I.O.O.F. MEMORIAL SERVICE AT SIMCOE

Fallen Lodgemen Remembered Last Night—Veteran Treasurer is Honored

OTHER SIMCOE NEWS

Veteran Treasurer "Called."
 Simcoe, June 24.—From Our Own Correspondent.—There were outstanding features about the Oddfellows and Rebekas turn out to St. Paul's yesterday evening for memorial service to the lodge who have fallen overseas.

Those in charge took care that the visitors of the day were all in their allotted pews five minutes before the hour of service, when the pews were reserved unnecessarily, nor was the service delayed.

The sermon was an exposition of proofs and pointers to the after-life of man.

Decorations, hymns, anthem and organ offertory were all harmonized to the theme, and the "brethren" returned to their lodgemen for a little extra of their own.

Deserving Citizen Honored.
 Robert Mead, who had charge of the parade, lost no time on arrival in the lodge, in sealing the member and calling on East Noble Grand Robert Hoag and Henry Johnson and requesting them to perform their further duties. These proceeded to the opposite corner of the room by the Oddfellow route and to halting at the treasurer's desk, escorted William Sutton to the floor, where Mr. Mead approached and read the following address:

Forty Years Treasurer.
 To Brother William Sutton, Past Grand:

Dear Sir and Brother.—The Oddfellows of Simcoe desire at this time to express their esteem for you as a man and their regard for you as an Oddfellow. For upwards of forty years you have been a valued member of your lodge, for over half this period its efficient treasurer, and for several years its capable representative at Grand Lodge. The custom nowadays is too common of covering a man's coffin with flowers when he is dead. Beautiful as they may be, they speak nothing to him. But we desire, we hope very many years before you are taken from us, to let you know (although we realize in an imperfect way) the feelings of good will we have for you. You will please accept this card from us as very slight token of our appreciation. We hope that whenever you take hold of it you will feel that you are grasping the hands of each of our number, and that in turn each one of us is clasping yours in friendship, love and truth.

Signed on behalf of the Oddfellows of Simcoe,
 Simcoe, June 23rd, 1918.

An Absolute Surprise.
 "I have been taken off my feet, had not even an inkling of this," began Mr. Sutton, and in thanking him most sincerely the honored recipient spoke modestly of his effort to live up to his obligation, both in word and in deed. Representatives from Port Rowan and Port Dover and the local lodge testified that he had done so and that his life had been a model for any Oddfellow.

A Most Honored Citizen.
 The writer had an opportunity to get the cue desired some months since, and acknowledged his guest some months ago, when this column contained an appreciation of the magnificent public service of our townsman, Mrs. D. McVior, who died at that "mystery" Sutton should be our next victim. The nickname has distinguished import, only in Simcoe and it is used as kindly and even affectionately as was that of the late principal of Queen's University, over whose grave at Gataqua Cemetery, where Sir John MacDonald and other great men lie, the students of Queen's erect a modest granite bearing but two words, "Geordie Grant."

Mr. Sutton's life in Norfolk stands in bold relief, as a real man. He is known in Watford, Dover, Port Rowan, Delhi and throughout the townships as in Simcoe. In business life with men of business as with the public his word is good. He has served his country, and more than one municipality in a municipal way and has been given Norfolk's highest recognition, and Simcoe's therefore. For many years he has been a member of the Board of Education and has always been foremost in advocating for good school buildings and competent teachers.

A Man of Great Charity.
 But it is as a man of magnificent charity that we wish to honor him. How many sacks of flour have been found mysteriously on the door step by those in need? How often has chicken feed or the oat meal been delivered from an unknown source? Some say hundreds, some say thousands of dollars worth have been thus sent to drive the wolf from the unprotected door and this fraternity regard to creed, politics or religion. Even in politics, as reported in Norfolk, William Sutton stands in relief as a man of absolute integrity. Those who attended the Reform convention at Hamilton last November will remember that Norfolk know that he was the only man of his party who could confer with the other side.

And to-day he is honored, not as an old man about to pass behind the left wing of the stage, but as strong, alert, active and taking a business, in church and in the community and the state, giving every promise of years yet in which many a record will be made for the splendid cause received yesterday.

And blushed to find it fame.
 Registration Slow on Saturday.—Simcoe's Population Recorded in Advance.

Simcoe Women Took No Day.
 Simcoe, June 24th.—Deputies of the centres on Saturday were found early on Saturday, prepared for a rush that never materialized. At the central school eight or nine clerks sat all day and at 9.30 p.m. only seventeen cards had been filled. Conditions at the High School were a little slower. A few registers at the Public Library and even at the town hall there was comparatively little doing.

Through efficient organization in advance, and facilities provided for registration at the factories the work was carried on during the week to the utmost possible convenience of all concerned.

Many of the deputies had been calling on the aged and infirm and the sick or aged made out cards at their own homes for those who called.

The bulk of the work was done by the women who volunteered their services without remuneration. And to their splendid services is due the highest praise. Reports from outside points are not to hand, but it is expected that the registration order was generally and promptly obeyed throughout the county.

Reassuring Cable.
 Mrs. D. McVior, whose husband's name inadvertently got into the "killed" list of more than one daily last week, received Saturday from his sister in Castletown, Scotland, and in answer to a query from Simcoe, a cable stating that Pte. David McVior is improving, and that his two brothers John and Robert are with him. He is yet in France.

A Dover lady was put to some trouble in town Saturday. Her shopping bag and purse were "lifted" at the L. E. & N. depot by a Simcoe woman, who will answer to a charge.

Board of Education Report.
 With further reference to the deliberations of the Board of Education, Mr. Haddow was given an increase to bring the salary up to $540 a year.

The management committee will advertise for two public school teachers. Miss Hilda Smith of Toronto has been secured as teacher of Latin, History and Art in the High School at a salary of $1100 and is highly recommended.

The Dust Question.
 There is some complaint about the dust on the streets. The Board of Works is finding that oil on the roads has made them impervious to water and when the sprinkler passes, the water instead of being taken by capillary into the sand, runs in little silvery streams to the gutter. There is but one thing to do, build pavement as soon as possible.

The Real Trouble.
 Those who have studied the dust question since the oil was first used will agree, that whether heavy oil or light oil be used, coat after coat must be applied on sand or dust roadways, at least fortnightly, or for sake of argument at least once a month during the summer, or automobiles, travelling as they do, at a rate of from twenty to forty miles an hour within the corporation on the dust streets will lift oil and dust or rather oily dust in clouds. What Simcoe wants now is an enforcement of the speed limit. A deal of our dust nuisance is the result of an open license for fast auto driving.

The Debenture Question.
 Mayor Sibley, Treasurer Frank Reid and Deputy-Reeve Langford have been condemned for not getting rid of the town's remnant of debentures. Any assertions made in the public criticism are wide of the mark, but a word on the debenture question might be in order here, now.

STATISTICAL CONFERENCE.
 By Courier Leased Wire
 Ottawa, June 23.—At the conference on the vital statistics of Canada between representatives of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics and delegates of the Provincial registrars-general and of other institutions which was held on Wednesday and Thursday, it was resolved that the draft of a bill and schedules should be referred to a committee consisting of representatives of the nine provinces with instructions to give effect to the principles agreed upon by the conference and to submit the bill as finally called to the respective provincial governments.

MORE GOOD THAN EVERYTHING ELSE

That is What Tanlac Accomplished in Case of Ottawa Man.

"Talking about things that help people, this Tanlac has done me more good than anything else I ever got hold of," said Stanislas Prudel, who is employed at the Watson and Todd Lumber Co., and lives at 52 Fernside avenue, Ottawa. "My stomach had been all upset for about two years," continued Mr. Prudel. "All my food tasted alike and nothing seemed to agree with me at all. Soon after eating I would bloat up with gas, always had a pain in my chest and sometimes it was hard for me to get my breath. My food would not hold in my stomach and I had dull, nagging headaches, carried a bad taste in my mouth all the time and all my strength and energy seemed to leave me. I felt terrible and just moped around like someone half dead. I tried to keep on working, but one time I just had to stop off, and was laid up for several weeks.

"I tried all kinds of medicines, but kept getting worse and finally decided to see if I could get any better than the other things I had used. Well, sir, I am ready now to say Tanlac is a real medicine. Before I had taken it two days I began to breathe easier, and when I finished my first bottle I was feeling like a new man. I have taken three bottles now and my stomach is in fine shape. I can eat just anything I want without feeling a sign of indigestion, and since the gas has stopped forming on my stomach I have no more pain or shortness of breath. The headaches are gone, my strength and energy have returned and I have never felt better. I never miss a day from my work now and I'm so satisfied with Tanlac that I have done for me that I tell everybody about it.

"My brother-in-law was suffering dreadfully with his stomach and had been off from his work for about three weeks on account of it. I asked him to try Tanlac and he said, 'No, I have been under treatment and have had nothing to do for me any more.' So he got a bottle and before he had finished taking it he was feeling better. Now he's as well as anybody and you couldn't find a better doctor for Tanlac anywhere than he is, unless it's me."

"Tanlac is sold in Brantford by Robertson's Drug Store, in Paris by Apps Ltd. in Mt. Vernon by A. Yeomans, in Middleport by William Peddie, in Onondaga by Neil McPhadden.

When Alderman Langford took his seat at the Council board on January, 1917, he urged selling the $40,000 school debentures at once, and succeeded in getting them on the market in February or March. Bids were called and the best offer was 98.46. The committee consisted of Mr. Williamson, Mr. Reid and Mr. Langford. His Worship consulted with Mr. McKie, who advised not to sell. Some months later at considerable expense bids were again called, and the best offer was 98.46. On this occasion Mr. Langford advised not to sell and what result? Before the close of the year, by private sale, $39,505 was received from sale of debentures of school and the small $4,849 issue of Colborne street pavement debentures and at the net price of 98. The balance of the total sum above, includes accrued interest, which the auditor's statement does not show separately, but a comparatively small amount. The unbiased reader will, therefore, agree that the criticism of the progress in selling debentures is somewhat over the top.

A man with exceptional knowledge of the money market should have made the criticism when the first offer was refused.

And Now as to Rate.
 The United States floated its big loan at 3 per cent. The next one will come a little higher. The Victoria loan came at 5 1/2 per cent. Farm mortgages in Ontario run at 6 per cent. It is true that some Western floatations are out at 7 per cent, but the bank rate in the West is 8 per cent, against our 6 per cent. He is surely a fine type of citizen who attempts to discourage the purchase of debentures by the rate, by telling the public that the rate is too low. There are still those who prefer the safe debenture investment at 5 1/2 per cent, to the mortgaged at 6 per cent, or to an unsecured deferred payment of interest which often obtains. And our humble opinion is, that with a very small issue of municipals throughout Canada during the present year, Council will be able to dispose of the remnant of 5 1/2 per cent debentures at a reasonable figure without any "butting in" from a novice.

Ten Burglars Arrested.
 Berliner Tageblatt, Monday, February 11, 1918.—The detective force of Berlin has succeeded in tracing a gang of ten burglars in Meibit and has arrested most of them. The burglars generally worked in the larger hotels and restaurants. They sold in Berlin the booty, consisting for the most part of provisions, such as coffee, of which several hundredweight was found in their possession. Equipped with revolvers and the most up-to-date burglar tools, they perpetrated their latest burglary in Koitbus, where they thoroughly ransacked, among others, the apartments of the military commander of the town.

AIRPLANE ACCIDENTS.

Fear is Rarely Experienced in Actual Flights.

The loss of life in airplane work in war is so heavy that it is important to determine the utmost the accidents which occur during training, which is costing so many Japanese beginners so dearly. The first step, obviously, is to find out what are the causes of accidents. In a London medical journal an analysis has just been made of the causes of accidents in the case of 9,000 flights involving 4,000 hours' flying, by the students of an airplane school. Out of the 9,000 flights there were 58 crashes, or one in every 155 flights. A crash is defined as such an accident as involves the removal of the airplane to workshops for repair or rebuilding. In the 58 crashes, 62 airmen were injured, which is equivalent to one pupil injured in 500 flights. Almost all the accidents were due to error of judgment. This was the case in 42 cases out of 58. Then came seven cases in which the fliers lost their heads four cases of brain fatigue, one of airplane defect, and four in which the cause was unavoidable. Under the headings "fear" and "physical illness"—two causes of airplane accidents which are not covered by the fact that fear is rarely experienced in actual flights, the mind being too much occupied and concentrated. Fear is seldom experienced in a degree sufficient to disturb the flight. "Many, however, confess to a sense of danger lurking somewhere at the back of the head, but say that it is not so strong as to affect their physical fitness, and that fatigue sometimes produces faintness or stupor. There have been faintings from high altitudes or wounds. Two pupils suffered in the air from attacks of malaria. One had an epileptic fit."

Petrograd's Scourge.
 That typhus should be reported on the increase in Petrograd is not surprising to the Lancet (London), which reminds one that typhus has been prevalent, mildly at least, in Petrograd since the Russian Government disorganized, refugees crowding in, and a general breakdown in sanitation agencies of Russia, naturally typhus will come back, concludes this journal. Yet it need not.

"With sanitation typhus fever gradually disappeared from Britain after the outbreak of the war. Hygiene is little practiced. When personal uncleanness, infestation by lice, overcrowding, and other insanitary conditions are aggravated by shortage of food and other necessities, as well as by the withdrawal of skilled medical and sanitary supervision, it is little wonder that a disease like exanthematic typhus has been able to increase and multiply. In the absence of a competent and responsible health authority to enforce appropriate preventive measures, including the isolation of the sick in hospital and destruction of food of vermin, the present epidemic will probably continue for some time.

"There is, therefore, the damper prospect immediately before the people of Petrograd that there will be a considerable increase of physical suffering to many of them, with a high proportion of fatal results, from a pestilence that is easily preventable if the teachings of modern medicine are followed."

China's Gains From the War.
 China stands to gain far more than she might lose by the war. The balance is almost wholly in her favor. In it she is to be reckoned with hope of release from the staggering indemnities inherited from the Boxer trouble, probable relief from foreign restrictions that keep her import duties at an unprofitable level, restoration of sovereignty over territorial concessions wrested from her in her greatest hours of weakness, more generous co-operation in developing her natural resources, and a more certain guarantee of her democracy and her political integrity.

Participation in the war gives China a double leverage for the attainment of the last named of these potential benefits. It will operate both internally and externally. The recent anarchical restoration of Gen. Chang Hsun served to emphasize the lack of cohesion that threatens China within. It was followed by continued rumblings of southern secession, which persisted up to the moment she declared war on Germany. At any time China might have burst into the flame of a civil strife between the radical south and the reactionary north. The facing of a national enemy would always be a powerful agent for quelling this internal dissension and for putting China's quarrelling patriots shoulder to shoulder. The very safeguard of the Chinese democracy resides, of course, in the benevolent protection assured by the family of allied nations.—Carroll K. Michener, in Review of Reviews.

HAMILTON BEAT CITY CRICKETERS

Cold Weather Did Not Entirely Spoil Play on Saturday

Cricket on the O. I. B. grounds Saturday afternoon was not as pleasant as it might have been owing to the cool weather prevailing, nevertheless some good cricket was seen. Brantford playing the return game with their old opponents, St. George's, who certainly came up well representing that the locals never got a look in. Going in first to bat they easily put together 147 runs, Jennings and Wise contributing 48 and 52, respectively, of that total by clean, hard hitting. A Smith also reaching double figures. Brantford replied with 39 runs, all told, Cyril Farnsworth being the only one to make double figures, that young player for the second time this season, making the highest number of runs for his side. W. Walsh also played a careful game, going in first and carrying out his bat for 6. C. Smith and W. Walsh did the best and most of the bowling for Brantford, while Stewart and Whitelaw bowled throughout for Hamilton.

Mr. G. A. Cole of the O.I.B. staff umpired very satisfactory throughout the game, and the locals were glad to welcome him. Mr. Cole is an enthusiastic cricketer and will be a good acquisition to the Brantford club if he can be prevailed upon to turn out. The Brantford players were glad to welcome their old friends.

Captain George Elliott has definitely decided to take his team to London on July 1st, and players are asked to be on hand for practice Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings.

FARMER AUTOISTS ARE IN MAJORITY
Now Outnumber City Car-Owners in Ontario, Statistics Show

FIGURES PRODUCED
Very little more than a decade ago—for it is only fifteen years since motor cars first were licensed in Ontario—the average farmer of the Province held the automobile and the automobile in supreme contempt, the former as the symbol of city plutocracy, and the latter as the "whore-child" of civilization in life was to share the live stock.
The average farmer, on impulse and general principle, hated the automobile and didn't care who knew it.
To-day what a difference!
The automobile has followed the rural telephone and free mail delivery in the transformation of country life. It is another factor in the abolition of the isolation of the farmer and the farmer's wife, and in bringing them into intimate contact with the pulsing life of the busy world.
And whereas in 1903, when motor cars first were licensed in this Province, no farmer was registered as owner of such vehicles—and no farmer would have dreamed of owning or driving any "such contraption"—to-day the farmer car-owners of Ontario number 23,409, according to the just issued official figures for 1917, leading by more than 50 per cent. the mechanics, manufacturers and other such typical urban classes.

The total registration of passenger cars for the year is given as 78,861, and in the analysis of ownership by occupations it is noticeable that "the poor farmer" is first, with a long lead, 23,409 strong. Merchants, manufacturers, etc., as a composite group, register 14,825. The skilled trades have representation by 10,937. Physicians use 2,505 cars, great or small, and other professional men 2,394. The commercial travellers of the Province employ 1,079 cars, in the prosecution of their business under modernized and vastly improved conditions.
The Taxicab Total.
Sixteen hundred and sixty-two taxicabs are at the service of the public, and 20,050 passenger motor vehicles are jumbled together under the "miscellaneous" ownership heading, making up the registered aggregate of 78,861.
And not only does analysis of statistics of ownership by occupation or calling, show the Ontario farmer to be the foremost motor fan of his province, but there is other irrefutable evidence in the same connection presented by examination into the "distribution of ownership."
The record in this respect shows a total of 31,098 passenger cars owned in provincial cities, of which almost half, 14,751 to be quite exact, are in Toronto. In the country districts, including the minor towns and villages, the score is 47,377, giving the country a majority lead in Ontario motor car ownership of 16,279—again more than 50 per cent.

At one time, and that time not long ago, the motor was owned only in the city, and was regarded almost as much as its symbol as the cheque book and the traffic cop. The proportion of city-owned cars is now rapidly declining, the Department of Highways shows by its motor vehicles statistics, and the occupation of owners and analysis of distribution suggest the extent to which motor vehicles are now employed by the farmers and used for business purposes—this with regard exclusively to the passenger cars, for trucks and commercial vehicles are treated in a quite different category.
Of the 78,861 Ontario-registry motor vehicles, no fewer than 70,409 are of the type commonly designated in the trade as "touring cars," while 6,786 are runabouts and 1,667 coupes, sedans and limousines. The commercial power vehicles, on the other hand, number but 4,929 in the total, thus classified and distributed: Ambulances, 41; 1-2 ton trucks, 29; 2 3-4 ton and 3 ton trucks, 1,563; 1 1/2 ton and 2 ton trucks, 513; 2 1/2 ton trucks, 24; 3 ton and 3 1/2 ton trucks, 576; 4 ton and 5 ton trucks, 118; 6 ton trucks and upward, twenty-three.

The classification of all the power vehicles of the province by power ratings shows 178 electric, 62,993 of less than 25 h.p., 11,859 of 25 to 30 h.p., 2,417 from 30 to 35 h.p., 11,586 from 35 to 50 h.p., and only 31 of 50 h.p. upward.
The motor cycles registered during the fiscal year number 5,180, an increase of 1,167 over the preceding year; licensed drivers numbered 8,214, in contrast with but 3,690 during the previous year.
First Licensed in 1908.
As illustrating the ratio of increase in registration of motor vehicles of all kinds in Ontario, the past year shows a total of 83,790 (passenger cars and commercial) as against 54,375 in the previous year, an increase for the twelve months of more than 50 per cent.
Motor cars were first licensed in Ontario in 1903, when 220 vehicles were registered. In 1917, the registration included 517 cars owned in

CHINESE TROOPS TO AID JAPANESE
"Want No Bolsheviki in China," Says Premier and War Minister
By Courier Leased Wire.
London, June 22.—Chinese soldiers are available for co-operation with the Japanese at Harbin and near the Siberian frontier and if necessary more will be sent General Tuan Chi-jui, the Chinese premier and war minister, told the Peking correspondent of the Daily Mail.
The premier added:
"The threatening situation on our front readily demands safeguards. We do not want the Bolsheviki in China."
With reference to Chinese participation in the war on the European theatre fronts, the premier said:
"I would like to help the allies and would be glad to send 40,000 or 50,000 troops, but am prevented by financial difficulties and the activities of the provincial rebels. I have sent 150,000 troops south. I am so positive that the Canton rebellion can be repressed within two months that a good many Chinese troops can be released for service elsewhere."
"France originally suggested that we send troops to the western front, the question of language and lack of training compelled us to lay the proposal aside."
Regarding the feeling the Chinese toward the Germans, General Chi-jui said that he generally could not distinguish between the Germans and the other Europeans; adding:
"But the enlightened classes remember that because a mob killed two missionaries, Germany forced us to cede Tsing Tiao and owing to that precedent places like Port Arthur and Wei Hai-Wei were alienated from China. But for Germany China would be whole to-day."
"Furthermore, it is impossible to forget that during the Boxer troubles German troops were ordered not to give quarter, while the invasion of the Imperial palace by German soldiers was a disgrace unparalleled in our civilization and will ever be remembered to the national consciousness. The Boxer rising itself was provoked by German bullying at Tsing Tiao. Besides how can we forget the Kaiser's criminal harping on the yellow peril."
The premier declared his intention of opening up China after the war by developing mineral deposits and extending railroads.

THE SITUATION

The Austrian offensive, which was planned to eliminate Italy as a further factor in the fighting, has been turned into an Austrian rout, with the defeated soldiers of the dual kingdom jostling each other in a disordered retreat over the Piave River.

SIR THOMAS WHITE MAY SUCCEED

The special correspondent of the Financial Post in New York points out that the announcement of Sir Thomas White's newest mission to Washington—this will be the fifth financial mission from Canada to the United States—gives fresh hope that the long-hoped-for Canadian credit will be established.

With the prospect of a 300,000,000-bushel wheat crop in the Dominion this year it becomes immediately clear that wheat will become a dominant factor in the exchange situation.

Until the new wheat commences to move it will not be surprising if the Canadian dollar dropped to a greater discount than has been witnessed already on this movement.

The opinion was expressed that Sir Thomas White would not have undertaken his latest trip to the U.S. capital had not the long drawn out negotiations reached something like a conclusion.

Board's decision has been arrived at. Fred Kent, vice-president of the Bankers' Trust Company, and at present a director of the Division of Foreign Exchange of the Federal Reserve Board, is authority for the statement that "negotiations have been under way for some time with the Canadian Bankers' Association which, if successful, will establish a control over the foreign exchange in Canada similar to that now being exercised in the United States."

A BASEBALL TROPHY FOR ONTARIO AMATEURS.

The Toronto Daily News Challenge Cup, which will be competed for, for the first time this fall, by clubs playing under the auspices of the newly formed Ontario Baseball Amateur Association, is a massive silver trophy over three feet in height, and weighs 150 lbs. In addition to the trophy, which will remain the property of the champion team for one year, the Daily News is giving each member of the winning team a handsome replica of the cup.

will then be possible to eliminate the necessity of taking customers' statements in connection with Canadian business.

In explanation of the latter it should be pointed out that before a New York bank will sell a draft on Canada particulars of the reason for the customer's purchase must be obtained. This has become a war-time precaution.

The importance of the coming wheat crop to the Canadian exchange situation may be gauged from the results of the past year. Wheat never was a more vital factor in Canadian-American commerce than since reciprocity in wheat went into effect in April, 1917. For the calendar year 1917 and the first quarter of 1918 wheat to the value of $50,994,394 was shipped from Canada to the United States, this country presumably being the medium for consignments overseas.

No Eligibles at Guelph College

Ottawa, June 24.—Apparently none of the young men, members of St. Stanislaus Novitiate at Guelph, are liable for military service. The Militia Department stated this morning that information had been received by telegram from the rector of the Novitiate to the effect that John O'Halloran, one of the young men referred to in a former statement as being liable for service, is an American citizen, and in possession of his United States registration papers. The other young men, John Holland, the rector stated, was a tonsured cleric before the proclamation under the Military Service Act.

SCORES ARE KILLED IN CIRCUS TRAIN WRECK

Wallace-Hagenbeck Show Was Wiped Out by Frightful Rear-end Collision—Veterans of Circus World Meet Horrible Death

By Courier Leased Wire. Hammond, Ind., June 24.—Two investigations have been ordered by official bodies into the cause of the wreck last Saturday on the Michigan Central Railroad near Gary, in which 85 employees of the Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus were killed and approximately 150 injured. The coroner was ready to begin hearing witnesses to-day and the Indiana Public Service Commission announced that an inquiry would be opened next Thursday. It is expected the Interstate Commerce Commission will also join in the investigation. Sixty-two bodies have been recovered from the wreck and according to E. M. Ballard, general manager of the circus, 23 of the employees are still missing and are supposed to have been destroyed by fire which consumed the wooden circus cars.

Gary, Ind., June 23.—Sixty-two persons are known to be dead and 129 are in hospitals in Gary. Hammond to-night as a result of the rear-end collision at dawn yesterday, between an equipment train and a Wallace-Hagenbeck circus train on the Michigan Central Railroad, five miles west of Gary. Virtually all victims were members of the circus.

Edward M. Hallard, general manager of the circus, to-night issued a statement, saying figures compiled indicated that probably 85 persons had been killed. He said a hasty tabulation of scattered employees showed 23 missing in addition to the 150 injured. He said that 24 identified dead, most of the missing were said to be "razor backs." Many of them negroes. F. S. Whipple, railroad train master, also has been given up as dead. Parts of two tangled steel and timbers which was circus train were dug out to-night. The authorities said that if the death list is as great as estimated by circus men, the additional bodies probably were reduced to ashes.

Investigation showed that these two young men were apparently the only members of the Novitiate liable for service. Upon the statement of facts, with regard to them, submitted to the department by the rector, neither of them is liable for service. It was stated at the department that as great as estimated by circus men, the additional bodies probably were reduced to ashes.

JURY DISMISSED. By Courier Leased Wire. New York, June 24.—Because it was learned one of the jurors, who has been hearing testimony in the trial of John J. O'Leary, has been under indictment for some time in a federal proceeding, Judge Hand today dismissed the jury and ordered a new trial on the charge against O'Leary, accused of having aided his brother, Jeremiah, in an attempt to evade justice. The defendant has been held in the Tombs under $100,000 bail pending the outcome of the case. This was reduced to $10,000, which counsel for defense said would be furnished. The new trial was set down for June 26.

RUSSIA RULERS IN GERMAN PAY

Nine-Tenths of the People Desire Intervention by Japan

RED GUARD THIEVES Those Who Protest Are Arrested and Shot Before Reaching Court

New York, June 23.—Herman Bernstein, the writer, who called for Russia six months ago believing that the Bolsheviks would establish a stable government returned today, convinced, he said, that Lenin, Trotsky and their followers were in the pay of Germany. He declared that nine-tenths of the people desire intervention by Japan, with allied approval, to put an end to the chaotic conditions resulting from soviet control.

"The Red Guard is nothing but a band of thieves," said Mr. Bernstein. "It is not uncommon to see officers on the street relieving people of their valuables. To protest means arrest and in Russia to-day a man who is arrested usually is shot before he reaches a court of justice."

Mr. Bernstein declared that Korensky has lost his popularity with the Russian people, who blame him for failure to crush the Bolshevik revolution when he had the power. Lenin will resign.

Zurich, June 23.—Nikolai Lenin, the Bolshevik Premier of Russia, has expressed his intention of resigning his office, according to a Moscow despatch published in the Deutsche Tageszeitung, of Berlin. The Premier made this decision despite the vote of confidence in him recently passed by the Soviet committee, the despatch states.

FINE RESPONSE.

The citizens of Brantford co-operated in a splendid way in the matter of registration. The returns have not yet been tabulated but they will show a response from practically everyone.

BUILDING PERMITS.

Mrs. Wallace, 284 Brant Avenue, has been issued a permit through the city engineer's department for the erection of a porch estimated to cost $99. A permit has also been issued Louis A. Perry, 269 Brant Avenue for $70 renovation to the interior of his residence.

VETERAN HOME.

W. F. Hannaford, one of the "Original Firsts" arrived in the city quietly on Saturday night, when Mr. Hannaford had been at the front for a long period and lost the use of both legs while in action. He is now staying at the home of his mother, 271 West Mill Street.

TIMETABLE CHANGES.

The new boat service connecting with the Grand Trunk will mean another train running through Brantford. Going east to Toronto on Sunday, Tuesday and Friday the train leaves here at 11:38 a.m. and west to Sarnia, London and connecting points on Monday, Wednesday and Saturday the train leaves here at 12:53 noon. A slight change has been made in the 3:28 Toronto train, this leaving here at 8:27.

IS WOUNDED.

Mrs. E. Fisher, 196 Erie avenue, received word on Saturday that Sapper Percy Fisher, of the Engineers, was admitted on June 11 to No. 32 stationary hospital, Wimereux, suffering from gunshot wounds in the legs and a fractured ankle. Sapper Fisher went overseas as a member of the 36th battalion three years ago, and has been in France since March last.

A.O.F. OFFICER DEAD.

Word was received in the city on Saturday of the death in Toronto of W. Williams, secretary emeritus of the Ancient Order of Foresters, and one of the best known members of that order in Ontario. Mr. Williams for nearly 30 years discharged the duties of high court secretary, and in this capacity was well known locally. Mr. F. L. VALUE IN DEAD LETTERS.

More than two and a quarter million dollars' worth of checks, drafts, money orders and other valuable papers were found in undelivered letters by the dead letter office during the last year, and practically all were restored to their owners. The first assistant postmaster-general announces that the dead letter division handled 10,330,830 letters and parcels during the year, a slight increase over the previous year. One third of these letters and parcels, or 3,577,194, was delivered, 101,485 contained things of value without clew to their senders and were held for claimants, 7,010,436 are to be destroyed and 41,775 still are being investigated.

STRUCK BY CAR.

A horse driven by Edsel Pless was killed, and the driver had a narrow escape, on Saturday night, when Mr. Pless and his car struck the wagon which Mr. Pless was driving, near the Mount Pleasant crossing. Mr. Pless was thrown from his seat and sustained a fractured knee and other minor injuries. In addition to a severe shock, he is expected to recover. He was removed to his home at 48 Oak street, and is being attended by Dr. Pissette. The horse was badly cut and was killed almost instantaneously, and the body remained lying upon the roadside until County Constable Taylor was informed, and saw to its removal. The wagon was absolutely smashed.

LULL IN RECRUITING.

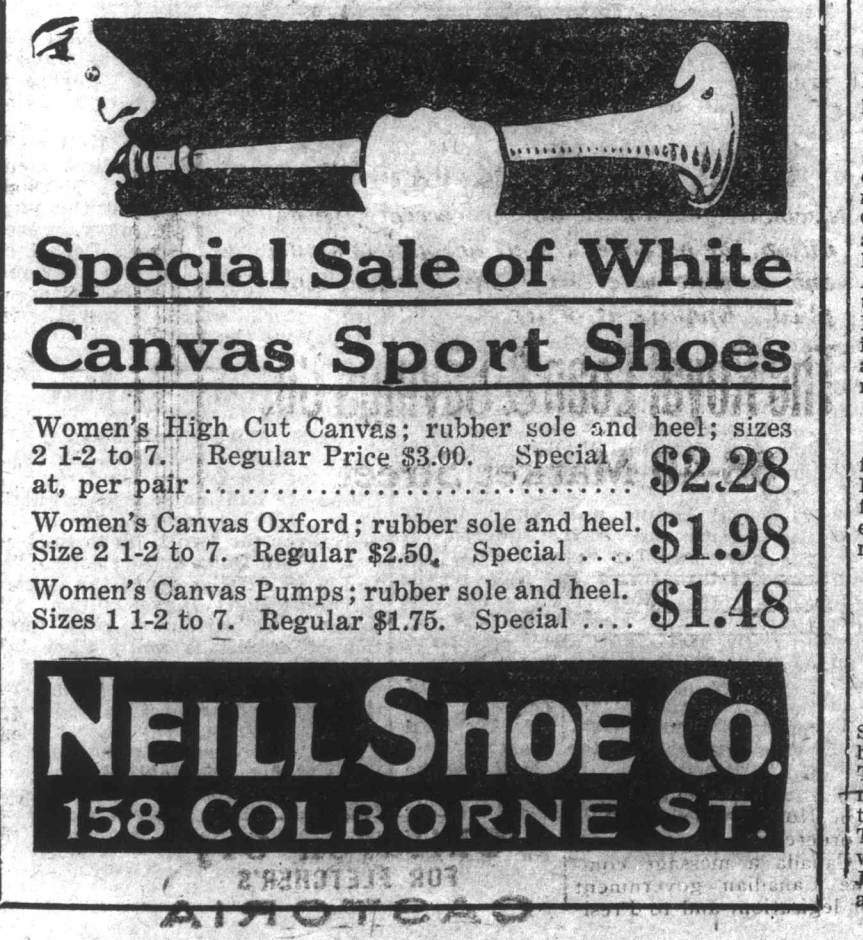

It is again reported by the Royal Air Force that owing to the large influx of cadets, recruiting for this branch of the air service has temporarily ceased, except for men of the 19-year-old class under the Military Service Act. Authority has been received from Ottawa to enlist these men as cadets and place them on a reserve list. This does not mean that the R. A. F. has completed its recruiting, but simply that a temporary lull has been called to allow the schools to deal with the large supply already on hand. It is most likely that a further call for cadets will be made in the course of two months, which call will include men eligible under the Military Service Act.

ADDITIONS TO MOTOR TRUCKS.

J. H. Secord and Son have obtained this new permits from the city engineer's office for the erection of new buildings for the Motor Trucks Ltd. on Murray street between Elgin and Durham streets. These buildings which will mean a $40,000 addition to the present extensive works include a $12,000 brick boiler house 43 x 100 ft., a $20,000 heat treating building, size 80 by 200 ft., and a 41 by 132 ft. brick tool room, the latter to cost $3,000.

REGISTRATION.

Registration Day passed without the slightest friction on the part of the citizens generally and the registrars. It is thought that almost without exception all have done their bit and although no returns have yet been made it is believed that Brantford registrants alone will number 18,000 and Brantford and Oakland townships total 7,000. Those not having registered should do so at once, as registrars having been established for this purpose in the old post office. This should be done without delay to avoid penalty. District Registrar A. E. Ball of this city stated this morning that the entire section had been covered and only in one place was there an attempt of a disturbance. Caution was observed in the local railway ticket offices to-day and all ticket purchasers were made to show their registration cards. This is a necessary proceeding as an agent selling a ticket without seeing this card may be penalized.

KNIGHTS OF MALTA REPORT PROGRESS

New Commanderies to be Located in Hamilton and Welland

CHANGE IN STATUTES

Officers Were Elected and Brantford Chosen as the Next Place of Meeting

The Chapter-General of Canada of the Knights of Malta concluded a two-days' convocation in Toronto, Saturday afternoon. Nearly 200 delegates were in attendance. Grand Master Thos. Jenkins presided, and read his allocution, which was patriotically worded and detailed his official activities, rulings and decisions.

Grand Chancellor H. J. Bentley reported an increase of 121 in membership, and that applications for new commanderies on the order would be submitted. The new commanderies are to be located in Hamilton and Welland.

The financial affairs of the order were set out in the report of the Grand Almoner, A. Rowley, showing a surplus of over $10,000, with no liabilities.

The seasons were strictly business. Owing to war conditions, social entertaining and parade features were eliminated, with the exception of an informal luncheon.

A few changes were made in the statutes of the order, and the almoner authorized to purchase $2,000 Victory bonds in October.

Brantford men elected for the 1918 convocation: Grand Master, Ald. John A. Cowan; Toronto; Grand Lieutenant, C. B. Wright; Brantford; Grand Prelate, W. R. Gocking; Grand Captain of the Guard, Thos. Waters; Grand Chancellor, H. J. Bentley; Toronto; Grand Almoner, A. Rowley; Weston; Grand H. of A., A. S. Korman; Hamilton; Grand S. B. C. W. Hall; Grand Marshal, Albert Pugh; Grand Guards, L. LT. H. A. HARPER IS KILLED IN ACTION

Well Known Western Officer Was Husband of a Brantford Girl

Edmonton Weekly Topics and The Western Veteran both contain in recent issues heartfelt tributes to the late Lieut. H. A. Harper, who was killed in action with the 5th Battalion, Canadian Highlanders.

Dear Mrs. Harper—It is with great regret that I have to inform you that your husband was killed by a shell on the 15th. He was killed instantaneously and must have felt nothing. I know that at a time like this, it is little use offering sympathy, but I assure you, we all give you our sympathy.

Yours sincerely, W. C. ORR, Col. The following officers were elected: Grand Master, Ald. John A. Cowan; Toronto; Grand Lieutenant, C. B. Wright; Brantford; Grand Prelate, W. R. The threatened trouble on the Six Nations Reserve, in connection with registration, did not materialize to any notable extent.

Major Smith, Superintendent, went down with six special constables, and had matters well in hand. The agitators attempted to secure the keys of the school houses from the caretakers, but were forestalled.

Quite a number registered, but not by any means all, and it is stated that many came to Brantford on Saturday and quietly did so. It is also reported that others are registering this morning at the post office in Middleport. It is said that the Food Controller has ordered general stores in and about the Reserve not to serve goods to those who failed to take out their papers.

HONOR ROLL UNVEILED

Fourth Tablet at Colborne St. Church Dedicated to Men Overseas

Colborne Street Methodist Church held service last night honoring its men overseas. An honor roll of the names of twenty inscribed in letters of gold was unveiled by the former pastor of the church, Rev. W. E. Baker. The complete roll of Colborne Street Church's heroes occupies four panels making a total of 106 inscriptions from the church, three of her sons having made the supreme sacrifice. The members of the G.W.V.A., some 70 in number, attended in a body, and the veterans mostly in uniform, added much to the tone of what might be called one of the most fitting services of the sort yet held in the city.

Col. Cutcliffe, late of 135th Batt., and Major Henderson, 54th Battery, were called upon by Rev. Clarke Logan for messages from Brantford boys overseas. Col. Cutcliffe in tones of regret spoke of the breaking up of his battalion in England. The 135th had the best record of all the battalions in the camp and on the day of the starting of their ways all had an almost heart-rending task bidding farewell to their comrades. Col. Cutcliffe offered any information which relatives and friends might like to have regarding their boys in the Brant Battalion.

Major Henderson spoke of the splendid record of his 54th battery. Five Colborne Street Church boys had been with this unit and happily all were still in fighting trim. Though the battery was broken up on arrival in France the three wings of the unit had established a great name for themselves, officers and men alike having acquitted themselves well.

Rev. Mr. Baker preached a most informative and gladdening sermon on "Some things our Soldiers are Teaching us."

"It is not easy to be a Christian," said the ex-pastor. "We are combating with evils that would rob us of our birthright. It is a hard fight from start to finish. But every Christian knows the goal at the end."

Our soldiers are a lesson to us on modesty. They have done their bit, and done it well, "without making a song of it." Too many claiming to be earnest Christians are braggarts as to the hardships which they would only have to bear if they were true followers of Christ.

For the sake of righteousness our men are being killed. Do they have a talk of war as a glorious affair? Are they anxious to get back after their first spell in the trenches? "They have stood up to their duty and are still there as men like men," said the speaker "but if this 'killing business' could possibly be avoided without a 'peace-at-any-price' men would not be out of the war."

The reward of the veterans will not be, according to Rev. Baker, so much being petted and banqueted as the way in which the Canadians kept their men to man after the war. The pulse of Canada will beat right. We will see that our men are established in fitting occupations.

The morals of the men at the front depends largely on the spirit of those at home. "We must live up to our men. The enemy appears to be in a feverish haste for victory. Let us have patience and faith in our armies and remember that the individual character of each Britisher is the secret of Britain's greatness."

The fourth panel of the honor roll was unveiled by Rev. Baker, being the father of one, and having been acquainted with all those whose names were thereon inscribed. The text chosen by Canon Hill for his sermon, and in his opening remarks he pointed out the peculiar fitness of the prophet's promise in such a time as this.

Thousands of Canadian sons had left their soil, many never to return; thousands more were placing themselves in readiness to take their places in the battle line when their turn came. While the blood of the whole empire was stirred, the precious promise given above bade all to hope for a spiritual revival and to hold fast to the very name of the prophet, "Hosea" meant "salvation," and he had lived in a time as momentous, in his own way, as the present. Three thousand years had passed since that promise had been given, "but," declared the speaker, "the word of the Lord will endure always." A perfect faith in God, such as had animated David, was needed to-day.

Silent Service of Navy. Passing to the manner of the empire's response to the call, Canon Hill pointed out that not much is read of the splendid silent service of the navy. Only when some special-ty daring feat was performed, did the world learn of the glorious loyalty, the splendid courage and indomitable perseverance of the men of the British fleet.

"Think of them," appealed the speaker, "day in and day out, year in and year out, patrolling the seas, keeping watch. It is a wonderful navy, its leaders wonderful leaders, and its men wonderful men."

Yet it was not the might of the navy, nor the courage of our soldiers, nor the numbers of our armies upon which we should depend for victory; it was only with the blessing of God that we could rely upon these. All felt the need of a revival in the church, felt and admitted.

"Do you ask yourself 'What can I do to stop the Hun rush?' Demand Canon Hill, 'What did God do to stop the army of Sennacherib? Is His arm shortened or is He less able to-day? No, it is not that; we are not yet down on our knees, we have not yet humbled ourselves, but we are still trusting in the pride of our hearts, to the might of our army and navy. Victory comes not by life afloat with the fleet. The many or by few, but by the grace of God."

The call to prayer issued by the governor-general for next Sunday was a call to everyone who believed in the power of God, to make humble intercession. Only when Britain had done this had she been successful. Napoleon had not recognized that fact, but he was forced to admit that, while Britain did not always win her first battles, she always won the last—because by English people were on their knees by the millions. The answer would not be long in coming, the answer of the text, which offered us the key to all our desires. "They that dwell under His shadow shall revive," was the promise given—"they may revive."

Special hymns were sung during the service and prayers offered for the navy and for victory. At the close of the service, the flags of the allies were borne through the church in a procession headed by Rev. Dr. Hall and Chief Petty Officer P. A. Smith of the Royal Navy.

The ceremony of the procession of the Allied flags was repeated last night at Zion Church, Rev. Dr. Hall being assisted by the pastor, Rev. G. A. Woodside. Dr. Hall spoke upon the subject, "What the Navy is Doing," giving a graphic and stirring account of the heroic renderings by the silent watchers of the seas and

NAVAL FESTIVAL IN CITY CHURCHES

Special Services Were Conducted Morning and Evening Yesterday

PROCESSION OF FLAGS

"Eternal Father, strong to save, Whose arm doth bind the restless wave, Who bid'st the mighty ocean deep Its own appointed limits keep, O hear us when we cry to Thee, For those in peril on the sea."

The thoughts of all were far away, with the brave watchers of the sea who stand as the bulwark of Britain's might, when the above words were sung at Grace church yesterday morning, and following a score of flags, the ensigns of the armies and navies of the allied powers, were borne through the church and deposited at the entrance to the chapel.

The occasion was the special naval service conducted yesterday morning by Rev. Canon Hill, formerly of Regina, and Rev. Dr. Alfred Hall, senior naval chaplain for Canada. The church was filled almost to the doors, and a spirit of interest and devotion was manifest throughout the service, in keeping with the plea delivered by the Rev. Canon Hill for a spiritual revival and greater resorting to prayer throughout the empire.

"They that dwell under His shadow shall revive," the prophecy uttered by the prophet Hosea, was the text chosen by Canon Hill for his sermon, and in his opening remarks he pointed out the peculiar fitness of the prophet's promise in such a time as this.

Thousands of Canadian sons had left their soil, many never to return; thousands more were placing themselves in readiness to take their places in the battle line when their turn came. Registration!

The registration for this district was finished on Saturday night without any confusion or inconvenience to the public.

I wish to thank those who by their foresight and consideration for us registered early, thereby removing the danger of congestion on the last day. This plan showed the wisdom of the CANADA REGISTRATION BOARD in allowing us to work in advance.

Very few people exhibited any criticism or made complaints, which we take as a further evidence that Canadians are prepared to endorse any plan that helps in meeting war conditions.

The manufacturers were courteous and gave splendid assistance, for which I heartily thank them. I feel it my duty to remind all employers of labor that their employees must have certificates.

It has taken a lot of hard work and careful organization to complete our registration with so little friction.

For the CANADA REGISTRATION BOARD and for myself I take this opportunity of thanking the deputies, assisting deputies and other helpers for the diligent service they have rendered—over four hundred active workers were busily engaged in this voluntary service, and I had not one instance of friction or unpleasantness, and a paid staff could not have been more active or prompt.

Our organization throughout the county, consisting chiefly of the Women's Institute, and the Teaching Profession gave very efficient service, and no confusion occurred; thanks to their industry and support.

We registered many home-tied people, but likely some were missed. They can register, when fit to go out, with the Postmaster.

I have been requested by the Provincial Department to segregate the male farm help cards at once, which will surely relieve the farm labor problem.

We are sorry we cannot duplicate lost certificates. Write to Ottawa. Our headquarters will now be in the Old Post Office Building, until the details are finished. Phone Bell 973.

COVERING RETREAT By Courier Leased Wire Italian Army Headquarters, June 24.—(By the Associated Press) South of the Zenson bend the Austrians are fighting rear guard actions to cover the retreat of their main body over the two bridges they have left at San Dona and Crostera, three and a half miles from the Adriatic.

The Italians have taken large numbers of prisoners, great quantities of munitions and other booty, since the Austrian retreat began.

The Italians are advancing from their bridgehead at Cape Sile. The Austrian retreat, which began in an orderly manner, soon became wildly disorganized and confused. Many thousands of Austro-Hungarians surrendered at the first opportunity when overtaken by their pursuers.

ORCUTT'S BRANTS DEFEAT WESTERN ONTARIO REGIMENT

Muir, in the Box for the Pros., Is Found Too Elusive by the Soldiers

London, June 24.—A big crowd of soldiers saw their baseball team's colors lowered on Saturday afternoon at Tecumseh Park by Del Orcutt's Brantford "pros." by the score of 15 to 0. The respective strength of the teams, however, cannot be measured as a result of that count.

The Western Ontario Regiment team was helpless with their bats against the pitching of Harvey Muir, the Hamilton boy, who years ago twirled a few games in the Canadian League. Muir kept five hits well scattered, and the balance of the Brantford team had comparatively an easy time in the field.

Kenneth Hagel, in the box for the pros., apparently was unable to hurl his best article of ball owing to the cold wind which swept the diamond, but these elements just seemed to be the liking of Muir. Hagel was touched up for 4 hits, in bunches, and coming with some loose fielding accounted for the one-sided trouncing. Team Captain Sergt. McLeod could not relieve Hagel in the first inning, as he had no relief pitchers.

The playing field was rough, but this did not handicap the Brants as it did the boys who were over.

A close decision at the plate by Umpire Fitzmaurice robbed the soldiers of the opportunity of not being shut-out. Fulton was on second in the fifth inning when Vandellinger singled to centre field. A smart throw from McKelvie got to the plate at the same time that Fulton slid across.

The Brants got busy with their bats in the first inning, found Hagel for three singles, and these coupled with a base on balls to "Dinny" Burke, and an error by Hagel, resulted in three runs, which resulted in being sufficient. The Brants added two more in the second and then some more. The scores:

Sporting Comment

(By Veteran Observer.) What professional player of the olden time compared with Tyrus Cobb, Detroit's famous outfielder of the present age—compared with him as a player, as a drawing card and in general usefulness to his team? This was the question put to me the other night in a discussion relative to the ability of the olden time players compared with the stars of the present day.

Cobb is a sure-enough star, but I call to mind two outfielders of the olden time who compared with him in all directions.

I refer to Harry Stovey, manager, captain and left fielder of the Athletics, of Philadelphia, thirty years ago, and M. J. Kelly, the right fielder of the old Chicago White Stockings.

As a base runner Stovey had Cobb beaten a mile. It was no trick at all for Stovey to steal home, and frequently he would take three strikes for the mere joy of stealing first in the event of the catcher dropping the third strike.

Stovey was successful because he circled the act. Anybody can run fast if he is young and alert and has a lengthy pair of legs.

But Stovey is the only man I can remember who mastered the art of sliding feet first into a base, beginning twenty feet from the sack, skidding along on his left hip until he struck the bag, and then pulling himself to the perpendicular without the use of his hands and in plenty of time to start right out to second in case the fielder's throw to first was wild.

There have been many great base runners since Stovey's time, but none to compare with him. Kelly Great Slider.

Next to Stovey, Mike Kelly was the greatest slider I ever saw. He was without a peer as a base runner. He was a tall chap and a slow runner and could not have made 100 yards in less than 14 seconds. His great secret, first, was the slide. He had the knack of throwing his body away from the fielder and from the base down so fine that with a fielder waiting for him with the ball he could throw himself out of the way and make the bag. That alone would not have enabled him to be the base runner he was were it not for his ability to always get away to a splendid start.

He seemed to have an intuition which told him just when to start, and thus he could make a better record than many runners who were a deal faster than he.

Music and Drama

Puppaki, who acts in Metro's "Under Suspicion" is a wise monkey. He will not bite a screen star.

Every other person connected with the production of "Under Suspicion" at the studio, has been bitten by this nervous little animal, but to the two stars, Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne, Puppaki's manner is perfect and his disposition ideal.

"Fatty" Arbuckle had the time of his young life at Arrowhead Springs, Cal. "Good Night, Nurse," which has to do with adventures in a sanitarium. Picture the rotund Roscoe decked out in a special wardrobe of gorgeous silk pyjamas and bathrobe and then remember that no flight of the imagination ever pictured "Fatty" as funny as he really is.

Bill Hart sold soft drinks at his own Western bar at the Lasky studios at Hollywood on the night of June 8, when the entire West Coast organization of the Famous Players Corporation joined forces in a big dance and fair for the benefit of the Folks at Home Fund, which was started for the dependent families of the men from the studios who have gone to the front or are in camp. All the luminaries were there, including Mary Pickford, Wallace Reid, Ann Little, Douglas Fairbanks, Theodore Roberts, Fred Stone, Ethel Clayton and dozens and dozens of others, and Roscoe Arbuckle threw the entire weight of his personality into the balance to insure the success of the season's biggest event in Hollywood.

Rippling Rhymes

AN IMMORAL MAN, be Old Hindenburg, whom Tontons praise, should draw ten dollars or ten days. His name each day, in lurid tints, appears in all the public prints, and always linked with some pink deed that makes the reader's bosom bleed. He is so keen to fight and slay; he desecrates the Sabbath in an amoral manner in the trenches, who'd rather be attending kirk. His misdemeanors never cease; some new disturbance of the peace is charged against him every day; he shoots the statute books away. Discharging firearms is his fad; although there is in every good law forbidding men to shoot—but laws don't worry that old Tom. He tressages on farmers' land, and spoils the crops to beat the band. "Six weeks' notice" signs he doubtless sees, for they are nailed up on the trees, but signs don't stop this lawless Hun, with his long range brooch looking ganks, but he grow weary of his pranks. A little non-sense now and then is relished by the wisest men, but when a cut-up takes no rest, but plays his tricks with growing zest, and spoils our hats, and steals our sheep and fires our whiskers while we sleep, our patience soon or late will fail, and we'll escort him to the jail.

Movement Against Bolsheviki Falls

Gen. Semenov's Attempt in Eastern Siberia Has Proved Abortive

Harbin, Wednesday, June 19.—(By The Associated Press)—General Semenov's movement against the Bolsheviki in eastern Siberia has proved definitely abortive in the opinion of British and French military observers in Manchuria. Although not defeated in battle, General Semenov has been surrounded by superior forces and obliged to retreat into Manchuria, there being no other course. The Chinese authorities have demanded that he disarm and cross the frontier into and surrender his cannon and munitions. General Semenov has refused the demand, but recognizes that unless a third power intervenes the surrender of his arms is imperative.

The Bolsheviki forces operating along the Trans-Siberian railway and against General Semenov are assisted by from two to three thousand released German and Austrian prisoners. Good discipline is being enforced and the army has two air-planes in use.

All the Cossacks recruited in conquered territory by General Semenov have gone over to the Bolsheviki in order to preserve their homes and their families. They joined Semenov gladly, but his retreat left their possessions at the mercy of the Bolsheviki. Their attitude toward Semenov is hostile. The Russians alone to fight the Bolsheviki and released prisoners.

It is reported that the forces under General Orloff, who has been ordered to assist General Semenov had decided not to advance, believing that it is useless to continue the struggle against the Bolsheviki. On the eastern Manchurian front on June 17, independent forces under General Kalmakoff attacked the Bolsheviki at Grodekovo. The Bolsheviki were driven back in bitter engagement, but counter-attacked and compelled Kalmakoff to retreat to Pegrantchnaya.
