BILL CARRIGAN MAY BE MAGNATE

He and Partner May Buy Big League Ball Club

Volunteers From Organization to be Called on if Needed—Action in Lowell Case—Anti-Strike Bill Brings Striking Amendment

(Special to Times.)

Boston, Mass., Nov. 26.—Bill Carrigan and Bill Gray, his partner in the northern New England theatrical business, were in Boston last night and admitted that if the proposition looked good to them, they might be willing to talk about buying a big league ball club.

Either big league would consider it self the gainer by having Carrigan as a magnate. Carrigan piloted the Red Sox to two straight world championships in 1915 and 1916. He has been all the way through the big league mill.

With baseball going so big, with so much money in sight for winning teams, it is one of the riddles of sport that such a proven genius of a leader as Carrigan is allowed to stay out of the game.

Supplementary Police Force.

More than seventy-five men who volunteered for police duty in Boston during the police strike met last night and formed a permanent organization as a supplementary force to be called upon to hold a conference with the governor, mayor and police commissioner, at which time the organization will pledge itself to respond to a call to duty at any time. Prof. Edward Hall of Harvard University, the first man to volunteer for police duty in Boston during the strike, was elected temporary chairman.

Lowell Man Sentenced.

Konstanti Dobrowski of Lowell, was found guilty yesterday afternoon of promoting anarchy and was sentenced to three months in the house of correction by Judge O'Connell. His brother, Felix Dobrowski, was tried in a similar charge and it was found that he had promoted anarchy. Judge O'Connell said that the case seemed to be a single instance of propaganda work rather than a part of a system, as far as Dobrowski was concerned, and for that reason he included to make the sentence light. This is the first case to come under the anti-anarchy law passed by the legislature last May.

Anti-Strike Bill.

There are teeth in a bill before the present legislature that will prohibit strikes on trolley lines conducted by the state. It has two under consideration, the Boston Elevated and Eastern to Lowell. At a hearing yesterday before a legislative committee, Wm. D. Malton, international president of the amalgamated association of street and electric railway employes, held up the terror of Bolshevism as a justification for the proposed legislation. He said that the organized labor movement among the trolley workers, "if you do this," he exclaimed, "you will bring in another form of organization, one of a secret and more terrible nature."

PREMIER BORDEN IN OTTAWA TONIGHT AND ADMIRAL JELICOE TOMORROW

(Special to Times.)

Ottawa, Nov. 26.—After an absence of two months Sir Robert Borden will return to Ottawa tonight. He will return much improved in health. It is understood that immediately on his return cabinet reconstruction will be undertaken.

Viscount Jellicoe will arrive here tomorrow morning. Twenty-five members of his entourage reached Ottawa this morning and are at the Chateau. It is expected that Viscount Jellicoe will be in the east until near the end of December, making his headquarters in Ottawa and visiting the principal maritime points during his stay to size up the situation from the standpoint of naval defence.

INVESTIGATE CASE OF OTTAWA RETAILERS OF MEN'S CLOTHING

Ottawa, Nov. 26.—Complaints of Ottawa retail clothing merchants that the board of commerce order as to men's clothing, designed to come into effect on January 15, would operate harshly against them will be fully investigated. The board has ordered a full public investigation into the costs and profits of all retail dealers of clothing in Ottawa. As a result of this investigation if proposed order may or may not be applied to Ottawa.

New Home Rule Bill In The Next Fortnight

Two Parliaments In Ireland COUNCIL OR SENATE OF 40

Cabinet Committee in Daily Session on Measure—Most Hopeful Sign is Silence of Sir Edward Carson—Something Depends on Sinn Fein

London, Nov. 26.—A new home rule bill setting up two parliaments in Ireland, with a council of senators of forty to be chosen by the two, will probably be introduced in parliament within the next two weeks. Daily sessions are being held by the cabinet committee in charge of the measure, the subject under discussion at present being finance.

Control of customs has always been a point of sharp difference when other home rule schemes have been debated, and was one of the rocks upon which the Irish convention was shipwrecked. Control of police is another knotty point.

The most hopeful sign of an agreement is the silence which Sir Edward Carson, the Ulster leader, has preserved since the latest Irish kite was flown. Sir Edward has not issued any mandates to the Ulster volunteers "to keep their powder dry," while the presence of two hitherto staunch Unionist leaders, Walter Hume Long and Baron Brienhead, on the committee, that Ulster is tending toward conciliation.

It is the supposition that there has been an understanding on the main points before the committee, and that there was a tacit agreement before the committee was named. The final word, however, does not rest with parliament, but with the Sinn Fein party. If that organization pursues its policy of refusing recognition of any British law, this British planned Irish parliament may come to nothing, since the Sinn Fein polled a majority of the Irish voters at the last election.

Moderates, however, believe the Sinn Fein leaders may not be able to keep the mass of their followers in line against an offer of Home Rule, which promises to satisfy most of the ambitions of the old Nationalist party.

Other alternatives remain that the Sinn Fein may capture the new southern parliament and promptly declare Ireland an independent republic. It would be possible in such a case to carry on the work of the parliament without recognizing any imperial overlordship.

ONTARIO POLITICAL STORY Reported Offer of Position to M. P. P. if He Gave Seat to Manning Doherty Toronto, Nov. 26.—A despatch from Bracebridge to the Star says that according to a gentleman acquainted with all the details, G. W. Ecclestone, Conservative M. P. for Muskoka, was offered the position now vacant on the T. & N. O. railway commission in the event of his deciding to give up his seat to Hon. Manning W. Doherty, minister of agriculture in the Drury cabinet.

SPEND $7,000,000 TO EQUIP SHIPS

Seven Former German Liners For Fast Service Between U. S. And South America

New York, Nov. 26.—More than $7,000,000 will be spent in alterations and special equipment for the seven former German passenger liners aggregating 67,869 tons, recently allotted by the United States Shipping Board for a fast passenger and mail service between the United States and South America. This was made known here yesterday by Frank C. Munson, president of the Munson Line, which has been selected by the shipping board to operate and manage the ships.

THIRTEEN HURT WHEN STREET CARS COLLIDE AT MONTREAL CORNER

Montreal, Nov. 26.—Thirteen persons were injured in a collision between two street cars at the corner of St. Lawrence Boulevard and Ontario street early this morning. Six of the injured were removed to the hospitals. The injured are: Mrs. A. Bourgeois, Mrs. A. Plante, Max Whit, M. Roland, Marguerite Lajoie, twenty years of age, fractured left rib; C. Baillargeon, 39 years of age, lacerated skull.

Treated at the scene of the accident and sent home were: M. Damazo, O'Neil McCormick and D. Laporte. Four other persons, including two motorists of the damaged cars, suffered slight cuts, but did not require medical aid.

Failure of an Ontario street car to stop at the intersection of St. Lawrence street was given by passengers as the cause of the collision. The Ontario car crashed into the St. Lawrence car as it was descending the hill at this point, crashing in the sides, while a portion of the roof buckled in.

All the seats on the east-side of the St. Lawrence street car were pulled from their supports and every pane of glass in the car was smashed to bits. In the Ontario street car the front vestibule was dented and the glass in the windows shattered. In the car itself, however, there was little or no damage beyond broken glass.

FOR BRIDE-TO-BE The members of the Young Women's Class of Victoria street Baptist church, of which Mrs. Jessie Flewelling is teacher, last night tendered a novelty shower to Miss May McKenzie, one of the class. The affair took place in the class room of the church and was attended by some thirty-five friends of the bride-to-be. Refreshments were served and a pleasant time enjoyed, while Miss McKenzie received quite a number of valuable gifts. Miss McKenzie was also "showered" last week at the home of Mrs. Harvey Reicker, Metcalfe street.

As Hiram Sees It

"Hiram," said the Times reporter, "I put your name in last night as that of an honorary member of the Commercial Club. Everybody seconded the motion and you will expect to address the Club on the first of April."

"As you mean that for a joke," mildly queried Hiram. "Because if you was I'll say right now that I'd consider it a privilege to live in this town ten years from now—yes, sir?"

"You are an optimist," said the reporter. "I see you get down to brass tacks. When you kin get two or three hundred men in a town to say 'I'll live here'—that's something 'doin' every mornin'."

CONFESSES MURDER, SAYS HUSBAND HIRED MEN TO PUT END TO WIFE'S LIFE Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 26.—Paul Logindici of Buffalo yesterday confessed in detail to District Attorney Love and the police how he seized Mrs. John Fichera in her home here last Tuesday, clapped his hand over her mouth and cut her throat. He also said when she felt he was thrust his hand into her throat to make sure of her death.

Logindici, Charles Lapan of Buffalo and the woman General Morrison, Brigadier General Morrison, the Buffalo men say Fichera hired them to kill his wife when he found them to her from other men.

ISLAND WANTS TO BE SEPARATE DISTRICT

Charlottetown, P. E. I., Nov. 26.—The committee from militia headquarters composed of Major General Morrison, Brigadier General McNaughton and Colonel Borden held a meeting here yesterday and heard the views of military men and others on re-organization of the militia and on the re-establishment of the island as a separate military district.

The tentative scheme proposed for the absorption of overseas units into the Canadian militia in order to preserve their identity and traditions proved acceptable. The islanders made a strong appeal for a re-establishment of their military district, which was taken away in 1911.

They ask to be cut loose from Nova Scotia and be placed on the same footing as all the other provinces. The fine record of island soldiers in the war, the fact that the B. N. Act guaranteed a separate district and the long distance from headquarters at Halifax were among the arguments in favor of a separate district.

HALIFAX CONGRATULATES US

The following telegram was received this morning by the secretary of the newly formed Commercial Club. Secretary, St. John Commercial Club, congratulates St. John Commercial Club on its formation. We extend our hearty wishes for its future success and assurance of co-operation in matters pertaining to the welfare of the Maritime Provinces.

R. H. MURRAY, President Halifax Commercial Club.

FRASERS GET ANOTHER MILL

Buy Hammond Lumber Co. Property—Makes Eleven Mills They Now Run

Fredericton, Nov. 26.—The Fraser Companies, Limited, have added another to their list of saw mills in New Brunswick and Quebec, making a total of eleven mills which they now own and will have in operation. The latest mill which they have acquired is that which the Hammond Lumber Company, of which A. E. Hammond, of Vanburn, Maine, is president, recently purchased at Notre Dame du Lac, Que., a small town on the Temiscouata Lake some twenty odd miles north of Edmundton, N. B.

To replace the mill which they are thus disposing of the Hammond Lumber Company will soon commence construction of a new mill at what is known as Canada Island a few miles above Fort Kent, Maine on the Canadian side of the St. John river.

BISHOP FARTHING BREAKS HIS ARM

Falls in New York While Trying to Rescue His Hat, Carried Away by Wind

Montreal, Nov. 26.—Bishop Farthing appeared on the platform of the Forward Movement meeting in St. James Methodist church last night with his left arm in a sling. It appears that he broke his arm while in New York last week, where he was attending to the bishop's hat which was lifted off by the wind, and as he was making a jump for it, he failed to notice the pavement and as a result fell on his arm, the bone of lengthways in two places. The arm is in plaster splint and will have to be treated in that way for several weeks.

JOHN MCINTYRE IS SERIOUSLY INJURED

Falls from Lumber Pile at Murray and Gregory's—Concussion is Feared

John McIntyre, of 31 Simonds street, was seriously injured this morning while working in Murray & Gregory's lumber yards. He fell from the top of a pile of lumber about sixteen feet high, staying on his head and neck, and was rendered unconscious. The ambulance was sent for and Mr. McIntyre was sent to his home, and Dr. E. Roberts called. Although the injured man later regained consciousness, it was not decided definitely whether concussion of the brain resulted from the accident or not.

Mr. McIntyre is foreman of No. 5 company of the St. John fire department, and he has been employed by Murray & Gregory's since 1914.

BUCHANAN-ESTABROOK A very interesting event took place in the Main Street Baptist church at 6 o'clock this morning, when the Rev. W. Hutchinson united in marriage Miss Gladys I. Estabrook, only daughter of Captain and Mrs. Abraham Estabrook, and William Buchanan, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Buchanan. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked very winsome in a navy blue serge tailored suit, with sea fur and a taupe hat. The young couple, who are prominent members of the church were the recipients of many beautiful and costly presents. Among the many gifts received was a chest of silver a gift of the C. P. R. staff, King street, where the bride was formerly employed, and a beautiful upholstered chair and smoking set from the C. P. R. staff, Mill street where the groom is employed. After a brief honeymoon trip, Mr. and Mrs. Buchanan will reside in St. John.

UNDER NEW SERVICE Dawson McKendrick, superintendent of the railway mail service, will leave this evening for Montreal to arrange the matter of mails on the new C. P. R. schedule which goes into effect next week. Although nothing definite has been arranged, it is understood that a baggage car service will be instituted on the train leaving for Montreal and points west as well as for Woodstock and St. Stephen. The mail car from the Montreal night train may be taken out as far as Vanceville on the Boston train leaving here at 6.40 p. m., and picked up there by the Montreal, leaving here at about 9 o'clock. These arrangements, however, have not yet been decided upon.

C. G. Merchants Marine. Ottawa, Nov. 26.—Unless severe weather upsets the present expectations, the Canadian government merchant marine fleet will number twenty-three vessels before the end of the present year. It is hoped that sufficient vessels to bring the total to the above number will have been delivered before the end of next month.

Chicago Chosen As Headquarters

CONVENTION NEXT SUMMER

Organization In The Various States to be Perfected in Meantime—Declaration of Principles Contains Many Matters of Importance

Chicago, Nov. 26.—Work of organizing the new labor party of the United States was completed last night with the adoption of a lengthy declaration of principles and the election of a national committee, which will consist of one man and one woman from each state. Headquarters for the party will be established in Chicago. The convention adjourned tonight.

The organization will call a national convention next summer to nominate candidates for president and vice-president. In the meantime the leader of the movement will organize in the different states. A monthly tax of two cents per capita will be levied on the membership to finance the party.

Included in the declarations of principles are the following:—Abolition of the United States senate. Election of federal judges by popular vote for terms not exceeding four years. International solidarity of labor. Maximum hours of labor for men and women to be eight hours a day and forty-four hours a week. Minimum wage for workers to be fixed by law.

Old age, unemployment and sick pensions. Government to own and operate the banking business of the country. Nationalization of unused lands. Incomes of individuals to be limited by law. National initiative, referendum and recall. Application of the 'home rule' principle in state, county and city government.

Condemnation of government by injunction. Repeal of the Espionage Law and all other repressive statutes passed during the war. Condemnation of universal military training and conscription. Demand for international disarmament to prevent future wars. Immediate release of all political and industrial prisoners. Nationalization of all public utilities and all basic industries.

Criminal prosecution of profiteers and exploiters of labor. Demand for free speech, free press and right of free assembly. Demand that all government work be done by day labor instead of by contract. Approval pay for men and women. Approved woman suffrage.

The convention adopted a resolution condemning the peace treaty and the League of Nations covenant as at present drafted for the reason that it did not conform with President Wilson's fourteen points and was not in the interest of the working classes of the world.

WITHDRAW APPLICATION TO INCREASE RATES

Matter of Milltown Water Rates Disposed Of—Moncton Gas Question Up This Afternoon

Before the Public Utilities Commission this morning an application by the Calais Water and Power Co., Ltd., for permission to increase their water rates to the town of Milltown was withdrawn. It being understood that the company have reached an amicable settlement with the town representatives. M. N. Coochburn, K. C., looked after the case for the company while N. Mark Mills appeared in the interests of the Milltown people.

The matter of the application of the residents of Moncton for an order restricting the consumption of natural gas will be heard by the commission this afternoon. A large delegation of householders and manufacturers arrived in the city today and it is expected that a session will be held tomorrow to complete the hearing.

Prince Spoke to Mayor About St. John's Reception

Mayor Hayes arrived home this morning from Halifax after having attended the ceremonies in connection with the send-off given to the Prince of Wales. He spoke highly of the hospitality extended to him by Mayor Parker and other Halifax officials. His Worship was agreeably surprised at one of the functions which he attended to have the prince come forward and, when the mayor started to introduce himself, His Royal Highness assured him that he remembered him. Many times the prince and those who were with him referred to the splendid reception given here on his first arrival on Canadian soil.

BURIED TODAY The funeral of Samuel B. Evans took place this afternoon from 219 Duke street. Service was conducted by Rev. G. A. Kühring, and interment took place in Cedar Hill.

The funeral of Miss Emily Armstrong took place this afternoon from the residence of William Madill, Golden Grove street, where service will be conducted tonight. The body will be taken to Cambridge, Queens county, on the morning train for Interment.

MRS. TOM THUMB DEAD, AGED 78

Passes Away Near Place Where She Was Born

HAD TOURED THE WORLD Her First Husband Died in 1883 And Two Years Later She Married Count Magri—Met More of Royal Families Than Any Other Person

(Special to Times.) Boston, Nov. 26.—Countess Lavinia Magri, known as Mrs. Tom Thumb throughout the world by patrons of theatres and traveling shows and said to have been presented to more members of royal families than any other person, died yesterday at her home in Warrington, after a long illness. She was seventy-eight years old. She was born in Middleboro, within a short distance from the house in which she died. Her parents were large, while her brothers and two sisters were larger than the average.

When very young she made her first public appearance with the Countess Magri and Rogers' troupe in St. Louis. At the age of twenty-two she met Chas. Stratton, known to thousands as General Tom Thumb. They were married after a brief courtship, in Grace church, New York. Soon after they appeared "as the smallest couple in the world" at Barnum's Museum in Broadway.

A few years after they formed a troupe with Commodore Nutt and Minnie Warren. Mrs. Thumb's sister, and toured England and France. In the former country the performers were presented to Queen Victoria and in the latter to Napoleon III. Following a visit to Egypt the troupe toured the world. It had been traveling constantly for four years when Minnie Warren died and the Thumb and Commodore Nutt returned to America.

While General and Mrs. Thumb were playing in Milwaukee in 1883, the general was taken sick and returned to Middleboro. He died soon afterward. Mrs. Thumb then left the stage for two years. In 1886 she married Count Magri, a member of the Trinity Church, New York. They toured the country with a new show company. Count and Countess Magri retired from the stage in 1890. Mrs. Thumb came to St. John in 1907, although they have appeared from time to time in productions for charity. The count is living.

Middleboro, Mass., Nov. 26.—Countess Primo Magri, known to the general public as Mrs. Thomas Thumb and one of the best known Lilliputians in the world, died at her home here yesterday, after a long illness. She was seventy-seven years of age and had traveled around the world several times under the management of the late P. T. Barnum.

Countess Magri was the daughter of James S. and Ellen Bump. Count Magri, her husband, survives.

Mrs. Tom Thumb last appeared in St. John some ten or twelve years ago at one of the exhibitions held by the St. John Exhibition Association. She will be remembered by many throughout the city and province who saw her at that time, or perhaps talked with her. Her husband has appeared in this city also.

BROTHERHOOD CHIEFS ACCEPT ONE OFFER BUT LIKELY REFUSE SECOND

Cleveland, Nov. 26.—The 500 general chairmen of the four great railroad brotherhoods called in conference here by the four chief executives to consider ways from home terminals, yesterday voted to accept the "away from home rule" but did not reach a vote on the overtime proposition.

Discussion of the overtime proposition occupied most of the two sessions. Many delegates bitterly opposed the overtime proposition. From a reliable source last night it was learned in all probability the delegates will reject the offer of time and one-half for overtime in slow freight service.

BODY, SEWN IN A MATTRESS, FLOATING ON MICHIGAN RIVER

Grand Rapids, Mich., Nov. 26.—Police yesterday identified that they had established the identity of a man apparently murdered, whose body was found on Sunday sewn in a mattress, floating in Grand river. A message from St. Louis indicated that officials there could identify the body as that of W. I. Nam, a salesman, who had been missing several months. This is the name found on a laundry tag on the man's shirt.

Edgar Fisher of Grand Rapids also identified the body as that of "Walter Nam," a salesman who he met in Maize, Mich., some time ago.

HOMB FOR BURIAL The body of Mrs. Katie E. Robertson was brought here from Cambridge, Mass., on the noon train today and was taken to the residence of her brother, George W. Hoves, Brimley street, where service will be conducted tonight. The body will be taken to Cambridge, Queens county, on the morning train for interment.

WRITER OF TERRORS OF SOVIET RUSSIA

Agent of Co-operatives Visits Petrograd

Says Lenin is Frankest of Whole "Crowd of Bandits" — People Shot for Trifles.

Terrors worse than any dreamed of by Ivan the Terrible and more inhuman than anything practiced under the Spanish Inquisition are common in Petrograd and throughout Soviet Russia, according to a letter just received from Hel...

"At last I am here again, and it might easily have been that I did not return alive. Many times I look back on the days in which I have lived, and I should be able to escape. Such horror and misery! You do not know a thousandth part of what actually is happening there. The times of Ivan the Terrible, of the Spanish Inquisition, are but mere child's play compared with atrocities there. The value of a human life is lower than that of a mad dog. People are being shot by the Bolsheviks for trifles, without the least compunction. It is seldom that any one succeeds in leaving himself loose from the claws of the Extraordinary Commission for Combating the Counter Revolution.

"A few thousand scoundrel monsters in human form, are sitting on the necks of the unhappy, dying people. The people are so worn out, so completely terrorized, that they have lost all power of resistance and are dying from epidemics from hunger and cold, and at the hands of the executioners of the Extraordinary Commission. Nowhere are there signs of life, everywhere is the curse of death.

Special Sale Men's Overcoats At Oak Hall

Oak Hall's Men's Clothing Department is at last able to announce a sale of men's winter overcoats that are worthy of the Oak Hall guarantee. Manufacturing conditions are in such an unsettled state that although Oak Hall placed large overcoat orders more than eight months ago, up to a few days ago it looked as if no overcoats were to be had. The Oak Hall buyer made a special trip to some of the larger factories where orders had been previously placed, and by camping right in the factories with the production managers and being very persistent, finally managed to get four hundred overcoats sent forward. These are now here and as the season is pretty well advanced, Oak Hall have decided to cut profits to a minimum and offer this entire lot of overcoats at the one special price of $25.00 for four days, Thursday, Friday, Saturday, Monday.

Although these coats were originally bought to sell for $30.00 to $35.00, prices have advanced considerably since then, so that today they are really worth up to $40.00. Oak Hall instead of advancing the price, have reduced it in order to make a quick turnover, following their motto of large volume at minimum profit. This is an opportunity not to be lightly passed by, take advantage of it early and buy early—Well, the sale begins at 9 a. m., Thursday. See advertisement elsewhere in this paper.

Tablet Unveiled in Knox Church—Service Conducted by Rev. Dr. Morrison, With Sermon by Rev. William Lawson.

In Knox church last night there was unveiled, with profoundly impressive ceremony in the presence of deeply moved and reverent congregation, a bronze tablet placed by the members of the church to perpetuate the memory of Sergeant Donald MacRae Noble, who died at Cambourne, England, on May 5, 1918, while on his way home after four years of service in France. The service was conducted at the request of the family by Rev. John A. Morrison, Ph.D., D.D., and an eloquent sermon was preached by Rev. William Lawson, of Keswick, formerly pastor of Zion church and leader of the Bible class of which Sergeant Noble was a devoted member. Knox church cadets, of which corps Sergeant Noble was one of the pioneer members, attended the service in a body, as a last mark of respect to a beloved comrade. The unveiling was done by the eldest brother of the young man, Lieutenant Charles A. Noble, formerly of the 85th howitzer battery. Seated with him were two other brothers, Millard C. Noble, formerly of the 1st Medical Corps, and William Alexander Noble; also two friends of Sergeant Noble, Gordon Elliott and Roy Logan. His father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. William F. Noble, and their two youngest sons, Gordon and Stuart, were seated in the body of the church.

The preliminary service was conducted by Rev. Dr. Morrison. Mr. Lawson, in the course of his sermon, paid an eloquent tribute to the sterling character of Sergeant Noble. He spoke of him as a boy of bright and cheery nature, and of highest ideals; modest and courageous and unflinching in his devotion to duty. Mr. Lawson told of the pleasure he had received in the companionship of young Donald Noble and he told also of the readiness with which Donald had answered his country's call and of the bravery with which he had faced danger. Mr. Lawson spoke much of comfort to the bereaved relatives.

At the conclusion of the sermon the congregation reverently standing, Lieutenant Noble drew aside the Union Jack which had covered the beautiful bronze tablet and Dr. Morrison read the inscription on the tablet, which was as follows:

"In loving memory of Donald MacRae Noble, sergeant, 2nd Canadian Divisional Ammunition Column, died, suddenly, at Cambourne, England, May 5, 1918, while on his way home after four years service in France, aged twenty-two years.

"O! valiant hearts who to your glory came "Through dust of conflict and through
"Tranquil you lie, your knightly virtue
"Your memory hallowed in the land
"You loved."

He then pronounced the dedicatory prayer as follows: Almighty God, who hast called us out of darkness into thy marvelous light, mercifully accept our service and graciously receive at our hands this tablet, which we offer and dedicate to beautify the place of Thy sanctuary, in memory of Thy servant Donald MacRae Noble, and in honor of Him, the brightens of Thy glory, whom Thou hast given to the light and the life of the world, even Jesus Christ our Lord, Amen.

A strange co-incidence of the service last night was found in the fact that it was the second service of dedication of a tablet conducted by Dr. Morrison in Knox church. In the autumn of 1917 Dr. Morrison was the preacher at the unveiling of a tablet to the memory of Rev. Donald MacRae, a former minister of St. Stephen's after whom Sergeant Donald MacRae Noble was named.

WOMEN'S DEFENDERS WON.

At the meeting of St. Mary's Anglican Young Peoples' Association last night a spirited debate was contested. The subject of the debate was: Resolved that woman's influence for good in the world is greater than man's. The affirmative won with the following team upholding it with excellent arguments: Mrs. Alexander Ellison, Miss Hazel Holder, W. C. Cunningham, C. Morrell, C. P. Wetmore. The negative, upheld by Miss Habel Profit, H. R. Coleman, Frank Coleman, D. C. Fisher and Arthur Hunt, put up a strong resistance. H. R. Coleman, first vice-president, was the chairman, and there was a large attendance of members.

PUBLIC IS ASKING HOW LOAN FUNDS ARE TO BE SPENT

That is Question at Top of Business Men's Minds

Need Retrenchment There Will Have to be Considerable Curtailment of Present Spending Programme—Problems For The Minister

(Financial Post). With the Victory Loan a success beyond what could have been hoped for, Canadian business men and all who take an interest in practical national affairs, are beginning to ask: What is going to be done with the money? That is the question being discussed wherever two or three more business men get together. It was brought up at the big meeting addressed by Frank A. Vanderlip in Toronto this week, and of all the deeply effective statements made by him in regard to the serious issues of the day, no other single remark went home with such directness. It could be said that nearly every man present had the same question at the top of his mind. As Mr. Vanderlip said, a great good or a great harm can be done with these millions.

Every reasonable assurance is given that the loan will be the last. It should be. The sum raised meets all the stated requirements of the government to get back to a peace basis. But already half of it has been spent, and unless there is some drastic curtailment of the government's present programme, the outlook is that there may be another call upon those who have contributed so willingly and so loyally. Viewing the situation from Ottawa, the representative of the Financial Post says: "Those who keep a close watch on the doings of parliament have reason to ask if the passion for economy which many of our rulers have enjoined on the people, has as yet infected themselves. An absolutely impartial and unimpassioned business manager, if placed over the affairs of this great dominion, would certainly cut and slash its estimates cruelly. We are no longer thinking in terms of thousands or millions. The commitments on capital account of the dominion for the year 1919-20 are seven hundred millions. Our national debt is nearly two billion dollars, our total gross debt over three billions. Our war expenditure is still heavily in the millions a day. We are solvent, but frightfully involved.

"A good deal in the way of economy is expected of the new minister of finance. This is not to say that the late minister of finance was profligate. Far from it. He necessarily preached economy, and did his best to practise it, but for five years he was involved in the maelstrom of war and war expenditure, when his mandate was not to count the cost. If matters in the office, he would certainly advocate retrenchment. His successor, coming fresh to the work, and realizing what the feeling of the people is with respect to the war, he would certainly advocate retrenchment. The soldiers were not satisfied that the government could not have given them that indemnity, in view of some of the things they saw. They will be watching to see if the government is as economical in all ways as it was with regard to their requests. The farmers, too, are on the way. There are a great many people who have no desire to see an agrarian government in power at Ottawa; but who still believe that any influence which would give the country a thoroughgoing program of economy would be beneficial. Having regard to the way the wind is thus blowing, it is probable that the new minister of finance will feel inclined to give the proceeds of this new loan, not as though they were drawn from an inexhaustible supply, but as though it were coming from near the bottom of the barrel."

FREE KINDERGARTENS

Matters of Interest at Meeting Yesterday—One General Christmas Celebration

The Free Kindergarten Association yesterday afternoon decided to hold one large Christmas gathering with a tree for the five free kindergartens instead of separate gatherings. It will be at the Women's Institute rooms, Union street. Donations to the kindergarten work were reported as follows: Cash donations from Mrs. William Fugley, Miss Turner and H. Usher Miller; biscuits from Mrs. W. E. Foster; Christmas toys from Arnold's Department Store and from Arthur's, and three quarts of milk for one day each week and a box of biscuits each month from the Y. W. P. A. It was decided that the milk and biscuits should be sent to the Brussels street school.

Mrs. Frank House, secretary, read a communication from Hon. Dr. Roberts stating that arrangements had been made for the Victorian Order of Nurses to visit the Free Kindergartens. It was reported that the nurses were not only caring for the children when necessary, but were also attending the mothers' meetings and giving helpful talks on health matters.

Interesting reports on the work were heard from Miss Edith Stephens, of the North End school; Miss Marjorie McKim, of the Mabel Peters school, Marsh Bridge; Miss Elsie Trentowsky of Brussels street school, and Miss Ruth Manks, of the South End school.

At the coming Teachers' Institute permission will be asked for the pupils of the Free Kindergartens to give a demonstration of their work, and an invitation will be extended to the visiting teachers to inspect the schools in session. Mrs. T. V. Vincent, the president, presided yesterday.

97 Men Die Poor!

Out of every 100 men, only 3 achieve a sufficient competence to retire to a comfortable, independent old age.

It should not be so when one considers how small a sum invested annually for a few years in an Imperial Endowment Policy will ensure a competence for a man's declining years. Yet we continually see and hear of old folks slaving for a meagre living or depending upon the charity of friends or children for support.

You don't want to come to that do you? Then write us today for a copy of our interesting booklet entitled "Penniless Old Men." You will be astonished to learn from it how easily you can now provide for your comfort and independence in your later years.

Seven Seas Chapter Sale Most Successful

The Seven Seas Chapter of the I. O. D. E. met with great success yesterday, the opening day of its three day annual gift shop sale. As usual, the chapter is holding its sale in D. Magee's store in King street, but it must have a more than usually attractive showing of gifts as the demand for them threatens to reduce the supply very quickly. In the morning receipts amounted to $134. More gifts are added each day from the storehouse that the members have filled by persevering, patient and skillful labor. The gifts displayed yesterday that were particularly attractive included dolls of all descriptions dressed in dainty garments, soft woolly goods in every conceivable form, fancy novelties, choice linen and all things suitable for Christmas gifts. Some remarkably fine samples of work were among the articles offered for sale. The chapter is composed of thirty-five members and they must have spent many industrious hours preparing for their sale, the success of which has up to the present been far above even their fondest hopes. Miss Dorothy Jones, as regent, was a moving spirit in organizing the sale. The convener for arranging and receiving the gifts is Miss Audrey Cross. The convener for the selling is Miss May Goodwin; for the pricing, Miss Marion Kendrick, and for other arrangements, Miss Zela Lamoureux and Miss Irene Gaudy are conveners.

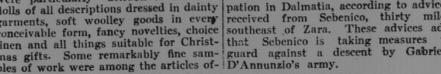

Italians Seize Jugo-Slavs

Belgrade, Nov. 25—Twelve prominent Jugo-Slavs have been arrested and held as hostages by the Italian forces of occupation in Dalmatia, according to advices received from Sebenico, thirty miles southeast of Zara. These advices add that Sebenico is taking measures to guard against a descent by Gabriele D'Annunzio's army.

CITY HALL TRYING TO ADJUST WAGE DISPUTE

That the city of St. John should endeavor with all possible speed to bring about a settlement of the dispute now existing between the C. P. R. and the Freight Handlers' Union was decided at a meeting of the common council yesterday afternoon. To further a settlement, and with the idea of relieving the serious situation that has arisen, the council passed a resolution to the effect that the commissioners should act as mediators in an attempt to bring about an agreement. This was moved by Mr. Jones and seconded by Mr. Thornton. It was also agreed to invite the heads of the two factions to meet at City Hall

The Choice of Power Plant Engineers

Talking to men with reputations for continuous economical factory production we find their needs in power transmission units simmer down to—

Moderate first cost
Minimum operating cost.
Adaptability.
Interchangeability.

For these reasons Dodge Wood-Split Pulleys have a firm hold upon their affections.

We never try to tell a man that he should put in Dodge Wood-Split Pulleys because someone else has. We like all superintendents, engineers and purchasing agents to prove them out on the merits of the result they personally get from them.

When they win out (as they invariably do) we then have a firm customer. And that is what we want. Our business has been built up by its orders from firm customers rather than from casual buyers.

Lawyer in Liquor Case.
Peterboro, Nov. 26—In the police court, Guise Bagley, a local lawyer, was fined $500 on a charge of having liquor in his possession contrary to the Inland Revenue Act. On two other charges, one of operating a still and the other of keeping liquor for sale, he was committed for trial.
F. D. Kerr conducted the defense, and Crown-Attorney Hutton represented the crown. Bagley pleaded guilty.

The Evening Times and Star

ST. JOHN, N. B., NOVEMBER 26, 1919

The St. John Evening Times is printed at 27 and 29 Canterbury Street, every evening (Sunday excepted) by The St. John Times Printing and Publishing Co., Ltd., a company incorporated under the Joint Stock Companies Act. Telephone—Private exchange connecting all departments, Main 2457. Subscription prices—Delivered by carrier, $4.00 per year by mail, $3.00 per year in advance. The Audit Bureau of Circulation audits the circulation of The Evening Times.

THE COMMERCIAL CLUB.

With a membership already so large that a full meeting could not be accommodated at the board of trade rooms, and with the certainty that its numbers will rapidly increase, the Commercial Club last evening adopted a constitution and by-laws and is now ready to make its influence felt. In selecting Mr. Stanley E. Elkin, M. P., as president the Club has conferred an honor on him, and provided itself with a capable presiding officer whose enthusiasm in regard to the Club and its work should ensure vigorous leadership.

The most valuable suggestion made at last night's meeting was that of the president when he asked each of the nearly two hundred members to send at once to the secretary a list of what they regard as the more urgent needs of St. John at the present time, avoiding contentious subjects as much as possible. All these suggestions will then be considered by the executive, and those which are emphasized by the larger number of members would doubtless be regarded as the first to be discussed and acted on by the Club. Since it is the intention to place every member on a committee dealing with some subject, and insist that he interest himself in its work, the matter of acquiring needed information or getting results, after a course of action has been decided on, should not be difficult.

The most difficult task of the Club may be to ensure the sustained interest of its members, since St. John has not a very good record in this respect; and very much will depend upon the alertness and tact of the executive in keeping the meetings down to business and as quickly as possible putting behind the Club a few actual achievements of the sort that breed confidence and stimulate public attention.

It was an inspiring sight to see so many of the younger business men of the city placing their names on the membership roll last evening and thereby pledging themselves to enter into the work of the Club in the same spirit that characterizes their activity in their own business.

Mr. Elkin mentioned last evening some of the questions which in his opinion the club might fairly consider, and it is worth noting that the first he mentioned in connection with making St. John a better city to live in was child-welfare. This involves housing and educational facilities, as well as playgrounds, and is associated with the work of the Victorian Order of Nurses, to which he also referred, and the work of the health department and those organizations having specially to do with child-welfare in the city. The children of today will be the members of the Commercial and other clubs of tomorrow, and are the city's chief asset.

The need of a large modern hotel, and of an office building, to which Mr. Elkin also referred, is so obvious that it should attract attention as a commercial proposition which the club may well promote. Nor will the housing problem be solved until local capital is interested in a practical way, and real estate men manufacturers and business men generally unite their efforts to devise a plan for financing and carrying out a comprehensive housing scheme. This the Commercial Club may be able to promote.

With regard to new industries, the first requisite is cheaper power, and no organization can hope to promote the growth of industries until it can give assurance of power at rates which will not be a handicap to the manufacturer. There are many avenues of usefulness open to the Commercial Club, and by the extent to which it advances along them it will be judged by the citizens at large.

The reply of M. Clemeenceau to the German delegation that the Allies owe nothing to Germany except the precise fulfillment of the peace terms will be approved by all who remember the brutal treatment meted out to the people of northern France and Belgium, and the persistent effort of the Germans since to evade their obligations. They sang Deutschland Uber Alles at a soldiers' memorial service in Potsdam on Monday, when Ludendorff sat in the imperial pew. The German is an implacable foe who must be rendered and kept harmless, or the world will pay dearly for its folly.

Half-past Echos "Co-operation and still more co-operation seems to be the slogan of today. Everywhere the need for co-operation is being more and more realized, and the demand for it becomes more and more insistent. No one function in the life of the community can hereafter be regarded as a thing apart. To secure the best results everything must be linked up with everything else, so as to get the best efforts with the least friction and waste effort."

The Manufacturers' Association asks for a reversion to the tariff policy of 1911 and the appointment of a tariff commission. The farmers of a tariff have something to say on that subject. An Ottawa despatch says that tariff revision is contemplated, pursuant to the promise of Sir Thomas White, and the manufacturers are early on the ground.

They must have something even stronger than lemon extract in Carleton county. A "leading politician" there gives the Woodstock Press this forecast of the next provincial elections: Opposition, 21; independent, 11; government, 9; United Farmers, 7. What a dream! Moncton Transcript: "They have had an election in Newfoundland where the parties were known as Protestants and Catholics. But Catholics were elected on the Protestant ticket and vice versa. And it transpired that the Catholic premiers had for some years furnished the grand master of the Orange order with passes on the railway to go round making speeches."

Two parliaments in Ireland, with a council or senate chosen by the two, are now proposed as a solution of the Irish question, and there is a report that Uster is showing a tendency toward conciliation. Apparently the attitude of the Sinn Fein will determine the fate of the new effort to make peace in Ireland. If they refuse to acknowledge British rule the conditions will be worse than ever.

Despite the opposition of some labor leaders, who pointed out that similar efforts in the past had met with failure, a Labor Party has been formed in the United States, with headquarters in Chicago, and will have candidates for the presidency and vice-presidency. Its very radical policy is printed in today's issue, and will no doubt have a strong influence upon the formation of the platforms of the two old parties.

The refusal of the Catholic church authorities in Montreal to recognize a teachers' welfare association, coupled with Judge Lafontaine's assertion that its members were preaching anarchy, is likely to open up a lively controversy in that city.

Toronto Star: The members of the Drury cabinet have been presented with Bibles. This indicates the immense change that has taken place. Heretofore new cabinet ministers were usually presented with patronage lists.

The meeting of the South End Improvement League in King Edward school last evening for a community purpose in the interest of the children was a fine illustration of right use of a community building.

FEMALE WORK IN JAPAN.

Have you ever wondered how it is that the Japanese are able to produce factory products so much cheaper than we can? The first reason we think of is that living is cheaper in Japan than here and wages lower. But there are two other important causes: The extensive use of laborers under the age of fifteen and the exploitation of women workers. The latter is undoubtedly the greatest factor in enabling the Japanese manufacturers to put low prices on their articles.

Over half a million women are employed in Japanese factories, and of these 300,000 are under twenty years of age. Four-fifths of these women are engaged in the industries of spinning, weaving and dyeing. What contributes more than anything to making their employment a sort of slavery is the arrangement of making them sleep in factory quarters. Seventy per cent are housed in this way.

And their accommodations are described as "sickening" by a physician who studied their condition. The women on the night and day shifts share the same beds. The beds are never aired or cleaned, and never exposed to light. As soon as one group of sleepers arises, another occupies the beds. Consumption spreads rapidly among the operatives in these circumstances.

In the raw silk mills they are kept at work on an average of fourteen hours a day. In the weaving mills this extends to sixteen and eighteen hours. Their lives are taken up entirely with working, eating, and sleeping. The pay is so small as to be almost unbelievable—an American.

Few can stand the strain more than a year when they are removed by either death or desertion. Thus 80 per cent of the workers leave the factories every twelve months from one cause or another, but their loss is easily replenished by new hands. Of those who leave the factories many drift into work in tea houses or become outcasts.

Irwin O. Biffle, one of the air mail pilots who fly between Chicago and Cleveland, received an unexpected lesson in geography one day. He was flying westward when a storm came up. Fog enveloped him, and he was driven by diverse air currents many miles out of his course. Then his engine went wrong, and he was forced to descend. He wasn't quite certain what state he was in. As he neared the ground, however, the skies grew lighter, and he saw a crowd of villagers running toward him as he reached land. "Where am I?" asked Biffle. "You're in Jerry Hendrick's cow pasture," said one of them—San Francisco Argonaut.

THE VAGS. Now the times are bleak and chilly for the homeless Weary Willie, there's no light in any window for the bo; all the Rum Holes are abolished and no barkeep, bland and polished, sets the tall and foaming schooners in a row. There's no welcome for the vagrant when he comes, all soiled and fragrant, and requests a little handout at the door; we have cut out careless giving chastened by the cost of living, and we don't distribute wincies any more. So the Weary Willie journeys from the homes of rich attorneys to the shanties of poets, all in vain; no one hands him pies or muffins, or the other standard stuffs, and he's standing pale and empty in the rain. Even at the village prison, where a welcome once was his, he is held to be a nuisance a front; for he adds to our expenses, and the situation tense is, when we strive to make reductions in the cost. There's no welcome for the Willie, and a superstition silly seems to gain a fresh momentum every day; people say he ought to labor like his honest, plodding neighbor, ought to earn his right to victuals and the hay!

CANADA—EAST AND WEST

GOVERNOR SIMCOE.

The first lieutenant-governor of upper Canada—now the province of Ontario—was Lieut-General John Graves Simcoe. He was born in England in 1752, his father being a captain in the British navy who made the supreme sacrifice during the attempt to capture Quebec in 1759. The son was educated at Eton and Oxford. When he was nineteen years of age he entered the army as an ensign in the 35th Regiment. He served with distinction in the American War of Independence, later obtaining the command of the Queen's Rangers, a Royalist corps that made a great reputation in almost every battle in the war, ending to him at a time when French invasion was feared and in 1806 he was dispatched with the Earl of Rosslyn, the Earl of St. Vincent and others upon a very important expedition to Portugal. Upon the voyage he was taken very ill suddenly and had to return to England. In 1791 he was sent to Canada as the first lieutenant-governor and in 1792 he was appointed governor of San Domingo with the rank of lieutenant-general. In 1801 the command of Plymouth was entrusted to him at a time when French invasion was feared and in 1806 he was dispatched with the Earl of Rosslyn, the Earl of St. Vincent and others upon a very important expedition to Portugal. Upon the voyage he was taken very ill suddenly and had to return to England. In a short time he succumbed to his attack.

With the passing of the years has come to Canadians an appreciation of the works of Governor Simcoe for the entire land but especially for the province of Ontario. A town in that province is now named after the illustrious ruler of the pioneer days.

THE WAY OF THE SEA. (Rev. George Scott.) The way of the sea is a pleasant way. As it lazily laps its glittering sand Through the quiet hours of a summer day, With the wild flowers blooming upon the land. The way of the sea is a calm sweet way. With the full moon throwing a silvery stain On the brimming tide of a quiet bay. And a low night wind in the rustling grain. The way of the sea is a glorious way. The hour when the day and the darkness meet, When the flush of gold lights the blue and gray. And the dawn springs up on its nimble feet. A royal way is the way of the sea. With the soft winds piping across its breast, With the seagulls screaming their three-riding in triumph the billowy crest. A cruel way is the way of the sea, When the winds scream at the winds overhead. When the thunderous billows hold rev-ehly. Where the waters throw up their ghastly dead. What man can measure the moods of the sea? Boundless, inscrutable, limitless waste Now touching the land so curiously. Now tearing it down in its bitter haste.

LIGHTER VEIN Washington's Difficulty. A certain Senator, deploring the dishonest methods of one type of business man, once said, with a smile: "It all brings back to me a dialogue I once heard in a Southern school. "'Children,' said the teacher, 'be diligent and steadfast, and you will succeed. Take the case of George Washington, whose birthday we are soon to celebrate. Do you remember my telling you of the great difficulty George Washington had to contend with? "'Yes, ma'am,' said a little boy. 'He couldn't tell a lie.'"—Christian Herald.

One at a Time. A man from the north of Scotland, visiting Glasgow, was "boned" by a Salvation Army lass, and he gave her sixpence. Turning into another street he was again asked for a contribution. "'Na, na,' he said. 'I gied a saxpence tae ane o' your folk 'roon the corner just now.' "'That was very good of you,' said the girl. 'But then you can't do a good thing twice. Turn into another street, the Lord will repay you a hundred fold.' "'Aweel,' said the cautious Scot. 'I'll just wait till the first transaction's finished before we start the second.' The lesson was to the first grade and the subject "The Bullock." Toward the end the teacher was asking the class about the uses to which the parts of the dead animal were put, and it had been established that the flesh was eaten and out of the hide leather for boots was made.

THE COAL SITUATION. (New York Times.) Coal is being burned much faster than it is being mined, while the debate about wage payments proceeds leisurely. Taking the side of the country's consumers rather than that of the dis-pendants, the proper course would be to dig coal during the debate, the findings to be retroactive. There is no reason why either side should object to that. On the side which objected would be prejudiced before the public. At the end of last week the miners rejected three proposals of arbitration. One was that the matter should be left to the president, who has been known to go to extremes for the sake of workers' interests. Another proposal was that the president should appoint arbitrators to sit with the miners and operators, each to appoint equal numbers. The third proposal was that arbitrators selected by the miners and operators should themselves select the members to decide between them. It is more permissible to find fault with the details of the results of arbitration than to find fault with the principle of arbitration. Almost always ar-

THE BITUMINOUS COAL CRISIS.

(Toronto Globe.)

The coal crisis in Canada is acute. It calls for cautious conduct. As the Globe previously pointed out, the wise way to handle the situation lies in an earnest effort to secure co-operation with the United States in international distribution. Canada imports from the adjoining republic some seven times the amount of bituminous coal which she exports to that country. She cannot afford to neglect any opportunity for joint action.

Yet from Ottawa has come a peremptory order prohibiting the export of Canadian coal across the border. This order, the Globe is informed, was issued without any consultation or conference with the United States authorities. The result was such as might have been expected. Washington quite naturally takes the position that Canada by so doing relieved her big neighbor of responsibility in sharing supplies. It is inclined to take the attitude that, the dominion having without provocation cut off its export to the United States, there is no reason for the United States to worry about providing fuel for Canada. This is a most unfortunate and serious development of Ottawa's ill-considered action. There is only one course for both countries to follow. There must be the fullest understanding and the closest co-operation. The situation is acute on either side of the boundary line. By working together in reciprocal effort the joint supplies can be assigned geographically to serve most advantageously the needs in each country. This is a time for both governments to unite in a common policy of mutual assistance.

Peculiar Strike, This.

Sydney, Nov. 25.—The strike of Glace Bay clerks has been called off. The strike was unique in that it was called by the clerks in support of the manager's action in discharging a fellow employe by whom he had been assaulted. The directors reinstated the discharged man and the strike resulted. Kid Burns, prize fighter, who was the cause of the trouble, has been again suspended and the clerks go back to work.

The November Christmas

No, the title is quite correct, because in our business we are advising everybody to do their Christmas Shopping during November.

To advertise "Shop Early" is not enough—everybody does this, and people don't heed it.

The fact is that there is every indication of a greater demand for our goods than we can supply.

At the present our stocks are complete and you can rely on prompt shipment of the gifts you have selected, but if you delay till a couple of weeks before Christmas, some lines will necessarily be exhausted.

So please endeavor to do your Christmas Shopping during November and make sure of satisfaction.

THE PRINCE OF WALES.

God keep thee, fair Prince, with thy radiant brow,
Both the pride and the hope of Great Britain, the heir
To the throne of an empire. Oh, let us bestow
The heartfelt farewell thy youth must inspire,
And feel, in the hearts of our people, the glow
Of their friendship that softens this crystalline air
Of cold Autumn. For thine is the springtime of life,
The fresh flower of peace from wild Winter's mad strife.
The glories that lead toward the portals of heaven,
O'er fields where, for long, were hell's chariots driven.

And the cluster of plumes that embelish thy crest,
Waving high o'er the glittering star on thy breast,
The three feathers of Wales—we acclaim them as ours!
Great Britain, America, France—these three powers
That, conquered, with all who have fought by their side,
For our freedom, for truth, for the glorious tide
Of prosperity rising and washing our shores,
Since the Temple of Peace has re-opened her doors.

God speed thee, fair Prince, on thy ship through the seas
Of Winter's fierce tempest, of Summer's swift breeze,
That break o'er the prow. May its name, the Renown,
Be an emblem of fame that shall cling to thy crown,
For we honor the greatness, the purpose that sways
The fine flower of manhood that England displays.

God guide thee. The blessing Columbia gives
To the heir of a King, if he reigns, if he lives,
Is not born of monarchial splendors or thrones,
But the blood of our heroes, the tears and the groans
Of the wounded who fought for a glorious cause,
To preserve their undying belief in our laws,
For the soul is immortal. The flesh passes by.
The fair vision of youth may be lost to the eyes,
But the spirit of man must be lifted above,
And the heart of the world, by the greatness of love,
—Charles Hammond Gibson in N. Y. Times.

CONCERT IN ST. MATTHEWS.

A concert of a high order was given in St. Matthew's church last evening under the auspices of the choir, for the purpose of raising funds for the purchasing of music and other aids to the improvement of the choral part of the church services. Some of the talent was heard in the programme and the large gathering was delighted with their renderings of the selections. The concert was a financial success as well as a musical treat. Commissioner Thornton was the chairman and the choir leader, John Burke, was the chief organist. Miss B. Farmer and Miss Edith Hutchinson, as accompanists, assisted greatly. The programme was as follows: solo, Thomas Guy; solo, Miss Erminie Climo; reading, J. L. Robertson; solo, Mrs. Blake Ferris; selection, Lancaster ladies' quartette, Mesdames Long, Brown, Osborne and Vincent; solo, Miss Blenda Thompson; reading, Mrs. Horton; solo, Miss Turner; solo, Clarence

POTATO PRODUCTS.

(Bangor Commercial.)

Potato-product industries in the United States afford an outlet for millions of bushels of low-grade potatoes formerly wasted annually and may absorb the surplus in years when the crop is exceptionally large.

The manufacture of potato flour is a new industry here, and the potato-starch industry, although long established, has been declining of recent years, principally because of the severe competition of foreign potato starch and of the lower priced corn-starch. Before the war the imports from Germany and Holland were only slightly less than the domestic production. Recently Japan has greatly developed her starch industry; in 1918 she exported into the United States nearly 22,000,000 pounds, or 92 per cent of the total imports.

During our participation in the war dried or dehydrated potatoes were prepared for army use, and the industry assumed considerable importance. Sixteen factories were drying potatoes in 1918 and their output was 7,000,000 pounds.

Ivory Toilet Goods

In buying Christmas goods of Ivory, the public should be warned of the danger of buying goods stamped "French Ivory," as the name means nothing. French Ivory may be made in Japan, Canada or United States for that matter, as any person can label his goods "French Ivory." The best Ivory is labelled ORIENTAL IVORY; each piece is absolutely guaranteed not to turn yellow or tarnish. ORIENTAL IVORY may cost a little more, but you are sure to get the best kind of Ivory in asking for this brand.

STERLING BILL AT THE OPERA HOUSE

New Programme Last Night Particularly Good And Enjoyed by Crowded House

The new change of vaudeville programme at the Opera House opened last night to an audience the size of which has rarely been seen at this house since last winter.

Following the serial picture, "Peril of Thunder Mountain," came Daisy and Wilson, in a tasty stage setting. An acrobatic dance pleased well and then came some sensational feats on the flying rings, with a finish that called for extraordinary strength and dexterity on the part of both.

The Misses Cortez, classy, dainty and altogether likeable, with a gorgeous stage setting and handsome costumes, scored an instantaneous hit. Good singers and dancers, they put over several clever imitations, jazzed, sang in French and closed with a Chinese number that was like a gem from one of the best musical comedies and took the house by storm.

Charles Sweet took the laugh honors of the programme with a melange of song parodies, musical selections, trick piano solos and a little bit of everything that would please. He could have stayed for some hours of laughter.

Arthur Huston, in a spectacular pantomime, had the house jumping in surprise one minute and laughing the next. It was beautifully staged, and is a real novelty for here and a treat all the way through.

The show had class from start to finish and will send you home smiling, which is just what shows are for.

PRESENTATION.
 The Philathea Class of Central Baptist church met at the home of one of their members, Miss Bessie Bell, 215 King street east, last evening and presented to their teacher, Mrs. D. J. MacPherson, a silver mounted umbrella, on the eve of her departure for Sussex. The evening was pleasantly spent in games and music, after which dainty refreshments were served.
DIED IN VANCOUVER.
 Last evening came word of the death of Mrs. G. Stewart Maxwell in Vancouver. She leaves a sorrowing husband and four children, three sons and a daughter. Mrs. Maxwell was the daughter of the late Sidney and Marion Smith of Advocate Harbor, N. S. Five brothers survive—J. Willard and R. Duncan of this city, Fred L. of New York, George W. of Bridgeport and A. Percy Smith of Advocate Harbor, N. S.

THE NAVY LEAGUE
 Meetings of the Dominion Council of the Navy League will be held in Ottawa on Friday and Saturday in St. John will be well represented, as Colonel E. T. Sturdee, the president, and Messrs. Schofield and Allan, treasurer and secretary, will leave this evening to attend. Admiral of the Fleet Lord Jellicoe will be present, as well as members of the government to discuss naval affairs of the league.
CIRCUIT COURT.
 The sitting of the circuit court, Judge Berry presiding, was resumed this morning. In the case of Miss Eagles vs. the Bank of Commerce, a suit for damages on a piano seized in execution, the plaintiff claims that the piano belonged to her and not to her father. Mr. Eagles, Miss Eagles and Sheriff Wilson were called as witnesses. H. A. Powell, K. C., and Chase S. Huntington are for the plaintiff and E. P. Raymond for the defendant. The case will be resumed this afternoon.

THE LATE GUILFORD GORDON.
 Mrs. F. L. Shields of this city has received further word relative to the death of her father, Guilford Gordon, which was reported on Monday. Mr. Gordon died on Nov. 22 as a result of an accident in the woods near Shirley, N. B., where he was working. He was 61 years of age and had been a life-long resident of Upper Gagetown. He was twice married and leaves a wife and one son. By his first marriage he leaves five sons and four daughters, including Mrs. Shields and Mrs. Fred Foster of this city. The funeral took place on Sunday at Upper Gagetown.

AMUSEMENT TAX IN NEW BRUNSWICK
 Text of Report of Wm. H. McQuade, Inspector
 Receipts Something More Than $60,000 up to Close of Fiscal Year—A Word to Those Who Seek to Evade Tax
 Yesterday the Times printed a summary of the report of W. H. McQuade, amusement tax inspector. It is here given in full. Mr. McQuade reports that the amusement tax receipts in New Brunswick up to the close of the fiscal year amounted to something more than $60,000.
 This was collected from all sorts of amusements: circuses, horse races, dances, exhibitions, itinerant shows, skating rinks, Chautauque entertainments, bridge tournaments all helped along with the regular theatres and moving picture shows.
 In Ontario the revenue from this source was over $1,000,000 or nearly as much as the whole of New Brunswick's income. The amusement tax in New Brunswick is, however, much lower than the tax in any other province in Canada and these taxes in Canada are much lower than in England and the United States.
 The provincial tax inspector states that notwithstanding all the advertising in the provincial newspapers to the effect that any entertainment to which an admission fee is charged, the proceeds of which are not for charitable, church or patriotic purposes, is liable to the amusement tax, many persons proceed to promote entertainments without notifying the inspector and obtaining permits to hold the same, rendering themselves liable to prosecution and the penalties under the act.
 Some of these do not wish to break the law but forget that the amusement tax is in force and are always ready to make amends when their attention is called to the law. There are others, however, who, acting on the principle that charity begins at home, endeavor to evade the amusement tax. The inspector is after these persons. Some of them think that dancing is not amusement and therefore non-taxable. In the United States the collection of the amusement tax comes under the internal revenue officers and any evasion meets with such severe penalties that no one tries it twice. In New Brunswick the law officers are more lenient and the province is losing revenue every night in many places where the pleasure promoters are pocketing their profits with the hope that they will get by unnoticed. It is quite possible that local officers will be deputized to keep a sharp lookout for violations in the future.
 Some interesting figures of last year's revenue show that exhibitions paid over $1,000, dances $511.37, Chautauque shows $2,197, horse races more than $1,000, rinks some hundreds and circuses nearly $4,000.
 W. H. McQUADE, Inspector.

BOY BURGLAR IN QUEBEC SENTENCED
 Quebec, Nov. 26.—Paul Emile Tremblay, aged sixteen, was yesterday sentenced to three years in St. Vincent de Paul penitentiary for a series of ten burglaries in various stores in the city. When arrested early yesterday morning coming out of the hardware store of S. J. Shaw & Company, he had a loaded revolver on his person, a gun, some ammunition and a number of flashlights concealed in his clothing.

NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS
 The co-operation of advertising patrons is requested in the direction of getting "copy" into the business office on or before 4.30 p. m. on the day previous to publication. Very often the receipt of a large advertisement or even regular changes after that hour serves to dislocate the regular work of getting the paper made up in time to catch the mails—and not infrequently such ads. are at the last moment left out.
 This situation is not of service to either the advertiser or our readers and we, therefore, request that copy be received in the business office
Not later than 4.30 p.m.

WEBBER CASE OF MUCH INTEREST
 Liquor Inspector Gives Details of Happenings in Car at the Railway Station
 In the police court this morning William Webber was charged with having a quantity of liquor in his possession other than in his private dwelling on Nov. 17, in the railway station at St. John, N. B.
 Inspector J. J. Merryfield said that on Nov. 17, about 9.30 p. m., in consequence of information received, he went to the Union station and after talking to C. N. R. Policeman George H. Pierce, they went to the Halifax train which was then standing in the train shed preparatory to leaving for Halifax. They went to the Pullman conductor and after a conversation with him he and the policeman went into the Pullman car Nashua and in section A found a parcel containing five one gallon cans of alcohol; on a seat in the drawing room they found a suit case which they said was exceptionally heavy. The inspector said he told the policeman to watch the stuff and he would wait outside. Going into the car again after waiting outside some time, he said, they took the liquor out of the drawing room, when they met Webber coming in, but on seeing the officers he began to back out but the inspector said to him, "All right, come on in." In company with Webber, he said, was Morris Kominsky. The inspector then asked the defendant, "How about this?" referring to the parcel, and the defendant answered, "I do not know anything about it. Some one must have put it there while I was away." Turning to the suit case the inspector said, "What about this?" But the defendant said he did not know anything about it. The inspector said he then asked the defendant for his key, but he said "I have no key." The inspector said, "Isn't your name Webber?" and he said, "Yes," and to this the inspector said, "Then this grip must be yours; it has your name on it," he said "No, my name is Williams." Turning to Kominsky he took three keys from him and with one of them opened the grip, which contained five one gallon cans of alcohol. He then said to the defendant, "Now, tell me who owns the liquor or I will have to lock the both of you up," but both men denied ownership. He then took them off the train and into the station and there the defendant said, "O! let me go to Halifax," and the inspector said, "Tell me who owns the liquor first," and he said, "I do not think you know who I am. I know Judge Ritchie and I have a business here; let me go and everything will be all right." To this the inspector said, "Nothing doing; tell me who owns the liquor." The defendant said, "Come, we can fix this all right," and in answer the inspector said, "What do you mean?" and he said, "Just as you like." The defendant, the inspector said, had a handbag in his possession which contained a glass and a bottle marked "sloe gin."
 In company with C. N. R. Policeman Pierce, he said, the defendant and Maurice Kominsky they went to the police station and in consequence of a conversation with Kominsky the inspector laid a charge against the defendant and got him in charge of the night deskman. He allowed Kominsky to go home providing he would appear in court next morning. He said the defendant wanted the inspector to allow him out on bail but he told him he had no authority to do that. The defendant then said, "Call up Judge Ritchie." To this the magistrate said, "You knew better than to get me out of my bed at that hour."
 The inspector said the next morning when he came to the police station the defendant had been released on a deposit of $200 to appear before the court that morning, which he did not do.
 C. N. R. Policeman George H. Pierce gave corroborative evidence. In addition the policeman said he did not hear the defendant ask to telephone to Premier Foster. The case was postponed until Friday morning at 11 o'clock. W. M. Ryan appeared for the prosecution while E. S. Ritchie appeared for the defence.
Stearns Case.
 In the case against W. B. Stearns, charged with forgery, yesterday afternoon, the accused pleaded guilty and consented to the jurisdiction of the police court. The magistrate remanded him to jail and the sentence will be promulgated later. W. R. Scott appeared for the prosecution, while J. Starr Tait was for the defendant.
 Four men, charged with drunkenness, pleaded guilty and were fined $8 each or two months. Two prisoners on drunkenness charges, were allowed out on deposits of $44 each last night.

Tells "Y" Convention Strong Forces Are Seeking Pre-war Conditions

No Central Control—Conference Votes Down The Narrowing of Administrative Powers

Attempts to decentralize control of the M. C. A. met with overwhelming defeat at the Fortieth International Convention of the organization held last week in Detroit.

The showdown came on the question of the constitution of so-called regional committees, into whose hands it is proposed by the committee on the occupation of the field to place some of the work of planning and administration heretofore done by the international committee in New York. The delegates professed concern lest these committees be hand-picked by those in control of the international committee, and proposed various amendments designed to place the power of selecting their own representatives in the hands of the regional organization.

Just a cup of MORSE'S for you and me mother

MORSE'S TEA—always the favorite

The report of the committee on prayer was submitted and passed without question or amendment. President Brown of Vanderbilt University made an address in which he appealed to "Y" workers to pledge themselves to make the 1,000,000 young men under their direction praying agencies for the Kingdom of God.

Mr. Rowell Speaks.
Hon. N. W. Rowell, K. C., president of the Privy Council of Canada, speaking on "Clean Living and Its Influence," asserted that "no nation can go out to the other nations of the world as a Christian leader until it establishes social justice within its own boundaries."

"We have not achieved social justice," said Mr. Rowell. "We have not succeeded in amplifying the ideal of human brotherhood sufficiently to entitle us to be spiritual leaders. I think quite probably there will be some funerals in both your country and mine before we accomplish that."

Hindering Forces.

"We overlook the fact, when we meet here and talk about a new day and a new world, that powerful forces are seeking to hold us down and bring us back to pre-war conditions. Unless the young manhood of Canada and the United States, catching a vision of a new and better day, back their visions with action there is a danger of a return to conditions which preceded the war."

"If I were asked to describe conditions in certain sections of Europe and some sections of Asia, I would say the populations today of these districts are in somewhat the condition of the man who went down from Jerusalem to Jericho and fell among thieves. By putting our weight and our influence against armaments, against the revival of militarism, against these curses that would align young men of our nations one against the other, this continent has it in its power to make a great contribution to a solution of the world's problems."

Can Create New World.

"We still have those powers at work which would like to return to pre-war conditions and which favor the exploitation of the masses for benefit of a few. We can go back to that or we can, out of all the strife and the suffering, create a new world, a better civilization, a new social order where a man shall have a better chance of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

"So far as this continent is concerned whether we shall go back to the old or march forward to the new largely depends upon the men I see before me and countless thousands on this continent whom they influence by their voices, actions and example."

INCREASE IN CRIME

Statistics Show 120,000 Conviction in 1918—Small Percentage of Women

Ottawa, Nov. 24—A considerable increase in crime throughout the Dominion is shown by the blue book dealing with criminal statistics for the year 1918. According to the returns there were during the year 21,747 charges and 17,370 convictions for indictable offenses in the several provinces, as compared with 19,559 charges and 15,559 convictions the year before. The percentage of acquittals ran from twelve per cent. in Prince Edward Island to over twenty-seven per cent. in Nova Scotia.

The number of convictions increased during the year in all the provinces except Alberta, British Columbia and the Yukon. The higher increases were in Ontario, Quebec, Manitoba and Nova Scotia, and the larger increase in British Columbia.

The number of summary convictions jumped from 98,452 in 1917, to 105,199 in 1918. Of these less than eight per cent. were women offenders. Eighty-two per cent. of the number of persons convicted of minor offences were fined; three per cent. were sentenced to imprisonment without option of a fine, and fifteen per cent. were allowed to go on suspended sentence. Of the minor offenders 21,026 were convicted for drunkenness as against 27,882 during the previous year. Drunkenness decreased by nearly twenty-five per cent. in Canada during the year, increases being confined to the Provinces of Manitoba and Alberta. In the last named province, convictions numbered 825, as compared with 891 the previous year, while in Manitoba, convictions grew from 1,085 to 1,123, an increase of three and one-half per cent.

The beneficial effect of war-time prohibition is demonstrated by a table showing that for the war period 1914-1918 there was a decline of 65 per cent. in the number of convictions for drunkenness. The percentage decrease by provinces was as follows: Prince Edward Island, 72; Nova Scotia, 89; New Brunswick, 69; Quebec, 48; Ontario, 55; Manitoba, 82; Saskatchewan, 78; Alberta, 85; British Columbia, 92; Yukon, 69.

HASN'T FELT SO WELL IN 30 YEARS

Provincial Constable McKinnon Says He is as Full of Life and Energy as a Two-Year-Old.

Most everybody in Nova Scotia either knows or has heard of M. A. McKinnon of 50 Falkland street, Halifax. Mr. McKinnon has lived in Halifax county for thirty years, and more or less one time chief of police of Lunenburg and has been provincial constable for the past twelve years.

Mr. McKinnon called at Kinley's drug store in Halifax, recently, and made a statement regarding the benefits he has derived from the use of Tanlac that will be of interest throughout the province. Here is what he said: "Well, I have been taking your Tanlac now for about four weeks, have just finished my third bottle, and I don't believe I have felt so well in thirty years. I have not only gotten rid of a case of stomach trouble that made life miserable for me for a long time, but I have recently gained ten pounds in weight. Tanlac is the only medicine I have found that does what they say it will and I am glad to make a statement to be used in letting your name about it. "I lost my appetite two years ago and even a little piece of toast and a cup of tea, which was all I could eat for breakfast, disagreed with me. In fact I could not eat anything at any time, no matter how light, without suffering from indigestion. There was a feeling in the pit of my stomach like a heavy lump. I would float up with sour gas until I would simply have to fight for breath and was drawn almost double at times with cramping pains. I was simply in misery for hours after every meal. I was also habitually constipated and had the worst kind of headaches most every day, especially in the mornings. I could never sleep well at night on account of the gas and pain in my stomach and would get up in the morning feeling tired and sluggish and with no energy. Well, it just seemed now that I can hardly get anything a man with a bad stomach could have.

"I was losing weight continually. Why, just before I began taking Tanlac I had one of my suits altered because I had fallen off until it was too large for me, but I guess I made a mistake, for at the rate I'm now gaining I'll soon get all my lost weight back. I had read and heard enough about Tanlac to convince me that it was good, but I had no idea it was so fine until I began taking it. There's no doubt in my mind now but what it is the greatest medicine ever sold in a drug store for any sort of stomach trouble. My appetite is so good now that I can hardly get enough to eat and my stomach is in such a good condition that I can eat just anything put on the table and never feel a sign of indigestion. All that sourness, gas, pains and shortness of breath is entirely gone. I sleep soundly at night and get up mornings feeling thoroughly rested and as full of life and energy as a two-year-old. There is no getting away from the fact that Tanlac is what brought about this wonderful change and I can't recommend it too highly. Tanlac is sold in St. John by Ross Drug Company and F. W. Munro under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative. (Advt.)

London, Eng., Nov. 25.—Mention was made the other day that diamonds and rubies are the favorite precious stones of Queen Alexandra. In this connection it is interesting to add that the Queen prefers emeralds to all other stones. Diamonds are her favorite stones after emeralds, and she has a wonderful collection of both. Princess Mary and Princess Arthur of Connaught prefer pearls. Many years ago, when Queen Victoria was asked which stone she liked best, she contented herself with the reply: "All precious stones are beautiful." The late King Edward was an expert judge of all precious stones.

HON. DR. TOLMIE

New Minister of Agriculture's Vocation Fits Position

"A STRONG SILENT MAN"

A Breeder And Judge of Live Stock—His Appointment to Cabinet Position Pleases Live Stock Men

(Times' Special Correspondence.)

Ottawa, Nov. 24.—Sitting up in the press gallery one can sometimes see cabinet ministers leave in sight a long time before they arrive at the full dignity of a cabinet position. In the average parliament the outstanding men of cabinet calibre are surprisingly few. The present house is probably a self-selected one, although some of the old journalistic dogs say it is the worst ever. Anyway, it is a fact that the visible supply of coming ministers is small.

The members in the house now who are considered to be cabinet possibilities may be divided into two broad general classes: those who are obviously working for a cabinet office and believe that "by their much speaking they shall be heard" and the "strong, silent men" who wait with apparent indifference as to whether the lightning may strike them or not.

Among the latter one would be inclined to place Dr. Tolmie—Hon. Simon Fraser Tolmie—who was appointed minister of agriculture last August, but who has not yet resumed his seat in the house as minister because the house adjourned very soon after his election. We should have to place him among the "strong silent men" because he rarely opened his mouth in debate. A big, broad-shouldered, self-possessed-looking Scot, ruddy faced and ruddy haired, he had little to say for himself, unless the debate turned on agricultural or cattle-breeding subjects, but he had the reputation of being a "solid" man, and there was no doubt that he knew a great deal about cattle and agriculture generally. So as soon as Creer began exhibiting signs of restlessness, months before he resigned, the gallery picked Tolmie as his successor, and, sure enough, it was Tolmie who landed the office.

It may seem a somewhat eccentric thing for a government to appoint a farmer to the position of minister of agriculture, particularly when we consider that the minister of railways is a doctor, the minister of mines a horticulturist; the minister of trade and commerce a well, what is the minister of trade and commerce by profession? Up to 1889 when he entered politics, I believe Sir George was a school teacher; since that he has had no other profession than politics. At all events, in this case of Dr. Tolmie he is a veterinary surgeon—the man seemed by training to be suited to the office. In such a highly specialized department as that of agriculture, particularly with the farmers looming up so strongly as a coming political force, the appointment of Dr. Tolmie seemed an unusually wise one.

Canada's new minister of agriculture was born on his father's farm near Victoria, B. C. The "Simon Fraser" in his name came from the hardy old Scotch pioneer who explored and gave his name to the Fraser River. Dr. Tolmie's father was one of that hardy race of Scotch pioneers who were connected with the Hudson Bay Company. He came around the Horn to the Pacific coast in 1839, and he also was a doctor, having practised as a surgeon before linking up his fortune with the company as a factor. He established the company's post in Victoria, and was therefore the founder of that city which his son now represents in parliament. Considering his history, therefore, it would have been a peculiarly ungrateful thing if Victoria had turned him down.

Our new minister of agriculture was born on his father's farm near Victoria in 1867. It is a big farm, and the fact that it escaped sub-division during the real estate boom would indicate that Dr. Tolmie has a real love for his calling. After leaving school, Dr. Tolmie spent seven years. He then attended the Ontario Veterinary College to learn the scientific end of the live stock business. Following that, he made a trip to Kentucky to buy standard bred horses for the Tolmie farm, and also took to Ontario, picking up shorthorn cattle and Leicestershire sheep. Then he returned and settled down. The Tolmie farm is a big one of 1,200 acres and fruit raising, as well as cattle and general farming is carried on very extensively.

For some years thereafter the country made frequent calls on his services. He was appointed veterinary inspector, lecturer to the farmers' institutes and live stock demonstrator by the government of British Columbia. When he resigned in 1917 to contest Victoria as a Unionist he was chief of the health of animals branch for the province of British Columbia, and the representative for the province of the federal live stock commissioner. He went to parliament with a majority of about 9,000 behind him.

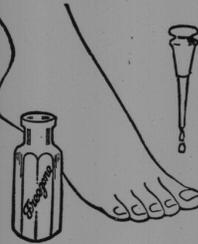

His reputation as a breeder and judge of live stock was such that he was called on to act as judge at some of the greatest fairs in North America, from Winnipeg to the state of Washington. All his life he has been a familiar figure at exhibitions either as exhibitor, official or judge. The farming and stock-breeding tradition of "Beechfoot Farm" is being carried on by his thirteen-year-old son, who recently carried off a bunch of ribbons at the noted stock show at Dunsmuir, B. C. The farm at Beechfoot is being well carried on. One extraordinary thing in the annuals of that farm should not be overlooked. There are 1,200 hens on it and they lay eggs!

As president of the Dominion Holstein Breeder's Association he put through an arrangement of great advantage to Canadian stock breeders when he effected an arrangement with the American Holstein-Friesian Breeder's Association whereby pure-bred animals shipped from Canada to the United States or vice versa could be registered in the country where they were desired at a nominal figure. Previously this had cost about $75 and no end of trouble. He is at present president of the Canadian National Live Stock Council, representing all the live stock associations of Canada.

Both east and west live stock men and farmers have hailed his appointment with satisfaction. Since his appointment he has visited different parts of the Dominion seeing and talking to the farmers and doing some public speaking, which he does with sufficient facility. He has urged mixed farming, laying a good deal of emphasis on the importance of the

LIFT OFF CORNS!

Apply few drops then lift sore, touchy corns off with fingers

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little Freezone on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then you lift it right out. Yes, magic! A tiny bottle of Freezone costs but a few cents at any drug store, but is sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation. Freezone is the sensational discovery of a Cincinnati genius. It is wonderful.

stock, naturally. He urged the importance of the market across the seas as well as in the United States, for Canadian farm products; and told his hearers not to neglect the big inter-provincial trade. He proposed to procure the best men available to represent us in London and look after the marketing of our farm products there. In Saskatchewan he told the farmers not to forget that the fittest horses raised in this country are the haughtiest, and needed live stock to maintain it. In Alberta he spoke of the importance of finding a market for the light horses, raised in our end of maintaining quality in beef cattle. He has still to be tried out in the handling of his big department and as a minister in the United States, but his success as an administrator will be remains to be seen; but that he knows his subject is undoubted.

Appendicitis Prevented Life Lengthened Health Maintained

Thousands Finding Wonderful Benefit in a Simple Home Remedy That Costs But a Quarter

Doctors say if people kept their bowels in proper order there would be no cases of appendicitis. It is due solely to neglect, and is therefore preventable. If you have constipation, bad breath or headache you need medicine right away. The moment you suspect your bowels are clogged you should take Dr. Hamilton's Pills, the smoothest regulator of them all. They move the bowels and cleanse the liver so smoothly you scarcely notice the effect. But you can get the action just the same. Taken at night you wake up next morning, clear-headed, hungry, rested, energetic, feeling like a different man. Why don't you spend a quarter today and try Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They work so easy, just as nature would order, never gripe or cause headache. Finest thing for folks that are out of sorts, depressed, lacking in color and spirits. Folks that use Dr. Hamilton's Pills are never sick, never on sick or a pain feel good all the time simply because their system is clean, regulated and healthy. This you can easily prove yourself.

SUGAR AMONG TREASURES.

Danville, Ill., Nov. 25.—Searchers in the "House of Mystery" at Hoopston, where the aged recluse, Mrs. Sabina Cummings, was found murdered recently, found two pots of money buried in the back yard containing $7,500. A half barrel of sugar was found secreted under the kitchen floor. More than $2,000 in $20 bills was found spread under the carpet of the parlor floor. There was $1,800 found sewed in the clothing of the woman when her body was found.

TRY IT AND SEE.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 25.—"How long can a man hold a drink of brandy in his mouth without swallowing it?" was the question raised in a liquor hearing before United States Commissioner Manley.

Agents Tevas and Snyder, of the Department of Justice bureau here, testified that they each bought a drink of brandy over the bar at a saloon at 116 South Fifteenth street. They put the liquor in their mouths, they said, and $1 for the two drinks, walked out the street without swallowing a drop. There they each placed the dram in a bottle. The bottles were offered in evidence at the hearing.

Court officials agreed that the Department of Justice agents had manifested remarkable self-control.

HEN HATCHES BROOD IN TREE.

Connellsville, Nov. 25.—How a large Plymouth Rock hen not only laid eggs in a nest in a tree, but hatched a brood there as well is the story John Moreland of Dunbar township tells. The hen, according to the owner, chose a hollow place in the fork of a great willow, seven feet above the ground, by a spring back of the Moreland home, for her nest.

Unknown to the owner, she laid a dozen eggs there and last Sunday morning, when the temperature here dropped to 28 degrees, eleven little chicks were brought forth out of the twelve eggs. Hen and chicks were transferred to more commodious quarters, and are "doing nicely."

MISSION OF WAR TRADE BOARD HAS BEEN FULFILLED

Balance Sheet Shows Margin on Right Side

BORN OF A CRISIS

Checked Profiteering in War Material And Executed Much Work of International Importance; Government Advance More Than Sufficient

Ottawa, Nov. 24—Now that the time has come for the dissolution of the War Trade Board of Canada, the winding up of its affairs discloses the fact that in supervising, controlling and aiding Canadian industrial effort from the time of its appointment in February, 1918, the board was able to do service of international importance and magnitude at a profit to the country.

The Canadian War Trade Board was born of a crisis. Until the United States entered the war Canada had been able to obtain raw materials and half-finished products necessary in the munitions industry without difficulty from her southern neighbor.

Drastic elimination of non-essentials had to be the first order of the day so that the railroads of the continent and the shipping of the world would be able to devote all their power and space to carrying necessities and to keeping the Allied war effort up to the hundred per cent.

Every day from all over Canada there came anxious men and constant streams of letters and telegrams informing the board as to stocks of raw materials on hand, and explaining the needs. The War Trade Board's duty was to see that the materials were forthcoming, if possible, and to take whatever measures were necessary to secure essential raw materials whether from Canada or the United States, or elsewhere.

Wash Poisons and Toxins From System Before Putting Food Into Stomach

Wash yourself on the inside before breakfast like you do on the outside.

For every ounce of food taken into the stomach, nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out of the body.

A splendid health measure is to drink, before breakfast each day, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless way to wash these poisons from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.

INQUEST INTO DEATH OF JOHN J. McNEELEY

Jury Found Every Precaution Had Been Taken by Physician And Dentist And No Blame is Attached to Them

"We, the jury empaneled to inquire into where, and by what means John J. McNeely met his death, do find that the said John J. McNeely died in the office of Dr. Fenwick C. Bonnell, German street, in the city of St. John, county of St. John, on November 22, 1919, while having an anesthetic administered by registered physician of the province and upon investigation find that every precaution was taken by the physician and dentist, whose office the operation was held, and no blame is attached to them."

"We have no recommendations to make regarding anesthetics administered in the province of the medical profession to decide. We would recommend that a suitable jury room be provided by those in charge where coroners' juries can meet, in West St. John, (Sed.) J. Firth Brittain, foreman; J. Frank Owens, W. L. McDiarmid, foreman; Bales, Harry McLeod, E. P. Scully, and Fred Belyca.

This is the verdict handed to Coroner Kenney last night following the investigation into the sudden death of John J. McNeely on Saturday last, when the latter was undergoing a dental surgical operation in the office of Dr. F. C. Bonnell, German street.

Evidence was given by Mrs. McNeely, widow of the deceased, who described the circumstances in connection with her husband seeking dental service and his condition of health at the time the operation was performed. Her husband did not know that there was any danger in connection with the operation, she thought. Previous to this operation Mr. McNeely had had an anesthetic administered at different times, as he had undergone operations for throat and nose trouble.

Dr. Fenwick C. Bonnell said that he had been practicing dentistry for fourteen years and in that time had averaged about 250 cases each year that required anesthetics. He considered one of the safest anesthetics, and while chloroform is not so safe, the deaths from its use would not go higher than one to one hundred thousand cases as a general average. He described the condition of Mr. McNeely's teeth when the man called to see him on Friday. All the time the man was in his office he was very nervous. After the man had calmed down, an appointment was made for the following morning and he was the patient not to eat any food that morning.

Shortly after nine o'clock Saturday morning the witness heard the door of his office and was shortly joined by Dr. Kelly, the McNeely family physician. Mr. McNeely was very frightened. Dr. Kelly administered the chloroform, giving it drop by drop later when the patient showed signs of consciousness he dropped into a coma he was muttering all the time some remarks about his regular work. The witness said that he administered the patient stopped breathing and both Dr. Kelly and the witness took turns in trying to revive the patient. The witness said that he administered the patient stopped breathing and both Dr. Kelly and the witness took turns in trying to revive the patient. The witness said that he administered the patient stopped breathing and both Dr. Kelly and the witness took turns in trying to revive the patient.

Dr. George O. Baxter, union street, said that when he went into Dr. Bonnell's office in response to a call from Dr. Kelly, he found the patient dead and as far as he could judge, had died from shock. Dr. Kelly was in the office at the time the patient died. He had often administered chloroform and knew that more people die from the effects of that opiate than from ether. No matter what the cause of the death may be, it may occur in some cases. When he had entered the office both Dr. Bonnell and Dr. Kelly were tired out with their efforts to resuscitate the patient. In answer to Dr. Kelly the witness said that if he had been in attendance on the case he would have administered chloroform. The same was had been used.

Dr. Harry Louis Abramson, dominion pathologist, submitted autopsy examination of the body of the deceased. He showed that the heart of the patient was enlarged and enclosed with a fatty tissue fully a half inch thick; the spleen was enlarged and the kidneys were slightly diseased. The heart trouble he would characterize as chronic. He did not say the death was caused by the administering of anesthetics, nor could he say that heart failure was the cause. There was a possibility of death by fright.

Dr. G. M. Kelly said the deceased man had been a patient of his for several years. The man had been a sufferer from heart trouble. He had administered the chloroform drop by drop, taking fifty twenty minutes to get the patient under. He had administered the chloroform drop by drop, taking fifty twenty minutes to get the patient under. He had administered the chloroform drop by drop, taking fifty twenty minutes to get the patient under.

At the conclusion of the evidence Dr. Kenney charged the jury which after some consideration returned the verdict as above.

The inquest was held in the City Hall, West St. John.

NEWS NOTES ABOUT PROMINENT BAPTIST

(Maritime Baptist.)

Dr. Perry J. Stackhouse of the Tabernacle Baptist church of Utica, N. Y., spent a few days in this city last week, visiting his parents and many friends.

W. W. Tufts, son of Professor Tufts of Acadia, has been appointed by the civil service commission to the position of game officer in charge of migratory bird convention act in the maritime provinces.

Many maritime people will be interested in a wedding which took place at the Newton Centre, Mass., on Oct. 16. The contracting parties were Miss Gertrude Burditt, formerly of Middleton, N. S., and Dr. Arthur Gordon Boggs, son of the late reverend Dr. W. B. Boggs of India.

Two brothers, Rev. W. E. Boggs and Rev. A. M. Boggs, are missionaries in India.

A news note in one of our exchanges brings the information that Rev. N. A. Harkness has accepted a call to the Killisnoo Baptist church, Vancouver. The previous pastor of that church was Rev. H. R. McGill, a New Brunswick, who went west after completing his theological course at Rochester.

Rev. P. C. Reed left last week for Regina, where he has accepted a position with the Y. M. C. A. Since his resignation from the Hantsport church soon after the beginning of the war he has been continuously in the military Y. M. C. A. work, spending much of the time in transport service.

The many friends of Rev. J. A. Gordon, D. D., who for many years was a pastor in the maritime provinces, will be glad to know that he is gradually regaining from his very serious illness.

Rev. Arthur C. Archibald resigned the pastorate of the First church, Lowell, Mass., on Nov. 14, to accept a call of the Baptist church in Brookline, Mass., in succession to Dr. O. P. Gifford.

The church at Summerside is to be heartily congratulated upon securing pastor Rev. A. K. Herman of Dartmouth. At Vimy Ridge he was severely wounded, the wound later necessitating the amputation of the injured limb. He began his ministry at Summerside last Sunday.

DR. F. E. SMITH HEADS HAMPTON CURLING CLUB

Large Membership on The Roll—Other Officers And Committees

The Hampton Curling Club held their annual meeting last night in the Court House at Hampton and a large number of members were present. M. H. Parlee was in the chair. The election of officers resulted as follows:—Dr. F. E. Smith, president; B. Z. Fleming, vice-president; R. H. Smith, secretary-treasurer; H. L. Worden, W. Bovard, and J. Ross, managing committee; M. Conway, Charles Coster and W. S. Wilkinson, match committee; G. M. Wilson, A. F. Keirstead and C. T. Wetmore, entertainment committee; and M. H. Parlee, auditor. The club is thoroughly organized and the roll of members this year is exceedingly large, which promises a most successful season. It is expected that several matches will be played with outside teams as well as the home contests for various cups.

A "RAFFLES" IN THE FOOTBALL CROWD? Reports of Theft of Jewels Said to be Worth $4,000

Boston, Nov. 25.—The police are convinced that a "Raffles" was working in the crowd which collected at the Caspary-Plaza Hotel on Friday and Saturday night here to attend the Harvard-Yale game, from reports of two jewelry robberies which netted the thief close to $4,000, according to the data which has become known so far.

It is said that Mrs. Grace L. Wells of 36 Lime street, Beacon Hill, who was in the ballroom of the hotel on Friday night, was robbed of a platinum bar pin set with diamonds, which she values at $2,000.

The other victim, whose identity has become known, is Mrs. Constance Bellamy of 547 East 7th street, New York City, who was here to attend the game. She left Boston on the midnight train Saturday and up to a late hour last night the police had not recovered the jewelry nor the suspect in the case, although his picture is in the "Rogue's Gallery" and he is well known to the police.

It is said he is the man discovered in a hallway of the hotel earlier in the week and who escaped when it appeared he was trapped by an assistant manager and the house detective. At that time he drew a revolver and fired a shot, and managed to get away, though private detectives were around the hotel.

He is reported to be one of the school of criminals who dress in a manner that enables himself to mix with crowds in the best hotels without attracting unusual attention; in fact the "Raffles" of fiction.

"Duke" Kahanamoku Severely Criticized World's Champion Swimmer Refuses to Compete With American Stars.

Victoria, Nov. 23.—"Duke" Kahanamoku, the world's champion swimmer, is decidedly in wrong with the Honolulu sportsmen over his refusal to compete against Norman Ross, "Stubby" Kruger and George and Frances Crowell-Schroth. The Pacific Commercial Advertiser, published at Honolulu, says in part:

"Faced with the stiffest competition in the world in a swimming meet which has attracted attention wherever swimming is popular, he has refused to enter the fall swimming meet, after Norman Ross, 'Stubby' Kruger, George and Frances Crowell-Schroth have been selected to represent the Hawaiian Islands. It is in fact a cruel blow to one of the finest aquatic carnivals held in the islands.

Among All the Demons of Hell there is none more Fiendish than Jealousy

The Universally Popular Favorite

ALICE JOYCE in "THE VENGEANCE OF DURAND"

7—Reels—7 Adapted From REX BEACH'S Powerful Story by Mr. and Mrs. George Randolph Chester

Jealousy Knows No Reason. It is Blind to the Eyes of the Tortured.

Henri Durand failed to realize that he was wrecking his own happiness and bringing destruction upon those he loved because of his insane cravings.

He planned a vengeance that was retroactive and fell upon his own head.

Moving in a circle of polished, clever society, Marion is constantly meeting dashing, attractive men.

Durand's excessive love rents these meetings and he contrives a dramatic revenge.

The vengeance of Durand is the story of a vast love, vaster vengeance, and in the end supreme happiness. For destiny heals all wounds.

The vengeance of Durand on which the story is founded is one of Rex Beach's greatest, and the picture is the most impressive in which Alice Joyce has ever appeared.

New York, Nov. 23.—By the time the Olympic games approach it is not known how many sprinters capable of doing "seven times" for the hundred yards or hundred metres will have been developed. A new aspirant to a place among the foremost of flyers is an Australian, R. R. Burgess, a newcomer at sprinting. At the Queensland track and field championships Burgess did the hundred yards in 9 3-10 seconds, and won with such ease that oldtime athletes predict he will be the next man to be chronicled in 9 3-5 seconds. Burgess is a tall fellow with wonderful stride and like lightning off his marks.

Canadian Tuffman Building New Track. Laurel, Md., Nov. 23.—Commander J. K. L. Ross, the multi-millionaire of Montreal, Canada, who owns one of the finest racing stables in Canada, and the United States, is supervising the construction of his new private race track and barns, located on the Baltimore and Washington Boulevard in Howard County, about two miles from Laurel. He also owns a large farm, where his trainer, H. G. Bedwell, lives and which is or three months at least.

Sidelights On Sport

Sam Langford has got himself in bad again by stalling and attempting to hoodwink the fans. There should be no sympathy shown to men who attempt to injure sport. If they refuse to do the right thing they should be permanently barred from the ring, wrestling mat or any other line. Stringent rules should be made to protect the public.

Bowling and basketball are the only two lines of sport which are booming in St. John this fall. The former game is never more popular than it is this year and from the present outlook will continue to hold interest until the spring. The game is also receiving a great impetus throughout the province and the next Brunswick-Balke-Collender trophy tournament should be one of the best ever held in these parts.

Although the winter is rapidly approaching there is no movement on foot to erect a skating rink where hockey one of the finest, in this section. The track being constructed is located about a mile away. A spur of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad runs from Savage Station to the Savage Manufacturing Cotton Duck Mills, and passes alongside the new course. The track will be used for the training of the large stable of horses under Trainer Bedwell. Commander Ross is living in his private car of the Canadian Pacific Railroad while here.

ARREST IN DANSEY CASE EXPECTED SOON

Coroner Believes Boy Was Strangled

Body of Child Missing Six Weeks Was Found in a Swamp Near His Home.

THE STORY OF BILLY DANSEY

Two and one-half year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Hercules Dansey, of Hammon, N. J.

Disappeared from flower garden back of home on October 8.

Search of six weeks carried to every part of United States.

Anonymous letter from kidnappers said he was taken by mistake for a playmate, the son of a wealthy neighbor.

Was prize winner in baby contest. Had light hair and large brown eyes.

At the time of his disappearance was dressed in blue rompers, brown sweater, and had a baseball cap—treasured possession—on his head.

The clothes were found scattered about Folsom swamp, where his body was discovered yesterday, by George Eckhardt, a hunter, three miles from his home.

The coroner believes he was strangled.

(N. Y. Evening Post.) Hammon, N. J., Nov. 22—An arrest is expected soon in the case of three-year-old Billy Dansey, whose corpse was found yesterday by a hunter in a swamp two miles from the Dansey home.

After detectives had searched the nation for six weeks in an attempt to trace the kidnappers, Atlantic County authorities began work today on a theory which they expect to solve the mystery of the baby's disappearance and death.

Edmund C. Gaskill, Jr., prosecutor for the county, Coroner Cunningham and other officials expressed the belief that the child was lured to the swamp and attacked by a degenerate. After examining the body, which it was impossible to identify after its long exposure, except by the clothing, which Hercules Dansey, the father, recognized, the coroner said he found no bones broken. He believes the boy was strangled. Practically the whole detective force of the county is at work on the case.

Mrs. Dansey, who only a few days ago expressed the hope of seeing her son still alive soon, collapsed when told of the discovery. She had never ceased to expect the boy's return, and every day she was waiting for him to come back to his room and his toys.

George Eckhardt, a friend and neighbor of the Dansey family, was hunting rabbits in the scrub pine of Folsom Swamp, two miles from here, yesterday and was on the point of returning when he heard his dogs begin to bark eagerly in the centre of the brush.

Pushing through the bushes toward the dogs in cry, he stumbled on the corpse. The body had been stripped. Clothing was scattered among the brown leaves and twigs, and the sweater which the child's mother put on him the last time he went out to play, was fifty feet away.

About five feet from the sweater lay Billy Dansey's most treasured possession—his baseball cap. Near the body were the blue rompers in which he was last seen six weeks ago running through the bright dahlia field near his father's house. Shoes, stockings, and other pieces of clothing were near by.

Eckhardt, the hunter, immediately thought the body to be that of the lost boy. He hurried back to Hammon, and with Dr. Charles Cunningham, coroner, returned to the swamp. Charles White, who had led the searching parties through the woods, identified the clothing yesterday. Mr. White's boy was Billy Dansey's playmate, and anonymous letters received by Mr. Gaskill have stated that Billy Dansey was kidnapped by mistake for Mr. White's child, whose father is wealthy.

"Everything points toward the most fendish work of some degenerate," said the coroner. "The child could not have gone over several farms and into the woods without being seen by many people. I am convinced that he was taken to the spot from some other direction after being lured into the dahlia field to the east of the Dansey farm.

Mr. Gaskill said that "it will be hard matter to secure clues because the time that has elapsed since the murder. We shall use every available means to bring about the capture of the fiend."

Billy Dansey has been missing since October 8. That morning his mother told him to run out into the yard and play. Looking out a little later, she did not see him. Thinking he had wandered off for a short time, she called him and went back into the house. At dinner time he did not come back. None of the neighbors had seen him. Crowds took up the search, possessed with lanterns scoured the swamps. Airplanes aided and detectives searched trains throughout the country.

Rumors were current, and numerous reports were received from distant points of a child resembling the lost boy. The mother all the time believed the boy was alive and confidently awaited his return. Rewards amounting in all to $2,500 had been offered for the recovery of the child and the arrest of his abductors.

Found Dead on Tracks. Toronto, Nov. 25—Badly mangled, the body of Malcolm McKay was found on the C. P. R. tracks just east of Sherbourne street by H. Roberts, a night-watchman in the city yards. McKay's body was found lying under a freight car. He had evidently been run over some time Saturday night.

McKay was a widower and worked for the Canadian Transfer Company. According to his daughter, he left his house at about 8 o'clock on Saturday night to go to the Union Station where he intended to look after the loading of some theatrical property bound out of town.

Crews of the switching engines working in the yards say that they did not see anyone on the tracks, but it is likely that McKay was struck while walking toward the Union Station.

Chicago, Nov. 24—The Illinois State Bank of Crete, Ill., today failed to open and it was announced a warrant, charging embezzlement, had been issued for the missing cashier, Gust Kracke, in connection with a shortage estimated at $400,000.

The bank was capitalized at $25,000 and had known assets of approximately $800,000. "The vault door and the janitor are left—that's about all," said a state bank examiner after the books, including a duplicate set in a vault to which none but Kracke was said to have access, had been found.

Speculation was flamed for Kracke's alleged shortage. When the bank examiners went to Crete yesterday to examine the institution, Kracke, according to the examiners, received them and turned over his books and keys and unlocked the vault. "I'm going across the street a minute—just make yourselves at home," he told them. An hour later the examiners found they were locked in the building and that Kracke had driven away in his automobile. He has not been heard from since, so far as is known.

TREASURE DANCING SHOE. Paris, France, Nov. 25—There is an American lady in Paris who is carefully preserving a dancing shoe which is very much scratched. She wore it when dancing with General Pershing, who is a better soldier than he is a fox-trotter. "The honor of dancing with a general makes up for having your toes stepped on," she says.
