose" was considered "It is quite evident," Mr. Mahon said, "that German influence is not yet extinct in those circles in London which dominate financial literature."

and, in addition, the lady friends of the club and club members showed their interest in the game by turning out in large numbers.

President Dr. Gamble, who was in charge of the ceremonies, was in a happy mood and in a short speech welcomed the visitors and members, thanked the ladies for their kindness in providing refreshments year after year, and drew attention to certain rules of the club and game.

The Vice-President, B. A. Caspell, briefly addressed the crowd and outlined something of the program arranged for the season. This showed that there will not be an idle moment whenever bowling is possible, games having already been arranged with many of town clubs as well as the city and home club tournaments. A pleasing coincidence was the receiving of a letter yesterday afternoon from Glad Raymond, who has gone overseas, and who was such a valued member of the club.

The green was then declared open for the season and the annual game between rinks captained by the president and vice-president was commenced.

During the afternoon, dainty refreshments were served by the ladies, which part of the program was thoroughly enjoyed and very much appreciated by all those in attendance. The green was in splendid condition for this time of year, and the games were all keenly contested, the final score showing a majority in favor of the vice-president's side of one shot.

ECHO PLACE BOWLERS. The Echo Place Bowling club opened the season 1916 yesterday under perfect conditions. The greens were in grand order and with mother nature in her best humor and the grounds decorated with flags and bunting, Mr. George W. Hall's pretty lawn made a delightful holiday retreat. There were a large number of members and their friends present, when President Hall declared the grounds open for the season, and in so doing assured the members that he believed the season 1916 would be even more successful than the previous one. The result of the afternoon's game was in favor of the Vice-President, Mr. H. E. Craddock by 35 shots. Score:

BRANTFORD BEAT
THE 125TH BY TWENTY-SEVEN

Delightful Weather for the Opening Cricket of the Season.

FINE BOWLING BY OLDHAM

Pte. Comyn, Wicket Keeper, Hurt When Hit With Fast Ball.

Delightful weather favored the opening of the local cricketers, an eleven picked from the 125th Battalion were the visitors, and although beaten, they showed that with a little more practice they will be a hard team to beat at camp this summer. The home team won the toss and decided to send the 125th to bat, which proved to be a wise decision as the wicket played very treacherously at first, improving as the game went along and was in far better shape when the Brantford team went to bat. The 125th sent in Sergt. Winyard and Sheasby to oppose the bowling of C. Smith and G. Elliott. Two runs resulted from the first over, but off the first ball delivered by G. Elliott, Sheasby was finely caught by G. Hoe. A. Greig joined Winyard and together they raised the score to 9, when Greig was bowled by C. Smith. Corp. (Rev.) A. Elliott was the next batsman, but he was bowled by Smith without any addition to the score.

Comyn joined Winyard, who was playing finely, not having given a chance. Three runs were added to the score, when Neal, by a brilliant catch, disposed of Comyn. H. Elliott, son of the old Brantford cricketer who is away with the 84th, was Winyard's first partner, and the first real stand of the game was made by careful cricket, the two bringing the score to 21, when Winyard misjudged a fast delivery from Sergt. H. Oldham, who had replaced G. Elliott. The rest of the wickets fell in quick succession, the whole of the eleven being out for 24 runs, the last five wickets only adding three runs. This result was largely brought about by the fine bowling of G. Elliott, who took four wickets for six runs. He was ably assisted by President H. Phillips, who had replaced Smith, he taking two wickets for three runs. Elliott and Smith also bowled well, the former taking three wickets for four runs, and the latter two for 10 runs. Sergt. Winyard was top scorer for the "Brants" with eleven runs, made by careful and skilful cricket.

Retiring at next to win the home team opened their innings with L. E. Drake and H. Phillips. One run only had been scored when Pte. H. Comyn, who was keeping wicket for the Brants, was hit in the eye with a fast rising ball. The cut was so bad he had to be assisted from the field and medical attendance called. Pte. Marks kindly volunteered to take his place and the game proceeded. With-out any addition to the score, Drake was caught at the wicket. G. Whitwill joined Phillips and the total was carried to six, when Phillips was clean bowled by Winyard.

J. F. Van-Lane was the next batsman, making his last appearance with the team, with which he has been connected for the past 13 years, as he is leaving the city. Chiefly by singles the score was raised to 15, when the last named player was unfortunately run out. Sergt. H. Oldham was next on the list but lost the services of Whitwill without the total being increased; four wickets down for 15 runs, of which Whitwill had made seven. C. Smith joined the sergeant, and the Brants' total was past before they were separated. Smith being bowled by Winyard with the score board showing 29. G. Elliott, a member of the famous cricketing family of that name, was next man in, and by forcing the game, he and Oldham added 12 runs to the total, when Oldham, who had batted splendidly for 11 runs, was bowled by H. Elliott. At the same score, G. Elliott got his leg in front of a straight one from Harlow. F. Scattergood, alone of the remaining batsmen, made any showing, he carrying out his bat for

On Saturday, the Paris division of the 125th, will be entertained to a game, commencing at 2 p.m., and if the battalion is here for June 3rd, it is hoped by the home team to play an eleven picked from the whole of the battalion. JOFFRE PAYS
HIGH TRIBUTE TO CANADIANS

French Proud to Fight Side by Side With the Canucks.

SIR DOUGLAS HAIG ALSO

Messages Sent to Canada on Occasion of Victoria Day.

Ottawa, May 25.—His Royal Highness, Duke of Connaught, Governor-General of Canada, on the occasion of Empire Day has received messages from Gen. Sir Douglas Haig, commander-in-chief of the British armies in France, and from Gen. Joffre, generalissimo of the armies of France, to Gen. Haig, which the latter added to his cable, expressing full confidence in the ultimate victory of allied arms and greetings to the people of the Dominion. Gen. Joffre adds a word of admiration for the fighting qualities of the overseas forces.

Gen. Haig's cablegram follows: "All ranks under my command in France join with me in greetings on Empire Day to our fellow subjects through his Majesty's dominions' representatives of every part of these dominions; bound together not only by ties of blood, but by similarity of ideals and loyalty to one crown and one flag, our armies are united heart and soul in this fight for freedom and justice, the old watchword of our race. Confident in ourselves, in the ungrudging help and support of our gallant allies, we look forward to certain victory."

Gen. Joffre's message, which was appended by Sir Douglas Haig, follows: "On Empire Day I am much pleased to express to you the sentiments of high esteem and comradeship felt by the armies of France for the brave troops of the dominions, of the Indies, and of the colonies, whose fine conduct and brilliant deeds on all the battlefields where they have been engaged have excited such admiration. I beg you to communicate these sentiments to the officers, N.C.O.'s and men of the dominions and colonies, side by side with whom the French troops are proud to fight for the same ideals."
