A QUEEN UNCROWNED
—OR—
THE STORY IN THE LOVE INN.

CHAPTER V.

Over the bronze mantel hung a picture in an oval frame, heavily carved, a portrait of a small, mocking, tantalizing, bewitching face, with short, waving curls, and sparkling, flashing, gray eyes, scintillating with mirth and mischief, and hidden power. It was the portrait of Jacquetta De Vere; and the red lips seemed wreathed into a mocking smile, and the flashing eyes seemed to deride him as they met his. The head was half turned, as if she were looking back—just as he had seen her when she left the room a moment before, with the same wicked, half-defiant, half-laughing grin.

Leaning his arm on the mantel, and quite forgetful of the flight of time, he stood there and looked at it. What thoughts were thronging through his mind at that moment? Did he think of the prediction of the weird witch of the lone inn—the dark, loathsome pit, at the bottom of which, her high pride laid low, she was to lie at his feet? Did he think of it afterward, in the dark days that were to come, when he knew a doom worse than death was hers—that fair, high-spirited young girl, whose bright face smiled on him from the wall now?

CHAPTER VI.

The dinner bell had rung, and a long interval had succeeded, but still the Honorable Alfred Disbrowe stirred not—still he stood gazing on that picture, quite forgetful that he was to arrange his dress, and that the bell had rung ten minutes before, and that, in all probability, the original was waiting downstairs, and in no very sweet humor at that same waiting.

A sharp knock at the door startled

Pompeian FOR BEAUTY

English and American women of refinement long have known the secret of a smooth velvety skin. You, too, may gain this much desired effect with POMPEIAN BEAUTY PREPARATIONS.

Pompeian Beauty Powder

Owing to its exceptional adhering qualities and its bewitching perfume, it has become the choice of discriminating women.

Use a little of this powder on the face for instant effect. Apply to the face with a soft brush. It will make the skin smooth and soft, and will remove all the blemishes. It will also remove the redness of the cheeks, and will give the complexion a soft, velvety glow. If you need a coloring, add a touch of Pompeian, and over all a light dusting of powder.

THE POMPEIAN COMPANY CLEVELAND, O., U. S. A.

Wholesale Agents HAROLD F. FITCH, Company Ltd., Toronto.

"Do you know," said Disbrowe, brushing his tangled locks, "she reminds me so much of some one I have seen—I can't think who; a shadowy resemblance in every motion."

"I think she looks like little Oris Howlet, as the inn, if that's what you mean," said Frank; "although Oris's a regular little squaw for darkness, and Jack's fair as she well can be. I know they always remind me of one another—and others say so, too."

"Yes, now I think of it, she does," said Disbrowe, meditatively; "but somehow she's not the one I mean. By Jove! I have it, now," he cried, with a start; "she looks like the fellow I horsewhipped—a pocket edition of that same old coin, revised and improved, with the very same inco—the very same look in her eyes that he has."

"Good gracious!" said Frank. "here's a discovery! Our Jack like old Nick Tempest! What would Jack say if he heard that? Not but what I believe she would take it as a compliment; for she fairly dotes on dare-devils, like him, and would make a tiptop wife for a salt-sea rover or an Italian brigand."

"Speaking of brigands," said Disbrowe, reminding me that I saw with old Nick Tempest, as you call him, a most enchanting little specimen of that article in a real brigand's wig. Now, then," he added, giving a few finishing touches, "I am at your service."

Both descended to the dining-room, where they found Mr. De Vere and his daughters awaiting them. Disbrowe's apology for detaining them, was smilingly accepted, and all were soon seated around the ample board of the master of Fontelle Hall.

During the meal Disbrowe made some inquiries about the society of the neighborhood and the gentry.

"Tell him about our gentry, puss," said Mr. De Vere appealingly to Jacquetta. "You know every one within forty miles around."

"Yes, and further, too," said Jacquetta. "And I shall be only too happy to take Cousin Alfred around and introduce him. First, there's the Bronzes—their real name is Brown, but that's no matter—and there are six girls, the eldest of whom has been eighteen for the last five years. Then there's Miss Arethusa Desmond, a limp young lady, on the beanpole pattern, with white hair and eyes. Then there's Mrs. Flurtle, a Turonian, whose name in the original Greek is O'Flaherty, and who snubs her husband—worthy little soul—ill he daren't sneeze in her presence. Then there is Miss Betsy Boggs and her two sisters, all of whom will make a dead set at our handsome cousin—and Jacquetta bowed, and smiled across the table, in the old malicious way—and capture him or die in the attempt. Think how it would look when Lord Earncliffe would read it in the papers: 'Married—By the Reverend Jeddiah Spintoot, Capl., Alfred De Vere, late of Her Majesty's Guards to Miss Betsy Boggs, eldest daughter of Simon Petir Boggs, of Pong's Isle, Jersey.'"

Here a roar of laughter from Frank interrupted Jacquetta.

"What a malicious little imp!" thought Disbrowe, inwardly wishing the wicked fairy ten feet deep in Thames' mud at that minute.

"That's all, I think," said Jacquetta, reflectively. "Oh, no! there's Mrs. Grizzle Howlet, an estimable lady, and mighty pretty to look at, who lives over there among the Logs in the swamps somewhere. It's not likely you would fall in love with her, as she's a widow, and you might object to a second-hand wife."

"Oh, I am not particular!" said Disbrowe, carelessly, "but I have seen the lady in question, and I rather think, if I did, she would soon be a widow again. As it is, she came pretty near bringing my earthly career to an end; and only for the providential interposition of my young friend, Frank there, you would hardly have seen me at Fontelle to-day. I fancy."

All looked at him in curiosity, and the young guardman promptly related his nocturnal adventure at the old house. Mr. De Vere and Augustus listened in silent horror. Frank uttered an exclamation of dismay, and Jacquetta puckered up her rosy mouth and whistled!

"The atrocious old hag!" exclaimed Mr. De Vere. "Good heavens! that such a den should so long have existed in a peaceable community!"

HELP FOR YOUNG WOMEN

Mrs. Holmberg Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her

Viking, Alta.—"From the time I was 16 years old I would get such sick feelings in the lower part of my abdomen, followed by cramps and vomiting. This kept me from my work (I help my parents on the farm) as I usually had to go to bed for the rest of the day. Or at times I would have to walk the floor. I suffered in this way until a friend induced me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I surely am glad I tried it for I feel like a different person now that I don't have these troubles."

Letters like this establish the merits of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. They tell of the relief from such pains and ailments after taking it.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and today holds the record of being the most successful remedy for female ills in this country, and thousands of voluntary testimonials prove this fact.

If you doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Colcours, Ontario, for Mrs. Pinkham's private text-book and learn more about it.

FICTION.

Good fiction's great—we need it, as you must all agree; but I would rather read it than have it told to me.

Before my humble hovel I sit me down in peace, to read the latest novel, brought to me by my niece. And if it proves a winner that's bound to gain renown, I'd do it without my dinner before I'd lay it down. And if it doesn't suit me I throw it at the cat.

Though idle critics hoot me and voice their scorn thereof, my chair is soft and easy, my wambos round me play; I'll let no story cheery destroy my happy day. And it is thus with reading; when you are tired you quit, and take the nap you're needing, or watch the jaszbirds flit. But when a human critter would spring a legend queer, your soul he may embitter, but you must lend an ear. A master of politeness, you listen to a tale, a trifle of criticism, that made old Noah quail. You heard old horses repeat it when you were young and fair; the motes have tried to eat it, and left the yarn threadbare. And you must sit and listen to annals stale and weird, while briny teardrops glisten and trickle down your beard. I like my stories printed, with pictures, in a book, with covers bravely tinted, and blurbs where'er I look. Give me a blue or red one, a volume large and fat; and if it proves a dead one, I'll throw it at the cat.

London Conference Agreement Ratified by Reichstag

Civil War Imminent in China--Celebrated Medium Under Test in New York--Bandits Escape With a Big Haul--Prince of Wales Arrives at New York.

HOPEFUL ON FINAL VOTE.

BERLIN, Aug. 29. The final vote on the Government's bill, necessary to carry out Germany's part of the Dawes Reparation programme, will be taken at four o'clock this afternoon, and it now appears certain that the Reichstag will endorse it.

REICHSTAG RATIFIES DAWES PLAN.

BERLIN, Aug. 29. The German Reichstag today accepted the Dawes Reparation plan agreement concluded at the recent London Conference by adopting by a vote of 214 to 127, the necessary two-thirds majority of the bill to give effect to the provisions of the London agreement. Nationalist Deputies voted in favour of the measure. The German Nationalists whose open opposition to the agreement and those attacks on it during the debate yesterday and today had made the results of the voting problematical, voted against the banking bill, another of the Dawes measures which nevertheless was adopted by a vote of 295 to 172, the two-thirds majority being unnecessary for this bill.

PRINCE OF WALES ARRIVES AT NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. The Prince of Wales arrived on the liner Benengaria at quarantine, Lower New York harbour, at 2.17 o'clock this afternoon.

A CHINESE CIVIL WAR POSSIBLE.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 29. Sparks igniting all China in an open war were seen today in the impending conflict in the eastern portions of Kiangsu province in which Chi Shien Yuan, the aggressor, expects to drive out his rival Lu Yung Hsiang, Trench of Chekiang Province.

SPHINCTERIC PHENOMENA.

BOSTON, Aug. 29. The series of tests to determine whether Mrs. Le Roi C. Crandon, wife of a prominent surgeon of this city, who has been known as "Mars" to the world of psychic students, could induce phenomena that would warrant award to her of the Scientific American's prizes for such genuine feats ended last night with results said to be both positive and negative. In the big black box, fashioned out of inch thick oak in the manner of an old time pillory, the medium was said to have failed to make proof. In another "box" somewhat similar, but with more freedom, results were positive. Belts, bells, raps and messages transmitted it was said. The tests, still incomplete, have resolved into a trial of the two types of boxes. The oak box is the property of Harry Houdini, magician; the second box is the committee's cabinet, evolved for such tests, with the medium under padlocked restriction. Bells are confined beyond ordinary reach and so safeguarded as to prevent fraud.

BANDITS MAKE A BIG HAUL.

NEWARK, N.J., Aug. 29. Checks totalling $112,000 were taken from two Northward National Bank messengers early today, at Broad and Lombard Streets by four armed bandits who escaped.

YOUTHFUL MURDERERS CHEER-FUL.

CHICAGO, Aug. 29. John R. Caverly, retiring Chief Justice of Criminal Courts of Cook County, took full charge yesterday of the fate of Nathan F. Leopold, Jr. and Richard Loeb, student sons of millionaire fathers, and confessed kidnapers and murderers of Robert Franks. He set September 10th as the date on which he will announce the penalty for the crime. While the public is showing itself unusually interested in the question of the penalty to be meted out to Loeb and Leopold, the two who should be most concerned maintain the blasé, bored air that has characterized them since the beginning of the trial. In their jalls in the County Jail Babo and Dickie were as cheerful as if they had been taking part in a campus social affair. The former even joked about the possibility of being hanged. If I am hanged, Leopold said, it will be a rare occasion. Clarence Darrow's Roman holiday will be completely eclipsed. I will arrange to have a good jazz band on hand and plenty of hard pack. I am planning a last and supreme shock for the world in the form of my farewell speech. I may be overrating myself but I really think I can make it worth anyone's while who is fortunate to receive an invitation.

Loeb said, I am glad the trial is over. I will have more opportunity to make a name for myself in the fall baseball league.

LACK OF BASES PREVENTS ASSISTANCE.

OTTAWA, Aug. 29. Owing to lack of bases in the north it is feared that the air board will be unable to send a relief plane to the Hudsons Bay boat Lady Kinderley, drifting in the ice near Point Barrow, Alaska. The nearest plane is at Prince Rupert. The Hudsons Bay Company had requested assistance by airplane.

GREETINGS TO PRINCE.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. Edward, Prince of Wales arrived today. Three airplanes hovered over his ship while thousands ashore and on small boats around the Benengaria strained their eyes for a sight of the distinguished young Englishman who is making his second visit to the United States. The Prince was completely surrounded by newspaper correspondents and reception committees. He shook hands with a few of them and in response to a few formal questions made a hasty search through his pockets for his written statement. Finally turning to Major Solbert his American aide, he said: "I've got a written statement somewhere, where is it?" While the statement was being found more queries followed from the journalistic group and the Prince replied, said "I'm happy to be in America. I like your country very much. The fact that I came over here for a holiday is the best I can say in that direction." The only display of any sort was an airplane escort which circled around the Benengaria as she steamed into the bay. From one of the planes addresses of welcome written by Governor Smith and Mayor Hylan were read into the radio transmitter while the Prince listened. The liner bearing the Prince did not fly the Royal Standard, the visit being nominally unofficial.

THE TOLL OF THE STORM.

HALIFAX, Aug. 29. Two Lunenburg fishing schooners, arriving in their home ports today with flags at half mast out of respect for two of their crew who were drowned on Tuesday night making a death list of nine of Nova Scotia. Coast during the hurricane. Other sea deaths were off Prospect where six men were drowned when the tern schooner Anna MacDonald was wrecked, and off Yarmouth where one fisherman was drowned. Fears that the death toll may be still greater are entertained as many of the fishing craft, out of Lunenburg are believed to have been in the path of the awful storm.

brought here today when the schooners to which they belonged came into port with their flags at half mast. Tanner was swept overboard from the Marles Spindler some distance off Sable Island, Capt. Spindler and another member of the crew had a narrow escape from a similar fate. Hiltz was lost from the scho. Jean Smith while off the Banks, both boats were so badly battered in the heavy seas that the Spindler lost two of her dories, and had her main cable broken while the Smith lost her cable and suffered other damage. The crews of the two vessels report their recent experience as the worst they ever passed through.

C. H. E. Examinations SENIOR AND JUNIOR ASSOCIATE PASSES.

In the Senior A.A. there were twenty passes against sixteen in 1923. In the Junior A.A. there were nine fewer entries than last year, with 111 passes, while in 1923 there were 117. The winner of the Jubilee University Scholarship of $1500.00 for this year is Jean Horwood, Methodist College.

It is expected that the Primary and Preliminary returns will be ready for distribution on Monday, the 8th of September, and it is hoped that the Intermediate results will have arrived from England before that date.

The World's Machines

In a great Palace of Engineering at the British Empire Exhibition, every machine known to the ingenuity of man has been collected and is shown under this monster roof.

It is an undoubted fact that machinery of any kind has an hypnotic attraction on the average person, and here the visitor has ample opportunity to study the complicated mechanism of every kind of machine. In one section there is an exhibit of the bridge, deck and upper works of a modern passenger steamer, and visitor can see the mechanism which controls the mass of machinery needed for driving the vessel, for supplying light, heat and ventilation, for operating lifts, pumps, capstans, davits, etc., for maintaining wireless communication with the shore, and for ensuring the comfort and safety of passengers.

In these days, when the salvaging of vessels lost during the war is in operation in many parts of the world, the work of submarine divers is of special interest, and here are shown divers at work under water in a specially constructed lake equipped with the latest type of dress and helmet and telephone apparatus for communication with the salvage ship.

The Transport Section is thoroughly representative, the displays including full-sized express locomotive engines, passenger coaches, dining cars, and freight wagons of the very latest steel construction. The carriage of fruits, meats and perishable goods is fully illustrated by refrigerating wagons and plant.

With motor traction every day increasing its hold on the public ways of the world, it is not astonishing that a large section should be devoted to motor cars and other vehicles. The development of oil-burning for transport purposes is illustrated by Diesel engines, and visitors will appreciate how the oil in modern oil-burning ships is distributed from the tanks to the burners beneath the boilers. Side by side with these engines can be seen the latest development in steam turbines.

A specially interesting exhibit is the generating power station of the Exhibition in the Palace of Engineering.

We Offer To-Day at Lowest Prices:

mine in operation. Here in the depths of the ground are electric cutters at work, pumps running to keep the workings clear of water, fans for supplying fresh air, tubes filled with coal and drawn by pit ponies, while above ground is the complete headgear with winding apparatus for the cage, machines for washing and screening the coal, life-saving apparatus, medical appliances, bathrooms for the miners, etc.—in fact, a complete full-size reconstruction of a coal mine.

Every known kind of modern machinery used in the construction of concrete houses, the excavating and laying of concrete roads, are seen at work, whilst the pneumatic drills and rock drills driven on the new wave transmission system are shown in operation and will attract widespread interest. Side by side with these heavy apparatus is in everyday life the most delicate instruments known to human ingenuity and used chiefly in scientific research. Huge models of the latest aeroplanes and dirigible balloons fill another section, including the latest 1,500 h.p. aeroplane engine. In the Naval Section large models of battleships, cruisers, destroyers and submarines are to be seen. The largest individual piece of machinery in the Palace weighs 250 tons, and to transport into position this and other gigantic exhibits five large travelling cranes were installed in the building and are now exhibiting themselves.

There is not a single piece of machinery made in the British Empire which is not found in the Palace of Engineering.

CUBA CANE SUGAR CORPORATION.
Has Sold 90% of its Crop. Resumption of Preferred Dividends Looked for in January or April.

(From Boston News Bureau, Aug. 29)
BOSTON—The Cuba Cane Sugar Corporation has marketed about 90% of its crop of 3,683,391 bags. Thus while the company can make a fairly close approximation of results for the year, the exact financial figures will not be available until the November meeting of the board. This makes it probable that no dividend will be paid on the 500,000 shares of preferred stock before the last of December in any event, and action may be deferred until the following quarter.

The accumulated dividends unpaid on Cuba Cane preferred amount to about 24%. While there is no consideration being given to the liquidation of these arrears, it is a fact assumption that the company will restore the preferred to a regular 7% dividend basis by next April. It is calculated that Cuba Cane can earn this 7% preferred dividend, with a small margin, on three cent raw sugar. The present market for raws is 3 1/2 cents.

For the grinding of the 1925 crop the corporation expects to have the assistance of the new Velasco mill which has been built as an addition to the company's capacity in the eastern part of Cuba, where conditions are favorable to better operating results. Velasco will have an annual capacity of 300,000 bags and will increase the capacity of Cuba Cane in the East to approximately 3,000,000 bags. Machinery for the Velasco mill was transferred from certain of the company's dismantled western mills. This addition has cost approximately $2,500,000, but there are no other large capital expenditures in sight.

Although there has been much discussion of the prospects of a large increase in world production of sugar, Cuba Cane interests are not apprehensive on this point, believing that increased consumption will more than counterbalance increased output.

ing about themselves) was a jumpy player, and small boys in the crowd are almost delirious with excitement.

"Good old Mann," as the small boys call him, squares his tremendous shoulders and prepares for the next ball. He is against one of the cleverest left-hand bowlers in the game, but he might be against the village cobbler for all the apparent difference it makes to him. As the ball comes up he takes one short step out to meet it, swings his bat easily, almost effortlessly; there is the thud of impact between wood and leather—and a second later the old gentleman in the pavilion seats are contorting their bodies and raising feeble hands against the impending blow.

Both hands of the umpire extended above his head in signal, yell of delight from all round the ground, and the figures on the scoreboard chasing each other to register the runs—"Six to Mann."—Daily Mail.

Prince of Wales as Freemason

RULER OF SURREY LODGES.
The installation at the Central Hall, Westminster, by the Duke of Connaught, Grand Master of English Freemasons, of the Prince of Wales as Provincial Grand Master of Surrey is a noteworthy event in Masonic history. Its significance is deepened by the installation by the Grand Master of another royal great-nephew, the Duke of York, as Provincial Grand Master of Middlesex, while three months hence he will do the like for his only son, Prince Arthur of Connaught, who is Provincial Grand Master-designate for Berkshire.

All three princes have served the Masonic office of Senior Grand Warden—Prince Arthur of Connaught in 1914, the Prince of Wales in 1922, and the Duke of York last year. This is the highest position in the United Grand Lodge of England next to the Deputy Grand Master (now Sir Frederick Halsey), but a Provincial or District Grand Master, as being directly given rule and governance over a number of Lodges by patent from the Grand Master, holds a higher place in the Masonic table of precedence. The present appointments are therefore in the nature of promotion carrying an enhanced dignity with increased responsibilities.

A Grand Warden, as a rule, holds his office for only a year, though Lord Cave, the late Lord Chancellor, broke all recent records by holding it for three years. But a Provincial or District Grand Master retains his position during the pleasure of the Grand Master, and this is very frequently long continued. Sir Frederick Halsey, for example, has only within the past few months resigned the Provincial Grand Mastership of Hertfordshire, which he had held for exactly half a century. Sir Olney Wakman a twelve-month tenure will complete 40 years' similar service in Shropshire, while the pro-Grand Master, Lord Amphil, Lord Dartmouth, and Lord Henry Cavendish-Bentinck, M.P., have presided over the Masonic destinies of Bedfordshire, Staffordshire and Cumberland and Westmorland respectively for more than 30 years, a period which Lord Yarborough is very nearly approaching for Lincolnshire.

Six to Mann

By "GOOLLY."

Both hands of the umpire extended above his head in signal, yell of delight from all round the ground, and the figures on the score-board chasing each other to register the runs—"Six to Mann."

The captain of the suffering side waves an arm, and out to the boundary trots another batsman. Three men are now stationed on the fringe of the field to see what can be done about things, and the bowlers, you suspect, are becoming slightly rattled. Mann—Mr. F. T. Mann, one time captain of Cambridge University, and now leader of the Middlesex cricket eleven—the cause of all this commotion, remains quite calm. Hitting sixes is all the day's cricket to him; he makes rather a habit of hitting sixes. He picks a stray bit of grass off the pitch, pulls the peak of his blue flannel cap a trifle more down over his left eye, and has a look at his batting gloves to make quite sure they are as now worn. Then he resumes his stance, ready for the next ball.

Smash. This time the hit is kept down, and if your eyes are very quick you can just follow the ball as it flashes past helpless mid-off, a little red pellet that hits the white painted pinnings with a bang and bounds back for one of the too slow outfielders to retrieve.

Not a stylist by any manner of means is this big and powerful man whose bat looks so small in his hands, but he is certainly one of the fiercest hitters in the game. Francis Mann can hit a ball farther than any player in first-class cricket, and no one, except, perhaps, the Nottinghamshire captain, Arthur Carr, drives so hard in front of the wicket.

Slap—another boundary, and slap—still another. Old gentlemen in the pavilion seats are chuckling with satisfaction and—for a moment or two—are silent about the remarkable days when W. G. Grace (to say nothing

Mistreating Water-Power

Waste of water-power by neglect and mis-treatment is becoming quite as serious a matter as Waste of forests by destruction, about which we have been hearing so much about.

With distinct limits on the amount of water-power, the conservation of the future must be fixed attentively on the problem of capturing and making available to the utmost every potential horse-power in sight.

Losses by reason of these faulty developments are in numerous cases severe. In some the potentialities that are destroyed are appalling.

On a North Carolina stream is a development for 18 feet producing 150 primary 24-hour horse-power and 700 secondary 10-hour horse-power. The total estimated minimum income is $18,500.

In other words, unconsidered development of this one secondary stream is costing a loss, as against a reasonable revenue from adequate development of $47,000 a year.

It must be realized, of course, that to the less must be added the greater relative cost to utilize its maximum opportunity. Horse-power here is going to waste. With it go waste of dollars. With it go waste of dollars.

There are other cases in which long-acquired water-rights operate to prevent logical developments not dreamed of and unconsidered when court opinions vested them as virtual perpetual monopolies of what are now known as public assets.

French Deserters

BEGIN TO RETURN UNDER AMNESTY ACT.

PARIS, Aug. 7. (A.P.)—The amnesty bill just passed by the Chamber of Deputies is expected in some quarters to result in a general resurrection of French soldiers who had passed into history as "killed on the field of battle."

Already, though the senate has still to pass on the measure, deserters are crossing the frontiers and breathing the air of France for the first time in six years or more. One of them, a soldier named Robin, given up for dead after the battle of the Chemin des Dames in April, 1917, started his brother, who keeps a wine shop in Paris, by suddenly appearing before him the other day.

"You don't know me," remarked the deserter, who had grown a beard during his exile.

"No, I don't know you," was the reply.

"I am your brother," replied the deserter.

"My brother was killed at the Chemin des Dames," was the rejoinder.

"No," insisted the deserter, "there were not so many butchered as was supposed. A lot of them deserted to the enemy and I was among them. Now that the Chamber has passed the amnesty law I have come back and I need money to start me off."

The brother agreed to give him funds on condition that he never show his face in the neighborhood again.

The deserter walked off with the money to celebrate his return at a public hall in the Boulevard de Grenelle. There he picked a quarrel and within half an hour was carried out with a fatal stab in the abdomen.

Another deserter who was also among the "missing" of the Chemin des Dames battle turned up at his father's farm in the Morbihan department. A neighbor who happened to be present remarked that he was not yet safe, as the senate had not yet adopted the amnesty law. The deserter, angered by this interference, cried:

"You'd be capable of denouncing me," drew a knife and plunged it into the neighbor's breast. This deserter is now again a fugitive from justice.

More than 1,200 French deserters living in Geneva, where they have formed a "Friendly Association of Deserters," are preparing to come back in a body. Other Swiss towns shelter as many if not more and there are supposed to be a great many still in Germany.

"Wet" Ships

Officially the United States is "dry" and the sale of liquor is prohibited, but the country has been shocked to learn that while one branch of the Government prosecutes any one selling or drinking liquor, another branch of the Government is engaged in the selling of liquor and encourages its consumption.

Mr. Adolph Busch, a former brewer, called the attention of the President to the fact that liquor was openly sold on the vessels of the Shipping Board, a Government agency, which, he held, was in violation of the law and contrary to an explicit ruling of the Attorney-General, who had advised the Shipping Board that as an American vessel on the high seas was American territory, the sale of liquor would contravene the Prohibition amendment and the law to enforce it. Mr. Lasker, the Chairman of the Shipping Board, admitted the sale of liquor on his ships but pleaded in his defence the sale of liquor was necessary to complete with British and other lines in the transatlantic passenger trade; and he also relied on an opinion rendered by the Counsel of the Shipping Board that an American ship ceased to be American territory as soon as she passed out of territorial waters. The affair has caused a great outcry; the Counsel of the Shipping Board has been unmercifully ridiculed by the Press for assuming to nullify established international law; and the "Drys" in Congress are moving to prohibit the sale of liquor not only on American Government owned ships but on any foreign vessel on the high seas outside of the three mile limit. The penalty for violation of the law being the exclusion of the offending vessel from entering any American port. The American Government has, of course, an incontestable right to say what shall be done on its own ships, but to attempt to regulate a foreign vessel on the high seas is an unwarranted assumption of authority. The friction that might follow has been pointed out, but so fanatical are the "Drys" they are deaf to all argument, and insist that not only the United States, but the waters surrounding it must be made "dry."

The penalty for violation of the law being the exclusion of the offending vessel from entering any American port. The American Government has, of course, an incontestable right to say what shall be done on its own ships, but to attempt to regulate a foreign vessel on the high seas is an unwarranted assumption of authority. The friction that might follow has been pointed out, but so fanatical are the "Drys" they are deaf to all argument, and insist that not only the United States, but the waters surrounding it must be made "dry."

Mr. Adolph Busch, a former brewer, called the attention of the President to the fact that liquor was openly sold on the vessels of the Shipping Board, a Government agency, which, he held, was in violation of the law and contrary to an explicit ruling of the Attorney-General, who had advised the Shipping Board that as an American vessel on the high seas was American territory, the sale of liquor would contravene the Prohibition amendment and the law to enforce it. Mr. Lasker, the Chairman of the Shipping Board, admitted the sale of liquor on his ships but pleaded in his defence the sale of liquor was necessary to complete with British and other lines in the transatlantic passenger trade; and he also relied on an opinion rendered by the Counsel of the Shipping Board that an American ship ceased to be American territory as soon as she passed out of territorial waters. The affair has caused a great outcry; the Counsel of the Shipping Board has been unmercifully ridiculed by the Press for assuming to nullify established international law; and the "Drys" in Congress are moving to prohibit the sale of liquor not only on American Government owned ships but on any foreign vessel on the high seas outside of the three mile limit. WEAK WOMEN cannot hope ever to become strong and well again unless they have plenty of good, rich, red blood of the kind that organic iron—Nuxated Iron—makes. Nuxated Iron is like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples, while metallic iron is iron just as it comes from the mines or strong acids on iron filings. Nuxated Iron does not irritate the stomach, does not clog the bowels, does not upset the stomach; it is an entirely different thing from ordinary metallic iron. It quickly helps make rich, red blood, revitalizes worn-out, exhausted nerves and gives you new strength and energy. Over 4,000,000 people annually are using it. At all drug stores. Beware of substitutes. The genuine has N. I. stamped on every tablet. Always insist on having the genuine.

Germany not Sovereign

The crisis German Democracy is passing through is not due to an incapacity of the German people for democratic forms of government, says Moritz Bonn in the Forum.

Mr. Bonn, who is a lecturer at the Institute of Politics in Williams-town, and the former advisor of four German Ministers, believes that the Democratic Republic has so far "not delivered the goods," because Germany is only a sovereign nation in form and not in fact, very nearly a third of her people and a good deal more than a third of her national resources being controlled by foreign generals. The most important issues up to now have not been freely decided by the German Government, but forced upon it in the form of more or less veiled ultimatums. The sovereignty of the German Republic to-day amounts merely to a choice between registering a decree of the "Ambassadors' Conference" in Paris, or some similar body, and not registering it, in which case it will be nullified by foreign encroachments. The German Parliament talks; it is not free to act. It can at best protest.

Owing to the absence of political training, economic considerations have overshadowed political life in Germany for many years. Economically Germany is divided into two main camps, the Socialists and the believers in private property. Neither of them is strong enough to force its policy on its opponent; one of them has enough power to prevent the adversary from carrying out his schemes. The result is a kind of permanent deadlock. That is the main reason why parliamentarism has become discredited among the men of action and the dreamers of dreams. There is a danger of politics developing into nothing but a highly organized system of log-rolling. The German nation is not going to stand it.

A nation is not a mere addition of all trades and professions. It is a living being, and the crisis of German Democracy is due to the fact that her trades and professions have occasionally forgotten it. If there were no foreign ills which Germany herself can neither kill nor cure, it might be said without any fear of undue optimism that the loud dissonant with the present state of German Democracy is the first sign of recovery. As Germany, however, is not a sovereign State, notwithstanding the outward emblems of sovereignty, her fate and the fate of Europe cannot be decided by her own wisdom.

THE CHILDREN GO TO THE FAIR.

Last week one of my friends took her two children for their first visit to a country fair, which was held near the summer resort.

They had never seen anything at all like it and were, of course, much thrilled by the sights. And equally, of course, much attracted by the many wonderful opportunities to spend money.

My friend told me about the experience yesterday. "For the first few minutes," she said, "it was 'Mother, do give me ten cents I want to go in there.' And 'Oh, mother, let me throw some rings.' And 'Oh, mother, I want to buy one of those Kewpies, until I was about crazy. I let them go in one side show, but I saw there were dozens of them, and candy and peanuts and tonic, and a lot of knick-knacks to buy, and I knew there would be no end of the 'I wants.' So I just took out 50 cents and gave each of them, and I said: 'Now you can spend this exactly as you want, but when it's gone you can't have one bit more. Just make up your own minds what you want most.'"

She paused a minute to laugh at the memories her story invoked.

Such A Change!

"You never saw such a change," she went on. "When they were trying to tease money out of me, they were sure they wanted everything they saw the minute they saw it; but when they had just that certain amount to spend they felt very differently about it. They would stop in front of a booth and they would look everything over carefully and then they'd move on to the next without buying anything. They decided they would each see one side show and they looked them all over before they chose. Then Abern took the 'wild man' and Eleanor took the trained dogs."

"And they both bought candy and tonic, and then Abern threw the rings twice, he loves things like that, and Jane bought a ten cent prize package. I forget what else they did, but I know Abern took home ten cents of his money because he decided he would rather have it for the movies the next Saturday than see another side show because he didn't think much of the 'wild man.'"

As Good As A Show.

"It was as good as a show for me to watch them. And it was a lesson too. I talked it over with their father that night and we made up our minds to start giving them a regular allowance right off. We've always given them money for the things they needed at school, and things like that you know, but no regular allowance. And when we saw what a difference it made in their attitude toward money to have a certain amount and to have to make that cover, we saw what a mistake we had been making. Just as soon as we think they're old enough we're going to give them their own clothes money to spend too."

That was a country fair worth going to for everyone concerned wasn't it? If some millions of parents, and of husbands, too, for that matter, could go through a similar experience and learn a similar lesson from it, many millions of dollars would be more wisely spent.

More For Less Money.

I know of one wife (know her very well in fact) who has only learned to spend money to the best advantage for clothes since she had a clothes allowance. Before that, having no definite limit, she bought more or less at random and without a plan. Since she has been given a definite allowance she plans her wardrobe ahead and makes fewer mistakes. I know she is getting more out of less money than she did when she alternated buying sprees with fits of economy.

It is a very fine thing to be intelligent about money. As we spend our time and money, so we spend our lives. The best way to learn the value of money is to earn it yourself. The next best way is to have the handling of it, and the responsibility for what you do with it.

Our Dumb Animals

Report Of The Chief Agent For Week Ending Aug. 29, 1924.

Had a case in court against a man who kicked a horse owned by Captain Moore. The man who was passing along at the time, laid his hand on the horse, and the horse, being a little fighter, the man gave it a kick in the stomach. Several people on the street were much annoyed about this. The judge spoke very severely to the man, and fined him $10.00 and costs, of thirty days. I was called to the Fox Farm to humanely put to death a horse, suffering from a bad leg. I humanely put to death a dog on Deanery Ave., which was injured, another at the Herwood Lumber Company's premises, which had no owner. One on Fines Lane which had been scalded by someone throwin hot water over it, and another on Colonial Street, because of old age." Attended to the landing of 142 heads of cattle, also sheep, pigs, hree horses and some poultry from the Canadian Sapper. The accommodations on board the steamer as very comfortable for the cattle. I was asked by the Mate to inspect the cattle before they landed. I had no complaints to make. I also attended two sales of cattle, which were all taken away as soon as possible after they had been sold. Received a telephone message from Old Petty Harbour Road, where a cow had its leg broken by a motor car. The driver did not stop after the accident. I received a telephone message to come as quickly as possible and bring a butcher, which I did and humanely despatched the cow and the butcher since been located and the matter will be thoroughly investigated. He promised to pay for the animal. Received over thirty different complaints, which have been attended to. Also received a report from Const. Efford of Manuels of a horse that had been racing around a garden during the night and had got caught in a fence, breaking three of its ribs, and causing a hole in its side. The Const. humanely put the animal to death, for which I thank him, and also for his interest in the dumb animals.

The Sort of People We House

It will be remembered that some weeks ago we made note of the fact that a so-called Soviet Trade Delegation had arrived at Ottawa; that the Dominion police became suspicious and searched the baggage of the party making the discovery that it was in reality a revolutionary rather than a trade body. This delegation of conspirators eventually moved on to Montreal where they established themselves, and where I believe they still are, ready no doubt to raise ruckus at any opportune moment.

Before me in a seven-page document, signed by Ivan Voloshin, a Ukrainian, now resident in the United States; and who was in Russia between the years 1920-22. This document is interesting inasmuch as it deals in part with the public and private activities of one Ivan Kulik, who was the editor of the official organ, "The Red Truth," a professor in the schools at Kamenets, commander of the town under the Reds, secretary of the "Parkom," a member of the murder squad known as the Chelka, head of the "Revtrubunal," and executioner in general in his part of the Russian Republic. And this same Ivan Kulik is the "dirty-neck" in charge of the Russian Soviet Mission now located in Montreal.

Around the home town in Russia Ivan Kulik was the true communist. He wore a peasant's sheep skin coat minus one sleeve, and on his head, summer and winter was perched an old straw hat. In those days he had a long red beard, and prided himself on the fact that he was practically without shoes or boots. Of course he did not care anything about apparel, he lived and strove only for the dear peasants.

Ivan Voloshin then describes how Ivan Kulik and his gang of cut-throats tried to collect taxes from the pauperized peasants. He proceeds as follows: "When in 1921 there began the collection of taxes in the Ukrainian villages, the peasants had nothing. The crops had been short, and already at the beginning of the fall one could see the peasants taking apart the thatched roofs of their houses and barns in order to supply a cow or a horse with food. The peasants had not much stock, for every hundred homesteads there was one team of horses, the rest were taken away by the commissioners. Then came a revolt, the peasants could not and would not pay."

In due course the "revolutionists" were arrested—those who lived through the ordeal—and brought before the revolutionary tribunal, over which presided Ivan Kulik, who is now our distinguished fellow-citizen. Kulik knowing that not one of these arrested had over eight acres of land, and all were living in dugouts for want of houses, wished to shoot the whole lot as they had unquestionably shown "bourgeois convictions." The tribunal pronounced sentence in accord with Ivan Kulik's demands and 106 peasants were thrown into a large cellar and there shot to death, "a racing automobile truck near by drowning the noise of the shots and the moans of the dying."

These are some of the things that Ivan Voloshin, saw in his two recent years in Russia. "I recall," he says, "these few recollections because the same Ivan Kulik came with the Rusagain shows a surplus for the year of $1,393,460 over all ordinary and extraordinary expenditures. Quebec seems to keep up to its sister provinces in general progress and in things that make for the happiness and contentment of the people; yet its financial balance sheet is invariably favorable. One is frequently impelled to the thought that the political leaders of the Province of Quebec are good legislators and administrators and, in addition, good business men. Continuity of the Government has made for continuity of policy also. Perhaps this has something to do with certain contrasts in Ontario; but some of our Ontario provincial fathers—could certainly find much to learn in Quebec about public finance.

SAFETY A SIMPLE MATTER.

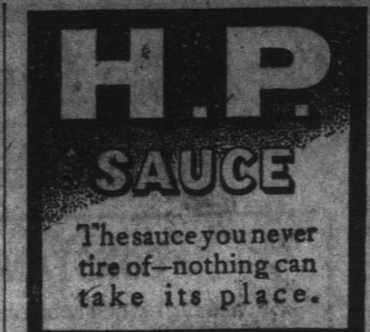

Under the above heading the Montreal Herald says editorially: "Through the instrumentality of the Boy Scouts, a set of rules for the prevention of accidents, drawn up by the Quebec Safety League, was left in hundreds of parked cars in Montreal this week. Most of the rules could be summarized into two words: 'Don't Speed!'"

The seasoned driver learns from experience that common sense is the greatest factor in safety. He gets past the stage where he worries a great deal about the right-of-way; he learns that it is something hardly worth bothering about, let alone insisting upon.

The man who observes the speed limit's "plays safe" all the time, is likely to get a long way from home in a few hours, and be fairly certain that the return trip will be easy and pleasant. He finds that "emergencies" for him are as rare as dandelions in December.

The saddest part of this smashing of cars and people is that nearly all of it is unnecessary.

Notwithstanding all the warnings and all the rules laid down to avoid accidents, the numbers seem to be increasing rather than decreasing. The number of accidents and deaths on Saturdays and Sundays from all over Canada and the United States is appalling. Pleasure mad and the man for speeding make them rush into the jaws of death. The headlights of the approaching engine and the lights of the present day, tell many a sad tale and have wiped out almost still follow in the same danger zone, and take a chance with instant death. We wonder when will the people learn the lessons of playing safe when coming to roadway crossings when the fast travelling train is approaching, of speeding too rapidly on narrow roads with other cars going in an opposite direction. The doctors' and the undertakers' bills in nearly all cases could be avoided.

corners, and other food. Then they decided to have their final swim before leaving for home. Shortly after entering the water one of them disappeared. One of his companions went to make a dive to try and reach him when he felt a cramp coming on and swam for the shore. The lad on entering the water was seized with a cramp and sank immediately. After an hour's work the body was recovered and artificial respiration resorted to for half an hour, but life was extinct.

A PARTY OF SIX DROWN IN RIVER

One of the worst drowning disasters in recent years took place here a few evenings ago. A party of eight friends left on a holiday tour for Bonaventure, a place down the river. When the ferryman was rowing the party across from Vercheres, the small boat was heavily laden with its human freight and valises. The ferry man gave orders for no one to stand up in the boat in case of overturning it. But contrary to his orders, one man disobeyed, and then came the fatality. The boat overturned and in the inky darkness, the time being about 1.15 in the morning, the struggle for life began. Three happened to cling to the overturned boat but six, after a vain attempt to swim and keep themselves afloat, sank to rise no more. The accident took place about a half mile from shore. Two men and a woman were saved and three men and three women drowned. The saddest part of it was that owing to the noise of a hilarious party on one of the neighboring islands, the cries of those in the water were not heard. One of the men who rescued the three survivors said that owing to the confusion of noises heard from campers nearby, and the cries of those in distress, together with the fact that a party a few nights previous to the accident had played a trick on him by making him dive after a person who had fallen overboard, which afterwards turned out to be a hoax, he could have saved, with his companions, the whole party. The bodies of the victims were recovered in different places down the river and brought to Montreal for interment.

THE NEW ARENA GOING UP RAPIDLY.

The new arena, in course of construction at the corner of St. Catherine and Alwater Av., is being rapidly built. The building will cover a block, and when finished will be a very imposing one. It will contain an up to date concert hall, meeting rooms, and will have an artificial ice plant. It will be in readiness for the hockey season.

THE CITY TO SPEND OVER A MILLION.

The City is to spend $1,200,000 for new pavements, sidewalks, and sewers. Before the season is over the sum for public improvements voted by the City Council will be over $6,000,000.

BROKEN RESOLUTIONS.

With resolutions good I came Unto this pleasant spot.
Said I unto my winnowing dame:
"O'er there I'll work a lot!"

"In town distractions drive me wild,
But there beside the lake,
Where skies are blue and breezes mild
Full many a rhyme I'll make.

"I'll write the afternoons away
And every quiet night
When no one comes at bridge to play
I'll sit me down to write."

But when I settle to my task
There comes a friend, and he Says impudently: "I've called to ask
If you would play golf with me?"

I am not made of blither stuff,
I get my clubs,
I'm strong but not quite strong enough
To spurn a plea like that.

At four o'clock my little son
Cries: "Come, it's time to swim."
And I unto the bench where I run
As I had promised him.

Next callers come an hour to stay,
They have no song to write,
No copy must they send away,
And I must be polite.

Night finds me where the day began
And thus the weeks roll by,
Surely a sorely tempered man
To indolence am I!

Each year I vow I will not shirk,
But to my task be true;
Up here I'll do a lot of work,
And then I never do.

FEW FACTS ABOUT THE TRAMWAYS.

A few facts about the running of the Montreal tramways for the year ending June 30, 1924, are of interest to your readers. According to the Sixth Annual Report of the Montreal Tramways Commission to the City of Montreal shows a surplus of $548,995.19, compared with a surplus of $347,875 in the previous year. This surplus under contract has been paid to the City of Montreal on account of the tramways.

Gross receipts amounted to $12,462,988 for the period as compared with $12,058,285 in the previous year, and $11,712,555 in 1922. Operating profits amounted to $48,554 as compared with $2,294 in 1922. The total increase in miles during the year was 987,366 or 4.2 per cent. The Company purchased fifty new cars during the year order of the Commission. The average fare in force since 1920 has been 946 cents. The average speed of cars in the city limits was 8.75 miles per hour. Outside the city limits the average speed was 11.23 miles per hour. The average number of passengers carried per day was 546,544 and the average number of transfers per day was 231,654, making a total of 778,198. Passengers receipts accounted for $12,131,181 of the gross receipts; freight revenue was next with $211,208 and car advertising followed with $41,267.11. Freight car rentals netted the company $1,732 and prison cars $3,825 while miscellaneous receipts are shown at $74,669.

For the period of Feb. 10, 1918 to June 30, 1924, there is a deficit of $827,637.99 of which a sum of $385,637.99 is due to the City of Montreal.

THE PRICE OF MILK TO ADVANCE

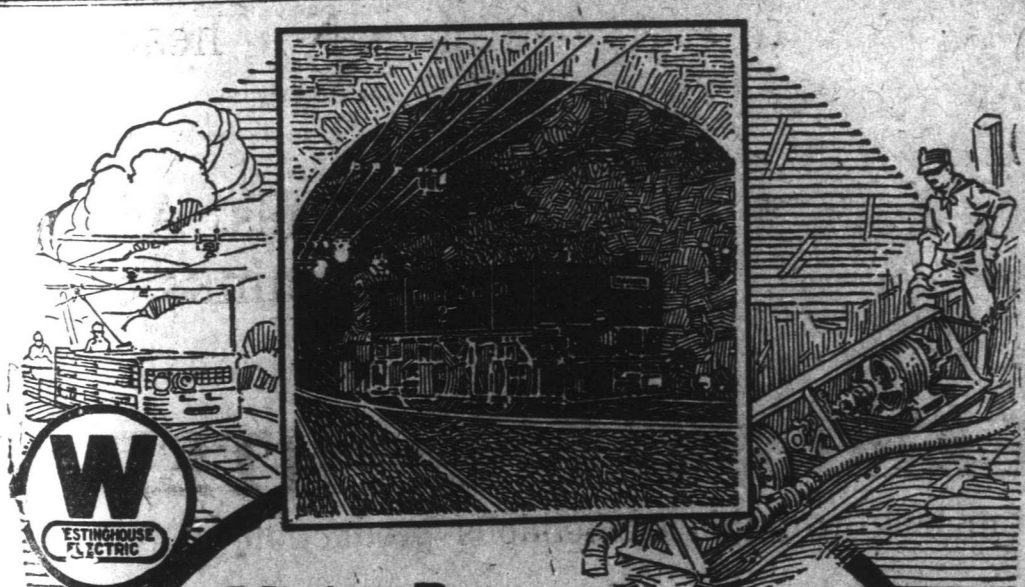

The price of milk within a few weeks will take its periodic jump of a cent a quart. Every fall and winter the cost to consumers goes up because of the increased cost of winter feed. Thousands of gallons of milk are used in Montreal each day in families. Add to this the consumption in hotels, restaurants, ice cream parlors, chocolate factories, boarding schools, and Montreal's consumption of milk in a day reaches into the millions of gallons dairy products, forming a considerable portion of the Province's revenue.

THE PROVINCE OF QUEBEC HAS A SURPLUS.

The Provincial Treasurer in his budget speech announced that a surplus of over a million dollars was on hand. The gains from the liquor traffic amounted to between three and four millions of dollars. Speaking of the finances of Quebec, the Ottawa Journal says: The Quebec Provincial Government

HE TOOK HIS LAST SWIM.

The holiday season is not always a pleasant or a joyful time for many. In fact it is a time of grief and woe for many families. After some time, they partook of a hearty meal, consisting of sandwiches, cu-

A REQUEST TO MOTORISTS

FOR KIND CONSIDERATION.

It has been brought to the attention of the Newfoundland Motor Association that there are several thousand people in the city who do not own motor cars and who walk to Bowring Park on Sunday and holiday afternoons.

It is a well-known fact that these citizens are deluged with dust in the fine weather and often spattered with mud in wet weather, as however careful a driver may be, it is usually impossible not to raise dust and sometimes it is impossible to prevent splashing when driving through the mud.

The Association has therefore decided to issue a personal request to Motorists generally not to use the Southside Road on Sunday, Holiday and Half Holiday afternoons, thereby affording the many people in the city who do not own cars an opportunity to walk to the Park in some degree of comfort on Sundays and holidays. (This request, of course, does not apply to motorists living on the Southside nor motorists wishing to call at houses on the Southside on these afternoons). This is an appeal to Motorists, not an order nor a demand. A little consideration is all that is asked and the Association believes that Motorists, generally, are considerate.

Wonders of Cod Liver Oil

We all remember what a stampede there was for Labrador when it was reported that gold had been discovered on that coast. If some persons were to find diamonds or pearls in any quantity even at the North Pole there would be a "rush" from all parts of the world and millions of dollars would be spent like water with only the hope of getting an adequate return.

Here in Newfoundland we have something of far greater value than gold, diamonds, or pearls which scientists from the greatest universities of Great Britain and America have described as many times more valuable for building up healthy children than it is possible to obtain from any similar product in any other part of the world. Gold, diamonds, and pearls have their uses but all fade into insignificance in comparison to healthy children.

The American scientists who have spent the summer with us have done great good in describing the work of investigating the manufacture of our cod liver oil. Some of them came here with the idea that our oil was prepared in a very crude way, but after many experiments they have left for home with the opinion that we are preparing this oil in the most approved fashion and in a way that leaves very little room for improvement. The British scientists had the same report two years ago after their visit investigating our methods. They are now satisfied and point the way for new uses for this concentrated "life giver."

Mr. E. M. Johnson in his address last week described the vitamins, minute and mysterious adjuncts to the diet, which is incomplete without it. Our leading men of all professions thronged to hear his statements and many have followed his precepts.

At the same time that Mr. Johnson, Dr. Bis, of the Johns Hopkins University, Dr. Quilligan, of Cleveland, and Miss Mildred Wetstope, assistant with Dr. Alford Hess, of New York, were here making their pronouncements, we find by the Canadian Press that Dr. J. C. Drummond, of the London University, Professor H. C. Sherman and Professor Walter H. Eddy of the Columbia University, Professor E. Mellenby, of St. Thomas Hospital, London, and Professor W. Laah Miller, of the University of Toronto, were electrifying the greatest scientists of the world at the annual meeting of the British Association held this year in the city of Toronto.

Professor Drummond, who has spoken so highly of our Newfoundland cod liver oil, said: A year ago we recognized only three vitamins. We have now found three others distinct from the first three. In the class of the indispensable substances are first, the fat soluble vitamin 'A' found in a concentrated form of cod liver oil; second water soluble vitamin 'B' occurs in yeast; third, known as anti-scorbutic found in lemons is related to the disease scurvy, which appears when it is absent from the diet; fourth, we have now found there are two others distinct from the first three. The anti-rachitic vitamin controls by its presence or absence the disease rickets; fifth, has recently been discovered and comes into play in the process of production.

It is reported Professor Sherman in his many experiments of feeding and starving albino rats, principally for definite information regarding rickets, was surprised to find that many of these rats were sterile, producing no young, but after he had fed them up sufficiently with cod liver oil they were prolific with healthy litters. This pronouncement was startling and has started a new impetus into vitamin research work.

Professor Drummond concluded his address: "Vitamins must be identified as definite chemical substances, their functions in maintaining health, promoting growth, their part in reproduction will then be understood and the problems of distribution and their regulations in the diet will be simplified."

The Next Election

MR. BALDWIN ON THE ISSUES.

Mr. Baldwin at a Conservative demonstration at Belle Vue, Manchester, on Saturday, said:

At the next general election the fight will be on the social programme which we laid down in the King's Speech. It will be on the development and the increase of trade inside the Empire—and the safeguarding of such efficient industries at home as are suffering from unfair competition owing to the low wages and longer hours in foreign countries.

Not only have the present Government done nothing to reduce unemployment; they have also made a point of going out of their way to increase it. That is one of the reasons why we are determined at the first possible moment to get rid of them in the House of Commons and to appeal to the country.

No one can say that the Conservatives have not given fair play to the Government, but there are grave differences on which we shall join issue,

For the Love of a Woman and to Avenge a Friend

Andre-Louis Moreau was born with the gift of laughter and a sense that the world was mad. His laughter mocked his enemies and his madness inflamed the world. Not in all the pages of fiction is there such a glowing dare-devil character as that of this young scion of the nobility who became Scaramouche, the clown. Not in the history of motion pictures has there been such a production as

REX INGRAM'S SCARAMOUCHE
The Best Picture of Any Season

Featuring RAMON NOVARRO ALICE TERRY LEWIS STONE

The picture was adapted by WILLIS GOLDBECK from RAFAEL SABATINI'S thrilling novel of the French Revolution and the photography was by JOHN F. SEITZ, who was camera man for Mr. Ingram's production of "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse."

Ten thousand persons appear in scenes showing the storming of the Tuileries; and there are 30 leading players, who include George Seigmann, Lloyd Ingraham, Julia Swayne Gordon, Edith Allen, Lydia Yeamans Titus, Clotilde Delano, Edward Connelly and Rose Dione.

Directed by REX INGRAM

INDIA.

The situation in India is serious. It must be realized that we cannot attain further reform without making the present stage of reform a success, resting on stable foundations.

Mr. Baldwin next dealt with the controversy between Mr. Lloyd George and himself regarding the American debt settlement.

Just one word about that payment being dependent on whether we obtained payment from our debtors or not. Was this to be another scrap of paper? No; if it had not been for that settlement we should have never obtained American co-operation in the Dawes Report and we should not have the Americans with us to-day in helping to settle the financial affairs of Europe.

FIGHT AGAINST SOCIALISM.

Lord Derby, who presided, asked that the door should be left open to those people who had most of their sympathies with the Conservative Party, recognizing that the only fight would be between Constitutionalism and Communism. In the ranks of the Liberals there were many who would be prepared to range themselves on the side of the Conservatives.

10,000 Lbs. Scholarships

Empire Scholarships to the value of $10,000 will shortly be available as a result of the success of the Fellowship of the British Empire Exhibition.

There are now being added to the Scholarship Fund donations from various sources, including the Kensington College, the Thomas Wall Trust, Miss A. Flocchi, Mrs. L. G. Hanam, Miss F. M. Studholme, and others. It is expected that further special donations will be received, and there is also a reasonable anticipation of a good addition to the Scholarship Fund from the Associate Branch of the Fellowship which has now been instituted. It is in the organization of the Associate Branch, the same degree of economy can be maintained, it is hoped that 20 per cent. of its receipts also will be available for the Scholarship Fund.

The trustees of the Scholarship Fund—Lord Askwith, Lord Leigh, and Sir Henry McMahon—will defer their decision as to the employment of the fund until the close of the year. But the general principles have been agreed to, that Scholarships will range from a total value of £100 to £2,000, and, so far as possible, be used to promote inter-Imperial relations by granting scholarships to young people in this country to settle overseas, and to young people in overseas Dominions to take educational courses in the Home Country.

Motor Accident on LeMarchant Road

YOUNG LAD INJURED AND REMOVED TO HOSPITAL.

About 1.30 yesterday afternoon, a young lad named Jack Phillips, of 88 Lime Street was hit by a motor car driven by Mr. Thomas Voisey, on LeMarchant Road, and received injuries which necessitated his removal to hospital. As far as can be learned no blame could be attached to the driver. Mr. Voisey with Hon. Sir J. C. Crosbie and Hon. J. R. Bennett on board were proceeding east along LeMarchant Road, and had passed the head of Barter's Hill, when the little chap suddenly rushed out from behind another car and was hit. The little fellow was picked up in an unconscious condition and carried into Dr. Fallon's residence alongside where the doctor made an examination and ordered his removal to hospital. Beyond a few cuts and bruises about the head, there was no cause for alarm, and shortly after he regained consciousness. To-day the little fellow is reported to be doing as well as can be expected, and it will be only a matter of a few days when he will be able to get around again.

During the past few days numerous complaints have reached this office from residents on LeMarchant Road re speeding on this thoroughfare, and to all appearances a few additional policemen are required to check these law breakers. In this particular case, however, we do not say the car was going fast.

Child Welfare

HEALTHY BABIES.

"An Ounce of Prevention is Worth a Pound of Cure."

Fresh Air—How lucky we are in St. John's to have such wonderful invigorating fresh air! Living on the side of the hill we have every benefit from it. What we must do is to make the best of it. Have windows open wide and take baby out as much as you can.

You may say the dust is bad, but when there is one room in which to cook the meals, to eat the meals, to sit in, and sometimes to sleep in, too, you want fresh air or else it gets so very stuffy. Don't you think that dust (which you can dust away) is better than that very heavy stuffiness?

Flies are another nuisance, but they seem to get in through the door anyway if the window is shut, and if we have the room airy and our lungs full of fresh air we are stronger to resist the germs they carry.

Keep the windows open at night. Sleep does us much more good if we are breathing fresh air while we sleep.

Fresh air and sunshine is a tonic for Baby which gives him red cheeks and a bonnie look.

Lets have plenty of good Newfoundland fresh air.

Crying—Baby should cry sometimes for a little while. It is good exercise for arms and legs as well as breathing organs.

It will not hurt boys any more than girls.

Prolonged crying is bad. Mother must find out the reason. It may be: Cold feet or over-heating.

Wet napkins or sore buttocks.

Uncomfortable clothing (too tight round neck or waist).

Over-feeding or thirst.

Wind or colic.

Hunger, because he did not take long enough over his last feed, or because his next feed is due.

World's Largest Sapphire

The largest sapphire jewel in the world, which its value, unsuspected by its possessor was used as a paperweight for many years, has arrived at wembley. The jewel is a symbol of God Shani (Saturn), and it is believed that those who possess it embrace prosperity and glory.

Nine hundred and sixteen carats in weight, this sapphire has the form of a plucked flower with a few leaves around the stem.

About five years ago it was discovered by Mr. Wakefield, Director-General of Revenue, Hyderabad, Deccan, when visiting Reis Ahmed, an official of the State. On entering the office, Mr. Wakefield discovered the sapphire being used as a paperweight, and was further astonished when he was told that the official's children had played with this priceless gem as they would with ordinary stones.

The history surrounding this stone is as interesting as its value. One of the Ballala kings during the twelfth century, when on a pilgrimage to Ceylon, was given this sapphire, now called the Reis Ahmed Sapphire, by a Buddhist monk, at this time the stone was oval in shape, and was altered by expert engravers when taken back to Mysore. During the reign of the king the stone became an object of veneration, but was afterwards captured by Malik Kafur, the great general of Allaudun. Subsequent adventures brought it into the possession of Reis Ahmed's family in 1785, and its subsequent history in that family until discovered by Mr. Wakefield.

Experts are of the opinion that, as the sapphire was probably an ear ornament of some family deity, there is a companion somewhere to this wonderful stone. A fortune awaits the person who can find this companion, as the single stone itself is believed to be worth thousands of pounds.

The sapphire is of such great value that the owners, Messrs. Poochoomal Brothers, only exhibit it at certain times of the day. At other times a model is shown on their stand in the Bombay Court of the Indian Pavilion.

to circulate them. At once there were loud cries of "Read them." The Speaker on being appealed to, observed this was a matter within the discretion of the Minister.—A Conservative: Is there any necessity to follow this old man?—Speaker: It is a question for the Minister.—A Liberal: Why hit the man when he is down? Here there were some shouts of "Next question," but a more persistent demand continued that the Minister should read the statement.—Mr. Rhys Davies then stated that Bottomley had to be allowed numerous visits from his solicitor and other persons for the purpose of preparing his statement for the Official Receiver and in connection with his appeal to the Court of Criminal Appeal. Visits were allowed by the Prison Commissioners and the Governor under the general directions given by the Home Office. The Commissioners, added Mr. Davies, knew nothing of any diary kept by Bottomley. He had been allowed a box in which to keep the papers relating to his bankruptcy proceedings. To what extent he was allowed to hold the key could not be stated now, but the Government had access to it. The box had been examined at Wormwood Scrubs before he was removed to Maidstone. The regulations, declared Mr. Davies, had been and would be, strictly observed. On the question of good conduct marks, Mr. Davies explained that, when it became evident that an inquiry would have to be held into the whole matter of the publication of Press articles, Bottomley was informed that he might make a statement and that he would lose nothing by frankness.—The matter then dropped.

GRAND FALLS AND CITY AGAIN PLAY TO DRAW.

The third game of the football series played last night ended in a draw, one each, thus giving Grand Falls the cup offered by the St. John's Football League for the inter-town football games. For Grand Falls Evans played a wonderful game and Ted and Cecil Bratt, Darby Pitcher and Ballyen in the forward line also played well, of course goalie Locker was on deck as usual with the goods and saved brilliantly and was well supported by Hannaford in the back division. Both forward lines were not as good as usual when shooting and lost many opportunities to score.

MEETING OF A.A.A. AND FOOTBALL LEAGUE.

Last night at the office of Messrs. Higgin, Hunt & Emerson, a joint meeting of the Newfoundland Football League and A.A.A. was held, in which a representative gathering of both organizations were present. The first business dealt with was that of the Nfld. Football League. Secretary Harris read letters from the Permanent Marine Disasters Fund and from the G.W.V.A., asking for games with the footballers of the warships against the City. The request of the P.M.D.F. was given first consideration, and the game will probably be arranged for Monday, September 8th. The G.W.V.A. asked for two games, but the best that could be done was to guarantee them one. The game to provide funds for the G.W.V.A. will in all likelihood be played on Thursday evening of the same week. The League were quite enthusiastic over the matter, and to ensure that the undertaking would be carried out successfully, a committee, comprising the President, with Messrs. Harris, Brian and Sparkes, were appointed to select the City team and make all the necessary arrangements. The final dates for these games will be announced in a few days.

A.A.A. Meeting.

Before the business was taken up, the prizes won at the Indoor Championships Meet last fall, were presented to the winners.

It was decided to allow the naval visitors to compete in the Annual Meet on Sept. 10, but before doing so, all entrants must produce the necessary credentials as to their amateur status. It was also decided to invite entries from the warships to compete in any of the events on the programme but it is to be understood, however, that should any of these men capture, first, second or third places, the points thus gained shall not count for the Hayward Trophy. The President with the Secretary, will communicate with the Admiral of H.M.S. Hood, inviting the naval men to participate in the sports. The programme of events will be forwarded, and everything in general explained upon the arrival of the ships.

The field and track judges, committees and otherwise, were then appointed, as follows:—

- Field Captain—W. J. Higgins, K.C.
- Starter—J. W. Morris.
- Clerk of Course—J. A. MacKenzie.
- Track Judges—J. L. Vincombe, R. E. Innes, F. J. Phelan, F. Marshall.
- Field Judges—C. Henderson, F. Pippy, T. Curran, J. P. Crotty, W. Noel.
- Road Race Officials—M. Chaplin, G. C. Harvey, Gus Herger, W. H. Herder, J. B. Steele, W. J. Martin, Leslie Marshall, E. Robertson, C. J. Cahill, E. V. Spry and J. R. Stick.
- Track Supervisors—W. Noel, A. H. Thomas, H. J. Wyatt.
- Timekeepers—(Road)—C. J. Ellis; (Field)—C. Hall, J. M. Tobin, C. E. Hunt.
- Heralds—C. Bolbin, P. J. Grace.
- Medical Officer—Dr. J. Geleue.
- Finance—H. J. Wyatt, T. W. Sparkes, E. O'Mara.
- Programmes—J. A. MacKenzie, R. B. Herder.
- Auditors—F. C. Brian, T. V. Hart.
- Reception Committee—C. E. Hunt, P. E. Osterbridge, W. H. Jackson, H. J. Russell, Phil Randall, J. P. Crotty.

R. Dowden, W. McNeilly, N. J. Vincombe.

"TELEGRAM" ROAD RACE.

The Telegram is donating, as last year, three gold and five silver medals. All awards will be made to those competitors who finish the course under sixty-five minutes. This should prove a big incentive to encourage competition in this event. Entrants in all events are requested to state their club when entering. Five points will be awarded the winner in each event, 3 to the second and 1 point for third place, and to the Club or Association securing the highest number of points will be awarded the silver trophy presented by C. H. Hayward of Grand Falls. This must be captured three times. (Not necessarily in succession). The Junior age limit is again defined as under 15, and birth certificates must be produced. All contestants in every event, both field and track, must be suitably attired in athletic dress. This rule must be strictly adhered to. Each contestant will wear a number as formerly.

The sports this year will be run under the rules as laid down by the Amateur Athletic Union and for the purpose of making the judges and contestants familiar with the various events, the rules governing same will be published in this column beginning on Monday next. The programme of events in their regular order will be finalized at the next meeting. The Mount Cashel Band will be invited to the sports to render the musical end of the programme, while arrangements are also being made to invite the band from H.M.S. Hood. The meeting was very enthusiastic throughout; practically all the preliminary arrangements are now finalized. The meeting then adjourned until this day week, Sept. 6th.

LAST NIGHT'S FOOTBALL.

R.I.S. Defeat T.A.

A large attendance of spectators were present at St. George's Field last night to witness the football match between the R.I.S. and T.A. teams for the points in the Junior League. The fans received good value for their money, as the game resolved itself into a splendid exhibition of football and saw the R.I.S., the likely champions, emerge victorious by an odd goal.
