CITY OF TORONTO

Brief Sketch of "The Queen City of the West" Information for the Traveller and Pleasure Seeker

NOTICING Toronto from the decks of any of the steamers that come into its harbor, travellers or holiday seekers are very unfavorably impressed with its appearance. At hist sight nothing but bare, low-lying stretches of land meet the view, but as the boat approaches the northern shore of the lake and enters the bay bearing the city's name, through either of the channels at the eastern or western points of the Island, the view of the city is imposing, and its forest of spires and many factory shafts give evidence of a prosperous and numerous community. The site of the city was originally very marshy, and in consequence it was of old known as "Muddy York," the latter being its sometimes name. The history of the town is comparatively uninteresting until the years 1812-15, when the place was sacked and partially destroyed by the American forces. Time, however, obliterates old scars, and the Toronto of to-day shows no sign of that early conflict. What the century did for our neighbors it has in no inappreciable way done for us; and both people have reasons to be thankful for the blessings of the new civilization it has been theirs so auspiciously to found and advance.

When our town was incorporated in 1834, the name of York was dropped and Sir John Colborne, who was at the head of affairs in this country, altered its style back to the old Indian name, the meaning and derivation of which is a little obscure, some being of the opinion that the word comes from the Mohawk Dr-on-do, "trees in the water"; others that it is an Indian name signifying "place of meeting."

At the first election of the city W. Lyon Mackenzie was elected as its first mayor. He was foremost in the Rebellion of 1836-38, which was the cause of great trouble and depression, but afterwards proved a great blessing, for by it Toronto had years of great commercial prosperity, and now ranks high as the first financial city in the Dominion.

As before stated, the immediate points of the city lie somewhat low, yet there is a grand ascent, and the lines of Tom Moore.

"Where the blue hills of old Toronto shed Their evening shadows o'er Ontario's bed," may have had a more true application in former days than some critics of the present seem to approve. The land, a mile from the lake, is 108 feet above the water's level, and two miles further on it is some 250 feet; four or five miles north the city seems to be at one's feet.

Nine lines of railroad, as follows, now have terminal stations in the City: The Grand Trunk Railway operating the East and West divisions, the Southern Midland and Northern divisions; the Canadian Pacific Railway operating the Toronto, Grey and Bruce, the Credit Valley and the Ontario and Quebec divisions; and the Canadian Northern Ontario operating its own line from Sudbury to Toronto. During the season of navigation steamers run to and from all points; and numerous schooners make Toronto their port of entry and exit.

In the City of Toronto there are at present about 65,000 public and private buildings, and the population is placed at 400,000. The City of Toronto has advantages over most cities and municipalities, owning large tracts of freehold property in the best business centres, for which it receives a large annual revenue from leaseholders. The yearly civic income and expenditure is over $7.250,000 as an average. The assessed value of the property this year (1910) is $309,147,053.

The city is divided into seven wards, each ward sending three representative aldermen to the City Conneil.

Toronto is celebrated for its acquatic sports, the renowned scullers, Haulan and O'Connor, having given an impetus to this class of sport and made Toronto Bay famous throughout the world. The bay on the city side is one long line of public and private boat houses. Of the former, the most prominent are the Queen City Yacht Club, Toronto Canoe Club, Argonant Rowing Club, Don Rowing Club, and of the latter almost one unbroken line. During the boating season, in the afternoon and evening, the bay is the scene of a great carnival, which in winter is varied by ice-boating—a very exciting sport.

A visit to the Island will be appreciated by all. In the centre is the Island Park and the Island Club House of the Royal Canadian Yacht Club. At Hanlan's Point there is a roof garden, an electric merry-go-round, one quarter mile bicycle track, lacrosse and baseball park, and various other amusements. The whole space is brilliantly illuminated at night by multi-colored electric lights and the various bands of the city play alternate evenings during the season.

The golf lover will find many beautiful links in and around the city, principal among which are The Lambton Golf and Country Chib. The Rosedale, The High Park and The Toronto Golf Association. Guests of The Queen's will be made welcome at The Lambton Club on presentation of eard, which can be procured at the office of "The Queen's."

The traveller arriving at any of the railway stations or by the steamboats, will find the QUEEN'S HOTEL within easy distance.

Passing into the city the visitors will see that the streets of Toronto are spacious, well laid out and regularly built. The main arteries of the city are Queen and Yonge Streets, which, crossing each other at right angles, divide the city into four large sections. Yonge Street runs north and south, Queen Street east and west.

YONGE STREET.

Starting from the foot of Yonge Street, named after Sir Geo. Yonge, northward from the bay, the most striking objects to be met are the Cusom House, Bank of Montreal, Board of Trade Building, the Bank of British North America, the Globe Building, and the Traders' Bank Building, said to be the highest building in Canada. The lower portion of Yonge Street, from King to the bay, is composed mostly of wholesale houses, while above King it is almost an unbroken line of retail shops of every description, and it is perhaps the most busy street in the city, many of the buildings being of line structure. Yonge Street is the great thoroughfare of the north, runs almost north and south, extending from the bay as far north as Holland Landing, a distance of thirty miles, and divides the city into two grand divisions. At the south-east corner of Nonge and King Streets are the handsome offices of the Canadian Pacific Railway, which are their headquarters in Toronto; across from these are the offices of the Grand Trunk Railway System.

HOLY TRINITY CHURCH.

The site of this heautiful edifice is in Trinity Square, between Alice and Louisa Streets, and was built by a lady whose name has never been known to the public. The endowment was anonymous, being £5,000 sterling, appropriated as follows: £3,000 to build the church, and £2,000 as the basis of an allowance for the incumbent. A short time ago a Memorial Brass was put up in the church to the memory of the donor.

ONTARIO COLLEGE OF PHARMACY.

In St. James' Square, 42 and 44 Gerrard Street, is the Ontario College of Pharmacy.

COLLEGE OF PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS.

The headquarters of the College is situated at the corner of Bay and Richmond Streets. The office of the Registrar of the College is at the rear of the buildings.

TEMPLE BUILDING.

On the north-west corner of Richmond and Bay Streets is the headquarters of the Independent Order of Foresters. The building, erected under the superintendence of the late Fig. Oronhyateka, is, if not the best, certainly among the best and most complete of its kind in the Dominion. The Temple is intended as an office building, but a portion of it is devoted to other purposes, and is used quite extensively for social functions of every description.

ONTARIO VETERINARY COLLEGE,

Is situated on Temperance Street, near Bay Street, and is the most important of its class in America. Students from all parts of Capada and the United States have graduated here, and almost every State of the neighboring Union and every county in Capada has its representative student.

CANADIAN INSTITUTE.

Is situated on Richmond Street, between Yonge and Church Streets, and will be found a place of interest to persons interested in science. The building contains a reading room well equipped with magazines, scientific and literary journals, etc. A splendid library of 6.000 volumes will be found upstairs. The Toronto Natural History Society also have rooms in the buildings.

KING STREET.

King Street is sixty-five feet in width, well built up with substantial brick and stone buildings, many of them being equal to any on the American continent. About fifty years ago it was completely composed of wooden structures and hardly passable to pedestrians, but now each side is lined with stately stores, where most of the business is done. The improvements on this street are advancing rapidly, and it is now one of the finest streets in Canada.

7 KING STREET WEST, TORONTO

Established 1835

At the west corner of King and Yonge Streets, we next notice, first, the fine building of the Dominion Bank, and then a little further west the handsome building occupied by the Bank of Commerce. Opposite this is the Manning Arcade Building, well worthy of a passing visit; a little farther west of this another fine building, probably one of the finest in the whole of Canada, erected and now occupied by the Canada Life Assurance Company, and near by (on Bay Street) is the Molsons Bank, then a succession of fine stores, some of recent erection, and of different styles of architecture, which cannot fail to attract attention.

St. Andrew's Church.

Upon the south side, a short distance farther on, stands St. Andrew's Church, which is, externally, one of the linest specimens of Norman architecture on the continent. Its entire effect is very striking.

GOVERNMENT HOUSE.

The residence of Lieut,-Governor Gibson is opposite the church, and is designed in the modern French style of architecture. Red brick is the material used in the walls, relieved with Ohio cut-stone dressings.

The main building is three storeys in height above the basement; the upper storey is partially in the roof, which is constructed on the Mansard principle; the sloping sides are very steep, covered with Melbourne slate, and relieved by handsome segmental domes, lighting the third storey apartments. The ridge is finished with moulded sides, and the deck is laid with the same material.

Towards Simeoe Street the frontage is about eighty-eight feet, and in the centre it rises to a tower seventy feet high, finished with a handsome wrought iron railing. The roof of the tower is of the same description as that of the main building, but starts from the balustrade, finished at the corners with panelled pedestals and carved vases.

AT the City Dairy Model Farm, "Dentonia Park," is produced a grade of milk of so high quality as to earn from the Milk Commission of the Academy of Medicine the title "Certified Milk." This is as near perfection as raw (unpasteurized) milk can go—it costs more than ordinary milk for us to produce—and for you to bny—but it's pure, NATIVELY pure! Try it.

The frontage of the main building towards King Street is about eighty-eight feet, and the kitchen wing extends 100 more, making a total of 188 feet. Covering the main entrance which is under the tower facing Sincoe Street, is a large, handsome carriage porch, supported on clusters of Corinthian columns resting on ent-stone pedestals. From the capitals angles with panelled pedestals and carved vases. The verandah of the south front is treated in a similar manner. The main doorway is deeply recessed with massive cut-stone arch and jams, and broad cut-stone steps, and leads into the vestibule, twelve feet square, which is separated by an elaborate screen, filled in with stained and embossed glass from an inner westibule or loggia of the same dimensions. This again is separated from the main hall by inside of the building is furnished in the most elaborate style and all modern conveniences. The grounds have been much altered and improved, and approaches of Nicholson pavement put to the entrances. Total cost of building, $102,000.

EXHIBITION BUILDINGS.

Were opened to the public by the Earl of Dufferin, then Governor-General of Canada, in September, 1878. The old Crystal Palace building, built mostly of wood and glass, which stood for so many years as a landmark of the Fair Grounds, was destroyed by fire a few years ago, and is replaced by buildings of much more modern appointments. The old Grand largest covered Grand Stand on the Exhibition authorities now boast of having the one gets an opportunity to view the immensity of this structure. The grounds are situated ought not to leave without paying a visit to what is conceded to be the finest Exhibition Park on the Continent.

LUNATIC ASYLUM.

This vast building stands further to the north on Queen Street, two miles and a half from the Central Market. It is located on a level plain, on a part of the old Garrison Commons, part of the Ordnance Land. Its front measures (verandah) included) 644 feet. The building is four storeys high. Two very large wings have been added to this institution, and it now ranks third in point of size and population on the Continent of America. The grounds adjoining the Asylum are highly cultivated, the ornamental part is very neatly kept and adds much to the enjoyment and healthfulness of the patients. At present there are in the Asylum proper, and the two adjoining hospitals, over 800 patients. The institution is under the direction of Daniel Clark, M.D., the Superintendent, assisted by a complete staff. New buildings to supersede this fine structure have been erected on a healthy elevated spot at Mimico, it being found necessary to move the immates, owing to the growth of the city and eneroachment of factories, etc.

ORPHANS' HOME.

The home for Orphans is situated on Dovercourt Road, and is built of red bricks relieved with black courses, the basement being faced with Credit Valley grey stone. The locality has been well chosen, being at once elevated, picturesque and airy. The building, which by the way, cost over $40,000, is well ventilated and supplied with all modern conveniences, with ample accommodation for over 200 boys and girls. Precaution has also been made in case of fire.

MERCER REFORMATORY.

The King Street cars going west convey the visitor to the Mercer Reformatory for Women. It is a red brick structure in a Gothic style of architecture. The building contains about 100 cells and rooms. Though a prison to all intents and purposes, the object of the institution is reformation rather than punishment. The cost of the building was about $90,000.

HOME FOR INCURABLES.

On Dunn Avenue, Parkdale, is a large, red brick building of light and cheerful appearance, occupied by one of Toronto's worthiest charities—Home for Incurables. A walk through the rooms will well repay the visitor. As may be expected from the name of the institution, those who enter the house are supposed to be diseased beyond hope of cure.

HIGH PARK.

Farther west is High Park, 320 acres, a magnificent stretch of alternate hill and dale, with beautiful trees and shrubbery. This fine park and grounds were formerly the property of the late J. G. Howard, architect, etc., who resided on the estate. Being a man desirous of benefitting his fellow creatures, he nobly presented a portion of this park to the city for recreation grounds. This took place during his life; on his death, which took place in the month of February, 1890, by his will be deeded the whole of his property and hall to the city, and thus provided for Toronto a place where her tired citizens can resort and enjoy themselves after the toils of the day or week are over. The generous donor is interred along with his wife in a massive stone mausoleum crected in the grounds and which he built during his life. The railing surrounding the stone is of great interest, having at one time formed part of the railing around the stately Cathedral of St. Paul, London, England. Another feature attached to them is that on the passage out the vessel was wrecked, but Mr. Howard's will was not to be thwarted; he had the rails recovered from the bottom of the St. Lawrence River by the aid of divers, and thus carried out his original intentions. The famed Grenadier Pond is situated on this property, and here boating and fishing can be indulged in. Leaving the park by the lake shore entrance, we turn our steps to the

HUMBER.

This is a favorite resort for picnics and excursions, has hotels, boat-houses, etc., and is a most enjoyable place for an afternoon's outing. Several romantic walks and drives can be made from this point, and the artist can find any amount of scope for the employment of his brush or pencil.

LORNE PARK.

A most attractive and favorite resort on account of its commanding location, extensive grounds, and its accessibility by electric car lines. The Park is now controlled by a company, who have erected a number of villas which can be rented by those desiring a rural retreat at a moderate cost. Those having business in the city can make the ourney to and fro in a very short space of time, and a commodions hotel will provide for those who wish to take advantage of the grounds for picnic purposes.

TRINITY COLLEGE.

Returning eastward along Queen Street, the visitor arrives at Trinity College, standing back some distance. It is a very handsome building in spacious grounds, and was erected in 1851, at a cost of $40,000, after plans prepared by Mr. Kivas Tully. The building is of white brick with white stone dressings and is designed in the third period of pointed English architecture. It has a frontage of 250 feet, facing south, with wings projecting east and west, 53 feet each. It is designed to accommodate eighty students, with class rooms, chapel, library, and museum; also private residences for the Provost and two senior professors. It is a great ornament to the unwearied zeal of the late Right Rev. Dr. Strachan, the first Lord Bishop of Toronto. The College is the training school of the clergy of the diocese, and has a high reputation.

During the year 1899 several additional wings were added and extensive alterations made to the Chapel.

OSGOODE HALL.

A short distance further brings the traveller to Osgoode Hall, which is named after the late Hon. Wm. Osgoode, Chief Justice of Upper Canada, and contains rooms and offices for the Superior Courts of the Province. The cost of the building has amounted to about $300,000. The grounds comprise about six acres of land.

The building is of classic style and is of great beauty, the centre hall being very fine,

The Courts of Queen's Bench, Common Pleas and Appeals are all fate chambers.

New City Hail.

The new City Hall is situated at the head of Bay Street, which site was purchased at the cost of $250,000. Contracts for the erection of this building were let in 1887, and the work commenced in 1889, at a cost of one and a half million dollars. The building is about 300 feet square, and built of stone, and is of Romanesque architecture; it has a tower 300 feet high, with an illuminated clock, which is 21 feet in diameter, and one of the largest in the world. The architecture of the building was executed by E. J. Lennox.

University Avenue.

Turning back for a short distance the above avenue is reached. This drive and promenade, leading from Queen Street to the University grounds, is nearly one mile in length, 120 feet in width, and contains about ten acres of land. It is haudsomely planted with trees on either side, through the centre of which runs a carriage drive, flanked by a grass border of considerable width. The avenue is one of the finest in the Dominion, or perhaps on the continent, and was laid out about the year 1829 or 1830, by the University of King's College, now the University of Toronto, and planted by the late John Wedd. In 1859, this,

THE UNIVERSITY BUILDINGS.

Driving for a short distance in the park, the traveller arrives at the University. This magnificent pile of buildings was erected during the years 1854-59, to provide accommodation not only for the University of Toronto (which simply confers degrees), but also for the University College, with its various lecture rooms, residences and students' quarters. The massive structure was designed by Messrs. Cumherland and Storm, and built under their direction. The chief facades of the building are to the south and east, the former of great massive elevation, for distance effect from the lake and city.

The general outline of the building approaches the form of a square, having an internal quadrangle of about 200 square feet, the north side of which is left open to the Park. The main frontage of the south is about 300 feet long, with a massive Norman tower in its centre, 120 feet in height, and comprising two storeys, that on the ground being devoted to lecture rooms, and the upper storey to library and museum; this may be called the public portion of the building. The east side of the building is 260 feet in length, and erected by a subsidiary tower. The west end of the quadrangle is about 260 feet in length, and is used as residences for the students. The whole cost was nearly $500,000.

In February, 1890, the building was destroyed by fire, caused by the accidental overthrow of a lamp. This sad calamity occurred on the evening of the University's conversazione. Vigorous steps were taken to collect funds for its restoration, and it is now entire-

THE VOLUNTEERS' MONUMENT.

Very near the University stands the Volunteers' Monument, erected by the public in memory of the volunteers who fell in the act of repelling the invasion of a body of Fenian marauders from the United States in the year 1866. It is a composite structure of red stone, and contains also two statues in niches, representing two soldiers, and two female figures, typifying the mourners. A statue of Britannia surmounts the whole. Some of the slain were members of the University, and to their memory a window is also erected in the College Hall.

To the south-east of the Parliament Bucklings is erected the monument to Queen Victoria; also one creeted by the ladies of Canada to the heroes who fell in the North-West Rebellion

A little to the west stands a handsome granite column, upon which is mounted a life-size statue of the late 11on. George Brown, The statue shows the 11on. Mr. Brown holding a roll of manuscript in his hand, and standing in an attitude as if just to deliver an address. This handsome monument was a few years ago erected by his many friends and admirers, to the memory of the 11on. Mr. Brown, who as a journalist, statesman, the leader of the Liberal party in Canada, and one of the Fathers of the Confederation of the Canadian Provinces, was more prominently identified with the interests of the country than any other Canadian statesman. The statue of the late Sir Oliver Mowat also adorns this section of the grounds.

PARLIAMENT BUILDINGS.

Situated at the southern end of the Queen's Park are the new Parliament Buildings for the Province of Ontario. In front of the immediate approach to the Buildings will be seen the handsome statue of the late Sir John A. Macdonald. The principal frontage is 435 feet, with a depth of 260 feet, the main entrance forming a double letter E, and enclosing within its walls 76,000 square feet. The centre facade measures 120 x 125 feet. The main entrance is composed of three noble arches 18 feet wide by 26 feet high. This entrance is flanked by the great towers with their domes of copper and wealth of stone design.

Magnificent views are obtained from these towers. The structure took six years to complete, at a cost of $1,250,000.

THE OBSERVATORY.

In the University grounds is the Observatory, instituted for the observance of meteorological events. The collection of scientific instruments, including a recent addition of a telescope especially obtained for observing the transit of Venus, is large and interesting. Weather reports, notices of the approach of storms, and the weather probabilities generally for the Dominion are issued from this office. "Old Probabilities" sometimes makes mistakes, but not often, and for twenty-four hours ahead is generally reliable.

McMaster Hall.

The Toronto Baptist College on Bloor Street is a grand effort in architecture. It is the seminary for Baptists throughout Canada. All local colleges of this denomination have been closed to theological students, and students transferred to this city. The college is built of brown stone faced with brick. It is tive storeys in height. There are several lecture rooms, chapel, library, reading room, two dining rooms, gymnasium, and accommodation for some sixty students. Expense has not been spared to make it one of the most complete affairs of its kind in America. The building was presented to the Baptist denomination, free of deht, by the late Hon. Wm. McMaster, of Canada.

UPPER CANADA COLLEGE.

At the head of Avenue Road rises the stately building of Upper Canada College, which institution, founded in 1829, for many years occupied the commodious row of red brick buildings on King Street West, opposite the residence of the Lieutenant-Governor. The grounds surrounding the college are extensive and well laid out, and the interior equipments are all that modern art and appliances can make them. The new college buildings, occupying, as they do, one of the fine old homesteads that were once the pride of early settlers, cannot fail to interest anyone paying them a visit.

Returning through the upper ravine, the traveller reaches Yonge Street once more,

HORTICULTURAL GARDENS.

A distance farther east are situated the Horticultural Gardens. The beautiful grounds occupied by the gardens extend over a space of ten acres, all of which are highly cultivated. They were first opened to the public on the visit of King Edward VII, then Prince of Wales, in 1860. A tree planted by him has now reached considerable size.

The gardens are open to all who desire to visit them.

ST. MICHAEL'S CATHEDRAL.

Returning south the visitor sees this church, which stands at the corners of Church, Shuter and Bond Streets, with an entrance on Bond Street. It is in the early decorative style of English Gothic architecture, built of white brick and ent-stone dressings, being 200 feet in length by 90 in width, and with the transepts making a total width of 115 feet, exterior dimensions. The windows are large and filled with tracery of great variety—the eastern window of seven lights being 36 feet high and 18 feet in width. The transepts have large rose windows with canopied niches in the gables. The building is wholly under one roof, forming in the interior a nave 170 feet long, 40 feet wide and 56 feet high, with pier and arches trifornium and rich ceiling. The side aisles are 180 feet long by 20 feet wide and 48 feet high, with a gallery at the west end. The building was commenced in 1845 and finished in 1847. The tower and spire are 250 feet in height.

THE METROPOLITAN CHI'RCH,

This fine structure, opposite 15t. Michael's Cathedral, is the principal Methodist Church in Toronto, and is situated in the cattre of McGill Square, between Church and Bond Streets, the square having a frontage of 248 feet by 552 feet. The architecture is of the early French style, and is an ornament to the city as well as a credit to the Methodists. The material used is white brick, relieved with cut-stone dressings. The dimensions of the main building are 72 by 128 feet, the chapel in the rear being 63 by 63 feet, over which are large and commodious class and committee rooms. In front of the church is a massive tower, 29 feet square, and 80 feet in height to top of pinnacles; on either side of the junction of the main building with the chapels are two smaller towers, 16 feet square and 122 feet high. The roof is covered with slate of variegated bands. The church will seat comfortably 1,800, but will contain 2,500 persons.

ST. JAMES' CATHEDRAIL

This fine structure is the principal Episcopal Church in Toronto, and is the fourth church which has occupied the same site, the last one having been burnt in 1849. It is of early English Gothic architecture, and is beautifully executed, recent alterations costing $40,000 having greatly improved the appearance of the interior of the church. The corner stone of the present building was laid on the 20th of November, 1850. The extreme length is 200 feet, and 105 feet wide.

During the year 1873 the massive tower was completed, making it 150 feet, 3 inches in height. The handsome side porches and pinnacles on the west side were also completed during the same year. The spire is 150 feet, nine inches high, and the wrought iron vane 16 feet, making a total height from the ground of 306 feet, being several feet higher than Trinity Church, New York, and the highest in America. The total cost has amounted to ahout $166,000, including the peal of bells.

In 1875 the celebrated Chiming and Illuminated Clock, which took first prize at the International Exhibition at Vienna, was purchased from J. W. Benson, of London, England, by the citizens of Toronto, and presented to the Dean and Church Wardens of St. James' on Christmas Eve, 1876. The movement of the clock, next to that of Westminster, is the largest in the world, and in point of quality of material and finish of workmanship is unexcelled by any. The clock plays the Cambridge chimes on the smaller hells every quarter of an hour, and strikes the hour of the day on the larger bell. In 1876 the site was enclosed with a handsome new fence set on stone.

During the last few years the interior of the church has been remodelled, the galleries have been removed, choir stalls have been placed in the gallery. A brass lectern, the gift of a member of the congregation, adds to the ornamentation of the sacred edifice. The entire chancel has been relaid with polished tiles and the building lighted by electric light.

THE FREE LIBRARY.

Stands at the north-west corner of College and St. George Streets, and is an imposing pile which has just neared completion. In 1883 the library property was handed over to the city in trust, and the books therein have formed the nucleus of what will doubtless be one of the most useful of the many educational institutions in the eity. There are five branch libraries in connection with the central one, for the accommodation of the residents in the different parts of the city.
