WALTER DUNCAN SHOOTS HIMSELF AT PRACTICE

Ex-Inspector of Detectives Injured at Target Practice Yesterday Afternoon and Is Brought From Port Credit—In General Hospital With Revolver Bullet in Leg.

Walter Duncan, ex-inspector of detectives, lies in the General Hospital with a bullet imbedded in his leg below the knee. He accidentally shot himself yesterday afternoon at Port Credit while indulging in target practice. The accident occurred about four o'clock and he was quietly removed to the hospital suffering terrible pain. An X-ray examination of the wound will be made this morning and an operation will likely follow to extract the piece of lead.

The ex-inspector spent Christmas Day with some friends at Port Credit. During the afternoon the party decided to have a shooting match with revolvers. A target was placed on a tree in a vacant lot nearby. After peering at it for some little time, Mr. Duncan, while reloading his revolver, touched the trigger and the discharge entered his leg. He was brought to Toronto by train and rushed to the hospital in A. W. Miles' ambulance.

NO ONE IN NEW YORK ALLOWED TO SPEND A HUNGRY CHRISTMAS

Civic and Private Philanthropy Was Generously Extended to Provide For Needs of Tens of Thousands—In All the Jails and Hospitals Holiday Celebrations Gladdened Hearts of Inmates.

NEW YORK, Dec. 25.—(Can. Press.)—The Christmas spirit ruled New York today and multitudes of the poor felt the beneficent effects. The municipality and private philanthropic organizations joined in extending charity, and the tens of thousands of the city's hungry were fed and clothed, and in other ways made to feel that they were sharers in the general celebration.

100 MEN WORK 24 HOURS SORTING HEAVY MAIL

Christmas Day One of Tedious Toil With Only Few Stops For Food For Regular Men of Postoffice Staff—Work Was Double That of Last Year.

Christmas is always the busiest day in the year for the mail clerks, but yesterday it was almost a "killer" for the employees of the Toronto Postoffice. With the quantity of matter to be handled almost twice that of last year, it is not to be wondered that 100 men worked the 24 hours of Christmas Day with scarcely a break. Some got out for half an hour at meal times, but the majority only stopped long enough to eat light refreshments and coffee sent in by order of the postoffice department. The men who passed Christmas in this strenuous way comprise the three regular sorting staffs. One hundred extra hands were put on for the rush, but these could never have stood the strain. Only those who have been trained to the wearisome, tedious task of sorting the handwriting of thousands were equal to the 24 hours shift, during nearly the entire time of which they were obliged to be on their feet.

The World learned last night that no additional pay is given for this extra service, but that, instead, the department grants each "Christmas" employee an extra week's holidays at midsummer. The work done by the Toronto post-office yesterday may well be counted as double that of last Christmas. According to Assistant Postmaster W. E. Lemon, the quantity of letters handled is fully 100 per cent. more than a year ago. Foreign mail matter has been 40 per cent. heavier. In order to dispose of it all, 228 extra men were employed, 125 as assistants to the over-burdened "posties" and 100 to relieve the men inside. On the heavier routes, wagons had to be put into service to enable "postmen" to transport the huge loads of presents and tidings of goodwill. Besides this deluge the postoffice has had to collect all the mail matter posted for delivery within or outside the city. On Tuesday letter and parcel boxes filled up in a very short time and extra collections were made from every box. In fact, extra collection service has been employed since Saturday.

Mr. Lemon stated last night that the officials of Toronto Postoffice have noted a very marked tendency this year towards sending cards and letters instead of more bulky remembrances. The personal greeting card idea has gained great favor, and he believed this was one of the influences tending to reduce the volume of Christmas mail matter.

Postoffice officials were unable last night to hand out any definite accurate statement of the number of letters handled over Christmas. Such figures, they said, could only be estimated. The World man, who was allowed to go "in behind," took some time, by the aid of one of the officials, to get an approximation of yesterday's letters. There are 28 sorting cases for incoming letters, each of which has a table in front two yards wide. Using these facts as a gauge and also the knowledge that the tables were laden every thirty minutes and that 200 letters placed aside by side take up a foot space, the general reckoning was made that the total number of incoming letters handled in Toronto Postoffice yesterday, if placed side by side and edges up, would extend from Yonge street wharf to Bloor street and would range in number from one million to a million and a half. In addition to this, there was also disposed of almost an equal amount of outgoing letters, many tons of parcels and the usual number of papers.

DYNAMITE TRIAL NEARING FINISH

Fate of Forty Labor Officials Will Be in Jury's Hands Tomorrow.

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 25.—(Can. Press.)—The cases of the forty labor union officials, accused of promoting the McNamara dynamiting plots in the ironworkers' strike against employers of non-union labor, will go to the jury within 24 hours, or possibly sooner.

At the close of all argument to-morrow night or on Friday morning Federal Judge Albert B. Anderson will instruct the jury. It is understood that the court's outline of the law as to what testimony shall be applied to certain defendants will require about an hour.

The jurors then will retire to deliberate as to the men who, headed by Frank M. Ryan, president of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Ironworkers, were brought here 2 months ago from cities scattered from Boston to Los Angeles to figure as defendants in what is said to be the most important trial of its kind ever held in a federal court.

The jury, to be asked to return a separate verdict for each defendant, is composed entirely of farmers or merchants from rural districts of Indiana.

Penalties Cumulative.

The fact that the jury must vote on each defendant after considering the testimony, the court holds applicable to him, is the basis for a belief that verdicts will not be returned in less than a day. There are 28 counts against each defendant, 25 of which provide a maximum penalty of 18 months' imprisonment and one which provides a maximum imprisonment of two years. The government contends that the penalties for the offences charged are cumulative in the discretion of the court, or a total possible penalty of 39 1-2 years.

The room in the federal building in which the jurors have been kept under guard for almost three months today was ready for the mass of exhibits to be turned over for reference during the jury's deliberations.

Montegrin Delegates Are Greatly Disturbed Over the Rumor That Austria Will Seek to Prevent Scutari's Being Absorbed or Will Insist on Retention of Strategic Position.

LONDON, Dec. 25.—(Can. Press.)—The expedition with which the Turkish Government has decided upon counter peace proposals leads to the assumption that they will be equally wide from what are likely to be the eventual terms of the peace treaty as were the demands of the allies, and that there is still a prolonged process of bargaining to be gone through before the conference is ended.

Christmas Cheer Liberally Extended by City's Many Charitable Organizations and Movements to All Known to be Needy—Contributions Were Greatly Increased.

The most prosperous Christmas in the history of Toronto was marked yesterday by the fact that no one in this city of nearly half a million population was willing to make a need known without all that goes to make Christmas the one day of the whole year when good cheer reigns supreme. This season several thousand families that might otherwise have wanted for Christmas cheer were made happy by the generous distribution of abundant baskets by the various charitable organizations of the city. More than a thousand such baskets were delivered among the poorer families of the city yesterday morning by the Salvation Army and St. George's Society, the work also being undertaken to a lesser extent by other similar organizations. Twenty-two hundred kiddies were looked after in big-hearted fashion by World Good Fellows.

Discovery of Ernest Reilly's Body Behind Water Tank in Station Yards Disclosed a Tragedy That Followed Christmas Eve Celebration—Fight With Companions.

BEAVERTON, Dec. 25.—(Special.)—Helped off by quarrelling companions from the Lindsay train Tuesday night, and found huddled behind the water tank in the station yard, dead, Ernest Reilly's mysterious death gave this town today a tragic Christmas tale. The young man, with a dozen companions, had gone to Lindsay from this place, which is a local option town, and their return on the Grand Trunk train which reached here at 9.45 p.m. was boisterous in the extreme. Reilly was assisted from the train by a couple of his companions and a brakeman. A little group, Reilly among them, hung around the station platform until the train pulled out, and then scattered. That was the last seen or heard of him until, at 8 a.m. today, a G. T. R. sectionman came across his body behind the watertank 25 yards away from the station.

TORONTO'S POOR NEVER SO WELL LOOKED AFTER

The contributions to the cheer pots that have been held out at the various street corners, even in most severe weather, by Salvation Army lassies during the past couple of weeks, enabled six hundred families to partake of a beautiful Christmas dinner who might have spent the day on meagre rations. Fully a thousand dollars more was collected by the Salvation Army this Christmas than was the case last year, when $4500 was given. This may be assigned to three causes—the added population and greater prosperity of the day. At the Central Prison the 225 sat down to a Christmas feast of

UNDESIRABLES HAD NO DOUBT OF HOPE

But All on Board Stranded Steamer Turrialba Were Safely Transferred to Revenue Cutter.

NEW YORK, Dec. 25.—(Can. Press.)—The 57 passengers and 18 of the crew of the United Fruit Co.'s steamer Turrialba, ashore since yesterday morning at Brigantine Shoals, nine miles north of Atlantic City, N. J., arrived here tonight on board the U. S. revenue cutter Seneca.

The cutter had stood by the stranded vessel all last night and at 9 o'clock this morning passengers, part of the crew and the baggage and mail were safely transferred, and the Seneca started on its Christmas journey to this port. The sea was smooth and the weather fine without the transfer was made and the passengers experienced little discomfort. A Christmas dinner was provided by the officers of the cutter.

According to reports brought here, the Turrialba lies with propeller damaged, stern post cracked and rudder missing. With good weather the vessel will be saved, it is expected, though her cargo of bananas may have to be tossed overboard.

Prepared to Die. According to stories told by passengers upon reaching here tonight, many of them prepared for death by drowning after the Turrialba, steaming in a snowstorm on her way from Jamaica, West Indies, to New York, grounded on the Jersey sands in the early hours of yesterday afternoon. "We were reconciled to our fate," narrated Police Inspector Edward Hughes of this city, returning with his wife from a trip in search of health.

"We talked about the Titanic, and we can now appreciate something of what the poor passengers on that ill-fated ship experienced. Except for a bad shaking up, the three occupants escaped unscathed. Both machines were damaged.

Lifeboats Lowered. According to passengers, the lifeboats were lowered at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and those on board prepared to enter them, but the steamer was heaving so heavily that the passengers were unable to stand. A while later the Seneca was in sight and a small boat with seven men came aboard. After a conference it was decided not to attempt to transfer until the water became smoother.

The night was passed in comparative comfort and early today the transfer began with five boats, two from the Seneca, one from the Turrialba and two from a nearby life-saving station. TORONTO BEATEN BY CANADIENS RIDDY'S BOYS SHOWED CLASS Montrealers Win Opening Pro. Game in Last Period—Blue Shirts Were Aggressors in First Two Periods—Foyston a Real Find.

The pro season is open, and if all the games are like last night's fixture the Arena will not be big enough to hold the fans. George Kennedy's Canadiens defeated the Toronto, 9 to 5, but the Queen City outfit were not outclassed by any means.

Riddie's boys were much the better for two periods, and it was only in the last session that the Peasopps went out against them. The Toronto team were a big surprise to both the Toronto fans and to one George Kennedy.

Speed, and barrels of it, was what the Canadiens showed for the early part of the game, and they looked classy enough to win anything on earth. The defence was good enough for any team, but just lacked a little playing together, and once they got the hang of things they stood up well with Laviolette and Dubouché.

BERLIN, Ont., Dec. 25.—Berlin Intermediates took a lopsided game from the Guelph Victorias at the Auditorium here this afternoon by the score of 7 to 1. At half-time the score was 6-0, and at no stage of the game was there any doubt as to the outcome.

second period ten changes were made, it was impossible to follow them. In the start and before they really woke up Smith had rushed all alone for the full length of the ice and beaten Holmes with a fast shot from the side.

Foyston and Wilson played the pass game perfectly, and Wilson had the honor of scoring the first goal for Toronto. Laviolette stole the puck and went down all alone, going thru Davidson and Cameron, who seemed bewildered, and scored. Davy, followed with an individual rush and scored, leaving it two-all at the end of the first period.

Toronto did all the pressing in the second period, and it was the fastest session of the game. Time after time the blue-shirted forward line went the length of the ice, and it was only the phenomenal work of Veitia that kept Toronto from piling the score up.

The following changes were made: First period—Nighbor replaced Wilson, Foyston replaced Nighbor, Walker replaced Wilson, Foyston replaced Walker. Second period—Walker replaced McGiffin, Smith replaced Berlinguet, Doherty replaced Walker, Nighbor replaced Wilson, Foyston replaced Nighbor, Walker replaced Doherty.

NOBLEMEN CIGARS

WHY SHOULD IT BE SO?

"Why should this be so? To vouch it is no proof without more certain test."
OTHELLO, ACT I, Sc. III.

If every decision you arrived at were correct, you would be wealthier and wiser than the author of the proverb. There is, however, one conclusion, the truth of which every smoker may prove for himself, viz., that the

MODERN BASEBALL MANAGER SAYS OLD-TIME BATTING BEST

Connie Mack is out with a boost for the old-time players. Mack says: "There was much done by the players of twenty years ago than by the modern stars, but a great deal of it was due to the fact that the catcher used to stay back until two strikes had been called unless there were men on the bases. With the catcher back, such speed boys as Tom Brown, for example, practiced dropping the ball in front of the plate, or only a couple of feet inside the diamond base line and of making the catcher always close up, that kind of a stunt would be sure death. All the catcher has to do with that sort of ball is to step forward, pick it up and chuck it to first. Thus one way of getting base hits and of maddening the hostile fielders is gone forever. Was it a cinch? Guess it was. I have seen Anson lay down one or more slugs, bunts and light out, so you can imagine what a cinch it was for a man who

GOT THE TURKEYS WITH GOOD SCORES

Bird Rolling on T. B. C. Alleys Biggest in the History of the Club—Prizes For the Different Leagues.

The most successful Christmas turkey rolling contests in the history of the Toronto Bowling Club came to a close Tuesday night at 11 o'clock, when the winners of three high and three low games in each league were presented with a 20-pound turkey. Duck and Goose were also remembered for their three best efforts, while private clubs were also rewarded with one of the famed barnyard variety for the individual who could put together the three highest games.

Big scores failed to materialize until almost the last days of this big annual bowling fixture, and then records seemed to topple almost like the pins that were hit. Manager T. F. Ryan, the donor, personally handed out the turkey, and after warmly congratulating the winners wished them the best of the season. Following are the winners:

Business Men's League—Three high games, T. F. Ryan, scores 125, 214, 225—total 564. Single high game—Vernon Dawson, score 244.

THE FIGHTING GAME GOES IN GERMANY

BERLIN, Dec. 25.—The Anglo-American Fight Club had a gala night on the Christmas eve, when the American welterweight, met the British welterweight, Emden, who has been winning laurels in Paris. More than 500 persons watched the fight, which ended in Nelson's victory at the beginning of the eighth round.

Nelson was quicker and cleverer than his older opponent, who, however, closed the fight in the first round and kept landing blows on it until the sixth round, worrying Nelson much, and at times looking like a winner; but the American was biding his time, and Emden was only saved at the end of the seventh round by the time out.

ity now enjoyed by Toronto, and the fact that more Salvation Army lassies braved the weather from early in the morning until late at night in order that the magnificent result might be achieved. The reward these noble-hearted young women received for their sacrifice was the pleasure of visiting hundreds of the poorer houses of the city yesterday morning on the mission of gladdening the hearts of those within by the distribution of abundant baskets of Christmas cheer.

Feast for Children.
In their good work the Army ever remember the little children. To-night the various barracks throughout the city are to be thrown open to thousands of poor boys and girls, who will sit down to a bounteous feast, to be followed by an entertainment.

The auditorium of the Salvation Army Temple, Albert street, was crowded Christmas morning, when the service was conducted by Commissioner Rees and the entire headquarters staff. Splendid music was furnished by the S. A. Cadet Band.

Colonel Bullard of London, Eng., the great missionary officer who was the first to open up India for the work over thirty years ago, described Christmas in India.

Christmas as it is spent in Jamaica was told by Mrs. Col. Madant, who has spent some years in the West Indies. The typical Christmas there was far different from that of Canada, especially in regard to the purchasing of Christmas gifts, which in Canada buy as early as possible. In Jamaica, on the contrary, the Christmas purchasing is done at the last moment, Christmas morning, when the markets are thrown open and the entire population goes thrifter to do their Christmas shopping. "Shop early" is a motto that has not as yet made its appearance in the West Indies.

Another largely attended service was held at the S. A. Temple last night, conducted by Staff-Capt. Hay.

EAR CUT OFF BY CAR IS SEWN ON AGAIN

Aural Appendage Lost by Woodbridge Man and Carried Two Blocks on Trolley Wheels—Stitched Into Its Place by Brother Doctors at the Parkdale Hospital.

To have a street car slice off your left ear and carry it for two blocks and then drop it, to have said ear picked up and taken to the hospital along with yourself and stitched back on its proper position and to have your face made about as presentable as it was before the wheel did the slicing act—this naturally would not appeal to you. It happened Tuesday afternoon, however, on College street, and Lloyd Watson of Woodbridge was the victim.

It happened this way: Lloyd Watson and William James Blake, both of Woodbridge, were driving along College street, and at Dufferin and College streets they turned their horse to the north directly in front of an eastbound trolley. The wagon was struck with considerable force, as the street car was traveling at a fair speed. The two men were thrown to the roadway. Watson was picked up minus an ear, this appendage having been ripped off.

He was otherwise not much hurt. Blake suffered a broken collar bone, a dislocated rib and was also badly bruised. Both men were removed to Parkdale Hospital.

The people who had gathered saw that Watson had lost his ear and was suffering terrible pain. Dr. J. W. Russell, who lives on College street nearby, was summoned and had him and his injured comrade removed to the hospital. The car resumed its journey along College street. At the corner of Dovercourt and College streets a man found the missing ear lying close to the car tracks where a wheel of the trolley had dropped it. The ear was taken to the hospital, and there Dr. J. W. Russell, assisted by his brother, Dr. W. G. Russell, attached it to the man's face by applying many stitches. Both men are doing nicely and will recover, and the ear will probably stay on.

WONDERS OF THE YEAR 1912

Above is a view of the Miraflores Locks, one of the wonders of the Panama Canal. The canal, when completed, will cost $400,000,000. The circular cut shows the Croton Dam, a portion of the greatest water supply system in the world—the Catskill aqueduct—which supplies Greater New York with her water. Also it is figured the system will not be completed until 1920, the cost to the City of New York is now estimated at $180,000,000. On the left is the highest building erected in the world—the Woolworth Building, in New York, which towers the city with its fifty-five storeys. This private enterprise cost $14,000,000.

ONE-THIRD OF THE CITY AWAY

Many Visitors Take Citizens Places—Railwaymen's Figures—Hotels Deserted Save For Dinner Takers.

According to railway officials, one-third the population of Toronto was out of the city on Christmas Day. To make up for this thousands of visitors from outside points spent the day here. The many thousands of persons that did leave the city went during the week or on Christmas Eve, the number that left Toronto yesterday being comparatively small and for the most part left in the morning. In fact the Toronto Union Station presented a quiet appearance yesterday afternoon. This was followed in the evening by the return to the city of nearly fifty thousand citizens. Many more will return during the remainder of the week.

"It is a case of them coming back in thousands and hardly anyone going out," said an official of The World at the station last night. Altogether about 175 trains were used to handle the travelers, and also this entailed the putting on of a number of extra trains. It was for the incoming traffic alone that they were required.

While it may be the popular belief that the only family Christmas reunions are those in which city folk go into the country to visit their families and relatives, the idea is quite erroneous. Altogether a number of Torontonians that left the city amounted to about one hundred thousand persons, it is stated on good authority that from twenty-five to fifty thousand visitors from out of the city came into Toronto to spend Christmas Day with relatives and friends. A large proportion of these came from the Canadian west, but a great many also came in from various points in Ontario. In these instances, instead of the young members of the family leaving the city to join their parents in a turkey dinner around the family board, the parents come to visit their children in the city and bring a turkey in along with them. This, of course, applies principally to cases where the children have married and established homes of their own after coming to Toronto.

With the bars closed, yesterday proved to be one of the lightest days in the whole year for the Toronto hotels.

Not one of the leading hotels of the city could show a full page of names on the register last night. The severest of the hotels had difficulty in finding accommodation for all their guests. This was owing to the fact that during the week preceding Christmas, between 2000 and 3000 people from Ontario, and even points outside the province, came into Toronto to do their Christmas shopping, and thousands of these people stayed at the hotels while here.

What the hotels lacked in registered guests was fully made up by the great number who partook of their yuletide dinner. The dining rooms of the King Edward, Prince George and the Queen's were very crowded yesterday, the latter two hotels putting up an elaborate dinner especially for the occasion.

"It is an American custom that is fast taking hold in Toronto," said the proprietor of one of these hotels to The World yesterday. He explained that in many of the large cities in the United States it was customary for many unmarried citizens, whose relatives lived away from the city, to dine with friends at the larger hotels on occasions such as Christmas and New Year's Day. He considered it a good idea, and that his growing popularity in Toronto was but to be expected.

A GROWING FEAR OF AUSTRIAN DEMANDS ever, is a greater source of disquietude to all concerned than the task of arranging peace. This is more especially the case with the Montegrin delegates, who today were considerably excited over the rumor that now that Austria has obtained what she wants from Serbia, she wishes either to prevent Montenegro from taking Scutari, by incorporating it in Albania, or to make the Montegrin occupation of Scutari the price of Austrian occupation of Mount Lovchen. This mount, which rises to a height of about 5500 feet almost perpendicularly, dominates the Gulf of Cattaro, the greatest Austrian naval stronghold in the Adriatic. But now Montenegro, with its batteries on Mount Lovchen commands the gulf.

ELECTRICAL FARM WORK IN AUSTRIA

Stimulation Resulted in Crops Double Those on Neighboring Non-Electrified Land.

The special apparatus used in the recent electrification of an 18-acre farm near Prague consisted of a mercury interrupter, a transformer and recitifiers. Very high frequency was given by the interrupter, the transformer raised the voltage to about 100,000, and the recitifiers separated the waves, passing the positive half to the network, the negative pole being connected to the ground.

QUEER RAILWAY CUSTOMS IN SYRIA

Charming Ways of the System and Its Employes in Near Eastern Land.

They have a curious way of managing some railways in Syria. Many of much riding, a party of travelers on their way to Beyrut resolved one day to go by train, writes Douglas Carruthers in The Wide World Magazine. They arrived at a primitive station, but could find no station master. Presently, however, one of the camp followers arrived, looked about, and spying a small red flag lying on the platform made off with it along the line.

When a train came in a man waved his flag, the engine driver pulled up and the travelers got in. Later, when the train was puffing on its way, the guard came along the footboard and issued the tickets, carefully noting down the names, nationality and occupations of the passengers. Two stations further on they got out, and here there was not only a station master but a porter, and the latter stayed with them all day in an orchard till the camp arrived, meanwhile feeding them with honey from the comb. Where else, one wonders, could such a charming railway system be found?

Some Remarkable Projects Of Year Drawing to Close

The Miraflores Locks, One of the Wonders of the Panama Canal—Greatest Water System in the World and the Tallest Habitable—Great Engineering Feats The Marked 1912.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—The year just drawing to a close has been remarkable in the number of notable engineering projects instituted or now well on their way to completion. And of this category of engineering feats, both private and public, New York City and State have taken a prominent place.

Among these are the irrigation projects of the United States Government, the Panama canal, the immense new fresh water reservoir of New York City, the enlargement of the Erie canal, the erection of the Grand Central station, and the building of the Woolworth building—to say nothing of the new subways, which are to be built in New York. The total expense that will have been incurred when these great projects have been pushed to completion will run close to a billion dollars.

By reason of its influence on the world's traffic, as well as the engineering difficulties involved, the Panama canal easily takes precedence over the other construction jobs named in the matter of importance. This great water highway between the Atlantic and the Pacific oceans was practically commenced May 4, 1904, when the United States took control of the canal region. It is now almost to the completion, and will have cost approximately $400,000,000 when the great locks are opened to ocean traffic during the latter half of 1913.

In point of unique construction, the new Woolworth building, now nearly completed in New York City, perhaps ranks next. This structure, rising sheer 750 feet from the street level, has the distinction of being the tallest habitable building in the world. It is alone surpassed in height by the Eiffel tower, Paris, France, which is 985 feet high, but is nothing more than a network of steel.

The actual building has cost about $14,000,000. It weighs about 25,000 tons, and will have a floor space suitable for office use of 23 acres.

Gotham's Water Supply. Aside from its unique features, however, the New York project that most closely approaches the building of the Panama canal in magnitude is the construction of the immense reservoir and aqueduct through which the city of New York will, in 1920, be provided with fresh water. Work on the reservoir was commenced practically on June 3, 1905. A year and a half later the actual building of the reservoir began in earnest.

The reservoir is located in the heart of the Catskills, 117 miles from New York. Since a mountain station at different depths, the cost of the project has been $180,000,000.

BOSTON HOCKEY TEAM DEFEAT VARSITY BOYS

Clean Game and Visitors Looked All-Over Winners in Early Stages—Teams and Score.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Dec. 25.—The Boston Athletic Association hockey team displayed the better staying qualities in tonight's game with Toronto University. After trailing the visiting collegians three-quarters of the game, the Hubbies started in the last ten minutes of play and won the contest by the score of six to two. The game was clean, but the one man being banished from the ice, was a whirlwind order, and Toronto in the earlier stages looked like certain winners. They carried the battle to their opponents in rugged fashion, but the eagle eyes and varied plays engineered by Messrs. Hicks and Clifford, former Harvard stars, finally proved the undoing of the college lads' defence, and with the team fast going to pieces near the close of the contest, it took very little effort to case an easy Boston victory. When it came to making his way down the ice, the visitors had just a little something on their rivals, but the clever work of Hurlingham at cover-point and the goal-tending of "Skeets" Canterbury, prevented them from doing much damage. Strom especially skated in excellent form, and Aird proved an able man also. Parker's goal-tending was conspicuous until his defence weakened, and even then single-handed he evaded many Boston shots at the net.

QUEER RAILWAY CUSTOMS IN SYRIA

Charming Ways of the System and Its Employes in Near Eastern Land.

They have a curious way of managing some railways in Syria. Many of much riding, a party of travelers on their way to Beyrut resolved one day to go by train, writes Douglas Carruthers in The Wide World Magazine. They arrived at a primitive station, but could find no station master. Presently, however, one of the camp followers arrived, looked about, and spying a small red flag lying on the platform made off with it along the line.

When a train came in a man waved his flag, the engine driver pulled up and the travelers got in. Later, when the train was puffing on its way, the guard came along the footboard and issued the tickets, carefully noting down the names, nationality and occupations of the passengers. Two stations further on they got out, and here there was not only a station master but a porter, and the latter stayed with them all day in an orchard till the camp arrived, meanwhile feeding them with honey from the comb. Where else, one wonders, could such a charming railway system be found?
