CAR STRIKE IS IMMINENT; RAILWAY BOARD WILL COME

The Mayor Asks Provincial Body to Intervene in the Street Railway Trouble Here-The Board Will Be Here Tomorrow.

Toronto, July 26.—Chairman Leitch, ! of the Ontario railway and municipal board, has received a telegram from Mayor Judd, of London, saying that a strike on the street railway appears minent in that city, and asking the board to mediate under sections of the act providing therefore. The board accordingly goes to London tomorrow.

A strike of the London street railway employes is only a matter of a few hours, according to Organizer Sinclair, who has informed Mayor Judd to that offect. Mr. Sinclair says the men will be called out at an opportune moment. There will be two meetings of the embloves' union at Foresters Hall this ovening at 9 and 12 o'clock respectively.

Mr. Sinclair complains that when malled upon yesterday, Manager King by the board where arbitration cannot refused to negotiate further in regard to the reinstatement of the dismissed lows: men, and when informed that a strike would inevitably follow, declared he was prepared to abide by the conse-

The conference with Mr. King took place at the company's offices in the east end, the deputation from the men including Mr. Sinclair, Mr. Reeves, of Detroit, international secretary of the street railway employes' union, and members of the executive committee of the local branch.

Put Case Before Mayor.

During the evening the representatives of the men called on Mayor Judd at the latter's residence, and gave his worship to understand that everything possible had been done to avoid a etrike and that failing to secure the reinstatement of the men the employes would surely be called out.

The mayor informed the deputation that owing to the situation he would ask the provincial railway and municipal board to step in and see if somecould not be done to avert He also told the deputation that he hoped a strike would not be declared, but that if it was he would leave nothing undone to preserve order in the city and that he would expect the union men to assist him.

After consultation with as many members of the council as were available, Mayor Judd sent the following telegram to Mr. James Leitch, of Toronto, chairman of the railway and municipal board, and also to the secre-

Time For Board To Act.

Later Mr. Judd had a conversation over the long distance telephone with the chairman of the board, and was informed later that the board would come tomorrow.

The mayor told The Advertiser at noon today that he had done everything possible to bring the parties to a set- KING HONORS BRYAN tlement of their differences, and failing in this he considered it was time to take advantage of the act and have the provincial board step in.

Clause 58 of the act refers to arbitration by agreement between the parties. Section 59 makes provision for action be arranged. The clause reads as fol-

"Whenever a strike or lockout of the employes of any railway or street railway company or public utility occurs, or is seriously threatened, the board shall proceed as soon as practicable to the locality thereof, and endeavor by mediation to effect an amicable settlement of the controversy.

"Wherever there shall exist in any railway or street railway or public utility a strike or lockout, or any strike or lockout, by reason of which, in the opinion of the board, the general public shall appear likely to suffer injury or inconvenience, with respect to food, fuel, or light, or power, or the means of communication or transportation, or in any other respect, and the parties to such strike or lockout will not consent to submit the matter or matcontroversy to the board, the board, after first having made due effort to effect a settlement thereof by conciliatory means, and such effort having failed, may proceed on its own motion to make an investigation of all facts bearing upon such strike or lockout, and shall make public its findings, with such recommendations to the parties involved as, in its judgment, will contribute to a fair and equitable settlement of the differences which constitute the cause of the strike or lockout, and in the prosecution of such inquiry the board shall have all the powers conferred upon it by any other section or sections of this

The visit was paid with the King's special request, his majesty having notified Mr. Reid that he desired to meet Mr. Bryan. The interview was quite informal, and was marked by the pleasant cordiality which the King is accustomed to show Americans in whom he is interested. Only the King, Mr. Reid and Mr. Bryan were present. The conversation largely turned on the subject of peace, and the conference of the Inter-Parliamentary Union, with the objects of which his majesty showed himself to be thoroughly in accord. Still there was no reply, and the captain took his vessel into the harbor. Knowing that the authorities are very strict in reference to vessels passing the lighthouse being reported, and also being impressed with his responsibility as custodian of the royal donkey, he complained to the officials of the lighthouse's neglect. An inquiry was immediately instituted, which revealed that when the Montebello passed the lighthouse and gave the first signal the signalman was using the telephone and was unable to reply. When, having finished his conversation over the telephone, he saw the second signal, he construed the word ass as a contemptuous epithet applied to himself.
