KOOTNEY FRUIT LANDS

Said to be the best in Canada—
 New and Prolific Field for investment

Mr. McGray, of the O. W. Kerr Co Ltd., of Winnipeg, was in the city a few days ago, and in a chat with one of our staff, had a great deal of interesting information to impart on fruit lands in the Kootney. He states that there is a remarkable movement going on in that district, of which Nelson is the centre, and as yet, the movement has only be-

was limited, but that good land could be obtained from $50 to $150 per acre according to location. Land similarly situated in Washington and Oregon are selling at from $300 to $600, and improved fruit lands in the Yakima valley are worth $1000 to $1500 per acre. Mr. Mc-Gray avers that this disparity in land values must disappear. There is no reason for its existence, except lack of advertising. The soil and the climate conditions are virtually the same as in the other districts, and the market values higher.

The present opportunity of buying in the Kootney is exceptional, for the investor or settler, and the near future will see a marked appreciation in values.

OBITUARY

(Contributed.)

"Am I to have taught that is fair, might but the bearded grey,"— Longfellow.

God has sent His messenger, for His own good ends. The grim reaper, Death has breathed upon one of our beloved, he has folded her in his arms—one dear one is called hence.

On Friday, January 25, Margaret Ellen Stubbings, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Stubbings, Oiler Street, died at Winnipeg, Man-ita, as she was familiarly known, went to Winnipeg some months ago for her health, and it was thought was improving when the dread message arrived and her young life closed.
 Her death comes as a severe shock to her parents, sisters and brothers as well as to the host of friends in Regina and elsewhere.

Nannie held a place in St. Mary's parish that was peculiarly her own, and the reverend clergy and parish-oners alike share in sorrow for her early demise. In St. Mary's parish Nannie made her first communion, attended school and for ten years

MOTHERWELL AND MILLAR HUNTING PARTRIDGE

Over her motionless breast,
 Smooth back the brown hair,
 Close the dear eyes.

Leave her to sleep with the best.
 A tribute from one who loved her dearly.

Miss Stubbings' funeral took place Tuesday morning from St. Mary's church at 11 o'clock. For half an hour the tolling of the bells announced the solemn service which was carried out with all the impressive ceremonies of the church. Rev.
 Father Sully, attended by five altar boys, was the celebrant. Rev. Father Habets, O.M.I., presided at the organ while the choir was most ably assisted by Rev. Fathers Sully and Schulte. The singing of the "Dies Irae" being especially fine. The altar, pulpit and communion rail were very tastefully draped in black and white, while tall palms and more than fifty lights were arranged beside the bier. The church was filled with sympathizing friends, who after the service viewed the remains. Noticeable in the congregation were the Capital hockey team who attended in a body, a striking tribute to Willie Stubbings, a brother of the deceased who is a member of the team.

The pall bearers were Ald. Kusch, Messrs. F. Baker, J. McCarthy, D.
 Bennett, J. Foly and W. Corrigan.
 The coffin was covered with beautiful floral tributes.

The West joins in sympathy for
 Mr. and Mrs. Stubbings and family.

They Desert the Farmers in Needy Hour—Criticism Grain Growers' Executive

The following letter by Hon. W.R.
 Motherwell and John Millar has resulted as the development of a certain feature of the Farmers vs.
 Grain Dealers' case before the courts, and while publishing this epistle now without comment we shall deal with the matter in our next issue, for there are some very interesting things to be said in this connection.

THE LETTER.

"In the interests of organized agriculture in the west, as well as the public interest generally the undersigned feel constrained to make public certain facts in connection with the proceedings recently taken against certain Winnipeg grain dealers by parties who deem themselves aggrieved.

"Incidentally we might say at the outset that had the royal grain commission now taking evidence, of which one of the undersigned is the chairman, completed its labors, reported to the government and then nothing had been done to remedy the grievance complained of, it would then have been perfectly in order for those who asked for the commission to take such further action as the circumstances of the case seemed to warrant to compel required reform.
 But almost at the outset to practically take the matter out of the hands of the commission was surely a step as ill-advised as it was unnecessary, besides being an open affront to the commission, though it was probably not intended as such. And further, when it is remembered that the private prosecutor with the undersigned were the parties who, acting on behalf of the western farmers, requested the federal government to appoint a royal commission, the prosecution proceedings seem all the more regrettable.

 It is also worth considering the possible effect of this injudicious action upon the standing of our association, should we have occasion in the future, as we doubtless shall,
 to make further requests for the appointment of tribunals of enquiry into matters affecting the western farmer.

CRITICISM FOR PARTRIDGE.

"But it was not of this that we wished to speak particularly, as it is readily recognized that however unfortunate, what is done is done, and that the matter has now passed out of the hands of the private prosecutor into those of the attorney general of Manitoba. It is in explanation of the part that Saskatchewan farmers have played in this impetuous action, which, while apparently laudable, is really in our humble judgment unfortunate, and the means by which it was accomplished."

BACK TO THE OLD CHAMBER

Owing to unforeseen circumstances, among which is the unfortunate illness of Premier Scott, the coming session of the legislature will not be held in the Michaelis block as intended, and the house will in all probability again convene in the historic old building on Dewdney Street. It was thought that the legislature sat there for the last time, but J. F. Bole M. L. A., manager of the Regina Trading Co'y, informs the West that he finds his business requiring the floor in the Michaelis annex, which if the session had been held in January as intended, could have been used for legislative purposes. To let the government have the building now, however, would be to inconvenience his business to a serious extent, and he can not see his way clear to do this. At present there is no other down town building available.

on, and in case irrigation is desired, the simple and sure means of obtaining it is to make use of the streams and creeks flowing down the mountains, over the fruit land areas into the lakes and rivers. This, it may be said, is in direct contrast with the Okanagan Valley district, which occupies what is called the dry belt, and which can only be brought into a state of cultivation by construction and operation of expensive systems of artificial irrigation.

In discussing the problem of fruit culture, Mr. McGray stated that an acre of orchard will easily produce a three hundred dollar crop, while returns from strawberries, and other small fruits will nearly triple these figures. From this it is seen that from ten to twenty acres is sufficient to afford a snug annual income that would be considered highly satisfactory on many a three hundred, and twenty acre farm, while it is needless to add that the climate and surroundings in the Kootney are infinitely more enjoyable and the work much lighter.

As the prices of fruit land in this district, Mr. McGray advises that the area available for fruit culture presided most creditably at the organ in the parish church, being scarcely fourteen years of age when she played mass for the first time. She was ever in her place, ever ready at practices and services, being possessed of a most agreeable personality, who was beloved by everyone who ever belonged to the choir, and her place will be hard to fill. To her dear ones our deepest sympathy goes out. In this their hour of almost sacred sorrow, we trust He who has power to take their dear one will strengthen and comfort them, granting them resignation to His Holy will. Take comfort, dear stricken friends in the thought that death does not take away, it only seals our dear one to us. Are not only our dear ones, the only possessions we can call our own, what else can we keep? When will be tomorrow the friends we have today? Lost!

 Changed! Gone—Where in a few years will be the strong loving hand we have gathered around us?
 "Gone, forever gone, and in their places
 "Weary men and anxious women stand."
 All except our dear departed ones, they are ours still, in safe keeping where we hope one day to meet them —the children of our affection, for as Adelaide Proctor so sweetly says
 "Nothing is our own, we hold our treasures
 "Just a little while o'er they are led;
 "One by one earth robs us of our pleasures.
 Nothing is ours, except our dead."
 Nannie was a member of St. Mary's Altar Society, and till her health failed was always a zealous worker.
 Her assistance at concerts especially being invaluable. On Saturday morning the first of three regular masses, recommended by the Altar Society, was solemnized in the Pre-bytery chapel by the Rev. Father Sully, O.M.I., a great many members were present many of whom received Holy Communion.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS

The Regina Grain Growers' association will meet in the Oddfellows' hall, Smith & Ferguson block, on Saturday afternoon, Feb. 16 to draft and adopt resolutions to be submitted to the provincial convention at Saskatoon.

Notices have been sent out for the annual meeting of the Regina Board of Trade which is to be held in the City hall on Thursday evening February 7th. The program of business will include the presentation of reports for the year, and the election of officers.

The Peart Bros. Co. Ltd., have opened up for business in the Smith & Ferguson block, and are now busy moving the Western Hardware Co.'s stock from their former premises. This is now the largest hardware business in the province.

W. P. Wells, manager of the International Harvester Co., has returned with his family from Kansas City. Owing to storms and the severe cold the trip took twelve days, and the Soo line route had to be abandoned, and return made via Winnipeg. Mr. Wells says that the railway line up in the Northern States is much worse than on this side of the boundary.

The program of the city board of works includes the paving of Albert street and extend last year's improvements to Victoria street including Lorne, Cornwall, McIntyre, and Smith streets. Ald. Thomson has outlined to the council the policy of the health and relief department. The scheme is that published in the West at outlined at the mayor's dinner.

A townsite situated about one-half mile north of Pilot Butte has been laid out and is known as Cement City. The townsite was originally owned by C. R. Morson, but was transferred to the Buffalo capitalists are considering the purchase of the whole townsite in the event of which they intend to manufacture cement blocks and other cement goods.

The death occurred at the hospital here last Wednesday morning of Jos. Roden, a teamster who had been in the employ of the Regina Cattle Co. Deceased, who came here from Wolverhampton, England, has been sick since Christmas. Interment took place in Regina cemetery, the services were conducted by Rev. Dr. Coard.

D. A. Donaldson, general merchant of Bethune, was in the city Monday on business. In conversation with The West, Mr. Donaldson stated that the people of his district had not suffered badly from the fuel famine, but they had been very short at times. The town of Bethune is forging ahead and he looks forward to a very largely increased crop area next year.

The Wm. Johnson Implement Co., of Winnipeg, have decided to make Regina their headquarters for Saskatchewan. Honeyman, Haultain & Co., of this city, will handle their distributing business.

Mrs. R. J. Burdett was called east a few days ago owing to the illness of her father, Thos. Hanbury, postmaster at Dundalk, Ont., who has since passed away, aged 55 years.

The Relief Society which has been receiving donations for Emilie Ringer have completed arrangements, and are sending him to Gravenhurst, where it is hoped he may be restored to health. His family consisting of a wife and two children will be cared for by the society, and any assistance received by them will be gratefully acknowledged.

Chas. Wolloughby has returned from a visit to Ottawa and other eastern points. He will leave next winter for the coast and will be accompanied by his family. He says it is cheaper to go to a warmer climate than buy coal here. He will be absent till spring when he will return to enter upon a big season's work for his firm.

W. M. McPhail, vice president and general manager of the Electric and Contracting Co., Ltd., of Winnipeg is in the city in the interests of his firm. They have succeeded the Warren Paving Co., and are after the city paving for the coming season. Mr. McPhail is one of the most experienced men in the business, and has been supervising the bituminous operations in Toronto of late.

There has not been actual suffering in this city through scarcity of fuel, but there was one case a few days ago where a family were out of kindling and had to break up a kitchen chair to start the morning fire. On Thursday last one family had no fuel till the drayman got around in the middle of the forenoon and he found them all in bed, they having had no fire in the house since the previous evening.

The literary society of the normal school held their usual weekly meeting in the assembly room on Friday afternoon. A short business meeting was first held, and arrangements made for an informal gathering of normal students in the assembly room on Friday evening, Feb. 1st. A short program was then rendered consisting of instrumental solos by Miss Pentland and Miss Browning, recitations by Miss Bompas and Mr. Gratton, song by Mr. Smith, quartette by members of the Glee Club, and several amusing impromptu addresses on various subjects, some of which were: "What I wouldn't want to be," "Dancing," "Laughable experiences of teaching," "Women's sufferings," and "What I think of Bethune."

Chris. Adamson, of Winnipeg, is the successful candidate for the Rhodes' scholarship. There is some disappointment that Percy Gordon was not chosen, for Adamson is not a resident of the province, the family having resided in Winnipeg for more than a year.

CONVENTION AT REGINA

Grain Growers' Will Hold Annual Session Here on Feb. 20—The Program

The executive of the Central Grain Growers' Association of Saskatchewan recently decided to hold the annual convention at Regina on Feb. 20 and 21 instead of Saskatoon as previously decided upon. The change has been made to owing to the uncertain railway service.

WOULD NOT EXTEND BORROWING POWERS.
*****

Before the recent sitting of the Grain Commission in Winnipeg, Mr. Aird, manager of the Bank of Commerce, Winnipeg, stated in evidence that he was not in favor of the banking act being amended to allow the farmers to borrow money from the banks on their wheat, because the farmers would then hold back their wheat and not pay their debts, hindering the business of the country.

The subjects that will engage the attention of the convention are:

Hail Insurance.
Remedies for car shortage.
Making Winnipeg an order point and sample market.
The advisability of imposing a reciprocal demurrage tax.

The advisability of the erection of several large interior elevators throughout the west with the facilities of deterrminal elevators.

The installation of public scales under government control, the weights to be final between buyer and seller.

The advisability of having the banking act changed to permit banks to grant loans on grain in store in granaries on the producer's property.

A Government owned telephone system.
The immediate establishment of a Provincial Agricultural College.

GEO. P. GRAHAM LEADER

George P. Graham, M.P.P., of Brockville, was the choice of the Ontario Liberals for the leadership of the party.

Hon. Mr. Graham made the following statement to the press: "After full consultation with the members and understanding their views as well as the views of the Liberal party, I accept the leadership with the explicit understanding that neither my action or that of the members here in any way interferes with the freest action of the great Liberal party throughout the province."

"I am personally in favor of, at an early date, calling together a limited number from the constituencies to deal with this question and others affecting the Liberal interests in the province."

The total immigration from the United States for the calendar year 1906 was 65,866, showing an increase of 80 per cent.

THE SEIGE IS KEPT UP

January has but another day to live and yet the elements keep up the seige with high winds and low temperature. Many a family has been sorely pressed to keep from freezing, but the coal business has been so organized that relief has so far reached the needy before suffering resulted.

As the provincial distributors for the Banff mines, Whitmore Bros., of this city have displayed a genius for organization, and at all times have kept in touch with the needs of every shipping point and have distributed the fuel with studied economy assisting all but stocking none. The demands are daily made upon them by mail, telegraph, telephone and every other mode of communication available, but quietly and methodically they do their work, with business and reputation growing as the days go by. It is a credit to this firm and fortunate for Regina that Whitmore Bros. have with singular executive ability directed supplies as they have done so far this season.

DEATH OF MR. BLAIR

In the sudden death of the Hon. A. G. Blair the Liberals have lost one of the ablest exponents of their party principles.

As head of the railway department of the Laurier government from 1896 to 1904 he was an able minister and parliamentarian. Owing to his disagreement with the government on the terms of the G.T.P. contract, he felt called upon to resign from the cabinet, but strange to say accepted the chairmanship of the railway commission. This position, however, he did not hold very long, for serving in this capacity was incompatible with the principal which he previously enunciated, and in respect of which he retired from the government. He therefore resigned from the commission at a critical time politically and his course had an instantaneous effect on the elections, the government suffering serious embarrassment. The climax was reached however, when it was announced that Mr. Blair was to take the stump for the Opposition and denounce the government's railway policy. At this juncture, however, something happened, which will probably always remain a mystery, but it is thought that Sir Wilfrid Laurier, met a desperate case with a desperate remedy, and holding the cabinet's skeleton closet door part way open he indicated to the ex-minister that he had better "stand back"—it is known that politically Mr. Blair collapsed, the action and reaction being sudden and dramatic.

For two years following, the deceased remained estranged from his former associates but lately reconciling forces have been at work and it was openly stated that Mr. Blair would re-enter public life and resume ministerial responsibilities, but just at the moment he was being reclaimed by his leader, and when the government was looking with much anticipation to his wise counsel, the grim reaper stepped forth and suddenly severed his slender thread. His re-entry into public life as a supporter of the present government would undoubtedly have occasioned much unpleasant discussion, but the veil of death has enshrouded all, and there is little to say, but regret that notwithstanding his life of usefulness he neglected, in some mysterious way to face a government in arms, and not to yield at the crisis of his life, for only "Once to every man and nation Comes the moment to decide."

ANOTHER ASPECT

The fuel famine which has suggested to the local government that it might yet become necessary for them to buy back the coal lands from the Dominion government has presented to view another aspect of the land question as it affects our autonomy settlement.

On principle we have to support the suggestion of Mr. Motherwell, which first reached the public through the columns of The West. We contend that this situation which has arisen so shortly after the autonomy settlement, should have suggested itself to those who gave away our heritage for financial terms, the inadequacy of which will, in a few years strike the government as forcibly as the coal lands question has dawned upon them. The admission that such a step as suggested by Mr. Motherwell is necessary is to endorse the stand taken by Mr. Haultain, when he invited the displeasure of the Dominion government and Liberal friends in this province by refusing to be a party to a deal which meant robbery of the people of this country, whom he contended, and still contends, have a right to their lands and their minerals, and whose rights the government now considers they must make an attempt to protect by buying back a portion of the land thus alienated.

It is interesting after the statement of Mr. Motherwell has been published in every part of this Dominion, to note the approval of the Liberal press and their encomiums for the minister of agriculture for his foresight in this matter. Those very papers were quite in accord with the coercion of the provinces and the land robbery. They saw no useful purpose in retaining the lands when the time came for the government, as the trustees, to make a settlement with the people. It is very strange what blind partisanship will do when there is an election pending, and it is regrettable that politicians and their newspapers cannot prove consistent in matters of principle.

We do not criticise the government for now considering the necessity of acquiring coal lands, but we urge that the men who now advocate this policy should acknowledge that they committed themselves to a wrong policy when they consented to the lands of this province being alienated under the terms of the autonomy act.

The newspapers that rebuked the stand taken by so many of the people of this county on this principle should now retract their imputations of insincerity and this will be necessary before the people can be expected to accept in good faith the suggestions of the government, or the approval of their papers. Conviction, some religious bodies say, is always strengthened by a public testimony.

ROOT'S NOBLE SENTIMENTS

"To the Canadian settlers in New England and the American settlers in the Canadian west may they ever with loyal memory do honor to the lands of their birth. May they ever with loyal citizenship do God's service to the countries of their adoption."

The above is a noble sentiment, eloquently expressed.

After reading Secretary Root's stirring speech, published elsewhere, a greater reciprocity of good feeling between these two great nations must result. The American statesman's reference to his countrymen who have settled in the Canadian west are very apt and will inspire in them a higher sense of duty to the country of their adoption, and fond reverence for the land of their birth. American institutions develop a buoyancy, a loyalty and a patriotism that we would do well to copy, notwithstanding our unquestionable attachment to our national traditions. We are not as demonstrative as our neighbors, who are ready at all times to impress the world with their race pride and their national achievements. However, notwithstanding the sweeping eloquence and laudatory language of Mr. Root's address there is the thought suggested that if living side by side we have had nearly a hundred years of peace, the cost of that friendship has been largely borne by the Canadian people. While there have not been differences over which we could openly quarrel, such important matters as the Alaska boundary, have aroused feelings of resentment at times, as our aggressive neighbors have strained relations for a fat slice of territory. Because they could not get things their own way in the Bering sea award, the American senate threatened to permit the total destruction of the whole sea herd, and settle the matter for all time.

Taking the larger national aims of the two countries, however, and the assimilation that is quietly going on through commerce and immigration, we cannot ignore the penetrating observation of Mr. Root, who looking at the cream of the western states coming over the border, follows them with this benediction: "May they ever with loyal memory do honor to the land of their birth. May they ever with loyal citizenship do God's service to the countries of their adoption."

FALSE REPORTS

The fuel situation is certainly bad enough in this province especially on the branch lines, and the truth plainly told is sufficiently lurid without the exaggeration and coloring attached to the following Regina dispatch to the Butte Evening News, which appeared in that paper of the 19th inst.:

Regina, Sask., Jan. 19.—There can be no doubt as to the terrible straits of people in the towns of Hanley and others on the Prince Albert branch of the Canadian Northern are in, facing as they are both a fuel and food famine, with little or no sign of relief.

A petition signed by the residents of numerous towns was today forwarded to the government asking for immediate relief by having fuel, groceries and flour sent out. The stock of food available will only last a short time longer, and all barns have been torn down and hay burned by the farmers to keep their families from freezing.

It is feared that the box cars on the sidings would also be burned, but for the guard kept over them.

The state of Montana like the other northern states have not looked too favorably on the exodus from that country into the Canadian west during the last three or four years, and they have been organizing a campaign during the past season to keep not only their own population, but attract those in other States who anticipated moving, instead of having them come to this country. A news dispatch such as we have quoted will materially assist this campaign and while the fuel conditions are without doubt as bad in the northern States as they are in this province, we are placed in a very much worse position, and bad as things are in Montana, the people are told that they might be worse off if they lived near Regina, for there the farmers are burning their barns and their hay to keep from freezing.

This is one of the falsehoods that is hard to counteract, for there are times when a lie properly told is quite acceptable to the average person, and with the fuel situation as it is at present, it is an easy matter to exceed the truth and do the country a great deal of harm. Bad as the conditions are at present, one thing is sure, that next June this winter will be but a memory, and like an hour of sorrow will "leave no wake." The present white mantle of the prairie will give place to the green sward; the aroma of the flora will permeate the whole atmosphere, and the sound of the workman's hammer will din the air, while the farmer will smile as he looks over his boundless fields and beholds "first the blade, then the ear, then the full corn in the ear."

This is after all what makes people flock to the Canadian west to make their homes, and the country, notwithstanding the present year, has no peer.

SUBMIT THE BY-LAW

The gas bylaw should pass the council without any further tacking, and six weeks' campaign should follow before the matter is put to a vote of the people. There would be wisdom in delay, if by passing the bylaw, the council were binding the city to grant the franchise, but the citizens alone have that power, and in procedure of the council is merely bringing the question properly before the ratepayers.

The average citizen is just as intelligent with regard to these matters as the average alderman, and whether the proposition is acceptable to the people, the popular vote will decide.

The position taken by Ald. McDonald at the second reading, should not have affected the progress of the bylaw. His cold-deck hand should have been played either when the measure was before the committee or later on in the game.

An alderman, not actuated by ulterior motives, must take the proper precautions to protect himself. For his own good, he should avoid such impropriety.

Ald. McDonald's information should have been handed to Ald. Ball, chairman of the light and power committee.

With regard to the question of the cost of gas production here, and the use of Crow's Nest coal, much can be said, and we have reason to believe that the Rocky Mountain coal, is much inferior to Pittsburg coal; for the latter has three times the gas producing qualities of any other coal on the continent.

These matters, however, can be argued during the educative campaign, but the bylaw should pass the council, and let the tribunal of public opinion decide for or against the measure.

One thing certain, gas is needed in Regina, and if this proposition is turned down, the light and power committee should take immediate steps to establish a municipal plant.

C. P. R. CHANGES

The people of the west, with whom the railway interests of the country become so closely identified, will approve the promotions of G. J. Bury from C.P.R. general superintendent to that of assistant general manager for the west; and the succession of A. Price, superintendent of transportation, to the general superintendent's office.

Both Mr. Bury and Mr. Price have had responsible duties, and although put up against it at times, have made good. In their larger spheres they have become clothed with greater responsibilities, and the people of the west will look with interest for further evidence of their ability to command attention as prominent figures in railway circles.

PRESS COMMENTS

(Canadian Courier.)

The new election act will be a radical measure in many ways, not the least notable of which will be the provision making voting compulsory. The Conservative leader has endorsed the proposal and it is presumed, without consideration, some of his followers aver. They are right. This compulsory voting is no more efficacious weapon than ever put into the hands of a Canadian government. In our country ministers are turned out by two classes of electors—the first class includes the large percentage of citizens who exercise their franchise only when some great national issue so appears to them as to bring them to the polls. Such votes were largely in evidence on the days of the Tupper and Ross debacles. The second class of voters are those who, disgusted with their leaders, and unwilling to vote for the enemy, despatchly abstain from voting. Under the compulsory voting the former will be driven into either camp, and it seems fair to hold on the principle of the immortal Mr. Pott of Eatonsville, "the majority will go to the crowd" "that shouts the loudest," i.e. the government of the day. Still more important it seems to me in the second class—the dissatisfied partisans, who, ordinarily supporting the government of the past, have habitually signified their displeasure by non-participation in the election. To vote for the opposition candidate would be unthinkable to those "hard shells," but they could satisfy their conscience by refusing to cast a ballot for the men, in whom they, for the time being only, found much to condemn. Under the new act, these men forced to the polls under scandalous coercion, will have to choose between their government which has not satisfied them, and the opposition for which they never have voted and never intend to vote. Clearly the government of the day will benefit and benefit largely. As has been said before and will be said again, compulsory voting is unjust, un-British, subversive of the right of the right of private judgment and idiotically absurd in that it compels the

WEEKLY REVIEW

Edmund Bryant was acquitted at Toronto by a jury on the charge of murdering his wife by giving her pills to procure criminal operation.

Discussing Christian Science with his daughter Emma and Miss M.C. Taber, Edwin Dabell, aged 75, got excited and shot both with a 22-caliber revolver at their home at Rochester, N.Y. Emma has a scalp wound and Miss Taber is shot in the back, wound serious.

The Toronto grand jury brought in a true bill in the criminal charges against Charles McMillan, late general manager of the Ontario bank. The first indictment is for making false statements and reports. The second charge is theft and carries nine counts, the sums totalling $125,000.

It is announced from London that Augustine Birrell will become chief secretary for Ireland to succeed Hon James Bryce, recently appointed as British ambassador to the United States. Birrell will be succeeded as president of the board of education by Reginald McKenna, M.P.

Simon Gebreiski, who was convicted at Chatham and sent to the penitentiary at Kingston, for seven years for implication in bringing stolen furs into Canada, has been released on an arrangement with the New York state government, so that he might turn state's evidence in a fur robbery case. He has been taken across the border.

Mr. Miller of Grey moved a resolution in the House of Commons declaring that the subject of denatured alcohol and of legislation permitting the manufacture and use of the same free from excise duty, for fuel, light and power in the industrial arts, is one which is worthy of god should receive the early and careful attention of parliament.

A dispatch from Snowflake, Manitoba, says no trains have arrived for five days and the outlook is bad. A request that mails be sent forward from Lariviere by teams has been turned down by the post office department and citizens are growing indignant. Snowflake is on the C.P.R. branch line along the international boundary.

Montreal is to have another wood and steel car shop to cost five million dollars. The new company propose constructing what will be the finest car construction plant in Canada. A site has been selected near the Dominion Car Co., near Montreal west. The new works are to have a capacity for turning out fifty to sixty complete cars a day. In addition to the car shops proper, there will be forge shop, an axle truck and boiler shop and a wheel and casting foundry.

citizen who avows that he has neither information or preference to act as he and to say through the ballot box that he has both. Fortunately the senate is said to regard the new plan with no favorable eye. If it implements this opinion by a judicious amendment or even excision, it will be doing much to convince Canadians that it is in truth a revising chamber, and not the obedient servant of the administration.

(Butte News.)

It has just leaked out that great lawyer and successful diplomat though Elihu Root is, he does not compose his own delicately worded official papers.

As a lawyer of large practice he acquired the habit of directness and incisiveness, which is illly suited to the ways and customs of diplomacy. Heating this fully, it was not long after Mr. Root assumed the duties of secretary of state that he discovered that the safest course for him to pursue would be to have one of his assistants clothe in the formal and stilted language of diplomacy every communication of importance he had to make to a foreign power. Accordingly, he has Assistant Secretary Adee, who has been longer in the state department than any other high official there, compose these communications.

Mr. Root blocks them out, giving clearly, distinctly and incisively his ideas, and then turns them turns them over to Mr. Adee, who produces a paper that conforms most minutely to all the requirements of diplomatic forms and customs, and which at the same times conveys accurately the meaning and intent of Mr. Root. In other words Mr. Root supplies the diamond and Adee does the polishing.

(Greenell Sun.) Independent-Liberal.

The public have been informed that that it is the intention of the government, or their supporters to bring out Mr. Turgeon, the law partner of Attorney General Lamont, as the government candidate in Prince Albert district for the legislature. As a mere matter of policy, to say nothing of courtesy or justice, we think the government would be wise to decline having a candidate in that district during the life of the present legislature. To some extent it would be an outward show, at least, of their disapproval of the frauds per-don the community practice and become responsible citizens. The circular says: "The government is glad to see that some of the Doukhobors are cultivating their own land and have become or are becoming citizens of Canada, and British subjects. But it is very sorry to see that after having been in Canada for seven years, the large majority of the Doukhobors still cultivate their land in communion and refuse to become citizens of the country. They have left large areas of land which the government permitted them to hold in their names without cultivation and improvement. The law is that a man must cultivate his own land or he cannot hold it. The people who are not Doukhobors demand that Doukhobors be no longer allowed to hold land without cultivating it and becoming citizens of the country. The government of Canada is the majority of the people of Canada, and when the people of Canada say that the Doukhobors must not be allowed to hold land without cultivation, any longer, the government has to obey and must cancel entries on land that are not properly held so that they may be properly held by other people. The only Doukhobor entries that are properly held are those by men who live either on the land or in a village within three miles of it and who cultivate their own land for their own use and who have already become or intend to become Canadian citizens or British subjects. If any man who lives in a village cultivates his land more than three miles from the village in which he lives, his entry will be protected for six months to enable him to live and build on the land. If he does not live on the land within that time his entry will be cancelled. "While the government wishes every man to cultivate his own land for his own use and to become a citizen, it will not attempt to compel the Doukhobors to do either. It will protect them as hitherto in their religious beliefs, but it cannot longer give them privileges in regard to the land which it does not give to other people. If land upon which the village stands or partly stands is under entry, the entry will be cancelled in whole or in part so that the government can protect the Doukhobors in their homes. The community entry in the vicinity of each village to the amount of fifteen acres to each person in the village, and so distributed as to comprise as much of the community civilisation as possible will be cancelled and the land held by the government for the protection of the community Doukhobors during the pleasure of the government. "All other entries in the name of the community Doukhobors will be cancelled. The Doukhobors whose entries are cancelled will be permitted to make re-entry on cancelled land which is open for entry any time within three months after receiving the notice, and their re-entries will be made an application without additional fee. Doukhobors who make entry within three months, either with the commission which will visit your community or at the head office, must state when making re-entry whether they intend to live on the land or in the village, and must state their intention of becoming British subjects. If the land is within three miles of the village in which they reside, they will be able to hold the land provided they cultivate it for their own use while living in the village. But if it is more than three miles from the village they must live on the land and must begin to live on it six months from the date of their re-entry. All re-entries will be subject to cancellation for non-compliance with these conditions of the law. RUSSIAN HEIR A CHANGELING

A Paris correspondent to an American publication says, confidentially from St. Petersburg during to light a most extraordinary situation in the home of the czar. On no less important authority than the dowager zarina, mother of Czar Nicholas, the assertion is made that their heir to the throne, and two and a half year old czarvitch, was born an imbecile.

In place of the true heir a changeling was substituted, a child upon whose parentage reflection is cast that involves personages high in the court circles, and since the birth of the child, the recipients of favors that have astonished official Russia. The great duchess has been divided in her loyalty to the czar since the alleged forcing of an illegitimate child upon the country and constant wrangling has resulted. As was feared for some time the czar's treatment of his mother has caused a split in the Royal family from which grew the exposure of the truth.

It is stated that the czar three months ago gave orders that his mother be confined in a suite of rooms about which hovered a strong military guard and no communication with her was permitted anyone. For several days the agents of the czar have been spreading thinly veiled hints intended to arouse the suspicion that the czarina is insane, these have been pushed insistently but persistently until the people have been properly prepared to receive the news, a close friend of Dr. Hirsch, the royal physician, made the announcement that the czarina is insane and has to be taken out of the country for rest and treatment.

Without anyone save the immediate members of the family knowing what was happening, the czarina was taken away to a retreat at Copenhagen which was ostensibly bought by the czarina, from the estate left by her father.

It will be recalled that the czar was always anxious for an heir to the throne. Four times was the country prepared for the celebration of a son, but in each case the new arrival was a girl. Finally it was announced that a son had been born. He was named Alexis and there was great rejoicing, the czar making it the occasion for publishing a ukase that freed hundreds of Siberian exiles.

In the courts of Europe it was the subject of comment for more than a year after the birth of the boy that there was wholly lacking any family resemblance in the features of the child. These facts now put together convince all official Europe that a substitute was made and that the czar has under exile his own mother to keep from the world the proof she is able to furnish.

A street car was struck by an east bound Big Door flyer at Third street Dayton, Ohio. Before the train could be stopped the street car was carried half a block. It was completely demolished. One passenger was killed and sixteen others seriously injured, two of whom will probably die.

which they were induced to play it, that we feel in duty bound to disclose certain facts, that in justice to ourselves and brother farmers of Saskatchewan, the public have a right to know. In doing so, however, it will be necessary to refer to E. A. Partridge and the Grain Growers Grain Company much more frequently than it is our desire to do, as we recognise that the latter is now an industrial concern which we have no wish to advertise unnecessarily, one way or the other. The reading public are all quite conversant with the perseverance, earnestness and assiduity with which Mr. Partridge for the past two years has worked up this grain company and how eager and determined he was in having the Grain Growers' association of Manitoba and Saskatchewan actively identified therewith. But both associations as such positively refused, in accordance with their previous policy, to allow themselves to become mixed up with commercial transactions. It is also a matter of common knowledge that Mr. Partridge during the past two years has lost no opportunity in the press or platform of denouncing the Winnipeg Grain exchange in the most lurid and vigorous language conceivable as being everything but a gambling hell, paying $2,500 of the company's money for the privilege of getting in.

the strength of the evidence referred to above. Mr. Partridge and his Winnipeg associates now got busy in the direction of working the Saskatchewan grain growers' association, to join him in his quarrel with the exchange. And the manner in which the task was set about and successfully consummated is testimony to his undoubted skill in matters of this kind. To succeed in the prosecution the best counsel in Saskatchewan must be secured, and the best of counsel was secured.

the Manitoba association refused to do. Thoughtless, and doubtless with the best of intentions President Hopkins caused such a circular letter to be issued and distributed over his official signature and that of the acting secretary. The following extract from this letter will doubtless be read with peculiar and wondering interest:

Your executive expects the grain growers of Saskatchewan to co-operate in a practical manner. R. L. Richardson, editor of the Winnipeg Tribune, the one paper which dared to wage the prosecution of the alleged combine, has consented to act as treasurer of all funds subscribed by the grain growers for the prosecution of this law suit. Either personally or through the sub-association remit what you feel disposed to give for this purpose to him. The reader is at once led to enquire why those contributing were not advised to pass such funds through the usual association channel to be accounted for and recorded in the annual report in the usual way. Why appoint R. L. Richardson or any other outside party who is not in any way responsible to us or amenable to our control to administer and become custodian for funds subscribed under the auspices of the Saskatchewan Grain Growers' association. One wonders why!

EARNINGS FALL OFF Montreal, Jan 28.—The serious effect of this winter on the railways of this country is well exhibited by the financial statement of the Canadian Pacific for December. Although the gross earnings of the system amounted to almost six millions and showed a handsome increase over the returns for December last year, so great was the cost of operation of the line, that there was an actual falling off in net profits of nearly $81,000, which was caused by an increase of half a million in working expenses, nearly entirely due to the snow and frost.

The Modesty of Women

Naturally makes them shrink from the indelicate questions, the obvious examinations, and unpleasant local treatments in the treatment of diseases of women. Yet, if help can be had, it is better to submit to this ordeal than let the disease grow and spread. The trouble is that so often the woman undergoes all the annoyance and shame for nothing. Thousands of women who have been cured by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription write in appreciation of the sure which dispenses with the examinations and local treatments. There is no other medicine so sure and safe for delicate women as "Favorite Prescription." It cures debilitating drains, irregularity and female weakness. It always helps. It almost always cures. It is strictly non-alcoholic, non-severe, all its ingredients being printed on its bottle-wrappers; contains no deleterious or habit-forming drugs, and every native medicinal root entering into its composition has the full endorsement of those most eminent in the several schools of medical practice. Some of these numerous and strongest of professional endorsements of its ingredients, will be found in a pamphlet wrapped around the bottle. Also in a booklet mailed free on request, by Dr. E. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y. These professional endorsements should have far more weight than any amount of the ordinary lay or non-professional testimonials. The most intelligent women now-a-days doubt on knowing what they take as medicine instead of giving their mouths like a lot of young birds and gulping down whatever is offered them. "Favorite Prescription" is of snow-white composition. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send to Dr. E. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. 10 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 20 stamps for cloth-bound by letter. All such communications are held sacredly confidential. AMERICAN STATESMAN'S TRIBUTE TO CANADA

Hon. Elihu Root Draws two Nations Closer Together—Inspiring Sentiments for Americans in the West

Ottawa, Jan. 22.—In his address before the Canadian Club in this city, Hon. Elihu Root, American secretary of state said in part:

"I do not feel at all a stranger here, partly because in your atmosphere, blood has to be thicker than water (laughter and applause) and because in your atmosphere, every one born and bred in the common law of England and under the principles of justice and liberty that the English speaking race has carried the world over wherever it has gone, must breathe freely in Canada. It is full 40 years since I paid my first visit to Canada. At brief intervals during all that period I have been returning, sometimes to one part of the Dominion and sometimes to another, but always keeping in touch with the course of your development, and with the trend of your opinion and spirit."

"During that time what wonderful things have been seen. We have seen feeble, ill-compact colonies, separate dependent colonies, growing into a great and vigorous nation. We have seen the two great branches of the Canadian people, English-speaking and French-speaking putting behind them old resentments and steadily approaching each other in tightening bonds of sympathy and national fellowship, (applause) a happy augury for the continuance of that entente cordiale which, between the two great nations on the other side of the Atlantic, is making for the peace of the world. We have not merely seen growth in population and wealth, but we have seen here great examples of that constructive power, examples of a great race of builders which have made and are making and are going to make the western world unexampled in the history of mankind. The spirit of the great navigators, of Columbus, of Vasco de Gama, and of Drake and Frobenius; the spirit of the Spanish conquistadores; the spirit of the men of power and might who have been the great influence in the world, has found its development in this western hemisphere, in the great builders and within our lives. We have seen some of the greatest of the great building men of constructive power and energy. (Applause.)"

"We have seen and are seeing now the growth of that historic sense of appreciation of the great examples of their own past which is so essential to the making of a nation, and as you are drawing away, through the course of successive generations, from that past, the great figures of the makers of Canada loom up more and still more lofty, the courage, the fortitude, the heroism, the self-sacrifice of the men of Canada's early time stand out in historic prominence, from which well may flow the deep and unending stream of a great national patriotism. (Applause.)"

"Above all we see, in the discussion and consideration of all public questions, not only in the highest seats of government, but in the farmhouse and the shop, that discussion which lies at the base of modern civilization, that discussion among the plain people which furnishes the basis for political and social systems, and differentiates our later day civilization from all the civilization of the past, a quality which must give to the civilization of our time a perpetuity that none of the past has had. (Applause.)"

"Lord Grey has very kindly furnished me in the last few days with the debates which have been going on in your house of Commons on the subject of the fisheries modus vivendi. I have been much impressed by the thoughtful, temperate and statesmanlike quality which has been conspicuous in that debate. I am sure, and indeed, no one who reads the debate, can doubt, that whatever conclusion your parliament reaches will be a conclusion dictated by a sincere, intelligent and a right minded determination to fulfill the full duty of your representatives to those people whose rights they are bound to maintain and protect. Whatever the conclusion may be, however much anyone may differ from it, all men will be bold to respect it."

"The existence of this club, the existence of similar clubs in the great cities throughout your country"

Alberta House Gets Down to Work at Second Session—The Menu Card

Edmonton, Jan. 24.—The second session of the first legislature of Alberta was opened here this afternoon at 2.30 by His Hon. Lieutenant Governor Bulmer. The customary ceremony was observed, His Honor being escorted by a guard of honor. The following address was then read by His Honor:

Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the Legislative Assembly.—It gives me great pleasure to welcome you to the second session of the first legislature of Alberta. The past year has witnessed unparalleled development in western Canada and particularly in this province. Our humble gratitude is due to divine providence for the bountiful harvest of the past year and for the material prosperity that always follows in the train of good crops in an agricultural country such as ours. During the recess a conference of the various premiers was held at Ottawa with a view to arriving at a readjustment of provincial subsidies, as the result of which it is gratifying to observe that a fair basis of division has been reached between the province and the Dominion will materially assist in making provision for the ever growing necessities of this province. It is also a subject of gratification that the census taken during the past year by the federal government demonstrates that this province was entitled to a larger share in the councils of the Dominion and that in the present session of parliament a bill has been introduced to provide for the increased representation of Alberta in the House of Commons. The province has been honored since the last session of the legislature by a visit from his Excellency Earl Grey, governor general of Canada, accompanied by her Excellency the Countess Grey and the members of their family. It is a source of great satisfaction to the keen interests taken by his Excellency in everything that pertains to its history and development, more especially as the knowledge gained by his Excellency in the numerous responsible public offices he has held, makes his views upon a matter of public importance of the greatest value. Your attention will early be directed towards a measure for the establishment within the province of courts of justice, too much importance cannot be attached to this matter as it is the essence of good government in any country that the machinery through or by means of which the laws enforced should be on a sound basis, I am therefore confident that your most careful attention will be directed towards these measures. The growth of activity in railway construction that has recently taken place throughout the west and the certainty of a much larger development in this direction in the near future makes it imperative that provisions be made for a uniform law governing railways within the province. A measure will be submitted to you having this purpose in view. The growth of trade and commerce in the province during the past year has been very rapid and with the increased growth comes new responsibilities. It has long been felt by the commercial community that the law governing assignment by insolvent persons was in a condition far from satisfactory. In order to ameliorate this condition of affairs a measure providing for a complete system of administration of insolvent estates upon the most improved lines will be submitted for your consideration. An act respecting the custody of insane persons and the disposition of their property, including a scheme for the support of insane persons out of their own property, in an asylum where necessary, will be among the measures submitted to you. The protection of game and game birds in this province has occupied the attention of my government during the recess and as the result of a very thorough investigation of the matter legislation with this object in view will receive consideration at your hands. Provisions for the further encouragement of secondary education in the province is another matter which you will be asked to consider, and in this respect also a measure having for its object the taxation of lands in the province outside of organized school districts for the support of education generally will be brought before you. An act for the protection of the public health will be among the important measures to receive consideration at your hands, and provision for increasing the revenue of the province by a fair and equitable assessment of corporations will also be brought before you. The public accounts and estimates will be before you at an early date. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the legislative assembly, I feel sure that your deliberations upon the matters to be brought to your notice will produce the prosperity and well-being of the province."

NORTHERN RICHES

Canadian Senate Deals With Resources of Hinterland

Ottawa, Jan. 24.—Senator Davis in the senate today moved that a select committee composed of the Honorable Messrs. Talbot, Longwood, Douglas, Devere, Antrim, Tiesler, Wilson, McMillen, Young, Ferguson, Ross, McGregor, Power, Robertson, Watson, Bernier, Kirchhoff, Ellis, Thompson, Pearly, Kelly, Fostock, Bonville and the mover, be appointed to enquire and report from time to time as to the value of that part of the Dominion lying north of the Saskatchewan watershed, west of the Rocky mountains and west of the Hudson bay, comprising the north parts of the provinces of Saskatchewan, Alberta, and the Mackenzie territory, its extent of navigable waters, rivers, lakes and seacoast. Senator Davis said a good deal was known of the grazing lands of Alberta and Saskatchewan but little was known of that great hinterland to the north beyond the Saskatchewan. He had lived there for 27 years and had gone over a great deal of it, but he was learning more about it every day. Several years ago the Schultz committee of the senate had obtained a great deal of valuable information about the west as far as the Saskatchewan valley, Railways and settlers had now pretty well covered the ground reported on by that committee and it was time to extend the enquiries further. Men had gone into the region between the Saskatchewan and the Yukon. They had found great areas of timber, mineral deposits and water power, all things that go to make a great country. A great deal of valuable information could be obtained by examining them, although a better way would be to have one

FINE FURS

FOR MEN AND WOMEN

Going now for a Fraction of Their Real Value!

FURS have no set value to a store after a season has reached its height. We are done with furs, though you will wear them for many a day yet. You remember the old adage, "As days lengthen, cold strengthens," and just now you are forcibly reminded. Here are rich and beautiful fur garments that are offered for less than the bare value of the skins. Think of $75.00 Men's Fur Lined Coats going for $50.00. Then bear in mind the fact that Trading Company Furs are the choicest and most carefully selected that can be found. Even scarce and staple furs are now under price.

Many Startling Reductions

We have sold a host of Ladies' Fur-lined and Fur Garments and separate Fur Pieces during the season which is now drawing to a close. But to the ladies that have been making their cloth coats do until now will assuredly strike some big snags here now. There is money tied up in these jackets that we need to buy other goods. We are sacrificing, and you, if you come and purchase, will make a mighty saving.
