Federal House Rejects Proposal To Enforce Daylight Saving Law

COMMONS DEFEATS DAYLIGHT SAVING

Turns Down Proposal by Majority of Fifty-five— Leaders of Both Unionists and Liberals Oppose Measure— Member for South York Favors.

Ottawa, March 27.—Daylight saving was killed in the house of commons tonight by a majority of 55. The vote came upon the motion for the 12 months' trial, moved by Mr. Mackie of Edmonton. It was not a party vote, as the government had no policy of its own on the subject, but referred the whole question to the house. The resolution in favor of daylight saving was moved by Col. R. C. Cooper, Unionist member for South Vancouver, and was seconded by a prominent Liberal, Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux. Members of the government differed among themselves on the question, and when the house divided Hon. A. K. Maclean, Hon. S. C. Mewburn and Hon. Martin Burrell voted in favor of daylight saving, while Sir Thomas White, Hon. F. B. Carvell, Hon. W. Rowell, Hon. T. A. Crerar, Hon. James A. Calder and Hon. Hugh Guthrie were recorded against it.

Hon. F. G. Macdormid Outlines Government's Good Roads Scheme.

Bringing delegates from every part of the province, the annual session of the Associated Boards of Trade opened yesterday in the Royal Bank Building, might fairly be termed Ontario's business parliament. Few important business centres are unrepresented by some resolution calling for reform or advancement in some department of provincial affairs. Welcomed by Premier Sir William Hearst, Mayor Church and K. J. Dunstan, of the Toronto Board of Trade, the delegates got down to business despatch under the chairmanship of Arthur Hewitt. In the evening the visitors were tendered a banquet by the Toronto Board of Trade. Among the guests present were: The Hon. F. G. Macdormid, Ontario's minister of public works; Hon. Dr. D. Jamieson, speaker of the Ontario legislature; Dr. H. T. Reason, London; Lieut.-Col. W. N. Ponton, Belleville; W. Taylor, Owen Sound; A. E. Gerdan, J. J. Martin and Controllers W. D. Robbins and C. A. Maguire.

AUSTRALIA REJECTS RACIAL EQUALITY CLAUSE IN LEAGUE

Premier Hughes Says Internal Affairs Are Not to Be Interfered With.

IMPAIRS SOVEREIGNTY

No Free Nation Will Submit to Dictation as to Naturalization and Immigration.

Paris, March 27.—William M. Hughes, the premier of Australia, made the first statement to the Associated Press today that he was unalterably in opposition to the proposed Japanese racial equality amendment to the covenant of the league of nations or to any form of it, however mild in recognizing that principle. "Australia," Mr. Hughes said, "cannot accept this proposal, which strikes at the very roots of the policy that we have maintained so long, which is vital to our existence and which we have guarded as zealously as has America her Monroe Doctrine. "I am most anxious to avoid anything likely to hurt the susceptibilities of the people of other nations, but on this point, since we cannot give way, it is best that I should speak plainly. We cannot agree to the insertion of any words in the covenant or in the treaty of peace that would impair, or even question, our sovereign rights in regard to any and every aspect of this question. "Will Not Yield Sovereignty. "One of the main principles of the league is that there shall be no interference in the internal affairs of any nation. We cannot surrender this sovereignty, and it is essential to its welfare to enter the league. "I cannot but regard the proposed amendment as an effort to establish a principle which would find their internal policy challenged by the league at the instigation of one of its members. It is a subject on which no matter how innocuous it may seem in form, is certainly aimed at giving the league control of questions relating to immigration, naturalization and matters which cannot be surrendered by any state without such impairment of its sovereignty as to make it in effect a subject of international law. "If the league is able to compel a state to amend its immigration, naturalization and franchise laws, there remains the state only the shadow of sovereignty. The substance has gone. No free nation could agree to dictation in such matters from the league. The league is a body which belongs to and must remain under the control of individual nations.

COL. PRATT DEFENDS RIOTERS AND INDICTS ARGYLE HOUSE

GERMAN SOLDIERS TODAY.
In view of the fact that Germany talks of refusing to sign the peace terms of the allies this picture is interesting. It shows General Reinhardt, German minister of war, inspecting troops at Weimar a week or two ago. If Germany has many such soldiers as these it may well be thought she is still well worth closely watching.

Gives Sordid Details of Inhumanity, Graft, Bulldozing, Indifference and Inefficiency—Homesickness Drives Veterans Desperate—Flying Officers Homeless.

Col. A. C. Pratt (South Norfolk) made his expected defence of the Canadian troops who rioted at Rhyll, Wales, in the legislature yesterday afternoon. The speech, both in language and substance, was a most sensational indictment of heartless grafters and of the complaisant silence of Canadian officials who cannot be without knowledge of the sordid facts. The house listened to the lengthy speech with deep attention and applauded the bitter protests voiced by Col. Pratt. There was no subsequent discussion.

Col. Pratt rose to discuss a question of urgent public policy. He desired to acquit General Turner of any fault in connection with Argyle House. He had nothing but admiration for the general, as well as for Major-General Nickle and Col. Tom Gibson, General Gunn in Toronto showed prompt capacity in dealing with the men. The indictments of Argyle House was of the institution itself and of some British officers. He read from the London Times the first reports of the Rhyll riots, in all the rioting the soldiers had good ground for complaint against bulldozing officers. The men at Rhyll had seen the fiercest of the fighting in France, but they had also seen men conscripted only last year, returned home while they were left waiting. A report that the men were masquerading in girls' clothes was without a shadow of foundation. The truth was that the women's quarters were so crowded that they would in no way be molested. (Applause.)

PREMIER COMING HOME TO EXERT STRONG HAND

Ottawa, March 27.—Sir Thomas White in the commons, stated that from time to time press dispatches from abroad had associated erroneous names with the name of Sir Robert Borden with the position of British ambassador at Washington. The matter had been brought, he said, to the attention of the prime minister, and the following cable had been received from Sir Robert: "You are authorized to state publicly that I am not, and have never been, the position of British ambassador at Washington, and as my intention is to return to Canada and resume my duties as prime minister as soon as my work with the peace conference will permit." The announcement was received with applause on the government side.

It was furthermore the fact that the women had disclosed their desire to be put back at their employment during the disturbances because they had no fear of the Canadian boys. There were but 600 rioters all told. No officer from the war office went near the camp by airplane or any other means, Sir Pratt reported. The cause of the trouble was that the men were sent up to North Wales from their camps and were told they would shortly be coming back to Canada. The promise was not kept. "I can 'sell the house,'" said Col. Pratt, "that the most homesick men in the world are our boys who have been overseas for four years. They are longing to come home with the most intense longing. Wonder if the Canadian soldier is not a professional soldier. The war to him was but an interlude. He is a citizen who imposed discipline upon him, and the general evidence—even the evidence of the Germans—is that no better disciplined troops and no superior thrusting troops were engaged in the war." (Applause.)

TORONTO TROOPS FROM MINNEKADHA

Halifax, March 27.—The transport Minnekahta with twenty-five hundred returning Canadian soldiers, docked at eight o'clock this morning. There were no units aboard the steamer. Trains conveying the passengers brought out on the Minnekahta were despatched as follows: No. 1342, for Port Arthur, 10:15 a.m.; No. 1343, 473 all ranks for Toronto, 11:40 a.m.; No. 1344, 336 all ranks for Toronto, 12:45 p.m.; No. 1345, 217 all ranks for London, Hamilton and Kingston, 12:50 p.m. The liner Cedric from England with three thousand returning Canadian soldiers arrived in port today. The steamer moved in towards pier two when she arrived in the harbor, but as the arrangements were not completed the ship was ordered out into the stream again.

Colonel Pratt went on to say that the men had been disappointed by the fact that they were coming several times, and had seen the Aquilania turned over to the Yankees, who had been a much longer time in the war. Furthermore the men had been told that they were to be sent home by the M. S. A. men. When the armistice was signed, the M. S. A. men had been taken over to France to fill up depleted battalions. These M. S. A. men after being returned to England were sent back to Canada ahead of the men who had done the fighting, the men then in the camp at Rhyll. Those at Rhyll made up a deputation to make representations to Colonel Patterson. But they bulldozed them and would not listen to them. Colonel Colquhoun did listen to them and was requested by the deputation to ask Argyle House to consider their case. Colonel Colquhoun said that Argyle House, and got no satisfaction. The men were told they could not get ship when they were desperate with homesickness. Nothing more could be expected than what was offered. They organized the riot, as men under incompetent bulldozing officers would do. He was sorry to say that there were inefficient bulldozing officers in the Canadian army. Vindicated Purpose. Colonel Pratt declared that the rioting had vindicated its purpose. Since the disturbances the men were coming home faster than they had ever come before, and they were also promptly paid, a thing they had been told was physically impossible. "I will give experiences that were told me at first hand," said Colonel Pratt, "I am not always able to quote my informant owing to military regulations, but can do so in a short time." (Concluded on Page 4, Column 3).

TAX RATE NOW FINALLY FIXED

Mayor Announces That It Will Be 28 1/2 Mills This Year.

Mayor Church announced last night that this year's tax rate would be 28 1/2 mills. Council has been called for ten o'clock, Monday morning to finally consider the estimates and strike the rate. The mayor said the rate had been reached after eliminating every expenditure that was not absolutely necessary. During the year a pay-as-you-go policy would be strictly adhered to, and next year the mayor hoped a normal rate of around twenty mills would be struck. Last year the tax rate was 30 1-2 mills. A surplus of $987,533 has been brought forward from 1918. This surplus has arisen not only from an excess of revenue over that estimated, but also from net savings in appropriations, these latter amounting to $622,271, including $387,000 for additional life insurance benefits which had to be met in the closing month, have also been paid. If the estimates of April, 1918, had been adhered to strictly the Dominion government was plus for the reduction of this year's estimates equal to two and a half mills on the assessment. In Excess. With the exception of the civic abattoir, provincial railway tax and deficiency in taxation, the items of revenue including waterworks system, civic car lines, Canadian National Exhibition, street railway franchises, in excess of the amounts estimated. The deficiency of revenue from the abattoir is $22,483, provincial railway tax $448, and deficiency in taxation $130,969.95. The draft estimates of the city of Toronto as prepared by Mr. Bradshaw, finance commissioner, are outlined in the above table, the tax rate being 28.50 mills, a reduction from last year's rate of two mills, but it is most important to point out, stated Mr. Bradshaw, "that if any increases are made in the appropriations, as now submitted to council, then a higher rate will be inevitable, inasmuch as the rate mentioned only allows for a reasonable margin for uncollectable taxes. While the reduced war expenditure and elimination of war tax represent a reduction of practically five mills, the increased

Critical Period. K. J. Dunstan, who presided, said the country was passing thru a critical period. The problems of the future were even more difficult than the winning of the war. He expressed his hope for the best minds, the best thoughts and best relations between all classes of the community. He expressed pleasure in having the local leaders so well represented, and called upon the Hon. Mr. Macdormid to speak. Modern Highways. The minister of public works, after a few preliminary remarks, outlined the great work in the construction of provincial highways and good markets through Ontario. Modern traffic demanded a higher type of road construction, and the maintenance of some of the important highways was too heavy a burden on the municipalities they traversed. "This condition had resulted in the inter-provincial highway scheme for the Dominion government was plus for the reduction of this year's estimates equal to two and a half mills on the assessment. ## CRERAR IS AGAINST FIXED WHEAT PRICE

Before Ottawa Committee, Gives Personal View—Building Storage Plant.

Ottawa, March 27.—A declaration by Hon. T. A. Crerar, minister of agriculture, that he is personally not in favor of the fixing of a price for the 1919 wheat crop was the important feature of the first meeting of the house of commons committee of agriculture which met this morning, with Mr. R. C. Henders presiding. "I am opposed," said the minister, "to the fixing of a price for wheat for the coming crop, do not think we should take from the public treasury a very considerable sum of money in the nature of a bonus to the farmers of Canada. I can fully appreciate the position of the farmers in western Canada who have suffered from poor crops for the past two years, but on the other hand, the principle is unsound and it would be difficult to justify any call on the treasury under present conditions. Western Views. Mr. Crerar pointed out that the farmers of Alberta and Manitoba at their annual meeting had pronounced against price fixing, also the Saskatchewan farmers were in favor of it. However, his own personal view was that if credits be established, Great Britain and other European countries could take all the food they could produce in Canada, and as to price-fixing he was stating his own views, and not a government policy. The minister of agriculture also stated that it had been arranged to appropriate one million dollars for the erection of an up-to-date cold storage plant on the water front at Montreal. He said there were 140 cold storage plants in the Dominion, but many were not up-to-date, and they would be placed under government inspection.

NEW COLLEGIATE WILL OUST JARVIS

Toronto is to have "a great big central high school" on the north central point of the Bloor street-Danforth avenue cross town car line, opposite St. Paul's Church. This was given by Dr. John Noble, chairman of the property committee of the board of education, as an effective objection to Trustee Bell's motion that the East Bloor street site be offered for sale. The high school will be situated on the present Jarvis Street Collegiate, but the intention, according to Dr. Noble, is to make the new building the chief centre of high school work, and to lessen the number of thinly attended forms in the other seven collegiates.

RAILWAYMEN AGREE TO ACCEPT OFFER

Few Points to Be Settled, and Strike Resolution Has Been Rescinded.

London, March 27.—The delegates to the conference of the National Union of Railwaymen decided today to accept the offer of the government for the settlement of their demands. The high school will be situated on the present Jarvis Street Collegiate, but the intention, according to Dr. Noble, is to make the new building the chief centre of high school work, and to lessen the number of thinly attended forms in the other seven collegiates. An increasing number of miners are stopping work in support of the full terms claimed by the Miners' Federation, in spite of the decision of the delegates of the miners' conference to refer the question of a strike to a vote of the members and urging the men to continue work until the ballot is taken. More than 60,000 men are on strike in South Wales and 7000 in other Welsh districts. A large number of men also are out in the Nottingham and Derbyshire coal fields.

COUNCIL OF FOUR DISCUSSES GERMAN FRONTIER QUESTION

Paris, March 27.—The super-council of the president and premiers, now known as the council of four, divided its labors today between the "White House" and M. Clemenceau's private office, adjoining the war office. The Franco-German frontier was the chief topic of discussion, this following upon an agreement reached last night on reparations for war damages. It is understood that this agreement includes the vital point of the total amount of indemnity, which will not be announced at present, as likely to cause discussion and arouse hostility in enemy quarters. The frontier question turns on the disposition of the Saar Valley coal regions, and the west bank of the Rhine. The territorial experts have said their last word, and frankly declared that there is a question now of political expediency, on which the super-council alone can pass. ## DE VALERA RECEIVED BY THE LORD MAYOR

Dublin, March 27.—Edward De Valera, the Sinn Fein "President of Ireland," visited the Mansion house this afternoon and was received by the lord mayor and some members of his entourage. Professor De Valera in an interview said that owing to the attitude of the censor, it would be useless to make a statement at present, but that he would take the opportunity later to express his views. Meanwhile, he added, he had other work on hand.

INSIDIOUS SPREAD OF BOLSHIEVISM

Branches of Movement Extend to Leading Cities of Canada.

STRONG IN TORONTO

C. H. Cahane of Montreal Tells Empire Club of Danger Confronting Country.

An address of extraordinary power and interest was given by C. H. Cahane, K.C., of Montreal, to the Empire Club yesterday on the spread of Bolshevism and Bolshevistic ideas in Canada. A motion was carried to have the address printed immediately for general circulation, as well as being included in the club's transactions.

In acknowledging the introductory remarks of R. A. Stappels as chairman, Mr. Cahane said there was always a certain amount of badinage about Montreal and Toronto, but he wished to say they all in Montreal felt a great pride in the splendid work done by this province and this city. Whether English or French, whether Catholic or Protestant, they had all one view in Montreal about the war, and he added that there was not one leading family, English or French, which had not given its sons in the war. He himself had felt it to be his duty to support the Unionist government and had contested a seat against Hon. Mr. Lemieux. He had himself given four boys of his family, all broken and crippled now.

"And yet he gave his only son, and no greater sacrifice could have been made." This was not his speech, he remarked, but it had been called out by the remarks of his friends. "But for God's sake," he exclaimed, "and for the sake of Canada, let us put aside our petty bickerings. Let us realize that both sides have given of their best."

Mr. Cahane traced the development of revolutionary propaganda in Canada from the time that the Germans began to take Canada's contribution to the war seriously. They had not counted upon that, and he attributed all the activity in revolutionary matters to the Germans. No such propaganda had ever been carried on in Canada before, and the laws of Canada were not adequate to deal with it.

Bolsheviki Leadership.

Mr. Cahane does not underestimate the ability of the Bolsheviki leaders. "During the past year large sums of money have been sent from Russia and even from England, for carrying on this propaganda in the United States and in Canada," said he. "I have personally conversed at length with one of the most active foreign leaders of the Bolsheviki propaganda in Canada, and I found him one of the most direct and subtle minds that I have ever met."

He dealt exhaustively with the machinery and methods of the propaganda and said the brains of the propaganda were concentrated in Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg, Calgary, Vancouver and Victoria, and were largely English, Irish and Canadian.

Labor Against Ide.

"In several instances this propaganda in Canada has been endorsed by branches of the International Labor Unions established in Canada, the recognized leaders of the trades unions of Canada, such as Tom Moore, who was one of the sanest and most patriotic leaders in the trades union movement, have vehemently opposed all radical and revolutionary tendencies. I have found upwards of 60 branches of the Social Democratic Party of Toronto established among the Finnish settlers in Canada. There are 63,784 Russians of the age of 18 years and over resident in Canada. Of these about 10,000 are in Toronto.

"The first remedy that I would suggest is that we revert to the reign of law in this country. We must eliminate waste. During these coming years you men of wealth, or of considerable income, must discard all luxuries. I denounce upon those who made profits and expended their profits upon luxury. Schools must be provided, and the children of the foreign immigrant should be compelled to attend schools in which French or English is taught, so that the native-born of foreign stock at the close of at least a generation shall have a practical knowledge of one of the official languages of the country, and thereby be enabled to acquire a clearer and less distorted insight into the social, political and industrial conditions which prevail in the country." Justice Riddell moved a vote of thanks.

ROSARY HALL MEETING.

Miss Marie Macdonell presided at a meeting of Rosary Hall Association held yesterday evening. It was announced that the hall had been renovated and is now under new management. An inspection by some of the visitors showed that the premises were much improved by the recent operations.

YOUTHS BEAT BOY ON HEAD WITH IRON BAR

Charged with assaulting Arthur Bullin, a young boy, driver for J. A. Macdonald, Spencer avenue, Charles Dewbury and Martin Henry, two youths, were sentenced, the former to 15 months and the latter to 18 months at the jail farm by Magistrate Denison in yesterday's police court. The two had lain in wait in a shed for four hours until Bullin came when he was pounced upon and beaten over the head with iron bars. It apparently had been their intention to rob him of $31 of his employer's money. Both prisoners have been at Mimico.

JUDGMENT FAVORS TORONTO POWER CO.

Ontario Power Co. Must Pay Higher for Current Supplied.

After a long period of waiting, and a still longer period of litigation, Justice Middleton, yesterday issued his judgment in the actions brought by the Ontario Power Co. (the Hydro Electric Power Commission), against the Toronto Power Co., Ltd. The dispute arose out of a difference of opinion as to how the power supplied by the Toronto Power Co., to the other company should be billed. The difference of opinion in cases, amounted to $196,535.70, which amount, however, the hydro people repudiated, declaring that their liabilities to the Toronto Power Co. were $109,116.53, which amount they paid into court.

Different Methods.

Each company during the hearing of the actions submitted their own methods of figuring the other company's liability for power supplied, but his lordship took neither of these as absolute, and laid down his own table of rates. The finding, however, is largely against the Ontario Power Co., and the contentions of the Hydro Electric Commission, and states that they will have to pay much more for power delivered.

The actions in court lasted well over a week, and the amount of technical evidence produced was enormous. I. F. Hellmuth, K.C., and G. H. Kilmor, K.C., appeared for the Ontario Power Co., and Robert McKay, K.C., for the Toronto Power Co.

DR. J. M. JOHNSTON IS FOUND NOT GUILTY

After a trial lasting a day and a half, Dr. J. M. Johnston was yesterday found not guilty of having performed an illegal operation on a woman patient. Dr. Johnston was retried at the request of the department of justice, to whom the doctor had appealed after he had been sentenced to serve a term of two years by Judge Winchester at a previous sitting of the criminal sessions.

CIVIC ABATTOIR COMMITTEE MEETS

Aldermen Discuss Advisability of Public Ownership of Wholesale Trade.

Yesterday afternoon the newly-appointed abattoir committee met for the first time. Ald. MacGregor, upon whose motion the committee was formed, presiding. The purpose of the committee is to enquire into the advisability of the establishing of a dead meat business by the city.

Ald. Ball reminded those present that a similar committee had been formed two years ago and that a report had been brought in recommending certain things, among which was the appropriation of $25,000 to start the work. Nothing came of the report.

Those present were Ald. MacGregor, Ball, Cowan, Whetter and Plewman, and Commissioner Chisholm. Finance Commissioner Bradshaw, the other member of the committee, was unable to attend.

In opening the meeting, Ald. MacGregor stated that he wanted to make one point clear, and that was that the city was not going into the retail meat business. It would not interfere with private butchers, as some feared, but it would assist them rather than hinder. He said that he wanted to clear the abattoir business up thoroughly, so that in 1921 the city could go into public ownership without a black eye.

Commissioner Chisholm was instructed to prepare for the next meeting a complete report on the business done by the abattoir, its original cost and other details.

Ald. Plewman's motion that the superintendent of the abattoir thru the property commissioner be asked to give his views on what steps ought to be taken to increase the revenue and if there was any prospect of placing the business on a paying basis was carried.

"One Union" Proposal is Both Denounced and Supported

Controller Robbins, ex-Alderman Gibbons, and James Miller, business manager for the Freight Clerks, Freight handlers and Railway Stationmen, all expressed the opinion yesterday, that the one-union idea of presumably the ultra-radicals, was ill advised, that it could be traced to foreign, if not Russian propaganda work, and that it was a menace by virtue of the principles it embraced. On the other hand, Frank Watkinson, business agent for the Brotherhood of Carpenters, believed that the ideal showed signs of progressive thought, that it was far reaching and opportune, based as it was upon the best ideals of craft unionism and devoid of its obsolete shackles.

W. C. T. U. MEETS TO ORGANIZE CAMPAIGN

A preliminary meeting to organize for their campaign which is to be launched on Monday of next week, was held at Willard Hall yesterday afternoon by the district W.C.T.U. Mrs. F. Ward, president, in the chair. Various unions will have charge of the 37 districts into which the city will be divided for the purpose of a house to house canvass. The final day of the five days will be Friday, April 4, which will be held in the shape of a "Tag." Concurrently with the Toronto drive, an appeal will be made to the unions throughout Ontario.

The purpose of the campaign is to raise funds for an extension to Willard Hall which is a home for girls working in the city and also serves many other offices for the W.C.T.U. organization.

Feeling Strong Against Women Boiler Inspectors Mrs. Thomas Davis is the president of the newly-organized auxiliary of the International Union of Steam and Operating Engineers in Toronto, now numbering a membership of 43, five of whom were elected at last night's meeting, held at the Labor Temple. The union itself is progressing at a greater rate than at any time in its history. The question of the appointment of women boiler inspectors has been left in abeyance until after all the men have returned from abroad and from khaki. It is considered of such far-reaching importance as to need the consideration of the largest possible vote, feeling being especially strong against such appointments.

Demands Counsel for Both Sides at License Commission Investigation.

LUCAS IS INDIGNANT

Government Would Pay None But Commissioner and His Counsel.

After all, the gates of the license department may not be ajar wide enough to let the Hearst government thru to its own graveyard.

Such was the impression given to the legislature yesterday by Attorney General Lucas and Premier Hearst, when questioned by Mr. Proudfoot as to the scope of the royal commission issued upon the charges against the Hearst government.

Before the orders of the day were called, Mr. Proudfoot asked the government:

(1) Whether the appointment of Sir William Meredith, as a commissioner, will come before the house as a motion for consideration?

(2) Whether counsel, who may call witnesses, will be allowed and paid to represent the opposition upon the hearing before the commission?

(3) Whether the scope of the commissioner's powers has been more fully considered by the government?

(4) Will the commissioner's powers include an investigation into the administration of the G. T. and the enforcement of the law and matters arising out of or relating to the conduct of the liquor branch of the department?

Did Not Know.

Mr. Proudfoot said he did not know exactly what duties Mr. White would perform as an assistant to the commissioner. He did not intend to criticize Mr. White; but desired to know how the evidence would be presented.

Attorney-General Lucas replied that he desired to give Mr. Proudfoot's legitimate curiosity every satisfaction. As to the charges, the insinuations, the innuendoes and all the things said by the member for Southwest Toronto, it is not proposed at all to have a commission upon which the house would first pass. A royal commission has been issued to find out what is in the charges made by the member for Southwest Toronto. The commission will be sufficiently wide in its scope to go on and investigate insinuations and innuendoes reflecting upon the government.

The government would not pay anybody except the commissioner and the counsel assisting him. The procedure would be entirely in the hands of the commissioner and no suggestion would be made to the commissioner how he should bring about the evidence. Had a dozen people might be involved; and the government could not think of assigning counsel to each one against whom charges might be laid.

H. H. Dewart, I desire to say a word or two. What I suggested when I brought this subject before the house was a special committee that might sit after the house had risen and file its report with the lieutenant-governor-in-council. The members of this side of the house who voted in support of my motion are entitled to representation. No one has suggested the employment of a special committee in this respect has always been granted in every investigation that I have ever heard of.

"By the course I asked to be adopted the whole business as a system would become a subject of enquiry.

"The administration of the whole license system or liquor selling under the O. T. A. was involved in my address and it now appears that so far as the extent of the investigation goes there will be no opportunity for subjecting the administration of O. T. A. to enquiry."

Premier Hearst asked the house what had the government not done to meet the wishes of both wings of the opposition.

The government had decided to throw open the accounts and had left no reason for anyone to say that they had appointed a partisan commissioner. (Applause from right and government side.) A week ago invitation was given to the member for Southwest Toronto to formulate his charges.

Mr. Proudfoot: There is no intention, as far as we are concerned, to say a word against the commissioner's appointment. The question is that he should be placed in an opportunity to have all the facts before him. We do not think all the facts can be placed before him. If they filter thru one man's hands appointed by the government, as the appointment is described, all we ask is that the investigation is over that nothing was done to prevent full enquiry.

HOW TO MAKE YOUR HAIR BEAUTIFUL

Ten Minutes' Home Treatment Works Wonders. Stops Falling Hair and Dandruff and Makes the Hair Soft, Brilliant, Lustrous and Fluffy.

Better than all the so-called "hair tonics" in the world is a simple old-fashioned home recipe consisting of plain Bay Rum, Lavona (de Compose) and a little bottle of Crystals. Dissolve the Crystals in a few minutes, three mixed with water. Get from your druggist a bottle of the Bay Rum and pour in a 2 oz. bottle. Then add the Lavona, shake well and apply by putting a little before using. Apply soft cloth. Draw this cloth slowly through the hair, making sure you are rubbing a time. This cleanses the hair and scalp of dirt, dust and excessive oil and makes the hair delightfully soft, lustrous and fluffy. To stop the hair from falling and to make it grow again rub the lotion into the scalp with the finger tips or a medium stiff brush. Apply night and morning. A few days' use and you will not find a single loose or falling hair. They will be locked on your scalp as hair.

Use as follows: Dandruff will disappear. Your hair will find fine, wavy new hairs growing up all over your scalp and this new hair will grow with wonderful rapidity.

Any druggist can sell you the above. The preparation is very inexpensive and we know of nothing so effective and certain in its results.

YORK COUNTY AND SUBURBS

EGLINTON EAST TORONTO

Proudfoot, Dewart, Clarke and Parliament Review Political Arena.

A meeting was held last night in the town hall, Eglington, under the auspices of the North Toronto Liberal Association, at which various members of the opposition in the provincial house spoke. A. P. Kerr, president of the local organization, occupied the chair and with him on the platform were: Wm. Proudfoot, Hartley Dewart, Sam Clarke, Nelson Parliament, Lindsay Crawford, J. C. Allen, A. H. McGregor and Ald. Ramsden.

Mr. Proudfoot was introduced by the chairman as "The Farthest Afield" and as such was greeted with loud and prolonged applause. He claimed credit for the introduction of the women franchise. Sir Wm. Hearst had the other day introduced a bill to grant women a seat in the legislature, but added that that was what the opposition had long advocated. The speaker said that every move made by the opposition had been made first by the Liberals. Liberals in Toronto had been beaten often that they now feel that there is no chance for them at an election. Meetings of this kind are necessary for reorganization and will show local Liberals their duty in exercising the franchise.

Re the O.T.A. Mr. Proudfoot told his audience that the Liberals went to the county some time ago on an "Abolish the Bar" platform and had been defeated. In 1916 the government carried pro-tem and now lose not know where it is on the liquor question. He understood that the chief question was "in favor of O.T.A. or not," but that was not the only point submitted to the questions asked.

Referring to the recent Dewart charges, the opposition had a considerable amount of information to enable the speaker to be made, but would not pre-empt the government officers to have the charges investigated, but within five minutes the speaker resigned his resignation. Peter White, K.C. had been appointed to assist Sir Wm. Meredith in the investigation and the speaker had been appointed for the opposition, who thought that the government should have appointed at whom they, the opposition, would have full confidence. He reminded the meeting that a Liberal government provided counsel for the then opposition at public expense on the occasion of another investigation.

Concluding the speaker said that a deeper investigation of the liquor department would now be necessary, such as that liquor had been in the hands of vendors as the pure article.

Nelson Parliament said that he was a farmer proud of it, and after deploring at some length the lack of cohesion between the city and country expressed by the speaker, he said that the Toronto Liberals would be able to win in some of the constituencies.

Sam Clarke made an appeal for racial, religious and political tolerance and broadmindedness.

Hartley Dewart briefly but conclusively denounced the government and all its works with the exception of those acts suggested by Mr. Proudfoot and other members of an intelligent opposition.

The other members of the opposition present at the meeting spoke briefly in the same vein.

STILL HOLDS RECORD.

Editor World:

In your paper of Thursday morning, under the heading "Beats Long Branch," C. S. Bogart of 138 Bouthiee avenue, claims to have had a better hatch of chickens from an incubator than that reported by me on March 19. Mr. Bogart reports 24 chicks from 29 eggs, or an 83 per cent. hatch, while I hatched 28 out of 29 eggs, or 96 per cent. I still claim to hold the record for an incubator hatch in the month of March. I might as well state that a number of the eggs hatched by me were brown shelled, as all incubator operators know, are much harder to hatch than white shelled eggs.

COL. PRATT INDICTS ARGYLE HOUSE

I will then give the name of the informant if required. One case is that of Major James McGregor, resident engineer of Halifax, anxious to return home to a position of $10,000 a year. Major Ernest Victor Collier told Major McGregor that he did not care a blank about the rights of officers, and said to McGregor, "If you do not submit to what the other officers have to do, then send you down to a hut where you will mess alone." Major Collier denied Major McGregor the right to parade before the officers and sent him to the mess under military rule. And for all we know," added Colonel Pratt, "he is kicking his heels around there yet."

When an officer is treated in that way what can a Tommy expect?

"Those are the things that lead to riot and rebellion. Those are the things that lead to insubordination. I know that Col. Colquhoun may make serious representations to Argyle House; but there is a former sergeant there who is a former sergeant there. There is not an officer in Canada who has spoken to him, who has not returned home with heartburning."

The name of this officer is Lieutenant Cummings. Col. Pratt has instanced the case of a Canadian soldier who could not get a hearing from Cummings, but who insisted. When he pushed his way back into the room from which he had been excluded by two officers were having tea, and their two stenographers were sitting on the table smoking cigars (laughter).

Women Walk Streets.

Col. Pratt gave another experience of Canadian women and children at the Argyle House officers.

"This is continued," he said. "Women and children were summoned to London for embarkation to Canada, but they had to stand in the streets of London all night because the officers of Argyle House chose to close their doors at a certain hour. (Shame, shame, shame.) This is an instance of unfeeling thoughtlessness. They are not officers. A senior officer, at present in Toronto two years ago took the train from Euston station with a train load of British Canadian soldiers, but a commissioned officer and two sergeants went thru the train and collected two pounds sterling from everyone on the train. The money was taken from Argyle House, and was authorized to collect the money. Ottawa knows this. There should be an accounting of the money. The money was taken from the pockets of the British Canadian soldiers. not. He did not intend to deal with precedent; the question simply was if the legislation would benefit the largest number of people in Canada.

The member for Vancouver South made a plea on behalf of the families of factory-workers, and of miners, the latter of whom represented, he said, about 85,000 people. He said that he would like to see the government to express the opinion if the government permitted the coming of a commission to act in a way contrary to the farmers' wishes. The Canadian railway board had ordered the clocks to be set forward an hour next Sunday, and if the railways changed their time, the farmers would have to get up an hour earlier, no matter how the house might vote tonight. Was the government responsible for the order of this war railway board? Did it propose to recall that order if the house voted against daylight saving?

For Daylight Saving.

Speaking for himself, Mr. Maclean said that he would support daylight saving. He thought it important that we should centralize our railway system as far as possible. It would cause great dislocation to have railroads running on one time and the American railways on another. He believed that the house of the war that Canada should associate herself with her own continent, and as far as possible, the evil things of Europe. Our prime minister and a number of his colleagues have more or less "butted" into the affairs of Europe, and some one had humorously described the house of parliament climbing their way into the peace conference. (Laughter.)

Harmony With Neighbors.

Mr. Maclean said he would not discuss this beyond saying that we must keep our country in close touch with the western world. It was found to be the wrong policy for us to have a broad gauge when the American railways had the standard gauge. Let us work in harmony with our neighbors, and above all things, let us have a frank declaration of policy from the government. The members of the house, after speaking and voting tonight, should not go away uncertain as to whether the clocks would be set forward next Sunday. If the Canadian railway board set the clocks forward, the farmer, who shipped his milk by train, would have to get up an hour earlier, no matter how freely he might have his views expressed in the present debate. The policy involved must be decided and could only be decided by the government.

In conclusion, Mr. Maclean said that Canada had joined Great Britain, France, the United States and other nations in adopting what was regarded as the progressive policy of daylight saving. He did not like to see Canada take a backward step while the other great nations retained daylight saving.

Hon. Dr. Reid said he had not received any word from the railway war board, but railways must be operated in the public interest. He thought parliament could make the railways do whatever they liked.

Dr. Edwards opposed the resolution. He believed that the great majority of people in the country were opposed to it.

The resolution as amended was then put and carried on the same division, the effect being that daylight saving failed to receive the endorsement of the parliament.

UNPARDONABLE SIN COMING TO ALLEN

Most Pretentious Screen Play Ever Attempted Showing Next Week.

Surpassing in importance any previous moving picture event in the history of Toronto will be the engagement of "The Unpardonable Sin" Harry Garson's epic photoplay starring Blanche Sweet, under the personal direction of Marshall Neilan, at the Allen Theatre, beginning Monday. There will be six presentations daily, the performances starting at 7:15, 8:15, 9:15 and 10:15 p.m.

"The Unpardonable Sin" is one of the most pretentious screen plays that have ever been attempted, and has been completed after months of painstaking effort and with the expenditure of more real money than has been entailed in the aid of any photoplay produced within the past five years. It is a brand new production, and just now is having its initial runs in the important theatres in the east.

Blanche Sweet.

When they see "The Unpardonable Sin" moving picture devotees will be particularly interested in the work of the star for the reason that, in Miss Sweet's performance, she brings back to the screen a favorite who had thoroughly established herself before retiring for a long and much-needed rest. Miss Sweet won her spurs in some of the biggest and best pictures ever produced by David Wark Griffith, who has since given to the public such big stars as "The Birth of a Nation," "Intolerance," and "Harris of the World." Marshall Neilan, who directed her in the new picture, is conceded to rank equally high with Mr. Griffith as one of the greatest of the screen. Miss Sweet's performance in "The Unpardonable Sin" seems to indicate that her absence from the screen for some time has proved rather than impaired her powers as a dramatic actress.

In support of Miss Sweet Mr. Garson has assembled a cast of unusual strength, prominent among whom are Matt Moore and Wallace Beary.

HAMILTON NEWS

Hamilton, March 27.—About three hundred and fifty war veterans were present at the second banquet in honor of the returned men, held tonight in the L.G.O.Y. Hall. Thirty-three tables were required to accommodate the great gathering of war heroes.

Claiming that the newspapers had published stories that had created the opinion that Paul and Anne Kowalski were guilty of the murder of Knut Tremblor for the counsel of the accused was successful today in securing a change of venue.

Five choruses by a choir of fifty-four singers were given at the annual concert at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church choir tonight. The numbers rendered, the exceedingly difficult, were handed to the best advantage.

Victims of the influenza, Fred Decoteau, and Edith, the smallest of Decoteau, and Edith, the smallest of Decoteau, family of four, died in the Mountain Hospital today within one hour of each other's passing.

TO RELIEVE CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or are hard of hearing, you have been misled as to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parson's (double strength), and add to this one pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take one tablespoonful four times daily.

This will obtain quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, cost little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.

WORK FIRST, THEN REST!

Unless you save money you will die in the poorhouse or live on the charity of your relatives or the public. You are spending money without a thought to the days of misery that close the lives of most of us. The man who saves money provides for his own old age and for the comfort of his wife and children after he is gone.

"If you want to know whether you are destined to be a success or a failure in life you can easily find out. The test is simple and it is infallible. Are you able to save money? If not, drop out. You will lose. You may think not, but you will lose as sure as you live. The seed of success is not in you."—James J. Hill.

Harry Lauder, who is no fool, says: "View the reckless spender as a criminal, and shun his company." Or, as another famous man put it:

"The man who does not and can not save money can not and will not do anything else worth while."

The Duty to Save Is a Sacred Duty

The man who is fit to bring up a family saves something every week, even though it be only fifty cents or a dollar. A dollar saved every week for twenty or thirty years, and put into a bank at compound interest, or invested wisely in any other way, becomes a good-sized nest egg to sit on as your earning power gets smaller.

Who ever heard of the free spender getting help, when he stopped his spending, from those on whom he had wasted his money? If they think of him at all, it is only as a "Poor Boob."

Thrift is a duty that you owe to your wife, your children, and yourself.

FRIDAY MORNING, MARCH 28.

Daylight Saving.

Daylight saving has suddenly become an issue of political importance. The government, it seems, was intimidated by an outcry against the measure and failed to take action, whereas, on the other hand, all the business men in Canada had been, as a Montreal man expressed it, perfectly certain in its usefulness had been so thoroughly proved that they had mapped out their course accordingly and taken the action of the government for granted.

As it is the government must yield to the clamor of organized commerce. On Sunday morning the railways of the country will follow the United States change in time, and all business such as telegraphs, telephones, stock exchanges and so forth will adapt itself to the change. The result is that the rest of the community in self defence must take the same course.

Montreal has in fact, already decided upon this action, and the Montreal clock will be changed at two o'clock on Sunday morning. Toronto, for the sake of its railway, banking, stock exchange, telegraph, newspaper and other interests, has no option but to do the same. Hamilton, Winnipeg and other cities are urging the government to act, and will be compelled to put themselves in accord with daylight saving time.

The steamship trade when it opens must accommodate itself to United States time if it is to make railway connections, and this affects Toronto even more than Montreal and other places.

In Toronto if the government does not pass an order for the change, the mayor should issue instructions for all clocks to be changed on Sunday morning, and the churches should be particularly requested to observe the change in time. Last year the alteration worked excellently and the economies effected were even more important than the convenience and advantage of the public, altho these were very greatly enhanced.

The Civic Abattoir.

Action is being taken by the city hall authorities with a view to restoring the civic abattoir to the good graces of the citizens. It has fallen into disrepute by reason of deficits in its accounts, the amount last year being $75,000. Several explanations have been given of this deficit, but the most obvious reason is that the building was too big for the business transacted in it, not more than one-third of its space being used. The building cost $300,000, when one of $100,000, it is said, would have been sufficient. It was a Chicago expert that advised the expenditure.

The problem now is to utilize the building and this is considered to be feasible. The suggestion is not only to make good use of the building, but to be of advantage to the citizens generally. It is a proposal to embark in the dead meat trade, the abattoir at present pays its operating and maintenance charges, but has not overtaken the sinking fund and interest charges. It is believed that the dead meat industry could be handled as to cover all overhead charges, and supply meat at cost to the public, thus establishing a standard rate for meat in the city.

The western cattle market could partly be used in connection with the abattoir for the reception of hogs and cattle destined for the civic dead meat trade. The rest of the yard could be sold or leased or put to some other civic purpose.

As a regulator of prices for the public as well as an extinguisher of deficits on the abattoir, the dead meat proposal has attractions for a large number of the city hall men. A report is to be had from the commissioner of finance, and Ald. MacGregor has a committee busy considering the pros and cons of the proposal.

"This Kind Cometh Not Out." Wild expectations on the part of profitists and other contributors to the world's turmoil, that a reign of calm and tranquillity was about to set in with a return to the gentle ideals of the mid-Victorians, minus the Charismatic, the Crimean war, the Indian Mutiny, and other accidents, are being rudely jarred by the state of affairs in Europe. There is less prospect of peace than there was six months ago, and there is a disposition to hold President Wilson responsible for the situation, on account of his premature forcing of the armistice. We have Mr. Philip Gibbs' assurance that the armistice was not premature, but if the rank and file of the Germans consider that it was, and believe they are unbetrayed, and therefore determined not to accept terms of peace, and if Hungary and Austria join Russia in Polishdom, and if Italy quarrels with the Yugo-Slavs, and if Egypt is inflamed with rebellion, and the Arabs intriguing for Palestine, and if Serbia and Rumania are at the point of despair, and if England be on the eve of industrial revolution, we may conclude that the dove of peace is roosting in the Himalayas or the Rocky Mountains, or anywhere else than within hail of the Alps.

There appears to be an extraordinary capacity for muddling matters inherent in the officers of civil government among the allies. Indecision, procrastination, timidity, hesitation, all the weaknesses that military practice abolishes on sight, obtain free rein when the civilians sit down to parley.

The Bolsheviks know what they want, and take it. The Germans know what they want, and tried to get it. They do not appear to have changed their opinions, and are still acclaiming the Kaiser. These people who know what they want without any guessing, have a long start on the other people who sit around trying to square their thousand and one desires and likings, instead of settling down boldly to the stark needs of the case and letting everything else slide.

They are giving the Bolsheviks every advantage, and the Bolsheviks are taking them all. They are preparing the way for some military dictator to arise and do without hesitation what they can't make up their minds to do. They are still spending money in bucketfuls and they are not hastening the preparations for the creation of new wealth. In fact, the whole situation is as grave as it can be, and the united common sense of all who possess any is in most urgent demand to make democracy safe for the world.

It is no time for pessimism. It is not pessimism to look things in the face and see what is exactly the case. It would be pessimism to suppose that no improvement is possible, that no advance can be made. It is no matter for surprise that the rapids are rough below the cataract over which we have safely rushed. But we need our steadiest heads and strongest hands to have charge while we dash these troubled waters.

Are we sure that the best men are handling our affairs everywhere? Is our method of choosing them the best? Do we select the men we would put in charge of our own personal affairs to look after the national and other public interests?

Were they doing their very best at utmost pressure when the news of the Hungarian friction with the Bolsheviks stirred them up to do in a week what these high contracting parties had expected to spend a month over? Had they a full realization of the desperate nature of the case? Were they conscious of the fifteen or sixteen hundred millions of human beings whose destiny depends on the settlement of this European embroglio?

There never was a time when the whole world was so abjectly in need of leadership. London has proposed that Clemenceau be made civil leader of the Allies, and that he should be in charge of the military head of affairs, but there is no machinery by which such a thing could get itself done. The Germans may recall the Kaiser any day, and the war may break out anew, or the Bolsheviks may gain the upper hand and we may find ourselves fighting side by side with German armies against the Red Terror. We want peace, but the children of this world continue to be wiser in their generation than the children of light. When they want anything they let nothing stand in the way of their success in getting it. There will be no peace without sacrifice.

As I looked back on the main crisis of my married life, it seems to me it has nearly always been some ordinary thing like bridge, or dancing, that has helped me over them, and that has enabled me to hide my feelings successfully.

"Foolishly, I did not wait until I reached home to question Neil.

"What in the world were you and Mrs. Orton arguing so earnestly about?" I asked as soon as we were seated in the car.

"Oh, yes you were! At the table. I saw Lorraine looking at you in such a queer way, it attracted my attention."

"We were talking of a little business." His tone was cold, and did not invite further remark.

"What business can you have with her?"

"She owns stock in some of our companies, if you must know."

"Is it making her money?"

"Neil looked at me thru narrow lids. Never had I seen quite that look in his eyes. Most women, I believe, wake up suddenly rather than slowly, to anything that is a difficult situation. But invariably we look back we see that it has been existent for some time; that many a time we have led up to it particularly if the situation is a marital one."

"Not lately," he replied, then looked moodily out of the window.

"Neil," I said slowly, "I know what it is, but there is something you will not tell me—something connected with your wife's connections with her."

"For heaven's sake, Bab, are you going to play the part of a jealous wife?" I saw plainly that Neil did not intend me to say any more to him, that he did not mean to tell me anything, yet I persisted.

"I don't know what is wrong, Neil. But I am sure there is something. I have been so wrapped up in the baby, that I have been blind to other things. I never have been your partner, but I have seen you shut out of everything as I never shut out sick to death of not knowing things. I want you to begin tonight. We'll start all over. You tell me the things which I, as your wife, should know. I feel that our future happiness depends upon perfect confidence between us. I laid my hand on his knee, and leaned my head against his shoulder. We were nearly home. It would not be easy to take the subject up again. I wanted an answer now.

"You look like a baby," he said, "other things," he said more gently than he yet had spoken, but with a weariness in his voice. And he moved the arm against which my head rested unceasingly.

"For a moment I felt helpless. I had an impulse to carry on the conversation—to insist upon knowing what the earnest talk with Mrs. Orton portended, even tho I precipitated a quarrel. Then I hesitated. I would not be so foolish; there were other ways by which women advised themselves of things they wished to know. I would also find some way to satisfy myself.

Neither of us talked much when we reached home, but Neil was cross and nervous. He sent me off to bed, but he sat up late working in the library. Once when I crept back against his door to see what he was doing, I heard the rustle of papers, and went quietly back without disturbing him. It was long before I slept. The next morning, so long quiescent, had once more taken a hold upon me and kept me wide-eyed, wakeful.

WILL BANQUET OFFICERS.
Brantford, March 27.—The returned officers of the city will banquet here on April 5. General Newburn has been invited to present.

As I looked back on the main crisis of my married life, it seems to me it has nearly always been some ordinary thing like bridge, or dancing, that has helped me over them, and that has enabled me to hide my feelings successfully.

"For heaven's sake, Bab, are you going to play the part of a jealous wife?" I saw plainly that Neil did not intend me to say any more to him, that he did not mean to tell me anything, yet I persisted.

"I don't know what is wrong, Neil. But I am sure there is something. I have been so wrapped up in the baby, that I have been blind to other things. I never have been your partner, but I have seen you shut out of everything as I never shut out sick to death of not knowing things. I want you to begin tonight. We'll start all over. You tell me the things which I, as your wife, should know. I feel that our future happiness depends upon perfect confidence between us. I laid my hand on his knee, and leaned my head against his shoulder. We were nearly home. It would not be easy to take the subject up again. I wanted an answer now.

"You look like a baby," he said, "other things," he said more gently than he yet had spoken, but with a weariness in his voice. And he moved the arm against which my head rested unceasingly.

"For a moment I felt helpless. I had an impulse to carry on the conversation—to insist upon knowing what the earnest talk with Mrs. Orton portended, even tho I precipitated a quarrel. Then I hesitated. I would not be so foolish; there were other ways by which women advised themselves of things they wished to know. I would also find some way to satisfy myself.

Neither of us talked much when we reached home, but Neil was cross and nervous. He sent me off to bed, but he sat up late working in the library. Once when I crept back against his door to see what he was doing, I heard the rustle of papers, and went quietly back without disturbing him. It was long before I slept. The next morning, so long quiescent, had once more taken a hold upon me and kept me wide-eyed, wakeful.

As I looked back on the main crisis of my married life, it seems to me it has nearly always been some ordinary thing like bridge, or dancing, that has helped me over them, and that has enabled me to hide my feelings successfully.

"Foolishly, I did not wait until I reached home to question Neil.

"What in the world were you and Mrs. Orton arguing so earnestly about?" I asked as soon as we were seated in the car.

"Oh, yes you were! At the table. I saw Lorraine looking at you in such a queer way, it attracted my attention."

"We were talking of a little business." His tone was cold, and did not invite further remark.

"What business can you have with her?"

"She owns stock in some of our companies, if you must know."

"Is it making her money?"

"Neil looked at me thru narrow lids. Never had I seen quite that look in his eyes. Most women, I believe, wake up suddenly rather than slowly, to anything that is a difficult situation. But invariably we look back we see that it has been existent for some time; that many a time we have led up to it particularly if the situation is a marital one."

"Not lately," he replied, then looked moodily out of the window.

"Neil," I said slowly, "I know what it is, but there is something you will not tell me—something connected with your wife's connections with her."

"For heaven's sake, Bab, are you going to play the part of a jealous wife?" I saw plainly that Neil did not intend me to say any more to him, that he did not mean to tell me anything, yet I persisted.

THE PROMOTER'S WIFE

By JANE PHELPS.

Barbara Begg Neil to Tell of His Relations With Blanche.

CHAPTER XLIV.

After dinner was over we played bridge, two tables. Of course, I did not play with Neil, and was seated so I could not see him. But I knew he could not talk anything save trivialities during a game, so I gave my attention to my cards, winning compliments upon my playing from my partner—a quiet, middle-aged man whom I rather liked.

As I looked back on the main crisis of my married life, it seems to me it has nearly always been some ordinary thing like bridge, or dancing, that has helped me over them, and that has enabled me to hide my feelings successfully.

"Foolishly, I did not wait until I reached home to question Neil.

Ida Talks To Miss Julia Arthur

By IDA L. WEBSTER.

Last night we journeyed over to the Allen Theatre to see Miss Julia Arthur. Altho the appointment had been made for us, we were about ten minutes early, which, considering that we happen to be in the female class, is something to boast of.

Now altho this is merely an interview of Miss Arthur, or perhaps we should say, that it is solely about the lady, yet we cannot help making one remark which absolutely concerns the Allen Theatre itself, or whoever is responsible for it. In the ladies' room down stairs there are writing tables set most markedly fixed up with lights, etc., and on each one there is a very nicely engraved card, which informs the patron that any advertisement placed on the table will be mailed by the management. That is the greatest sign of service we have ever seen in Canada, and the Messrs. Allen are to be congratulated.

And for the leading lady, Miss Arthur, first of all being a real actress, herself arrived at the theatre exactly 20 minutes before she was called to appear on the stage, and yours truly was immediately permitted to dress, and to have my hair styled, and to have my make-up done, and to have my dress changed, and to have my shoes put on, and to have my hat put on, and to have my gloves put on, and to have my bag put on, and to have my coat put on, and to have my veil put on, and to have my hair put up, and to have my face put on, and to have my hands put on, and to have my feet put on, and to have my body put on, and to have my soul put on, and to have my spirit put on, and to have my mind put on, and to have my heart put on, and to have my love put on, and to have my life put on, BOARDS ADVOCATE MANY REFORMS

Ontario's proportion of the cost would be sixty per cent. and the local legislators would apportion the division of the amount between the province and the municipalities. The exact route of the Windsor-Ottawa highway had not yet been determined by the cabinet.

DEVELOP PROVINCES

Some cheap criticism, said the minister, had been directed at the highway scheme, in a resolution passed by the United Farmers, who argued that it was legislation for the owners of expensive automobiles. This he thought was the opinion of men who did not realize the influence that good highways would have on the development of the country.

UNIFORM RATES

Possible one of the most interesting resolutions dealt with at the afternoon session was that proposed by J. P. Hume, of Goderich, to the effect that the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario should establish uniform rates for hydro-electric power delivered to municipalities throughout the province.

SCHOOL CONDITIONS ARE INTOLERABLE

Earlscourt Deputation Complainants of Serious Lack of Accommodation.

Hot indignation was poured on the building policy of the board of education, both by a deputation and Trustees Bell at the property committee meeting yesterday afternoon.

Trustees Bell asserted in behalf of the deputation that the Earlscourt conditions had become intolerable owing to insufficient school accommodation.

The deputation asked that instead of letting contracts for a complete new school in Glenholme avenue, half a mile north of the city limits, a portion of the money should be immediately devoted to the erection of an annex at the Earlscourt School.

Dr. Noble asserted that the arrangements with the township and city council precluded "one dollar being expended in Earlscourt this year to add to the school accommodation."

Flery adjectives then began to fly. Trustees Bell asserted that it was "perfectly ridiculous" for the Toronto board of education to go outside the city limits to build schools for union schools, and refuse to give precedence to an annex such as is so urgently needed at Earlscourt.

Mrs. Sauter, representing the Earlscourt Home and School Club, made an earnest appeal for an annex. The members of the deputation offered to go with representatives of the board of trustees to ask the board of control to agree to a portion of the building appropriation being expended for the Earlscourt annex.

After more cross firing Trustee Bell addressing the deputation, exclaimed: "Dr. Noble does not speak for the school board. He is merely chairman of the property committee."

Dr. Hunter said that the deputation's proposal was "not a measure to satisfy a majority of the board," he believed.

As the deputation withdrew, Mrs. Sauter said that if no action were taken they would appear again.

Many managers of large firms in Toronto have expressed themselves as entirely in approval with the scheme, including Superintendent Warnock of the Massey-Harris Co., the Dundas The Co., Wright's Sparmint Co. and the Toronto Carpet Co. Mr. Barton of the Robert Simpson Co. said that there were advantages and disadvantages, but the former would offset the latter.

Despite the reported decision of the government not to reintroduce daylight saving this year, all Canadian railways will operate under the scheme. They were ordered to do so by the Canadian railway war board yesterday. The order from the war board states that the change will be made at 2 o'clock on Sunday morning.

DAYLIGHT SAVING HAS MANY BACKERS

Municipalities Will Act Independently, if Government Refuses.

Mayor Church was waited upon yesterday by a number of railwaymen including Allan Purvis, chairman of the operating committee of the Canadian Railway War Board, and requested to take some action towards the enacting of a daylight saving scheme. A bylaw to this effect will be introduced in council by Controller Maguire. This is necessary if the Dominion government does not pass such a measure.

"I believe it is necessary," said his worship, "it was a success last year. If the government doesn't put it in effect, the municipalities will have to act of their own accord."

Mr. Purvis stated that Montreal contemplates passing a similar measure and that the railroads would take a like action.

Many managers of large firms in Toronto have expressed themselves as entirely in approval with the scheme, including Superintendent Warnock of the Massey-Harris Co., the Dundas The Co., Wright's Sparmint Co. and the Toronto Carpet Co. PREMIER PROMISES TO SPEED UP WORK

Tells Big Deputation That Provincial Highway Will Advance Business.

Delegates who were in attendance at the good roads convention at Stratford on Feb. 11, to the number of some three hundred, swarmed into the parliament buildings yesterday and sang ballads, songs and catches to while away the time all Premier Hearst and his cabinet received them. The reception took place on the main stairway.

Francis Wellington Hay, M.L.A., North Perth, was in attendance as introducer of so large, good-humored and optimistic a deputation. He counseled them one and all, however, that brevity is the soul of wit and the key way to the hearts and understandings of busy statesmen. Wilson, Sarnia, Crown Attorney, opened the flow of credit, in a unanimous and enthusiastic which he felt toward a highway of which it is to be the western terminus.

Mayor S. W. Stevenson of Stratford followed in a reminiscent and historical sketch of the progress of highway transportation since the elemental days of Good Roads Campaign. He mentioned that the route of the provincial highway championed by the delegation between Toronto and Sarnia would cut through a territory containing half a million people.

W. D. Euler, M.P., Kitchener, said the route proposed by the deputation would bisect the heart of Ontario. The people demanded the provincial highway as the best means of bringing the country in a sense partly independent of the railway.

CRASH OF THE ASH, MCGRAW'S BIG ACT

Sly Jawn Lines His Talent—Heart Breaks for Pitchers.

Gainesville, Fla., March 27.—John Joseph McGraw has selected what may prove to be his season's batting order for the first game of the trip between the regulars and Yankinians this afternoon.

As in other years, George Burns will lead the Giant attack. McGraw's batting order for the first game of the trip between the regulars and Yankinians this afternoon.

After Young we find Hal Chase, king of first basemen, and the best hit-and-run man in the business. Chase is not as fast as he used to be, but in 1918 he led the National League in batting, and hit over .300.

Benny Kauff has been dropped into the cleanup position. He will follow Chase. This is the ideal spot for Benny. He likes to have his cut at the ball. He can take it batting fourth, and he can come Larry Doyle, ordinarily a .300 batsman.

The first Zim is in sixth place. It is an indication of the wonderful offensive power possessed by McGraw's 1919 array when it is necessary to place a man of Zimmerman's hitting ability so low down in the order. Zim is followed by Arthur Fletcher, Fletcher is dangerous in the pinches. At any time he is apt to uncork a long hit.

In eighth position we have the two Giant catchers, Lew McCarty and Earl Smith. Both are sluggers. McCarty hit around .280 a few years ago. Smith hit .385 in the International League last year, and he looks as if he would hit well in any company.

Here, then, is the Giant 1919 batting order. Look it over. Seven men in it have hit better than .300 in years gone by. Three of them, Doyle, Chase and Zimmerman have National League batting records. Benny Kauff led the Federal League several seasons.

It is hardly to be expected that seven Giants will hit .300 or better this year. But if any one of the regulars drops below .270 the coming season, it will surprise a lot of folks.

Jim Thorpe isn't attracting as much attention at Gainesville as he did at Marlin a few years ago when he came to the Giants from the conquest of the world, athletically speaking. He is a busy Indian these days. Jim will not displace George Burns or Benny Kauff or Ross Young in the outfield, but he is now the only utility outfielder on the active list of the club and he hopes to break into a few games this year. The Giant Indian was in good trim when he appeared in the lineup in his few workouts that he has lost in the speed for which he is justly famous. Also, Jim is soaking the ball pretty regularly this spring, which should be cheering news to his admirers.

Washington, March 27.—Testimony destined to show that organized baseball controls the market in players thru reservation clauses in contracts, and that it is a trust within the meaning of the Sherman Anti-Trust Act, was continued today in the District of Columbia Supreme Court in the damage suit of the Baltimore Federal League Club against the National and American Leagues, and certain officials of the defunct Federal League.

Witnesses appearing today included a number of baseball players, most of whom were Federal League players. George Maisei, a baseball player, sketched his professional career thru the minor leagues into the major league, and then back to the minors. He testified that only a few days ago a contract had been sent him by a ball club on the Pacific Coast, the terms of which were not at all satisfactory. He added that because of the rules and regulations under which organized baseball operates, he either had to accept the unsatisfactory contract or quit organized baseball.

A deposition containing testimony given in another case by David Pultz, president of the Players' Fraternity, was read to the jury. Pultz asserted that the chairman of the National Commission had requested during the contest between the Federal League and the old leagues that the Players' Fraternity expel any player who jumped to the Federal League.

Counsel for the Baltimore Club made an effort to introduce testimony given during previous baseball litigation by Joe Vila, a New York baseball reporter, in which Ban Johnson, president of the American League, was quoted as saying some derogatory things about the Federal League. Counsel for the organized baseball interests objected to the introduction of this testimony, and on this objection was proceeding when the court adjourned.

Volumes of technical evidence were introduced. The peace pact of Dec. 1, 1915, was read, together with agreements, contracts, clauses and rules.

L. E. Goldman, director and attorney for the Federal League, resumed his testimony, taking up the "peace pact" contracts and rules. He declared that baseball had become public property, and that attempts to monopolize it would be in contravention of the Sherman law.

James Michael Walsh, former player of the Baltimore Club, and now employed by the Bethlehem Steel Company, said his exit from the game was due to his inability to get a satisfactory contract after the dissolution of the Federal League.

Kitchener, Ont., March 27.—Jack W. Beatty, manager of the local baseball club, was in the city today, conferred with the management of the team respecting the season's operations. The uniforms for the club were placed on order, the home outfit being of white checked goods, with green trimmings, and the road uniform of gray check, with the same trimmings.

Manager Beatty has eighteen players on his list, who will report during the week of April 22, providing the weather conditions are favorable. Among the best-known players who will find a place on the Kitchener line-up is Andy Kyle, who was discharged this week from service with the United States naval forces, and who was one of the fastest outfielders in the former Canadian League, as well as Ovid Nicholson, outfielder, who is reputed to be one of the fastest out of the minor leagues. He holds the world's record for stolen bases, having purloined 111 in 120 games, a few seasons ago. Several promising youngsters are also on Beatty's list for trial. The manager was well pleased with the grounds, and is content that the Kitchener-Gario League will be one of the most successful leagues in America.

London, March 27.—August Rainer, United States army, defeated Boy McCormick, a British middleweight, on points in a fifteen-round bout at contest in the Holborn Stadium tonight.

The fight was hotly contested, but the American proved the better and craftier boxer.

Reorganizing the New England Baseball League

Lawrence, Mass., March 27.—At a meeting called today by John H. The league officers were not elected, but a second meeting was called for next Monday afternoon. The former New England League became defunct after the 1915 season.

VETERAN FOR LEAF.

London, March 28.—Robert Harmon, of the Savannah, Ga., outfielder, who signed with Toronto Internationals and will report for spring training in a veteran of the 33rd Battalion, and a resident of this city.

Harmon is a big fellow, and of course counts for anything he will certainly make aspirants for a Leaf berth hustle.

COCKY YOUNG TWIRLER With Huggins' Yanks

Jacksonville, Fla., March 27.—It has been practically settled in the mind of Miller Huggins of the Yankees what pitcher will be hung into action against the Robins when the two teams clash here Saturday afternoon in the first blood game of the season. That gentleman will be Lefty O'Doul, one of the cockiest youths who have filled a big league uniform for some time.

But picking a catcher to start with will be twice as easy. That catcher probably will be Muddy Ruel, and there is a good chance that Muddy will have a half-game's work, and that Earl Baldwin will relieve him when the time comes. Truck Hannah's undoubted class will be hidden from the Jacksonville multitude for a brief time, according to present indications.

Hannah has a bruised leg, as sore arm and a huge boil on the side of his neck. If it weren't for these trifling ailments, Truck probably would be sent in to do his full share of work Saturday.

Besides O'Doul, who is in the best condition of any Yankee twirler, McGriff, Schneider and Brady are booked to under-umber for the big league education of Jacksonville.

The Yankees will probably line up with Ward at third base, Peck at second, Pratt in center, and Halas or Vick in right field. Kane and Lamar also may get a crack at the right fielding job, in order to give Huggins a line on their ability under fire. The first Yankee practice game has definitely been decided upon. It will be turned out Friday afternoon, just before the momentous and inescapable fracas with the Dodgers. Line-ups haven't been passed out to the boys yet, probably for the good and sufficient reason that ball players are quite scarce when it comes to thinking in terms of two baseball clubs.

Duffy Lewis wired yesterday that he had left Hot Springs, Ark., and was due in camp last night. He will be welcomed with open arms. The outfield, so far as can be discerned at this distance, will then be complete.

WOODSTOCK COLLEGE WIN BASKETBALL CONTEST

Woodstock, Ont., March 27.—Guelph Y. M. C. A. Juniors suffered defeat in an O. P. A. Junior game at the hands of Woodstock College, by 21-20. Howland, the visitors had good combination, they used effectively, but the local defense played a strong defence game and broke up the Guelph lads' attempts at baskets. Stibbe was the best for the winners, while Hamilton and Sock showed up well for the visitors. Line-up: Woodstock (21)—Forwards, Morrison, Stibbe; centre, Jones; defence, Roderick and Denman.

Guelph (20)—Forwards, Hamilton and Buckland; centre, Sock; defence, Sorby and Cockman.

A preliminary game was staged between Woodstock Y. and College Juniors, the former winning a fast, snappy game by 37 to 12.

More Tea can be secured from a pound of fresh than from a pound and a half of ordinary tea. The rich flavory infusion, yielded by the young leaves and shoots that blend to form SALADA, makes it most economical as well as supremely satisfying.

STRETCHER BEARER RECEIVES GRATUITY

Heroism of Technically Non-Combatant Corps is Fully Recognized.

Walter Willcocks of 652 Ashdale avenue, who recently expressed the fear that he would not receive the war gratuity to which all members of the C. E. F. are entitled because he belonged to a "non-combatant" unit, the 5th Canadian Field Ambulance, will undoubtedly receive the gratuity which is his due.

Departmental and educational estimates represent an increase of about three and a half mills. By meeting the war expenditures of this and the preceding year, thru current taxation, a rate still further reduced should prevail in 1920, and that of the succeeding years will be relatively more reasonable than could have been possible had the war expenditures been capitalized, and the cost to the ratepayer distributed with interest, over a considerable period of time.

Unnegotiated debentures amounting to $6,117,700 were on hand at the beginning of 1918, which were all disposed of during the year. Issues remaining on hand on December 31, 1918, were $650,000. Hydro-Electric bonds and four millions Toronto harbor commission bonds. This year the city will have to meet $3,584,086 of maturing debentures.

Uncontrollable debt... $18,197,068.78. Controllable... $2,290,538.00. Less revenue, other than taxation... $2,547,804.78. Taxation... $2,027,155.66.

Balance to be raised by taxation... $17,460,449.12. Revenue from taxation... $2,015,254.00. General tax on assessment... $10,735,190.27.

Less taxes uncollectible, vacancy and other allowances, reductions and probable losses... $199,239.57. Hamilton Highway... $17,460,449.12.

The act constituting the commission requires the city to share in the construction and maintenance of the Toronto-Hamilton highway. The city's capital contribution is $25,000, payable in November, 1919, and the sum of $84,000 has been yearly raised and set aside to meet this obligation.

This year, the amount involved in war expenditures and grants is $1,481,486, which added to the debt charges of $666,730 on the original $4,500,000 debt makes the total amount to be provided in this year's estimates in connection with the war $2,148,216, or 33 per cent.

Ain't It a Grand and Glorious Feelin'?

118,215, a decrease of $2,325,453 over last year. The $200,000 which was the city's contribution to the Toronto and York Patriotic Fund, which they have graciously waived, has materially assisted the aggregate of the city's war expenditures for the duration of the war is $18,563,182.
