A FIGHTING RACE.

Why Britain Left the Interior Son a'iland. Somaliland, the scene of this sever verse, is an arid waste divided up reverse, is an arid waste divided up between Great Britain, Italy, France, and Abysinia. The present Somali Leoples are possensed of no general type and their physical characteristics vary considerably, showing signs of interbreeding with Arabs, Abysinians and begroes. They are a race of magnificent physique, tall, active, and robust. Negro blood is shown in their frequently black complexions and wooly hair. The Somali are a fighting race. All go armed with spear, shield, and short sword, as well as a gun, when it is obtainable, During the rains incessant intertribal lootings of cattle take place. Among certain take place. Among certain those who have killed a man tribes those who have killed a man have the right to wear an estrich feather in their hair. Somalliand was one of the last tructs of Africa to be explored by Europeans. The occupation of Aden by the British in 1809 proved the starting point in the opening up of the country, Aden being the chief port with which the somall of the opposite coast 'aded. The British Somaliland Protectorate extends along the Gulf of 'en for about 400 miles, and stretches inland to a breadth varying from 80 to 200 miles. About 60,000 people are settled in the stretches in the country of the co coast 17 wins, he less are should are since constantly giving trouble. The British connection with the Somali coast dates from the early years of the last century, but British authority was not definitely established and in 1854 Richard Burton's expedi-

of the last century, but British authority was not definitely established, and in 1854 Richard Burton's expedition was attacked at Berbera. In 1874 the ambition of Ismail Pasha, Khedive of Egypt, led him to occupy the posts of Tajura, Berbera and Bulhar, as well as Harrar in the hinterland. Ten years later, in consequence of the revoit of the Mahdi in the Egyptian Soudan the Khedivial garrisons were withdrawn. Thereupon, Great Britain, partly to secure the route to the East via the Suez Canal, occupied Zalla, Berbera and Bulhar, officials being sent from Aden to govern the posts. Treaties guaranteeing British protection were, concluded with various Somali tribes, and the boundaries of the protectorate were defined by agreements with France, Italy, and Abyssinia. In 1899 Mohammed bin Abdullah, popularly known as the Mad Mullah, first came upon the scene. He had made several pligrimages to Mecca, where he had attached himself to a sect which enjoined strict observance of the tenets of Islam, and placed an interdict on the use of the leaves of the kat plant, much sought after by, the coast Arabs and Somali for their stimulating and intoxicating properties. At first the Mullah's influence was exerted for good, and he kept the tribes over whom he had control at peace. Accredited with the possession of supernatural powers, he gathered several disastrous reverses and during the first months of 1910 the advanced posts were withdrawn and the British administration confined to the coast towns. In support of this decision it was urged that it was impossible to catch, that the isolated posts in the interior had not been able to protect the friendly tribes, and that the semi-desert nature of the country did not justify any attempt at economic development were made for arming and organising the tribes further protectorate in their own defence.

By October twenty widows with one child each are required to salt for New Seeth. Wales to the work, the money for the Journey being advanced by a practical Imperialist who desires to remain anonymous. The step is regarded as an experiment in assisting a new type of emigrant. Applicants for free passage must not be more than thirty-fivyears of age, must produce their bus bands' death certificates, and must of course, be healthy and of exemplary character.

The result of this offer will be that a brighter future will present itself to many widows who have hitherto struggled against adversity, and it is specially intended, to bely those who have thereby become brave and more self-reliant. The successful applicants will be required to give a guarantee to take up domestic work, probably in the Bush, where it is easier to find accommodation for a child.

Queen Victoria In Movies. The life of the late Queen Victori The life of the late Queen Victoria in moving pictures is now in preparation by one of the leading firms in the cinematograph business. After five months of preliminary work in studying historical authorities, producers are now ready to photograph scenes from the 64 years reign of Queen Victoria at a cost of $25,000. Three actresses will appear as the Queen at different stages of her life. The incidents depicted will include the first council of her Ministers a few hours after her accession, her coronation, her reception of the excoronation, her reception of the ex-plorer, David Livingstone, and the marriage of the Prince of Wales, af-terward King Edward VII. Then come pletures representing her audiences with the Duke of Wellington, Lord Melbourne, Gladatone, Disraeli and John Bright. Other scenes show her opening Parliament and quietly driv-ing in the Highlands and elsewhere.

The one thing which strikes us The Amherst "Daily News" in a brief at the Manufacturers Association ban youthfulness of the eminent men and women. The whole staff of the "Newe" parliament the Conservative Government brought down a measure that was designed to improve the rural highways. Manifestly, it was the purpose of the Dominion Government to eco-perate with the local legislatures in this important work, but the Liberals in the House of Commons did their utmost to defeat the measure and falling to do so they passed it up to the Liberal Senate. Premier Murray we are just a little afraid is getting out of touch with his associates in the Liberal party.

Like the smile of Bret Harte's China man, this effort on the part of the Am herst editor is "childlike and bland." it seems a town composed of and managed Either he has not looked into the details of by boys just out of school and the the Government's Road Bill at all, or else, like the man who sat on the tack, he falled prising sort. to see the point. The Government intro-duced an Agricultural Aid Bill definitely embodying the principle of granting the Gloucester, Mass., Times:-The man money to the provinces in proportion to population, every necessary safe-guarding clause being included. When they brought in the Public Highways Bill, there were no such safe-guarding clauses. The money was to be expended at the sweet will of the Minister of Rallways after making "arrangements" with the several Provincial Governments. The Liberals asked that a definite clause be nut in the Provincial Governments. The Liberals asked that a definite clause be put in the Bill, similar to that of the Agricultural diver blows his horn as he tears along at break-neek speed, and then takes the chat the road money would be granted

Add Bill, by which it would be assured that the road money would be granted that the road money would be granted that the road money would be granted the different provinces proportionately to population and be expended by the Provincial Governments which have complete jurisdiction over the public highways. This was a fair, sound request to make in every way. Mr. Borden made a verbal statement that such was the Government's intention, but he absolutely refused to embody this in the Bill. $1,522,884. As six rural municipalities pay $1,251.81 in annual premiums, it is probable that the total amount of annual premium paid by all municipalities reaches at least $12,000. The amount paid, varies from $4.50 per annual for insurance on $1,000 on the court house in one municipality, to $3,138 paid on nearly shalf a million of insurance in the City of Halifax.

The largest risk of which returns have been sent in, is $45,000 on the Academy school in Sydney. The next is $42,000 on the Chebucto Road school, Halifax. Both these suructures are good risks.

WANT M. P. H. A. AGREMENT.

From all appearances, the Maritime Province Hockey League will be part and parcel of the agreement recently made between the National Hockey Association and the Pacific Coast League and pullished in the RECORDER at the time.

President Lithgow, of the M. P. H. A., has been in correspondence with President Quinn of the M. P. H. A. for sometime, and the latter writes he is sorry that the M. P. H. A. was not represented at the conference recently held with the West, but assures him that the Maritime Provinces interests were entirely safeguarded in the agreement. He trusts that in agreement will be soon drawn up on somewhat similar lines as that which they reached. When this is done prohockey will be under an agreement from coast to coast.

Mr. Quinn includes a list of players under reserve since last April, in which are included Joop, Walker, Rundall and Doherty by Toronto, and E. Liffiton by Tecumseh, who played in the Provinces last season, but who had previously signed contracts with the Toronto Club here, and says any questions about them can be adjusted without trouble.

Among the former players in the Provinces under reserve are Tommy Smith and Booket Power, by Quebec: Dallaire, and Season, but who had previously signed contracts with the Toronto Club here, and says any questions about them can be adjusted without trouble.

RØGBY PROSPECTS.

Last year arrangements for a series between the Wanderers and Dalhousie were not assistance. between the Wanderers and Dalhousie were not satisfactory, terminating after one game. There will be a number of exhibition games throughout the season, but these of course are not as satisfactory as a series, as players under such circumstances do not train as hard.

There will be a game on Saturday between the officer w. Cadets of H. M. S. Cornwall. There are a number of good players on the warship, but they have had but little practice. Rev. Mr. Gondge and Lieut. Ede are still on the Cornwall and will play with the officers.

ATHLETICS CHAMPIONS.

Philadelphia won the pennant of the American League for this season and its fifth championship by two victories from Detroit yesterday. The Detroit team was whitewashed in each contest, the scores being 4 to 0 and 1 to 0, not a fielding error marring the afternoon's work of Connie Mack's combination. Bush and Dauss were the pitchers in the first game; Pennach, Plank and Dubue in the second.

Now that Philadelphia has won the pennant, preparations will at once begin by Manager Mack to tune up his team for the world's erries. The first move will be the easing up on the Athletics players, all of whom will be given holidays from time to time until the final series with New York, October 2, 3, 4. Several players are auffering from bruises or other teleprica, and they will be given pienty of opportunity to get over their ills before starting the hard conditioning for the big championship.

MOIR'S, Limited, The Grateful Grate Fire

What is so much appreciated at this season, by callers as A GOOD GRATE FIRE? A poor one "looks rotten." Then WHY HAVE a poor one when CANNEL COAL will make a good one? You have been told how easily this Coal lights. Now, let us tell you of its lasting qualities. Let a fire be started early in the evening with a moderate quantity of Coal and let a few lumps be added once during the evening, a fire will be the result lasting from 7.30 p. m. until 11.00 p. m. This is an actual experience. It spells ECONOMY. BUT, to secure this, a smaller quantity of CAN-NEL COAL MUST be used than of others. Better results will be obtained. Try it for your own information.

THE PARK IN GOOD SHAPE. The Point Pleasant Park Commission was summoned to meet yesterday after noon, when those present were Commis sidners C. C. Blackadar (chairman). W. F. O'Connor and C. R. Hoben. The Chairman reported that he and Com. MacInner had made several inspections of the Park during, the summer. Much underbrush had been removed and dead trees out down, giving the other trees more at rand a better chance to grow, and making it possible to see both the Arm and the Park. Considerable work was done on the various roads and new fences erected, and the Park was now in goed chape, even better than it has been for many years. In reference to the 3550 spropriation, there was now about $1000 of a balance for expenditure during the rest of the season's work, for the Superintendant's salary and work needed on the roads in the Spring up to the end of April. O'Connor and C. R. Hoben. The Chairman

THIS NOON'S STOCK LETTER. (F. B. McCurdy & Co.)

The opening was active and strong and there was quite a lot of covering all through the list. Reading and Union Pacific were the most conspicuous, and there was a good deal of talk about some action by the Union Pacific executive committee at the meeting to-day.

The Traction stocks were strong. Interbero in particular have been tipped year-terday afternoon and this morning. The covering movement spent its force shouly after 10 colock, however, and when it was announced that nothing had been done in regard to the cash distribution on Union Pacific by the executive committee to day prices slumped off quite easily all around the room. Four Footed Friends," is an indication of interest in the work, the Society should interest in the work, the Society should be greatly ancouraged. The Mrs. Smith, who is the president of the Animal Rescue League, in a stirring address, illustrated by laatern sities, showed the great good Boaton was doing in rescuing harmless and ill-treated animals in that city. Over 32,000 cases had been dealt with by her society. The account of the instantaneous killing of the animals by the electric cages was especially interesting, a step taken to obviate the terrible crusities of the slaughter houses.

Mrs. Smith shawed many alidess some of the most interesting her breas which Before the Stipendiary. In the police court this morning, Thos rigan was fined $10 for resisting the A young man, for alleged theft, was continued until Oct. 23 by consent.

A young man, for being incapable of taking care of himself, was continued uncrueities of the slaughter nouses.

Mrs. Smith shawed many slides, some of the most interesting being those which portrayed the Rest Farm for horses, where worn out cab and truck horses may be sent during the summer for a vacation and at little expense. The different photographs of horses which were emaclated and worn out when they went to the Farm and the way in which they fattened and were built up on leaving the Farm, was an object lesson which might be well followed by all the Societies on the continent. Mrs. Smith spoke in warm terms of the good condition of the horses which she has seen in Halifax and remarked on the fact that the market horses were the best she had seen on the continent, as these animals as a rule were in other cities very poor. fine.

Several drunks and other minor cases were also dealt with by the imposition of the usual fines.

the most disastrous fire in the sistory of this village. Three residences, three barns, outbuildings and the Foresters' Hall, with pressocially all their contents, were destroyed.

The fire started on the roof of A. F. Grant's barn on the east side of the street, and to the harbor on his auxiliary fishing schooner Priscilla II, purchased it Party by money from the Carnegie herofund commission, but was unable to bring his little boat alongside the big coaster, Jumping into a dory, he was the first one to board the Urann, and handling the cara himself, helped to transfer the women and the sallors, two by two, to the Priscilla, without mishap. Most of them brought along their personal belongings.

DESTRUCTION OF AIRSHIPS By aeroplanes at British war manoeuvres.

The Foresters Hall next caught and all the regalia, furniture and documents belonging to the Order were lost.

The fire then caught in the residence of Mrs. Eaon Macdonald just across the street, and this with barn and outhouses were consumed.

The next building falling a prey to the fiames was the beautiful residence of John Fraser, which was destroyed together with the barn and outbuildings. Some of the furniture in these residences was saved.

A furlous gale was blowing from the east, which made it impossible to check the flames. A message was sent to New Glasgow for assistance and in remarkably short time firemen and engine arrived from New Glasgow and Stellarton, and hose was carried to the river, but all the buildings were doomed ere their arrival. The firemen ably assisted in the protection of other buildings nearby.

The total loss is estimated at $6000, partiy overed by insurance. LONDON, Sept. 23.—The feature of the Finish army manoeuvres in the Midland counties yesterday was the "destruction" of an airship by a squadron of exceptance which circled about in a manner which (would enable them to do unlimited bombthrowing in real warfare.

Another incident was the mutiny of a regiment of volunteer cavalry, the members of which were disgruntled because they received only three crackers and a chunk of cheese for breakfast. The men refused to march but were afterwards placated by a double ration. King George will participate in the manceuvres to day.

An army biplane returning to camp near Ragby, fell from a height of about one hundred and fitty feet. Lieut. Chinnery, the pilot, had a collar bone dislocated, while Mr. Playfair, a passenger, received serious injuries about his head. Monoton, N.B., Sept. 22.—Five families are homeless, five of the best stores of the village destroyed and a total damage of $25,000 was suffered in the town of Petiteodias to neight by a fire that at one time threatened to wipe out the entire community. Petitoodias that so no water supply and consequently no fire department, but the citizens formed themselves into a bucket brigade. At the same time Monoton was asked to send sid. Alkbough the Monoton brigade responded as speedily as a train could convey them, the fire was under control when they arrived.

The fire started in the stable at the rear of the Mansard House and spread north down Kay street, burning seven buildings, including five stores, Parkinson's clothing store, Mrs. William Pollock's millinery store, W.M. Blokerton's tailoring shop, Thaddy Drysdale's harness shop, and the Sussex Mercantile Warehouse. Some six families were burned out. The houses burned were Dr. D. D. MoDonald's, tocupied by Use King and K. R. Lookhart's house.

The Glace Bay Gazette gays:

Michael Lee, a Sydney Mines man, had an extraordinary escape from death on Saturday night, when an I. C. R. train of Lee, who lives at old No. 3. Sydney Mines, had evidently been walking towards his home on the track, when he fell did between the rails where he remained until pleked up by the train hands, after the night train from Sydney Mines had passed over him.

Just before the train passed, Lee was seen lying on the track by a brakeman who was standing on the footboard of the forward car, but the train could not be where Lee had been lying, they expected to find him crushed to death. He was alive, however, although his face was lowed to the Hamilton hospital where an examination of his injury revealed only a gash in the head, which required four attiches to close. That Lee was not instantly killed the laptice of the Royal Edward sailed from Avonmouth, Saturday, at 9 p. m., with 129 first, 388 second and 587 third class passengers for Quebec.

BLUNDERS IN NOVELS.

'Howlers" That Have Been Made B

That popular novelists make all sorts of funny missies and perpetute marvelines and there of the marvelines and the perpetute marvelines and perpetute materials their surprisingly thrilling tales is well known. Diekens, Scott, Thackeray, Reade, and so oh, right down to the latest. Mrs. Florence Barelsy, have all fallen into the trap before to-day. But in nothing are so many laughable blunders made by novelists as in relation to sport, and this is particularly the case with we men writers, however eminest or experienced they may be.

"Outda" was gaphaby the most astounding of all great story writers of her sex in this respect. Three instances will prove that she took very little pains to learn the details of any sport she was describing. Speaking of one of her heroes who was taking part in a famous boat-race, "Outda" makes this astonishing statement:

"All in the boat rowed splendidly, but none rowed as fast as number six."

If "Outda" has any blunder to surpass this amuning error in a sperting correst, it may be found in her description of a great horse-race, wherein her heroine is supposed to be the owner of the winner. And, this horse having won, the female novelist goes on to show the sensation made by the lady owner (we do not wonder at it either!) when "she came proudly into the paddock, leading in the winner of the Waterloo Cup." Of course, all sporting men know that the Waterloo Cup is the trophy awarded for the finest dog-race in the world.

"Outda," too, seems to have been totally regardless as to whether sporting items got mixed with her educational ones, or vice versa, for in another story she makes her hero become "very popular at Cambridge, where he got his Blue for history." This is funny enough to manth! As "Blues" are given by the sports' captains for certain games only, how any fellow under the sun could get his "Blue for history." But have been to always accurate when she comes t) write about men's sports and men's work. Says she, in "The Tresure of Heaven," when her hero is speaking in that b

When he attended the private school he gained the reputation of being a mother's darling and was never allowed to join in the athletic games or to mix with the other boys at the school. In this respect he was much different from his older brother, the Prince of Wales, who while a student took part in many forms of sport and was a member of several clubs at Oxford.

The boys have decided that they did not like his surname, Guelph, and therefore announced even before the college opened after the wasation that they would call him Henry, a much more appropriate name for a real college boy.

But Prince Henry is not always a good boy by any means. In this respect he shows that there is the same touch of naughtiness that exists in every boy. Just prior to the coronation exercises the young prince behaved very badly.

Bamboo Sap in India.

In India the sap of the female bamboo is used for medicinal purposes.

"Tabasheer," or "banslochan," is sold in all Indian basaars, as it has been known from the earliest times as a medicinal agent. It is also known in Borneo and was an article of commerce with early Arab traders of the east. Its properties are said to be strengthening, tonic and cooling. It has been analysed and has been shown to condast almost entirely of silica, with traces of lime and potash. From its remarkable cocurrence in the hollows of bamboos the eastern mind has long associated it with miraculous powers.—London Standard, Hamilton's Helping the Post Office,

A GREAT INFIELD.

Game Ever Saw.
In the midst of a rabid pennant dised—the Chicago Cubs, with Chance, Evers, Tinker and Steinfeldt, or Mack's Athletics, with McInnis, Collins, Barry and Baker.

The rebuttal was finally put up us and we in turn passed it along Dan Brouthers, who has been a good bit closer to ringside and who should know.

Daniel has been on some fair infields himself. He hit .419 for the old De-

Daniel has been on some fair infields himself. He hit 419 for the old Detroit clan of 1887 with a quartet embracing Brouthers, Settledon, Bows and White. He hit 844 for the Baltimore infield of 1894, which embraced Breathers, Beltz, Jenning and MoGraw. He has played on his best and has seen the others pass it parade before him year after year.

"Why," commented Big Dan, "a choice between the Cubs and Athletics for the greatest infield? They were both good, and the Athletics are still in harness. But neither ranks as the best—not for me when I think of that Boston infield of 1897, with Fred Tenney at first, Bobby Lows at second, Herman Long at short and Junmy Collins at third.

"This is the one greatest infield of the game—the best combination of batting and fielding power, meins, speed and smoothness. It has them all beafen, and I doubt if its squal will ever be gathered together, again. There wasn't an angle of the game at which they were not stars, All four batted above 315, with Belding averages around .950. They worked without a silip—without in reale-sand in all the above 215, with fielding averages around 250. They worked without a slip—without a break, and in all the time I watched them play I never saw even-a fouch of boneheat work. There was no angle of the time at which all four were not stars. They may have had no more power than the Athletics four and but little more amoetiness than the Cubs, but in the combination of all things that go to make up a perfect infield machine they must be set out in front of the others with something to spare. The latest remedy for obesity has been set forth by Dr. Galish, a German physician. He claims one of the main causes for an increase of weight is the late dinner hour. Food taken in the evening and then followed by the repose of the night is the best thing in the world for forming of adjose

In the world for forming of adjose tissue, and those who lament their increasing weight should stop that particular form of pleasure the first thing. His treatment in a diefary is as follows: In the morning the patient must take a cup of tea with buttered toast, and if he is too hingry to wait for inchéon he may take an egg and some bread and butter at 10 o'clock. At 1 o'clock the meal consists of meat, vegetables, salad and a little compote: vegetables, salad and a little compote; in the afternoon some coffee with a little white bread and butter. And in Expanding Screw For Railways.

For attaching rails to ties on railroads a Frenchman has invented a screw that is said to hold tighter than anything yet devised. It is in two parts, first a hollow screw, open at the lower end, slit a short distance up the sides and having a worm inside as well sides and having a worm inside as well as outside. This is screwed into the hole in the tie. Into it is screwed the second part, which is a solid screw, conical in shape. As this is driven home it forces the lower end of the hollow screw apart, making it spread and become wider below than above, thus biting the wood of the tie in a way that makes it inextricable.

Pruning German Names.

Bocieties with long names are usually shortened by busy Americans, as with the "Y. M. C. A." and the "I W. W.," which are popularly known by their ini-tials. Germans also are now abbrevi-ating some unduly cumbrous titles. The Allegemeine Luftfahrtzeug-Auss-tellung" is popularly known as the tellung" is popularly known as the "Ala," and now the "Deutsche Ausschuss für den Mathematischen und Naturwissenschaftlichen Unterricht" has been happily converted into the "Damnu"—which, while perhaps objectionable as to the title of an American

The No Hat Fad.

The "no hat fashion" which had a spid rise and a sudden fall in Genrepid rise and a sudden fall in Germany two years ago is again becoming popular, according to an article in Dis Made. "The time was," says the paper, "when a hattess man in the street attracted much attention and caused people to speculate as to how and where he could have lost that indispensable part of his attire. Now the man without a hat is recognized as a service in here who subscribes to the theory that the hat is useless except as a promoter of the wigmaker,"

Thin as a Rail, are you? Every day spending as much energy as you make—if the balace goes a little fur-ther, well, you get thinner. On the danger ther, well, you get thinner. On the danger line to-day,—to-morrow may be too late Better use Ferrosone, it builds up—a little gain the first week, but, the gain keepe growing. Next week, not quite so thin. FIGHTING BUSH FIRES.

Canada's Work.

When the first immigrants landed on the shores of Canada the wild forest seemed to them infinite. They made small clearings for themselves. These clearings grow as civilization advanced, until the once thickly-wooded country was transformed into cities, towns and fertile farm lands.

The clearing of the land brought out all the grit that was in our forestathers, though these pioneer agriculout all the grit that was in our fore-fathers, though these pioneer agricul-turists, no doubt, lookd with chagrin upon the huge task which confronted them. It is not surprising that their one object was to rid themselves of the troublesome forest, even by un-necessary mutilation, and great tracts of country were swept by fire in con-sequence, yet they never dreamed that there might come a day when the pin-eries of Canada would vanish as the buffalo has done in the west. Nor dld the aborigines themselves ever buffalo has done in the west. Nor did the aborigines themselves ever expect their great hunting grounds to be finite. This is proven by the fact that the white man was allowed to settle on land which, unknown to him, was divided into distinct sections, each owned by an Indian family. The redman was, no doubt, perplexed by the audactty of the tree-passer, and in many cases allowed him to remain on his land unmolested.

As time passed the lumber companies commenced work in this wonderful now country, and then the farmer found the pine on his farm to be his best crop. In the winter be would fell the mighty trees, and in the spring the smaller vegetation could be burned over and cleared with ease. The destruction of the forest ceased and the number of fires greatly diminished.

causes of fire. Yet man is responsible for the greater part of forest devastation. The railway locomotive which dashes through the heart of the forest is probabily the most alarmin; cause of fire, in spite of its protective appliances. The fire-rangers patrol the tracks and quench the small beginnings of what would otherwise prove large fires.

The prospectors, who might be called the pioneers of northern Ontario, have started many a fire in order that their quest for minerals might not be hampered by the hush. This body of men claims that the Government is too hard upon it. 18. 78. 78. 18. 10, 70; a.sup.m. rom, poxes 61, 82, 83, 70.

This body of men claims that the Government is too hard upon it, and makes that an exouse for such outrage. The great Porcupine fire of 1911, which caused so much less of life and property, is said to have been kindled by prospectors. The many tourists who cance through the great forests are also a mennes to the safety of the woods which they admire. A discarded cigar butt thrown into the dry underbrush and neglecting to properly extifiguish a campfre are not uncommon causes of forest fires.
