Will put London on main trunk line of C. N. R.

Negotiations were opened this morning between the London sent after the money, which was paid and Port Stanley board and representatives of the Canadian Northern Railway for the purchase, or failing that, the lease of the London and Port Stanley Railway. The financial terms were not mentioned at the first session, the situation being canvassed Chittick but expressed plainly his inclination to make the penalty even in general terms. A committee of the board, composed of Mayor Graham, Ald. Moore and Ald. Spittal, later conferred with Judge Phippen, Col. So far as we are concerned, that would not be possible. It that were done you might as well count us out so far as running rights are concerned. The dual system, in our judgment, cannot be operated sarely. The difference in the speed, the various pressures on the rails, and a number of other reasons, make it very plain to us that the dual system could not be operated to any advantage. In our viewpoint it would be exceedingly dangerous. I do not think any of the steam roads would care to run their trains over the line under such conditions. I know of railway handling heavy traffic that is being run by electricity. Not that I am saying anything against electric roads. Our people are the pioneers in developing radials as feeders to steam lines But the electric lines are for a certain class of business, not the heavy freight, which can be handled to much better advantage by steam.

senatorial representation from the prairie provinces, Sir Wilfrid asked if they were to understand that there was to be no redistribution this year, stitutional and imperative duty under the British North America Act. "What is the sinister design in the minds of the ministers in withholding it? Sir Wilfrid asked, amid silence from the ministerial benches.

One for Rogers. "There is one thing the Government is silent over," he continued, "and which we knew they would be silent - their achievements. Having nothing done, they can nothing say." The recording angel of good deeds had had a sinecure. As preachers of virthose in the Government had pillars of power. As performers they had become things of clay and putty. In vigorous and eloquent words Sir Wilfrid arraigned the conduct of the Government in connection with the Macdonald and Richelieu by-elections. "There were practices connived at by the Government which put to shame the worst record of Tammany Hall," he declared. He dealt in some detail with the conduct of the Macdonald election, and the declaration of Hon. Robt. "I am both shocked and sorry," observed Sir Wilfrid, "to see men deal with such levity and approbation with charges of so serious a character." Passing on to the Richelieu election, Sir Wilfrid exposed the participation of Mr. Rogers through Sir Rodolphe Forget. "I charge the Minister of Public Works" (Mr. Rogers), proceeded the Liberal leader, "with having tried to bribe the Richelieu electors." He called to witness Sir Rodolphe Forget, who declared he was ent by Mr. Rogers to bribe the electors by promising them certain public works conditional on their electing the Conservative candidate. LONDON, TUESDAY, NOV. 26. LONDON AND ITS TRANSPORTA-TION PROBLEM. unless London hands over to this private corporation possession of her railway to the lake has no foundation in any statement made by the Northern Railway.

"The origin of this bluff was the fertile brain of the newspaper that is opposing with all the bitterness of despair the electrification of the London and Port Stanley Railway."-London Free Press.

representatives of the Canadian

We suppose Mr. Beck's Man Friday refers in this paragraph to the assertion that the Canadian Northern would make St. Thomas the centre of its system in Western Ontario if it failed to get the London and Port Stanley Railway by lease or purchase. This intimation would be a legitimate makeweight in negotiations with the city if the company were in earnest, and if it had sound business reasons for concentrating at St. Thomas, failing an agreement with London. The city is entitled to official assurances on this matter; it should not be influenced by anything in the nature of a bluff.

The Free Press says that the talk of passing London by has no foundation in any statement made by the company's representatives, and is a fabrication by this journal. Fortunately this point is easily decided. The statement was made to The Advertiser hy a representative of the company, who asked that his name be not published. If the Free Press will name two reputable citizens, say members of the Council or London and Port Staninformant's name under the seal of plain at once by the city. confidence, provided the Free Press will accept their word and acknowledge civic question that should be treated than four. on its merits. Will it accept The Adertiser's challenge, or go on telling falsehoods?

Since the above was put into type Colonel Davidson, of the Canadian Northern, has informed the London and Port Stanley Railway Board that his company will build its main line through St. Thomas if it cannot secure the L. and P. S. R., and that London will be sidetracked. The Free Press owes The Advertiser an apology.

THE WAR AND PEACE NEWS.

The news about peace negotiations seems to be as uncertain and varying the news of the military operations 'hat the Turks have rejected Bulgarlan terms, and the next, instead of re-

But the purse of Mackenzie & Mann as vendors of Nia-Bulgaria is very shallow, and so is Turkey's; the further the war goes the greater the debt for winners and losers, and the less possible it will be to get any indemnity from Turkey. It is said offer for the London and Port Stanthat Bulgaria demands $140,000,000 as ley Railway should be considered in the price of evacuation east of its relation to the transportation inter-Tchorlu. It will not do to leave the Turks nothing wherewith to pay.

It is possible that friction may have arisen between the Bulgarians and Greeks over Saloniki, as some reports Stanley Railway to the Canadian have it. There may be nothing serious in the squabbles of looting soldiery, known, and its plans for London unbut their bickerings behind the fighting folded ,no one is competent to make line may complicate to some degree up his mind. There may be higher bidthe situation at Tchataldja.

Another respect to give the Bulgars pause is the cholera. That is a demon retain all its existing transportation with which the bravest man may fear to grapple, and to which the wise man will give the widest berth. Cold and wet the Balkan soldiers defy, but against the awful eastern plague hardihood avails nothing.

And why fight the cholera-stricken Turk especially when Russia forbids his expulsion from Constantinople. while on the other hand Austria and Germany refuse Servia a foothold on the Adriatic? Czar Ferdinand and King Peter may feel disinclined to pull chestnuts from the fire for others. One correspondent assures us that Servia is now ready to acquiesce in the Austrian demand for an independent or autonomous Albania provided that the little inland kingdom be allowed at least the use of a port on the Adri-

Kate Douglas Wiggin in Shilling Edition

[By Special Arrangement With the Winnipeg Telegram.]

Readers of Kate Douglas Wiggin's amusing down-east Yankee book, 'New Chronicles of Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," will be glad to hear that it is to be handed on in a shilling edition to the multitudinous reading public in England and Canada (Hodder & Stoughton). Rebecca is one of the liveliest girls in recent fiction. The eternal feminine is everywhere in firstclass prominence in her eager young life, and, for that matter, in the prim old life of her Aunt Miranda, who was a grim and unyielding woman when mit the advantages that the United she alighted on the wrong side of her four-poster in the morning, or when she felt an extra touch of rheumatism. She was often puzzled when confronted with the spectacle of Rebecca in a tantrum, as she was on that fall day when economical Miranda declared her purpose of raising the porcupine quills to ornament for the sixteenth time the millinery of the household. NO MORE ICE BRIDGE TRAGEDIES Rebecca hated those quills and she burst into this torrent of protest, which serves to show what very human speeches Kate Douglas Wiggin can in-

"I will NOT wear those hateful porcupine quills again this winter! I will not! It's wicked, WICKED to expect me to! Oh! how I wish there never had been any porcupine in the world, or that all of them had died before silly, hateful people ever thought of trimming hats with them! They curl round and tickle my ear! They blow against my cheek and sting it like needles! They do look outlandish, you said so yourself a minute ago. Nobody ever had any but only just me! The only porcupine was made into the only quills for me and nobody else! I wish instead of sticking OUT of the nasty beasts, that they stuck INTO them, same as they do into my cheek! I suffer, suffer, suffer, wearing them and hating them, and they will last for ever and for ever, and when I'm dead and can't help myself somebody'll rip them out of my last year's hat and stick them on my head, and Than brightest transports, choicest I'll be buried in them! Well, when I am buried THEY will be, that's one good thing! Oh, if I ever have a child I'll let her choose her own feathers and not make her wear ugly things like "So I have an inheritance coming pigs' bristles and porcupine quills!"

Fortunately the hat, quills and all, was blown into the river one day, and Rebecca escaped from that antiquated piece of hateful millinery.

Sir George Ross must feel some unrerise at his good standing in Coner-That's what I told the cop, your is now in England, where she has been larger. Some day its tiepin may slip the telling an interviewer that she hopes Rebecca, in dramatic form, will be as successful in her appeal to old coun-

About Flannels

Dear Miss Grey: Please answer the following questions and oblige: 1. Does gray flannel shrink when ashed and if it does, how should it be shrunk before made up?

2. What are the most fashionable coats for this coming winter? Hope you will publish this before Saturday. A READER.

A .- 1. Gray flannel shrinks very little and if the garments are made rather large to begin with it will not be necessary to shrink the material before making up. May I give you three hints regarding the washing of flannel? First, do not change the temperature of the water from beginning to end, as it hardens the goods to take them from hot to cold water. Second do not rub flannels as linen articles are rubbed, as that causes the fabric to knot together. Sop the articles up and down the water and pull through the hands, and after each water squeeze as dry as possible with the hands. Third, never rub soap on flannels. Make a suds of lukewarm water (do not have it so hot but that the hand may be held in comfortably) and add one tablespoon of borax for each pail of water. clean towel and iron after a short time Treated in this way, I think you will be bothered very little with shrinkage.

SLENDER THREAD HOLDS PEACE OF EUROPE

London, Nov. 25 .- The extreme anxiety manifested by all the European governments to deny the reports of warlike preparations and to represent the political situation as peaceful and satisfactory is in itself an indication of on how slender a thread the issues of peace and war in Europe now hang.

The danger arises not alone from the conflicting interests of Austria, Servia and other powers, but from the possibility that Turkey, following the traditional policy of profiting by the embroilment of the great powers, may adopt an irreconcilable attitude in the near negotiations.

Beyond the fact that the plenipotentiaries met today, nothing is yet known even whether an armistice has been arranged.

There appears to be a suspension of operations at Tchataldja, apprently by tacit consent rather than by formal government.

In the diplomatic field the most important reports are that Servia declines to reply to the Austrian demands until the war is concluded, and that Germany has not undertaken to mediate between Austria and Russia. The news that Servia is throwing further obstacles in the way of the Austrian representative in search of Prochaska, the Austrian consul at Prisrend, is another disquieting feature.

Fighting continues around Adrianople, where the besieging forces are reported to have drawn their investing circle to withtwo-thirds of a mile of the town.

WHY KEEP ON COUGHING? Here Is A Remedy That Will Stop It

Do you realize the danger in neglected cough? Then why don't you get rid of it?

Yes, you can shake it off, even though it has stuck to you for a long time, if you go about it right. Keep out in the fresh air as much as you can, build up your strength with plenty of wholesome food, and take Na-Dru-Co Syrup of Linseed, Licorice and Chlorodyne. This reliable household remedy has broken up thousands of hacking, persistent coughs, which were just as troublesome as yours, and what it has done for so many others it will do for you.

Na-Dru-Co Syrup of Linseed, Licorice and Chlorodyne contains absolutely no harmful drugs, and so can be given safely to children, as well as adults. Your physician or druggist can confirm this statement, for we are ready to send them on request a complete list of all the ingredients.

Didier Pitre, of Canadiens, Is Going to Play on Coast.

EFFORTS WILL BE MADE TO KEEP HIM

The Coast Promoters Are Still Waging War on Eastern Association.

Montreal, Nov. 25 .- The latest and most remarkable news of the entire hockey situation is that Jimmy Gardner has signed up Didier Pitre for the Pacific Coast Hockey League at a salary of $2,000. Pitre is bound by his contract to leave here within 48 hours, but the local magnates are doing their hardest to keep him here. Next to Fred Taylor, who has already gone to the coast, Pitre was the N. H. A.'s best drawing card.

A gentleman who is familiar with the Patricks, says that Donald Smith wired the coast promoters asking for his release, as he is desirous of signing with the Montreal Wanderers. The reply of the B. C. H. A. magnates was sharp and to the point, informing Smith that under no circumstances would they release him and that they would regard him as a contract-breaker if he did not fulfill his agreement to come to the coast this winter. Hugh Lehman has also whred that he has been tendered a more tempting contract than that which he signed to play with New Westminster.

INDOOR BASEBALL BEFORE BASKETBALL

The London Garrison Sergeants Hold Meeting to Form Military Leagues

BASEBALL COMES FIRST

Schedule Will Be Arranged So Teams Will Each Play Ten Games.

A meeting of the London Garrison Sergeants' Athletic Association was held in the Armories last evening, and the formation of the indoor baseball and basketball leagues was discussed. Representatives from the different branches of the military organization of London were present, and entries to the league were made.

It is the intention to run off the indoor baseball first. A schedule will be so arranged that each team will play ten games. The schedule will likely run from ten to fifteen weeks. Following that, the basketball league will be Rules Decided Upon. Several rules in connection with the governing of the leagues were discussed and passed upon. It was decided that all players signed by the baseball teams would have to stick with that team, and after he has played one game with one team he cannot play with any other. This was to prevent teams strengthening up for! the final series.

The final arrangements for the formation of the league will be made at a meeting to be held on Thursday

Ottawa, Nov. 25 .- The Ottawa pro fessional club has signed all its play- nates of the National League assembled ers, but there is a big scramble in progress for the amateur stars. New Edinburghs and Stewartons are fighting tooth and nail for material, with Nationals and Coopers taking a hand noon as scheduled. Coopers, a new club, will have Jerry Davidson, who was with McGill last year, as their captain. Ottawa

College will play a student team. Prospects are that amateur hockey will cut a much wider swath around Ottawa this season than the pro. game. The simon pures became very popular last season, and with sixnan teams, again the vogue in the will have serious opposition. The continued raiding of the N. H. Joe Patchen II. Will Be Fastest of Pacers in 1913

Just how fast Joe Patchen II., winner of the Chamber of Commerce and all the rest of the stakes excepting that at Fort Erie, could pace when stretched out was a mooted question during the season. Those who knew a lot about the son of Joe Patchen and Bessie Bonehill claimed that he could step in two minutes if prepared for such a trial, and others thought that if any horse could hang unto him that 2:02 would beat him.

The last appearance of the great pacer was at Los Angeles, after the Phoenix meeting, and Joe Patchen II., was driven against even time, which is HAVE taken to mean two minutes. The day was not suitable and the track was not at its best, but he paced an evenly rated mile in 2:00 3-4.

This is evidence of two-minute speed and as the horse has gone into winter quarters sound and fresh, it is likely that he will be the fastest of the pacers in 1913 and probably will bowl over a few records. If he beats two minutes, as he will if no accidents occur, his sire will have the rare distinction of producing two to do the trick, the other being the wonderful Dan Patch. In some circles Joe Patchen's mile at Los Angeles is mentioned as a record but as the attempt was against two minutes and he failed, the horse still has a record of 2:03 1-4, which makes him eligible to the 2:04 class next year. He probably will race in this, where possible, and in the free-for-all at other

Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 23. - From remarks let fall by Geo. Kennedy, it appears that the Quebec club got no more than was coming to them in losing Prodger, McDonald and Oatman. When the N. H. A. met at Quebec the Quebec people were asked if they wanted Lichtenstein to give back Gardiner and Johnston and thus prevent any raid from the Patricks. They de-clared that the players of their clubs were all signed and that they had no fear of their going west or any other place. They instructed the N. H. The letter quotes Mrs. Britton as saying: "I have decided to make a change in managers, and will not need your services any longer. I feel that you have not tried hard during the past year. The club has not made nearly as much money as it did in 1911. You do not seem to take much interest in the club."

much interest in the club."

The letter also gives President Jones of the club as authority for the statement that the club earned $15,000 this year.

Jones offered Bresnahan $2,500 for his contract, which calls for $10,000 annually and 10 per cent of the profits. Jones, however, the letter continues, refused to pay Bresnahan his percentage of this year's profits, unless he would surrender his contract, which has four years to run.

Nothing could better become his athletic figure. He was that type of man who looks thinner when fully clothed. He had never spared himself when asking others to work hard, and he received his guerdon now in a frame of iron and sinews of pliant steel. Helen usually came down to breakfast a half-past eight. (BY LOUIS TRACY.)

ed its vapor on hills and valley in a hoar frost. The sun rose with a magnificent disregard for yesterday's riot.

Spencer's room faced the southeast. When the valet drew his blind in the morning the cold room was filled with a balmy warmth. A glance through the window, however, dispelled a germ of hope that he and Helen might start on the promised walk to Vicosoprano. The snow lay deep in the pass, and probably extended a mile or two down into the Vale of Bregaglia. The rapid thaw that would set in during the forenoon might clear the roads before sunset. Next day walking would be practicable; today it meant wading.

He looked through the Orlegna gorge, and caught the silvery sheen of the Cima di Rosso's snow-capped summit. Hardly a rock was visible. The gale had clothed Real waking would be practicable; today it meant wading.

He looked through the Orlegna gorge, and caught the silvery sheen of the Cima di Rosso's snow-capped summit. Hardly a rock was visible. The gale had clothed each crag with a white shroud. All day long the upper reaches of the glacier would be pelted by avalanches. It struck him that an early stroll to the highest point of the path beyond Cavloccio might be rewarded with a distant view of several falls. In any case, it provided an excellent pretext for securing Helen's company, and he would have cheerfully suggested a trip in a balloon to attain the same object.

The temperature of his bath water induced doubts as to the imminence of the doubts as to the imminence of the duced doubts as to the imminence of the thaw. Indeed, the air was bitterly cold as yet. The snow lay closely on roads and meadow land. It had the texture of fine powder. Passing traffic left shallow, well-defined marks. A couple of stablemen swung their arms to restore circulation. The breath of horses and cattle showed in dense clouds.

For once in his life the color of a tie and the style of his clothes became mater he was prepared to abjure iced water even to drink tea.

But, as often happens, his cheery mood was destined to end in disappointment. He lingered a whole hour in the salle a manger, but Helen came not. Then he rose in a panic. What if she had breakfasted in her room, and was already basking in the sunlit verandah—perhaps listening to Bower's eloquence? He rushed out so suddenly that his walter was amazed. Really, these Americans were incomprehensible—weird as the English. The two races dwelt far apart, but they moved in the same erratic orbit. To the stolid German mind they were human comets, whose comings and goings were not to be gaged by any reasonable standard. But, as often happens, his cheery mood

Plenty of people greeted him, but there was no Helen. Ultimately he reflected that their appointment was for ten o'clock. He calmed down, and a pipe became obvious. He was enjoying that suprement delight of the ow, he expected that she would write in how, he expected that she would write in a clear, strong, legible way. He was not mistaken. She sent a friendly little message that she was devoting the morning to work. The weather made it impossible to go to Vicosoprano, and in any event she did not feel equal to a long walk. Yesterday's events," she explained, "took more out of me than I imagined."

"Well, she had been thinking of him and that counted. He was staring at the snow-covered tennis courts, and wonder-ing how soon the valley would regain its summer aspect, when Stampa limped into sight around the corner of the hotel. He stood at the foot of the broad flight of steps, as though waiting for someone. Spencer was about to join him for a chat, when he recollected that Bower and the guide had an ararngement to meet in the orning.

With the memory came a queer jumble of impressions. Stampa's story, told over-night, was a sad one; but the American was too fair-minded to affect a moral de-testation of Bower because of a piece of was too fair-minded to affect a moral detestation of Bower because of a piece of folly that wrecked a girl's life sixteen years ago. If the sins of a man's youth were to shadow his whole life, then charity and regeneration must be cast out of the scheme of things. Moreover, Bower's version of the incident might put a new face on it. There was no knowing how he, too, had been tempted and suffered. That he raged against the resurrection of a bygone misdeed was shown by his mad impulse to kill Stampa on the glacier. That such a man, strong in the power of his wealth and social position, should even dream of blotting out the past by a crime, offered the clearest proof of the frenzy that possessed him as soon as he recognized Stampa's father.

Not one word of his personal belief crossed Spencer's lips during the talk with the guide. Rather did he impress on his angry and vengeful hearer that a forgotten scandal should be left in lits tomb. He took this line, not that he posed as a moralist, but because he hated to acknowledge, even to himself that he posed as a moralist, but because he hated to acknowledge, even to himself, that he was helped in his wooing by Helen's horwas helped in his wooling by Helen's hor-ror of his rival's lapse from the standard every pure-minded woman sets up in her ideal lover. CALEDONIAN BANQUET WAS A GREAT SUCCESS

Ingersoll Members Were Guests of Executive at Splendid Spread.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Ingersoll, Nov. 26.—What was truly red letter event in the history of he Caledonia Society was held at Rogers' cafe last night, in the form of a complimentary dinner given by the executive. The gathering numbered about twenty-five, and a more genial lot have never occupied seats in banquet hall in Ingersoll.

The society has long enjoyed the distinction of doing all things well, and the banquet was fully in keeping with its record. Following the repast a period of speech-making was enjoyed. The Caledonia Society has done much to provide entertainment on a large scale during recent years, naving held many successful celebrations, and it has also been instrumental in giving the town beneficial advertising. The hockey spirit was quickly re-ived yesterday when the players and lovers of the game saw the light mantle of snow. The interest is rapidly being developed and a meeting to discuss organization and the prospects generally will likely be held this week.

The police court exchequer was considerably enriched as a result of the celebration which three Austrians, employed by the G. T. R., inaugurated on Saturday. Two of them, charged with being drunk and disorderly, were fined $2 and $5 and costs, respectively, while the third, charged with carrying an offensive weapon in the form of a huge knife, was fined $20 and costs. The knife was confiscated.

BAD BROOKLYN BLAZE

Three Blocks Swept Away When Chemical Plant Explodes.

New York, Nov. 25. - Brooklyn's East River waterfront was the scene late today of the most serious explesion and fire which that section has known for years. Fifteen men were removed to hospitals suffering from burns and injuries from which a number may die; several persons on the scene at the time were missing tonight but late reports discredited earlier heliefs that several lives had been lost. The area of three blocks was swept and a loss of nearly $1, 000,000 caused, despite the fact that the Brooklyn firemen were aided by New York fireboats and apparatus rushed across the bridges from Man-

The fire started with a series explosions of chemicals on the ground floor of the five-story building of the seventy men at work in the building a dozen on the main floor were hurled in every direction, suffering terrible burns, bruises and broken bones. A series of four other explosions followed in quick order, and the building was soon enveloped in the weird blue flames of burning sulphur. The explosions occurred with such force that eight firemen holding a hose upon the flames were thrown into the East River. They were picked up by a police launch, five of them suffering severe burns from the explosion.

Anglican Sunday School Workers Held a Conference

An instructive round-table conference was held in Cronyn Hall of St. Paul's Cathedral on Monday evening among the Sunday school teachers of the Anglican Church in London, Rev. R. A. Hiltz, general commission secretary for Sunday schools, was present, and delivered an address bearing on the new conception of religious training

Mr. Hiltz pointed out that the field of Sunday school labor was now broadening out to include the infant, and the aged as well as the young people. Ever since the original of the Sunday school service the young peo-ple alone were catered to. The church organizations saw fit to introduce this new feature, and they expect it to be a successful one. Ottawa, Nov. 26. - At the close of last night's sitting of the Commons, when during the debate on the speech from the throne the Hon. printed on another page, clipped on consecutive days, together with the stated amount that covers the necessary EXPENSE items of this wonderful distribution, including clerk hire, cost of packing, checking, express from factory, etc., entitles you to your choice of the beautiful books described below. This is not a Bible with meaningless pictures. The illustrations serve a distinct purpose. They enrich the text, but they do more—they intelligently explain it, so that many a hither to obscure passage assumes to thousands a new meaning through these eye-teaching pictures.

The Grand Triumph Artistic Perfection Is This Magnificent $5.00

More than 100 of the world's greatest artists, working under the advice of archaeologists and historians of wide renown, nave contributed the choicest products of their skill and genius to produce this grand triumph of artistic beauty in historical detail. These pictures are not mere reproductions of mediaeval frescoes and more or less familiar modern photographs, inserted at random; they have been specially made, in the light of Twentieth Century Knowledge, to illustrate selected texts in accordance with the matured beliefs of the greatest living theologians.

For Every Reader The Advertiser

One need not be a member of a religious organization to appreciate this magnificentlyillustrated work. Everyone who reads needs it; everybody that has occasion to carry on a conversation needs it; everybody can use it as an everyday reference book-a historical treatise, a key to familiar quotations. It is an educational volume for progressive people of TO-DAY.

Great Educational Campaign

As an EDUCATIONAL work alon e, the B ble demands a place in every home—and this new ILLUSTRATED BIBLE enhances the value 100 per cent for purposes of LEARNING. It portrays ACTUAL SCENES in a way that permanently impress the reader with the FACTS of HISTORY. There is actual need of a hand Bible (or "handy" Bible) in every home. The old family Bible fulfills its purpose, but is unwieldy even for occasional reference, and where is the man, woman or child that cannot gain KNOWLEDGE from this book?

Nothing will interest a child so quickly as a picture. Pictures speak a universal language, intelligible to young and old alike, and with no embarrassment of moods and tenses.

MAGNIFICENT ILLUSTRATED $5.00 EDITION OF THE BIBLE.

(like illustration) is bound in full flexible limp leather, with overlapping covers and title stamped in gold, with numerous full-page plates in color from the world-famous Tissot collection, together with six hundred superb pictures graphically illustrating and making plain the verse in the light of modern Biblical knowledge and research. The text conforms to the authorized edition, is self-pronouncing, with copious marginal references, maps and helps; printed on thin bible paper, flat opening at all pages; beautiful, readable type. The Best Cough Syrup is Easily Made at Home

Costs Little and Acts Quickly. Money Refunded If It Fails.

This recipe makes 16 ounces of cough syrup, and saves you about $2.00 as compared with ordinary cough remedies. It stops obstinate coughs—even whooping cough—in a hurry, and is splendid for sore lungs, asthma, croup, hoarseness and other throat troubles. Mix two cups of granulated sugar with one cup of warm water, and stir for two minutes. Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a 16-ounce bottle, and add the Sugar Syrup. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

This takes right hold of a cough and gives almost instant relief. It stimu-lates the appetite, and is slightly laxative-both excellent features. Pinex, as perhaps you know, is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in gualacol and the other natural healing pine elements.

No other preparation will do the work of Pinex in this recipe, although strained honey can be used instead of the sugar syrup, if desired.

Thousands of housewives in the United States and Canada now use this Pinex and Sugar Syrup recipe. This plan has often been imitated, but the old successful formula has never been equaled. Its low cost and quick results have made it immensely popular.

A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

box and after applying it a few times I felt marked relief. I continued with the Zam-Buk treatment and the relief was extended into a permanent cure. MR. WILLIAM KENTY, of Upper Nine Mile River, Hants Co., N. S., says:—"I suffered terribly from Piles, the pain at times being almost unbearable. I tried various ointments but all failed to do me the slightest good. I was tired of trying remedies when I heard of Zam-Buk, and thought as a last resource I would give this balm a trial. I procured a supply, and after a very short time Zam-Buk effected what several other cintments and medicines had failed to effect -a complete cure."

Zam-Buk also cures ECZEMA, BLOOD POISON, ULCERS. COLD SORES. CHAPPED HANDS, SCALP SORES, CUTS, BURNS, BRUISES, BCALDS and all SKIN INJURIES and DISEASES. All druggiets and stores, or Zam-Buk Co., Teronte, post free for price.

ONE LOAD OF WHEAT SOLD AT 95 CENTS

$16 a Ton Asked for Hay-No Straw Offered on the Local Market.

The attendance of buyers and sellers was very small on the market today. A lew scattered lots of vegetables were offered, and the prices were the same as quoted on Saturday.

About half a dozen loads of hay were offered, and the sales were rather slow, as the majority of the owners held out for the top price, and the buyers would not offer more than $16, except for a load of extra good quality. No straw was offered.

One load of wheat was sold at 95 cents per bushel.

Butter and eggs were not plentiful, but the prices remained unchanged from those of Saturday.

BOY IN A RUNAWAY FELL OVER FRONT AXLE

Fireman John Happer Stopped Animal Before the Lad Was Injured.

A rather sensational runaway, in which it was feared the driver of the outfit, owned by G. W. Kent, confectioner, Dundas street, would be badly hurt, occurred on Dundas street, between Clarence and Wellington streets, yesterday afternoon, about 5 o'clock. Fortunately, lowever, the boy in charge, although carried for a distance hanging over the front axle, escaped injury.

According to the lad's story, the horse, which he was driving westward on Dundas street, got beyond his control near Colborne street. At Waterloo street he Colborne street. At Waterloo street he was travelling pretty fast, but it did not appear to spectators that the horse could be stopped. P. C. Horace Vince, who was on duty between Wellington and Clarence streets, signalled the driver to proceed more slowly, and a moment later the boy, in his efforts to slacken, slipped out of his seat and fell across the front axle. The horse swung to the south side of the street and struck a pole, but was stopped before more serious damage was done by Fireman John Happer, of the Central station. Central station.

The boy, who was badly frightened, was carried into a store, but was later able to proceed unassisted.

$2,200 IS ASKED TO CHECK SEWER FIGURES

Outside Firm Puts in a Bid to the Board of Works for the Job.

At a special meeting of the board of works held yesterday afternoon, the matter of employing an expert to check up the figures of City Engineer Brazier on the cost of storm sewers. was considered.

The tender of the Domestic Engineering Company to do the work for $2,200 was received. Mayor Graham reported that he had got in touch Mr. T. Aird Murray, Toronto; with Willis Chipman, Toronto, and others, but had not received definite offers from them. He suggested that the matter be laid over until Thursday evening, and in the meantime he and Ald, Robinson would secure terms from those mentioned.

"I do not think we have to go out of town for a suitable man," said Ald. coles. "I am of the opinion that Mr. John M. Moore would be available. He knows local conditions, and would be just the man for the place." However, Ald. Moore stated that he did not think his brother was in a position to accept the position, and the committee finally decided secure the services of an outside expert.

Those present at the meeting were Ald. Robinson, chairman, Ald. Coles, Moore, Mayor Graham, City En-Ald. gineer Brazier and Secretary

BAPTIST YOUNG PEOPLE HELD SPLENDID RALLY

Gave a Very Strong Address at the Meeting.

Maitland Street Baptist Church was crowded on Monday evening, when a rally of the members of the B. Y. P. U. societies in the city was held. The young people turned out in full force and they spent a profitable evening. The feature of the rally was the address by Rev. J. E. Hawkings, of Sar-nia, who is the probable pastor of the piles. Remember what the old family Maitland Street edifice. Mr. Hawkings doctor said: Any part of the body cut made a profound impression on his away is gone forever. One or two apauditors, and he manifested a spirit which showed true ability.

Mr. Hawkings spoke on the topic, "The Fighting Spirit." He pointed out that the Christian followed in the same line as a soldier, but whereas the military soldier tok part in military engagements, the Christian soldier was conspicuous in a fight against sin. Both of these two types of soldiers displayed courage, and frequently this kind of courage was likened to "sand." The Sarnia pastor wanted to know whether the B. P. U.s of London dis-played "sand" in their skirmishes against sin, and in the service of the Lord. He knew many people who said they had no time for any kind of pleasures. He would advise these people to find their joy in the service of the Master. There was always room there for everlasting joy, and at the same time a victory was being won. The speaker pleaded with them to use their fighting spirit conscientiously in behalf of the Lord, whose battles were important and vital ones. Their services meant victory. Revs. W. L. Steeves and H. H. Bingham also took part in the service, the former taking the Scripture reading, and the latter closing with prayer. The

VALUE OF THE NEW EDUCATIONAL HELPS

Every Useful Feature Is Shown in a Most Unusual and Unique Manner.

Find the best way to do a thing and hen do it that way. This is indeed a good motto for anybody to follow. seems to have been an established rule with the publishers of the New Illustrated Bible which The Advertiser is now presenting to its readers. The wonderful new educational helps contained only in this great work comprise exactly what everybody most needs and should have in a volume of this kind. Most of the topics are of a purely historical character, takins up the peoples and the land of those days, and touching upon geographical data and historical events of that time. These original instructive helps constitute a complete educational course that can be had from no other source. The correct pronunciation of every proper name is indicated by a system of accents and diacritical marks, which will enable you to read with absolute certainty of pronouncing, with the utmost accuracy, even the most puzzling Scriptural names of people and places. The marginal references and variant readings are most profuse than in other

The superb maps, in brilliant colors were engraved especially for this edition, and are not procurable elsewhere. They are remarkable for their accuracy and mechanical execution, being artistically printed from perfect new plates. The colors are tasteful and artistically blended.

Then, besides the unique feature of illustrations printed in with the type where they belong, there are all of the pest of the world-famous Tissot pictures. These are full page plates in colors, and go to make this volume a rare work of art in every respect.

On the whole, this New Illustrated Bible which The Advertiser presents to its readers is a modern volume in every respect, and the splendid illustrations alone make it superior to all other editions. Present six educational certificates and get this great work at once. Today's certificate is printed on another page, where the entire plan is fully explained.

LONDON DELEGATES ARE HOME FROM CONVENTION

A Most Inspiring Convention of Y. M. C. A. Workers at Galt.

Messrs, H. A. McKerracher and Grant Chadwick and the band of 30 Y. M. C. A. delegates who attended the Y. M. C. A. conference in Galt, have just arrived home, and report a most inspiring convention. Over 650 dele-gates were present from the different institutions in the Province, and at the mass meeting in the opera house on Sunday afternoon, which was the climax of the conference, more than a thousand were in the audience.

The local delegates state that it was audience of young men stood up and pledged themselves to take a definite step forward and to advance social service among their fellows. By this step they promised to depart from any habits of evil they possessed and de-vote themselves to the uplift of the lower strata of moral society.

The object of the conference was to obtain information for the betterment of boys along religious lines. It resulted in bringing the church and the Sunday school to have a better understanding with the association. In the future the church and Sunday school will operate to a greater exent with novation which will probably be inaugurated in the institution at an early date will be a mid-week meeting

The case of Cameron against Hull was an action by the plaintiffs, Thomas W. and Clara Cameron, for a specific performance of an agreement of the sale of certain lands in the township of North Dorchester. A previous application had been made in the matter to Mr. Justice Sutherland at the weekly court, London, under the vendors' and purchasers' act, but that application had been dismissed with costs. contention of the defendants was that by the dismissal of the action under the vendors' and purchasers' act, the plaintiffs were precluded from bringing the action, and objection was made that the proper parties were not before the court to enable the judge to dispose of the question at issue. The case was adjourned until the January sittings of the court. Leave was given to the plaintiffs to amend and serve the writ of summons and statement of the writ of summons and statement of claim, as they might be advised. The defendants in the action were Francis Hull, John Gorman, William H. Gorjoy to many a home.
