

WILL BE ASKED TO GIVE $2 MONTH FOR RED CROSS

Local Canvass To Be Made This Month

FACTS TO REMEMBER

Several months ago the executive of the local Red Cross Society decided that it would be wise to make some arrangement by which a definite income could be secured for Red Cross purposes during the continuance of the war. A house-to-house campaign was discussed, but finally, after due deliberation and many conferences, it was decided by the society, in which decision were carefully prepared by the finance board and the scheme is to ask each one to contribute monthly during next year the sum of $2 for Red Cross work. This is not a large sum and amounts to but $24 a year. It may be paid in monthly instalments, in a lump sum, or in whatever way it best suits the convenience of the donor. It is not intended that this income will supply the entire needs of the Red Cross organization, which is purely a voluntary society, giving aid to sick and wounded, irrespective of nationality, during a time of war.

In Saint John the local branch is wholly of the gift of the people. The building in which it is housed is a gift from the Bank of British North America, the electric light, coal and telephone are donations, the services of all connected with the running of the society are purely voluntary. There is one exception, a stenographer and book-keeper whose modest salary covers her expenses. Mrs. Cosman, who is a trained business woman, doing work at the rooms that would command a large salary, is paid $6 a week. It is only fair to say that the offer is made only after a while, as the work grew, the demands upon her time increased and the Red Cross members realized that she was and is an asset whose value in forwarding the work of the branch can never be computed in dollars and cents. All the work is done by volunteers.

Two Reasons WHY YOU SHOULD WEAR GLASSES

First—That you may see better and easier. Second—To relieve distress and pain about the head and eyes. Everyone who has poor sight should wear glasses constantly, regardless of age, or relief from eyestrain cannot be expected. Everyone who has headaches or eye aches should wear glasses if their refractive condition can be corrected by glasses. In this we are here to help you.

GREGORY VS. WILLIAMS ET AL.; A CASE OF INTEREST

Judge Barry Decides Against Plaintiff in Opinion Recorded Today

In supreme court chambers this morning, in the case of Samuel L. Gregory vs. Frank E. Williams et al. Judge Barry gave judgment in favor of the defendants. The facts of the case are as follows:

The plaintiff and the defendants, an unincorporated trading co-partnership doing business under the name and style of "Fandy Fox Co.," in May, 1913, entered into a contract, whereby the plaintiff agreed to give, for a certain time and services to the defendants for one year, from May 7, 1913. The plaintiff's remuneration was fixed by the contract at $2,000, payable in monthly instalments of $166.66 each, together with a commission of 10 per cent of the net profits of the business he might do for the defendants within the territory designated in the contract.

The plaintiff worked for the company from December 15, 1913, when he was dismissed by the company, the reason given for his dismissal being failure to carry out the instructions of the company. For the first six months of his services, that is up to November 7, the plaintiff was paid the full amount of his wages due him for the remaining months of the period embraced in the contract.

At the trial which took place before Judge Barry without a jury, it was found that the plaintiff was dismissed unjustifiably; it was also decided that in the manner he had brought it, that in suing for wages only, the plaintiff had treated the contract as rescinded. The verdict was given in favor of the plaintiff for the first month and eight days which he had actually served before his dismissal, and for which he had not been paid, $200.87, plus the pro rata share of the commission for the whole time served, $204, in all $404.87, less $244.88, sum found to be due the defendant from the plaintiff upon his account for the money received by him.

On Nov. 24 last the plaintiff brought a second action, a special action upon the contract, in which he seeks compensation for the injury he has sustained by his dismissal in not being allowed to sue for the wages agreed upon. Out of this sum the wages agreed upon have been paid to the plaintiff. The plaintiff has also sought compensation for other things that the plaintiff, having rescinded the contract, is entitled to for breach of the same contract, in compensation for the loss of non-performance of the defendants.

In his judgment this morning Judge Barry on the part of the defendant to choose one or the other of two inconsistent things; once he has made his election, he cannot propose the other. In the present case, in his opinion the present action is not maintainable, and accordingly an order will be made staying it. The plaintiff must pay the costs of the application.

An appeal will be made. Hon. J. M. Baxter, K. C., represented the plaintiff, and W. B. Wallace, K. C., for the defendant.

LOCAL RECRUITING AND OTHER CITY WAR NEWS

Much care is being taken in the selection of men for the 64th Battalion. One of those thirty who applied yesterday for enlistment in the 64th Battalion, and whose names were rejected because of other reasons than physical defects, is a young man who is a member of the composed of men of good character so that the personnel may be most creditable. Officers in charge of the recruiting campaign now in full swing are of the opinion that the new enlistment is being shown through the conduct of the special meetings that has been displayed for some time. They look for many more men to join the colors within the next few days.

Lieut. Robert T. Magee, who has been on garrison duty with the 8th Regiment, and who has been a recruit for several months has transferred to the infantry, and has been appointed to a commission with the 64th now at Valcartier. He will leave for camp in a few days.

One of the latest recruits to sign the enlistment rolls here this week was Wendell Gray who though formerly a recruit has been following the sea. He has been in many lands since last he was in the colors, and is now a member of the 64th Battalion. His mother, Mrs. E. M. Gray has been here on a visit from Vancouver, the guest of her daughter, Mrs. W. L. Doherty, and is at present in Newcastle, the guest of the W. C. T. U. at their annual convention. She is a former official of the New Brunswick union.

COMMISSIONER POTTS WRITES OF STREET RAILWAY AND CITY MATTER

Editor Times: In reference to a statement from F. R. Taylor, vice-president of the St. John Railway Co., as contained in the Daily Telegraph of September 8, would call the public's attention to the desire of Mr. Taylor and Mr. Hopper to convey to the public that it is their sole desire to have no quarrels, but to get along amicably in their dealings with the city, also appealing to the public that it is their desire to give a good service with little inconvenience to the public, and in each instance attempting to show that the city is enforcing some unjust punishment upon their service. In reply to some of their remarks, the city's position, I would briefly refer to some of the leading questions between the city and the St. John Railway Co.

FIRST—The St. John Railway Co. has great privileges in the City of St. John through its charter for little or nothing as compared with railways in other cities.

SECOND—It is my firm belief that the great advantage of the St. John Railway Co. is for the purpose of arousing the public against the city to force them to continue giving the railway concessions they are not entitled to as they know the public are compelled to use the street car service on Douglas avenue, and as they collect their fares from the street car service, the city and the public are the only sufferers. They also count on the public to force them to continue giving the railway concessions they are not entitled to as they know the public are compelled to use the street car service on Douglas avenue, and as they collect their fares from the street car service, the city and the public are the only sufferers.

THIRD—The city's position is as follows: In August, 1914, I asked the St. John Railway Co. to raise the intersection at the corner of Prince and Carmichael streets. It was done in the old-fashioned way, shimmied up a permanent intersection was laid by the street department and the railway tracks have sunk three inches in the intersection, and the street car service is being forced to run on a permanent foundation equivalent to the pavement we proposed to lay. They refused to raise their rails and simply count on the city to raise the pavement to grade; the tracks were removed and a macadam surface placed where tracks had been.

It was then agreed that we would cut the rails, for an opinion, the whole question of grooved rails, raising of tracks and laying of foundation. This was done, the contractor, who they should put down as ordered by such a nature that it would be substantial enough for the carrying of railway traffic.

When we started work at the intersection of Douglas avenue and Main street we asked the railway to conform to the grade established from the intersection to Kennedy street. On their northern rail they came to grade placing foundation underneath as far down as Adelaide street; there they stopped. The southern rail they finished over the intersection, leaving a rail which is still exposed to within twelve feet of the track work I have put down where the tracks formerly laid; there they stopped. For ten days there was no traffic over this section either by vehicles of cars. They refused to raise their rails and simply left a hole, which is still there, so there was no further traffic and business was so disorganized that we were compelled to stop.

WOMAN HELD ON BAIL AFTER AUTO ACCIDENT

Car Had Struck and Caused Death of Mrs. Fairbanks

Lynn, Sept. 8.—Mrs. Edythe M. Kemp, of Cambridge, has been held in $2,000 in the Lynn District Court for a further hearing on Sept. 16 on a charge of manslaughter. She was driving her automobile last night in Swampscott, when she ran down Mrs. Isabella Fairbanks, aged forty-eight, of Swampscott. Mrs. Fairbanks died in the Lynn hospital.

As soon as Mrs. Fairbanks was knocked down, Mrs. Kemp's chauffeur, Thomas Culhane, Jr., who was riding in the back seat of the car, jumped out and with the assistance of persons who had seen the accident, picked up Mrs. Fairbanks and placed her in the car. Then Culhane took the wheel and drove at high speed to the police station.

While Mrs. Kemp waited in the station, Chief Corson got into the car, and the run to the hospital, three miles away, was made at such speed that several

MRS. ARMOUR FOUGHT ROBBERS IN HER HOME

Believed They Were After Necklace Valued at $150,000

Chicago, Sept. 8.—The pearl necklace for which J. Ogden Armour, a millionaire packer, was obliged to pay the government $9,600 in duties when he brought it to this country from France in 1901, is believed to have been the loot sought by robbers who invaded the Armour residence Monday night. The necklace was valued by the government appraisers at more than $150,000. The jewelry, which the robbers obtained, consists mainly of diamonds and is valued at about $7,500. Only $75 in cash was obtained.

Mrs. Armour, although stunned for a moment by a blow on the head with a "billy," fought hand to hand with one of the robbers. She grasped the barrel of a revolver pressed into her face, threw it over her head and began to struggle with the man, calling out an alarm to her servants.

"I seized the barrel of the weapon," she said, "and pushed it up over my head. Then I tried to push the door shut. But he hurled himself against the door and as it flew open raised a billy bringing it down on my head."

"I called for help, but the servants were confronted with a revolver held by the second robber and forced into the room with me."

"One of the robbers asked me where I had been and I replied to my Lake Forest home. 'Bring all your diamonds?' he asked."

"No, I left most of my jewels up there."

"I'll knock your teeth down your throat if you don't tell where the stuff is," he commanded.

While Mrs. Armour and her maids were held in a corner of the room under the threat of death to any one who moved, one of the robbers swept the dresser of jewels. Then all rooms were searched. The men then ran down stairs and escaped through a back door. Telephone wires had been cut to prevent an alarm.

GERMAN BOMB KILLS FOUR POOL-PLAYERS

Lieut. W. J. Brown Writes Interesting Letter From Mounted Rifles Headquarters

In a letter written Aug. 30 from Shorncliffe, Lieut. W. J. Brown of the 6th C. M. R. speaks of air raids and bombardment by a German submarine on the east coast of England, and a Zeppelin raid on the south coast. He tells also of a review by Gen. Stee and a British inspector and adds that the regiment is very fit. The Canadians, Gen. Stee said, have won a great reputation in Europe as fighters. The 6th had a 10 mile route march the day before. The day on which he wrote they drilled from 6 to 7.10 a.m., from 8 to 11.45 a.m., from 1.20 to 5 and 8 to 9 p.m.

The wives of Lieuts. Ganong and Thomas had arrived at Shorncliffe. Lieut. Brown had met Dr. Millar of Amherst, who had joined the R.A.M.C. The writer dwells upon the great beauty of the scenery in Kent, outside of their camp, and said the men did not mind the route marches because they took them through such varied and lovely scenery, quite different from anything we have in Canada.

At the time he wrote, the 22nd, 28th and 30th Battalions expected to go to the front within a few weeks. Capt. Roscoe of the 6th and been in London and met Capt. Sturdee and Major Reg. Arnold. With regard to pay the English medical men and veterinarians were paid more than the Canadian, but the soldiers less. The writer noted the absence of young men in all the villages, and even in towns most of the fit men have enlisted. In their route march already referred to the 6th passed three hospitals, besides three field hospitals. There were thousands of wounded here. He talked with a Canadian who was wounded at St. Julien, and the latter confirmed the statement that the Germans had a machine gun at every village, while the British had only a small number. The Germans kept up a continuous fire, while the Canadians were compelled to hand their ammunition. But things have changed since then. All the wounded, no matter how badly hurt, were happy, and rejoiced that they had "done their bit."

Writing on the 22nd, Lieut. Brown tells of seeing shells exploding at a German Zeppelin, and adds the interesting

NEGROES DENY THAT THEY CHARGED MRS. MOHR WITH INCITING MURDER

Providence, R. I., Sept. 8.—A denial that they had confessed to the murder of Dr. C. Franklin Mohr is made by George W. Healey, Henry Spellman and C. Victor Brown, negroes who, according to police authorities, had previously declared that they killed the physician at the instigation of Mrs. Mohr.

The denial was made in the jail at Bristol, where the negroes were under guard, a hearing on Sept. 16. Healey, the chauffeur of Dr. Mohr's car on the night of the killing, and Spellman, one of the men who were with the doctor at the time of his death, signed their assent to all that he said.

Speaking through the bars of his cell, Healey said:

"Tell the people that we are absolutely innocent and that we believe Mrs. Mohr knew nothing of this crime. We have never signed a confession, and anything we said to the Providence police was said in a joking way or in a spirit of anger."

"Dr. Mohr, to my knowledge, had been threatened by several prominent Rhode Island people. I found a letter in his car from a man in which he threatened the doctor and said that if he did not cease his attentions to the wife he would fill him full of bullets."

JESSE POMEROY BEGINS 47TH YEAR IN PRISON

Jesse Pomerooy, life prisoner, this week began the 47th year of his incarceration in Charlestown state prison. He said to one of the guards:

"I'm on the last day of my 39th year in the place, and I'm glad the 40th begins tomorrow. The 39th year was, in one way a good one for me, as well as a sad one, for my mother died. It was a fearful blow and I hope she is happy."

Last year Pomerooy's privileges had been considerably increased. Now he is allowed to attend the hour exercises in the yard, and he attends all the chapel services.

Pomerooy's health seems to be improved over a few months ago and his appetite is first class.

Close Views of Actual Fighting—Fascinating Episode in "The Exploits of Elaine"

Scenes of interest in the war were flashed on the screen of the Gem Theatre yesterday, shown in the Pathé War Galette. Popular attention was focused on "The bombardment of the German trenches by the English," which was a most striking picture, while other views showed an "Open air service at St. Paul's" and scenes from different nations at war. There was also a fine picture of the launching of the great United States Dreadnought "Arizona," which compelled interest. These views will be repeated today together with the other pictures, and a fine programme by the Gem Orchestra.

The episode shown from "The Exploits of Elaine" yesterday was most fascinating. It was entitled "The Blood Crystals" and showed the keen scientific mind of Craig Kennedy, detective, would have been a most baffling mystery. It was in two reels and they were well received. Much amusement was when in the comedy "The Evolution of Cutes" in which Wally Van and other Vitagraph comedians contributed heartily.

Hints for the Cook

Friday Cakes.

This is especially nice to make in hot weather. One tablespoon butter creamed with 1 cup sugar, then add 1 egg. Now add 3-4 cup water slightly warm, 1-1-2 cups flour with 2 teaspoons baking powder sifted in. Makes one loaf.

Peach Cobbler.

Butter the outside of a teacup and invert in the centre of an earthen pudding dish. Fill around with peaches, whole or sliced, sprinkled with sugar. Make a crust of two cups of flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, a pinch of salt, 2 tablespoons butter rubbed in, 1 egg well beaten. Add 3-4 cup milk and stir all together. Roll out and cover peaches. Bake 1-2 hour in hot oven. Invert on deep plate for serving. The cup will be full of a delicious syrup, which may be used for sauce.

Peach Gâteau.

Bake a sponge cake in a round cake tin. Cut out the centre, leaving a wall about 2-4 of an inch thick on the bottom and sides. Just before serving fill the cake with peaches which have been pared, sliced, sugared and chilled. Fill the top generously with whipped cream, which has been sweetened and flavoured. Sprinkle over all some almonds, which have been blanched, chopped and delicately browned in the oven. This is a simple cake but dainty and delicious.

A. J. H. Stewart, M.P.P., Admits The Charges

Acknowledges Juggling Accounts on Roads and Bridge Work — Paid No Stumpage on Crown Land Cut and Got $300 on Sale to Farm Settlement Board

Bathurst, N. B., Sept. 8.—The investigation before Royal Commissioner W. B. Chandler today was marked by some most complete and damaging admissions by one member of the county, A. J. H. Stewart, and details on the part of another member, Martin Robichaud, when confronted with the evidence of his friends, the road officials who had testified previously, and whose evidence connected him with certain transactions.

Robichaud was on the stand first. He took up the charge that P. F. Boudreau had been paid $46 by the local government to make up a shortage in his check from the Dominion government. Robichaud admitted ordering the lumber from Boudreau and later selling it for him to Engineer Stead of the federal public works department. But he said Stead did not take all of it and he afterwards sold fourteen pieces to the provincial public works for $42. This lumber only measured 1,254 feet, but the bill was made out for 8,000 feet at $14 per thousand, and the province paid it. He admitted that Boudreau had said his federal check was short, and that he told him there were some pieces to sell to the local government. That lumber, he said, went into the Caribou Creek bridge.

At this point witness' attention was called to the letters of the foreman on the federal work who wrote Stead that Boudreau had delivered so many pieces of lumber, and that he had surveyed them. He made no mention in these letters of any more lumber being supplied than was called for, but according to the evidence of Pierre Boudreau, Martin Robichaud had promised him $150 each for his large, long pieces, and Robichaud today swore this was not so; he only promised $25.

A False Measurement.
He admitted that Docteur Chaisson had gone to him with his time book and returns for the Caribou Creek bridge and that he told him he had surveyed fourteen pieces of lumber from the site of the federal work which he had agreed to give Boudreau $42 for. They made this agreement, 8,000 feet instead of the actual scale, 1,254 feet, in order that he could get the $42 promised him from the local government, however, he never made any promise to Boudreau that he would give him a check for $42 from the local government to make up his shortage in the federal payment.

In answer to the evidence of several witnesses that he had fixed the prices for materials, he said it was not true. He denied this particularly in regard to Docteur Chaisson's statement. He also denied this foreman's evidence that he knew of Estrope B. Hachey's check being raised from $26 to $32 to cover other small accounts, but he said to know this man had taken the piece of one of Docteur's sons; but as to the foreman's statement that he had asked him (Martin Robichaud) to put him on the list, he said that was not true, but nevertheless he did swear Docteur to the correctness of the list, foreman Docteur 468,166 feet without there being any survey. The way they did was to find out what a man's bill was by piece purchase, and then divide his amount by the price per thousand ($16), and thus get such measurements as would provide the seller his money.

"There was no real survey?" asked the commissioner.

Witness—"No."

He then told of selling lumber to the government himself and billing it in the name of Edward Jennings and Oliver Theriault. He had Jennings' consent to this, he said.

"You knew when you swore Val Robichaud to that account of the Pomeoche bridge that Edward Jennings has not supplied any lumber and yet his name was on the pay roll for $11.64?"

Witness—"Yes."

"You knew when Oliver Theriault supplied lumber for Edward Ellis bridge, $48.20; E. Pella bridge, $76.50; Robbins bridge, $12.00; Casaguet bridge, $55.50; Pailin bridge, $60.06; Blackhall bridge, $14.80; McIntosh bridge, $8; Power bridge, $600; Duke bridge, $12.50; Inlerman bridge, $80, that he did not supply one foot of it?"

Witness—"I supplied all that lumber and put in the bills in Theriault's name, and I was paid for the same."

When questioned as to the check made payable to Frank Robinson and endorsed by Stewart with Robinson's mark, the witness acknowledged endorsing the check, but did not remember, and could give no explanation of the matter.

In regard to the Dempsy bridge, I used Edward Jennings' name for material supplied, but the item of $181 for stone did not go into that bridge. There was so little money for the roads that I authorized the supervisor to repair the culverts and sent them a cartload of hemlock deals which were used in repair work. "Take the lumber," I said to the commissioners, "and I will find a way to get my money," and when we repaired the Edward Dempsy bridge I put in for stone, etc., for $181 to pay myself for the lumber. I got the check; Jennings endorsed it, and I got the money. The strings from the Chamberlain bridge were also billed twice and included in this account."

Admits Stumpage Charges.
In regard to the crown land charges, the witness said: "I hold some crown lands under license. I cut some sleepers on it and Freeman Goodwin cut logs. I did not go to look for a scaler. I did not consider it my place to look for a scaler. I contacted with Goodwin to supply me with sleepers. He thought he could supply 20,000 ties. I financed the operation. I did agree with Goodwin to allow him to cut logs at $1 per thousand. I knew I was responsible for the stumpage on lumber cut on my leased land. I had no communication with Scaler Hachey." "Would you not consider yourself, as a representative, in duty bound to notify the scaler?" "No, I would not."

"No, who helps make the laws, do you?" "I had no business hunting up the scaler."

"Did not Hayden come to you, have a talk with you one night about a letter he had received from Joseph Couture notifying him that you were operating on crown land?"

"No," answered the witness.

The witness could not say how many sleepers were cut. The I. C. R. got them. The government has the right to look to me for the stumpage."

Mr. Venot asked Stewart who his partner was when cutting off the crown lands and selling to the I. C. R.

Stewart refused to answer.

"Was J. B. Hachey a partner of yours?"

Again Stewart refused to answer.

Re the farm settlement board charge, he said Knowles came into his office one day and talked over the farm settlement board, and when he went home wrote him (Stewart) July 2, 1915, stating that if the board would buy the Knowles company property for $2,000 his four sons would each take a quarter of it.

"The bank agreed to sell to me for $1,900 and I called up Knowles and told him he could get the property for $1,900. I made $900 out of the transaction, and I don't think it is anybody's business. I never told Knowles I could not get any more than $1,900 from the bank. When the bank manager agreed to take $1,200 I sent to the settlement board and got a check for $1,500, out of which I paid the bank. I may have asked the farm settlement board to make the check out to the bank. The farm settlement board thought there were buyers for the land. They thought the deed would be from the bank."

"How do you account for the answer given by the minister of agriculture that they bought the farm from the Royal Bank and that it contained 800 acres?"

"I can't account for that. They make mistakes some times."

That practically finished the important evidence and all the witnesses, excepting Freeman Goodwin, have been heard.

O. Turgeon, M. P., and some of the local members, with E. S. Carter, opposition organizer, were present during the inquiry.

Mr. Chandler gave Mr. Venot an opportunity to ask different questions this afternoon, and the evidence came thick and fast.

GAVE THOUSANDS OF BOUQUETS TO TOURISTS
Spokane, Wash., Sept. 8.—More than 10,000 eastern tourists who passed through Spokane this summer en route to or from the California exposition were met at the railroad stations and given bouquets of flowers by committees of local citizens representing the Spokane Horticultural Society.

Under the direction of C. Herbert Moore, a former mayor of Spokane, 20,000 roses, 200,000 asters and a quarter million of smaller flowers were distributed to visitors. The work was organized early in the spring and scores of residents have delivered quantities of their choicest flowers either daily or weekly to the headquarters of the society. Here they were assembled in bouquets, and committees laden with bouquets of flowers, by committees of passenger trains of the five transcontinental railroads, presenting bouquets to each of the travelers.

Earlier in the summer committees devoted a week to the distribution of roses among patrons of the hotels and lodging houses and patients in hospitals. This included the more modest lodging houses, where many of the sick poor were cheered by the flowers.

Mr. Moore reports hundreds of letters received expressing the gratitude of travelers for this attention.

Valley Railway Crossing
J. A. Likely, president of the board of trade; R. E. Armstrong, secretary of the board; C. O. Fox, C. E. and Allan H. The party went on the invitation of Mr. Likely.

School Children Can't Afford Handicaps

In a remarkable test, made under the supervision of a western Board of Health, over 9000 school children were questioned as to what they ate for breakfast.

A large percentage of the breakfasts consisted of coffee; bread and butter; coffee and oatmeal or some other cereal; coffee and hot cakes; coffee and biscuits; coffee and coffee cake, or coffee alone. Probably the same conditions prevail generally.

"IS IT ANY WONDER," SAYS THE EXAMINING PHYSICIAN, "THAT 23 PER CENT OF THESE CHILDREN HAVE FREQUENT HEADACHES?"

He was thinking of the chief cause—coffee. It is no wonder when we consider that coffee contains the powerful drug, caffeine, a nerve poison and notorious cause of headaches, heart trouble, sleeplessness, irritation, and other ills! The results of tea drinking are similar to those of coffee, because they both contain the same drug.

Parents often wonder why their children are sickly, dull and backward in school, when frequently the cause lies in the homely, accepted habit of giving them a beverage containing an insidious poison.

When scientists and Boards of Health everywhere are speaking out against the dietetic dangers to which children have been so long subjected, it is high time that parents take heed and correct these conditions. No child should be permitted to use tea or coffee. It is easy to furnish them instead the pleasant, pure food-drink—

Instant Postum

Made from wheat, roasted with a bit of wholesome molasses, Postum contains the goodness of the grain and is a most delicious beverage, economical, convenient and free from drugs or any harmful substance.

Postum comes in two forms: The original Postum Cereal, which has to be boiled, Instant Postum—soluble—made in the cup with hot water—instantly. They are equally delicious, and the cost per cup is about the same for both kinds.

heads and struck the water within fifteen feet. We literally 'beat it'—dropped below the surface like a rock. We would hear the sound of propellers of the pursuers over our heads, and could imagine their cursing, for we lay under the water for an hour. 'O, for the torpedoes we missed with yesterday. We had to go home, we were as harmless as a kitten—could not even defend ourselves. That Californian man was some captain. He ought to have the Iron Cross, said the crew. We learned afterwards in Heligoland that he and nine men had fallen and several had been wounded.'
Completely Fooled the Shrewdest Minds in England—Invented Liquid Fire

London, Sept. 8.—Behind the arrest and appearance in court of Charles Berwick Pray, the American citizen arrested yesterday on a charge of making a false declaration, is a remarkable story of low Pray, who also with his escaped curran, completely fooled the shrewdest minds in England. Pray alleged that he had escaped from a German concentration camp after seven months' detention, after making an affidavit before the American Consul-General in London, was cared for by the American Relief Committee. He is now to be deported as an undesirable alien.
Pray, by his story of detention and of the war preparations which he said had been made in Germany, beginning as far back as November, 1913, imposed on the American Consul-General in London, and the War Office, the Ministry of Munitions, and the heads of Scotland Yard, and the English and American newspapers and various charitable persons in London.
While the authorities admit that Pray may have been in Germany and may possibly have escaped from detention there, the date he gives for his escape is untrue, because he arrived in Glasgow on April 26, having sailed on the steamer Cassandra from Newport, V. I., on April 11. He worked at Birkenhead and later at the shipyard of the British and Foreign Marine and Shipbuilding Co., Ltd., and was a prisoner tale while detectives were actually searching for him under the name of Curran. Pray's story so impressed Scotland Yard that the shrewdest men in the detective service were desisted, and the toughest sceptics wiped their ears away and gave him money for food and lodgings.
Pray was introduced to The Mail and Empire's correspondent by Scotland Yard officials, who were absolutely convinced of the truth of his story. The War Office and Ordnance experts were wonderfully impressed with Pray's description of oil-cooled motor guns, portable powder factories, and so were the Ministry of Munitions and the military attaches of the American Embassy. His story that he had invented the enemy's liquid fire was easily credited.
Pray undoubtedly is a genius mechanically. He is able to stand up under the severest cross-examination on technical details, and as a draughtsman he proved himself a marvel. It was his picture, published in the Evening News, which paid him twenty pounds for his story, that caused his undoing.
He was recognized and finally found. He was brought to Scotland Yard he flatly denied that he was Curran, but when told that witnesses were coming to identify him he admitted his identity. He said that he had tried to enlist in the British army at Manchester as a Canadian but that he was rejected on account of his age.
CHAMP CLARK'S ELOQUENCE SAVES MAN FROM LYNCHING
Bowling Green, Mo., Sept. 8.—Harry Rose, negro slayer of "Bud" Davidson of Clarksville, Mo., a white farmer, probably owes the fact that he is alive today to Speaker Champ Clark's eloquence. Clark, who is in the city on a visit, aroused from his bed by motor cars loaded with farmers from Clarksville, who were intent upon hanging the negro, Clark ran among the crowd and exhorted the members to let the law take its course. There were murmurs against the interference, but the speaker's word prevailed and the mob dispersed.
Rose was brought to jail here. He killed Davidson with a pitchfork during a quarrel.
CAN THIS BE TRUE?
Chatham World.—The rules of the House of Assembly provide that "a printed copy of the Journal of the as-ceding day shall be delivered each following day to the lieutenant governor," and it is also supplied to each member of the house as a matter of course. A few belated daily reports were supplied during the first part of the last session, and the rest have just been completed and sent to members. The explanation is that more public printing is given to the office of which members of the government are stockholders, than it can do during the session, and that it is allowed to do it any old time that suits its own convenience.

THE PROBLEM OF THE UNEMPLOYED
Regina, Sept. 8.—This city is asked to co-operate with others in Canada working out a solution for the unemployed problem, and Mayor Ralston has received a communication suggesting the appointment of a committee on which will be representatives of the city, the government of Saskatchewan, the trades council, the board of trade and other organizations interested in the labor situation. It is expected that all parts of Canada will have a similar organization and will work out a co-operative scheme for taking care of the unemployed this winter.

PATHE FRERES' CANADA AGENT, HERE YESTERDAY, SPEAKS OPTIMISTICALLY

Had To Do With Movies in St. John so Far Back as 1906—Cheerful Over Business Conditions in Canada

"There is no question about the condition of business in Canada; conditions are getting back to normal even in the districts which were most affected by the war, in many places conditions are much better than before the war, and there is a steady improvement all the time."

This is the statement of a gentleman whose business keeps him in touch with affairs all over the dominion, L. Ernest Oumet, agent in Canada for Pathe Freres, who was in the city yesterday on business connected with the local branch. "I have found the east but little affected by the war," he continued, "and what effect I have noticed has been chiefly beneficial. In the west conditions were bad for a while, but the big crops, which will benefit all Canada, are already making their effect felt in a marked degree in the west. Our agents in the west report a most encouraging outlook and the fact that they mean it is indicated by the orders they are sending in." "In Toronto last week I found that business was even better than before the war, the big exhibition was a great suc-

ALLIES' AID HERE TO HELP IN MISS WARNER'S WORK IN HOSPITAL

Lack of Equipment Keenly Felt and St. John Ladies Will Make Effort to Improve Matters

A hospital in France with a St. John woman in charge as head nurse, with hardly any equipment worth mentioning in which to carry on the works of mercy necessary for the comfort of wounded soldiers, has aroused the sympathetic interest of that energetic little band of workers in this city, the Allies' Aid, and they are again at work in an endeavor to help the cause referred to. The hospital is at Bivonne-les-Bains, France, and the nurse is Miss Warner, well-known in this city where she resided for many years, but who gave up an excellent nursing position in New York for the nobler mission of the Red Cross near the battlefront.

In a letter to her sister, Mrs. C. C. Coster, received a few days ago, Miss Warner made reference to the condition of the hospital in which she was serving, and said how greatly lacking were many necessities to relieve the suffering of her patients. Mrs. Coster sent a tidy donation, and the reply from the nursing sister expressed heartfelt gratitude. So touching is the description of the needs of the hospital that Miss Lois Grimmer and Miss Violet Whittaker of the Allies' Aid intend to put forth every effort with the assistance of the members of that body, to raise a sum for so deserving a cause. This an emergency hospital, and depends upon voluntary subscriptions for its maintenance. Any contributions which sympathizers would like to give, will be most gratefully accepted by Mayor Frink, by Miss Grimmer at 66 Gormin street, or Miss Whittaker, 19 Gormin street.

ACTION NEEDED IN THIS CASE

Widow of Soldier of the Princess Pats Should Not Have to Encounter Financial Troubles

Her husband shot in the war, his pay stopped on May 1, the insurance companies refusing to give her his insurance, no allowance coming from the Patriotic Fund, is the plight of Mrs. Jennie Briggs, wife of the late Private Briggs, who was shot and killed while fighting in the ranks of the Princess Patricia's Light Infantry.

Several months ago word reached the city that Private Briggs had been shot. This same in letters from friends and members of the family, and although repeated inquiries were made at Ottawa no official confirmation of his death was received. However, after May 1 his pay ceased and since that time Mrs. Briggs has had difficulty to make a livelihood. She applied to two insurance companies for her husband's insurance, but as they had no official word of his death they could not give her the money. Friends of Mrs. Briggs became interested and applied to Ottawa for information regarding the death of Private Briggs, but they say they never received any reply.

Mrs. Briggs resided in this city since her marriage, four years ago. When she received word of her husband's death and failed to get word from the officials or from her husband, she took her child and went to live with her mother in the United States. Four weeks ago she returned to endeavor to collect the insurance on her husband's life. So far she has been unsuccessful owing to the circumstances mentioned.

LETTER TELLS OF FAIRVILLE SOLDIERS

Private Henry Magee Writes From East Sandling — Generous Sum Sent to Dr. MacLaren by Brunswick Chapter

A letter has been received by his mother in Fairville, Private Henry Magee of the 19th platoon, 20th Battalion, now in camp at East Sandling, England. He enclosed a clear snapshot of the twenty-four men in the living quarters with him. Among them is Frank Linton, another Fairville boy.

Private Magee writes that all the troops are in bed at nine o'clock every night and lights put out so that German air craft may be unable to see, should they make a raid, and it is usually after midnight that they do their work.

While he was writing this letter Magee was talking to Young Lawson of Fairville, who went out with the first contingent. He has been in hospital, but is now talking.

"There are 38,000 of us here," he writes, "and all the boys from Fairville, including Billy Pink and Charlie Compton, Andy Campbell came across on the boat with us, too. At nights now we are sleeping out on the hills, mountains, getting hardened, so as to be perfectly fit when the time comes to go to France. Saturday afternoon is always a half holiday for us. It is a great sight to see the aeroplanes circling in the air above our camp. There are two St. John girls in the hospital near here, but I do not know their names. The day before Sir R. L. Borden and Sam Hughes was a great spectacle. The sight was one I shall never forget.

"You asked if there was anything I wanted. Well we do not get much money, $5 a month is reserved for our pay so that if we are sick or wounded after reaching the firing line, we will have this money to fall back on. I have been saving up for some time to take a trip to a few places I would like to see, as the authorities are giving the boys a day to go visiting, a few being allowed off at a time."

Sent to Dr. MacLaren.

The Man In The Street

Any more half-holidays coming to you?

At any rate there'll be no more public holidays until Thanksgiving, it is probably responsible.

"Americans taking grip at the border," says headlines. This newly weather is probably responsible.

This "dope" should have been in yesterday, but a holiday on Monday is so unusual, that it threw us out of our reckoning.

Two Late Records

The craze for establishing records in the crossing of the new bridge at the Reversing Falls has developed many interesting achievements. Some have "been first to cross" walking backwards; others have been first walking sideways; another claims the distinction of being the first to go over it on a bicycle. There was a party in West St. John one night recently, and a young couple made another "record." They were the first to do a two-step across the structure. And one of the crowd who supplied the music claims the record for being the first to play a mouth-organ across.

In Our Letter Box

To the Man in the Streets

Dear Sir:

At last I have noted something in which New York is behind the pace by St. John. We have always been led to consider that metropolis as the prime mover in civic activities, but in last night's news notes I read that a prominent business man was so enthused with what he saw in the city, that he had lived here to induce more of it being done. Which shows how St. John is coming to the front in fashion circles.

It is a pity that the city is not better known to the rest of the world. It would probably live in Indian town and have a city commissioner and company manager to make his walking not popular, but compulsory.

"We're fools to stand for this thing," the people of North End say when they gaze at that bed of solid concrete over the falls, but they continue to stand for it just the same, and walk over it also. Even if spite would permit that outside rail to be placed in use so as to give a thorough connection, it wouldn't be so bad, but though it would take nothing short of a generous charge of dynamite to upset it, the commissioner assures us that "the vibration would be too much on the concrete." And though the concrete will have to be torn up later, let us hope soon, we have to suffer because of the "vibrations" and thus it is that I have sign myself,

Hidkinye yours,
"I. R. ANSFER."

What Did They Expect?

After a Tory member of the legislature admits his connection with charges preferred against him the Standard's comment is "Expectations of Carter and Ventot shattered." The Standard must have thought they expected him to confess to murder and arson, in addition to other "irregularities."

And Then They Forget About It

Now that summer's about ended, how many suburbanites can you think of who said to you last spring: "Yes, you really must come out and visit us during the summer. Come any time you like."

And of course when the fall comes, they naturally ask you why you didn't go.

They say the hyphen are planning to blow up Canadian grain elevators. Do they think dynamite is needed to help the process of elevation?

The farmers raise the grain, the bakers raise the bread and now the Germans want to raise the grain elevators.

The dynamite might be put to better use in this community. Perhaps a stick or two under the persons responsible for the Main street fire might help a bit.

That colored gentleman whose life was saved by Champ Clark's silver-tongued eloquence did not get off so easily; he had to listen to the speech.

"Nineteen years of age, married, and in possession of a police court record" says a morning paper, is that intended for another example of cause and effect?

VARIETY SHOWER

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Warren King called at their home in Detroit street last evening and tendered them a variety shower of many beautiful gifts and also a sum of money. The evening was pleasantly spent in music and games.

Fall House-Cleaning Is Upon You and we are prepared to make it easier and more pleasant for you at a nominal cost.

We have executed two gross of these Cedar Polish Mops at a ridiculously low price, and for two days we propose to give our customers the full benefit of the unprecedented saving made.

On Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 13 and 14, we will offer an outfit consisting of one large mop complete and one 1/2 pint can of Cedar Oil for 65 cents.

The mop, exactly as shown in cut, is made of excellent quality white twine, chemically treated with Cedar Oil, the frame made of heavy wire and padded so that it will not scratch or mar furniture. Each mop is packed in a neat metal box 7 1/2 inches in diameter and is provided with a screw handle 54 inches long. The regular price of the mop is $1.00 and the extra can of liquid 25 cents, so you will realize the wonderful value we are offering.

REMEMBER THE DATES, SEPTEMBER 13 AND 14 NOT BEFORE, NOT AFTER. No orders accepted earlier, please do not ask us to make exceptions.

"Standing Pat"

The business that "stands pat" moves backwards.

It is the progressives who expanded, widened, moved, built, extensions, and add to the bank balances.

It is the seeker after new ideas who wins the commercial battle.

It is the man who goes after business who wins the war.

And the list of the live ones make up the list of newspaper advertisements in this country.

The names of some of these can be seen each day in the advertising columns of The Telegraph and Times.
