WORST STORM IN YEARS SWEEPS ATLANTIC COAST TRANSPORTATION CRIPPLED

New York, Feb. 5.—Huge waves rolled up by a 50-mile gale were still sweeping the north Atlantic coast to-night, while cities and towns along the shore were trying with indifferent success to dig themselves out of the deepest snowdrifts of years.

Shipping remained at anchor or moved with the utmost caution. In the landlocked waterways around New York harbor and the Hudson navigation, the steamship company was driven ashore on the north end of Long Island by the four other sounders were reported creeping along thru fields of ice.

Transportation Crippled. While mountainous seas were battering the coast, the highest tide ever recorded in New York harbor caused floods all along the Hudson and Harlem rivers.

Two score big snow plows were at work today on the New York Central between New York and Buffalo. Snow has drifted from 15 to 18 feet deep in some of the big cuts.

Britain Must Not Seek Great Loans in U. S., Says Financial Expert.

London, Feb. 5.—Walter Leaf, noted financial authority and deputy chairman of the committee on the exchange situation said today:

"On the question of credits the American attitude is distinctly critical and suspicious of our expenditure on luxuries—all the more because they have imposed on themselves the severe restriction of a prohibition law. I disclaim the idea that the fall in American exchange is favorably regarded here as an incentive to our export trade."

URGE GOVERNMENT NOT TO PENALIZE BUSINESS LOANS

Western Ontario Boards of Trade Move for Lower Business Profits Tax. DISCUSS EXCHANGE

London, Feb. 5.—Unanimously and without discussion, the Western Ontario United Boards of Trade, at the first session this afternoon of their annual meeting, held in the chamber of commerce board room, passed a resolution urging the government in the re-enactment of a business profits tax, not to penalize the borrowing of money to be used as capital in a business to such an extent as was the case under the war profits tax, which came to an end on Dec. 31 last.

Speaking to the motion, George Matthews of Brantford pointed out that those who borrowed money to use as capital in business were penalized for so doing, and that every cent was taken by the government above the interest on the money so borrowed.

Arrest a Physical Impossibility, Say Ministers—Will Wait, However, for Official List of Culprits Now on Its Way From Paris—Leaders to Convene Saturday.

Berlin, Feb. 5.—At the conclusion of last night's cabinet session, a member of the government informed the correspondent of the Associated Press that the ministers were unanimous in declaring that surrender of the men demanded by the allies in the unofficial list received here or any other extradition list was an utter physical impossibility.

The present whereabouts of the official extradition list and the accompanying covering note is a matter of speculation so far as the German foreign office is concerned.

Up to 10 o'clock this morning official quarters had no information as to who was in possession of the two documents. It is believed, however, that they will be handed over at Berlin by a representative of the inter-allied commission.

NOTABLE WITNESSES AT MUSK-OX INQUIRY

CAPT. BERNIER TESTIFIES

Ottawa, Feb. 5. — (By Canadian Press) — With the hearing of six distinguished witnesses, the second session of the royal commission appointed to enquire into the proposal to establish domestic herds of reindeer and musk-ox, in the extreme northern sections of Canada, came to an end today.

Right Rev. Isaac Stringer, Anglican bishop of the Yukon, and Dr. Alfred Thompson, M.P. for the Yukon, this morning recommended to the commission the establishment of a Dominion government of small herds of musk-ox and reindeer in the Mackenzie Bay district to assist in developing the country, and to protect the Eskimo and Indians who reside there with occupation and means of an assured livelihood.

Hear Arctic Explorers. In the afternoon, Mr. H. Fry, a missionary of wide experience in the north, followed with a brief statement along the same lines, and then Captains Bernier and Mack, well-known Arctic explorers, were called to give their views and experiences on the subject of the feasibility of navigating the islands around Bathurst and Melville islands, which would appear the likeliest source of young stock to form the nucleus of the herds of musk-ox.

S. T. Storkarson, a member of the Canadian Arctic expedition, gave extensive evidence of the habits of the native herds in various sections of the north and the accessibility of the country. Dr. Anderson, another member of the expedition, will give evidence when the commission resumes its sittings. He was the last witness called and could not be heard on account of the lateness of the hour.

A Sharp Division. A sharp division of opinion occurred between Commissioners Rutherford and Storkarson on the usefulness of certain evidence which the latter was obtaining from Mr. Storkarson at the end of the day. It was to the effect that the climate in the Southampton Island district might be found by potential white settlers less forbidding than is generally supposed. The commissioners agreed to differ about the usefulness of such evidence, but Mr. Storkarson dropped his cross examination after it had elicited the fact that most of the whites living in that country now were Portuguese West Indians, Malaysians and others from the semi-tropical climates.

One point brought out by Captain Bernier was that the musk-ox and other garments of high quality.

WILL BE ELECTED PRIMATE OF WALES

Bishop of St. Asaph Sure of Honor in New Disestablished Church.

London, Jan. 24. — (By Mail).—Churchmen expect that when the governing body of the now disestablished Church of England in Wales, meets in April at Llandrindod, it will elect the Right Rev. Alfred George Edwards, now bishop of St. Asaph, as archbishop of Wales. By seniority the position belongs to him, for he has served 30 years as bishop. The four Welsh bishops will vacate their seats in the house of lords by the end of March, their places being taken by the four senior English bishops, who are not already members of the house.

Canadians should have some special interest in the honor which is expected to fall to the bishop of St. Asaph, by reason of the fact that last March, at the time of the regrettable disturbance at Kinnel Camp, he wrote to The Times a letter which, by reason of its sound knowledge of the conditions at Kinnel, constituted a very able plea for the judgment upon those soldiers who had allowed themselves to run into such a dangerous situation or order and discipline. The bishop wrote forthly of the exaggeration to which the men had been subjected owing to the constant postponement of sailings, and while he stoutly disclaimed any intention to palliate what happened at Kinnel, he spoke "of his personal knowledge" of the previous excellent conduct of the men, and concluded, "We in this country are indeed proud to have amongst us those men who have fought so gallantly for the motherland."

As for the future of the now disestablished church in Wales, an appeal has been issued for one million sterling. Stipends of incumbents have been fixed at £400; curates are to receive £200 with certain other emoluments. A strong attempt is to be made for all seats in Welsh churches to be free and unappropriated. It is not without significance that The Daily News, which always supported disestablishment, declares that "unless Welsh nonconformists can escape more swiftly from their narrow traditionalism they will compare ineffectively with his new movement."

LIKE AN OLD-TIME ELECTION CAMPAIGN

Plebiscite in Schleswig-Holstein Results in Fights and Trickery.

Flensburg, Schleswig-Holstein, Feb. 5.—The plebiscite, which is now in full swing, recalls an old-fashioned election campaign. Both sides are waging a vigorous contest, making charges and counter-charges, and using every political trick to gain the desired end. Feeling runs high, but the provocative flag-waving and proclamation-posting, which accompanied the advent of the international commission in Flensburg, have virtually ceased.

In the country districts the rival factions regularly attempt to capture each other's meetings, resulting occasionally in broken heads. But nobody expects serious trouble. The commission prevents the influx of professional agitators from Germany and Denmark has forbidden non-residents to participate in electioneering on pain of deportation.

At the moment, the fight is centering in the northern zone, where the first ballots will be cast. The Danes claim this district by a majority of from 40 to 70 per cent. The Germans concede that they have no chance for victory there, but their papers urge the largest possible minority vote, on the plea that every German vote in the first zone is needed in order to save Flensburg to Germany. The impression prevails among the Germans that even if they roll up a big majority in Flensburg, which is in the second zone, the commission may recommend that it be added to Denmark, on the ground that it is the principal trade centre for the Danish northern district.

Struggle in Flensburg.

The main struggle centres in Flensburg. A new-comer gets the notion that Flensburg is thoroughly German, but investigation indicates that this is more apparent than real. One rarely hears Danish spoken; even the Danish campaign dodgers are printed in German. Nevertheless, Danish sentiment exists among a considerable element of the population. The Danes explain this phenomenon as the result of 55 years of Prussian rule, with its inhibiting effect upon non-German utterance. "It is only natural," they say.

Adolf Koester, special representative of the German government, said today: "I am convinced that it is impossible to obtain a decision along nationalistic lines; the economic question will decide. A barber told me that he would vote Danish because a pound of margarine costs twelve marks, whereas if Flensburg were Danish he would have to pay only two kroner."

"Many also desire to escape German taxation. The Socialists are discontented and are willing to go over to a smaller but stabler government." Herr Koester declared that the bloc voting system in the first zone was unfair, because the district contained several communities where German sentiment predominated. He continued: "We have fought Prussian methods

STANDARD RELIANCE PROBE REOPENED

Purchase of Royal Bank Building Investigated by Court.

BRITISH LAND COMPANY

Questioned by counsel, R. H. Green, a former director of the Standard Loan Company, who was the first witness to appear in the stand at the resumption yesterday afternoon of the Standard Reliance probe at Osgoode Hall, said he remembered the transaction between the Standard Reliance and the British Land Company, in connection with the purchase of the Royal Bank building.

"That is your recollection of the matter first coming up before the directors of the Standard Reliance Company?" "I think it was at the meeting on May 8, 1913."

"You don't remember whether that was a meeting of directors, or merely of the executive?" "I don't remember."

"How did the matter come up that day, May 8?" "Mr. Johnston, who was in the chair, brought the matter up."

"What did he say about the purchase?" "He said it would be a splendid purchase, remarked on the fitness of the building itself, and said it was well worth $500,000."

"Did you know at that time anything about the membership of the British Land Company?" "No, I knew Mr. Dinick belonged to it, but did not know Mr. Waddington, or Johnston, or Firstbrook, belonged to it."

"Did none of them mention that they were connected with the British Land Company?" "No, they did not."

"Signed Without Reading."

"Who read it?" "The chairman."

"Did you know what was in it?" "Mr. Johnston explained what was in it. I understood it was the Dovercourt Land Company which was purchasing the bank. I signed the agreement."

"How was it that you signed the agreement without knowing more about the circumstances of the purchase?" "I suppose it was because Mr. Johnston and Mr. Waddington strongly advised it. They usually dominated the 'directors' meetings."

"You say you had heard about the possible purchase of the Royal Bank before this?" "I had heard it mentioned several times before the meeting by Mr. Waddington, who maintained that the building would be a good site for our office."

"You knew there was a profit of $40,000 made by the British Land

"Would you have approved the purchase had you known?" "No, I would not."

"Did you know that these four men had a drawing account at the Standard Reliance?" "I think all the directors were aware of that."

Col. Dinick Cross-Examined.

When the probe opened in the morning Col. W. S. Dinick was again on the stand. The investigation of the Grand Trunk Railway transaction was continued. An account of the Standard Loan payment of $10,000 was asked for by Geo. H. Kilmer, K. C., counsel for the liquidator.

Col. Dinick said that as far as he could remember $1,000 went to A. Walters, $1,000 went to Alf. Hall, $3,000 to Chas. Pearson, $3,000 to E. T. Pearson and $2,000 to A. E. Kent.

On pressing for an explanation counsel brought out the fact that in reality $10,200 had been paid to E. T. Pearson for his services in giving the valuation on the property of the Ontario Industrial, which was worth $294,740. This he considered too high a commission for the services rendered.

Col. Dinick said the valuation had proved a valuable one for the Standard Reliance.

In reply to counsel's question Col. Dinick admitted that by an agreement between the Standard Loan and Industrial Loan, E. T. Pearson and A. M. Campbell were appointed valuers with power to add a third.

Later the transactions in connection with the British Land Company were dealt with. Col. Dinick said that he was one of the organizers and that the company had been formed in July, 1912. "The company was incorporated by Mr. Smoko, with capital of $400,000."

"You obtained a charter with only five shareholders to conduct a business in land?" asked Mr. Kilmer.

"Yes."

"Had you any negotiation prior to 1912 for the Royal Bank building?" "No."

Company Dormant.

"To what use did you put this company?"

"It was lying dormant, and it was thought by E. F. B. Johnston, Gideon Grant, John Firstbrook and myself that it could be used to take over the Strathgowan property, and the Royal Bank building property."

"When was the change made in directors and shareholders?" "October, 1912."

"And the shares were transferred?" "R. M. Walton to John Firstbrook, October 24, 1912; G. M. Wright to Gideon Grant; Medhurst to E. F. B. Johnston, and Miss Fairbairn to Herbert Waddington."

"This deal was originally on your own behalf?" "Yes. When I returned from England, Garland wanted the deal completed. The price had been agreed upon, but terms were not quite complete."

"You had to pay cash down? Where were you to get the $180,000?" "We were going to get it from the Royal Bank."

"Is that why you went to Mr. John-

LEADING MEDICO DIES OF PNEUMONIA

Dr. H. J. Hamilton, Ex-President of Academy of Medicine, Dies in Hospital.

Whole-hearted exertions in combating the "flu" epidemic contributed to the death at 3.30 a.m. yesterday of Dr. Herbert J. Hamilton, ex-president of the Academy of Medicine, who succumbed to pneumonia and heart trouble at Wellesley Hospital.

He had been sick for some three weeks, but had carried on with his duties until last Sunday, when he collapsed in the house of one of his patients, whom he was treating for the "flu."

Dr. Hamilton was a widower and is survived by a sister, residing in Guelph, and an aunt, Mrs. Alexander, of Toronto. He was secretary of the Academy of Medicine and senator of the University of Toronto.

The late Dr. Herbert J. Hamilton was a man of great personal popularity, both with his patients and with his fellow practitioners. Born about 55 years ago at Brampton, he was the son of Richard Hamilton, a well-known farmer and local politician. His mother was a sister of the late Dr. J. E. Graham of this city.

A Toronto Graduate.

He was educated at Brampton High School and Toronto University, graduating from the old Toronto School of Medicine in 1885.

He came to Toronto in 1894 and associated himself with Dr. W. P. Cavan. His wife, who was a daughter of the late John Aikens of Brampton, died about three years ago.

Dr. E. E. King, the president of the Toronto Academy of Medicine, says of him:

"When he was president of the academy he was both loved and honored by all its associates and his death is a great loss to that institution. He was devoted to and intense in his work and had a very large practice. Nothing was too much trouble to him."

The late Dr. Hamilton was physician to the St. Andrew's Hospital and had been practising in the city of Toronto for over thirty-five years. He is survived by a brother and sister in Manitoba, a sister near Brampton and another in Guelph.

REGISTRY OFFICE ADDITION DECIDED

On the recommendation of a special committee, York county council yesterday decided to build an addition to the county registry office at the corner of Richmond and Bert streets, on land adjoining, optioned for $17,500.

A committee was appointed at the November session to take up the question of securing more accommodation for the registry of land titles, the business having outgrown the present building.

The county already owns 15 feet of land along the east side of Richmond street, north of the registry building, which will give about 45 feet of building space.

The property committee recommended that the land be purchased for $15,000 and a building erected thereon.

BRITISH SCHOLAR AT EMPIRE CLUB

Sir Bertram Windle Speaks on Recent University Developments.

"Recent Developments in University Life in Great Britain" was the subject of the address at the Empire Club yesterday by Sir Bertram Windle, who was introduced by the president, Arthur Hewitt, as one of the most brilliant scholars in the empire.

Sir Bertram Windle pleasantly opened his address by allusions to Canada, of which he had heard much all through his married life. Lady Windle having been reared in Ontario and regarding Canada as the only country a civilized human being should want to live in.

Turning to his subject, he wondered whether the league of nations would really be efficacious in averting war. He had always held that the only thing that would serve to do this would be an alliance among the English-speaking peoples (Applause). The Irish question which he had heard discussed thru eight weary months in the Irish convention must be cleared away. He had seen seven or eight opportunities which had been lost, an every time the price went higher, it was all he desired to say on the subject.

Nothing, he thought, was more responsible for the war than the spirit of the German universities. Quoting from the Book of Wisdom he thought the passage adequately represented the standards of German education. Such education was worse than no education at all.

Out of the reconstruction meetings there had arisen certain general and certain special developments. One of these was a faculty of brewing in Birmingham. It would be of no use to them in Toronto. (Laughter.) One of the leaders of the temperance party had said to him: "I don't like beer, but if you must have it, it is better that you should have good beer than bad beer."

Training in Commerce. The first faculty of commerce in England was started in Birmingham by Sir William Ashby, a Toronto man, who had been at Harvard, and came to Birmingham with the attitude of the English people rapidly changed towards it when they found the classes were rapidly filled by Japanese students. They knew a good thing when they saw it.

He had started a similar course in Cork, and in a three-year course the students had actually six months' experience in a mill. A first class arts course was the foundation, a course in economics, two modern languages, book-keeping, and as a book-keeping course as could be devised.

The worst scandal in the English system was the consular service, most of the consuls being Germans. They had instituted a new system making it a closed system or profession, and not the haphazard thing it was before the war. The education demanded for this consular work was just such a course as the commercial one provided.

He thought that a course of journalism would be of advantage and could turn out men who would be useful in the profession. They could not teach them the minutiae of a newspaper office, but they could teach them things that would be useful in a newspaper office. Plain, straightforward, informed English composition was one of the things that could be taught.

He approved of the exchange of professors and students between American and British universities. He thought this should not be for longer visits than three months. He thought it was a mistake to send students abroad until they had taken their first degree. He was to become unopinionated. He had had his eyes opened since he came to Toronto, and he wished some others could have a similar experience. He would say no more than that, but it would be a great advantage to the British Empire to have such an exchange of views.

She was laid to rest in Mount Pleasant on Tuesday, the 3rd of February, and the large number of floral tributes testify to the esteem in which she was held. She is survived by her husband, R. R. Sanderson, of the Phoenix Novelty Company.

CITY HALL NOTES

It is a ubiquitous hobby, that of erecting an athletic stadium in Rosedale, go down to defeat. This last scene of bloodless warfare was the meeting of the board of control yesterday, when his worship again brought up the subject.

"Is this bringing up the Rosedale stadium business again?" queried Controller Cameron, when the mayor started the discussion. On being assured that it was, the controller expressed the opinion that not enough was left to the good judgment of the head of the parks department.

Motion Amended. The amendment was in regard to the Rosedale stadium, and when that clause in the legislation committee's report came up, several members smiled broadly. Controller Gibbons then amended the motion, making it read: "For the securing and equipping of recreation centres, the words 'commonly known as stadiums,' were struck out."

That a civic parks and playgrounds acquisition advisory commission be appointed, consisting of the mayor, the treasurer, parks and assessment commissioners, one controller and the chairman of the parks committee was the motion presented by his worship to the board of control.

In explanation of this, he stated that under the present system, park purchases were always accompanied by publicity, and owners boosted their price before the city could buy. Controller Cameron said that he might be in favor of it after a conference with the gentlemen named. "I do not intend to be a party to a vote of lack of confidence in the parks commissioner. It is not a lack of confidence," said the mayor. "It is strictly a business matter."

The board did not accept the recommendation of the parks committee, that application be made to the legislature, authorizing the expenditure of one mill on the dollar every year for park purposes. Instead, it was recommended that a conference be held with the finance commissioner on the matter.

The recommendation of the legislation committee, that income exemption from taxation be raised from $700 to $1000, and in the case of heads of households from $1700 to $2000, was passed by the board. "If we did away with the city's revenue in this way, we shall be getting a 35 or 40-mill tax rate, and I do not know where we shall be at," warned Mayor Church.

"I propose to have a writ issued against the Toronto & Niagara Power Co., to compel them to remove their poles," declared the mayor. A conference will be held on the matter between the corporation counsel and the works commissioner.

The wording of the decision of the privy council judgment received by the city is very emphatic in finding the Toronto Railway Company liable for the expense to which Toronto has been put in removing snow from the car tracks.

The mayor accused the Daily Star of publishing lies. This accusation resulted from a Star editorial, which stated that his worship was trying to seek credit for the suggestion of providing a teacher for minors for the Jail Farm. The editorial was to the effect that this credit belonged to Ald. Nesbitt.

"I called the attention of the government to the state of affairs at this institution," he said, "and recommended that a teacher be placed there. There are seven or eight lies in this one editorial. They ought to call it 'The Daily Star Lie'."

SIX MILLION JEWS ARE FACING DEATH

Starvation and Disease Cause Indescribable Suffering in Eastern Europe.

The hardships of this winter will mean death to thousands of Jews in Poland, unless outside aid intervenes at once, according to Lieutenant Shelton Wright, of the American Red Cross commission to Poland, recently returned to the United States after months of relief work in eastern Europe.

He painted a vivid picture of this half-starved people, clad in rags, who are now creeping back toward their devastated homes after months of refugee wandering and dying of starvation and typhus along the roads, as they go.

"Every box car full of refugees returning to their homes has in it those who die along the way, and those who have contracted typhus," Lieutenant Wright said. "The people try to avoid the disease by keeping clean, but it is impossible to do so, under existing conditions. Even our nurses and doctors fall ill of typhus, a disease caused by filth and lice."

The Red Cross and the American Jewish relief agencies are doing their utmost to keep both the Jews and the Gentiles in these stricken lands alive. Six million Jews in eastern Europe face death unless immediate shipments of food, clothing and bedding from Canada and the United States reach them before the cold weather sets in.

FRIDAY MORNING, FEB. 6.

The Sad End of President Wilson's Strange Adventure.

When President Wilson left the shores of the United States to take part personally in the peace congress at Versailles, even his devoted supporter, The New York World, declared his expedition to be a "strange adventure." No other president during his term of office had ever set foot on foreign soil, and for reasons manifest. The president combines in his person the powers divided in Britannic countries between the crown and the prime minister. He has many important duties which must be performed within a short time limit prescribed by the constitution, and, therefore, during the session of congress he cannot with propriety absent himself from the capital.

Mr. Wilson broke thru this tradition, believing that he had a great mission to perform in Europe. He had at heart his proposed league of nations and his fourteen points, and longed to impose them upon the war-weary world. He deceived himself as to the sentiments of his people, who instinctively shrank with alarm from European entanglements and participation in the battles and intrigues of the old world.

The president had apparently a successful trip. He was acclaimed in Great Britain with the honors due to royalty. He imposed upon the allies his league of nations, and then returned like a conquering hero to his own country.

But his triumph was short-lived. His peace treaty and league of nations were riddled by hostile criticism. Senators in homespun who had never seen Versailles or Buckingham Palace cross-examined the president as to what the United States was getting out of this complicated treaty of peace. They staid at the clauses which committed the United States to take part in European and Asiatic wars at the dictation of a "league." The senate refused to ratify the treaty, except with reservations which cut the heart out of the Wilsonian league.

Curiously enough, foreign observers blame the people and the senate of the United States with some breach of faith or dishonorable action—because the senate refused to ratify the treaty which Mr. Wilson made in Paris. This is how it appears to the editor of Blackwood's Magazine. After bitterly resenting American interference in the Irish question, the editor goes on to say:

The United States entered late into the war; they have gone early out of the peace. The treaty, signed at Versailles, was weakened and spoiled in deference to their president. The egregious fourteen points made in Germany were sent to us by way of Washington. Had it not been for Mr. Wilson, the future of Europe would not have been hampered by the inevitable plots and intrigues of the league of nations. And now, when we have done ourselves an injury to please the United States, those states reject the treaty, largely framed to chime with their sentimentality. They decline, we are told, to be drawn into European disputes. They reject all the responsibilities of a belligerent. They refuse to accept any one of the mandates which they themselves devised.

As a matter of fact, Mr. Wilson carried to Paris no mandate from the American people. On the contrary, they had just voted with confidence in him at the congressional elections of 1918. The diplomats he encountered in Paris should have known that the treaty-making power is not vested in the president of the United States; that he can only negotiate a treaty, which must be then submitted to the senate for ratification, and that a two-thirds vote of the senate is required for such ratification. The senate cannot make a treaty without the consent of the president; neither can the president make a treaty without the consent of the senate. Mr. Wilson, at Paris, had no authority whatever to bind the senate. His fourteen points, of which Blackwood's complains, awakened but a languid interest in the breasts of the American people. Theodore Roosevelt once declared it was doubtful whether a single soldier in the American army had ever heard of them.

We have an idea that the treaty will go thru, and that a great many of the senate reservations will be acquiesced in by the other powers. We are also confident that if Mr. Wilson had sent envoys to Paris instead of going himself, and had consulted Republicans and Democrats alike about the treaty all this trouble to the world and mortifications to himself would have been avoided. Europeans are indignant because they misunderstood and over-rated the powers of the American president, and they are rather thoughtlessly berating the sen-

ABANDON CLAUSE BARRING STRIKES

Cummins Bill, Now Shorn of Feature Offensive to Labor, Will Pass Congress.

Washington, Feb. 4.—By abandoning the anti-strike clause in the Cummins railroad bill, and thus removing the main ground of objection on the part of labor men throughout the country, senate and house representatives today practically reached an agreement on legislation designed to meet conditions arising out of the return of the railroads to private control on March 1. Rate making clauses were also modified.

For the anti-strike provision the joint committee agreed to adopt compulsory submission of wage disputes to a federal board appointed by the president. Railroad administration officials and representatives of the railroad union in conference on wage demands of the more than 2,000,000 workers, still were apart tonight on practically all angles of the wage questions. The union heads held only a brief session with Director-General Hines and his staff, after which they were in conference alone.

Neither Mr. Hines nor any of the workers' representatives would discuss the day's events. There were would extend over several days. Mr. Hines will meet the union officials again tomorrow.

The Proportional Representation Society of Ireland states that, owing to the demand for popular and technical information about the P. R. election of 1918, the P. R. press bureau has been opened at address, Grosvenor Hotel, Dublin. The services of the bureau will be rendered free of cost. The president of the Irish P. R. Society is Lord Montagu of Brandon, and the secretary's address is Mr. E. A. Aston, 55 Middle Abbey street, Dublin. More P. R. elections are due in Ireland within a few months.

Canadian Bank Funds in New York and the Exchange.
Editor World: Canadian banks have millions of dollars today loaned to Americans. Why could they not call these loans and lend that money to Canadians and keep it in New York? If I were a larger buyer of U. S. goods I would go to my bank here and arrange for a loan at their New York branch and would pay my bills with New York checks. If the banking laws would not allow our Canadian banks to issue checks, my bank in New York could deposit the money in a U. S. bank. It seems to me if we were not buying U. S. funds the price would go down.

LUMBERMEN OPPOSE CURB ON EXPORTS

Canadian Association Goes on Record—Elects D. McLachlin to Presidency.

Quebec, Feb. 5.—The Association of Canadian Lumbermen today elected seven new directors for the coming year, as follows: Ontario—Messrs. W. J. Bell, Sudbury, Ont.; James Gane, Toronto; Duncan MacLaren, Toronto. Quebec—Messrs. A. H. Campbell, Montreal; Sir William Price, Quebec. Maritime Provinces—Messrs. W. B. Snowball, Chatham; R. E. Dickie, Stewiack, N. S.

Mr. Clark, Toronto, introduced a motion of protest to be sent to the federal government, opposing any legislation that would attempt the prohibition of the export of wood or lumber. The motion was adopted. The convention also adopted a motion advocating the export of wood and other building materials.

Another resolution was adopted asking for a direct system of wood transportation between Quebec and Kitchener, Ont. As matters now stand, the freight rates between Quebec and Toronto are fair, but owing to there being no direct shipping system between Quebec and Kitchener, shipment between these points are at heavy cost.

A MOMENTOUS DRIVE
CHAPTER 167.
The morning after his talk with Mrs. Shattsbury, according to the plan they had worked out between them, Murray hunted up Louise at her father's house. He found her at work in the third floor room next to her own. A place she had appropriated as a workshop and had appropriated as a workshop.

"I want you to come for a drive with me," he announced, sitting down on an unappointed toy chest. "I've a new customer for you," he said. "They want dining-room furniture hand-painted with baskets of flowers and trailing garlands and things of that sort. I told them they could see what you had done if they would see to your old house in the country."

"Louise looked at him blankly." "I'd love to! Where shall we go?" Murray began at once to clean her brushes, ready to stop work. Murray's eyes twinkled a little. "I've a new customer for you," he said. "They want dining-room furniture hand-painted with baskets of flowers and trailing garlands and things of that sort. I told them they could see what you had done if they would see to your old house in the country."

"Louise asked practically." "Oh, that's been arranged for," Murray had forgotten that detail and was afraid Louise might suspect his scheme. But she did not, for she answered cheerfully enough. "Well, I'll start right after luncheon—you'd better stay for it."

During the drive over the Palisades and down the long road that ran thru the Hackensack Valley, Louise made no attempt to talk. As they passed the little suburban villages, her old life began coming back to her. The house, the little stores were familiar, the ridge over the river, the stone wall where she and Harry sat to rest on that walk, so long ago when they first found the little house—when they decided to be married.

ROGERS SEES NEED OF RECONSTRUCTION

Addressing C.M.A. in Montreal, Urges Quick Action Thruout Canada.

Montreal, Feb. 4.—(By Canadian Press.)—The Hon. Robert Rogers, who spoke this evening before the Manufacturers' Association of Canada in the Windsor Hotel, urged immediate reconstruction in Canada, saying that the Dominion possesses today the greatest inheritance known to civilization. They were responsible for its sound, progressive development and management, and this was their great work for the immediate future, he said. To do this successfully a better feeling between classes must be developed, and this could only be obtained through a common cause, namely, Canada's future welfare. Mr. Rogers also stated that such work was always affliction not only by the new problems that presented themselves, but by the enormous obligations. He further said that professional uplifters in every living common sense.

"Why Should I Dress Up For Him?"

This is what Alice Fairbanks said to her mother as she prepared to go driving with her fiance, David Thorne. She had on an immaculate if not particularly becoming dress; why need she don a beruffled one, she argued—surely the plain one was suitable?

Alice's viewpoint in this instance was illustrative of her entire character. She was one of those honest, sensible girls, totally lacking in the wiles so common to average girlhood.

And it is girls like this one who must be on their guard against their less guileless sisters, where men are concerned, at least—on guard against the girl who sees every reason for "dressing up" for a man. Alice's cousin Lois was this kind of a girl. That was why Alice lost David.

For Lois deliberately tried to fascinate David—and succeeded. Within a few months she, herself, was engaged to him.

What happened after that? Must two who are plainly made for each other have their lives wrecked, simply because the black magic of a clever, artful girl has had temporary success? Read and find out. "The Girl Who Smiled Thru" begins in this paper on Monday next.

WHAT IS THE BOOK OF MORMON? ELDER JENSEN SAYS: In 1827 an angel delivered to the Prophet Joseph Smith the gold plates containing the ancient history of America and the gospel as Christ had taught it to the "other sheep" (John 10).

Here it is prophetically told in the 29th chapter of Isaiah. The prophet declared that a nation which should "be unto the Lord" as Ariel should (Verse 2) "be brought down" and "speak out of the ground" (Verse 4); that the "vision" of this nation should come unto you as the words of a book that is sealed; that a learned man should be asked to read "the words of the book," and he would say, "I cannot, for it is sealed" (Verse 11); and that the book should be delivered to "one that is not learned" (Verse 12), and God would "proceed to do a marvelous work and a wonder" (Verse 14); and that the time of this "marvelous work" was to be a "little while" before Lebanon "shall be turned into a fruitful field" (Verse 17).

APPELLATE CASES. The following cases are listed for the appellate court, Osgoode Hall, for today: Ballard v. Money; Brink v. Wilson; St. John v. Toronto; Superior v. Metropolitan Theatres; Superior v. Copper v. Perry.

VERDICT FOR PLAINTIFF. Mr. Justice Clute yesterday gave judgment for $668 for plaintiff in the action of Robbina vs. St. Thomas Packing Company. The plaintiff claimed compensation in a quantity of fish stored in the storehouse of defendant, which were alleged to have been damaged while in storage.

He looked all the world in the face. He would not if he could, and could not if he would, play a double part. He would not take an unfair advantage of anybody. His word was his bond. His conscience was his religion. He was the soul of loyalty and integrity.

VARSITY PLAYERS IN "THE ALCHEMIST"

Staging and Acting Both Show Qualities Beyond Amateur.

Evidently the characteristics of humanity in general haven't undergone any startling changes since the days of James I in "Merrie England." People seem just as ready to be gulled and swindled then as now. At all events this is the basis of the plot of "The Alchemist," the play staged by the Players' Club of the University of Toronto, at Hart House Theatre, last night. This is the third production this season, and certainly bears out the old maxim, "Practice Makes Perfect."

Altho the general theme is not exactly new, there is nothing hackneyed about the plot, and it is unique in many respects. "The Alchemist," by Ben Jonson, possesses many qualities which make it a most desirable work of English dramatic composition. Its spirit is as universal as are human credulity and the willingness to be cheated. The two central pivots around whom the play revolves, are a pair of rogues, Subtle, a fake alchemist and Face, posing as his housekeeper. Lovewit, owner of the house which is the setting, has left London to escape the plague, and these two take immediate possession. Face rounds up the victims or in modern parlance, the "fall guys," and entices them to seek Subtle, who, for a certain sum of money (voluntarily offered by the victim, of course) will make them rich and prosperous. Allied with them in their nefarious pursuit is a woman, Doll Common, who is exactly what her name implies.

Picking Easy. The "picking is easy" with them for a time. Dapper, a lawyer's clerk, Drusser, a tobacco man, and several other characters adding to their ill-gotten gains. The deus ex machina comes when Lovewit returns home unexpectedly and the jig is up. Once more the old proverb is brought home, "that the way of the transgressor is hard."

The staging of this production from an amateur standpoint is nothing short of marvelous. The scenic effect and settings, by L. Y. Jackson, were worthy of David Belasco, and the lighting and appointments were of a high order. The histrionic ability of the cast was a surprise to most and applause was long and generous. Dixon Wagner, as Subtle, played his part to perfection, and Face, his humble servant, was an exceptional delineator of that type of flunkey. The whole production was a big success in every way, and a great encouragement to the hard working and technical staff of the Players' Club.

BAPTIST RALLY

In connection with the Baptist Forward movement a rally was held at Massey Hall last night, when an address was given by Rev. T. T. Shields, pastor of Jarvis Street Baptist Church. The speaker told the story of St. Paul, who, after his conversion, bent his energies to bringing his every thought into captivity to Christ. No true worshiper had liberty to entertain thoughts contrary to Christ, who is the incarnate God, said Dr. Shields. Everything must be brought into obedience to Christ for He is the standard by which everything must be measured. "Read the Book" was the advice given. "Read what the Holy Ghost says in the Scriptures instead of what men say." He called to the scholars of the whole world to be gathered and if they told him that the deluge, the story of Moses and that of Joseph were not historic, he would not believe them for he had the word of the infallible Lord against them. He believed in the word of Him who was truth incarnate.

A large choir of singers on the platform took part in the exercises by the contribution of hymns, among them "Jesus wondrous Saviour," and "The Son of God Goes Forth to War."

HOW TO SAVE COAL
E. Metcalf Shaw Demonstrates Efficiency of His Heat Transmission Tubes.

The efficiency of transmitting heat thru specially designed tubes was the subject of a highly technical address given at the meeting by the Mining University of the mining engineers of the city last night. E. Metcalf Shaw, formerly chief engineer of the British Acetone Company, Toronto, was the speaker, and the process on which he lectured was his own recent invention.

He stated that by this means the temperature could be lowered or raised in shorter time than with any other method yet on the market. It also affected an enormous saving in coal, he said, and as an economic factor was invaluable. In one year of operation at the British Acetone plant a saving of $88,000 had been made by this invention.

While there Mrs. Mullett became ill, and died before an ambulance could be secured to remove her to the hospital. The child was taken sick three days ago and died yesterday.

NEW FUEL PROVES A GREAT SUCCESS

Chemists Are Told of Discovery That May Help Coal Situation.

LIGNITE CAN BE USED
Colloidal fuel, a combination of liquid hydro-carbon with a pulverized substance the components combined and so treated as to form a stable fuel, capable of being atomized and burned in a furnace, was discussed in detail in a paper read by Mr. Lindon W. Bates, secretary of the Submarine Defence Association of New York City, before the Ottawa branch of the Society of Chemical Industry, the Quebec, who first came to public notice in connection with his work with Mr. Herbert Hoover in Belgium relief work, claims the discovery of this new fuel. The liquid is prepared in a distillate containing oil up to about 60 per cent, or thereabouts, and it can also be made as a mottled paste, containing oil up to about 25 per cent, and coal 75 per cent. All kinds of oil and solid carbons may be used. The cheap coal breakages and wastes are all available. The liquid is used in the self-same way as the coal with the same apparatus. The coal particles are maintained in a state of suspension in the oil during the time required for the use of the fuel — days, weeks, or months.

Remarkable Tests.
In marine tests on the U.S.S. Gen. equipped with Normand express boilers, colloidal fuel showed evaporative efficiency which reaches 94.6 per cent, on a short run, while that of the navy oil did not on any run exceed 79.4 per cent, and that of pulverized coal 72.6. Colloidal fuel enjoys several special qualities. Its heating value per unit volume is greater than that of straight oil.

Owing to its coal content colloidal fuel is heavier than water, while oil is lighter, so that the character of the composite is such that it may be stored under a water seal and its fire may be quenched with water. The feature is of vast importance since the oil fire cannot be extinguished with water, and the same rules governing its use are justifiably drastic.

Much Research Required.
Colloidal Fuel was the outcome of work directed by Mr. Bates as chairman of the engineering committee of the Submarine Defence Association, which association was formed to devise means for combating some of the perils of the submarine. The association represent the largest United States and foreign firms engaged in shipbuilding, and for instance, the Canadian transportation companies were interested. The work was carried on in the United States naval department co-operated with the association to the fullest extent. The Eastman Kodak Company placed at Mr. Bates' disposal its entire research laboratory, and Dr. C. E. K. Meeson, chief chemist, was given valuable assistance. As a result of many months of careful study in the laboratory, the process was made and later tried out successfully in the U. S. S. "Gem." It was proved that the product created means for the production of wirements of industries as well as those of the laboratory. These tests and administrative matters will be published in a few months by officials of the United States and allied governments and by representatives of many business and industry houses.

Process Patented.
With the patent process are being immediate in the matter of naval fuel was past, and now Colloidal Fuel is being prepared in large quantities for industrial world. The secret of the whole process lies in the choice of what is called the "colloid" fuel. Various grades of Colloidal Fuel are being produced for different purposes as required.

Its chief advantages are that all kinds of coal dust, waste may be used; that almost any oil will do; that the fire of Colloidal Fuel may be put out with water, and the consequent fire loss in the domestic and industrial world is much safer than any other fuel.

Patents covering the process are being taken out in 21 countries, and Mr. Bates estimated that the process for manufacturing Colloidal Fuel will be published in full detail probably during the present year.

FORESTS OF CANADA COULD PAY ITS TAXES

Declaration Made at Meeting of Dominion Land Surveyors.

Ottawa, Ont., Feb. 5.—That Canada could get far in paying all taxation by the output of her gigantic forest and the proper conservation of same was demonstrated by a discussion by the Dominion Land Surveyors at the morning's session of the annual meeting, following a paper read by Mr. H. Claughton-Wallis, M.P., of the forestry branch. It was stated that in the Jura Mountains in France where the commune owns the large pine forests, that the residents there live free of taxation by the output of timber and the sale of firewood. The same also applies to parts of Sweden and it was pointed out that Canada's resources in this respect were equal, if not better, than these countries.

"Go Teach All Nations Beginning at Jerusalem"

"THAT'S it," says a critic, "beginning at Jerusalem! You should correct paganism at home before going abroad to look for it. I do not believe in Foreign Missions."

The Need of Africa
Africa was first explored by a Missionary who lies in Westminster Abbey, honored by all nations. David Livingstone was succeeded by other devoted men, who gave themselves unreservedly to the people of the Dark Continent. Triumphant success in some districts—Uganda for instance, is balanced by dull failure in others. Yet the general prospect is encouraging. Through Canadian Missions in that land, men are raised out of savagery, women are ennobled, children are cared for and educated.

Remember This
The man who does not believe in Foreign Missions stands today clothed and educated because of Foreign Missions. When did English culture begin? With the visit of St. Augustine, a Foreign Missionary from Rome. Who Evangelized Rome? A Foreign Missionary named Paul of Tarsus and Jerusalem! What if he had gone to the Ganges instead of to the Tiber? Certainly Canada needs more Christianity, but the best way to improve our own spiritual life is to help bear the burdens of the world.

The Missions Established

Five Christian Communions in Canada—Anglican, Baptist, Congregational, Methodist and Presbyterian—have an extensive mission

Mass Movements in India
India is our brother-land, a loyal British dependency. Illiteracy is the rule. Caste imprisons the people and stifles all ambition. British administration has taught the folk the value of peace. English-speaking Missionaries from Canada are teaching them the value of education and to power of the Name which is above every name. Great masses of the people are asking for baptism, but there are not enough Missionaries to teach them.

A Mandate for Expansion

All men, who think honestly realize that the Gospel of Christ is unique in moral splendor, in spiritual force, in civilizing influence. It redeems the individual and exalts the nation. It has made the modern world of thought, of industry, of progress. It must go out over all the earth to ease international relationships, to put an end to cruelty and misery. There is free entry for the Gospel in every nation under Heaven. Lift up your heads, O ye Gates of India, and be ye lifted up, ye everlasting Doors of China and Japan and Africa, and the King of Glory shall come in.

The Call to Action

Canadians, Churchmen or non-Churchmen, you met the charges of the war with cheerfulness, since it was waged to establish righteousness in the earth. Now hear the call of the Churches for adequate means to continue by peaceful suasion the work which for four years was done by batteries and bayonets. Your Church appeals directly to you, civilized and educated by Foreign Missions of an ancient time, to meet your obligation to that same Great Cause today.

The Need of the World

Japan, Formosa, Korea, the South Sea Islands, South America, and not least, the pagans in our own land, need the Gospel. The Missionary is welcomed in all lands. Men everywhere appreciate the spirit of those Canadians who forget themselves in order to serve the suffering and the weary. Idealism in action counts!

GOVIN EXPLAINS STAND AS LEADER

Says He Always Stands for Best Interests of Party.

Quebec, Feb. 5.—"I have served the Liberal party for fifteen years and when the time comes, in the opinion of the party, that it is in the general interest that I should make room for somebody else, I am perfectly willing to do so; for now, as always, I am at the service of the party and desirous of doing everything I possibly can for it."

This was the declaration by Sir Lomer Gouin yesterday at the caucus of Liberal members of the legislature.

The caucus also considered the question of votes for women without coming to a decision, tho the feeling was generally against any measure this session.

HON. PETER SMITH IMPROVES.
Stratford, Ont., Feb. 5.—The condition of Hon. Peter Smith was improved today. Old-fashioned grippe is what the doctor says he has. Three children and Mrs. Smith's brother also are ill.

TO ASK GOVERNMENT FOR LOWER RATES

(Continued From Page 1.) all foreign magazines having a circulation in excess of 10,000 in Canada. The resolution, which was defeated by a margin of one vote, proposed that this tax be an alternative to the introduction into such publication of a Canadian section, space in which would be offered to Canadian manufacturers at rates proportionate to the Canadian circulation.

The Rate of Exchange.
The American financier dominates the exchange situation to the extent of interfering between different parts of the British Empire, declared George Matthews, speaking at the present rate of exchange generally as it affected the Dominion of Canada. The speaker pointed out that the situation was very serious to Canada in view of the handicap, in that certain natural products that are not and cannot be produced here, it was necessary to pay for these goods in the money of the country from which the product comes. Citing a particular case, the speaker pointed out the fact that in buying silk from Japan it is necessary to convert Canadian currency into American before it is possible to pay for the goods in yen which is necessary. Previously it had been possible to pay for the goods in yen thru the medium of the pound sterling.

Production at Low Ebb.
"It is the consensus of opinion among financiers the world over," stated Mr. Matthews, "that it all comes down to one point, and that is economy and production. It is a well-known fact to all manufacturers that the productive effort in Canada is at a lower ebb than ever before. The jumping-up of the price of labor is serious, but more serious is the cutting-down of productivity. We cannot hope to reduce the cost of living or cut down the high cost of living into a more productive state. It is all there that Mr. Matthews had said just reiterated the slogan he had noticed in Canada—"Buy in Canada." He pointed out that the British embargo on cotton had been the means of the big drop in the exchange Wednesday.

Canada's Foreign Trade.
E. J. Payson of Kitchener introduced a ray of sunshine into the dark cloud when he pointed out that every Canadian ought to be gratified with the fact that the annual trade in favor of Canada in the country in which she was working was not in favor of Canada was the United States. He declared that if this was continued it would go a long way toward arriving at an equalization of exchange.

Method of Stimulating Production.
According to Mr. Payson, which has been successful in Kitchener, was the appointment of delegates from the Trades and Labor Council to the board of trade. He stated that there was before this a feeling that the board of trade was against the workers, but when a delegate was sent it was most encouraging to both bodies, and resulting in the Trades Council asking that they be allowed three members on the board of trade.

DEBATE ADMISSION OF WOMEN TO BAR

Some Members of Quebec Legislature Eloquently Champion Measure.

Quebec, Feb. 5.—The admission of women to the practice of law in the province of Quebec was the subject of debate in the legislative assembly this afternoon. The bill to admit women to the bar, which was presented in the legislature this session by Mr. Henry Miles, member for St. Lawrence-Montreal, and killed by the legislative committee, was brought up again today on a motion of the promoter to have the measure considered in committee of the house.

Two members championed the cause of the ladies, Mr. Miles, the promoter of the measure, and Mr. Andrew Philips, member for Huntingdon, while Dr. D. S. Gregoire, member for Frontenac, again, as in former sessions, strongly opposed the measure. The debate was adjourned by Mr. J. H. Lemay, member for Sherbrooke.

GERMANY LIKELY TO REFUSE DEMAND

"The council shares with the German people its indignation at the energetic demands, and with the imperial government declares that it cannot be fulfilled. The council appeals against this ignominy inflicted upon the German people to the world's sense of justice."

Alluding to this declaration, Dr. Edouard David, minister without portfolio, said there was complete unanimity among all German communities, that the demand of the allied powers could not be fulfilled by any German government, which also fitted in with the German government's policy.

It is learned that in addition to the names previously given, the extradition list includes the names of Fredrick von Insebold, Djomo, former Turkish minister of war; Hauptmann von Gipper and Admiral von Schroeder, former commander of the naval corps. These men were demanded unanimously.

Good Advice for Nervous People
WHAT WORN, FRAZZLED, UNSTRUNG, "JUMPY" NERVES REALLY NEED.
When you are run down, out of sorts, tire easily, have lost confidence in your ability to do things, and ambition seems to have deserted you, it's a sure sign your nerve force has run down. That's why you need a stimulant to restore energy, and bring back the good old pep that used to make you famous.

DUST STORM IN MANY YEARS

(Continued From Page 1.) bying districts were choked with snow, and drifts were so deep little effort was made to break roads. Sea Bright, long a target for the waves, suffered more than any of the other northern New Jersey coast resorts. It was estimated that the high tide and heavy seas had done $350,000 damage to bulkheads, streets and residences there. A recently completed bulkhead saved the main residence part of the town. The railroad tracks between Sea Bright and Highlands were flooded to a depth of two feet, and traffic was suspended.

Serious damage was done at Rockaway Beach, where two modern summer hotels, thirty bungalows, a forty-suite apartment house, bathhouses and dozens of small structures were washed into the sea. Several bathing pavilions were swept away at Coney Island, and the first floor of the big Shabrum Hotel at Brighton Beach was flooded.

Clearing New York Streets.
Traffic in snow-covered streets in New York dwindled to 16 per cent. of normal. The street cleaning department issued an emergency appropriation of $150,000 to clean the streets. An urgent appeal was made for workers, and it was said 14,000 would be hired if they could be found, but that only 3000 were available. Lacking men to form shoveling gangs, 100 motor trucks were being used to clear the main arteries of travel. The health department has stamped the accumulation of snow as a menace in the influenza epidemic.

Immediate curtailment of subway and elevated service undoubtedly will be necessary to relieve the worst coal shortage in transportation and public utility companies. Municipal transportation lines, he explained, have not more than two days' supply of coal in their bunkers, and there is little prospect of receiving an additional supply immediately.

Blizzard in New England.
New England was battling tonight with the worst blizzard in years. More than a foot of snow had fallen since early morning and the weather bureau promised no relief for tomorrow. A 72-mile an hour wind burst railroad tracks in many cases causing abandonment of schedules.

WAR MEMORIAL TO BE MUSEUM

Likely Be Erected in Ottawa—Will House War Trophies.

Ottawa, Feb. 5.—(By Canadian Press)—Canada's official war memorial will take the form of a museum, which presumably will be erected in Ottawa, in which will be housed the war trophies belonging to the Canadian forces. At a meeting held here today resolutions were adopted unanimously recommending that there be built for this purpose a monumental museum containing such other elements as may be necessary to give full expression to national feeling, and as an "expression of the sacrifice of the dead and the greatness of our national effort."

COMPROMISE PROPOSED

Suggestion Made That Criminals Be Tried by International Court.
London, Feb. 5.—The Manchester Guardian, discussing the return to Berlin of the names of the allied representatives which has arisen over the complication German war criminals, suggests, as a possible basis of compromise, that the "permanent court of international justice," provided for in article 14 of the former German constitution, be established at The Hague.

The Daily Chronicle, which is supposed to reflect the views of George Brown, regrets that the allies have thrown away a powerful lever for the exertion of pressure on Germany, by permitting German prisoners in France to be repatriated. The crown lawyers have been in consultation throughout the day with the government. They went to Paris tonight to discuss the situation with the French government. It is understood that the British government has no intention of including the names of Von Hindenburg and Ludendorff, there is no difficulty in securing the arrest of the generals and officers called for by the sentence, a breakdown of the allied machinery upon this pressure is morally certain.

Fifty Years of Progress

Our Jubilee Year.—The year 1919 was notable inasmuch as it completed the first fifty years of the company's active operations, and at the same time marked the year of its greatest development and progress in all departments of its business. The first policies were offered to the public in the spring of 1870, and the end of the first half century sees the company with unimpeachable assets of $38,000,000 and policies in force amounting to $170,000,000.

Remarkable Expansion of Business.—The most remarkable feature of the year was the flood of new business received, due largely to the awakening of popular appreciation of the beneficent function of life assurance by the experiences of the war and the influenza epidemic that followed. The increase in new business acquired was nearly 80%. That the record for quality business was fully maintained is indicated by the large increase of $39,065,691 in the total business in force, being over 80% of the business written.

The Surplus Earnings.—No item of the year's operations is more gratifying than the great increase in the surplus earnings. Notwithstanding a certain number of abnormal death losses arising from the war and the influenza epidemic, amounting to $352,857.85, the surplus earnings for the year were $1,302,801, an increase over the previous year of 80%, and showing earnings of $34.27 for every $1,000 of total assets held at the end of the year.

Invested Funds.—Never in the history of Canadian life insurance has there been such a remarkable opportunity for the profitable investment of life insurance funds, and the effect of the past year's investments will be to enhance the surplus earnings over a long period of years, through holding up the average rate of interest earned on the invested funds. For the year 1919 the company earned the very satisfactory rate of 6.39%.

MOVIE ACTOR KILLED BY FALL FROM PLANE

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 5.—Earl Burgess, a motion picture actor, was killed here today when he fell 700 feet from an airplane on which he was performing in the making of a comedy.

Burgess was flying with Lieutenant Walter Hawkins, an aviator. The actor was to cast off a dummy from the plane. In attempting this, he fell. The camera man and director thought the falling body was the dummy and continued photographing. They did not discover their mistake until they went to remove the supposed dummy from telephone wires, where it had alighted.
