Something Must Be Done to Prevent Power and Other Companies Usurping Rights of Public on Highways, Says Sir James Whitney, and Attorney-General Agrees.

Some remedy must be found to prerent power and other companies usurping the rights of the public highways, was the declaration of Sir James Whitney to the North Toronto deputation at the parliament buildings on Saturday

The deputation was received in the remier's office by Sir James and Hon. J. Foy, attorney-general. It insluded Alex. McCowan, M.L.A.; Mayor Brown, Councillors Reid, Ball, Howe, Baker and Acting Town Solicitor Ed.

Presented the Case. Mr. Gillies presented the case for the Town of North Toronto, giving a brief history of the contest between the council and the Toronto and Niagara Power Company, leading up to the judgment of the court of appeal of Onerio, unanimously given by five judges, In favor of the municipality, as read by Chief Justice Charles Moss.

Mr. Gillies pointed out that the reversal of the judgment by the privy souncil was a serious public matter. The point at issue was whether the company had the right to place poles and wires without getting the consent of the town.

Only Surmising. Sir James Whitney said that he had the company's charter before him and had read the report in the press of the privy council's judgment. He was not prepared to discuss it till the full text of the judgment was received.

WINNIPEG, July 27 .- (Special.) - The past week has been one of scares, so far as the wheat crop of the Canadian prairie west is concerned. Black rust has been reported from scattered districts of southern Saskatchewan and southwest Manitoba, but on investigation these have proved either groundless or affecting but trifling areas.

NEW YORK, July 27.—The end of the seamen's strike in New York was officially recorded to-day in a statement from James Vidal, secretary of the marine firemen's union. SENATE, HOUSE AND TAFT PULL DIFFERENT WAYS ON TARIFF QUESTIONS

Doubtful if Any Changes Will Be Made This Session-Wilson's Prospects Badly Blighted by Refusal of House Caucus to Sanction Dreadnoughts-Bull Moose Party Will Sweep Entire West.

Tariff Changes Run Many Chances

The tariff situation at Washington is in a ferment, as will be seen by the events of the last few days. But the reader must take nothing yet as settled, because the president may have a different policy from the senate and the senate may have a different policy from the house of representatives. So far anything done has been done by one of the three branches of the national legislature. For instance, the senate is in favor of repealing the reciprocity law, and making the duty on news print paper $2, in place of free paper from Canada, and a duty of $3.75 on paper from all other places. The senate is in favor of sweeping reductions in the duties on wool and woollen fabrics. The house of representatives has voted for a permanent tariff board, but no one thing has actually passed the whole three branches. For instance, the president last year vetoed this same wool schedule that has now passed the senate. What will be do this time? And will the house of representatives repeal the reciprocity law and agree with the senate as of representatives repeal the reciprocity law and agree with the senate as of representatives repeal the reciprocity law and agree with the senate as of representatives repeal the reciprocity law and agree with the senate as of representatives repeal the reciprocity law and been signed by the president.

With congress about to adjourn and the presidential campaign about to open in earnest, the senate and the house are jockeying for position of the tariff question, seeking to embarrass the president. The tariff issue cuts across, rather than between, the two old parties, and local interest and local industries exert a great influence upon the individual members and even upon the party policy. This week the senate voted to repeal a section of the Canadian Reciprocity Act, under which the president last summer admitted pulp and paper from certain provinces in Canada, and from private lands in other provinces, free of duty and to impose a general duty of $2 per ton, in lieu of the present general tariff duty of $3.75 per ton. The senate, by the way, had already repealed the entire reciprocity statute, but the house did not agree to this, nor is it likely that the pulp duties will be changed at this session.

A more strategic move on the part of the low tariff men was the adoption by the senate this week of the bill reducing the woollen duties which Mr. Taft vetoed last August upon the ground that the subject had not yet been reported upon by the tariff board. Since then the findings of the startling conditions prevailing among Doughty, was charged with attempting to produce for unlawful purposes the girl in question for a man named Samuel David Lee, of Salt Lake City, U. S. A.

The man Lee, it was brought out, first became acquainted with the family of which the accused was the head some seven years ago, just after her husband had died. Alice, an elder daughter at Mrs. Doughty, became acquainted with Lee and, after a few acquainted with Lee and, after a few days, left Liverpool with him for London, en foute for Salt Lake City. They were not married at the time.

The next development occurred some years later. In her letters to her mother, Alice mentioned a Mrs. Kelly who lived next door to Mr. Lee and herself in Salt Lake City. Mrs. Doughty wrote to Mrs. Kelly, asking after her daughter, and Mrs. Kelly wrote back enclosing a part of a paper which was called the "Salt Lake City Herald Republican." This paper gave an account of the suicide of the girl. Alice, owing, Mrs. Kelly suggested in her letter, to the man's cruelty and her letter, to the man's cruelty and drinking habits; therefore Mrs. Doughty must have known in October of last year that her daughter had, by reason of Lee's conduct, suicide in Salt Lake City.

Honey Prices Advance

Reports received by the Ontario Beekeepers' Association from double the number of beekeepers reporting in 1911 indicate a still further decrease per colony over last year, the average being 48.7 lbs., as compared with 50.9 in 1911, a short year, and 58.3 in 1910. It is also noted that there is a decided shortage in the eastern counties, and many large beekeepers did not report, as the crop was a failure. The heavy loss is put down to the severity of last winter.

The following are the prices which will likely prevail in the honey market:

AUGUST absorbs three days from July to start the great Annual Furniture Sale at the beginning of the week. The extra days will be needed for unfolding the greatest presentation of Furniture that any August Sale has yet known.

Those who eagerly await for the opening announcement of this great classic event will be immensely delighted with the extraordinary values we have to offer this year. Never before in our thirty-odd rears of store keeping have trade conditions favored us so extensively in bringing together so vast a collection of furniture, in spite of the fact of unusual prosperity among manufacturers and the difficulty of transportation. Our buyers were earlier in the field this year than ever and secured all the choice plums the makers had to dispose of, and the bargain features told of below are but forerunners of the multitudes of good things we shall exploit each day throughout the

Those who watch our daily announcements will enjoy money savings such as the most ardent economist has never dreamed of.

THE ADAMS FURNITURE COMPANY, LIMITED - CITY HALL SQUARE

Informs G. T. R. of Benefits Derived From Taking Trip on SS. Hamonic Thru Great Lakes,

Hon. S. H. Blake recently took a holiday trip on the Grand Trunk Railway System's steamer "Hamonic." The result of his trip was so satisfactory that he had seen fit to congratulate the Grand Trunk for the inauguration of steamship route from Sarnia thru Lake Superior to Duluth.

"My Dear Mr. Gildersleeve: I desire to tell you how much I enjoyed and what benefit I received from the trip last week from Sarnia to Duluth and return on the 'Hamonic.' I know of no other means whereby Toronto people could get in five days such a splendid feast of fresh air drawn in direct from The fine stretch from Sarnia thru Lake Huron to the Sault, with a visit to the Great Canal, then off thru the inland sea, Lake Superior to Port Arthur and Fort William, with their wonderful elevators, capable of holding twenty-three, million bushels of wheat, growing every month; and then to the northwest portion of the lake to Duluth, a motor drive along the boulevards fronting the water and thence up the heights with its extend-ed view of the river, bridges, Superior City and the forests City and the far-off scene. Then another voyage thru the life-giving ozone of both these inland seas, on board the Hamonic, is a never-to-be-forgotten joy and a means of cutting down doctors' bills. She is a fine ocean-going vessel. I had no idea there was a one on the inland waters of Canada—a fast boat and well equipped, well officered. The observation deck completely surrounded with glass, giving a perfect view and, when necessary, protecting against all attacks of the The ordinary staterooms are weather. good and the parlor staterooms are luxurious. The table service should satisfy all and the attendance much above par, all courteous and attentive to the comfort of the passengers. She is a splendid steamer, a credit to the ship-building capacity of Canada, well officered and well manned. May you long live to represent this line as general manager. With all best wishes. The Welcome League An Appreciation

By Rev. E. de M. Rudolf, Prebendary of St. Paul's Cathedral, London,

Late one Saturday night four years ago, I arrived in Toronto from Engand with a party of young girls destined to help in solving the domestic servant problem in Canada. It was nearly midnight as we sat in the Union Station, thoroly tired out after our long journey from Quebec. We had hoped to have arrived in time to catch the last boat to Niagara-on-the-Lake, which was our ultimate destination, and no arrangements had therefore been made for housing the party in Toronto. But alas! there was now no prospect of our proceeding on our journey till Monday. What was to be The railway officials were exceedingly kind and telephoned to many institutions in the hope that accommodation might be found for the party. Altho a few beds were offered in some of them, it was necessary not to allow the party to be broken up and scattered as supervision would be difficult. When we were almost in despair and thinking of spending the night in the waiting noom, it occurred to some one that possibly the British Welcome League would take us in, and the telephone was again brought into requisition. Expecting the usual reply, "Very sorry, full up!" what was our joy to receive a cheery reply. "Send them along, we will do our best." Gladly we shouldered our baggage and were plioted to the British Welcome, where we received a warm welcome we received a warm welcome, com-pletely justifying its title. After a wash and cup of tea we were soon enjoying a much-needed and refreshing My own thoughts were full of gratitude to those who had provided such a haven of rest for the maidens under my care.

About a month ago, I had again an exactly similar experience, except that we arrived in Toronto this time at six o'clock on Sunday morning. No time was spent in telephoning around the city as on the previous occasion, but remembering our warm welcome four years ago, I went at once to the British Welcome, on Spadina-avenue, and we were all at once taken in (marly tharty of us), and received every kindness and attention, anything in the shape of payment or acknowledg-nent being refused.

As an Englishman who loves Canada, I feel that after such an expertence, it is my bounden duty to publicly acknowledge the splendid work done by the British Welcome League in Toronto. Spending a week-end there on two occasions, I have had a good opportunity of seeing the inside of the work; I have also chatted with the immigrants who have found there just the help they needed on first arriving as strangers in a new country. The cheery way in which the caretaker's wife greats the men must make them feel at home the moment they set fort in the place. And then the kind and sympathetic talks which the energetic class who were not attached to any have to depend so largely on voluntary MIDSUMMER CLEARING SALE.

Great Moving-Clearance Sale

Pianos and Other Musical Instruments

We Are Going to Move

Everything must be sold. THERE WILL BE ABSOLUTELY NO RESERVE, simply one end in view-that of turning this immense stock into cash. We can afford to do this at and still fare better than were we to undergo the expense of breakage, damage, labor, depreciation and trouble of moving, etc.

Three Sections

Pianos-Other Instruments later--Fixtures last

We are dividing this sale into three sections; Pianos, including new and playerpianos and used pianos, miscellaneous instruments, which includes almost every kind of instrument made, from a Jew's Harp to a Bijou Orchestra, together with accessories; and lastly our fixtures, such as show cases, chairs, desks, racks, etc.

Pianos First

Pianos being bulky, difficult to move, and occupying space badly needed, it is imperative that we make an absolute clearance of these, consequently the bargains presented are, we believe, better than were ever before offered to the public in Toronto or elsewhere. This sale is primarily for clearance purposes, and profit is not as important as prompt disposal of the stock.

Sea One, Navy One.

Dealing with the basis of naval stratagy in time of war, Lord Seiborne said the navy should have one task only—to find the ships of the enemy and destroy them. There could be no such thing as local defence. The sea is all one and the navy must be all one. No attack could be made on the empire except by the enemy's ships, empire except by the enemy's ships, and if the ships of the enemy were destroyed in the Mediterranean, Australia and New Zealand would be safe, and if the ships of the enemy were destroyed in the Indian Ocean the United Kingdom and Canada would be United Kingdom and Canada would be as safe as South Africa and India. Where will the enemy be found? asked Lord Selborne. "He will endeavor to effect a temporary superiority in some one sea in the hope to overcome a portion of our fleet. He will attempt, to deceive us, to make a feint the search of the search to draw us away from his objective."
Turning to our position in the Mediterranean, "the shortest and easiest connection with our Indian Empire and istralasian Dominions, and the only ute to Egypt from Europe." Lord lborne spoke of the danger which our trade. LONDON, July 27.—Lord Selborne, a be our chances with our present naval strength in the Mediterranean? would have preferred that the deate would have preferred that the debate had been postponed. At a later date he would be in a better position to reply to the points made by Lord Selborne. Lord Crewe, however, recognised that in the immediate future we would have to "revise some of the old formulas." In 1912, he said, we had 16 battleships and battle cruisers on the Dreadnought type, as against 15 possessed by all other powers in European waters. In 1914 the British Empire would possess 30 Dreadnoughts would possess 30 Dreadnoughts against 39 of the other powers, and in 1915 we should possess 36 Dreadnoughts against 51 of the European powers. Nevertheless, Lord Crewe optimistically assured their lordships that "the government had not lost sight of our responsibilities in the Mediterranean." The Marquis of Bristol said we could not regard Gibraltar alone as sufficient for the base of our supplies for fleet for the base of our supplies for fleet and army in case of need. He quoted the saying of Nelson that there was no better negotiator for peace than a squadron of battleships, and that ought to be the policy of the govern-ment, as he was sure it was the policy of the nation. Lord Brassey contended that the laying down of ships was not resented by Germany, but that dis-cussions and comparisons were, and if we steadly built the ship we required alarmists would be silenced and international relations improved.

be available for Mediterranean waters. That, he suggested, was a complete departure from the old order; and they were making the change at a moment when other Mediterranean powers were stronger than ever. What impression, he asked, would be produced upon our allies to leave who were keep and allies in Japan, who were keen and quick to appreciate any failure of maritime strength on our part? And what would be the result on our diplomacy in the Near East? And what of our great interest in the Balkan Peninsula? By adding to the strength of the Mediterranean garrisons, by re-establishing the defences, and by adding to the strength of ships, the government might mitigate the blow which had been struck at the reputation of this country as a great naval power by the course which they most unfortunately determined adopt. The subject then dropped.

No. 6.—We Manufacture Tires—Not Arguments

Any Type of Tire You Want at Dunlop's

The question of the style of tire a motorist wants is generally decided by the type of rims he has on his car. No matter what those rims are, there is a Dunlop tire to fit them. Remember That. With the exception of the edges, the various types of tires are uniform in construction above the part that attaches the tire to the rim. This not only applies to the inter-relationship of each maker's different types of tires, but the application holds good with one maker's tires as against another maker's. The difference lies only in Materials, Methods and Treads.

State Must Intervene In Industrial Conflicts

Events Of Last Twelve Months in the conflict itself and in its sequel. Wherever an industrial dispute Indicate That Government's takes place in which the weaker party is forced into accepting terms degrading and injurious to its standard of life, it is the manifest duty of the state to intervene. sisted To Secure a Share Of Wealth It Creates.

(By W. B. Thompson.)

LONDON, July 27 .- The events of the last twelve months have surely taught finitely passed away and that governments in future must be prepared to take a regular, tho not necessarily an arbitrary, part in all industrial con-

Such is The Nation's comment on the doctrine enunciated, by Mr. Asquith in his reply to the influential deputation of business men who waited upon him in regard to the industrial unrest. Promising that it was 'extremely undesirable that a government as a government should concern itself in ndustrial disputes," the writer goes on to say, the prime minister "endeavored to lay down the right limits of governmental intervention. The normal attitude was to be one of 'complete detachment and impartiality, to be broken only as a last resort and then only in cases where the nature of the dispute was such as 'not merely to af-

In every such industrial conflict the general interests of the community are directly and vitally engaged, alike

"The board of trade and the new industrial council have already powers to hold inquiries into the issues of a the parties concerned, as is commonly supposed, but by a reference of the government without the invitation of the parties. When trouble is brewing in an important trade it ought to be the business of the government to set on foot a detailed inquiry so that they or their industrial council might be in a position to publish an authoritative report before war actually broke out. The advantages of such a course are obvious. The impartial statement of the issue would, upon the one hand, greatly facilitate agreement between the disputants, while, on the other, it would bring all the weight of an informed public opinion to bear upon the side which had the best of the argu-ment as tested by the inquiry. This right and duty of impartial inquiry might well be extended so as to conform to the conditions of the Canadian Act of 1907. This measure provides that no strike or lockout shall take place without a month's notice, during which a compulsory investigation shall be made by an impartial authority. Why should not powers of arresting the outbreak of war, pending the investigation of the cause of dispute, be given to an enlarged industrial coun-

Canadians in London are beginning lo realize that there is something wanting in the purely Canadian func-ions held there, viz., that the ladies ild participate more than they do. Apart from a few gatherings at the Royal Colonial Institute, which are act of course, entirely Canadian, and Lord and Lady Strathcona's recepions, there are few affairs which are not restricted to men. It is felt that Canadian functions lose much of the rrace and distinction which the pre-ience of ladies would bestow. A PLAIN MARRIAGE.

During last month, which saw many picturesque and flowery weddings, all set to the tune of O Perfect Love and the Lohengrin Bridal March, there was one marriage contract which was plainness itself. The bride was an English lady, an artist of note, an English lady, an artist of note, and the bridgroom was the grandson of Longfellow and of that Dana who wrote Two Years Before the Mast. The wedding took place at Cambridge, Massachusetts, and Massachusetts, and a justice of the peace officiated. All that was "sweet" about the proceeding—one could not about the proceeding—one could not call it a ceremony—says a writer on the call of the cal

Their example would be alarming, were we not assured that very few women will discard sentiment and religion in association with "Of course," she said, smilingly, to an Express representative yesterday in her sitting room at the Savoy Hotel, "It can't be done, but we are simply deluged with invitations.

"When we arrived here the first thing, we did was to sort out and tabulate the invitations to social gatherings. It took us hours, and then we had to decide which we could accept.

"We were able to accept only one out of every ten invitations, and even now every post brings the offer of fresh hospitality from our English is friends."

alarming, were we not assured that very few women will discard sentiment and religion in association with marriage. It would be a sad prospect for elvilization if they were to regard the basis of family relationship as a mere contract, to be witness. I by an officer of the law. The newspaper humorists may have their fling at the solemnity of the church wedding, but the atheistical young woman who leaves "yows" out of her consideration is hardly the material of which a good housewife or a worthy mother is made. Never will the majority of women be found in the ranks of the good housewife or a worthy mother is made. Never will the majority of women be found in the ranks of the Socialists, or any such order, which emphasizes the "community," at the expense of gracious and tender senting. expense of gracious and tender sentiments. But think of such a marriage contract in the garden of Longfellow—who loved all that was gentle and lovable and whose Hanging of the Crane remains one of the most sympathetic of modern bridal songs. The New England poet would hardly have sacrified the poetry and the fragrance of hymeneal sentiment, for his own song declares: his own song declares:
"The world is bright while ye remain, And dark and dead when ye are lost."

Let me frankly say that Liberals have due regard for the interests of the working classes, and, from their point of view are anxious to serve them, For the sake of peace, and considering Labor M. 5-passenger Touring Car-4-passenger Touring with plain, ample sides, whose flush top line and Car-2-passenger Roadster. It is built on a 115-inch chassis. $1,625 F. O. B. Orillia.

The Model "K" Motor is of improved long-stroke type and develops full 86-h.p. The 4-cylinders are in one casting, a guarantee of rigidity. To insure perfect alignment in machining, all four are simultaneously bored on our specially designed boring mill. The Motor is cooled by a honeycomb radiator of the same type as used on our 6-cylinder Cars.

The Lubricating System has been improved by easting the oil reservoir integral with the oil pan underneath the crank case. The valves are enclosed, deadening the sound and excluding dust and dirt.

Both Service and Emergency Brakes are enclosed in dust-proof case. Wherever special strength and toughness are essential in the construction, Chrome-nickel steel is used.

This new Model comes in three types - The Body of the Model "K" is long, graceful sweep give that appearance of superiority and distinction which makes a man proud of his Car. All handles are inside. The doors are full "U" shape. The long wheel base admits of a very ample tonneau-roomy and comfortable, and heavily upholstered in hand-buffed leather.

Seats Free. No Collection. BUILDING DOWN-TOWN STATIONS Convenient Location of Canadian Northern Depot at Belleville.

This is an age of speed. Surely you have noticed how everybody rushes at the first street car. It doesn't seem to matter that it is crowded and that another only partly filled is following; the people want to get there. They rail at the straps, but attach themselves thereto just the same. It is habit.

Like the wise people they are, the men who are building new railways today consider as a first present the day consider as a first necessity the construction of a central station in every good-sized community. This is what the Canadian Northern Ontario is doing. Take the City of Belleville for instance. When the C. N. R. were building through to Ottawa and Mont-real they decided to locate their Bellesible. Accordingly, a modern and commodious edifice was reared down by the city park, within a stone's throw of the city's centre. It is a pleasure to travel to Belleville over this line. The travel to Belleville over this line. The Michie & Co. Ltd. modious edifice was reared down by the passenger all the way from Toronto en-joys the comforts of cool, luxurious equipment. nion Leader's Decision Was Brought About by Failure to Organize a General Strike of Transport Workers in Sympathy_ With_ the_ London

LONDON, July 27.—The strike at the London docks, which started early in May, and has caused about 50,000 dock workers and their families to live in a state of semi-starvation for ten weeks, was declared at an end to-day by the strike committee. Work is to be resumed on Monday.

The dockers' strike, which involved dock laborers, cargaen, lightermen and other branches of casual laborers, and has caused so much distress in the shipping district of London, was originally brought about by a dispute between the workmen and their employers over the engagement of a non-union workmen. This man was a foreman, who refused to join the union, and the men refusing to work under his orders were locked out, upon which the committee of the men's union ordered several thousands of the men to strike. Endeavors were made to get the transport workers and dockers at other ports in the British Isles to join in a national strike movement, but with very little success. The London dockers, however, continued obstinate and Lord Devonport, chairman of the port of London authority, and a leading employer, refused to give way. Several lord Devenport. chairman of the port of London authority, and a leading employer, refused to give way. Several sharp conflicts occurred between the police and strikers, and indignation meetings were frequently held to protest against the action of Lord Devenport. On Wednesday of this week 50,000 of the strikers net on Tower Hill, and Ben Tillett, their leader, asked the men to bare their heads and join him in prayer. They then in unison prayed, "Oh, God, strike Lord Devenport dead," Joseph Havelock Wilson, president of the Seamen's Union, this week tried to organize a national strike once more, but his efforts failed, and as a consequence the strike committee decided that work should be resumed.

The decision of the dockers' leaders to order the men to return to work was made as a result of their failure to organize a general strike of the transport workers of the country in sympathy with the London men.

The effort to secure a national stoppage was the last card of the leaders which they played in order to instill new fire into the strike. The movement had been waning for some time and had been kept up only thru the fear of many of the men that they would be subjected to rough treatment if they decided to give up their membership in the trade unions.

Altho large funds have been raised for the relief of the men's families, the a sistance afforded has been slight as compared with the extent of the distress.

Some of the leaders, too, lost the sympathy of the public by uttering threats of violence.

Work at the docks which has been carried on to some extent by non-unionist laborers, has been seriously unionist laborers, has been seriously interfered with, and only this week, for the first time since the beginning of the strike, had some of the big steam hip lines, including the Atlantic Transport Line, been able to dispatch staemers. Some of the employers who have thruout the dispute promised that the men's grievances would re-ceive the most careful consideration after the resumption of work are to meet on Monday to discuss the men's

TAKE ONE YOURSELF—BUT PUT YOUR DOLLARS TO WORK IN

VERYBODY who has worked hard this year deserves a vacation. Your holidays will be doubly pleasant if the money you have worked hard for will work for you while you are resting. We offer this suggestion because it is practical and opportune: If you have $50 or more of "idle" money, now is the time to put it to work in the West. This is a great year in the West. Sir Donald Mann forecasts the wheat crop to be 250,000,000 bushels. The railways are redoubling their activities and 70,000 men from the east will be required to help in the harvest. In the very heart of the great Saskatchewan wheat fields, Moose Jaw, an exceptional city, is growing like the wheat. Every month there is a big increase in every line of activity. The most significant item to the keen investor is the building of a street railway extension to serve "Council Crest." Here is your investment.

COUNCIL CREST

A REAUTIFUL RESIDENTIAL PROPERTY SOUTH OF THE RIVER

HE Supt. of Construction of the Moose Jaw Street Railway announces that the new street car extension, which has been under construction for a month, will be completed about the end of August, and will then be about 100 yards from "Council Crest." "Council Crest" residential sites will be about a ten-minute car ride southwest of the postoffice. The property is close-in, high, dry and level, with a delightful outlook on the winding river and enclosing hills. It will be the high-class, high-priced section of Moose Jaw's modern homes. Lots can be purchased by prompt action for $175 to $200 until further notice. TERMS: One-fourth down, balance in six, twelve and eighteen months. This is an investment that we back with our judgment and reputation for getting results for customers. Get in ahead of the street cars. Write to-day for map of Moose Jaw, showing "Council, Crest," accompanied by complete information. Do it now.

QUARTERLY DIVIDEND NOTICE

The wealth of this country, which has increased tremendously per capita, naturally calls for more luxuriousness in living. In the old days the best set of furniture in the house might be made of any hardwood, or even pine made of any hardwood, or even pine made of any hardwood, or even pine with a veneer finish; now everything must be solid, and, if possible, solid mahogany. The wood in the rough brings sufficiently high prices, selling in large lots from $110 to $115 per thou-sand feet. Although this wood has always been looked upon as more or less of a luxury, its use now is becom-ing general, because at last people are beginning more and more to feel the advantages which it has over other woods, but the supply has been decreasing during recent years, causing during recent years, causing making increase in the price.

Imports of Tabasco mahogany (recognized as the best wood) to Europe amounted to 15,597 tons in 1909, and in 1211 only 12,550. This indicates further rapid advances in prices, a pleasant prospect for holders of limits.

Tabasco mahogany comes from the southeastern part of Mexico, and there is a good deal of competition between months, and approximated 4000 tons.

An Ode in Time of Hesitation

Tell me not in mournful numbers, Everything is going to smash; And the bull will bust that slumbers Till the final, awful crash.

Life is real! Life is earnest! And the short will get a shock When he finds his wagon harnessed To a swiftly rising stock.

Art is long and prices fleeting; What looks like a bulge to-day May become a deepening hollow
While your margins melt away.

Market tipsters tell us daily, Buy and make a handsome pile, And departing, leave our windows Mourning in a splendid style.

Let us, then, be up and doing, Gaily bluffing at the game; Every baby starts by creeping-And bull markets do the same.

"great American octupus" paid or not. The effect of the dissolution has been entirely contrary to that predicted by lawyers and other interested parties both before and during the progress of the government suit. Dividend payments to stockholders have been practically doubled and a tremendous enhancement in the values of the shares of various susidiaries has occurred since the court decree was announced. It was estimated recently that this enhancement was equivalent to an advance of over $250 a share in the price of the old Standard Oll Company. That is to say, that the Standard Oll holdings are worth approximately $250,000,000, a sum equal to 250 per cent more than the total capitalization of the old company, more at present than they were when the trust was discoluted. were when the trust was dissolved.

His Doctrines to be Announced -Coming Convention May Be Called Socialistic.

He Says.

OYSTER BAY, July 26.-(Can. Press) .- The "Confession of Faith" of Col. Roosevelt is down in plack and white, the finishing touches having been made to-day. When he has completed the recital of his doctrines in Chicago on the night of August 5 he probably will be called socialistic, or anarchistic, and may be both, he said to-night. But he insisted that the measures he advocated must come. "They are corrective to socialism and an antidote to anarchy," he deciared Two of the more striking measure. favored by Col. Roosevelt are the fining by law of minimum wage scales for women workers and a guarantee by law to workmen employed in what he calls the "continuous industries" of eight hour shifts and one day's rest every seven.

Business should be encouraged every legitimate way, he said, but a the same time business prosperily should be made the "hand maiden of the people," and the tendency should be toward a diversification of the ownership of property.
Col. Roosevelt mentioned these two

A miniature Kodak, so capable that it will convince the experienced amateur, so simple that it will appeal to the novice. So flat and smooth and small that it will go readily into a vest pocket, yes, and dainty enough for milady's hand bag. And the Vest Pocket Kodak is efficient. It is small, almost tiny, but the carefully selected meniscus achromatic lens insures good work; the Kodak Ball Bearing Shutter with iris diaphragm stops and Auto-time Scale give it a scope and range not found except in the nighest grade cameras. Loads in daylight with Kodak film cartridges for eight exposures. Having a fixed focus it is always ready for quick work. Has reversible brilliant finder. Made of metal with lustrous black finish. Right in every detail of design and construction. Pictures 1% x 2½ inches. Price, $7,00.

An important feature is that the quality of the work is so fine, the definition of the lens so perfect that enlargements may be easily made to any reasonable size, and at small cost—to postcard size (3½ x 5½), for instance, at 15 cents.

Midsummer Superstitions Some Quaint Beliefs and Customs.

Summer, despite its long hours of sunshine and cheery atmosphere, is not free from supernatural influences. As a protection against the latter resource is had to trees and flowers. In Strathspey, it used to be the custom on Midsummer's Day to make a hoop with wood from the rowan-tree. and in the morning and evening; cause the sheep and lambs to pass thru it. This was deemed a preventive against the machination of badly-disposed spirits.

So firm was the belief in the psychio properties of this tree, that no one in of it when traveling; and dairymaids armed with one of its branches, used to drive the cattle to and from the shealings, or to the summer pastures, If anyone wanted to do their neighr a bad turn, no surer method was found than by placing a yellow rose-leaf in their bed on Midsummer's Eve. This invariably brought the person who slept in the bed bad luck. On Midsummer's night a very wide berth used to be given to churchyards and cross-roads, as that was one of the occasions when the spirits of the dead walked abroad. On Midsummer's Eve forests were thought to be alive with all kinds of fairies, and to sleep in them on that night was believed to be incurring the risk of enchantment. The oak-tree was specially patronized by satyrs and fauns; the silver and copper beeches, time popular, chestnut and may-tree by nymphs, and the more charming dancing, and used to form circles and dance around to the tunes played by fairy pipers. Pixies preferred elm-trees; goblins, firs. On Midsummer Eve the ash-tree was allowed a rest, and ceased from utter Miss Clara Hagarty is sketching in ing its harrowing cries. On that night, too, the mandrake omitted to groan,

You may imagine the thrill that ran thru the British Suffragist camp when the stately Times came out with columns of matter of this sort. With a class and a clang the storm broke above Sir Almroth's top hat. Not only As I write I am watching them-durwomen, but men of his own profession ing short rests—from my window. There goes a stout, large man toiling was told that as a medical man his opinion was prejudiced; that his observations being solely turned upon abnormal women, the sick, the hysterical, the diseased, were of little account. He was informed bluntly that women's hysteria was caused by man's artifude towards woman. He forced attitude towards woman. He forced looking, and tired, and perspiring. Ha was likewise made aware of the fact that the unbalanced mind is not common only to the female, and that more men than women commit suicide, and other little things of that kind.

Then a medical brother figuratively jumped on his altogether too-well advertised rival. He also wrote to The Times deploring the "terrible" ignor-ance of Sir Almroth Wright as to the class of women, rank and file, who work in the suffrage movement. lctor Horsely, the celebrated London surgeon, likewise put in his oar for the women. He considered Sir Almroth's statements to be "most repulsive in the debased picture they prent of woman in her relation to man." Shot for the Suffragettes
Some heavy shot has been thrown into the Suffragette ranks by the famous biologist, Sir Almroth Wright, in the columns of The London Times. He contends that since the character of the street would resent as an outrage for a man to do violence to a woman. The most uneducated man in the street would resent as an outrage for the street would woman alters at different stages of the street would resent as an outrage woman alters at different stages in the civilization the sight of a man strikher life, she is on this account unfit, because of the upset of her men'al suffragist"—says the great biologist equilibrium, to govern, or to have the scannot understand why anyone franchise. As a matter of fact, in Great Britain not only have athletics and games of various descriptions been encouraged in all the large schools and colleges but for centuries there has never been a village, town or city without its play or recreation ground. This system is much more common to-day in the old country than it is in any state of America. The success of athletics from this part of the world is largely due not alone to encouragement received in educational institutions and by the playground system, but by the more free, open and democratic life that is spent all over this continent. Class distinction over this continent. Class distinction in England is suppressive of youthful ambition in the commoner classes. Yet for all, Great Britain with half the

E HAVE to thank the Indian of this fair country of ours for pointing out to us many sports and pastimes, but among his greatest gift to us has been the canoe. It has carried provisions that have saved the lives of thousands, not only red men but white. It has been the means of starting the country towards its great prosperity in trade and commerce; it has transported those hardy pioneers and priests that sought to carry civilization and religion into Canada's furthest portions. It has carried the warriors of the country, also the fisherman, the hunter, the prospector, and, lastly, but by no means least, the boys and girls in search of healthful pleasure.

It is no wonder then that the strongest, best organized and most independent amateur organization in Canada should be a canoeing one, "The Canadian Canoe Association."

The this organization was only formed in 1900 it has embraced all the foremost canoe clubs of the country, and they with their long experience of amateur sport have fused into the governing body an enthusiasm for good, clean athletics that has no equal. Then, owing to the fact that the sport of canoeing has in no way been tainted with professionalism, because the average canoeist is still only in the game for the recreation it affords; no club of standing wishes to see the sport digress, and, therefore, they are all falling into line together with this end in view. Hence, the successful organization, and it might be added here that this strong stand of theirs on the "canoeing for pleasure only" question has been the chief reason why the association has even refused to become a member of the Canadian Amateur Athletic Union, prefering to stand alone as an example of what may be done in a line of amateur sport if the heart is only in it.

Since the Canadian Canoe Association was formed the following clubs have joined the organization: Bohemian A. A. A., Brockville; Brockville Rowing Club, Brockville; Y. M. C. A. Boating Club, Brockville; Smith's Falls Canoe Club, Smith's Falls; Carleton Place Canoe Club, Carleton Place; Kingston Yacht Club, Kingston; Toronto Canoe Club, Toronto: Britannia Canoe Club, Britannia; Rideau Canoe Club, Ottawa; New Edinburgh Canoe Club, Ottawa; Ottawa Canoe Club, Ottawa; Chateauguay Boat Club, Chateauguay: Longueuil Boating Club, Longueuil; St. Lambert Boating Club; St. Lambert; Grand Trunk Boating Club, Montreal; St. Johns Yacht Club, St. Johns: Riverside Club, Lachine; Lachine Boating Club, Lachine; St. Stephen's A. A. A., Lachine; Victoria Yacht Club, Avlmer, Que.: Lake St. Joseph A. A. A., Quebec; Massawippi Canoe Club, North Halton; Beach Canoe Club, Toronto; Parkdale Canoe Club. Toronto; Island Aquatic Association, Toronto; Buffalo Canoe Club, Buffalo, N.Y.; Orillia Canoe Club, Orillia: Valvis Boating Club, Lakeside, Que.; Kew Beach Canoe Club, Toronto; Gravenhurst Canoe Club. Gravenhurst; Winnipeg Canoe Club, Winnipeg; Woodlands Canoe Club, Montreal.

Championship races have been held each year at one of the cities represented in the organization. They have been held in Brockville, Ottawa, Montreal, St. Johns and Toronto, and this year they will be held over Toronto Canoe Club's course in this city, on Saturday, Aug. 3.

The first regatta held under the auspices of the Canadian Canoe Association was held in Brockville under the auspices of the Bohemian A. A. A., and right from the start it was a splendid success, and spoke volumes for the popularity of paddling. The great war canoe race of 1901 was paddled under the auspices of the Ottawa Canoe Club in the presence of Their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of York who after witnessing the contest expressed themselves as being highly delighted with the noble entertainment provided for them.

The Toronto canoe clubs are making most elaborate preparations for the championship events this year; committees have been appointed to look after all the different divisions, and each branch connected with the events, and each committee is reporting thrue its chairman to an executive committee composed of Commodore Chas. Hoare, Commodore S. A. Sylvester, Commodore W. A. McNabb, vice-Commodore R. F. Wilson and Mr. Albert Cuff.

The judges of the day will be the most prominent men in canoeing to-day, and the starters and referees are to be men well qualified by long experience in the game so the spectators need have no fear that Toronto will be one whit behind the other cities in its conduct of these great events.

Each division holds a qualified regatta of its own; this is to eliminate all those but winners at divisional regattas from the finals, so only the proven winners will appear on Aug. 3.

The eastern and northern divisions held their regatta on Saturday last. July 20, and the western division held theirs at Gravenhurst yesterday, July 27. A special train was arranged for to take the western division crews from Toronto to the Gravenhurst meet, leaving the Union Station about 7.30 a.m., and arriving at Gravenhurst about 11.30. About two hundred and fifty enthusiastic paddlers and their friends journeyed up to participate in the greatest day Gravenhurst has seen in a long time. The board of trade, and, in fact, all the principal people of the town laid themselves out to see that no chance was missed of making everyone within the reach of their hospitality enjoy themselves.

The results of these divisional meets will bring about three hundred contestants to Toronto for the final meet and about three thousand friends and supporters are expected with them from all over Canada.

The course here has been accurately surveyed and all the records made in Toronto this year will be as positive as it is possible to make them. A boom will be set out and men in boats will be given the duty of holding the canoes in position for the start. This will do away with the delay of getting the canoes in position, and will ensure the events being run off on schedule time.

"Trade Habits That Cause Sickness"

That the City Council should have been willing even to confer with the opponents of Dr. Hastings' excellent by-law requiring fruit and other articles of food, openly exposed for sale, to be protected from dust and dirt is not particularly creditable to their zeal for the public health. All modern authorities agree that polluted air has been and is responsible for many outbreaks of disease, and its germs may reach human beings either by direct deposit or thru the agency of flies and other vermin. In his campaign against all forms of disease carriers Dr. Hastings is only acting with a proper sense of his official responsibility, and his hands should be sustained rather than weakened by the representatives of the people with whose protection he is concerned. Requirements such as were imposed by the recent by-law, however necessary and valuable, are certain to involve additional care and possibly some slight expense on the part of the traders affected, but this must be accepted as part of the consideration due for the facilities they enjoy. It can never be allowed to overbear the weighty reasons urged in support of the enforcement of justifiable regulations having as their object the protection of the inhabitants from communicable disease. Parleying with objectors who claim practically a vested right to do as they please without regard to the public welfare only encourages the neglect, and even the direct violation of sanitary provisions promulgated in the gener-

Convincing proofs of the necessity for regulating trade habits are offered in an article in the current number of Pearson's Magazine, contributed by Lewis Edwin Theiss. It shows conclusively that epidemics of intestinal trouble and other diseases are traceable immediately to the exposure of candies, fruits and other edibles to dust contamination. He, himself, was witness at an East-side corner of New York to the covering of a little outside stand of fruit and candies with a cloud of street sweepings. All that the keeper did was to dust his fruit with a feather duster—the sticky confections were left alone for the dust did not show on them. At that very time an attack of intestinal trouble was raging so violently in the poorer quarters of New York that the Board of Health had to take instant and special action. Mr. Theiss quotes from tests described in The Scientific American, where ten liters of outdoor air from the Central Park was found to contain 500 living bacteria. Air from a downtown street held 965 germs. Where the street sweepers had been at work a disc was exposed for five minutes, and the number of living bacteria that settled on it was 5810. And among the bacteria thus floating in the air of our streets are the germs of most of the airborne diseases that afflict mankind.

The callous indifference shown by many storekeepers and street vendors to the most elementary demands of cleanliness is incredible. It may be due in part to ignorance, but what possible excuse can be offered in the case of a Coney Island pushcart peddler who was arrested; not for exposing his fruit to dust, but for cleaning the dust off. Asked by the magistrate for an explanation of the charge the constable said: "Your Honor, this man was polishing up his apples by spitting on them and rubbing them on the seat of his pants. I thought this must be a violation of the sanitary code, and if it wasn't it ought to be, so I arrested him anyhow." "You did quite right," ruled the Court, "and I shall do my part by giving him a lesson he will not forget." That man went to jail, as did five other flagrant offenders, between Jan. 1 and May 1, 1911, while 95 more dirt purveyors paid fines. Much good would be done if every householder and purchaser would make it an invariable rule to transfer their custom from tradesmen, who will not, or do not keep the articles of food they offer for sale sufficiently protected from dust and insect contamination. "The loss of your custom will convince them as many arrests will not."

National Chamber of Commerce

In response to a call from President Taft representatives from practically all the states and territories of the United States attended recently at Washington and organized a Chamber of Commerce for the whole country. More than a hundred separate organizations will work under the one standard, and in an interview the first president, Mr. Harry A. Wheeler, of Chicago, outlined the purposes of the new central body, and laid stress on the fact that partizan politics has been absolutely excluded. This, he said, will tend to insure service to the government, and to effect it members of congress have been debarred from membership. It is the intention to acquaint the government with the ideas regarding commerce in the minds of the business men of the country, and to keep the chamber altogether independent of everything except the business men themselves. Its scope will be restricted to national questions affecting the general commercial life of the United States, and it will not be committed for or against any legislative or other proposal until an expression of opinion by referendum from all the members.

The main purposes of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States are stated as follows:

To encourage and promote the organization of associations of business men in all parts of the country.

To study the work of existing organizations and their value to their respective trades and communities, and to clear the information thus acquired for the benefit of all organizations desiring to increase their efficiency.

To advocate the standardization of association methods and effort and to urge the adoption of those standards which have been found most effective in so far as they may be applicable to local or

THE HEALTHY YOUNGSTER

The Marriage Case

The cable reports of the arguments in the Canadian marriage case before the Privy Council are so fragmentary and incoherent as to throw little light upon what has occurred. The correspondent did first-rate on the first day, when he limited himself to describing the carpet and furniture of the court-room, and the clothes worn by the judges and lawyers. He was less happy and presumably less accurate in reporting the legal

It is just possible that their lordships may declare that a marriage between two Roman Catholics is invalid under the civil code of Quebec, if the same is performed by a Protestant minister. Such a ruling would decide the Hebert marriage to be invalid, and would raise a storm of protest.

On the other hand, if mixed marriages were declared to be valid, no matter by whom performed, the liberty of two Catholics to be married by whoever they pleased, could not probably form a basis for much of a complaint if the parties themselves were content. It would, however, revive in acute form the old dispute respecting the maxim "Once a Catholic, Always a Catholic."

One can imagine a possible situation wherein the marriage question and the naval question coming together might embarrass the Borden Government, either in Quebec or in Ontario.

The Park Problem

The City Council probably got a good bargain in the Trinity College property, but the debate upon the proposition showed a lack of any definite plan in respect to the acquisition and development of property for park purposes. So far all the park development of any consequence seems to be in the park in the congested central district, nor is there any in Ward Seven in the extreme west. The eastern portion of the city is poorly served, about the

The railway grievances of the west demand immediate attention, and there are other grievances which should be redressed by government and parliament without delay. The sessional program will be a big one, and it must include sweeping reforms in our banking and currency laws, and business-like revision of the tariff: especially must the transportation question be dealt with, and equality in passenger and freight rates brought about. The country is ready for a universal two-cent fare, for equalized and cheaper freight rates, for reduction in telegraph tolls, and for the restraint of extortion by the express com-.

Rousseau Bicentenary

Jean Jacques Rousseau was in a very real sense responsible for the French Revolution, thru the dissemination of the political doctrines expounded in his epoch-making book, "Le Contral Social," published in 1762. The bicentenary of his birth was lately celebrated at Geneva, and was attended by quite a stream of pilgrims from Chapel or St. Margaret's Loch I was who is now dead. I interested outers bound, but in the other direction, in the subject in Edinburgh and with Round the Crags towards. Samson's notable results. One enthusiastic Ribs; past the Echoing Rock; past the student has since taken hold of Bahe. France, Germany and Russia.

To a remarkable extent the referendum embodied in the scheme of government used in Switzerland to-day approaches more exactly to Rousseau's ideal nation than is to be found in any other country in the world. Again, in Paris, where he was subject to such a cruel persecution, his name has been honored and the colossal work but I learned more of the thrush than rarity worth possessing. The simplicity which characterized the celebrations in Geneva would have appealed strongly to Rousseau himself. In that remarkable book, his "Confessions," it will be remembered that he proclaims his love for the simple little blue periwinkle, consequently this flower was to be seen on every side, worn by the Genevans in his honor.

Sermons in all the churches touched upon Rousseau and spoke of him as a truly religious, tho unorthodox, character; they omitted to mention that his books had once been burned in the public ecstasy of jubliant melody poured forth But so many men pursue life atoms.

My experience, I think, was a fair specimen of that which other prisoners go thru, and a brief account of them may prove interesting to others. Immediately after the sentence I was taken from the court to the prison which is directly adjacent to the court, was put in a cell temporarily until the officers had time to put me thru the routine. Later I was taken to the prison doctor for his offical examination, and was then directed to take off all my clothing, which was put away until I should be able to claim it on discharge. The next pro-ceeding was to be weighed, measured, etc.; with all descriptive details en-tered. Then came a warm bath and the donning of the prison uniform and was taken into the main building and put in cell 37 on landing known as A 4. Here of course I was under the immediate supervision, of the officer responsible for that landing.

Hard Labor

My sentence was one not of hard out in the second division, which carries with it light labor and admits of the prisoner's right to a mattress from the beginning of his term.

The chapel is quite a considerable building. I attended the Church of England services, when, at a rough guess, about 500 men were present. A visitor would be much struck heartiness and efficiency of the sing-ing and the chanting of prayers and responses. Certainly it is twice as hearty as that of any church congregation. How far this is due to the men seizing this opportunity to use their voices (because there is no other opportunity) I cannot say; but I think it is chiefly due to the pains-taking care of the chaplain, who strives hard and successfully to get all to sing and of the hymns, etc.; and he conducts the prison and sing to the prisoners, and I am quite sure this is very much appreciated.

Alleged Auto Races

Toronto does not want any more automobile races of the kind held here last Saturday. The Exhibition track is an oldfashioned half-mile affair, intended for trotting races and other horse exhibitions, and is absolutely unsuited to motor speed tests. It has practically no banking on the turns and the track surface is not constructed to stand the grinding of heavy cars. The thick brown dust that covered surrounding buildings, and the automobiles of spectators parked near the stand, in addition to the acting-mayor's statement that damage to the extent of $2,000 was done to the track, prove that it should not be used for motor racing.

Speed tests on a course of this kind can have only two possible results. If the drivers do any real racing someone is bound to be killed or seriously injured, or else the contestants give a tame exhibition of circling the track on an average speed of about 40 miles per hour, and the public gets nothing for its

The drivers of last Saturday's events took an eminently safe course, and with the exception of the contest between the Mitchell and the Ford, two local entries, there was no real racing done. The other cars and drivers that took part are practically nothing but a troupe of vaudeville performers. They travel under one management from place to place. There is no real rivalry between them, and as there were no cash prizes given last Saturday, no thrilling contest could have been expected. The drivers and their manager simply got a large percentage of the gate receipts, and once the public had paid and were inside, they had no reason to risk either themselves or their cars. The gentlemanly way in which these "Dare-Devil Ioes" and "Blue-Streak Willies" turned out and slowed up when they heard another car coming behind them was beautiful to

With the exception of the Fiat and the Simplex, the socalled racing cars appeared to be nothing but old stock models fitted with grotesque racing bodies, such as are never seen in modern speed contests, and whose only purpose is to further beguile the public into the idea that they are seeing the real thing. There are dozens of ordinary touring cars in Toronto that could have given a decisive beating to most of the machines that were posing as "racers" at the Exhibition track.

Many of the so-called race drivers that participate in meets of this kind are paid large sums by the makers of different accessories to use their products exclusively when racing. This is done for advertising purposes, and the practice eventually reacts on the public.

Taking it all round the meet was a pretty raw deal, and the only reason the Toronto people stood for it for a minute, was that this town as yet does not know what real auto racing is. We have had enough self-styled "Fearless Franks" and "Desperate Desmonds" giving almost thrilling exhibitions of nearracing on half-mile tracks.

When Toronto has a proper and safe motor track as it should have, and when races are held for real cash prizes, or good trophies, then the sport will receive the backing of the people and the press. Until then affairs like that of last Saturday only injure the automobile business in the eyes of the public, and serve to put good Canadian money into the pockets of a lot of outsiders who do nothing to earn it. .

High Gear Test

The Royal Automobile Club of England have just issued a certificate in respect to what is most undoubtedly the most severe top-speed trial ever run by any car. It concerns a London, Lands's End, John-o'-Groat's, London trip made under official observation by a 59.9-h. p. (R. A. C. rating) sixcylinder Napier car, entered for test by Mr. S. F. Edge. The bore and stroke of the engine are 127 mm. (5 in.) and 127 mm. respectively—what is termed a square engine. The total weight of the car loaded was 2 tons 4 cwt., 62 libs.; the wind area of the body 10.3 square feet; and the gear-ratio on top gear 3 to 1, with 895 mm. wheels. Berriedae Hill (both sides) was included in the route, and was climbed for the first time on top speed, and that with what is an unusually high ratio of engine to road-wheels. The total distance covered was 1928.75 miles, all driven on top speed, with the ex-ception that at the first attempt / to scale Berriedale from the o'-Groat's side, the driver necessary to change speed for three seconds only; but he returned to the foot of the hill, and upon the second attempt climbed this really terrible ascent on top speed. With the exception of oiling and greasing before the start each day, no work of any kind was done. The gasoline consumption was 23.918 miles per gallon, and the speed attained at Brooklands 77.104 miles per hour. The certificate says: "The most severe top-speed trial ever at-

Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall

Percy Haswell Will Present Charm Ing and Interesting Romance at Royal This Week.

The Percy Haswell Company will this week present at the Alexandra Theatre, that charming and interesting romantic play "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall." It seems superfluous to dwell on the story itself, as it has been read and re-read by so many thousands of people. Written by Charles Major, it was dramatized by Paul Kester, at a time when "bookplays" were much in vogue, and during its successful career, it has been seen on more than occasion in the principal towns and cities of the continent. The main locale of the story is Haddon Hall, one of the most fa-mous historical residences in England, when Queen Bess ruled the destinies of the country. This romantic era gave the author plenty of scope to introduce in his story many well known characters whose names are re-corded in history. Among those who play important parts in the story.

Capacity Houses Attend Burlesque At the Opening Performances.

The Star Theatre, in new summer dress, opened its doors yesterday to two packed houses. During the closed term the interior of the building has been in the hands of the McAndrew studio of artists and decorators, and the result of their efforts is decidedly pleasing. Mural decorations now adorn the proscenium arch, the side walls are embelished in subdued colors and chaste designs, the front of the balcony and boxes are a mass of gold and flowers with electric lights cunningly placed among the wreaths and garlands. At no part of the theatre does the ornamentation appear garish or overdone.

Pour into cups, dividing it equally between them. Stand them in a baking pan half filled with hot waten and put into a moderate oven to bake until firm in the centre, when they must be at once removed from the oven and the hot water. If the custard becomes overcooked it becomes separated and may be said to be completely spoiled. When the custard has become cold put it near the ice to chill until ready to serve.

FLOOR POLISHER

A good weighted brush for polishing floors may be made from a wernout carpet sweeper. Remove the brush place a brick inside instead, fastening it by wires to keep it from silpping; then cover the sweeper all over with a piece of heavy carpet. The swing of the handle will give the brush an easy motion.

for this event, with a good cushion), is one of the fastest in the big circuit.

Many Canadjans were attracted to this meeting from the fact that a number of horses owned in Canada and driven by Canadian drivers, were to compete in the different events, but particularly be Chamber of Counsere Stake or $8000, for 2.18 pacers.

On the fact that a number of 2.18 pacers.

On the fact that a number of 2.18 pacers.

On the fact day there were four races of the meeting in this heat Dave Halle, the warder and Dorst Medium, and they were run off with a prompiness that would do a great deal for harness racing if copied by those who are in command of the racing in Canada. There was no tedious delay waiting for horses to come from the barn, and no unnecessary scorings.

Frank Walker of New York was the starting judge, and had the beat of command at all times. The first race on the first day was for 2.18 pacers, purse of 1600. There were nine entries, with the first day was for 2.18 pacers, purse of 1600. There were nine entries, with the first day was for 2.18 pacers, purse of 1600. Canadian Horses Did Well.

The third race was for 2.05 pacers, purse $2500. Ten entries and nine starters. C the Limit was the strong favorite for this race, in fact, it looked before the race as if he was in and paying off. Knight Onward (2.11%), owned by J. E. Gray of Toronto, and driven by Nat Ray, also of Toronto; Major Brino (2.04%), driven by Billy Hodgson, were the Canadian representatives. This race was 2 in 8. The first heaf was won by the favorite, C the Limit in 2.03%, with Jim Logan, an outsentatives. This race was 2 in 8. The first heat was won by the favorite, C the Limit in 2.034, with Jim Logan, an outsider, and who sold in the field along with a number of others for eid. These tickets called for anywhere from $130 to $200, just finished second. Branham Baughman, driven by Longshot Cox, third, and Knight Onwards fourth.

The second heat was won handily by Jim Logan in the same time, 2.034, with the last half of the mile in 1.004. The final heat was also won by Jim Logan. Branham Baughman second, the favorite, C. the Limit, finishing sixth. Kaight Onward, our Canadian representative, or one of them, was timed separately in the first and lest mile) in better than 2.06. Nat says he is a sure two minute pacer and some day he will need a dray to carry the money from the track, when the pony pacer is right at himself.

The fourth race was uneventful. Dudie Archdale (2.064), driven by E. F. Geers, won as she pleased, stepping the two miles in 2.064 and 2.054. The second day was one of the big days of the meeting. The fact that one of the principal races of the meeting, the Chamber of Commerce Stake, $5000, for 2.13 pacers, was carded for that day, and also the fact that a Canadian, R. J. McKenzie of Winnipeg, had won the feature event in 1811 and had as his representative Joe Patchen IL, who was to have started in 1811 but unfortunately met with an accident and was held over for 1912. Mr. McKenzie was in attendance with many friends.

friends. Grand Opera, another representative for Canada and owned by J. H. Moore of Toronto, started and made a good showing, considering his racing experience. He has not had more than four months training and in fact was never raced till last winter, when he won every race, he started in. His owner did not expect that he could win with him, but he had been second to Joe Patchen II. when they met in Grand Rapids and got third money out of this Chamber of Commerce. It has been said that the real ability of Joe Patchen II. is still a mystery. He won his race handliy in 2.03¼, 2.04½ and 2.05½, but appeared at all times to concal his top speed. At any time or place he could go gway from his field when challenged.

he could go away from his field when challenged.
Joe Patchen was driven by W. Kleming, while Grand Opera was piloted by W. L. Snow. Chimes Hal was second in every heat, but could never be better in this race. The 2.15 trot for a purse of 21006 the same day, was won in straight heats by Ruth McGregor in 2.094, 2.114 and 2.084; Castle Dome second and Funny Crank third. The 2.16 pace, purse $2000, required five heats to find the winner. Beth Clarke was the favorite or split favorite, with Pearl Patch. Baron A. after finishing 3 and 2 in the first and second heats, won the three next heats, stepping his first winning mile in 2.064. The 2.10 Trot.

The 2.10 Trot.

The 2.10 trot, purse $3000, was won in straight heats by Chatty Direct, driven by Walter Cox. She won the 2.10 trot at Kalamazoo the week previous. There were ten horses carded for this race and all started. Chatty Direct was compelled to reduce her record of 2.084 (taken at Kalamazoo) to 2.074. Cheeney and Elizabeth Ray divided second and third money, Baden saving his entrance money.

The third day, Wednesday, was one of the banner days of the meeting. The races carded for that day were: 2.22 pace, purse $1000; Merchants's and Manufacturer's kake, for 2.24 trotters, $1,0,000; 2.22 trot, purse $1000, and 2.07 pace for $1000. The feature event for the day was, of course, the M. & M., for 2.24 trotters. The first race was the 2.22 pace and was a tame affair, being won in straight heats, the winner being away the best, never having to extend himself. He also won at the town the week before. The whole interest seemed centred on the M. & M., and when that race was called, every available seat in the immense grand stand, in fact every inch of space was taken up by enthusiastic, followers of the harness horse. Every heat proved a horse race from wire to wire, and while the decision of the judges was not altogether in accord with the public's view, it must be remembered that they the judges) are in a better position to give a decision when the finish is so close.

Queen Worthy, in Thes. W. Murphy's

The opening day of the Detroit Driving Club's Blue Ribbon meeting was favored with ideal weather. Detroit was en fete last week and visitors from almost every state in the union, as well as visitors from almost every state in the union, as well as visitors from all over Canada, were present. Many of them were there to do honor to the name of the founder of Detroit, and others were there to witness the spiendid racing given by the Detroit Driving Club in their Blue Ribbon meeting, supposedly the best one in the Grand Circuit.

The club are particularly fortunate in having the State Fair grounds for this racing. It is beautifully situated, about eight miles out Woodward avenue, and is easily reached by street car in about a half-hour ride. The plant is one of the finest on the continent; the grounds are particularly well adapted for the holding of such events as the State Fair, and also the Grand Circuit meeting; the track is of clay, hard and level as a billiard table, but, withal, when in condition (as it was for this event, with a good cushion), is one of the fastest in the big circuit.

Many Canadians There.

Stable, was the decided favorite. There were li horses carded for this face and they all started and nearly every horse was bought in the pools. The favorite in shape and it was in fair condition.

When the first heat was called The Wanderer drew the pole, Lady Green Goods second, Dorsh Medium, driven by E. F. Geers, third position, while the favorite, Queen Worthy, drew tenth position. After very little scoring they were given the word. Queen Worthy had the pole before the quarter was reached and it was a team race from there home between her and Wanderer, the former gerting the decision, Wanderer second and Bierne Holt third. Time of mile 2.12%. The second heat Dave Halle, who had finished ninth in the initial heat, uncorked and came from nowhere, beating the Wanderer, who had the favorite, Queen Worthy, beaten when they entered the home stretch.

the lead in every heat, but was beaten in the stretch drive, Mansfield, driven by Cox, being fifth in the first heat and winning the next three. Star Russell, in Valentine's stable, won the first heat in 2.10½, and was second to Mansfield in 2.05½, when she was drawn on account of lameness. The 2.12 trot was a drawn-out race, requiring five heats to find the winner. Esther W. won the first heat in 2.08½, assed up, with Derby Boy second.

In the second heat she made a break before they reached the one-eighth pole and could not recover, finishing third, Derby Boy second. Time of mile 2.09 1-4. Jack London won the heat. The third heat was also won by Jack London in 2.12 1-4, the favorite being fourth.

finished first. Blerne Holt had to be content with second place in the heat and second money in the race. Time of last mile, 2.13.

The 2.22 trot was the next race for that day. Mary G. completely outclassed her field and won each heat with something left. The race was featureless, as was also the 2.07 pace, which was won with ease by Braden Direct (2.0%), in straight heats. The first race on Thursday was the 2.12 pace, purse $1000. Sadje Hal, in Snow's string, was the good thing, but could not do better than second. She took

The free-for-all pace was the third race. Vernon McKinney (2.02), the winner of the C. of C. last year, was the strong favorite. Independence Boy (2.011-2) had a following, as did Hal B. Jr. (2.08), the Canadian representative. Evelyn W. (2.013-4), the winner, was bought for $10 in pools of $300. There were seven horses canded for this race, and a notable feature was the fact that it was the fastest average time lot of horses that ever started in a race in the world, their average being 2.021-4.

Friday, August 2, Good for Five Days—Canadian Northern Will Run Extra Section of Lake Shore Ex-

There has been a misunderstanding current regarding the proposition the Ontario Rugby Football Union has put before the executives of the Hamilton Tigers and the Argonauts. If the plan were adopted it would mean the return of Ottawa and M.A.A.A. to the Quebec Union. The letter from Secretary Livingstone to the clubs above mentioned is self-explanatory. It reads as follows:

"I have been instructed by our union."

Extra Section of Lake Should as purposes, Saturday, 10.00 a.m., from Queen-street.

We are determined that there shall be no crowding of trains over Civic and any of the Canadian Northern officials. We are putting extra parlor cars into service and a number of new coaches, so that there will be plenty of room on all the trains. To avoid crowding at the Union Statory. It reads as follows:

"I have been instructed by our union to obtain, if possible, the views of your club in the direction of the formation of a four-club senior group, composed of Tigers and Alerts of Hamilton and the two strongest clubs in Toronto.

"Our belief is that if this were done it would result in better football and larger gates, and a material reduction in the expenses of the western clubs now in the Interprovincial Union.

"The present time appears to be opportune for a change of the kind. Montreal Monday night.

The members of the American team who visited England in 1909 and won back the Internation! Cup have been described as racquet players on horseback, so fine was their wrist work. Surely that term can be aptly applied to the best Indian players. Indian Players in England.

At intervals several distinguished Indian players have taken part in English polo, one of the earliest visitors being Dokhal Singh. During the late Queen Victoria's Diamond Jubilee year-1897—he turned out on a number of occasions at the principal clubs. Not only was he an exceptionally fine horseman, but a brilliant striker. No better player has, except, perhaps, John Peat, of the famous Essex team, probably been seen in England. In the year named Dokhal Singh assisted the Ranelagh team to wrest the holdership of the Open Cup from Rugby. That Ranelagh sire, which also included A. Rawlinson, W. S. Buckmaster, and the late Jack Drybrough, was one of the greatest combinations ever seen in the field, and it may certainly be said that it was at least equal to Mr. Whitney's nent Indian players who have engaged in the game in England are Colonel Chunda Singh, Sir Pertab Singh, the Maharajah of Ulwar, and Captain Shah Mirza Beg. The latter helped the India Polo Association's team to win India Polo Association's team to win the King's Coronation Cup at Ranelash last season, and is a worthy representative of a country where polo is the chief game. He is a powerful hitter and gets a great length on the ball, while his placing, with an infinite variety of strokes at command, is superb. Even when the grounds had become rather lumpy he was not become rather lumpy he was not troubled in the least, and is evidently possessed of the truest of eyes as well as the most supple of wrists. The finest player in India in his day, however, was Heera Singh. He was just a shade in advance of Dokhal Singh; but, then. Heera Singh was a polo

Two Hundred Clubs. With a strong native element reinforced by British officers serving in the country, the players of India greatly outnumber those of the United Kingdom.
