TWELVE ESCAPE DEATH WHEN TWO CARS CRASH

British Election Campaign Is Launched By Labor Party

LABOR OPENS APPEAL FOR RE-ELECTION

Big Guns in MacDonald Ministry Are Wheeled Into Action.

ALL ARE CONFIDENT

Manifesto Will Be Issued Tomorrow After Cabinet Meeting.

Associated Press Despatch.
London, Oct. 10.—The electioneering campaign will be started in a few hours, and the first big guns will be fired by some of the members of the Labor cabinet, who will go on the trail of votes as soon as the cabinet which is in session today decides on its manifesto to the electors.

The Labor ministers were in high spirits when they assembled at No. 10 Downing street this morning, having made their way to the prime ministerial residence through a large crowd of well-wishing onlookers. Labor headquarters is already bustling to get out election literature and the party officials are working at high pressure to arrange platform campaign meetings for the more than 400 candidates the Labor party expects to put before the electors.

The headquarters of the Conservative and the Liberal parties were also very busy this morning. Officials met to put the finishing touches to plans to start the campaign, which have been on hand for the last few days.

PICKS TORIES TO WIN.
Canadian Press Despatch.
Stratford, Oct. 10.—Right Hon. H. A. L. Fisher, minister of education in the Lloyd George government, who is touring Canada, expressed the opinion, in the course of an interview, that the Conservatives would form the next government in Britain. "The Conservatives have the largest group in the house now and I do not look for any great change in the coming election."

"If the groups remain as they are the king will in all probability send for Mr. Baldwin to form the government after the coming election."

MANITOBA M. P. TO TELL OF LIQUOR SITUATION

Speaking on the subject of "Government Control in Manitoba," W. D. Bayley, Independent Labor member of the Manitoba legislature, will address two public open-air meetings in London tomorrow night. The first will be held at the market square and the second at the federal square.

In the afternoon Mr. Bayley will occupy the pulpit of First Methodist church. He will return to Toronto the same afternoon.

Rev. Dr. J. A. Cormie, superintendent of home missions for the Presbyterian church, will occupy the pulpit of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church Sunday morning and in the evening the pulpit of Egerton Street Baptist church. He will speak on "Government Control in Manitoba."

GERMAN SOCIALISTS BREAK COALITION PLANS

Associated Press Despatch.
Berlin, Oct. 10.—The Socialist leaders yesterday informed Chancellor Marx that it would be impossible to form a coalition of all parties, extending from the Socialists to the ultra-Nationalists, as proposed in the chancellor's platform. The chancellor thereupon met the Nationalist leaders and told them he regarded his plan as having failed. He added that he would confer with all the party leaders today on the new situation which has arisen.

MANCHURIAN WAR LORD WILL SAVE LEGATIONS

Associated Press Despatch.
Peking, Oct. 10.—Chang Tso-Lin, Manchurian war lord, replying yesterday to the memorandum of the diplomatic corps regarding the bombardment of cities, said that in the event that he attacked the capital, he would instruct his subordinates to endeavor to avoid any injury to the legation quarter.

WHERE 12 MOTORISTS WERE INJURED

ALL ESCAPE DEATH WHEN CARS CRASH.
In the upper left an Advertiser photograph shows the Mathewson car, decorated with collegiate pennants and colors, which crashed into Jack Bouk's car, upper right, on the Pipe Line road this morning. Eight people were in the Mathewson car and four in Mr. Bouk's machine. Lower picture shows spot where accident occurred. On the extreme right is lane, from which Mr. Bouk's car emerged. Note the steepness of the hill at this point.

CAR FULL OF SCHOOL GIRLS AND BOYS CRASHES INTO AUTO COMING OUT LANE TWELVE ARE HURT AND CARS WRECKED

JOHN LAWSON, 18 years of age, of the Wonderland side road, who was pinned under a wrecked motor car on the Pipe Line road this morning. Mr. Lawson says he feels little the worse for his harrowing experience.

RELATIONS IMPROVED IN MACDONALD REGIME

Anglo-French Bonds Strengthened During Labor's Tenure of Office.

Paris, Oct. 9.—The defeat of the MacDonald government in the British House of Commons although anticipated in French official circles the last few days, has made a deep impression here, because of the similarity of the French cabinet's situation to that of the British Labor government.

It was remarked today by an individual close to Premier Herriot that Prime Minister MacDonald's term in power had been of great benefit to Anglo-French relations, the negotiations between the two premiers having lifted the discussion of Anglo-French interests to a higher plane, and he predicted, whatever the result of the British elections might be, the relations between the two allies would be permanently improved as a result of Mr. MacDonald's attitude.

The tendency is to regard the British crisis as due entirely to internal politics and as offering no prospect of an unfavorable reaction in the relations reached by M. Herriot and Mr. MacDonald.

VISITS IN LONDON.

E. Victor Smith, Western Ontario manager of the municipal bankers' corporation was in London this week. Mr. Smith, a former Londoner, is now associated with this company of which Sir Wm. Hearst and Sir John Willison are directors.

Motorists Have Miraculous Escape From Death on Pipe Line Road. TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

A gallily decked motor car, laden with eight joyous young passengers from Komoka, on the way to the collegiate field day sports, crashed into a motor car with four occupants on the Pipe Line road at 8:45 this morning, 150 feet west of the city greenhouses.

Both cars were completely wrecked, seven girls and one boy being rushed to Victoria hospital by Oatman's ambulance, and High Constable Wharton, who drove up to the scene of the accident just one minute after it occurred.

Dr. Pritchett of the hospital staff stated this afternoon that injuries received were not of a serious nature and that most of the young people would be able to leave the hospital this evening. They were suffering from shock and cuts about the head received from flying glass. Hattie Culver of Byron is suffering from concussion. Mary Crone had her collarbone broken, and Hazel Frank is suffering from injuries to her head.

The Komoka car, owned by D. J. Mathewson, was driven by his daughter, Mary, 17 years of age, and a pupil at the Central collegiate institute. With her in the front seat were Mildred Lamont and Mary Crone, also of Komoka. In the back seat were Bruce Mathewson, Muriel Luce, Ernest Crone, and Irene Campbell, all of Komoka, and Hattie Culver, who had been picked up at the scene of the accident.

JACK BOUK, foreman of the Pipe Line road, who had a miraculous escape from death at 8:45 this morning when a touring car struck the machine he was driving one foot from the driver's seat.

This is the first day of the three-day session, and the subject will be "The Farm Situation in the Province." Members of the township councils have been invited to attend on this opening day.

This is the regular meeting of the representatives of the united boards, and a number of resolutions dealing with Western Ontario problems, rural and municipal, have been drawn up for discussion. The London Masonic temple will likely be the place of meeting.

Why I Shall Vote O.T.A.

COL. W. M. GARTSHORE,
President of the McClary
Manufacturing Co., Limited.

"I shall vote for the Ontario temperance act because:
"The improvement in living conditions of many families is very apparent. Thousands of houses have been erected in the city, and are being paid for in monthly installments, representing savings. Penny bank savings of school children in Ontario have increased 300 per cent; now over $450,000.

"There is no lost time after pay day, and families receive all the contents of the pay envelope.

"Workmen in one factory in London had $45,000 savings to their credit December last.

"The Ontario temperance act can be enforced as well as any other law. Government control does not control, where introduced in other provinces: conditions are getting steadily worse."

MAYOR ASKS WRITTEN EXPLANATION OF CHIEF

Charges Poor Judgment Shown in Answering Call From Farm.

Mayor Wenige today addressed a letter to Fire Chief John Aitken, asking the latter to explain his absence from the city on Wednesday evening. The mayor called for a complete explanation.

Chief Aitken took six men and the pumper truck to answer a call for fire at the farm of A. M. McNulty, fifteen miles away in Lobo township. The detachment of fire-fighters was away for nine hours.

Yesterday the mayor attacked Chief Aitken and charged lack of judgment had been shown. The chief admitted that he had taken the responsibility upon himself to go to the fire, but thought it was a matter where he had a right to take out a squad of men and fire apparatus.

AGED MAN SAVED BY FIREMAN

Arthur Sargent of Toronto Faces Death in Entering Building.

NEARLY OVERCOME

Rescuer Taken to Hospital After Fight To Save Life.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, Oct. 10.—Fire Lieutenant Arthur E. Sargent risked his life early this morning and saved the life of David Adamson, an elderly invalid, following an outbreak of fire in Adamson's home.

Sargent is in bed today under the doctor's care, and Adamson is unconscious in the General hospital, having been overcome from smoke. Helpless in bed, unable to escape himself, from the burning cottage, with wife, also elderly, as his only aid, Adamson could not get to safety. He was slowly suffocating with the smoke and stifling heat. His wife was forced to leave the house to save her own life and met the fire fighters in a frenzied condition begging them to save her husband.

Sargent crawled in on his hands and knees, and reaching the bedroom, found Adamson on the bed. He secured hold of Adamson's leg and rolled him off the bed onto the floor, dragged him through the room into the hallway, and out to the street. Several times Sargent nearly went under, but kept his head and saved the aged man.

MONTREAL BANDITS' FATE WILL BE DECIDED TODAY

Canadian Press Despatch.
Ottawa, Oct. 10.—The fate of the five Montreal bandits, who are under sentence of death for murdering Henri Cloux, bank messenger, in the Hochelaga bank holdup, will probably be decided at a meeting of the cabinet which will be held next Thursday morning. The evidence in the case is now before the justice department, and a report is being prepared for the minister, Hon. Ernest Lapointe. The minister will recommend whether or not the sentence should be carried out.

BRITISH POLITICAL CRISIS NOT TO AFFECT BIG LOAN

London, Oct. 10.—The conference between British, United States and continental bankers and German government representatives on the flotation of the $200,000,000 loan to Germany, provided under the Dawes reparations plan, has almost completed its labors, which are likely to be brought to an end today by the signing of the necessary agreement. It is learned that the political crisis in Great Britain will not affect the negotiations in the slightest degree.

Associated Press Despatch.
London, Oct. 10.—Miss Ishbel MacDonald, daughter of Premier Ramsay MacDonald, will conduct the election campaign in Bassetlaw, Nottinghamshire, for her brother Malcolm until he returns from the United States, where he is now with the touring Oxford university debating club. Malcolm MacDonald was the unsuccessful Labor candidate in East-Devon in the last general election, when E. Hume Williams, Conservative, was returned in a three-cornered contest. Oliver Baldwin, son of Stanley Baldwin, former premier, is the Labor candidate in the borough of Dudley.

J. H. Clynes, son of J. R. Clynes, lord privy seal, is again contesting the Hemel Hempstead division of Hertfordshire in the Labor interests. He was defeated there in 1923 in a three-cornered fight.

IRON WORKS CALL BRINGS ALL FIRE-FIGHTING FORCES

A hurried call from the Dennis Iron Works on Dundas street at 9:45 last night resulted in all the fire companies of the city responding.

A spark from one of the forges is thought to have been the cause of the blaze. Nearly 51 gallons of chemicals were used in an effort to stop the fire, but the total damage according to Fire Chief Aitken, was only $10. The immense amount of smoke deceived the fire-fighters.

GOVERNMENT SALE IN BRITISH COLUMBIA

(One of a series of twenty articles following impartial investigation of government sale of liquor as practised in Manitoba, Alberta, British Columbia and Quebec.)

TWO DOLLARS BRINGS RIGHT TO BUY UNLIMITED SUPPLY

Government of British Columbia Monopolizes Sale of All Liquor and Beer, But Makes No Attempt To Control Traffic.

PLAN MERELY TO MAKE PURCHASE EASY

This is the first article dealing with government sale in British Columbia. That province voted for the sale of beer and spirituous liquors in sealed packages under government control, which is what Ontario is voting upon. The B. C. series should be of exceptional interest.

ARTICLE NO. 12.

I crossed the Rockies from Alberta over the Yellowhead Pass feeling that in British Columbia I would find government control working to the best possible advantage and proving conclusively such benefits as it has to offer. For there the government control system is not a new thing as in Manitoba and Alberta, which have been experimenting with it for only eleven and four months, respectively. British Columbia has had the system for more than three years and has had a chance to rectify early defects.

Manitoba is in the throes of agitations working in opposite directions because of the intense dissatisfaction with government control on the part of both wet and dry. In Alberta sentiment is not so aroused and some of the local residents have no definite opinion yet as to the results being secured, although businessmen of the moderationist type told me they considered the tendencies were decidedly bad. In subsequent articles I expect to indicate what authoritative opinion in British Columbia is saying. This article will deal mainly with the law and the system.

A Government Monopoly. British Columbia has a system of government control that retains for the government a monopoly of the right to sell beer and spirits in the province. Under the law, neither brewers nor distillers can sell direct. The government is their selling agent. As in Manitoba and Alberta, the manufacturers of intoxicants do all the advertising that is required. The brewers are not supposed to deliver direct to any customer except on the order of the government. Permits to buy unlimited quantities of beer and whiskey can be had for $2 simply by signing an application stating that the applicant is 21 years of age. During the first year of government control there was one permit for beer and another for whiskey and other spirits, and a third for transients. That has all been changed and the permit conditions simplified in the way indicated.

With his permit a man can go to a government liquor store and buy five dollars or one hundred dollars worth of whiskey. He can get a bottle or a barrel of beer. There is no attempt to control or to limit the amount of his buying. On the back of his permit a record is kept of the quantities that he buys. The record does not restrict buying or drinking. It does assist the government in running down those who are selling liquor illicitly.

May Carry It on Street.

If it is whiskey a permit holder wants, he goes to the government liquor store, pays over his money after looking at the hundreds of choice brands of liquor facing him from across the counter, each with its selling price plainly marked up, and takes the liquor away with him. He must not break the seal or drink on the premises. But he gets quick results in British Columbia. In Manitoba he would have to wait until the government warehouse shipped to him, which might be in 24 hours and possibly not for 48 hours. Pleased by this restriction, some men buy from bootleggers. In all three government control provinces, men who suddenly discover that they want a

GOVERNMENT CONTROL IN BRITISH COLUMBIA.

On the above map all the places named have government liquor stores as the result of the decision of B. C. voters in favor of the sale of liquor in sealed packages under government control. Seventy stores for the sale of strong beer, whiskey, gin, cocktails, champagne, brandy, rum and other spirituous liquors in hundreds of different varieties have been established. Seven of these stores are in Vancouver and two in Victoria. Two other places in the far north, Atlin and Stewart, which have liquor stores, do not show on the map. B. C.'s population is less than that of Toronto.

Whiskey-and-soda have to buy a whole quart bottle of hard stuff unless they happen to be adjacent to their pantry or cellar.

Should a whole barrel of beer be wanted by a citizen, the government accepts his order at the government store, which then notifies the brewery to deliver so much to Mr. So-and-So.

The brewery then calls up Mr. So-and-So and tells him that it has received his order. Wets and dries both told me that the man might then say: "Good, make it three barrels while you are about it." And there would be no trouble completing the arrangement. The government is supposed to have an inspector who will see that nothing of the kind happens, but I am informed that the practice goes on on a large scale just the same. The government records show one barrel sold and the province takes its little profit on the transaction. But Mr. Citizen has three barrels safely stowed away and Mr. Brewer has his share of the profits on one barrel and his own and his partner's share of the profits on two other barrels. The partner, of course, is the government, or, if you prefer, it is the people of British Columbia.

Permit System Loose.

The permit system is so loose that it cannot be considered as a check at all. There is nothing to prevent men buying on one another's permits. Not that it can be done legally, but that there is no effective method of stopping it. It is being done on all sides. Taxi drivers think nothing of lending their permits.

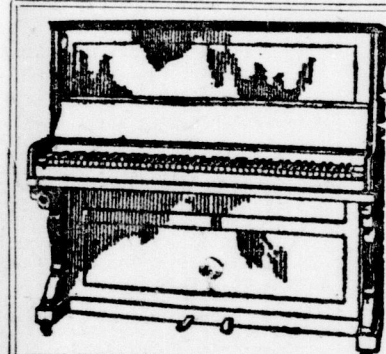

When I told my driver to take me to the nearest government store downtown, he said: "Here's my permit; you may as well use it and save $2." People on the coast don't see any harm in this practice, and when the government makes the most liberal provision for all to drink intoxicants, there appears to be little harm apart from the fact that the government is being cheated out of its take-off.

I visited two government stores in Vancouver and one in Victoria. The accommodation was ample, unlike Manitoba's cubbyholes. The windows were painted green. Over two of the stores the words "Government Liquor Store" appeared in letters two feet high. Another had "B. C. Government Control Liquor Board" on the window.

It was slightly before 10 o'clock when I reached the liquor store in the business section of Vancouver. The store was due to open at that hour. I found six or seven men waiting to buy liquor. Most of them were swarthy foreigners in cheap clothes. I saw no woman in the Vancouver stores, though I understand they are frequently to be seen. In Victoria I saw one woman buying her supplies. All the stores have the whiskey, cocktails and other liquors tastefully exhibited on shelves and in showcases.

Government Manufacturing Liquor.

One of the ministers of the government told me that the business of the government was not really to sell liquor, but to make liquor reasonably available for purchase. I asked this minister whether it was true that the government itself was making a new wine from logan berries with upwards of 15 per cent alcoholic content, and selling it to the people. He admitted that this was so, that 25,000 gallons of wine had been turned out, that it was given the name "Vin Soleil," and that it was considered rather good stuff. He said the government contemplated selling some of it to other government control provinces. I found few B. C. citizens who knew of this fresh venture of the government into the liquor business.

It was in October, 1920, that B. C. voted for government control. The legislature brought the system into operation on June 15, 1921. By the first of April, 1922, the government could report that "during the period under review government liquor stores have been established in all provincial ridings, with the exception of Esquimalt, Island, Kaslo, Richmond, Saanich, Slooan and South Vancouver."

Has 70 Liquor Stores.

The government's report explained that its liquor board "directed its attention firstly to establishing government liquor stores in the more densely populated districts, seven-teen stores being in readiness for business and open to the public for the purchase of liquor on June 15, or during the week following this date. The stores were located in such towns and cities as would most readily facilitate the purchase of liquor by inhabitants of the surrounding country and which at the same time were situated to the best advantage conducive to service, economy in freight rates, etc."

In less than a year the government control board had planted 51 stores throughout British Columbia for the sale of intoxicants. At the time of writing the number of government stores has grown to 70, and they are doing a rushing business—much more so than in Alberta, where the system is only a few months old. The people are pouring money at the rate of $12,000,000 per year into the purchase of liquor through legal channels. More liquor is being imported by private parties than by the government, as official Ottawa figures prove. Millions of dollars of liquor are bought illegally every year by citizens from bootleggers. A lot of liquor is taken south for consumption in the United States, but perhaps not as much as is generally believed. During the summer months, when the tourist traffic is heavy, the sale of liquor is little, if any, higher than in other months. December is the heaviest month.

Two of the Drawbacks.

One weakness of the situation in British Columbia is that the government does not monopolize the right to bring liquor into the province. Anybody can import as much as he likes for his own use. This condition, which first discredited prohibition, is now doing much to discredit government control. The province sought the right from Ottawa to stop importations, but the Senate turned down the application. In some quarters it is urged that British Columbia has the right already but does not want to use it. Alberta imposed a ban on importations while it was a prohibition province and keeps it on under government control.

Another great drawback is the right freely exercised by export warehouses to bring liquor in, place it in an export warehouse and ship it, consigned to a foreign port, without payment of duty. In Manitoba and Alberta the authorities complained bitterly to me that the federal customs and excise officers were not on their job and that much liquor purporting to be shipped abroad really was shipped eastward and sold by bootleggers in competition with the government control boards. As duties are heavy, this enables the bootleggers, when they choose to do so, to undersell the government, and in any case to reap tremendous profits. Many tricks for eluding the officers are used. Naturally, British Columbia suffers more than the prairie provinces from this illicit traffic.

During the first year of government control there were 13 export warehouses. A consolidation of 13 warehouses into one was arranged, with a nominal capital of one million dollars. This merger has reduced the number of its warehouses to five, on each of which it pays a license fee of $10,000. There are only four other warehouses. I understand the capital is mostly American.

500 Banquet Permits.

Besides the permits granted to individuals, the government grants what are known as "banquet permits" to private and public organizations holding celebrations in a public place with beer and whiskey among the attractions. In the first ten months nearly 500 of these special permits were issued. Doctors and dentists have the right to prescribe liquor. At first their license fee was $5, but this has been reduced to $2. A vast amount of trouble has been caused by the tendency of drinking men to organize clubs or make use of innumerable small organizations for drinking purposes. I was told on the highest authority that there were 500 bootleggers in Vancouver a year ago, 100 of whom were the "managers" of these drinking clubs. The members would turn over their permits to the manager and have liquor kept in their lockers and the police were apparently unable to get convictions. The city at one time charged a $300 license fee for these clubs to pay, knowing they were being used for drinking purposes. The club evil is not so glaringly evident as a year ago. But there are many clubs under cover still.

RICHELIEU REINCARNATED BY DEFT TOUCH OF MANTELL

Famous Actor Gives Realistic Portrayal of Great French Character.

WELL SUPPORTED

Robert Mantell, the dean of classic and romantic players in America, opened his three-day visit to London last night, when he appeared in that old favorite of his and of his admirers, Bulwer Lytton's Richelieu.

He could have chosen no better or more appealing play, for as an old friend the role of the great cardinal of France rests affectionately on his shoulders, the spirit of the man who for eighteen years was an uncrowned king plays vividly around his personality and the play goes forward through all its romantic developments easily as a chapter from Richelieu's own memoirs.

Mr. Mantell, who was in London in 1923, and who is now close to the seventy mark, played with all that charm and virility to which players goers have become accustomed. His touch is as sure as ever. His appreciation of the lights and shades of this exacting part is keen and true, and to delight us in the way we look for when he comes, and his ability to dominate a scene and a house with his art grows only with the passing years.

Miss Hammer Delights.
Miss Genevieve Hammer playing opposite to Mr. Mantell as Julie De Mortimer, a ward of the French king, lent that girlish and altogether winning appeal to the role which always softens the harder outlines of the play, and tempers the ruling passion of the scenes, the plot and intrigue of the French court of the early 17th century. Gifted with a delicate beauty and grace, and fortunate in wearing some very lovely frocks of the period, she fulfilled the mission of her role to tread a strand of love amidst the gloom of the story.

"Richelieu" is one of those plays which, though written in the days of our grandfathers, it was in 1829 that Sir Edward Bulwer Lytton arranged it, has kept the bright bloom of its attraction, and the cardinal of Robert Mantell today brings it to life with men and women as it did when created by McCready, and given high place in the art of Edwin Booth.

The subject of the play is a first rebellion against the rule of the cardinal after he became minister of France, by Gaston, Duke of Orleans, brother of Louis the 13th, supported by Count Baisade, one of the royal favorites in 1625. It was four years before the break with the queen mother and the famous Day of Dupes. In the play some license has been taken with the facts of history, and the cardinal is shown in the physical weakness which in reality came some years later. The story of Julie de Mortimer, of her love for Adrian de Maupart, a young courtier, and of the admiration of King Louis, forms the secondary theme and throws the color of life across the dry pages of history.

Many Opportunities.
Robert Mantell as the first minister of France is given such opportunities as all artists pray for. Richelieu, who was never a man of good health, had by this time become the victim of a heart trouble which subjected him at times to seizures and eventually brought about his death. In the intermission between these attacks he was the shrewd, far-seeing, unscrupulous minister of the first country in Europe at that time.

He is seen in all the varying shades of that extraordinary character in the play. Mr. Mantell is most happy in his portrayal of the triumph of will over the weakness of body that was the outstanding achievement of the historical cardinal. His fits of breathlessness, his sudden spasms of pain, come and pass as if they belonged by nature, just as he enters with his indolent, arrogant master for his beloved France, and at the same time lays traps for his and the country's enemies, so must his prototype whose shape he wears have pleaded and schemed.

His Art Rewards.
For the sake of France, more than personal ambition, Richelieu schemed and intrigued and sacrificed. He lived in his own courts, and he himself lived in an atmosphere where he was "breathing hatred in the air and seeing daggers in the eyes of men." Playing this part and satisfying the desire of the playgoer is to have reached maturity in the art and craft of the stage. Mr. Mantell and this long ago, and still his art rewards him and his audience.

Tonight Mr. Mantell and his company will give Shakespeare's King Lear, one of his best-known roles is that of the king. On Saturday afternoon, "As You Like It," and on Saturday evening, "The Merchant of Venice."

NEW PEAK IS HIT AS PRICE OF WHEAT

Fall Grain Reaches Unprecedented Price of $1.71 Per Bushel.

Canadian Press Despatch. Winnipeg, Oct. 9.—Featured by one of the most bullish openings since the sensational sessions of the war-time period, a new peak figure was established today for October wheat, when the price reached $1.71, an advance of 3 7/8 cents over yesterday's close.

Continued unfavorable weather over the entire Canadian wheat country coupled with heavy buying by the "shorts" was given as the cause for the early jump. The demand during the early part of the session continued strong, but gradually fell off and the market suffered a slight recession.

The price established today represents an advance of more than 70 cents over the corresponding figure last year, when October wheat sold at 99 3/8 cents. Wheat at $1.71 a bushel is the high mark on the local market since August, 1921.

Vermont's Oldest Woman Is 107

Associated Press Despatch. Burlington, Vt., Oct. 9.—Mrs. Angeline Willette of this city, said to be the oldest woman in Vermont, celebrated the 107th anniversary of her birthday yesterday. She was born in St. Denis, Que., in 1818, but has spent most of her life here.

MAJESTIC OFFERS GOOD VAUDEVILLE

"The Girl in the Limousine" Proves Big Hit To Audience.

LARRY SEMON STARS

Three vaudeville acts, every one of them a headliner, plus Larry Semon in a farcical seven reel comedy, "The Girl in the Limousine," all went to make the splendid evening of entertainment at the Majestic theatre, last night, the program being continued after and evening for the balance of the week.

Almond and Hazel offer a novelty dancing act that is distinctly worth while, and is backed by several sets of pretty scenery. They well deserve the number of encores received. Almond does some dances on skates that have never been seen here before, while his partner is most graceful in a Spanish dance.

DeVaux, Del and Joe, have a screamingly funny ventriloquist act that made a big hit. They too received much applause.

Roman and Romanello, delight in a musical offering of merit including some snappy work on a guitar and violin.

"The Girl in the Limousine" is built for people who like a laugh and people who enjoy being thrilled. It is difficult to state whether the picture contains more thrills than laughs, or vice versa, but certainly it has a superabundance of both. It tells the story of a beautiful youth who is unable to tell a girl of his love, and as a result she marries another. Disconsolate, he wanders abroad and is trapped by crooks, who leave him in the girl's home.

Larry Semon, most versatile and maddening of all screen comedians, plays the stellar role. Charles Murray, another veteran comedian, contributes some excellent comedy, and Claire Adams is a charming heroine.

"WINE OF YOUTH" A THRILLING MOVIE

Picture at Loew's Contains Speed, Comedy and Drama.

HAS ALL-STAR CAST

Saucy adolescence, parental blundering, the flippancy of the present age, are thrown like a mirror to offer a reflection of youth at its height in King Vidor's "Wine of Youth," the feature film at Loew's theatre for the last three days of this week. Those who enjoyed the photoplay yesterday afternoon or last evening saw jazz pictures as they passed by motion pictures and modern novelists, and perhaps a little worse than most folks have seen first hand still, compeitive varieties of love making, particularly those of today, were never intended as a spectacle.

"Wine of Youth" brings out the merits of an all-star cast. Eleanor Boardman, William Haines, Ben Lyon, Pauline Gordon, William Collier, Jr., Eulalia Jensen, Robert Agnew, Gertrude Claire and E. J. Hatcher are included amongst the many stars who appear in the picture.

Pleasing variety is presented in the vaudeville like, "That of Jack and Viola Gilbert is a treat, with a surprising change role. First as the fashion plate in some appreciable dance steps, then as a neat turner in and out of baggage, waited in by a heavy sack, Gilbert does a fine turn, supported by a partner who shares in the plaudits. Snappy dialogue brightens the skit.

Jack Kramer and Jean Breen have special drops and electrical effects that add much color to their singing and dancing sketch. The act is snappy and clean-cut.

A blackface comedy is provided by Wilson and Hayes with plenty of action and a successful way of putting across their humor.

PERTH HIGH CONSTABLE GETS 7-DAY JAIL TERM

Chief of County Police and Subordinate Sentenced On Drunk Charge.

Special to The Advertiser. Clinton, Oct. 9.—John Hutchinson, high constable of Perth county, was convicted at Grand Bend yesterday before C. A. Reid, of Godolphin for running a motor vehicle while intoxicated, and given seven days in the county jail at Godolphin. This was the outcome of a brawl at Grand Bend on Sunday. August 31, along with County Constable Warner, Sebringville, who was also convicted for being intoxicated, and fined $10 and costs.

L. E. Dancy, appearing for the defendants, has served notice of appeal in both cases. Crown Attorney Seager acted for the prosecution.

MAN ELECTROCUTED.

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, Oct. 9.—Michael Joseph Sullivan, of Toronto, was instantly killed today while working in a service station of the hydro-electric power commission.

WHAT DOES GOVERNMENT CONTROL MEAN?

A Plain Statement By Premier Ferguson

ARTICLE NUMBER THREE

O. T. A. supporters have been telling the public that Government Control will mean free and unlimited sale of liquor. They have gone so far as to deny there will be any control. They have even insinuated that Government Control means a return of the bar. Misrepresentation of the objects of Government Control and of the workings of Government Control in other provinces are freely broadcast by the supporters of the O. T. A.

Government Control of the sale of liquor is the only alternative in sight for the O. T. A. law, which has proven itself to be a rank failure.

The O. T. A. does not prohibit.

Every man knows that liquor can be bought easily and quickly anywhere in Ontario. This is a fact which cannot be gainsaid. The bootlegging business is thoroughly organized and is conducted upon an enormous scale.

Nobody can say with absolute knowledge whether there is more or less drinking in Ontario than before the O. T. A., because there is no means of ascertaining the facts. But we do know that the sale of bootleg stuff goes on freely, and it seems to be impossible to control it.

Under Government Control the bootlegger will be put out of business, because there will be no occasion to deal with him when reliable liquors can be bought from Government stores at reasonable prices.

Premier Ferguson's Statement

Just what Government Control means has been clearly defined by Premier Ferguson himself in answer to an inquiry by Rev. T. H. Moore, chairman of the plebiscite committee supporting the O. T. A.

Mr. Moore asked two questions:

First—"Would Government Control permit private importation?" and second, "Would the Sandy Act be repealed?"

The premier's reply is clear, explicit and authoritative. It states in unequivocal language what the course and policy of the government will be if the people vote for Government Control.

He says: "The province would have the sole right to import, unless the Legislature took the necessary steps to repeal its former action in both cases and permit importation by others."

He follows this by saying, very plainly, that should the vote pronounce in favor of Government Control, "I assure you the Government will not be prepared to advise the Legislature to take any action that would permit the importation by or through any channel other than the Government itself."

A Plain Statement of Policy

This is the premier's deliberate statement of the Government's policy.

If the Legislature, in face of such a statement by the premier, were to authorize importation, it would simply mean a vote of want of confidence in the Government, which would then be defeated and have to resign.

With a majority support, as the Ferguson Government has in the House, such a contingency is quite impossible.

No Private Sale of Liquor

Then in regard to sale of liquor by private individuals, the premier says: "Furthermore, should it be the expressed desire of the people of Ontario to discontinue the dispensing of liquor as at present, by medical prescription, and to undertake the handling of all sales of liquor through Government depots, the Government will in no event interpret that to mean unlimited and promiscuous sale. No private agencies or individuals will be permitted to sell spirituous or malt liquors. There will be no return to the bar or sale by glass in any form."

What Government Control Means

We now know from the highest authority in the land exactly what Government Control means.

It means a return to sane, decent conditions, by strictly regulated Government sale of liquor.

It means the elimination of the bootlegger and all the evils of his infamous trade.

It does not mean promiscuous sale. It does not mean the sale in private premises of liquor by the glass. It does not mean the return of the bar.

It does mean a law that can be enforced, because it will be backed by public opinion, which the O. T. A. is not and never has been, no matter what voting majority it may have had at the polls.

If you believe in common sense regulation, in controlled sale and in an enforceable law that has behind it the force of public respect, then vote for Government Control on Oct. 23 next.

1 Are you in favour of the continuance of The Ontario Temperance Act?

2 Are you in favour of the sale as a beverage of beer and spirituous liquor in sealed packages under Government control?

BARNED IS CHARGED BY JURY WITH WILFULLY MURDERING MAN HE RAN DOWN WITH CAR

Dramatic Scene Staged at Hospital as Wife Tells of Attack.

OUT FEW MINUTES

Witnesses Say Car Driven 100 Feet On Sidewalk Before Hitting Victims.

Special to The Advertiser.

Niagara Falls, Oct. 9.—The jury at the inquest tonight into the death of Smylie Muirhead without a dissenting voice, brought in a verdict of wilful murder against Frank Barned.

The jury accepted the evidence of the several witnesses who saw the killing of Muirhead on Saturday, September 27, and who claimed that the killing was deliberate. Witnesses showed that the Barned car was driven along the sidewalk behind Muirhead, Mrs. Muirhead and Mrs. Barned, and continued for a hundred feet, and that there was no evidence of lost control to cast a shadow of doubt on the belief that murder was intended.

The jury adjourned after the hearing to the hospital where Mrs. Barned freely gave evidence which told heavily against her husband. The scene in the hospital was dramatic. The bed on which Mrs. Barned with a broken leg is lying, was surrounded by hushmen, stenographers and reporters. She told of her husband having on the evening previous threatened to kill a young Queenston man with whom she had been on friendly terms.

Mrs. Muirhead Called.
The first witness called by the jury was Mrs. Muirhead, wife of the victim. She graphically described the previous and unsuccessful attempt of Barned to run down the party when crossing Victoria avenue. "Barned," she said, "asked his wife if she was going with him that night. 'No, Frank, I can't,' Mrs. Barned replied. He then drove furiously away, after trying to run over us. Barned at that time seemed extremely angry," the witness said.

Giving medical evidence, Dr. Mylks said that death was due to a fractured skull.

Mrs. Parr, who lives two doors away from the scene of the accident, told of having seen the car, presumably driven by Barned, drive furiously along, a short distance behind the three people, climb the sidewalk, quicken speed and crash into them. She saw Mrs. Barned thrown onto a lawn as the limbs of Muirhead waving wildly, as he was dragged along by the car.

Arrest Teacher For Beating Boy

Canadian Press Despatch.

Toronto, Oct. 9.—Thomas A. McDonald, principal of Clifton street school, and Andrew Wilkie, a teacher, were arraigned in police court to answer charges of assault and causing bodily harm to Arthur MacPhee, aged 16, a pupil at the school. Both were committed for trial.

In the witness box, MacPhee said his sole offence was stepping out of the line just outside the school door, which was against the rules. He claimed he was taken by the throat and thrown to the ground.

Saw First Attack.
Mrs. Sibbett saw the first encounter and the "attempt" of Barned to run down the party. She was waiting for a bus when she saw the car, recognizing Barned in it as it was driven furiously around Epworth Circle, and then heard a crash. She was the one who got the number of the car and notified the police.

Misses Rhoda and Margaret Lockhart, who were sitting on the verandah, in front of which the affair happened, corroborated Mrs. Parr's story.

Officer Teasdale of the local police, who made the investigation, said he measured the distance on the sidewalk on which the auto had travelled and said it was just over a hundred feet. He felt sure no car would have travelled so far had it been merely out of control.

Barned Not Located.

No trace has yet been found of Barned, he stated. He understood the car was registered under the name of Fred Barned of London, a brother. Fred Barned denied having registered the car in his name.

After all other witnesses had been heard, the inquest was adjourned to the hospital where the evidence of Mrs. Barned was given. Her evidence was given clearly and without any attempt to shield her husband. She told of the conversation with Barned.

He had asked her if she intended

MURINE FOR YOUR EYES
Wholesome Cleansing Refreshing

keeping her promise.
"No," she answered.
"Then are you ready to face the consequences," he asked. "I suppose so," she said.
"You will see me in a week," he said.

She and her husband had been on good terms until about the end of August, Mrs. Barned said. On the evening before the tragedy her husband had threatened to kill a young Queenston man with whom she had been friendly. "He didn't seem to be mad at me," Mrs. Barned said. She also told of the earlier attempt to run over her.

Barned did not have any acquaintances in Niagara Falls who would have helped him make his getaway.

The jury retired for only a few minutes and returned a verdict of wilful murder against Frank Barned for the death of Smylie Muirhead.

TECHNICAL SCHOOL HAS GOOD RECORD

PUPILS TOTAL 780

Other than commenting favorably upon the gratifying attendance at the Technical school last year, the business dealt with by the advisory vocational committee of the board of education at a meeting held last night was largely of a routine nature.

Principal H. B. Beal reported the enrollment for September as 780 students, with an average attendance of 713, as follows: First year 449, second year 152, third year 87, fourth year and specials 92; total, 780. Adolescents attending the school number 32.

The enrollment for the corresponding period last year was as follows: First year 368, second year 144, third year 80, fourth year and specials 28; total, 620.

The chairman of the committee, Trustee A. N. Udy, who presided, commented upon the large attendance as speaking well for the young people of the city, at the same time pointing out the fact that something will have to be done soon in the way of providing additional accommodation at the school.

Trustee N. F. Willmot suggested that the present unsatisfactory college accommodation had resulted in a number of students entering the technical school who otherwise would have attended one of the three collegiate units in the city.

Principal Beal replied to this by stating that he had been in his office during the last two weeks of August during which time a large number of parents had come to see him personally about their children, and discussed the course they were to take.

"We have 458 new students at the school this year," said Principal Beal, "and those students came to the technical school because of the practical courses we have to offer here. Students come to us from all parts of the city, and there is not a doubt but that the attendance next September will increase to 1,000 students. Parents come to us with the second, third and fourth grades, remarking that their older children have attended the technical school and done so well they wished their younger children also to have the benefit of similar training."

The committee approved of the action taken by the principal in securing A. A. Neil of Brampton and Mrs. A. F. Raymond, city, for teaching junior academic work and dress-making classes, respectively.

The committee approved also of the recommendation of the principal regarding the purchase of additional equipment for general day classes.

totaling $700, and for electrical day classes of $300.

The committee congratulated Principal Beal upon the success achieved by the technical school matriculation class at the departmental examinations last June, when 23 candidates passed 82.2 per cent of the papers written on, each student securing standing on the average of 72 subjects. The technical school also secured the two junior matriculation scholarships offered by the University of Western Ontario for competition among the high schools and collegiate institutes of Western Ontario.

FARM EDUCATION URGED BY MARTIN

Would Bring Better Correlation Between Education and Agriculture.

INDEPENDENT LIFE

Affirming it as his endeavor to bring about a better correlation between education and agriculture, and emphasizing the need of urging upon the young farmers of Ontario that farming is not a calling to be despised, Hon. John S. Martin, minister of agriculture, last night addressed the members of the East Middlesex teachers' institute at a public meeting held in the auditorium of the Normal school.

Francis Tanton of Byron, president of the institute, presided and introduced the speaker of the evening as the man who had been "called" to become minister of agriculture because of his achievements. President Tanton congratulated Hon. Mr. Martin on having initiated a definite policy directly upon assuming office as a minister of the government. He defined that policy as one which held that the wealth of the province lies in the soil and the climate, that the greatness of the province lies in the intelligence of the people, and that continued greatness and prosperity for the province lie in the judicious co-ordination of those two factors, the wealth and intelligence of the people.

Farming As a Calling.

At the outset of his address, Hon. Mr. Martin declared that he was interested in securing a better correlation between education and agriculture, because he was convinced that if the younger farmers could be shown advanced methods of farming it would give them a better understanding and conception of farming as a calling, which would not only tend to make them more contented, but would have a direct result in dollars and cents.

While admitting that the system of education at present in Ontario had stood the test pretty well, the minister criticized it on the ground that it lacked any incentive or influence to direct a young man into farming as a life work, the whole trend of the system being rather to direct him into the teaching or other professions.

"We are spending millions in the city on technical education," he continued. "We spend money to make mechanics of the boys in the cities, is it not fair to spend some money in the country, for the benefit of the country boys?"

The speaker then branched off into a most interesting and informative explanation of the school system of Denmark, which country he had visited during the past summer. The public schools, which are here, he said, are attended by boys and girls between the ages of 7 to 14, passing out without an examination at the age of 14 years. When they reach the age of 9 or 10 years, the boys and girls are taught in separate classes. There are no Saturday holidays in the public schools.

Danes Educated.

One fact which recently impressed the minister was the exceptionally large number of Danish people in Copenhagen who could speak the English language. The children are taught either the English or German language, whichever they choose, from the earliest grade.

The agricultural schools are largely privately owned institutions run by an individual or some company, and receive only a small government grant. Those attending these schools do so at a cost of $4 per week, including board and lodgings as well as tuition fees.

There are 80 of "the people's high schools" throughout the country, the teaching in which is largely done through lecturing.

Gymnastics and Musical Training

in singing are two of the subjects stressed in the high schools. These schools are attended by students all the way from 15 to 70 years of age.

Government Aids Man.

Hon. Mr. Martin touched upon the land-holding scheme evolved by the Danish government for small farmers in order to keep the people on the land instead of emigrating from the country. The government allows a man to go on a farm well equipped as to buildings and stock, upon making a small cash payment. He is given from 20 to 30 years to buy the farm outright from the government. The farms in Denmark are small; 85 per cent of them are less than 75 acres, a large percentage of them are less than 25 acres, while there are thousands of them less than 10 or 15 acres. The soil is poor, not nearly as good as in Ontario. The climate is cold and might even be termed "unfriendly."

The scale of living in Denmark the minister characterized as much lower than that of the farmers of Ontario. They do not dress as well; their houses are not as well furnished and their living is "just ordinary." There are 250,000 bicycles in Copenhagen; that fact about indicates the standard of living there as compared with that here.

In concluding, the minister expressed the opinion that if the education of the boys from the farm could be continued for two years longer after completion of the public school course an entirely different outlook regarding the farmer's life might be given them and an entirely different aspect given the whole situation.

Independent Life.

"Personally I know of no life so independent and attractive as that of a farmer," declared Hon. Mr. Martin, but if the propaganda is spread that a farmer's life is a dead-end life, then you cannot expect anything else than that the boys will leave the farms. Emphasize the better side of farm life and education of the young farmers to that side, and the present situation will gradually right itself."

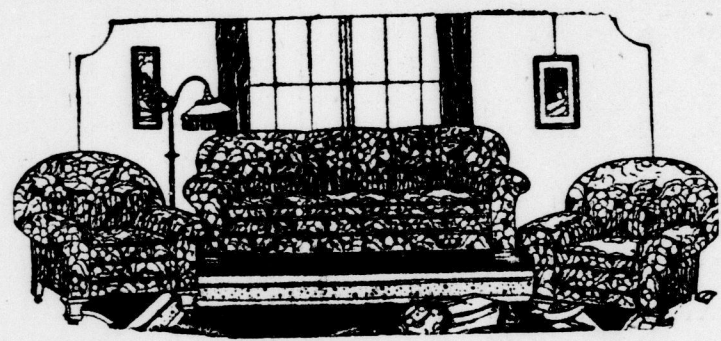

The musical portion of the program consisted of vocal solos by Miss Dorothy Cahill, and vocal solos by A. L. Christiani, both of whom were heartily applauded by the audience.

BEER CONFISCATED.

Canadian Press Despatch. Niagara, Oct. 9.—Charged with violation of United States liquor laws, Lee Monroe, Buffalo, N. Y., was arrested in the Niagara river today by United States coastguards and his motor launch with 60 cases of Canadian beer, was confiscated.

PLANS COMPLETED FOR CONVOCATION

Revised Program For Annual Ceremonial at Western Announced.

A revised program for the opening ceremonies of the new buildings of the University of Western Ontario is now announced. A few changes may yet be made, but these will not be of an important nature. It was the original intention of the governors to hold all of the exercises in the new buildings, but when they gave consideration to the limited capacity of the new auditorium, they decided that at least one important function must be held in a larger building, in order to permit as many people as possible to attend. The formal opening had to be held in the new buildings; this left only the special convocation to be conducted elsewhere. So great has been the interest of the general public in the spring convocations of the university during the past few years, that on each occasion as many people have been turned away as could be seated in the Majestic theatre, where the convocation exercises have been held. Last spring the chief of police estimated that as many as 1,500 people were unable to gain admission into the building. Accordingly the governors have rented the Winter Gardens for this special convocation. A large part of the seats will be available for the public and the students of the university.

Thursday, Oct. 16.

AUSTRALIAN PLANT PLANNED BY FORD

Motor Company Will Establish Branch in Australia—Capital Five Million.

Canadian Press Despatch. Windsor, Oct. 9.—A far-reaching plan that involves the expenditure of millions and constitutes another gigantic chapter in the development of the Ford Motor Company of Canada, Limited, were announced by Wallace R. Campbell, vice-president and treasurer of the corporation, at a meeting of the board of directors this morning. It is, in a word, the establishment of the Ford Motor Company of Australia, with a capitalization of $5,000,000, the setting up of five assembling plants and a body plant with a fixed investment of approximately $3,500,000, and the spending of a similar amount for floating materials, in all $7,000,000.

The company's move, an industrial event of international importance, has been under consideration for nearly two years and, by easy stages, has been brought to the point of consummation. Parties of Ford executives and staff men, headed by Philip W. Grandjean and Hubert C. French, secretary and assistant sales manager, respectively, of the Canadian company, are leaving for the antipodes within the next few days.

Mr. Grandjean goes as the direct representative of the Canadian company, to be absent for a period of six months, while Mr. French will remain in Australia and assume management of the new Australian company, which is to be a subsidiary of the Canadian concern.

SETTLE ASTRAY ON SOME CHARGES

Commission To Protect Officials Until Full Probe Is Completed.

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, Oct. 9.—The letter in which Clarence Settell, secretary to the Ontario hydro commission, now in Hamilton jail charged with uttering a forged check, made charges against several officials of the hydro commission, probably will be subjected to searching inquiry by Judge Snider, and it is likely that only parts of the letter will be published. This was intimated today by Judge Snider, who has been commissioned to investigate the charges.

Investigation by provincial authorities of some of the charges, it is said, have proved that parts of Settell's letter contain vague and un-departed, died today.

SAVING ACCOUNT DEPOSITS SHOW LARGE REDUCTION

Canadian Press Despatch. Ottawa, Oct. 9.—Savings deposits in Canadian chartered banks decreased by over ten million dollars during the month of August, according to the monthly statement issued today. Current deposits also show a falling off amounting to approximately four millions during August. There was a decrease of $10,966,478 in the amount of current loans held in Canada by the banks and an increase of approximately eight millions in call loans held outside Canada.

NOTED ENGINEER DIES.
Canadian Press Despatch. Quebec, Oct. 9.—Gabriel Henry, chief engineer of the provincial roads department, died today.

But Few Fragrant Flowers.

Out of 4,300 species of flowers cultivated in Europe, only 420 possess an agreeable smell. Those with cream-colored petals are, as a rule, more highly scented than those of yellow, blue or red.

I. O. D. E. EXPECTS 200 DELEGATES

Plan For Provincial Convention at Municipal Chapter Meeting.

When the proceeds of "The Cameo Girl," amounting to well over $1,000, have been added to the National I. O. D. E. war memorial educational fund, the London chapters of the I. O. D. E. will have contributed over $4,000 to that fund. It is to be used in the giving of scholarships to deceased soldiers' children, and London's share was but $3,080. Such was the announcement made at yesterday afternoon's meeting of the Municipal chapter. Already $2,255.71 has been paid into the national fund for the reception of the members of the Provincial chapter, I. O. D. E., who gather in London on Oct. 23 and 24 for the annual meeting. Following an initial session of the Ontario chapter at the Tecumseh house on Oct. 23, the delegates will be entertained at a high tea. On the evening of Oct. 23, the London chapter will entertain the out-of-town guests at a dinner, with Mrs. E. J. Greenaway as co-convenor. On Thursday, Oct. 24, the visitors are invited to have luncheon at the St. Thomas country club as guests of the St. Thomas I. O. D. E. Over 200 delegates are expected to attend the provincial convention, which will be held in Wesley hall. Mrs. Allen McLean is automobile convenor, while registration is in the hands of Mrs. C. T. Campbell and the Harriet Eomer chapter. An exhibit of soldiers' work at Wesley hall will be a feature of the convention, shown under the auspices of the Occupational Therapy society. A vote of thanks was extended to Principal Everett Miller of the collegiate institute and to the board of education for making it possible for the pupils to take part in "The Cameo Girl." And a standing vote of thanks was given to the convenors of the production, Mrs. J. E. Groshaw and Mrs. J. Wetherall Smith were appointed to the poppy day committee. Short reports from all of the chapters will feature next month's meeting. Mrs. Allan McLean, the Municipal regent, was in the chair.

Young Married Women Need Mother's Advice-

MRS. PEARL STEELE

A GREAT many women after childbirth get up too soon and, too weak to care for the child and perform their household duties, often bring on serious derangements.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a splendid tonic to take at this time; it is an excellent restorative, contains no harmful drugs, and can be taken in safety by nursing mothers. Thousands of mothers advise their daughters to take this grand old root and herb medicine for such conditions because of their own favorable experience with it.

Following We Publish an Interesting Letter from Mrs. Steele of Warrensburg Which Should Interest Every Mother in the Land:

Warrensburg, Mo.—"When my second child was born I got up too soon as my mother wasn't able to do for me. I could not stand on my feet without being dizzy and my back would ache so badly that I would have to lie down at times through the day. My mother had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and had a bottle of it at the time, so she begged me to take it, which I did, and I cannot tell you how much better I felt after taking it. Then a year later my husband got back from overseas and we went to keeping house by ourselves and I got all run down again. I couldn't work long at a time but would have to sit down and rest. My husband kept begging me to take the Vegetable Compound again, so I have done so. I recommend it when I can as I know it is good for women's troubles and I thought you might like to know what it has done for me."—Mrs. PEARL M. STEELE, 203 Main Street, Warrensburg, Mo.

Ontario Woman's Interesting Case

Mount Forest, Ontario.—"I am proud today to think I have a fine big baby boy, as healthy as a trout, and I never felt better myself. Before I took your medicine I felt weak and miserable, and had pains all through me. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I began to get stronger and those pains all left me. I am glad I found out about this medicine. I think there is none other equal to it for women who have troubles of this kind. I cannot praise the Vegetable Compound too highly for the good it has done me. Whenever I know of a woman suffering I am glad to tell her of it."—Mrs. WM. RIDSDALE, R. R. Hunter of Toronto received with her. The house was most attractive with its lovely flowers amid a glow of candle light. The tea table was centered with a bowl of Ophelia roses and lighted by softly shaded pink candles. Mrs. David Maxwell and Mrs. F. G. Sanderson poured tea, and the assistants were Misses Sade Richardson, Katie Richardson, Jean Maxwell and Mrs. Robes.

Britain Needs No Election.

Britain has been brought face to face with a general election when it is the last thing necessary or desirable for the country. Even from the low plane of party tactics it can hardly emerge from the class of political stupidity. It has the earmarks of a deliberate attempt to bring about a want of confidence vote in the MacDonald government, and it has done so at a time when the premier's prestige is at a high level, so on that basis the time for the move was a blunder of the first order.

It all came about over a decision on the part of Sir Patrick Hastings, attorney-general in the MacDonald government, to drop action against John R. Campbell, editor of a small communist paper, for sedition, on the ground that the publicity gained in a trial was the very thing that Campbell and the cause of communism most desired to secure. There was plenty of precedent for the decision, and common sense brands it as the proper course to pursue. Allowing as much latitude as possible for the size of the offence charged against Campbell, the editor, the issue still falls miserably short of approaching one of national magnitude, or of a matter of policy sufficiently great to throw the country into the throes of a general election.

What is likely to happen? The Liberals are not in as good shape as they were at the time of the last election. There is the Lloyd George group and the following in the same party that recognizes Asquith as their leader; in the background stands Sir John Simon, anxious to be named leader of the Liberals in case no compromise can be brought about between the other two. In this connection it is interesting to note the speculation that is going the rounds, the outstanding feature of which is that Lloyd George figures that both Asquith and Sir John Simon may lose their seats at the next election and leave him as the logical leader of the Liberals. There may even be a decreased number of Liberals in the Commons, and the same rumor goes farther and predicts that Lloyd George would then form a coalition with the Conservatives and bid for the same sort of a premiership as he held during and after the war. This political gossip may or may not have foundation in fact, but it is mentioned because it tends to show the unsettled state of traditional political parties in Britain.

Premier MacDonald took office on January 22nd of this year when the Conservatives, although stronger numerically, found that they could not carry on. The present government has been in office, but not in power; it has had to depend chiefly on the Liberals to give it majorities in divisions. Despite the handicap of a day-to-day existence Ramsay MacDonald has given leadership and direction worthy of the best of British tradition. He has shown no inclination to dodge issues, but has tackled problems that a man with only the outlook of a practical politician would have left alone. He did not back away from the troublesome Irish problem; he gathered together the representatives of the allied powers in the London conference that made possible the application of the Dawes report on Germany, and in so doing he showed a genius for frank and outspoken diplomacy that marked him as the central figure in the conference, and it is not straining a point to say that he was master of the situation.

The matter of deciding on future relations between Russia and Britain had been drifting for months that ran on into years. MacDonald's policy was that Russia had to go to work, she must trade with other nations and in that way work herself out of the mire into which erratic leadership had placed her. It was a delicate question, and from the standpoint of the ballot box a dangerous one, but Premier MacDonald saw it through to the point of completion. His finance minister, Philip Snowden, drafted a budget that for the first time since the war showed a surplus.

It is this record that the Labor government will be prepared to take to the country, and it is one that will stand a considerable amount of battering.

Britain does not want an election, because there is no need for one. It is an unsettling and an expensive business. The Conservatives have no new policy to offer for the one on which Stanley Baldwin was defeated less than a year ago—preference and protection. The Liberals have been so divided as a party that they have not been able to herd their ideas around a central thought. It was a colossal blunder from the standpoint of national interest or of party advantage to shove the MacDonald government over the brink on a vote of confidence that hinged on a point as small as it was inconsequential.

More Power To Them.

There are times when people talk about the frivolity of the age, and they tell us that the young people of today are far more bent after pleasure than they used to be; that there is an utter lack of serious thought and a desire to improve spare time.

For those who have allowed this idea to become established, a visit to the night classes at the collegiate and the technical school in London would be as good as a spring tonic. Last night, as an instance, at the technical school could be found hundreds of young people, nearly all of them employed in the daytime, studying and working in order to make themselves more efficient in some line. In all there are 600 in the night classes at this one school. That attendance speaks well for the serious intent and the worthy ambition of those who have decided to make the best use of their evenings. They are willing to burn the midnight oil to school themselves, and it is a tribute to them that they are, and a credit to the city that provides facilities for so doing.

Sir Adam Beck's Course Best.

Sir Adam Beck has chosen the best course in asking for an investigation under oath of all the charges contained in a letter written to him by his former secretary, Clarence Settell. It is not a pleasant experience for the hydro chairman, after an intimate association with a trusted secretary for a number of years, to find himself faced with a situation so unusual as that brought about by the actions of Settell.

A man in the position to employ a private secretary trusts him implicitly; on no other basis would it be possible to carry on business. In such an association there are confidences established that are deeper than those made in the transaction of the average business deal. The shattering of these is a matter that cannot be passed over lightly, and although Sir Adam is accustomed to hard fighting, this attack from within comes under a different heading.

Sir Adam has met the situation in the best possible way by asking for an independent and thorough investigation.

Presenting the Evidence.

A letter written by Premier Ferguson to Rev. T. Albert Moore is being used by the advocates of government selling to try and define exactly what sort of a system Ontario will follow in case the O. T. A. is defeated. There are to be no bars, and the government is to do the importing. That is the same plan that is followed in British Columbia. There are no legal bars there; drinks cannot be sold by the glass, and the government does the import business in liquors. Therefore we are told that the bootlegger cannot survive, and he will simply have to close up business and get out.

British Columbia has been working on this system for some years, but facts do not show that the bootlegger has gone out of business. The liquor controller for that province, when asked what was the chief difficulty in enforcing the law, replied in one word—"Bootlegging."

The Conservative leader in the B. C. legislature said: "Politics have crept into the enforcement of the government control law; conditions are bad."

A. M. Manson, attorney-general of British Columbia, says: "The greatest bootleggers of all are brewers and export liquor dealers."

The new police commissioner of Vancouver, Mr. McPherson, stated: "There is no control about it. I would not advise Ontario to adopt government control."

So as far as bootlegging is concerned, the British Columbia law, after which Ontario's is to be patterned, does not stop the bootlegger. The control law is powerless to hold him.

Is it as good for business as the advocates of government selling for Ontario would lead one to believe? British Columbia merchants should be in a position to answer such a question, and as a matter of fact they have answered it. The grocers' section of the retail merchants' association of B. C. have asked the government for a chance to vote on a return to prohibition. In making the request they stated: "The business of the retail grocers of Vancouver is suffering heavily from the diversion of money into liquor channels."

If further proof is needed, the convention of British Columbia municipalities last year passed a resolution protesting "against the present disgraceful situation throughout the province in regard to the formation of clubs and the sale of liquor therein," and added: "The present situation is worse than the days of the open bar, and is not only destructive to the morals of the people, but is resulting in bringing about a general contempt for law and order."

All this evidence has a direct bearing on the problem facing Ontario today. It comes as a voice from reputable people who have lived under the law that is proposed to take the place of the O. T. A. in Ontario. It comes as a stinging rebuke to loose statements that government selling rids the province of bootleggers and is good for business.

Ford Plant To Reopen In London.

The Ford Company will reopen its London works. That is a good piece of news, just the kind this city likes to hear. It means employment for more men, and the turning of an empty building into a source of profitable occupation.

In this connection the Ford Motor Company has given a demonstration on how to look after an empty building that should not be lost sight of. The Ford plant has been as carefully guarded and as well looked after since it closed as though business were going on as usual. The company had a large investment in the Waterloo street property, and it has never been allowed to depreciate.

Note and Comment.

Time, they say, is a wonderful healer, but it doesn't work that way on corns.

Now someone has discovered that in order to be a real affair a wedding must have a "hitch" in it.

Brantford Expositor says a car with bathing girls on the windshield dived into the river near there. Now surely that is sufficient warning.

Premier King, speaking at Saskatoon, intimated that a general election would be held in 1925. An excellent time for a substantial Liberal victory.

In England the average age at which women marry is 27 years, while the men topple over at 21. So there's not much chance for a young girl or an old man.

When young men go to the Western the first year they refer to them as "freshmen," but of course it wouldn't do to say the same about the young ladies just starting.

REJECTED ADVICE.

Oh, never bob your hair, Molly,
Oh, never bob your hair!
Oh, don't, oh, don't; oh, promise you won't!
'Tis a thought I cannot bear.
Get you a wig if your hair is gray,
It may possibly make you fair;
You'll be giving away your age that day,
If ever you bob your hair!

Oh, never bob your hair, Molly,
For women are cruel and keen;
Don't challenge their gaze with a flapper's ways,
Like the foolish old girls you've seen!
When they see your back, they will say you're young.

But when at your face they stare,
'Oh, she's old!' they'll say, 'She is quite passe,'
If ever you bob your hair!

"But it's certainly the fashion, so I don't care!"
Said Molly in a passion—and she bobbed her hair!

In an interview Madame Olga Petrova declared she said "no" to seven different men at Palm Beach this summer. We wonder what they were selling.

"Coolidge played the trombone in his youth," writes his autobiographer. His neighbors must have been bad shots.

The first time a bride really becomes acquainted with her husband is the first time she asks him for money after the honeymoon.

Our neighbor may not have a heavenly voice, but it is certainly unearthly.

None but the brave deserve the fair, and the office cynic adds that none but the brave can live with some of them.

Henry Ford, it is reported, will offer to take the Prince of Wales for a drive in a flivver. We hope, for the sake of international amity, the prince won't say it's a "rattling" good car.

"W. E. Flanagan said he saw gold dragons, flaming pottery and diamond-studded clubs while in Panama. Mr. Flanagan contracted malaria there."—News item. But are they positive it's only malaria?

W. B. Snowball, Liberal, was elected in New Brunswick. And all the time Mr. Meighen was saying that the Liberals had as much chance as a Snowball in, well—in Northumberland.

"Nation-wide Hunt On For Missing Boy."—Headline. It is Henry B. Dumb's guess that the number of people who participate in these nation-wide hunts is seldom more than six or seven.

Nine flappers out of ten like to be in a "beautiful girl" contest, but the percentage anxious to enter a "dutiful girl" contest is .00001.

"We Are Ruined" is the name of the latest photoplay. Ten to one Mr. Meighen wrote the scenario.

In mah jong we have never got the limit hand, but in bridge our hand is always the limit.

We understand the mayor's slogan for reelection will be "Reduce taxes." We did not know before this that his worship was a humorist.

According to Euclid, the original "reduce taxes" joke was spun by Methuselah when he fought to decrease the tariff on side-whiskers. After that Julius Caesar appropriated the idea and became mayor of Rome.

One thing is certain. If our taxes are reduced much more we'll have to make an application for room and bath in the village poorhouse. Since the "reducing taxes" system came in ours have been reduced from $10 to $300.

After a long time we began to understand why they called it "reducing." If it doesn't reduce you to tears, getting money to pay is guaranteed to reduce you to a skeleton.

Say, Mr. Governor!

Governor Lutton of Elgin county jail reports that for the last three months he has fed prisoners at the rate of 9% cents per day.—News item.

Most folks would reckon on such fare they'd be as skinny as an eel, a-tryin' to keep the carcass plump on fodder at three cents a meal.

How come you cut the thing so fine, you sit upon the bread box lid, it makes me wonder for a spell just how the thing is ever did.

Now governor, we'll all sit down, we'll form around the room a ring, while you explain just how it is you manage for to do this thing. We'd like to know, indeed we would, we'll wear our pencil to a stub, a-chalkin' down the things you do to bring to pass this three-cent grub.

Ah, now we'll see just how 'tis done, say when it comes to breakfast time, do you dish out the mush yourself and make 'em stand there in a line? No doubt they have some bread to eat and tea from out a granite cup, and do you holler out and say "Hey, mister, your three cents is up."

And then comes dinner, what a meal, do you have roast beef at your place, and on six kinds of pie and cake do boarders bolster up their face? And do you give them punkin pie, and now and then a cob of corn, or do they get slabs from a cut what's carved off from up near the horn?

Say, when some chap goes tearin' in and passes back his dish for more, now do you take him by the ear and dump his dome upon the floor?

When supper time comes round each night and you tuck on their olecloth bibs, what can you get for just three cents to bolster up their cavin' ribs, so they'll go off to bed and sleep, not pitch around and talk and roll, how can you at three cents a throw keep body hitched unto the soul?

Why if we could learn all these things 'bout feedin' on ten cents a day, we'd stow our seeds inside the bank in bundles like big bales of hay. We'd clear the mortgage from the hut, we'd buy a pair of Sunday boots, and for old age and poverty we wouldn't give two lonesome hoots.

So, Mr. Lutton, here we wait, and here we're going to camp and stay, until you teach us step by step this feedin' on ten cents a day.—ARK.

Dr. Frank Crane

NOUVEAU RICHE.

The other day a man told me a good story. A woman kept a boarding house at a resort in the country. She did no advertising, but she carried on a very good business for she was a good cook and one customer recommended her to another. Consequently her house was rather full all the time during the season.

On one occasion a gentleman whom we will call Nouveau Riche happened along. He was dressed in a nice new topcoat and hat. He looked like a million dollars, and probably was.

He had the air of one who spoke with authority. As he entered the place he handed his hat and coat to the boy and asked the way to the dining-room. There he ordered the head waiter to give him a seat, but was informed that all the seats were taken and he would have to wait for a little while.

"I am not in the habit of waiting for anybody," said the visitor.

"Then excuse me a moment, I will see the madame," said the head waiter.

Presently he returned and said that dinner would be served the gentleman in a private room if he must eat right away.

After partaking of an excellent dinner in the private room the gentleman called for his bill.

"There is no bill," said the waiter.

"What do you mean, no bill," said the gentleman. "I pay for everything I get and if you do not give me a bill I won't come again."

"That is what the madame thought, sir," said the waiter politely. This false teacher said that it is sometimes very expensive to get something for nothing.

Another fable is of similar import.

A lady found that she owed $200 after an afternoon spent at a friend's house, in order to pay her bridge debts. She did not gamble and did not know that they were playing for money until it was too late.

"Be never mind," said the hostess, "your husband can send me a check."

When the husband sent the check he made it out for $205. This included the bridge game and the lunch.

It is needless to say they were not bothered with that lady's attentions any further.

BOARD OF EDUCATION BACKS CADET MOVEMENT IN SCHOOLS

Trustees Pass Resolution Urging Retention of the Juvenile Court.

SENT TO NICKLE

Chairman Bryden N. Campbell was assisted by the full membership of the board of education at its regular meeting yesterday afternoon in dealing with many matters of varying importance. The protracted session lasted for upwards of three hours. Perhaps of foremost importance was the unanimous action of the board in "officially recognizing and approving of the cadet movement in London schools," and the passing of a recommendation to next year's board that a sufficient sum be placed in the estimates at the beginning of the new year to uniform the corps of the city.

The board also unanimously expressed its approval of the good work done by the juvenile court, and appointed a committee of five to prepare a resolution to be forwarded to Attorney-General W. F. Nickle advocating and requesting the continuance of the court on its present scale.

The motion that the second letter to City Clerk Sam Baker, requesting on behalf of the city council the names of all those employed by the board who reside outside the city limits, be filed also received the unanimous indorsement of the members of the board.

The recommendation of No. 1 committee that a special committee be appointed to go into the whole question of the boundaries of the public schools of the city and report at the November meeting of the board was passed upon and No. 1 committee appointed as a special committee to deal with the matter.

The opening of the sight-saving class in the new Empress school in January and the appointment of Miss Hilda Slater as teacher at a salary of $1,500 per annum was approved.

The chairman of the board, Trustee B. N. Campbell, was appointed as the official representative of the board at the formal opening ceremonies in connection with the new buildings of the University of Western Ontario on October 15 next.

The letter received from Max Lermer, regarding the formation of a night class for new Canadians, was referred to number four committee with power to act.

The board upheld W. H. Robinson, superintendent of works, in his action with regard to two painter employees of his department, A. de Ruyter and J. C. Hixson, and authorized him to re-engage Mr. Ruyter if he so desires.

The board ratified the recommendation of No. 2 committee that several lots on Baker street be purchased from the city council for $2,000, completing the block of school property bounded by McKenzie, Langley, Baker and Belgrave streets.

The board also ratified the recommendation of No. 2 committee that the city council be asked to issue debentures for $10,500 to cover the cost of furniture and equipment for the new Empress school.

M. M. Sims, chief attendance officer, reported that his department had issued 104 employment certificates and 39 home permits during the month of September, and that while the number of applications for permits had been larger than last year the number of permits was less, owing to the impossibility in many cases of securing work. Mr. Sims reported also that $100 had been subscribed to the educational service fund, from which had been drawn $62 for books and clothing to aid seven families.

E. A. Miller, principal of the collegiate, reported that of 5,428 departmental examination papers written on by about 900 students of the three units, 4,339 had been successfully passed for a percentage of 55.4. Principal Miller reported also that 1,524 students were enrolled at the three units, with an average attendance for the month of September of 1,426, as follows: Central unit, 794; South unit, 417; East unit, 313.

PROVINCE PLANS CENTRAL MARKET

Britishers Complain Produce From Ontario Not Sold by Dealers.

OUTSIDE LONDON

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, Oct. 9.—Establishment in Great Britain of a central warehouse for the marketing of Ontario farm produce was forecast in a statement by the Hon. J. B. Martin, minister of agriculture, upon his return from a tour of northwestern Ontario.

He said that Australia and New Zealand already had such establishments which operate to the material profit of the producers of these dominions.

"The matter is still in the embryo stage," said the minister, "and will have to be investigated. The difficulty is that co-operative effort in Ontario is not sufficiently developed as yet, to warrant going right ahead with the scheme. Such a warehouse would not be located in London, but likely at some outside point."

There are many complaints from Britishers, that dealers, when asked for Ontario produce, supply them, although they are available. On the other hand, Ontario honey is well received and well distributed, owing to the independent co-operation of the producers in Ontario.

ST. THOMAS MAN MURDER VICTIM

Orville Atkinson Killed in Detroit by Shot From Hotel Window.

Special to The Advertiser. St. Thomas, Oct. 9.—Orville Atkinson, a former well-known St. Thomas man, was shot down in Detroit Wednesday afternoon from the upstairs of the Roadside Inn at Oakwood while stepping into his car. Two others were wounded. The slayer has been arrested, and has confessed. The Detroit police assert that Mr. Atkinson was shot down by mistake, the murderers taking him for another man.

The victim was in St. Thomas over the week-end, having motored here with his wife on a visit to his mother, Mrs. Emily Atkinson, 28 Redan street, leaving by train Monday evening for his home. Mr. Atkinson was born 41 years ago in North Dorchester, a son of the late Isaac Atkinson, and had lived in this city for many years, conducting a pressing business on Talbot street. He moved to Detroit eight years ago, and has been engaged in the contracting business. He leaves his wife, who was Miss Clara Munn of this city, his mother, Mrs. Emily Atkinson, two sisters, Mrs. W. Davis, Regent street, Mrs. Charles McLeod, Fifth avenue, two nieces, Miss Irma Atkinson, city, and Mrs. H. Bahard, Niagara Falls. The remains arrived in St. Thomas tonight, and the funeral will be held on Saturday at 3 p.m. from the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Davis, 35 Regent street, under Masonic auspices. Rev. J. M. Macgillivray will conduct part of the service. Interment will be made in the family plot in St. Thomas cemetery.

JURY DROPS CASE AGAINST SQUIRES

Insufficient Evidence To Indict Former Newfoundland Premier.

Canadian Press Despatch. St. John, Nfld., Oct. 9.—A grand jury investigating charges against Sir Richard Squires, former premier of Newfoundland, in connection with alleged irregularities in the course of his administration, returned no indictment tonight.

The grand jury held that evidence to support charges of larceny and receiving money in the testimony of Mrs. Jean Harsant, formerly secretary to Squires, was insufficient to warrant the finding of a true bill. The former premier was placed under arrest last April on charges of larceny.

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache Often Means You Have Not Been Drinking Enough Water.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it may mean you have been eating foods which create acids, says a well-known authority. An excess of such acids overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them. Like you relieve your bowels, removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells, your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the system, so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink. Drink lots of soft water. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—Advt.

COULDN'T EVEN WALK AROUND HER HOME

Without Suffering Extreme Discomfort, Says Mrs. Wrigley—Then Tanlac Restored Health.

"Inside of 24 hours after starting on Tanlac I could tell it was helping me, and five bottles has increased my weight ten pounds," is the striking statement made recently by Mrs. Kate Wrigley, 20 Lipton avenue, Toronto, Ontario, Canada.

"For a whole year before taking Tanlac stomach, liver and kidney disorders had me so run down that I couldn't even walk around in the house without suffering extreme discomfort. Frequently after eating my stomach would hurt me so that I would cry out from the pain. Nights my rest was often broken and mornings my tongue was coated white. I had no appetite, and my weight was going down."

"But Tanlac has made me eat, sleep and feel better than in two years. This great medicine alone is due the credit for the wonderful improvement in my health."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.

Tanlac Vegetable Pills recommended by the manufacturers of TANLAC.—Advt.

Two Runs On Harris' Single Enough To Beat Giants 2-1 In Closest Game of Series

OGDEN IS LIKELY TO PITCH TODAY

Walter Johnson Believes All Giant Hurlers Are Box-Weary.

By WALTER JOHNSON, Special to The Advertiser.

Washington, Oct. 9.—Tom Zachary pitched one of the greatest ball games I have ever seen today when he turned back the Giants, 2 to 1, and brought this world's series up even again. He put us in the running. I am more than glad to see him because I failed to put the team in front. If I had succeeded in that last game in New York, Tom would have clinched the world's championship for us today. He deserved the glory, too, for he proved himself a wonder.

After the first inning only one New York player had been in the game. He was Tom Zachary, and today Art Nehf went in for the second time. That disposes of his two outings. The best pitchers he has tomorrow, McGowan, Barnes or Watson may be sent in, but "Bucky" Harris can counter with a pitcher—Curly Ogden—who has had a long rest. Ogden has not pitched a ball for more than a month. He is fresh, while his opponent is bound to be tired from the rough season.

Again I must say something good about Zachary. In the first place, he knew the importance of the game. He knew we just had to win. We would be defeated if he lost, so he pitched his head off, and turned in the best game I've seen him pitch this season. In the second place, Zachary tamed the Giants' best batsmen as though they were rookies just getting a trial in the big league.

No Walks. Frisch got no walks. Kelly and Wilson each got two singles. Gowdy got a single, nobody walked, and nobody was hit by a pitched ball. Only in one inning, the first, did the Giants succeed in getting two hits off Zachary. Now if that last superior pitching, tell me what it is. Why that pitching would win from any ball club in the world. It was from the Giants, and not us up even again.

It came to "Bucky" Harris to win the victory for us, and I jumped off the bench when he poked a clean single to right field, scoring Peck and McNeely. In that big fifth inning, we all could feel that his single meant victory, with Zachary pitching the way he was. Harris is a wonderful fellow in a pinch. He won't always sit safely—nobody can promise that—but he will always try. He tried today, and got away with it. His single won the game, and Zachary saved it time and again.

Roger Peckinbaugh is out of tomorrow's game and every one of us is sorry. He played today with his injured leg heavily handicapped. Just by luck, he did not have a hard chance until the very last inning. When it came to him he went through with it, forcing Kelly in the ninth after going behind the bat for McNeely's grounder. He flipped the ball to Harris, and then pulled up lame. But he had done his job. Just being in there at short steadied the whole team. It gave them all courage, and they went out and won. Peck has earned his white's rest if any of us has.

Lindstrom Fails. One thing was noticeable today—Lindstrom's failure to hit Zachary. The big young third-sacker of the Giants hit two balls hard. Bluege made a brilliant one-hand stop off him in the first inning, and he lined to Rice the second time up. Outside of that he was helpless, though Zach is a southpaw and Lindstrom a right-hand biter.

Artie Nehf, Giants ace who allowed the winning Senators in yesterday's game but four hits, while Zachary gave seven to the Giants.

Sam Rice took his turn at shining in the field. He ran out to those temporary bleacher seats in right center in the first inning and caught McNeely's try for a home run. He caught the ball with one hand, after jumping into the air. Sam's other fine bit of fielding came in the fifth on Nehf's foul fly. He had to cover lots of ground to get it, but he did, grabbing the ball while going at full speed. There are very few outfielders with Sam's speed, and he has played wonderful baseball for us all year. If he hadn't, I guess we wouldn't be in this world's series right now.

Well, it will be all over tomorrow. I think Washington will win, but, win or lose, I'll soon be out in Nevada hunting. Then my eighteenth season in the big leagues will begin to be a memory.

RUGBY SCORES. London Oct. 9.—The New Zealand Blacks rugby team defeated North Midlands 40 to 3 at Birmingham today. In a friendly game between Yorkshire and Derbyshire rugby teams, the former won by 30 to 18. It was played at Headingley.

When "The Goose" scored on his homer. "Goose" Goslin of the Senators scoring on his slashing home-run drive into the right field stands in Tuesday's game at the Polo grounds. "Goose" drove in McNeely and Harris ahead of himself. His homer in Wednesday's game tied the record for series homers established last year by "Babe" Ruth.

WORK OF TOM ZACHARY ON MOUND AFTER LONE GIANT TALLY IN FIRST PUTS SENATORS BACK IN RUNNING

Peck Injured Again in Starting Second Last Putout of Game.

'GOOSE' GOES HITLESS

Both Goslin and Lindstrom Fail To Connect in Four Trips.

Associated Press Despatch. Washington, Oct. 9.—Launching a spectacular comeback just when their hopes seemed to be at their lowest ebb, Washington's batting Senators captured the sixth game of the 1924 world's series today from the New York Giants, 2 to 1, and forced baseball's championship struggle to the third time in history and the first time since 1912.

"Bucky" Harris, the dark-haired young manager of the Senators, came through with a hit that clinched one of the most thrilling triumphs of the series. Harris, with two out and the count two strikes and two balls, slashed a single to right in the fifth that scored Peckinbaugh and McNeely with the Senators' only runs, and broke up a sensational southern shutout by Art Nehf, the Giants ace, who had won the first game, and old Tom Zachary, who came through with his second triumph of the series.

Victory Costly. It was a costly victory for the Senators, however, for in a dramatic ninth inning when the Giants threatened to rally, two stars of the Washington infield were injured on the same play, and Roger Peckinbaugh again was lost to the team and will not be able to play tomorrow.

Peckinbaugh, veteran shortstop, whose return to the team today for the first time since Monday, had plugged the gaping hole in the Senators' inner defense, and put new life into the entire team, aggravated a leg injury in fielding McNeely's hot smash over second. He made the stop and threw to Harris to force Kelly and check the Giant rally, but he was a fresh cry of alarm from the stands when Joe Judge was hit in the groin by Harris' low throw and fell to the ground in pain.

Carried From Field. Peck pulled up limping and finally had to be half-carried from the field, but Judge recovered sufficiently to continue, and Taylor, substitute infielder, who himself is just recovering from an injury to his thigh, which was swathed in bandages, went to third to finish the game for Bluege, who moved over to short.

The fresh injury to Peckinbaugh, aggravating the pulled tendon or "charley horse" he recovered sufficiently to continue, and Taylor, substitute infielder, who himself is just recovering from an injury to his thigh, which was swathed in bandages, went to third to finish the game for Bluege, who moved over to short.

PECK SAVED DAY, IS TY COBB'S VIEW

Calls Pitching of Zachary Best in Series To Date.

By TY COBB, Special to The Advertiser.

Copyright. Washington, Oct. 9.—Washington triumphed over the New York Giants today by the close score of 2 to 1 in the best pitched game of the series.

Tom Zachary battled the Giants to a finish in nine innings of almost the most crucial game. His control was perfect. He was never in the hole. The only run scored off him was in the first inning, due to Frisch's two-base hit, Young's out, and a single by Kelly. After that inning old Zach was never in danger, but absolutely the master of the situation, and to him belongs the great credit and honor of pitching the best and most sensational game of the 1924 series. What is more to his credit he finished. Some of the good pitching in this series has been marred when the pitcher had to be taken out for a relief hurler late in the game. By winning this game the Senators are back again on even terms with the Giants, and tomorrow the final issue will be settled barring rain or a tie game.

All the pitchers seemed to have been used up, and as I stated yesterday this series is most likely to be decided on the merits of relief hurlers. Neither team can start a regular pitcher Friday that has gotten his full rest. It was old reliable Roger Peckinbaugh who heroically took up his post at shortstop and figured so prominently in the downfall of the Giants. It was evident to everyone that he was playing under a great handicap.

Gets Second Hit. It was in the fifth inning that the star shortstop fielded off with his second hit of the game, and the winning run was scored. Frisch, who was out, McNeely drew four balls from the crafty Nehf and with two strikes on him he made a clean steal of second base.

At this stage of the game there ensued a great battle of wits between the New York pitcher and the Senators' manager and second baseman. Nehf was using all his skill. He would not come near the foul line. He would not come under the center of the plate, and Harris was also guarding the plate with all his skill. He would not allow a break like Harris got in that fifth inning. The score was so close that every little break counted; our one chance won for us, but for that decision on Lindstrom which was very, very close. We were surprised when he was called out.

Individually the work of Sam Rice on the defensive continued to stand out. His great play on Meusel's drive in the first hurt us, and then he later made two more that were great. Rice is a great ball player, make no mistake about that. He is a defensive work horse in the two previous games, could have measured the standard of the regular third baseman. The big kick to me was the spirit the Senators displayed by having one hold on to his position after he had been hit.

In the ninth after Kelly had singled, with Southworth by running, Meusel's ball just to the left of second. With this terrible leg of his Peckinbaugh in some unaccountable manner got over the fielded ball, and handed it to Harris for the second out.

When Peck finally recovered himself it was plain to be seen he was suffering intense pain. He was helped off the field by his team mates and I believe will surely be out for the balance of the series. I am sure that he will be out for the balance of the series.

Friday, it is my belief that it will be just a question of Peck's absence from the line-up. Nehf's pitching was absolutely up to standard, and the entire game was well played. It is up to someone else to guess who will be the eventual winner in this series, which has been nip and tuck for six days and will be finally determined Friday.

I will suppose the two managers will spend lots of time and thought on who shall start pitching tomorrow's game. It looks as if Harris will call upon McGraw. And unless McGraw uses Watson he will certainly cross me up.

THAMESFORD BOWLERS CAPTURE THREE PRIZES

Thamesford, Oct. 9.—A doubles bowling tournament was awarded by the Thamesford bowling club Wednesday. Fourteen rinks competed, and three Thamesford rinks won the first three prizes. The prize winners were: First, Wm. Loughlin and Dr. F. M. Weir; second, Rev. Wm. Davies and M. Camper; third, W. T. Hogg and Robt. Oliver, all of Thamesford; fourth, Dr. Atkinson and H. Karm of Embro.

Portsider Won Hardest Game of Life, Says McGraw

Giant Leader Attributes Result To Zachary's Wonderful Control.

By JOHN MCGRAW, Special to The Advertiser.

Copyright. Washington, Oct. 9.—The great crowd of baseball fans who saw us lose that game to Washington and bring the series to a deadlock again should have a very clear idea now what pitching control means to a ball game. It was the perfect precision and accuracy with which Zachary pitched the game that forced him to stop the Giants from winning a world's championship.

The outstanding feature from a baseball point of view, therefore, was the big left-hander's such an exhibition. Zachary didn't allow a base on balls all day. Arthur Nehf also pitched beautiful ball, and he did it under a handicap. In just one inning his bruised hand both helped, but didn't enough to partly lose control, and that was the break that won for the Senators.

Single Enough. In the fifth after Peckinbaugh had singled, and there were two out Nehf tried every trick he knew in pitching. In doing so he kept the ball too far away from the plate, and McNeely walked. McNeely stole second on a close play, and the winning run was scored. After getting two strikes on him he again failed to get the ball just where he wanted it. He found himself in a hole with two and three on the latter.

There was nothing but to put the ball over. Harris hit that ball for the single that won the game. On our side there was little to do but hit. Our defense was as good as could be expected. We simply needed the hit which Zachary would not allow us. Even though the Giants out-hit the Senators they were not favored with a break like Harris got in that fifth inning. The score was so close that every little break counted; our one chance won for us, but for that decision on Lindstrom which was very, very close. We were surprised when he was called out.

Individually the work of Sam Rice on the defensive continued to stand out. His great play on Meusel's drive in the first hurt us, and then he later made two more that were great. ## FISHING COMPANY'S BOAT IS NEARING COMPLETION

The large freighter owned by the Finlay Fish Company of Port Stanley, which is under construction at the present time, is nearly completed. Charles Finlay, head of the company, stated that if weather conditions continued good and no other delays occurred the ship would be finished by Nov. 1.

Workmen from Toronto are erecting the steel cabin and railings, as well as inspecting the workmanship of the builders. This boat, when completed, will be the largest operating out of Port Stanley.

It is to be used for freighting purposes only, carrying the fish across the lake to the numerous ports, thus saving the cost of sending the produce by rail. The name of the boat is as yet undecided.

At the present time only one tug is fishing off Port Stanley. The remainder are at Port Dover, Port Burwell, Port Bruce and other fishing grounds on Lake Erie's north shore.

With only slight winds at different times, the lake is comparatively calm and the large scows do not hug the shore, but sail in deeper water. Few boats have been in the port this week for refuge.

LIONS CLUB HEARS INTERESTING TALK

New President Is Greeted With Great Enthusiasm by Members.

Last night's meeting of the Lions club was featured by an address by George Sinclair of the Y.M.C.A., on physical culture. He emphasized the need of physical fitness in the world of business and showed that proper exercises taken whenever the opportunity afforded, would increase the efficiency of an employee and return profits and dividends. He said the old belief that physical culture was a matter solely for iron-muscle giants had passed, and that fitness was now being recognized as more valuable than an exterior show of muscles.

Dr. J. H. Griffin, the club's new president, was greeted with the greatest enthusiasm when he took the chair for the first time since his election. He stressed the need of all committees functioning properly within the club in his presidential address. He was optimistic of a successful year for the club in London and for a period of good service to the public which is part of the club's activities.

Gordon Marr, representing the O. R. F. U. rugby committee, outlined the vast strides that had been accomplished in this sport during the present season. He pointed out the tremendous odds which they had overcome.

"All that is needed to place rugby back in its former place in the city of London is a big crowd at the game between London and Sarina, at Tecumseh Park on Saturday afternoon, Mr. Marr said. "We have a real rugby team this year and all we ask is support for the game on Saturday, when we are going out to beat Sarina."

Ralph Presgrave, member of the speakers' committee, with Col. C. M. R. Graham, announced the following four speakers had been secured for the weekly dinners. They are: A. R. Ford, Gordon Philip, W. E. Saunders and Col. Gillespie.

The music part of the evening was supplied by Jack Pudney, Selby Young, Reg. Hodgins, A. Young and Scotty McCullough, all Lions.

NEW GOLF COURSE IS RUMORED FOR CITY

Options Obtained on Tract of Land Along L. and P. S. Railway.

It is reported that some London golf enthusiasts have obtained options on a tract of land adjacent to the London & Port Stanley railway and propose to construct a golf course, providing sufficient support of the scheme is forthcoming. The plan is to make it possible for people of small income to indulge their taste for the outdoor recreation, as well as tennis, lawn bowling and winter sports.

The land is said to be rolling and picturesque and favored with an excellent view of the city. It has been pronounced as ideal for the purposes in view.

It is understood definite announcement of plans regarding the proposed course will be given out within the next few days.

FOOTBALL FASHIONS.

With October and November comes the football season. And with brisk football weather comes a keen interest in fashions for autumn days out of doors, clothes to wear to large games and little games, big events and small ones, from the first frost to the first snowfall.

The clothes that are most at home at a football game are those that combine informal fabrics and colors with carefully tailored lines, costumes that strike a sophisticated medium between clothes that are strictly for country wear and those only seen in town.

The football fashions that are the most suitable, and therefore the smartest, are colorful, comfortable and, above all—warm. And since warmth is the most important consideration of all—

THE FUR COAT comes first on the list of clothes to buy for the football season. Out of the natural furs that are best for this type of occasion, the football enthusiast may choose a muffling coat that makes her look small because it looks so big—a coat of racoon or civet cat, nutria or possum.

THE TOPCOAT goes to the game if the day should turn out to be too warm for a fur coat. And in topcoats the range of choice is wide. The favorite range of colors, for instance, is so wide that it runs from light tan through browns and the brick shades all the way to the brightest reds.

HATS are either of colors to match the coat or they are bright and bring to lighten a dark fur or fabric and to add to the general gaiety of football fashions. The small felt hat qualifies first, because its surface takes so becomingly to color, because it is so light to wear, and so especially smart this season. Its brim is best when it is brief. Its crown may be either round or squared.

OTHER ACCESSORIES EMPHASIZE the scarf; worn loosely under the fur coat or muffled like a cravat.

The purse; which may be a big square envelope in colored leather to make a lively color note.

The gloves; in chamois or capeskin; and this year they are smartest when worn a little too large.

THE DRESS worn to the game sometimes shows a few inches under the shorter length of the fur coat or topcoat of this season's wearing. And after the game this dress often goes tea-dancing. Since the simplest kind of frocks are the smartest kind, a simple dress will be just as correct after the game as it is during the play. Kasha-surface woolsens or bengalines are by all odds the best fabrics.
