EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS FRIGHTEN FRANCE

Eight Persons Killed When Houses Collapsed

Violence Greatest Near Toulon Wharf Warships Were Torn From Moorings

—Two Separable Shocks.

MARSEILLES, June 12.—Two earth shocks running from northwest to southeast were felt through the Riviera between 9 and 11 o'clock to-night. While the damage done here was not great, reports from smaller cities show that the effects of the second shock were serious. At Lambone, a town of 2,500 inhabitants, twelve miles northwest of Aix, several houses collapsed and eight persons are reported to have been killed. Several buildings also fell at Euglines. The observatories report that the disturbances were very grave. Reports received later in the night indicated that the shocks had been felt peacefully throughout the whole of the south of France, and that they equaled in severity the earthquake of 1884. The violence of the shock appeared to have been greatest in the vicinity of Toulon. Warships in the harbor there were displaced from their moorings. In some places mysterious subterranean rumblings accompanied the shocks.

$35,000 BLAZE IN MONTREAL HARDWARE STORE

James R. Walker Hardware Co., Ltd., the Owners — Covered by Insurance.

MONTREAL, June 12.—A fire which broke out last evening in the basement of the James R. Walker Hardware Company, Ltd. general hardware store on St. James street, did about $35,000 damage before the firemen could get it under control. The loss is fully covered by insurance.

WILL LEAVE JAIL TO DEFEND SUIT

Late Manager of Ontario Bank Seeks to Escape Further Liability.

TORONTO, Ont., June 12.—Among the contributors to the Ontario Bank is Charles McGill, the late general manager, for over a hundred and seventy thousand dollars. He is appealing against being assessed on these shares, and will be released from his confinement in Kingston, probably on the twenty-first instant, to come here to defend the suit. It is said his defence will be that he purchased the shares in trust for the bank.

BRUTAL MURDER OF AN AGED LADY; TRAMP SUSPECTED

TRUMBULL, Conn., June 12.—Mrs. Sarah Dibble, a widow, 81 years old, was brutally murdered yesterday while alone in her home on the Trumbull road, about two miles north of here. Mrs. Dibble lived alone with her son George, who on returning from work failed to find his mother about the house. On making a search he found her body nearly nude in a dark corner of the cellar. The authorities are looking for a tramp who lives in the neighborhood earlier in the day.

RUSSIAN SUBMARINE SINKS AND CREW OF TWENTY MEN PERISH

ST. PETERSBURG, June 12.—The submarine torpedo boat Kamboja, of the Russian navy, has been sunk in a storm in the Black Sea while the boat was undergoing trials. Twenty members of her crew, including the captain, first lieutenant and chief engineer perished. FUNERAL OF REV. D. W. PICKETT The funeral of the late Rev. D. W. Pickett took place yesterday afternoon at Oak Point. The service was held in St. Paul's church and the following clergymen were present: Archdeacon Raymond, Rev. Canon Smithers, Rev. R. A. Armstrong, Rev. A. W. Daniels, Rev. M. Sheven, Rev. H. S. Walcott, and Rev. W. B. Bellis. Interment was in the St. Paul's burial ground.

STILL AFTER ONE 76 MILLIONS.

BOSTON, Mass., June 11.—Former Judge Henry S. Devey today filed a motion for a new trial in the superior court in his case against certain members of the Good Government Association, in which he asked damages for $1,460,000 for alleged libel during his campaign for mayor of this city in 1906.

NORTH SHORE SETTLEMENTS SAVED BY PROVIDENTIAL DOWNPOUR OF RAIN

Flames on Mirimichi Checked and Fire Fighters Given New Hope—Rumor That Two Men May be Burned—Situation in Other Parts Remains Unchanged

CHATHAM, June 12.—The fire situation is much improved today, heavy thunder showers passed over Chatham last night and have done a great deal to stamp out the fire. Reports from Rogersville and St. Margarets state that rain fell in heavy sheets and that there is a good chance now to control the fire. Rain fell just in time to save the settlements and the fire was also getting into the ground the downpour was all the more needed. The report circulated here that two men were burned to death near St. Margarets by the collapse of a burning barn into which they had entered to save the contents, cannot be confirmed, and it appears unlikely to be true. If this is so no human lives have been lost though the damage to forests and camps has been incalculable, and two homes have been wiped out. It is generally thought that the work is now over.

SEVEN ON BOARD WHEN LAUNCH EXPLODED

Narrowly Escaped Death by Burning and Drowning

Girl, Painfully Burned, Saved Two Companions — All Will Recover.

BOSTON, Mass., June 12.—Through the explosion of the 27-foot racing gasoline launch Fies of the North and Park tonight seven young people narrowly escaped death by burning and drowning, two of the occupants receiving serious burns and two others being rescued through the skill and pluck of a sixteen year old girl, also a passenger on the launch. Joseph Romano, aged 17, who is badly burned about the head and arms, is the most seriously hurt, while Philomeno Sirigalo, a 16-year-old girl, who received painful burns about the face, was the heroine of the accident. When the explosion occurred, Philomeno, with the others at once jumped into the water. The flames had burned her face painfully and her clothing was ablaze, but being a good swimmer she thought only of her companions. Near her was Mary Palermo, aged 18, bounding helplessly and swimming up to her, Philomeno held the girl's head above water and swam with her to a near by log, where she left her charges and turned back to an unknown Italian youth called Nick, whom she also assisted to the log. There the three lay until two boys in a rowboat picked them up. The others were rescued by the draw-tenders at the Chatham Bridge. None of the injured are fatally hurt. The launch is a total loss.

40 MILES OF WARSHIPS ALONG RIVER THAMES

Pageant Planned to Follow Manoeuvres

England to Have the Most Magnificent Maritime Display in Her Naval Annals.

LONDON, June 12.—A pageant of unmatched magnificence and a lesson of infinite importance will be presented to the citizens of London toward the close of July. The combined fleets of the Atlantic and the home waters, after manoeuvring in the North Sea, will stream to Southend, and from that watergate of the capital will extend in almost unbroken line to the heart of London. Nearly forty miles of battleships and cruisers, with their multitude of smaller craft, will stretch like a mighty army along the Thames, and the point of the arrow, formed of torpedo boats and destroyers, will lie in the shadow of the Admiralty building. Having gratified the eyes and stimulated the patriotism of journalists from over the seas, the fleet, under Admiral May, will proceed to Margate and give to that popular resort an attraction that should prove irresistible.

POLICE COURT.

Two drunks were fined eight dollars each in the police court this morning. One of them was Charles Diggs who gave as an excuse for his intoxication that was right after the holiday. He said he would take the pledge if let go but his pleas were in vain and he was sent into jail. The next day Diggs was locked up he was allowed to go to the bank and draw the amount of his fine.

Last night the police found a pair of legs on Pitt street and a life belt on Dock street.

Rev. R. C. Armstrong will speak at the Every Day Club tomorrow evening at 8.30 o'clock.

The police report a flow of water coming from under a house owned by Mrs. Mary Corkery, No. 76 Brussels street.

Twenty-two marriages were recorded by Registrar Jones during the past week. There were twelve births, seven of the number being males.

A meeting of Alexandra Temple of Honor is called at their hall, Main St., tonight at 8.30, to make arrangements for attending the funeral of the late Samuel Corbett.

A tramp found lodgings in the Fairville lockup last night. He says he left Sydney about a month ago and walked every step of the way. He started on his journey again this morning and expects to arrive in Montreal in a week.

Albert Palmer was fined $10 in the Fairville Court yesterday afternoon for giving a Pleasant Point youth a slap on the face. The dispute was over the ownership of a deal found floating in the river.

There were eleven deaths during the past week from the following causes: Consumption 3 Hemiplegia 2 Insanition 1 Marasmus 1 Artistic Sclerosis 1 Accidental drowning 1

The officers and members of Court Loyalist, 212, I. O. F., are requested to meet at their rooms on Monday, the 14th, at 8 o'clock to attend the funeral of their late brother, Samuel Corbett. Sister courts are invited to attend.

TODAY'S MOTOR BOAT RACES

Two motor boat contests at Millidgeville this afternoon will mark the opening of the racing season. There will be races for open boats, as well as cruisers. The course to be sailed will begin at the club house wharf at Millidgeville, thence to Sand Point, leaving buoy to port three, thence to Indian Island, leaving the latter to port and finishing after twice round the course at the club house wharf.

STRANGE STORY OF MISSING PASSENGER

Disappeared Mysteriously from Steamer

Search Failed to Reveal Whereabouts—Feared He is Victim of Neapolitan Camorra.

NAPLES, June 12.—On the arrival here today from Genoa of the German Lloyd steamer Berlin it was ascertained that Holland Bennett of Cambridge, Mass., who was travelling with his wife, was missing from the vessel and the belief prevailed among the passengers that he either committed suicide or fell overboard and was drowned.

Mr. Bennett disappeared Thursday night while the steamer was making the run from Genoa to this port, and while his wife was with a number of friends in the saloon. A thorough search of the vessel was made for the missing man and the commander of the steamer swept the sea with a searchlight in a futile effort to find him.

The chief of police questioned a number of passengers concerning Mr. Bennett today, but none of them was able to give an explanation of his disappearance, though several advanced the theory that while leaning against the railing of the saloon he may have fallen overboard.

LONDON, June 11.—Telegraphing from Milan, the correspondent of the Daily Chronicle says it is feared that Mr. Bennett has fallen a victim of the Neapolitan Camorra and been murdered or kidnaped for the sake of his ready cash and jewelry or in revenge for the arrest in Ohio of members of the Black Hand.

Beautifying Citizens' Last Resting Place

New Monument Lately Erected One of the Finest on the Continent—Designed by Local Man.

With the coming of the warm weather Fernhill cemetery has commenced to take on a most beautiful appearance. The last resting place of our citizens has never been in such excellent conditions.

The many family lots have been given special attention and the work of beautifying the spots has been carried on vigorously during the past few weeks.

Superintendent Clayton was working busily at the cemetery yesterday afternoon. The flowers have all been planted and about the middle of July it is expected that everything will be in full bloom.

It may not be realized, but Fernhill has over fifty-two miles of beautiful walks. A number of these are shaded by trees.

Among the many most beautiful monuments the one erected by P. W. McKelvey deserves more than passing notice. The piece of statuary is without doubt the finest ever placed in position in Fernhill cemetery. Many visitors to the cemetery declare the monument is one of the finest in the country. The figure represents an angel standing poised with outspread wings.

The statue was secured from the firm of J. W. Dods and Sons, a well known concern in Dalrymple, Scotland. It has been pronounced by leading sculptors as a master piece of art. The statue was conveyed to this country on a Donaldson liner last winter. The pedestal was built by Emery and McLaughlin, of this city, and their splendid work reflects great credit. Too much cannot be said of the artistic and beautiful work of John Rogerson, the designer of the statue. Mr. Rogerson is one of the finest carvers in the country. He has other well known designs.

Particular mention could here be made of the success of Mr. Rogerson in designing the handsome Young monument which now adorns Kine Square.

The city offered a prize for the best design. Mr. Rogerson's design for the entire monument was accepted and the statue was erected under his supervision.

The Fernhill monument was erected by Mr. McKelvey over the grave of his daughter, Miss Jennie McKelvey. The statue is about eleven feet and four inches in height, while the figure itself is over five feet high. The monument is of pure white marble and the base of western granite of a grey-pinkish shade. The monument is being daily admired by the many visitors to Fernhill.

The sailors' lot at Fernhill Cemetery is also in excellent condition. Special attention is being paid to the last resting place of the "Men of the Deep." Much work has also been accomplished.

MORE NAVAL SCANDALS UNEARTHED IN FRANCE

Commission Misses Many Documents

Bribe Offered Official by the Contractors in Cause of Remuneration.

PARIS, June 12.—The Parliamentary Commission which is engaged in the unthankful task of cleansing the Augean stables of the French Admiralty has unearthed a fresh scandal, which promises to lead to interesting disclosures. A couple of years ago a representative of a large firm in the department of the Loire, which had obtained extensive government contracts for the supplying of big guns and ammunition, tendered to the government inspector, at the factory, an envelope containing a large sum in banknotes.

The inspector, who looked upon the proffered gift as a bribe, refused to accept it. He reported the incident to his chief, General Cosser, director of the naval artillery at the ministry of marine. The general in his turn appears to have brought the affair under the notice of M. Thomson, then minister of marine, with a recommendation that the firm should be prosecuted for attempting to corrupt state employes. The minister sent for the head of the firm, and reproved him, but after this no action was taken.

A few days ago the incident came to the ears of the members of the Parliamentary Commission, and they thought they would like to inspect the dossier for themselves. It was found, however, that the whole of the documents bearing on the case had disappeared. Yesterday the commission examined Mr. Dupont, director of the School of Marine Engineering, who was formerly chief of M. Thomson's technical staff at the Ministry of Marine. Asked if he could account for the disappearance of the dossier, M. Dupont admitted the possibility of its having become mixed up with private papers, which he had taken away from the Ministry of Marine on the downfall of his ministerial chief.

M. Delaunay, chairman of the commission, in company with several colleagues, interviewed the minister of justice, and demanded that M. Dupont should be prosecuted for tampering with state documents. The minister declared that M. Dupont, who was an official of the navy, was not amenable to the civil law, and could only be tried by court-martial. M. Picard, minister of marine, has promised the opening of a department inquiry preparatory to taking action against M. Dupont.

DEATHS

SAMUEL CORBETT. After having been sick only a week with pneumonia, Samuel Corbett, the well known North End coachman, died at his home, 23 Adelaide street, about 11 1/2 this morning. Deceased was a trustee and charter member of Victoria street Baptist church. He has been actively engaged in the church work for the past twenty-nine years. He was a prominent member of Court Loyalist I. O. F., and of Alexandra Temple of Honor.

Mr. Corbett has been in business for the past quarter of a century. He was born at Petersville, Queens County. He is survived by his wife, one son and two daughters. The son is William Corbett, of South Bay; Mrs. W. H. McIntyre and Mrs. L. C. Prime are the daughters. Two sisters, Mrs. Henry Cowan, of Woodstock, and Mrs. John Dunn, of Summerhill, Queens County, also survive.

The funeral has been arranged to take place on Sunday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock from his late residence, 23 Adelaide street. I. G. DAVIDSON.

RUFUS CROUSE. A very sad accident occurred at Eastonville on Friday morning, when Rufus Crouse was fatally injured by being struck on the head by a stick of lumber. Mr. Crouse was overreaching the rafting of timber when the accident happened. Medical aid was summoned, but before the doctors arrived he had breathed his last. Mr. Crouse was a native of Lunenburg, and was only married about three weeks ago.

MRS. PATRICK WALSH. Mrs. Patrick Walsh, mother of Mr. Michael Walsh, the well known speed skater, died early yesterday morning at her home, Watson street, Carleton. Mrs. Walsh had been ill for some time, heart failure being the cause of her death. She was 49 years of age, and was a daughter of the late Mr. Joseph O'Brien, harbor inspector. She leaves a husband, four sons—Michael, Thomas, Walter and Francis—and four daughters—Misses Nellie, Elizabeth, Ann and Minnie—all of this city. The funeral will be held on Sunday afternoon, at 2.30.

In improving the entrances to the burial grounds, a triangular spot, recently purchased by the Knights of Pythias, is also being kept in perfect condition. A flower bed in the form of a triangle has been placed in the centre of this plot and the surrounding ground has been made up in a green sward with paths neatly laid out.

CY YOUNG AGAIN SEEN IN BOSTON
Makes His First Appearance There Since His Transfer to Cleveland
YESTERDAY'S GAMES
BOSTON, Mass., June 11.—(American)—Cy Young made his first appearance in this city since his sale by the local club to Cleveland, making 4 to 1. Young's wild pitch let in the local "only run. Boston also used a new twirler, Collins, and although he was batted hard at times, two of the runs scored by Cleveland were due to errors.

TRYING HARD TO HAVE STUBB'S REINSTATED
Many "Whitener" sports arrived last night to attend the E. D. C. sports this afternoon, and were registered at the "Paw" Hotel. Mr. Baker, secretary of the Ramblers, with Cameron and Blahnik the runners, and "Freddy" their trainer, are also at the "Paw."
The "Ambrose" men speak in the highest terms of Sturges, the local runner. They consider him one of the cleverest athletes in the game.
In addition to the entries already made for the sports to be held this afternoon, W. Watling of the Chatham Y. M. C. A. will compete.
Although this is a post entry, A. M. Belding considered that as they had telegraphed the entry and seemed anxious for Watling to compete, he would be justified in accepting his application. Mr. Watling will enter the sports and jump.
Mr. Belding is doing his utmost to get Stubb reinstated in time to compete this afternoon, and late last night he wired Lithgow on the matter.
There are forty-four entries, representing Dartmouth, Amherst, Moncton, Chatham, Sussex, Fredericton and St. John, promising the best athletic meet of the season.

BOSTON WINS EASILY
CHICAGO, Ill., June 11.—(National)—Boston won easily from Chicago today by better fielding and base-running and harder hitting. All of Chicago's errors were costly, while but one of the factors misplays figured in the run-getting score.

SPORT
Preparing Jeff for Jack Johnson; Playing Ball to Make the Weight

HE'S AT HOME WHEN FACING A FIGHTER
CHICAGO, June 12.—As part of the preliminary work which he calculates will bring his weight down to the point where he can begin actual training for his fight with Jack Johnson, Jim Jeffries spends considerable time each day playing ball with the White Sox.
Although weighing about 240, the retired champion is not fat. When he began to practice with the Sox, he tried to get into a base ball uniform, but the club could not find one large enough, so Jim practices in trousers and sweater.
A glance at the profile picture shows the absence of paunch, characteristic in big men who lead the simple life after years of athletic pursuits.
Jeff intends to meet Johnson all right. He says so himself with a conviction of the eye-brows which leads to his usually pleasant countenance an expression of ferocity not at all full of pink tea promises for Johnson.
"For a man of his bulk, Jeffries is very light upon his feet. He shows unexpected speed when he dons a glove and steps up with the field, getting around after the ball in a manner, ordinarily a right-fielder."
When he concludes his vaudeville engagements and is ready to begin hard work, Jeffries will have conditioned himself to meet the demands of training by slow, easy stages, as he was advised to do by a specialist he consulted to find out if he could again get into shape for a grueling fight.

THREE TIMES IN AN HOUR
Dan McDonald Throws Assyr-ian and Wins His Bet

MONCTON, June 11.—Dan McDonald, Cape Breton, middleweight champion wrestler, won his bet here tonight by throwing Geo. Neef, Assyr-ian strong boy three times within an hour. It took the champion 46 minutes 12 seconds to do the trick, and although McDonald announced after the match that he had the greatest snap he ever had the three or four hundred spectators present at the Grand Opera House witnessed a hard contest. Neef lost a hundred dollars to fifty McDonald could not throw him three times in an hour. McDonald secured the first fall in 21 minutes 22 seconds, the second fall in 29 minutes 18 seconds and the third and last fall in four minutes and 19 seconds. The last two falls were secured by toe hold. At the conclusion of the match Neef offered to wrestle McDonald on the same terms for five hundred dollars barring toe hold, which lost his match tonight. No further match was made between the two. James Stuart, an English wrestler, appeared on the stage and offered to wager one hundred dollars he could throw McDonald twice in an hour. McDonald said he was in no condition to wrestle Stuart, who is forty or fifty pounds heavier than he, but he would meet him, considerable talk took place between the two, but no match was made. McDonald goes to Springfield tomorrow night to meet a Greek wrestler.
The Quebec delegates to the Catholic Foresters' convention left for home by special train this evening at 6:30. The I. C. R. board of management were kept busy again today meeting committees representing various railway organizations. M. J. Butler, Deputy Minister, leaves tomorrow for St. John and Fredericton, but other members of the board will remain here. Frank Fenton, operator in W. U. Tel. Co., who leaves tomorrow for Calgary to work for C. P. R., was tendered a farewell supper this evening by friends.

Thursday evening the entertainment committee of the R. K. Y. C. met and held an informal discussion regarding a celebration on July 1st. It is the intention of the club to hold a members' day at Millidgeville on July 1st, and where nothing was decided upon at the meeting, many schemes were put forward and a meeting will be immediately called to settle the matter.

REVIEW HELD AT ALDERSHOT
LONDON, June 11.—The delegates to the International Press Conference were today the guests of the officials of the War Office. The party were taken to Aldershot, where a big military review and maneuvers were held. Seventeen thousand men participated in the sham battle which concluded the review.
Tonight the official press banquet is held, the Earl of Crew presiding.

CLIPPERS REFUSE TO LEAVE THE GROUNDS UNTIL ORDERED AWAY BY POLICEMAN
Baseball fans last evening were considerably disappointed when they learned that the doublet between the Clippers and Marathons had not been broken and that as a consequence the game scheduled for Friday evening would not be played.
The Clippers put in an appearance at the Every Day Club grounds and were quite prepared to play, but Manager Donald of the Marathons considered the contract broken and the series off after the way the Clippers' manager had acted on Thursday evening and on previous occasions.
Last evening Manager McBride of the Clippers used rather poor judgment on being requested to leave the grounds. The Marathons, it seems, had the grounds leased, and their manager, Mr. Donald, requested the Clippers to leave. They refused to obey, however, and a policeman was called in to eject them. The officer went to A. M. Belding, president of the Every Day Club, and was informed by that gentleman that the grounds were under lease by the Marathons and whatever Mr. Donald said went. The officer thereupon ordered the Clippers from the grounds.
Some hot words passed between the Clippers' manager and ground officials, before quiet was finally restored.
Under existing circumstances the present agreement of the clubs is off and the Marathons purpose bringing outside teams to the city, who will put up baseball that will satisfy the public.
It is unfortunate that the local managers cannot come to some agreement, as the players of both teams seem anxious to clash and are capable of putting up first class ball.
The Marathons leave this morning for Woodstock, where they will play two games. Manager Donald expects to have a match team here for next Friday and Saturday.

In His Own Way

(By J. Louis Engdahl)

An unhappiness, deep, irritating and discouraging, pervaded him. She was with him, but on the other side of the table. She was pointing at a little because of the willful girl that persisted in leaning from her right shoulder. She caught his gaze, the pout turned to a smile, and then the water came surging up.

MORAL AND SOCIAL REFORM.

A good deal has been said of late concerning the work that is being carried on under the name of moral and social reform. In connection with the central organizations of the various religious denominations. The work has been accomplished by officials specially appointed for that purpose. And the fact that the churches have appointed these special agencies has been accepted as an indication that the churches were awakening to new life.

In this campaign against wrongdoing there has been a good deal of shouting and usually something to shout about. These agencies have given valuable aid in the campaign against the saloon. They have been exercised in the suppression of gambling and there has been a constant war against the business of prostitution, while the provisions of the Lord's Day act have afforded large opportunity for action.

No one will be disposed to complain when the churches set aside good men for the special purpose of encouraging good legislation and enforcing good laws. The average representative in Parliament is apt to be a very busy man even though he may happen to be a very good citizen and it is as well that there should be men whose special business it is to shape and to express public sentiment on moral questions demanding legislation. Furthermore, all such legislation demands such sentiment as the churches foster for its enforcement. These departments do a very good work in effecting and enforcing good legislation.

But that method of attempting to bring about a moral and social reformation is a very old and a very inadequate method. When the churches avoid the power of the state to utter an authoritative "Thou shalt not," they do not thereby display that fullness of power which Christian churches have been supposed to possess. There is a weakness about legal prohibition which the gospel has been able to overcome. Consequently when the churches begin to fall back upon legal enactments of a prohibitory sort as the chief instrument of reformation, there is a grave reason to suppose that there must be an unaccountable inability in the use of the subtler and more effective methods of the gospel.

It is one thing to write a law to prevent a man from doing wrong; it is quite another thing to create within that man a dominant desire to do the corresponding right. The weakness of the moral and social reform movement of the church is that the very commendable business of legislation seems to consume much of the energy that was formerly spent in evangelization. It is very doubtful if it is the business of the church to do the mechanical work in the reconstruction of society. There are men in abundance who possess strength and skill for that task. But that strength and skill must be made available by the inspiration which the church has provided and may provide. There is still a place for the old-fashioned preacher who can make men feel that the faith of the prophet of Nazareth is not faith. Moreover, in the days when Christianity is becoming practical, it is worth while recalling the fact that the world's great prophets and seers have been foolishly unpractical. They have always been beaten in the game of life. They have sometimes been otherwise, but they have always been unwisely. Their chief contribution has not been mechanical, it has not been even hard-headed common-sense, but it has been their unreasonable and unappealing faith in the permanence and power of the good in all persons. In short they have believed in a good God.

Now, we may be wrong, but we believe that there is a growing demand on the part of men that the church shall make it her chief business to bring that faith to the individual man. In the past she has been sometimes content to damn him if he did not believe, but now that he is wistfully anxious to believe that deep damnation is inappropriate. Indeed, the table is completely turned and that church stands condemned that does not attempt to bring to a man the faith he requires.

So that today when church leaders are aggressively pushing the prohibition and legislative program of social and moral reform, it is well that we recognize the fact that the real work of the church, that for which it existed, is a work that is done by other and subtler methods than those practiced in the sanctified politics of reformation.

The increase of almost three-quarters of a million in the customs receipts for May is a most substantial proof of the return of business to its normal condition.

THE HOUSE FLY.

The common house fly once regarded merely as a pest and a nuisance is now regarded as a serious menace on account of its ability to spread disease by carrying infection into dwellings and contaminating food. The scientists as well as the housewives are now engaged in the warfare against this apparently insignificant insect. The battle against it may be won by comparatively simple methods. Screens on doors and windows will keep them out and if rooms that are not in use are kept darkened those that do get in will seek to escape to bright sunlight again. Such simple precautions may mean much to prevent disease and save precious lives.

The province has already suffered immense damage from forest fires and now the farmers are threatened with the loss of their crops on account of the excessive dryness. The province is earnestly hoping they will get a share of the rain which was so eagerly welcomed on the North Shore last night.

The lack of harmony which nearly wrecked the Conservative party in St. John at the last general election seems to be still in the way of united action on their part. The caucus held last night must have been a lively one.

SATURDAY SERMONTS.
TO SENSITIVE PEOPLE.

The unhappy people and the most disagreeable people in the world are the super-sensitive or sensitive class. They are unhappy because they are always being slighted, laughed at, or talked about.

If you are near-sighted and do not see them, or absent-minded and don't see them (even though you look at them) it is because you do not want to see them.

If you are walking or driving with a friend and you are laughing together at some story or incident as you meet the sensitive person, he or she thinks you are laughing at them.

If you are talking with a friend as you walk or drive, and the sensitive man or woman you are talking about them.

There is something radically wrong about the suspicious and sensitive. It may be guilt for "Suspicion always haunts the guilty mind."

The thief doth fear each bush an officer. If not guilt, it is weakness akin to wickedness for "All seems infected that the infected touch."

All looks yellow to the jaundiced eye. The strong do not fear criticism. They are conscious there is nothing about them in appearance, dress, or personality to laugh at or ridicule.

The sensitive mean the abnormally sensitive are conceited and attach undue importance to themselves. The world is too busy to discuss the sensitive or their affairs. When the world laughs at them it is because there is something wrong about them.

The world does not laugh at unbleeked boots or unshaven faces, but if a man went down King street with the highest polish of John De Angeles on one boot and the other boot had never seen a shoe shine parlor, King street would be likely to laugh at him. Or if he went down the street with one cheek well shaven and the other side had never known a razor he would likely be talked about.

You may dress as finely as you can and as poorly as you have to, and no one will laugh at you or talk about you. But go down street with a silk hat and bare footed you would get quite a crowd of jeering boys about you.

No my sensitive friend, get rid of your wickedness or weakness and you will very likely get rid of your over-sensitiveness.

Bikers Hope to Catch Weston Ere He Reaches Pacific Coast

Leaving New York May 11, Walter Wylie and E. Higgins are pedaling their way westward, spurred on by desire to overtake Edward Payson Weston, now walking through Colorado.

The aged pedestrian has covered half of his long walk to San Francisco and his average of 45 miles a day promises to take him to his destination within the specified time of 100 days.

HEROES OF THE DEEP
Brave Captains Who Have Perished With Their Ships

"The Captain of the Vessel Shall be the Last to Leave," and From This Man's No Captain is Exempt.

"The captain of the vessel shall be the last to leave." This heroic sentiment has been exemplified time and again by the brave men who go down to the sea in ships, and to their everlasting honor there is no attempt or desire to shirk the fearful duty and responsibility. So it was that Captain Seabury of the ill-fated Republic refused to leave his ship till every man, woman, child and member of his crew had been saved.

"The last to leave" is the law, universally acknowledged at sea by officers and men alike as the basis of self respect and honor. From it no captain is exempt.

One of the bravest of these heroes was Chief Officer Paterson of the British King. One day some winters ago he sailed from New York under Captain O'Hagan. Great storms impeded the passage of the ship, and so stupendous was the violence of the waves that they stove in the bow plates, and before the leakage was discovered tons of water rushed into the hold.

Captain O'Hagan told his men to take the cargo, but barrels and cases were hurled this way and that, and one of them, driving the captain back against the wall, crushed his leg so severely that he had to be carried to the lifeboat.

For a brief space there was no captain. Then Paterson took command. At a critical moment his strong personality and calm assurance saved the crew from panic. The boats filled with sailors from the British King were launched in safety, while the new commander stood in silence on the bridge. Lower and lower sank the ill-starred ship, and as she heaved and took her final plunge, Paterson blew a farewell blast upon his whistle to the fast departing crew.

Quite different but no less heroic was the manner in which Captain Griffith of the Atlantic Transport Line steamship Mohagan faced death. Though it was far darker than twilight, he had run his vessel on the rocks near the Needles in October, 1902, and it was rapidly sinking. The last glimpse of Captain Griffith showed him standing on the bridge ordering the boats to be lowered in order to save his crew.

Heroic in death, too, was the captain of the oil ship Lodianna, which several years ago was burned at sea.

Delonche stood calm amid the tumult. Suddenly he abandoned himself to the dramatic horror of the scene and, seizing the whistle rope, sent into the skiee one long, wild, wailing groan. It was Delonche's last salute.

Perhaps the noblest death of all was that of Captain Craven of the monitor Tecumseh at the attack in August, 1864, on Mobile. The ship was fast sinking. There was not a moment to be lost. At the foot of the ladder leading to the masthead above, the turret of La Bourgeois a fatal blow steamed hurriedly away. The men on board went frantic. In a scramble for safety Craven and crew lost their wits, and people ran up and amid the deck in wild despair.

"DISEASES" FROM THE WIRELESS

European Medical Journal Claim That Hertzian Waves are Harmful.

The statements made in European medical journals to the effect that wireless waves are harmful to operators and have been the cause of many disasters is strongly refuted by E. J. Haughton, superintendent of the Dominion Government stations in British Columbia. Mr. Haughton states that far from being harmful, they have a beneficial effect, by purifying the air and rendering the action of breathing much more easy.

Mr. Haughton says that these statements must be false, as the operator does not come in contact with the waves which are transmitted from the top of the wireless mast. The flash from the transmitter, he says, is at times painful to the eyes, just as any other bright, uncovered flash of electricity would be.

The passage of the Hertzian waves through the air works for the Descautes, which has been engaged in the campaign in Morocco, the members of a ship's company who were employed in wireless telegraphy, the telegraphists complained of their eyes and cases of slight conjunctivitis, keratitis and occurred.

In order to protect the eyes from damage by the ultra-violet rays of the electric arc, it was recommended that yellow or orange glasses should be worn. No length of time at the operators affected, but two cases of eczema—one of the wrist and one of the eyelid, both probably due to the same cause.

Lastly, one of the officials who had been employed for several years in wireless telegraphy suffered painful palpitation of the heart, which came on after working for any length of time at the instruments for sending messages. This man was quite free from any organic lesion of the heart. M. Bellie, of the Lancet, a British medical journal, is disposed to think that a good many cases of "nervousness" and getting rather common among naval and military telegraphists.

Is being done in wireless telegraphy.

INCREASE IN REVENUE IS OVER MILLION

OTTAWA, Ont., June 11.—It is announced that the third artillery will be inspected July 16th at St. John. The 10 Woodstock field battery and the 12th Newcastle battery will be inspected between June 18 and 21 and the 19th battery will be inspected at Sussex, July 5.

The financial statement for May shows the revenue for the first three months of the year to have been $13,613,717, which is an increase of more than a million and three-quarters dollars over the collections in the same time the year before. The increase is principally due to enlarged customs collections, which show an increase of over a million dollars during the three months. Excludes collections of money by about a hundred thousand dollars and the post office revenue by the same.

BRITISH ARMY AND NAVY AT THE "STAR."
The cheers that rent the air in Union Hall, North End, last night, indicated how many sturdy sons of the Empire there are in these dignified who believe no German or other foreign foe can make old England bite the dust yet awhile.

The picture, "Invasion, Its Possibilities," stirred all watchers up to a high pitch of enthusiasm as the sham battles of the British army and the manoeuvres of the grand British navy were unwound through the machine. The theatre was packed all evening and this afternoon and tonight there will be just as big crowds no doubt. There are four other pictures and Al Weston are in these dignified who believe no the Theatre. New bill for Monday.

SUSSEX MAN IS SHOT BY FRIEND AT SASKATOON
SASKATOON, Sask., June 11.—An accident which may have a fatal ending and which was the result of a practical joke, happened last night. Walter A. Sherwood, teller in the Bank of Nova Scotia, with a party of friends, went across the river to have fun with a party of other bank clerks who are camped there. Sherwood and his companions began playing pranks around the tents, letting down ropes and similar things. A few minutes later a shot was fired from inside one of the tents and Sherwood dropped, terribly wounded in the stomach.

How to Avoid Sea Sickness
Take along a box of Mother's Seal and Train Sick Remedy. It has recently been thoroughly tested on English and Irish Channels and found absolutely reliable. RECORDER GIVES OPINION MONDAY
A special meeting of the Water and Sewerage Board has been called for Monday afternoon for the purpose, it is understood, of receiving a decision of the recorder in the matter of the scope of the board in determining water rates. The recorder it seems contrary to the view hitherto taken, is of the opinion that it is only up to the committee to recommend to the council the schedule of rates. For some time it has been thought that the decision of the board was final and that the report was sent to the full bench of fathers out of courtesy. The difference of opinion is responsible for the meeting.

FEARING GIRL'S LOVE LOST, KILLS HIMSELF
She Cries in Hysterics as Admirer's Body is Carried Away
PHILADELPHIA, June 11.—Apparently believing that his fifteen-year-old sweetheart's love had grown cold, Benjamin S. Riley, 21 years old, a plumber, committed suicide last night. Using the instrument of his trade, a pair of pliers, to wrench off the top of the gas jet, he shut himself in his room to wait for death.
"He was unconscious when his father found him, and died on the way to the Women's Homeopathic Hospital. The frantic father at once telegraphed his wife, who is in Gettysburg at a convention.
Just after the patrol wagon had left the house, a beautiful girl best hysterically upon the front door of the Riley house, crying: "It can't be true. Benjie was going to meet me tomorrow." Except that her name is Grace, neighbors say they do not know her.

WANT A BONUS FOR DRY DOCK
Soo Delegation Interviews Gov't on Behalf of Half a Million Dollar Project
OTTAWA, June 11.—The government was today asked by a delegation from Saint Ste. Marie to give a bonus of a half million dollar dry dock at the Soo. The town has promised one hundred thousand dollars aid and the government is asked to pay three per cent for twenty years as they are authorized to do under the dry dock act. Sir Wilfrid and Hon. Dr. Pugsley heard the delegation and promised consideration.

STRIKING EXAMPLES OF FIERCE LABOR CONFLICTS

VOTERS STRIKE AT POLITICAL GROUNDS.

STRIKERS STATION, Pa., June 12.—Voters of this town have declared a strike against their political bosses. They have quit the old occupation of voting the organization ticket and declare that they will not go back to work until reforms are made. The strikers demand:

- That taxes be reduced.
- That the voters' union be recognized.
- That all political gamblers be ousted from office.
- That all deceptively jackasses be turned over to the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

John M. Chestnut is the organizer of the strike. He says he is convinced that the people are not getting their rights and that the strike is a righteous one. Instead of the voters refusing to cast ballots, this strike is being conducted along new lines and the men who are out are using independent ballots.

The bosses declare they will not compromise with the men. Instead of reducing taxes they say they will raise them. They will also retain the political gamblers because these, as well as the jackasses, are necessary in keeping the machinery going. As for recognizing any spirit of union or independence on the part of the voters, the leaders say they will die first.

STRIKER HANDS OUT FOOD FOR THOUGHT.

QUINTUS, Pa., June 12.—One of the most noted strikers in this part of the state is now engaged in preparing a biographical sketch of his life for use in the magazines devoted to sociology. His is Jack Spratt, long famous in all the uplit movements in the state.

"I do not mind saying," said Mr. Spratt, "that I am the only original and blown-in-the-bottle striker in the country. A few years ago, when I belonged to the local baseball team, I held the record for striking out. My best record was, I think, eight strikeouts in one game.

"No man ever struck me for the price of a meal and went away disappointed. To all such unfortunates, I pass out an argument which gives them much food for thought. But I do not give them too much of this rich food, since it might cause indigestion.

"I have always preached the doctrine of 'Strike for your country.' Any man who strikes for his country and his friends can never make a mistake. Another of my beliefs is, never to strike a man when he is down—use your boot."

CLUB SANDWICHES SUCCOR THEIR FORES.

OUTLOOK, Pa., June 12.—When the United Hammer Heavers went out on strike last Thursday and left their tools on the benches, Peter Schramm, proprietor of Schramm's hammer factory, thought the trouble would be over in a few hours and the men would return to work.

The hammer heavers, being skilled laborers, realized their strength better ever, and knew that their places could not be filled on short notice. Within twenty-four hours not a machine was moving and the whole vast industry was silent.

This the evictor sent for Eugene McGuckin and George Graham, two famous strike-breakers. They agreed to supply hammer wavers to take the places of the strikers. Violence at once followed. Two non-union men were beaten to death with unfair hammers. A number of the scabs finding it impossible to purchase food in the neighborhood, were compelled to quit work. Fortunately they fell into the hands of the hammer heaver pickets, who succored them with club sandwiches. They were so enthusiastically succored that all are now in the hospital.

POLICE HEAD HAS GRIP ON SITUATION.

UNIONVILLE, Pa., June 12.—"We have the situation well in hand," said Director of Police Tom Murray, when asked by your correspondent to give a slight sentiment on the strike of the Ballon Infantry Band. Director Murray, being an unfortunate speculator in the stock of the Ballon Trust, has given his promise that the strike shall come to a speedy end.

"Yes, I can assure you that we have the situation well in hand," said the director as he hit up his gait on the turn-pike leading out of town, "and I assure you that we intend to keep it. Do you see those men back there armed with dornicks? Well, if they catch up with me they've got to do some tall Marathon work."

Before getting a good firm grasp on the situation, Director Murray issued orders to his men that they must not permit crowds to collect during the strike. His swift action today proved his ability for instead of the mob collecting at one point, it was tonight scattered over two townships hunting the director.

This astute official says he will continue to keep the situation well in hand even if it becomes necessary to hand out high-ball cartridges to his men.

HIRED GIRLS GO OUT, WANT TO ARBITRATE.

POTTS GROVE, Pa., June 12.—Dan McAllister, field representative of the Amalgamated Association of Atrophied Servant Girls, reached this town late last night, and this morning he will order every servant girl out of the kitchen.

"Never before in my life have I beheld such intolerable conditions as prevail here. Living wages are not paid the girls, and they are compelled to work long hours, and they are striking examples of the evils of swing shift."

"First of all, I am going to demand a flat wage scale of $5 a week. Then I am going to insist that eight hours shall constitute a day's work. Finally, we will abolish the swing shift. No girl who is working in the kitchen should be compelled to mind the door

EVERYONE IN WALL ST. IS ASKING: Will Henry H. Rogers, Jr., Take Sire's Chair? Can the Young Son of His Father Fill It? Yes They Say; He Will, He Can.

FUNERAL OF HENRY H. ROGERS. HENRY H. ROGERS, JR., AND HIS MOTHER LEAVING CHURCH. MARK TWAIN, AS HE APPEARED AT FUNERAL OF H. H. HARRIMAN WATCHING CASKET.

NEW YORK, June 12.—Will young Henry Rogers II rule over the door sweep the floor.

"Unless the employers surrender at once, I shall call out the toeman, and that falling there will be a general strike of the milk delivery men, the butcher boys and the bakers' understudies."

"At first we were on the point of insisting that the lady employers should be compelled to dry the dishes, but we magnanimously dropped this vital issue."

"We are not adverse to arbitration, and would recommend that Chief Burgess Hotburn, a sterling advocate of the principle of negotiation, be selected as umpire."

mains of Rogers, or will a regent be appointed until he reached his financial majority? This is one of the first questions Wall-st asked when it learned of the death of H. H. Rogers, the elder.

The general belief is that the new king will take the scepter himself.

Henry H. Rogers, Jr., is the first of the circle of second generation oil-copper-steel millionaires to be tested. The Rockefeller, Morgan, Stillman, Perkins are still in the harness. The elder Rogers' death is the first break in the old crowd which has made itself dominant in finance within the last 30 years.

But it can't be very many years before they are all gone. What after? Will the second oil-copper generation follow the example of the Axtors and go in for foreign titles, leaving business to managers and clerks—and new millionaires rising from below? Or is there another Cornelius Vanderbilt in Henry H. Rogers, Jr., has been best known in the world through his ambitions to be a military man, via the national guard route. He figures in the court martial of Col. Dyer while he was a captain in the Twelfth regiment of the New York militia.

Otherwise Wall-st knew him only as the son of his father, a nice young man who spent considerable time at the Standard office learning the business. He was not taken very seriously until 1907, when the elder Rogers staggered under the burden of building a Virginia railway single handed in panic times, collapsed physically and the younger man had to take charge. He showed real generalship and financial ability, and earned Wall-st's respect.

The elder Rogers, pleased at his son's showing in 1907, crowded more and more responsibility on him. Previously he had intended to turn the management of his properties over to Urban Broughton, a middle-aged mining engineer who had married his daughter. Now Broughton, it is said, will be a lieutenant under Henry H. Rogers in the corporations the younger Rogers is already stockholder and director in are: Amalgamated Copper Co., Anaconda Copper Co., Brooklyn United Gas Co., National Transit Co., United Mines Selling Co., and the new Virginia Railway.

Henry H. Rogers, Jr., is the first of a graduate of Columbia.

A Crazy Affair.

(By Stuart B. Stone.)

It was in front of the great, red-brick, wall-inclosed building that Clayton, searching for Col. Palmer's country home, encountered the sweetest girl he had seen in his young life. She sidled away from him and it seemed to Clayton that she smiled. In quick, irresistible impulse he bounded to her side. Then it was that she shrank back, with a look of pretty alarm, and said, coaxingly, as if pleading with a spoiled child:

"There, now—be a good boy and go inside."

"Go inside?" repeated Bob Clayton, puzzled. Then, glancing up, he saw the words, "Central Asylum for the Insane" over the big wagon gate.

"Oh!" he murmured, his heart sinking at the discovery. "So you belong inside. You're one of 'em'."

She took a half step from him, glancing cautiously back. "No—that is one of them of course. But you'd better go in—maybe they'll have plum pudding for supper or something else very nice."

"Poor girl!" murmured Clayton, touched at the sight of unbalanced loveliness. "You see, my automobile's broken down," he added aloud. "I have to get it fixed before I can go on."

"Yes—yes," she answered, "you'd better get inside first, though. They fix automobiles in there—it's an auto factory."

"It isn't," corrected Clayton; then reflecting, "that is, it is, of course."

"Better go in," urged the girl again. "They'll just have time to fix your machine before supper."

Then, eyeing him carefully, she started down the road. Clayton, aroused to her defenses, unprotected "wanderer," started after her.

Her only answer was shriek after shriek, and Clayton, greatly alarmed for her, raced madly on, finally overtaking the girl. She drew back, frightened at his approach, but became calmer as he spoke in soothing tones.

"Come—let's go to the nice auto factory. I'll take you, and maybe we can find a big balloon or a pretty airship!"

She yielded readily to his coaxing. "Will you go, too?" she asked, in her beautiful, simple way, "if I go along?"

"Yes," assented Clayton, "come on!"

Hand in hand, each eyeing the other, like bashful school children, they retraced their steps up the dusty road. At the big wagon gate the girl drew back.

"Now," she said, "you go in. It won't be necessary for me to go further."

"Oh, yes," persisted Clayton. "Come on—before the plum pudding is gone."

Still hand in hand they sought the superintendent's office. To Clayton's nervous knock a cheery voice called, "Come in!" of the rosy, rotund man within, Clayton winked and whispered, "I've brought in one of your patients. I saw her wandering senselessly outside and she attempted to—"

The man stared at him, open-mouthed. "What do you mean?" he gasped.

Then, the girl communicated with the superintendent, but so low but that Clayton heard. "I found this poor man strolling outside in the road. He chased me for a hundred yards." The superintendent seemed threatened with apology. "You're not—he's not crazy"—he began.

Then a door opened and a very familiar figure entered.

"COME—LET'S GO TO THE NICE AUTO FACTORY."

"Why, Clayton!" exclaimed the newcomer. "You here! Allow me to introduce my daughter, Miss Lynda Palmer, and my friend and neighbor, Capt. Hyatt, who is superintendent here. They're looking for you at the house."

"Miss Palmer," bowed Clayton, recognizing, while the superintendent engaged.

"Mr. Clayton," acknowledged the rosy-cheeked girl. Then, in an undertone of delicious confidence, she added: "We'll go have the auto fixed now—before the nice plum pudding is served."

GOULD RAILWAYS MAY HAVE GENERAL STRIKE

TEXARKANA, Ark., June 11.—A call for a general strike on the Gould system of railways in the southwest is believed not an improbable outcome of the meetings of the general committees of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers in session here discussing controversies with the Texas and Pacific Ry.

Timothy Shea, Vice-President of the organization, who is presiding over the sessions, says efforts to adjust the several disagreements, involving a demand that a discharged employee be reinstated and the right of the organization to represent its members in disputes be recognized, give but small prospects for an amicable settlement.

WILL HOLD DOMINION CONVENTION IN ST. JOHN

W. C. T. U. Members Meet Here in October

Will Come From all Parts of the Dominion—Eminent Speakers Will Assist.

Elaborate plans are being advanced for the holding of the W. C. T. U. Dominion convention in this city in October. Leading temperance workers from all parts of Canada will assemble and the session promises to be most important one. The various committees in charge of the convention have been working assiduously for some time past and excellent progress has resulted. The details of the convention are in the hands of the Dominion and provincial union, and the various branches will assist in the entertainment of the delegates to the meeting.

Mrs. Dr. Gray, county president, was over the enthusiastic over the prospects for a successful convention. She informed a Star representative that complete plans were rapidly being formulated by the various unions.

The general committee in charge of the convention, has already accomplished most of its work. Mrs. Gray is convener of the committee, Mrs. Eagles secretary, and Mrs. J. Hoar, treasurer. Mrs. Dearborn, president of the St. John City union, is convener of the hospital committee, and has an able corps of assistants. Mrs. Seymour with a number of young ladies, is arranging for pages and ushers. A press committee, of which Miss Fullerton, of St. John West, is convener, has also been formed.

Mrs. T. H. Bullock has been appointed by the union as convener of a committee to select the place for holding the meetings. Although no choice has as yet been made, it is understood the numerous delegates from as far west as British Columbia will attend. There will also be some eminent temperance speakers address the meetings. The names of the latter will shortly be announced.

The committee is planning to tender a big reception to the visiting delegates on the opening day. It is expected distinguished local citizens will be present. Pretty decorations and a musical programme are being arranged by a committee under the convener'ship of Mrs. R. Morton Smith.

METHODISTS HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

GAGETOWN, June 12—Interesting exercises marked the annual meeting of the district of the Methodist church, which convened here on Tuesday and Wednesday. Rev. J. C. Berrie presided at the ministerial meeting, which opened on Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

After devotional exercises the meeting proceeded to the examination of the character and qualifications of the six schools districts of the conference, and it was gratifying to be able to return a negative reply to the questions "Who have died, resigned, withdrawn or been suspended during the year." Our minister, Rev. W. W. Brewer, was recommended a supernumerary relationship. C. F. Stebbings was recommended as a probationer of three years.

In the evening a very profitable service was conducted. A large congregation was in attendance. The business took up the greater part at yesterday's sessions. The reception and examination of reports was the chief item of interest. The appointment of various standing committees was confirmed and Thursday was selected as the next place of meeting.

NEW CONSOLIDATED SCHOOL FOR KINGSTON

There is a strong probability that a new consolidated school will be erected at Kingston to replace the handsome building recently destroyed by fire. Dr. Inch explained to representatives of the six schools districts the attitude of the board of education. The board proposes to have the $12,000 insurance from the old buildings' assist in defraying the cost for a new institution, and that the $1,000 grant be continued. It is believed that a strong feeling prevails that operations should be started at once in erecting the school. The representatives who conferred with Dr. Inch were highly pleased with the manner in which he handled this important question.

MILITARY MATTERS

The 3rd Regt. C. A., are planning to hold their first march of the season on Thursday evening next. Lt.-Col. Baxter will command the parade, and the three batteries composing the regiment with the band will be in line. The local corps are preparing for a month's church parade on Sunday, June 20.

Q. M. Sergt-Instructor Lavole, R. C. E., who has been instructing the Fusiliers for the past few weeks, has been ordered to Kingston where he will act as military instructor in camp for the next fortnight. He leaves St. John today. After attending the Kingston camp he will go to Three Rivers. Sergt. Lavole has made many friends while in St. John and has proved himself to be a most efficient instructor.
