PEOPLE'S INTERESTS FIRST SAYS PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT

First Man of the Republic Comes to the Rescue of His Fellow Citizens.

Strikers Very Explicit.

mificent Compared With Inter-

Washington, D. C., Oct. 3 .- The second step in the President's efforts to effect a settlement between the anthracite coal magnates and the miners every person who had been invited to lowed participate, except President Olymphant, of the Delaware and Hudson road, who sent his personal representative. David Wilcox, vice-president and general counsel of the road, and President Cassatt, of the Pennsylvania road, was present in the room of the temporary executive mansion, where President Roosevelt, since his return from Indianapolis, has transacted such necessary public business as could not be postponed. The President, during the conference, was seated in a large invalid chair, his left leg resting upon a cushion. The President cordially greeted each of his guests as he appeared. When all were them together. Fully realizing the imhe was to make, the President had prepared a carefully-worded letter, set-ting forth in detail his position on the controversy. The President said:

THE PRESIDENT'S APPEAL.

"I wish to call your attention to the fact that there are three parties af-fected by the situation in the anthracite trade: The operators, the miners and the general public. I speak for neither the operators nor the miners, but for the general public. The questions at issue, which led to the situation, affect immediately the parties concerned-the operators and the miners; but the situation itself vitally affects the public. As long as there seemed to be a reasonable hope that these matters could be adjusted be-tween the parties, it did not seem proper to me to intervene in any way. I disclaim any right or duty to intervene in this way upon legal grounds, or upon any official relation that I bear to the situation; but the urgency and the terrible nature of the catastrophe impending over a large portion of our people in the shape of a winter coal famine, impel me, after much anxious thought, to believe that my duty requires me to use whatever fluence I personally can to bring to an end a situation which has become lit erally intolerable.

FEELS RESPONSIBILITY.

"I wish to emphasize the character of the situation and to say that its gravity is such that I am constrained urgently to insist that each one of you realize the heavy burden of respon-sibility upon him. We are upon the threshold of winter with an already existing coal famine, the future terrors of which we can hardly yet appreciate. The evil possibilities are so far reaching, so appalling, that it seems to me that you are not only justified in sinking, but required to sink for the time being any tenacity as to your respective claims in the matter of issue between you. In my judgment the situation imperatively requires that you meet upon the common plane of the necessities of the public.

IMMEDIATE RESUMPTION. "With all the earnestness there is in ne. I ask that there be an immediate resumption of operations in the coal mines in some such way as will with-out a day's unnecessary delay meet the crying needs of the people.
"I do not invite a discussion of your Address to Operators and makes individual sacrifices for the

hour fixed for the conference a large crowd had assembled outside the tem-porary White House. The first official caller was Hon. Carroll D. Wright, commissioner of labor. He has made Differences of Two Factions Insig. an investigation of the strike situation, and the President desired to obtain from him what he considered important the operators and the miners. President Mitchell and his party were the first of the principals in the controversy to arrive at the House. Just after 11 o'clock. Presidents George F. Baer, or the Reading; E. B. Thomas, of the Erie, and W. H. Truesdale, of the Lackawanna, arrivwas taken today. At 11:10 o'clock ed in a carriage. They were soon followed by President E. B. Fowler, of the Ontario and Western; John Markle, of the firm of M. G. B. Markle & Co., independent coal operators, and David Wilcox, vice-president of Delaware and Hudson, representing President Olymphant, of that road. President A. J. Cassatt, of the Pennsylvania, who had been invited, did not come. He sent a telegram to President Roosevelt, explaining his inability to be present. The two delegations were escorted upstairs about 11 o'clock. Attorney-General Knox and Commissioner Wright remained with the President.

BASIS OF ADJUSTMENT.

When the President had concluded the reading of his statement he said that he did not expect that either party would be ready to submit propositions assembled, he stated to them in a brief at the time, but he asked them to take preliminary way his object in calling into consideration what he had said, and to return at 3 o'clock. He said portance of the communication that that he hoped that some proposition might be presented at that time, which would furnish the basis of an adjustment. The first conference then broke up. It had lasted less than fifteen minutes.

PRINCIPALS REFUSE TO TALK. The representatives of the railroads went to their carriages. They refused to say anything, except that they would meet again at 3 o'clock They would not even say where they were going to make their headquarters. When asked where they could be seen President Baer remarked to the newspaper men: "Gentlemen, what we want is to get some place where you can't find us and where we will not be interrupted." They then drove away. President Mitchell and his party followed soon after, refusing to anything. A little later Attorney-General Knox left the White House. It was understood that each party to the conference would formulate some proposition during the interim, on what the President had said, or that each would be prepared with a reply to present to the President when the Conference was resumed at 3 o'clock.

SECRETARY ROOT OPTIMISTIC. At 12:30 o'clock Secretary Root terminated nearly an hour's private conference with the President. The secretary was in an optimistic mood when he left the White House. He said he could not communicate anything further than that already given to the press, but he did not hesitate to express his individual opinion that the prospects were bright for some satisfactory outcome to the negotiations instituted today.

UP GO FREIGHTS, NOW

Old Country Mine-Owners Can't Fill Orders as Consequence.

London Oct. 3.-Inquiries made at Liverpool show that large orders for Lancashire and North Wales coal continue to be received from America, but the exporters have great difficulty in getting freights, the rates for which have been increased $1 during the present week. The president of the Miners' National Union. Mr. Burt. M. P., in his monthly circular to the Northumberland miners, resers to the coal strike in the United States. He says: "Apparently the strike of 150,000 respective claims and positions. I appeal to your patriotism to the spirit that sinks personal considerations and are returning to work in small batches, probably starved into acceptance of the employers' terms. They were the poorest and lowest paid laborers in the United States."

HIGH HANDED, BUT CREDITABLE.

New York, Oct. 3 .- The Rev. R. L. Paddock, who is rector of the Church of the Holy Apostle, in Devery's district, said yesterday:

"The action of the convention in excluding Devery may have been somewhat high handed, but it is an action that will redound to the credit of the delegates to the convention,"

Saratoga, Oct. 2.- There has not been a Democratic State convention in 30 years like the one which ended its labors at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Some of the old-timers say that they have attended Democratic State conventions like this one. It was a oneman convention from start to finish. Devery was the great hero of the convention. David B. Hill was described by one of the speakers as the "Napoleon of American politics." He tics, it was declared here, and then it was recalled that Napoelon was big that I have said more than 100 times on some occasions, little on others, and in the convention as a hero alongside man did this but Hill.

REFUSED TO DO HILL'S BIDDING. Saratoga had its last glimpse of Devery at 5:50 o'clock yesterday afternoon as he waved a big American flag from the rear platform of a rapidlydeparting train. Devery had come and had seen, and if he had not conquered the convention he had at least established himself as a friend of most of the persons who made up the convention, except the leaders who ordered his expulsion. And as the big chief was going away it became known that had he been willing to do the bidding of David Bennett Hill, whom he now contemptuously calls "that incompetent leader," he might have carried his point and seated his delegation in the convention. WE WON, SAYS DEVERY.

New York, Oct. 2 .- "I got my candidate. I was for Coler all the time. He was my man, and I'm goin' to try elect him," was the message Big Bill Devery brought to the ninth, when his special steamed into Thirty-fourth street and Eleventh avenue at 11:40 o'clock last night. Several hundred men had been standing around this uninviting junction for two hours waiting for the train, and they gave voice to their enthusiasm at sight of the chief. Big Bill stood on the steps of the forward car and waved for silence.

"We won everything," he said, with a sweep of his arm. Bill was very husky. The crowd thought he was opening a joke and broke into laugh-

"Yes," insisted Big Bill, "we got the man we wanted nominated for governor. I want every one of you who's got a drop of Democratic blood in him to support the ticket. Just because we didn't get that seat, we weren't bea-en. I'm for Mr. Coler, and I want you all to vote for him."

Here a man from the waiting crowd sprang up on the step beside Devery "Mister Devery, you've come back stronger than when you went away. You got the ninth for good." Big Bill got down from the steps and after he had put Mrs. Devery and her daughter in a carriage, he started at the head of the band, the delegation and the crowd that had come to welcome him, toward the Pump. The dog mascot frolicked along in front. streets were very bright with red lights. When Devery reached the Pump he was tired and hot, but he had a few things to say about his experience.

"Yes," continued Mr. Croker, "I have read all the reports of the convention; they are very interesting, but I am done. I have seen nobody and said nothing, and do not intend to. They can get along without me." DEVERY WON THIS.

New York, Oct. 2.—Conventions were held today in the congressional dis-tricts within the boundaries of the oroughs of Manhattan, the Bronx and Richmond. The nominations follow: Interest in the nomination centered in that to be made in the eleventh district by the Democrats because Tamleaders had announced earlier in the day that William S. Devery and his delegates would not be allowed seats in the convention. Devery, on hearing this, sent an emissary to the hall. He threatened mandamus proceedings and said if it was too late for the method of attack he would attack the legality of the convention proceedings if a nomination was made without recognizing him and his associates. Before the convention met Secretary Smith, of Tammany, nounced that the leaders recognized the legality of the selection of the Devery delegates and that they would be given seats. The nomination went to William R. Hearst, editor and proprietor of the New York American. He was placed in nomination by former State Senator T. C. O'Sullivan and William S. Devery made a speech seconding the nomina In the eighth district, where Perry Belmont was thought to be the only candidate. State Senator Sullivan was nominated.

Yesterday they said the only effect of the President's action would be to put off the surrender of the miners as many days as there were in the interim between the first announcement of the intention to intermediate and the announcement of the result - or the lack of result - of the conference. Today these same men gay the White House conference will hasten the end of the strike, that it will show the miners that no third party, not even the President of the United States, can budge the operators from their position, and that once-this is realized, the strikers will weaken. A prominent individual coal operator said today he stood ready to guaran-tee that the operators would agree to sliding scale basis of pay, comprehending a 2 per cent raise for every 10 cents advance on coal above $4 50 1. o. b., if the Miners' Union would agree to put up the bonds to indemnify the operators for damages resulting from strikes caused by the dis-charge of men for cause other than connection with he union.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 2.-The special train with the presidents of the anthracite coal roads arrived nere shortly after 9 o'clock. They did not leave their cars. ALL EXPECTED. Washington, Oct. 2.-It is expected that all the men to whom invitations were sent yesterday will be present at Senator Quay, of Pennsylvania, consulted with the President for an hour today. It is understood that he came Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal here at the request of the President to discuss the strike situation. The President and the Senator were not interrupted, and two cabinet officers who called did not see the President, while the conference was in progress. Senator Quay, after he left the President, would not discuss the situation or express any opinion as to the probable effect of the conference. During the day Secretary Root, Attorney-General Knox and Secretary Shaw were in West End Coal Company 500 conference with the President. Secretary Wilson was at the White House for a short time, but the three first remained with the President for an hour. It is understood that the President discussed the subject of the conference with them, and the cabinet

officers made a number of suggestions as to what the President should say to those who will participate in it. It has been decided that Attorney-General Knox shall attend the conference tomorrow between the President. the coal operators and Mr. Mitchell, of the miners' union. He will be the only member of the cabinet who will be present. Carroll D. Wright, commissioner of labor, who recently made an investigation of the strike situation, also will attend, on the invitation of the President. While everyone connected with the administration is extremely reticent concerning the coming conference, there is a feeling of hope among those close to the President that it is going to result in the settlement of the strike. This hope is based on the acuteness of the situation and the necessity that exists for a settlement, along with the known determination of the President to bring about a settlement of the great labor controversy, if such a thing be possible. TOM JOHNSON CALLS MEETING. Cleveland, Ohio, Oct. 1. - Mayor Johnson today issued a call for a mass meeting of the citizens of this city, to be held on Friday evening next, to take action relative to the coal strike. Resolutions will be presented to the meeting urging the Federal Gov-

OFFICERS GUARD COAL. Washington, Oct. 1. - The first carload of anthracite coal received in Washington since the beginning of the coal strike arrived here today. It is held for the use of the White House, and on its arrival several policemen were detailed to guard it. Later two carloads arrived under consignment to the District of Columbia Government and were distributed to school houses. A conservative estimate of the amount of anthracite coal in the city, exclusive of that received today, is 950 tons, all of which is in the hands of

WEDNESDAY'S OUTPUT

Three New Workings Were in Operation Despite Strikers.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 2.-Three new mine workings started yesterday and worked steadily without interference. The North Franklin colliery, of the Philadelphia and Reading Company, opened with a good force of workers, including 30 miners. The Mecanaqua washery of the West End Coal Company, a new structure, started and washed 500 tons, and the Drifton colliery of Coxe Bros. & Co., opened with a large force. In the Scranton district, there were few gains, there still being much agitation owing to the strike; but in the Wyoming region the works were generally increased. Boston, Oct. 2.-Several well-known citizens, invited by Mayor Collins to meet him yesterday afternoon to consider ways and means to prevent distress among the poorer residents of Boston on account of the coal famine, gathered at the city hall and voted that Mr. Collins should appoint a committee of ten to receive subscriptions of fuel and money up to $100,000 for the relief of the most distressing cases. committee of five Boston lawyers will also be appointed to investigate the legal aspects of the coal situation and take such action as in their opinion may be deemed expedient, and to voice the protest of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts to the President of the United States and to the Governor of there can be no doubts in the minds of anyone who reads the reputable papers that a condition is existing in the anthracite coal fields of Pennsylvania today verging on anarchy; in fact, on record are 21 murders, and a long list of brutal assaults, houses and bridges dynamited and several washwords lawlessness is now supreme in that territory. "I fully appreciate the desire on the part of the different public officials at the present time to settle this strike question. I refer to the action of the City of Boston, the mayor of Detroit and other cities. Their efforts have in view solely the object of obtaining an early resumption of anthracite coal. an early resumption of anthracite coal among the representatives of the coal ernment to either take control of the acts on their part are weapons in the hands of the agitators as represented by Mr. Mitchell's organization, which they are using to prolong the contest. The President of the United States has been appealed to and I understand attorney-general has advised the President there were no grounds for interference; the constitution of the United States would not permit it.

"Allow me to suggest what action the reputable citizens of the country should take now. They should urge enforcement of the laws in Pennsylvania, and if Gov. Stone has not at his command sufficient forces to control the situation, call upon the President of the United States. I have no hesitancy in saying that the President of the United States will at once send sufficient troops into that region to immediately procure proper protection. By proper protection is meant that the men desiring to work shall not only be allowed to do so, but shall be pro-tected while doing so, at their homes, while going to and from their work, and at the operations where they are employed, and in addition to this while the men are absent at work their fam. ilies in their homes must also be pro-tected. With that condition existing, I emphatically say that anthracite coal will rapidly be placed in the market, and this question settled."

Assertion That Miners Will Preserve Union and Go Back to Work

"The belief in our part of the coal region is that the miners' strike is road yesterday. likely to collapse in two weeks. The Reading company is offering attractive inducements for licensed miners to go in and cut coal. They are going back to work in good numbers. Many are from distant parts. Such miners will be very well taken care of in the future. They are making good money

"You can say positively that coal is being cut at No. 4 and No. 11 collieries of the Lehigh Navigation Company in Panther Valley, also in the cohieries of the Reading Company, known as Silver Creek, Wadesville, Potts, Good Spring, Brookside and North Mahoney, and in two colleries of the Pennsylvania Coal Company in the Lykens Valley. In several of these colleries coal has been cut by the sub-bosses for two months. This will shortly be run through the breakers for market. The Wadesville mine is reported packed 700 Wadesville 1700 full of coal.

"There will be plenty of coal in good time. I think the miners will preserve their union, accept the promise that local matters will be duly adjusted, and go back to work. The most conservative men are advising this, and the miners look for little help from outside sources.

The suspension is due to the refusal of the operators to collect for the union one dollar a week assessment made on all union miners for the benefit of the anthracite strikers in Pennsylvania. It is probable that the Blue Creek Blockton mines of the Tennessee Company also will be involved if an adjustment is not soon reached. About two weeks ago the Tennessee Company declined to withhold the assessment money from certain miners at vest Pratt, who objected to its payment, and 500 men at that mine were ordered out. The treasurer's report showed the association to be in a flourishing financial condition. The balance on hand from last year was $3,799 94, and the receipts for 1902 were $1,808 07, making a total asset of $15,608 01. The disbursements for the year were $12,138 84, leaving a balance of $3,469 17. The disursements were divided as follows: Aged People's Home, $6,554 88; Home for Incurables, $3,736 03; Infants' Home, $1,384 74, and city relief, $360 83. Result of Association's Efforts The superintendent and the assistants of the Aged People's Home were also doing their work faithfully. Many of the inmates are quite helpless, and it falls to the lot of the officials to look after them, which has been done in a manner gratifying to the association. The secretary added that Mrs. Gra-ham, matron of the Home for Ined by the association, has done everything possible to produce a serene and contented state of mind among her patients during the past year. Thanks to the relief committee, the poor of the city had had much done towards alleviating their sufferings when they applied for relief. In her report the secretary desired to express the thanks of the association to all those who had helped them in any manner towards making their work a success. The medical men were particularly deserving of thanks for having given their services to the inmates of the homes. Dr. Cl. T. Campbell attended the Infants' Home, Dr. Cooper the Aged People's Home, and Dr. J. B. Campbell the Home for Incurables. The secretary made sorrowful mention of the deaths of three of their most active members, Mrs. Reid, Mrs. Carfrae and Mrs. Burns.

The Victoria Hospital committee reported that during the past year Euphemia and Dawn, Florence...Oct. 6-7 The Victoria Hospital committee remembers of the association had visited the hospital, and everything possible had been done to cheer the weak and suffering. Bedside visiting will be continued, as it is thought that much good can be done in this way. The appointment of Rev. Dr. Thompson as chaplain was regarded with much satisfaction. The committee were unanimous in the decision that the children's pavilion had proved a blessing, as the children were happy and comfortable there. Miss Mayou and the hospital staff had always been kind and attentive to the association visitors.

The relief committee's report stated that people needing relief had received much food, clothing and articles of the association was interested for the comfort during the year, and that competent and willing manner in which $360 83 had already been spent in helpthey had worked during the year just ing the city poor. This amount was $100 less than last year.

The visiting committee's report showed that in the Home for Incurables at the close of the year ending October, 1902, there were 22 patients. In the Aged People's Home 92 had been cared for. The homes had been regularly visited during the year.

The improvements at the Aged People's Home have only been such as to keep the place in proper repair, the improvement committee reported. There are some repairs still to be done. The improvements to the Home for Incurables consisted of new awnings and minor additions. A new concrete floor in the laundry was probably the main improvement at the Infants' Home, and other unimportant improvements were made.

Those attending the meeting were: Mesdames Merchant, Ward, Murray, Fraser, Moore, Gibson, Davis, Hunt, St. John Hyttenrauch, Hopkins, Mitchell, Perrin, Cox, Kent, Burgess, Campbell, Richards, Westland, and Misses Hopkirk, Boyle, Loughead, Stevenson, Robinson and McKellar, and the secretary, Mrs. Pattullo.

FROM CONVENT TO OPIUM JOINT

Fate of a Beautiful Bridgeport Girl.

THE DRUG WRECKED HER LIFE

Acquired the Habit While "Slumming" in the Chinese Quarter of Her Native City.

Bridgeport, Sept. 28.-From a convent to an opium joint was the hasty descent of Edna Case, a beautiful girl of 18 years old, who, four weeks ago, left the care of the good sisters of the Sacred Heart, in Hartford. Luckily, although the seductive fumes of opium had already fascinated her, time enough had not passed to render Miss Case a slave of the pipe. She has been sent to her aunt in New Haven.

Perhaps the strongest fact brought to Subsidy to Cunards Is Blow to Canlight in this exposure is that an opium den has been permitted to exist directly across the street from police headquarters and that the Chinaman who was master of the dive had assurance enough to complain to the police that Miss Case and her two companions, yearning for a smoke and unable to gratify their longing for lack of money, stole the pipe for which they had such a longing.

When Edna came here from Hartford a month ago, Melville Ricker was introduced to her by mutual friends. Ricker is a slender, pale-faced young fellow of 21 years. The whispers about the dissipated life he has lately led have been stilled almost by the fact that his father is wealthy, of the best reputation, moving in the best society On State street, opposite police headquarters, is a Chinese restaurant, to which fashionable people often resort when they "go slumming." "Joe" Linn, as the proprietor of the restaurant calls himself, a sleek Chinaman, is growing rich-people bought because his chop suey is admirable, his tea is fragrant and his rice is so well cooked that a customer can count every grain in it. But as it turns out. Joe Linn had other means of adding to his in-

Young Ricker, showing Edna Case the sights of Bridgeport, took her to a Chinese restaurant. They dined there, and then they met George Paige, a young friend of Ricker, who, like himself, is a victim of the opium habit. They coaxed and bantered the girl to smoke, and in a spirit of bravado she consented to inhale the fumes, which, they laughingly assured her, would make her feel as happy as a princess and as rich as a duchess. They led her into a room back of the restaurant, where the cunning Linn supplied them with a "layout," pipe, lamp, opium, needle-everything. Edna Case says she was decidely ill that night when she returned to the house of the friends who are entertaining her. But her friends readily admitted Ricker to their home, and night after night, on one or other pre-text, she went with him to the restaurant, to the opium joint, where Paige. The insidious drug, the importunities of the two wily young men conquered her.

BOER DELEGATES' ARRIVAL THE NEW TOBACCO TRUST A few nights ago Miss Case and the young men found themselves penniless. But they went to Linn's dive, and, as usual, ordered a layout. While he was in the kitchen, it is said, they tip-toed out of the place, taking with them the pipe, the "hop-toy," the little gan containing the opium, a beautiful bit of bronze, inlaid with gold and silver, and the "yeng-hok," the needle used to "cook" the "pill" over the pipe.

Discovering their flight and his loss Joe Linn was furious. With the great- uation is extremely serious. This is est impudence he hurried to police headquarters and insisted that Miss Case, Ricker and Paige be arrested. When the girl was arraigred before a police judge today she almost fainted, and, weeping, blushing, overcome by shame, she related of her experiences in the opium den, and astonished even the police. At any rate they swore

The preacher, accompanied by Mrs. Parkhurst, left the steamship and hurried to the Madison Square Presbyterian Church, where he preached at the morning service held at 11 o'clock. After the service Dr. Parkhurst, in commenting further on his tour of Ireland, said: "The complaint of the Irish is not merely that their landlords are Englishmen, but, rather, that so much of the wealth produced in Ireland is spent elsewhere by their non-resident landlords. A Silly Scare.

The Free Press rails at the "anti-American tirades" of Mr. Tarte and Mr. Ross, and shivers lest President Roosevelt should be so angry at the utterances of these gentlemen that he will put an embargo or a duty on the export of hard coal. And yet Mr. Tarte's speeches, which the Free Press calls rash, insolent and anti-American tirades, have awakened the genuine enthusiasm of the Conservative press from one end of Canada to the other. The Tories have lauded him to the skies as an exponent of their own policy. The Canadian Manufacturers' Association, which is Conservative to these same deliverances. Mr. George Taylor, the Conservative whip, says Mr. Tarte is in agreement with himself. The Ottawa Citizen says the would develop a policy on broad narurther such a policy." Some Liberal tive sentiments. If the latter are right and Mr. Tarte really voices the Tory policy, then, according to the Free Press, that policy is a blunder and a peril, and to proclaim it is mischievous and hurtful to Canadians. Our contemporary complains of the rash insolence of Mr. Tarte and Mr. Ross in raising the cry of exclusion as against the Americans. What is the whole cry of the Conservative party today if it is not the exclusion of American imports by raising the tariff? To make political capital the Conservative press and politicians are trying to feed and foster anti-American prejudice.

The suggestion of an export duty on American coal at this juncture is a silly scare. The Free Press is ignorant of the fact that an export duty is forbidden by the American constitution, which even a President cannot override. Apart from that, we know of nothing that would so arouse Canadian spirit and strengthen the resolve of the Canadian people to be as far as peace. possible economically independent of the United States, as a cessation of the fuel supply from the other side in this particular crisis. It would cause a temporary hardship, but it would force the development of Canada's vast resources in hard and soft coal and peat, phere, and they are unfitted for realeven if the Government had to enter stride. It already spans a continent and its ships plough the Pacific Ocean, linking Canada with Australia and Japan. Now it purposes invading the Atlantic. At the annual meeting on Wednesday the directors were authorized to acquire a fleet of freight steamers for the Atlantic trade. The president confirmed the statement that the company had offered to establish a weekly service of 20-knot steamships between Liverpool and a Canadian port for a subsidy of £265,000 for the first ten years, with a graduated reduction in the ensuing ten years. Whatever the result of these negotiations, he said, the rapid growth of the company's export tonnage made it imperative that the company should be so situated on the Atlantic that it could quote through rates of freight and give through bills of lading without being compelled to negotiate for space and rates with independent steamship lines.

This announcement disposes of the idea of a subsidized freight service, which alarmed the steamship companies now engaged in the British-Canadian freight business. The proposed subsidy for a line of steamships between Canada and the United Kingdom, which has been the subject of negotiations between the Governments of both countries, refers only to a fast passenger line, which would carry in addition limited cargoes of perishable products. If the C. P. R. chooses to establish an At'antic freight service without public aid, so much the better. At the same time, the company will have an immense advantage over competitors in the Atlantic carrying trade in having control of a land system which will enable it to route freight traffic over its own steamship line. A charter granted the C. P. R. for this Atlantic project should contain guarantees that the company will not abuse this power to the prejudice of rival railway or steamship interests. With these safeguards the incursion of the C. P. R. into the Atlantic trade Macaulay, Buckle, Bishop, Thirlwall.

ducers and exporters. The volume of the export trade is growing rapidly and steamship facilities must expand with it. With a fleet of its own the C. P. R. will have also a greater interest in diverting the stream of export from the Northwest through Canadian channels to the seaboard. thereby building up Canadian ports. The company's annual report was highly optimistic, as might be expected from the inflow of population into the Northwest, and the rapid settlement of the country. The immediate result has been a great increase in the sale of the company's lands, and it is now paying off the last of the 5 per cent land grant bonds. With the extinguishment of these there will remain against its lands 31/2 per cent bonds to the amount of $15,000,000. When this is cleared off, the company will still have millions of acres to the good. The president may well express his conviction that "the company has barely entered upon the threshold of he expansion and success that the

A whole continent awaits anxiously the news from Washington today. In the present frame of the public mind neither party could afford to disregard the summons of the President. Facts About Coal.

[Boston Traveler.] In order that the readers of the Traconditions of the coal situation, especially in regard to the relation between the causes of the present controversy

Prior to the strike these men wages. worked ten hours a day 200 days of the year, for an average wage of $1 42 a day, which amounted to an average individual income of $284. Each miner received about 60 cents for each ton of coal that he mined, and each miner mined about two and one-third tons a day. In computing the wages of the the mine owners fixed the weight of a ton of coal at various figures ranging between 2,000 and 3,190 pounds and sold the same coal to the customer at 2,240 pounds to the ton. The average cost of the coal delivered to local dealers throughout the country was $1 87 a ton. The average cost to the consumer was $6 25 per ton. The difference between the cost of production and the price paid by the consumer, $4 38, represents the profits of the coal trust and the retailers. And our readers will all unite in saying that the coal trust gets the lion's

C. P. R. Carrying Half a Million Bushels Per Day.

Great Increase in Volume of Movement Over Last Year.

Montreal, Oct. 3 .- Mr. G. M. Bosworth, fourth vice-president of the Canadian Pacific, has received the details of the quantities of grain transported to market by the company's system during the month of September. The figures show a very marked increase in the amount of grain carried as compared with a year ago, notwithstanding the fact that the farmers did not begin to ship grain until ten days later than last year. This was owing to the fact that the weather this year was so favorable that they did not stop harvest operations and threshing to make deliveries at the stations. Last year the cutting and gathering and threashing were frequently interrupted by the rains, and the farmers utilized the time by making early deliveries to the railway. Up to the end of September the Canadian Pacific had brought out of the northwest slightly over 5,000,000 bushels of wheat, as against 3,500,000 bushels last year, showing an increase of a million and a half. The number of carloads handled was 3,400, as against 3,000 last year. At the present time the movement is extraordinary, from 440,000 to 475,000 bushels per day. As to how long this rate is likely to be maintained the reight traffis officials are unable to say. The figures just quoted do not embrace the whole of the wheat that the company have handled in the Northwest. The returns making up the totals are only from the points

ONTARIO UNION SESSION. Toronto, Oct. 3.—A lot of business was considered at the meeting of the Ontario Rugby Union executive held last night at the Rossin House. Presi-dent A. W. Ballantyne occupied the chair, and there were present Vice-President G. S. Gibbons, London; Secretary F. D. Woodworth, S. S. DuMoulin, Hamilton, and F. H. Thompson, Argonauts.

The resignation of T. C. Irving, who was elected the representative of the junior series on the executive, was accepted, and George H. Ballard, of Varsity, was appointed in his stead. St. Peter's T. A. S., of Peterboro, re-newed their application for admission to the junior series, and also asked for permission to play four of last year's intermediate Peterboro team. The union decided that in no cases where there was a senior or intermediate team would players who were barred by the rule be granted permits to play jun-

A New Storage Battery.

Thomas A. Edison, who has been working for a number of years on a new form of storage battery, now announces his belief that he has brought this form of battery to the highest possible degree of perfection. He has devised, he thinks, a perfectly reversible instrument, which takes in elecmile 'cross country run, open; 10-mile tricity and gives it out again without deterioration of its meckanism. battery generally used consists of lead plates in acid solution. Edison's new cell is made of plates of iron and a nickel compound in an alkaline liquid. says Success. The chemical reactions are simple and stable, and the weight comparatively slight. The inventor thinks that the electric automobile, by the use of his battery, will become the vehicle of the future, and that, with an initial outlay of $700, such a vehicle can be used at any desired intervals for about 50 cents a time. The motor car will be preferably of the French type, with heavy running gear and light top; it will be noiseless, can be stopped quickly and will need no ir-responsible chauffeur.

WOOL MARKET.

LONDON WOOL SALES. London, Oct. 2 .- The present series of wool sales, which closed today, developed a strong demand and a marked advance for good greasy merinos, deep combing, a superior light condition, Port Philip and for good greasy merinos, deep combing, a superior light condition, Port Philip and New South Wales. At times prices were over 19 per cent above the July series. The sale was prominently supported by the German buyers, who purchased medium and heavy grades, which sold 5 per cent dearer. Good scoureds realized 5 per cent; fine cross-breds, 10 per cent; medium, 15 per cent; common, 5 to 10 per cent; scoured, 5 to 7½ per cent, and Cape of Good Hope and Natal, snow white, good greasy. ½ per cent higher than the July sales. Coarse wolled sold at about unchanged prices. Competition became very warm, and the close tone of the sale was firm, although the terms realized were not at the best, excepting cross-breds, which were the highest prices realized, and keenly competed for. During these series 193,000 bales were available, and of this number 176,213 were catalogued. The total sales for the home account numbered $8,000; for the continent, 64,000, and for America, 7,000. There were 27,000 bales carried over for the next series, which is scheduled to open Nov. 27. The arrivals for the series will close Nov. 17. Today's market was attended by a fair number of buyers, and there was some spirited bidding for the small catalogue offered. Prices as a rule were firm. The top prices for export was about $5 to $5 25, though one load, the best on the market, weighing over 1,300 lbs, was bought by Mr. Levack at $5 30. The bulk of the export cattle sold at $4 50 to $4 85. Picked butcher cattle, $4 25 to $4 60; loads of butchers, $3 50. There was some complaint among the dealers, however, regarding the unreliability of the old country cables, which have been quoting the English prices 3c or 4c higher than they really are. Canadian cattle are selling at 54c to 54c per lb, though the price quoted in the cables is as high as 15c.

The day's receipts were $5 loads, with 1,815 head of cattle, 1,781 sheep and lambs, 1,322 hogs and 32 calves. The day's receipts were 95 loads, with 1.615 head of cattle, 1.781 sheep and lambs, 1.322 hogs and 32 calves.

W. H. Dean bought about 6 loads of exporters, 1.150 to 1.250 lbs, at $4 65 to $5 25.

Dunn Bros. bought 2 loads of bulls, 1.000 to 1.200 lbs, at $3 to $4; 28 feeding steers, weighing 1.015 lbs, cost $4 to $4 12½. Wm. PRESIDENT'S WISE COUNSEL WILL HAVE A GOOD EFFECT

Settle Strike.

OPERATORS FEEL CONFIDENT

Believe That Today's Meeting Will Put Controversy in Light Favorable to Them.

Tamaqua, Pa., Oct. 3.-Many of the business people and the officials of the coal companies here maintain that President Roosevelt's action in summoning the presidents of the coal companies and John Mitchell, the president of the United Mine Workers, to meet him in Washington will have the effect of prolonging the strike. They say that the President's action, coming at a time when the men were preparing to return to work, has greatly encouraged them.

To substantiate this assertion they point to the fact that during the past week two Philadelphia and Reading collieries, the Potts and the North Franklin, resumed operations. In all about 100 certified miners are working these two collieries. The belief that pressure will be brought by the administration to force the coal companies to accede to the demands made at the Shamokin convention may have the effect of forcing the men now at work to join the ranks of the strikers. Even now the strikers are making the threat that they will drive every man who is at work at present out of the region within the next 30 days. Tonight demonstrations were made at the homes of many non-union men in this district. In the Panther Creek Valley a band of strikers paraded around from place to place, carrying banners on which were printed the words: "Now we are going to win and we will drive every non-union man to hell."

afternoon together. J. P. Morgan and the Imperial Regiment. his representatives talked with some of the leading operators today. It is understood that certain memoranda have been prepared which will be submitted to President Roosevelt at tomorrow's conference.

The coal presidents left for Washington at 4:11 o'clock, on the Royal Blue line, a special train being run for them. It consisted of E. B. Thomas, of the Erie; President Fowler, of the Ontario and Western; David Wilcox, vice-president and general counsel of the Delaware and Hudson, who went a the personal representative of President Oliphant; President Truesdale, of the Lackawanna, and John Markle, the independent operator.

SUFFICIENT COAL FOR TRAINS. President Fowler, of the New York, Ontario and Western Railway, said today, in regard to the coal situation in New York, that by an arrangement among themselves the coal companies were providing the elevated railroad with sufficient coal to run its trains. The schools and hospitals in this city would also be taken care of, he said, and none of them need go without coal. He referred to the fact that arrangements would be perfected in a few days to supply the poor people in this city with coal in small quantities at low prices.

HOPES FOR BEST. Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 2.—President Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers, accompanied by District Presidents Nicholls, Duffy and Fahey, left here this evening for Washington via Philadelphia. Mr. Mitchell conferred with the district presidents through the day. It is not known what policy the executive board of the Miners' Union pursue at the conference. Mr. Mitchell declined to express any opinion. he would say was that he hoped for the best. The general feeling is, however, that President Roosevelt will succeed in bringing both parties to-

The washery at the Hollenbeck mine started up work this afternoon. This was a surprise to the strikers. MITCHELL BLAMES OPERATORS.

Despite the conference called to meet at Washington, the operators in the Wyoming Valley are very aggressive. The following telegram was sent by President Mitchell to the three anthracite district secretaries today: 'There has been placed in my hands indisputable evidence of an attempt on the part of the operators to create discord among our non-English-speaking members through the circulation of pamphlets containing malicious and dastardly attacks upon the officers of the organization, and by an effort to arouse race prejudices. These circulars will be printed in all the foreign languages, and will be signed by a person designating himself 'A Friend.' I will notify all district and local offi-cers to be on their guard. It is especially important that our non-Englishspeaking brothers be informed of this conspiracy.-John Mitchell."

The general body of the Presbyterian and Baptist independent minister, at a special meeting this evening, adopted a resolution calling on the Government to withdraw the education bill, and declaring: "We will do everything in our power to defeat the reactionary, tyrannical proposals of the measure which vast numbers of loyal subjects will be conscientiously compelled to resist to the utmost, even to refusing the payment of rates."

Turkish Troops Plundering.

SILENCE OF THE POPE

New York, Oct. 2.-The Times has the following special: London, Oct. 2.—The Archbishop of Toulouse, who headed the recent pilgrimage to Rome, was asked, says a Paris correspondent of the Times, whether the pope would intervne in favor of the religious orders. The archbishop replied: "Leo XIII. is too wise and fond of France to intervene now. He comprehends too well that the enemies of the church ask nothing better than to extort from him some protest giving them a pretext for persecutions. It is for those who have received his instructions to obey. The Pope's silence is the best proof of his affection for France."

British Naval Expansion.

London, Oct. 2.-In an editorial on Mahan's article, "Why we must have a great navy," the Times says: The argument of inexorable and inevitable necessity of naval expansion, alike to United States and any other power aspiring to take its due share in the political and commercial future which the march of events is preparing, is very cogent and comprehensive. It opens out a prospect of naval expansion to which it is hardly possible to set an assignable limit. MR. TARTE VISITS OSHAWA Minister Inspects Industries of the Town.

Delivers Characteristic Speech at Evening Banquet.

Oshawa, Oct. 3 .- Hon. J. I. Tarte, Minister of Public Works, visited this town today. Upon his arrival by the G. T. R. afternoon train the minister was met by a deputation of the leading citizens, headed by Mayor F. L. Fowke and Mr. E. S. Edmondson, president of the board of trade. After inspecting the industries of the town, Mr. Tarte, in the presence of a large gathering, laid the corner stone of the big brick addition to the McLaughlin Carriage Company's works, a silver trowel being presented to him for the occasion.

In the evening a public meeting was was held in the Opera House. Mayor Fowke presided and upon the platform were Hon. Mr. Tarte, Hon. John Dryden, Mr. Charles Mercil, M.P., Mr. Wm. Ross, M.P., and a number of leading citizens.

The freedom of the town was presented to Mr. Tarte in a address from the town council. Mr. Tarte briefly replied, reiterating his surprise at the magnitude of Oshawa's industries.

This evening Mr. Tarte was the guest at a banquet in the Oshawa House. In response to the toast of "Our Guest," he spoke for upwards of an hour upon the transportation and tariff questions. He asserted that he was prepared to advocate the expenditure of many additional millions in order to properly equip our watreways. Upon the tariff question, Mr. Tarte declared that he would not recede one iota from the position he had taken, and defended himself from the criticisms to which he had been subjected, and which he said were unfair. He discussed the question upon the same plans as at Gananoque recently, and protested against the conduct of some newspapers which traduced him be-cause he had on certain occasions stood up for Canadian railways against American roads. Mr. Tarte declared he would never remain silent when Canadian interests were at stake, to please Mr. Jim Hill and his friends.

Ping-Pong Subject to Ohio Regulations

Columbus, Ohio, Oct. 2.-The Legislature now meeting in special session to draft a new municipal code for Ohio, discussed for an hour the game of ping-pong. Representative Cole insisted upon an amendment to include this game with pool and billiards, and carried his point. Ping-pong, there-fore, will remain the subject for municipal legislation in Ohio whenever city officers wish to regulate the game. The bill was adopted with but few changes.

CANADA AS THE WORLD'S MECCA

Immigration.

Mr. Balfour and Mr. Chamberlain Thirteen Bodies Still Remain Under Most Noticeable Increase Is Among Settlers From the Neighboring Republic.

Ottawa, Oct. 3 .- The revised returns of immigration to Canada for the fiscal year ending June 30 last have been compiled, and they make a most satisfactory showing. The total number of emigrant arrivals was 67,230, an increase of 18,081 over the previous year. The greatest gain was in the arrivals from the United States, the total being 26,312, as against 17,987 for the pre-vious year, a gain of 8,325. British arrivals came next with a gain of 5,449, although the total for the year of 17,-259 is less than from other countries. From Europe, excluding the British Isles, Canada received 23,659 immigrants or 4,307 more than in 1901. figures for the first two months of the present fiscal year afford equally good cause for jubilation, the total immigrant arrivals amounting to 15,365, as against 8,223 for the same two months of the previous year, showing a gain for the former period of 7,142. The following are the figures for the two months: British arrivals-Totals 3,329 European arrivals-United States arrivals— 1,567 uly August Totals 6,726 3,644

It will be seen that the immigration has been well sustained from two quarters, in which the officials have been of recent months developing greater attention than before, viz., Great Britain and the United States. Judging by the steady gain from all directions, the officials feel confident that in two years the immigrant arrivals in Canada will reach a total of 100,000 a year.

The homestead entries in the west afford an excellent indication of rate at which the west is being settled. In the fiscal year 1901 they numbered 8,167, while for last year they aggregated 14,633, an increase of 6,466 An occasional complaint is heard about the character of the juvenile immigrants brought to Canada, but seems there is a great demand for children in this country by farmers and others. For example, in 1901, there

Rare Chances for Canadian Trade Expansion.

WEATHER IS LIKE CHAMPAGNE

Declares Dr. S. M. Wickett, Who governing material, Mission to the North.

Toronto, Oct. 3 .- Dr. S. Morley Wickett, who was a special trade representative of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association in the Yukon, submitted a lengthy and most valuable report to the association, which is to be published in the October issue of Industrial Canada. Dr. Wickett deals first with the gold output of the Yukon, and estimates $12,000,000, thus bringing the total output up to $80,000,000. Upon the question of the possible shrinkage in the supply of gold, he says ing; hams and bacon poultry and that though the output may fluctuate game, canned meats and kard; butter the camp will remain an important one and eggs; beer.' for many years-how many none can say. The camp is too important and too promising for Canadians to neglect. Productivity, moreover, must always be estimated in comparision with costs. The cost of mining in the Yuyon has fallen fully 50 per cent since 1899; next year it will be lower still. He adds, however, that a warning should be thrown out, since geological investigations made up to the present and the history of other placer camps do not warrant us in anticipating another Eldorado. Rich gravels may, and doubt-less will, be found, but local opinion seems settling down to the belief that the rest of the country is made up largely of lower grade gravel, which, generally speaking, can be successfully washed only in a large way, and after considerable investment of capital.

WEATHER LIKE CHAMPAGNE.

Dealing with the weather, the writer points out that the climate of the north is mainly a question of elevation, and that spring, summer and autumn differ but little from similar periods, say, in Quebec, although the air is even more delightful. To the visitor it is as champagne. Blue berries, raspberries and canberries grow wild in profusion, and the flower gardens around the cabins are inviting sights. One may travel to Dawson City with practically as great comfort as from Montreal to Halifax. Although the city is generally credited with an increase in population, Dr. Wickett says that the second directory of Dawson, soon to be issued, will contain over a thousand names less than that of last year. The assessment of the town for 1901 was $11,648,000, and the tax rate was approximately two mills on the dollar. Insurance on the extensive stocks carried is expensive. The lowest commercial risk is two per cent, given on stock in one of the three brick buildings of the city. large amount is carried at 4 per cent. and some at 10 per cent. to the Klondike. TRANSPORTATION PROBLEM. Dr. Wickett also notices that the proibition of public gambling and dance halls has taken away an artificial stimulus to trade, in consequence of which rents and values have fallen, this, in turn, naturally affecting credits and the loan of money. The present tightness of money in Dawson has been accompanied by a fall in the rate of interest from 2 per cent to 11/2 and 114, and for gilt-edged security I per cent per month. That a Dominion assay office should be established at Dawson, and that the office would not deduct charges for shipping out bullion to the coast, is treated as absurd. Dr. Wickett deals at length with the different methods of mining and the prices Recently Returned From Trade labor, and also the different phases of the transportation problem. It would be a boon to the country, he says, and an advantage to the British share-holders if the White Pass Railway were operated as part of the Canadian Pacific Railway system. OPENINGS FOR CANADIANS. On the subject of opening for manufacturers. Dr. Wickett says: "Particularly in the following lines I believe Canadians could profitably increase their trade: Mining machinery, especially pulsometer and other pumps; boilers, particularly such as are mounted like our threshing engines; the production of the present year at wagons, carriages and sleighs; candles, soap and lubricating oils: electric apparatus; rubber boots, etc.; made clothing and woolen undercloth-

> In conclusion, Dr. Wickett gives a onsiderable amount of varied information regarding the best methods of developing the trade, and will later give his impressions of the West.

Engineer Bly, hearing the noise made in breaking down the door, got a revolver and opened fire, killing one robber and wounding two others. During the fight Bly was shot twice in the hip and leg. He will recover. Bly managed to reach the whistle and sounded an alarm. While doing so the robbers dragged their dead companion outside, stripped his body of all papers and valuables, and escaped. The dead man was not identified, and he is believed from the general appearance of the body, to have been a professional

CELEBRATE ROSH HASHONAH

Jewish New Year Services Will Close Tonight.

The celebration of Rosh Hashonah, the festival of the Jewish New Year, will close tonight. This celebration is known as the Feast of the Trumpets. It has been observed throughout the world by all Jews, whether they be orthodox, reform or liberal. By the Jewish calendar it is the beginning of the year 5663. Two services are being held today. The celebration commenced on Wednesday evening, with the holding of a service, followed by two services yesterday. President A. Levi oc-cupies the chair at these services, which are being conducted by Rabbi Gordon, assisted by Rabbi Phillips. The services are being well attended, nearly one hundred members of the faith being present at each service.

DO NOT DELAY.—When, through debilitated organs, poison finds its way into the blood, the prime consideration is to get the poison out as rapidly and as thoroughly as possible. Arraignment of Man Said to Have Cunard Deal Will Not Seriously Affect Plotted Against Mother.

Collingwood, Oct. 2.-Wm. H. Brown, was arraigned before Magistrate Nettleton here this afternoon, and without further proceedings the hearing was adjourned till Tuesday afternoon. Mr. John Birnie, K. C., who has been engaged as counsel, and Mr. W. T. Allen appeared for the prisoner, and as Crown Attorney Cotter had not arrived from Barrie, Inspector Greer, of the provincial detective force, who came here last night to investigate the case, acted for the crown. The adjournment was asked for by Mr. Birnie, who stated that the defense desired some time, as it was intended on their part to go very fully into the case in the preliminary examination. Mr. Greer wanted an adjournment till tomorrow stating that some of the evidence could be taken then. He assured the magistrate that he had a special reason for his request. Afterwards the reason was learned to be that he wished to have Rose, who furnished the information upon the strength of which a witness, and when he arrived arrested as the conspirator with Brown. The The court room was crowded.

Mr. Birnie went to Toronto tonight in connection with his case. It is understood that the defense will consist in putting the onus for the crime, if crime was committed, upon the insurance agent Rose. In pursuance of that course Mr. Birnie said if the crown did not cause the arrest of Rose, an information would be laid against him by the other side.

The approach of the anniversary of the visit of the Duke and Duchess of aldermen of the existence of a hundred yards or so of a carpet which was used on that notable occasion upon the platform of the Grand Trunk sta-It will be remembered that while the members of the reception committee laudably wished the royal couple to walk not upon the ordinary planks used by their humble subjects, they yet had not lost their proper sense of economy, and ordered that immediately after the royal feet had trodden upon it, the carpet was to be taken up and secluded in Ald. Cooper's auc-tion rooms, there to be offered for sale. It was thought that by this thrifty proceeding the cost of the carpet at least would be realized. But since that day nothing has been heard of the lucky piece of woven goods which had, what it doubtless considered, the pleasure and distinction of bearing the Duke and the beautiful Duchess. No wonder that such a car-pet should still be remembered, nor that in their interest in it certain ald-ermen feel that Ald. Cooper should tell the public what has become of it.

"Adrian Noble was a rich man, I am sure, three years ago," he confidently asserted, "and I am inclined to think there there has been some trickery about the settlement of his affairs; at all events, I shall take it upon myself to investigate matters, if for nothing more than to be satisfied upon that point."

Grace was quite elated at the thought of having a young companion, for such the Campbells seemed determined to make Annie.

CHAPTER XXIII.

Grace Campbell had been so charmed with her mother's description of Annie Noble, that she went the next day to make her acquaintance, and to call upon Miss Waldemar.

She found them chatting in the most social manner in their cool, pleasant paralor, into which she herself came like a breeze from some sylvan retreat with

I feel almost as if you were an old end, Miss Noble," she said, when the riend, Miss Noble, she said, when the introduction and greetings were over, "since learning that papa and Mr. Noble used to be so intimately connected. I am very glad you are coming to us—I have no sister, you know, and it will be so pleasant to have a companion."

Annie looked up with an amused smile; they all treated her more like an equal, excelelly, they like a dependent. Socially, than like a dependent.
"You forget, Miss Campbell, that I am to be a very busy person in your household," she said.

hold," she said.
Grace laughed merrily.
"You will not find our household such a remarkably industrious one, I imagine," she replied. "We are all very fond of taking life easy; besides," she added, archly, "I am allowed to have my own way somewhat, and if I see fit to monopolize you once in a while, I do not believe anyone will find fault. Now, I am going to ride for an hour or two; won't you go put on your hat and come with me?"

The invitation was given in such an off-hand, sincere way that Annie was only too glad to accept it, and in a few minutes was ready for the drive. It proved a long and delightful one, and when the two girls returned they ap-peared already to have formed a strong Irrendship.

If Grace hoped to meet Rich she was doomed to disappointment, although it was about the hour for his return from the office; but something had detained him later than usual, and she was forced to bid Annie good-bye and drive away without seeing him. without seeing him.

Rich, however, had met with quite an adventure on his return that summer evening that delayed him far beyond his usual hour.

As he entered the car that was to take him uptown, he seated himself beside a woman who had evidently been doing her marketing for the next day, for she had a large basket with her, which was well filled with a variety of vegetables and nackages.

She moved a little as Rich entered, to make room for him, giving him a casual glance as she did so.

She was dark-complexioned and sullentooking, coarsely clad, and awkward in figure, and she gave a violent start as her eyes fell upon Rich.

She covertly watched him all the way untown, and when he grose to leave the and packages.

uptown, and when he arose to leave the rar she arose also.

Seeing this, he stepped aside to allow her to pass out first with her heavy basket; but as she stepped to the ground her foot turned under her, she lost her balance and her hold upon her basket at the same time, and both fell to the rough pavement.

He helped her to the sidewalk, out of the way of the crowding vehicles, where he beckened to a boy and told him to gather up the basket and its contents.

But the woman had evidently sprained her ankle, for she could not stand alone. "Where do you live?" Rich questioned, while he wondered what he should do with her

She shook her head decidedly, beckond the boy to set her basket on the step beside her, and then rapped upon the toor behind her.

It was opened almost instantly, and Rich, to his astonishment, found himself face to face with his enemy—John Crouch the armenter.

This incident left an unpleasant impression upon him. There was something about the woman which haunted him for several days, while the brutality and hatred which the rough carpenter had displayed toward both him and her nettled him more than he would have cared to have known every time he thought of it.

He said nothing, however, to either Miss Waldemar or Annie about the affair, and after a time ceased to think of it himself, except occasionally to wonder how the unfortunate woman was getting over her fall.

I have sat close to him when many men of whom I knew nothing have introduced themselves to me to shake hands and congratulate me after making a speech, and he has never said a single word. I know that it is jealousy, because I am not the first man he has used in this way. During the debate on the Catholic claims he was so enraged because Lord Plunket had made a very splendid display, and because the Catholics had chosen Sir Francis Burdett instead of him to bring the bill forward, that he threw every difficulty in its way. Sir (Birkenruth), 15 to 2, 1; Wing Dance, 92 Francis said to him: 'Really, (Helgeson), 11 to 5, 2; Compass, 95 Brougham, you are so jealous tha Brougham, you are so jealous that is is which he is the head. On that I have most firmly made up my mind. don't believe that it is in his nature to be a month in office without caballing against his colleagues." In 1837 Brougham opposed the mo tion to grant an annuity of £30,000 to the Duchess of Kent, the motion bewhom Brougham hated. By a slip of the tongue Brougham called the duchess the queen mother. "The mother of the queen," exclaimed Lord Melbourne. And this was Brougham's outburst: "On a point of this sort I humble myself before my noble friend. I have no courtier-like cultivation. I am rude of speech. The tongue of my noble friend is so well hung, and so tended meeting of the Woodstock well attuned to courtly airs, that I cannot compete with him for the prize which he is now so eagerly struggling to win. Not being given to glozing erected speech ened." and flattery, I may say that the Duchess of Kent (whether she be called queen-mother or mother of the queen) is nearly connected with the throne; and a plain man like myself, having no motive but to do my duty, may be permitted to surmise that any additional provision for her might possibly come from the civil list which you have so lavishly voted."

Lord Melbourne retaliated by asking what a tongue "well hung" meant, and making uncomplimentary remarks on Brougham's "egregious flattery." tainly looks the part held up for him Whereupon Brougham ridiculed Melbourn's speech as "woman-like, Billingsgate-woman-like language." his diaries, at least, Lord Shaftesbury and also has a pretty little history attached to him, which his owner delights to repeat to admirers of the cal opponents, just because they were his opponents. When Lord John Russell was raised to the peerage Lord Shaftesbury wrote: "Why is the House of Lords to be made the London reformatory where convicted criminals are to have another chance? Is it good that so tarnished a man should be in so brilliant a station?" But there's another side to the subject. Gladstone's characteristic reference in the house to Mrs. Disraeli's illness drew tears from "Dizzy." . Moving for the erection of a statue to Lord Beaconsfield, Mr Gladstone made another characteristic speech, which ended as follows:

"There is much error and misappre-hension abroad as to the personal senimpossible to act with you.' I never timents that prevail between men who are divided in politics. Their words must necessarily from time to time be sharp; their judgments may occasionally, may warrantably, may necessarily, be severe; but the general idea of persons less informed than those within the parliamentary circle is that they are actuated toward one another by ing supported by Lord Melbourne, hatred. I wish to record in this place, sentiments of intense antipathy or and at this hour, my firm conviction that in all the judgments ever delivered by the late Lord Beaconsfield on myself he was never actuated by sentiments of personal antipathy.'
