MOCK PARLIAMENT AT ACADIA

Novel Legislation Proposed by Both "Government" and "Opposition"

The Mock Parliament of Acadia University opened on Saturday night at seven o'clock in the Memorial Gymnasium. The Parliament was promoted by the Acadia Athenaeum Society, due chiefly to the untiring efforts of the President, H. M. Bannerman. The opening ceremonies were conducted with much pomp. The debating throughout the session was keen, as the Government (Liberal) and the Opposition (Conservative) were of about equal strength. The building was filled with spectators, who expressed themselves as being well pleased with the session. The Government forces, under the able leadership of R. A. Thorne, faced a powerful and aggressive Opposition under the leadership of Thomas H. Robinson. After the election of the speaker, G. C. Nowlan, L. L. E., the Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod, Allen Smith, announced the arrival of His Excellency the Governor General, Prof. Norman Rogers, who was ushered in with all due ceremonies, attended by a guard of honor composed of the ex-service men of the University, and commanded by Capt. G. Guion, late of the P. P. C. L. F.

The Speech from the Throne was heard amid much applause from the gallery. Some of the legislation forecast was startling and far-reaching in its effects. The summary is as follows: An age limit to be placed on all beer entering "Tully" for purposes of consumption; the erection of a "Toll Gate" on "The Ridge" at which all couples wandering thither must pay an amusement tax; the control of the D. A. R. by the Government, that a new train service may be scheduled in order to eliminate "double cuts" before and after holidays; and a better immigration policy to induce more students to enter Acadia.

After the Governor General had been escorted out, the House settled down to business. The adoption of the Speech from the Throne was moved by E. M. Perry in English, and seconded by T. E. Roy in French. The leader for the Opposition then complimented the Government on the choice of a Speaker, and proceeded to criticize the proposed legislation. The leader of the Government replied in a well-phrased speech, and pointed out that the nation was about to embark on a new era of prosperity, which evoked applause from his supporters, and howls from the Opposition.

The Speech from the Throne was then taken up in detail by members of the Opposition, who pointed out how inadequate it was to meet present conditions. Members of the Government took up the defensive and, notwithstanding orations in both English and French, failed to convince the Opposition of the soundness of their proposed legislation.

The amendment to the Speech was brought in by H. M. Bannerman. It called for the building of a Tra-la-la Trolley Line from "Tully" to "The Ridge"; the establishment of a better Postal Service at the Seminary for the benefit of the inmates of Willet Hall and the Academy; the extension of the franchise to the Co-eds; and several other features.

In view of the fact that they had a strong Opposition to contend with, the Government, fearing to risk a division of the House, moved adjournment. The motion was carried by two votes, each party voting solid, and the House adjourned.

CHARLES G. DAWES

Chairman of the committee of experts who have been engaged for the past three months in the task of ascertaining Germany's capacity to pay reparations, and whose report was handed over to the reparation commission yesterday. Recognizing the obligations of Germany to pay—and declaring that she has resources with which to pay—the experts insist that if Germany does pay she must have her hands free to exploit her economic resources.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETS

Coun. Roach, who presided, with Mayor Chambers and Coun. Balcom, constituted the School Board at the regular monthly meeting on Monday evening. In addition, Town Manager Stairs and Principal Silver were also present.

A resolution was passed endorsing the action of the chairman of the Board in asking from the Council the sum of $13,250 to complete the estimated expenditure of the current year of $16,000 for school purposes.

An interesting report was presented by Miss Harry, V. O. N., regarding her work in the school during the month, during which a careful watch had been kept over the health and general condition of the pupils. Miss Harry suggested to the Board the advisability of giving the boys over eleven years and the girls of the same age who remain in the grades too low for the chance of getting manual training and domestic science an opportunity of securing such, thus tending to make them useful citizens while unable to get on in geography, history and kindred subjects. This suggestion, which certainly deserves attention on the part of citizens, was discussed at some length and finally laid over for further investigation.

The following accounts were presented and ordered paid:
Electric Commission—$ 6.00
J. D. Harris—20
F. W. Woodman—3.75
W. O. Palfater—4.25
A number of applications from teachers desirous of securing positions on the teaching staff of the school were read and discussed at some length and in some cases the secretary was instructed to make further inquiries. The secretary was also asked to request present members of the staff who wish to continue to make applications.

Deputy Clerk—A. U. Landers.
Sergeant-at-Arms—S. C. Smith.
The second session of the Mock Parliament convened in the Memorial Gymnasium on Tuesday evening at seven o'clock. The large crowd of spectators which almost equaled that of the opening night showed the interest which the people of Wolfville are taking in the body and the novel legislation which they are proposing. The first business of the evening was that the House arise and remain standing with bowed heads during a minute, in memory of the gallant heroes who seven years before had been preparing for the battle of Vimy Ridge. The measure was given effect and the fitting memorial observed.

Then the house settled down to the regular business of the evening. The first matter was the proposed amendment under which the house had adjourned from the opening session on Saturday night. This was taken up and debated clause by clause. When finally put to a vote the amendment was defeated by a majority of ten votes, both parties voting solid.

The next business was a right to be granted to a certain well-known patent medicine company to change their name in honor of a certain member of the "Opposition" who had spent much of his time and money for the company. This bill, brought in by the Government, was passed. Several other bills were discussed, some being defeated and some passed. One calling for an "Imperial Conference" with the members of the "Republic of the Seminary" called forth some fiery discussion during which several members were forced to apologize. An interesting feature was a speech in Gaelic by Mr. MacDonald, of the Opposition. The House adjourned until the final meeting on next Saturday night.

GRAND PRE WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

Holds Interesting Meeting—Plans Formulated for Various Activities

The April meeting of the Grand Pre Women's Institute was held at the Parsonage, with the president in the chair. Over thirty members were present. The tourist committee reported three homes for boarders in Grand Pre, two in Hortonville and one in Lower Wolfville. Places for camping and picnic tables will also be available.

The sum of twenty-four dollars and eighty cents was cleared on the institute entertainment held in March. A good report of the sewing done at Mrs. Woodman's was given. Several complete outfits were made; one was given to the doctor and the others were left with Miss Vaughn until required. The Warhouse next summer was discussed. A committee consisting of a representative from each part of the district was appointed, namely, Mrs. J. O. Harris, Mrs. S. A. Bowser, Mrs. Hutchinson, Mrs. Elias Eagles and Miss Ida Mitchell.

Mrs. Scott Trenholm suggested that the Institute finance an undertaking to make it possible to play basketball in one end of the rink and tennis in the other, this summer. Mrs. Trenholm was appointed to meet the Grand Pre Athletic Association to find out the cost of required articles, and report to the Institute next month.

Printed cards to send to all interested in the Grand Pre Community Hall are ready. All planning to send cards can assist the committee by ordering their supply as soon as possible.

The program opened with the poem, "Unawares," read by Mrs. Whitman. The Home and School Committee had charge of the program this month. They were fortunate in being able to secure Miss Oxner, Dean of the College Women's Residence, Wolfville, who gave a splendid address on "Relation of School and Home." Miss Oxner, as an efficient teacher, dealt principally with the school, noting the common defects and suggesting possible, practical corrections.

Mrs. A. H. Patterson invited the Institute to meet with her in May. The program will be directed by the Public Health Committee. Health motes for the Roll-call will be provided by the committee, for all, if desired.

After the meeting delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

VIMY RIDGE REMEMBERED

While it was yet dark, in a fine driving rain mingled with snow, on Easter Monday morn, April 9, 1917, the great battle of Arras began. If successful, it meant the freeing of Arras from shell fire; the great mud-head could be used; and splendid billeting accommodations could be secured. Canadian troops were given the position of honor, the "key" position at Vimy Ridge, and they were supported by one of the finest of the Imperial divisions, the 51st Highland Scottish. Other Scottish divisions were there to share in the immortal glory soon to be theirs, and away to the right facing the Croiselles uplands, were English divisions, ready for the assault supported by thousands of their comrades in immediate reserve.

Throughout that Sunday night a perfect tornado of high explosives flared eastward to the already battered Boche trench system and then ceased altogether. For a short breathing spell an almost unearthly stillness hung over the battlefield. Then at half past five o'clock in the morning the fair lands of Artois saw a vivid crimson barrage which almost equaled that of 1915. Arras was freed and nearly fifteen thousand prisoners were taken.

On April 10, 1917, King George forwarded to Field Marshal Haig the thanks of the nation and in part said: "Canada will be proud that the taking of the coveted Vimy Ridge has fallen to the lot of her troops." Seven years have rolled on since that memorable morn and Canada has not forgotten the imperishable sacrifice of her sons at Vimy. If there is one name more than all others that has fixed itself indelibly in the minds of Canadians it is "Vimy"; and yesterday through-out the dominions, was a day of remembrance of valorous deeds and noble deaths.

ACADIA WINS BASKETBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

Defeats Mt. Allison in Deciding Game of Western Intercollegiate Series

Acadia won the championship of the western section of the Intercollegiate Basketball League last Friday night, by defeating Mt. Allison in a close contest in Memorial Gymnasium, the score being 36 to 24. Both sides played a good game, Acadia having a slight advantage. Chown and Gregg played a fast game for Mount A. with Clark and Chipman starting for Acadia. This is Acadia's second intercollegiate victory this season, she having defeated U. N. B. in Fredericton the week before.

Acadia started the scoring by a point on a free shot, and after a nice field shot by Chipman Mt. A. started in real earnest and with pretty combination called several times in succession. Acadia again came back but were only successful in making the period 14-12 in the visitors favor.

Acadia got well away in the second half and brought the score up to a tie and got a good lead, soon after which they gradually increased throughout, the game ending 36-24 in their own favor. Acadia—Brown, Clark, forwards; Woodworth, centre; Chipman, O. Noble, guards; subs, Robinson, Leighton. Mt. A.—Gregg, R. Smith, forwards; L. Smith, centre; Hickey, Zhown, guards; subs, Hierim, Church. Referee, Roy Willett, St. John's.

PAGEANT PLAY BY ACADIA STUDENTS

The members of the Student Volunteer Movement at Acadia University put on an excellent pageant play entitled "The Ring of Rama Krishna" in the Baptist Church, on Wednesday evening of last week. The play was directed by Miss Evelyn Smallman and all the parts were well taken, especially those of H. Flanagan as Mr. Garratt, and F. W. Cook as Mr. Donaldson. Special musical selections were given by the Baptist Sunday School Orchestra and a mixed quartette by Misses Hudson and McMahon and Messrs. Wabbling and Lawrence was much appreciated. Vocal solos were given by Miss Simms and Miss Macdonald.

The cast of characters: Jael, Miss Hudson; Thakur Dar, T. W. Cook; Kheroda, Miss Davidson; Mr. Garratt, H. Flanagan; Mr. Donaldson, T. W. Cook; Dora Williams, Miss Simms; Mr. MacKay, H. Hill; Mrs. Rogers, Miss MacLeod; Mrs. Towers, Miss Jackson; Mrs. Elliott, Miss Thomas; Mr. Eastman, W. P. Warren; Maryam, Miss McMahon; Sudari, Miss Phyllis Barteaux; Ganesh, Master George deWitt; Mr. Arnold, G. W. Gilvorn; Sarfaraj Lal, A. G. Shepp; Gulshan, R. McLennan; Jai Ram, A. D. Flowers; Libwari, Miss Mason; Billy, Master Norman Phinney; June, Miss Elizabeth deWitt.

ACADEMY STUDENTS GIVE ANNUAL PLAY

A large sized audience greeted the presentation at the Orpheum Theatre last Friday evening, by the Acadia Academy Dramatic Society, of the three act comedy, "The Charm School," which was directed by Miss Pearl Griffith. The cast of characters was as follows:

Austin Evans—T. Cuddeh
An automobile salesman with ideas which
David MacKenzie—C. Crandal
A law student considers unpractical, though
George Boyd—W. Smallman
An expert accountant is willing to cooperate, and also
Jim Simpkins—C. Shatford
Tim Simpkins—M. Teas
Who toil not and have never seriously considered spinning.
Homer Johns—M. Arnold is the guardian of Elise Bendotti—L. Jenkins
the president of the senior class at a school, presided over by Miss Hayes—J. VanBuskirk who is loved and feared by all who know her including her secretary
Miss Curtis—C. Fowler who is always trying to think well of the senior class, consisting of Sally Boyd—L. Fuller who is George's sister, and Muriel Doughty—E. Vail
Ethel—G. Pond
Alix—C. Ferguson
Lillian—H. Kirby
Madge—E. McKay

Before the play and between acts a fine musical program was given by the Acadia Conservatory Orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Carl Farnsworth.

LABOR GOVERNMENT DEFEATED

By the small majority of only nine votes the Labor Government of England suffered a defeat in the House of Commons Monday night. Premier MacDonald declared, however, that his government would carry on.

Several enquiries have been made of THE ACADIAN during the past week as to the reason why no mention was made of the increase in the salary of the Town Clerk passed at the last meeting of the Council. As our representative at the meeting had no remembrance of such action being taken we set about to investigate and were able to glean the following facts. It appears that the proposed increase was recommended and supported by the Finance Committee but has not yet formally come before the Council. However an amount necessary to provide funds for the purpose was put in the estimates which were passed upon by the Council no mention of the fact was made at the meeting and our reporter failed to take in the situation. So far as we can learn the Council is about equally divided on the subject, which will be settled upon at a future meeting.

TOWN CLERK'S SALARY

We are presenting the information and without prejudice, because we believe the ratepayers are entitled to all information possible regarding town affairs. This has been for years the policy of THE ACADIAN and we have endeavored to make a specialty of the proceedings of the Council meetings. Sometimes, however, because of the tendency to transact matters of importance at what someone has been pleased to designate "emergent" meetings, of which this journal had no notice, we have been prevented from so doing. As we interpret it the duty of a local newspaper is to keep its readers informed especially on matters of public expenditure.

THE BOY SCOUTS

The regular meeting of the Wolf Cubs will be held at the Club Room this evening (Thursday) at 6.30. Most of the evening will be devoted to rehearsal for the entertainment.

OPPOSITION TO SALE OF MOOSE MEAT

A special meeting of the Fish, Forest and Game Protective Association was held Monday evening, at which the following resolution was passed: Whereas, it is the opinion of this Association that the moose in Nova Scotia are becoming depleted; and, whereas, we consider the Bill now before the House to prohibit the sale of moosemeat for three years is necessary to let them recover lost ground. Be it resolved that this Association go on record as being strongly in favor of the above Bill being made law.

KINGS COUNTY PUBLICITY BUREAU

County Branch of N. S. Publicity Bureau Formed at Kentville on Monday

The organization of the Kings county branch of the Nova Scotia Publicity Bureau took place at the town assembly hall, Kentville, on Monday afternoon. About forty delegates from various parts of the county were present. Wolfville being represented by Eason Graham, president of the Board of Trade, Mayor Chambers, H. P. Davidson, editor of THE ACADIAN, G. C. Nowlan and J. H. Baltzer.

Professor W. S. Blair was appointed chairman. W. E. Porter, secretary of the Kentville Board of Trade, read a letter from Colonel Montgomerie and set forth the purpose of the meeting.

George E. Graham, county representative for the Nova Scotia Publicity Bureau, explained that the Provincial Publicity Bureau was organized on lines similar to the organization in the State of Maine. Their idea was to centralize publicity, and the county organization had a distinct work to do.

F. G. J. Comeau, of Halifax, general passenger and freight agent of the D.A.R., told of the profitable tourist business of other places and what had been accomplished in California, Bermuda, Malisee and other places.

H. G. Harris spoke of the need of tourist organization, to gather the information as to the places where tourists could be accommodated and the need of information depots in every county, town or village.

Mayor F. D. Chambers, of Wolfville, told of the tourist business which existed 30 years ago and how profitable it was. He thought more effort should be given to bringing tourist parties by train than by automobile. The county organization should be able to place these tourists on their arrival.

Addresses were made also by Warden Munro, Mayor Parker, of Berwick, and Councillor A. R. Eisenhauer, of Canaan. It was decided to organize a Kings county branch and the following directors were appointed: Professor W. S. Blair, Kentville; A. D. Payant, Canning; E. L. Gertrude, Hantsport; Warden F. M. Munro, Kingston; Lamert Nichols, Aylesford; Mayor Parker, Berwick; Eason Graham, Wolfville.

The secretaries appointed were: George C. Nowlan, Wolfville, and J. P. Knowlton, Kentville.

The newly appointed directors and officers held a meeting in the evening to arrange for further plans for organization. A systematic canvass will be made for membership, the county membership fee being being put at $2.00.

NEW STREETS

To the Editor of THE ACADIAN.

Dear Sir:—Please allow me space in your valuable paper to make a few remarks on the proposition made before the Council at its last meeting, viz. the opening up of some new streets. In my opinion I think it is something that is absolutely necessary for the welfare of the town. It will be a benefit to all our merchants and business men. It will open up new sources for those who are looking for cheaper building lots and a place in which to make a home. If we want the town to expand there must be streets and roads provided in order to get to and from our different occupations, and if more settlers and new buildings are the only means of reducing our taxation I for one am willing to help the project along. If Central Avenue is extended to Pleasant Street it will add another link to the noted valley drive, when our tourists can enter the town from the south on the hill.

For the small amount that it will cost to put this street through I feel the town will be well repaid in a short time in this way as an advertisement alone. How many are there of our citizens who know that from the head of this street they can see the outlines of five different counties, and where in the valley can you find a more restful scene when looking off over the wide expanse of the beautiful Minas Basin enclosed in the embrace of lofty Blomidon. When the rays of the setting sun casts shadows over Peregux and the Cornwallis Valley, while the shores of Hants and Cumberland make a background fit for the brush of any artist, one is led to think of those sacred lines.
"When all thy beauties, oh my God,
My rising soul surveys,
Transported with this view I am
Lost in wonder, love and praise."
I thank you.

A TAX PAYER.

Cellophane

The transparent wrapper found on Mair's Chocolate boxes is called cellophane—one of the most interesting scientific discoveries of recent years. A French chemist, Branderberger, invented it in 1913. It is not only transparent, it is stronger than paper, bacteria proof, water proof, and impenetrable. Hence its great protecting power.

Strangely enough, it is exactly the same in composition as artificial silk, being in sheet form and generally undyed instead of thread form like the silk.

A British Columbia paper recently contained this classified adv. For Sale: Baker's Shop, Good Trade. Excellent oven; owner has been in it for seventeen years.

Editorial

Our pulpits are our work clothes. Each of us live some kind of a sermon every day.

CITIZENS SHOULD BE INFORMED

The town book, copies of which have been placed in the hands of citizens during the past week, is a very creditable production, the contents of which should be carefully studied by all who have the interests of the community at heart. Mr. Stairs has devoted much time to the preparation of the matter presented which contains much information which citizens should be very glad to receive. It has been several years since the town book was last published and as a consequence the people have not been able to keep in touch with public affairs to the same extent as was possible in the years before the war. A full review of the reports presented in the book is not necessary on our part as every ratepayer is entitled to a copy which should be carefully perused.

While we have no authority for so doing we would suggest that any further information that may be desired will be gladly furnished by the town manager, clerk or any member of the Council. It is the plain duty of citizens to be intelligently informed regarding the affairs of the community in which they make their home.

TOURIST CAMPING GROUND

Although the exact location has not yet been definitely decided upon it is pretty well established that Wolfville will have a tourist camping place during the coming season. A number of sites have been suggested the merits of which are now under consideration by the committee of the Board of Trade which has the work in hand. No matter which of these is finally decided upon considerable preparation of the ground and approaches will be required, and in order that the expense may be made as small as possible THE ACADIAN proposes that when the season is sufficiently advanced a day may be set apart and the matter made an object of community activity. The regular weekly half-holiday time is not far off, and for this particular purpose it might be advanced so as to admit of its being devoted to this purpose. With proper supervision there should be plenty of willing workers with sufficient public spirit to put this work over with a rush. Let it be made a real holiday that will long be remembered. The ladies might make a picnic of it and thus help along a very good work that will mark a milestone in our civic history and produce results that will be far-reaching.

THE LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL

The bill to abolish the Legislative Council was given the "three months hoist" by a vote of 16-14 when it came up for third reading in the House of Assembly last week. Hasty and inconsiderate legislation Premier Armstrong declared to be the end aimed at by those who supported the measure, in spite of the fact that very few of the present generation are able to remember the time when the upper chamber was regarded other than as a joke. The fact that Mr. Corning was able, in spite of the premier's criticism, to win practically half the house in support of his bill indicates that the measure is one that appeals to present day intelligence. When the voters of Nova Scotia get an opportunity to express themselves we predict that they will be heard with no uncertain sound. It is little short of a crime that the public revenue of the province should continue to be wasted on useless governmental expenses when money is so sadly needed to improve the public institutions of the country. The members of the government, who with one exception voted against the suggested reform, have failed to adequately estimate public opinion on the matter.

ENLARGING HOME MARKETS

Much has been said during the past months of the over production of apples. This has been advanced as a reason for the difficulties experienced by our marketing organizations in disposing of Nova Scotia's 1923 apple crop at satisfactory prices.

The production of apples is not unlike the business of the manufacturer; the latter might turn out a very desirable product, but invariably he will have to create his market if he goes into extensive manufacturing and to attain highest success he will not be satisfied with a minimum production such as an undeveloped market would accept.

He would not only aim to produce all the market would absorb but would take care that that market was stimulated to absorb practically all he could make.

Stimulation of the markets to increase consumption seems to be the shortest, quickest and most promising way of solving this question of a supposed over production of apples. According to statistics, consumption of apples in the United States averages one and three-quarters boxes per capita per year. In our own country the average from Atlantic to Pacific is only one-half box. Recent statements from England indicate about the same average consumption there as in Canada.

If advertising, the method employed by the manufacturer to stimulate increased demands brought the consumption up to one box per head per year, it would have doubled the consumption in our own country and in so doing would completely alter the present situation. The same agency could, no doubt, be employed to greatly increase the demand for N. S. apples in the Old Country.

THE VENDORS COMMISSION

Temperance people of Nova Scotia who have thought that substantial progress was being made in the curtailment of the use of intoxicants within their borders must have received a rude shock from the published statement that last year their Government, through its Board of Vendors Commission, realized profits amounting to over half a million of dollars from the business. The total sales of liquors by the Board during the year ending Sept. 30th, 1923, is shown to be valued at $1,386,334.35, on which the total net profit was $421,879.63. The expenses of the Board were $61,939.17, of which amount $43,611.76 went for salaries. The amount by which the Provincial Treasury was enriched by the operation of the Board of Vendors Commission was $506,688.57, as against $279,996.19 in the preceding year.

To well thinking people the fact that they have been made partners in this discreditable business must be far from comforting. The ostensible use of the Board of Vendors Commission was to provide for the supplying of alcoholic beverages for necessary medicinal purposes, but we can scarcely imagine that such an epidemic has prevailed during the past year as would warrant the increased amount of liquor sold. The number of empty containers bearing the label of the Board of Vendors strewn along the highways of the province is striking evidence of the fact that through our government we are today engaged in the same traffic which our fathers labored hard to outlaw. It is time that the people of the province took matters into their own hands and no longer allowed a good law which they have put on the statute books to be prostituted by those who have been entrusted with its enforcement.

KEEP YOUR RADIO SET IN GOOD CONDITION

The upkeep of the radio set is most essential to continued operation of the receiver on a satisfactory basis. The receiver will be just as efficient a year from the day you purchased it if the following rules of maintenance are observed.

Radio is no different than an auto; it must have attention if the high standard of its first performance is to be regular. If it goes unattended for any length of time the quality of the reception will begin to deteriorate until it finally refuses to function. There are very few wearing parts on a receiver and they are very easily kept in prime condition. It is not a matter for an engineer and takes no special training—it is just an application of common sense.

The element of the receiving combination that needs the most care is the storage of A battery. To start with, the life of the charge is of first importance.

All batteries have a certain number of ampere-hours stored in them which constitute their actual usefulness. They are rated all the way from forty ampere-hours up to 120 for ordinary radio service. The greater the number of ampers, the longer the life of the charge will be.

Keep Battery Charged
Never permit a storage battery to become more than half discharged. When the hydrometer test of each cell shows that it is down to half charge, or reads 1,200, it is time to have the battery put on charge. A battery is fully charged when the hydrometer reading is 1,300, or when a volt-meter test shows each cell to have a potential of 2.5 volts.

If you have recharging equipment read carefully the instructions that go with it before starting to charge the battery.

The cells should be carefully examined every two weeks for evaporation of the electrolyte. If the solution is below the top of the plates, replenish it with distilled water. Never use anything but distilled water, which can be obtained from any garage or drugstore. Do not fill the cell to overflowing; the level should be about one-fourth to one-half an inch above the plates. Never add acid to the solution and don't go probing down in the cell with a screw driver, as damage to the plates is more than likely to result.

When recharging the battery be sure to remove the caps, to permit a free escape of the gases generated. When the battery is bubbling freely it is a sign that the battery is being charged.

When putting the battery away always make sure that it is fully charged and avoid the sulphations of the plates and utter ruin of the battery which is the result of the reaction of the electrolyte on the plates when the battery is run down.

Most of the radio batteries sold today carry a guarantee of about eighteen months. The actual life of the battery is usually more than double the guarantee. These are just a few hints in the upkeep of the A battery. We will now turn to the B batteries.

The B battery is used to supply a high voltage to the plate of a vacuum tube. Although this voltage is high the current is very small, the value being much less than one ampere. Therefore a B battery will not run down as quickly as the A battery which is used to light the tubes.

At present two types of B batteries are on the market; one is the dry cell battery and the other the storage battery. The dry cell battery, when run down, will have to be discarded, while with the storage battery it is only necessary to recharge it.

The batteries are made with two standard ratings, 22 1-2 and 45 volts. When using a detector tube the smaller battery is sufficient to supply the plate voltage required, which is usually between 16 and 22½ volts. For an amplifier, a voltage of 45 volts and above is necessary. Higher voltages than 45 volts are obtained by connecting two or more batteries in series until the desired voltage is reached.

How Made Up
B batteries are made up of several small cells connected in series. Each cell is a small battery, independent of the rest, but connected to the others. The cell consists of a zinc container filled with a powder soaked with a chemical solution. Inserted in the solution is a small carbon electrode. The carbon is the positive terminal. The zinc container forms the negative terminal. After the cells have been connected together to form the desired voltage they are placed in a large container and then an insulating compound is poured over them to hold the group in place.

There are several ways of telling when the dry cell B battery has fallen below normal. Crackling noises will be heard in the telephones, the volume of the signals falls below par, the filament has to be burned brighter than usual and the tube will not oscillate. When these signs appear it is time to throw away the battery and procure a new one. Do not allow the batteries to stand near a radiator or heat of any kind. Heat quickens the chemical action in the battery and makes it deteriorate much faster.

One of the most desirable forms of B battery is the storage battery. Two types are obtainable, the lead battery and the alkaline battery, both of which are very serviceable and will last for a period of years. The latter is not an acid battery and will be ruined if acid is poured into it.

Testing Batteries
A hydrometer is used to test the condition of charge in these batteries. A voltmeter connected across each cell is better. It requires about fifteen hours of charging to bring the charge up to normal again and an overcharge will not cause any harm. Do not allow any of the acid or alkaline to run on anything because chemical action will destroy the article. Do not allow the acid to react, your hands, or severe burns will be caused. The acid in the Edison battery plastic and the alkaline in the Edison battery is caustic soda.

Tubes wear out but they do not need the attention required by the batteries. Some tubes will last for a year or more, while others will go "sour" after a few months. They grow more and more feeble, until the signals fail to pass through them. This is evidenced by a gradual increase in the amount of current needed to operate them efficiently. Do not subject the tubes to more than their rated voltage and you will avoid most of the troubles that folk run into with tubes. Give the radio set the same amount of consideration you would give your car and you will have first class radio reception.

GIFTS FOR RETIRING PASTOR AND WIFE

OXFORD, April 1—On Sunday evening Rev. R. W. Bennett preached his farewell sermon to a crowded church. An inspiring program of music was furnished by the choir under leadership of Mrs. McCasland. The rite of baptism was given to a number of new converts at close of this service. After the close of the regular mid-week prayer meeting, a large number of the members of the congregation of the United Baptist Church assembled in the vestry where the ladies' of the Social Circle served a luncheon. Following this Deacon T. M. Johnson, chairman, referred in remarks of appreciation to Rev. and Mrs. R. W. Bennett, and on behalf of the congregation presented their pastor with a substantial purse. He feelingly replied. On behalf of the ladies of the Social Circle, President Mrs. G. M. Macintosh presented Mrs. Bennett with a handsome bouquet of carnations, to which she suitably replied. In closing all joined in singing "Blest Be the Tie That Binds".

GOOD PASTRY

Have the shortening very cold. Roll lightly on a smooth surface. Use one-third as much shortening as you do flour. Add as little water as possible to make the pastry stick together. Thoroughly mix the shortening and flour before adding the water. Never add either shortening or flour after the water has been added, or it will mean tough crust.

THE WIDOW'S CRUISE OF OIL

On her little farm hard by the junction of Snake branch and Bitter Root creek, the Widow Thompson eked out a precarious existence.

Five times had the daisies bloomed beneath the feet of her departed husband; five times had the snow of winter caused him to use language unfit for publication as he nursed the chibbians in that distant country to which he had departed and from which he expected never to return.

The country in which he tarried had its drawbacks and the climate was undesirable. But when Mr. Thompson thought of the elderly girl he had left behind him, the gentle female whom he had vowed to love, cherish and protect until something fatal should put them asunder, he forgave country and climate all their faults and felt that he was in paradise now.

Mrs. Thompson was of the moaning dove type of lady. Like the gentle plaint of the widowed dove, her moaning, gentle complaint went on forever and forever. And then some.

Before their marriage Mr. Thompson thought this was very cute. But with waning of the honeymoon the cuteness gradually wore off and it became monotonous. Then it became tiresome. Finally it became maddening.

At last, on a glorious morning in early June, when earth and sun and sky seemed blent in one radiant smile of perfect ecstasy, Mr. Thompson felt that he could stand it no longer. So he smote his wife over the head with a frying pan and departed abruptly from the country.

He departs abruptly from this story. Mrs. Thompson's path after she began trotting in single harness again was not exactly one of roses. Her little farm was not very fertile, and it was easier to raise a dust storm on it than a crop.

But she kept a cow, and milk and butter go a long way in solving the grocery problem. She kept a bunch of industrious hens, whose offspring she sold, both in the shell and on foot.

All in all she managed to live fairly well. And she was quite happy in a gentle, subdued, complaining kind of way. A divorce was granted her after awhile, on the ground of desertion. After the divorce her neighbors naturally expected her to brighten up a little and begin to "take notice" again. But she didn't.

She seemed content to remain a poor, lone, lorn widow woman. One morning, about five years after the episode of the frying pan and the beginning of her widowhood, Mrs. Thompson awoke from her slumbers and looked out of the window. The sky was cloudy and the wind was from the east.

"Oh, my!" she sighed, as she pulled on her stocking. "Such a dreary morning! It gives me the blues and makes me feel like something awful is about to happen. Oh, my! Some folks say every cloud has got a silver lining, but it seems to me like every silver lining has got a cloud. I ain't complainin', and I reckon it's all right, but it seems to me like some folks have got all the silver lining and some folks have got all the cloud. And a poor, lone, lorn widow woman like me ain't got no right to expect anything but clouds. I ain't complainin' but—"

Still gently moaning, the widow made her way to the kitchen. At the same hour of the same morning, in the county seat town ten miles away, Judge Oldridge was cranking his car preparatory to going a-canvasing for votes. He had been county judge for two terms, and now he wanted to go to the legislature.

The car awoke with a snort and a roar under the judge's vigorous spinning of the crank. "Ha!" quoth the judge oratorically, to the empty air as he climbed into his seat. "A fine morning. It puts pep into a man—makes him feel like something good was about to happen."

The judge was a widower, a perfectly legitimate sod widower at that, and was reputed to be the wealthiest man in the county. He seemed content to remain a widower, which in the estimation of his neighbors didn't speak very well for his delinquent wife.

"The widow Thompson lives here," he mused. "I don't know whether it's worth while to stop or not. I don't believe the poor thing has a halbit, but—well, I'll stop anyhow. It won't take but a few minutes and maybe it will be a vote gained."

So he stopped. As he entered the yard he spied the widow coming up the path back of the house. He hurried around to meet her and greeted her effusively. "Why, howdy-do, Mrs. Thompson! How are you this fine afternoon?"

Mrs. Thompson passed a glass vinegar jug filled with some kind of dark brown liquid from her right hand to her left hand and extended her right hand to shake hands with the judge. "Mighty poorly, judge, mighty poorly," she replied. "I ain't complainin', but—"

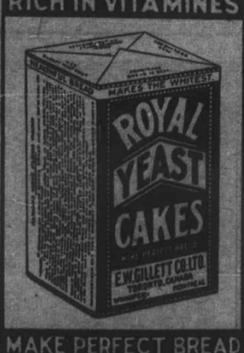

"On, you have no cause to complain!" said the judge, jovially. "You are looking fine; better than I ever saw you. But what is it you have in that vinegar jug?"

"Oh," replied the widow. "I use it for kindling fires."

"Oil—and where did you get it?" queried the judge.

"Out of the well down there at the foot of the hill," replied the widow. "I reckon I have the hardest luck of any poor widow woman that ever lived, judge. I ain't complainin', but it does seem hard to have a well on the place all gormed up with nasty stinkin' oil and have to tote drinkin' water from the crick. I ain't complainin', but—"

RICH IN VITAMINES

The judge interrupted her by taking the jug from her hand. He smelled it reverently, and wiped the perspiration from his brow. His voice trembled as he handed the jug back to the widow. "I've asked permission to go down and take a look at the well."

"Sho, judge," she said, "go down and take a look at it. It's a plumb nasty lookin', but maybe men folks don't mind that like ladies do."

The judge pattered around the well a considerable while. Finally he tore himself away from it and returned to the house. The widow invited him in. "Mrs. Thompson," said the judge after some preliminary conversation, "I came out here this afternoon preparatory to offer you a good price for your farm. I am thinking of starting a goat ranch out here. But after seeing that abominable well down there I can only offer you half of what I first intended to offer. I will give you (he named a sum) for your place."

"No, judge," said the widow. "I do not care to sell my little farm. The land is poor, I know, but I ain't complainin', and—"

After much fruitless argument the judge left. But he returned the next morning, and made a better offer.

"No, judge," said the widow. "I will never part with my little farm, I have had a hard time, but I ain't complainin', and—"

The judge raised his offer. He raised it again and again, but always with the same result. The widow refused to sell.

Finally he made an offer that was really astounding. It almost gave him heart failure to do it, but the widow was unimpressed.

"No, judge," she said. "I will never sell my little farm. You need not make me nary 'nother offer. I am not goin' to sell, and I'll tell you the reason why. A fortune teller told me not long ago that if I kept my little farm and never sold it I would be the richest woman in the county. And I ain't never goin' to sell it."

The judge staggered out of the house a defeated man. But late that afternoon he returned again. His face was haggard, but in his eyes was the glint of a desperate resolution.

"Mrs. Thompson," he said, "I lo—hum! ha—I love you. Will you marry me?"

"Yes, judge, I will," replied the widow.

They were married that evening. The judge carried his bride to his luxurious home. As she was taking off her hat, she remarked:

"Oh, my! I never was so sore and stiff in my life. Drawin' all that oil out of that well was more of a job than I thought it would be. There must of been two barrels of it."

"Drawing the oil out of the well? What do you mean?" asked the judge.

"Yes," said the widow. "I got tired of totin' water from the crick and after you left yesterday not knowin' I was to be married today, I drew all the oil out of the well so I could use the water."

"I—I—I don't understand—" stammered the judge.

"You mean you don't understand how the oil got in the well?" asked his wife. "Oh, I forgot to tell you. It was all the fault of that triflin' no-count Bill Scooby. He went to town and got a tank of crude oil to dip his hogs in because they were lousy and mangy."

And when he was comin' by my place he stopped and asked if he could drive down to the well and water his hoes. Of course I told him yes, not knowin' what would happen and he drove down there and the hoes got scared and got to rarin' around and they backed the wagon up against the well and busted the spout off'n the tank and nearly all the oil ran out into the well and I had to tote water from the crick on account of it—Oh, judge, hubby, what is the matter? Oh! Oh! Oh!

She dashed to the phone. "Central!" she yelled. "Quick! Send a doctor quick! My husband is havin' an awful fit!"

DECRIES EXPENSES OF CANADA

"It is a conservative estimate that something like half a million people of this country are living on the taxes of the rest of us," declared Gratton O'Leary, Ottawa newspaperman, before the Canadian Credit Men's Association at Toronto on recently.

"The national debt of Canada which stood at $1,382,000,000 on Armistice Day is to-day $2,400,000,000," said Mr. O'Leary. "In other words we have increased the public debt of Canada more since the Armistice than we increased it during the whole of the war."

"And that is not all. In addition to this there are enormous railroad securities which the Dominion and Canada has guaranteed and which bring the gross public debt of the Dominion to $3,219,000,000."

"According to a statement of the Royal Bank of Canada the aggregate of debts of our nine provinces totals $428,000,000. Therefore, adding the debt of nine provinces to the debt of the Dominion and including also the debts of the large cities you get the alarming fact that we have a total debt of $500 for every living soul in the Dominion."

"Compare our position in this respect to that of the United States. That country has a population of 110,000,000 people, important possessions, a big navy and army and has but eight cabinet ministers who draw in salaries $80,000 a year."

"Canada has a population of nine millions, has no outside possessions and no army or navy worth mentioning, yet she has 18 cabinet ministers and pays them, including seasonal indemnities $229,000 a year."

"The Dominion pays 18 cabinet ministers, one at $15,000 a year, and 17 at $10,000 a year, plus seasonal indemnities of $4,000, or a total of $229,000."

"Canada pays for nine lieutenant-governors salaries ranging from $7,000 to $9,000 a year, pays 235 M. P.'s $4,000 a year, and 96 Senators the same, being an annual total paid by the people of $1,644,000."

"Britain, with a population of 40,000,000 people at home and a powerful army and navy, legislates for an empire that encircles the globe and which has a combined population of 350,000,000. She did all this with a House of Commons of 615 members whose indemnities total $1,230,000. Canada with 9,000,000 people had 908 legislators and 97 cabinet ministers whose salaries are $3,000,000."

AN AUCTIONEER who has been "crying" farm auctions for the past quarter of a century tells us that he has come to the conclusion that the three essentials of a good sale are a reputation for honesty, good advertising and proper preparation. He says that he can tell what kind of a sale he is going to have by the kind of man the farmer selling out has been. "If a man has the confidence of his neighbors," he says, "they will come to the sale and bid on what they want. If he has skinned some of them a few times they will be pretty wary. That kind of news travels. It pays the farmer who plans a sale to tell the truth about his stuff. I would rather sell a seventeen-year-old horse that was announced as seventeen years old than to have the owner say he was twelve. A man who subtracts a few years from the age of a horse may find bidders subtracting several dollars from his sale total. "If a cow has one bad quarter he likes the farmer to say so. Then when he puts up his best cow the crowd will believe what he says about her. He has seen these things happen at so many sales that he can say without a doubt that nothing makes a man more money at his auction than honesty, and nothing loses it faster than trying to hide the bad spots in his tools and livestock. Sensible advertising is important. The best thing is newspaper advertising. When sale day has arrived have the tools out in line so they are easy to see. And don't paint them. Folks may feel that the farmer has something pretty poor and wants to cover it with paint. It does pay to repair machinery. A wagon without a tongue or a lever off the mowing machine cuts down the bid."

Only about one farmer in five gives his farm tools really good care. They usually get about all they deserve in price. It is a pleasure to sell a good set of tools even though they are old. If they are in good repair and the farmer has a good reputation, they'll sell well. Describing farm tools as to manufacture, giving the width of the wagon tires, and the age and weight of the horses in the advertising pays. Farmers who know what is to be sold will come for some particular article. Some farmers will run a bunch of cows and pigs together, the horses uncleaned, chickens not crated, and they lose by it. If every animal could be separated from the rest and kept in a little pen so the buyers could get close around it when bidding, or kept moving so bidders could see it from every side, there would be better prices at sales.

Talk the sale over with the auctioneer. If he is a good one he will know how to handle your stock and tools, and how to get them ready. Most of them work on a commission. The more your stuff sells for, the more they get out of a sale.

It is to their interest to help you make a good sale.

AVOID FRYING

Frying, as usually employed, is considered the least serviceable method in the cooking of food. The fat or oily material permeates the food and makes it difficult for the digestive juices to penetrate. The frying of meat, even in deep fat, produces fatty acids which have a tendency to irritate the stomach and cause indigestion.

It is generally well known that food fried in deep fat absorbs less of the fat than that which is salted in a frying pan. This may be determined by frying two pieces of fish of equal weight by the two methods and then reweighing to determine the amount of fat which has been absorbed.

the age of a horse may find bidders subtracting several dollars from his sale total. "If a cow has one bad quarter he likes the farmer to say so. Then when he puts up his best cow the crowd will believe what he says about her. He has seen these things happen at so many sales that he can say without a doubt that nothing makes a man more money at his auction than honesty, and nothing loses it faster than trying to hide the bad spots in his tools and livestock. Sensible advertising is important. The best thing is newspaper advertising. When sale day has arrived have the tools out in line so they are easy to see. And don't paint them. Folks may feel that the farmer has something pretty poor and wants to cover it with paint. It does pay to repair machinery. A wagon without a tongue or a lever off the mowing machine cuts down the bid."

Only about one farmer in five gives his farm tools really good care. They usually get about all they deserve in price. It is a pleasure to sell a good set of tools even though they are old. If they are in good repair and the farmer has a good reputation, they'll sell well. Describing farm tools as to manufacture, giving the width of the wagon tires, and the age and weight of the horses in the advertising pays. Farmers who know what is to be sold will come for some particular article. Some farmers will run a bunch of cows and pigs together, the horses uncleaned, chickens not crated, and they lose by it. If every animal could be separated from the rest and kept in a little pen so the buyers could get close around it when bidding, or kept moving so bidders could see it from every side, there would be better prices at sales.

Talk the sale over with the auctioneer. If he is a good one he will know how to handle your stock and tools, and how to get them ready. Most of them work on a commission. The more your stuff sells for, the more they get out of a sale.

It is to their interest to help you make a good sale.

AVOID FRYING

Frying, as usually employed, is considered the least serviceable method in the cooking of food. The fat or oily material permeates the food and makes it difficult for the digestive juices to penetrate. The frying of meat, even in deep fat, produces fatty acids which have a tendency to irritate the stomach and cause indigestion.

It is generally well known that food fried in deep fat absorbs less of the fat than that which is salted in a frying pan. This may be determined by frying two pieces of fish of equal weight by the two methods and then reweighing to determine the amount of fat which has been absorbed.

Measure your cloth twice since you can cut but once.

Women you envy have only this secret

You, too, may employ it to keep the radiance and bloom of youthful skin

Radiant, with the charm of youth still theirs, millions of clever women are admired—and envied—today.

Yet they have no difficult, hidden secret—no great gift. Only this simple method—which is for you, too. To give you, as well, the charm you envy in them.

For one week do this: Cleanse the skin regularly, authorities say, to keep your complexion lovely, radiant, youthful. But beware of harsh cleansing methods. They injure skin.

Wash thoroughly with Palmolive Soap—each night before retiring. Rub the creamy, foamy lather well into the tiny pores. Rinse—and repeat the washing. Then rinse again.

Then—if skin is dry—apply a little cold cream. That is all. Skin so cared for is not injured by cosmetics, by wind and sun, or by dirt.

Personal and Social

Mr. F. E. Cox, of Middleton, spent the week end at Wolfville. Mr. W. L. Brown, of the staff of THE ACADIAN, spent the week end at Truro. Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Sheppard left last week on a ten days trip to Boston and New York. Miss Ruth B. MacDonald left last week for Boston, where she will spend a month with friends. Mrs. C. A. Patriquin is at Brooklyn Street, with her mother, Mrs. Craig, who is quite seriously ill. The death occurred at Yarmouth on Sunday morning, of Laura, wife of A. B. Suttie, at one time a resident of Wolfville. Mr. G. K. Prescott returned home last week from a month spent in Sussex and other points in New Brunswick. Rev. S. S. Poole and Mrs. Poole, of St. John, were in town last week attending their daughter's graduating reception.

Mrs. T. E. Hutchinson left last week for Verdun, Quebec, where she will spend a month with her sister, Mrs. James Chalmers. Mr. P. W. Davidson, Collector of Customs at this port, is supervising the office at Port Williams during the illness of Mr. J. R. Starr, the Collector there. Mr. Elliott Schofield, who has been spending the past year in U. S. A., arrived home on Tuesday to spend two weeks' vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Schofield.

Mr. J. H. Crocker, manager of the Canadian Olympic team, who has been spending some time in the Maritime Provinces in the interests of his work, spent last Sunday at Wolfville.

Messrs. R. E. Harris and F. P. Rockwell have cur thanks for Daytona, Fla., papers. In a letter to the editor of THE ACADIAN Mr. Harris states that his party is leaving Daytona today for New York and Boston, en route home and they expect to arrive here on the 22nd.

EXTRA DUTIES FOR MISS HARRY

At the meeting of the executive of the V. O. N. on Thursday evening last an application was received from the Women's Institute of Port Williams for the services of Miss Harry in an examination of the health conditions of the children in the schools of that section. It was accompanied by a letter from Dr. Jost, the Provincial Health Officer, who expressed the hope that since King's county has dispensed with the services of a district nurse that this work would be taken on. While Miss Harry's activities are supposed to include only the town of Wolfville the organization is always glad to be helpful, and in this spirit the executive granted the request with the understanding that this should not interfere in any way with Miss Harry's work here. The Women's Institute at Port Williams is a fine organization which is carrying on very many worthy objects, not the least of which is this new departure which THE ACADIAN trusts may be crowned with success.

LIFE OF CITY FIREMEN IS TOLD IN FILMS

Veteran firemen who witnessed the William Fox screen version of "Cupid's Fireman", from the story "Andy McGee's Chorus Girl", by Richard Harding Davis, were a unit in their praise of the picture. It was conceded that it reveals the real life of a fireman more forcefully than any picture ever produced. Charles Jones has the role as Andy McGee, a young fireman detailed to special watch in a theatre. His home life, as well as his existence on active duty are portrayed faithfully. The Los Angeles fire department was used in all the scenes and even the conflagrations are real. In one scene, Jones leaps from a training tower to a net five stories below. In another, he scales a wall which actually fell later, and enters a burning building. The rescue scene is one of the most realistic ever screened and Jones actually received minor burns when he passed through the bills. "CUPID'S FIREMAN" comes to the Orpheum theatre Friday and Saturday. Marian Nixon has the principal feminine role, while an adequate cast gives excellent support. The picture was directed by William Wellman.

AVONPORT

James Starratt, who has been ill, is improving. Mrs. Lockhart and daughter have been spending a few weeks at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Starratt. We gladly welcome Mr. MacMillan to Wolfville and wish for him a successful business career here. It is poor policy to send out of town for work of any kind that can be done in a local establishment deserving of public support. Two three-masted schooners arrived from Boston on Sunday. They are the "Whiteway", Capt. Thibe, and the "Marion G. Douglas", Capt. R. S. Keer. They are loaded with fertilizer and have been for some time at Parrsboro waiting a chance to get up. This makes three cargoes of fertilizer, about 2000 tons in all, which has arrived here this spring. Probably three or four more vessels of the same class will come here in the fall. Wednesday being the anniversary of the battle of Vimy Ridge was duly observed by the students of Acadia University. The student body assembled at the Administration Building and at 8 a. m. led by the College band proceeded to the Memorial Gymnasium, where they were fittingly addressed by Rev. Dr. J. H. MacDonald. Worshipful Master—Rev. Thomas W. Hodgson. Senior Warden—J. Erie Bigelow. Junior Warden—Dr. S. W. Spicer. Treasurer—H. K. Bain. Secretary—L. W. Slack. Senior Deacon—J. Roberts. Junior Deacon—A. H. Wood. Senior Steward—H. A. North. Junior Steward—A. S. Wood. Chaplain—L. M. Ward. Tyler—J. E. Burgess. Marshal—Benjamin Patten. Organist—C. H. Meek.

Speeches by Past District Deputy Grand Master R. T. Caldwell, Past Master C. S. Silver, and Worshipful Master, Rev. Thomas W. Hodgson were greatly enjoyed, after which a social hour was spent and refreshments served.

GIRL GUIDES HOLD DEVOTIONAL SERVICE

A large and representative audience gathered in Canning Armory, Sunday afternoon, where the Girl Guides, Captain Bigelow, Lieutenant Melvin, held a Devotional Service, the auditorium being attractively decorated.

The meeting opened by the singing of "Stand Up, Stand Up for Jesus" by the Guides, who in uniform occupied the platform. It was a beautiful sight, and deeply impressed the gathering, as the young voices blending harmoniously, raised their hymns of praise to the "Giver of All".

The accompanist was Guide Laurabel Bigelow. The Lord's Prayer and the Scripture Lesson, Matt. 5, were then repeated in unison, "O'er Jordan's Dark and Stormy River" was then sung.

The programme was a very delightful one, consisting of readings by Patrol Leader Constance Adams, Guides Marjorie O'Brien, Nellie Eaton and Clara Meek; vocal solo, Guide Marjorie Annis, who has a voice of rare beauty; vocal duet by Guides, Ona Ward, Leila Blenkhorne, which was very pleasing.

Worthy of special mention was the action song, "Jesus Lover of My Soul", sung by Guides Marjorie Annis, Madeline Covert, Ceva North, Florence Eaton. The Guide Law and Promise were repeated in unison by the girls.

Captain Bigelow then gave a resume of the Girl Guide Movement. This movement was inaugurated as a means to an end, a means of instilling the girls of today, who are the home makers of tomorrow, having a good environment and the interest of wholesome activity outside the school wall during the hours of free time. It is a system of voluntary self-education in character, handicraft service for others, health and physical development brought through a form of game which appeals to the girls themselves.

The movement is non party, non political, and interdenominational, applying equally to the children of our manufacturing towns, to the native girls of India, and to the girls of the feminine equivalents of Eton and Harrow. Other organizations have found that the training could be of real value to their girls and have adopted it. While the collection was being taken by Patrol Leaders, Bennett and Borden, the audience joined with the Guides in the singing of "I Love Him".

I feel I cannot close without a few words in appreciation of the work of Captain Bigelow and Lieutenant Melvin. The influence they are exerting among the young life of the community will go on and on, and eternity alone will tell the results of their labors. These high ideals, for which the Girl Guides stand, put into practice mean the life of the Christian. The afternoon was one of more than ordinary pleasure, and we hope to have an opportunity of again joining with them.

SHEFFIELD MILLS Mr. and Mrs. Byron Newcombe, Sheffield Mills, were the guests of honor at a delightful gathering held at their home on Friday evening, April 4th, the occasion being the thirtieth anniversary of their marriage. More than sixty friends took this opportunity of wishing them many years of continued happiness. Mrs. Newcombe was charming in a gown of brown silk, and was assisted in receiving by her mother, Mrs. Duncan McCuish, and her daughter, Mrs. Cecil Irving. Mr. Fred Newcombe, who in a cleverly arranged address expressed the good wishes of the gathering, presented Mrs. Newcombe with a purse of money, to which Mr. Newcombe responded in a witty manner, expressing the pleasure and gratitude of Mrs. Newcombe and himself for the kind thoughts and tangible tokens of appreciation. Mrs. Newcombe also thanked their friends. The evening was delightfully spent in games, which were followed by supper, those assisting being Mrs. Ernest Harris, Mrs. Perry Rand, Mrs. William Burgess, Mrs. Cecil Irving, Miss Hazel Newcombe, Mr. Whitfield Ellis. Community singing was then enjoyed, the accompanist being Mrs. W. W. Harris. "Good Night Ladies" was then sung, and the friends of the bride and groom of thirty years ago departed.

The Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. A. W. Bowser, Friday afternoon, April 4, President, Mrs. W. W. Harris, in the chair. The attendance was large and the meeting interesting. The programme was under the direction of the agricultural committee, Mrs. Clarke Ross and Mrs. Fred Henwood, who spoke helpfully on the subject of agriculture. The response to roll call brought forth many helpful suggestions along the same line. A general discussion on the subject was followed by music, the afternoon being much enjoyed.

BLOMIDON The community learned with regret of the death of Abraham Pincio, a highly esteemed resident of Blomidon, who passed away at Hanley Mountain, Annapolis Co., Friday, April 4, aged 83 years. Mr. Pincio, who resided in Blomidon, sold his farm last week to Mr. Wallace Porter, and accompanied his son Owen, on Wednesday, to Hanley Mountain, where the latter was engaged by Mr. Isaac Ellis, who has a mill in that place. Two days later Mr. Pincio passed away and his remains were brought to Canning on Saturday. Mr. Pincio married Martha Huntley, of Medford. Those left to mourn are a widow, one son, Owen, of Mount Hanley, and two daughters, Lalia, wife of Charles Newcombe, Blomidon, and George, Mrs. Hiltz of New Ross. The funeral service held in Pereau Baptist Church, Sunday afternoon, was largely attended and was a very beautiful one conducted by Rev. W. G. Heisler, his subject for thought being Psalm 90. The choir led in the singing of "Rock of Ages", "Nearer My God to Thee", and "Shall we Gather at the River". The pall bearers were Messrs. Leverett DeWitt, George Woolaver, George Porter, Enos Lyons. The remains were laid to rest in Pereau Cemetery.

KINGSFORT Kingsport Whist Club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Dickie, Wednesday, April 2, a delightful evening being spent. The ladies' prize was won by Miss Minnie Woodburn, and the gentlemen's by Mr. Arthur Taylor.

Kingsport and Medford Bridge Clubs were delightfully entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Ellis, on Thursday evening. Miss Aileen D. Ellis won the ladies' prize, Mr. Ralph Bigelow winning the gentlemen's.

The Kingsport Hotel has been rented by Mr. Graham, of Windsor, who spent a few days in town last week.

SCOTT'S BAY Miss Evelyn Thorpe returned last week from Fitchburg, Mass., to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Thorpe, for the summer.

Scotts Bay Division held a splendid meeting last week, music and games being enjoyed by a large number.

Mr. Mayford Tupper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Tupper, returned on Thursday from Wampole, Mass.

Mr. Wilmot Irving left on Saturday for Kingsport to join the "Lena".

Mrs. Clement C. Corkum left for Halifax last week, to undergo medical treatment.

TWO SIDES TO THIS Giff—"He's an awfully clever man." Gaff—"Not a bit of it. He only makes people think so." Giff—"Well, don't you call that clever?"

KEEP SMILING When things are looking blue, Just keep smiling! When you think you can't pull through, Keep on smiling! Trouble stays right with a quitter, But it shuns a real go-getter. Though the dose be hot and bitter, Just keep smiling! When the sun don't want to shine, Just keep smiling! For it can't be all good weather, Sun and rain must come together. Never show the old white feather, But keep smiling!

EDUCATED Rastus—"Most, do you want to buy that mathematical canine o' mine?" Moses—"Huh. Looks like an old crippled houn' dawg to me." Rastus—"Jest so, Mose, jest so—he puts down three and carries one."

The Value of a Guarantee lies not so much in its protective penalty as in its satisfying assurance. No firm selling goods with a guarantee attached, expects to be called upon to pay the penalty. For it is naturally the intention to so carefully guard the quality that dissatisfaction will be impossible.

Throughout its many years of service "King Cole" Tea has consistently been sold with a guarantee—a guarantee definite and substantial. It is printed on every "King Cole" package.

It carries to the buyer an evidence of good faith—a confidence in ability to serve—a determination to serve well.

Following the Fashion Parade and Pageant given in the Capitol Theatre, Kentville, yesterday, all garments and merchandise shown will be on display and sale at our store for several days. Never before have the people of this section of the country been privileged to see such a marvellous display.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

APRIL 11 THOU SHALT LOVE THE LORD thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbour as thyself.—Luke 10:27.

APRIL 12 OF A TRUTH I perceive that God is no respecter of persons; but in every nation he that feareth him, and worketh righteousness, is accepted with him.—Acts 10:34, 35.

APRIL 13 FOR GOD SO LOVED THE WORLD, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life.—John 3:16.

APRIL 14 HE THAT LOVETH SILVER shall not be satisfied with silver; nor he that loveth abundance with increase; this is also vanity. When goods increase, they are increased that eat them; and what good is there to the owners thereof, saving the beholding of them with their eyes?—Ecclesiastes 5:10, 11.

APRIL 15 BLESS THE LORD, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits; who forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healeth all thy diseases; who redeemeth thy life from destruction.—Psalm 103:2-4.

APRIL 16 LET THIS MIND BE IN YOU, which was also in Christ Jesus. Let nothing be done through strife or vainglory; but in lowliness of mind let each esteem other better than themselves.—Philippians 2:5, 3.

APRIL 17 BE SURE YOUR SIN WILL FIND YOU OUT.—Numbers 32:23.

SHAPING THE YOUNG APPLE TREE

The directing of the growth during the early years of the apple tree is of particular importance. The ideal tree is probably that which has the first branches about 21 inches from the ground.

Heading back at planting time is necessary to balance the loss of roots cut off by digging. Tests made at Kentville show an average growth of 4.82 inches the first year and 20 inches the second year.

Strong growth branches should be suppressed by heading back and weak branches not pruned at all. If the whole tree is weak, a severe heading back in the spring will throw greater vigor into the remaining buds.

The central branch should be allowed to maintain the lead, not however, for the purpose of forming a pyramidal tree with a central leader.

To balance the tree, the heading back of strong growing branches is necessary. This heading back tends to develop side branches, and attention must be given to the elimination of some of these.

Did You Ever Stop To Think ?

- THAT the wise buyer always reads the advertisements. THAT it is the way to save money. THAT everybody should know of your home town's business advantages. THAT your town is an acknowledged leader in your section for certain lines of business. THAT it is a good plan to think before you speak. THAT some men often speak before they think. THAT it often causes much grief. THAT if you think more about Wolfville and study its advantages, you can be a better community booster. THAT there are two sides of human nature, optimistic and pessimistic. THERE SHOULD BE ONLY ONE SIDE IN WOLFVILLE. THAT some citizens would rather knock their own home town than to boost it. PUBLIC OPINION should make this class of citizen hard to find. THAT communities get reputations the same as men. THAT Wolfville should have the best of reputations. THAT optimism and common sense should be mingled in good proportion. THAT if you do this, you will find it easier to think, to speak and to act in a way that will help to make yours a better and bigger community. THAT pernicious propaganda in business circles should cease. Now is the time for the trouble monger, the fellow who has done his best to keep things down, to shut up and do some thinking.

Mr. M. K. Ellis was in Truro last week attending the closing exercises of the N. S. Agricultural College. His son, Donald C. Ellis, is a graduate this year from that institution.

Mrs. MacEwen and little daughter, Miss Mary, are guests of Mrs. Campbell Clarke. Mrs. MacEwen is assisting Mrs. Clarke with her millinery work for the spring and summer trade.

Miss Blanche Regan left on Friday for Halifax where she will enter the "Infirmary" as student for a three years course in nursing.

Mrs. Manning K. Ellis and daughter, Miss Mary, spent the week end at Waterville, guests of Mrs. W. W. Pineo, at "Widenermere".

The debate between the "Crusaders" and "Delta Alpha" S. S. classes on Monday evening was a success. The subject under discussion, whether war or strong drink has been the most injurious to mankind, was handled remarkably well, showing careful reading and study on both sides of the question. The girls looked very attractive dressed alike in white middieys and dark skirts, while their clear speaking and composed manner did credit to much older debaters. T. S. Lockwood (Supt.) acted as chairman. Rev. O. N. Chipman, Councillor G. L. Bishop, Miss A. M. Cogswell were the judges, giving the decision in favour of the "Delta Alphas". At the close of the debate a short program of readings and music was given. The losing side entertain the winners at a banquet on Saturday evening.

Rev. and Mrs. R. B. Layton were guests for the day with Mrs. Oscar Chase on Monday last week.

A crowded house greeted the Kentville Dramatic Club on Thursday evening when they gave "The Colonel's Maid" in Temperance Hall. The characters were very well taken, especially the chinaman who was the life of the whole play.

Misses Rita Hiltz and Claire Cogswell were guests of Rev. and Mrs. Layton at the Manse, Kentville, on Sunday, remaining the day to attend the organ recital.

Miss Susie Chase, B. S. A., returned from a delightful trip on Tuesday, having spent the winter at Bermuda and different ports in the West Indies.

The sacred cantata, "The Resurrection Light", that is being prepared by the senior and junior choirs under the direction of Mrs. O. G. Cogswell to be given here Easter Sunday evening, will be given in Canard Baptist Church Palm Sunday evening, weather and roads permitting.

Capt. and Mrs. Cameron and daughter spent last Sunday the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Harvey, Grand Pre.

Miss Hazel Dodge, of Kentville, spent the week end with her cousin, Mrs. Neal Coulstan.

The Dramatic Club of "Lily of the Valley" Division is having lots of fun preparing the dialogue "Old Maids' Convention". If the giving of it to the public proves as amusing they will feel well repaid for the admission fee.

Mrs. Chas. Collins is spending a couple of weeks in New Glasgow, the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Beck.

The Women's Institute met on Wednesday last as Miss Helen MacDougall could be present on that day, coming from Berwick where she spoke the previous evening. The Roll Call was responded to with notes on "Health". Miss MacDougall was bright and interesting as usual, her talk was on the work of the provincial Institutes. She feels very keenly the loss of the grant given by the federal government to Institutes throughout Canada, which has been recently abolished. While in town Miss MacDougall was the guest of Mrs. D. S. Collins.

GREENWICH

Another proof of a remarkable month of March in Nova Scotia is the fact that a gentleman of Smith's Cove, Digby Co., went to Yarmouth in his "auto" and made a record trip from there around the South Shore to Halifax and back to Yarmouth thru the Annapolis Valley, making the round trip from the 12th to the 17th of March without a mishap. A trip equal to the middle of summer, and nothing the matter with old Nova Scotia.

Mr. George Bishop was one of the judges of the debate at Port Williams last Tuesday evening, April 1st, between three of the girls and three boys of the Baptist Sunday School.

Miss Lillian E. Bishop had an active part in the interesting pageant put on last Wednesday evening at the Baptist Church, Wolfville, by the Student Volunteers of Acadia College.

Mr. James E. Forsythe, who is sorry to learn, has not been so well the past few weeks, being confined to his bed most of the time. We hope for better news soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Walsh and family, who have lived here the last year, moved to Port Williams last Thursday.

Mrs. Burpee Bishop and Mrs. Grace Andrew gave "afternoon teas" at the home of the former, on both Thursday and Friday afternoon of last week, from 3 to 5. A good number of the ladies of the community accepted their invitations and enjoyed meeting friends in a pleasant and social way. Tea was poured both afternoons by Mrs. Andrew Fenwick and six young ladies, three each day, served the refreshments. Potted plants of choice varieties in bloom, also lovely ferns, gave to the rooms a most pleasing and pretty effect.

A large number attended League last Friday evening and enjoyed to the full the programme put on by the two committees, dramatic and social, which consisted of several Charades, and an amusing and uncommon part was the "Musical Asters", three young men and four young ladies. Reading by Miss Bessie Fraser; violin solo by Mr. Robert Fishop, accompanied on piano by Miss Jessie Bishop; vocal solo by Mr. George Wilson, also by Mrs. W. Currie, who is a favorite with the audience; duct by Messrs. Robert Bishop and Charlie Fenwick, each number being encored. The current events at first of evening proved interesting and amusing too. The much enjoyed refreshment of generous dishes of nice ice-cream and various kinds of cake was an agreeable part of the evening, giving a social finish to the season's G. C. L. meetings. But we understand the recent debate is to be discussed further, as a finish, on Friday evening this week.

Mrs. Lee Bishop and little daughter, Doris, arrived home on Saturday evening from a two weeks visit in Windsor with her sisters.

Mr. Emmerson Johnson returned home from a term at Agricultural College, Truro, on Saturday evening.

Rev. Mr. Prestwood, of Hantsport, preached again here last Sunday, and his sermon was enjoyed.

Mrs. T. A. Pearson returned home Monday afternoon from a visit of some time at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Brenton Merry, Bear River.

Miss Rena Cox entertained a girl friend from Acadia Seminary for the week end.

Mr. Hazen Bishop is repairing and shingling his barn.

Miss Lillian E. Bishop is having her apartment for rental nicely fixed up, or redecorated in paint and new paper.

CANNING AND VICINITY

Elijah C. Borden passed away at his home at Digby on Tuesday morning, after a year's illness, aged 79 years. Mr. Borden, who was a son of the late Benjamin Borden, of Borden Street, resided until two years ago at Kingsport where for a number of years he was the efficient station agent for the D.A.R. Mr. Borden, who was one of our most esteemed citizens, married Ruby, daughter of the late Elijah Cox, of Habitant. He is survived by his widow, two sons, Frederick, residing at the old homestead at Randville; and Arthur, of Middleton; two daughters, Mrs. Wm. Farnham, of Digby, Mason to be distributed as commissions for securing deposits from the Province of Ontario.

and Miss Alice residing at home, Mrs. Daniel Cox, of Colonsville, Conn., is a sister.

Rev. H. T. Wright, of the West End Baptist church, Halifax, formerly of United Baptist Church, Canning, will exchange pulpits on Sunday next with Rev. G. D. Hudson, of Upper Canard Baptist Church.

Mr. Fred Bennett has moved from Canard and has taken a house off North Avenue.

HUMANE WEEK

The present week is what has been for years known in the U. S. as "Kindness to Animals Week", during which the public are called upon to consider the just claim upon them for compassion of the beasts of the farm, field and forest and the birds of the air. It is now proposed to also make this an institution of this country and Lieut. Gov. Grant has issued a proclamation to that effect. The teachers in the schools are especially requested to recognize "Humane Day", Friday, April 11th, in the schools and so far as is practicable that suitable exercises be held in which the children are encouraged to participate. It is also suggested that on Humane Sunday, April 13th, all our churches should emphasize the nobility of a character which is filled with the spirit of kindness and good-will towards animal life. The idea is a good one that heartily deserves public support.

SCIENCE DEMANDS UNIFORMITY

Careful research made in recent years in the study of dietetics has shown the great importance to the human system of purity and uniform quality in foods. It is a great blessing that today so many delicious foods as well as tea and coffee can be procured in air tight packages. "SALADA" Tea was one of the first pure food products to become widely popular in Canada. The aluminum package keeps the tea fresh and delicious while skilful blending maintains the quality absolutely uniform.

During the month of February the D. A. R. passenger trains on time showed a splendid record of 93%. This was even bettered for the month of March with the record average of passenger trains 94% on time, being an improvement of 1% over the previous month. During the month of March trains Nos. 2, 3, 4, 6, 96 and 97 were all 100% on time, with trains Nos. 1, 95, and 98, 96% on time. When it is remembered the many and varied things which go to delay trains this is surely a good record.

DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF HANTSPORT AND VICINITY

HANTSPORT HAPPENINGS

Rev. J. W. Prestwood occupied the pulpit of St. Andrews Church, Wolfville, on Sunday last.

Mrs. Howcroft, wife of Archdeacon Howcroft, of the Diocese of Edmonton, who has been the guest of her parents, Capt. and Mrs. W. McCollough, for several months, left for her home last week.

Miss Mabel McConnel, who spent several days with friends in Halifax, returned home on Saturday.

Rev. Dr. Mellick gave his illustrated lecture on Western Canada in the Baptist Church, Windsor, on Friday evening.

Prof. Harley, of Windsor, occupied the pulpit of the Anglican Church on Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hart returned to Hantsport on Wednesday, after spending the winter months with Mrs. Hart's mother, Mrs. F. Gordon, Milford, Hants Co.

Mrs. R. P. Harvie, of Burlington, is at the home of her parents, Capt. and Mrs. McCollough, assisting in caring for her sister, Miss L. McCollough, who is seriously ill.

Miss Elinor Chesley, a student at Edgell School for girls, Windsor, is home for the Easter holidays.

The many friends of Capt. and Mrs. S. H. Mitchner are pleased to learn that they are recovering from their recent illness.

Mr. Geo. Reid is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Reid.

Mr. Wesley Coalfleet arrived from New York on Saturday, and will spend his vacation at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Pattison. He was joined at Digby by Mrs. Coalfleet and little son, who have been visiting relatives there for several weeks.

Mr. Manning Gertridge, of Truro, is spending a vacation at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Gertridge, Hants Border.

Mrs. J. L. Hatfield and two children left last week for her former home in Maitland, where she will make an extended visit before removing with Mr. Hatfield to St. John.

Misses Frank Newcombe and Fred Davidson left Tuesday for New Jersey, where they have secured positions.

An enthusiastic game of basketball took place in the Scout Building, on Tuesday evening, April 1st, between the town and the High School, the former winning by a score of 25-19.

Miss Beatrice Pattison, of Kentville, was home for the week end.

The many friends of Mrs. W. Flemming regret that she is suffering from an attack of pleurisy.

Miss Muriel Francis is visiting relatives in Kentville.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Murray and family, Mr. and Mrs. Alec Murray and family, and Miss Aileen Weston were guests of Mrs. Robinson and Miss Sadie Robinson, Mount Uniacke, on Saturday, April 10th, Miss Robinson leaves for Trinidad where her marriage with Rev. George Murray will take place. Mr. Murray has been engaged in the foreign mission field at Guano, Trinidad, for a year and a half.

The best wishes of friends will go with Miss Robinson for her future happiness.

On Thursday evening April 3rd, a concert under the auspices of the Falmouth Women's Institute, was presented in the Empire Theatre, when an excellent programme was rendered. Each one taking part acquitted themselves in a very creditable manner. After the concert the performers were very pleasantly entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Churchill.

At the conference meeting of the Baptist Church on Wednesday evening of last week, an invitation was extended Rev. F. H. Beals to remain as pastor of the church, which was accepted. The following order of services will be held during Passion Week:

On Tuesday evening the service will be at Mt. Denson; Wednesday evening, Hantsport; Thursday evening, Mt. Denson; Friday evening, Hantsport. Rev. W. C. Machum, a former pastor, will address the meeting on Friday evening. There will be appropriate sermons and music on Easter Sunday.

We make a specialty of auction positions. Prompt service at fair prices. Mail your orders to THE ACADIAN at Wolfville.

NOVA SCOTIA SCHR. IN DISTRESS

MIAMI, Fla., April 4—The four-masted schooner Avon Queen has been reported in distress near Marquesas Keys, twenty miles west of Key West. The coast guard cutter Sauksee has sailed to her assistance.

The Avon Queen is a schooner of 1035 tons and was formerly the Jessie Louise Fauquier, and was built in Hantsport in 1918 by Fauquier and Porter, and is owned by the Avon Transportation Company, Limited. The schooner is 201.8 feet in length, 39.2 feet wide, and has a depth of 18.5 feet. The last available shipping records give her position as being at Mobile on March 16 loading for Tenerife. She is fitted with auxiliary power.

Dec. 10th, 1847. (A leaf is missing here, it is about the new singing-school teacher coming.) Mr. Fitch states his method of teaching, and explained about the Gamut, he sang two rounds, his voice sounded sweet and melodious. I think he will be a good singing master. He asked us to sing some tunes we knew, when named, he commenced upon the tenor at just the right pitch. He said he would come next Friday evening prepared to commence. We had very muddy roads to travel. 11th. This has been a warm windy day, with showers. After breakfast Hibbart got Father's horse and rode to Windsor. After dinner John Michner came in a while and just before dark Mr. Michner came in about half sick with a very sore throat. He came in twice after tea to see if Hibbart had returned yet. John was here when Hibbart arrived. He said the roads were very bad, almost a mire. He left Capt. John Toye and the "Wanderer's" crew at Armstrongs taking their supper, having just come up from Halifax. He said Mother was up to Mary Sams when he came home. He brought a letter to her from Windsor. He also got a letter from Capt. Wilson, of the brig "Mary Hibbart", and he went over to Susan's to tell her the news. After he had gone, I went to the door and heard some one talking. I knew it to be Joe Davidson, as the sound was borne along on the breeze. He was not further along than Gould's, and, sure enough, it was he. He gave a shout as he passed. I would have called to him, but there were two others with him. Won't Olivia be pleased! 12th. Mary Marsters had a son this morning. Another Sabbath day has passed and gone. All have retired to rest but me. I arose this morning at break of day. The sky was clear and the stars shone brightly. Surely the heavens declare the glory of God, and the firmament sheweth his handiwork. This has been the finest day since I came here, and now we are about to have moonlight nights. Hibbart and Ezra went down to sister Olivia's this forenoon, then came home to dinner. In the afternoon, Ezra, Silas, Hibbart and I went down. Abraham Hines was there. Then Girden came. He and Joe played on the accordeon. When they went away John and Ann came down. We all tried the accordeon, but could not play a whole tune. I saw a lot of men and women go down to the shore and return again. Dan Doleman presented Mary Churchill with an accordeon while there—she being one of the party. James Whipple came in. When I came back, Whitman came with me. We met Ameret and Louisa coming to Olivia's. After I got supper, I went up home. Aunt Olive was there. John was playing on his accordeon. I got my bonnet and came down to meeting, which had commenced. We had quite a nice meeting. It had been sometime since I was there. It seemed like old times to hear little Asa speak again. I must now retire for the night, praying God to give me grace to spend my Sabbaths and means of grace aright, that they may prove blessings indeed.

13th. This is a very wet day for winter. Some years we have had a month's hard weather by this time. I have been sewing some. We got dinner early. Hibbart and a parcel of men have gone to Windsor in a boat. The "Waltron" took some ladies. There were six or eight men talking half the afternoon with Capt. Beckwith, and about a rod further along as many more. All the day they are gathering in clusters discussing about posting and other important matters. Mrs. James was in this afternoon and Granny was in a while. She looks very miserable. Silas H. and Rodman have been shopping for candy. Hibbart got home just after dark. James Frize was in a while. Hibbart brought home a pair of flat irons. This is Susanna McDonald's wedding day, being married to Dickson Crowe. The boys have been saluting them. Ezra is up to Father's. I suppose he is quite amused by hearing John play the accordeon. John W. Holmes has numbed his twenty first year to-day. 14th. This has been a drizzling wet day. Ezra came home this morning with Rob's jacket, having forgotten to wear his own to school. Abigail came up home. She was in here. We got dinner early. Capt. Toye and Capt. Robert Davidson came in a while. Mr. and Mrs. Kendal Holmes have been here to spend the evening, just as we were drinking tea. Wm Davidson came in a great sweat about building an aboiteau. Edward Coalfleet came in and brought Hibbart a letter from Mr. Barrs, enclosing one for Mrs. Wilson and one for himself from Capt. Wilson, sending word that the Mary Hibbart was sold. I took the letter and went over to Susan's. Mr. Church was there. When he went away Andrew Beckwith and W. Coalfleet came. I then came across to Mrs. Manson's, as Mr. Church just came along he went in with me. Hibbart has to go to Halifax in the morning. I suppose it is bedtime for me. However, I must keep my journal.

TENNYSON'S TRAGEDY

There was a tragedy in Tennyson's life. When he went to the wedding of his brother Charles—parson and poet—the youngest daughter of Mr. Henry Sellwood, a solicitor of Horn-castle, he met as one of the bridesmaids, Emily, her elder sister. He had met her some years before, but it was when he saw her—perhaps the pretty bridesmaid's dress had something to do with it—he recognized that he loved her and that he must marry her—her and no other.

But all kinds of difficulties stood in the way—mainly the difficulty of the little money Tennyson had and the big family responsibilities. They were not engaged till five years later, and then, as revenue did not increase in the Tennyson household, the engagement was partially broken, the solicitor of Horn-castle was possibly not the man to have the inner vision that would prove to be a more clear-sighted man all the magnificent possibilities of the young poet.

For ten years the lovers were separated: indeed separated so completely by the action of the young lady's solicitor father that they did not correspond with each other and in the meantime poor Tennyson was eating his heart out. The hour of realization of their dreams began when Tennyson met Emily Sellwood at the house of a cousin of his at Shiplake; they could marry by this time, and Tennyson chose Shiplake with this happy reunion after the years of separation for the ceremony.

But the marriage was not celebrated till 1850, when Tennyson was in his forty-third year; it was thus fourteen years after Tennyson and his wife had fallen in love. It was no wonder that Tennyson was occasionally grumpy and fretful. The course of true love had not certainly in his case run smooth. But at least he had one consolation: the longed for, long-awaited marriage: was a perfect success. "The peace of God came into my life when I wedded her," he said to his son. But the inner and ever-bleeding wound of such prolonged waiting could never be entirely healed.—T. P.'s and Cassell's Weekly

TOWN OF WOLFVILLE

Annual Report For 1923

REPORT OF THE TOWN MANAGER

The cost of hauling sand for tarvia work from Port Williams and placing in a storage pile amounted to $1.70 per cu. yd. The following data are taken from the season's records:—

Area of Main Street and Linden Avenue resurfaced—14,500 square yards.
Cost of Cold Patching (Material and all labor, mixing and placing.)	$325.00
Cost of Cold Patching per sq. yd. of total area	2.2c.
Cost of Tarvia B—1500 gallons at 24c.	364.00
Cost of Sand and Hauling	212.00
Total—Tarvia B and Sand	$596.00
Cost of materials—Tarvia B and Sand—per sq. yd.	4.1c.
Cost of applying Tarvia B and Sand	186.00
Cost of applying Tarvia B and Sand per sq. yd.	1.3c.
Total Cost of Tarvia Work on Main Street and Linden Avenue per sq. yd., including cold patching	7.6c.

This unit cost, considering the cost of materials, is moderate. It must be remembered that we have a three mile haul one way for suitable sand. It will also be noted that quite a considerable amount of cold patching work had to be done before applying the Tarvia B.

Two macadamized streets had special treatment in 1923. Tarvia B was applied to Elm Avenue. Central Avenue between Main and Front Streets was treated with a light asphalt oil. Both these streets stood up well under the traffic and fall rains. It is believed that this same treatment can be continued on other macadamized streets and practically a light dustless pavement built up.

The maintenance of four town horses is a considerable item. If good teams for hire were available at all times during the Spring, Summer and Fall, the use of such teams might be cheaper than the present system. Under present conditions it is just a question as to whether or not it would be wise to dispose of one or more horses. Considering all costs, including investment, maintenance, lost time, and depreciation to horses and equipment, it is estimated that the cost per horse is not less than $0.15 for each working hour.

The town plows were repaired last Fall, one being practically rebuilt. In any but extreme snow falls these plows do good work, and provide a cheap method of keeping the side walks clear. The cost per 100 feet travelled, charging $1.50 per day for each snow plow in addition to labor and other expenses, is less than 2 cents.

Heavy rains during the late Fall coming when there was no frost in the ground caused several bad washouts in the streets. They were repaired, however, before the snow came.

During the past season the town rock crusher was rented to the Avon River Power Co., with an agreement that it be returned in good order, at the rate of $5.00 per day. This equipment has already returned the sum of $430.00 to the town, $200.00 of which was paid into the Streets Sinking Fund.

Mr. Aubrey Dakin has done good work for the Town as foreman in this and other Works Departments for the past year.

Some of the largest items of street expenditures during 1923 in round numbers were as follows:

Snow removal and keeping streets open during January, February, March and April	$1250.00
Tarvia work—Main St. and Linden Ave.	921.00
Tarvia work—Elm Ave.	80.00
Asphalt Oil—Central Ave. North of Main St.	36.00
East End Extension of Main Street	155.00
Maple Avenue	230.00
Gaspereau Avenue	335.00
Spring Cleaning of Streets	150.00
Weekly Street Cleaning	200.00

Victoria Avenue	20.00
Horton Avenue	12.00
Prospect St.	58.00
Dyke Road to Government Wharf	46.00
Front Street	25.00
Coal and Repairing Steam Roller	125.00
Raking leaves in October	100.00
Sanding Side Walks, December	44.00
Snow Plow in December	32.00
From the Auditors' report the total expenditures on streets, less interest and sinking fund charges, are	$5371.28
Credits to Street Department	415.44
Net Expenditure	$4955.84
Supplies on hand, December 31st included:
Hay and Straw	$30.00
Crushed Stone	75.00
Tarvia B—250 gallons	60.00
Tarvia K. P.—110 Gallons	41.00
Asphalt Oil—135 gallons	30.00
Total	$236.00

WATER DEPARTMENT.

To those not familiar with the source of the Wolfville water supply, reservoirs, mains, etc., a brief outline of the system may be of interest.

The town owns a well wooded tract of land on the South Mountain, South of the Gaspereau Valley, containing about six hundred acres. As a source of supply, isolated and free from contamination, and furnishing pure water, this area is probably unexcelled. From the pond created by a small masonry dam built on the stream draining that area the water passes through screens into a six inch pipe line. This pipe line, crossing the Gaspereau Valley, reaches the reservoirs built on the ridge back of the town, where by opening or closing valves either one or both reservoirs may be fed, or the water brought directly into town without entering the reservoirs. In turn, either reservoir, the newer and more southerly of the two being some ten feet higher than the older, may be arranged to supply the eight inch main leading down to Main street, just East of Mr. Sherwood's house.

Our distribution mains consist of a eight inch cast iron pipe on Main street from Mr. Sherwood's to Highland Avenue and running up Highland Avenue to Acadia Street. Six inch mains are laid on Main street from Highland Avenue to Westwood Avenue, on Acadia Street from the hydrant at the college easterly to about 300 feet from Gaspereau Avenue, and on part of Westwood and Victoria Avenues. The remainder of the system is made up of four inch mains or smaller. The percentage of the various sizes of pipe is twenty-one per cent of eight inch; fourteen per cent of six inch; and sixty-five per cent of four inch. The town has forty-five hydrants of various types, twenty-six of which are supplied from four inch mains.

An abstract from a report recently made by the Nova Scotia Board of Fire Underwriters on conditions in Wolfville is given in the Appendix. Their recommendations as to improvements in size of mains alone would mean a very large expenditure if carried out. However, with the purchase of an up-to-date fire engine contracted for, it will be necessary to undertake very soon a program of enlargement of mains. There is on file in the office a copy of a letter from the Board of Fire Underwriters written in 1912, and recommending that no mains smaller than six inch be laid for hydrant supply. The saving in money in recent years by laying four inch mains instead of six inch for hydrant supply would seem to have been doubtful economy.

During the past season some improvements have been made on the system and the ordinary maintenance work carried out. Three old hydrants giving poor service were replaced by modern new ones. Valves are being placed on the branches between the mains and the new hy-drants. All wooden boxes over main valves were replaced with iron valve boxes and the records of the location of every main valve in town brought up to date. New iron service boxes were placed over curb cocks. The records of the location of shutoff cocks for domestic services is not complete and a beginning has been made to get this missing and important information recorded.

New three-quarter inch service pipes have been laid during 1923 to the following properties:

- W. J. Duncanson, Highland Avenue.
- W. B. Eaton, Summer St.
- C. H. Porter, Main St. W.
- Everett Penco, Main St. E.
- Chas. Whidden, Main St. W.

Service pipes have been renewed, whole or in part to the following residences, resulting in far better house pressure, the old pipes in most cases being found almost completely filled:—

- Mrs. A. W. Dawson, Prospect St.
- Geo. Wood, Prospect St.
- Henry White, Main St. E.
- H. E. Calkin, Main St. E.
- Mrs. Baxter, Highland Ave.

During the latter part of the year the Council received permission from the Government to cut and dispose of timber on the Town Watershed. Messrs. John Eye and John A. Coldwell have made a general survey of those lands and given the Council a valuable and interesting report to the effect that there are in the vicinity of 10,000 cords of timber on the Town lands, much of which is good merchantable timber, both hard and soft wood. This is a source of revenue which will probably soon be taken advantage of.

Although there was no shortage of water during 1923, and in fact, the South reservoir was kept full and not even drawn upon, as a matter of precaution in the dry weather in August the pump on the well at the West side of the old reservoir was put into operation for about two weeks. On starting the pump the insulation of the winding of the electric motor was found to be burnt off. This necessitated having the motor rewound, at a cost of about $85.00, an unforeseen expenditure.

The intake pond on the South Mountain had not been cleaned out for two years and it was thought advisable to have this done during the summer low water period. The pond was well cleaned of an accumulation of leaves, silt and sticks. The leaks in the dam to a large extent were stopped with cement mortar, and the screen frames, bars and netting renewed at a cost of $109.00, which also had not been estimated for. However, the Water Committee considered this amount of money well spent.

Water delivered from the South Mountain to the consumer in Wolfville now costs the town about seven cents per thousand gallons, allowing for all costs. Pumping from the deep well at the reservoir, assuming that the pump is in operation for one month only per year, costs about thirty-three cents per one thousand gallons, considering all costs. If the pump is in operation two months per year the cost of pumping per one thousand gallons is about nineteen cents.

The financial standing of the water department at the end of the year was in good shape. The following statement is taken from the books for the years 1922 and 1923:—

Statement Re Water Rates.
Year.	Rates Collected.	Arrears Collected.	Total Collections.	Rates and Arrears Outstanding.
1922	$4734.33	$440.84	$5175.17	$1621.01
1923	$5887.90	$1383.40	$7271.30	$355.96

It was considered an opportune time at the end of the year to establish a depreciation fund for the system. Permission was obtained from the Board of Public Utilities to set aside an amount up to 1.5 per cent. of the value of the depreciable property per year. The Council accordingly ordered that $500.00 be paid into this fund for 1923. This amount, at least, should be set aside yearly and in a few years will amount to a considerable sum and be available for renewals and improvements

AT LAST A JUNIOR GEOGRAPHY

Once in a while somebody prepares a text-book for school use that may be depended upon to interest pupils in the subject treated. Once in a greater while such a text-book gets recommended for use. Probably that is why Colliers series of Highroads in Geography never came into use anywhere, though not here. Geography, which should rival history as a stimulus to the imagination, has always been one of the dreariest subjects in the Course of Study, for which the text-books in use, and the abstract methods of teaching the subject are mainly responsible.

At last a geography suitable to the needs of children of Grades IV, V and VI, has been prepared by one of the successful teachers and educationists of our own Province, Prof. L. A. DeWolfe, Director of Rural Science, Normal College, Truro. It is entitled "Junior Geography, or Journeys near and Far". And the title tells the story in small that the book tells in extenso. The young folk of these grades go most entrancing little journeys all over the world, starting not merely from their own Province, Nova Scotia, but often from their own schoolrooms or mothers' kitchens, linking their every day interests with the interests and affairs of the world at large. It is profusely illustrated with cuts that excite interest among children and adults alike, and make the "geography lesson" a living thing. The language is simple without being trite, polished without being ornate, and has the effect of being true in detail, yet at the same time stirs the imagination. In this particular the author has achieved quite a triumph for simple, direct yet stimulating English.

The book also contains some very helpful suggestions to teachers, based on the author's long and successful career as a teacher, and also from his close contact with young teachers all over the Province.

The book is now before the Council of Public Instruction for consideration, having been heartily recommended for adoption by the Advisory Board at its February meeting. A few copies are in circulation, mainly for review purposes. It is published by the Truro News Printing Company which makes it an all-Nova-Scotia-product written by a Nova Scotian for Nova Scotian school children. It is printed in clear type and bound in strong paper covers. A few presentation copies have been issued bound in linen boards, bound, tooled and lettered by the members of the Summer School of Rural Science book-binding class.

In recommending the book, the Advisory Board suggested that it be divided into three sections, suitable for the three grades IV, V, and VI, each section to be published under separate binding. This would make the cost of the sections 18 cents, 24 cents and 28 cents respectively, thus distributing the price and placing the book within the reach of all.

GREATEST ON EARTH

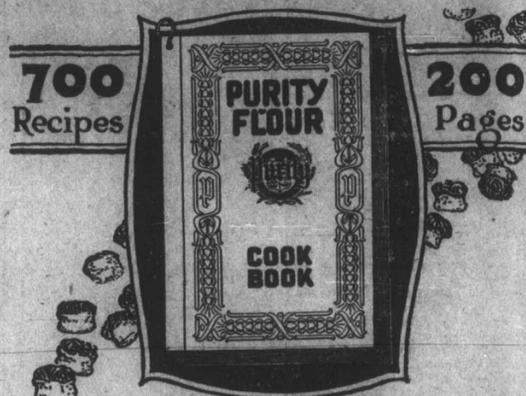

"I believe Canada is the greatest wheat producing country on earth. The time will come when the United States will buy its wheat from Canada. Our commercial relations are close and profitable. We have the consumers, and Canada, for years to come, will be producing foodstuffs in large quantities. The Canadians are a splendid, alert, progressive people." Thus spoke Joseph I. Brittain, United States Consul-General at Winnipeg.
