ANDREW ROBSON ELECTED LIBERAL LEADER OF CITY

Popular President Begins Fourth Term in Office—Unanimity Prevails At Meeting—John M. McEvoy Urges Propagating of Liberal Doctrines and Principles.

Andrew Robson was re-elected by acclamation president of the London Liberal Club for the fourth term of his presidency at an enthusiastic meeting of the club held in Hyman Hall Friday night. Although the meeting was a very large one, it was marked by unanimity and solidarity, any and every interest was displayed by all the members present. With the exception of the presidency and the treasurer's office, which position Charles C. Ferguson was also re-elected by acclamation for what will be his fifth term, there were plenty of nominations of both new and old members, and the elections to be held Friday and Saturday, November 12 and 13, ought to be characterized by a lively interest.

John M. McEvoy was the speaker of the evening, and short addresses, thoughtful and pointed, were given by President Robson, A. J. Blake, George Hair, W. H. Edgcombe and J. M. McEvoy.

The nominations for the offices, which will be contested, were as follows: First vice-president—George Hair, A. J. Blake, W. H. Edgcombe, J. M. McEvoy, S. Brown. Secretary—Joseph Vivian, F. D. McLachlin and C. McLean. Executive (12 to be elected)—C. McLean, J. Moffatt, H. Shill, A. Macfie, Dr. C. A. Harris, R. S. Laehbrook, J. Vivian, J. Russell, W. Edgcombe, Dr. McIntosh, W. Lawrence, S. Seymour, George Hair, J. Weber, W. H. Boyd, A. Tyler, C. Keene, C. Aldridge, D. Palmer, J. McNaughton, J. McMaster, D. Graham, F. Hooper, J. McMurphy, J. S. Brown, G. Perry, A. Blake, J. Murray, J. Gleason, F. McLachlin, J. C. Loughlin, A. Warner, P. Mitchell and W. Banghart.

Nominees have until Monday evening to withdraw. The names of all members nominated will go on the ballot papers unless they withdraw before this date.

Propagate Doctrines. Mr. McEvoy, beginning his address, expressed the fear that many Liberals today were failing to realize the responsibility resting upon them. They appeared to be holding back too much. Perhaps they had got away a little from the essence or spirit of Liberal doctrines. There existed a real necessity for Liberal doctrines to be thought out again and restated. He thought the London Liberal Club should to the fullest possible degree exercise the function of propagating these doctrines.

INGERSOLL TO HAVE SIGNALLERS Damage Suit Against Corporation Is Settled Out of Court.

INGERSOLL, Oct. 8.—Efforts are being put forth to raise a signalling company here. Lieut. Harry Stone, who served overseas for a long period, has been appointed to recruit a section of signallers, which will be under the direction of the non-permanent active militia, and known as No. 1 Company. Settled For $150. A settlement has been reached between the council and C. B. Ryan, who instituted proceedings against the corporation to obtain $3,000 damages, which he claimed because of an accident last winter. He fell on the concrete walk near the new market building, and he contended that the ice which had formed there was due to defective methods in carrying the water from the roof. A settlement was reached by the council agreeing to pay Mr. Ryan $150.

DELIGHTFUL IS FAVERSHAM IN HIS NEW PLAY

"The Prince and the Pauper"
At the Grand a Real Treat.

"The Prince and the Pauper," as played before a capacity house at the Grand Theatre last night with William Faversham in the leading role, was one of the most delicious little theatrical events ever presented to a London audience. It is one of those plays which is forceful and impressive through its simplicity. "The Prince and the Pauper" is a play which, because of its simplicity and broad lines and lack of detailed character analysis, requires to be presented with all possible vigor and aplomb and conviction in order to get across. In this respect it is thoroughly suited to Mr. Faversham's methods, which he has inculcated into his entire company with unusual success.

Mr. Faversham is thoroughly at home in the role of Miles Hendon, the hearty, blunt-tongued, swashbuckling soldier of fortune—the sort of thing he did infinitely well a good many years ago and had not forgotten how to do well today. It is a robust part, and robustly he plays it, with just the right swagger, heartiness and large gesture, illumined, too, by a fine sense of comedy and most human touches. Thus, in the scene when Miles humors the little prince in what he thinks is the temporary delusion of a childish mind. Thus, also, in the scene before the throne, when the boy-king pays him royal compliment. Mr. Faversham keys his characterization carefully, never allows it to get out of hand, never permits it to become intrusive. It is not a difficult role to play, but in less skilful hands it might well become ineffective and mar the picture.

Mary Rehan gives a powerful performance of the pauper's mother, and Edmund Gurney in a marvelously practical figure as his father. Sophie Baines is astonishingly true to history as the Princess Elizabeth, and Cecil Yap is, of course, more than equal to the needs of Mad Anthony, who, as he stands, is the most melodramatic role in the play and might with advantage be somewhat rewritten in the more fantastic key.

Ruth Findlay in the dual role of Prince Edward of England and the pauper boy, Tom Canty, is just such a figure as Barrie loves to draw for us. There is, indeed, a good deal that is Barrie-esque in flavor about the entire comedy, as presented by Mr. Faversham. Miss Findlay brings to the interpretation of the characters a most appealing youthfulness, boyish grace, a wistful quality. Her voice has a little catch in it at times that suggests more than any artificial diction could ever do. She succeeds, while preserving unimpaired the simplicity of each role, in conveying clearly and picturesquely the effect upon the mind and imagination of both the prince and the beggar boy of their strange reverses in fortune. This is a noteworthy thing for so young an artist to accomplish.

One hardly knows when one enjoys her work most—whether as prince or as pauper. Certain it is that she touched both with the illusion of romance as intangible, as elusive, as light and as delicious as the very spirit of the comedy itself. Alike in figure, in face, in voice, and in gestures, she seems ideal for the parts she plays, and a large audience paid her the unusual compliment of repeated recalls.

MOTIVE NOT KNOWN

Last Seen Wednesday—Boys

That Afternoon.

Cyril O. Elliott, missing from his home, 669 Dundas street, since Wednesday, was found dead in a wood near Springbank on Friday afternoon. A revolver by his side and a bullet wound near his right temple. No one could offer an explanation of the tragedy. Some children playing in the vicinity at 4:30 o'clock first discovered him. He was in a sitting position against a tree, fifty yards southwest of the winding path almost at the summit of Reservoir Hill. The scene of the tragedy is near the old summer house, commonly called "The Lookout," made the children notified Harry McCann. Relatives of the deceased identified the body.

Coroner C. C. Ross of Hyde Park was called, but night informed The Advertiser that unless evidence other than that now in the possession of the police is unearthed an investigation will be unnecessary. "From the evidence already gathered, it is a case of suicide," said Dr. Ross.

On Wednesday morning Mr. Elliott left the Rectory street station of the Grand Trunk, where he had been employed as foreign freight agent, and until yesterday his relatives found no trace of him. He had gone to John A. Nash, jeweler, and had given him his watch to repair. Although Mr. Nash told him that it was not customary to leave the chain with the watch, he insisted that the jeweler keep that, and make a note of it. Deceased is also said to have deposited all his money in a local bank.

One of the conductors on the Springbank street car line saw Mr. Elliott get off the car at the pump house on Wednesday, it is stated. According to Coroner Ross, some boys informed the police that they heard some shots in the woods the same afternoon. Detectives Robert Eglinton and Harry Down found some money and a ring near the body. It was found that two of the bullets in the revolver had been discharged, and that two others in the chamber had not been used.

Five years ago the unfortunate man was a C. P. R. engineer.

Although Mr. Elliott was a prominent Mason and a member of Mocha Temple Shrine, he was not seen at the Masonic meeting on Thursday night, at which there was an attendance of 300.

Besides his wife and parents, he is survived by two sisters, who reside in England.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

Building in Sarnia Continues Active Despite Cold Weather.

Sarnia, Oct. 8.—The Lambton Growers' Co-Operative Association has had a good year of business, bumper crops, and correspondingly large shipments, the apple yield being particularly large, according to George French, local manager.

The finance committee of the city council has accepted the bid of the Dominion Securities Corporation for approximately $163,000 worth of city of Sarnia bonds, which were under option to the Brent-Noxon Company. This issue includes the soldiers' civic gratuity debentures.

Up to date $48 permits have been issued by Building Inspector Harry Walton, totalling in value $615,797, only $22,159.75 less than the whole of last year. Despite the approach of cold weather building continues and four permits have already been granted this month.

Keeping Good Money In a Good City*LONDON people have put their money into all the things that build a great city.

They have built hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of business buildings, millions of dollars worth of industries.

More millions are invested in civic machinery—we even own our own electric railway and summer resort.

London money has erected new theatres that are decidedly successful. London capital has gone out of the city to help build hotels in other cities.

But not a penny until the present time has London invested in one of the greatest of all our needs—a big hotel worthy of the city, a central home for the thousands of guests we must entertain.

Millions of money have flowed into green, distant fields of speculation.

But today—and a better day it is—much of that money is being kept in London.

London people will be asked to become the owners and financial backers of their own hotel.

Through the civic spirit and sound judgment of citizens $400,000 on the second mortgage bonds has been subscribed, which acts as a protection for the first mortgage bonds. These first mortgage bonds will soon be offered to the investors of London.

London people can and should own their own hotel, at the same time possessing themselves of an unusually attractive security.

Wentworth Milk Producer Says Humbugging Must Cease.

HAMILTON, Oct. 8.—Peter Ray, ex-president of the Wentworth Milk Producers' Association, said there was not the slightest prospect of the milk price being reduced. He paid his respects to the board of commerce as follows: "If the board of commerce aims to reduce milk prices let them take off their coats and milk the cows themselves instead of talking. We don't have to be humbugged any longer by the board of commerce or anybody else. We own our cows and farms and if we cannot produce milk to make ends meet we will have to quit business. The day of the board of commerce sitting down and making a fool of the farmer has gone, never to return."

He has had the pastorate of churches at Winnipeg, Port William, Collingwood, Brantford and other places.

PRISONER OUT OF JAIL TWO WEEKS ORDERED RELEASED

Men Convicted as Liquor Thieves Sentenced to Eighteen Months' Imprisonment.

SARNIA, Oct. 8.—A telegram was received tonight by the Lambton County officials authorizing the release of J. Cassear, who was convicted of a breach of the O. T. A. over a month ago and fined $100 and costs. Cassear had, however, already been released over two weeks, the fine having been paid by some of his friends. It is believed that the fine will be remitted. Cassear was arrested by a special agent sent here in connection with the crusade against bootleggers.

Where is Galle? Eighteen months' imprisonment in the Ontario Reformatory on each count, the sentences to run concurrently, were the penalties imposed on Norman Dale and James Waters in the county criminal court by Judge Albert E. Taylor today, when they were found guilty of breaking into the residence of George P. France, Queen street, and stealing therefrom a quantity of liquor.

In pronouncing sentence and commenting on the statements made by both Dale and Waters that they had been taken to the house by a man named Galle, who had entered the house and brought out the liquor, Judge Taylor stated that it was unfortunate that if there is such a man as Galle, although he doubted it, that the two prisoners were allowed to baffle all the guilt.

SOVIET RUSSIA WHIPPED.

The conditions of the agreement reached by Russia and Poland preliminary to the armistice pact signed on Friday, make it clear that Russia has been soundly whipped by the Poles. The boundaries demanded by Poland have been agreed upon, and they make Poland comparatively safe from attack. Lenin, too, has promised to halt all attempts at spreading Bolshevik propaganda in any part of Poland or other parts occupied by the Polish troops. As well, Poland can, if she so desires, cancel the armistice agreement within thirty-six hours' time, which, when the powerful strategic situation of her armies is considered, is a great concession by the Red leaders. At the same time, the Russian Bolshevik armies are being curbed and broken. General Wrangel is moving steadily north from the Crimea, consolidating the country behind him into a powerful anti-Soviet force. Falling apart from within and hard hit from without, it begins to appear as if the rule of the infamous Lenin and Trotsky is about to end. And the collapse of Russian Sovietism means that a real peace will settle over the world.

STOP THE DESTRUCTION.

Today is "Fire Protection Day." It is the advance guard of "Safety Week," October 10 to 16. One of the most important considerations that we can make is to diminish the losses by fire.

The rapid rise in the cost of building materials, of paper, and of fuel must move every thinking citizen to save the forests, and the timber already manufactured into use in houses, shops and factories. Fire brigades can help only after a fire has got started, and often then it is too late to prevent heavy loss. Fires must not be allowed to start. Read the booklet issued by the Ontario Fire Prevention League, to be had at the Public Library, for suggestions as to ways of safeguarding buildings and woods.

Here in London the destruction of the collegiate institute last winter is a melancholy reminder of negligence. Putting up the new buildings is a costly matter that need not have been. Apart from financial loss there is also the long inconvenience to pupils and teachers during the reconstruction. Fires leave their mark for a long time on towns and villages, sometimes an indelible mark, a defacement, or even a permanent mutilation. London has not yet quite effaced the gap left by the big fire of several years ago on the north side of Dundas street. These wounds are slow in healing over. All citizens should inform themselves how to prevent them and to act on their information.

THE SALE OF A SOUL.

A New England writer of excellent repute describes the baseball scandal, lately laid bare at Chicago, as the legitimate product of current American ideals and practices. Judged by recognized conceptions and examples, the predominant motive of the day is to get money. That achievement seems to be regarded as the first and chief end of man, and not what is set forth in the standard definition of the Shorter Catechism, with which Scottish-Canadians are especially familiar. Is not the use of the citizen in church or state or household usually measured as a bringer in of "good money"? Without it in the average society there appears to be a minimum of honor going, but within its magic circle recognition abounds, and not always a disposition to inquire closely into the methods of its acquisition. Small wonder then that the high-priced professional player in the field of sport should sweep along in the glided current that swells the tide of passion and prosperity. There is a note of something more hopeful latent in the general expression of resentment and repudiation concerning the disclosures, and an apparent insistence upon an effectual retribution for such wrong-doing. This, however, has been in some degree credited to apprehension of a reaction against the future success of a national pastime, which must have the sustenance of public confidence. While that is reassuring, there remains the danger that the gift of the dollar may still be obscuring those deeper and wider lessons that suggest themselves. Conditions call for a truer criterion of achievement than the currency of the realm. Something different is needed than just material efficiency. That might be attained by a mere machine. The requisite is a standard indicative of moral, intellectual and spiritual distinction, wearing the badge of service in Christian brotherhood. This will grow out of a priority of purpose in that kingdom of righteousness promulgated by the Redeemer upon principles never yet abrogated.

Intervolved in the very warp and woof of man's moral nature, as well as inscribed upon ancient tablets and inspired writings, are those invariable injunctions, observance of which can never be disregarded without doing violence to relationship with the Divine and "thy neighbor." Thou shalt not covet and thou shalt not steal may be inconvenient to persons, who, by hook or crook, want to secure something without squarely earning it, but those homely old mandates are just as binding and wholesome as ever they were. The individual may become calloused, obsessed and seemingly insensible, but within sits a monitor, vigilant and inexorable, whose indictments press somehow or somewhere an arraignment for judgment. That inward Counsel for the Crown of Heaven can neither be evaded nor evaded. When, in the Chicago criminal court one of the culprits made his confession of taking a $10,000 bribe to defraud his employers and the public, he broke down with anguish and tears. "I have lived a thousand years in the past twelve months," he cried out, "why did I ever do it? I am disgraced; my family is disgraced! Where can I go? What can I do?" He realized in all its cogency the teaching of the apostle that none liveth nor dieth to himself. As the surface of a lake feels the disturbing ripple of the thrown stone, so the little circle of the star pitcher was broken by the widening spread of moral disorder. As the Scripture hath it, his sin had found him out, and although to others the consequences were lamentable, penalty more dire had fallen upon himself. What recompense in the humiliating hour was he afforded by the ten thousand dirty dollars? None absolutely none! No luxurious brown stone flat, nor sumptuous fare, nor any tinsel and trapping of life could replace what he had parted with. He had trafficked away his soul for which the Master teaches there can be no adequate exchange. More than that, he had sold himself into the power of gamblers, more unscrupulous than himself and heartless withal. Often during the long year of misery he had doubtless wished himself free and rid of the accursed stuff. "If it were done when 'tis done," Macbeth cries out in the drama, but of that there could be no hope. The assassination could never trammel up the consequence and catch with the end success, nor deliver the soul from its blight. Judas of old, the arch traitor and thief, bartered his soul for thirty bits of silver, which, in remorse, he flung back to the merciless beings who had bribed him. Then he passed out into the night of dark despair adding to the already black category of his perfidy the guilt of self-destruction.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The early bird gets the worm unless the license inspector happens to be around.

Judging from Mrs. Chaplin's account of Charlie being a "tight wad" the only things looser about him are those shoes he wears.

With coal selling as high as $24 per ton in some cities, "Keep the Home Fires Burning" will be a very unpopular song this winter.

Republicans charge that forty barrels of whiskey were shipped to the Democratic convention in San Francisco. No wonder the sessions often lasted until early morning.

BASEBALL'S TRAGEDY.

(Springfield Republican.) Baseball's greatest year is its worst. Every record indicating the game's popularity has been broken. But now at the climax come the disclosures in Chicago which apparently spell disaster to eight or more young men whose exceptional gifts of physique have earned for them an easy luxury that has undermined their moral character. Yet it should be pointed out that in more than forty years of professional baseball there has never been a scandal remotely approaching this. One might almost say, in the general sense, that there has never been a scandal. Although the definition of professional ball is that it is engaged in for money, there is something in it besides a commercialism. It is still a sport, and has been so since it was a sport by a public which until lately has had implicit faith that it has been played on the square. And so for the most part it undoubtedly has been and will be. The law will eventually impose its penalties as it provides. But aside from these, the contemptuous repudiation by all lovers of the game of those who are proved guilty will stand as one more warning that the only thing that pays is to keep straight.

SAVE THE COAL.

(Belleville Intelligencer.) Much coal is wasted by the too early starting of furnaces. The first chilly weather brings the furnace into use. This fall in temperature is about thirty degrees followed by a warm period. If by the use of other heating appliances, such as kerosene or electric heaters, or by burning wood in the furnace, the period for consumption of coal could be shortened, a considerable saving of coal could be effected. During 1919 Canada imported 4,758,419 tons of anthracite coal in chestnut, alpine and egg sizes. Our heating seasonally consumes about 1,000,000 tons, a portion of which at the beginning and end is comparatively mild. By an average lessening of the coal-burning period of twenty days, say 5 per cent of this anthracite would be saved, as 250,000 tons. With coal selling at an average price of $15 per ton, this saving would represent upward of $3,500,000. All of this coal has to be hauled by rail. To move this 250,000 tons requires 4,760 cars of 50 tons each.

Economy in furnace operations would also considerably reduce the coal consumption. Much unconsumed carbon is discarded with the ashes, and much of the heating efficiency of the coal is also wasted through carelessness in firing or in defective installation.

DEFENDING THE "WEE DRAPPIE."

(Boston Transcript.) The Scotch are proverbially slow in realising a joke and many other matters. But they have now waked up to the insidious inroads of the "Pussyfoot" campaign for prohibition in their bonnie land. Long advertisements with two grinning black cats at top and bottom are confronting the readers of Scottish newspapers, demanding "a firm stand for self-determination" and "a bold, black type."

"Why not prohibit Pussyfoot?" Scotch blood is running hot over the sheer intemperance of the prohibitionist brigade, made up of people who are said to "think they know much better what is good for other people than such foolish folk can possibly know themselves." These foolish folk are said to be so mad that if successful they will not stop with prohibition, but will decide what Scotchmen are to eat, how Scotchmen are to do their work, occupy their leisure, run their home, and bring up their children!

The Anti-Prohibition Campaign Council of Edinburgh is evidently angry. Scotch anger is exceedingly dour. The fact that prohibition is approved as a wise measure by the great majority of the American people does not count among the lairds of the glens, who hold fast to the old gospel of the Scotch laird, remonstrated with for her evident condition, who proclaimed: "Better have a wee draple too much than waste the Lord's mercies."

ALBERTA'S MANY VACANT SCHOOLS.

(Edmonton Bulletin.) Still the call is for more school teachers. It is estimated that when the university students have returned to their studies there will be from two to three hundred schools in the province without teachers. This means that most of these schools will have to be closed for a time, and in such case twenty of more children will lose a term out of their school life. When in any part of the country the residents show themselves backward about organizing a school district or about hiring a teacher, or sending their children to school, public opinion promptly becomes aroused to the misfortune, that is thus thrust upon the school children. In the present instance the trouble lies in precisely the opposite direction, but the results are the same. The schools will be closed, but because teachers residents want them closed, but because teachers cannot be secured. There is still a chance for men and women who are qualified to teach, but who have gone into other occupations, to render real and high service to the community by going back for a time to the school room.

Facts For Farmers

SELLING BAD INVESTMENTS.

(Farmers' Magazine.) Farmers lose too much money from investments that have proven unwise. Promoters of various enterprises, companies of doubtful reputation, and alluring share-purchase schemers all work on the principle that farmers can be duped, if one only dances the proper bait before them. They often boast about it. They sell their shares on rosy promises of big interest returns, and even suggest the possibility of their shares rising in value until the holders become wealthy. The whole story of farm investments is beset with the wrecks of fond hopes as well as with hard-earned farm funds.

Today investment peddlers are traveling the country lines as never before. The going that way is good, because farmers have been making money and many men, who have never invested their earnings outside their own farms, or beyond a current loan to a neighbor on a mortgage, are now turning to stocks, bonds and shares as profitable fields of investment. So the promoter who wants to get capital goes to the individuals on the farms for small subscriptions to his concerns which may or may not succeed in pulling through to success. These men are generally glib talkers, carry an air of shrewd honesty with them, and tactfully prevent the farmer from seeing the unsound foundation upon which their business proposition rests.

Once the stock is subscribed and the money is paid, their chief concern is ended. They draw their liberal commissions and depart, never to be seen again by the farmer investor. Their promises are not even known by the company, and as the tragedy begins. For a time all looks well. The farmer gets, perhaps, his first interest payment. Then none comes forward, and he can either wait until the rosy prospects ripen or throw up his stock as a bad deal and forget about it.

So many cases of bad investment are told that it is to be wondered that there remains any faith at all in bonds and stocks. But the fact that the loser very rarely says anything about his bad judgment may account for the suppression of advice to others. Then again, there are so many farmers who have made good investments that the knowledge of their successful financing has spread far afield.

What, then, should farmers do in order to protect themselves against possible losses? It is true that the best of men will make mistakes, but there is a wide difference between good and indifferent judgment when one has $100 or $1,000 to invest.

Firstly, it is not a sign of weakness to ask advice of one's best neighbor, or one's banker, or of the well-known bond houses or investment agencies. Inquiry will reveal to the shrewd farmer much about the firms in question which will give him some lead in the matter of safety, of possible success, and of earning ability of the proposition. He will soon learn to put stress on the security of the character of men in it, upon the production of the enterprise.

Honest men will look for and expect no more than the current rate of interest with the possible appreciation of the capital because of the good-will of the business. And it may be that he will willingly take a chance in a small way where the odds for securing the unsubstantiated statements of promoters as genuine investment advice, or for accepting a stock or a bond merely because someone says it will return a high rate of interest.

Today farmers are buying bonds and stocks as never before. Their investments outside their own business concerns are taking on a wider field, and it can be truthfully said that farmers are becoming shrewder investors.

ORCHARD AND GARDEN.

October 8 to 15.

Blackcap raspberries and gooseberries are best propagated by layering. Shade the southwest side of apple and other smooth bark trees to prevent sunscald.

Plant butternut and walnut seed as soon as it falls from the trees. If it dries there is seldom any chance of its growing. Wind breaks have again proven their worth as a shelter from hot, dry winds which dry up the garden and lawn. Every farm in the prairie section needs one.

The Delta grape has proved very satisfactory in many sections this year. Now is a fine time to determine how the home grounds may be made better. Prepare the ground for setting shrubs next spring, and order them soon. Sumac makes a fine cover for rough banks along a lake or hillside. If mowed down each year it thickens and holds soil well.

Clean up the orchard and garden. Weeds, leaves or brush around the trees helps to breed insects and diseases. Dig at the roots of apple trees makes a fine harbor for mice during the fall and winter.

MILK COW NEEDS PLENTY OF FEED.

Grain feeding should always be in proportion to milk production. The cow in milk, if a Holstein, says C. H. Eckles, chief of the dairy division of the Minnesota College of Agriculture, should be given about one pound of grain to every four pounds of milk produced. A Guernsey or Jersey needs one pound of feed to three of milk. The dry cow in good condition needs only half a pound of grain.

"The cow is a milk machine," says Dr. Eckles, "and feed is the raw material. Like any factory or machine, economical operation is possible only when plenty of raw material is available. Feeding a dairy cow loose in a pasture does not insure that she will get sufficient feed to hold up in milk production as she should, especially from now until the time when regular housing and dry feed will be in order."

"Practically every real dairy farmer will have silage available. Don't wait too long before beginning to use it. Within ten days after silo filling is complete, the silage is ready for use and unless pastures are unusually good and dry feed will be in order."

The experienced man knows that it is easy to let cows drop down in milk from poor feed, but very hard to bring them back to the high level again later, even if good feed is given. Good management means keeping the conditions and feed right all the time, so the cows will be in milk at any time from lack of feed. The cow that has what silage she will eat will be well cared for so far as roughage is concerned, so long as the pasture furnishes fair grass. When the grass begins to fall, bring out the alfalfa and clover."

PREPARING FOR WINTER.

Experimental Farms Note. Do not leave the preparations for winter too late.

Get the pullets into winter quarters before they begin to lay, so that they will not receive a setback; but do not bring them in early in the fall unless they are well-developed, as young stock will develop very rapidly during the bright, cool fall weather.

Before bringing the pullets in, see that the houses have been put in order, thoroughly cleaned, disinfected, and all cracks in walls or roofs carefully stopped so as to avoid drafts or dampness. All broken glass should be renewed and the cottons either mended or renewed, so that they will be ready to use when required. This, however, does not mean that when the pullets are put in that the windows should be closed; far from it.

When the birds are put into winter quarters the conditions should be made as nearly as possible similar to range conditions. Keep the house of the house wide open, so as to allow all the fresh air possible, and keep it that way as long as weather conditions will permit.

Poetry and Jest

AN ETCHING.

(E. Pauline Johnson (Tekahionwaka). A meadow brown; across the yonder edge A zigzag fence is ambuling; here a wedge Of underbrush has cleft its course in twain. Till where, beyond it staggers up again: The long, grey rails stretch in a broken line Their ragged length of rough, split-for-split pine. And in their efforts to inclose the field, Which carries on its breast, September born, A patch of rustling, yellow, Indian corn. Beyond its shriveled tassels, perched upon The topmost rail, sits Joe, the settler's son.

A little semi-savage boy of nine, Now dozing in the warmth of Nature's wine. His face the sun has tampered with, and wrought, By heated kisses, mischief, and has brought Some vagrant freckles, while from here and there A few wild locks of vagabond brown hair Escape the old straw hat the sun looks through. And blinks to meet his Irish eyes of blue. Barefooted, innocent of coat or vest, His grey checked shirt unbuttoned at his chest, Both hardy hands within their usual nest— His breeches pockets—so, he waits to rent His little fingers, somewhat tired and worn. That all day long were husking Indian corn. His drowsy lids snap at some trivial sound. With lazy yawns he slips towards the ground. Then with an idle whistle lifts his load And shambles home along the country road. That stretches on, fringed out with stumps and weeds. And finally into the backwoods leads, Where forests wait with giant trunk and bough. The axe of pioneer, the settler's plow.

SLOW SERVICE. Barber—Your hair is getting very grey, sir. Customer—I'm not surprised. Hurry up!

TO A SUCCESSFUL MAN. (Walter de la Mare.) [Alfred Noyes.] And after all the labor and the pains, After the hoarding up of gold on gold, After success that looked your feet in chains, And left you with a heart so tired and old. Strange—is it not?—to find your chief desire Is what you might have had for nothing then— The face of love beside a cottage fire And friendly laughter with your fellowmen?

You were rich when fools esteemed you poor. You ruled a field that kings could never buy. The glory of the sea was at your door; And all those quiet stars were in your sky.

The nook of ferns below the breathless wood Where one poor book could unlock Paradise. What will you give us now for that lost good? Better forget. You cannot pay the price.

You left them for the fame in which you trust. But youth and hope—did you forsake them, too? Courage! When dust at length returns to dust. In your last dreams they may come back to you.

SAFETY FIRST. Mrs. A.—Does your husband ever forget to mail the letters you give him? Mrs. B.—No; always see to it that he puts them in his cigar case.

YOUTH. [Lloyd Roberts in Canadian Bookman.] Thank God for the sun and the wind, The rain and the dew! They sweat on the doors of the heart, And they enter it, too. They sweep out the dust that has gathered with the laboring years And the chaff of ambition and pride that blossoms in tears.

They cry to the Child long asleep in the cells of the brain; 'Awake to the music and magic in the woodlands again! The fields are as green and as gay as the day of your birth. And the kisses of winter and summer still cover the earth.

"The skies are as blue, the rivers are light on their feet; The woods are as deep and as black and as balsamly sweet; The hills are as high and as clean and as fresh with the winter gleam. As the day that you entered your prison and shut them behind."

For the Child that was with us in youth is with us in age; (How true is the saying!) his white face at the bars of his cage! You have only to strike off the chains, and once more of free. He'll return to the lips of the clover and the breast of the sea.

For only the sinews grow old and the dreams turn to dust! Only the tools of ambition grow blunt and with rust. The toiler within? Oh, you have only to sweep away the bars. To see that his youth is the youth of the hills and the stars!

Thank God for the sun and the wind, The rocks and the trees; The plains and the woods and the skies, the rivers and seas; That open the doors of the heart to the spirit of Truth. Till our feet are aflame once again on the hilltops of Youth!

THE REWARD OF SONG. [Alfred Noyes.] Why do we make our music? Oh, blind dark strings reply: Because we dwell in a strange land And remember a lost key. We ask no leaf of the laurel. We know what fame is worth: But our songs break out of our winter As the flowers break out on the earth.

And we dream of the unknown comrades. In the days when we lie dead, Who shall open our book in the sunlight? And read, as ourselves have read, On a lowly hill, by a wood, With whispering seas below, And murmur a song we have made in our own secret song.

If making his May-time sweeter With dew of our own dead heart-strings Awake in his heart the day. We would pray for a richer guard, No praise from the careless throng; For song is the cry of a lover In quest of an answering song.

As a child might run to his elders With news of an opening flower, We would walk with our young companions And talk to his heart for an hour. As once by my own green wood, And once by a western sea, Thank God, my own good comrades Have walked and talked with me.

Too mighty to make man sorrow, Too weak to heal their pain (Though they that remember the hawthorn May find their heaven again), We are moved by a deeper hunger. We are bound by a stronger cord; For love is the heart of our music, And love is its one reward.

THAT'S WHY. "Dissolve always follows the line of least resistance," said the doctor. "In other words, it invariably attacks the weakest spot in the human organism."

PA'S READY ANSWER. "Pa, what is the Minority party?" "That's me, son," said pa, "when I'm in the majority."

SWEET SYMPATHY. Boy Scout to old lady—May I accompany you across the street, madam? Old Lady—Certainly, sonny. How long have you been waiting here for some-body to take you across?

A very enjoyable function next week will be the garden party and sale to be held at Westman's store next Thursday, October 14. For on that day the women of Alisa, Craig, Chaboyes and other centres are coming to London, bringing their wares and will sell them in aid of the Sick Children's Hospital. Mrs. D. C. McNaughton of Mooreville is the convener of the effort.

The Ontario Hospital was the scene of a most enjoyable little dance last night, when the Nightingale Club entertained in aid of the Sick Children's Hospital. About 75 couples were present, dancing the evening away to the delightful music. The hall had been prettily decorated with window boxes and near the entrance Miss Snellgrove, president of the club, with the club members, received the guests.

The home of Miss Shaw-Wood on Talbot street was the scene of a delightful supper and bridge party on Thursday afternoon, when the Abigail Becker Chapter, O. D. E., entertained in aid of the Sick Children's Hospital. Miss Harriet Priddy received the guests with Miss Shaw-Wood. After an afternoon of playing tea was served from a pretty table centred with marigolds, at which Miss Priddy presided.

Mr. John Gemmell has received a wireless from Father Point to the effect that Mr. Gemmell will not arrive in Montreal until Sunday night, the St. Jean, on which she travels from Scotland, being late. Mr. and Mrs. Randle Brown were the hosts of a delightful dance given last night at their home, Marley Place.

The Best Cough Syrup is Home-made.

Here's an easy way to cure and you'll have the best cough remedy you ever tried.

You've probably heard of this well-known plan of making cough syrup at home. But have you ever used it? When you do, you will understand why thousands of families, the world over, feel that they could hardly keep home without it. It's simple and cheap, but the way it takes hold of the cough will quickly earn it a permanent place in your home.

Into a 16-oz. bottle, pour 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex, then add plain granulated sugar syrup to fill up the bottle. Or, if desired, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, never spoils, and gives you 16 ounces of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for $2.50. It is really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy conquers a cough—usually in 24 hours or less. It seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, heals the membranes, and gives almost immediate relief. It's splendid for throat tickle, hoarseness, croup, bronchitis and bronchial asthma. Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments. To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

The Beauty of The Lily can be yours. It wonderfully purifies, softens, peaches white appearance, free from all blemishes, will be comparable to the perfect beauty of your skin and complexion if you will use it.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTES TO DISCUSS SEVERAL BIG RURAL PROBLEMS

Depopulation of Country Into Cities—Community Schools, Clubs, Churches and Child Welfare Among Them.

The program for the Women's Institute convention, which meets in the Auditorium here on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, October 26, 27 and 28, has finally been arranged, through the energies of Mrs. A. E. Edwards, Mrs. George Edwards of Komoka, and George A. Putnam of Toronto. An interesting feature of this year's convention is that it has been arranged to take place simultaneously with the annual Red Cross meeting of this district. The Red Cross session is to be held at 4 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, when the annual report will be heard, and Dr. Hill will give an address on post-graduate work for child welfare and public health nurses, as opportunity is given for it here in London. On the same afternoon a visit will be made to the Technical School, from 1:30 to 2:30, to give the delegates an insight into the work here. The I. O. D. E. is entertaining the delegates at the tea hour on the same afternoon.

On Tuesday night there will be a big banquet held at the McCormick dining hall in London East, and an excellent program of music and toasts is being arranged for the occasion. On Thursday morning a motor trip to Springbank and the Byron Sanatorium will be a feature of the program. Tuesday morning will be devoted to the registration and billing of delegates. Regular sessions beginning at 1:30 Tuesday afternoon. An address of welcome from Mrs. Frank Leonard, president of the Women's Canadian Institute, and the presentation of the district reports will comprise this session. In the evening an address will be given by Mayor E. S. Little, as well as addresses on the depopulation of the country into the cities, by Prof. Reynolds of O. A. C. Guilford, and by Mrs. James Patterson of Gadsbills.

On Wednesday morning reports will be continued. In the afternoon Mrs. George Edwards of Komoka, the president of the convention will introduce the subject of the Sick Children's Hospital in London. Another address will be given by Peter McArthur of Elfrick. Hon. Manning Doherty.

On the evening a demonstration of folk dancing will be put on by Miss Mary Manley of the Institute of Music Art, and addresses will be given by George Putnam, superintendent of Women's Institutes for the province, by Miss Guest, on her organizing of Women's Institutes in Great Britain, and by Hon. Manning Doherty. On Thursday morning there will be a discussion, led by Mrs. Malcolm Grey of Komoka, on co-operation with the department of education by means of community schools, clubs, churches, etc. The sessions will close by Thursday noon, leaving the afternoon for a trip to Springbank and Byron Sanatorium.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

I saw the clouds among the hills
Trailing their plumes of rainy grey;
The purple of the woods behind,
Fell down to where the valley lay
I sawest satiation of rainbows,
With ripened fruit, and full-filled grain.

Ripe Tomato Pickles.
Dear Miss Grey, enclosed find dime for S. O. H., which I think is for a good cause, and hope you may get the coin. I find the Mail-Box a great help. I am also one of the helpless ones, as I have a lame arm, but I can still crochet, and love to get new patterns. The following is a very nice recipe:

Ripe Tomato Pickle—To a kettle of ripe tomatoes, 6 onions, 12 large apples, add 4 cups of sugar, tablespoons mustard, a little salt, 1 tablespoon black pepper, 1 cup of vinegar and mixed spices, cook about 2 hours.

MORNING GLORY.
Ans.—Patterns have been mailed, and thank you for dime and recipe. Morning Glory. Yes, we all join you in hoping to get the cot.

Bulletin.
All communications to the Mail-Box must be written on one side of the paper only—Cynthia Grey.

Has Garden Huckleberries.
Dear Miss Grey,—Oh, dear! I come again, after a long, long time. I have been reading and learning a lot from our column. I have not come to ask for that wonderful stocking-foot pattern—I received mine over a year ago. I say where someone I forget the name, wanted some garden huckleberries. If she will send me her name and address I shall be only too glad to send her some. TIGER LILY.

Ans.—Welcome back to the Mail-Box. Tiger Lily. Patterns have been forwarded.

Mother of Three.
Dear Miss Grey,—I read with much interest the column of the Mail-Box. Now the busy summer is about past I have a little more time to read each day. I noticed with interest the letter of Mother of Five. I am a mother of three.

CAP IS DEAD.
He was a wee, waggly little dog, and everyone loved him dearly. Last February he opened his eyes for the first time, and he took a good peep at this old world of ours, and he liked it. At first it looked as if Cap wouldn't be allowed to stay, for although his father and mother were thoroughbreds and great prize winners, and he had a lot of prize money, he was not the right color. He was white where he should have been brindle, and brindle where he should have been white. But when a second look was taken at Cap, one could see that he had a perfect head, a perfect body, and the tiniest, nicest kind of crooked tail a little dog could have. When too, when his eyes got open wide, they were great big black fellows.

What a lovely disposition Cap had! He was full of fun and frolic, and just loved everybody and everything—most of all, he loved to be alive. The nice young ladies saw Cap, and they fell in love with him, bought him and took him home. Cap loved them from the first, and he loved all the nice people in their home, for they were all kind to him. When he chewed their rubbers, stole their dusters and scattered papers all over the floor, they did not mind him, for they knew that was just his puppy ways, and that as soon as he learned better manners he would stop such puppy pranks. It took such a little to make Cap three, and I live on a farm, and I understand how busy she must be with all that work to do. I do try different ways to make work easy. I buy a lot of the children's clothes ready made, and find it a great saving of time and money. I use my own clothes, and my husband's shirts and overalls, but always make all other work to be done on the farm. My eldest is 8 years, and the youngest 5. I teach my children to help me, and they do a great many different tasks which saves me a good many steps. When I am tired at the end of the day my husband says you have done enough for today, sit down and have a little chat, and when I get behind he will give me a day in the house and will mop, paint or anything like that. If Mother of Five had that encouragement I am sure her work would seem lighter. Ans.—You are indeed fortunate to have the help of your husband and children, Sunny Sally. I have placed your name on the waiting list for the bonnet.

Around the Grate Fire.
Dear Miss Grey,—This is my first letter to your paper. Like the rest, I am asking you to please send the stocking-foot pattern, as it is coming on winter we will need a few stockings, etc. I wish to correspond with anyone who will please write first, as I have no sisters and it is lonesome amongst so many boys. I will close now, wishing the Mail-Box every success. Here are a few hints in washing:

MRS. ELIZABETH KENT, MACDONALD COLLEGE.

French and felled seams are now used almost entirely to fasten the edges of materials together, unless it is very heavy stuff, because the finish is so neat and complete.

For a French seam, suitable for long seams. In fine underwear or sheer blouses, place the wrong sides of the material together, matching the edges carefully, pinning them firmly together at frequent intervals, baste and stitch close to the basting line, but never through it. Trim the edges to one-eighth inch or less. Crease the seam flat, then turn so that the two right sides of the material are together, the line of the first seam directly on the edge, baste, and stitch so that the raw edges of the first seam are just covered. Soft and flimsy materials must be basted, but a cotton that retains a crease well, may be pinned at frequent intervals, and stitched without basting. But it is necessary to crease it very exactly.

For felling, place the two right sides of the cloth together, baste and stitch so that the upper side of the stitching comes the right side of the seam. Trim the under edge of the seam to one-eighth inch, then turn the wide edge in over the narrow one. To finish, baste the edge of the fold flat to the material and stitch on the right side, guided by the basting, or hem, or overhand the edge of the fold to the cloth. Felled seams should be used whenever a flat seam with a firm finish is desired as in pyjamas and men's shirts. (Copyright, 1920, by The Metropolitan Newspaper Service.)

To take grease out of woollens, silks, paper, floors, etc., grate chalk thickly over the spot, cover with brown paper, set a flatiron on it and let it remain until cool. Repeat if necessary. See that the iron is not too hot to burn it. To restore velvet hold the wrong side over a basin of hot water. To remove paint from clothing, saturate the spot two or three times with equal parts of spirits of turpentine and ammonia, and then wash out with soap suds. This treatment will remove paint if it is as dry and hard as can be. Well, I will have to run away to work. DEAR HEART.

Dear Miss Grey and Boxites.—Just a few lines to thank Tessing Sis and Miss Grey for sending me the much-appreciated recitation, "When Huldry Speaks Her Beau." I received it today, have copied and am returning it, as I was instructed. Thanks again. Best wishes to the Mail-Box. MAID OF THE MIST.

P.S.—Could any of the Boxites tell me a way to wash hair ribbons so they will not lose their stiffness and color?

Attention, Two Too Many.
If you will please send stamped, addressed envelope, repeating request, I will endeavor to assist you.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

Facts about your name; its history; its meaning; whence it was derived; its significance; your lucky day and lucky jewel.

LORETTA.
Loretta should be right of origin, be spelled Lauretta. Its present accepted form is due to the Italian influence which destroys the French "au" and supplies the letter equivalent to its pronunciation. Loretta signifies "laurel," but there is considerable difference of opinion in regard to her source. Some etymologists believe that it is taken from the masculine Laureus and that the ladies so called should consider St. Laurence as their patron. Others contend that it is taken from the Greek word Laura, meaning avenue, and applied to the clusters of hermitages which eventually formed the nucleus of monasteries. A religious interpretation is that the name Lauretta was evoked to commemorate the laurel grove, or loreto, to which the Italians believe the angels transported the holy house of Nazareth during the conquest of Palestine.

But whatever theory is correct, Lauretta made her debut as a feminine name among the Flemish in 1162. Her next appearance was in the time of King John, when a daughter of William de Braose, Lord of Bramber, was so called. After that, the name came into popular usage throughout England and France. In the latter country, it is called Laurette. The emerald in Loretta's tallmantle gem, it is the jewel of youth and springtime for Loretta, and will bring her the charm that comes from quickened intelligence, and the admiration of others. MONTREAL CHAMBER OF COMMERCE OPPOSES PLAN TO DEEPEN WATERWAYS

Raises Objection That Proposed Plan Would Increase Volume of Business Between Canadian West and United States Ports—Another Dardanelles Problem?

MONTREAL, Oct. 8.—Objection to the project of deepening the navigable channels of the great lakes on the ground that it would increase the volume of business between the Canadian west and United States ports was made on behalf of the Montreal Chamber of Commerce before the International boundary waters commission which met here today. A resolution passed by the chamber embodying its opposition was filed with the commission.

George Sumner, president of the board of trade, submitted the following resolution on behalf of his board: "That the canalization of the St. Lawrence waterway should be undertaken by the Government as soon as the finances of the country justify the necessary heavy expenditure it will involve, which in view of the water-power, which such canalization work will render available, and the need of such power for the further development of our manufacturing industries, it is most necessary that any scheme of deepening the St. Lawrence waterway should include provision for power protection, and that such power should not be allowed to pass into private hands but be entirely under Government control, that ocean vessels cannot be perfectly employed on inland waters and lake vessels are unsuited for ocean travel, it is necessary that the latter should be enabled to reach the ocean port so as to avoid transfer of her cargo to smaller craft and therefore that the inland waterways should be of sufficient depth to permit of the largest lake vessels reaching Montreal."

OPPOSES PROJECTED CANAL.
NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—(By the Canadian Press.)—The projected St. Lawrence River-Great Lakes canal was opposed in a resolution adopted yesterday by the New York Chamber of Commerce at its first monthly meeting of the fall session.

The resolution said the body was opposed to any participation by the United States in the expense of the scheme, and authorized the committee on internal trade and improvements to represent the views of the body before the International Waterways Commission, when it meets in New York, and if necessary, before Congress.

"DARDANELLES" PROBLEM.
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 8.—W. F. Fennema, Albany, N. Y., addressing the Atlantic Deep Waterways convention today, said if the United States Government lends its financial aid to the plan of creating the St. Lawrence River into a deeper channel, the sea there will have been created a Dardanelles problem in the United States with a foreign government dictating the movement of United States vessels, and perhaps warships in and out of the Great Lakes.

FARMERS HOLD TARIFF CAUSE OF VACANT FARMS

Saskatoon Manufacturers Contend Protection Necessary For Success.

SASKATOON, Oct. 8.—(Canadian Press.)—Farmers in the vicinity of Saskatoon, who appeared before the tariff commission at its session here today held the protective tariff responsible for conditions on the farms, which are driving the farmers to the city to earn a livelihood. Drought and crop failures, combined with the tariff have led to the abandoning of many farms, and the movement off the land is continuing.

The Saskatchewan Grain Growers' Association in a statement asked for the revision of the tariff. Representative farmers from various rural districts gave examples of conditions which they held make a change in the tariff essential if the production on the farms is to be kept up to normal. Few farms in the vicinity of Saskatoon were said to be profitably productive, owing to the heavy costs of farm machinery and general upkeep.

Manufacturers asked that in the interest of their business the protective tariff be retained and gave figures to show that their Canadian prices were based on costs of production, and not on American prices, plus the tariff. The commission leaves for Regina tonight. Sessions will be held there Monday.

PROVINCIAL LABORATORY LOCATED IN OWEN SOUND

Will Serve City and Surrounding District.

OWEN SOUND, Oct. 8.—It was announced today that Dr. J. W. McCullough, provincial medical health officer, will be in Owen Sound next Wednesday and will be the guest of the city at a banquet in the evening under the auspices of the board of trade.

The provincial laboratory which is to be located in Owen Sound will be under discussion. The laboratory contemplated will serve this section of the province and will be one of six in Ontario. Instead of being forced to send to Toronto to have analysis of water, milk, etc., made, the local and district work will be done here.

WINDSOR TO HAVE $20,000 NAVAL TRAINING STATION

Campaign To Raise Funds—Government Expected To Donate Site.

WINDSOR, Oct. 8.—Plans were confirmed today for the erection of a shore training station for the training of boys for the Naval Brigade. The structure, which will be erected adjacent to the government dock on the riverfront, Sandwich street west, will cost approximately $20,000, local men behind the project stated tonight.

It is expected that the Government will donate the site free of charge, and a campaign is to be launched along the whole border, in which funds will be raised to finance the undertaking. The building will embrace drill-rooms, gymnasium, library, reading-room and class-room. A competent instructor will render available, and the need of such power for the further development of our manufacturing industries, it is most necessary that any scheme of deepening the St. Lawrence waterway should include provision for power protection, and that such power should not be allowed to pass into private hands but be entirely under Government control, that ocean vessels cannot be perfectly employed on inland waters and lake vessels are unsuited for ocean travel, it is necessary that the latter should be enabled to reach the ocean port so as to avoid transfer of her cargo to smaller craft and therefore that the inland waterways should be of sufficient depth to permit of the largest lake vessels reaching Montreal."

COLUMBUS GIRLS SOUGHT IN WINDSOR

WINDSOR, Oct. 8.—Border police are tonight on the lookout for two young girls, abducted from their homes in Columbus, Ohio, by a man named Gerald Dale Minick.

Carl Duttler and Bernice Smith the 15-year-old girls, are sought by their parents, who have appealed to Mayor Winter for aid. It is thought the girls were later joined by another man, and that the quartet are now in Windsor or one of the other border municipalities.

SPONTANEOUS FIRE BLAMED FOR FATAL FIRE AT ENNISMORE

PETERBORO, Oct. 8.—Spontaneous combustion in a quantity of slightly green clover stored in the barn on Timothy Cough's farm in Ennismore Township caused the fire on October 6 that resulted in Edmund Cough, a boy, being burned to death and John Brick being injured so badly that he died the next day. The owner of the farm himself was seriously injured. At the time of the fire a number of neighbors were assisting in filling a silo.

The theory of spontaneous combustion is held by L. J. Bishop, deputy provincial fire marshal, who investigated the fire today. The roof of the barn was badly in need of repair, and rain leaking through dampened the clover, thus starting the conditions favorable to spontaneous combustion, according to the deputy fire marshal.

Home Face Peeling Becomes Popular

No complexion treatment yet discovered seems to have become so generally and so immediately popular as the mercolized wax process. Evidently the reason is that this method actually gets rid of a bad complexion, which can hardly be said of any other. To temporarily hide or bleach the defective skin with cosmetics cannot compare with the effect of literally removing the offending surface skin flour-like particles. A little at a time, until there's none of it left. The new complexion thus produced exhibits a healthy glow and girlish beauty obtainable in no other way. This wax, which you can get at your druggist's, is applied at night in the same way you use cold cream, and washed off next morning. Here is one thing that actually does remove wrinkles, and remove them quickly: Powdered saxolite, one ounce, dissolved in one-half pint witch hazel. Use as a face wash—Adv.

were laid at a meeting at the Y.M.C.A. this evening. The drive will continue until October 18, when the new rates will come into effect.

FOURTH REMAND IN THOROLD RIOT CASE

WELLAND, Oct. 8.—At the request of the crown the fourth remand of the seventeen alleged rioters of Thorold was granted here today by Magistrate Fraser of Niagara Falls, Ont., who stated a week ago, upon the third remand, that the preliminary trial of the accused would be proceeded with here today. No statement was made as to why the latest remand was granted. The date set today for the preliminary hearing was October 23. The seventeen accused persons are charged with having participated in the riot at the village of Thorold, Lincoln County, on the night of August 16 last, when a mob tried to take from the authorities David McNeal, who had been committed for trial on the allegation that he had murdered 4-year-old Margaret Boucek, with the avowed intention of lynching him. In the attempt to get hold of the prisoner the town hall at Thorold was set on fire and partially destroyed.

TORONTO WALKOUT OF BRIEF DURATION

TORONTO, Oct. 8.—A strike was precipitated this morning at the Canadian General Electric Company's building, which is in course of construction, because four non-union roofers were employed. Twelve trades, comprising the unions in the building trades council, were involved in the strike, and it was a case of "down tools" for the whole dozen unions. The strike lasted just an hour. Work was resumed with the four non-union men eliminated.

TO CUT MILK PRICES AS SOON AS POSSIBLE

TORONTO, Oct. 8.—"As soon as it is possible to give Toronto citizens another ticket for a dollar it will be done," said E. H. Stonehouse, president of the Toronto Milk Producers' Association, today. He said this was the decision of the executive committee of the association, and he intimated that it might not be long until the drop in the price of milk came. At present twelve tickets for a dollar is the rate here.

AT THE GRAND

MARK TWAIN'S INSPIRATION FOR "THE PRINCE AND THE PAUPER" AT THE GRAND TWICE TO- DAY.

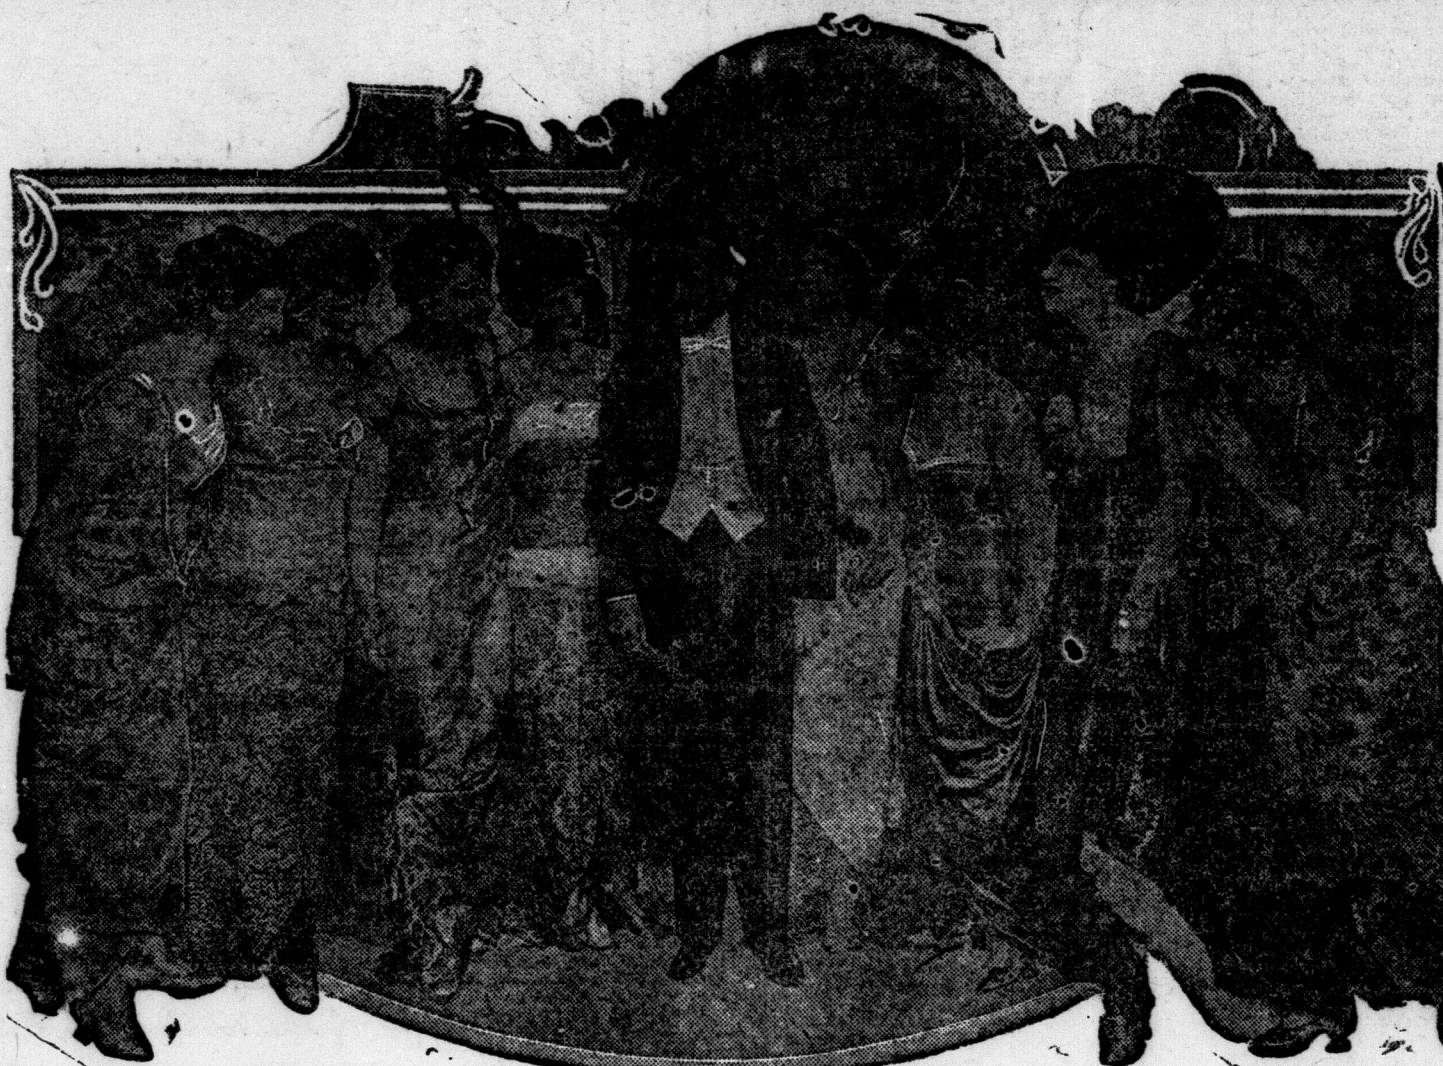

It is not generally known that Mark Twain's widely-read and beloved book, "The Prince and the Pauper," in which William Faversham will be seen at the Grand twice today, was inspired by "The Prince and the Pauper," by Charles M. Yonge, a juvenile volume containing an English story of the thirteenth century. It was the story of Edward I. and his cousin, Richard, and Henry de Montfort, and told of the submerged personality of the latter, picturing him as having dwelt in disguise as a blind beggar for a period of years.

It was a story and setting of the kind Mark Twain loved and he got the correlative idea for "The Prince and the Pauper" from it. Not only would he disguise the prince as a beggar, but also the beggar as a prince. He would have them change places and each learn the burdens of the other's life. However, there is no point of resemblance between the two stories and no comparison may be made.

From the outset there was always lurking in the back of the author's brain the stage possibilities of the story. In his mind's eye he saw a spectacular production with all the costume of the period as the background for a young and beautiful creature who could play the two parts of the prince and the pauper.

The idea of changelings in the cradle (later used in "Pudd'nhead Wilson") presented itself, but it could not provide the situations he had in mind. Finally came the thought of the play-ful interchange of raiment and state with startling and unlooked-for consequences, the guile and personality of Tom Canty of Offal Court for those of the son of Henry VIII, little Edward Tudor, more lately sixth English king of that name. This little prince was not his first selection for the part. His original idea had been to use the late King Edward VII. (then Prince of Wales) at about 15, but he found that it would never answer to lose a prince among the slums of modern London and have his proud estate denied and jeered at by a modern mob. He felt that he could not make it seem real, so he followed back through history looking for the proper time and prince till he came to little Edward, who was too young, but no matter, he would do.

Mr. Twain decided to begin his new venture in story form. He could dramatize it later. The situation appealed to him immensely; the idea seemed a brand new one; it was delightful, it was fascinating and he was saturated with the atmosphere and literature and history—the data and detail of that delightful old time. He put away all thought of cheap, modern play-acting and writing, and began one of the loveliest, most entertaining and instructive tales of old English life ever written.

The author wanted to be quite accurate in his picture of the period and posted himself on old London very carefully. He bought a pocket map which he studied in the minutest detail. He wrote four hundred manuscript pages of the tale that summer; then his inspiration seemed to lag a little, and he put it aside as was his habit, to wait until ambition for it renewed. He did not touch it again for more than three years.

In making this production which Mr. Faversham has supervised in all its details the same care and attention curacy of the settings, of a young man of great promise in New York as American theatre, Rollo Peters, by name, was dispatched to England and plates and securing other data of historical value.

"EXPERIENCE" AT THE GRAND NEXT MONDAY, TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY.

The long-expected engagement of the

This is the mysterious beast that causes so much mystery and so many thrills in Marshall Neilan's "Go and Get It," the much-talked-of photoplay, which is coming to the Allen soon.

GRAND, OCTOBER 11, 12, 13, WITH POPULAR WEDNESDAY MATINEE.

modern morality drama, "Experience," which has been one of the biggest theatrical sensations of recent years, is now announced for the Grand for three days, commencing Monday next.

The play was written by George V. Hobart, and it is patterned after the old-time morality dramas of four centuries ago. Yet, while it retains the form and manner of the old plays, it is strictly up to date, and is adapted to modern conditions. The great novelty lies in the fact that it treats modern and up-to-date situations just as the priest-playwright of four centuries ago treated the moral and spiritual problems of that day and age.

In "Experience" one sees in ten vivid and dramatic scenes the principal events in the life of an average young man who goes forth into the world in search of fame and fortune. The leading character, called Youth, says farewell to Love in the little country cottage, and into the big world. At the gates of the city, Youth meets with Experience for the first time. Experience is shown as a wise old gentleman who knows everything there is to know, and he announces that he will accompany Youth upon his journey. He introduces Youth to Pleasure, symbolized as a beautiful woman, and Pleasure takes Youth to the Prince's Palace, where he is fascinated by the gayety and entertaining life which unfolds before him. The glittering and gorgeous outlook does not last long, however, for when Pleasure falls by the wayside, Youth starts upon the downward path at a terrible rate. He succumbs to various temptations, and is on the high road to perdition when his salvation is brought through a song he hears outside a church. The boy, discouraged but not beaten, returns to go back to Love and the little country cottage, and with his new friend, Experience, he returns to Love, having lost the first fight, but having won the greater victory by conquering the evils in his own heart.

Messrs. Comstock & Gest, producers of "Experience," have given Mr. Hobart's impressive play a superb stage setting, with ten brilliant scenes. The play is enacted by a company of 40 players. "Experience" ran nine months in New York, seven months in Chicago, and five months in Boston.

EXCELLENT NEW YORK CAST WITH "ON THE HIRING LINE" APPEARS AT THE GRAND NEXT THURSDAY, FRIDAY AND SATURDAY.

Miss May Anderson, producer and director of George Taylor's big New York comedy, "On the Hiring Line," which plays here next Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Grand, has assembled a remarkably well-balanced Broadway cast for this Canadian tour, that has won the unstinted praise of Toronto's critics.

Wallis Roberts, who plays Fessenden, the irate husband, has been a producer with his own company, and was also with Henry Miller in "Molier." Marie Aymes, who appears as the actress-wife, was also with Henry Miller in "Molier" and "For O' My Heart." Mr. Evans, the eccentric actor-guest, played years ago with Harriet Ford, one of the authors of this play. Last season he was with "The Better O's," and before that played the auctioneer in "Maytime" with Barrymore. Miss Donna Bartlett, the flirt, was with the New York hit "39-21" last season, and before played the spy in "Friendly Enemies," and prominent parts in "The Mischief Lady," "The Painted Women" and "Overnight." Viola Frayne, the demure and pretty ingenue, played Polly with "Polly of the Circus" and one of the leads in "Experience," while her brother, Frank Frayne, the effervescent chauffeur, played his own sketch.

Marion Wallis, the detective-cook, has not only seen many years experience on this side of the Atlantic, but is well known to theatre-goers in Great Britain.

Such a cast, with a real Broadway comedy, under May Anderson's careful direction, will force many laughs out of the most habitual grouch.

AT ALLEN'S

WOMAN'S GREATEST TEMPTATION EXPOSED IN "THE DEVIL'S PASSKEY," GLITTERING STORY OF PARIS, AT ALLEN MONDAY.

Woman's greatest weakness, her greatest temptation—the source that drives more women to crime and disgrace than any other motive in their lives—you see it in "The Devil's Passkey," that wonderful picture of Paris, which is showing at the Allen Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

The weakness of a pretty thing for pretty clothes, not new, perhaps, for Eve in Eden knew the same temptations, but laid in the wonderful city of endless delights fortunately for the stage makes it entirely new to moderns.

Paris! You'll think you're there! Paris the wonderful, Paris the wicked—the grand prize, the boulevards—the glittering shops, the luxuries that are dearest to woman. The Rue De La Paix, the Theatre Francaise, the world's centre of amusement portrayed on the screen as only one who knows his Paris from the heart out could do it.

There is a way, says Paris, to every woman's heart—and Von Stroheim, to whom we are indebted for this production, shows you what it is in the most sensational of photodramas. Created by a man who knows and who knows you; a masterpiece of the screen for suspense, for detail of plot and settings, for the very human people who meet here the crisis of their lives. See "The Devil's Passkey" without fail.

Overture from "Irene" by Allen's famous orchestra. Christie comedy, Allen News, Bray Pictographs, Rogers Illiterate Digest, and many other very interesting and amusing added attractions.

THURSDAY, FRIDAY AND SATURDAY.

Frank Mayo in "Hitchin' Posts," Charlie Chaplin in "The Champion," high-class vaudeville feature; second episode of "The Vanishing Dagger" with Eddie Polo.

That is the news that flashed over the wires at the premier showing of Constance Talmadge's picture, which is coming to the Allen next Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

A typical, typical Connie Talmadge picture—replete with thrills, wholesome fun and a laugh for everyone in the family from dear old dad to darling daughter. She breaks into the maddening rush of New York's social swimmer—saves a good-looking Rah Rah boy from night court—crucifies the Boulding Main on a dream of a millionaire's yacht—starts from Connecticut to New York in a bathing suit, and hits the big city in time to grab a million dollar meal ticket. That's the story in short of "Good References," but it gives you no idea of the fun, the amusement and the laughs that you will get out of it. Be sure your children see Connie's new picture also, for she's just as much a favorite with them as she is with you.

A big comedy feature of Smiling Billy Parsons, snapshots of famous screen stars in and around the studios, Allen News, Mutt and Jeff cartoons, they're all among the extra attractions on this big program.

PROHIBIT MOVIES TO ALL SCHOOL CHILDREN.

Keep the school children from the movies. Why not? Don't they get just as much fun out of pictures as we grown-ups do? Well, say, it's the kids that really get the full enjoyment out of photoplays. Hurt their morals! Nonsense. Do you think when they come to see Constance Talmadge in her newest picture, "Good References," when it is showing at the Allen, that the wholesome fun, the clever humor, and many thrilling laughs, would make them feel just so much better, give them a little more pep to carry on with their studies, and their work? Do you think all those kiddies who are coming to the matinee at the Allen today to see Tom Moore in "Officer 666," Charlie Chaplin in "The Pawnshop," and Jack Pickford in "The Further Adventures of Huck and Tom," won't get as much enjoyment out of these three attractions as any adult? Say, you just come, and listen to them laugh. In a few minutes you will be laughing with them, and enjoying the pictures just as much as if you were a child again yourself. Remember—movies are one of the greatest educational factors of the day. They keep the blood of the nation from Continued on Page Eleven.

THE DEVIL'S PASSKEY

A picture of Paris, the wicked and Paris the wonderful.

Do you know what the devil's passkey is? Do you know who uses it? Would you know it if you saw it? What is its price? Can it be bought? There is a way, says Paris, to every woman's heart—and Von Stroheim, who knows his Paris as you know the rooms you live in—shows you what it is, in the most sensational photodrama of many years. A picture which every well-known critic has pronounced one of the wonders of the screen—for suspense, for detail of plot and setting, for the very human people who meet here, the one great crisis of their lives. See "THE DEVIL'S PASSKEY," without fail. It was created by a man who knows—and who knows you know.

Paris! You'll think you're there—the glittering shops—the Grand Prix, Longchamp, the Cabarets—the Rue De La Paix—the whirl of society—a feast for the eyes.

NEXT THE DARLING SWEETHEART OF THE SCREEN

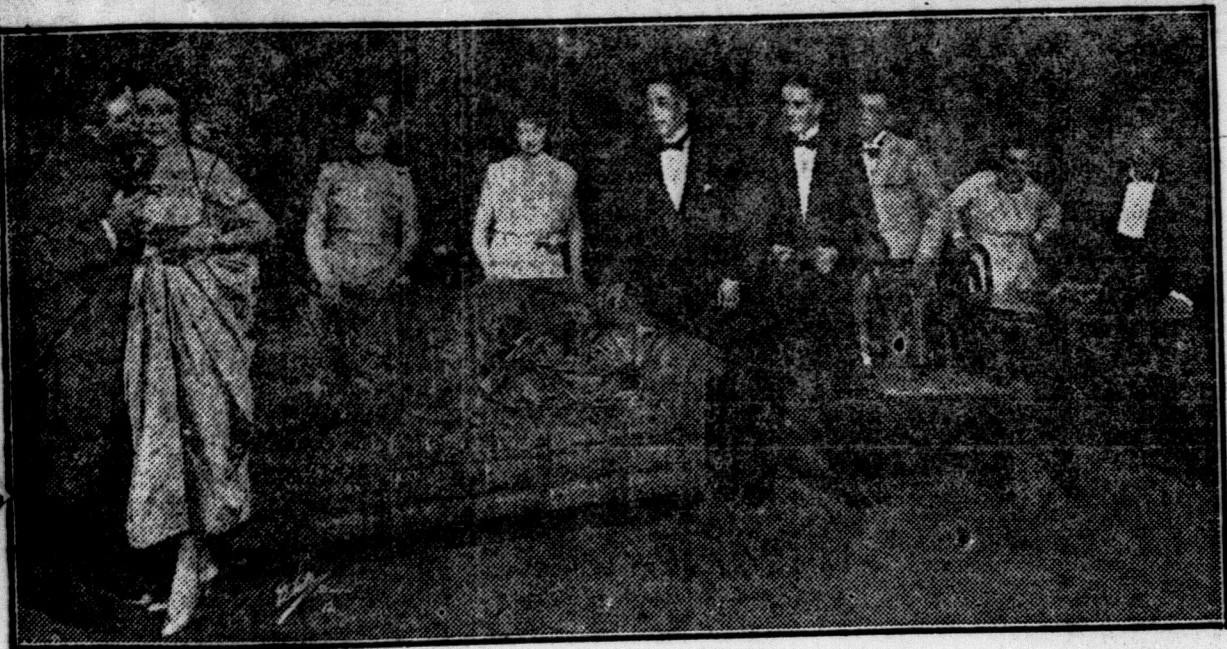

Mary Pickford in "SUDS"

HER NEW JOY-BRINGING PICTURE

From Charles Frohman's Production, "Op o' Me Thumb."

A production for old and young—it eats at the heart strings—will long be talked about—clever, funny, delightfully pleasing—in which Miss Pickford does her greatest work.

SUNSHINE COMEDY, LOEW'S PICTORIAL AND LOEW'S SUPREME VAUDEVILLE.

SCENE FROM "ON THE HIRING LINE." HERE SOON.

When May Anderson declares she will take her own show over the Canadian circuit she resolved to get a play that met three prime requisites: First, it must be a recent New York success; second, it must be a real comedy (Miss Anderson believes that laughter is better than medicine), and third, it must be the original New York production, with a New York cast. "On the Hiring Line" was the only production that met all these requirements, so Miss Anderson paid spot cash for the entire production—scenery, furniture, etc.—and is paying a big royalty, but she got what she believed Canadians want—a first-class production of real comedy. "On the Hiring Line" plays here next Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Grand and will get a big reception.

What the Press Agents Say About the Shows

growing stagnant, and add to the zest of life.

"GO AND GET IT" PACKED WITH MYSTERY THRILLS AND ADVENTURE.

Marshal Nolan has made the most sensational, thrilling picture of the year in his "Go and Get It," a story of newspaper life. For some of the thrilling effects he used a couple of aeroplanes, and in another scene there is a big stunt with a daring sky acrobat and a train, and a big seaquake. There are gun battles between vicious gunmen, but the greatest thrill of all comes in disclosing the mystery, in solving the crime that has rocked the service of a great city, threatening it with destruction.

AT LOEW'S

NEW WALLACE REID PHOTOPLAY TRAVELS AT A LIVELY PACE—COMEDY STAR PROVIDES LAUGHS IN "SICK ABED" ADAPTED FROM STAGE FARCE.

Wallace Reid in a spirited screen version of the stage farce, "Sick Abed," will delight large audiences at Loew's Theatre. The story concerns one Reginald Jay, who gets himself into laughable complications through trying to help an old friend of his father's out of a scrape. The latter has earned the wrath of his jealous wife, because he went to a roadhouse with a certain lady customer of his firm. Reginald is wanted for a fight, and the picture, which is a Paramount Artcraft, was directed by Sam Wood.

MARY PICKFORD WILL BE THE ATTRACTION AT LOEW'S IN "SUDS" MONDAY NEXT.

Mary Pickford, who has delighted so many millions as the glad girl in "Pollyanna," will be seen at Loew's Theatre next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday in her latest United Artists Corporation production, "Suds," in a role said to be entirely different from anything in which she has heretofore appeared.

The story was adapted from the stage play, "Op o' Me Thumb," in which Maude Adams appeared with such great success in Charles Frohman's Empire Theatre in New York City.

The cast was especially selected by Miss Pickford as being specially adapted to the roles in which they appear. The street scenes are laid in the slums of London in which the picture takes place, and the exact reproductions of certain quarters of the big metropolis which were photographed by the star's English representatives and reproduced at her studio in perfect detail.

The story has to do with the affairs of Amanda Afflick, a pug-nosed homely little slaver in a French laundry in the slums of the English city. Amanda is the most woebegone character imaginable and as the other girls in the laundry have their sweethearts, and so many have ever declined to notice the little slaver, she weaves a wonderful romance for her own benefit and the benefit of the girls in the laundry, about the owner of a shirt which had been left to be washed some months before the story opens.

Amanda tells the girls that she is really of a very high station in life, but her father, the Arch-Duke, has sent her to work in the laundry to be sure that she will be loved and courted for herself alone and not for her vast fortune. She informs the eager listeners that when "Orace Greensmith," the man whose name is on the laundry ticket accompanying the shirt, appears for his washing apparel, it will be a signal that all is well, and she can return to her rightful station in life.

Amanda is continually getting into difficulties both in and out of the laundry, and when Lavender, the house which pulls the battered delivery wagon, is about to be sold for glue she rushes to his aid and takes the horse to her humble little room, three flights of stairs up in the tenement.

How she and the horse are ejected by the other exasperated tenants is one of the most amusing scenes of the story.

Finally a bank holiday comes along and all of the girls in the laundry are going to Hampstead Heath for a picnic, but Amanda says that she is waiting for "Orace Greensmith." Just at this moment Horace appears for his shirt. He knows nothing about the romance casually when he came to deposit his shirt. How Amanda bluffs through the situation and saves her face before the spellbound girls, must naturally be seen to be appreciated and enjoyed. The cast supporting Miss Pickford is one of unusual excellence, including such well-known players as Albert Austin, Madame Rose Dione and Harold Goodwin.

MARY PICKFORD in "SUDS"

The Darling Sweetheart of the Screen in a production wonderfully appealing, effective and triumphant in its lovable simplicity, in which Miss Pickford's brilliant achievement in characterization has proved to be an event in screen history, and who will be seen in her new joy-bringing picture at Loew's, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

AT THE PATRICIA

CARMEL MYERS in "FOLLY'S TRAIL" AT THE PATRICIA MONDAY, TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY.

More and more it seems producers are realizing the value of the little human story, that small but strikingly dramatic "slice of life" that is so difficult to communicate to the film, but which, once communicated, is fit matter to rival the far more pretentious production in entertainment value.

Of course these stories are very hard to find. It's easy enough to point out that there is drama in the life of the milkman and the family in the flat downstairs, but there are comparatively few authors willing to search for it. C. Gardner Sullivan did, and found it in "Sleeping Out" and "Hairpins." And now Katherine Leiser Robbins has accomplished the feat in "In Folly's Trail."

Here is a simple little story, the central characters of which are a flighty little show girl, with small education and tastes that fairly lacerate finer sensibilities, and an artist, whose refinement and culture are just a bit over-developed.

Their marriage occurs after a brief and glamorous courtship, and then the incompatibility of the two temperaments begins to reveal itself. Lita is careless, eager for the companionship of her former roustabout friends. Howard seeks a quiet existence and devotion to his art—every act of his wife, the simple sole and heart of whom he loves dearly, grates on him.

Finally his inability to meet her half way results in a breach and it is only through the severe lecture read Howard by Lita's erstwhile suitor, Goldberg, a man of big purse and big heart, that he wakes to his selfishness and begs forgiveness.

The detail of this is splendid, the scenes between husband and wife being enriched by expression, acts and bits of business that give them the indelible stamp of reality. Nor has the director forgotten his production values. There are a number of extravagant and lavish scenes in the Goldberg home with revelry at its height that afford remarkable balance to the less spectacular level of the main action.

Carmel Myers creates an unusual and appealing character in Lita. She appears to live the part. Her beauty, too, is offset to its full advantage. O'Farrell is the last name they gave her, which seems to strike a very minor discordant note. Thomas Holding plays the selfish husband excellently. George B. Williams as Goldberg does some delightful character work while Arthur Clayton, Viola Lind, W. H. Bainbridge and Beth Ivana.

MME. FRANCES ALDA, FAMOUS SOPRANO OF THE METROPOLITAN OPERA COMPANY, SINGS HERE OCT. 20.

Famous Artist Will Appear at the Grand in the First of a Series of Four Great Concerts Under the Auspices of the Musical Art Society, Wants the Best.

"The Canadian people are very appreciative of music, and what is more to the point, they only want the best," so declared Mme. Frances Alda, who will be heard in recital at the Grand Opera House Wednesday evening, October 20, in the first of a series of four great concerts to be given this season by the Musical Art Society.

"I have traveled a great many hundreds of miles over this big country," she declared, "and I speak from personal experience when I say I have found real appreciation everywhere, even in small communities. And the people know what they want. They request before I come that when I make up my mind to sing such and such compositions. Nothing mediocre satisfies them; all must be of the best."

"As proof of some of the traveling I shall do for the cause of musical appreciation, here is my concert list for the coming week. Mme. Alda opened a jeweled handbag she carried and drew out a closely-typed sheet. Here, she continued, is a list of over eighty concerts and recitals I am to give. Of course, some of these appearances are with the orchestra. So you see, with opera and concert work, my time will be fully filled and I shall have an extremely busy season."

And not only is Mme. Alda largely occupied at present with next season's programs and opera roles, but she manages to accomplish a considerable amount of charitable war work as well. The special charity in which she is deeply interested and which was mentioned above, is the plan for providing ships and seamen with musical instru-

Mme. Alda will be followed by Edward Johnson, who comes to London

If Sleeplessness Is Your Trouble Read This

Sleeplessness is a warning of forces at war within the body—all is not harmony—something needs correction. Nine times out of ten the body is loaded with the poisons of half-digested food and half-digested sleep. Brain and nerves are irritated, sleep is impossible.

No prescription ever formulated produces the rapid results of Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

They flush every impurity from the body, keep every organ working well, remove the evil effect of lost sleep, and set you up in a few days.

Try Dr. Hamilton's Pills today. See how much better you feel, see how much easier it is to face the day's work.

Your blood is nourished, your nerves fed with new vital power, vigor and health is sent to every part of your system.

It's because Dr. Hamilton's Pills make each organ do the work Nature expects of it, because it insures harmony, health and vigor to the system, that it cures sleeplessness, languor, depression, and nervousness.

Isn't there a reason why you should use Dr. Hamilton's Pills? Sold in 25c boxes by all dealers.

Wednesday evening, October 27. Vam Prihoda, the new sensation of the violin world, proclaimed to be the greatest violinist of the age, will make his first appearance on Canadian soil. The London Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of A. D. Jordan, with Miss Lois Johnston as soloist, will conclude the series in February. This is undoubtedly the greatest series of concerts that has ever been offered to London musical lovers. Course tickets are going very fast and the demand continues, and A. D. Jordan reports that very few remain. To those who require course tickets it is urged that they make known their requirements to Miss Doris Warner at the London Institute of Musical Art, Phone No. 2. The public seat sale for single tickets will open at the Grand a week from Monday.

CHILDHOOD INDIGESTION
Nothing is more common in childhood than indigestion. Nothing is more dangerous to proper growth, more weakening to the constitution or more likely to pave the way to dangerous disease. Fully nine-tenths of all the minor ills of childhood have their root in indigestion. There is no medicine for the little ones to equal Baby's Own Tablets in relieving this trouble. They have proved of benefit to thousands of homes. Concerning them Mrs. Jos. Lunette, Immaculate Conception, Que., writes: "My baby was a great sufferer from indigestion, but the Tablets soon set her right, and now
I would not be without them." Baby's Own Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

PARTICULAR POISONS FOR PARTICULAR PEOPLE.

Rosenbloom recently reports as causes of asthma in certain individuals, wheat flour, rye flour, boxwood dust, and orange-wood dust. Remember, the patient who had the wheat-flour asthma was not affected by boxwood dust or orange-wood dust; the man who had the boxwood-dust asthma was not affected by wheat flour or orange-wood dust, and so on all around. Remember, also, that most people would not be affected by any of these dusts—of course, wheat flour is wheat dust, rye flour is rye dust, etc. These particular people were "sensitive" to one particular substance in each case that most people are not sensitive to at all. "How do they get that way?" We would every day. Perhaps the most common form of skin eruption, eczema, or, by peculiar body symptoms. We do not know that ALL cases of asthma, all cases of eczema, etc., are caused by taking into the system some ordinary substance that is a poison for that particular individual. On the other hand, we do know that a good many cases of asthma and eczema are caused in this way.

HOW TO FIND THE PARTICULAR POISON.

Remember that in this kind of poison hunt we are not looking for strychnine or arsenic, or any of the well-known poisons, at all. The poisons that produce asthma are most certainly, very ordinary, everyday things—oatmeal, say, or eggs, potatoes, stable dust, milk, cat hair, chicken feathers—a long list. Pretty difficult would it not be to say which is the "guilty party" in any given case—for everyone comes more or less in contact with most of such things every day. Perhaps the most ingenious method I now use is this—extracts of eggs, oatmeal, potatoes, horse hairs, horse dandruff, cat hairs, cat-dandruff, and so on, are made with the greatest care, and supplied for the tests. The patient with asthma or eczema, or whatever disease it may be that is suspected of being thus caused, is lightly vaccinated with these extracts, each one at a different point. Most of the extracts thus used in any given case will produce no effect whatever; but when the particularly guilty party is used, that particular spot on the skin where it was inserted will swell slightly, and form a little bump. In other words, the body resents the advent of the guilty party by getting red and angry, and putting its back up like a cat with a strange dog, just at the point where the substance was inserted. Now, by noting which substance used, oatmeal or cornmeal or cat hair extract, etc., is the one which produces the bump, we know which is the one which produces the eczema or the asthma, on the trail of which we are.

Once we know the cause, we are able to deal with it, of course. I knew a young architect who was sensitive to the scales from horsehair to such an extent that merely driving behind a horse would give him a very severe attack, not unlike hay fever. He could not go into a stable without a similar penalty for his rashness. In another person, horse scales might produce asthma, in another eczema, and so on.

How does such an extraordinary situation come about? Well, so far as we have gone, we know that only substances coming from plants and animals will produce these "particular poisons for particular people"—and that the substance is always some part of a plant or animal or their products that contain protein. Fats will not do it, nor oils, nor starches. It must be protein.

MUST NOT BE COOKED.

The second thing is that the protein must be raw, or at least not thoroughly cooked. Heat, if sufficiently high, prevents the protein from having its particular effect. The third point is that the protein must somehow enter the system in this raw or partially raw form, but just how we don't know. It is probable that the guilty protein must enter the body in some peculiar way, sneaking in, so to speak, instead of going through the usual stages of digestion and absorption, such as other food substances do, as a general rule. Of course, it is easy to see now that no amount of ointment or other local treatment would do any permanent good to an eczema the real cause of which was eating eggs! In such a case, the cause is internal—it comes from the food to the skin, from within, and not from without, and treatment is hopeless.

OFFSETTING POISON.

When such a particular poison is found there are three ways of offsetting it. One is, of course, to avoid the poison entirely; to keep away from horses, say, if it is horse scales that make the trouble; to avoid eating oatmeal, if oatmeal proves to be the guilty party. Another way (in the case of foods) is to use high heat always in preparing that particular food. Thus, boiled potatoes may be harmful in cases where baked potatoes can be eaten safely. The third method, sometimes long and tedious, is to gradually make a course of treatment in which the patient is gradually made immune to the poison—"desensitized." Where the patient is suffering from poisoning by a particularly valuable food like milk or eggs or beef, it is worth while to be thus "desensitized." This is done by administering very minute quantities of the substance at first, gradually increasing the amount, and watching carefully to see the results.

Thus we are learning—slowly—more about the universe and ourselves. All these troubles, asthma, eczema, etc., have existed as long as mankind has. We are only just finding out why. But if we keep on we shall find out still more—slowly—through the efforts of people who are willing to try; people who are not content to leave great evils alone or consider them inevitable, but are willing to spend laborious years in following down the intricate and difficult camouflages under which Nature has concealed so many of her methods.

LEGAL BATTLE IS IN SIGHT DURING HYDRO- RADIAL PROBE

R. S. Robertson Will Demand That Hydro Arguments Be Proven.
TO TAKE AGGRESSIVE
Mass of Figures Likely To Be Adduced At Inquiry.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Toronto, Oct. 9.—When the ammunition is all available and the guns are limited for action, there is promise that sessions of the hydro radial commission will not be dull. Thus far only preliminary scenes have been staged. Various counsel have sought to entrench themselves in proper position. They have been striving their forces into line, disposing of polite preliminaries, exchanging formal salutes and taking glimpses through the finger-glasses. Neither has disclosed much of what his strategy may be, but if the staff of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission in the persons of trained engineers, lay on the table by Thursday next the complete information for which the investigating body has asked, the contending force will come to action.

It has already become quite evident to those who have been in attendance at the sittings, that the aggressive manoeuvres must be taken by Mr. R. S. Robertson, who appears on behalf of the municipalities in Ontario, which are from Missouri, and want to be shown conclusively that their credit should be pledged to the initial stake of fifty million dollars for radial railways which directly benefit only a limited number of communities in the province. He naturally occupies a somewhat isolated position in relation to his associates. Mr. I. F. Hellmuth, K.C., on behalf of the commission, is endeavoring to lead the inquiry through cautious ground. Col. C. S. McInnes, K.C., representing the hydro, does not like the sound of Robertson's gun, and Mr. Robert McKay, K.C., for the radial municipalities, is jealously guarding every weak spot in his battalion's armor. These three men have initials at the end of their names. They are experienced in the art of deploying their forces, and have the good fortune of being kindred spirits in this particular case. Robertson hasn't the K. C. yet, but he is on the rung of the ladder that leads up to it, and that rung was carved in the wood of municipal commission as former city solicitor of Stratford, who was a partner of Mr. Justice Dington, of the Supreme Court of Canada, and more recently as a successful member of a large firm in Toronto. Any hammering done against ponderous fortresses must necessarily be done by the use of munitions of war. In his statement before the commission, he intends to bring the biggest howitzer to bear.

Question Gaby Closely.
Trained newspapermen have respect for the dictum that "everybody's secrets eventually catch up with him." They have so much respect, in fact, that in the case of important and far-reaching as this radial question is certain to be, they are inclined to go the hard one better and look for the substance. The suggestion occurs that Mr. Robertson will seek to enlarge upon admissions which Mr. Gaby has made at his finger tips, and who went through two days of examination with the constitution of an athlete, but he acknowledged that the estimates on which the municipalities voted and on which the Ontario Government early in the summer was asked to guarantee bonds, had been given new suits of clothes recently. Some of the estimates had, in fact, been discarded. The Toronto Eastern Railway construction cost had been put up $300,000, or nearly $18,000 a mile, the operating expenses reduced and the earnings increased. The reduced and the happy mathematical result of showing a surplus. It is not a far stretch of the imagination to suppose that Mr. Robertson, as critical counsel, will seek to establish that under figures as submitted to the municipalities, and on which they gave consent, there would have been a deficit.

The hydro commission, on the other hand, will undoubtedly maintain that the increase of interest charges from two per cent to six that now prevalis, and other advanced costs, are monkey wrenches which perverse times have thrown into the line of witness, that a ship must tack to subside, and that even granting this latitude, the question of the hydro commission's program should proceed unless the properties vote again on the new figures. Indeed, Mr. Gaby has said that the Toronto to London scheme should go back to the municipalities.

It is probable also that Mr. Robertson will try to prove by expert witnesses, which he says he will produce, that the estimated earnings made by the hydro for this road, of $27,000 per mile, are unjustifiably high for a line that is planned to serve only 22,000 people five years hence. It is significant that Commissioners Atchison and Amos, who pressed much inquisitiveness over these figures.

Another point upon which radial fans are concerned is how the hydro engineers and counsel are going to reconcile the figures which were submitted to the Toronto to St. Catharines municipalities by Mr. S. Murray was engaged by the hydro commission to make a special report last spring. His findings were published in the city's "Sun" of $53,000, even in the estimates showed earnings of only $22,000 per mile. The hydro commission also said there would be six miles of double track out of each of the cities of Toronto and Hamilton. The higher cost of the hydro capital cost of the line by allowing for less than a mile and a quarter in Toronto. The hydro will be asked to show how a single-track road, coming in competition with a nationally-owned line, the S. T. R., can earn $34,000 per mile in comparison with numerous radial railways in the United States, where population is somewhat similar or even denser, but where the earnings do not approach this figure.

The United States Federal Electric Railway Commission, in its last available report, says: The average earnings of all in the United States, including the street railways of net capitalization is $109,085 per mile, including Chicago, Philadelphia, New York and Boston. The Toronto Eastern initial cost is to be $207,000 per mile, and the reduced cost of the Toronto-St. Catharines single-track line works out at nearly $250,000 per mile.

BLENNHEIM RACE RESULTS.
Blenheim, Oct. 8.—Horsemen were well pleased with the races at the fair this afternoon. The running races provided some excitement. An accident marred the third race, when a horse, named Shirdiataoshredetahrdunpupu occurred. One of the horses left the track, with the rider, heading for the stable at full speed, nearly running over some of the spectators. The horse following stumbled and fell, throwing the rider and knocking down two men, who were thought at first to be seriously injured, but they recovered, and were able to leave the ground unaided.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

October 9th to 16th

Are You
Protected?

How To Curb the Fire Fiend

All dwellings and their surroundings be carefully inspected by their occupants and all conditions likely to cause or promote the spread of fires removed.
All public buildings, stores, warehouses and factories be inspected and cleared of rubbish in order to reduce fire hazards and maintain health and safety.
All hotels, theatres, asylums, hospitals and other institutional buildings be inspected and provision made for all changes necessary to protect the occupants from danger in the event of fire.
Fire drills be held for the children in all schools, for the inmates of all institutions, and for the employees in all large stores and factories, in order that a greater degree of safety may be insured by acquainting the occupants with the best and most expeditious mode of exit in time of danger.
Special instruction on the subject of fire prevention be given by the teachers and by municipal officials in the schools, and that such appropriate literature as may be made available be distributed to the pupils.
Boy Scout leaders give instructions to the troops under their control as to the best means of co-operating with municipal fire departments in the prevention and extinguishment of fires, especially as to the desirability of qualifying for the fireman's badge.
All legislation and regulations enacted or issued by Dominion, provincial or municipal authorities dealing with fire prevention be given publicity by the municipal officials, and that by public meetings or otherwise, as may by them seem most fit, they endeavor to impress upon the citizens the national importance of safeguarding life and property from loss by fire.

Owing to the rapid increase in cost of building materials and the additional cost of labor, buildings are of greater value, and to be protected accordingly insurance should be increased. This also applies to increase in value of contents.
Our long experience in the insurance business and prompt service warrants us in saying, you cannot do better than call on phone 245, 1107, and we shall be glad to protect you by new or further insurance. Fire, accident, automobile, plate glass, burglary and life insurance transacted in reliable and satisfactory companies with combined assets of over $1,002,000,000.

Your WASTE PAPER and SCRAP PROBLEM!

YOUR ATTENTION IS CALLED!

To the completion of our new warehouse, which covers fifteen thousand square feet floor space, equipped with the latest machinery and baling system for handling Paper Stock and Rags. We now operate the best equipped and most modern Paper Stock and Rag plant in Ontario.

WHY DID WE BUILD?

Because of the steady increase of satisfied shippers. So make your resolution to become one of our satisfied customers.

You do not need to ask about prices before you sell to Leff, you know that Leff's prices rise and fall with the market. That you get exactly what your scrap is worth at the time you sell it.

It is an institution you will be pleased to deal with, where your problem of waste will be handled on a basis of satisfaction and square dealing.

There is no need to wait for some unknown dealer to call for waste. There is no need for distasteful dickering about prices.

Leff's service is always available; it offers stabilized markets, as near as your telephone.

Business concerns which have large quantities of waste paper or scrap to sell are finding that behind the Leff service is a high standard of doing business.

Our big new plant, with every facility and new equipment, is at your service for the efficient handling of all kinds of commercial waste and our large staff of competent employees enables us to offer you service unexcelled.

THE EXCHANGE RATE

II.—What Controls It?

THIS series, published each week, is intended to remove misunderstandings as to the cause of fluctuation in the exchange value of four dollar in other countries.

When the demand for any commodity is greater than the supply, the price of that article is sure to rise.

A foreign dollar is a commodity in Canada, that is something to be bought or sold and not current money, and similarly the Canadian dollar is a commodity in a foreign country and not current money there.

Their value (or rather their price in the local current money) is therefore governed by the law of supply and demand.

The reason foreign dollars are commodities is that they are not "legal tender" outside their own country.

You would not like a debt to you to be paid in German marks or French francs because of the difficulty you might have in converting them into your own currency.
At border points in the United States, our immediate neighbor, where exchanging the two currencies is a simple matter, Canadian money is now generally accepted, but elsewhere in that country it is taken reluctantly.

To protect their peoples all Governments provide that creditors may refuse payment of amounts due them unless made in certain specified currencies and the currencies so authorized are called "legal tender."

The banker who receives "foreign dollars" cannot therefore pay them out over the counter so they are not money to him, but only securities, until he can exchange them for currency of his own country.

Next week in No. III of this series we will explain the method of making this exchange.

NEW BRUNSWICK VOTERS MARK BALLOTS TODAY

For First Time Women Take Part—Liberal Govt. Out-look Bright.

FREDERICTON, Oct. 8.—Polling in New Brunswick for the eighth provincial legislature since the abolition of the legislative council in 1922, and what is really the thirteenth legislature since confederation, will take place tomorrow.

Incidentally it will be the first general provincial election in this province in which the women are eligible, and have the right to vote, which, together with the new elements that are factors in this election for the first time, has given the political prophets what they admit to be the most difficult situation they have ever faced.

Consequently, predictions as to what will be the result of the polling are not being made with the same ease that they have been in the past. The Government party's campaign managers declare they are confident both the Opposition and United Farmers appear just as confident that when the ballots have been counted Premier Foster will not be able to carry on government.

In sixteen of the seventeen constituencies there are contests, Madawaska County being the only one in which there has been an election by acclamation. One hundred and five candidates have been officially recognized.

SIX GALT LIQUOR CASES ADJOURNED

Eight O. T. A. Charges Listed For Hearing—Only Two Dealt With.

GALT, Oct. 8.—A special sitting of the local police court was held this afternoon to deal with no less than eight O. T. A. cases from Preston. Little progress was made. L. Gillow was fined $100 and costs. Another case was discharged, and the remainder adjourned until Tuesday.

With its affairs in the best shape they have ever been the Galt Club, Limited, has reorganized for the year, with the following officers: President, F. S.
Jarvis, vice-president, V. B. Powell;
secretary, W. McMillan; directors, L.
C. Howell, W. G. Milne, P. J. Stuart,
H. J. Esscott, R. H. Neill, Col. A. J.
Oliver, Ward Vair, W. A. Hunter, Dr.
S. E. Charlton and W. C. Glennie.
The death of one of the members,
John F. Richardson, 10 Chapman street, deceased was in his 50th year, was born in Halton County and had lived here for 14 years. His wife, mother, three brothers and three sisters survive.
Burial will take place at Lowville, near Milton, on Sunday.

William Lamore Passes.
William Lamore, a former clerk at the Grand Central Hotel, died recently
at Calumet, Mich., following an operation. At the time of his death he was clerk of the township and its former treasurer. Mrs. John McColg of Chatham is a sister. He was a member of the Elks, and will be buried in Calumet.

Items of Interest.

BURNS MAY PROVE FATAL; BRANTFORD MAN CRITICALLY ILL

Clothing Set On Fire When Flames Burst Through Nearby Door.

INDETERMINATE TERM

Contractor Made False Statement to American Bonding House.

BRANTFORD, Oct. 8.—George Plant, an employee of the Slingsby Woolen Mills, was severely burned this afternoon and may not recover. Fire, which had started in the cardroom, blew open a door near where plant was standing.
He was enveloped in flames, and his clothing caught fire. His condition was reported tonight as very critical.

Three to Nine Months.
H. B. Kennedy, found guilty of making a false statement in order to secure credit from an American bonding house, was given an indeterminate sentence today of from three to nine months. His partner, James Abel, also found guilty, was allowed to go on suspended sentence. The Brantford Housing Commission is having to take over a number of unfinished houses which Kennedy and Abel had agreed to build.

Two of the five juvenile smallpox patients in the smallpox building were released today, and the remaining three will be released in a few days. The five cases were all found in one district.

KIDDIES' TAG DAY IN ST. THOMAS MAY BE THE LAST

City Council Propose To Restrict Popular Money-Raising Methods.

FARM PRICES FIRM

Erie Chapter, I. O. D. E., Dis-bands—Did Splendid Work
During the War.

ST. THOMAS, Oct. 8.—Tomorrow's tag day may be the last held in the city. Voluntary contributions will be asked for the benefit of the Children's Shelter. The city council has given its approval to the purpose of the street corner canvass, but hereafter the object must be a very worthy one before the council will consent that pedestrians be canvassed for contributions.

A member of the Humane Society charged some of the aldermen with hitting at the society because of its criticism of the condition surrounding the animals at the municipal zoo and the report that went abroad that the ladies would hold a tag day. The proceeds of the tag day would be used for sanitary situation at the zoo. The society apparently never contemplated holding a tag day to raise funds for any such purpose. The council, however, says that the tag day privileges
ever, says that the tag day privileges have been abused and the mayor has been instructed to investigate every application made for the right to raise money by street corner canvass.

Farm Products Firm.
The prices of farm products at the auction sale of Fred Axford, West River road, yesterday, reached substantial figures, but the crowd attending was not large. Hay in the mow went at $28.50 a ton; oats, 18 cents;
a couple of brood sows brought $20 to $24 each; seven shoats weighing about 115 pounds, $22.75, and hens, $1.25 each.

Erie Chapter, I.O.D.E., Disbands.
The Erie Chapter, I.O.D.E., after several years of loyal endeavor, in behalf of the men who went over the top, and those who patrolled the seas, and those who were in the front lines, the chapter has been disbanded. The chapter has three chapters left, the chapter at the Auklands and St.
Thomas, with a large and working membership.

The Proposed Aymer Hospital.
The charter of the proposed hospital at Aymer has been issued. The proposals will depend upon private subscriptions and some assistance from the county and nearby townships to finance the undertaking. It was thought that the east would co-operate with the west, and expects that its full of treatment will cover all the eastern townships.

William Lamore Passes.

the Grand Central Hotel, died recently
at Calumet, Mich., following an operation. At the time of his death he was

SECOND O. T. A. OFFENSE BRINGS JAIL SENTENCE

Kitchener Soldier Appointed To Charge of Employment Bureau.

KITCHENER, Oct. 8.—Wm. Beaver and John Kowalik were today sentenced to six months in the Reformatory when they were found guilty of a second offence against the O. T. A. Both had previously been convicted of selling whiskey.

John Pilsky was found guilty of selling liquor and fined $200.
Boardman, Waterloo, and John Botuck paid $200 each for selling whiskey.

Sgt. Michael Phillips, physical instructor at the Kitchener-Waterloo College, today received notice of his appointment as local superintendent of the Ontario Government Employment Bureau. Some time ago the city council protested against the appointment of Charles King of Toronto, contending the position should be given a local soldier.

It was announced today that the Kitchener Poultry Association was out on a campaign for the education of the younger generation in the art of

SLEEPLESS NIGHTS OVERCOME BY SAFE METHOD

Suggestions Given Whereby Insomnia Can Be Safely and Quickly Cured.

Worry, overwork, overstudy and indigestion cause insomnia. The body Healthy, natural sleep can't be produced by drugs.

First, the blood circulation must be improved.
Irritation in the brain must be relieved.

It's because Ferrozene equalizes circulation, because it soothes the irritation, because it removes congestion that it does cure insomnia.

For building blood and nerve, for instilling force and life into overworked organs, for establishing strength and vitality, where can you find anything so efficient as Ferrozene?
Remember, sleep is just as important as food.

You must sleep, or break down, but if you'll use Ferrozene and thereby remove the conditions which now keep you from sleeping, you'll get well quickly.
Ferozene is not a narcotic, not a dope; it is a health-giving tonic that any child or delicate woman can use.
Absolutely safe in any amount.
Take it for a month, take it for a year—no harm, but immeasurable good will result.

To sleep well, look well, feel well,
to be free from depression, nervousness or blues—use Ferrozene. It's a food tonic, a healer to the weak and fretted, a boon to the sleepless—sold in 50c boxes, six for $2.50, at all dealers, or direct from The Cataracton Company, Kingston, Ont.

Recently, in the city of Chicago,
a prominent man, burdened with excessive fat, went upon the operating table and had over sixty pounds of flesh carved from his huge, cumbersome body.
Years ago the formula for fat reduction was "diet" and "exercise."
Today it is "Take Marmola Prescription Tablets." Friends tell until thousands know and use this convenient, harmless method.
They eat what they like, live as they like, and still lose their two, three or four pounds of fat a week.
Simple, effective, and safe. Marmola Prescription Tablets are sold by all druggists—a good size box for one dollar. Or if you prefer you may write direct to the Mar-

OLDEST POLICE OF DOMINION RETIRES

WINDSOR, Oct. 8.—It is probable Gordon Pilon, at present assistant chief of police of the county town of Sandwich, will assume charge of the police department following the resignation of Chief of Police Alois Masters, who is to lay down the reins of office at Monday night's meeting of the council, after forty years' continuous service in that capacity.

Chief Masters, who is 88 years of age, is thought to be the oldest chief of police in the Dominion. He is a Bavarian by birth, but came to Sandwich when still a young man. Until five years ago he was the only police officer in the town.

Only recently he was the storm centre of the sensational charges made by the police department with inefficiency, a dealing with alleged run-running,
indecency, drunkenness and disorderly conduct in the town. He made personal charges against the aged official at the same time, but these were never substantiated, and the chief was cleared of any possible stigma by a special investigation into the Spracklin charges, in support of which the "fighting parson" failed to appear.

How Iron in the Blood Helps Push You Forward to Health, Success and Power

While Lack of Iron May Drag You Backward to the Depths of Weakness, Ill-Health and Despair

Physician Explains Why

Men of Iron Will, Strong Determination and Purposeful Action are

Men of Blood and Iron—

THE KIND OF MEN ORGANIC

IRON—LIKE NUXATED IRON—

HELPS MAKE

By Building Red Blood, Strength and Endurance

"There are thousands of men who can look back to the time when they seemed to be on the road to success, yet who today are nervous wrecks, business failures, and physical and mental weaklings, all through a lack of sufficient iron in their red blood corpuscles," says
Dr. H. B. Vail, formerly Physician in the Baltimore Hospital as a Medical Examiner. "They have lost sight of the fact that a sound, strong body, brimming over with vital force and energy, is the basis of all real bodily health, which cries defiance to failure and disease. Yet the moment they get the right kind of iron in their blood to give increased strength and endurance, they gain physical poise and fitness, mental alertness and the tireless energy that carries them to the top. I strongly advise every man who is fagged out by worry, long hours and overwork to build up his strength, energy and endurance by taking some form of organic iron—Nuxated Iron—for I consider it one of the foremost blood and body builders, the best to which I have ever had recourse."

Dr. John J. Van Horne, formerly power to conquer obstacles and become Medical Inspector and Clinical Physician on the Board of Health of New York City, says: "Weakened by the iron men begin to give weak, nervous new vigor, energy and endurance in heavy drains upon their nerve force and only two weeks' time."
Manufacturers' Note: Nuxated Iron, which is recommended above, is not a secret remedy, but one which is well known to druggists everywhere. Unlike the older inorganic iron products, it is easily assimilated, and does not injure the stomach. Each tablet is stamped as follows, and the words Nuxated Iron are stamped into each bottle, so that the public may be certain that they are not being led into accepting inferior substitutes. The manufacturers guarantee successful and entirely satisfactory results to every purchaser, or they will refund your money. It is dispensed by all good druggists.

NO HOME, NO FRIENDS, NO MONEY—STOLE WATCH

GUELPH, Oct. 8.—A pathetic case was heard by Magistrate Watt today when Malcolm McGillivray, aged 63, was charged with the theft of a watch from St. Joseph's Hospital. McGillivray told the police he had no home, and he was unable to work on account of ill-health he wanted to be sent to jail for the winter. He claimed to be a native of Elora, Ont., but he had no relatives and had no means of support. He pleaded guilty. The magistrate sentenced him to six months and ordered that he be taken to a physician before going to the lockup.

The map of the Dominion shows at a glance the extreme difficulty of spreading a Sea-Conscious Spirit.

To develop our Sea-Heritage, we must send chosen and trained emissaries—our most able business men—to make Preferential trade agreements with other nations in the Empire. And we must make good these trade agreements with Canadian Ships.

DOCTORS STAND AMAZED AT POWER OF BON-OPTO TO MAKE WEAK EYES STRONG—ACCORDING TO DR. LEWIS

Guaranteed to Strengthen Eyesight 50 Per Cent
In One Week's Time in Many Instances

Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Used at Home. At Philadelphia, Pa. — Victims of eye pain and other eye weaknesses, and those who wear glasses, will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope and help for them. Many whose eyes were failing say they have had their eyes restored by this remarkable prescription, and many who once wore glasses say they have thrown them away. One man says, after using it: "I was almost blind. Could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without my glasses and my eyes do not hurt any more. At night they would burn dreadfully. Now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." Lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription fifteen days everything seems clear. I can read even fine print without glasses." Another who used it says: "I was bothered with eye strain caused by overwork, tired eyes which induced me to wear glasses. I have worn glasses several years both for distance and near, and without them I could not read. Now I can do both now and have discarded my long distance glasses altogether. I can count the fluttering leaves on a tree across the street now, which for years have looked like a dim glow to me. I cannot express my joy at what it has done for me." It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and multitude more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by the use of this prescription. Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Bon-Opto tablets. Drop one into each eye in a fourth of a glass of water and let it dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two to four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start and inflammation and redness will quickly disappear. If your eyes bother you even a little it is your duty to take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have saved their sight if they had cared for their eyes in time.

Note—Another prominent physician to whom the above article was submitted, said: "Yes, the Bon-Opto prescription is truly a wonderful eye remedy. Its constituent ingredients are well known to eminent eye specialists and widely prescribed by them. I have used it in many cases of eye trouble and it has given me the most gratifying results. It is an ethical preparation, a formula printed on the package. The manufacturers guarantee it to strengthen eyesight 50 per cent in one week's time in many instances or refund the money. It can be obtained from any good druggist and is sold in this city by the Standard Drug Company, Strong's Drug Store, and others.

SEES DISGRACE AS OUTCOME OF IRISH SITUATION

Grey Urges Better Effort Than Present Policy of Government.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—Viscount Grey of Felton, former ambassador to the United States, today published in the Westminster Gazette another long letter concerning his ideas for a solution of the Irish situation. The letter was partly in answer to criticisms by former Premier Asquith and others of his recent proposals and partly in amplification of them.

"The best I can suggest," says Viscount Grey, among other things, "is to make it clear that the very starting point of our policy is our conviction of the incapacity of the British Parliament to manage purely Irish affairs and our determination to put an end to this tragic failure. And I want to see it clear beyond power of misconception that within certain limits, frankly and honestly stated by us, Irishmen are not only free to arrange their own government, but must do so."

"In no other way can I see how to get the Nationalists and Ulstermen to realize that they must take account of each other's point of view and make concessions to each other. Protestant Ulster is quite strong enough to make her own terms with the rest of Ireland, but so long as we go on allowing it to be understood that if the Protestant Ulstermen and the rest of Ireland do not agree we will still be responsible for the internal affairs of Ireland they will never agree, and one or the other of them will block in London or defeat in Ireland whatever scheme of Irish home rule is initiated in the British Parliament."

"The indiscriminate and cruel reprisals, as well as the cruel murders or else the bitterness here and in Ireland will grow until any sentiment of reconciliation is impossible. But when these are stopped there will be urgent need for a new departure in the Irish policy."

"It was said that what I suggested the other day is the counsel of a pessimist. The most and worst pessimism is to hold that a majority of things are hopeless, and we shall be disgraced if we do not. But we have, I believe, neither the right nor the need to regard the present situation as hopeless until we have made a better effort at settlement than the present policy of the Government."

ARMED MEN FIRE ON POLICE PATROL

DUNMORE, Ireland, Oct. 8.—Ten armed men today ambushed three policemen at Dunmore, the same spot where a patrol was attacked yesterday, when a constable was badly wounded. Again today one constable was injured. The members of the attacking force were beaten out. The police were securing postmen carrying money when the attack took place.

POLISH-RUSSIAN PEACE TERMS NEARLY READY

Delegates Work Unceasingly To Complete Difficult Task.

TRANSLATION PROBLEM

Agree On Important Issues, But Technical Points Prove Knotty.

RIGA, Oct. 8.—Polish and Russian Soviet delegates engaged in negotiations looking to an armistice and a peace treaty adjourned at 1 o'clock this morning without signing the armistice. No date was set for the next meeting of the conference.

MAKE STRENUOUS EFFORT.

RIGA, Oct. 8.—The Polish and Soviet peace delegations, working almost constantly since last night, were still trying today to complete the armistice and preliminary peace terms, hoping to be able to sign them by tonight.

M. Dombaki and Adolph Jaffe, heads of the Polish and Russian missions, returned to their hotels at 7 o'clock this morning for a temporary respite, after having worked for 11 hours last night. They returned to the Blackhead House, where the peace negotiations have been going on at 11 a.m. for an hour for signing, if it takes place tonight, will probably be known only shortly before the event.

M. Lados, secretary of the Polish mission, said today that the negotiations were working out of the minor details took time with the limited facilities at the conference's disposal. So far it had been difficult to translate the terms into the Ukrainian language, owing to the absence of a qualified interpreter.

Food, brought to the Blackhead House in baskets, is being served to the delegates while they are at work. All of them display signs of fatigue.

MORE PARKS FOR BORDER CITIES ARE PLANNED

Scheme Will Cost $335,000 Divided Between Seven Municipalities.

WINDSOR, Oct. 8.—Definite figures and estimates bearing on the plan of the Essex Border Utilities Commission for the establishment of a joint system of parks for the Essex frontier district were issued tonight. Acquisition of tracts of land in Sandwich and on the shore of Lake St. Clair call for an expenditure of $335,000, including necessary improvements. The cost will be apportioned among seven municipalities. Statistics, it is claimed, show that while the border cities have one acre of park for every 1,470 people, London has one for every 130 people; Brantford, one for every 152, and Toronto for 255.

To Open New Masons' Home. The Executive Committee of the Grand Lodge of Ontario and high officials of the Masonic Order from London, Hamilton and Windsor are expected to be present for the official opening of the new home of the Scottish-Rite Masons of Windsor Valley Thursday evening, October 14.

PONZI PLEADS NOT GUILTY OF FRAUD ON OVER 60 COUNTS

BOSTON, Oct. 8.—Charles Ponzi today pleaded not guilty to two indictments returned by a grand jury, in which he was charged with using the mails in a scheme to defraud. There were 63 counts in each indictment, the allegation in one group being that he had paid 50 per cent interest when he was unable to do so, and in the other, that he represented falsely that he was dealing in international postal coupons. Bail was continued at $25,000 in default of which Ponzi had been in jail for the past two months.

His counsel decided to make no argument at the conclusion today of hearings before a referee in bankruptcy on the questions whether Ponzi was solvent, whether he had made any preferred payments, and whether he had any partners.

VESSLES PRESENTED TO CANADA LIKELY TO ARRIVE SOON

OTTAWA, Oct. 8.—(By Canadian Press).—While advice is still lacking as to the exact date on which the small fleet which has been promised by Canada by the British admiralty will leave for this side of the Atlantic, the ships are being pressed here to the departure of the vessels will not be delayed beyond the first week in November. Should the warships start for Canada early in October it will still be possible to carry out the plan to have them come up the St. Lawrence River as far as Montreal before the close of navigation on the St. Lawrence River. In addition to the cruiser Aurora and the destroyer Patriot and the little flotilla will include two modern submarines.

MEIGHEN'S WESTERN ITINERARY INCLUDES BY-ELECTION WORK

OTTAWA, Oct. 8.—(By Canadian Press).—A portion of the prime minister's western itinerary was given out this evening. As was previously announced, Premier Meighen will open his tour with a speech at Winnipeg on Monday, October 18. From there he will travel west, speaking next in Moose Jaw, Sask., on Tuesday, the 19th; from there he will journey to Vancouver, where he will address a meeting on Friday, the 22nd. The other British Columbia dates are as follows: Victoria, Saturday, 23rd; Chilliwack, Monday afternoon, 25th; Grand Forks, Tuesday, 26th; Penticton, Wednesday, 27th; Kelowna, Thursday afternoon, 28th; Kamloops, Friday, 29th. He will speak at Calgary on Tuesday, November 2.

It will be noted that four of the meetings that will be addressed by the prime minister take place in the constituency of Yale, B.C., where a by-election, necessitated by the resignation of Hon. Martin Burrell, takes place shortly. These meetings will be held at Grand Forks, Penticton, Kelowna and Vernon.

E. S. LITTLE
MAYOR

MAYOR'S OFFICE

October 8th, 1920.

The citizens of London are thoughtful people—but they are busy people, too—and busy people, in the rush to accomplish things in a hurry, often forget the laws of safety. The large annual list of fatalities shows how disastrous these "breaks" prove. Every year dozens of London's citizens are removed by accidental deaths—thousands of dollars are lost in fires and wrecks.

Because London people are thinkers they will appreciate Safety Week, which is heralded from October 10th to 16th. On these days special propaganda will be spread throughout the city urging upon all people the necessity of taking "safety" precautions. Other cities have had a "Safety Week" and reports show that through its influence the dreadful toll of life has been materially lessened.

We feel sure that fatalities in London will be reduced by the efforts of the Safety League Committee of Citizens, which is carrying out the plans of the Ontario Safety League—but the more the citizens co-operate with the advice of the league, and the more citizens there are who will make an honest effort to take more safety precautions, the greater will be the benefit derived from Safety Week.

On behalf of the city, I ask every citizen to do all that lies in his or her power to further the doctrine of safety, and to keep always the law of Safety First.

Yours for a Safer London,

Mayor.

SEAFORTH RED CROSS OFFICERS RE-ELECTED

SEAFORTH, Oct. 8.—The sixth annual meeting of the Seaforth branch of the C. R. C. S. was held this afternoon. There was a large attendance of ladies, and much interest was shown in the peace-time organization. The officers were re-elected as follows: Honorary president, Mrs. Boyd and Mrs. Rives; president, Mrs. Holmstedt; first vice-president, Mrs. Gibson; second vice-president, Mrs. Keating; third vice-president, Mrs. A. Scott; treasurer, Mrs. Mullin; secretary, Mrs. Delaney.

DEMOCRATS CLAIM HARDING IS OPPOSED TO IRISH FREEDOM

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—George White, chairman of the Democratic national committee, in a statement issued today, expressed amazement at Senator Harding's reiteration in his Omaha speech yesterday of his statement: "I have a sympathetic feeling for Irish freedom. I voted that way in the United States Senate."

Mr. White's statement said: "On July 29, 1916, when the Senate was considering the Pickman resolution, asking clemency from Great Britain toward Irish political prisoners, Harding voted against it. On November 18, 1918, he voted against a reservation for Irish self-determination. On March 18, 1920, he voted against the Pittman resolution, adhering to the principle of self-determination and to the original Senate resolution of sympathy with the aspirations of the Irish people for a government of their own choice."

ONLY TRUE ASPIRIN

If you don't see the "Bayer Cross" you are not getting Aspirin at all

The name "Bayer" on Aspirin is like 14 Karat on gold. It positively identifies the only genuine Aspirin—the Aspirin prescribed by physicians for over twenty years and now made in Canada.

Always buy an unbroken package of "Bayer"

Tablets of Aspirin" which contains proper directions for Colds, Headache, Toothache, Earache, Neuralgia, Lumbago, Rheumatism, Neuritis, Joint Pains, and Pain generally.

Tin boxes of 12 tablets cost but a few cents. Larger "Bayer" packages.

There is only one Aspirin—"Bayer"—You must say "Bayer"

Aspirin is the trade mark (registered in Canada) of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid. While it is well known that Aspirin means Bayer manufacture, to assist the public against imitations, the Tablets of Bayer Company will be stamped with their general trade mark, the "Bayer Cross."

REDUCTION IN PRICES OF VARIOUS COTTON
GOODS IS FEATUREDue To Declines in Raw Cotton Markets—Some Metals Easier.

Hardware and Metal says:

"The outstanding feature of hardware markets this week has been the reduction in prices of various cotton goods handled by the trade.

"The lower prices are due to declines in raw cotton markets, and have affected cotton rope, twines, sash and awning cords, lampwicks, etc. Some grades of cotton waste are also lower.

"A smaller reduction has been made in prices of manila rope and sisal.

"Lime oil and turpentine show another decline again this week.

"Against the reduction noted, goods manufactured from iron and steel show a tendency towards higher prices, and hammers and sledges are advanced in price. Farm and lawn fencing and gates and netting also show higher prices, and among other goods costing more are fence staples, snare and stove pipe wire, and some lines of wrenches. Wrapping paper has again advanced in price, reaching a high level.

"The market is easier in some metals, and lead shows a decline.

"Prospects look better in bar iron and steel and in black and galvanized sheets for future deliveries, but present stocks are extremely low. Shortage due to lack of raw materials is still very acute on stove pipes and stove pipe fittings, and the coming of cooler weather has caused a revival of business in town and country trade, and seasonal goods are in large demand."

WOMAN POLICE OFFICER FOR BRANTFORD PROPOSED
BY COUNCIL OF WOMENPolice Commission Favorable, But Can't Make Appointment This Year

Brantford, Oct. 2.—At a meeting of the board of police commissioners held on Thursday, Mrs. Livingston and Mrs. Brewster, representing the Local Council of Women, presented their case, asking for the appointment of a woman police constable in Brantford. The commissioners commented favorably on the case, and promised to have an appropriation in the estimates for 1921. No action could be taken, however, this year, the police appropriation not being sufficient.

At the organization of the mothers' pension board for this city yesterday, Judge Hardy was elected chairman, Mrs. Wright vice-chairman, and Corney Simmonds secretary. Some 40 applications for pensions have already been received, but the board took no action, pending the appointment of two additional members by the government.

The trades and labor council has called on the city council to regulate the supply of anthracite coal for the winter, also to cut down the supply of gas and electricity for industrial use for the protection of domestic consumers. The labor men are also after a change in the policy of granting a fixed assessment to industrial concerns.

DUART

Duart, Oct. 2.—The ten Ridgetown, Multitrick and Duart boys who were reported from Chatham to shortly appear in court to answer to several charges, are yet at large, but developments are looked for in the near future. The charges cover a wide assortment of crimes, such as interfering with the mechanism of automobiles, raiding orchards, interrupting divine services, and being a general nuisance. All these offences are of a serious nature, and will no doubt be severely dealt with. The annoyances have been in practice for such a length of time that the villagers are glad to gain a respite by having them held in check.

A very large drove of cattle was driven through Duart last week from the railroad station to the grazing grounds at the lake. The drove consisted of four carloads and was brought in by F. J. Henry, and placed on his pasture lands at Clearville.

The services last Sunday morning in the Presbyterian Church were conducted by the teachers and scholars of the Sabbath school. The program was put on in the form of a rally, and was instructive and interesting, and drew a large congregation. The song service took the place of the usual evening service.

The sugar beet crop is being harvested and hauled to Multitrick for shipment to the factory. On the whole the crop this year is reported to be above the average yield and will run anywhere from 10 to 20 tons to the acre, the latter being considered an exceptionally large yield.

Miss Helen Ford was suddenly taken with appendicitis on Sunday, and was removed to the hospital, where an operation was performed the following morning. The operation was successful, and hopes are entertained for her recovery.

BRUSSELS

Brussels, Oct. 2.—There is a rumor that the local skating rink may be sold to a Hanover syndicate, who were here

to see it. The rink, a metallic building, is owned by Robert Trench, Trenchwater.

Word was received here that Mrs. J. R. Grant, a former well-known resident, died at her home, Winnipeg, last Saturday. She was in her 84th year and is survived by her husband, who was postmaster here for years. One son, Postmaster Kay, Stratford, and three daughters, Mrs. W. H. Kerr, Brussels, and Misses Nesbitt and Jessie, at home. Deceased is a sister to A. H. Kay of Dundas. She was born in Scotland.

A new division court club will be to be appointed here as S. C. Wilson is removing to Goderich, where he has bought a restaurant.

There has been quite an epidemic of dysentery in this district.

Next Sunday evening Rev. Mr. Armstrong, foreign missionary secretary, will give an illustrated lecture in the Presbyterian Church on his travels in China, Japan and Korea.

Second growth berries are growing in a number of town gardens owing to the fine weather and absence of hard frosts.

Last week the family of Druggist Fox removed to Toronto, where a new store has been opened. Mr. Fox is continuing his store here.

WARDSVILLE

Wardsville, Oct. 2.—An interesting social event took place Wednesday in the Methodist Church when the congregation assembled to bid farewell to Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Turk, who are going to Brantford, and a reception for Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Ellwood, recently married.

Mrs. Ellwood (nee Miss Olive Martindale) taught school here for two years.

Duets were rendered by Mr. and Mrs. Willson Turk and Dr. and Mrs. Huser, a reading by Miss Flossie Palmer and brief complimentary addresses by Isaac Watterworth, G. E. Cornelle, F. J. McGregor, A. Linden, Alex. Douglas, Mrs. A. Linden and the Rev. Dr. Huser, who also acted as chairman. Light lunch was served by the ladies.

The ladies' aid of the Methodist Church held their monthly meeting this afternoon at the home of the president, Mrs. Willson Turk. About a dozen ladies were present who spent the afternoon quilting. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. A. G. Love.

Rev. Silby Jefferson of Granston, a former pastor of the Methodist Church, was greeted with a large congregation both morning and evening Sunday last, it being the occasion of the church anniversary. The Anglican Church kindly withdrew their evening service. Dr. Huser took Mr. Jefferson's work in Granston.

The residents of the village are delighted with the prospect of having hydro in the near future. Only three voted against the bylaw.

Safety First

Life Insurance means safety for The Home.

Too often the home circle is broken up when the head of the house dies, but if there is adequate insurance the means will be available to "carry on" until the members of the household are self-supporting.

Life Insurance means safety for the children. Many ambitious boys and girls are deprived of their rightful chance in life owing to the premature death of the father or mother or both parents. They are at work when they should be at school. Life Insurance would have given them their golden opportunity.

Life Insurance means safety for the widow. Where the husband dies uninsured, in a multitude of cases, the widow is compelled to support herself and children by hard and unaccustomed toil. Life insurance would render this unnecessary.

Adopt the policy of "Safety First" for the sake of the children, the wife and the old home.

BRUSSELS

Brussels, Oct. 2.—There is a rumor that the local skating rink may be sold to a Hanover syndicate, who were here

to see it. The rink, a metallic building, is owned by Robert Trench, Trenchwater.

Word was received here that Mrs. J. R. Grant, a former well-known resident, died at her home, Winnipeg, last Saturday. She was in her 84th year and is survived by her husband, who was postmaster here for years. One son, Postmaster Kay, Stratford, and three daughters, Mrs. W. H. Kerr, Brussels, and Misses Nesbitt and Jessie, at home. Deceased is a sister to A. H. Kay of Dundas. She was born in Scotland.

A new division court club will be to be appointed here as S. C. Wilson is removing to Goderich, where he has bought a restaurant.

There has been quite an epidemic of dysentery in this district.

Next Sunday evening Rev. Mr. Armstrong, foreign missionary secretary, will give an illustrated lecture in the Presbyterian Church on his travels in China, Japan and Korea.

Second growth berries are growing in a number of town gardens owing to the fine weather and absence of hard frosts.

Last week the family of Druggist Fox removed to Toronto, where a new store has been opened. Mr. Fox is continuing his store here.

WARDSVILLE

Wardsville, Oct. 2.—An interesting social event took place Wednesday in the Methodist Church when the congregation assembled to bid farewell to Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Turk, who are going to Brantford, and a reception for Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Ellwood, recently married.

Mrs. Ellwood (nee Miss Olive Martindale) taught school here for two years.

Duets were rendered by Mr. and Mrs. Willson Turk and Dr. and Mrs. Huser, a reading by Miss Flossie Palmer and brief complimentary addresses by Isaac Watterworth, G. E. Cornelle, F. J. McGregor, A. Linden, Alex. Douglas, Mrs. A. Linden and the Rev. Dr. Huser, who also acted as chairman. Light lunch was served by the ladies.

The ladies' aid of the Methodist Church held their monthly meeting this afternoon at the home of the president, Mrs. Willson Turk. About a dozen ladies were present who spent the afternoon quilting. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. A. G. Love.

Rev. Silby Jefferson of Granston, a former pastor of the Methodist Church, was greeted with a large congregation both morning and evening Sunday last, it being the occasion of the church anniversary. The Anglican Church kindly withdrew their evening service. Dr. Huser took Mr. Jefferson's work in Granston.

The residents of the village are delighted with the prospect of having hydro in the near future. Only three voted against the bylaw.

NEW YORK MARKET
IS UNDER PRESSURE
FROM VERY OUTSETCall Loans Advance To 8 Per Cent—Bonds Ease
Slightly.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—The stock market was under pressure almost from the outset of today's session, the shorts carrying their aggressive manoeuvres to greater lengths than in any of the preceding days of the week.

In their fairly successful tactics the professional element was assisted by technical conditions, such as the further abatement of public support, and the pressure in after market rates in the approaching week.

The latter probability was fore-shadowed by the course of call or demand loans, which opened at 7 1/2 per cent, the maximum renewal from the early afternoon, and holding at that figure until a few minutes before the close, when it lapsed to the initial rate.

Other deterrents to constructive effort were offered by board-room gossip and general advice which were contradictory for the most part of a further retrograde movement in the more important channels of trade and industry.

Rails ignored the reactionary trend for a time, but fell back in the latter part of the session, when the cheaper transportation were under renewed attack, Texas and Pacific making a new low record for the current period.

The few gains of the day were of a negative character, Bears' knock-out, for example, recovering part of its recent loss on semi-official denial of a proposal of reduction of its rate of interest on its affiliated and miscellaneous issues. The total sales of stocks amounted to 475,000 shares.

Exchange of bonds was at its highest quotation of the week, and the Italian rate also made recovery from its low rate of a few days ago; other remittances showing no material alteration.

All classes of bonds, foreign and domestic, including Liberty issues, were inclined to ease slightly. The total sales of bonds, par value, aggregated $15,850,000.

Old U. S. bonds were unchanged on the market.

BROKERS, TRADERS IN

CANADIAN EXCHANGESMost of Active Stocks Lose Ground—Sentiment Ill-Defined At Toronto.

TORONTO, Oct. 3.—Weakness in the New York market spread to the Canadian exchanges today, and most of the active stocks lost ground, though a few advances pushed up the average. It was, however, a mixed market with sentiment ill-defined, and an attitude of waiting evident among the heavy transactions in traction stocks in Montreal, where there was little movement in the market.

The pressure in the after market rates in the approaching week was fore-shadowed by the course of call or demand loans, which opened at 7 1/2 per cent, the maximum renewal from the early afternoon, and holding at that figure until a few minutes before the close, when it lapsed to the initial rate.

BROMPTON CENTRE OF HALF OF TRADE;
SHOWS POINT GAINAsbestos Second in Activity—Both Issues Touch New High Marks.

MONTREAL, Oct. 3.—Over half the trading on the local stock exchange today centred on Brompton with a turnover of over 5,000 shares. The next most active stock was Asbestos with 1,275 shares. Outside of these issues the market was not active.

Brompton opened at 81, and fluctuated between 81 and 82, with a gain of 1 point. The market was active, with the close at 81, showing a gain of 1 point.

The market was active, with the close at 81, showing a gain of 1 point.

Other deterrents to constructive effort were offered by board-room gossip and general advice which were contradictory for the most part of a further retrograde movement in the more important channels of trade and industry.

Rails ignored the reactionary trend for a time, but fell back in the latter part of the session, when the cheaper transportation were under renewed attack, Texas and Pacific making a new low record for the current period.

The few gains of the day were of a negative character, Bears' knock-out, for example, recovering part of its recent loss on semi-official denial of a proposal of reduction of its rate of interest on its affiliated and miscellaneous issues. The total sales of stocks amounted to 475,000 shares.

Exchange of bonds was at its highest quotation of the week, and the Italian rate also made recovery from its low rate of a few days ago; other remittances showing no material alteration.

All classes of bonds, foreign and domestic, including Liberty issues, were inclined to ease slightly. The total sales of bonds, par value, aggregated $15,850,000.

Old U. S. bonds were unchanged on the market.
