

AN AGREEMENT WITH RUSSIA IMPROBABLE

This Conviction Disappointing to Those Who Hoped for Something from Genoa.

FRENCH ATTITUDE UNDERGOES CHANGE

Now Favor Commission to Investigate Russian Affairs and Report to Powers.

Genoa, May 12.—So gravely at variance are Russia's Communism and the order of things obtaining throughout the rest of Europe that a general immediate agreement with Russia appears tonight improbable. This conviction is deeply disappointing to those who expected quick and big results at Genoa, and the Italian leaders are tempered by the belief that the creation of one or more commissions to pursue an exhaustive study of the Russian problems will prove efficacious in finding a means to reconstruct Russia and bring her back into the European family. Furthermore, Premier Lloyd George and the Italian leaders are convinced that the signing of a European truce as a preliminary to a general non-aggression pact, will go a long way towards tranquillizing Europe.

French Attitude Changes

Hopes of eventually accomplishing something genuinely constructive for Russia were increased tonight by an announcement from the French delegation that France favors the appointment of a commission for investigations of questions like credits, debts and the treatment of foreign private property, and approves, also, a general truce, provided it is understood that while the commissions are engaged in their labors, the Powers will not follow the footsteps of Germany and make separate treaties with Russia. The French resent accusations that they tried to wreck the conference; they assert that the present situation justifies their view that the Russian problem has not been sufficiently studied, and that something more should have been done to approximate the views of the British and the representatives of non-Communist States before hoping to reach a general sweeping accord at Genoa. In other words, they believe that the Russian problem, through investigation by a commission which will probably visit Russia, is being attacked now in a proper and logical manner, and they therefore approve the contemplated procedure.

Prefer internationalism. The French apparently prefer an investigation by an international commission without Russians sitting thereon. Yet, tonight a French spokesman said that France would not oppose the presence of Russians. Soviet Russia, by its attitude, in the opinion of the Italians, has lost the opportunity at Genoa, as the Genoa Conference would create the machinery to save Russia and Europe.

It is understood among the leaders that the work of the proposed Russian commission must be clearly defined. Indeed, it is understood that the scope of the investigating boards should form the subject of a carefully framed agreement seems determined not to leave this city until something constructive has been accomplished to prevent the recurrence of Europe's troubles, because failure and disunion among the Powers would only render the general situation perilous.

BARGAINING WITH ONE'S OWN FAMILY

Canada Made Some Money Selling Ford Cars to Great Britain.

Ottawa, May 12.—(Canadian Press)—One hundred and ninety pounds for a Ford car, or at the present rate of exchange $856. This is the price that was paid to Canada by Great Britain in the settlement of war accounts. The cars cost Canada one hundred pounds, or on the same rate of exchange, $440.

This information came out in the public accounts committee this morning in an enquiry into the war settlement, and it drew a protest from T. B. Ryckman, Conservative member for West Toronto. "I am willing to bargain," he said, "but when I am bargaining with my own family I do not want to make a bargain that is unfair."

N. G. VALIQUETTE

CANADIAN NAVY IS TO RECEIVE A DRASTIC CUT

Cruiser Aurora and Destroyers Patriot and Patricia Are to be Laid Up.

These to be Used in Training Volunteer Force in Protection of Harbors.

Ottawa, May 12.—The Canadian Navy is to receive a drastic cut. A closely attended session of the House, Hon. G. I. Grankin, Minister of Defence, this afternoon, announced the naval policy of the present government in brief. It provides that: 1. Five ships are to be laid up. These are the cruiser Aurora and the destroyers Patriot and Patricia, presented to Canada by Great Britain after the armistice. The other two ships laid up are submarines.

NAVAL SHIPS THROWN INTO SCRAP HEAP

Canada Has Ceased to be Even a Claimant as Naval Power.

KING SURRENDERS TO QUEBEC NATIONALS

Parliament Stunned by Government Proposals Affecting the Canadian Navy.

Special to The Standard: Ottawa, May 12.—Canada, with her 5,000 miles of seacoast, has ceased to be even a claimant as a naval power. In a measure brought to Parliament today by Mr. Grankin, the Minister of Defence, the King Government throws what naval ships we have into the scrap heap, withdraws the Canadian naval ensign from the seas, and puts Canada into a position of ignominious helplessness as a factor in the world. The ships which were British Admiralty sent us last year are to be laid up; no new ships are to be bought, built or planned, and six small craft, four of them to be trawlers, are all that is to remain as Canada's navy in defending the Commonwealth of British Nations in which she claims equality.

Parliament Stunned

The proposal, announced to a well filled House today, has stunned Parliament. It had been generally believed that reductions would be made, but the word, "parliamentary" never believed that practically the whole of the naval organization of the country would be scrapped. On the other side of the committee heard that Nationalist Quebec has triumphed. Nor is the comment an unjust one. For the proposals translated into a Government measure today are precisely those which Henri Bourassa and the Nationalist party have been preaching in Quebec ever since the war first started. That Canada should do something in the way of naval defense. It is what the Nationalists preached when Sir Robert Borden brought down his three dreadnoughts in 1912, and it is the fulfillment of the doctrine which the Liberal Nationalist Alliance has been clamoring for since.

Parliament Stunned

Nobody takes seriously the proposal to make seamen by taking young men to stations at Halifax and Esquimaux and putting them on board trawlers for three months of the year. The scheme is regarded as little better than a joke. Mr. Meighen today was too surprised to speak. The step taken was so serious a character that even the leader of the Opposition, ever ready to take up the gauntlet, asked for delay. Such a step, turning Canada from the path of clear duty to Empire, making a sham and a mockery of our professions of independence, putting us in the position of sponsors upon the taxpayers of Great Britain, that Mr. Meighen could hardly realize its sinister significance.

Bitter Fight Coming

But a bitter fight is coming. In the corridors tonight Conservatives declared that they will fight the proposal to the last ditch; that they will evoke every bit of red blood and every bit of imperial sentiment in Canada against what they declare to be an action so base as to be unworthy of a nation which claims to be British. As for the Progressives, their position is more doubtful. They are still for economy and supported the Liberals in their demand upon the militia, but, on the other hand, there are many of them in whom the spirit of loyalty and British attachment is strong, and it may be that they will protest. In any case, the end is not yet. The Conservative party is a small but a well disciplined fighting force, and they will not submit to this latest act of submission without a sturdy battle.

AMERICAN PREPAREDNESS WOULD HAVE AVERTED WAR

General Pershing Urges Three-Fold Plan to Avoid "Another Humiliating Experience"—National Guard First Bulwark of Defence—Standing Army Now at Lowest Safety Point.

New York, May 12—General Pershing, writing of "Our Plans for the National Defense," in the current American Legion Weekly, maintains that the absolute minimum in the standing army below which it is highly dangerous to reduce already has been reached.

Reviewing regrettable experiences attributed to unpreparedness of the United States in past wars, the general writes that "as to the World War I firmly believe that a substantial condition of preparedness of our land and naval forces, backed by an adequate merchant marine, would have kept us out of war, and would have placed us in a position to have brought it to an early termination."

"Moreover," he continues, "it is not too much to say that under these conditions and with strong leadership, we might have prevented the World War altogether."

In his article, General Pershing visualizes the tripartite army which "we are struggling to create" under the Reorganization Act of June, 1920, a melting of regulars, trained national guardsmen and a large citizen reserve into a homogeneous whole.

"The story of American wars is one of gallant deeds and great personal courage on the part of the individual officer and soldier, but lack of preparation and training has always led to undue loss of life and heavy financial burdens," the general writes.

"While we boast of having been victorious in our early foreign wars, it was due more directly to the weakness of the enemy and his engagements elsewhere than to the exercise of wise forethought in preparation of our superior strategical ability on the part of our forces or their leaders.

"In the Civil War, even a small well-trained force would probably have ended the war before the entire country became involved and would have saved the loss of thousands of lives and untold treasure on both sides."

"Never until our last experience have we sought a remedy for the avoidance of past errors," he continues, but after each war we have gone serenely back to the policy of saving a few dollars that should be spent for moderate preparation in order to meet the billions spent because of lack of preparation."

At this point General Pershing expresses the belief that American preparedness and strong leadership might have prevented the World War.

"The majority of the trustees were in attendance in addition to the presentation of diplomas there was a presentation of special prizes donated by Col. Loggie and Dr. G. C. Van-war."

The student nurses who received the diplomas are as follows: Miss Kate Johnson, Woodstock; Miss Nellie Stafford, Marysville; Miss Daisy Storehouse, Blackville; Miss Olga Pugh, Bards Corner; Miss Marion McDonald, Nasquanabata; Miss Cora Jewett, Keswick; Miss Ethel Combley, Campbellton; Miss Nora Dixon, Masseyville.

A dance followed the public ceremony.

British Naval Radio Station Burned

Mutineers of Irish Republican Army Set Torch to Station They Were Occupying.

Belfast, May 12—The British naval radio station at Burnage, Donegal, has been completely destroyed by fire. This was the station from which mutineers of the Irish Republican Army recently evicted the British coast guards, the mutineers since that time building gunboats.

On Wednesday the furniture and other contents were unhooked and removed by local firemen. Last night the mutineers set fire to the building the people sitting in the window frames and other fittings so far as the flames permitted. The mutineers seized the building and blew up the station. In some instances automobiles.

Daily Fashion Hint

Pershing explains, would be built on the structural framework taken bodily from the world war, so that the traditions, spirit and prestige the great combat units would be perpetuated.

"The combat component of the regular army in the United States is so small as to be almost negligible in the event of hostilities with a first-class power," the general declares.

"Any arrangement that contemplates our taking the offensive immediately upon the outbreak of a great war is impracticable because of the immense expense involved in time of peace and is impossible because it would not be in keeping with our democratic ideals."

Summing up, General Pershing says: "Contrast the National Guard and the Regular Army, holding the battle line while the greater army of reserves is being formed, with our ignominious plight during the first year of the late war, when we were forced to depend upon the armies of France and England to defend our interests until the American expeditionary forces could be brought into the field."

"As this is written, Congress is engaged in the consideration of drastic reductions in our professional personnel, and in the sums estimated as necessary for the training and equipment of the citizen forces. No training man can be justified in demanding a large professional army, but there is an absolute minimum below which it is highly dangerous to descend, and that we have already reached. The obligation of the professional soldier to defend our colonial possessions, particularly the important outposts of Hawaii and the Philippines, and to carry out duties explicitly set forth in the law for the organization and training of the citizen forces, remains unchanged."

"Here is Canada, now where is my ranch?" In This Manner His Royal Highness Greeted Canada at Tokio Peace Exhibition.

Tokio, April 18—(By Mail)—"Here's Canada! Look at this! I've been to all these places. Where's my ranch?" In this characteristic, rapid-fire fashion did His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales greet Canada as he came to a halt before the twenty-foot illuminated map of this country that hangs in the Canadian Pacific Railway exhibit at the Tokio Peace Exhibition, recently opened.

The "E. P. Ranch" in Alberta, which the Prince bought during his trip, was duly pointed out, together with Banff, Lake Louise and Timmins, all associated in the Royal mind with recollections of one kind or another.

J. Rankine, agent of the Canadian Pacific Steamship, was present, and to him and W. R. Bruce, who directs the exhibit, the Prince expressed his pleasure over the exhibit and his hopes that it would draw Japan and the Dominion of Canada into closer relations for their mutual benefit.

The Prince's visit to the British Pavilion was noted by the Japanese press, which lay in wait and drew much favorable comment to Canada.

MRS. STILLMAN CONFRONTED WITH LETTERS

The So-Called "Confession Letter" Was Not Admitted in Evidence.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., May 12—The so-called "confession letter" alleged to have been written by Mrs. Anne U. Stillman to James A. Stillman, New York banker, six months before the birth of Guy Stillman in 1918, again was "not allowed" today as evidence in the banker's divorce suit.

In the "dear family" letter it was said, Mrs. Stillman told of making small purchases such as soap and a wash rag, and of becoming acquainted with the policemen in wandering about Buffalo.

SENATE TAKES UP CONSIDERATION OF JUDGES' ACT

Would Grease the Way for Judge's Refusing to Resign on Request.

Ottawa, May 12—(Canadian Press)—On consideration of the Judges' Act today in the Senate, Hon. Mr. Barnard gave notice of an amendment to the effect that the Governor-General in council, on the recommendation of the Minister of Justice, after three months' notice had been served on a judge who through age or other infirmity was unable to perform his duties and who still refused to retire, that the salary of the said judge be reduced to $1 a year, and continue at this amount until he retires when his retiring allowances would be based on the salary previous to notice being given of the desire for his resignation.

Str George Foster said that every effort should be made to keep the Judiciary free from political interference. While there was no doubt that some steps would have to be taken to secure the retirement of incapacitated judges, he asked that further time be given for consideration of the amendment.

Senator Dandurand was in sympathy with the object of the amendment, but expressed the opinion that it might probably be secured by a separate bill.

Senator Robertson believed that Senator Barnard was justified in proposing his amendment as there appeared unanimity in the Senate on this question displayed in previous debates.

Consideration of the bill was carried over until Wednesday.

The Senate adjourned until Tuesday night at eight P.M.

WILSON ACTIVITY IN MISSOURI IS A PUZZLE TO POLITICIANS

Many Feel Feud With Mr. Reed May Only Promote Prospects of Republican Senatorial Nominee.

Washington, May 11.—Woodrow Wilson's third intervention within a month in the Missouri senatorial fight—the latest his letter to Lon V. Sells, one-time Governor of Missouri, and his endorsement of Sells' defeat as a Democratic "marriage"—revives interest in the erstwhile President's political intentions. Opinion is divided between a belief that Mr. Wilson aspires to party domination and an impression, however untenable, that he has designs on a third nomination for the Presidency. Some of his reputed spokesmen now are hinting that he wants a nomination only for the purpose of being privileged to decline the honor. They intimate he is entirely aware of his incapacity to be a candidate again, but suggest Mr. Wilson wants the "windfall" which he won at San Francisco two years ago.

An expression of Wilsonian activity in Missouri which has a more intelligible background is his endorsement of James A. Reed out of the way as a factor in Democratic politics. The personal reasons inspiring the Wilson-Reed feud became aggravated on the League of Nations fight in 1919. On the eve of Mr. Wilson's first return from Paris, to launch his crusade on behalf of the covenant, Senator Reed, on Washington's Birthday, 1919, fired the opening gun against it. It was a four-hour speech full of invective. Mr. Wilson was deeply aggrieved, particularly because it was a member of his own party who was the first to launch the attack. Then and there, so it is related by insiders at Washington today, Woodrow Wilson decided to wage struggle against the Missourian, decided to reach his zenith in the fight he now leading to "break" Mr. Reed in the Missouri primaries.

Experiences in San Francisco. Senator Reed's friends charge Wilson influence with being mainly responsible for the attempt to read the Senator out of the Democratic party in Missouri, and the Nation, in 1920. His home district in Kansas City had named Senator Reed as a delegate to the state convention at Joplin at which the delegation to the national convention in San Francisco was to be chosen. The Joplin convention turned Mr. Reed down. His refusal to accept him as a delegate was based on the accusation that he had not proved himself a loyal and true Democrat. Then Kansas City sent him to San Francisco. There again he was given the cold shoulder. The committee on credentials decided Kansas City had no right to impose its selection on the national convention. It ruled that if he had no credentials from the state convention at Joplin he was not entitled to expect to receive recognition at San Francisco. Woodrow Wilson's friends were in control at the Golden Gate. Mr. Reed scribbles his woes there to Mr. Wilson.

Washington politicians are watching the Wilson-Reed controversy in Missouri with the liveliest interest. They believe the one-time President's intervention in the state primary struggle will make it the most sensational in the country. Mr. Reed's powers as a campaigner are well known. He is the type of politician to turn opposition into a boomers for his own interests. His early speeches in the primary campaign indicate that the Senator will exploit to the uttermost the interference of an "outsider" in the State's domestic politics.

Wilson Following Considerable. Expert opinion is split as to whether Brockbridge Long, the Wilson favorer, will benefit or lose from his distinguished benefactor's aggressive support. The Wilson following in Missouri is considerable, but politicians are inclined to feel the feud already has attained such a height that, whatever happens, the normal Democratic vote in November will be slanted to pieces. In that event, Mr. Wilson's activities may only promote the prospects of the Republican senatorial nominee. The G. O. P. leader, regarded as having the best chance for nomination, is Walter F. Dickey of Kansas City, who fulfills Reports Submitted Most Encouraging—Excellent Progress Was Made During Past Month.

The regular monthly meeting of the Provincial Red Cross was held yesterday at the depot, Prince William street, R. T. Hayes, M. L. A., president, in the chair. The reports submitted were most encouraging, showing that progress had been made during the month. The secretary reported as follows: The work at the depot during the last month has been largely that of fulfilling the requirements for Head Office. At their request our membership roll has been prepared into a mailing list. Another request has been complied with. That of meeting up the annual report of last year's work under topical heads. A summary of the whole year's work at the port has also been forwarded at their request. Our Relief Records for the month show 24 garments given to St. John local needs, 2 layettes sent to Jacques River and 13 articles of bedding sent to relieve the Fairville fire sufferers. During the past month we have received word that the branches at Lakeville and Grand Manan, are busy with their emergency sewing. From Hampton has come a call for a supply of Canadian Mother's books. It is with great satisfaction that we see our dreams materialize and the Junior Red Cross work is now a part of our organization and our depot. The port work is now closed and Miss Gregory again chosen to go to Quebec to continue the work so well carried on in St. John. The Hospital, Emergency, Sewing and Packing committees have all been at work in their respective spheres since the last meeting. Letters were read from Riley Brook, asking that Miss Alward be allowed to stay there, they undertaking to find out how much the community would be able to pay toward her support; from Campbellton asking for a permanent nurse, preferably Miss Peoria, and Miss Jarvis reported that St. Stephen wanted their nurse for a year. The chairman suggested that as it had been found impossible to obtain the services of twelve nurses, those now in the field might be allowed to stay a little longer to make up the difference. It was decided to leave the matter in the hands of the committee who are dealing with the health nurses to make the best possible arrangement in each case. Dr. W. B. Carter wrote expressing his appreciation of the appointment as a member of the central executive of the Red Cross and accepting the honor with thanks. An appeal from the Fredericton Red Cross for a grant of $500 to be used toward the equipment of a Red Cross room in the Fraser Memorial wing of the Victoria Hospital. It was decided to make the grant, as the branch had not made a call for funds to which they were entitled from the provincial funds for hospital work which they had carried on. It was also decided to make a grant of $10 per month for six months, to a branch at Newmarket. The matter of Red Cross Health films for New Brunswick was left in the hands of Miss Melkoff, Mrs. Lawrence and Miss Lawson, to make the necessary arrangements. Miss Jarvis reported that a partial mailing list of the members of the provincial branch had been sent to head office. The matter of an appeal for furniture for the recreation hut was referred to the committee who are in charge of the building of the hut, they sent a letter to the various organizations outlining the needs. In this connection Miss Grace Leavitt reported that the Local Council of Women had appointed a committee of which she was convener, and they were just waiting for information as to the needs before taking action. The Junior Red Cross supervisors reported that Miss Jean Brown would give an address in June, that the matter of Red Cross teaching in the schools would be taken up at the normal school and at the teachers' institute, and they suggested the securing of a column in the Bulletin devoted to the Junior work. The Buctochee charge of the work is Mrs. J. F. Robertson, Miss Melkoff, Miss K. Stewart, Mrs. Lawrence, Miss Lawson, Miss Jarvis, R. T. Hayes, C. B. Allan, Hon. W. F. Roberts, Dr. W. S. "My Back Aches"

BOTH liver and kidney troubles are usually first detected by backache. When the liver is to blame you have pains under the shoulder blades and down towards the right side. When the kidneys are deranged the pains settle in the small of the back. In either case you can obtain relief promptly by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

The liver and kidneys work hand-in-hand in eliminating poisons from the blood. Neither one can be greatly deranged without the other being affected. Because they correct the action of both these great filtering organs, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills afford relief in complicated derangements which ordinary medicines do not seem to touch. Mrs. Alex Gordon, Walkerton, Ont., writes: "A few years ago I suffered from kidney and liver trouble, with pains in my back. I had heard of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and bought for this, so I commenced taking them. I had only taken a couple boxes when the trouble was all removed."

Few medicines have ever attained to such universal use as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. This is because they afford prompt relief from the most common ills of humanity—backache, constipation, indigestion, liver and kidney derangements. One pill a day, six a box, all druggists, or direct to Dr. Chase & Co., Ltd., Toronto.

YOUR BREATHS BURN? IS YOUR CHEST WHEEZY?

HYDRO. If the City is, as The Telegraph and The Times declare it is, firmly committed to the policy of civic distribution of Musquash current, and if there is no question of any withdrawal from it...

Then there is another feature. How many kilowatts is Mr. Phillips expecting to sell at the minimum rate of 1-3 cents? The public is led to believe that an enormous expansion in the volume of current sold is going to be the result of civic distribution...

CANADA'S FUTURE.

The Boston Transcript has been thinking over the matter of Canada's future and whether it is to remain a part of the British Empire or not. The Transcript referring to some recent remarks of Lord Northcliffe on the matter says he is right when he says that the separation of the American colonies from England in 1775-81 arose from rather small grievances...

We notice that Mr. C. O. Foss, Box Office Manager of the Power Commission, has opened the sale of advance current, and has reserved from ten to fifteen million kilowatts for the use of consumers in St. John. Anyone would think that he had an unlimited amount of current to sell from the casual way he deals with it...

Hydro seems to be coming along nicely. On Thursday The Times had done a market for 10,000,000 kilowatts in the next year or two. Yesterday The Telegraph had got it up to 15,000,000 kilowatts. In a day or two The Times will probably have sold out the whole (promised) output of 31,000,000. Well, the more the bubble is inflated, the bigger will be the collapse.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

Wisdom. (Toronto Telegram.) A wise girl doesn't think herself an angel just because some man tells her so.

More Thinking. (Winnipeg Tribune.) There may be an absence of excitement, party conventions may come and go without causing even a serious ripple of excitement, but the fact remains that the average man is doing far more political thinking than in days gone by.

Long Speeches in Parliament. (Vancouver World.) There should be a definite rule regarding the length of speeches, and no member should be permitted to exceed this without the permission of the House, secured before commencing his speech.

Realists Who Are Not Realists. (Toronto Star.) In an address to the Authors' Association at Ottawa last other day, Sir George Foster remarked that he has no patience with realists who excuse portrayal of the vilest phases of life on the ground that these phases actually exist.

It is already being said of him that he "smokes the other side." He would doubtless be accused of being that dreadful thing, "an uplifter." Sir George, nevertheless, has been saying over a certain battle. The veterans—all men of high rank—argued very turbulently. But a quiet man spoke up and said: "Gentlemen, I happened to be there at that engagement, and I think I can settle the point at issue."
