MEANS MORE TO FARMERS FOR GRAIN

Representative of Big Western Interests Heard by Canadian Senators

RECIPROcity EFFECT

Says Tariff Agreement Will Advance Price of Wheat to Farmers in West, Especially in the Lower Grades—Opposes Grain Bill

(Canadian Press)

Ottawa, March 11.—"If Canada puts through the grain bill in its present form, made in Canada will be wiped out," declared F. T. Hefflinger, of Minneapolis, at a gathering of Canadian senators yesterday. "The bill provides that no one can own or operate a Canadian terminal elevator who deals in grain or who is interested in the storage of grain in any other form. We have control of terminal elevators at Fort William and Port Arthur. We own and operate 600 country elevators in Western Canada, and we have invested over $5,000,000 in them. We deal in grain as a part of our business. This bill will prevent our continuing in business and will destroy our investment."

Better Grain Prices

When pressed as to the effect of reciprocity on the grain trade, he said it would advance the price of wheat to farmers in the lower grades. With the duty removed and a free country which we have, he said that American buyers would go into the Canadian West and bid for wheat direct. This would result in a higher price for the farmer. The result would be that, whereas today farmers were paid by grades and quality, they would be paid for the quality of the grain. Between number one Northern and No. 2 there was a difference of from two to three cents a bushel, and between No. 2 and No. 3, there was a difference of from one to two cents. This would result in a higher price for the farmer. He thought that with reciprocity the farmer would be considerably increased.

Wheat which had been injured in color by wet, but had lost none of its flour making value now got no more than 10 cents for Canadian millers at considerable reduction in price. He thought that with reciprocity the farmer would be considerably increased.

REFORM OF THE HOUSE OF LORDS

Minister Churchill, in London Speech, Indicates The Government's Intentions

London, Mar. 11.—In a speech at the National Liberal club last night Winston Spencer Churchill, the home secretary indicated the government plan for the reform of the House of Lords. He said it would be useless to propose reform while the House of Lords was possessed of the power of veto, but when the veto was abolished, it was contemplated to substitute for the existing obsolete second chamber a body whose balance should be preserved and corrected from year to year by some effective perennial contact with public opinion and the popular will.

Hon. Mr. Churchill said he could conceive nothing more fatal to the continued existence and the integrity of the empire than to make an arrangement with Canada, by which she would have been cut off from doing something to her interest in consideration of our doing something against our interests.

"Conservatives," continued Mr. Churchill, "will have to revise their view from the very beginning of that rotten system by double entry called imperial preference by the food taxers of today."

(Canadian Press)

While dispatches from the Mexican cities state that the mobilization of military forces to the Mexican government, defiant statements issued by Mexican Minister of Finance Liman, and the report that Secretary De La Barra here, have put the situation "up in the air." As it has been contended that the mobilization of troops and ships to intimidate the Mexican insurgents, developments in the "war manoeuvres" took another sensational turn today.

(Canadian Press) Birmingham, Mar. 11.—More than 1,000 people were turned away from the Ophelia Theatre tonight, unable to get in for a session of the national child labor conference. The feature event was an address by Theodore Roosevelt on "The conservation of childhood."

He declared emphatically for drastic and rigidly enforced laws controlling the age and hours of labor of children and prohibiting night work for them. He expressed the belief that unless steps were taken at once to protect the young from the factories, the citizens of coming years would show a falling off in stature and sturdiness.

The tendency during the last year has been to construct a more substantial kind of houses, and the improvement in the furnishings and the quality of the shows has been noticeable.

CHANGE IN TIME MAKES INTERESTING LAW POINT

All Clocks in Paris Stopped For Nine Minutes—What of Babe Born and Dead in That Space?

Paris, Mar. 11.—(Canadian Press)—Starting at exactly last midnight, time was annihilated in France for the space of nine minutes and 21 seconds. On the stroke of the hour all clocks in the republic were stopped for the time indicated in order to comply with the law making the time here the same as in all places within a radius of 45 degrees, and in which the time is regulated from Greenwich, England.

All railway trains, if on time, were held up, and those which were behind schedule were required to make up the difference. During the change, an interesting question has arisen. It is questionable if a child that was born and died within the elapsed time will legally have lived. The point is puzzling the legal talent.

It is understood that Mr. McCurdy withdrew a quarter of a million in Mexican Northern bonds, and that he had an option on $850,000 more. He further alleges that his option was ignored and the Royal Bank of Canada—the holders of the bonds—who are put into the suit are about to sell the bonds to an English company.

PRISONERS ARE LOCKED IN CAGES

Sensational Trial of Camorra-ists Begun in Italy Today

(Canadian Press) Viterbo, Italy, Mar. 11.—Locked in steel cages to prevent rescue, thirty-nine members of the notorious Italian Camorra were placed on trial here today. The prosecution is chiefly directed against Enrico Alfano, alias "Erricone" head of the Neapolitan Camorra. Forty-one members of the numerous body are under indictment, but two of them were not arraigned.

SMUGGLE WITNESS IN

One Who Betrayed His Fellows is also Protected by Bars of Steel—Thirty Nine on Trial—Many Crimes May be Investigated

(Canadian Press) Viterbo, Italy, Mar. 11.—Locked in steel cages to prevent rescue, thirty-nine members of the notorious Italian Camorra were placed on trial here today. The prosecution is chiefly directed against Enrico Alfano, alias "Erricone" head of the Neapolitan Camorra. Forty-one members of the numerous body are under indictment, but two of them were not arraigned.

Although the defendants are nominally charged with complicity in the murder of Genaro Cuccolo and his wife, "the beautiful Sorrentina" on June 5, 1908, the authorities hope to draw aside the curtain hiding the real secrets of crimes committed both in Italy and other countries and that have baffled the international police.

Many of the crimes which may be investigated is the murder of Jos Petrovino, the New York detective who was shot to death in Palermo in March, 1908.

The thirty-nine on trial today only one is a woman. She is one of the calmest of the Camorra in Naples, where she owns a hotel, and sharing in their councils for assassination.

The defendants are all members of the Catholic faith and they expressed a desire to attend mass before the opening of the trial. Accordingly a priest entered the monastery prison and chanted a mass while the Neapolitans knelt and murmured prayers for their own deliverance.

Many of them expressed a desire for communion and this was likewise granted. Before their prayers the prisoners went to trial for their lives.

The prisoners were led into court under heavy guard of gendarmes. Before the main body arrived one of their number, Giovanni Abatagnano, the former member of the band who betrayed his fellows in a series of confessions, had already been smuggled into the court house and was concealed in steel cage to protect himself from any attack by his former associates in crime.

In a second and larger steel cage built in the centre of the room, Alfano and the other defendants were herded despite their protests.

Falseness for Jury Fee

The great trial of the international band of terrorists opened with promise of being the most sensational melodrama of the age. With the streets patrolled by soldiers and police and international spies every where about the court house and a strong guard of armed carabinieri, with the witnesses herded like cattle and surrounded by cavalry with drawn arms and with the big building surrounded by a frenzied multitude which time and time again charged the solid ranks of the soldiers in an attempt to storm the building and gain entrance, the case was called by the Cavaliere Dianchi, president of the assize court.

The sentiment of the populace towards the members of the dreaded band is mingled. In the minds of many, those hardened masters of crime have already become heroes and martyrs. As a result there was a great deal of weeping that, with the execution of three or four, all would be set quiet.

A WRONG IMPRESSION. Our esteemed fellow citizen, Mr. James Jones, desires to correct an impression that appears to have been made upon some minds in connection with the proposal to adopt the commission plan in St. John. It has been alleged by some persons that the citizens who favor the proposed change have given some thought to the subject and are qualified to make a comparison between the commission plan and the city council system. James points out that this is not the case. These citizens are deluded. They have not consulted those aldermen and city officials who know all about it. Ever some of the aldermen are so blind as not to accept the guidance of their more experienced colleagues in this matter. "St. John," said James yesterday morning, "is the best governed city in Canada. If the city council orders a lot of stuff deposited on a street and it proves to be no good, it is hauled off again. That makes work for men and teams when a water main is laid there are leaks left in it, and the ground is dug up and the leaks repaired. That makes more work for men and teams. LABOR ORGANIZATIONS

Editor Times-Star.

Sir—Just a word on organized labor. There is at the present time a wave of enthusiasm spreading among the workmen here. Thursday night the teachers organized; Monday evening next the Hotel Carriers and Building Workers Union will meet; and Wednesday evening will see the opening of the campaign for the organization of the "chicks" in the organized town of being one of the poorest of the best organized cities on the continent. The carpenters' union, which body, I consider, as being with splendid success, are meeting with splendid success. Since the opening of the campaign we have held several mass meetings, and many new members, and crossed the line. I think I can safely say that on next Wednesday evening, there will be held the biggest meeting of the kind here. We are apart neither time, money, nor energy in this agitation, and we feel that before this summer is over, there will be but very few carpenters in St. John outside of the union.

Not wishing to encroach too much on your space, I'll conclude by appealing to every wood-worker in the city to do his utmost to be present at our open meeting, Wednesday, March 15th, and make such showing as will be a credit to our craft. Thanking you for your valuable space, I remain yours,

"CARPENTER."

MAINE NEWS

Steamer Volturo, five days overdue from Rotterdam arrived at Halifax yesterday, the experienced pain with tremendous seas. On March 7 for nearly the whole day the steamer was swept with huge waves so that the engine had to be stopped. The Manchester Commercial reported a somewhat similar experience. Forty miles north of Sable Island she struck a field of ice and she plowed through eight miles of it.

The lights at the outer end of the waterway at Port Maitland, will hereafter be maintained in operation from March 15 to December 31. An explosive fog signal for use in winter only has been established to guide craft into Charlottetown Harbor at St. Peter's light station, on the south coast of P. E. Island. This new signal consists of cotton powder cartridges which will be exploded at intervals of five seconds in thick or foggy weather, and in snow storms whenever an incoming craft is expected.

REMARKABLE SWORN STATEMENT OF A NEW BRUNSWICK DRUGGIST

I have sold your Swamp-Root for twenty-eight years and have known its valuable curative qualities for the past twenty years. For kidney, liver and bladder troubles, I have never known a single case where it has failed to relieve and cure. Right in my own household Swamp-Root cured my wife of catarrh of the bladder, while it cured me of liver and bladder troubles.

Numerous cases have come under my personal observation, which has made me very enthusiastic about recommending Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root to anyone suffering from kidney, liver and bladder troubles, and I have the greatest confidence in its merits. Have never heard a customer who has given up Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root a trial pack of it being the highest terms.

Yours respectfully,
JOS. W. BRIDLE, Druggist,
372 Hamilton St., New Brunswick, N. J.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 10th day of July, A. D. 1911.

POLITICS AND JOURNALISM
By Charles Emory Smith

WHEN Jefferson said that he would rather have newspapers without a government than a government without newspapers, he indicated the vital part which newspapers play under free institutions. That was a hundred years ago. They were then printed with all the limitations of the handpress, with only the infrequent mail as their feeder, and the telegraph in their nerve center. Today liberty is their vital breath, and only the microscope as their distributor. Today they are the great central organ of the nation, and their circulation multiplied twenty-fold, but newspaper circulation and resources and influence have multiplied a thousand-fold. A hundred years ago newspapers were sentinels at the outpost. Today they hold the central citadel as leaders and exponents; they are the very lifeblood of free discussion.

Politics and journalism have been inseparable since John Wilkes thundered against the king, and Junius, with unerring aim, shot the poisoned and polished shafts from his masked and machless quiver. Originally journalism was little more than political pamphleteering; now it reflects and expresses the intellectual and material progress of the world in all directions. Its capabilities have grown with the requirements. The intimate connection between politics and journalism suggests the thought of the hour. This is pre-eminently a campaign of education. It is thus peculiarly our campaign. The journalists are the real educators. We hold school every day; we have the class before the blackboard every morning and evening. We iterate and reiterate, view and review. Education is simplification and amplification—simplifying principles and amplifying facts and illustrations. With our short leasens and daily exercise we have the opportunity of both as no other agency has.

Even the statesman and orator must speak through our medium. A thousand men hear and a million men read. It is true, there are great textbooks from the masters. There is a new Adam Smith's "Wealth of Nations" with American application; there is a new Bayly's "Pilgrim's Progress" through the slough of despond and up the hill of difficulty; a new Baxter's "Saint's Rest" under assured Republican restoration. But the old textbooks are expounded by the professors in the classroom, and so the new textbooks are edited with notes and index and daily elucidation by the schoolmasters of journalism.

We want more real and lasting enthusiasm, a deeper and grander consecration to the high mission which is before us. If we have a just conception of the national exigency and of our opportunity, we shall possess our work with increased fervor and power. Let us dedicate ourselves with renewed zeal to this campaign of education.

STARTLING EXPOSE OF HAZEN GOVERNMENT; SURPLUS IS SHOWN TO BE COOKED UP

Statement by Auditor, Quietly Submitted Yesterday, Shows Bills Held Back to Deceive People—Nearly Million Spent in Last Four Months And Half Million Borrowed

Fredricton, March 10—The legislature adjourned at 4:30 this afternoon until Tuesday afternoon of next week, the reason being unavailability of business public and private.

During the short session the provincial secretary quietly gave the house a document that contained information as to what he was doing to startle those who understood its contents. It was a statement of receipts and disbursements for the year ending October 31 of the fiscal year.

During that time, or only one-third of year, the total expenditure was nearly a million dollars—the exact figure $961,152.12. Of this amount $223,413 was charged to the department of public works, of which $133,183 is for ordinary expenditure.

The opposition leader charged openly that many obligations were not paid until after the close of the fiscal year and the statement said today proves that he was right. Special expenditures all over the country in the fall, the very worst season for road making, accounts for much of the money. The chief commissioner's hand has been forced. He is made to appear as the extravagant official for a purpose. The expenditure in these four months is greater than that of many a whole year.

Another item comes as a surprise for a bill of nearly $300 is paid on account of the Central Railway investigation. After the gratuity to Judge Landry of $200 for the part he took in handing out that famous document (which has never been acted upon) and over $800 more to Mr. Powell for his advice and suggestions, the public might well think that after the thousands paid before the end of the story was here. But no, there is nearly $600 more paid to somebody—who will be known next Tuesday when Mr. Robinson's inquiry is answered.

Another interesting item is $4,472.61 for the St. John river valley survey.

Of course there is a loan to pay part of this and this time a treasury bill was floated in New York, $464,000 having been obtained from the New York Guaranty Trust Company. Besides this there is the half yearly subsidy from Ottawa of $310,680 and territorial revenue of $30,977.22, besides other small amounts from various sources.

The statement is as follows:

Fake Surplus Exposed

The auditor general exposes the false surplus of $6,863.48 on page 34 of his report. It is a surplus of $6,863.48, which was a deficit of $22,853 to report. They made an order passing the lesser amount for roads and bridges, $4,917.10 and added "That the amount of $6,789.48 asked for bridges, stand for further consideration."

The "further consideration" was given Nov. 8, when the amount was passed. But that was after the close of the fiscal year, with full knowledge that the bills were due and outstanding, a false and misleading statement was given to the public.

But this is not all the bills, the treasury board heard of. On the same date, Oct. 19, the board of works asked a stipendiary bill accompanied herewith.

And the king's printer also asked for $180.00 on Oct. 31 "to pay the accounts submitted herewith," and W. V. Hubbard for the agricultural department asked for $350 "to pay the various outstanding accounts" and J. V. Audley, medical superintendent of the Provincial Hospital, also asked for $1,200 "to pay the accounts for necessary supplies herewith submitted."

Thus it is proved by the auditor general that all of these accounts were before the treasury board before the end of the fiscal year.

Bridges ..... $ 6,789.46
Wharves ..... 367.50
Provincial Hospital ..... 2,308.74
King's printer ..... 180.00
Agricultural (immigration) ..... 330.00

$10,864.32

With these bills amounting to $10,864.32 before them unpaid, the public was informed that there was a surplus of $6,863.48, while in reality there was a deficit of $4,917.10.

All of these accounts were passed by the treasury board Nov. 8. This shows how the famous annual audit works here and the public accounts can be manipulated to show any kind of a statement.

A.—No information.

MARKET SQUARE AND GERMAIN STREET

At a special meeting of the board of public works yesterday afternoon it was decided, after hearing delegations from the Germain Street Improvement Association, and the Arboriculture Society, to recommend that their requests be granted. This in substance was that better soil be placed on the Germain street boulevard for the purpose of growing grass and trees and that the centre of Market square be converted into a grass plot with shrubs and trees.

A committee was appointed to look into the matter of repairing the Queen wharf, although the chamberlain said that to repair this property was practically throwing away money as there was not enough revenue now to pay the interest on the bonds. It was announced that the I. C. should prefer a brunette.

ST. JOHN, N. B., MARCH 11, 1911

The St. John Evening Times is printed at 27 and 29 Canterbury street every evening (Sunday excepted) by the St. John Times Printing and Publishing Co., Ltd., a company incorporated under the Joint Stock Companies Act.

Subscription prices—Delivered by carrier, $3.00 per year, by mail, $2.00 per year in advance.

The Times has the largest afternoon circulation in the Maritime Provinces.

Authorized Agents—The following agents are authorized to canvass and collect for The Evening Times: Wm. Sonerville, Elias K. Ganong.

THE EVENING TIMES THE DAILY TELEGRAPH

New Brunswick's Independent newspapers.

These papers advocate: British connection, Honesty in public life, Measures for the material progress and moral advancement of our great Dominion.

No graft! No deals! "The Shamrock, Thistle, Rose entwine The Maple Leaf forever."

THE HAZEN DEFICIT

The boasted Hazen surplus of $6,563.63 has disappeared, and in its place there is a deficit of $4,020.88. This fact is revealed by the report of the auditor general.

These bills should have been paid before the year closed. By holding them over the government was able to show an alleged surplus of $6,563.63 where there really should have been a deficit of $4,020.88.

THE INTERCOLONIAL The statement submitted by the minister of railways in parliament will tend to give a quietus to the agitation for the transfer of the I. C. R. to private control.

THE COMMISSION PLAN

The second of the public meetings in the interest of commission government was held last night in Carleton City hall, and there was a gratifying attendance of the electors of that part of the city, who listened with deep interest to the addresses delivered.

Mr. Graham points out that the Intercolonial is of great service to the maritime provinces, giving them better rates than are given by other railways.

Mr. Archibald Blue, census commissioner, believes that the census to be taken this year will show Canada's population to have increased to about eight millions.

When any important civic change is proposed there are always discordant voices, there are always persons who fear that their interests will suffer, and others who fear that they may suffer a loss of influence or patronage.

Doctor Said That Sometimes He Would Never Come Out of One.

Many people may be unaware of having anything wrong with their heart till some little excitement, overwork, or confinement in an overheated or overcrowded room or public building makes them feel faint or dizzy.

If you neglect the warning the slight feeling of dizziness gives you, and fail to take treatment, there will be a gradual progression to something more serious.

CANADIAN WOMEN AND THEIR WORK

(By Stephen Leacock) Copyrighted by Publishers' Press, Ltd.

LADY LAURIER

CANADIAN WOMEN have shown a genius for establishing national societies. They have organized nationally so much as a matter of course and so quietly that hardly anyone has noticed as yet this unusual ability of Canadian women. They do not seem to be aware of it themselves, which, perhaps, is just as well. Women in Great Britain are noted outside of home life for their activity as political canvassers. It would be difficult to estimate the extensive work carried on by political organizations of women in England and Scotland. Women in the United States have made a name for clubs to persuade culture to come and live with them. Browning clubs, Menckelbach clubs, Sorosis clubs, Mayflower clubs, Daughters of the Revolution Clubs, are means by which women in the United States are fitting the women of the past and present to the women of the future. But the Canadian woman, as it seems almost unconsciously, has measured the distance between Halifax and Victoria, and has said to herself: "We must find some way by which the word-of-the-woman in the West may reach the woman in the East and the word of the woman of mid-Canada must come to both East and West." Not only national comradeship but national betterment and help are the aims of these societies formed by Canadian women.

If it is asked how Canadian women first learned to organize nationally, the most reasonable answer is that thirty years ago a woman's movement for foreign missions began among the women of all the Canadian churches. These leading women of twenty-five years ago learned how to extend their missionary societies nationally. They said: "The world for Christ," and along with that softly-spoken woman's bat-tlecry there came, without any special summons, the soundest aspirations towards Canadian nationalism. The boys of the women who began the Canadian women's missionary societies are the originators of the Laymen's Missionary movement. Their daughters are still interested in missionary societies. They have added to their responsibilities other national women's societies as well. It should be noted that the National Council of the Women in Canada, the Victorian Order of Nurses, the Women's Canadian Clubs, the Independent Order of the Daughters of the Empire, the Aberdeen Society, Women's University clubs, Women's Institutes and women's Historical are not political organizations, nor societies for acquiring culture. They are intended to give Canadian women an opportunity to work directly, and to work hard, for the good of Canada and for the people who live in Canada. The longer coats of generations a Canadian woman has behind her in Canada the more can be obtained more easily from the motto chosen for its chapters than in any other way. "To things high." "Pray that the right may thrive." "Let the maple leaf stand for loyalty and justice." "The beaver for industry, the maple leaf for beauty, our hearts for loyalty." "Not for oneself, but for one's country." "Millions for defence, but not one cent for tribute." "Mindful and faithful." No society which had not ardent patriotism for its motive would endorse such mottoes. The organization is immensely popular, especially in Ontario, where it began its head offices are in Toronto. The Countess Grey is Honorary President; The Baroness Macdonald and Lady Turbot are Honorary Vice-Presidents; Mrs. Northheimer of Toronto, is President; and Honorary Vice-Presidents for the different provinces are the Ladies of the Provincial Government Houses. The wives of Canadian statesmen as a rule are in close touch with the organizations of Canadian women. They are domestic, hospitable, patriotic, and helpful in good works. Lady Laurier is one of the Vice-Presidents of the National Council; Mrs. R. L. Borden is a Regent of one of the Ottawa Chapters of the Daughters of the Empire. Madame Albani Oye, the famous Canadian singer, is one of the honorary members of the last named society.

Women's Canadian Clubs in many Canadian cities have been formed as the result of a patriotic movement corresponding to that which began earlier among the men of Canadian cities. The first women's Canadian Club was formed in Montreal. Other cities followed the example of Montreal. Canadian clubs are being formed so rapidly among the women of Canadian cities that it is impossible to keep up with their progress. The membership is large in every case and increases rapidly. The Women's Canadian Club in Toronto has for its President, Mrs. Falconer, wife of the President of Toronto University. The Women's Canadian Club of Fort William owes much to Mrs. Peter McKellar. The President of the Winnipeg Women's Canadian Club is Miss Jones of the Winnipeg General Ladies' College. The President of the Women's Canadian Club in Vancouver is Mrs. Peter McNaughton. Many other cities have similar clubs with enthusiastic members. In Toronto, the Toronto Business Women's Club is a society organized on somewhat the same lines as the Women's Canadian Club, intended for women who are occupied in business during the day. The President is Miss Mary Leah. The Club has achieved ed a remarkable success, and is likely to be the pioneer in a new movement among working women. The Victorian Order of Nurses, superintended, Miss Mary MacKenzie, Ottawa, was begun under the encouragement of Lady Aberdeen. An extension of this work, The Lady Grey District Nursing Association, is a second organization which proves that Canadian women realize what settlement in a new country means to women. The Victorian Order has a nurse with Doctor Grenfell in Labrador. It has cottage hospitals in the West. It carries on district nursing among people who can pay a little in such cities as Montreal and Toronto. In every centre where the Victorian Order of Nurses is to be found at work, it has the support of well-known, helpful Canadian women. The Aberdeen Association is another national organization among women which sends reading matter to lumber camps, mines, and to the homes of new settlers in the west and British Columbia. Many of the large Canadian cities have University Women's Clubs. Women's Historical Societies are collecting valuable material for historians, and in some cases are building museums or renting rooms for historical collections. Many of the hospitals in the larger cities have women's organizations for a large part of their upkeep on women's hospital boards. The Montreal Women's Club is probably the oldest women's organization in Canada formed for the study of civic problems. Its influence has been felt in the cause of civic reform in Montreal. Similarly, the Toronto Women's Local Council gave material aid in carrying the city by-law for water filtration. No mention has yet been made of women's musical clubs which are to be found in many Canadian cities nor of The Women's Art Clubs which have encouraged native crafts, notably the French Canadian home-spun industry. In Toronto, the Heliconian Club is an association of women artists, writers, and musicians. Miss Mary Smart is president of the Heliconian Club. Perhaps the most cheerful and helpful of all the organizations among Canadian women are the Women's Institutes. Begun under the Ontario Department of Agriculture some years ago, the Women's Institutes in Ontario have now over 14,000 members. Farmers' wives and daughters meet together to talk over the problems of country home-keeping. They listen to lectures on sanitation, home-making, cooking, how to keep children happy on farms and how to keep young people to their country homes. Country women are above the average in intelligence. They recently enjoy meeting one another and out-lookers as well. Everyone who is familiar with the pleasant country roads of Ontario must think with pleasure of Mother and Mary setting out behind old Prince or old Dolly to attend a meeting of the Women's Institute. The annual meeting of the Women's Institute in Ontario was held in the Convocation Hall of the University of Toronto last autumn and a large gathering of comfortably, attractively dressed women, as clever and capable in appearance as any winning in manner as Canadian women can be (and this is not slight praise), crowded Convocation Hall. Women's Institutes are equally well-known. In poetry, Canadian women writers have a most charming gift. Miss Wetherald, Miss Coleman, Miss Pichall, Miss Warnock, Mrs. Sheard, Mrs. Blouet, Mrs. Mackay, are among the gifted writers of poetry. Miss Montgomery of Hamilton, Miss MacClung of Guelph and Mrs. Murphy of Edmonstone are successful writers of humorous, optimistic fiction. Miss Cameron and Miss Leas are travel writers. Miss Leas is also a writer of history. Almost all the writers named are members of the Canadian Women's Press Club, and along with a number of women journalists who do good work, maintain a comradely society which reaches from Prince Edward Island and Halifax to Edmonton and Victoria. It is in poetry that Canadian women writers have done their best work. Some Canadian poetry can be termed rightly exquisite. Canadian actresses are sufficiently numerous to fill an article by themselves. Miss Anglin, Miss Ashwell, Miss Arthur, Miss Robson and Miss Irwin are among the best known. In music, Canada has Madams Albani Oye, Miss Edith Miller, Miss Nora Clinch, now married to an Australian artist, Miss Parlow, and Miss Evelyn Street. The women artists of Canada include Miss Laura Muntz, Miss Florence Carlyle, Miss McNicholl, Mrs. Reid, Miss Tully, and Miss Wrench. The artists, actresses and musicians mentioned here are named merely to represent to some extent the work which has been done along these lines by Canadian women. A single article can touch merely on some aspects of the subjects.

There are a number of women doctors in Canada. Two representatives may be named. Dr. Maude Abbott of Montreal, Curator of the Medical Museum of McGill University, who was given an honorary degree by McGill at a recent convocation for her work in medicine; and Dr. Helen MacMurphy of Toronto, who is a Commissioner of the Ontario government to report on the feeble-minded in that province and who has also written reports for the Ontario government on infant mortality. Dr. MacMurphy was elected last summer a member of the permanent council of the International Society of School Hygiene. There is at least one practicing lawyer in Canada, Miss Clara Brett Martin of Toronto, who until the beginning of this year was a useful and capable member of the Toronto Board of Education. The women of Canada are happy in their lot, both in the home and outside of it. They look back to the pioneer men and women to whom they owe so much, and hope that they may be like them in their virtues. They have not been hindered from regular employment, which is a great source of happiness. And they have the generous help of their fathers and brothers and friends. They mean to do good work, and the best of their work will always be home-making. "But if she love you, I spik it for true, She will mak' it more beautiful den, An' sun on de sky can't shine lak de sun Of dat nice leetle Conscience."

Announcement in Canada of the forthcoming issue of the New (Eleventh) Edition of the Encyclopaedia Britannica, of which the copyright has been taken over by the University of Cambridge, England

Prospectus and specimen pages, on India paper, of the New Edition, for which more than 15,000 orders have already been received in London, Toronto, and New York, will be sent post free from the Canadian office of The Cambridge University Press (Encyclopaedia Britannica Dept.), Royal Bank Building, 10-12 King street east, Toronto.

It is now 112 years since there appeared in Edinburgh the first part of a book, to be completed in 3 modest volumes of 900 pages each, under the ambitious title of the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

The 11th edition, to contract it with the first, consists of 29 volumes and an index. There are 27,000 pages of text, 40,000 articles, over 41 millions of words, more than 7,000 illustrations and maps.

THE DATE OF THE FIRST EDITION—1768... The date of a single date—the date of its first appearance—1768—when the struggle between France and England for supremacy on the North American continent had barely ceased and fully twenty years before the outbreak of the French Revolution.

"A complete circle of instruction"... The title of the first edition was unambitious, for the word "encyclopaedia" promised a complete circle of instruction.

A fundamental characteristic... But, if the first Encyclopaedia Britannica fell far short of completing the circle, it clearly showed that instruction was its main purpose.

Utility and authority... To the characteristic length of its articles upon the main subjects of inquiry, the Encyclopaedia Britannica owes at once its high utility and its supreme authority.

Applications in Advance of Publication... will be accepted at the rate of (Cloth; ordinary paper) $4.00 a volume (containing almost 1,000 quarto pages), instead of $7.50 which was the original published price of the 9th edition.

SPORT NEWS OF A DAY; HOME AND ABROAD

Mr. J. H. Richards, 1852 Second Ave. East, Vancouver, B.C., writes: "I would like to write a few lines in praise of your Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. Last fall I contracted a heavy cold which left me with a hacking cough, and every time I would get a little more cold this hacking cough would become a lung splitting one. It kept on getting worse and I kept on spending money buying different cough remedies...

THE WEEK IN SPORT CIRCLES IN ST. JOHN

There has been a little quiet this week. There has been little hockey sport, and the only thing of consequence among the barmen was the two matches made for today. In curling, there were the following contests: Saturday last, four rinks of the Thistles won from Hampton, 85 to 82; Thursday, a South End rink won from North End rink on the Thistle ice.

JOHN WANAMAKER'S GOLDEN JUBILEE

The name of John Wanamaker is indicative of big things, big ideas, big enterprises. At the very beginning of his career he showed the big qualities of mind and heart which have made his business what it is today. The first day's receipts of the little store which he opened in Philadelphia fifty years ago were $247. He kept the 67 cents making change next day, and immediately spent the 24 for newspaper advertising.

The present generation cannot appreciate the difficulties, opposition and ridicule with which the announcement of this new policy was received. Shopping, in any first-class store, is now so simple, easy and safe for the inexperienced buyer, that it is taken as a matter of course. The millions of shoppers scattered each day throughout the great stores of the country are indebted to John Wanamaker for the consideration, courtesy and fair dealing which they now receive.

THE REASON WHY

You don't take sauce? Perhaps not, but if you look for the reason why, you will find it is the fact that the word "sauce" suggests to your mind a thin, dark, heating fluid, which, if taken at dinner time, and eventually leaves a disagreeable burning sensation in the mouth. No wonder that under these circumstances you do not take sauce—but, change the circumstance, and the taste will probably change with it.

LIFE GUARDS

The Life Guards are two regiments of cavalry forming part of the British household troops. They are gallant soldiers and every loyal British heart is proud of them. Not only the King's household, but your own everybody's should have its Life Guards. The need of them is especially felt in the great cities of the world, where, in the very elements of cold, influenza, cough, the grip, and pneumonia do the stormy work of March. The best way that we know of to guard against these diseases is to strengthen the system with Hood's Sarsaparil—the greatest of all life guards. It removes the conditions in which these diseases make their most successful attack, gives vigor and tone to all the vital organs and functions, and imparts a genial warmth to the blood. Remember the weaker the system the greater the exposure to disease. Hood's Sarsaparil makes the system strong.

AMERICAN WOMAN

An American woman has become involved in an interesting lawsuit in Spain. Some time ago she wrote to a Spanish fruit grower, ordering him to send by first train 1,000 (naranja) oranges. The letter was badly written and instead of "naranja" the grower read "naranjo" (orange tree). The woman was surprised by the arrival of 20 wagon loads of young orange trees at her house. She refused to pay for them, and the grower, who was unable to read, refused to return them. The grower maintained that the woman should pay, because the fault was his if the woman cannot write properly. Both sides have engaged counsel.

IS TOWING THE STANLEY TO HALIFAX

Government Steamer Breaks Propeller on Way From St. John to Nova Scotia Ports—Sister Ship Picks Her Up

A special despatch to the Times from Halifax says that while the government steamer Stanley was proceeding from St. John to Nova Scotia to cut channels in the ice at Shelburne and La Have to release shipping, she met with an accident which will necessitate the placing of the steamer on the marine railway on her arrival at Halifax.

When off Shelburne, the Stanley broke her propeller. She sent a wireless message to Halifax to that effect. The marine and fisheries agent at Halifax instructed the fisheries agent at St. John to send a wireless message to Halifax to that effect. It is probable that the Stanley's propeller was weakened by her strenuous operations in the fields. Outside of this she is not damaged.

The good feeling of co-operation existing between the members of Branch 124 and the North End branch was well brought out in the presence of so many members from the city, among whom were President C. P. O'Neil, R. J. Walsh, M. D. Sweeney, F. J. Casey, and Henry Bridgway.

Several gave short addresses, dwelling largely with the work of the order and its remarkable growth, as was apparent from the fact that when the first branch was instituted here, it was numbered 132, while the new branch is 482. It was decided last night to change the night of meeting from Friday to Monday.

Back From Vancouver for a Visit to New York, Then West Again

J. N. Harvey, formerly of this city, but now of Vancouver, arrived in the city on the Montreal express at noon. Mr. Harvey had to some extent as far as Montreal on business, and decided to take a run down here and renew old acquaintances. He will leave for New York on Wednesday on a business trip, and will go from there to Vancouver.

In conversation with a Times' reporter, Harvey expressed himself as being highly pleased with the west. "We have been enjoying the best of weather, and this year is expected to be a bumper crop year," he said. "During my stay in the west I met a good many former St. John people, among whom were John Ogilvie, who is engaged in the insurance business, and Fred Milligan. The latter has just been successful in organizing a big amusement company, one of the biggest in the west."

Mrs. Harvey, who is spending the winter with friends here, may return to the west with her husband on this trip.

MRS. J. N. ROGERS DEAD

The death of Mrs. James N. Rogers occurred at an early hour this morning at her home in Clarendon street. She had been for several years in feeble health but the end came so unexpectedly as to be a shock to her many relatives and friends. It is scarcely necessary to say that Mrs. Rogers and her husband were deeply interested in religious and benevolent work, particularly in connection with the Seaman's Mission, the Bible Society and St. Mary's church. Mrs. Rogers was gifted as an artist and never happier than when engaged in her painting or needlework. She was a daughter of the late Robert C. Frost, one of twelve children, and lived all her life in her quiet little home in Charles street where she was married thirty-four years ago.

She is survived by her husband, three sisters—Mrs. Frank Hollis, Mrs. G. F. Barlow and Miss Georgie B. Frost and a large circle of relatives. Her affectionate disposition and cheerfulness despite a long and trying illness endeared her to all who knew her and she will be greatly missed by many friends. Mrs. Rogers was of Loyalist ancestry on both her father's and mother's side and the family name of Frost has always been an honored one both in the city and in Kings county.

The funeral will take place from her late residence on Monday at 2 p.m. to St. Mary's church.

LAKE MICHIGAN IN

Some days overdue from London and weary the C. P. R. liner Lake Michigan, Captain Parry, arrived at a late hour last night and docked at No. 6 berth, Main Point, this morning.

Furious weather was encountered all the way, monstrous seas sweeping the steamer from stem to stern. Contrary to surmise, however, no ice was met with. A large number of immigrants came out in the Michigan there being in all 300 of various nationalities. On board also were thirty-one horses, French and Belgian, for the Canadian west.

DEATHS OF THE WEEK
