LOCAL HAPPENINGS

THE GUIDE-ADVOCATE welcomes all items of interest for this column. Call Phone 11, send by mail or drop item in GUIDE-ADVOCATE Letter Box.

PEACHES galore this year. SAVE your waste paper for the Red Cross. JUST a touch of white frost Saturday morning. CORRECT fall millinery now on sale.—A. BROWN & CO. THE ice man will soon have to give way to the coal man. USE ARCO SEALTY for your roof. This will stop a leak instantly.—Sold at G. CHAMBERS EST. NEWS PAPERS are bound to advance in price. Pay up your subscription and get in on the "ground floor." THE Evaporator will open up soon and will pay the highest cash price for peeling apples.—GRO. ECKLES. GET READY for the East Lambton Fair. Every citizen has it in his and her power to help the show along. CROUPHITS isn't contagious. On the contrary the disturbing "peeve" of one groucher is the best cure for another. 64 NEW DESIGNS for September and October, all Butterick's, at SWIFT'S. THREE men have deserted from C. Company, 149th Batt. since organization, namely T. Shaw, S. Yerks and F. Trolley. THE DESPISED HOG and the plebian potato may be considered aristocrats these days. Look at the prices they bring. WE NOTICE that Miss Annie M. Tanner was one of the successful candidates who passed the Art examination recently held in Toronto. WITH POTATOES and other vegetables at unheard of high prices and coal going up every month, the prospects for next winter are not very cheering. THE CITY daily papers are announcing new subscription rates to go into effect next month. The advance is only to be expected in these strenuous days. EASTERN CAPS and King hats for men.—A. BROWN & CO. MR. W. L. CLARK, author, lecturer and traveller, will speak at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. in the Methodist church next Sunday. EVERYBODY in town and vicinity reads The Guide-Advocate. They must have it even if they borrow it. Have it sent to you for 25 cents to the end of the year. WILFRED JAMISON, 15 years old, started out to see the world last week. He got as far as Sarnia when the authorities started him on the homeward path. MISS MINNIE has decided to have no formal opening this season but will open up trimmed and untrimmed hats Friday, Sept. 22. Any time after that will be pleased to show you through. WEAR COMBINATIONS for girls, boys, ladies and gents.—SWIFT'S stock complete. MR. MORRISON, distributor for the Briscoe Automobile Co., was here last week and appointed Mr. F. R. Luckham representative for this district. An exhibition car is expected along soon. CARMAN HARPER, the ten year old son of W. H. Harper fell down the outside stairway at his home on Sunday evening and was badly shaken up. He also lost two front teeth and had a third one broken while tumbling. THE 149th Battalion, with others, had four days leave from Friday to Tuesday. Nearly all of "C" Company came home to Watford. Everyone was pleased to have the soldiers with us again, and hope they may make another visit before they go overseas. WEAR CROMPTON'S CORSETS and your troubles will be few.—SWIFT'S stock complete. THE Canadian Greaser says:—"From present indications it would be reasonable to assume cheaper prices for refined sugar in the near future." That will suit the public all right and will not hurt anyone else. THE WATFORD high school opened with 106 students on the roll. Other pupils have enrolled since and still more are expected the beginning of the week. The staff consists of A. B. Steer, principal; R. N. McKenzie, Miss McCaw and Miss Mitchell. THE Alvington Free Press complains that the merchants of that town are letting the city district because the local men fail to go after it by extensive advertising. The day is past when people will buy without being asked. MISS SARAH BAMBRIDGE for many years a resident of Watford, died at the home of her brother-in-law, Wm. Virgo, Davis Street, Sarnia, on Thursday, Sept. 7th. The funeral service was held at the home on Friday at 1.30, after which the remains were brought to Watford and interred in the Watford cemetery.

THE total attendance at the Toronto Exhibition was 910,000. To be a prisoner of war is thought now to be the chief aim of most German soldiers. AUTO OWNERS, use National Carbonless Motor Oil—the envy of all refiners.—Sold at G. CHAMBERS EST. THE HARVEST is past, the summer is ending and the fall fairs are here again. Time to get your coal bin filled if you have the price. SHE took in London fall fair but she brought her coat at SWIFT'S. HARVEST Thanksgiving Services will be held in Trinity Church a week from next Sunday. The Rev. D. Cornish, rector of Forest, will be the special preacher. ACCORDING to statistics recently compiled by Bradstreet's, it is shown that eighty-four per cent. of the failures in mercantile institutions are among non-advertisers. The lesson needs no comment. "SUBSCRIBER" is reminded that the publication of her letter would not improve the matter any, probably make it worse. Her other subject is a personal matter and should be discussed with the party in question. SILK and wool sweater coats for fall wear.—A. BROWN & CO. THE MARRIAGE of Miss Gertrude Armstrong, daughter of J. E. Armstrong, M. P. to Mr. Frederick Bronson of Ottawa is announced to take place in the Petrolia Presbyterian church on Wednesday, September 20th. THE CONDITIONS of the new War Loan are stated in an ad. on page five of this issue. The issue of the loan is for one hundred million dollars, 5 per cent bonds, maturing 1931. The issue price is 97 1/2%. Subscription list closes Sept. 23rd. THERE is an opening for a smart boy with fair education to learn the printing business at this office. Good wages for a boy who is not afraid of work and will make up his mind to learn. OF LAST YEAR'S Hydro surplus the city of Hamilton will get over $18,000 to do what it likes with, and the local Hydro commission will be allowed to keep $10,000 as a nest egg. There will be another large surplus this year. Hydro is not going to bankrupt Hamilton as predicted. THE Patriotic League met in the Lyceum on Thursday afternoon and packed a bale of hospital supplies. The League wishes to thank the members of the Utopia Bible Class Methodist S. School for 10 towels, 2 doz. handkerchiefs and 28 rolls of bandages kindly sent by them. Quilting will be started on Thursday for a bale for the Northern Ontario Fire sufferers. YOU SEE things advertised in the Toronto and London papers. Same goods at SWIFT'S, same style and price. TRY OUR MAILING LISTS are daily undergoing changes and no matter what care is taken it is possible for errors to creep in. Subscribers who have been renewing their subscription are asked to see that proper credit is given. Any new subscribers not receiving their paper promptly should notify us that matters may be rectified. THE PETERBOROUGH REVIEW tells its readers to be patient; fish stories and hot weather will disappear soon. The weather will be colder, never fear, but we doubt greatly if real fishermen let a little thing like winter interrupt their favorite armchair past-time. "The one that got away" is likely to fill the time on more than one long evening during the colds months. MRS. W. H. ROGERS last week received the sad news of the death of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Carrie Minnie, at her old home in Gillett, Wis. Mrs. Minnie was overcome by heat some weeks ago, but her condition was not thought serious. Her death came most unexpectedly and was a great shock to her family and many friends. Mrs. Minnie visited in Watford and vicinity some years ago. THERE will, undoubtedly, be a falling off in the number of entries in grain, seed, fruit, roots, vegetables, plants and flowers, at the East Lambton Fair at Watford, owing to the unfavorable season. Those who have the interest of the Fair at heart should, therefore, "dig up" what they can, and assist in making the showing in these classes as large and varied as possible. FOWNE'S gloves for fall, very correct.—A. BROWN & CO. THE REGULAR monthly meeting of I. O. D. E. was held at the home of Mrs. N. B. Howden, Mrs. Shirley assisting. After the business part of meeting was concluded, a short program was given. Reading by Miss May Reid; instrumental by Miss Stella Craig. An interesting letter was read from Nurse Reid of the Orpington Hospital, England. After luncheon, meeting closed by singing the National Anthem. SATURDAY NIGHT at 7 o'clock, the Prohibitory Liquor Law goes into effect, and for the first time in 125 years Ontario will be without licenses to sell booze. Licenses to sell liquor have been issued in Ontario since 1791, when the province of Upper Canada was created. In the early days they were issued by the municipality, and not by the Government. Since the Crooks Act came into force in 1874 all licenses have been issued by the Government.

THERE will be no formal millinery openings this fall. Another of the old time glad days knocked out by the war. HAVE THE people outside of Watford been saving their waste paper and magazines for the Red Cross? They are requested to leave them as soon as possible at Mr. Robt. Johnston's shop. AT the annual meeting of the Alumni Association of Huron College, London, held this week, the Rev. S. P. Irwin was elected Vice-President of the Association. THE Watford members of the 149 who were home this week for four days expressed themselves as being well satisfied with the new arrangements for getting home on leave. COMMENCING, Wednesday 20th, Miss WILLIAMS will have ready for inspection the latest designs, in fall millinery. Miss Lowell and Miss Williams, both have returned from the Toronto openings and will be pleased to show the season's styles. No formal openings this season. WILL THE business men of Watford kindly remember the request of the Kewpie Club to save their scrap and wrapping paper, old ledgers, etc., for the Red Cross fund? Next collection will be made the second week in October. Have your contributions ready. A VERY successful quilting was held at the home of Mrs. J. D. Brown on Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 6th, when the members of the Women's Inst. and others that kindly helped, quilted for the fire sufferers of New Ontario. Three quilts were quilted and bound, after which a light lunch was served on the lawn. Next quilting on Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 20th, at Miss Waugh's home, John St. Please remember the date.—SBC. THE FIRST COLLECTION of waste paper for the Red Cross was made by the members of the Kewpie Club last week. The Kewpies wish to thank the people of Watford and vicinity who so kindly aided in collecting and also those who contributed papers so liberally, especially those whose papers were tied in convenient bundles. The next collection will take place the second week in October and the people of Watford are requested to save their papers and have them ready for collection. The first collection was very good one, but it is hoped the next one will be even better, as doubtless it will be, if everyone tries to make it so. THE 21st Anniversary of the Watford Baptist Church was held on Sunday Sept. 10th. At 11 a. m. Rev. F. G. Robinson, of the Methodist Church, preached from Exodus 15: 23—26. Rev. Mrs. Bailey, Misses L. Cameron and Clark and others. On Monday evening a social time was spent when Revs. Sawers, Snell, Forster, Robinson and Stevenson gave splendid addresses upon the different phases of the general subject "The Church." Appropriate music was rendered by the choir, solo by Rev. Conolly and duet by Mrs. Bailey and Mr. B. Fulcher, which were greatly enjoyed. Mr. Steer, principal of the High School, occupied the chair in his usual able manner. Singing of the National Anthem brought to a close a very enjoyable and profitable meeting.

CAPT. T. L. SWIFT

CAPT. SWIFT OFFICIALLY REPORTED DEAD

Fifteen months after Capt. Thomas L. Swift of the 1st Overseas Battalion, C. E. F. was last heard of he has been officially reported dead by the Militia Department. On Wednesday last his father, Mr. E. D. Swift, received word to that effect from the Adjutant-General at Ottawa. The last heard of Capt. Swift was on the 15th of June, 1915, when he was in the thick of the fight gallantly leading his men in the battle of Givency. Several who went through that memorable fight were witnesses that he was in the thick of it, and were almost certain that he had been killed. However, after the battle no trace could be found of Capt. Swift, nor has any been found to this day, although every possible means has been resorted to by his family and friends, the Militia Department, Foreign Consuls and everyone who could possibly gain any information. Capt. Swift was one of our own boys. Born in Watford and lived here all his life until he went to the front. After his education at the high school was finished he went into partnership with his father in the dry goods business. When quite young he joined the 27th Regt. and pursued a course of study for an officer's position. He received his commission as Captain nearly three years ago, and was presented with his papers in the Armory soon after that building was completed. Capt. Tom Swift had very many friends and no enemies except the official ones. As a boy he was a general favorite with old and young, and when he attained man's estate he was noted for his unassuming though firm manner, pleasant disposition and popularity with all whom he came in contact. As an officer he was much loved by his men and his constant care was for their welfare. He lived the life of a thoughtful young gentleman and died the noblest death possible—serving King, country and home.

Girls' Literary and Athletic Association

Elections for the officers of the Girls' Literary and Athletic Association of the W. H. S. were held on Monday last. The following officers were elected: LITERARY SOCIETY. Hon. President—Miss H. B. Mitchell. President—Miss L. B. Harper. Vice Pres.—Miss F. Richardson. Secretary—Miss M. B. Forster. Treasurer—Miss A. V. Barnes. Pianist—Miss A. Mitchell. Assistant Pianist—Miss H. Hamilton. Editor-in-chief—Miss H. E. A. McAw. Assistant Editor—Miss B. H. Forster. ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION. Hon. President—Dr. G. N. Howden. President—Miss J. M. McKeercher. Vice Pres.—Miss F. MacDonald. Secretary—Miss F. Waddell. Treasurer—Miss S. Cran. The Literary Society is trying to arrange for a High School Fair to be held in connection with the County Fair. The fair will be held in and about the grounds as weather permits.

Spiced Plums

Seven pounds of plums, one pint of cider vinegar, four pounds of sugar, two tablespoonsful of broken cinnamon bark, half as much of whole cloves and the same of broken nutmeg. Place these in a muslin bag and simmer them in a little vinegar and water for half an hour; then add it all to the vinegar and sugar, and bring to a boil; add the plums and boil carefully until they are cooked tender. Before cooking the plums should be pierced with a darning needle several times, this will prevent the skins from bursting while cooking.

The Home Fair

Don't allow the rural fall fair to decline and die. The big fairs do not take their places as thousands of people go to Toronto and London fairs simply for the outing and the special programs. The county or town fair represents the improvement or decadence of the immediate locality and on its maintenance will depend much of the future history of the community. Everybody should boom the local fair and not leave it to a director or two or the secretary to shoulder the whole responsibility. If every society had a membership of 400 a great stride would be made toward improvement and vivin in the maintenance. There are hundreds of farmers who are not linked up with the fall fair, which should be one of the most valuable features in the community. Get an exhibit ready and push the East Lambton Fair.

Alex. Johnston Wounded

Official notification was to hand Thursday morning that Pte. Roy Alexander Johnston of Watford, 1st Battalion, had received slight wounds in the hand and is now in the Military Hospital at Epsom, England. This is the second time Pte. Johnston has been wounded.

Local Legal

Re Shields.—W. E. Fitzgerald (Watford) moved for administration and partition. W. J. Elliott for Union Trust Co. J. M. Ferguson for London & Western Trust Co. Order made as asked. This judgment affects the north halves of lots 6 and 7 in Mosca and lot 23 in the third concession of Brooke. The case was heard before Justice Middleton at Osgoode hall on Friday last.

London, Sept. 12.—Premier Hearst has interviewed the officials of the admiralty and will visit the grand fleet this week.

WARWICK.

Miss Mary Kadey is visiting friends in St. Thomas and Springfield.

Mr. Clifford Richardson left last week for the West to assist with the harvest.

Mrs. Amasa Hagle returned last week from a few weeks' visit with relatives in Michigan.

Miss Sarah Vance returned to Toronto this week after a three weeks' holiday at her home on the 4th line.

Mrs. Thomas Luckham returned last week from Michigan, where she spent a few weeks with relatives.

Miss Pearl McCormick went to Toronto last week to enter for nurse in training in Wellesley Hospital.

Miss Grace S. Luckham, left last week for Wheatley, to resume her duties as primary teacher in the public school.

Mr. W. L. Clark, author, lecturer, and traveller will speak at Zion Methodist Church, 2nd line east, at 2.30 next Sunday.

Messrs. John Smith, John Cable and Harry Graham, each made a couple of auto trips to London this week with visitors to the fair.

A meeting of the Women's Patriotic League will be held at the home of Mrs. Charles Stewart, jr., London Road, on Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 20th.

Mr. Harvey Vance is suffering from fractured ribs and nervous shock as a result of a fall from a crab apple tree about two weeks ago. He is now able to be up after two weeks' confinement to bed.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Eccles, Winnipeg, called on the friends here last Thursday and left the following day for their western home. They had just returned from a visit to Mrs. Eccles's old home in Quebec, which she had not seen for fifty years.

Mr. Bruce Faulds, who has purchased a butcher business in London, purposes moving there soon, having rented his farm here for three years, makes several trips a week with his car and trailer full of meat, hides &c., the animals being slaughtered here.

On Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 6th, the Wisbeach Patriotic League resumed Red Cross work at the afternoon meetings, when they met at the home of Mrs. Edgar Kerton. A bale containing the following articles was packed and shipped to Hyman Hall:—53 pillow covers, 10 sheets, 2 pair socks and 3 flannel shirts. The collection amounted to $8.74. The League decided to appropriate $11 for materials to make and fill Christmas stockings for the soldiers at the front, also to send $10 for Belgian relief and $5 for the support of German prisoners.

Anniversary services will be held in Calvary Baptist church, townline P. and W. on Sunday and Monday, Sept. 17 and 18. On Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, the Rev. E. H. Sowers will be the special preacher. Miss Welch, soloist of one of the Toronto Methodist churches will sing at both services. A social time will be spent on Monday evening, when the ladies of the congregation will serve a fowl supper from 6 to 8 o'clock, after which an interesting program will be given in which the McFarlane male quartette and orchestra of Forest, Miss Welch of Toronto, the local clergy and others will take part. Admission 50c, children 25c.

NOTICE

On and after Monday, Sept. 11th, the Watford Barber Shops will charge 25 cents for hair cutting. Shops will close Mondays at 6 p.m., Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays at 8 p.m., and Wednesdays at 9 p.m.

AFTER SIX YEARS OF SUFFERING

Woman Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Columbus, Ohio.—"I had almost given up. I had been sick for six years with female troubles and nervousness. I had a pain in my right side and could not eat anything without hurting my stomach. I could not drink cold water at all nor eat any kind of raw fruit, nor fresh meat nor chicken. From 178 pounds I went to 118 and would get so weak at times that I fell over. I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and ten days later I could eat and it did not hurt my stomach. I have taken the medicine ever since and I feel like a new woman. I now weigh 127 pounds so you can see what it has done for me already. My husband says he knows your medicine has saved my life."—Mrs. J. S. BARLOW, 1624 South 4th St., Columbus, Ohio.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound contains just the virtues of roots and herbs needed to restore health and strength to the weakened organs of the body. That is why Mrs. Barlow, a chronic invalid, recovered so completely. It pays for women suffering from any female ailments to insist upon having Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

A further advance in the price of beans is expected in Chicago. A year ago beans cost 5 cents a pound. The retail price now is 11 cents. The demand for beans in Europe and along the Mexican border is said to be the principal cause for the price advance.

Victoria of Great Britain, being the eldest daughter of Prince Alfred, Duke of Edinburgh, who became the reigning sovereign of the Duchy of Saxe-Cobourg-Gotha. Queen Ferdinand is a first cousin of King George, of Emperor William, of Queen Maud of Norway, of the Czarina of Russia, and Queen Sophia of Greece, of Queen Victoria of Spain, and of the reigning Grand Duke of Hesse, of the Crown Princess of Sweden, and of the Princess Patricia of Connaught. The Roumanians spell the name of their country, Romania. "Roumania" and "Rumania" are both anglicizations to re-present the correct pronunciation of the letter "O".

A maiden lady of our town who has a mind of her own and uses it, drew our attention, the other day, to the inconsistency of the wording of the Voters lists. She pointed out that under the heading "occupation" in connection with lady voters either the terms "widow" or "spinster" appeared, while with men it made no matter whether they were married men, bachelors or widowers their real occupation was given. She thinks, that if by law it is necessary to state whether the lady voter is a spinster or widow it should be under a different heading than "occupation." She also believes that if a lady has an occupation, and most of them have, it should be stated as well as for the men. In our opinion this young lady's argument is well founded and if the wording is according to law there is something wrong with the law.—Ailsa Craig Banner.

Stranded Canadian Soldiers' Wives.

COME TO ENGLAND TO SEE THEIR HUSBANDS.

The most homesick woman in London today is a little Canadian who arrived in England a week ago with a small child, a small amount of luggage, and a very small sum of money.

Her husband is a private in the Canadian contingent, and she came over here because he had been away a year and she thought it "high time" she followed him.

She had a vague idea that he could come over from France and spend week ends with her, or that she could run over there and cheer him up in camp. But the women at the Canadian Red Cross headquarters explained to her that her husband might not get any leave for many months to come, and that he might be wounded and sent back to Canada, where she had no money to follow him.

When she grasped these and a few other vital facts she had not faced before, she simply sat down and she and the baby wept in chorus.

She expressed herself freely on her own foolishness in coming and on the general dreariness and desolation of England, and then she was advised to apply to the Soldiers' and Sailors' Fund for help until her separation allowance should arrive from Canada. Her case is typical. Hundreds of women from all over Canada have brought their children and their household goods to settle down here and be nearer the husband.

Disappointment and disillusion follow, and then the pangs of homesickness and frantic efforts to get back.

At the offices of the High Commissioner of Canada dozens of men, women and children are often to be seen waiting to arrange about transportation.

"We have quite a number of soldiers' wives coming here for advice and assistance," Lady Drummond told a Weekly Dispatch representative at the Canadian Red Cross headquarters, "but we can really do nothing but give them advice. As long as they are in Canada many of them are better off than they were before the war, because beside their separation allowances they get a certain amount from the Patriotic Fund, so much for each child they have."

I am not speaking officially, of course, but I wish it were possible to prevent other families from coming over. As long as they are in Canada they are well provided for; in fact a friend wrote me the other day that the wives of soldiers in her town are forming sewing societies to make clothes for the poor, the children of men who are not in the Canadian contingent!"

During a recent storm lightning struck James Tait's brick house at Tait's Bridge, but did little or no damage. The house is protected with lightning rods, and investigation shows that the lightning glanced from a rod at an elbow and then took its course along a conductor pipe to the cistern. It is supposed that the conductor pipe, being better "grounded" in moisture than the rod, had a greater attraction for the lightning.

Comfort for Dyspeptic.—There is no ailment so harassing and exhausting as dyspepsia, which arises from defective action of the stomach and liver, and the victim of it is to be pitied. Yet he can find ready relief in Parmelee's Vegetable Pills, a preparation that has established itself by years of effective use. There are pills that are widely advertised as the greatest ever compounded, but not one of them can rank in value with Parmelee's.

CANADA'S SHARE IN CARRYING ON THE WORLD'S GREATEST STRUGGLE

She Has So Far Furnished 334,736 Men Out of a Total of 8,075,000.

Canada, on August 4th, 1914, the most peaceful and unprepared country in the world, raised in six weeks 33,000 men, armed and equipped them, and on September 24, 1914, sent them overseas in one fleet of transports—the greatest number of armed men to that date ever to embark upon the seas at one time. From that date to June 1, 1916, twenty-two months later, the Dominion raised 334,737 men in a country of only 8,075,000 population; one-quarter of which were foreign born or only one generation removed, 30 per cent. of these being from countries with which Canada is at war. Besides this practically the majority of the 3,500,000 people residing in Quebec of French-Canadian origin are opposed to war.

This army of 334,737 men was raised from a total eligible male population of 1,720,070, but the Government statistics do not allow for alien male eligibles made ineligible by their nationality in the present war, nor take into account the percentage of those made unfit through physical reasons. These two facts have been approximated to lower the number of available recruits to 1,250,000. Thus Canada has already given more than a third of her physically fit male population. This from a country that is principally an agricultural, mining, lumbering, and fishing one, which industries require the best men for their successful carrying out.

Canada's army is the best paid of any of the nations at war. The minimum wage for privates is $1.50 a day, with food, clothing and lodging supplied. Each man's outfit costs $200. The pension list is one of the most equitable in the world, as follows: Rank and file, $450 per year; non-commissioned officers, from $510 to $680; lieutenant, $720; captain, $1,000; major, $1,260; lieutenant-colonel, $1,520; colonel, $1,880; brigadier-general, $2,700. This is paid to men totally disabled—losses of both eyes, both hands or both legs, insane, permanent leakage of valves of heart, or contracted incurable tuberculosis. In case of a soldier losing hand and foot he will receive 80 per cent. of the total. The loss of only one hand entitles him to 60 per cent. Allowance for soldiers' children, up to the rank of lieutenant, is $6 per month, with a slightly increasing amount for those of higher rank. The highest amount being $10, paid to children of a brigadier-general. Pensions continue until children are 16 if boys and seventeen if girls. When a soldier is killed, his wife receives 80 per cent. of total pension his class allows. This ends in case she marries again.

The Government pays to the wife and children of all enlisted married men the following amounts: Private's wife, $20 a month each child $5 per month; lieutenant's wife, $30 per month, children $5 each; captain's, $35, and $5; major's, $40, and $5; lieutenant-colonel's, $50, and $5.

The Canadian people by public subscription give an added payment to soldiers' dependents. This, known as the Patriotic Fund, paid out in 1915 $6,000,000. The fund is only for the more needy families, and maximum payment to one wife is $20 per month, the minimum $5, according to circumstances. Each child, however, receives $5 per month. In addition, again, to these two funds, many firms paid their enlisting employees wages for periods varying from six months to the duration of service. In some cases the wives of employees enlisting were placed on half pay. Thus the average soldier's dependents are even better taken care of financially than when the bread winner was at home. This is particularly true of the wives of laborers and other small paid workers.

For maintaining the Patriotic Fund the following contributions per province were apportioned in May, 1916, and collection of same is now going forward, the total amount, $10,000,000, being enough to carry the fund through until the end of 1917: Ontario, $5,000,000, or $1.92 per capita; Quebec, $2,200,000, or $1.05 per capita; New Brunswick, $400,000; Manitoba is self-sustaining, giving $2 per capita; Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island, $560,000, $1 per capita; Saskatchewan, $700,000, $1.20 per capita; Alberta, $600,000, $1.20 per capita; British Columbia $600,000, $1.25 per capita. Of Ontario's $5,000,000 only $4,000,000 will be expended therein, the balance going to the more sparsely settled provinces of Alberta and British Columbia, which can contribute only $600,000 each, though twice that amount is needed. The Province of Quebec is also scheduled to raise an extra $900,000 to help out the sparsely settled West. In addition to the Patriotic Fund the Canadian people have subscribed freely to Belgian Relief, Red Cross, and other hospital funds for returning soldiers; also Tobacco Funds for Soldiers. A million pairs of socks a month are knitted by Canadian women.

The total to date, including the Patriotic Fund, is around $30,000,000. To carry on the war Canada, in August, 1914, voted a first war credit of $50,000,000. In Feb., 1915, $100,000,000 was voted. In April, 1916, $250,000,000. A total of $400,000,000, or a per capita debt of $49.05. Taking this amount and the amounts paid for other purposes connected with the war the Canadian people have shouldered a per capita burden of $53.11.

From the nationality figures it might be conjectured that the Canadian-born enlistment has not been in keeping with men from other parts of the British Empire. This however, is due to the fact that in the earlier days of the war the enlistment was made up largely from immigrants. With the beginning of 1916 the Canadian-born really began to flock to the colors. An approximate of recruiting figures for the months of April, May, and June, 1916, show the Canadian-born recruits to have averaged from 75 to 90 per cent. of the total enlistment.

Canada has pledged to raise her number of recruits to the half million mark. On July 1, 1916, an unofficial approximate put the number of men under arms at 340,250. So Canada has practically 160,000 men more to raise to meet her total, or, on a basis of 1,250,000 eligible men, she has to give to 50 per cent. of her physically fit males between the ages of eighteen and forty-five years. In her army to April 4, 1916, there had been 22,000 casualties, according to official figures from Ottawa. Since that date the casualty lists have been the heaviest of the war, and an unofficial bulletin at Ottawa on June 25 placed the figures at 10,000 killed and wounded since April 4, bringing the whole to at least 30,000 men.

Commercially, Canada has done the following things from August, 1914, to January, 1916:

Increased her munition factories from nothing to 422 up-to-date plants that are now turning out $30,000,000 a month worth of munitions.

Investigating thoroughly her natural resources under the guidance of Arthur D. Little, Inc., known throughout the world for his noted chemical, and other highly specialized work. This latter project was started by Baron Shaughnessy, and among the things particularly to be looked into are deposits of coal, petroleum, graphite, asbestos, platinum, lead, zinc, antimony, iron, felspar, manganese and silver deposits. All of these the Dominion is rich in, but many of the fields have been scarcely prospected. All the wood ashes formerly shipped to United States as fertilizer are now being retained at home to aid in the manufacture of potash, very necessary in munition manufacture.

In the matter of munitions, Canada accepted, between December, 1914, and January, 1916, orders totaling half a billion the major part of which amount was for 22,800,000 shells, 8,000,000 of these, 2,000,000 "fixed" and 6,000,000 "unfixed"—were sent to Europe by the end of 1915, and represented an expenditure of $65,000,000. The following are now being chiefly produced: 15 and 18-pound shrapnel empty; 19-pound fixed 18-pounder high explosive, both empty and fixed; 4.5 howitzer (same, except loading); 60-pounder high explosive, empty; 6 and 8-inch high explosive, empty; 9.2-inch high explosive, empty.

Canada furnished to the end of March 48,000 war horses. The British Army Remount Commission secured 15,000; the French army, 8,000, and Canada the 25,000 remaining for her own army.

Canada gave from those engaged in the commercial life of the country 9,782 medical doctors, trained nurses and chemists.

Canada gave expert well drillers when water was an urgent necessity in the Gallipoli expedition. Canada's two great ice-breakers and the men operating them were the means by which Russian waters were kept open, making possible shipments to Archangel. When railroads were being constructed in France, Canadian engineers and bridgemen were among the chief workers.

In the Dominion in 1915, in spite of the shortage of men, the greatest grain, fodder, and root crops in the history of the land were grown, yielding to the farmers the sum of $900,000,000.

Has Also Sent Huge Quantities of Munitions and Other Supplies.

In fact the only industries in Canada that were hurt by the war were the lobster, sealing and fur industry (the latter only at first, later boomed by reason of large war orders for coats, mitts, etc.) In the case of the sealing industry the bottoms engaged turned to transporting war supplies, and are making more than if engaged in ordinary occupation.

Canada, though engaged in tremendously costly war, is exceedingly prosperous. Even her savings bank deposits, instead of decreasing, as is usual in time of war, increased. In August, 1914, there was on deposit in the chartered banks of Canada $899,399,000. On March 31, 1916, there was on deposit $738,169,000, an increase of 10 per cent.

Another good example of the Dominion's financial position can be best given by citing the fact that in May, 1916, the Government, even burdened with the war, was able to advance to two Canadian transcontinental railways $23,000,000. In addition to this the Government is pushing actively to completion the railway to Hudson Bay, at a cost of $25,000,000.

Thus Canada has accomplished feats in raising men, money, and munitions that are little short of marvelous, and at the same time has carried on the regular businesses of life. The slogan "Business as Usual," adopted early in the war, has been more than lived up to.

Worms however generated, are found in the digestive tracts, where they set up disturbances detrimental to the health of the child. There can be no comfort for the little ones until the harmful intruders have been expelled. No better preparation for this purpose can be had than Miller's Worm Powders. They will immediately destroy the worms and correct the conditions that were favorable to their existence.

HIS FORMAL REPRIMAND.

It Was Not Exactly the Kind He Was Asked to Administer.

Dr. Simon Parvin, an English clergyman, was at times absurdly absent-minded. Once while he was visiting in the home of a very great lady who employed a large staff of servants, whom she kept under extremely rigid control, it chanced that two young footmen fell out about a pretty housemaid who had coquetted with both and so far forgot themselves as to engage in fistfights. The old countess was indignant. Her first intention was to dismiss the culprits, but they were excellent servants, and, moreover, the repentant maid tearfully interceded for them. The countess relented so far as to reduce the sentence to a formal reprimand before the other servants—a reprimand in the nature of a moral lecture to be duly administered by her distinguished guest. At her earliest request—she was herself confined to her room by gout—Dr. Parvin, a man of imposing presence and resonant voice, permitted himself to be escorted to the servants' hall. On his return she sent for him to come to her chamber to relate the result of his mission.

"A fine couple," said Dr. Parvin. "I should say, an excellent match."

"Match?" inquired the countess. "What match? Has the silly girl made up her mind between them, then? I vow, I thought she meant to jilt them both, and serve the boobies right. Pray tell me, how did John and Thomas receive their reprimand?"

"John? Thomas? Reprimand?" echoed Dr. Parvin vaguely; then, with a sudden dismaying flash of memory: "Dear me, I fear I have made a singular mistake! When I entered the room the younger servants were at the far end in a group, and the butler and housekeeper were together, quite near, immediately in front of me, in fact, standing side by side, and—in short, madam, I married them!"

He had, indeed; but, although astonished, they were fortunately not unwilling. They had, it happened, long been contemplating matrimony and were deterred only by fear of the countess' disapproval. Believing that she would not disapprove the act of her eminent guest, they had readily abetted Dr. Parvin in his error. The countess was angry, but her anger fell chiefly upon the absentminded divine. She gave him a piece of her mind that—if he had been any one else—he would not easily have forgotten.—Youth's Companion.

NOTE AND COMMENT

A German military writer praises British tenacity. It's a sure sign Germany is beaten when her orators and writers start to praise the enemy. Does the kaiser hope that by this method he will soften the blow of defeat?

Vermont, Ill., Union: Mrs. Elizabeth Blair had a chicken to hatch the other day out of an egg that was laid several weeks ago and was left in the nest for a nest egg and had not been set on only when the hens were on to lay.

Under the caption, "What has happened to Germany?" the London Daily Express says: "Suddenly the veil is lifted and the true state of affairs is disclosed in the latest German newspapers. They admit defeat at Verdun and describe it not only as a military, but also as a moral defeat, 'the percussion of which is at this moment felt so seriously in the Balkans.' They clamor for peace and renounce any ambition of annexation. A veritable disease of truth telling has broken out among them." The Berlin Vorwaerts is quoted as saying: "A truce with England must be arranged even at the sacrifice of some of Germany's chief ambitions."

The man who carelessly tosses a bit of waste paper into the streets seldom stops to think that the act is a contribution to the possible stopping of traffic, yet the Electric Railway Journal has compiled statistics showing that in a single day and night the New York subway is compelled to cart away five ton of paper that litters its stations, steps and tracks. This would be sufficient in only a few weeks to compel suspension of train service, if cleaners were not kept constantly at work. The numbers of bundles of waste paper carried out of the subway in six months was 35,000, and this and other jobs of cleaning required the services of a hundred men.

Shot Deer With Quicksilver Bullet

I've heard them tell about an old hunter out West who was out of lead when a deer happened along. It was winter time and he couldn't find a stone or anything else that would take the place of a bullet. It was extremely cold weather—way below zero and the mercury was frozen in the thermometer. He was a resourceful man and so broke off the mercury bulb and dropped the frozen pellet of quicksilver into his trusty gun and his family feasted on venison for many days. He shot it in the forehead and the deer died of quicksilver on the brain.

BROOKE

The annual Harvest Thanksgiving service will be held in St. James' church on Sunday, Sept. 24th, at 2.30 in the afternoon. The Rev. D. Cornish, rector of Forest, will preach. The thank offering will be given to the Mission work of the church.

The regular meeting of the Brooke Women's Institute was held at Mrs. Duncan Campbell's on Sept. 7th. There being about forty present a very pleasant afternoon was spent. The meeting opened by singing the Maple Leaf, after which the Napier branch gave a splendid program. Mrs. Hawes read an excellent paper on "Life and Work of Shakespeare". The Misses Denning then rendered a duet "O Canada," which was much appreciated. This was followed by an instructive paper, "Noted Women of Today," by Miss McAlister. Mrs. George Denning gave a very pleasing solo, "Every Soldier is my Sweetheart." Then an interesting paper on "Music" by Mrs. Bier and "The Hour" read by Mrs. M. Campbell terminated the program, and the meeting came to a close by singing God Save the King, after which the hostess served a delicious lunch.

Obituary

The community was shocked to hear of the sudden death of Margaret Mayhood, wife of E. J. Phippen, of Bosanquet, on Friday the 1st of September 1916, in her 78th year.

Deceased was born in the township of West Williams but has been a resident of Bosanquet for the past twenty years and was very highly respected by all who knew her.

Mrs. Phippen was twice married her first husband was Joseph McMurray of West Williams, with whom she lived for thirty-three years in happy unity. From her first marriage she leaves one daughter, Mrs. John Marshall, of Warwick, and two sisters, Mrs. Dowling and Mrs. Cline, of Arkona; also four grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

On Sunday the 3rd, after a short service at the house by Rev. Mr. Foot, of Theford, a large company of sympathizing friends followed the mortal remains to Arkona Cemetery where they were tenderly laid to rest.

The Cost of Living

That there is a reason behind the cry, "the high cost of living" can be readily gained from a perusal of the following prices paid in Woodstock last week and the prices paid ten years ago for the corresponding week:—

THE TRUE STORY OF A WOMAN WHO WOULDN'T

ONCE there was a woman who declared up and down that she wouldn't wear glasses. Very well for a time—but time kept going on—when reading became difficult she would squint her eyes and thus obtain better vision—but time kept going on—by and by she was using all the muscles of her face to squint her eyes—then came those tell-tale wrinkles—here and there at first, then everywhere. Her excuse for not wearing glasses was that they made her look older.

"But the wrinkles were there, beyond repair."

Don't be like the woman who wouldn't wear glasses do keep the eyes good

Hay and Wagon Burned

While Hugh H. Currie of the Longwoods Road, Mosa, was drawing a load of baled hay to Glencoe for shipment for Mr. Cloonan on Thursday the hay caught fire while he was on No. 4 street. The fire had gained such headway before it was noticed that it was impossible to extinguish it, and hay, rack and wagon were consumed. Mr. Currie tried by hitching the horses to the end of the tongue to upset the load in the ditch and save the wagon, but was unsuccessful. He had one hand badly burned. The load contained about 2 1/2 tons and the wagon and rack were nearly new.

 Mr. Currie had struck a match to light his pipe. The head of the match broke off and fell down between the bales of hay. Little, however, was thought of this until a few minutes later flames shot up from between the bales.

WAR LOAN

DOMINION OF CANADA

Issue of $100,000,000 5% Bonds Maturing 1st October, 1931.

PAYABLE AT PAR AT

OTTAWA, HALIFAX, ST. JOHN, CHARLOTTETOWN, MONTREAL, TORONTO, WINNIPEG, REGINA, CALGARY, VICTORIA.

INTEREST PAYABLE HALF-YEARLY, 1st APRIL, 1st OCTOBER.
 PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST PAYABLE IN GOLD.

ISSUE PRICE 97 1/2

A FULL HALF-YEAR'S INTEREST WILL BE PAID ON 1st APRIL, 1917.
 THE PROCEEDS OF THE LOAN WILL BE USED FOR WAR PURPOSES ONLY.

THE MINISTER OF FINANCE offers herewith, on behalf of the Government, the above named bonds for subscription at 97 1/2, payable as follows:—
 10 per cent on application;
 30 " " 16th October, 1916;
 30 " " 15th November, 1916;
 27 1/2 " " 15th December, 1916.
 The total allotment of bonds of this issue will be limited to one hundred million dollars exclusive of the amount (if any) paid for by the surrender of bonds as the equivalent of cash under the terms of the War Loan prospectus of 22nd November, 1915.

The instalments may be paid in full on the 16th day of October, 1916, or on any instalment due date thereafter, under discount at the rate of four per cent per annum. All payments are to be made to a chartered bank for the credit of the Minister of Finance. Failure to pay any instalment when due will render previous payments liable to forfeiture and the allotment to cancellation.

Subscriptions, accompanied by a deposit of ten per cent of the amount subscribed, must be forwarded through the medium of a chartered bank. Any branch in Canada of any chartered bank will receive subscriptions and issue provisional receipts.

This loan is authorized under Act of the Parliament of Canada, and both principal and interest will be a charge upon the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

Forms of application may be obtained from any branch in Canada of any chartered bank and at the office of any Assistant Receiver General in Canada.

Subscriptions must be for even hundreds of dollars.

In case of partial allotments the surplus deposit will be applied towards payment of the amount due on the October instalment.

Scrip certificates, non-negotiable or payable to bearer in accordance with the choice of the applicant for registered or bearer bonds, will be issued, after allotment, in exchange for the provisional receipts.

When the scrip certificates have been paid in full and payment endorsed thereon by the bank receiving the money, they may be exchanged for bonds, when prepared, with coupons attached, payable to bearer or registered as to principal, or for fully registered bonds, when prepared, without coupons, in accordance with the application.

Delivery of scrip certificates and of bonds will be made through the chartered banks.

The issue will be exempt from taxes—including any income tax—imposed in pursuance of legislation enacted by the Parliament of Canada.

The bonds with coupons will be issued in denominations of $100, $500, $1,000. Fully registered bonds without coupons will be issued in denominations of $1,000, $5,000 or any authorized multiple of $5,000.

The bonds will be paid at maturity at par at the office of the Minister of Finance and Receiver General at Ottawa, or at the office of the Assistant Receiver General at Halifax, St. John, Charlottetown, Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary, or Victoria.

The interest on the fully registered bonds will be paid by cheque, which will be remitted by post. Interest on bonds with coupons will be paid on surrender of coupons. Both cheques and coupons will be payable free of exchange at any branch in Canada of any chartered bank.

Subject to the payment of twenty-five cents for each new bond issued, holders of fully registered bonds without coupons will have the right to convert into bonds of the denomination of $1,000 with coupons, and holders of bonds with coupons will have the right to convert into fully registered bonds of authorized denominations without coupons at any time on application to the Minister of Finance.

The books of the loan will be kept at the Department of Finance, Ottawa.

Application will be made in due course for the listing of the issue on the Montreal and Toronto Stock Exchanges.

Recognized bond and stock brokers will be allowed a commission of one-quarter of one per cent on allotments made in respect of applications bearing their stamp, provided, however, that no commission will be allowed in respect of the amount of any allotment paid for by the surrender of bonds issued under the War Loan prospectus of 22nd November, 1915. No commission will be allowed in respect of applications on forms which have not been printed by the King's Printer.

Subscription Lists will close on or before 23rd September, 1916.

HEALTHIEST ONE IN THE FAMILY

No Sign Of Dropsy And Kidney Trouble Since Taking "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

HATTIE WARREN
Port Robinson, Ont., July 8th, 1915.
"We have used "Fruit-a-tives" in our house for over three years and have always found them a good medicine. Our little girl, Hattie, was troubled with Kidney Disease. The Doctor said she was threatened with Dropsy. Her limbs and body were all swollen and we began to think she could not live. Finally, we decided to try "Fruit-a-tives". She began to show improvement after we had given her a few tablets. In a short time, the swelling had all gone down and her flesh began to look more natural. Now she is the healthiest one in the family and has no signs of the old ailment. We can not say too much for "Fruit-a-tives" and would never be without them."

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Making A Match

It Was Done on Practical Principle.

By ELINOR MARSH

Bob Wynkoop was the only son of a mother who doted on him and who was especially fearful that he would make a misalliance. One day Bob fell ill, and his mother was obliged to send for a nurse to attend him. The young woman was comely, and Mrs. Wynkoop was troubled.

"Doctor," said Mrs. Wynkoop when Dr. Sloane was about to leave after a visit of her son, "how is he this morning?"

"The fever has not yet left him, and he is still very weak. By the by, Mrs. Wynkoop, there is a warning I desire to give you. I know that you are particular as to whom your son shall marry. My experience is that a sick man attended by a nurse, seeing no one else, having every need gratified by her, is liable to fall in love with her. I have had many a patient who has married his nurse, sometimes—I may say usually—against the wishes of his family."

"Thank you for the hint, doctor. Miss Wadsworth is a very pretty girl, but not one whom I would choose for a daughter-in-law. I shall attend to the matter."

"In that case I would do so at once. Convalescence is the period of danger."

The doctor departed, and Mrs. Wynkoop gave herself up to thought. The wife she desired for her son was a young woman of common sense and very practical. She was not beautiful—indeed, she was considered homely—but what she lacked in beauty she made up in character. Miss Edith Tweed, the young lady referred to, had never met Bob Wynkoop, and he was unconscious of her existence. Bob's mother had considered bringing them together, but had thus far taken no steps to effect that purpose. The doctor's warning had given her an idea. She called on Miss Tweed and said to her:

"My dear, I am aware that you have no fortune and that you are looking for a position. I have one in view for you."

"What is it, Mrs. Wynkoop?"
"The wife of my son Robert."
"Good gracious!"

"I am a practical woman and so are you. I wish my son to marry and I don't wish him to marry a doll. I wish his wife to be a woman of good hard horse sense. Ten to one unless I manage to make a match for him instead of permitting him to make one for himself he'll fall into the hands of some little fool or some designing woman who will make life hot for him."

"But will your son permit you to choose for him?"
"Not by any means. I have a plan. He is recovering from an illness and about to enter the convalescent stage. The doctor has told me that men patients are prone to fall in love with their nurses. I intend to discharge the nurse who has been attending him and I desire you to take her place."

Miss Tweed, being a young woman of marked equanimity, was not as much taken aback at this proposal as was to have been expected. She made no immediate reply to the proposition, but seemed to be turning it over in her mind. Mrs. Wynkoop went on:

"Robert, I will say—being his mother, I should not say it—is a very estimable young man. He has no bad habits, is devoted to his business and I sincerely believe would make any good woman an excellent husband. He has a hundred thousand dollars in his own right and will inherit a hundred thousand dollars from me."

Miss Tweed after further consideration said:

"Mrs. Wynkoop, what you are saying is very complimentary to me. This is virtually a proposition to pay me two hundred thousand dollars for—what?"

"For your character, common sense and such other qualities as will conspire to make a good wife, and the price is altogether inadequate."

One morning Bob Wynkoop found himself lying in bed with that sensation of relief which comes with the dawn of convalescence. He had been too ill to notice his nurse, and now was the first time that he had any idea of her appearance. The only thing he noticed about her was that she had no pretense to beauty. Seeing him looking at her with something akin to interest, which indicated that he was better than he had been, she went to him, gazed down upon him sympathetically, laid her soft hand on his forehead, then took his wrist between her thumb and fingers. Having made a note of his condition, she said:

NO ALUM

"Would you like some nourishment?"
"Yes."
"What do you think would taste good?"

"A slice of rare roast beef."
"I fear that would be too hearty for you just now. Shall it be a cereal with cream, a soft boiled egg or a baked potato?"

"All three."
Miss Tweed left the room and returned with a cup of bouillon.

A week passed. One morning when a bright sun shone in through the windows Bob had had his breakfast and with his head raised on pillows was about to peruse the morning paper, which his nurse had handed him. He looked up at her and said:

"Miss Tweed, you're a peach."
"Wait a moment before you begin your paper. I haven't made the record yet."

She took his wrist in her fingers and counted the pulsations.

"I'm sure I should have died had it not been for your care," said Bob.

Miss Tweed noted his pulse and took up the body thermometer.

"You're not only a peach; you're a brick."
Miss Tweed thrust the thermometer into his mouth, thereby stopping these expressions of admiration. Nevertheless he continued to gaze upon her. When she removed the thermometer he broke loose again while she was making the record on the ruled paper used for the purpose. He told her she was the loveliest creature he had ever seen; that her cheeks were roses, her lips corals, her eyes wondrous, through which her pure soul looked from heaven.

He had got thus far when she stopped him.

"You are not saying all this," she said. "It's imagination talking. For a week you have seen no one but me. We nurses are used to this sort of thing. Every sick man we serve says the same thing. You will not have been out ten days before the scales will fall from your eyes and you will see me as I am."

"I will never see in you anything but the loveliest, purest, tenderest woman that ever lived. Haven't you been bored by artists wishing you to sit for a model for a Madonna?"

"I can't say that I have. When you have recovered you'll say, 'How could I ever have considered that girl beautiful?'"

"I'll do no such thing. To prove that I am in earnest, I ask you now to be my wife."
"And in thirty days you'll ask me to release you."

"I swear!"
"Very well. I'll promise to be your wife, but one month after you have regained your health I'll ask you to release me. You will be only too glad to do so."

"You've made me inexpressibly happy," he said, taking her hand in his. He would have drawn her to him for a kiss, but she would not permit.

"Not till you have refused to be released," she said.

"I'll never release you," he said impatiently.

Exactly one month from the day Bob Wynkoop returned to business he received a note from Miss Edith Tweed, inclosing her likeness and stating that as a mere form she asked to be released from what might be considered an engagement. She trusted that he would not consider from her writing him that she attached any importance to a proposal from a sick man to his nurse. The reason for her writing was to relieve his mind in case he felt differently from what he had a month ago about the matter.

Bob took the letter to his mother and said lugubriously:

"Mother, I'm in a hole."
"Oh, Robert?"

"That nurse I had when I was ill. I proposed to her."
"Oh, Robert?"

"I think I must have been out of my head."
"Did she accept you?"

"Yes, but with the understanding that she would ask to be released one month after I got out. She's made the request and sent me her picture. There's the note and there's the picture. She's not a Venus, is she?"

Mrs. Wynkoop glanced at the note and looked carefully at the picture.

"There's character in that face, Robert," she said.

"Do you think so, mother?" he asked, looking over her shoulder at the picture.

"I certainly do. What reply are you going to make to her note?"

"That's where I'm in the hole. I swore that I would never release her."

"Robert," said the mother sympathetically, but with a certain firmness in her tone, "I hope my boy will never go back on his word."

"Oh, mother; you don't think I'm stuck, do you?"

"That's not the way to look at it, my son. My advice to you is to write Miss Tweed admitting that a courtship under the circumstances is not a fair test of whether two persons are fitted to make each other happy, but you propose that her request to be released be postponed till both of you know more of each other."

"That will make it easier for me, won't it, mother?"

"Decidedly."
Miss Tweed assented to Bob's proposition, and Mrs. Wynkoop invited her to spend a few weeks with her as her guest. She appeared, instead of in uniform, becomingly dressed, and Bob remarked that she wasn't so homely, after all. Mrs. Wynkoop contrived to leave the two together a good deal during the visit, and they seemed to be at least quite companionable. One day Bob said to his mother:

"That girl has more sense than any woman I ever met."
"Horse sense, you mean."

"Yes, horse sense. She'll never trouble her husband, whoever he may be, with any fool notions."
"And he'll find that a great advantage."

"A woman don't keep her good looks but a few years, does she?"

"The prettiest woman in the world will have no more beauty than your mother in time."

"You don't need beauty, mother; you're just as good without it."
And Bob kissed her lovingly.

Well, the upshot of it all was that Bob married Miss Tweed. She is now forty and just as good looking as she was at twenty. Bob adores her.

MANY IN WATFORD TRY SIMPLE MIXTURE

Many Watford people are surprised at the QUICK action of simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-ika. This simple remedy acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel, removing such surprising foul matter that ONE SPOONFUL relieves almost ANY CASE of constipation, sour stomach or gas. A few doses often relieve or prevent appendicitis. A short treatment helps chronic stomach trouble. The INSTANT, easy action of Adler-ika is astonishing.—Taylor & Son, druggist.

A FRUGAL SAILOR.

Great Japanese Admiral Lives a Simple Life.

The great naval hero of the Russo-Japanese War, Admiral Togo, lives at his home of thirty-six years in Kami Kokubancho, Tokio. He is 70 years old. Salto Man writes of him in the Tokio Advertiser: He is but five feet two inches in height, but muscular, weighing about 145 pounds. He lives a quiet life with the Countess. They have three maids and two boy servants.

His eldest son, 32 years of age, is just back from London; and the second son, 28, a graduate of the Naval Cadet School, is now studying in the Gynny College. The latter comes home three or four times a year, and for the rest the distinguished couple lead a lonely sort of life. They do not seem to pay any attention to their personal comfort. Luxury is absolutely unknown in the Togo home. When the Admiral is at leisure, he amuses himself by a saunter in his garden, surrounded by its old style black wooden fence, or playing with his favorite dog.

Since his illness about three years ago he never drinks, except a little foreign wine before he goes to bed. In a small stable near the house are two chestnut colored steeds which were the coronation gift of the Emperor. In the shed adjoining the stable there is a carriage which is always in the neatest state imaginable. Simplicity and cleanliness of habit can be seen in the outside appearance of his home life, we hear from the neighborhood of the neighborhood nothing but most impressive stories of "insignificant bills," always the same fish order and a "very small" meat order.

The barber clips the hero's hair short twice a month, except that he has an extra cut when the Emperor calls for him. He pays 25 cents every time. "I never see him except in cotton clothes, and in the parlor there is nothing that can be called an article of luxury." The rice dealer and the draper tell similar tales. The green grocer was especially reverent. The bills for vegetables seldom go beyond 75 cents a month, but "it would be a great rudeness for a man like me to make any comment about a godlike man like Togo." When the Admiral entertains, however, the feast is served generously from a nearby restaurant.

BACKACHE, LUMBAGO AND RHEUMATIC TROUBLES.

Dear Mr. Editor—I wish to state that I suffered greatly from backache, lumbago and rheumatic troubles. I used "Anuric," the latest discovery of Doctor Pierce for backache and kidney troubles, and I can cheerfully recommend the "Anuric Tablets" to anyone suffering from any of these maladies.

Yours truly,
J. F. GARBER.

NOTE: It is now asserted with confidence that these painful effects due to uric acid in the system are entirely eradicated. A new remedy, called "Anuric," has been discovered by Dr. Pierce, and is the cause of drainage outward of the uric acid which it comes in contact with in the body. It will ward off backache, headache, and the darting pains and aches of articular or muscular rheumatism—of those diseases which are caused by too much uric acid, such as gout, asthma, sciatica, renal calculus. "Anuric" prolongs life because old people usually suffer from hardening and thickening of the walls of the arteries, due to the excess of uric acid in the blood and tissues.

Dr. Pierce, who is director and chief physician at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., has been testing this wonderful medicine for the relief of over-worked and weakened kidneys. The relief obtained by sufferers has been so satisfactory that he determined to place "Anuric" with the principal druggists in town where people could get this ready-to-use medicine. "Anuric" is not harmful or poisonous, but aids nature in throwing off those poisons within the body which cause so much suffering, pain and misery. Scientists assert this remedy is 37 times more potent than lithia. Send 10 cents for large trial package.

"Anuric" is building up a reputation as good as Dr. Pierce's other well-known medicines which have been proved reliable during nearly fifty years, such as Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription for the ills of women, Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, the liver regulator, and Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for red blood.

Radium and Agriculture.

A series of remarkably interesting experiments have been recently carried out in the West of England by certain scientists to demonstrate the extraordinary effect on vegetable growth produced by the addition to the soil of radium-bearing and radioactive materials.

It appears that radishes and other root crops are obtained nearly five times as large as those grown in untreated soil at the same time. If this process could be generally adopted by our agriculturists the increase in the prosperity of the nation would be very large.

The initial cost of such a system has hitherto stood in the way of its general adoption. But the recent discovery by MM. Detaille and Lafayaise, the two distinguished French chemists of Paris, and Professor Scammell, M.S.C.I., of Hadleigh, Essex, that coal contains radium, which in the form of "lignite," can be used for the radiumization of the soil, places the process within the reach of every agriculturist in the country. Fruits, flowers, and vegetables can be grown in a much shorter time, in much larger quantities, and of finer quality by the use of "lignite," the cost of the treatment of an ordinary-sized garden being very trifling.

Electric-Motor for Dentists.

Recently, a miniature electric motor has been devised for the dentist's use which is so small and weighs so little that it may be used as a hand-tool. A light electric cord connects the motor with a lamp-socket. The motor is one of the smallest ever made for commercial use. Its weight is but 5 1/2 oz., and it is 1 3/4 in. long by 1 1/2 in. in diameter. It operates at a speed of 15,000 revolutions per minute. It can be used either on direct or on alternating current. A control-switch is mounted on the motor where it can be operated conveniently by the hand. The speed of the motor may be controlled by the foot.

Pocket Flash-Light.

For communicating after night, the signal corps of the British army is equipped with an electric flashlight apparatus which is easily portable and very efficient for medium ranges. In size, and to a somewhat less degree in appearance, it is similar to an ordinary camera. It is made substantially with the corners reinforced with metal pieces, and is fitted on the top with a telegraph key. A large lens is provided at the front of the box, inside of which the batteries are carried. The light is flashed by means of the telegraph key, enabling code messages to be transmitted rapidly in much the same manner as by wire.

He Got Furlough.

A young seaman belonging to Cullen, Banffshire, who has been interned at Groningen since the fall of Antwerp, has arrived home on parole, leave having been granted for a few weeks on account of the illness of his mother. He does not look any the worse of his long stay in Holland. A young fisher girl from Cullen is going out with his party, when he returns, to marry one of the Perthshire seamen who are interned at Groningen.

Melton-Lorrman

A pleasant event took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Lorrman, Inwood, on September 5, when their only daughter, Iva Pearl, became the bride of Roy Melton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Melton, Brook. To the sweet strains of Lohengrin's "Bridal Chorus," played by Miss Edna Campbell, the bride was led by her father to the bridegroom, waiting under a beautiful arch of green, studded like stars with asters.

The bride's dress was of white silk crepe de chine and chiffon, with silver ornaments, and she carried a bride's bouquet of asters and wore asters in her hair.

The impressive marriage ceremony of the Presbyterian church was read by Rev. N. A. Campbell, of Inwood, to the subdued strains of music from the piano. Mr. and Mrs. Melton, on their return, will reside in their pretty new home in North Brooke.

Mitton-Littleproud

A quiet wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Littleproud, Inwood, on Friday, Sept. 1st, at 10 o'clock a.m., when their daughter, Irene, was married to Mr. Frank Mitton, the popular M. C. K. operator there, the officiating clergyman being Rev. A. J. Loveday.

The bride wore white crepe de chine and carried a bouquet of roses and asters. After the ceremony and the signing of the register, a dainty and delicious luncheon was served. The young couple motored to Watford, where they took the train for Toronto and other eastern cities.

The guests were the immediate relatives of the bride and groom, including Mr. and Mrs. Roy Littleproud, of Muncey, and Mr. and Mrs. Mitton and family of Ridgetown. A number of beautiful and useful gifts gave testimony to the esteem felt for both bride and groom. Mr. and Mrs. Mitton will make their home in Inwood.

CHOP STUFF

Mrs. Duncan L. Ferguson of Russell st., Sarnia, has returned home after spending one week at Toronto exhibition.

The strange find of a lower set of teeth in excellent condition was made a few days ago on a lawn in Leamington.

Geo. Berdan, 35 years old, formerly of Thedford, was electrocuted by the current from a feed wire of the Edison Illuminating Company, Detroit, which had been broken. Berdan saw the hanging wire, flashing incessantly against fallen telephone wires, as it dangled from a tree. He procured a broomstick, and sought to pull the feed wire away, but it became dislodged suddenly, and fell upon him, and he fell in his tracks.

Mayor Stritret of Petrolia, at the last council meeting paid a high tribute to Mr. Wm. Cyle, principal of the high school of that town, who has resigned from that position after 30 years' service as assistant and principal. He spoke of Mr. Cyle's long term of office, his scholarship, his faithful service, his sterling character, and the salutary influence his teaching and his life had had upon the boys and girls of Petrolia who had passed through the high school there.

While John Warner was engaged in digging a drain on Frank street, Strathroy, at the rear of the Royal Bank, on Friday morning, the earth caved in pinning him firmly in the loose earth. His head and shoulders were above the cave in, otherwise the result might have been quite serious. As it was, willing hands soon dug him out. Although no bones were broken or other injuries sustained, he was quite weak from the shock for some time afterwards and suffered considerable pain.

Clerk's Advertisement of Court in Newspaper

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that a Court will be held, pursuant to The Ontario Voters' Lists Act, by His Honor the Judge of the County Court of the County of LAMBTON at the

TOWN HALL, WARWICK

—ON—
Tuesday the 19th day of September 1916
—AT 8 O'CLOCK P. M.—
to hear and determine complaints of errors and omissions in the Voters' List of the Municipality of the Township of Warwick for 1916.
Dated the first day of September 1916.

N. HERBERT,
Clerk of the Municipality of the Township of Warwick.

The Late Thomas Doherty

The death of Mr. Thomas Doherty, Mayor of Sarnia, which came with awful suddenness on Wednesday evening of last week, was mentioned in last issue. He dropped dead at the close of an address he gave at the ceremonies attending the laying of the corner stone of the new Sunday School of St. Paul's church, Sarnia. In company with the other gentlemen who were to address the gathering Mayor Doherty ascended the platform, and in less than half an hour his lifeless form was carried therefrom by his friends who had only a few minutes before been attentively listening to his remarks.

Mayor Doherty was born in Lasark County and was raised in the township of Plympton in this county. From his earliest childhood he displayed great aptitude as a mechanic. He started a foundry and implement factory in Watford when quite young and built up a thriving and prosperous business in farm implements. He sold out the Watford business to the late Mr. D. Thom in 1884 and established the stove foundry in Sarnia which he conducted up to the time of his death. Self educated to a large extent Mr. Doherty was an extensive reader of scientific works and had a well stored mind on mechanical problems the benefit of which was not only shown in his own particular line of business but was given gratuitously to the city in connection with the waterworks equipment and incidental troubles and difficulties arising in the operation of the plant.

Deceased was aged 73 years and is survived by his widow and the following sons and daughters: Jas., of Chicago; John and William, of Sarnia; Mrs. (Dr.) Logie, Mrs. W. A. Watson, Mrs. Harry Turnbull, Mrs. C. H. Belton, Sarnia; and Mrs. Gordon Rutherford, Hutchison, Kansas.

The remains were laid to rest Saturday afternoon in Lakeview Cemetery. All business was suspended in the city and thousands turned out to pay their last respects to the former chief magistrate. The service was attended by the City Council in a body, accompanied by several of the other county and city officials. Many representatives of the more distinguished citizens were there with a large number of the employees of the Doherty Stove Works, of which the Mayor was president.

The funeral rites were quietly and impressively carried out. The Rev. J. J. Paterson, of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, conducted the service at the house and also at the grave. As the remains were placed in the motor hearse hundreds of heads were bared in solemnity. The several blocks of automobiles, which were lined up along Front Street, carried nearly 400 mourners to the grave. This was the first automobile funeral that has been held in the city. The pallbearers were Dr. Wm. Logie, Harry Turnbull, Chester H. Belton and W. A. Watson, sons-in-law living in Sarnia, and Gordon Rutherford, a son-in-law, living in Hutchison, Kansas, and Lester Brown a nephew residing at Pontiac, Mich.

THE ROAD TO HEALTH

Lies Through Rich Blood and Strong Nerves.

Debility is a word that fairly expresses many ailments under one name. Poor blood, weak nerves, impaired digestion, loss of flesh, no energy, no ambition, listless and indifferent. This condition is perhaps the penalty of overwork or the result of neglected health. You must regain your health or succumb entirely. There is just one absolutely sure way to new health—take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills will bring you new life, fill every vein with new, rich blood, restore elasticity to your step, the glow of health to wan cheeks. They will supply you with new energy and supply the vital forces of mind and body.

There is not a coroner in Canada where Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have not brought health and hope and happiness to some weak debilitated person. If you have not used this medicine yourself ask your neighbors and they will tell you of some sufferer who has been restored to health and strength through using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. One who has all ways a good word to say for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is Mrs. Luther Smith, of West Hill, Ont., who writes:—"I feel it a duty as well as a pleasure to tell you what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done for me. I had an operation for tumors. The operation in itself was quite successful, but I was so badly run down and anaemic that I did not gain strength, and the incision did not heal, and kept discharging for nearly a year, until I weighed only eighty-six pounds and could scarcely walk across the floor. I had got so sick of doctors' medicine that I would vomit when I tried to take it. A good friend urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, so I bought a box. Before they were gone I thought I could feel a difference, and I got a further supply. By the time I had taken five boxes the wound ceased discharging and commenced to heal. I took in all thirteen boxes and am to-day enjoying the best health of my life and weigh 140 pounds. I sincerely hope anyone suffering as I did will give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial, and I feel sure they will not be disappointed."

You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The county of Elgin is a great bean-growing district, but this year, owing to the weather conditions, the crop will not be half what it usually is. Many farmers state that they do not expect more than five to ten bushels per acre, while others have given up the crop as a failure completely.
