WANT CARS TO ROCKWOOD

An Amusement Centre Which is Appreciated by Citizens--- Want Car Line to Park Next Season.
The past summer has given conclusive evidence that Rockwood Park as an amusement centre is appreciated by the citizens generally.

The question of better transportation out to the park is one thing that most of the citizens will agree on. The number of people that went out there during the summer has demonstrated that a street railway line would be a paying proposition.

The citizens generally will no doubt be glad to see the street railway project carried out next summer. It will also be their wish that next summer the weather may be induced to dieh up a better brand of weather than he did this year, when only eight or nine fine days were enjoyed.

CLAIM CITY IS UNJUST TO THEM

Sleith, Quinlan & Co.'s Side of the Controversy About That Strip of Land.

With regard to the second strip of property formerly leased to them which the city now talks of taking for the use of the street railway company along Union St. west, the firm of Sleith, Quinlan & Co. contend that they would be deprived of their rights, and that the public do not fairly understand the matter.

"Surely they do not intend tearing up Union Street again to convert the pond into a dry dock. They say that they want to drive us out of business? These lots, when secured by the lessees, were twelve feet below street level, and later filled in solid. No better place for a manufacturing business exists to day than this site on the line of railway. You can't buy five lots anywhere, to say nothing about building on them. It is quite different from renting a house. Who ever heard of a factory being moved at a month's notice? We have been doing business without a free site or free water. We have had to pay all the charges asked. The premises were of no more value than a section of mud on Courtenay Bay when taken up by us. Now they are in splendid condition, after years of hard work and large expenditure of money."

MR. TEMPLEMAN SPEAKS HIS MIND

Talks Plainly to His Colleagues About Immigration THE DOUKHOBORS
He is Not Favorably Impressed With Police of Perpetuating in Canada the Idiosyncrasies of Europe--Prefers Chinese to the Japanese

VICTORIA, B. C., Sept. 14--(Special)--At a meeting of the Liberal Association to elect delegates to the provincial convention, Hon. Wm. Templeman made a speech in which he said he always had maintained the opinion that immigration into Canada should be of races that would become permanent citizens of the country.

He could not perceive why they should encourage to our northwestern territories an alien race who were determined to perpetuate in Canada traditions and idiosyncrasies of Europe, and who showed no inclination to enter into citizenship in this country. If this was to be judged good policy in Europe, it would be consistent to hold over views against the admission of the people from the Orient.

AMATEUR "WILLIAM TELL" WAS A POOR MARKSMAN

RIO JANEIRO, Sept. 14--Juan Espinosa, an expert Chilean marksman, while attempting to shoot an apple from the head of a man at a circus here, missed and killed the apple bearer. The crowd at the exhibition made a rush for Espinosa, and he barely escaped lynching at their hands.

REV. J. H. HUGHES PASSED AWAY TODAY

Veteran Baptist Minister Died of Heart Failure FOUND DEAD BY WIFE
Ordained in 1854 He Was the Second Oldest Baptist Clergyman in New Brunswick --Had Arranged to Occupy a Hampstead Pulpit Tomorrow

In the death of the Rev. John H. Hughes, which occurred very suddenly this morning at his residence, Canard street, north end, the Baptist denomination in New Brunswick loses its second oldest minister and one who occupied a high place as a preacher of the gospel, as a man and a writer.

Although not actively engaged in the ministry of late years he had been supplying at several pulpits in the absence of regular pastors. He had arranged to supply at the Baptist church in Hampstead tomorrow and announcement had been made to that effect.

RAISULI QUITE AMBITIOUS NOW

He Wants Governorship in Exchange for McLean THE CAID IS WELL
And is Now Receiving Better Treatment From His Captors Who Have no Desire to Lose the "Goose Who Lays Their Golden Eggs."

LONDON, Sept. 14--"Raisuli no longer asks for British or other protection in return for the release of Caid Sir Harry MacLean, the Englishman who has been his prisoner since early in July," says the Tangier correspondent of the Daily Mail. "He is more ambitious, and is demanding that he be made governor of the Hill tribes inhabiting a great part of northern Morocco. Furthermore he seeks compensation for a multitude of stocks and bonds which he alleges have been taken from himself and his relations, insisted that some of his former friends be put in chains and wants to be supplied with magazine rifles and ammunition."

"Sir Harry MacLean, the correspondent continues, "is well, he now has his own tent and bed and his own servants."

THE CIRCUS HERE TODAY

Norris & Rowe Circus Arrived from Moncton This Morning
The Norris & Rowe circus which arrived this morning and pitched tents on the shipyard, just to the right, beyond the Marsh Bridge is likely to prove a strong attraction for amusement lovers this afternoon and evening. Two trains bringing 25 cars arrived about 8 o'clock from Moncton and by noon the tents for the big show were erected and the horses, show animals and all materials were in readiness for the first performance.

As far as could be judged this morning the show, although not one of the largest is a good one. The animals in particular looked exceptionally well. There are four elephants, several camels of different varieties, excellent specimens of lions, tigers, hyenas, bears, pumas, kangaroos, leopards, baby lions, deer, elk, monkeys, llamas, sea-lions, wolves, panthers, etc.

MONTREAL, Sept. 14--There is now every assurance, according to information received in Montreal from France, that the General Trans-Atlantic Steamship Company will establish a direct line of first-class steamships between France and the St. Lawrence next season. It is said that the company has under consideration the bringing to Quebec and Montreal of some of the largest and fastest vessels, such as the "Provence," the "Touraine," and the "Lorraine."

NEWS FROM FREDERICTON

Splendid Weather for Opening of the Exhibition
FREDERICTON, N. B., Sept. 14--(Special)--Beautiful weather prevails here today for the opening of the provincial exhibition, and members of the agricultural society are in a very hopeful mood. Visitors are pouring into the city from all quarters and are experiencing no difficulty in finding accommodation.

MAY BE A GENERAL RAILROAD STRIKE

LONDON, Sept. 14--A general railroad strike is threatened in England as the result of a long struggle of the railway men's union with the British railway companies for the recognition of their organization. The decision of the executive committee of the union will be announced in Manchester Sunday. It is understood that it gives the companies a week in which to officially recognize and deal with the union and that a strike will follow a refusal.

Black's herd of Jersey's arrived from Amherst this morning and Sir William VanHorn's Dutch belted cattle and French-Canadian Jerseys are also here. The remains of the late Owen Sharkey will arrive from Vanburen this evening and the funeral will take place Monday morning at nine o'clock.

RACE WAR ON HIGH SEAS

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 14--One hundred and fifty Japanese and Chinese canny hands engaged in a desperate fight with knives on the high seas during the voyage of the bark Electra to this port from Muskege and the encounter terminated only after a dozen of the contestants had been wounded and as many more placed in irons in the vessel's hold. Hardly had the vessel put out to sea from Muskege before a fight occurred between three Japanese and a Chinaman in the bark's fore-cabin. This was only a forerunner to the real scuffle, however, and on August 29 a struggle between the two races began in earnest. Assembled on forward deck, the Chinese, who outnumbered the Japanese, started the trouble over the appropriation of food. A desperate fight followed, resulting in a victory for the Chinese.

PREDICTED QUEBEC BRIDGE DISASTER

Carl Swenson Writing From Quebec Before the Accident Said Bridge Would Fall.
NEW YORK, Sept. 14--The World today says Swenson and Swenson, real estate dealers, at Flushing, gave out yesterday a letter to have been written by their brother Carl Swenson, a boss employed on the Quebec bridge which fell on August 20. Swenson's letter is dated the day before the disaster. He was killed. The letter reads: "I doubt very much whether the bridge will ever be finished, since the first and second panels of the bottom chord of the cantilever, Quebec side, are buckling. I want to be in New York when she falls. If the bridge goes it will be the worst wreck that ever occurred. Don't show this to anyone. This part is no foolcatcher's story."

A DEBT CASE

A court of enquiry under the absconding debtors' act, was held at the court house this morning before Sheriff Ritchie. It appears that James McCarthy, recently sold a quantity of goods to Mrs. Brady, and David A. McLeod believing the claim was against Mr. McCarthy. The goods were seized by Sheriff Ritchie, who subsequently empaneled a jury for a court of enquiry held this morning when the claim was awarded to Mr. McLeod, who was represented by H. A. McKewen and B. L. Gerow.

He does not object to the picture, and would also tolerate the music, but he contends that his family must have some sleep. At present they get very little. They start out in the evening to make a round of the nickel shows, and they come in toward midnight, rather dizzy and out of sorts. If another show is added to the number, their condition will be still worse. Jamieson does not mind the expense. It only costs him a couple of dollars a day, which is a mere trifle. On the instant a flashing meteor shot through the air and plunged into the harbor. The oracle had spoken.

SYNOPSIS OF PRECEDING CHAPTERS.

Isobel Stormont, daughter of Sir David Stormont, a wealthy Scotch country gentleman, disappears without leaving the slightest trace. She was a quiet, retiring girl with only one distinguishing feature—a beautiful Titian hair, which had been a mark of the Stormont family for generations. Her fiancé, Basil Conyers, comes from London to aid in the search for her, and finally receives intelligence that a girl answering to her description has been seen with a hand of gypsum. Guided by a grasper, he finds Isobel, almost dead, in an abandoned dwelling. Her clothes had been changed, and when she recovers she seems to be another girl. All memory of her experiences has been wiped out by the privations she has undergone, and she begins a new life. Her character is quite changed, and she completely captivates Basil, whose affection for her herebefore had been of the cordially kind. In one of the pockets of her gown is found an old Testament, which Sir David appropriates, and he seems unexplainably perturbed over her disappearance.

Various stories of the girl's experiences are circulated, and attract the attention of Evelyn Ashe, a fortune hunter, who meets her at a charity fête given at her home. Meanwhile Sir David extracts a promise from Basil that he will not renew his engagement until Christmas, which is four months away. Then, to complicate matters further, Ashe saves Isobel from being run over by an automobile, and in Sir David's possession may contain a clue to the mystery of her seemingly dual identity. He skillfully arouses the girl's curiosity, while she is yet nervous and mentally unstrung over the disappearance of her portrait from its place on the wall. She searches her father's desk and finds the Testament. What she discovers written on the flyleaf throws her into a faint and another spell of illness.

For the benefit of her health and of Sir David's the Stormonts go abroad. Ashe follows, and in Switzerland overhears the keepers of an English orphan asylum remarking upon the wonderful resemblance of Isobel to a runaway girl who had been in their care. He vainly attempts to force her to engage herself to him, and just after a painful interview she attempts suicide, and is rescued by Conyers. Having failed to coerce Isobel into a promise, Ashe attempts to extract money from Sir David by threatening to expose what he has learned of her past. Then Sir David writes a letter to his wife explaining the mystery.

"On the morning after the storm he found a body washed up on the sands—a woman's, with long light hair, blanched by long immersion in the water. It must have been washed down by the sudden spate in the river, after lying for weeks probably in some deep pool. There were some rings, a fine diamond one, among them, and a little brooch. He took them and buried the poor unknown body among the sand dunes. When he examined his prey, he recognized the Stormont device on one of the rings, and removed and prudence, chiefly, I think, the fear that he could not dispose of his prize with safety to himself, caused him to write to me rather than to inform the police.

"My poor Marian, how can she doubt—there was Basil's diamonds, the plain gold signet with the Stormont oak, the little butterfly brooch—your dread of the Alder Pool has been too true. He took me to the place where she was laid. 'Better you can see her now,' he said. 'Marian, will you ever forgive me? I left her there. I left him in the belief that it must be some unknown vagrant who had robbed our child, and, since she had evi-

MANHOOD--WOMANHOOD

The Turning Point of Health

Growth, hard study and the tax of social life, entered upon with the zest of youth, is a severe tax on strength. If strength is not guarded, it may lay a train of evils that retard success, and the result is poor health. Your son and daughter need something to tide them over the first great tax on vitality. Give them a fighting chance and insure them a period of perfect health. Of what use is education if you have not the health to carry out much cherished plans in the future. Ferronzo will bestow that priceless blessing—health—on every weak nervous boy and girl. Two reasons why Ferronzo is blessed by young people: First—it is easily taken, pleasant to the eye and palate. Secondly—it acts so promptly and with such certainty that the falling powers of the body are restored; the blood is renewed and color restored. How delightful it is to feel strength and hopefulness coming back after having been on the verge of physical collapse. Take Ferronzo, give it to your friends, and watch the magical results—Ferronzo takes away that tired feeling and gives you a feeling of repose and strength. Ferronzo is a marvellous tonic—the best medicine in the world for those in weak or falling health, do as thousands before you have done, use it and get well. Sold everywhere in 50c. boxes.

DIRECTOIRE COAT SUIT IN OLIVE GREEN VELVET.

Long coats are a distinct feature of the season's fashion. They run from 40 to 50 inch lengths, and these sent us from the other side have just a suggestion of fitting in the back. The trimming of these coats is extremely simple. In the costume illustrated both coat and skirt are broad trimmed, a wide hand-made braided outflung the coat with rows of soutache and narrow fancy braid arranged in bands and scrolls.

She did not know that! "I was afraid some one had told you too hastily," he said, "but—'but—' looking down, 'I am sure you will be brave—there has been an accident—'

"My husband!" She gripped his arm, and Conyers could not meet her eyes. "You are trying to tell me that he is dead."

"No, indeed, no—'no—' stammering; 'at least he was still living when we found him—'

"How—where?" "There is at all times a large accumulation of foul matter in the system, which, if not destroyed, gets into the blood. Germs and disease-producing matter are thus circulated through the body. Ultimately they force their way through the pores of the skin, produce pimples, swelling, red blotches and often eruptions horrible to look upon.

Weak, Sickly People

Will Find New Strength Through the Use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. A great many young men and women are suddenly seized with weakness. Their appetite fails them; they tire on the least exertion, and become pale and thin. They do not feel any specific pain—just weakness. But that weakness is dangerous. It is a sign that the blood is thin and watery; that it needs building up. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will restore lost strength because they actually make new, rich blood—richer than the blood you have now. They will help you, too, if you are thin and weak. Alfred Lepage, of St. Jerome, Que., says: 'For several years I have been employed in a grocery and up to the age of seventeen I had always enjoyed the best of health. But suddenly my strength began to leave me. I grew pale, thin and extremely weak. Our family doctor ordered a complete rest and advised me to remain out of doors as much as possible, so I went to spend several weeks with an uncle who lived in the Laurentides. I was in the hope that the bracing mountain air would help me, but it didn't, and I returned home in a deplorable state. I was subject to dizziness, indigestion and general weakness. One day I read of a case very similar to my own cured through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I decided to give them a trial. After taking four boxes of the pills I felt greatly improved, so continued their use for some time longer and they fully cured me. I am now able to go about my work as well as ever. I did not have a headache and the greatest praise for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.'

CHAPTER XXIX Stronger Than Death.

Tap, tap, tap! Lady Stormont heard the sound as if in a dream, but it was some time before she noticed it, or could attach any meaning to it. These written words had roused many an old wound, which smarted and bled anew as she read. But wounded love and pride, the very power to remember or to think, had been blotted out by that one overwhelming horror—the nameless corpse, with its long, light, streaming hair, cast up by the waves at last, as the waves crawled back from the sandy flats, laid in a nameless, unnumbered grave amid the dreary bents. "My child—my child—would to God I had died for thee; oh, my child—my child!" the age-long cry of the bereaved heart rose up in its bitter wail and stilled all other voices—when, tap, tap, came the summons again, and at last Lady Stormont looked round her, realized where she was, that the door must be opened, and that, somehow, she must face whoever stood without.

Hastily she gathered the scattered papers and huddled them into a blotting book, and went slowly toward the door, with a vague wonder if she were the same woman who had locked it—how long ago—a lifetime! Basil Conyers stood in the passage, but she saw his face dimly as through a mist. He started at sight of her. "How could you hear?" he exclaimed abruptly. "I did not all the haste I could, hearing some one might rush in with the news. I did not think any one could have got here before me; but don't despair, dear Lady Stormont; it may not be the very worst—be—he was still living."

Dr. Hamilton Speaks On Curing Pimples

Gives Common Sense Advice That Every Person Can Employ at Home.

"I believe all skin diseases such as pimples and eruptions originate through the failure of the eliminating organs to pass certain poisonous wastes from the body. There is at all times a large accumulation of foul matter in the system, which, if not destroyed, gets into the blood. Germs and disease-producing matter are thus circulated through the body. Ultimately they force their way through the pores of the skin, produce pimples, swelling, red blotches and often eruptions horrible to look upon. I usually found the primary cause to be with the kidneys and bowels—these organs are too slow. My Pills of Mandrake and Butterbur contain very active vegetable extracts that act on these organs instantly. They give strength, tone, vigor to the eliminating organs that positively causes a clean healthy body."

WEDDINGS

Harris-Coughlan. On Wednesday Sept. 4, at 3 p. m., St. Agnes' church, Ottawa, Bapts, was filled with friends and relatives to witness the marriage of Miss Grace Myrtle, youngest daughter of the late John T. Coughlan, of Coughlan (N. B.), to William Fraser Harris, of the same place.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Albert M. Coughlan, was dressed in white silk organdie, with bridal veil and wreath, and carried a bouquet of sweet peas. The bridesmaid, Miss Etta Harris, sister of the groom, was dressed in white lawn with trimmings of lace and ribbon. The groom was attended for the occasion with a profusion of ferns and cut flowers, and the bridal party entered, the choir sang 'The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden.'

GOVERNMENT JOB FOR A HALIFAX EDITOR

Halifax, Sept. 13.—At the last session of the local legislature an act was passed creating a department to encourage immigration into Nova Scotia and for other industrial purposes, the head of the department to be known as the secretary of industries and immigration. A. S. Barnstead, barrister, has been appointed to the secretaryship. Mr. Barnstead has for several years been chief editorial writer on the Acadian Recorder and he has also been clerk of the legislative council.

A JUDGE IN SKIRTS

The first woman justice of the peace to be appointed in Lynn, and the second woman to be named to this position in Essex County is Miss Louise Paré, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Fairchild, of No. 86 Grant street, Lynn. Miss Paré, who is only 21 years of age, has just been appointed justice of the peace by Governor Gold. She is a native of Millfort, Conn., but moved to Lynn with her parents when a child. She was graduated from the English High School of Lynn, from which she will be graduated next year. After her graduation Miss Paré will practice law in Lynn. She will have the distinction of being the first woman to enter the legal profession in that city. John Tyrer, one of the Daily Telegraph engineers, had the forefinger of his left hand badly bruised last night, having it caught in machinery. Dr. J. H. Samuell attended him and he was able to go to his home.

THE MATRON IS IN CHARGE NOW

Fredericton Hospital Trustees Give Her Full Control of the Institution.

Fredericton, N. B., Sept. 12.—The hospital trustees held a lengthy meeting this evening to deal with the charges against Miss McCallum, matron of the institution. The matron was read from the nurses withdrawing their resignation, and was accepted by the trustees. The secretary was instructed to notify all employees that the matron has the full authority of the board as to the proper internal management of the hospital and that the board will expect the nursing staff in all things to conform to reasonable requests of the matron and hereafter to work in the institution on the same basis as the matron. A committee, composed of Messrs. Allan, Barry and Randolph, was appointed to prepare a report for the consideration of the trustees at a meeting to be called by the president.

BORDEN HAMMERS THE LIBERAL GOVERNMENT

Speaking at London and Woodstock He Severely Criticizes Them.

Toronto, Sept. 13.—R. L. Borden, Conservative leader, addressed two large meetings today at Woodstock and London. He defended the Halifax platform, and asked where the Liberals stood on the management of government railways by an independent commission and the nationalization of telegraphs and telephones. He said, with the exception of the Montreal Gazette, there was no opposition, that he knew of, in Conservative party to his public ownership proposals. At London the revelations of the Hyman election furnished the text for most of the speakers. Messrs. Cochrane, Blain, Bennett and Macdonald, M. P.'s, are with Mr. Borden.

WHAT COULD SHE DO ON CANADIAN ROUTE

British Paper Suggests That Lusitania Should Make Halifax Her Terminal.

Montreal, Sept. 13.—The Canadian Pacific Railway Company R. M. S. Empress of Britain, which left Liverpool just twenty-four hours before the Lusitania, landed passengers and mails at Rimouski yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, exactly twenty hours before the mails of the Lusitania were landed at New York. Although not as fleet keeled as her sister ship, the Empress of Ireland, the Empress of Britain is a tempting rival to the fine one. Passengers traveling with the mails via the Empress of Britain left London last Friday and would be in Chicago tonight. Montreal, Sept. 13.—(Special)—The Star's London correspondent cables: Today's event in the Lusitania's effort to wrest the Atlantic record from Germany. The Canadian moral here is that, inasmuch as Halifax is 882 miles nearer to Liverpool than is New York, the voyage of the Lusitania proves what an alert project would do for the empire. The Yorkshire Post throws out the novel suggestion that the British and Canadian governments might save a considerable part of the proposed $2,000,000 all-red subsidy and do the empire the best possible service by giving the Cunard line an extra sum on the condition that Halifax takes New York's place as the terminal port of the Lusitania and Mauretania. The Cunard line began its career at Halifax, and might as well resume it there. The Cunard arrangement with the British government contains no express stipulation that it should run to United States ports.

A Proven Cure For Indigestion

A healthy stomach does two things. 1st—gives up enough gastric juice to digest food—and 2nd—churns food, by means of its muscular action, until digestive juice and food are thoroughly mixed. An unhealthy stomach is either too weak to properly churn the food or it does not give up enough gastric juice to make digestion complete. Then you have Indigestion—Heartburn—Distress after Eating—Sour Stomach—Headaches—and finally chronic Dyspepsia. "Fruit-a-tives" cure Indigestion and Dyspepsia because they give you a healthy stomach. "Fruit-a-tives" actually strengthen the muscles of the stomach—increase the power of the churning movement—and also enable the stomach to excrete sufficient gastric juice to completely digest every meal. "Fruit-a-tives" also cure the Constipation and Biliousness with which so many Dyspeptics suffer. "Fruit-a-tives" are intensified fruit juices, combined with tonics and antiseptics—and are an infallible cure for all Stomach Troubles. Try them. 50c. a box—6 for $2.50. MR. GRAHAM'S SUCCESSOR? Regarding the leadership of the provincial opposition in Ontario, in succession to Hon. Mr. Graham, the Toronto News says:-

An informal arrangement has been reached, it is understood, among the Liberal members of the legislature that Hon. A. G. MacKay will succeed Hon. Mr. Graham as leader. The arrangement was reached to enable the new leader to take up at once the campaign work of Mr. Graham, and fill the public duties he had scheduled.

It will thus be seen that Mr. MacKay has had a brief and strenuous political career. He is 42 years of age. If it be true that he is to become the opposition leader the fact illustrates the great scarcity of seasoned timber in the ranks of the provincial Liberal party in Ontario.

HAMILTON'S WOE The following intelligence comes from Hamilton, Ont., and indicates that local opinion has not yet effected a complete reform in Ontario:-

Major Stewart is determined that the practice of some aldermen in attending committees and council meetings while under the influence of liquor and delaying the proceedings must be stopped. As a result of last night's farce the mayor today asked the newspapers to give as much prominence as possible to the disgrace, and stated that if that did not have the effect of stopping the practice he would find other means of doing so.

BOND ISSUES Referring to the subscription of the New York loan of $40,000,000 five times over, the Toronto World notes the fact that $20,000,000 worth of municipal debentures in Canada are said by financial institutions to be unsalable, and asks this question:- "Why are Canadians satisfied with a 3 per cent bank interest when good municipal debentures are available at nearly double the interest return?"

It is pointed out that bonds are offered by Winnipeg, Ottawa, Halifax, Regina, Edmonton, Vancouver, Saskatchewan, Prince Albert, Hamilton, Quebec, Westmount, Berlin, Moscow, Medicine Hat, Calgary, Windsor, St. Catharines and other municipalities, and the World adds the following interesting comment:- "A Toronto bond market house estimates that the amount of outstanding debentures in the Dominion at the present time is about $20,000,000. The rates of interest on these various securities run from 4 to 6 per cent. The New York bonds carry an interest of 4 1/2 per cent, and the question among financiers in Toronto is if New York 4 1/2 per cent, to the extent of forty millions could be sold at a premium, why the Canadian municipal issue of half this amount would not find a ready market at rates considerably higher than the New York securities. C. E. A. Goldman of the Amalgamated Trust Company, who are large dealers in Canadian bonds, said that there was an improving demand for good municipal securities in the British markets, but that the interest in these issues had yet to be aroused. At the meeting of the association of Canadian municipalities it was suggested that a bureau should be established for the disposition of the bonds of the Canadian municipal corporations, and it is believed that if this idea were carried out by a research of the old country investment circles there would be no great difficulty in disposing of the debentures of all the progressive Canadian municipalities at the present time at satisfactory prices.

Announcement of the terms of the new Franco-Canadian treaty will be awaited with much interest. It is said an agreement has been reached and that Messrs. Fielding and Brodeur have been given full authority to sign on behalf of Canada. An Ottawa despatch says it is not expected that the new treaty will affect preferential trade between Britain and Canada, but on the other hand a London correspondent hears a rumor that it will be a "most brazen and altogether unthinkable infringement of the royal prerogative."

The Ottawa board of trade will at its next meeting discuss a resolution introduced by Sir Sandford Fleming, of which the following is one section:- "The board favors the nationalization of the telegraphic service of the dominion and the establishment of a state Atlantic cable, both to be under government control, and resolves that the council is hereby authorized and requested to memorialize the government and parliament in respect thereto."

The Vancouver mob threatens further violence, directed against Asiatics. The duty of the authorities is to guarantee order. After this is assured the work of preserving British Columbia as a white man's country may properly be proceeded with. Of course the continued influx of aliens tends to irritate the public mind, but the duty of the government is perfectly clear. If there are illegal acts the government must pay the bills.

Mr. Hamar Greenwood, M. P. for York, England, and parliamentary secretary to Mr. Winston Churchill, M. P., secretary of state for the colonies, was in Toronto yesterday, the guest of the Empire Club. The subject of his address was "Canada and the Empire."

That an employer should bound a woman and seek to prevent her from getting work elsewhere seems almost unbelievable, and yet this is the charge against an envelope manufacturer in Toronto.

POLITICAL NOTES (Toronto News.) "I would rather lead the Conservative forces in Manitoba than join the party leaders at Ottawa," said Hon. R. P. Roblin, premier of Manitoba, to a reporter of The News, at the King Edward yesterday.

"Mr. Borden will get a hearty support in the West," he added, "if he continues to emphasize the need of senate reform, rural mail delivery, public ownership of telephones and telegraphs, the extension of the Intercolonial as far as finances permit, and closer Imperial relations. "Western people have been better pleased with Mr. Borden's campaign in his later speeches. That Halifax speech was not read with very much enthusiasm because there seemed to be too many conditions attached to his planks. "In his subsequent speeches he has been more clear cut and definite in his statements, and that is what the westerner wants."

MR. GRAHAM'S CONTRIBUTION. (Toronto News.) It seems that in the election campaign of three years ago Mr. Hugh Graham, of Montreal, contributed $25,000 or $30,000 to the Conservative election fund. This was made a cause of reproach to Mr. Graham and a ground of attack upon Mr. Borden. There is, however, no insinuation that the money was stolen, nor is there any evidence that it was used for corrupt purposes. It was not derived from a public subsidy, nor taken out of the treasury in the shape of extras for a contractor. Mr. Graham is wealthy. The assumption is that he used his own money. It is not denied that it was expended for the benefit of the Conservative party. It is hard for politicians out of office to raise money for election purposes. This the Liberals discovered in the old days of Opposition. This Mr. Borden has discovered. But the expenditure of $25,000 or $30,000 or $100,000 in a general election is by no means conclusive evidence of corruption. It is necessary to have money, and a good deal of money, for legitimate purposes. It is admitted that in Great Britain enormous sums are spent in every election, and that very little of this goes in direct bribery. In every election probably from $30,000 to $50,000 is spent in Toronto alone on legitimate organization, circulation of literature, public meetings and other proper purposes. There seems to be no reason that Mr. Graham or Mr. Borden should apologize for Mr. Graham's contribution, and certainly it would be easy to spend that amount and a much greater amount for legitimate purposes in the Province of Quebec. There may have been a great deal of money spent corruptly by the Conservative party in Quebec, but all the circumstances go to show that Mr. Graham's contribution was not used and was not intended to be used for corrupt purposes.

THE FIRST DEAD LEAF (Chicago Post.) The first dead leaf came dancing down— And all at once the skies were gray. While over countryside and town There sighed a breeze that seemed to say The knell of summer has been rung. The long long days of peace were gone. That is why the first dead leaf came dancing down. The first of winter hastened on.

IN LIGHTER VEIN EXEMPT AT LAST. An old Hebrew was giving a visitor some account of his experiences during a recent seismic disturbance. "I suppose," remarked the Sassenach, "it was rather a surprise for you to find the crockery jumping off the shelves." "Aye, it was that. But the wife was mair surprised still. I've been married thirty years, an' it's about the only throuble in the house she hims' blamed me for."—London Letter.

NATURE STUDY. (Boston Post) "If I have ever nature-faked," said the Rev. William J. Long, the gifted nature writer in Stamford, "I have done so unconsciously. My knowledge of nature, my veracity, has been at fault." "You know," resumed Mr. Long, smiling, "my nature-fake through ignorance. Thus: "One day I was addressing some Stamford school chaps on the subject of bees, and turning to a bright-looking little chap, I said: "With what part of the body does a bee buzz, Jacob?" "Jacob answered confidently, but ignorantly, launching a tremendous nature-fake: "It's buzzum, air," he said.

AN ESTIMATE OF MR. R. L. BORDEN (Victoria, B. C. Colonist.)

As Mr. Borden's tour proceeds it becomes clearer from day to day that he is making a profound impression upon the country. There is nothing in his speeches and extempore utterances that appeals to the patriotism and the moral sense of the electorate. Canada is exceedingly fortunate in having at the head of the two great parties men like Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. Borden. Both have honorable instincts; both in private life and in their public careers have established a reputation for cleanliness and courage. Mr. Borden shows these characteristics in a marked degree, and we do not wish to be understood that in saying this we are making any comparison with the leader of the government; we are simply speaking of Mr. Borden. His opponents have charged him with weakness; some of his friends have said that he lacked aggressiveness; but no one has ever suggested that he has not all the characteristics of a high-minded gentleman. His opponents are beginning to recast their views as to his supposed weakness, for they are learning that he possesses a moral strength, which appeals in the strongest possible way to the best sentiments of the Canadian people. Those who complained of lack of aggressiveness are beginning to see that there may be a kind of political activity which is more valuable than the variety that is usually expected from political leaders. It is beginning to be understood that the party leader has other duties than simply to get his opponents out and his friends in. It is beginning to be felt that the first obligation of the leader of the opposition is to his country, and that his responsibility in this respect is scarcely second to that of the premier. Therefore Mr. Borden's appeal to the calm judgment, the Canadianism and as we have said, the moral sense of the electorate is daily being more and more highly appreciated. Already he has put politics on a higher plane. If he had started out on a tour of Canada to lead in abuse, in ruminations and campaign exaggerations, it is quite certain that at each stage of his journey he would have lost friends, and he would have left a trail of bitterness and disappointment from coast to coast. As it is he is making an admirable impression upon the country; he is showing the people that there are things in politics, and they are really the most important things, which can be discussed without malice and debated without acrimony.

WHAT THEY PAY FOR FEED IN THREE OTHER DISTRICTS

These Reports from Ottawa, Toronto and Halifax Are of Interest Just Now. Of the arguments advanced in favor of a higher price for milk, that which deals with the increased price of feed is probably the most convincing.

IN OTTAWA. OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 12.—One of the leading dairymen in the Ottawa district, when asked as to the probable price of milk during the approaching winter months said it was a matter of great uncertainty.

IN HALIFAX. HALIFAX, N. S., Sept. 12.—A dealer interested in the milk and dairy produce trade, explains the situation here thus: The crop in the milk section this season was damaged through unfavorable weather and this, together with the poor yield of good hay, because of a very high water table, gives the farmers a light crop of poor quality.

MR. DEVLIN'S DECLARATION What He Considers Necessary for a United Canada. OTTAWA, Sept. 13.—Speaking at an Ancient Order of Hibernians gathering at Baywater, Mr. Charles R. Devlin, M. P., said amongst other things: "I do not ask you to give up your home, your position, your all to serve Ireland. No these sacrifices are too great, but I do entreat you, my countrymen, to hold in honor the heroes and the men who are saving our Irish race and to aid them when you can, nationally and to aid them when you can, personally."

THURSDAY NIGHT'S ROLLER RACE. In this morning's paper, Alward who was defeated by Olive and also by Nixon last Thursday night's roller race at the Queen's rink, says he was in the lead when he fell. Certainly he was, but the pace he was going, or was forced to go by the other two boys, caused him to lose his feet, and because he was defeated he also lost his head. Alward has been defeated by Olive a number of times, and now he wants to race him a short race of half mile. "Does not this show that Alward, was short of wind last Thursday when he skated the mile and that the pace he set and could not keep it up, was the cause of his collapse."

REXTON. REXTON, N. B., Sept. 12.—The marriage took place at 7 p. m. yesterday of William Martin, clerk at J. E. W. Brant's, and Miss Ella, daughter of Mrs. Ward McDonald, of Upper Rexton. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. D. Archibald at the residence of the bride's mother, in the presence of a number of the friends of the contracting parties. The bride was attired in white silk. She wore the recipient of a number of beautiful presents. The happy couple will reside at the groom's home here.

HALIFAX==The Second Office of the Endless Chain!

Should we carry out our present intentions we will in the near future have a chain of offices reaching from coast to coast. Our headquarters will be in St. John, at which office we will continue to devote OUR PERSONAL ATTENTION.

Our Success in Halifax Has Been Phenomenal. This is no myth. People from all parts of Nova Scotia are flocking to our offices, and hundreds of testimonials have already been offered us.

Five Men Are Kept Constantly Busy from 9 a. m. until 9 p. m.

Every mail brings numerous letters of enquiries or appointments. Our appointment list is almost filled for exhibition week.

We have already been obliged to approach our landlord, Mr. Roy, in an endeavor to secure additional rooms in the Aberdeen Building.

It Will Be the Same in Every City We Enter. We are installing a new system of book-keeping in each office, which will be looked after by a lady cashier, and everything will be conducted in a business-like way as well as in a professional manner.

The most competent men that can be secured in Canada or the United States are being engaged. Any dentist will tell you that the price of teeth has jumped so high that there is not nearly the profit in a set of teeth there was some years ago. Nevertheless, we are establishing prices below the lowest ever quoted.

We Have Established the Most Reliable Advertising Offices in the World. No one can question our workmanship. We give the best for the least money of any office in the world. We are in a class by ourselves in the advertising business, and have no connection with "Dental Parlors" in any part of the country not bearing our name.

The immense volume of business we do enables us to work at such low fees. We are the Largest Buyers of Dental Materials in Canada. We defy Contradiction. We buy more gold, more teeth, more rubber and material generally than any other office, and we pay spot cash for everything. We Are the Only Ones that do this.

POWER PLANT IN THE GUNNISON CANYON

UNCOMPAHGRE PROJECT COLORADO A COMPLETED PORTION OF SOUTH CANAL

HEAD WORKS TRUCKEE CARSON PROJECT CONGRESS JOURNAL PARTY AT OPENING JULY 17, 1905

What is the greatest material enterprise of the Government at the present day? Nine people out of ten will answer at once: "The Panama Canal." But we have within our own country a national work in progress which is incomparably greater and of more importance than the Isthmian operation. We do not hear much of the Reclamation Service—the miracle-working bureau of the Government. It was only organized five years ago, and its projects are located in out-of-the-way places. Its engineers are a matter-of-fact type of men, intense and close-mouthed. It is difficult to get a story from them and if you succeed, it is apt to be delivered in the practical terms of the craft. For weeks the present scribbled "Gunnison" McConell for an account of the famous tunnel. Now the exploration of the canyon and the constructive work on the six-mile shaft to pierce a mountain 3,000 feet in height have been accomplished by blood-stirring deeds of heroism, adventure, and difficulty, but the engineer's narrative neglected all these as non-essentials. It was a plain picture in half-tone of a project and the mechanical features involved in its execution.

The Reclamation Service has set its hand to the splendid task of converting 40,000,000 acres of barren waste into which productive land, much of it the most fertile on the face of the globe. The scene of the contemplated transformation—which is proceeding with wonderful rapidity—is the Great American Desert, embracing our sixteen more or less arid states and territories and occupying two-fifths of the area of the United States. It is a region that we shall need ere long for the accommodation of our expanding population, and it is destined to provide homes for millions of prosperous people. It will cost on an average about $30 per acre to reclaim this strip of country and the total outlay on this splendid work of redemption will be $1,200,000,000, or seven times the cost of the Panama Canal.

Some of the land already reclaimed has a value of $1,000 per acre, and a large portion of it is worth $200 and more. The average value of irrigated land in the United States is $47 per acre, so that we may without taking account of the probable future decrease in operation and increase in real estate value calculate that the ultimate result of the enterprise will be to add at least $2,350,000,000 worth of taxable property to the west. It will take fifty years or more to complete the magnificent work, but meanwhile each month sees thousands of acres of desert yield to the magic touch of water.

Private enterprise has done much in this direction since the Geological Survey drew attention to the possibilities 25 years ago. Irrigation canals in total length sufficient to make a double circuit of the world have been constructed at an outlay of $80,000,000 and a crop-producing area of 10,000,000 acres, equal to that of the State of Massachusetts, has been wrested from the desert. Each year this territory—formerly barren and uninhabited by it—understands a harvest valued at more than $150,000,000 and supports 2,000,000 of prosperous people. There are today large stretches of land producing annual crops worth $100 per acre on holdings which a few years ago were overgrown by an assessment of seventy-five cents per acre. But private capital has been restricted to the solution of comparatively simple problems in hydraulic engineering. It remained for the government to cope with the difficult and stupendous undertakings upon which the salvation of the greater part of the arid region depends.

One of the most remarkable features of the great work of the Reclamation Service is that it is being performed without cost to the country. The national irrigation act of June, 1902, created the bureau and provided that the funds for carrying on its operations should be derived from the sale of public lands in the arid and semi-arid states and territories; that the cost of each operation should be repaid to the government by the sale of water rights; that the land should be disposed of to actual settlers under the homestead act in small farm units sufficient to support a family; and that at the end of ten years the irrigation works—with the exception of the reservoirs—should be turned over to the people.

This service has a constantly increasing fund—which now amounts to about $50,000,000—that is turned over and over and is at present appropriated to the prosecution of twenty-four different projects in various parts of the region. The plans of the Reclamation Service do not cease with the provision of water. They extend in a revolutionary movement to the agricultural communities that shall occupy the land. The "rural settlement" is an ideal solution of the farmer's problem. Every farmer on a Reclamation project will be within three miles of one of these towns. The "settlement" will contain a central graded school, church, library, and, in short, all the usual urban features. Good roads will connect it with the surrounding country and in many instances the irrigation works will supply water power which may be utilized for the operation of electric railways and for lighting and factory purposes.

The first of the great projects entered upon by the Reclamation Service was the Truckee-Carson, located in Nevada and designed to transform the Forty-Mile Desert, the most desolate and barren spot on the continent with the exception of Death Valley. The chief feature of this operation consists in lifting the Truckee River from its natural bed into a great canal which will carry it into the Carson Reservoir whence it will be distributed through laterals over the thirsty land. This project will involve an outlay of $9,000,000, but it will irrigate 400,000 acres of land which will then be worth $30,000,000 or more.

which, with the exception of another structure of the service, will be the highest in the world. It will be 285 feet in height and 800 feet along the crest and will contain 300,000 cubic yards of masonry. In the canyon of the Salt River 2000 men are at work on the Roosevelt dam. The reservoir created by this dam will be larger than any artificial lake in existence, with a capacity ten times greater than the Croton reservoir. To put it another way: it will hold enough water to cover 1,400,000 acres to a depth of one foot. At the bottom of this lake will be a town which at present consists of permanent stone buildings has a population of 2,500 and boasts all the usual utilities of a large urban centre. When the dam is completed, and the river now running through a diversion channel, is allowed to return to its bed, the inhabitants will desert Roosevelt and the waters will submerge it.

The Uncompahgre Valley contains land which, when a sufficiency of water is applied to it, proves to be as fertile as any in the world. At present the Gunnison river is flowing in futile amplitude past the valley at the bottom of a rocky canyon, three thousand feet below the surface of the mesa. The Reclamation Service is boring a tunnel through the mountain to carry the waters out upon the adjacent plain. It will be six miles in length, and will effect the irrigation of 130,000 acres. The greater proportion of this work is accomplished and its completion is looked for about a year hence.

The Shoshone dam is going up in northern Wyoming. It will lock a narrow granite canyon and will rise to a greater height—310 feet—than any other in the world. The site of the dam is in a spot formerly almost inaccessible but the Service has constructed a road several miles in length through the canyon. It passes through scenery indescribably beautiful and affords a new route to Yellowstone Park.

At the foot of the Black Hills, in South Dakota, an enormous earthen embankment is in course of construction. It will be 115 feet in height and more than a mile in length and will act as a retaining wall to a lake twenty miles long by five wide and in many places over one hundred feet deep. This project—the Belle Fourche—is to be opened in the present year.

A remarkable piece of engineering is connected with the Yuma project on the Colorado River. Across that eccentric stream is being thrown a huge dam of the East India weir type. Lacking a bedrock foundation the enormous masonry construction will rest upon the sand. It is to be nearly a mile in length and to stretch about 400 feet up and down stream. Its weight will be 600,000 tons and its cost three quarters of a million dollars. Another remarkable operation involved in this project is the carrying of the Gila River through a steel and cement siphon 3,300 feet long, underneath and across the Colorado.

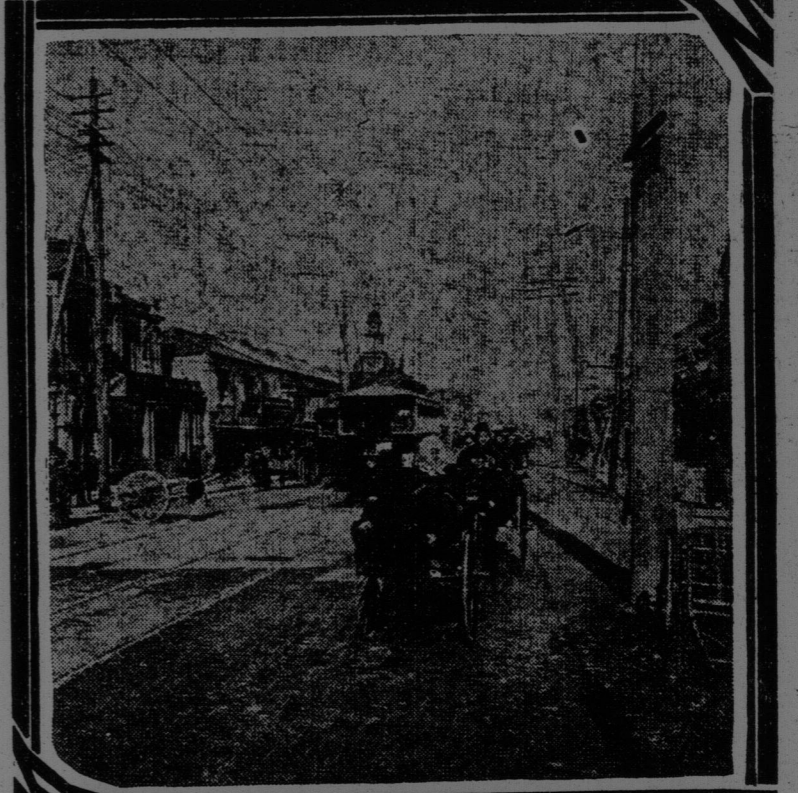

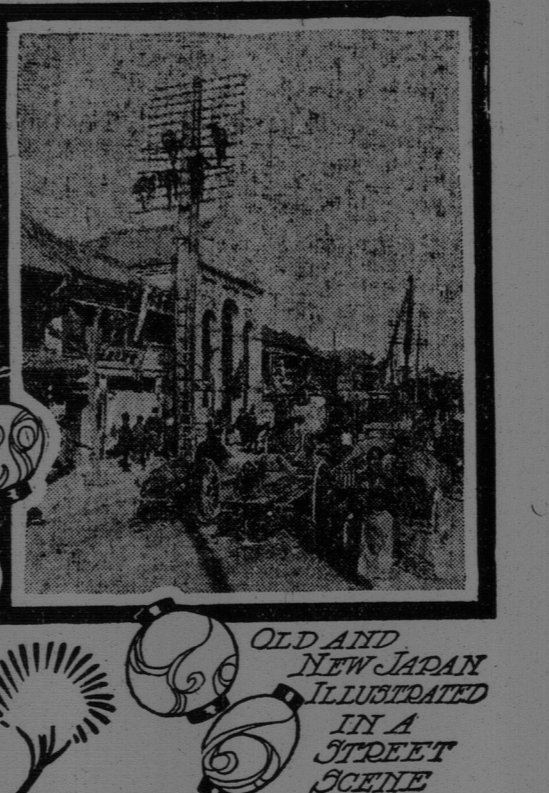

JAPAN An Enigma

BY FODDES-LINDSAY

THE GREAT BRIDGE AT TOKYO FROM WHICH ALL DIPLOMATS ARE EXCLUDED

GOVERNMENT PALACE AT TOKYO

GINZA STREET THE CHIEF COMMERCIAL THOROUGHFARE OF TOKYO

During the recent war there never was a moment when the government of either Japan or America seriously considered hostilities. On one side the alarm originated in and was restricted to the irresponsible and unbalanced yellow journals that pander to the popular love of sensation. In Japan the agitation had a similar origin but there the temper of the people created a real danger of grave complications and might have driven a weak ministry to extreme measures. It has never seen a greater enthusiasm for fight than that with which the Japanese entered upon the war with Russia, except, perhaps, when England turned out to a man to repel the Spanish Armada. After the victory, the Mikado's people were possessed of a spirit akin to that which prevailed in this country as a sequence to the war of 1812. They thought that they could beat the world and so they think now and will continue to do so until the inevitable war with a great power that shall teach them wisdom and a due sense of proportion. In a recent number, the Tokio Puck, tagged a cartoon with the following modest sentiment: "The Pacific coast has already become a ferocious lion and the whole land is fast being brutalized. We fear the time may come when we shall be forced to use the rifle again at the hideous monster—the rifle which we once tried with success at the savage beast from the North."

Should Japan attack the United States, she could seize the Philippines, Hawaii, and our other possessions in the Pacific with little difficulty and might inflict some injury upon our merchant marine and western coast towns. But there her power would cease and the enterprise would mark the beginning of her downfall. The moment she declared war against the United States her main prop—the alliance with Great Britain—would be knocked from under her and when—after, perhaps, five years of preparation—we should invade Nippon, there would be nothing left for the exultant Japanese but to retire to the ranks of the second rate powers.

Japan is confronted with the most serious economic problems. With a population of 47,000,000, increasing at the rate of 500,000 a year, Japan is overpopulated. The need of an outlet for her surplus population was the chief inducement to the late war. She now has it in Korea. The salvation of Japan and the maintenance of her position as a world power depend upon her solvency and the development of her mechanical industries. She is carrying a burdensome national debt of nearly one thousand million dollars upon which fifty million dollars interest must be paid annually. The maintenance of her government, and her military establishment is very heavy, and projected public improvements will make large drains upon her exchequer. For example, the national acquisition of the railroads calls for $250,000,000. In order to meet its obligations at home and abroad the Japanese government must tax the people to the utmost and in order to meet the demand the people must have new avenues for making money. Such is the situation and it is almost critically acute.

To our inflated notion of Japanese ability is due the prevalent idea that these versatile people will set to and in a few years establish a vast industrial system. The chief factors in such an accomplishment are labor and capital. It is generally believed that Japan has a great advantage in "cheap labor." As a matter of fact, labor is no longer cheap in Nippon.

So even in peace, thousands must spend time at drill when they might otherwise be employed in factories contributing to the nation's wealth and welfare.

Neither the government nor private individuals can advance the money needed for the contemplated manufacturing expansion. It must be borrowed and it is from America principally that the Japanese hope to get it. One of the members of the Japanese Embassy at Washington recently made a remarkable plea in a public speech. It is significant in several important respects that may be referred to in future articles. After admitting frankly that his country is in urgent need of capital, the speaker said:

"The United States is supplying materials for our important industries. Why cannot she supply the capital too? There exists between Japan and Great Britain a political alliance in the East; why can there not be a commercial alliance between Japan and the United States?"

"The field for the commercial and industrial activity of Japan has been immensely enlarged as a result of the last war, and this offers a specially favorable opportunity for American co-operation. With the chapter labor and a comparatively superior knowledge of oriental matters possessed by the Japanese, combined with the inexhaustible supply of American capital and materials, we can build up an impregnable commercial stronghold in the East which can defy the rivalry of the world.

The programme as outlined by the Honorable Eki Hiroki, is very attractive—from the Japanese point of view. But, in the meanwhile the American manufacturer is realizing that he must extend his markets abroad; he is putting a great deal of money in the Panama Canal with a view to doing so; and, if the truth must be told, he is planning to beat the Jap in the very field where he is invited to cooperate with him. The proposition is not likely to appeal to our capitalists for the same reason that a similar one has failed to move the British with any degree of enthusiasm.

The Japanese government is lending its aid intelligently to all projects that promise to make for industrial development. The present exhibition at Tokio is only preliminary to the great exposition that will be held in 1912. No pains will be spared to make this the largest and finest affair of the kind in history. It is planned to spend unprecedented large sums upon it. The enterprise will be in the hands of the government and the active co-operation of every country in the world will be sought. It is proposed to secure extraordinary low rates to Japan from all parts of the globe for both freight and passengers—with a view to encouraging exhibits and visitors.

The next twenty-five years will test the true quality of Japan. If during that time she enters upon another great war she will be doomed. If in that period she fails to establish herself as a country of considerable commercial importance, the opportunity will never again occur to her. It is quite within the bounds of possibility that the rise of China's sun may see the setting of Japan's.

The town of Orson, Sweden, is without taxes. The necessary revenues are derived from forest reservations.

A GREAT STEAMSHIP

12 Charles Street, St. John, N. B.
Editor Times:
Six—Seeing a good number of the Times readers are a little interested in the size of ships, I wish to give them the following facts and figures of the steamer Manitoula. She was launched on the River Tyne on September 22nd, 1906, by the Duchess of Roxburg, in the short space of 60 seconds. She is 700 feet long, 88 feet beam, depth 69 1/2 feet, gross tonnage 33,200 tons, 68,000 horse-power, and will travel at the rate of 24 1/2 knots per hour; her load draught is 57 1/2 feet and her launching weight was 18,500 tons. She has four funnels, each 152 feet high; two masts, 210 feet high, and she has nine decks. In her construction she took 30,000 plates bulkhead and castings. Some of the plates were 40 feet long, weighing five tons each. Over 500 tons of rivets were used, the rivets in her keel being eight inches long and weighing 2 3/4 lbs. each. If her frames and beams were placed end to end, they would reach the distance of 30 miles. She has three anchors, each weighing 10 tons, 22 links in cable, and the whole reach 1,300 feet, each link weighs 1 1/2 cwt; the anchor, several weighs 1,512 lbs. She has 1,200 windows and sashlights; 5,000 electric lights, and it has taken about 200 miles of cable wire for the lights. She has 23 double-ended boilers, eight furnaces each, and two single-ended boilers, four furnaces each, 192 furnaces in all. The height of the bridge from the keel is 110 feet. She will carry about 3,000 souls. She also carries 12 6-inch guns, so that she can soon be made into an armed cruiser if required. (Signed) R. A. BELL.

'A SIDE SHOW BARKER' IS TOMMY BURNS
The Canadian Heavyweight Has a New Role, "Gathering in the Shekels."

DETROIT, September 12.—(Pressing to your gaze, ladies and gentlemen, the training quarters of Tommy Burns, world's heavyweight champion of the fistie arena, conqueror of Australian Billy Squires, Note the rapt attention of the mighty multitude at the great champion steps into action. Note the wave of enthusiasm sweeping over those crowded around him. Note—

And then some more, and then a whole lot more. Tommy Burns, himself was doing the talking. As a side show barker in a state fair show the "Champion" is making a hit. At present he is appearing in Detroit, his home town, at the annual fair. He has a tent and brass band, the glaring posters and the barkers to draw the patrons. He himself looks after the money and handles the pictures. Hidden in the darkness as the machine works the "world's greatest and then some" tells them all about it.

When it comes to gathering in the shekels you've got to hand it to Tommy. He's original at least. He's the first champion to be a side show barker and he gets away with it well. When the pictures show the crowd climbing out of the wagons he explains they would not ride on the street cars because there was a strike on and for a side line he roasts the money power. When the fighters get into the ring he warms up to his subject still more.

"Observe, ladies and gentlemen, the Australian. See his flag waving above his head. Now note the tumultuous ovation tendered Tommy Burns as he steps to the centre of the ring. Tommy Burns is popular because he always fought on the square. A thunderous roar of applause breaks forth as he is introduced with the good old head.

Outside in shiver music the brass band breaks forth with "Stars and Stripes." "They're off."

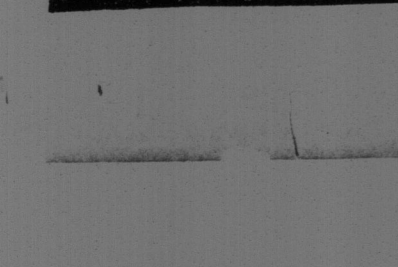

Tommy slides off each more of the two shadows on the sheet. Then when the knockout punch is put over and the crowd stops cheering, Tommy quickly dodges away from the machine. When the light of day fills the tent again Tommy is standing quietly at the door, on view as the crowd files past him.

THE SHAMROCKS FOR IRELAND
The Shamrocks will make the trip to Ireland. So decided the executive of the club at their meeting last night. It is likely that with one probable exception, Jerry, the goal keeper, that all the players who have figured on the team this season will make the trip.

That will be settled, however, at a meeting of the executive and players called for Monday next, when all the details connected with the trip will be taken into consideration.

It is not likely that the start will be made immediately, as the players will in many cases require a little time to arrange their affairs so that they can be absent for six or eight weeks—the length of time that the trip will probably occupy. How ever, they will arrive on the "Old Sod" in time to take in the Dublin Exposition. It is suggested that an international match—England vs. Canada—be arranged for during the visit, while it is also considered likely that some of the English clubs, especially those in the Manchester district, will be anxious to make fights. Probably an international side might be selected to represent England against the Minto cup holders.

THONEY WINS GOLD AND LAURELS
At Contest Among Ball Players — "Bore Out His Reputation of Being One of the Fastest Base Runners in the Business."

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Sept. 12.—John Thoney, the fleet-footed outfielder of the Toronto Eastern League Club, won a championship, $100 in gold and a $100 gold medal at the baseball field events here yesterday. He won the "running out a fair ball" contest, and bore out his reputation of being one of the fastest men on a bunch of administrators in the stands and his triumph was greeted with a storm of cheers. He won the events on his second trial. After all the entrants had batted, there were five ties for first place, and the second try was necessary. The first time up Thoney hit the second ball fair, and although he stumbled at the start he made the base in three and two-fifths seconds.

On the second attempt he shaved one second off his mark. Leach, of Pittsburgh, also made it three and one-fifths seconds, according to one timer, but he refused to try again after the judges had disagreed as to his time. Each man was allowed to choose his own pitcher, and Thoney chose Leaver, of Pittsburgh, and McKay of Mobile. In circling the bases Thoney was only one second behind the winner, being tied with Lobert of this city for second place. This event was won by Walter O. Clements, of Jersey City in 14.5 seconds.

Leach also made the circuit in the same time, but was disqualified because he failed to touch the bases at second and third bases. A strong wind interfered with record-breaking.

ANOTHER CLUB GIVES C.A.A.U. THE COLD ONE
OTTAWA, Sept. 11.—A prominent official of the Amateur Athletic Association announces the club's connection with the C. A. A. U. will be short-lived, and in all probability an affiliation with the C. A. A. U. would sever connections with the C. A. A. U. this fall. So far as can be ascertained, but one individual is not in favor of the change.

The acquisition of Rough Rider seconds, intermediate Rugby champions of Canada, and a number of local paddlers and city league hockey players by the Association is regarded as practically bound to bring about this change.

IS KELLY 100 YARD RECORD HOLDER?
In Dan J. Kelly, of Oregon, the rightful holder of the 100 yard record with 9.35 seconds, the distance, or was that feat accomplished by means that were subject to criticism, to say the least, and will be made a monkey of when it comes to the Amateur Athletic Union games at Jamestown.

Asks a Portland despatch to the San Francisco Chronicle. These and other questions are agitating the athletic world in and around Portland and friction between Kelly and members of the Multnomah Amateur Athletic Club, who have heretofore been his strongest supporters, is accounting for the rumors that are being heard on many a corner when the subject is discussed.

YACHTING THE SPANISH YACHT RACE.
SAN SEBASTIAN, Spain, Sept. 11.—The Spanish yacht Dorica won the third race of the international Regatta. After successfully manouevring the Dorica obtained a good lead when going for the second time around the course, a beat to windward and a run to leeward in a light west wind two miles to the leg. Chewink VIII, the American, Sonderclass yacht, was second; the King's yacht, Dios Salvo Spokane I, fourth, and the American Spokane II, fourth, and the American yacht Marblehead was fifth.

HOCKEY PLAYERS IN DEMAND
All the Big Clubs Have Got Their Nets Out and Got Money Offered.

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 11.—Canadian and American hockey promoters are still hunting for players for the coming winter, and have cast their lines toward Ottawa. The first catch is a big one, made by the manager of a Winnipeg club, which will probably enter a professional team in the copper country league this year.

Billy Baird, the fast defence player, who held down the point position for Pittsburgh, and wound up the season with Ottawa, will go another well known player who figured on the Ottawa line last year. Winchester, the Toronto goal-keeper, who has been playing for Pittsburgh the past few seasons, is also slated to play the pines for the new Winnipeg team.

The new Interprovincial Rugby Union has not taken definite shape, the schedule has been drawn up and it will hold good if the league is formed. It is as follows: Oct. 5—Hamilton at Montreal; Argonauts at Ottawa; Oct. 12—Montreal at Argos; Ottawa at Hamilton; Oct. 19—Montreal at Ottawa; Argonauts at Hamilton; Oct. 26—Montreal at Hamilton; Ottawa at Argos; Nov. 2—Ottawa at Montreal; Hamilton at Ottawa.

WANT SPECIAL LIQUOR LAW
Sydney Citizens Decide for Special Legislation no Liquor Traffic.
SYDNEY, N. S., Sept. 13.—At a meeting of leading citizens tonight called by Mayor Kimber the following resolution was passed by a large majority: Whereas, the late vote in Sydney re the Canada Temperance Act indicates that the electorate are opposed to an ineffective prohibitory law; and whereas, there is good reason to believe that the Nova Scotia liquor license act which will shortly become operative will in this city exhibit the same disparity between its avowed purpose and practical results; and whereas, the electorate wishes better conditions instead of a repetition of the late anomalies. Therefore resolved, that in the opinion of this meeting it would be desirable to have the Nova Scotia liquor license act amended for this city so as to make the regulation of the liquor traffic more feasible, to prepare a committee to be appointed to prepare the essentials of such an amendment, which if found to be acceptable to the electorate, to be presented to the local legislature for enactment.

Once a SCOTCH ZEST BREAD eater, Always a SCOTCH ZEST BREAD eater.
Our ever increasing sales prove that. People who eat it once eat it always, and more people are eating it every day. The reasons are simple; it has the true flavor good bread should have; it has a moistness that makes it good to eat (if not used up) anytime within three days; it is pure, sweet and clean. These are the reasons that hundreds of people eat Scotch Zest Bread, always! Try it, prove it to your own satisfaction, one loaf from your grocer is all you need to be always a Scotch Zest Bread eater. UNION BAKERY. GEO. J. SMITH, Prop., 122 Charlotte Street.

WILSON'S FLY PADS

The Bangor Commercial says:—"Autos stuck in the mud in the leading teams about town just now. One week ago, five going from St. John to Boston were anchored in the mud where the town is building a state road. Saturday a party of four took dinner at H.O. Spencer's and spent a quiet hour in the mud hole above."

The government steamer Lady Laurier sails on Monday for Sable Island, taking the new lantern to be erected there. Next she goes to Leaslie to get the Liscomb buoy towed in there a short time ago to set in position again. She will come to Halifax and then proceed to Louisbourg, Yarmouth and St. John to set out submarine bells apparatus.

Active members of the Every Day Club met last evening and after discussing matters relating to the re-opening of the club adjourned to meet again on Tuesday evening next. While the club will not be reopened before October, it is intended to make the institution of much more value to men next winter than it is last.

Prince Alfordly has quite recovered from the effects of a horse accident which fell him while being loaded on the car at St. John. He will make two starts at Fredericton and three at Halifax. The horse that time him will have to step in 2:30—Woodstock Sentinel.

In the case of W. E. Harrison vs. Wm. E. Newcombe, which came up before Judge Landry yesterday, being an adjourned case of the Kings circuit of the supreme court, his honor delivered judgment in favor of the plaintiff for $54.95, the amount of his claim for balance of wages and board.

Wm. Patterson, for some time foreman in the city water works department, broke his leg last night while at work near Renforth. About five o'clock, while pushing behind a load of coal to help his horse up a hill, the whiffletree broke and the wagon ran back, the wheels passing over his leg. Dr. J. P. McInerney, who, fortunately, was near by, rendered the necessary surgical aid and ordered Mr. Patterson's removal to the hospital.

About nine o'clock last evening, the Carleton firemen were called out for a blaze in the west end Nickel moving picture show in the City Hall. The fire, however, did not amount to much. The fire is attributed to the igniting of the celluloid film from a spark. The operator of the machine is reported to have burnt his hands quite severely. About three hundred people were in the show house at the time and the accident caused much excitement.

DUTCH SETTLERS HERE A Dutch family composed of Mr. and Mrs. C. Padburg and their seven sons arrived here recently from Looswarden, Holland, and intend locating in this province. Prior to leaving their native land they came across a book advertising Canada and New Brunswick, and being favorably impressed with the advantages offered to immigrants decided to come to St. John. The second son is the only member of the family who understands English, and his knowledge is very limited.

FIRE IN MILFORD Child Playing With Matches Causes Destructive Fire.

A child playing with matches caused a fire this morning that did considerable damage in a house in Milford.

About 8 o'clock this morning fire was seen issuing from Mrs. John Waring's house, occupied by three tenants, Isaac Keirstead, John Boyd and Samuel Chambers. The fire was caused by Mr. Boyd's three-year-old boy striking matches in the clothes room.

A considerable quantity of clothing was ruined, and some slight damage was done to the house. Merely a gathering, and prevented a more serious blaze.

JAMES ALLEN KILLED James Allen, aged seventeen years, son of Henry Allen of 29 Clarence street was fatally injured by falling off a train near Bancroft, Me., yesterday morning and died a few hours later in the Bancroft Hospital. Telegrams to the family brought the news of the accident. It is reported that Allen, who was riding on the train with a companion named George Thomas of this city, fell off just before it reached Bancroft and on search being made for him he was found with one arm cut off and his head injured. He was rushed to the Bancroft Hospital but died shortly after his arrival there. Allen, who was formerly employed with the Hygienic Bakery, left here on Saturday. He leaves his father and mother and three brothers—Charles, William and John, all of this city; and two sisters—Mrs. William Appleby, of Halifax, and Miss Gertrude, at home.

A PLEASANT EVENING Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Young, who are summing at Kelepec, on the C. P. R., were pleasantly surprised about 9 o'clock last evening, when a buckboard and two carriages bearing a party of their friends, arrived at their hangar, the occasion being the fifth anniversary of their wedding. Dancing games and various amusements contributed to a delightful evening, and about midnight all sat down to supper, after which the merry-makers started for the city. Mr. and Mrs. Young will return to their city home in a few days.

FOOTBALLS

The Football Season is now here and finds us supplied with balls of all kinds including Spalding's J5, D and M THORNE'S SPECIAL, Prices, $1.25 to $6.00 SHIN GUARDS, 50c. to $1.50 W. H. THORNE & CO., Limited, Market Square, St. John, N. B.

On Tuesday morning, the 17th, we cordially invite the ladies of St. John to our commencement of millinery styles for Autumn and Winter.

We take great pleasure in promising a more elaborate and more extensive collection of modish headwear than upon any former cool weather occasion. Aside from the magnificent supply of Untrimmed Shapes, Materials, Floral Decorations, Wings, Feathers, Plumes and Hat Jewelry, we will present for inspection and purchase, an authoritative group of pattern hats, purchased in the city of Paris by our personal representative. These hats are products of the renowned houses of Madame Pouyanne, Madame Germaine Cartier, Lewis, Suzanne Blum, Mangin-Maurice, therefore we display our foreign models with the realization that we have genuine Paris creations, from which the ladies of St. John can take their ideas for fall and winter. The approaching season will be marked with large and medium sized hats, displaying narrow rims in front, and a pronounced drooping tendency at the sides and back. Velvet, silk and ribbon in large, striking bows and exaggerated choux, as well as long trailing wings, rich flowing plumes and a lavish use of blossom will be seen. The favorite shades are Leather Browns, Apollo Blues, Crocus Purples, Bronze Greens, Champagne and Old Pink, with of course, the staples in solid colors. Shot or shaded effects are in favor as well, and generally speaking, colors will not only be used in great variety on hats of all kinds but will be striking and contrasting. In bidding the ladies of St. John to our opening demonstration, we have no hesitancy in assuring them that prices will be moderate enough to meet the wishes of anyone, and with our imported goods, Gage hats from New York and Chicago, and highly stylish pieces from other centres, there will be enough of variety in style, quality and cost to assure satisfaction on every hand.
