

EXPRESS ON FIRST TRIP KILLS A SECTIONMAN AT HYDE PARK

Charles Smith, in Avoiding a Freight, Steps Before a Flying Passenger Train and Is Instantly Killed—
Coroner Orders Inquest.

Stepping out of the way of a freight train this morning, Charles Smith, a sectionman, employed by the Grand Trunk, who resides at Hyde Park, stepped directly in the path of Grand Trunk express No. 46, on her maiden trip, and was instantly killed.

Smith and a number of other men were working in that district under Section Foreman William Hare. Smith was working in the middle of the westbound track, with his head down. When he heard the freight coming he stepped from one track to the other, and although his companions shouted to him, he did not have time to get out of the way of the express.

The pilot of the engine struck him, hurling him some distance, and when he picked up it was found that a large hole had been torn in the side of his head.

The train, which was in charge of Conductor Joseph O'Brien and Engineer MacAtter, both of this city, was brought to a stop a short distance from the place of the accident, and the body of the man placed aboard. It was brought to this city, where Dr. George Wilson and Dr. J. C. Wilson were waiting. On examination it was found that the man was dead.

Coroner Ferguson was called, and decided that an inquest was necessary. The dead man, who was about 43 years of age, he survived by his wife and two children, a boy and a girl, both grown up.

THREE NEW REGIMENTS ARRIVE FOR TRAINING AT THE HEIGHTS

End of Seven Hard Days' Work Drilling and Shooting Finds Men Rounding Into First-Class Form—Extensive Manoeuvres Today on Chadwick Farm.

After seven days of hard work, drilling and shooting, the men in camp at Carling's Heights are rapidly rounding into form, and everything about the camp is running smoothly. Three new regiments, the Twenty-eighth, of Perth, the Twenty-fifth of St. Thomas, and the Twenty-second of Woodstock, arrived in camp since Saturday night. This afternoon several lessons in the use of the rifle will be given, and augmented the strength of the forces by about 400. The Twenty-fifth of St. Thomas is in charge of Col. W. J. Green, and the Twenty-second in charge of Major F. O. Bullock.

Brigades Nos. 1 and 2 of the Infantry were drilled this morning on the Chadwick farm, and their commanders were well pleased with the manner in which the men went through the different manoeuvres.

Helicopter Drill. The signalling corps are taken over the grounds every morning, and a number of lessons are given the men. This afternoon several lessons in the use of the helicopter will be given. Practically every man in the infantry is looking forward to the manoeuvres and sham fight which will take place Wednesday between the 3rd and 5th concessions of London Township and the Asylum sideway and Adelaide street.

The First Hussars, the Grey's Horse and a detachment of the Canadian Signalling Corps left camp at 9 o'clock this morning for a three-day bivouac between Thorndale and Ilderton. They carried with them provisions for the day, and will meet at a central point tonight, where two days' provisions will be dealt out to them. The return march will be made Wednesday night. While on the trip practical manoeuvres will be gone through, and a mimic warfare will be staged tomorrow and part of Wednesday. Major Brown, C. P. A., brigade major of the First Infantry, accompanied the First Hussars, who were under the command of Brigadier-Lieut. Cole and Gregory, on their march.

The field hospitals were turned over Sunday to the Fifteenth Field Ambulance, and the command of Sergeant-Major Marshall. The men of the Fifteenth Field Ambulance all belong to London, and have made an excellent showing on Saturday while making his inspection. General Sir Ian Hamilton spent nearly an hour watching their work, and spoke quite favorably of it.

In the Hospital. At present there are nine men in the field hospital, nearly all of them suffering from minor illness. Three were discharged Sunday and three admitted. Those admitted were: Pte. Brain, of the Thirtieth; Pte. Pollard, of the Twenty-sixth; and Pte. Giekie, of the Twenty-fourth.

The officers and men of the field ambulance are grateful to the kindnesses shown to the patients in the hospital. Sunday they sent several fine puddings and a number of other delicacies, and one of them loaned a gramophone and put on a religious service.

Capt. Massey, commanding the Twenty-seventh Regiment, was taken to his home on Sunday. He was ill for several days, and on the advice of his physician he went to his home in Bridgen for a slight operation.

The county council of Middlesex will be entertained to dinner by the officers of the Twenty-sixth Middlesex Regiment tonight. It is expected that a number of the councillors will be present, the dinner being an annual affair.

A letter was received by the commander of the Thirty-third Regiment this morning from Col. H. Smith, of the headquarters staff, Ottawa, who formerly held the office of D. O. C., now held by Col. Hodgkins, commander of this division, saying that he would gladly accept the position of honorary colonel, offered to him by the officers of that regiment, after a meeting held several nights ago, if the military authorities granted permission.

A meeting will be held in the Y. M. C. A. tent tonight at 5:30 to make final arrangements for the field day sports, which are to be held Thursday.

HAPPY RESULT OF ROMANTIC APPEAL THROUGH MAIL

Clarence Street Man Wrote to England Asking That Bride Be Secured.

Had Over One Hundred Applications From Which To Make a Selection.

With the memory of the rosy-cheeked English lassies constantly before him, Canadian girls had no chance to win Albert E. Ayton, 225 Clarence street, as a husband. It's not that Ayton doesn't like the Canadian girls or that there is a scarcity of the marriageable type in London. He thinks the Canadian girls are all right, but thoughts of the English ones have kept him a bachelor throughout the years he has been in Canada. Now there is an English lassie coming across the waters in about four weeks to wed Ayton, as a result of a letter he recently wrote to the guardians of Bury, St. Edmund's parish near London, England, asking them to secure him a wife.

His Heart's Wish Gratified.

Just who of the 116 young women that responded to Ayton's appeal for an English girl is the one who has been selected as the bride, the bridegroom-to-be refused to say. One has been picked, however, and within a month she will be in London, and the greatest wish of Ayton's heart will have been gratified. He will have an English wife.

Since Ayton came to Canada some years ago he has made one trip to the old land, but returned to the Dominion heart-free. Thoughts of the English girls and the desire to have one for a wife were stimulated by that trip. Any other type were absolutely taboo so far as "I never looked for a girl here," said Ayton to The Advertiser this afternoon. "I didn't want one." This was the explanation he gave of his action in soliciting the aid of the old country officials in securing the future Mrs. Ayton.

JOHNSON APPEAL GRANTED.

Chicago, June 23.—An appeal from the verdict which sentenced him to a year in prison for violation of the Mann white slave act, was granted Jack Johnson, the negro pugilist, by Judge Carpenter, in the United States district court here today.

KNOCKOUT BLOW FOR ELECTRIFICATION IN BREAKS IN POWER LINE

Dependable Service Could Never Be Assured Without Auxiliary Plant of Some Kind—Free Press Turns Down Hydro for Private Power

Faced with another serious argument against electrification, the advocates of the scheme so named are somewhat groggy at the present time. The failure of the hydro-electric system throughout Ontario last week has given the campaign such a blow that there are serious doubts as to whether the issue will be submitted to the electors even after Hon. Adam Beck has returned to the city.

Knocked Out For Good.

With none of the arguments that have been advanced against the proposal from many quarters overcome, and with not a single conversion to it, the plan to spend one million dollars upon the London and Port Stanley Railway has been given what many regard as its quietus by the breakdown of the hydro-power line, and public opinion, which has given its expression as against the measure in the return of Ald. Richter at the head of the polls this year, has turned its face against the scheme. In the first place the people of London saw the dilemma of the traction company at the time of the breakdown. They learned that every railway way using hydro in the country was tied up. Mothers with children in their arms were compelled to wait for hours in stalled cars, businessmen were prevented from catching trains, the public suffered a great inconvenience. A service that had been generally commended has not yet been able to restore confidence in its ability to take travellers from one point to another.

Can Protect Patrons.

But the traction company took immediate steps to regain its place in public favor. It has a steam plant, which will be put in commission almost immediately in order that there will be no long delays as a result of hydro failures.

AN ELECTRIFIED ROAD WOULD HAVE NO AUXILIARY SERVICE, AND A DEPENDABLE SERVICE COULD NOT BE GIVEN.

The line might be tied up for days. In Syracuse and other New York State cities using hydro-power the railway lines have been tied up for long periods during a whole summer season. It has become a street expression in central New York that every time there was a heavy dew at Niagara falls the power went off. These cities are just as well protected and have better systems of insurance than the hydro-electric lines of Ontario. Yet they suffer frequent breakdowns and have a telephone alarm system, which gives warning of approaching storms. The auxiliary lines are saved when word has been received that there are heavy storms in the vicinity.

"Going Like Nine-pins."

Hydro-electric promoters in Ontario have made no provision for breakdowns. The chief engineer, Mr. Gentry, has said that the insurers were "going down like nine-pins." The same breakdowns may occur tomorrow. They may not occur again in years. Yet the chance of disaster will never be eliminated. London is at the mercy of not only local troubles, but troubles a hundred miles away.

The shippers of London have been expressing themselves since the recent breakdowns. They have never been in favor of electrification, and they are stronger than ever in their expressions against it at the present time. A few hours' delay might completely throw out of gear the smooth system of transportation by which London now is able to serve through its wholesale houses, a great district in southwestern Ontario, and just beyond which stands hungry Hamilton, waiting for the delay of hours that will put this market in its grasp and wrench it away from London.

Cannot Be Gulled.

While they have any influence left with the citizens, the shippers will never submit to being left open to the dangers of transshipment, breakdowns, and demoralized service. They are the men who have big stakes in London. They would not block the wheels of progress. But they will not permit stones to be tied about the neck of the municipality in the name of progress.

THEY WILL NOT BE BLUDGEONED OR DECEIVED BY A NEWSPAPER THAT TRIED TO FORCE A THAMES RIVER FILTRATION SCHEME DOWN THE THROATS OF THE PEOPLE (AND FAILED DISMALLY).

They will never be bludgeoned or deceived by a newspaper that last week gave its business to a private power company in the city of London, and threw down hydro-electric power. THE LONDON FREE PRESS HAS COMMENCED THE OPERATION OF ITS PLANT WITH POWER SERVED BY A COMPANY WHICH IT HAS BEEN PLEASED TO CLASS AS AN "ENEMY OF HYDRO-ELECTRIC."

It took this power, although the hydro solicitors were eager to secure the contract, and quoted the people's power to the owners on frequent occasions. What the Free Press may do in its private business it has a perfect right to do. But when it assails everyone it pleases as an enemy of hydro-power, and then deliberately turns down hydro in favor of a company it is pleased to frequently attack, the public must know the truth of the matter.

IF THE LONDON FREE PRESS WERE TRUE TO ITS COLORS, IT WOULD BE READY TO LOSE THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS TO SHOW ITS FAITH IN HYDRO. IT WOULD USE ITS STEAM PLANT IN EMERGENCIES, AND HYDRO, WHILE IT LASTED.

Courts May Settle Fight Over Wiring

Builder Refused to Permit Installation of London Electric Wires.

It is probable that the London Electric Company through its solicitors, Messrs. Meredith & Meredith, will seek in the courts an injunction as a result of the refusal of John Hayman to allow the company to place wires in one of the latter's apartment houses.

When the hydro wires broke down last week, the company had several applications from tenants in the Hayman apartments. They filed their applications in the regular way, and line-men were sent to place the wires. The owner of the apartments ordered them away when he discovered them, and the men succeeded in getting in only one service. Hayman notified the tenants, it is understood, that they must either use hydro or leave the apartments. As one of them had a year's lease, he told Mr. Hayman that he would not leave the place, and that he would install the London Electric wires.

The London Electric management consulted lawyers, and is determined to have the matter cleared up by securing an injunction to restrain Hayman from preventing the company installing the service. The company has been advised that it has no authority to keep the wires from going in should a tenant request them.

MEDICAL MEETING WILL BE GREATEST HELD IN DOMINION

Over One Thousand Visitors Gathering for Convention Which Opens Tuesday.

Elaborate Preparations Being Made for Clinics and Entertainments.

With the opening of the 46th annual meeting of the Canadian Medical Association in this city Tuesday morning, will come over a thousand visitors to the Forest City, at least, such is the expectation of those who have the arrangements in hand. About six hundred delegates are expected, and as these are all invited to bring their wives and families, a large gathering is looked forward to.

Medical men from all over Canada from the Atlantic to the Pacific will be present at the convention, which in many respects will be the greatest ever held by the Canadian Medical Association. A number of the most eminent medical men of the United States will also attend, and will deliver lectures in the branches of medicine and surgery, in which they are specialists.

Elaborate Arrangements. Preparations are going rapidly forward at the new Masonic Temple on Queen's avenue, where the meetings are to be held. Three lanterns are being installed in different sections of the building to allow the lecturers to illustrate their remarks by lantern slides. Practically the whole building will be given over to the doctors, and arrangements for their comfort, are rapidly being brought to completion. The ante-rooms on the ground floor are being converted into cloak rooms, and one is being set aside as a registration office. Registration will be open this afternoon at 3 o'clock, and will continue until 5:30 to allow London members and those arriving early to register.

An X-Ray Section. A number of firms dealing in medical supplies will have exhibits in the building. Some of these are being put in place this morning.

For the first time in its history the

TEACHERS AROUSED BY CHARGE MADE AT HURON SYNOD

Object to Statement That Irreligion Was Being Taught in Schools.

Examination Paper Shows That Teachers Are Obeying the Instructions.

At the Synod of Huron meeting certain remarks were passed in support of the claim that there was not proper biblical training in the schools. One speaker said that Irreligion, that religion, was being taught. The teachers have been aroused by these claims, because it would be indicated by them that the teachers were not obeying instructions.

One of the teachers today sent to the advertiser the examination paper written on this morning, and prepared by the department more than one month ago. As the statement is pre-supposedly careful teaching of the Bible, especially when it is written upon by children from 9 to 11 years of age.

HORRORS! GERMANS CAMP IN HIS MAJESTY'S ARMY

Irish War Correspondent Discovers Newly-Arrived Teutons Have Enlisted in Grey's Horse in Large Numbers.

The German peril is close to London! Far closer than the peaceful burghers ever think! If this does not make you shiver, Mr. Smug Canadian, who sniffs at emergencies and North Sea perils, take yourself to Carling's Heights.

CAN'T SPEAK ENGLISH.

There you will find enlisted in His Majesty's Grey's Horse no less than sixty full-blooded Germans, some of whom have been in Canada only a few weeks, and who cannot speak a word of English.

Our Irish war correspondent rushed into the office this morning with this sensation. He had come upon it in a peculiar way, and had been highly commended for bringing to the light so important a military discovery.

HOW IT CAME OUT.

He found in the hospital, Trooper Franz, who had been kicked in the leg by his horse. Trooper Franz was unable to tell about it in English. Then it came out that there was a whole company of young Germans in Grey's Horse, recruited at Berlin, Ont., some of whom had not been long out from the fatherland.

So, Mr. Citizen and Mrs. Citizen, tremble! The invading army is being injected insidiously into our midst, Hoch der Kaiser!

Husky Prisoner in Fight With Chief

[Special to The Advertiser.] Ingersoll, June 23.—Cornelius Cosson and John Hutton, taken into custody for being drunk, have been remanded to jail until Wednesday. Cosson fought desperately and gave Chief Fish endless trouble before he was placed behind the bars. He is a strong wiry man and resisted arrest at every turn, even showing fight after being placed in the lock-up, when he is said to have struck both the chief and Constable Wright. Because of the conduct of the two prisoners the trial on Wednesday is creating much interest.

Cornice Crashed Down as People Went Out

[Canadian Press.] Toronto, June 23.—Just as the benediction had been pronounced and the Church last night, a huge corner of plaster came hurling down and smashed among the pews, scattering debris in every direction.

If the accident had occurred a minute earlier somebody would probably have been killed, as a great many people were sitting in the neighborhood. One lady had her hat knocked off and her dress torn, by a flying missile, but nobody was injured.

SEWER CAVED IN

[Special to The Advertiser.] Wingham, June 23.—Two laborers who were digging for the new sewers on Francis street, were caught in a cave-in on Saturday afternoon. One man was buried to the chest, and the other jumped and was only caught by his feet. Mr. Huffman, who resides near by, by prompt use of a crowbar prevented another large section of earth from caving in on the men. Neither of the men caught by the earth were badly hurt.

Gravel Pit Worker Suffers a Sunstroke

Arthur Wilson, of Westminster Township, Taken to the Victoria Hospital.

Suffering from a sunstroke, Arthur Wilson, of the 1st concession of Westminster, was removed to Victoria Hospital in the police ambulance this morning about 11 o'clock.

Wilson was at work in a gravel pit on West street, Ealing, when overcome, and on account of the distance and the condition of the roads, it was some time before the ambulance could reach the place. The horses were driven at a good speed to the scene, and on their arrival were nearly overcome with the heat, evidencing the crying need of a motor ambulance in this city. At Victoria Hospital this afternoon Wilson was reported to be doing well.

Exams Commence For Normal School

Public School Promotion Papers Also Under Way.

Examinations for entrance to the Normal schools of Ontario began at the Collegiate Institute this morning. They will be concluded one week from today. Promotion examinations in the public schools also began today and will continue Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Upper school pupils who are writing on the examinations for entrance to faculties of education are fairly well satisfied with the papers they have written on so far. This morning they tried medical history. It was regarded as a satisfactory and fair paper.

ORANGEMEN WILL ASK AMENDMENT OF SCHOOL ACT

Grand Association of Saskatchewan to Fight Enlarged Privilege.

Want Recent Amendment Disallowed by Premier Borden Repealed as Illegal.

Ottawa, June 22.—It is stated here on good authority that the Grand Association of the Orange Order of Saskatchewan, backed by the Orange Order of Ontario and by the organ of the order, the Orange Sentinel, will take steps to have the 1913 amendment of the Saskatchewan school act disallowed by Premier Borden on the ground of unconstitutionality. The Grand Association of Saskatchewan is at present endeavoring to raise funds to test the amendment in the courts, and to carry the same to the judicial committee of the privy council in England. They desire that the recent amendment be repealed.

May Be Illegal.
A strong body of opinion in the Orange Order, however, is to the effect that if the amendment is unconstitutional, it is more expeditious and less costly method than by recourse to the courts would be to convince the Borden Government of the unconstitutionality of the amendment and have it disallowed by federal authority. Such a disallowance could take place within one year after a copy of the amended act has been received by the Secretary of State.

The contention is that the new amendment enlarges the separate school privilege and compels the support of two schools by residents in districts where separate and public schools exist. As a matter of fact a few ratepayers, Protestant or Roman Catholic, may petition for the establishment of a separate school, but the said school is otherwise in every respect under the general school act. Text books, inspection, etc., are all under the general school law, which applies to public as well as to separate schools.

Former Situation.
Previous to the passing of the Saskatchewan act of 1905 the school laws of the Northwest Territories had been consolidated by chapter 21 of the laws of 1901, sections 41 to 45 inclusive of the laws of 1901, and for the procedure for the establishment of Protestant or Roman Catholic separate schools, and by the act of Parliament of Canada, 1905, establishing Saskatchewan into a province. The principal of these sections of the school laws were embodied into the constitution granted to the said province of Saskatchewan. By chapter 100 of the revised statutes of Saskatchewan, passed in 1909, four years after the province was established, sections 41 to 45 inclusive, are the same as sections 41 to 45 inclusive in the laws of 1901; subsection 2 of section 45 of chapter 100 of the revised statutes of Saskatchewan, 1909 is as follows: "(2) any person who is legally assessed or assessable for a public school shall not be liable to assessment for any separate school established therein."

Was Amended.
At the recent session of the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Saskatchewan, the school act of Saskatchewan was amended by chapter 35, and assented to in January, 1913. Section 3 of this act amends subsection 2 of section 45 of the act of 1909 by adding thereto the following proviso: "Provided that in the case of any separate school district having theretofore been or hereafter being established within which a separate school is maintained in operation, the ratepayers of the religious faith of the minority supporting and maintaining the public school district within which such separate school district is established shall be assessable for public school purposes only."

How Premier Borden, who is one of the most eminent lawyers in Parliament, will decide, in conjunction with the Department of Justice and his cabinet, remains to be seen.

Had Pimples on Face

And Back Was Literally Covered With Them.

Bad blood is the direct cause of pimples breaking out on the face and body, and it is impossible to get rid of them unless you cleanse the blood of all its impurities.

Burdock Blood Bitters is without a doubt, the very best medicine for this purpose.

This old and reliable remedy has been used for over thirty-five years, and has a reputation unequalled by any other for purifying the blood.

Mr. Peter La Pierre, Assistant Postmaster, Touchwood Hills, Sask., writes: "The fall before last, I was very much troubled with pimples on my face and back. My back was literally covered with them, and I could not lie on it at night, they were so painful. One day my sister advised me to use Burdock Blood Bitters, so I got two bottles, and before I had taken all the first one, the pimples had nearly disappeared, and now I am completely cured."

UNION MEN IN CANADA NUMBER 160,120 NOW

Eighty-Eight Per Cent of the Workers Are Not Organized.

Labor Statistics Show That Canada Now Has 1,638 Local Branches.

Ottawa, June 21.—Some interesting facts respecting labor and its organizations in Canada are contained in the annual special report on the subject by the Department of Labor. The union membership in the last calendar year increased from 132,132 to 160,120 at the end of 1912. The report says in part:

"It is now well understood by those interested in the subject that the great majority of units of organized labor in Canada are affiliated with international organizations having their headquarters in the United States. The mass of membership is in all these cases south of the line, the Canadian membership receiving generally its proportion of officials."

Widely Extended.
This system of internationalism in labor organization in Canada is apparently confined to no particular class of workers, and extends throughout practically all industries; in some cases, however, the workers have formed a form of unionism independent of the international bodies and have proceeded on non-international lines.

International unions in North America number 118, and 99 have affiliated locals in Canada. Of the latter eighty-two are in affiliation with the American Federation of Labor. The Canadian membership in this federation is about 95,000, or one-twentieth of the whole.

The tables submitted show that the 158,399 workers in Canada who are members of international organizations are contained in 1,638 local branches, which is an increase of 197 locals and 16,974 members over the figures reported for 1911.

Canadian Organizations.
Of Canadian organizations there are 217 local branches with a total membership of 15,618, a slight increase for the year; and in addition there are twenty-eight independent bodies, of which 16 report a membership of 8,115, thus bringing to the figure of 160,120 the total membership reported for the year 1912. The total membership reported for 1911 was 132,132, contained in 1,474 local and independent bodies.

Only 12 Per Cent Organized.
The total number of wage-earners of Canada may be fairly estimated at the current year at 1,300,000.

With regard to the large majority of wage-earners who remain thus apparently unorganized by organization and representation 88 per cent of the whole, organization is chiefly lacking in the case of unskilled labor. Farm labor and the class of workers described generally in the census and other official returns as laborers that is without technical instruction, of any kind, alone comprise about one-fourth of the total male wage-earners, and these are practically unorganized.

Female Workers.
Female workers, too, are but little organized in Canada. The number of women workers in 1909 was placed at 138,042, and may be (again allowing an increase of forty per cent) placed at 200,000 at the end of 1912. The extent of organization among women workers of Canada is not easily ascertained, but the information at hand shows that it is little. Organization on the part of female workers is found chiefly in the manufacturing group, in such callings, for instance, as garment workers, cigar-makers, bookbinders, etc.

The trades union membership throughout the country aggregates 11,435,498. Germany is first, Great Britain second, the United States third. The report gives a complete list of all unions in Canada and their officers.

Militants Pelted With Eggs by Crowd

Ten Thousand People Were Waiting for Suffragettes at Canbourne.

London, June 22.—The suffragettes who are marching from Lady's End to Canbourne Saturday. A crowd of ten thousand persons waited for them, and the first attempt to get on to the platform of the women was greeted with a volley of eggs. The van containing the would-be speakers was rushed up a side street and overturned. The suffragettes fled to a hotel and escaped from there hours later in disguise.

An attempt to cause a breach in the embankment of a canal by means of an explosion of gunpowder is reported from Yardley, Worcestershire, a few miles from Birmingham. Some suffrage literature was discovered in the neighborhood. The cavity caused by the explosion almost penetrated the bank of the canal, and a little more force would have released eleven miles of water and have devastated the valley below.

COMPLETELY CURED OF DYSPESIA

By Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets

We are continually hearing from grateful people who have had experiences like that of Miss Alice E. Cooper, of Niagara Falls, Ont., who writes: "I wish to express my gratitude to you for the benefit I received from your most wonderful Dyspepsia Tablets. Having taken other medicines without having received the slightest relief, I heard of your Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets and thought I would give them a trial. I have been completely cured of dyspepsia. I will be only too pleased to advise any one troubled with dyspepsia to give them a fair trial."

Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets not only give the immediate relief from heartburn, flatulence, acidity of the stomach and biliousness, which is so much needed, but if taken regularly for a few days or weeks they completely cure the most aggravated cases of stomach trouble. When for 50¢ you can get a box from your druggist, why go on suffering? National Drug and Chemical Co. of Canada, Limited, Montreal, 144

Delayed by Fog.
Cleveland, June 22. Ships again lost twelve hours in the fog about the Soo yesterday. It was also thick at Port Huron. As a result of two days and nights of slow moving the fleet that was due at this end of the route Saturday will not begin to arrive until tomorrow. The line-up for Monday and Tuesday is very heavy and ships will be forced to wait for turns at the unloading docks.

Because of delays due to fog and the big fleet that will be at this end of the route this week, there was a good demand for boats to load ore at Lake Superior points. There has been no particular shortage of tonnage at any time, and the demand is the same as that which occurs when the ships are bunched at this end of the route. With a big movement, boats are wanted all the time, and are necessary to keep the mines going steadily.

FEAR EFFECT OF NEW LAW

Hardy Bill Requires American Mates, and There Are Not Enough.

SHIP OWNERS ANXIOUS

Detroit, June 22.—Steamship owners of Chicago and elsewhere on the great lakes are alarmed by the probable effects of a bill signed by former President Taft on the eve of his retirement from office. The bill is known as the Hardy law, and provides for outfitting of a ship according to its tonnage and the distance which it travels.

While some are talking about the weather others are talking about how cool it is at Smallman & Ingram's. Excessive heat is always irritating and summer shopping is not always easy. But it is an undeniable fact that this three sides open store—with cool breezes from the north, east and south, high ceilings and open ventilation—is cooler by many degrees than the street or smaller and differently arranged buildings. Electric fans are a poor substitute for what we have here in scientific construction—wide, roomy aisles, airy and comfortable. Notice the difference when you step in from the street.

Popular-Priced Corsets—A Special Quartette, $1.25 Pair

W. B. Nu-Form 133, $1.25

A splendid model for the average figure, low bust, very long over the hips and back; made of batiste, drawstring at top, and two pairs strong hose supporters. A splendid model. Sizes 18 to 28. Price.....$1.25 are American citizens. If a ship is engaged in a run of less than four hundred miles, only two licensed mates are required. Heavy penalties are to be imposed on owners of vessels who fail to comply with the law.

Although no action has been taken by the Government, it is proposed to enforce the law. Ship-owners are apprehensive, and steps are being taken to have the law modified. Owners are liable to a fine of $500 for enough American mates to man the ships according to the new requirement. Inspectors are required to make reports of violations every day in regular form.

Lake vessels will not be involved as much as ocean-going ships and tugs, it is said. The lake boats are manned in most cases with the required number of mates.

According to the Hardy law, owners are liable to a fine of $500 for each violation. Few actual violations on which fines could be assessed have been reported, and no effort to sue and collect fines has been made.

VARNA.

Varna, June 22.—Miss Linklater, principal of the Bayfield public school, presided over the entrance examinations held here. Mr. John Beatty presided at Bayfield.

Mr. Joseph Foster, of London, is visiting friends here.

Mr. Johns and Mrs. James Wanless are ill at their homes here.

A number of friends of Mr. Wm. and Miss Mary McAsh spent an enjoyable evening at their old home recently. Mr. and Miss McAsh left Saturday for Detroit where they intend spending a week visiting friends. They expect leaving for the west after their return from Detroit.

The recent rains have been a great boon to the crops in this vicinity. Owing to the long spell of cool, dry weather hay will be a light crop.

Mrs. Morrison and her daughter, Tillie, have returned to their home here, after spending a year in California.

LONDON, MONDAY, JUNE 23.

THE SONS OF AEsculapius.

This week several hundred doctors from all parts of Canada will meet in London at the annual session of the Dominion Medical Association. We have had several conventions in our city this year. Most, if not all of them, have been of a legislative character. They have met to make laws for the government of church or society. But the convention this week is educational, not legislative. The making of laws for the medical profession in Canada belongs to the various medical councils. The gathering this week is for the study of medical problems, and for mutual improvement.

We are all interested, either directly or indirectly, in the progress of medicine. A man may disbelieve in Christianity, and thus have no close relationship with the clergy. He may be a poor man, and escape from the lawyers. But from the hour of his birth to the hour of death, and at varying intervals between, every man comes in contact with a doctor. And we are glad to see him, when the time comes. We may sneer at him in health, but when disease appears, and death threatens, either for ourselves or our friends or relatives, no one is so welcome as the physician.

The varying attitudes of the ordinary man towards the doctor are described in a series of four pictures by an old Dutch painter. In a dangerous illness, racked with pain, the doctor seems to the sufferer a god; when the pain eases he becomes an angel of mercy; when health is restored, he is a fine man; when he sends in his bill he looks like Satan. There is a good deal of truth in the grim jest, but it is not universal. In most cases we are grateful to the doctor for his services. We give him honor and respect; we send him into our municipal councils, we elect him to Parliament, we make him a cabinet minister or a premier; and we pay his bill without grumbling—sometimes, if not always.

And he deserves all he gets. Few men work harder for all the remuneration or reward received. In daylight or in darkness, in sunshine or in storm, in poverty or in wealth, he is at our service. There are no laws on the statute book that compel him to attend upon us in our distress. The mechanic may refuse to work unless his pay is assured, the merchant may shut up his store at night, and refuse to rise from his bed to sell his goods, the lawyer may decline the brief that is offered, but the physician answers every call. There is an unwritten law of his profession which compels him to go, regardless of consequences to himself. And the consequences are sometimes serious enough. Not only the personal discomfort, not only the absence of remuneration, not only the ingratitude that sometimes meets his most faithful service, but sickness and death may come to himself in his effort to give life and health to others. Sixty-six years ago, when London was a police village, the president of its municipal board was a physician—Dr. H. D. Lee. He was a busy man, both in his private and in his public capacity. But when the dreaded ship fever broke out among the emigrants who brought with them from their long ocean voyage the germs of the most fatal disease of the age, he could find time to give his services freely to the unfortunate strangers. And he gave his life as well. In a few days he became a victim to the infection, dying in the struggle with disease for others. The annals of the profession record many such a case of self-sacrifice, while a great host of others have passed unrecorded, and unknown.

But not only as individuals are we interested in the physician. As a community we owe him a debt which we never attempt to pay. He not only tries to save the life of the individual man, but he tries to prevent disease. We are indebted to him for what we know, and for what we do, in the matter of public sanitation. He has always been the pioneer in this branch of public service. He has ever been working to bring about a condition of things which would deprive him of his occupation. This has been in the interest of the average citizen, and yet the physician has been compelled to drag him onward, to preach to ears too often unwilling, to coax money for sanitary purposes out of municipal treasuries unwisely guarded. And today the physician's services to the public in this respect are being recognized to some extent, yet the pioneer sanitarians not only worked without pay but in the face of an almost insupportable ignorance and opposition.

There may be no opportunity for the people of London to show their appreciation of the medical profession during the week so far as our visitors are concerned. But we can at all events extend a cordial welcome, and wish for them a pleasant and profitable session. May they enjoy themselves in their partial holiday in this central park of the garden of Ontario, and return to their homes in renewed physical and mental health to find that their patients have not suffered by their absence, while they are themselves better fitted to serve them in the future.

AN APOLOGETIC CHAMPION.

After musing in his glass house for several days about "petty politicians" and other enemies of the people, the Free Press throws a stone, naming the London Advertiser as the arch enemy of all that is holy and hydro-electric. "Every other Liberal newspaper in the province has adopted distinctly an attitude of sympathetic patience."

Here is some patience in the Hamilton Times:
"The German Insulators on the hydro-electric system are blamed for the latest breakdown of the plant. When we were told that the Government power system was perfect, Mr. Beck could not have known much about the German part of it. It may be these insulators this time, but probably it will be something else that will cause the next breakdown." A solemn thought!

The Free Press itself is like the darkey who shouted out continually in church, but went to sleep just before the collection plate was passed. Still it seems concerned about the welfare of hydro, for one reason or another, and loving not wisely but too well, pleads against criticism. It is as though someone had got up in the crowd that saw Casey strike out, and denounced all who did not come forward with "sympathetic patience."

This is an occasion for demonstrative confidences smiling through tears, says our contemporary, not for rough reproof and ameliorative suggestion. Its own tone is too testy to come from an untroubled confidence within; but it enjoins against correction.

Friends of hydro, who use it, will agree with this paper's statement last Friday, that "the serious disturbance of hydro-electric light and power causes anxiety," and that "all will hope to see the faults made right without delay." Hydro-electric has to be made good, and an auxiliary system may be needed. The Free Press won't mind the expense.

THE LATEST ART CRITIC.

Mr. R. M. McElheran follows up his striking oration at the Synod of Huron with a letter to a local paper in which he defines just what he meant when he referred to modern woman as "a work of art." Hundreds of the fair sex in this city are displeased to Mr. McElheran. They are guilty, he claims, of painting their faces, and embellishing their figures by all manner of devices.

At any rate he appears to be enjoying himself. He fears that people did not fully catch his meaning at the synod, so he smacks his lips and indulges his well-known literary vein as follows:

"I have been requested to give an explanation of my remark 'that the modern woman was a work of art,' and to give my opinion as to what constitutes a work of art as indicated. Now I do not think this is quite fair. I would rather leave the settlement of that question to the women themselves, and I make this suggestion: When a woman has prepared herself to go out for a call, after the following fashion, if she can stand before a mirror and say to herself with a clear conscience, that she is not a 'work of art,' then I will have to admit, I suppose, that my statement was a mistake. She places on her head false hair, pencils her eyebrows and eyelashes, paints and enamels her face, neck and shoulders sometimes, according to the gown she intends wearing, puts on a false bust, pads her hips and lower limbs, and on top of all this places her fantastic headgear and ridiculously vulgar skirt, and other things too numerous to mention. I did not include, or intend to include, the most of sensible and careful women who are not seeking admission to vestries. Those to whom my remarks will apply are to be seen on our streets in hundreds every day of the week. Yours truly, R. M. McELHERAN."

We cannot treat this matter as flippantly as does Mr. McElheran. It seems to us a studied insult to the 2,500 women who signed the petition to be admitted to the vestries of the Church of England, and to the women of London in general. He flaunts his vulgarities at practically every woman and may be expected to keep it up if given the slightest opportunity. What will the children of the London schools think of their mothers now that one of the school officials has said such things? Or what of their sisters?

It is apparent that Mr. McElheran does not know what he is talking about; we repeat the statement when we read his twaddle about women using "pads." The pad went out before the esteemed secretary bought his last suit of clothes, somewhere about 1867, at a guess.

He does not stay with the facts when he says that hundreds of London women darken their eyebrows or paint their faces. There is not one woman in a thousand who darkens her eyebrows; there are not five in a thousand and who paint their faces; their headgear is not more absurd than can be found in any haberdasher's window.

"Those to whom my remarks will apply are to be seen on our streets every day in hundreds," does not allow many London ladies to escape. Just how many "hundreds" are to be found in the downtown sections at any one time or for a whole day is doubtful, but there would not be many left after Mr. McElheran's hundreds were removed. His remarks may be taken, then, to apply designedly to a majority of the women of London.

There are many women who would not be attracted by the personal appearance of their critic. Just as he has no love of beauty, they believe that they can find the highest precedent for a certain degree of taste and embellishment; but if they chose to pick him to pieces, sartorially, they would find that even his antique coat had a certain amount of padding in the shoulders; that while he does not paint his face, he occasionally shaves the beard from it to improve his appearance; that he sticks to a certain unbecoming type of Christy hat; that he is as guilty as those he attacks in giving offence to the eye.

If Mr. McElheran is not merely seeking notoriety by making such extravagant statements, he is to be pitied. He cannot distinguish rouge from the peach bloom of a young girl's cheeks; there is no beauty for him in the delicate rose tint a woman may touch her hat with; a summery maid in white must blight his optics. To him all things are ugly, otherwise he could not sincerely have given expression to the foolishness that appears above his signature.

If strawberries are scarce, a great crop of cherries is promised. Strawberries are sour things anyway. Hurrah for those cherries.

Other places around may be getting industries, but London is the population gainer. Two thousand in one year besides annexation is something for the new publicity commissioner. Nothing succeeds like success.

Camp satisfies many healthy instincts. Man is a social animal. He loves gay colors, primitive outdoors living, battle's magnificently stern array, and playing in a theatrical performance.

The figures of the British census for 1910 show a very disproportionate number of women between the ages of 20 and 30. Women's lot circumscribes their crimes. They do not wade through slaughter to a throne nor shut the gates of mercy upon men, but they will prevaricate about their age.

There is a growing demand for the Bible on the stage. Sir Herbert Tree is bringing out Louis Parker's play, "Joseph and His Brethren." Puritan objections to the dramatic treatment of sacred themes are gradually being beaten down. The Passion plays of Germany have become enormously popular. A proper, reverent management of such subjects will in fact do something to improve the general reputation of the theatre and proportionately overcome the Puritan opposition.

AGED PRINTER IS DEAD.

[Canadian Press.]
Chicago, Ill., June 23.—Frederick William Brooks, who came from New York to Chicago by ox-team in 1833, died here today, aged 86. He was one of the city's first printers, and "worked at the case" with the late "Long John" Thompson, afterwards mayor, who was editor of the Chicago Democrat.

NEW SYSTEM IS FOR THE PUBLIC SAYS PRESIDENT

Is Absolutely Imperative That Business Men Get Better Currency Method.

New Banking Laws Will Be Planned to Mobilize All Reserves.

Washington, D. C., June 23. — Bearing a personal plea for immediate action by Congress to revise the banking and currency laws, that business may be aided in meeting tariff revision, President Wilson for the second time went to the House of Representatives today and personally read his address on the subject to both Houses of Congress assembled in joint session.

He appealed to every member of the House and Senate to lay aside personal considerations, and sacrifice comfort, and even health, if necessary, to secure at once a revision, and the reform of the nation's banking system. Only in that way, he declared, could the country secure the benefits of the tariff revision soon to be completed.

The New Plan.
"It is perfectly clear that it is our duty to supply the new banking and currency system the country needs, and that it will immediately need it more than ever," said President Wilson. "Shall we hesitate to change our tariff laws and then be lagging about making it possible and easy for the country to take advantage of the change? There can be only one answer to that question. We must act now, at whatever sacrifice to ourselves."

The vigor and strength of his short speech held the rigid attention of his large audience throughout its delivery. The President gave no direct endorsement to the glass currency bill, which is to form the basis for the Democratic revision of the banking laws, but in indirect language made it known that it had been prepared with his counsel and approval.

Remove the Tariff.
His message was as follows:
"It is absolutely imperative that we should give the businessmen of this country a banking and currency system, by means of which they can make use of the freedom of enterprise and of individual initiative, which we are about to bestow upon them. We are about to set them free; we must not leave them without the tools of action, when they are free. We are about to set them free by removing the trammels of the protective tariff. Ever since the civil war they have waited for this emancipation and for the free opportunities it will bring with it. It has been reserved for us to give it to them. Now both the tonic and the discipline of liberty and maturity are to ensue. There will follow a period of expansion and new enterprises, freshly conceived."

New System Needed.
The principles upon which we should act are clear. The country has sought and seen its path in this matter within the last few years—sees it more clearly now than it ever saw it before—much more clearly than when the last legislative proposals on the subject were made. We must have a currency, not rigid as now, but readily, elastically responsive to sound credit, the expanding and contracting credits of every-day transactions, the normal ebb and flow of personal and corporate dealings. Our banking laws must mobilize reserves, must not permit the concentration anywhere in a few hands of the monetary resources of the country or their use for speculative purposes in such a way as to hinder or impede or stand in the way of other, more legitimate, more fruitful uses.

Must Be Public.
And the control of the system of banking and of issues which our laws are to set up, must be made public, not private, must be vested in the Government itself, so that the masters of business, and of individual enterprise and initiative.

"I have come to you, as the head of the Government, and the responsible fear of the power, to urge this action now, while there is time to serve the country deliberately, and as we should, in a clear air of common conviction. I appeal to you with a deep conviction of duty, and I share this conviction. I therefore appeal to you with confidence."

Plan Garden Party on Convent Grounds

Affair Will Be Managed by Catholic Women's Church Organization.

At a meeting on Sunday afternoon in St. Peter's Parish Hall arrangements were made for a garden party on the grounds of the Sacred Heart Convent. The women's church organizations have the affair in hand, and those interested in the convent will be invited. This garden party is in aid of the Sisters of the Sacred Heart, and the one last year was for St. Peter's Seminary. The party will be held on the evening of July 9.

As intimated in Saturday's Advertiser, the Order of the Sacred Heart will probably leave Ontario, but their place will be taken by some other order.

Being an order of cloistered nuns they are unable to take the necessary examination of the department of education, and are not certificated teachers. Therefore the school is not recognized as an educational institution. Their place will probably be taken by an order like the Dominicans, who are qualified to teach and are recognized by the department of education.

TWO LADS SWEEPED TO DEATH IN THE WHIRLPOOL RAPIDS

Niagara Falls, June 23.—On their knees in an old scow and clinging to the sides, two boys were this afternoon slowly carried through the lower river into the Whirlpool Rapids where they met death. Their bodies are in the water and may not be recovered.

The whirlpools, and the rocks were feared. Another boy, who was in the boat when it drifted out from the shore, jumped overboard and swam to safety.

The dead are Hubert, 9 years, son of Mrs. Emma Moore; a widow, and Mrs. Anna Moore, 14 years, son of William Roscoe, a miller, both of Niagara Falls, N. Y. The boy who swam ashore is Elliott, 14 years, son of Frank P. Roscoe, a miller, both of Niagara Falls, N. Y.

At the same time, the river was full of boats. The boatsmen were shouting, "Give us some help," were the words Roscoe was heard to utter after which his cries and those of the other boatsmen were drowned by the roar of the falls on one side and the rapids on the other.

For more than an hour the boat drifted helplessly in the basin above the Whirlpool Rapids. The children were seen to wave their hands to the boatsmen, and the crowd on the river bank was cheering and shouting.

At last, the boat was seen to drift down.

These boys with a number of others living in the neighborhood, which is adjacent to the river bank near the Gorge Railroad barns, have been in the habit of wandering down the cliffs to a shack built on the edge of the cliff. John Briggs, a recluse, who kept an old scow anchored to a stake by a chain. The three were playing in the boat this afternoon when the scow was struck by a stick so that the chain would be drawn tight and the scow drift back to the shore. It

Rescuers Delayed. Seeing the danger, Thompson, the 13-year-old son of the farmer, jumped overboard, swam ashore and gave the alarm. Word was telephoned to fire headquarters, and Assistant Chief Richard Miller, with three men, a life net and ropes, started for the cantilever bridge in a motor car, which on the way collided with a motorcycle, on which were a young man and woman from Burlington. The motorcycle fell, and by the time Miller had provided medical attention and resumed his trip the children had been drowned. Hundreds of people lined the river, and as the bodies were carried down the river, they were helpless to render aid.

SUNDAY IN THE LONDON PULPITS

THREE AT THE CAMP TOO MUCH WATERING DOWN
WERE DECORATED IN RELIGION BY CHRISTIANS FOR LONG SERVICE

Medals Pinned On by Colonel Hodgkins During the Sunday Service.

(Twenty-Sixth Regiment Winners of Cup Donated by Daughters of Empire.

While the collection was being taken at the divine service on Carling's Heights Sunday morning, Col. Hodgkins, O. C., presented three members of the Twenty-sixth Regiment with long-service medals. Two of the men have seen 20 years' service with the Canadian militia, and the third, 24 years. They are: Sergt. A. McGehee, of No. 2 Company; Sergt. D. Nicholas, of No. 2 Company; and Corp. F. Ireland, of No. 1 Company. The latter has completed his 24th year. Capt. Irskine, of the Twenty-sixth Regiment, has also put in 20 years, and has made application for a long-service medal.

Twenty-sixth is Strong. The Twenty-sixth Regiment of Mid-Victoria is the strongest in camp this year, it having a strength of 254. No. 1 Company of the regiment, under the command of Capt. Vollic, is the strongest, having a strength of 60, the same number having attended camp for the past three years.

There will likely be many changes amongst the officers next year when the different units assemble. Col. Robinson, of the Twenty-sixth Regiment, will likely retire, and Major McKay, of Ailsa Craig, is mentioned for the vacancy. If he should decline, Senior Captain Dr. H. J. Stevenson, of this city, will likely be appointed, and if he declines to accept, Capt. Stevenson will be made major.

Col. Wilson, commander of the Thirty-third Regiment, retires this year also. Major H. Combes, of Clinton, is mentioned for the post, but if he declines, Major Rantz, of Clinton, will likely be selected.

Capt. Craig, of the Thirtieth, will also retire, but it is not known who his successor will be. A handsome silver cup, donated by the Daughters of the Empire to the Twenty-sixth Regiment for the company having the most points for efficiency in camp this year, will likely be presented next Thursday afternoon. The cup must be won by one company three years in succession before it can be kept permanently.

The Twenty-fifth Regiment of Elgin marched into camp Sunday morning, and a company of the Oxford Rifles also arrived.

SELF SACRIFICE IS

Not Knowing Whom to Serve Causes Much Confusion in This World.

"The secret of humility is high ideals," said Rev. T. H. Mitchell, in a sermon on "Choose Ye This Day Whom Ye Will Serve" in the New St. James' Presbyterian Church on Sunday evening. Mr. Mitchell said in part that the confusion in the world is caused by people not knowing whom to serve. We do not know the origin of good and evil, but we do know the door through which it came—the door of choice. The story of the choosing of the caskets in "The Merchant of Venice" was symbolic of the way in which we choose. The first suitor for the hand of Portia chose the golden casket, because he thought that that which many men desired was the hand of Portia. He was arrogant enough to believe that his choice was right, and he got a skull. The Prince of Aragon thought that he deserved the lady and chose the silver casket, getting a fool's bauble. Bassanio was humble, and was willing to give and hazard all he had, and made the choice of the leaden chest, and gained what he wanted most ardently. "It is not true that men are too self-centred today," instead of attacking the evil in the world they let things go on. The secret of a right choice is self-sacrifice."

A WEAK, ACHING BACK
Caused Her Much Misery.

Kept Her From Sleeping Nights.

Weak back is caused by weak kidneys, and on the first approach or evidence of kidney trouble, Doan's Kidney Pills should be used, and serious trouble avoided.

Doan's Kidney Pills go right to the root of the trouble, cure the weak aching back, and prevent any further complications arising.

Mrs. W. R. Hodge, Fielding, Sask., writes:—"A few lines highly recommending Doan's Kidney Pills. For let me say I have been troubled very much with a weak back, and a weak aching back which caused me much misery, for I could not work and had no ambition for anything. My kidneys were very badly out of order, and kept me from sleeping at nights. I tried many kinds of pills and medicines, but it seemed almost in vain. I began to give up in despair of ever being well and strong again, when a kind neighbor advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills, which I did, and am thankful for the relief I obtained from them, for now I am never troubled with a sore back or sick kidneys. I will always say Doan's Kidney Pills for mine and can highly recommend them to any sufferer."

All Have Religious Faculty
Awaiting To Be Developed.

"Human nature is just as blind today as it ever was," said Rev. D. N. McCamus on Sunday morning in a sermon on "The World Knoweth Us Not." Yesterday being flower Sunday, the church was profusely decorated with the most beautiful of nature's handiwork. In the afternoon a special session of the Sunday school was held, when the children rendered a cantata, "Sunday Joys."

BAPTISM DOES NOT SAVE THE SOUL

Rev. W. C. Riddiford Compares Belief of Catholic and Protestant.

OPPOSED TO FAST DAY
Declares That Protestant Canada Is Not Attempting To Convert Quebec Province.

The open Bible is the only basis upon which to judge between the spirit of truth and the spirit of error, according to Rev. W. C. Riddiford, who, at Egerton Street Baptist Church last evening reviewed the main points of difference between the Roman Catholic and Protestant doctrines in a sermon entitled "Religious Turncoats."

"The man whose coat is wrong side out is the man whose religion is contrary to the word of God," said Mr. Riddiford, "and I believe, and I say it kindly and lovingly, that we have got our coats on right side out." Before a man could become a turncoat he must have something to turn from, said the speaker, in proceeding to take up some of the chief points wherein the teachings of Roman Catholicism differ from that of Protestantism. He contended that the protestant had nothing to turn from. We believe in the atoning power of the blood of Jesus Christ as being sufficient for all sin, the preacher said.

Baptism Does Not Save. "They say that there are certain sins which are not cleansed except by baptism and purgatory. Baptism," exclaimed Mr. Riddiford, "never saved a soul."

There was no scriptural authority that he could see for the practice of proclaiming a fast on Friday. "I do believe there is any more religion in codfish than in beefsteak," honestly I don't," he said. "Can't a man be just as good and just as God-fearing eating meat as he can eating fish?" he asked.

The Protestant believed in the Lord's Supper in two elements for all. The Roman Catholic Church says: "We will give the laity a little water and let the priest drink the wine." This was not in accordance with scriptural teaching, he averred.

Prayer Is the Virgin. He had no faith in the doctrine of prayer to the Virgin Mary and to the saints. All prayers should be addressed to God. As for addressing prayers to her, the preacher said that he would much rather offer prayer to his departed Christ, as he knew her, "I believe my mother was as good a saint as Mary ever was," he said.

Referring to the Roman Catholic doctrine of transubstantiation, he said that the Roman priest might as well believe that he created Christ every time that mass was offered.

The doctrine of the celibacy of the priesthood, he thought, was very much in error. "I don't dare marry," and then they call them "fathers," I can't understand it," he said.

It was a sad thing, he said, to think of the good men who went into the semi-religious, semi-political service of the Church of Rome, and thereby missed their chance of a life of fuller service and usefulness in the world.

Speaking of Protestant missionaries in the Province of Quebec, he made it clear that they were not seeking to convert Quebec, but only to secure for it the open Bible. "We have but to preach Christ, and him crucified," he stated. "When Quebec gets an open Bible we'll have a new Quebec."

In summing up his remarks, he stated that the only test of true religion was the teaching of the word of God. "Is your belief contrary to the word of God?" was the question that each Christian should ask himself.

Y. W. C. A. Conference
Opens at Muskoka

Delegates From All Over the World Are Present.

Port Sandfield, June 22. — The summer conference of the Young Women's Christian Association opened auspiciously at the Elgin House, Muskoka. Twenty-one colleges and thirteen city associations are represented by a hundred and eighty delegates, coming from as far west as Saskatchewan and as far east as Halifax.

The leaders are Prof. C. E. Bland, secretary of the World's Student Christian Federation; Miss Jamieson, college secretary for Canada; and L. Kelly, secretary of the British Students' Movement; Rev. S. W. Dean, of the Fred Victor Mission, Toronto; and Prof. A. R. Morton, Knox representatives are Prof. C. E. Bland, Russia, Japan, Italy, China and Turkey.

Words of welcome were given by Mr. H. N. W. Howell, representative of the Canadian Y. M. C. A. Friday night. On Saturday morning the mission and Bible study classes opened with inspiring addresses by Miss Una Saunders and Miss Ruth Rouse.

A Sunday service of unusual interest was held in the morning, the sermon being preached by Rev. George Irving on "Fresh Modern Problems in Student Life." In the evening Rev. J. V. Keith, Peterboro, formerly of India, spoke eloquently on "Call and Service."

We are called sons of God because we partake of the divine nature. As many as believe on His name are heirs of God and joint heirs with Jesus Christ. Everyone who has not heard the still small voice is not a son of God. They are of the world, and the world knoweth us not, because they knew Him not.

"Conversion has the same effect on all men, although in a different form. People must not persist in watering down their religion. Religious faculties are not developed equally in all of us, but we all have them. The world cannot know those who are outside their own sphere. What a perpetual hindrance to the people of this day. He said: 'You don't know me.' In the same way that they knew not Christ; they know not his people."

In conclusion Rev. Mr. McCamus said: "Give great attention to the part of the life that the world does not see. All that is grand in a life is unseen."

NO PARDON UNTIL
CONFESSION MADE

Divine Forgiveness Granted on One Condition, Says Evangelist Preacher.

MUST ACKNOWLEDGE SIN
Contrition of the Heart and Not the Mere Lip Confession Is Necessary.

"Confession, Forgiveness, Cleansing" was Evangelist Belcher's subject on Sunday night, at the York Street Mission Hall. Mr. Belcher said Divine forgiveness always presupposes human confession. We have no assurance that forgiveness will be imparted except full acknowledgment of sin is made, and confession as here emphasized is not simple confession of the mouth, neither is it simply contrition of the heart. There may be lip confession without heart contrition, and heart contrition without lip confession. The desired outward confession springs from inward contrition. It is the heart voicing itself in confession with the mouth. "With the heart man believeth unto righteousness, and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation."

Confession and Pardon. Always in the Word of God pardon implies confession. Confession is not an arbitrary command on the part of God. God's commands are sovereign and never arbitrary. These are profound reasons underlying all God's requirements. If we could see as God sees, we would always act as God acts. If we could know as God knows, we would always demand what God demands. The laws of nature are not arbitrary. They are the laws of God. Revelation introduces us into a higher sphere than creation, but Jesus taught that the higher spheres are harmonious to our limited vision and restricted faculties some of God's laws may seem to be arbitrary, but His vision were broader and our faculties more acute we would see that God's sovereign demands are in harmony with the dictates of the highest reason. There can be no real forgiveness except there be true confession. Only the penitent heart can receive Divine peace as the result of forgiveness. So long as men are impatient, even the great and merciful God cannot bestow forgiveness. Forgiveness would be practically casting pearls before swine if he offered men the treasures of forgiving grace before they showed their preparation for His mercy by the sincerity of their penitence. God's law of pardon is not arbitrary. It is in harmony with the highest reasoning, and with the scientific conclusion of rational minds.

The singing by the choir soloists and quartette was very much appreciated by a large congregation.

That the day of universal peace is far off, and that there is a grave danger of war in the world today, which is causing the tremors in the stock markets of the larger cities, particularly Berlin, was the opinion expressed by Major Robinson, chaplain of the Twenty-sixth (Middlesex) Regiment, and pastor of the Church of St. John the Evangelist, Strathroy, in a stirring sermon on militarism to the officers and soldiers at divine service on Carling's Heights, Sunday morning. The major took his text from the second chapter, third verse, of the second epistle of St. Paul to Timothy: "Thou therefore endure hardness as a good soldier of Jesus Christ."

The Good Soldier. "I cannot speak specifically on this subject, and can touch on things generally, only here and there," said the speaker. "We speak of the Apostle Paul, writing his young bishop to be a good soldier. He does not say to be a good priest; but to be a good soldier in the service of Jesus. If you look at the Old Testament and compare it with the new you will notice that the soldier stands out in it quite frequently, and why not. The soldier of those days, and the soldier of today is ready to die for his life, like Jesus Christ, the one for the many. It is a sacrifice. He must give up his life, his wealth, or anything that he holds most dear when called upon to go forth and fight the battle of his country. The king of Israel wanted a drink of water when besieged one time, and he called upon his soldiers to go and get it for him. Three of them broke through the enemy's ranks, secured the water and brought it to him, but at the risk of their lives. When he saw what occurred he could not drink the water, because it was secured by the blood of his soldiers, so he poured it upon the ground as a sacrifice."

Training Essential. "Military training is most essential today; in fact, it is needed just as much now as it was in olden times. In the land which the Jews were called upon to inhabit, everything was thought to be safe. The place was inaccessible to any other nation. It was a land given to them by God, and if ever a nation might forget military tasks it was that one. But they were continually drilled and had to be ready at any time to repulse an enemy if necessary."

The man who decries a soldier or who holds him up to ridicule is turned by a war should break out. Why the farmer should save his property in time of war, and does not realize what a soldier is to a nation.

The tendency these days is to cut everything short, and employers will not allow their men to attend camp on account of the time that is lost."

Lessons of the Scriptures. The speaker then quoted passages from the Scriptures, and said the men that wonderful lessons could be taken from them. "We are a young nation yet," he continued. "A great many people have come to this country to make their fortunes, more are coming, and a number of foreigners are coming here to make homes for themselves. Should those not be protected? Can we forget ourselves in this mad rush for money. Who will stand out prominently in this time of war, and who will be the most money, and who will not allow his employees' time to attend the annual camps. And who will suffer if a war should break out. Why the farmer who cannot move his farm and his well-tilled fields, and the manufacturer or merchant who cannot move his factory or place of business, but who object to strenuous training, for they will lose money during the man's absence."

An Heroic March. "There is a story in Canadian history which is never too old to be told. It is the one of the brave march of the One Hundred and Fourth Regiment from New Brunswick to Quebec, a distance of 600 miles with never the loss of one man. There was never a more heroic march in the history of the world, and it was our race and our men who did it to defend our country against an enemy. And at the battle of Lund's Lane, when in the middle of the night, brave Drummond asked his men how close they were to the enemy and received a reply that they were so close that the ramrods touched when ramming home a charge, it was

CHURCHES OF ROME

St. Peter's Symbolic That Christ's Church Is Greatest Organization.

Famous Edifices of Eternal City Furnish Material for Mottoes.

Lessons from the churches of Rome were given by Rev. W. H. Harvey in his evening sermon at Askin Street Methodist Church yesterday. Taking as his text the Apostle Paul's desire to see Rome, the pastor painted a vivid word-picture of the ancient city of Rome and of the present.

The wonderful churches that are now to be found in modern Rome furnished the foundation for the lessons that were drawn by the speaker.

St. Peter's Cathedral, the greatest church in the world, was held to be symbolic of the fact that the church of Christ was the greatest organization in the world, and that before long the church would start the new national era when the law of Jesus Christ would reign supreme and vice and sin would be unknown.

From the Church of the Little Bambino, the edifice where the famous image of the baby Christ is kept, and where thousands visit in reverence and love, a lesson of Christ, the living word, rather than the written word, was drawn. The Church of the Sacred Cross was taken to be indicative of the fact that through the cross of Jesus Christ was salvation alone attainable. The Pantheon, with its pagan temple, made a link between the old era and the new—a link between the darkness of heathenism and the light of Christianity. "In one hope," the motto engraved on the spire of the Church of St. Paul, without the wall, was indicative of the hope of the entire world centered about Jesus Christ. The ruins of the Coliseum, where the ground had drunk the blood from thousands of Christian martyrs, gave the lesson of faith in Jesus Christ that crowned Him Lord of All.

Appointed Canon of St. George's Cathedral. Rev. Rural Dean Beamish Receives the Honor at Kingston.

Belleville, June 22. — Rev. Rural Dean Beamish, of St. Thomas' Church, this city, yesterday received official intimation from Kingston of his appointment as canon of St. George's Cathedral.

Rev. G. R. Beamish was born in London, Ont., and was educated at Trinity University, and graduated with double first-class honors in theology and arts. He was governor-general's minister in 1890. He is an ordained priest in 1892. His various appointments have been as curate of St. James', Stratford, 1891; and locum tenens of St. James', Kingston, 1892; assistant to the dean at St. George's Cathedral, Kingston, 1894; rector of Trinity Church, Brockville, 1897 to 1902; and rector of St. Thomas', Belleville, since 1905. He is chaplain of St. Agnes' School, and of the Fifth Regiment, of the Deaf and Dumb Institute for Anglicans, a member of the Provincial and the General Synods of the Methodist Church of Canada, and of the corporation of Trinity University.

our soldiers who stood up at the word of command, and with fixed bayonets, charged the enemy.

There is not a bit of doubt that the soldiers in camp are not popular with the people in London; that the camp is not popular in London. Why in the little town of Goderich there are twice as many people attend the services in the camp on Sunday morning, and the collection there, which is turned over to local charity, is much larger than it is in London. There is more military display in the little town of Goderich than there is in this city, and London has not changed one bit in 25 years. They have now a fine barracks here, also a handsome armory, but the people do not appreciate them. Why, I cannot say? Can we say there is no danger of war at present? I think there is more than we comprehend. What is the tremor that is felt in all the stock markets of the world? Don't you think those men of finance and industry know, and the tremor that is felt is a result of the uneasy feeling?"

In conclusion, the major exhorted the men to be good soldiers of Jesus Christ and of their country, and to pay no attention to anything adverse which may be said of military training.

Jogging Laziness
into Activity

The merchant whose business lags in the summer has himself to thank.

To slacken the selling pace in the hot season—to lessen Advertising activity—indicates a resignation which has no place in modern business.

If we think we cannot keep our business booming in summer time, we surely will not.

What a jolt it must have been to the fur trade, when the first mid-summer fur advertisement was run in a daily paper! Now many fur stores are following the example of that progressive fur man who dared to believe that fur sales need not go down as the mercury goes up.

Energy, linked with Advertising, has turned the month of January into the biggest selling season for white goods. Advertisements of a high stimulative power, combined with a disregard of "seasons," have opened up automobile selling two months earlier than was once thought possible. Advertising has started Christmas shopping early in October instead of the middle of December.

Advertising rises superior to seasons and thermometers. The right kind of Advertising strikes a responsive cord in human nature—and human nature is the same in August as in December.

Advice regarding your advertising problems is available through any recognized Canadian advertising agency, or the Secretary of the Canadian Press Association, Room 503 Lumsden Building, Toronto. Enquiry involves no obligation on your part—so write, if interested.
