maintained its classes in summer as well as in winter. The burden proved too heavy and the summer session to be discontinued. The college is in a highly prosperous state.

The number of remits was five: (1) The first was re permissable term service of elders instead of life service, as at present. Forty presbyteries disapproved and eight approved. The assembly laid it on the table.

(2) The second called for presby teries' judgment on the question of reducing the representation in assembly from one in four in the presbyteries to one in six, and upon the question of providing a fund of the pay and of the travelling expenses of commissioners. The assembly passed the first part of this remit and approved the principle of the second part, appointing a committee to prepare a scheme for a travelling expense fund and to report at a later sederunt.

(3) The third remit proposed the appointment of an executive committee or commission which could dea with matters arising between meetings of assemblies. The question was referred to a committee to report to the next assembly.

(4) The fourth remit proposed to permit presbyteries to print their records.—This was approved.

(5). Consideration of the fifth remit concerning Sunday school field secretaries, was deferred till the Sunday school committee report is presented. Discussion of the memorial from Dr

Wilkie, late of Indore, was resumed in the afternoon, and except for a few minutes devoted to the question of the time and place of next assembly, the whole afternoon was given up to this question. The resolution of the foreign mission compittee terminating Dr. Wilkie's appointment was re-read to assembly, together with the motion of Prof. Gordon of Halifax that the assembly sustain the act of the com-

He urged several amendments. (1) That the facts in the case are not before the assembly; (2) that Dr. Wilkie's removal would not end the difficulties that troubles would remain and spread in the mission: (3) remain and spread in the mission; (3) that the conditions of the college and mission generally are sufficiently grave to demand a thorough investigation of the whole matter of the India mission; (4) that it is conceded unanimously that a large and very important and

Dr. Lyle of Hamilton, who seconded Dr. MacVickar's amendment, admitted that a commission would more than likely come to the same decision as the F. M. Dr. MacVicar presented the report which the Rev. G. L. Pidgeon of Streetsville, Ontario, seconded. He re-ferred to the strong anti-clerical movement in Belgium, France and in Austria, and pointed out that in Canada many of the most difficult and dangerous questions with which our government have had to deal have had their origin in the clericalism of Quebec. The greatest hindrance to French evangelisation is not the Roman Catholics, but the Protestant churches through their indifference and niggardliness. French Protestants in Canada and the United States thank God for the French evangelical work. The statesmanship which is concerned for Western Canada should be concerned equally for Quebec.

Three French Canadian ministers supported the motion, which was unanimously adopted by the assembly.

TORONTO, June 17.—The assembly having determined to appoint two home mission superintendents and a general secretary to take up the work of the late Dr. Robertson, and having appointed a committee to nominate these men, their report was presented recommending unanimously for gen-eral secretary of home missions, west, Rev. Dr. McLaren of Vancouver, to be superintendent in the Synod of Manitoba and N. W. Territories; Rev. J. A. Carmichael of Regina, in the Synod of British Columbia; Rev. J. C. Herdman, D. The salaries are to be: General secretary, $2,400, and superintendents, $2,000, both with travelling expenses. President Forest moved that whereas the use of the individual cup is contrary to the law and practice of to the practice of the Christian church in all ages, the assembly sees no cause for its introduction. The assembly at the same time deprecates the practice of congregations introducing such important changes without the sanction of the supreme court of the church. He said that one of the first reasons for the popularity of this nnovation is that a propagandism is persistently made by the manufacpersistently made by the manufacturers of these cups. PARIS, June 18 .- Dr. Garnault of this congress last year that it was impos-sible for human beings to catch tuber-culosis from cattle, and who went to Berlin and offered to make a practical test, his offer not being accepted, has since made an exhaustive study of the subject, and is convinced that Prof. Koch was not only mistaken, but he accuses him of deceiving public opin-

Dr. Garnault, in order to prove his contention, went to the slaughter houses of La Villette yesterday and inoculated himself with consumptive matter taken from a diseased cow, which had been seized and ordered to be destroyed. The operation was per-formed in the presence of three doc-tors. On the previous night Dr. Garnault blistered his forearm below the elbow, and after exposing the wound, from which the blood was flowing from which the blood was flowing freely, applied to it a poultice composed of pounded glands of the cow. He left this in contact with his flesh for two hours, and his arm was not washed or dressed afterwards. What remains of the glands will be injected into Guinea pigs. The doctor does not expect results for two or three weeks. The disease may then manifest itself in the form of a local affection, and thence to the lungs. Out of ten known cases to the lungs. Out of ten known cases of slaughter men who were accident ally contaminated, three have died and the health of the others was shattered. If the disease declares itself Dr. Garnault will be treated by Dr. peen exposed to the dangers of the contagion of bovine tuberculosis.

Dr. Garnault said: "The veins were avoided in inoculating in order to ob-tain the maximum demonstrative effects with the minmum risks. If contagion results, Professor Koch's error will be proved. If the result is nega-tive I shall make an intravenous injestion in one of my fingers, which I shall amputate if contagiou occurs."

The wife of Dr. Garnault was kept in ignorance of the experiment until he had been operated upon. She is now greatly distressed.

PRAISE FOR BOER WOMEN.

Gen. De Wet Thanks Them for Their Staunch Support During the War.

CAPE TOWN, June 15.-Gen. De Wet, the Boer leader, made a speech at Winburg on Thursday on the surrender of the adjoining Orange Free State commandos.

He went to the refugee camp and thanked the women for the staunch support they had given the Boer cause throughout the war, both on the veldt and in camp. He said that if the wo-men had not been staunch the burghers would have ben obliged to submit long ago. Even if all the burghers in the field had been killed in the course of the war it would have been the duty of the women to bring up their chil-dren to be as hardy as the burghers he had brought in that day. They were now under a new government, and that was the British government, and he had to explain them that it was a thoroughly lawful government. He added:

"I am under that government, as I

The police of the West Twentieth street station didn't hear about it until last night and Policeman Bonner was sent to the hospital to investigate. When he came back the policeman made out a slip on the case saying that the man was "married and a widower" and "suffering from a fractured os calcis."

a widower" and "suffering from a fractured os calcis."

"What's this he's got busted?" asked Sergt. "Andy" Devery.

The policeman replied that he didn't know and that the ambulance surgeon wrote the name out for him. Devery, however, became suspicious and fearing that there might have been foul play, sent the policeman back to the hospital to find out what an "os calcis" was. When he returned with the information that the fracture was that of a small bone in the heel, Sergt. Devery seemed relieved.

The preacher, who beforehand heard that the great pulpit orator was to be one of his hearers, laid himself out for the effort of his life. He dabbled deep into a difficult theological subject, reading his sermon from the manuscript before him. Indeed, his subject was so proford to wander from his text or to em-bellish it with oratorical display either by gesture of voice. The young preach-er met Dr. Talmage after the service and said to him:

"Doctor, I should feel it a great hon or if you would criticise my sermon." "My dear young man, you should put more fire into your sermons, or put more sermons into the fire," doctor's terse comment.

John C. Best, the Sackville man who was sentenced at Salem yesterday to be electrocuted during the week beginning Sept. 7, for murdering George E. Bailey at North Saugus, bears up well and appears resigned to his fate. As announced in the Sun some time ago, the governor will be asked to commute the sentence to one of life imprisonment. Best still maintains his innocence of the crime. Rev. I. H. Mellish visits the condemned man frequently and has done much towards keeping him in good spirits. Best is very anxious to see his aged father, Thomas E. DEATH OF WM. HENRY FLEWEL-LING.

Wm. H. Flewelling, one of the oldest inhabitants of Kingston, Kings Co., died quite suddenly on Monday at 10 a. m., at the residence of his son, G. D. Flewelling. Mr. Flewelling was born at Upper Clifton in September, 1811, and for almost a century has been identified with the interests of his native village. He married in 1835 Margaret Jane Puddington, and had a family of twelve, of whom nine survive. In 1885 Mr. and Mrs. Flewelling celebrated the 58th anniversary of their marriage, and three years later Mrs. Flewelling died.

Flewelling died.

Mr. Flewelling had enjoyed very good health and was enjoying a walk out of doors only an hour before his death. Naturally the blow came as a great shock to his family, as it will to a very large circle of friends. Beside seven daughters and two sons, he leaves thirty-six grandchildren and sixty-two great-grandchildren.

Mother's Girl.

There exists often a very beautiful companionship between the mother and her daughter. The intimacy is frank, free and sympathetic. But some day the mother feels as if something had chilled this intimacy. The child is silent and sad, and seems to shun her mother instead of seeking her.

DIGBY, N. S., June 18.—Captain James A Cosman, a leading ship owner of Meteghan Digby Co., N. S., some time since purchases the wrecked brigt. Ora, and partially broke her up at Warne's wharf. Last week had her towed to the Raynette, here, and a far as possible burned. This did not by any means put the ship out of existence. In stead of the vessel being left in the Rac quette and totally destroyed, she was yes terday towed out to sea, and left to drift about in the track of shipping. Inspector Fred L. Jones, now here in the Constance heard of the affair, and immediately wen in search of the derelict, or rather floatsam succeeding in finding it some miles off Digby Gut. The Constance towed the hulk into harbor and it now lies on shore about when the old barques Mina and John were broked up. ST. MARTINS.

The residence of Emery A. Titus, o Tuesday evening, June 17th, was a scene of gaiety, the occasion being the tenth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Titus. Their beautiful home was astefully decorated with cut flowers and potted plants. The invited guests numbered about 75, including some twenty from St. John. The bride of ten years ago was handsomely gowned in India musika, with chiffon and velvet ribbon trimmings, and received here guests with courteous grace and be-coming dignity, assisted by her husband and two youthful sons. Progressive anagrams formed the chief feature of the evenings' amusement, and was heartily indulged in by all. In the contest Miss Lily Rourke and Clinton Brown carried off first prizes, while the consolations were awarded Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Black. Refreshments were served at midnight. The bride was the recipient of a variety of beautiful gifts, from the "tin whistle" to the most costly silver, all attesting to the esteem in which Mr. and Mrs. Titus are held. Many good wishes were showered upon the happy couple, with the hope that long life may be granted and many happy returns of their wed. and many happy returns of their wedding day enjoyed.

DANISH WEST INDIES.

The Proposed Sale Will Figure in the Elections.

COPENHAGEN, June 18.—The op-onents of the sale of the Danish West Indies to the United States are again active, but privately they admit that active, but privately they admit that they are meeting with little success. The response to the appeal for funds to aid in the movement in opposition to the sale was decidedly weak. The meetings are held secretly, but beyond a few politicians, they have been attended mostly by business men interested in the proposed steamship line to the Island of St. Thomas. The government discountenances the anti-sale agitation. The Danish West Indies treaty will be a prominent issue of the campaign preceding the elections to the campaign preceding the elections to the Landsthing, which has already commenced. The premier, Dr. Duntzer, starts on a speechmaking tour next week.

Thhale Catarrhozone five minutes four times daily and it permanently cures Chronic Catarrh, Deafness, Asthma, Bronchitis, Lung Trouble to say that everybody in Windsor, lay and clerical of all denominations, are hoping that it will not be accomplished. Tomorrow the question will be decided. The first test of strength between the hostile camps will be at the meeting of the alumni in the forenoon. In the afternoon the governors, numbering 36, will convene for the final engagement and upon the tone of the alumni meetment and upon the tone of the alumni meeting depends to a considerable extent the result of the governor's meeting. Nobody can safely predict the outcome of tomorrow's meeting. The feeling here is that there will likely be a majority in the alumni against federation and that the government on the other hand are in favor of it. What the opponents of federation hope and are working for is that the alumni will pronounce so strongly against the proposals that the governors will feel they cannot disregard them. Many proxies will be used and new members chrolled. During the last two or three weeks the enemies in King's College of university federation have been putting in much hard work. Up to that time they seemed to be allowing matters to drift, but now the to be allowing matters to drift, but now the opposition appears to be very much alive, and tomorrow will see a big fight. It may be that the King's College authorities will compromise on the question. If the opponents of federation find that they cannot defeat it, they will then make a fight for post-ponement, asking that the matter be delayed for a year or for a longer period. There is a third party in this scene, men like Judge Hanington of New Brunswick, who are not in favor of federation, but who are radically in favor of federation, but who are radically and unalterably opposed to the present management of King's College, and who would like to dismiss the whole faculty, and close up the college for five or six years. This they think would enable the college to hus hand and accumulate its resources, making it ready in the future to resume work under new auspices and with an entirely new system of management and a new faculty. This afternoon's train brought in a contingent of alumni and governors, most of whom favor federation. Many more will arrive tomorrow morning.

It is understood that Harold Burrill, second son of Charles Burrill of Weymouth, who will graduate in arts on Thursday, has won the Governar General's medal with splendid marks. The closing exercises at Edgehill took place today and by common consent were the best in the history of the institution. The music was excellent, the pupils all appeared to be in perfect health, and in demeanor and bearing, they won unqualified praise. The school is full, there being 70 boarders in residence, and the telling feature is that seventeen old pupils came back from far distances to witness the improvement in Edgehill. A notable feature is the improvement in the study, the Ablet system having been introduced. This means drawing by sight instead of by sopy. Another feature is that drawings were sent to the Royal Drawing Institution in London, and the examiners returned 'high praise." The same novel feature was introduced with regard to sewing samples, which on being sent to London tor competition, were awarded 'praise.' Tonight the assault-at-arms took place at the Collegiate school. This school has more pupils than ever before, in fact it is full to overflowing. Its surplus this year will be more than $1,000. Mrs. C. W. Tefft, Markham, Ont., says:—"Up to the time my baby was a month old, he was a fine, healthy baby. Then indigestion developed and he grew thin and looked pinched. His tongue was coated, and his breath offensive. He vomited curdled milk and was also troubled with constipation. After taking his food he would always cry with pain, and although he always appeared hungry his food did him absolutely no good. He was very restless and sleepless and kept me up day and night. We tried several medicines but nothing did any good until we got Baby's Own Tablets. After giving him these he began to improve almost immediately. His breath became sweet, his tongue clean; the vomiting ceased; his bowels got regular, and he began to gain weight and is now quite healthy and rosy. Baby's Own Tablets wrought this beneficial change, and I would not now be without them in the house."

SIR WILFRID'S MISSION. Now that Sir Wilfrid Laurier is out of Canada his friends are preparing the mind of the Canadian people for another change of attitude on his part. In the house of commons a that he really and truly expected that something would be accomplished at establishing mutual preference cumstances had entirely changed sine the jubilee conference. He saw great meason for hope, and attached great significance to the fact that Great Britain had already begun to tax

The text of this cation has not been given out vague suggestions have been authorized. These tell us that Australla is afraid that if Britain gives a and these slanders on the British army preference to Australia, Germany will They have be angry, and will not buy Australian and honorable journalism in the French goods, or that Germany will retaliate by refusing to buy goods from Britain.

the Australian government has expressed such timid sentiments. Germany sells to Britain much more than Britain sells to her, and is not Meany to be the first to make trouble. same as Australia, selling nearly the same class of articles to Great Britain. But the premier of New Zealand is a most ardent and aggressive advocate of an imperial preference.

Why does not Sir Wilfrid Laurier speak out the way Mr. Seddon does? Suppose Mr. Barton hesitates, that is no reason why the voice of Canada should not be clearly and distinctly beard. Canada does not send her premier to London to take his lead from Mr. Barton. Sir Wilfrid is not asked by Canadians to give the casting vote against a charge after all the other colonial premiers have been heard. He is there, or should be there, to take the lead among the delegates in settling these imperial questions. What advantage is it that Canada should be the greatest of the British dominions beyond the sea, and that Sir Wilfrid should ride at the head of the Coromation procession, if our representative has not the courage or the initiative to take up a question like than and make use of his influence? Better that he should be at the tail of the procession and at the head of the conference, than that he should parade the street in front which he counts as a negative force only in the imperial deliberations.

Yet this attitude is the one that the Laurier organs in this country seem now to be accepting as his role Through Le Patrie Mr. Tarte gave the departing premier atrong counsel against consenting to any contribution by Canada to the defence of the Empire. This seems to be the one thing that Sir Wilfreds' supporters in Quebec semand of him, and it is easy to see that there is a fear lest the Canadian advocacy of preferential trade might involve the question of contributions for imperial defence. Le Soleil groups these together in this way: "We are in gregation in Canada and probably re-gether probable that the con at London will make no change. solutely none at all, in the po and commercial situation of the country as to the relations be Canada and Hngland."

This prediction will certainly erified if Sh Wilfrid again tunns pack on his professions and fails t advocate an imperial trade policy.

RAILROAD SPEED.

The New York Herald claims that the Twentieth Century limited between that city and Chicago on the New York Central is the fastest train in the world. It has an average speed Zealand is situated much the of 49 miles an hour, including stops for twenty hours, or 980 miles. There is a railway in France which makes 54 miles an hour, and two in Great Britain which average 50 miles. But in all these cases the distance is only half that between New York and Chicago and the argument is that the time made over the larger route is the more remarkable. It is pointed out that the New York Central train runs at the rate of eighty-five miles an hour for short distances. On several occasions the Pennsylvania train, which covers the distance between the two cities in the same time as the Central, was timed at ninety-five miles an hour. We may suppose that what is now the maximum speed may in a few years. become the average, and that the traveller may expect to be carried across country at a speed approaching one hundred miles an hour. Think of going from St. John to Montreal in part of an afternoon, and to the Pacific in a day and a half.

At the recent sale of pure bred shorthorns in Chicago the highest prices paid were given for Canadian cattle. The question of individual communion cups in the Presbyterian church is yet undecided. A committee of the assembly will inquire into the matter, which will probably be a topic for discussion another year.

History has repeated itself at Wind sor to the extent that the Kings lege alumni have voted down the versity federation proposition. But on this occasion the majority is small.

It will be some years before the gen eral assembly of the Canadian Presbyterian church will be as large a body as it is this year. The representation has been cut down one-third.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DROWN-ING.

George Worton, a twelve year old son of Samuel Worton, had a very narow escape from drowning at the foot of Acadia street yesterday morning about 11 s'clock. Young Worton, in company with a lad of about his age, Joseph Halpin, decided to stay away from school, not feeling very well and having attended a funeral early in the morning, the boys were looking for pleasure. At the foot of Acadia street they frolicked about a raft, when suddenly young Worton disappeared. His companion's cries for help attracted the attention of Gep. Lynch, a sailor of the sch. Hunter, who dove into the cold water and brought the almost drowned lad to the surface. An earnest effort was made to revive the unfortunate boy, but it was not till Drs. Roberts and Christie arrived that his recovery was assured. Last evening young Worton cossfuly Conducted the Case for the Accused.

BARRINGTON, N. S., June 18. Julius Rill, the young Jew peddler, is today on trial for his life in the su preme court here before Justice Rit chie. The crime with which he charged is the murder of Nathan Karlian, of Clark's Harbor, on the night

October 7th, 1901.

The story of the alleged murder was in brief as follows: Nathan Kaplan, who was the proprietor of a store at Clarke's Harbor, was murdered in his place of business on Monday night, October 7, 1901. On the night in question Kaplan and Rill were together in the store and some boys who were outside saw the two men in a heated discussion. This, was about eight o'clock. The night was dark, and shortly afterwards Kaplan was found dead with a bullet hole through his head, just behind the ear. When Kaplan's body was discovered the lights were burning in his store, and the door was wide open.

BARRINGTON, N. S., June 19.—The time at this morning's proceedings in the Julius Rill murder case was taken up with the evidence of four witnesses.

That wallet was found empty on the dead man's person a few minutes after the murder.

Detective Powers' testimony was very important. He exhibited a revolver which had been found under a bridge near the scene of the crime which was of the same pattern as the prisoner had bought in Yarmouth a few days previously. The detective produced some clipped bullets from a box of cartridges found in the prisoner are trunk which were similar to the one taken from the brain of Kaplan, also clipped in the same manner to suit the revolver.

The crown rested at 10 o'clock and L. A. Currey, K. C., of St. John began his address to the jury in behalf of the prisoner, which lasted an hour and a pill a dose, 25 cents a box.

ALLEGED P MSONING.

A St. Andrews des patch to last evening's Globe says: "A strange story has reached here of an attempt at polsaning, the alleged victim being Mrs. Cynthia Munson, an aged woman, who has been residing; at Piskehegan with her married davighter, Mrs. O'Hearn. When the old voman was invited to hreakfast the other marring by her daughter she was alarmed to find what she considered Paris green in her food. She took same of the food and became so deathly sick that she had to come to Rollingdam, where she is now being treated by Dr. Duffere. It is alleged here that the doctor considers her casa serious, and that she has made a sworn statement of the circumstances before a magistrate; also that her son-in-law has decamped. No arrests have been made." the Julius Rill murder case was taken up with the evidence of four witnesses for the crown.

Mrs. J. G. Nickerson deposed that on the night of the tragedy, about $30, she was at home when the prisoner came to the back door and knocked loudly. He rushed in past her in an excited manner and asked for Schanirsonn, a Jew pedlar, who boarded there when told that he was absent the prisoner said he would wait for him He sat down and wiped the perspirations from his brow. Shortly afterwards Schnairsonn arrived, and he said that Kplan was killed. Then the prisoner with an exclamation of surprise rushed out alone.

Other witnesses testified to being in Kaplan's store at 7 o'clock on the evening of the murder and seeing him have a large roll of bills in a walled. That wallet was found empty on the dead man's person a few minutes after the murder.

Detective Powers' testimony was very important. He exhibited a revolver which had been found under a bridge near the scene of the crime which was of the same pattern as the marked davighter, Mrs. O'Hearn, when the old voman was invited to breakfast the other marning by her daughter she was alarmed to find what she considered Paris green in her food. AT NETHERWOOD.

Interesting Closing Exercises of the Girls' School at Rothesay.

A large number of relatives friends of the pupils attended the closing of the Netherwood school for girls which was held at Rothesay Wednes day afternoon. The first part of the programme was carried out on the lawn in front of the school building.

At a quarter to three o'clock the ex-ercises commenced by a fancy drill arranged by Miss Ina Brown and performed by her class in calisthenics. This was followed by a reproduction of the pantimimic sketch A Dress Rehear sal, given at the concert held in the ch hall on Friday evening last The characters in the pantomine were taken by Misses Mary Robinson, Florence Murray, Louise Murray, Hayward, Sarab Buckley, Wooster, Ethel Wooster and

THE STUDIO

The studio presents a very pleasing ppearance this year. Tastefully deappearance this year. Tastefully d corated, as usual, in the school colo of white and yellow, it is especially in teresting to the friends of the scho ause of the great progress that has en made in this department during the past year. Many of the drawings of the pupils of Miss McGivern, who and painting, were placed about the walls, and some were of considerable merit. The drawings exhibited wer chiefly in black and white, but here and there a sketch in water colors or oils enlivened the array, and these combined with the masses of white li-lacs and double buttercups made this room one of the most sought out by the many visitors. The prize winners this year are Mi Sarah Buckley of New Jersey, Florence Murray of Fredericton, and little Miss Mary Burchill. Biss Buck ley, who only took up drawing last fall earns her prize because of the marke progress she has made in her work since joining the class. The sketches this young lady exhibits are chiefly studies in black and white from still s one of the youngest members of the class, being only eleven years of ago but no one examining the six or sever clever bits of perspective that are on exhibition, would imagine them to be the work of so young a student. Miss Florence Murray, who gains her prize work, exhibits several attractive studtes in oils from the still life and shows considerable cleverness in the hand-ling of her medium. Others exhibiting are Miss Charlotte Vassie, Miss Alice Richardson, Miss Dorothy Brennah Miss Florence Pitfield, Miss Lilian Ratchford, Miss Harriet Vincent, Miss Molly Robinson and Miss Louise Murray. From the merit of many of the studies exhibited those awarding the prizes must have had a difficult task in selecting the prize winners.

TORONTO, June 17.-The Evening Telegram's London cable says: It was nded that immediately rival the Canadian coronation contingent should proceed at once by special train to London. Rain fell heavily, and the contingent remained on the steamer Parisian over night. The Lord Mayor of Liverpool boarded the steamer and cordially welcomed the steamer and cordially welcomed the arl of Minto. He then addr Canadian troops from the bridge. Regret was expressed that the original programme for the reception of the Canadians had to be abandoned on account of the rain. The Lord Mayor said he was gratified to have the condeeply grateful to the dominion of Canada for services rendered in South Africa. The colonies, he declared, had stood by the mother country, and every, one rejoiced at the return of peace. The war has cemented the color Britain more closely than before Lieut. Col. Pellatt returned thanks and the troops cheered heartily. The contingent arrived at Alexandra Palace this afternoon at 3.30 o'clock. The men are quartered in nine large marquees with board floorings, sixty men in each. The incessant rain of the past few weeks has made the ground very soggy and unpleasant. The men are in splendid health and presented a soldierly appearance. They were greatly admired by the throng of people awaiting their arrival at the palace.

There are eight acres of sandy ground near Los Angeles, Cal., devoted to pidgeon raising, says the American Boy. Fifteen thousand pigeons cover the ground and the immense pigeon loft. If the demand for pigeons should fall the owner of this ranch should fall the owner of this ranch would have in two years 1,000,000 birds on his hands. Fortunately for him, the demand is greater than the supply, and the pigeon ranch sends out about 40,000 squabs a year to market. The estimated output of the ranch for the month is 8,000 birds. The average price per dozen for the birds ranges from $3 up to $10. The birds are fed three times a day each meal costing about $5. The a day, each meal costing about $5. PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.

In the course of his address the president said the registered attend at the college, apart from the col vatory, for the past year was 224, the tory, apart from the college, 363. For all departments of the college and conservatory taken together the total of pupils registered for the vear was 473.

Not only has the attendance been good, but the work in all departments has been pre-eminently satisfactory. Some departments have been carried on under new or changed conditions. This is the case with out gymnastic or calisthenic department. The magni-Work led us this year to supersede our usual trained lady teacher by the appointment of Sergt. In regard to the work of the college in general, we believe that it is reaching a higher standard of excelиг ру уе coming more and more favorably knewn at home and abroad. Wherever they go, our students rank among the foremost. Among similar instances may be mentioned a very young lady graduate who two years ago won a very valuable scholarship in Dal-housie, and who has continued her studies in that institution with marked distinction. Last year two of our graduates entered Dalhousie as under-graduates in full standing, and have acquitted themselves with credit. This year McGill has agreed to admit our graduates to full standing of undergraduates of the first year without

After referring to some changes in the staff. Dr. Laing said: One other change there will be. We ropose to establish a department or school of domestic science in connec-tion with the college. There can be no doubt as to the need of such a de-partment. From land's end to land's end, in town and country, there is no subject that calls for more pressing and immediate attention and study. A fuller and more widely diffused know-ledge of domestic affairs is one of the great needs of our day, and it is in the hope of being able to do some good in that direction that we are estab-lishing this school or department of domestic science. We are not sure what this school will include, but certainly cookery, hygiene, the chemistry of food, housekeeping and such like. We have engaged a thoroughly

OUR BUCKWHEAT CAKES

Our home is very small and plain,
We have no steam or gas;
We have no nickel-plated range
On which to cook, alas!
Our food is plain as plain can be,
We have no stomachaches,
Unless, perhaps, it's when we eat
A meal of buckwheat cakes.

When winter spreads across the hills, With everything froze tight;
Then mother gets her buckwheat out And strs it up at night.
She lets it stand behind the stove
Till early morning breaks,
And then she greases up the pan
To fry her buckwheat cakes.

Well, talk about a banquet fair,
With all its filigree;
It can't compare with mother's cakes
For dad or John or me.
We eat and eat while mother fries,
A score or more it takes
To half way ease our appetites
Of mother's buckwheat cakes.

I like to se her standing there
Like one born to command,
The old black spider smoking hot,
With knife and fork in hand.
What care we if our youthful flesh
In coarse goosepimples breaks—
We're healthy, happy and content
On mother's buckwheat cakes.

A short time ago two practicing Christian Scientists in Zurich were fined under a mistaken application of the medical laws in existence there. They refused to pay and asked to have the case tried in court. At the trial sworn testimony was taken of cases of healing, the fine was re-enforced, the of nealing, the line was re-entoricu, the decision given that Christian Science was mere suggestive therapeutics. WINDSOR, N. S., June 18.-The lumni of King's College spent eight nours today over the discussion of the question of federation between that college and Dalhousie. Richard Bateman of St. David had his hand hadly injured on Morder by the content of the morning. The bishop announced to the meeting that the vote was practically a tie and that he would so report to the governors at the meeting to commence in the evening. Bishop Courtney had sat silent all day long, his only speech on the subject being the closing one of the debate, in which he stated the various arguments that had been advanced against federation and replied to them.

It was generally expected that the governors tonight would endorse the scheme of federation, notwithstanding the action of alumni. Had their vote been strongly against federation, the governors' course tonight might possibly have been different.

This is the text of the resolution which was discussed the greater part of the day but finally withdrawn: "Resolved, that it would be a distinct and unwarrantable departure from principles upon which Dalhouste College was founded, and which it has always maintained, and that it would come exceedingly near violation of her charter and breach of trust to become party to a scheme for estab-lishing a university from which all re-cognition of religion would be elimin-

LONDON, June 18. - When the ouse of commons took up the consideration of the amended finance bill this afternoon John Morley precipitated a long debate by moving to omit the clause imposing a duty on grain. Sir Charles Dilke and others of the opposition demanded a specific stateopposition demanded a specific statement from the chancellor of the exchequer in regard to the government's attitude at the coming conference of the colonial premiers. It was obvious, it was asserted, that the conference might change the whole fiscal policy of the country, and before committing itself the government ought to give itself the government ought to give the house an opportunity for full dis-sussion of the matter. The chanceller of the exchequer em phatically repudiated the suggestion that the government was contemplating a revolution in the financial policy and said in behalf of himself and his colleagues that he wholly disavowed such an idea. It was not the policy of the government to endeavor to en-courage trade with the colonies by in-itiating a tariff war with other coun-

The government has finally decided that it will be necessary to have an autumn session of parliament in order to dispose of the education bill and other business.

There is excitement in political circles here as a result of the announcement that the Duke of Westminster intends to take an active part in politics as a supporter of Sir Campbelltics as a supporter of Sir Campbell-Bannerman, the liberal leader in the Bannerman, the liberal leader in the house of commons. This decision is somewhat surprising, as the Duke of Westminster served a year in South Africa as private secretary to Lord Milner, the British high commissioner. The Duke's accession to the liberal ranks is likely to be important from the view point of party finance.

Some familiar texts are like powerful tonics. They have a snap and strength which we do not always and in the water of life when it is held in strange and peculiarly labeled bottles. They are like the lullables with which They are like the inliables with which we were sung to sleep in childhood. They have been repeated over and over again by the lips of our departed loved ones, so that each word is made sacred by holy associations. Every time we speak them it seems as though these into the vestibule of the church in which the service was held when we gave our hearts to God. Or these texts are associated with the sermons of some famous minister, which we have either read of heard.

But though many great preachers have spoken from this text and though many holy associations gather around its words yet I would fain speak upon am passionately fond of the country. Therefore any text which has in it the figure of the sower and the reaper, any simile which is scented with the smell of the new mown hay or of the clover tops, and figure which echoes the song of the wood robin or the call of the nightingale, any text which is glinted with the golden colors of the wheat fields or reddened with the hecwheat fields or reddened with the hec-tic flush of the autumn leaf, has for me an intense and suggestive fascina-tion. My heart never beats more ex-ultantly than when it is keeping time to the music of the mowing machine or to the swish of the swinging scythe.

nd reason why I speak from oday is because the springthis text today is because the spring-time of the year, when the American sower went forth to sow, is only a few weeks past. The plows only a shortime ago had the rust of many month rubbed off their sharp noses. The har-row's teeth are yet white from ohew-ing and breaking the sods. And the sower, with his bag of seed hanging upon one arm and his handful of see swinging at the end of the other arn only a short time ago, with measured tread, went across the fields, scatter-ing the sens to the right and to the left. May God help us to teach the lessons of a sinner's retribution in the language of the spring plowing.

As there is a spiritual law in the na tural world so there is a natural law in the spiritual world. And the sower to the flesh has no more right to expect to gather a crop of barley from wheat seeds or a crop of oats wheat seeds or a crop of oats from corn seeds or a crop of potatoes from musk-melon seeds. Any sinner who is trying to argue himself into a different spiritual belief is not only modding God, but making bimself ridiculous. Elon Poster tells us that one day a sinful Roman master told his Chr tian slave to go into a certain field a tian slave to go into a centain field and sow a crop of barley. When the time of harvest came, the master returned to that field and found there a harvest of oats ready to be gathered. In indignation he called his slave and asked: "Did I npt command you to sow here a field of barley? Why, then have ye sown cate?" The Christian slave answered, "Master, I sowed oat seed in the hope that they would grow up into harley." His master gruffly said: "What coolishness is this? Has ever any one heard that cat seeds will produce a harvest of barley?" "Ah master," replied the Christian slave

"you yourself are constantly sowing in the world the seed of evil, and yet you expect to reap in the resurrection day the fruits of virtue. Therefore I thought also that I might get barley by sowing oats." And the sinful master was abashed and could not answer

"A FEW WILD OATS."

Go where you will you will find that the sower to the fish always reaps a harvest of corruption. Sit with the judge upon the bench, and he will tell you that the young man standing before him for sentence did not think that the seed of sin which he planted in secret would ever take root and begin to sprout. He did not think that his sewing a few "wild oats" would goor cause his own dewnfall. Yet God ever cause his own downfall. Yet God was watching him sow those seeds. His employers were watching him. Almost every large business house in the great cities has spices detailed to follow the tracks of its employes. So when the money disappeared from the safe the detective haturally hunted up the young man who spent his Sundays at the races, the one whose compandons were not what they ought to have been. They naturally came to that young man and put the hands of the law upon his shoulder, saying. "Come, young man the convict's cell awaits you. Come!"

The physician in the sick noom will teach you that the sower of the flesh always reaps the conruption of the flesh. Upon the bed of suffering lies an invalid. we and he will teach you the same lesson.

He will tell you that though a man may repent of his sins he must up to the grave's edge suffer from his past misdeeds. God may forgive the sinner and all the results of the past evil may cease when the sinner robes himself in the white garments of the redeer but all through the remainder of the sinner's earthly career he must suffer for the evil which he has done. The minister will tell you that one of the saddest sights of Christian work is to see an old man who has been converted at the eleventh hour hobbling along upon his cane through the harvests of where. He stumbles through the har wests which have come from the seeds of his own planting.

LAWS OF THE FIELDS.

The seeds of the flesh by the inexor ble laws of the fields are expected to produce more of a harvest than the original seeds which have been sown. It would be folly for the farmer to sow 600 kernels of corn if he could only receive in return half a dozen ears of corn; to plant twenty or thirty peas if he could gather in return but a few pods, or to labor at all if for every planted seed there would come up only ne kernel in return. But when the farmer has a small bag of wheat seeds he says to himself: "Now if I properly ow and harrow the ground and plant lose seeds right I will be able to gather a whole field of golden grain. One of my seeds will be able to re-produce itself many, many times." in Franklin once said that the ductive power, the prolificness of vegetable life, is simply inconceivable and without limit. We all remember Daniel De Foe's story of the ship-wrecked sailor. He found half a dozen small wheat seeds, from those few seeds he was able to develop all the wheat he wanted, both for himself and flesh grow. One evil seed will become the parent of many evil seeds, the grand parent of a host of evil seeds and evil harvests. A sower unto the flesh always reap more corruption than he expected to gather.

New York city about a century ago.

Just before his execution he testified that the first time he murdered a man his horror and remorse was so great that he could not sleep for weeks. But after this monster had continued to wet his dips with human blood he declared that he could drive his sword into the heart of a woman or a child with no more compunction than he would bury his teeth in a piece of bread. He would sleep as peacefully after murdering a a ship's evew as when a babe he closed his eyes in his mother's arms. The first lie is the difficult lie to tell, not the tenth, not the twentieth, not the fifti-eth. It is the first glass of whiskey which is the hardest to drink, not the one which the drunkard takes just be-fore he enters the reptile inhabited dungeous of delirum tremons. It is the first seed of sin which is hard to sow, not the fiftleth nor the one hun-dredth. And each one of the tares sown is able to reproduce itself in evil habits a millionfold. A sower always expects to reap more than he plants. And if the evil results of tare planting are so awful in reference to our own tives how much more awful must be the results when we plant those tares in the lives of others. A woman who had talked unjustly against heighbors once went to a priest for confession. After she had told the priest the evil she had done her neighbors. bors she asked him what she would do to undo the wrong. The priest gave, her a handful of nettle seeds and bade her go and scatter those nettle seeds over a field and then come back to him. After the woman had done as she was told she came back to the "Now," said the priest, "go and gather those nettle seeds up again."

"Oh," said the woman, "I cannot."
"Neither," answered the priest, "can you ever undo the wrongs which you have done against your neighbors."

Awful must be the remorse when a Awful must be the remorse when a converted man realizes that by his single ful sowing he has developed a harvest of corruption in the hearts of his neighbors. If he has planted there the evil seeds, some of them will come up. The natural and spiritual laws are the est of the flesh which she had planted a fifth of a century before. It was in our old Brooklyn home. The doorbell rang. I went to the door and ushered into the parlor a lady dressed in deep mourning. Her face revealed the marks of intense suffering. When my father came down in answer to my summons, the lady began to plead with him to intercede with the governor for the life of her boy. He was a young man under sentence of death. He was to be and was electrocuted within six weeks. "Dr. Talmage," she said, "I want you to plead with the governor because my boy's life is all the result of my past sins. When he was a little child, he was very sick. The doctors gave him up and said he had to die. Then I knelt by my son's bed and defied God. I said: 'O, God. I You can destroy his soul, you can destroy mine, but I will not and slight not give him up. Then, strange to say, Dr. Talmage, the boy had a sudden change toward physical recovery, In spite of all the doctors said, he got his negro servant.

It would be a happy solution to the sinner if when he sowed one evil seed he should get back one evil result. But life was changed toward God, and life was changed toward God, and now I must reap the results of my past sins in my boy's execution. Oh, sir, will you not plead with the governor later we shall all reap our earthly and eternal harvest of agony.

The seeds of the fiesh always probe employed in the reaping. One man can plant in a day what it will take a of his sowing. So every farmer has to look ahead to prepare for the har-vest time. And if he is the owner of a large farm he rides around the country engaging extra laborers for the reaping. When the wheat is ripe it must be cut and carried into the barns right away, else the grain will fall off and the farmer will have no results from his planting but straw, which he uses for stall bedding. Six seven, eight months of the year you may find unemployed men in the country. But during harvest time every healthy man can find work and big wages, if he is only willing to work and knows how to wield a scythe or now to tie up the sheaves of grains Who are the reapers engaged before-hand to help the sower to the flesh gather in his greatest harvest, which is grave? SOW TO THE SPIRIT NOW.

But, my sinful friend, even with all your sinful past, is that right? Is that what Christ would have you do? If you had a wayward boy, and he had run away from home and trampled upon your bleeding heart for many years, would you want him to stay away and die hardened against you and ful and wayward? No! If you knew where he was dying today, you would go, if necessary, without even a change of garments. You would walk up and down the train while it was in motion, because your anxiety would not let you sit still, and you would rush into the hospital and rush to the ward and throw yourself by his bed just to give him a kiss of love and pardon. So Jesus today begs you to live for him and come to him. My brother, will you let the coarse he the plays to chapte your the cross be the plow to change your heart? Will you take the good seed in your hand and go forth to sow to the Spirit, so that you may reap life ever

An angel seemed to lead him up and up angel seemed to lead him up an until the dying man stood upon the until the dying man stood upon the heights of a great mountain. Then the angel asked him. "Dying man, dost thou see anything?" And as John Todd shaded his eyes to look he saw away off in the distance a flend incaraway off in the distance a fiend incarnate. The face of that fiend had upon it the look of unutterable we. The features were so hideous and the sufferings of this lost spirit were so great that John Todd hid his face in his hands, crying: "Enough, enough! I cannot look any longer." They the ngel turned and said: "That lost spirit, O dying man, would have been your own had not your soul been cleansed by the blood of the Lamb." Then the ingel of the Lord said, "Look, O dying mother's sins?" That woman reaped the harvest of her corruption 22 years after the seed of sin was sown. So when we sow to the flesh sooner or a robe as white as the driven snow. The eyes were as loving as the purest love could express. The lips were moving in joyful praise. The sower would be helpless if he himself had to gather in all the results. He said he knew not whether he had seen a vision or had been talking face to face with Christ. So, like John Todd's vision, this sermon, teaches two lessons: The one points down the road over which are dragged the tares that are to be burned in the everlasting fires. The other points down the road over which the sheaves of wheat are triumphantly carried into the gospel granaries. May the prayers of our loved ones and the sac-rifice of Christ plead prevailingly with us not to sow corruption, but life ever-lasting. Yet all human beings are free agents to do as they will. They can accept or reject Christ. They can gather ofther harvest. "For whats soweth, that shall he also reap."

ers. They are Satan and all bis evil spirits. They are the demons that live in the impenetrable darkness of a lower world. They are the demons who will gather only the most corrupt of harvests. It is said that the week before Mazarin, the sinful French cardinal, died, he hobbied through his art galleries crying and moaning: "Must I leave you, oh, my beautiful pictures? Must I give you up?" And the day before he died he had himself roused and painted, and his servants passed before him and bowed and kissed his hand and mockingly told him how well he looked. And when the French statesman died he was bolstered up in bed, playing a game of cards! But when the Satanic reapers came, to gather that man's harvest of corruption they did not take along Mazarin's pictures or his cardinal's hat, which he had disgraced. They took only away his depraved heart. Manzarin sowed to the fiesh. The Satanic reapers came, to gather that man's harvest of corruption away his depraved heart. Manzarin sowed to the fiesh. not, I dare not come to Christ now. I have had too black a past. I have sown too many evil seeds to the flesh I feel a great deal like that young college boy who was dying from an ac-cident in Edinburgh. When the chap-lain knelt by his bedside and said, 'My lad, will you repent of your sins and look to Christ?' he answered: 'No, sir. I have served the devil all my life, and served him well, and now at this last ask Christ to take my broken down body and my wreck of a life. No, sir, I would not be so mean."
