President of United States Inaugurated To-day Into Second Term of Office

Duty Demanded Hun Intrigue With Mexico and Japan, is Hypocritical Plaint of Berlin To-day

UNITED STATES HAVE BEEN DEEPLY WRONGED ON SEAS

Inaugural Address of President Wilson on Occasion of His Installation in Office for Second Term; America Stands Firm in Armed Neutrality

Berne, March 4.—Via Paris.—The Munich Neueste Nachrichten discussing the Zimmermann note, denies that any plot existed on the part of Germany to bring about war with America, but rather than Germany acted out of foresight against possible eventualities. The Nachrichten maintains that the onus for the whole affair rests on President Wilson and continues:

"No plot was attempted by Germany, but President Wilson by publishing the stolen Zimmermann document, has probably accomplished his chief aim."

The Nachrichten maintains that the Mexican government, under General Carranza was rapidly establishing its status as an ally worthy of Germany or any other world power and argues that, in view of the danger that America might join Germany's foes, it was the duty of the latter to secure new allies. The paper asserts that Mexico was so often threatened by the United States that it probably could not allow any opportunity to strengthen the position to pass unutilized.

"It is not only the right, but the duty," concludes the Nachrichten, "of a country involved in a fight for its existence, to see to it that a new ally is kept from attacking it, and, when that is impossible to engage them with new fighting forces. The system of securing allies which now prevails, no matter how much may be said against it, controls the diplomatic methods of our times and we have no other means at present of balancing the forces which are launched against one another."

The Frankfurter Zeitung comments in a different tone and offers no defence of Secretary Zimmermann's action. After expressing a mild and apparent serious doubt as to the authenticity of the note, and admitting that its publication strengthens immeasurably President Wilson's position, the Frankfurter Zeitung says:

"In the camp of our enemies jubilation reigns as the result of the discovery and it is not an especially fortunate circumstance for us that the value of the whole move—that such an absolute secret document should fall into wrong hands."

Tokio, March 5.—The mystery of the murder of Mrs. von Saldern, wife of Lieut. von Saldern, a German war prisoner and daughter of Vice Admiral von Capelle, the German minister of navy, has not yet been solved. It is understood that Mrs. von Saldern desired to leave Japan but that her husband prevailed her to remain. After the murder of the woman Lieut. von Saldern committed suicide owing to remorse.

HUN ATTACKS REPULSED BY THE FRENCH

Paris, March 5.—A violent attack was made yesterday by the Germans on the Verdun front. The day's official announcement sought repeated German attacks failed under the French fire, although north of Caubert wood, the attackers obtained a foothold in advanced positions. The German losses were heavy.

The attack was made over a front of 1.34 miles in the region of Caubert wood and Bezonvaux, and was preceded by an intense bombardment. The French repulsed attempted raids at various other points on the Verdun front, taking prisoners.

Weather Bulletin Toronto, March 5.—A disturbance which was situated in the Gulf of Mexico on Saturday has since travelled north with increasing energy and this morning it is centred in Virginia, causing strong northwest winds and snow from Lake Huron to Quebec and promising stormy weather throughout eastern Canada.

By Courier Leased Wire Washington, March 5.—President Wilson took the oath of office in public at 12.51 o'clock this afternoon and delivered his inaugural address to a great crowd which packed the plaza at the east front of the capitol.

Vice-President Marshall had been inaugurated in the Senate chamber a few minutes before. With a new consecration to the nation's service, the President, touching on the international crisis, declared there could now be no turning back from the tragic events of the last thirty months which have brought upon Americans a new responsibility as citizens of the world. The President declared anew that America must stand for peace, for stability of free peoples, national equality in matters of right, that the world must be free to all, and that the family of nations shall not support any governments not derived from the consent of the governed.

Sounding a solemn warning to the nation against any faction or intrigue to break the harmony or embarrass the spirit of the American people, the President called for an America "united in feeling, in purpose and in its vision of duty, of opportunity and of service."

At the conclusion of his address, the President led the inaugural procession back to the White House, where it passed in view before him in Washington, March 5.—President Wilson's inaugural address was as follows:

My fellow citizens, The four years, which have elapsed since I stood in this place, have been crowded with incidents and action of the most vital importance and consequence. Perhaps no equal period in our history has been so fruitful of important reforms in our economic and industrial life or so full of significant changes in the spirit and purpose of our political action. We have sought very thoughtfully to set our house in order, correct the grosser errors and abuses of our industrial life, liberate and quicken the processes of our national genius and energy, and lift our politics to a broader view of the peoples essential interests. It is a record for singular variety and singular distinction. But I shall not attempt to review it. It speaks for itself and will be of increasing influence as the years go by. This is not the time for retrospect. It is time rather to speak our thoughts and purposes concerning the present and the immediate future. Although we have centred counsel and action with such unusual concentration and success upon the great problems of domestic legislation to which we addressed ourselves four years ago, other matters have upon our attention, matters lying outside our own life as a nation and over which we had no control, but which, despite our wish to keep free of them, have drawn us more and more irresistibly into their own current and influence.

It has been impossible to avoid them. They have affected the life of the whole world. They have shaken men everywhere with a passion and an apprehension they never knew before. It has been hard to preserve calm counsel while the thought of our own people swayed this way and that under their influence. We are a composite and cosmopolitan people, the blood of all the nations that are at war. The currents of our thoughts as well as of our trade, run quick at all seasons, back and forth between us and them. The war inevitably set its mark upon the first alk upon our minds, our industries, our commerce, our politics and our social action. To be indifferent to it, or independent of it, was out of the question.

And yet all the while we have been conscious that we were not part of it. In that consciousness, despite my divisions we have drawn closer together. We have been deeply wronged upon the seas, but we have not wished to wrong or injure in return; we have retained throughout the consciousness of standing in some sort apart, intent upon an interest that transcended the immediate issues of the war itself. As some of the injuries done us have become intolerable, we have still been clear that we wished nothing for ourselves that we were not Continued on page four.

Blacklist Eleven Senators With Benedict Arnold, New York Herald: Feeling is Bitter

New York, March 5.—The Tribune says editorially, under the caption of "Call an Extra Session at Once": "We believe that Congress should have declared war on Germany as soon as it learned that American lives had been lost through the murderous attack on the Laconia. "We regret the defeat of the armed neutrality bill, even though we think that a resort to armed neutrality would be a pitifully inadequate and unworthy answer to Germany's practical declaration of war on the United States. Under existing circumstances armed neutrality would be only a subterfuge and a fizzle. On Germany's part a state of war already exists. She is reaping all the benefits of that status and suffering none of its inconveniences. "The President can still do on his own initiative some of the things which the armed neutrality bill would have authorized him to do. We hope that he will employ whatever powers he possesses under the constitution to protect American lives and American shipping against German attacks. But he will need the co-operation of the new Congress in a very large measure. Without its help he cannot properly prepare for the war which is at our door. The two Houses should therefore be called together at once."

The Herald:—The President's ex-coriolation of those members of the United States Senate, who by resort to methods that can only be called disgraceful, prevented that body reaching a vote on the "armed neutrality" bill accurately reflects the sentiment of the American people, but is not nearly as strong as most Americans would put it. Whatever may be their pitiful excuses, the outstanding fact is that in an hour of great national peril, Robert M. La-follette and the ten others who stood with him against a vote have done their best to give aid and comfort to the Prussianism whose boast it has been that when a crisis came this would be found a divided country. Fortunate will be the eleven men now on this nation's blacklist if their names do not go down into history, bracketed with that of Benedict Arnold.

A REMARKABLE PHOTOGRAPH OF A TORPEDO STARTING ON ITS DESTRUCTIVE FLIGHT

This official photograph is a wonderful picture. It shows a torpedo leaving its tube on its journey of death and destruction. It is rarely that the camera catches such a wonderful glimpse of the engines of war in course of actual operations as is shown in this photograph.

STATEMENT ON SUBJECT OF MILITIA ACT MADE

Hon. Sir A. E. Kemp, Minister of Militia, Speaks Upon A Subject of Vital Interest to All

Toronto, March 5.—When questioned today regarding the sensational statement made by Rev. W. J. Hindley at Winnipeg yesterday to the effect that the militia act would be in force in 60 days, Sir Edward Kemp, minister of militia, who is here resting after an attack of bronchitis, said:

"No one had any authority from the department to make such a statement. "Asked if he had any statement to make on the question, the minister replied: "When the department has any statement to make on this question it will be made."

DEMOCRATIC SENATORS Have Called a Caucus to Prevent Filibustering

Washington, March 5.—A Democratic senate caucus has been called for 1.30 tomorrow morning at which one of the subjects discussed will be a fight for a closure to prevent filibusters by a few senators such as killed the armed neutrality bill. Responsive to the President's appeal to the Senate to change its rules so that a little group of willful men might not continue to make the country "helpless and contemptible" before the world in the submarine crisis, the closure movement was initiated today by the Democratic leaders.

Thirty three members already have agreed to co-operate with the anti-filibuster movement. President Wilson has referred to his legal advisers his doubts of his power to arm American ships in the absence of direct authority from congress. Some decision is expected from the attorney-general within the next 24 hours.

Lady McEachern of Galloway House has resigned the presidency of the Sorbie District Nursing Association.

COMMENDABLE HUN CANDOR IN PLOT CASE

Step Was Merely a Military and Diplomatic Precaution, Pleads Lokal Anzeiger

WAS MATTER OF DUTY Treachery Brought Knowledge of Intrigue to Wilson

Berlin, March 3, via London, Mar. 5.—"On the part of Germany it is not contested that the information set forth in the Associated Press despatches probably tallies with the essential facts," says the Tageblatt, in discussing the Zimmermann note. "President Wilson has been seeking among neutrals allied against Germany just as Germany in case of war, naturally would seek an alliance against the United States. Nevertheless, it must be admitted that the whole procedure in this incident permits various observations, although in view of the general situation, one is persuaded to postpone all discussion thereof."

The Lokal Anzeiger says: "With commendable candor, the German government opposes its version of the incident to the sensational and biased reports coming from America. The official statement plainly indicates that the step was merely a military and diplomatic precaution, which a perfect right to take, but which viewed as an effective defense against possible attack, was a plain matter of national duty. The treachery which brought President Wilson knowledge of the German intentions is now being exploited in true American political fashion."

CHANGED HIMSELF By Courier Leased Wire Toronto, March 5.—Discouraged because he had been several times rejected at recruiting stations, and heartbroken over the death of a brother fighting in France, George Baker, aged 26, hanged himself in the cellar of his house, 26 McPherson Avenue, early to-day. Baker had been rejected on account of deafness.

SPY SENTENCED London, March 5.—The following official announcement was made here today: "A prisoner charged with espionage was tried by the general court martial on London in February and was found guilty and sentence of death was passed. The finding was confirmed, but the sentence was commuted to penal servitude for life."

ELEVEN DROWNED. Philadelphia, March 5.—A despatch to the Maritime Exchange from Lewes, Del., says that coast guard stations on the Maryland coast today reported that eleven men were drowned in the attempt to render assistance to the American tanker Louisiana Stranded off Ocean City, Md. At least nine of the men, if not all, were from the coast guard cutter Yamacraw. The condition of the Louisiana early today was not known.

Germany Seeking Allies to Defend Herself Against Treachery on Part of United States

Berlin, March 4, via London, March 5.—While some of the German papers have received the news of the German-Mexican intrigue with comparative indifference, others have vigorously denounced the policy of Foreign Secretary Zimmermann and among these latter is the Tages Zeitung. Count von Reventlow formerly one of the most ardent advocates of unrestricted submarine warfare and a general supporter of extreme measures, writes in the Tages Zeitung:

"As a result of the publication of the German offer to Mexico, sentiment which has heretofore been divided in America, is won solidly behind the president. This circumstance or its possible results are hardly calculated to fill us with pessimism. However those circles who have been basing hopes for the preservation of peace on a divided public opinion in the United States are now forced to deplore the turn things have taken and to doubt the wisdom of the German policy which, so far as Mexico is concerned, has been stigmatized as bringing a lighted match in contact with a powder cask."

"Viewed from this angle the offer to Mexico is wholly incomprehensible in view of Mexican conditions and the further fact that an allied Mexico held out no more promise than the one which would have exploited automatically a German-American war. The offer of such an alliance would seem to rest largely upon a lack of intimate acquaintance with Mexican affairs and American relations. Those desiring a policy permitting a return of the United States to normal relations after the German alliance plan from this viewpoint alone, Mexico is a frontier neighbor of the United States and the German offer will not be forgotten so soon. It is to be deeply deplored that the Chancellor and foreign secretary neglected to seize the opportunity yesterday to express themselves concerning this episode and their political policies."

In opposition to the Tages Zeitung the Lokal Anzeiger strongly supports the policy of Secretary Zimmermann. The Anzeiger says: "Americans have not the slightest reason to be provoked at our intentions. Without treachery which brought the German offer to the attention of the United States Government, the Mexican Government would not have learned of it until after the United States had declared war on us. It is well known that President Wilson attempted to incite every neutral state to break diplomatic relations with us. This was at a time when Germany had not committed a single hostile act against the United States, but merely because we were finally forced to make use of a weapon calculated to hasten the conclusion of peace. He has now no right to complain when we too, are seeking allies who might possibly help us to thwart the step he aims to undertake against us."

Spain Will Not Submit to Sub Warfare Though Desiring Peace, Government Considers Intervention Premature

Madrid, March 5, via Paris. Premier Romanones, in addressing Saturday a meeting of the cabinet, presided over by King Alfonso, reviewed the policy of the government during the last two sessions of parliament, and then referred to President Wilson's peace note, declaring the Spanish government found itself in a delicate situation in the face of contradictory sentiments, the premier said he shared President Wilson's desire for peace, but judged that intervention would be premature.

Premier Romanones also commented on the Spanish reply to Germany's declaration of a submarine blockade. The economic life of Spain, he said, could not and would not be interrupted, and the government would make the greatest efforts to resolve the crisis resulting from the war and the submarine blockade.

NEWS OF NORFOLK

Demented Greek on Street in Nightgown; Wants Mail Over L. E. & N.

(From our own Correspondent) Simcoe, March 5.—Those who visited the police court on Saturday afternoon to hear a review of the Kent St. fiasco of a week ago, got a disappointment shortly after two o'clock when the principals, Geo. Boughner, of Woodhouse, and Carmen W. McCreedy, of Windham and their lawyers, H. P. Innes, K.C., and T. J. Agar, surrounded Magistrate Ganton's table and getting their heads together, pulled off the cases as a draw. Each of the combatants charged the other with assault, each pleaded not guilty to the charge, and each withdrew his charge. The magistrate declared the program off and allowed each to pay his costs. By entering the complaints each moreover escaped possibly a considerable fine for Chief Canning was ready to lay information against both of them had they not taken the matter up themselves.

Made a Good Impression. The King St. citizen charged with an infraction of the temperance act, next appeared. He played the man squarely. It was refreshing to see one come up with a plea of "guilty" and a square story as opposed to the childish and ridiculous pretensions that are often advanced in such cases. The gentleman in question had taken a rather large draft in his own home and had been affected while on the street some hours afterwards. There were suspicious circumstances in connection with the matter and the court, with the plea of guilty recorded, could do nothing but impose the nominal $10.00 and costs.

Chas. Harakas, a well-known Greek, of Brantford, who has been during the winter engaged with James Valours at 120 Colborne St., and who drives a peanut wagon in the summer, is in Simcoe seriously demented. Something has been going wrong with Chas for some weeks for a fortnight ago he made ugly threats against his wife and children. Recently he determined to enlist for military service and on Thursday, after placing his wife and five children aboard a trolley with instructions to come to Simcoe and remain with his father, Saratos Harakas during his absence, he left for Toronto. Next day his father, feeling that something was wrong, set out to investigate. He met Charles at Brantford and brought him to Simcoe. The big square built, more than six-foot fellow, was evidently unwell. He was put to bed. A Greek priest was called over from Toronto and a sister and her husband from Buffalo, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. P. Diamond. The latter arrived at four a.m. Saturday and were recognized and greeted by Charles on arrival. He became unruly in his bed however and at twelve o'clock noon escaped from the house and ran up Robinson street barefoot in the night gown. He was temporarily confined in a cell at the county buildings and the sanitary inspector summoned from Port Dover. This officer had not arrived at 9 o'clock Saturday night. The gail surgeon, Dr. Bowley, called in the evening but Harakas would not talk to him. He spoke in Greek, talking considerably at times, but always on religious topics, so his relatives say. The family are a very thrifty and law abiding people, and two younger children, in their upper teens, at home, are quite clever and well informed. It is possible that Harakas has been over-worked. He is said to have been working almost 18 hours daily for some time. His young sister tells us that Chas. is an expert candy maker and produces no less than 62 kinds.

Customs Returns Drop. February customs returns were $32,987.32, an abrupt falling off due to the fact that during the month freights were not moving.

For Better Mail Service. There is considerable discontent through Southern Norfolk with the present mail service. The mail of the eastern mail is reaching Simcoe on the second day after being postmarked in Toronto. At best, the Simcoe morning mail is not distributed to the boxes by 12 o'clock, and the general delivery is not available for business men, laborers or school children on their way to dinner.

Rural Routes Get a Late Start. The six rural routes out of Simcoe, some of them very long, get a late start, and it is impossible to get mail in from the country in time to go out on the afternoon mail. In winter, there is some delivery after dark.

North and South Isolated. There are two very bad connections between the north and the south of the county, Simcoe weeklies, published Wednesday and Thursday, get to this district as late as Monday at times.

The bulk of the newspapers have come in by express, and are here three to five hours ahead of the mail train. Tenders for the purchasing of the Town of Simcoe debentures, post-marked at Toronto on the 28th of February, were distributed at the Simcoe post office on the forenoon of March 2nd after tenders had been opened. It is quite probable that they were routed via Woodstock, and the afternoon mail train southbound on this line has been cut off. There is a general agitation for a service over the L. E. & N., and we are told that Brantford, Waterford and Port Dover are also interested.

Does the Motor Man See His Whistle? In the matter of last summer's accident at Cherry Valley crossing on the L. E. & N., it was freely stated that there were passengers on the train ready to see the whistle when it was blown from the approaching car.

Guy Marston, C.E., Engineer for Simcoe, the township, and several minor municipalities, and whose business and experience in connection with cases arising out of such accidents, and the general temperance of the men on the line, is a servant in matters which many are apt to overlook, informed us a few days ago that he had rode to Brantford and back a few days since and took occasion to pay particular attention to the giving of signals.

More Than the Law Requires. He informed us that he observed that the motorman did not miss a single private or public crossing, that he signalled twice for the latter, and that on approaching the "Townline" crossing, southbound, gave the usual signal twice, and besides blew a continuous blast till he had reached this dangerous crossing.

And More Yet. In passing over the same road on Saturday, we ourselves noted the performance of all these precautions except that at the Townline, but the car stopped there. But we noted curves, where the track ahead was hidden by an embankment, and that the foot bell is used also at most crossings passed without stopping. Seen later, Mr. M. agreed to this although he had not mentioned it in our conversation.

Do Passengers Hear the Whistle? Passengers sitting in the forward compartment, southbound, could hear the whistle very distinctly. Those in the rear compartment not at all, or very faintly, even when they have full view of the motor man, and can see his grasp of the whistle strap. So in this compartment, it is safer for a passenger to say, "I did not hear it, than "it did not blow."

from Simcoe south, by listening to the whistle, and was confused only in the matter of the signal for the diamond at the G. T. R. crossing. Taking it as we do matters, and we have no reason to believe that either Mr. Marston or ourself, was marked for "special delivery" as other than an ordinary passenger, nor that the man at the coil was a special over-conscious employee, we are forced to the conclusion that except for the blind and deaf the degree of danger lurking about any single crossing on this road varies directly with the carelessness or heedlessness of those who approach them, and there is no danger except for the very careless, moreover we note that when a pedestrian appeared on the track in front of the motorman blew continuously till the individual got clear.

We may add that these observations are made without the knowledge or suggestion of any one concerned, except in so far as they may be of value in urging the travelling public to be as careful at railway crossings as the trolley men are.

Heard at the Depot. (1st traveller) "I want a ticket, how much is it?" "To where, please?" "To Waterford." "Single?" "Yes, but I'm coming back." "35 cents." (2nd traveller) "Brantford and return."

"One dollar." And still people continue to wonder how it takes so much time to sell a few tickets, and why the car is late occasionally.

The Corporation of Simcoe has advertised for the construction of sewerage works. This work has been urged for the past two years. Mrs. Jackson of Brantford, wife of Capt. Jackson of the 257th, accompanied by her children, spent the week-end in town, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Guy R. Marston.

Senator McCall left for Ottawa yesterday afternoon. Dan MacCall writes us from Shornham, requesting us to remind Dr. Burt and W. Smith to get the trout streams well stocked if possible, for he hopes to have a few weeks fishing in Norfolk yet.

A company of wounded soldiers from Stobhill Hospital was entertained by the Brantford Women's Unionist Association.

Mr. Davignon was a member of one of the oldest French-Canadian families. His grandfather fought under the Marquis de Hall, and his father was forced to flee from Canada for his participation in the patriotic rebellion of 1837. He was educated in McGill University, had resided in Windsor for forty years, and was appointed sheriff. He had previously held several other important offices. SIMCOE BROKER DEAD IN TORONTO

J. Lorne Campbell Passes Away; Was Born in Norfolk County

Toronto, Mar. 5.—Mr. J. Lorne Campbell, a well known Toronto stockbroker, died early Saturday morning at his residence, 509 Huron street. He was at his office three days before his death, and was confined to his bed only one day.

The late Mr. Campbell was born in Simcoe, Ont., and was the son of the late Duncan Campbell of Lynwood, Simcoe. He moved to Toronto 20 years ago, and opened a brokerage office, becoming a member of the Toronto Stock Exchange. He had held the position of major in the local militia at Simcoe. Mr. Campbell was married twice, and is survived by his widow and three daughters, Miss Mary Campbell, New York, Miss Clara and Miss Marjory of Toronto, and one son, Lieut. Gordon Campbell who left the city recently with the 138th Battalion. Two sisters, Mrs. Beecher and Mrs. Geoffrey Hale, both of London, also survive him. Mr. Campbell Beecher of Toronto is a nephew.

Mr. Campbell was a great friend of the late Mr. R. A. Smith, and was injured in the automobile accident in which Mr. Smith lost his life a few years ago. He was a member of the Toronto R. C. Y. C. and Hunt Clubs, was a Conservative and an Anglican.

BRITAIN ORGANIZES (Continued from Page One) "Whether her next effort will consist of a Zeppelin attack on a huge scale or a desperate dash by the fleet cannot be foretold. Though the complete failure of the last Zeppelin raids might have been considered too discouraging for further attempts, Germany's first submarine campaign has resulted in just as great a failure and still she has doubled her efforts. The idea of a land and sea attack is probably most widely held here.

THE UNSPEAKABLE TURK, AN APT PUPIL OF PRUSSIANISM

Character of the Mussulman is Revealed by War; His Reputation as a Clean Fighter is Undeserved, and Won Only Under Stress of Circumstances; Byzantine Craft, Nomadic Ruthlessness and Fanatic Cruelty His Impulses

London, March 5.—An article in the Times under the caption, "The Clean-Fighting Turk. A surplus reputation. Art pupils of Prussianism," by a writer of distinguished authority on Oriental affairs, says: "During the present war we have heard a good deal of the good nature of the Turks. Yet they have pursued the most devilish policy even this war has seen. Armenians have been massacred, assassinated or marched to death, starved, exposed to ravages of disease until perhaps 700,000 men, women and children have met untimely ends.

Take the young Turk with German uniform, German parade voice and German technical education. He has been reared in a Stamboul haem; when he was four years old his mamma helped him first at the table, and daughter his older sister to kiss his hand. His papa taught him that by blood alone could Christian subjugation be governed and by diplomacy alone could Christian Powers be set by the ears. German professors taught him all that was pure barbarism about mass suggestion, well-politic ruthlessness taught in Babynood.

This young man is the embodiment of ruthless action and inflexible tyranny. His mother taught him that whatever he wanted, was his; his father taught him to hold whatever he got and his German schoolmaster taught him what he believes to be the universal method of getting what he wants. Moreover, his German professor reinducted in him the destructive virus of his plundering Turanian ancestors.

Yenturan is his latest creed. Its doctrine is simple. The Turks in ancient times devastated and conquered with complete success. Attila, Ghengis, Hulagu, Manzu, Timur never were beaten but in the last 200 years the Turk has constantly been beaten. Why is this? The primitive Turks were pure barbarians, but unfortunately the Turks today have imbibed some of the vices of the people they conquered, the philosophy of Persia, the poetry, literature and religion of the Arabs, a tincture of the arts of the Greeks—these are blots and blemishes on the rude purity and simplicity of the Turanian race who only knew destruction as their motto.

A Reversion to Type. It is true that the degenerate Turks in the sixteenth, seventeenth and eighteenth centuries did not produce much, but they at least had moments of forgetfulness. They allowed others to produce. Christians built their mosques on actual events; the Persians made it possible for the Turks to express if they did not understand abstract ideas, the Arabs influenced the Turks with the thought of a creator who was something more than a 241 member.

The German professor has taught our young Turk to purge himself of this perilous stuff. His heart, brain, tongue and creed is Yenturan. He is back to the forest, back to the tent, back to the nomadic state of mind with its grand reaction. So strong is the taint in the cross-bred Celts, Sumerians, Hellenes, Iranians, Semites and Caucasians which we call the Turkish people, that Yenturan is a living thing and finds a responsive echo in Turkey to-day.

The violent Young Turk reactionist is the controlling power. The Old Turk is at his quietest and has about as much influence as a 241 member. He is a living thing and finds a responsive echo in Turkey to-day. The violent Young Turk reactionist is the controlling power. The Old Turk is at his quietest and has about as much influence as a 241 member. He is a living thing and finds a responsive echo in Turkey to-day.

The lumpish peasant concepts of Anatolia are his. His dream is to reassert once more the pristine authority of the Turanian races, to exterminate or Turanize everything within his reach. The Arabs are to be robbed of their tongue. The Armenians are to be exterminated. Christianity is to be abolished. In Turkey Islam is to be overthrown.

Shamanism and Fetichism are to be revived. The British are to be kicked out of India and Egypt. Russia is to be paralyzed by a Turkish revival in central Asia. His realization, nothing is to stand.

The Turkish national solidarity is to be maintained within by the terrorist, the secret society, the knife, the bullet, bribe and massacre. On his battlefront Turkish peasantry is sacrificed without stint or hesitation. In Afghanistan, Persia, India and Egypt, the Young Turk has endeavored to cast spells by fomenting sedition, espionage, assassination and fanaticism. In Europe where he has survived by intrigue and corruption for two long centuries, he has not yet despaired of the efficacy of these weapons.

In England the Young Turk still hopes to maintain a certain sentimental hold on public opinion which has interested politicians and romantic travellers in the past. His spurious reputation as a clean fighter, he is glad enough to keep as a war asset. In defeat he knows that noble pose, just as in massacre he knows how to shuffle the responsibility. When it is worth while he can assume the airs of a good fellow; he will give a truce to bury the dead just as readily as he will set fire to an Armenian prison. He will spare a bandage for a wounded English prisoner as deliberately as he will stick a knife into a Christian woman.

Kindness which Costs Nothing. Any little act of kindness which costs nothing, which will mitigate his difficulties or further his war aims, he will perform with the same sub-conscious purpose as he will commit the vilest atrocities.

His success we must acknowledge. He has massacred, pillaged and outraged for two years and a half. He has broken every convention, maltreated our prisoners, killed the wounded, held our women hostages, but he remains the "clean-fighting Turk."

BRITISH SPORTSMEN Continue to Meet Death in the Great War

By Courier Leased Wire. London, March 5.—(New York Tribune cable)—British sportsmen continue to fall in the great war, the latest casualty list issued containing the names of some noted athletes who have been killed or wounded in action on the western front.

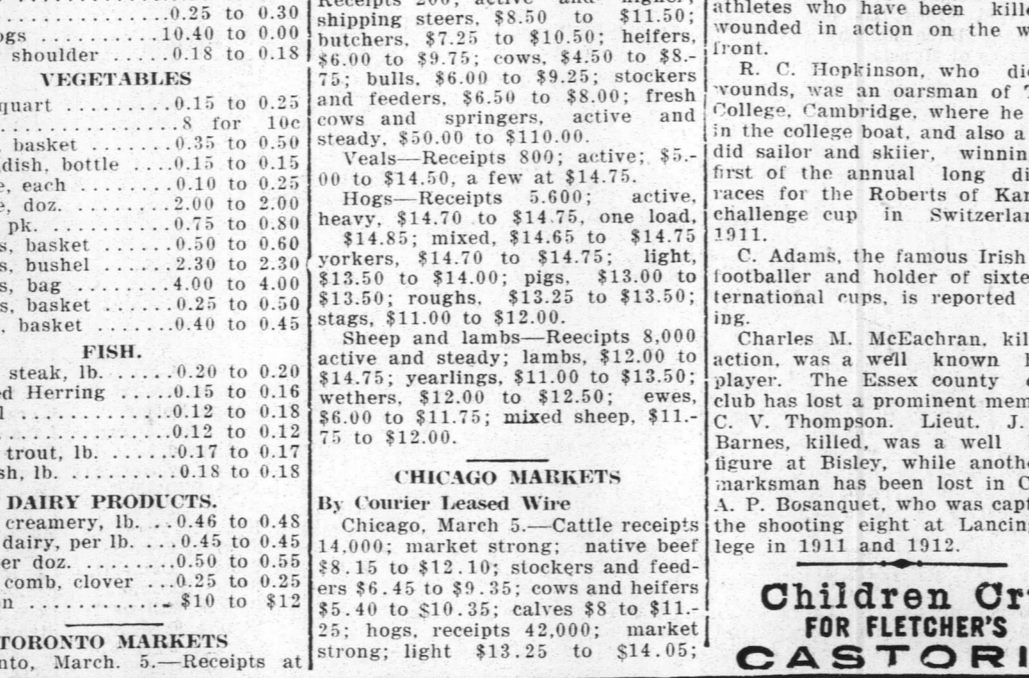

R. C. Hopkinson, who died of wounds, was an oarsman of Trinity College, Cambridge, where he rowed in the college boat, and also a splendid sailor and skier, winning the first of the annual long distance races for the Roberts of Kandahar challenge cup in Switzerland in 1911.

C. Adams, the famous Irish rugby footballer and holder of sixteen international cups, is reported missing.

Charles M. McEachran, killed in action, was a well known hockey player. The Essex county cricket club has lost a prominent member in C. V. Thompson. Lieut. J. E. T. Barnes, killed, was a well known figure at Bisley, where another fine marksman has been lost in Captain A. P. Bosaquet, who was captain of the shooting eight at Lancing College in 1911 and 1912.

PAPER MAKER PASSES AWAY

Mr. John Barber, President of Barber Ellis Firm, Located Here

Georgetown, March 4.—Mr. John Barber, President of the Barber-Ellis stationery manufacturing firm of Toronto, died yesterday at his home in Georgetown, after a brief illness, at the advanced age of seventy.

Mr. Barber was a native of Georgetown, his father, James Barber, having settled there on his arrival from Antrim, Ireland. His mother was a native of the English side of Berwick-on-Tweed. He received a good early education at private schools and at the Georgetown Academy, which developed into the high school there, as high academics did in many places.

Mr. Barber many years afterward rendered useful service to the cause of education as a member of the Board of management. He was for some time a member of the Village Council of Georgetown and of the County Council of Hants, and from 1898 to 1904 he represented the County in the Legislative Assembly of Ontario. In politics he was a steadfast Liberal, and a member of a Liberal family the Hon. Sir Wm. Barber was a member of the first Ontario Assembly from 1867 to 1871.

For more than a generation there were two firms under the name of "Barber Brothers," one of paper makers at Georgetown and one of woolen manufacturers at Streetsville. When the senior partner at Georgetown, Mr. William Barber, moved to Streetsville, Mr. James Barber became the head of the firm, and to him the subject of this sketch succeeded as sole proprietor in 1880. The Barber-Ellis Company of Toronto, succeeded the Dredge Company. Mr. W. K. Barber held interests and positions during his active business connections here. He was a more familiar figure on the streets of the city than were many of its resident citizens.

The late Major Barber was twice married. There survive three daughters and three sons of the first marriage and a son only of the second. They are: Mrs. M. C. Bell, Hamilton, and Mrs. (Major) Gordon Brown, Hamilton; Mr. Frank J. Barber, Georgetown; Mr. C. R. Barber, Cornwall; Major R. R. Barber, now in France, and Mr. J. R. Barber, jun.

A BELGIAN VILLAGE Is to be Adopted by Citizens of Oyster Bay

By Courier Leased Wire. New York, March 5.—After listening to an address by Theodore Roosevelt to the citizens of Oyster Bay at a mass meeting last night, decided to "adopt" a Belgian village of 2,400 children. The plan will call for a contribution of $2,400 a month. Col. Roosevelt, it was announced to-day, will serve as honorary chairman of the general committee of the Rocky Mountain club of New York, which has started a campaign to raise $5,000,000 a month to aid the children of Belgium. This committee is making a particular appeal to the states of the far west.

Combined Meeting of Local Lodges of Independent Order Meets With Success

A combined meeting of members of subordinate Court Brantford and Companion Court Regina, Independent Foresters, was largely attended Friday evening, and those present enjoyed an evening of instruction and pleasure long to be remembered. Brother Harvey Lloyd, supreme entertainer, was at his best and besides giving musical numbers, "There's something in an Order After All," "Do Your Bit," and "Pack all your troubles in your old Kit Bag and Smile, Smile, Smile," convulsed his audience with laughter in "Finnigan's Band," and "McGoogan's Goat."

Bro. Geo. A. Mitchell, Assistant Supreme Chief Ranger, interested and entertained those present by his honest and thorough appeal to all to cultivate the spirit of true fraternity, emphasizing the need of home protection and brotherly kindness and sympathy. His address was thoughtful and keenly put, and listened to with marked attention.

Among those present were the youngest and oldest in membership in the order in Brantford.

The visiting members from the Supreme Court were introduced by Bro. W. H. Freeborn, Court Deputy of Court Brantford, and Bro. F. J. Waterson, D.S.C.R.

Companion Mary Pettit of Court Regina, was in the chair for the business meeting, and Bro. R. B. Ledger, P. C. R. presided during the balance of the evening.

This is the first of a series of meetings to be held here, and if one can judge from appearances, a larger hall will be needed when these entertainers from Toronto return to the Telephone City.

TO THE EDITOR

LETTER FROM REV. MR. MCCLINTOCK

Dear Sir: In a report of a recent meeting of the Trades and Labor Council it was stated that the gathering decided to remain neutral on the question of an open city so far as pool rooms were concerned. Like President Wilson I suppose they are waiting an overt act. But while neutral on this great moral issue, they seem to have no hesitation in turning their guns on the Ministers who every day in the year stand for the highest and best in the life of our city. Mr. A. Brown, wonders why the ministers have never called on the City Council with a view to stopping Sunday golf-playing. For his enlightenment, let me say that the City Council has absolutely nothing to do with the matter. The Lord's Day Act of Canada which came into force March 1, 1907, reads thus: "It is lawful not to be lawfully engaged in any public game or contest for gain, or for any prize or reward, or be present thereat, etc. According to this act the only illegal Sunday games or sports are those played for gain, prize or reward. There has been in force since 1845 an act known as the "Lord's Day Laws of Ontario." This act was not repealed by the Lord's Day Act of Canada. It is still in force and reads as follows: "It is not lawful for any person, on that day to play at skillful ball, football, racket or any other noisy game or to gamble with dice or otherwise, or to run races on foot or on horseback or in carriages or in vehicles of any sort." It will thus be clear to all that the policeman who stopped the boys playing ball on Sunday was simply doing his duty in seeing that the law was enforced, and that neither he nor the city Council had any authority to stop Sunday golf playing. I suppose the old Provincial Act which forbids noisy games such as ball and football, says nothing about Sunday golf for the following among other reasons: (1) I understand it is not a noisy game. (2) It is usually played in places sufficiently remote from churches not to disturb the worshippers. (3) Although it is asserted that the game originated back in the Dark Ages, it is not at all likely it was played very much in 1845 in this country.

But while the ministers have not called on the council, they have not been silent on this question. Those who attend church "scarcely know that the ministers have denounced from their pulpits as strongly as possible this form of Sunday desecration, and if going before the council could have stopped it, we would have been there long ago.

Another member is reported to have said that the law of the Sabbath prohibited only work done for the Egyptians. If the Trades and Labor Council could present this man with a Bible, and persuade him to read it, they would doubtless be the means of leading him into clearer light on the origin and purpose of the Sabbath. If he and all Sunday golf players would read and obey Isaiah 58:13, they would be wiser and better men.

I believe the Trades and Labor Council are sincere men, earnestly seeking to help their fellow-workers and improve social and industrial conditions. But if these men say or insinuate that the ministers of this city, nearly all of whom have come from the working class, do not understand or sympathize with the working man, that they have their price, that their mouths can be closed

SEED CORN

Editor Courier:

Reports of seed houses indicate strong demand for 1917 seed corn, with possibly higher prices than in 1915. Geo. Keith & Son claim a keener demand for corn on cob, while Wm. Rennie & Co., who have a splendid corn curing plant at Chatham, find their market prefers the shelled corn.

There are many advantages, however in buying corn on the cob rather than shelled, viz: you are able to see your cobs. This is important, as the cob should be as small as possible in proportion to the amount of grain. The ears should be large for the variety, with the grains plump, close together, lengthy and crosswise and in regular straight rows, covering as near as possible both the butt and tip. Corn responds readily to selection, and unless the above facts are known, very little selecting is possible.

Generally speaking, the germination and strength of the average plants are stronger from good cobs than with shelled corn. This is because with corn on the cob the tips and butts can be broken off and fed, while shelled corn is apt to contain these smaller grains. In work conducted by this branch in 1913, much better results were obtained from corn of the centre of the cob. Furthermore, it is an easy matter to test your seed corn accurately if purchased on the cob. Take a box 30"x30"

Members of the Brantford Board of Trade:— Regarding the Board's affairs and activities during the year 1916, we beg leave to submit as follows:

The financial statement of the Board has been duly audited and will be presented by the secretary. The membership of the Board is not as large a number as we should have but, owing to the large amount of canvassing continually being made by the various war organizations, the membership committee do not consider it advisable to make additional calls on the citizen's generosity this year. However, the Board being the recognized spokesman for maintaining and advancing our commercial and industrial interests, we have no doubt that a committee's appeal, when made, will receive a hearty response.

As you are aware, the duties of the Board are mainly concerned with the promotion of the interests of the city, of an industrial, commercial or transportation nature, the Greater Brantford Board having assumed the department of acquiring industries and a large amount of work is transacted by them in quiet, nevertheless efficient manner, productive of results beneficial to every business and citizen.

Owing to changes in train schedules, increased freight rates and demurrage charges, your Transportation committee have given much liberality of their time and succeeded in obtaining the best possible arrangements for Brantford.

Other committees have had similar calls made upon them in representing you at the convention by "The Conservation and Natural Resources Board," the "City and Town Planning Association" convention, the "Associated Board of Camp Borden, and Bonne Ender convention in Hamilton, to meet the Quebec Province delegates, each requiring a couple of days and representing which have been published in papers. In the performance of the duties, not only did they give their time, but paid all their travelling and other expenses, which includes your secretary also. I mention this fact as many are under the impression that they are borne by the Board.

In addition a large number of members' time is being taken up by the very onerous duties of maintaining and administering the affairs of the Patriotic, Red Cross, Recruiting and other leagues or societies connected with the war.

Members of the Brantford Board of Trade:

Gentlemen:—Regarding your Board's affairs and activities during the year 1916, we beg leave to submit as follows:

The financial statement of your Board has been duly audited and will be presented by the Secretary. The membership of the Board is not as large a number as we should have but, owing to the large amount of canvassing continually being made by the various war organizations, the membership committee did not consider it advisable to make additional calls on the citizen's generosity this year. However, your Board being the recognized spokesman for maintaining and advancing our commercial and industrial interests, we have no doubt that the committee's appeal, when made, will receive a hearty response.

As you are aware, the duties of the Board are mainly concerning Dominion or Provincial matters affecting us, of an industrial, commercial or transportation nature. (The Greater Brantford Board having assumed the department of acquiring industries) and a large amount of work is transacted by them in a quiet, nevertheless efficient manner, productive of results beneficial to every business and citizen.

Owing to changes in train schedules, increased freight rates and demurrage charges, your Transportation committee have given most liberal of their time and succeeded in obtaining the best possible arrangements for Brantford.

Other committees have had similar calls made upon them in representing you at the convention held by "The Conservation and Natural Resources Board," the "City and Town Planning Association" convention, the "Associated Board of Trade" convention, the deputation to Camp Borden, and Bonne Entente convention in Hamilton, to meet the Quebec Province delegates, each requiring a couple of days and reports of which have been published in the papers. In the performance of these duties, not only did they give their time, but paid all their travelling and other expenses, which includes your secretary also. I mention this fact as many are under the impression that they are borne by the Board.

In addition a large number of our members' time is being taken up in the very onerous duties of maintaining and administering the affairs of the Patriotic, Red Cross, Recruiting and other leagues or societies connected with the war.

Special meetings were called during the early part of the year.

Your Board arranged with specialists on each subject to address the members on "Production," "Back to the Land," and "Technical Education."

tion," and on each occasion, although over three hundred invitations were sent out by the Secretary, we did not have an attendance of the proverbial baker's dozen, so concluded it was not advisable to hold meetings not called for by war requirements. However your Secretary's report confirms the fact that your officers and committees have given freely of their time in forwarding and maintaining your interests.

We are pleased to note the erection of addition large new factories and of large additions to several of our established factories, a good demand for their output existing and constant work at good wages for their employees. The city generally is in a thriving condition and as statistics show, Canada is also thriving. Before the war our imports exceeded exports by three hundred million. During the year 1916 our exports exceeded imports by five hundred million, the fly in the ointment being that the larger this balance consists of munitions supplied, the greater will be our business dislocation.

We have also taken up with members of the Board of Trade of the cities north of us along the Grand River, the desirability of concerted action being taken to obtain our coal supplies in particular, via the L. E. and N. R., that being the main reason for Brantford's strong support for its construction. The inability of present lines to handle the traffic and shipments via Niagara and Buffalo being demonstrated (take joint action with us in helping have had) shows the necessity of providing additional entry ports. The cities mentioned experience trouble similar to ours and we are informed that they would gladly take joint action with us in helping the L. E. and N. get such government harbor improvements as would enable them to bring coal supplies via Port Dover and in turn no doubt, we could get the L. E. and N. to give us as favorable rates as the Hydro does to London, or as on the proposed Hamilton-Port Dover line when built. London and Brantford being equally distant from the lake, we should obtain the rate of 50c per ton when the line is built.

The Associated Boards of Trade meeting held in Hamilton recently was most successful and interesting, representatives being present from Brockville to Windsor, and north to Sudbury. The Associated Board of Trade in London will be of rapid growth, province-wide questions being dealt with under most careful restrictions, and affording the best means for obtaining a collective opinion on questions that have received the consideration of local Boards that are intermunicipal or national in character. Several of our members were in attendance, two of whom, Col. W. F. Cocksbutt, M.P., and Mr. George Matthews, presented what proved to be the most important question for consideration, arousing the greatest interest and best discussion, and we can assure you that Brantford's prestige as the home of capable, eloquent speakers was more than maintained. The hospitality extended your members by the Hamilton Board, which made the visit both pleasant and profitable has been duly recognized in behalf of the Board by your officers.

We have also to report that we have taken up with other Boards of Trade, the advisability of the adoption of the metric system of measurement in Canada. In view of the adoption of the Allied Trade Compact a unified system of weights and measurement is evident. Several Boards have expressed their intention of memorializing our government to that effect and deem it advisable that action be taken so that it may be presented at the Toronto meeting of the C. C. and Associated Boards of Trade. They also advise its adoption throughout the Empire, together with the decimal money system by those not now using it. The above being in use by thirty eight of the civilized countries of the world and likely soon to be adopted by the United States, Brantford being a large exporter, should be much interested in forwarding them. Vocational and Technical Training. We have also at the Board's request given considerable attention to Vocational and Technical training and the lines of manufacturing that would present the best opportunities for employment by the incapacitated, especially, and others returning from the front, as well as the coming worker, and found large lines of skilled employment to be thus picturesquely treated by a recent writer in a popular trade paper to be as follows:— "Before the war our neighbors to the south sold to Europe more photographic supplies by six and one-half million dollars than of fresh beef, of typewriters by two and a half million dollars than of fresh corned beef combined; and three million dollars more in automobiles than of corn; and of leather and manufactured goods of the same as boots, shoes, etc., two-thirds as great as what Britain was purchasing more than one-half, Germany being next." It may be that our own purchases are in similar kinds and ratios. Such being the case, it would appear that Brantford's position as an industrial city requires that the facilities necessary for producing the intelligently trained, versatile workman which forms the keynote of capturing this large empire trade, should be provided, otherwise, neutrals or enemies will continue to control it as heretofore. The great war is still being waged; definiteness of purpose and certainty of issue characterizes the Allies' actions. As a part of the Empire, the achievements of the Canadians on the battlefield has brought renown to Canada, they having proved themselves better than the best of the enemy and as good as the best of the Empire. Now just a word as to our Board. We want a home of our own that will form a rallying centre for Brantford, more club-like, where we can all get together as occasion requires or can meet a friend on business if desired. The most successful Boards we have visited have such. We are continually missing the opportunity of being addressed by prominent men on public questions of the day, because we have not the accommodation. May I, in closing, express my thanks for the honor conferred and the many courtesies extended by the members of the board, council and committees and especially to your most efficient Secretary, Mr. Hately, who handles the work of the Board so skillfully that the duties of the President are light.

BRITISH DRIVE ON ANCRE FRONT STILL CONTINUES

Kaiser and His Leading Generals Hasten to Scene of Great Offensive in the West; Germans Continue to Yield Ground to Advance of Haig's Troops

(By Arthur S. Draper)
London, March 4.—The Germans, hidden by the mist, are still yielding ground on the Ancre and Somme fronts. Today the British troops advanced again east of Gommecourt, seizing territory to a depth of two-thirds of a mile along a two-mile front. Ludendorff and Falkenhayn, the Kaiser and Hindenburg are reported at the western grand headquarters.

Simultaneously Haig's forces smashed ahead east of Bouchavesness, immediately north of Peronne, and captured the enemy's front and support lines for a distance of two-thirds of a mile. One hundred and seventy-three prisoners and three machine guns fell into the hands of the British.

Overwhelming Germans.

The importance of these two operations is enormous, in the opinion of military observers here. The movement north of the Ancre shows either that the Germans have found themselves unable to hold their new lines in the face of the powerful British pressure, or that the second stage of their withdrawal is under way, with a possibility of its resulting in the abandonment of the entire salient south of Arras, an enfilading British pressure, or that the second stage of their withdrawal is under way, with a possibility of its resulting in the abandonment of the entire salient south of Arras, an enfilading British pressure, or that the second stage of their withdrawal is under way, with a possibility of its resulting in the abandonment of the entire salient south of Arras, an enfilading British pressure.

It is believed here that the British attacks are continuing to overwhelm the enemy, and that unexpected retirement from the positions thought to have constituted the new German line of defense is their only alternative except capture.

Trenches Shattered.

Advances by the British in the last two days east of Gommecourt have created a new and dangerous salient in that sector, and the Germans are believed to have been compelled to surrender further territory in the face of an enfilading fire from the opposing batteries.

Gough's troops found the positions evacuated by the Germans south and west of Bapaume to be completely shattered by British shell fire. Trenches were flattened, dug-outs ruined, German guns ground to pieces. Hundreds of bodies covered the ground on all sides; some just killed, others apparently having been dead for weeks and months. The Germans evidently found it impossible to care for their dead and wounded while the British guns poured their garrages of fire into the trenches.

The same thing is going on now. For every shell fired by the German guns four come back. Rupprecht is finding it impossible to keep his men in the exposed positions under such fire and the retreating movement is continuing probably beyond the point determined upon as the new line of defense.

Important Gains.

The operation east of Bouchavesness, just north of the Somme, is highly important and significant. Here the Germans are still in full force; able to show the strongest resistance. There is no intention on the part of the Germans to surrender territory in this region without a fight. Peronne and the positions adjoining it are too valuable to give up. Yet the British were able to-day to rush the enemy's lines in this sector, and wrench from his grasp trenches along a third of a mile frontage. The force of the British assault is suggested in the capture of 173 prisoners and machine guns, while the staying powers of Haig's troops is demonstrated by their rapid consolidation of the lines in the face of counterattack after counterattack in which the Germans are reported to have suffered heavily.

It is quite possible the British commanders are taking advantage of the German retreating movement north of the Ancre to extend their offensive operations into the region in the hopes of pushing the enemy out of the Great Noyons salient. The British are now in excellent position to carry out both offensives simultaneously.

Recruiting for the two weeks of February went away below the standard that has made the 3rd Military District lead Canada for a month past. There were 453 new men signed up.

It is understood that the Dominion government has practically decided to prohibit the export of potatoes from Canada, and that an order in Council embodying this decision will be passed.

BREAK A CHILD'S COLD BY GIVING SYRUP OF FIGS

When your child suffers from a cold don't wait; give the little stomach, liver and bowels a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. When cross, peevish, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, eat, or act naturally, if breath is bad, stomach sour, give a tablespoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the clogged-up, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well child again.

If your child coughs, snuffles, and has caught cold or is feverish or has a sore throat, give a good dose of "California Syrup of Figs," to evacuate the bowels, no difference what the cause of the ailment. Sick children needn't be coaxed to take this harmless "fruit laxative." Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure. They also know a little given to-day saves a sick child to-morrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine made by "California Fig Syrup Company."

STANDARD HOTELS MUST SERVE MEALS SAYS A CORN FACTS LIKE ELECTRIC BELL

Law Clear Upon That Point; Case of a Toronto Hotel in Question

Toronto, March 5.—As a result of the action of R. S. Burrows, Toronto's Chief License Inspector, who recently closed the Bull's Head Hotel, Niagara and Wellington streets, owing to the lack of proper accommodation for the travelling public, Mr. John Morgan, 189 Carlton St., has forwarded to the papers a letter which in part is as follows:— "As I understand it, the standard license merely gives a man permission to sell soft drinks, similar to what can be purchased in any drug store, and take in boarders. Would like to know if there is any law compelling one who sells soft drinks from leaving part of building empty?"

What the Law Says

Under the statutory provisions respecting standard hotels, Chief Inspector Burrows stated when asked on Saturday, a hotel proprietor holding a standard license must furnish beds, waiting and serving rooms and all conveniences, besides meals of the convenience of the travelling public and other guests of the hotel.

Avoid Spring Ills

Purify and Build Up the Blood with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

In the spring your blood needs cleansing and enriching, largely because your diet has been chiefly heavy and your life mostly indoors during the winter. You feel poorly, and there is more or less eruption on your face and body. Your appetite is not good, your sleep is broken, and you are tired all the time.

You need Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is the one safe and effective tonic that has stood the test of forty years. It makes the pure red blood that will make you feel better, look better, eat and sleep better. It is the old standard tried and true all-year-round medicine for the blood and the whole system, and any druggist will supply you.

Be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla. Nothing else acts like it, for nothing else has the same formula or ingredients. Get it today.

SAYS A CORN FACTS LIKE ELECTRIC BELL

says cutting makes them grow

Press an electric button and you form a contact with a live wire which rings the bell. When your shoes press against your corn it pushes its sharp roots down upon a sensitive nerve and you get a shock of pain.

Instead of trimming your corns, which merely makes them grow, just step into any drug store and ask for a quarter of an ounce of Freezone. This will cost very little but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. A few drops applied directly upon a tender, aching corn stops the soreness instantly, and soon the corn shrivels, up so it lifts right out, root and all, without pain. This drug is harmless, and never inflames or even irritates the surrounding tissue or skin.

Board's Wide Powers

The Board of License Commissioners have wide powers in dealing with cases of violation of the conditions under which a standard license is granted," said Chief Inspector Burrows. "Similar action to that of the Bull's Head Hotel will be taken by the Toronto License Inspectors, acting under instructions from the License Commissioners, in cases where the holders of standard licenses attempt to operate a bar without providing the necessary conveniences, as stipulated by the regulations for the accommodation of the travelling public."

Case of Bull's Head

"In the case of the Bull's Head Hotel, the proprietor refused to obey the law and he was deprived of his license and ordered to remain closed until he was prepared to comply with the conditions of the act. Other hotelmen will be treated the same way in such cases."

The Chief Inspector stated that in enforcing the act the aim of the License Commissioners was to do as far as possible encourage the establishment of a good class of hotels in preference to those solely dependent upon obtaining results from the bar end of the business.

SIDELIGHTS ON THE STAGE AND SCREEN

THE GRAND
A large audience on Saturday evening enjoyed the performance at the Grand Opera House of the musical comedy offering, "Bringing Up Father in Politics," a production combining vague plot and abundance of comical incidents and some very good musical and dancing numbers.

"INTOLERANCE"
While warriors of ancient Babylon had not the means of wholesale slaughter in vogue to-day, their warfare could hardly be considered as child's play, as is plainly evidenced in D. W. Griffith's masterpiece, "Intolerance," which is coming to the Grand Opera House for four days commencing Monday, March 5, 6, 7 and 8, matinees daily.

In this gigantic spectacle Mr. Griffith has refought, faithfully and authentically the battles waged by Cyrus and his Persian hordes on Belshazzar of Babylon.

Each and every detail in connection with the life and customs of the people of Babylon, to the minutest detail, up to the time that the victorious Cyrus took the ancient city, is reproduced by Mr. Griffith according to the most authentic records.

In one scene, where the Babylonians high upon the walls of their beleaguered city, hurl huge rocks on the hordes of Cyrus, a signal was used to permit the Persians to have sufficient time to seek a place of safety. However, one overly enthusiastic Babylonian neglected to give the signal. After releasing the rock, he gave vent to an extremely modern "Look out below." The words were barely out of his mouth when the projectile alighted on the helmet of Cyrus and the Great himself. Cyrus was incapacitated for several hours.

IMPROVEMENT SOCIETY OF ECHO PLACE

Monthly Meeting Held; Protest Against Tilbury Gas

The March meeting of the Echo Place Improvement Association was held Friday night with H. F. Patterson presiding. The minutes of the previous meeting were adopted as read. The treasurer's report was received and showed a neat balance on hand.

A strong protest was made against having the Tilbury gas turned on in place of the Onondaga gas, one member reported that ten members of his family were down sick at present, caused by the sulphur gas. The legal side of the matter is being taken up regarding the Township's rights. The opinion is that the company have no franchise to send gas east on the Hamilton road.

A favorable impression was made at the meeting towards taking up the matter of forming themselves into a police village. Many favorable reports were given where the system has been put into operation. A report will be given at the April meeting of many other places that have taken up this form of government. The roads committee was urged to take steps to stop fast driving and speeding beyond the speed limit through the village. Some names and numbers have already been taken.

RUSSIAN FORCES TAKE HAMADAN

Offensive Launched Near Mesopotamia Border; Town Captured

Petrograd, March 4.—The capture of Hamadan, in Persia, slightly more than 100 miles from the Mesopotamian border, was officially announced by the War Office today. The town was taken from the Turks on March 2. Russian troops also are on the offensive farther northwest, and have captured a village within two miles of Bijar, eighty miles northwest of Hamadan, and about the same distance from the border. The official statement reads:

"The Russian front in Persia our detachments assumed the offensive in the direction of Bijar, and occupied the village of Khanikali, two miles southwest of Bijar.

"As the result of operations in the Hamadan region the town of Hamadan was captured by our troops on March 2.

The capture of Hamadan by the Russians will mean that the Czar's troops will again attempt an advance into Mesopotamia from Persia to aid the British in their advance up the Tigris toward Bagdad. Hamadan, which is 240 miles northwest of Bagdad, has been the centre of much fighting between the Russians and Turks. In April, 1915, it was occupied by the Turks, but on December 17, 1915, it was taken by the Russians, who continued their advance westward toward the frontier later in the year. Kermanshah, 130 miles northwest of Bagdad, was captured by the Russians in April, 1916. The Russians were forced to retreat from the Persian border, and were driven back through Kermanshah to Hamadan, which was evacuated early in August, 1916. Since then there has been much fighting, and the Turkish official statements late in December and early in January said that the Russians had been repulsed in attacks near Hamadan. Hamadan has a population of 40,000.

Cheap Tea Not Economical!

Many people complain about the poor flavor of the cheap tea they are using, but are trying to put up with it because they think they are saving money. In reality, cheap tea is rarely more economical, often less economical, than Red Rose Tea. While Red Rose Tea may cost a few cents more, or even 10 cents more per pound, than common tea three teaspoonsful of Red Rose Tea are equal to five teaspoonsful of common tea. Less Red Rose Tea is required in the tea pot, because this master blend of Indian-Ceylon teas consists largely of the famous hill grown teas of Assam, India. These Assam teas excel in vigor, richness and strength. Their leaves yield more liquor and a fuller flavored liquor. Blended with Ceylons they make the ideal tea for flavor and economy. Try a sealed package of Red Rose Tea and keep count of the extra number of cups it yields in comparison with cheap teas. You will find that Red Rose is worth every cent asked for it—and that it costs no more to use this delightful tea.

LENTEN RECIPES FOR HOUSEWIFE

Broiled Halibut with Brown Sauce.
 One slice halibut about 1 inch thick; broil first on one side, then on the other, about 10 minutes; when done place on hot platter with brown sauce, made as follows; Butter size of egg in sauce pan; when melted add 1 tablespoonful flour; stir until smooth; then add 1 cup milk, a little at a time, stirring constantly; when smooth add three tablespoonsful kitchen bouquet and pour over fish.

Boiled Halibut
 Set your pot on with hot water and a large spoonful salt; wash your halibut, clean and sew a piece of cheesecloth around it, and before the fish boils skin the water; boil for thirty minutes; for the sauce take 2 cups milk and 1 of hot water, 2 large cooking spoons flour, and mix the flour with cold milk; pour through a strainer into the milk, stirring it up thoroughly; boil 3 eggs hard and when done chop finely into your sauce, as well as a large piece of butter.

Salmon Souffle
 Two tablespoonsful flour and butter, 1 teaspoonful salt, a dash of white pepper and 1 pint of milk; add 1 cup bread crumbs graded, a few drops onion juice, a teaspoonful chopped parsley and the salmon from a single can, freed from skin and bones; rub fine with a silver fork; beat all ingredients together; then beat in the yolks of 3 eggs and lastly fold in the whites; bake in a buttered dish in a moderate oven, the dish standing in another containing hot water, for 30 minutes. The finest way to serve salmon.

Perfect Fish Balls
 One pint codfish picked fine, one quart potatoes; boil together until potatoes are soft; drain and mash well; add butter, size of an egg while still hot and a dash of pepper; put aside to cool; when cold add 2 well beaten eggs; fry brown in boiling lard; have fat very hot, so they will brown quickly; fry in kettle like doughnuts, dipping the spoon in the hot fat first, then take a spoonful of the mixture and drop in the boiling fat.

Salmon Croquettes
 One half can salmon cleaned from skin and bones; mix with three medium sized mashed potatoes; season with salt, pepper and bit of onion; form into balls; roll in bread crumbs, then in cracker crumbs, and fry in hot fat.

SIDE TALKS

By RUTH B. CAMERON

THE ENDLESS CIRCLE.
 Live a life, do not only get a living. On the quotation calendar for 1917 which is a kind letter friend has sent me, that is the second quotation. It hangs over my desk and more than that it is written in my heart. I don't believe there is any reminder that is more generally needed, especially in this twentieth century of ours. Of course it's very important to get a living. Getting a living is such an important and compelling business. It fills your life up with busyness, it keeps your ambitions occupied; it gives you a sense of accomplishment from day to day; it seems to supply a reason for living. It is only now and then that one gets a glimpse of the fact that to devote all your energies to getting the paraphernalia of living, so that you can keep on living and keep on devoting your energies to getting that paraphernalia, comes pretty close to being an endless circle. But such a life leaves you "Empty and Craving." "Life leaves you empty and craving, leaves you nothing to do but little immediate things that turn to dust as you do them," says a character in one of Mr. Wells' books, who has reached his goal of material success and discovered suddenly that he has failed to "live a life instead of only getting a living." "What do I mean by 'Live a life'?" "How can we live a life?" There you have me. I don't wholly know. To find that out you have to open your soul to life and let it come in and teach you. I think it means living day by day towards a greater appreciation of beauty, a better understanding of truth, cultivating worthwhile friendships instead of just neighborhood or society acquaintances, trying as definitely to build up your character as your bank account, thinking more instead of just dreaming, broadening and deepening your sympathies, trying to do your bit for human betterment not only in a patronizingly good-goody way, but as a natural right thing to do, finding out what really gives you happiness and not constantly chasing that will-o'-the-wisp, Pleasure. That's some of what it means to me; to you it may mean something entirely different. As I said, you can only open your soul and make up your mind to let life come in and teach you. But know this one thing surely,—it means more than only getting a living.

LT. COL. BECKETT KILLED IN ACTION

Toronto Officer Was Commander of 75th Battalion
 Lieut.-Col. Samuel G. Beckett, who left Toronto in command of the 75th Battalion, has been killed in action. A private cable to this effect was received in Toronto yesterday by Major Bull from his brother, Mr. Pedkins Bull, K.C., of London, England. Major Bull, who is a company commander of the 75th Battalion, was home on furlough, but left yesterday for Halifax. He will rejoin his unit as soon as circumstances permit. No information beyond the meagre message, "Beckett killed in action," has so far reached Toronto, and it is therefore not known whether any other names will accompany that of Lieut.-Col. Beckett when the official lists are filed at Ottawa. Col. Beckett was a partner in the firm of Chadwick and Beckett, architects, which sent every eligible employee overseas with the Canadian Expeditionary Force. Col. Chadwick was the first to enlist, organizing the 4th Canadian Mounted Rifles. He was later transferred and given the order to raise the 124th, Mississippi Infantry Battalion. Col. Beckett enlisted at the outbreak of war, but the authorities held him in reserve for a command. In the early fall of 1915 he was re-

BATHING SUITS AS GORGEOUS AS GOWNS AT PALM BEACH

Mrs. John E. Liggett, of New York City, sauntering over the sands in her newly introduced Hawaiian parasol shading her from the sun. Mrs. Liggett's bathing costume has caused much favorable criticism amongst bathers at this famous resort.

How that frigate bird got it into his head that he wanted to be a boat, I don't know. I suppose it was because he lived by the sea, flying far out when the mood was on him, but he thought so much about it that one day he set sail from the island where he lived, and told all the feathers that he was a boat. "I'm tired of being a bird," he said. "I'm tired of living in a coconut tree. Besides, men call me the frigate bird and a frigate's a boat. I must be like one." And he swam on, ruffling his feathers, as if they were sails and acting in a very proud and haughty way. Now the wind was not very fond of the frigate bird. For one thing he was lazy, and for another he was a dreadful robber. When he flew far out to sea he never bothered to fish. He robbed the other birds, terns and gannets and the little sea swallows, who were far more industrious than he. Many a time the Wind had seen him hide in a cocoon palm until nightfall and then fly out to meet the homcoming birds and rob them. The Wind had even seen that lazy robber shake another bird by the tail when he refused to give up the fish he'd caught. And so the Wind let the bird who had made up his mind to be a boat to get pretty well out to sea, when—poof!—he blew up a dreadful wind and made the sea run high. The bird bobbed and grumbled, but the Wind said: "Ho, ho, my friend, you're a boat, aren't you?" "To be sure," said the bird. "Then don't grumble," scoffed the Wind. "A boat doesn't mind a high sea or a bit of wind." So the frigate bird stuck to the water to prove he was a boat, but the sea grew worse and worse. "What are you doing?" he growled to the Wind at last. "Why," said the Wind, "I'm going to wreck you like any other boat and cast you on yonder coral reef. You won't mind going to pieces a bit, will you? Lots of boats do." But the frigate bird waited no longer. He rose up on his wings and became a bird. Back he flew, seeking his island home, but he was so far out to sea that he grew out and weary. And by and by the Wind blew by him. "Now," said the Wind, "I can either blow with you and help you or blow against you and drive you back. Which shall it be?" "Help me," cried the bird faintly. "And you'll stop robbing weaker birds?" "Yes," said the bird. And so the frigate bird reformed, and the Wind helped him back to his island, and never again after that. I guess, did he want to be a boat, for fear he'd be shipwrecked on a coral reef and be dashed to bits.

PEACE AND WAR
 Peace is the noblest, greatest cause, a peace that's firm and stable; with shock absorbers on my jaws, I boost it all I'm able. Year after year, without surcease, there's a time to talk of peace, a time to talk of scrapping. When Uncle Sam is threatened sore with some great dire disaster, I don't admire the peace graft bore whose tongue goes ever faster. I don't admire the bloodless fight, who thinks the land's a goner, if we would rather up and fight than wallow in dishonor. I didn't raise my maiden aunt to be a noisy brawler, but when the battle chargers pant, she'll step out doors and holler. I didn't raise my lovely niece to fool with swords and lances, but she I know, will pass up peace whenever a foe advances. I am too old and fat to fight, out where the weapons rattle, but warlike odes I'll gladly write, to cheer you in the battle. Go forth, brave hearts, bold, unafraid, if there should be a riot! I'll bring you pails of lemonade whenever things are quiet.

LADY'S BUNGALOW APRON.

By Anabel Worthington.
 The tidy housekeeper of moderate means is always interested in herself and in her home to such degree that she aims to look her best, even when working, and she does not consider an apron a thing apart, but something necessary to the complete furnishing of her wardrobe. The favorite style is the bungalow apron and the one pictured is sure to interest all who see it. The garment hangs straight from the shoulder—just like the one piece dress of fashion's acceptance. The upper part fits to the figure with neatness and the fullness below is drawn to the back and held there with the strings. The pocket in each front is a convenience made attractive with banding in opposing color; the square neck is finished with banding also and the kimono sleeve has a cuff facing to correspond. Among the pretty wash materials for developing the design are plain or striped percale, lawn, chambray, gingham, etc.; for studio work, linen, saten and the like may be considered appropriate. You could not be better occupied for one hour than you will be in making this garment. The apron pattern No. 8161 cuts in sizes 36, 40 and 44. To make in size 36 requires 5 yards 36 inch material and 3/4 yard 20 inch contrasting goods to trim. To obtain the pattern send 10 cents to the office of this publication.

WOMEN'S HOSPITAL AID

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Hospital Aid was held in the Library on Friday morning last with a good attendance, and was presided over by the President, Mrs. Schell. The secretary read the minutes of the last meeting and the treasurer presented the financial statement, showing receipts for the present year $79.23; disbursements, $40; balance in hand $39.23. Total balance of the W. H. A., at the end of 1916 was $3,382.48. Fees, $2 was paid in by Miss Jones, North ward, and 75c by Mrs. Mitchell, centre city. Those responsible for the success of the annual re-union, which was held in the Conservatory of Music Hall on Wednesday, Feb. 28th, were accorded thanks generally, and a hearty vote of thanks was given to convenors, and helpers with refreshments, with special mention of the H. A. young ladies. Several members were reported ill, to whom letters conveying the sympathy of the auxiliary will be sent. The lady superintendent of the hospital, Miss Ford, who has been ill for some weeks, but is now slightly better, also received a vote of sympathy, with flowers to be sent by the secretary. The visitors at the hospital for February were Mesdames Colquhoun and G. D. Watt, who had visited regularly each week. The hospital was full of patients and space was at a premium most of the time. There were five patients in the isolation. The visitors took up oranges, jellies, magazines, etc., and the patients expressed pleasure from their visits. Mrs. Morgan Harris and other ladies of Mt. Pleasant, will take charge of the visiting during March. Mrs. Livingston, for the Patriotic League, gave a short report, praising the children of the various schools for their useful assistance in knitting socks and other good work. She wished to enlist the co-operation of W. H. A. in the use of art, loan entertainment to raise funds to provide a club room for returned soldiers, and asked that all having articles of historic value or of unusual interest should loan them for this occasion. The full assistance of the W. H. A. was gladly promised in this praiseworthy undertaking. It was resolved that small receipt books be provided for collectors of fees, and a committee was named to procure them with as little delay as possible. Reference was made by the president to the W. H. A. balance of $3,350, now in the hands of the city treasurer, as to what disposition should be made of it—certain things were always needed and must be procured. In this connection, it was moved by Mrs. Nellie, seconded by Mrs. Livingston, and carried, "That this fund now with the city treasurer, be not drawn upon, unless it be for some large undertaking in connection with hospital work." It was thought that the ordinary revenue arising from fees, rose day, collections and rummage sale would suffice for all current expenses this year, as they did last year, and that there need be no curtailment in any way. Edward N. Mortimer, a Brockville G.T.R. engineer, who died this week, requested that people inclined to spend money on flowers, lay instead the money in his coffin to be given to the Belgian Relief fund.
