Huge British Air Liner

THE largest aeroplane in the British Commercial Air Service was launched at Coventry Aerodrome by its maker, Sir W. G. Armstrong Whitworth Aircraft, Ltd. Apart from its huge size, which made its crew of 30 men look like pigmies, the new air liner is a notable example of the "Safety First" principle in science. Until quite recently, the most of commercial aircraft have had to depend on one engine. If the engine failed a forced landing was the result. The new "Argosy" which is the name of the machine eliminated all possibility of forced landing by installing triple-engine power. The plane will carry 20 passengers and luggage.

EWART SPEAKS

Boivin Makes Spirited Defence of Administration of Customs Department

OTTAWA, July 16.—The question of Canada's representation at the Imperial conference in October next is necessarily undecided. Probably before then a general election will have been held in Canada. Until its result has revealed who will be in power, nobody here is inclined to discuss the matter at all.

With an autumn session of Parliament quite probable, it is not likely that the Premier of Canada, whoever he is, would be able to attend the conference in person. Nothing definite is obtainable at the present.

TORONTO, July 16.—A meeting of the Daughters of a Canada to protest against the refusal of Governor General Byng to grant Hon. Mackenzie King dissolution of the last Canada Parliament was held here last night with John S. Ewart, K. C., of Ottawa, and Prof. N. W. Dewitt, of Toronto University, on the speaker's platform.

"We acquit the man, but condemn the action," said Mr. Ewart. "Canada cannot be considered autonomous so long as its citizens are debarred from holding certain offices and entering certain services—such as those having to do with foreign countries," Prof. Dewitt declared.

Of the 400 persons attending the meeting many were not in accord with the statements of the speakers, and during a short period of debate in which the audience took part, crossfire combat became so heated that the meeting chairman was forced to terminate the verbal battle.

MR. EWART SPEAKS

Mr. Ewart chose "self-government in Canada" as his subject and said he intended to discuss the issue in a neutral manner. The action of Lord Byng was only paralleled by that of Governor Mealy in 1864 when he arrogated to himself the right of appointing public officers. The King, he contended, never has granted the Premier of England dissolution under similar circumstances to those which existed in Canada, and it was not granted Mackenzie King, the assumption of which the Dominion did not enjoy such autonomy.

"Every step we have made toward self-government has been necessitated because we have been brought face to face with the fact that we are not a nation."

QUEST WILL BE CONTINUED TODAY

Missing Pictou Woman Not Seen Since 1924—Husband Faced Murder

Canadian Press
HALIFAX, July 16.—The reported discovery of human remains under a bridge near Newfield, Colchester County, revived yesterday the mysterious disappearance of Mrs. Sarah Gammon whose husband, Duncan Gammon of Pictou, had told the police he had last seen his wife on a dock in Quebec City, whence she had embarked in September, 1924, for England on a boat, the name of which had not been learned. Gammon was later held on a charge of having murdered his wife and the authorities believed he had been hidden at some point along the main highway between Halifax and Pictou. Gammon was later released by the courts with the charge of murder still holding in the event of the body ever being discovered.

SEARCH CONTINUED.
Searchers who acted on yesterday's report, failed to discover the remains but they will continue the search today. The report was made by a heavy truck engine over the country roads and who were taking the precaution of investigating the state of the understructure of every bridge before trusting the weight of the heavy machinery upon it. In their report they were not certain of the exact one of the numerous small bridges it had been under when they had seen the remains.

DAIRY INSPECTOR GIVES LAST WARNING

Dr. T. F. Johnston Reports Milk Dealers Handling Raw Product

Dr. J. Fred Johnston, dairy inspector of the Board of Health staff, this morning inspected delivery wagons of nearly all of the dealers before they began routing their milk. He was handling the unpasteurized article in disobedience to the original Health Act and the recently added stipulations concerning Grade A milk from tested cattle. As the inspector's instructions, given him at yesterday's special meeting of the Board of Health, were to give the dealers final warning against this practice, no seizures were made. The dealers pled the inspector with questions about the new regulations and were given full instructions as to the procedure necessary for the handling of unpasteurized milk. It was made very distinct to them that persons found with raw milk for sale after today will be called to the Police Court process.

Special to The Times-Star
DIGBY, N. S., July 16.—William C. Currie and Eric Fowler, who left Saint John at 7:45 last evening in a 10 foot Peterborough canoe, arrived in Digby at 8:30 this morning, none the worse for their experience. It took exactly 12 hours and 35 minutes to paddle across the Bay of Fundy, a distance of 40 miles. The correspondent found Currie and Fowler at the Waverley Hotel enjoying a hearty breakfast.

On being interviewed about their experiences in crossing the bay, they said that when leaving Saint John the bay was almost sheet of glass and this continued until about 10 miles off the Saint John shore, when they ran into a rain storm.
"The horizon looked everything but pleasant," declared Mr. Currie, "and needless to say we were a bit nervous. At first we were undecided whether to go back to Saint John or continue, but arrived at the latter decision. A stiff breeze was blowing at the time, but this only lasted for a very short while. The wind was blowing south and southeast and finally died out. We shipped practically no water crossing the bay. The compass was used very little as we soon saw the Digby light and fixed our course accordingly. Everything went along smoothly until coming to the Digby Gut, where we found the tide so strong that considering the difficulty was experienced in getting into the basin."

DAINGEROUS PLACE
"This is certainly a very dangerous place, especially at ebb tide, but we managed to get by safely and landed on the Digby shore at 8:30. We were very tired after our trying experience, and while we have accomplished what we started out to do, still it would take considerable money to induce us to try it again.
"On our way over we saw several passing schooners and steamers, but our light was so small that we passed unnoticed. It was certainly a trying experience, but we have been able to show the world that white men can today accomplish what Indians years ago."

Speaking from what he termed an educational viewpoint, Prof. Dewitt asserted the country was not quite at ease about its loyalty.
He said: "We are British and Canadians, but the point is where does one begin and the other end?"
The thought that because Canada could not send an ambassador to the United States it was sufficient proof that the Dominion was not autonomous.

The chief feature of the meeting, was the nomination, was the vigorous defence of the Hon. George Bolvin, of the administration of the Conservative Department under his regime. Mr. Bolvin declared that an attempt was being made to "crucify him" for political purposes, and that the accusation of the Conservatives were unfounded and hollow.

Special to The Times-Star
FREDERICTON, July 16.—The identification of the girl murdered in Boston, whose dismembered body was discovered two days ago near that city, as Edith Green, with no further explanation as to identity, caused the great anxiety in Fredericton on the part of the friends of a girl of the same name, who left here a few days ago. A telegram was sent to the address of the Miss Edith Green who formerly lived here, by Mrs. John Delong. Today a reply came from the police department explaining that the murdered girl had been a resident of Boston for 14 years and had been positively identified.

FIRTH RELATIVES, SOUGHT HERE, ARE LOCATED

NEECE OF MAN, KILLED IN BIG FIRE, IS IN CITY

Miss Marion Knox Says Two Sisters of Deceased Reside in U. S.

TRAGEDY OF 1877 IS DESCRIBED BY CITIZEN

F. X. Mellday Tells of Witnessing Recovery of Body in Prince Wm. Street

The search which has been going on for the last few days for relatives of the late William Firth, who is being sought by Mrs. Spence, 688 West Ulica street, Buffalo, New York, chronicled in yesterday's Times-Star, was rewarded this morning when The Times-Star got in touch with Miss Marion Knox, a niece by marriage, of Mr. Firth.

She has written to Mrs. Allen, enclosing the clipping from The Times-Star telling of the enquiry about relatives of her uncle, and expects to hear from her in the course of a day or two. Miss Knox said she was at a loss to know what reason the enquiry was being made as so far as she knew Mrs. Spence was not a relative of Mr. Firth.

On the early morning after the great fire, about 5:30 o'clock, while Mr. Mellday was in the vicinity of the Barnes Hotel ruins, he saw several men unloading the remains of Mr. Firth. A man named O'Leary brought a horse and wagon and the body of the man was taken to the home of the late James Knox, under the name of Knox and Firth, conducting a ship chandlery store on Ward street.

At the time of Firth's death he resided in a house owned by Adam Young, a prominent ship owner and broker, on Princess street.

BOARD OF HEALTH WARNS MILK DISTRIBUTORS TO OBEY LAWS

Dealers In Raw Product Must Obtain Licenses, Acting Head Orders After Charges Heard

To consider a letter sent to the Sub-District Board of Health in which the writer, Manager J. F. Tilley of the Purity Ice Cream Co. charged dereliction of duty on the part of health officials in not stopping the sale of raw milk, the Board was called together yesterday afternoon by Acting Chairman Hon. R. W. Wigmore and several witnesses informally examined.

The result of the proceedings was an order to Inspector Dr. Fred Johnston to notify milk producers that in view of the older law demanding that milk be pasteurized and also recent additions to the Health Act passed by the Lieutenant Governor in Council, stipulating what quality of unpasteurized milk is permissible for sale, all dealers handling raw milk must make formal application for license or be apprehended through the medium of the Police Court.

The Board's new solicitor, Col. W. H. Harrison watched the proceedings and those speaking in support of the complainant were Manager Tilley of the Purity Company, Frank J. Donegan, Manager of the Pacific Dairies Ltd., and Frank M. Logan, of the Standard Creamery. Dr. J. Fred Johnston, dairy inspector, also imparted information and there was a general discussion.

Chairman Wigmore read the letter mailed to members of the Board by Mr. Tilley in which he complained of the delivery and sale of raw milk by Saint John County dealers. Mr. Tilley claimed to have notified health officials of this infraction of the regulations and that no action had been taken to stop it.

He pointed out that such alleged lapse of duty on the part of the Health Board amounted to discrimination against the interests represented in pasteurizing plants. If sale of unpasteurized raw milk was to be allowed the pasteurizing plants were prepared to put a superior article on the market, even though it was realized that such was against regulations.

Mr. Tilley also complained in his letter of the quality of butter in county milk and wound up with the observation that "we do not feel the milk regulations should be used any longer as a political football, and if your regulations are not sound and can be legally enforced, then every dealer interested in milk business should be placed on the same basis of operation."

WIGMORE FOR SHOW-DOWN Chairman Wigmore said this letter was a specific charge against the officials of the Board of Health and one that might be made by any citizen in a private or public capacity. It was a matter that could not be overlooked, and every member of the Board must feel the charge should be thoroughly probed and suitable action taken upon whatever the result might be.

He said he would be glad to appear fairly and squarely before the Board and had invited the writer of the letter, Mr. Tilley, and other managers of pasteurizing plants to explain fully their stand in the matter, which they thought should be overruled, and every member of the Board must feel the charge should be thoroughly probed and suitable action taken upon whatever the result might be.

OTHER MANAGERS SPEAK F. J. Donegan, of the Pacific Dairies Ltd., spoke largely along the same lines as Manager Tilley of the Purity Ice Cream Co. and answered several questions asked by members of the Board concerning the washing of bottles at the sources of supply in the country and similar interrogations.

Mr. Logan, manager of the Standard Creamery, stated that he was aware that raw milk was being sold contrary to regulations and that he had policies had been made for the sale of milk. He considered that until the present trouble in Saint John County, the best regulated and richest milk supply in Canada.

Without proper inspection there was always the danger of epidemic of disease, as had so often occurred. There were no doubt difficulties in the way of enforcing the regulations, particularly in foods, but a serious attempt should be made by all governing bodies to have them enforced for the sake of the people.

Dr. J. Fred Johnston, dairy inspector, submitted the interesting information that only eleven herds of milk cattle were submitted for inspection by the government veterinary quite recently as the preparatory phase of the new regulation permitting the sale of what is termed Grade A milk. The doctor said there were 43 milk producers in Saint John County, and out of these a very small percentage submitted their cattle to the tuberculin test.

About 20 per cent. of the cows examined reacted to the test and according to the law are supposed to be slaughtered immediately as a menace to the other cattle. Most of the animals, however, he believed, were not killed at once.

The small percentage of applicants for government test might be considered an indication that the milkmen were largely in favor of following the pasteurization regulations, or in other words, only a few intended entering the Grade A milk market.

TWO METHODS When the matter of selling Grade A milk is properly taken up by producers the first step would be to ask special license and submit the handlers of that grade of milk to medical inspection. Retail vendors are also to be examined and the bottles in which the milk is delivered scientifically sterilized and sealed immediately.

This is the Government regulation for protecting the public in the matter of raw milk. Under pasteurization it is claimed danger is eliminated by the well-known process as carried out in the large plants in the city.

After the dairymen retired from the meeting Chairman Wigmore discussed fully with his board all phases of the evidence adduced and it was agreed that Inspector J. F. Johnston, in view of the delays brought about by inspection of cattle and the amended act, should notify dealers accused of selling raw milk that if they intend continuing to do so they must be properly licensed and go through the various forms of inspection demanded by the new law.

Infractions of the regulation will bring about court procedure. This was to be a final opportunity to meet the requirements of the law, enactment of the old government, and the enactments of the new.

Ant-Eaters At Zoo Attract Attention LONDON, July 16—One of the sights at the Zoo is to see the ant-eaters lapping up muck from the bottom of an ordinary narrow-necked pint bottle.

They are probably the only animals that could do so, thanks to their worm-like tongue, which can be protruded from the tip of the snout to a distance of 18 inches. Ant-eaters, which are toothless and have a mouth so small as merely to allow for the extrusion of the sticky tongue, use the latter organ for sweeping up ants and termites.

JELICO'S AUNT DEAD AT RIPE AGE

Miss Catherine Jellicoe Was Within a Few Weeks of 105th Birthday

LONDON, July 16—Miss Catherine Jellicoe, aunt of Earl Jellicoe, passed away at her home in Southampton within a few weeks of her 105th birthday.

In spite of her great age, her death was unexpected, for, although very frail, she had appeared to be in a normal condition when she partook of an early breakfast on the last morning of her long life.

Miss Jellicoe was a member of a family renowned for its longevity. Her cousin, Miss Grace Whalley-Smythe-Gardiner, who was her life-long associate, passed away at the age of 103.

Miss Jellicoe was born near Southampton on September 8, 1821. She was one of a family of seven, and her only sister, Miss M. L. Jellicoe, who died in 1921, reached the age of 90.

One of her brothers, Rev. G. Jellicoe, who died about a year ago, was 90 years old, and another brother, Capt. John Jellicoe, who for many years was associated with the Royal Mail Steam Packet Co., and was the father of Earl Jellicoe, reached the age of 90.

For some years Miss Jellicoe had been confined to her room, but on her 105th birthday she was able personally to acknowledge messages of congratulations which reached her on all parts of the world.

During the war she spent her spare time in making useful articles for the men of the Grand Fleet. Among the letters which she cherished greatly were two from the King and Queen, conveying their congratulations on her 101st and 104th birthdays.

SOUTHERN DEBTS TO BE DISCUSSED

Annual Meeting of the British Chambers of Commerce in September

LONDON, July 16—Defaulted debts of the Southern States of the United States, international distribution and consumption of coal and worldwide trade problems are expected to be the principal points of discussion at the general conference of the Association of British Chambers of Commerce opening in Hull September 23rd and 24th.

At its meeting in April, the Association adopted resolutions calling upon the Foreign Office to call to the attention of the American Ambassador at London the fact that the loans of British people to the Southern States previous to the Civil War had not been settled and asking that the resolution be communicated to the Government at Washington.

It is believed that the cause of the British bondholders against the Southern States will again be revived at the coming session. The association contends that the eight defaulting states, Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Mississippi, North Carolina, Louisiana, Georgia and South Carolina "are now wealthy and should meet their obligations."

It is expected, in the event the question is revived in September, that the association will stand on its previous attitude that debts contracted by the States between the attack on Fort Sumter and the proclamation of the close of the Civil War will not be considered.

To Those Mothers Who Bemoan the Fact That They Cannot Give Their Children Luxuries, Dorothy Dix Counters by Showing That Poverty in Youth Breeds All the Qualities That Make for Success Later.

THE thing that women find it hardest to endure is poverty. This is not so much for themselves, though by nature women are as luxury-loving as a cat, but for their children.

DOROTHY DIX

Every poor mother who looks at the broad brow and shining eyes of her boy who is so quick to learn, so eager for knowledge, so full of ambition and energy, and knows that she can give him only the most meager of educations and no opening at all in the world, while the doltish sons of rich men are idling through college and will step from the university door into positions of power and place, is, for the moment, an anarchist at heart.

With her young daughter it is even worse, for it is the bitterness of death itself to a mother to see her girls growing up so pretty, so full of talent, so quick to "catch on" to everything, so capable of taking the polish of college and to yet know that she cannot give them the advantages they deserve, the clothes they need, while stupid, ugly, gawky millionaires wallow in Paris finery that they disgrace, and have European travel thrown away upon them.

From millions of such mothers all over the country rises the despairing cry: "I can give my children no advantages!" Let such mothers be comforted by knowing that they are giving their children an advantage besides which all that the richest men in the world are able to give their children is nothing. They give their children the advantage of poverty.

THIS seems a sweeping statement to make and one that the woman will not believe who is lamenting because she cannot send her son to college and buy her daughters Paquin gowns and launch them into society. Nevertheless it is true.

Look about you wherever you may happen to live, whether it is New York or Dixie Center. Who are the men that are at the head of affairs? Who are the presidents of the banks? Who are the leading preachers, lawyers, doctors, the judges of the courts?

WHO has painted a wonderful picture, written the best-selling book of the year? Who has married the catch of the season? What woman is running society? What girl of your acquaintance has become a famous actress?

Ninety-nine times out of a hundred it is the boy or girl who had no advantages in youth but the advantage of poverty.

THERE are perhaps a dozen rich men in this country who inherited stupendous fortunes and who have held on to them. The remainder of the financiers, almost without exception, are men who started without a dollar in their pockets and have worked their way up.

Nearly all of our successful professional men were poor boys who made their own opportunities for education.

ONCE I sat in a courtroom listening to a man who had inherited vast wealth trying a case in a bungling, half-prepared way. An old man near me, who had won fame and fortune in his profession, and had retired to enjoy a prosperous old age, turned to me and said: "Ah, my dear young lady, the professions are not for the rich. It makes me think of what the greatest criminal lawyer this country ever produced, said to me when I was a young man.

"I was a poor boy who had made his way up from between the plow handles to this man's office, and one night when we had been working until almost morning and were worn and lagged to exhaustion, just as we were leaving he put his hand on my shoulder and said:

"My boy, it is indispensable in this profession that a man should be poor, for there is always one last turn of the screw that he will not take unless he is poor."

AND it is the last turn of the screw in everything, whether it be business or art or literature or medicine, that means success. Nor is that hard to understand. We do not train prize-fighters by feeding them on sugar plums or spreading silken cushions for them.

We strengthen the muscles by exercise, we teach them endurance, we harden them so that they may stand up under blows. We breed into them the ability to take punishment.

That is what poverty does for the young. It teaches them self-denial, self-control, dauntless courage, the qualities that succeed. And because the strong-souled do not like poverty they fight against it and win out.

THEY take the last turn of the screw that the man who was pretty comfortable, anyway, won't take, and that is the reason why the famous men in every line aren't the boys who had a good start, but the boys who had no start at all.

In this country, where fortunes are not entailed, it almost chokes as if a mother might ask herself whether, if she had the choice, she would prefer her son to have a gilded youth and a poor old age, or a hard-worked youth and a golden old age.

FOR that is approximately the ratio in every community. The middle-aged men who today are riding around in automobiles forty years ago were selling papers or running errands, and wearing patched breeches and blue cotton shirts in the public schools, while the feeble, broken-down old men that are holding down $40-a-month clerkships were the little princelings in velvet and lace, with tutors and governesses, that the mothers of these erstwhile poor boys envied.

Let no mother who has given her son an inheritance of good brains and clean blood moan because she cannot give him money. She has given him far better. She has given him the necessity that will make a man of him if there is anything in him. And if there isn't money would only add to his ability to wreck his life.

As for the girl—anything that saves her from being married for money has saved her from the greatest misfortune that can befall a woman.

Fashion Fancies. DIMINUTIVE YELLOW CREPE FRIM TRIMMED WITH STRIPED DIMITY

By Marie Belmont. Some of the most effective frocks of the season are those which combine two materials that are distinctly different in character. The dress above, for any small child from three to eight, uses yellow crepe in combination with the fine white dimity, striped in blue. The dimity makes the little under-bodice, and the garsied skirt joins this with a scalloped line. Yellow and blue grosgrain ribbon is used for trimming, and above the wrist bands are puffed cuffs of the dimity.

CANNING HINTS. Gooseberry Relish—Three pints gooseberries, one pint water, four pints sugar, one-half pound raisins, juice and chopped rind of three oranges. Cook 20 minutes.

Conservé—Four boxes currants, two boxes red raspberries, one box salis, six small oranges, two lemons. Slice oranges and lemons very fine (skin and all), and for every cup of fruit, minus the raisins, add one cup sugar.

To can small fruit without boiling fruit. Make a syrup of one cup sugar and two cups water; boil, fill cans with fresh fruit and pour boiling syrup over it. Screw jars tight shut and stand in clothes boiler filled with boiling water. Put cloths under jars to keep them from cracking or moving. Leave in water until cold and then again tighten tops of cans.

Currant or Cherry Conservé—Two and one-half pounds currants or cherries, two and one-half pounds sugar, one pound seedless raisins. Boil the rind of two oranges until tender, then chop fine, and squeeze in the juice of the oranges. Cook all together until thick, then put into glass jars.

BEHIND THE SCREEN

PARAMOUNT officials have a problem on their hands—they don't know how to cast Miss Hazel Forbes, national beauty contest winner now under contract to them. Screen tests have shown that she is capable of playing copy ingenue or vamp roles with equal facility. Among other beauty contest winners who have played in Paramount productions are Dorothy Hughes and Fay Lanpher.

Stepping in line with the rest of the producers who are heeding the demand for new faces, Paramount is encouraging new players. Whether they will conduct another school of picture acting is not decided.

In a recent article in the Film Daily, Crill DeMille, once known for his gorgeous bathroom scenes, sums up the present position of the screen.

He writes: "We seem to be drawing toward the period in which the extremes will gain most popularity from a film entertainment."

The size of the motion picture world is realized, when large casts of important people may be assembled for a production, composed of players who have never previously worked together in a picture.

The cast engaged by Marshall Nellan for his production of "Diplomacy" is a rare one, filled with well known actors and actresses. Yet with the exception of one pair, no two of them have ever appeared together before.

Julia Swayne Gordon, who plays the Marquise and Earle Williams, cast as Sir Henry, worked together frequently when they were both members of the Vitaphone stock company, but Blanche Sweet, the star, has never worked with any of the cast members, nor has Neil Hamilton, Nor Matt Moore, Arthur E. Carow, Arlette Marchal, Gustav von Seyffertitz, nor David Mir.

SEE-SAWING ON BROADWAY

BEHIND the scenes of one of Manhattan's gayest night clubs—it is well after midnight. Hot outside. Fat "sugar daddies" with pretty maids have come puffing out of the night to puff some more as they make the rounds of the dance floor. Chorines, hurrying from the theatrical dressing rooms come bounding in on the arms of escorts.

"Oh, she's one of the girl's mothers," whispers a chorine. "She comes every night. Never lets the girl go around alone. Does she know Broadway? I'll say so! She's been back stage in half the night clubs of New York. Had another daughter in the game and she married some big guy. Forget who. Now she looks after the other kid—that little blond over there."

She pointed out a girlish figured youngster of 13 or 20. Quite the most undressed in the group. "She goes on with four others in one of those 'very, very' dances. You know what I mean. The kind they've been radiating the shows about."

I glanced up, unbeliever in my eyes. The clattering of dirty chairs and tables. The endless dance of the unconcerned waiters. The casual nudity of the lovely young girls. And in the midst, the lean, plainly dressed old woman, wearing little or nothing. A lovely figured blond swings in after a hectic dance specialty, thrusts three of the seated girls aside and stretches out at full length. A frail bit of scarring is her sole apparel. A maid begins to powder her.

Walters dance in and out, without so much as casting a glance at the array of semi-clad figures. It's all in a night's work to them. Old stuff. Fat pass outside would pay well for key-hole privileges.

And in the center of the line sits an elderly woman, sewing constantly on costumes. In the half-light the silver of the needle and of the thimble sparkle against the gold stars and moons that she sews upon a black cloth.

She is a tall, spare old woman, her hair a mixture of old silver and faded greying black. Her eyes seldom lift from her task. The girls mill back and forth, slipping in and out of such costumes as they wear. She sews on, for all the world like any gaunt seamstress of a small town.

This, then, is the other side of the gilded picture. The bubble for which fortunes are spent along the street of the new costs for fall, as is the dolman effect and the housed back. Hemlines, however, remain rather narrow and close.

Once Resident Here, Sees
People Optimistic

That the attitude of Canadian business men towards financial and business conditions throughout the Dominion appeared to be much more cheerful and optimistic this year than in many preceding years, was the opinion expressed yesterday afternoon by David R. Forgan, chairman of the board of control of the National Bank of the Republic, Chicago, one of the largest financial institutions in the western states. Mr. Forgan, who was on the staff of the Bank of Nova Scotia in Saint John 35 years ago, accompanied by Mrs. Forgan, motored to the city yesterday from St. Andrews, where they are spending the summer months. Mr. and Mrs. Forgan are annual summer visitors to New Brunswick and have many friends in the province.

"There appeared to be an air of depression about the Maritime Provinces and other parts of Canada last year," said Mr. Forgan yesterday afternoon, "but that seems to have disappeared. Canada is a young but marvellous country. The Dominion's future will doubtless be a great one."

FOUND N. B. ROADS GOOD.
Speaking of New Brunswick roads, Mr. Forgan said they compared favorably even with the macadamized highways of the United States. "Your scenery down here is magnificent. I am sure your province would be over-run with tourists from even the most distant parts of the United States if they were aware of the tourist attractions that await them in New Brunswick," remarked Mr. Forgan.

When asked whether he could account in any way for the large number of recent bank failures in Florida, Georgia and South Carolina, Mr. Forgan said that the Florida banking institutions that had been forced to close their doors were small town banks with very little capital. Mr. Forgan characterized the real estate boom experienced by that state as tremendous. "Investors took the bait and the well once too often," Mr. Forgan said. "The reaction was bound to come and when it arrived it did so with a crash. The small banks were enmeshed."

The financial troubles in which several Georgia and South Carolina banks had found themselves involved were in the nature of a reflex movement from those of Florida, Mr. Forgan thought.

Mr. and Mrs. Forgan expect to return to St. Andrews today. While in the city they are guests at the Admiral Beatty.

'TREASURE HUNT' AT MACLAREN'S BEACH

The German street Baptist church Sunday school staff and scholars had a delightful outing yesterday at MacLaren's Beach, more than 100 attending. A feature was a "treasure hunt." The young people were divided into three groups and supplied with charts of the ground. Stanley Vidito was the lucky lad and he uncovered a five pound box of caramels. Prizes were awarded to the winners of various sporting events.

The outing party was in charge of Mrs. L. W. Simms, Philip Simms and C. R. Wasson. The girls were taken to the beach in motor cars and the boys in a truck.

The bone frame of the average whale weighs about 45 tons.

DURKIN MADE HER A WIDOW

Above is Mrs. Edwin Shanahan, for the murder of whose husband, Marty Durkin, the sheik bandit, has been tried at Chicago. Shanahan was a federal agent who was shot to death when he attempted to arrest the bandit for bootlegging. At the left is Eugene McGarry, Durkin's counsel, who during the trial charged that half of Chicago's police were in the bootleg business. Durkin was found guilty and sentenced to 35 years in penitentiary.

UNUSUAL REQUESTS MADE IN MUSEUM
Official Tells of Searches Made in The Reading Rooms Last 20 Years

LONDON, July 15.—It is a common impression that the British Museum, with its awesome galleries, and its reading room, where to sneeze once is indelicate and to sneeze twice is inviting trouble, takes no heed of the vanities and hopes of mankind.

But it is now revealed that it is used as a treasure house and those who are convinced that they have been swindled by Fate out of great titles and inheritances.

John Gibbons, who has spent the last 20 years in the reading room, has been asked to make many queer searches. He tells how a man came to him demanding every reference to the possibility of gold in a particular part of North Russia that could be found in four days. For these four days money didn't count. But after that, no "finds" would be of the slightest use.

There was the elderly man who, over 80 years ago, had been casually struck with a short poem—somewhere. It might have been printed in a paper, a book, or a magazine, but he did not know.

"Half a century later he remembered just two lines, and wanted the rest. Wanted it badly, and was ready to pay for perhaps weeks of research. Why, I never knew. But I am glad I was able to find it, and in just two days. It was sheer good luck," says Mr. Gibbons.

TRAFFIC CASE DISMISSED.
George Cockburn appeared before Magistrate Henderson in the police court yesterday afternoon on a charge of exceeding the speed limit at the intersection of Main street and Douglas avenue yesterday. Mr. Cockburn said that he had mistaken the traffic signals. His explanation proved satisfactory to the magistrate and the case was dismissed.

HON. LEWIS SMITH HERE.

IS SUCCESSFUL

Five-Year Struggle for Little Girl Ends in Victory

NEW YORK, July 16.—For ten years Esther Kaplan lived here at peace with the world. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Kaplan of 294 Monroe street, had been naturalized and Esther's fears of Cosacks and pogroms disappeared. Then some five years ago, some one on Ellis Island ascertained that Esther had been admitted to the United States under bond. She was recalled to the Immigration station and examined. She was found mentally deficient. The fact that the deficiency was caused by a blow on the head from a sabre in the hands of a Cosack made little difference. Esther was ordered deported. Esther had no relatives, or even friends, in the United States. They fought the decision for Representative Samuel Dickstein and James Marshall were interested in the case. They fought the decision for years and were victorious. It became known yesterday when officials of the Immigration Bureau in Washington ordered the deportation proceedings terminated.

ON BOARD VESSEL
On two occasions Esther was on board a vessel, and each time Representative Dickstein and Mr. Marshall appeared on the pier with the necessary legal papers to have the girl returned to Ellis Island. They took the case to the United States Supreme Court. The court maintained that she should be deported. Final decision rested with the Secretary of Labor.

Mr. Dickstein took the girl to the office of that official for examination. Thousands of letters were sent to various officials in the girl's behalf. And because the Secretary of Labor has final say in these matters, Esther will remain here and go to school. A bond of $3,000 is required under the decision, but Mr. Marshall and Representative Dickstein feel sure that this can be arranged because of the popular interest in the case.

Esther came here in 1911 with her family. The others were admitted, but she was detained on Ellis Island a year and then admitted under temporary bond. She has learned to read and speak English but she can speak only a few words of the language.

MORE GIFTS FOR LADY BYNG CAMP
Financial donations continue to come in for the Lady Byng Summer Camp at Belmont. Mrs. Richard Hooper has sent in $5 while an anonymous friend has donated $10. Through the kindness of James W. Brittain, swings have been put up in the grove at the camp.

Several donations of sweaters have been received for the boys. J. S. Gregory has provided a salmon dinner for the kiddies and a local wholesale fruit company has sent up a large bunch of bananas. This is the third fourth with some more bananas, oranges and apples.

NO ACTION TAKEN.
Frank D. Thorne, secretary of the S. P. C., reported yesterday that the horse owned by Joseph Levine, 73 City Road, and driven by Henry White, had been examined by Henry White, his veterinarian and found to be in good condition. On Wednesday afternoon Sgt. McEneaney and Policeman Vawter noted Mr. Thorne that, as a result of overloading, the harness had broken and the wagon had skinned the horse's hind legs. The driver gave a satisfactory explanation and lightened the load. No action will be taken.

The party attended the regular Wednesday evening dance at the Renforth clubhouse, after which supper was served at the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Price. Judge H. M. Ferguson, Mrs. Ferguson and Mrs. Callender, of Rexton, passed through Moncton on Tuesday on their return after a motor trip to Saint John and Sussex.

While in Saint John she had the pleasure of a reunion with her daughter, Mrs. Percy Hanson, of Torrington, Conn., and the latter's two children. Mrs. Hanson will leave for Torrington this morning.

Mr. R. D. Bickerstaffe (formerly of Saint John) and wife, who motored here for their honeymoon, left yesterday morning for their home in Roxbury, Boston, after spending a pleasant two weeks visiting friends.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Roop have returned from a pleasant holiday spent at the Cedars.

A novelty shower was held Wednesday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Henderson, 81 Portland street, the occasion being their 5th wedding anniversary. Many valuable and useful gifts were received from the many friends present. The evening was spent enjoyably with music and games. Refreshments were served at the close.

MAN SAID LAST
OF TROUBADOURS

Tuscan Native Arrives in London With Nine-stringed Guitar

LONDON, July 16.—A strange and picturesque man, hugging his most prized possession, a large nine-stringed guitar, glided down Fleet street recently into a newspaper office.

He was Italo Meschi, a native of Tuscany, believed to be the last of the troubadours, who arrived in London a few weeks ago, and promises to be the latest lion of hostesses who give exclusive musical parties.

Meschi has a flowing brown beard, a finely chiselled nose, and dreamy blue eyes. But for his curious garb—corduroy trousers and woolen sweater—he might have stepped out of one of Titian's pictures of Christ. He has never worn a hat, and his woolen socks and sandals are a concession to the cold and dust of London.

The last of the troubadours had intended to play his beloved instrument, this child of nature, and after displaying the guitar, he put it carefully away in its canvas case.

"You go so quick in London," he said. "It is very different from my country. I am already beginning however, to feel at home in your great city. Happily for me I learned a little English when I was in California. It was there, too, that I discovered that I really had a voice. Since then I have paid my way by singing and playing."

YANK TOURISTS PAPER WALLS WITH FRANCS

Influx of American Travelers in London Heavy

By C. P. WILLIAMSON
United Press

LONDON, July 16.—The Yanks have taken London.

Never since General Pershing and the first vanguard of the American Expeditionary Forces arrived here on June 1, 1917, have American tourists so completely captured the centre of the British Empire as the present season. They are driving Englishmen out of spots which were formerly sacred British ground and impervious to foreigners.

With the aid of tourist agencies, they have invaded "Limehouse," London's Bowery underworld, previously known only to tourists through moving pictures made in Hollywood. "Rubber-neck wagons," overflowing with Americans, nightly penetrate London's East End to make a comparison of the Ghettos, Chinatown and Poplar with similar spots in America.

The Strand, Trafalgar Square, Piccadilly, Bond Street and the Latin quarter of Soho in the West End have become the haunts of the American tourists during the early evening—followed by a round of London's famous night clubs after the saloons are closed.

PAVEMENT ARTISTS.

Pavement artists have varied their subjects to include drawings to attract Americans. Favorite winter subjects, such as the drawings of the Prince of Wales and King George, have been varied to drawings of American flags and American figures to entice pennies from visitors from the United States.

This influx of thousands of tourists from the United States has greatly upset the usually placid surface of English restaurants and public places. Accustomed to spending large quantities of Continental currencies, which can now be bought cheap for the American dollar, many Americans continue lavishly practices after they reach here from the mainland.

REPORT ACTIONS.

English newspapers are daily publishing reports from all parts of Europe of unusual actions of Americans. One recently told of three Americans who had completely papered the floor and walls of a compartment of a French railway carriage with franc notes.

LARKIN'S PLANS UNKNOWN.

OTTAWA, July 15.—It is not known officially whether Hon. P. C. Larkin, Canada's High Commissioner in London, has cancelled his trip to the Dominion or not. His proposed visit this summer had to do only partly with Government business, and it appears likely that any decision in the matter would be left to Mr. Larkin himself.

A remarkable air view of the great new suspension bridge which connects Pennsylvania and New Jersey. Standing high over the Delaware, the bridge unites the cities of Camden and Philadelphia.

GREATER TOURIST TRAVEL EXPECTED

Aided greatly by the excellent roads in New Brunswick and the extensive advertising the province and Saint John city have obtained throughout Canada and the United States by means of the Admiral Beatty hotel by the United Hotels Corporation of America, this city and province are due to receive a large number of tourists within its boundaries as soon as the warmer weather arrives, according to Frank A. Dudley, president of that corporation, who arrived in the city yesterday, accompanied by Mrs. Dudley, Miss Brown and Miss Clark, all of Niagara Falls, N. Y., on a motor tour. The party are guests at the Admiral Beatty.

"In another year or so," Mr. Dudley said yesterday afternoon, "when our advertising campaign has taken on even a wider scope, naturally it will induce many more tourists to visit this city and province. The hotel, of course, will be benefited, but the Saint John merchants will also have their business enlarged. If the scenery, climate and other attractions for the tourist were better known in the mid-west and western states, there would be 10 tourists here for every one in the province at the present time."

TRAIN CONNECTIONS.

The C. P. R. is considering cancelling its train that make direct connections with the steamships arriving at Saint John during the winter months," Mr. Dudley said. "If this is done, and ocean-going travelers are compelled to spend a day or two here, your merchants will receive the benefit."

Mr. Dudley said that the business done by the Admiral Beatty since the opening compared most favorably with that done by any other units of the corporation within the same time.

Mr. Dudley has just returned from Europe, where he established offices of the corporation in London and Paris. He said that it was hoped that a large number of European tourists would be brought to the United States and Canada next year. "There is absolutely no reason," Mr. Dudley said, "why Saint John should not obtain a large share of the hoped-for European tourist business."

The party expects to spend several days in Saint John and vicinity.

HONOR HENRY FORD

Brazil Newspaper Editor Suggests Statute For Auto Pioneer

RIO DE JANEIRO, July 16.—Although Henry Ford has never been down in history alongside that of General Rondon and other pioneers who are today pushing the vast line of Brazilian wilderness further back from the seacoast.

A newspaper in the City of Uberabinha, State of Minas Geraes, has originated the idea of erecting a statue to Henry Ford in that town.

The editor of the newspaper got in touch with all the Ford agencies throughout Brazil and stressed his view that it being the starting point for all travel into the westernmost states of Goyaz and Mato Grosso, the city of Uberabinha should possess as a traditional landmark, a statue in honor of the man who devised the handy machine that has conquered Brazil's wilderness.

Flashlight Jolts Man From Deafness

LAWRENCE, July 16.—Startled by policeman's flashlight, George Gibbs, deaf and dumb for nine years since he was wounded in the World War, is talking and hearing again.

"You fool," Gibbs shouted as the flashlight turned into his face, wakening him from sleep. They were the first words he had uttered since a bullet pierced one of his cheeks in 1917 while he fought with the Princess Pat regiment of Canada.

Startled by his own voice, Gibbs grasped a paper and read out loud. Then he ran to a garage to ask that the motors of automobiles be started in order that he might have further proof. Hospital treatment in America and Europe had failed to restore his speech and hearing.

Assumption Parish Picnic Attracts Many

The annual picnic of Assumption Church, West Saint John, held yesterday on the church grounds proved one of the most successful in recent years. Delightful weather throughout the day added materially to the delight of the outing and everybody in attendance enjoyed themselves thoroughly.

Last night the winners of the various events were announced as follows: Bean boards: Ladies; Mrs. J. McCormack, City Road; gentlemen, William Quigg, West Side. Guessing contest, Miss F. O'Reilly and Mrs. M. Morrissey; ladies' bowling, Miss Geraldine Ready; gentlemen's air gun, P. Galton; ladies' air gun, Miss Theresa Ready.

There were more than 400 suppers served on the grounds. The City Cornet Band was in attendance during the afternoon and evening and played very enjoyable numbers throughout.

TEMPORARY EMPLOYEES.

OTTAWA, July 15.—Officials of the Department of Customs and Excise tonight, when asked about the reported dismissal of certain watchmen in Halifax, stated that watchmen were not regularly employed by the Department but only taken on from time to time. These employees were not actually civil servants and were only employed from time to time as required. Beyond this, the officials of the department declined to say anything. The Minister of Customs, Hon. H. H. Stevens, was not available, as he has been ill in hospital for several days past.

DISCOVERY MADE; NEW HUGE STAR

Latest Celestial Body is Reported Ten Million Times Brighter Than Sun

LONDON, July 16.—Last month Professor M. Wolf, director of the Heidelberg Observatory photographed the nebula known as Messier 61, and on examining the plate detected a 19th-magnitude star near the centre of the nebula which was not shown on a photograph of the same nebula taken three weeks previously. This new star has since been both seen and photographed at several observatories including Greenwich.

How it originated is uncertain, probably as the result of a collision between two dead stars in the nebula, both of which were made incandescent by the heat of the impact, or it may be an entirely new star produced by the welding together of portions torn away from the two colliding stars owing to the impact being a grazing impact and not a head-on meeting.

However, it was caused, the new star must be of enormous brightness to be visible across the vast gulf separating us from the nebula. It has been estimated that the distance of

EUROPE MOVIE MEN TO BATTLE U. S. PRODUCERS

Fight to Finish Seen as Conference Call Is Sounded

MEETING TO CONSIDER CO-OPERATIVE MEANS

German films Now Protected, But Americans Have Monopoly in Britain

LONDON, July 16.—British, French, Italian and German film producers are sharpening their knives in unity for a "fight to the finish" with the American industry.

A conference of film producers of the four countries will be held in Paris some time in the fall, it is said. The object of the meeting is to consider a co-operative agreement to meet American competition through development of the industry in Europe. American representatives will not be invited.

Internationalization of the British and Continental productions has not yet proven sufficient to meet the pressure of increasing competition from America and efforts will be made to produce pictures on a more unified basis. British producers are already producing pictures in France and French producers are making pictures

WHEN THE FIRST TRANS-CANADA PULLED OUT

1. The first Transcontinental train in 1826.
2. The Trans-Canada of today.

THE fortieth anniversary of the first Trans-Canada train has recently been celebrated by the Canadian Pacific Railway. It was the 28th of June, 1886, when the train pulled out of Dalhousie Square Station, Montreal, on its long pilgrimage of 2,290 miles across the Dominion. There were people present who were very pessimistic, but today they are proud of that memorable day in June—when it marked the period when the various provinces of British North America were bound together by a material bond.

At eight o'clock on that day, passengers filled with the excitement of the great adventure boarded the train, which was composed of an engine and ten cars, a mail car, two first class coaches, two emigrant sleepers, "Yokohama" and "Honolulu" and the dining car "Holywood."

As the news spread that the first transcontinental train was on its way, little settlements of hardy pioneers and Indians in all their grandeur, turned out to watch the "White man's fire wagon" speed along its newly-laid shining "right of way."

The old locomotive which pulled the first Atlantic Express into Port Moody, now Vancouver, looks quaint to modern eyes. It burned cordwood, and with its big smokestack and generous display of polished brasswork, which shone like gold, its array of flags and floral decorations it made an imposing spectacle. The engineer of the train was "Bob McE," one of the best known railroad men of that time, and he pulled into Port Moody, B. C., sharp on time, six days after it left Montreal.

Today we travel across to Vancouver in 89 hours, with all the comfort and modern conveniences of this age and constant of arriving on time.

COME TO CANADA IN SEARCH OF LOST BROTHER

Strange Wanderings of Members of Maker Family Told

LONDON, July 16.—An astonishing story of family wanderings was told following the sailing to Canada of an English emigrant family of 18, the head of which is Alfred Maker, formerly of Chester road, Kennington, S. E., who has met a brother he had never before seen.

The family wanderings began when Alfred Maker went to Australia at the age of six. All trace of him was lost, and years later, the father, having died, two of the sons, one named Sidney, whom the missing Alfred had never seen, went to Canada. Later the mother died and the family became altogether disintegrated.

The Boer war brought Alfred Maker, after active service, back to England where he settled, married, and became the father of 11 children. Meanwhile Sidney was married, settled in Toronto, and became the father of three children. The Great War took him to France, where in 1915 he was wounded, and owing to the loss of his identity disc he became confused with another Sidney Maker reported killed in action.

GOT INSURANCE

In consequence of this report his wife, at the very time when he was back in Toronto, and well on the way to recovery, was called upon to sign papers which would entitle her to receive some insurance, which was supposed to be due to her. Meanwhile, Alfred Maker and his family, seeing the War Office announcement of the death of Sidney, mourned a brother and uncle whom none of them had ever seen.

Some years afterwards Sidney Maker, wishing to discover another brother named Harry, advertised in the English papers. His announcement was answered by Alfred, Correspondence followed, and Alfred Maker was induced to take his wife and their 11 children to Canada.

Another feature of this strange family history is the existence, according to Sidney Maker, of a will "in a cery," "the Maker will." Diggle says, attaches to a codicil, which is that only a Roman Catholic can in the estate. The brothers Alfred and Sidney have now decided to try and find the brother who went to Canada with Sidney, and who has made silence for 80 years.

BOND ISSUE FOR SIMONDS SEWERS

Municipal Council Finance Committee Makes Several Recommendations

The finance committee of the municipal council met yesterday afternoon in the court house and recommended an issue of bonds for sewers in Simonds, the purchase of six books for the registry office and the taking of proceedings against two delinquents under the housing scheme. The request for an increase in the fees paid to jurors was filed.

Hon. R. W. Wigmore, warden, president and Councillors White, Bullock, Harding, McCavour, O'Donnell and McAllister were present.

Bills from Coronor H. A. Porter, Victoria Hotel and Driscoll Brothers were ordered paid.

The Eastern Trust Company, agents for the County Housing Board, reported on the operation of the properties to date and asked that authority be given them to take proceedings against two who were behind in their payments to a considerable extent. On motion the company was given the necessary authority.

The petition asking that jury fees be increased from $1 a day to $3 a day was ordered filed.

Bonds to the amount of $4,600 to pay for sewers in Simonds sewerage district, laid in Loch Lomond road, Jean street and Wilton avenue, to run 80 years and bear 6 per cent interest, were authorized.

The request of the registrar of deeds for six books at a cost of $40 each was agreed to.

SPRINGHILL MAN IS HURT IN DETROIT

SPRINGHILL, July 15.—Word was received from Detroit today that Alfred Fullerton, of Springhill, was struck by an automobile and had his leg badly smashed and was otherwise badly injured.

OPPORTUNITY POINTED OUT

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Sault and Mrs. J. W. Farlett arrived in the city by automobile on Tuesday from Toronto. They were accompanied by a little son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sault. Mr. Sault is the Maritime manager of the Universal Film Corporation in this city and has now brought his family here for residence. They are spending the summer in the Belyea cottage at Belmont, Ketchikan, and Mrs. Farlett is their guest. On the road from Toronto Mr. Sault's party made several over night stops at quaint little roadside inns on the Quebec side of the border and it was a matter of great satisfaction to find the country people quite awake to the business possibilities of catering to the tourist traffic. However, the same accommodations did not seem to be forthcoming throughout New Brunswick which suggested to the minds of the party that a rich field is ready for tilling in this direction.

More Flavour

Don't limit your enjoyment of Mustard to occasional use with Cold Meats. It gives more flavor to hot meats—sharpens the appetite, neutralizes the richness of fat foods and makes them easier to digest.

Take KLIM along for baby

Morning Stock Letter

NEW YORK, July 16.—The stock market seems again in a period where it is somewhat overbought and where professional manipulators make some headway on the down side by selling stocks. They do not get stocks down to any considerable extent, however, as there is so much a big demand under the market and the public is still not large enough to be frightened out by selling movements. Yesterday's selling was encouraged to some extent by rumors of an impending increase in the Federal Reserve re-discount rate. This was not forthcoming.

We are not in the re-conditioned car business for profit, but rather to promote the sale of our new Nash cars by giving him a dependable re-conditioned car as it is to have a satisfied Nash owner. And if we can earn his implicit confidence by giving him a dependable re-conditioned car, the chances are that he will come back to us later on for a new Nash.

HEALTHY TO STOP.

It is the proper thing to do, to stop the officers are now armed with sawed-off shot-guns and the car that doesn't stop will very likely get a charge of buckshot in the tires or gas tank. Cars are searched and if no liquor is found are allowed to go on. If the car contains any liquor being transported illegally it is seized as well as the contents. The owner loses the car and no claims of mortgages, as in the state law, are considered by the federal government.

REFUSAL VIOLATES LAW.

The United States Supreme Court has ruled that refusing to stop a car when ordered makes the driver a violator of the law whether he has any liquor on board or not and he can be treated accordingly and if he is shot he has no redress against the officer. The officer must make himself thoroughly identified as such and give fair warning. The sawed-off shot-gun is doing considerable damage to run-runners along the Maine border.

STRIKE VIEWS.

Although his view was not openly heard during the recent strike, the foregoing may be taken as embodying his private opinion from the outset concerning the calling of the General Strike. He has always condemned Bolshevism as "class tyranny" and has been just as severe on the idle parasite among the poor as upon the idle rich. How he came to reach his present state of education is something of a mystery, for his early environment was all against self-culture. His speeches are invariably in the purest English.

One of the graveyards of the sea is off the southern end of Vancouver Island, where ship after ship has been piled on the deadly rocks.

A Real Fish

Deep sea cod fishing is a sport as well as a business in Nova Scotia. What wonder American sportsmen are flocking north when there are babies like this to bite!

POLICE GUARD FOR GIANTS

PITTSBURGH, July 16—Explaining his action in asking police protection for members of the New York National League baseball team, during the last series with Pittsburgh, Roger Bresnahan, in charge of the Giants in the absence of Manager John J. McGraw, said he had learned from what he considered "pretty straight" sources that the New York players were in danger of an attack as a result of an altercation between Catcher Snyder of the Giants, and Coach Onslow, of the Pirates, in New York, June 20. He said it was "only commonsense" to guard against possible disorder.

Medical Mistletoe

(Vancouver Province.) In the former days it was believed that the mistletoe had some mysterious medicinal virtues, but it was thought to become a really efficacious remedy, all mistletoe used medicinally must be plucked from an oak tree upon which the parasite rarely grows. It was considered unlucky to cut this, or to sell it. In 1637 the only oak known to bear mistletoe grew in Norwood, England. Some persons cut this mistletoe and sold pieces to London apothecaries at 10 shillings a time. Accordingly, we read that of these "sacreligious" wretches one fell lame, each of the others lost an eye, and the ring-leader broke his leg.

How About This One Fans?

There was an Intermediate game of baseball on the North End grounds last evening and apart from that fact that the Nationals defeated the Y. M. C. I. in an interesting game, the score being 6 to 3, there is another angle to the contest which has aroused the ire of the players and it is this: There were present, as interested spectators, between 200 and 300 people, all nearly adults. The hat was passed around and the large sum of 35 cents was the total proceeds from this particular source. Now these boys are trying to play the game, intermediates, who in the very near future will be in senior company. They need encouragement. It cost money for balls and other necessary equipment but the boys can not last long on 35 cents per game. Surely a game that attracts between 200 and 300 people and that is worth watching is worth at least a nickel or a dime from each spectator. What about it?

GARMAN REPORTED SAFE

TORONTO, July 15—Bliss Catman, the Canadian poet, who was reported to be staying at Twilight Inn, Tanterville, N. Y., which was burned yesterday, has been at Twilight Park, Raynes Falls, N. Anxiety for his safety was felt when news was received of the destruction of the inn and the burning to death of a number of guests. The poet's skit is much more attractive than the plain one with the summer tailors, and is particularly adapted to the short length that is now the vogue.

CITIZENS HELP IN FINANCING CADETS' OUTING

Between 60 and 70 Will Go Into Camp at Sussex Monday

BOYS TO REMAIN 17 DAYS UNDER CANVAS

No Government Assistance This Year; Instructor Will Look After Cooking

Captain D. V. Palin, instructor of the city cadets expects to take between 60 and 70 boys to the military camp grounds at Sussex next Monday for a 17-day camping sojourn under military rules and genuine military canvas. It is quite apparent from conditions generally with cadet corps throughout the Maritime Provinces the Saint John boys will be the only ones to enjoy this camping privilege this season, due undoubtedly to Captain Palin's personal efforts, it is said.

Captain Palin is striving to round out a full quota of boys for camp by soliciting from a limited number of public-spirited citizens a cash donation that will make it possible for 25 lads to proceed with their fellow cadets to Sussex. These are boys belonging to homes where money conditions are not favorable, some of them being widows' sons and others belonging to homes where sickness, lack of work and other drawbacks have made it impossible to furnish the $11 necessary for the outing.

NO GOVT. SUPPORT.

No support for cadet camps is forthcoming this year from Government sources. Even transportation to Sussex has to be borne by the boys. The tents, however, are loaned in kind for which Captain Palin is responsible and the arduous task of cooking for the 65 boys will again be assumed by Captain Palin and his helpers. Indeed the cadets will have a camp of their very own even to the details of everlight and water, although they are considered in a broad sense a semi-military organization under official control.

15 CORPS HERE.

In Saint John there are 15 corps of cadets divided as per the school system. The best spirit of camaraderie exists and the boys' physical and physical exercises is well known to those who see them on the streets and at work. For the past 25 years Saint John has had several of these semi-military organizations among boys and it is said that in every business man of today has at one time or another been a member of the Boy's Brigade, the High Cadets, Boy Scouts or other similar bodies.

MORE THAN 500 AT ST. GEORGE'S PICNIC

Proceeds Amount to $125—Ball Game and Other Sports Enjoyed

Yesterday at 9:30 a.m. a train left Fairville station with a very full attendance of St. George's Sunday school children, en route to Grand Bay to enjoy their annual picnic. A second train at 1:30 took many more pleasure seekers, and with the friends who went by automobiles a banner attendance of more than 500 was recorded. The proceeds amounted to $125. Rev. John Unsworth, rector of the church was present, and entertained the picnic pleasures provided for the picnickers. During the afternoon a ball game was much enjoyed. There were also novelty races for boys and girls of all ages, which included skipping, sack and shampoo races, and a ladies slow race, which was won by Mrs. Ella Jennings, the eldest teacher in the school.

PROSPECTIVE BRIDE IS HONORED AT PAMDENAC

At the home of Miss Adelaide Marvin, Pamdenc, a party of city and suburban friends tendered a farewell shower to Miss Gladys Fulton, of Fredericton, who is to be married to Wentworth Lewis, son of William Lewis of this city, in Chicago on July 31. The affair was graced with one of the loveliest evenings of the season, and between indoor and outdoor amusements the social side of the shower was also a huge success. Miss Fulton was made the recipient of a splendid array of novelty gifts, contained in a trunk checked from Pamdenc to Chicago, which was surrounded by a miniature bright party, and a model shower bouquet. Miss Fulton, who has been a guest at the Lewis home, Pamdenc, for several seasons past, is a popular visitor and has won a large circle of friends and acquaintances in that summer colony, as well as the city itself. She leaves for Chicago the latter part of next week.

When asked this morning in regard to the smuggling of aliens across the international border, F. G. As Hiram Sees It

THE SETTLEMENT—It was read in today about a snowfall that followed the work train of the track in British Columbia—two men were killed by lightning in Alberta—an almost inch of rain fell in forty minutes in Saskatchewan—houses and barns burn by lightning in different places over there—a cyclone cuttin' a swathe twenty rod wide fer three miles in Ontario, smashin' a house an' a lot o' barns an' orchards an' I come to the conclusion: The Settlement ain't a bad place to live in, after all. About the worst thing we hev is a brush fire now an' then—that some fool started with a cigarette or a fire ball let to be said about old Noo Brunswick as a place to live. An' when we hev our rights it'll be a better place. But we got to fight or we won't get HIRAM.

Immigration Officials Satisfied He Once Was Resident of Boston

CLAIMS TO HAVE BEEN FRAUDULENT

Says He Paid $41 in Effort to be Smuggled Across Boundary

While the case of Manuel Santos, a Portuguese stranded here, was still being investigated by the United States immigration authorities, it was said this morning that eventually he probably would be allowed to return to Boston. The authorities were satisfied that he had been a resident of that city for the last fifteen or sixteen years, and following clearing up of a few details he would be allowed to go to his home there, it was said.

WAS FRAUD VICTIM

According to the story told by the Portuguese and what was learned from other sources, it cost Santos a considerable sum in his effort to regain entrance to the United States. It was said that he agreed to pay two local men the sum of $41 if they would smuggle him into the country and take him as far as Bangor, Me. These men, who, it was reported, have criminal records and make a practice of this business, agreed to the proposition and started with their "client" for the international border. On arrival at St. Stephen the two men going in one door of the ticket office and another, leaving Santos to await their return. Santos' hard luck followed him on his return to Saint John as $85 sent to him by his wife from Boston was soon taken from him, it was said, by a couple of "alick" colored gentlemen.

Mr. Driscoll said this morning that he had found five or six young moose dead in the woods this year, and he attributed it to the hard winter which had been experienced by the mother moose and were therefore not in fit condition to rear the young.
