MILLIONS OF POUNDS OF SUGAR HELD IN STORAGE WHILE PRICE WAS HIGH OWING TO "SHORTAGE"

Huge Quantity Held by New York Brokers Lies in Halifax Warehouse — Deterioration Is Setting In As a Result of Warm Weather—Slump in Price Likely To Mean a Big Loss To Owners.

Halifax, N. S., Sept. 2.—While Nova Scotians were paying 25 cents a pound for sugar most of the summer (one of the reasons given for the high price being an alleged scarcity), millions of pounds owned by New York speculators were stored right in Halifax, in the Dominion Government warehouse at the ocean terminals. Having been stored there for nearly four months in the hottest season of the year, part of the sugar which still remains is deteriorating in value. If the hot weather continued much longer, a large part of it would cause a big loss to the New York owners, who will probably welcome the coming of cooler weather.

Early in May 112,000 bags of sugar were sold by a refinery to some New York brokers, and the whole was stored in a government warehouse. Since then nearly half has been shipped to New York and elsewhere, but 65,000 bags remain. The sugar has changed ownership several times, it is stated, without being removed from the warehouse, each time at an advance in price, but now that sugar is on the decline here and everywhere, the portion still remaining here would cause the owners a loss anyway, even if the quality remained high. The sugar is, or was, best granulated, and is in a huge, long pile in the warehouse, which is a hot, sultry building in warm weather, and some of the sugar, particularly the bags at the bottom of the big pile, is feeling the effects of weather and pressure from above. During the shipyard strike here recently about $2,000,000 riot insurance was placed on it.

GERMANY THINKS IT UNWISE TO AID BOLSHEVIKI

Dr. Simons Said Urgings of Russian Reds Were Ignored.

HAD SOUND REASONS

Support of Soviet Government Would Have Been Disastrous, He Says.

Berlin, Sept. 1.—Dr. Walter Simons, the foreign minister, addressing the Reichstag foreign affairs committee, today declared he had been urged to collaborate with the Russian Bolsheviki against the western powers as a means of breaking the bonds imposed by the treaty of Versailles, but that after mature consideration he had rejected this course.

"If we had followed these exhortations," said the foreign minister, "Germany would immediately have become a theatre of war. Furthermore, the disastrous consequences which Bolshevism might be expected to bring with it would have fallen with double force upon Germany."

Dr. Simons said proposals also have been made that Germany co-operate with the western powers against Russia, which he considered an equally impossible course.

"No power at war with Soviet Russia," the foreign minister added, "need count upon our support."

STRIKE NOTICES TO BE SENT TO MINERS

Walkout Is Called For in Great Britain On September 25.

London, Sept. 2.—Strike notices calling for a walkout of members of the British Miners' Federation on September 25, will be sent out today according to a decision reached at a meeting of the district delegates of the federation here this morning. The executive committee of the Transport Workers' Union and of the railwaymen, which have been holding joint sessions here for the past two days, have shown a disposition to support the miners, but nothing definite was known this morning of the decision relative to a sympathetic strike. The former organization must take a vote of its members before calling for a walkout, but the railroadmen need refer the matter only to a conference of delegates.

Belief has been expressed that, even if the strike notices should be sent out, a stoppage of work may be averted, as the actual walkout may be suspended from day to day under the rules of the federation.

31,000 MEXICAN MILL WORKERS ON STRIKE

Fears Entertained That the Movement Will Spread.

Mexico City, Sept. 2.—Thirty-one thousand workers unexpectedly went out on strike here yesterday. They were mostly mill hands, but it is feared the strike will spread.

SCALE COMMITTEE OF MINERS MEETING TO ACCEPT WAGE AWARD

Scranton, Pa., Sept. 2.—While many mine workers throughout the hard coal fields remained on what they termed "a vacation" as a protest against the terms of the award of the anthracite coal commission, the scale committee representing the operators and workers met in a joint conference here today for the purpose of finally accepting the award after six months of negotiation, investigation and arbitration.

The scale committee of the miners' union having agreed at Hazleton yesterday to accept the award under protest, to be followed by the making of new demands, it was expected a settlement would soon be reached.

London Girl Wins Prize For Essay

Louise Watt Awarded First Place in Ontario Safety League Competition.

Principal E. Wyatt of St. George's School, received word today that Louise Wyatt, daughter of Principal W. B. Wyatt of Wortley road school, has been awarded first prize for the best essay on "How to Prevent Motor Accidents," in the competition held by the Ontario Safety League. Miss Wyatt wins a cash prize of $15, first prize in Class A for children 12 years and under. Another prize also comes to London in connection with the competition, as fifth prize, was awarded to Howard Obeay of Talbot street school.

Miss Wyatt is making a record for prize winning essays, having last fall won first prize in the contest held by the Fire Prevention League, and second in the Victory Loan contest.

STOLE TO BUY FLORIDA WATER

Sarah Robinson's Craving For Drink Results in Severe Sentence.

Sarah Robinson's craving for liquor of any kind resulted in her being sent down for not less than six months and not more than two years, when she appeared in police court today before Acting Magistrate P. H. Bartlett. She was found guilty on two charges of stealing clothes, which she pawned, to buy Florida water, she claimed. The accused appeared before Squire Chittick a week ago on a charge of stealing a pair of trousers from a man, but was allowed to go on suspended sentence.

One theft was committed in the house of Charles Smith, 1228 Trafalgar street.

"Did you steal the clothes," required Crown Attorney McKillop.

"No," replied the prisoner. "I took them to pawn them and make some money to buy Florida water."

"But to take them without permission is that not stealing?" asked the crown attorney.

"Smith gave me permission to go into his house, and I saw the clothes and took them," stated the prisoner.

"You are guilty of theft, then," stated the crown attorney.

"Yes," replied the prisoner.

The prisoner, has been living a dissipated life. For some time it was alleged she has been living with John Purrott, who resides near Pond Mills. At different times she has come to the city and lived with colored people. She claimed that she had left Purrott a few days ago, and was up to the time arrested living with a colored man.

She has had two children. One, a girl, is at present in the Mercer Reformatory, having been sentenced some time ago by Magistrate Graydon. The other a boy nine years of age, is being taken care of by the Children's Aid Society.

"Sentence her so as to get her away from the awful life she is living," requested Crown Attorney McKillop.

"Your case is a very said one indeed," said the court. "Your life could not be worse, and I am not imposing this sentence upon you for punishment but to get you away from these people."

Planning To Get More Coal For Cities In Ohio

Cleveland, Sept. 2.—Representatives of several Ohio cities, the interstate commerce commission, coal and railroad officials were expected to meet here this afternoon to outline plans for obtaining for Ohio cities some of the coal shipped through Northern Ohio lake ports to the heads of the lakes.

At a hearing at Washington Monday, the interstate commerce commission promised that if an acceptable plan for the distribution could be drawn up, steps would be taken for allowing the retention of fuel in Ohio cities.

Appeals To Unionized Labor To Check Drift From Farms

Sherbrooke, Que., Sept. 2.—Speaking at the Eastern Townships Exhibition yesterday, Hon. J. A. Caron, provincial minister of agriculture, warned the inhabitants of this province against abandoning the farm for the city. He advocated the adoption by unionized labor of measures to insure that inexperienced help would not be allowed to compete with urban labor, but that the unions should demand a certificate of apprenticeship from all entering their ranks. Thereby the influx of farmers to the city would be stopped to a great extent, as the temptation now is to get the high wages paid for industrial labor and enjoy the advantage of short hours, amusements and easier work.

OLDEST CHORISTER IN THE WORLD

Approaching his 87th year, Richard Stapells, 54 Spruce street, Toronto, can lay claim to being the oldest chorister in the world. Entering a church choir in his home town of Rochester, Eng., about the year 1852 he has been a member of church choirs ever since, a period of 68 years, and as far as can be ascertained this establishes a record. Just recently Mr. Stapells entered on his 87th year as a member of the choir of All Saints' Anglican Church, Sherbourne street, Toronto, and he is still regarded as a very valuable member of that aggregation.

Previous to coming to Canada about half a century ago, Mr. Stapells had a record of about 20 years' singing service in the choirs of his native land, having been connected with St. Margaret's Church, Rochester; Rochester Cathedral, and St. Mary's, Strood. Born in London, Eng., he spent his boyhood days in Rochester, and was a very close friend of Charles Dickens, the famous novelist.

His son, Richard Stapells, is the organist of the Church of the Messiah, and his grandson, Richard Stapells, is a prominent Toronto manufacturer, and an ex-president of the Empire Club, Toronto.

ARMY CODE AND CIPHER STOLEN BY SINN FEINERS

Valuable Documents Taken During Raid On Royal Air Force Headquarters.

London, Sept. 2.—A Sinn Fein raiding party invaded the Royal Air Force headquarters at Baldoyle, near Dublin, Saturday night, and carried off a large number of secret military documents, including the army code and cipher used at the present time, according to the Daily Mail. It is declared the coup was the most daring and important that has been attempted in Ireland since the present unrest in that country began.

Among the papers stolen, it is said were orders relating to the joint operation of the army, navy air force, and the Royal Irish Constabulary; the scheme of Irish defence plans, the details for lighting airdromes for night flying, and proposals for new developments of the royal air corps in Ireland. Revolvers, ammunition and field glasses were also taken.

SNIPING TAKES PLACE OF PITCHED BATTLES IN CITY OF BELFAST

Belfast, Sept. 2.—Snipers fired into a dense crowd shortly before 11 o'clock last night near the Crumlin road jail, and for a time panic reigned in that section of the city. One civilian was fatally injured during the shooting and, although soldiers were rushed at once to the scene and pursued the man who did the shooting he made his escape.

During a small riot in Dover street, where hostile crowds gathered during the late evening, one man was seriously wounded.

At 11 o'clock, the hour at which the curfew ordinance is effective, the streets were almost deserted.

During yesterday there were several injured by snipers in the northern part of the city, North street being the centre of the most disorder.

There were no pitched battles similar to those fought on Monday and Tuesday, but feeling was very bitter between the contending factions and at times only opportune intervention of police or

INCOME TAXATION AMENDMENT WILL INCREASE CITY REVENUE

May Practically Double the Amount At Present Received—Separate Department May Be Established To Handle Its Collection.

That London's revenue by taxation can be increased enormously under the new income taxation amendment adopted July 15, following passage of same by the Legislature is admitted by those in touch with the situation. The amendment rescinds that portion of the statute exempting dividends derived from shares in the stock of a corporation carrying on a mercantile or manufacturing business, and makes these dividends liable to taxation.

By this means the revenue derived through income taxation by the various municipalities throughout Ontario could be practically doubled, and in London would mean the employment of extra clerks, and a separate income tax department in order that the increased revenue could be properly handled. So far as is known locally no municipality in the province has inaugurated the new system, or made any bid for increased revenue by this means and the local assessment rolls for next year are now being made up without this city taking advantage of the amendment.

Has Not Been Done.

The amendment goes into effect six weeks after the Legislature prorogued, and hence returns for next year should be made out in accordance with its clauses, but this has not been done. Were it decided now that it should be done (and the increased revenue thus obtained) a great deal of extra work would be involved here, the change meaning that new assessment rolls for income tax would have to be prepared and filled in by persons liable to same, and that the ones now taken in locally would have to be rejected.

City Assessor Stephen Grant is attending the convention of the Ontario Municipalities Association in Toronto today and could not be interviewed on the subject, and other civic officials would not venture a statement as to the probable amount of increased revenue the city would derive under the amendment. However, it is known that the present municipal revenue obtained via income taxation would be doubled, and although involving a tremendous task, would yield thousands of dollars.

Controlled by Legislature.

While the city derives the income taxation revenue, the statutes covering same are controlled by legislature of the Provincial House, which rescinded the clause exempting dividends derived from mercantile stocks. The Legislature also drafted a new form for municipal income taxation, which countermands the one at present in use here. Like its predecessor, it must be in the form of a declaration made be-

SAYS NATIONAL PROBLEMS MUST BE SOLVED IN SCHOOL ROOMS

Education Is the Most Important Question in World Today, Says Dean Tucker At Opening Meeting of the London Teachers' Association — Many Splendid Addresses On Practical Matters.

The London Teachers' Association, comprising the teachers of the public, separate and technical schools and the collegiate institute, in meeting today and tomorrow in the Normal School. This morning's session, besides matters of routine and business, included instructive addresses by Dean Tucker, G. A. Wheable, M.C., president of the association, Inspectors C. B. Edwards and V. K. Greer, and Principal Alexander MacQueen, Principal H. B. Beal of the Technical School, who was to have spoken on "Entrance High School History," was unable to be present.

The opening exercises concluded with a short prayer by Very Revr. Dean Tucker, after which he gave a short address on the fundamental purposes of education.

A National Question.

The most important national question today, he said, is the question of education. Other national questions may be important, but they must all be solved by the citizenship of the country, and consequently the proper place to start the solution of these problems is in the education of future citizens of a country.

"The tendency today is too much towards materialism," said Dean Tucker, adding that while we could all applaud loudly the securing for London of a new industrial plant which would employ a thousand men, we are apathetic to the position and needs of an institution whose presence in our midst is one of infinitely greater value than the industrial plant, valuable as that may be. "I refer to the Western University," declared Dean Tucker, amid applause.

Must Be Developed.

He pointed out the necessity for the development of the logical faculty among those who control the world. Lack of the logical faculty is responsible for such conditions as Bolshevism would thrust upon the world. Bolshevism in Russia is a reaction from domination of the aristocratic class, a class extremely selfish and cruel, but more or less intelligent. However, the Bolshevists are so lacking in the logical faculty as to claim the establishment of genuine democracy, when all they are doing is merely substituting another type of class domination, and now in Russia there is again class government, and the class is just as selfish, just as cruel, and much less intelligent than the former class who ruled.

A Wrong System.

"If class government is wrong," said Dean Tucker, "then it is all wrong, whether exercised by the aristocrats, the capitalists, the farming class or the proletariat. Whatever class any class may be, it has no right to rule the country," concluded the speaker, pointing Marked Improvement on Canadian Exchange in New York.

New York, Sept. 2.—A marked improvement was shown in Canadian exchange this morning. The discount rate on Canadian dollars went down to 8½ per cent. SENATE COMMITTEE IS AWAITING DOCUMENTS

Chicago, Sept. 2.—Members of the Senate committee investigating campaign expenditures and contributions today expected to receive the data on which Governor Cox based his charges that the Republicans were raising a $15,000,000 campaign fund. Buy Seven Acres For New Factory

Local Firm Has Been Incorporated With Capital of $3,000,000.

Incorporation has already been granted for the new Ruggles Motor Truck Company, Limited, of London, according to announcement made by George M. Reid, president of the London Chamber of Commerce, today. The company is incorporated with an authorized capital of $3,000,000. The property on which the new factory is to be erected has been purchased, but the price has not been disclosed. It is understood that it was regarded as unusually high, but F. W. Ruggles, head of the new company, decided that no other property in London would be quite as suitable, and the transactions for the transfer of the property have been completed. It is immediately east of the McCormick property on Dundas street. Work on the new building will be commenced probably within 30 days, or within 30 days at the outside. Manufacturing of trucks will be actually commenced in temporary premises within three months' time. The company has on hand advance orders and sufficient export business assured to keep the factory running one year without selling a single truck in Canada, it was announced.

The property purchased for the new plant comprises seven acres.

FRANCE AND HUNGARY SIGN TRADE TREATY

Paris Matin Declares Agreement Is Satisfactory One.

Paris, Sept. 2.—Signature of a treaty between France and Hungary relative to commerce between the two countries is announced here by the Matin. This convention, it is declared, will stipulate that in case of military necessity the two countries will assure protection of Danube navigation. The Matin adds that the treaty is in no way prejudicial to the agreements France has made with Jugo-Slavia and Czecho-Slovakia.

CHICAGO MAYOR SAYS ILLINOIS GOVERNOR IS A CROOK AND A LIAR

Chicago, Sept. 2.—Mayor William Hale Thompson, addressing two political meetings last night in the Illinois Republican primary campaign declared that Governor Frank O. Lowden was a "crook and a liar."

Mayor Thompson said "he helped to elect Lowden four years ago," and added, "but we won a hollow victory, for we elected a crook for governor, and his word is no good."

At another meeting he said: "Frank O. Lowden is a liar. I apologize for supporting him."

SOVIET ARMY AT LEMBERG ANNIHILATED

Bolshevik Force Under General Budeney Is Wiped Out.

OUTFLANKED BY POLES

Large Number of Reds Are Lost in Battle With Polish Forces.

Warsaw, Sept. 2.—The Bolshevik army of Gen. Budeney, noted cavalry leader, was annihilated during the operations in the Lemberg sector, which began August 29 and ended September 1, says the Polish official statement on military operations issued today.

Isolated detachments of the Buddeny forces have escaped and are now in disorderly retreat.

Gen. Budeney's mounted men had been endeavoring to break through the Polish lines and march upon Lublin. They had virtually completed an encircling movement against Zamosz, midway between Lublin and Lemberg, but were outflanked by the Poles and attacked from the east, the communique states. The engagement resulted in the defeat of the soviet forces along the entire centre of the front, and the Russians were compelled to retreat in disorder, with the Poles in close pursuit.

Reds Lose Many Men.

The Bolsheviki lost heavily in killed and wounded, adds the statement, the Poles capturing thousands of prisoners, sixteen guns and enormous quantities of material.

The fighting centred in the Zamosz region, the battle taking the form of numerous cavalry clashes, with the infantry filling in the gaps and attacking all along the line simultaneously. The plans were carried out in accordance with the Polish battle plan, which led the Russians into traps where they would be attacked from all sides.

Besides announcing the victory of the Poles over Budeney, the communique reports successes along the entire centre and southern fronts, where the Russians were bested in the fighting.

REDS ARE RETIRING.

London, Sept. 2.—The Russian soviet forces endeavoring to encircle Lemberg have succumbed to the eastward under Polish pressure, says the soviet official statement of Wednesday received today by wireless. Some successes for the soviet troops are reported on the centre of the fighting front. The statement says:

"In the Cholm region (40 miles east of Lublin), we crossed to the right bank of the western Bug, 50 miles east of Lublin, and flung back the enemy to the left bank of the river.

"In the Vladimir Volynski region, after occupying Hrubsino and developing our advance, we occupied a number of villages seven miles west of Hrubieszow.

"In the Sokal region (45 miles southeast of Hrubieszow), fighting is proceeding in our favor. In the Lemberg region, under enemy pressure, we retired somewhat to the east on the sector north of the Lemberg Brody Railway. In the Bereslav and Orlekhov regions (in the Crimea), we are engaged with the enemy, who is offering fierce resistance."

SAYS FORTY PER CENT INCREASE IN EXPRESS RATES IS JUSTIFIED

Hon. F. H. Phippen Appears On Behalf of Companies.

Toronto, Sept. 2.—That the application of the express companies for a 40 per cent increase in rates is amply justified, and should have been in force long ago, was the argument advanced by F. H. Phippen, K.C., on behalf of the companies before the railway board at the city hall today. Mr. Phipnen called T. E. McDonald, general manager of the Dominion Express Company, to prove that had the previous application been granted in full the company's earnings would have been nearly a million dollars higher, and a deficit would have been averted. The figures produced by witness were, however, based on a seven months' period, and he admitted that this increase would have been reduced by changed conditions over the remainder of the time and by increased wage costs.

Hon. F. H. Phippen, K. C., for the Express Traffic Association of Canada opened the proceedings by reading the formal application of the express companies for a 40 per cent increase in rates.

Hon. F. B. Carvell, chairman of the board, was not present. The commissioners in attendance were: A. C. Boyce, K. C., and Dr. J. G. Rutherford, C.M.G. Hon. F. H. Phippen, K. C., appeared for the Express Traffic Association of Canada, and Major Geary for the city of Toronto.

John Pullen represented the Canadian Express Company, W. H. Burr and T. E. McDonnell the Dominion Express Company, and J. A. Fraser the Canadian National Express Company.

D'Arcy Scott represented the National Dairy Council, the Canadian Fisheries Association, and the Canadian Produce Association. G. E. McIntosh was present in the interests of the fruit and vegetable shippers of Canada.

Others in attendance included J. Walsh, traffic manager of the C. M. A., I. S. Fairty, assistant city counsel.

First Frost of the Season Today

No Harm Done To Fruits or Vegetables, Say the Farmers.

Although the thermometer at the local observatory only gives the temperature this morning at 39, those who were out early saw the first frost of the season. It was light, and no harm was reported. There was a distinct fall touch in the air today, and many citizens were reminded that it will not be long before coal shovelling will be necessary. Farmers stated that no harm was done to fruits or vegetables.

BRITISH GOVERNMENT WILL DISREGARD ANY PLEAS FOR LIBERATION OF MACSWINEY

Sir Hamar Greenwood Declares There Will Be No Deviation From Present Course—Lawlessness in Ireland Is the Work of a Small Body of Anarchists — Sinn Feiners Who Now Invoke Mercy For MacSwiney Showed No Such Spirit Towards the Eighty Loyal British Policemen Murdered by Irish Reds.

London, Sept. 2.—Appeals on behalf of Lord Mayor MacSwiney of Cork, who is in a critical condition at Brixton Prison, this city, as a result of a hunger strike as a protest against his arrest, will not be recognized by the British Government, Sir Hamar Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland, strongly intimated in an interview with the correspondent of the London Times at Lucerne today. Sir Hamar also indicated the Government would unswervingly adhere to its Irish policy.

"None of the mercy which some seek to invoke for the lord mayor," said the chief secretary, "was shown the eighty policemen who have lost their lives in Ireland."

A Few Anarchists.

"The present lawlessness in Ireland," the Times correspondent in Ireland quotes Sir Hamar as declaring, "is the work of a small body of men who are striving by carefully planned anarchy to impose secession from the British Empire on 80 per cent of the people of Ireland, who do not want to secede."

Sir Hamar declared that if the Sinn Fein had been willing to accept anything less than complete Irish independence, Premier Lloyd George's proposal to meet Irish leaders would not have remained unanswered. He reiterated the Government was willing to grant Ireland any form of government acceptable to the majority of the people, so long as the rights of the empire should be employed to prevent secession in Ireland. Premier Lloyd George, the correspondent says, will return to London early next week, and will not attend the meeting of Premiers Millerand and Giolitti at Aix les Bains, which has been fixed for September 11 and 12. He adds that Emir Feisal, who was elected king of Syria early in the summer, and who is at present in Rome, is not going to Switzerland, having failed to arrange meeting with the British premier.

MARQUIS OF ABERDEEN APPEALS FOR RELEASE OF TERENCE MACSWINEY

London, Sept. 2.—The Marquis of Aberdeen and Temair, former viceroy of Ireland, in a letter to a weekly paper, strongly advocates a reversal of the Government's policy of coercion in Ireland, and the release of Lord Mayor MacSwiney. The marquis makes a strong appeal for Lord Mayor MacSwiney, who, he says, if allowed to succumb to starvation will undoubtedly be regarded by millions of people as a hero and a martyr.

CONSIDERS IT IS OF NO CONCERN TO UNITED STATES

Boston, Sept. 2.—The Loyal Coalition, of which Demarest Lloyd is president, today sent to Secretary of State Colby a telegraphic protest against intercession in the case of Terence MacSwiney, lord mayor of Cork, who is on a hunger strike in Brixton prison in London. "The starvation from which he is suffering is self-inflicted. The case is not in any sense a proper concern of the Government of the United States," the protest said.

THIS "BIRD" DEMANDS, NOT ASKS, RELEASE OF TERENCE MACSWINEY

Chicago, Sept. 2.—P. P. Christian, the Farmer-Labor party candidate for president, evidently is determined that he is not going to be left behind in the bidding for the Sinn Fein vote. Today he sent a cablegram to Premier Lloyd George of Great Britain, demanding the release of Lord Mayor MacSwiney. The message is couched in very extravagant language. It informs the British premier that he has "appalled the thinking people of the world by your callous indifference to the death throes of the heroic lord mayor of Cork," and concludes: "If the Lloyd George Government is not a tyrant, prove it by freeing Terence MacSwiney and withdrawing your murderous army from the soil of the Irish republic."

APPEALS MADE TO COMMUTE SENTENCE OF QUEBEC WOMAN

Department of Justice Considering Mrs. Gagnon's Case.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, Sept. 2.—The department of justice at the present time is wrestling with evidence in the case of Mrs. Gagnon of Quebec, sentenced to hang in October for the murder of her stepdaughter, a girl of about 16. The evidence in the case was of a most conclusive and revolting nature. The victim was subjected to a process of lingering torture and starvation, and finally succumbed to emaciation and bodily injuries inflicted, in some cases, by a red-hot poker or a whip. The father of the girl was held partly responsible for the crime, and sentenced to life imprisonment.

While there is strong feeling in the community in favor of the death penalty being inflicted, petitions are being received asking for clemency. Prominent among the petitioners is the Anti-Hanging Society headed by Hon. George P. Graham and Robert Bickerdike. This society is opposed, in the first place, to what Mr. Bickerdike has always claimed to be "legalized murder," namely, hanging, and makes a special plea for Mrs. Gagnon, because she is a woman and she gave birth to twins after being sentenced.

The last woman hanged in Canada was Cordelia Viau, who suffered the extreme penalty at Ste. Scholastique in company with her paramour. A decision by the justice department in the present case is not anticipated immediately. Under the circumstances, however, commutation of the death sentence to life imprisonment would not be surprising.

URGES THAT BUSINESS LAW BE PUT MORE ON BUSINESS BASIS

Under-Secretary of State Delivers Address At Lawyers' Convention.

DESCRIBES DIFFICULTIES

Change in Legislation Would Facilitate Commercial Litigation.

Ottawa, Sept. 2.—An appeal for a closer study of Canadian company law with a view to a clearer understanding of its meaning and effect, in short, a plea to put business law on a business basis, was made by Mr. Thmas Mulvey, K.C., under-secretary f state, in an address on "Some Phases of Company Law," before Canadian Bar Association this morning. This and an address of welcome by Mayor Fisher occupied the whole of the time of the legal fraternity, which gathered in great force on the second day of the annual convention.

After describing the difficulties which had arisen in the interpretation of the Canadian company law, the undersecretary said that if the same attitude persisted on the part of judges and others, business would be hampered. Now, as never before, he said, did Canada need a clear understanding of these questions.

"The Paris methods of dealing with company legislation," he said, "have done much to create the difficulties with which we are now faced. Company legislation is for the advancement of business and the trading community. Let us adopt methods in business law.

A proposal to form a judicial section of the association, composed of the members of the bench, a great number of whom are attending the convention, will be taken up by the judges themselves.

The members attended luncheon at 1 o'clock today and listened to an address from Sir Auckland Geddes, British ambassador to the United States. There was a very large attendance. Tonight will be the annual dinner, at which a great array of speakers will figure.

EMPLOYERS DELIVER ULTIMATUM TO THE BRITISH PRINTERS

London, Sept. 2.—Canadian Associated Press.—The printing trade employers have sent an ultimatum to the Typographical Association, which states that unless all the Manchester and Liverpool members return to work in two weeks, notice will be given to all members of the association outside of London. The strikers tacitly admit that they withdrew their labor not because the masters failed to keep faith, but because their own executive failed to convey the masters' offer to them.

WATERMELONS AT TWO CENTS APIECE

MAYOR TAKES STEP TOWARDS ARRANGING OF VOTE ON ST. RY.

Has Five Different Proposals For One Ballot—Committee To Report—Ald. Bridge Warns Men "Hold Horses" Regarding Rumored Fair Week Strike.

A definite proposal to settle the London street railway problem by vote of the people next January was laid before No. 1 committee of the city council Wednesday afternoon by Mayor E. S. Little. His worship outlined five different proposals to be voted on one ballot. The first provides for the purchase and operation of the road by the city of London through the public utilities, or a railway commission; second, purchase and operation by the hydro-electric power commission, bonds for same being guaranteed by the city; third, continuance of operation under the railway board as at present, but on the "service at cost" plan for the balance of the franchise; fourth, handing back the road to the company on the "service at cost" basis for the balance of the franchise, and fifth, that the city give the company 30 days' notice, cancelling their franchise on the ground that same has been violated, and construction of a new transportation system under municipal ownership.

By the "service at cost" basis the council would be authorized to raise the fares in order to meet obligations, with profits accruing to the city. The proposals could be marked in order of preference, with the leading one at the polls adopted. The proposal was deferred for suggestions from any reliable source on motion of Mayor Little.

Remove Junk.

"If the last proposal were adopted," said his worship, "we could make the company get all their junk off the streets and we could then buy what lines we want. I think the five suggestions cover every phase of the situation, and they could be elaborated with a little more care."

William Tite, speaking for the labor representation committee, suggested that the city buy up outstanding bonds, then practically owning the road, pay increased wages to the men out of the $750 weekly payment on the bonds now in force and let the bonds stand with no principle paid off and only the interest to be collected. Some doubt was expressed by the members as to the possibility of obtaining the bonds.

Raymond Smith of the trades and labor council urged that immediate action be taken, as the men were dissatisfied and a strike loomed on the horizon as a result of their meagre wages.

"The city council does not care what the men do," declared the mayor. "We are going to serve the people of the city. The men signed an agreement to hold in force until a new agreement was drawn up. The city council is going to solve for the city of London, including the street railway employees, but not for the street railway employees alone."

"Is there any truth in the rumor that the men are going to strike during fair week?" asked Ald. John Bridge. "They would be well advised to hold their horses, as they will stay out a good while of they do, so far as the city council is concerned."

For Crippled Soldiers.

"The labor representation committee got us into this muddle last spring," said Ald. Cameron Wilson, "and I am heartily in accord with the mayor's sentiments. I am in sympathy with the men, but they are not acting fair. It is not a question of a few cents, but that of the transportation problem for London. Forty-nine cents per hour for eight hours is not much pay, but I understand the men are working more hours. These jobs should be kept for crippled soldiers with one leg or one arm."

"We got the railway board to come in for a truthful statement," defended Raymond Smith. "A statement which I think we have got. We were distrustful of the London Street Railway."

"Six weeks ago I fought the increase in fares along with your organization," declared Ald. Wilson. "And they said then that the railway board was not to be trusted."

Both the Trades and Labor Council and the labor representation committee, through Delegates Raymond Smith and William Tite, urged that steps be taken for the purchase of the road to be decided at a municipal election, and that a proposition for an increase in fares be submitted to the people, all moneys derived from same after payment of the increased wages to be applied by the city council on the purchase of the railway. The question was left to Ald. W. Wilson, C. Wilson, G. Drake, John Bridge and Mayor Little to investigate and report upon.

One Tender.

Despite the fact that it was well advertised there was but one tender received for the purchase of the east end town hall, and no action was taken on it, owing to the fact that the offer was considered too low. The Langemarck Hall Company offered $16,000 for the building and property, with $500 paid on acceptance of tender, and agreement to receive from the city $1,000 per year rental for the fire hall, and $600 for the library yearly.

"They want to make ten per cent on a good investment," commented Ald. Cameron Wilson to which Ald. Wakeling replied: "You want to sell the town hall, and there is your chance." Despite the objection raised by the latter, on motion of Mayor Little, seconded by Ald. Brighton, no action was taken.

A letter was received from City Clerk Littlejohn of Toronto, asking a postponement of action regarding the fight against the increased rate of the Bell Telephone Company, pending a collection of data to help the cause. A communication from C. H. Beard of the Telephone Company was also received, asking permission to address the council on the question. Action in each case was deferred until Monday next, when Ald. O. I. Cunningham, who attended the Canadian Municipalities Association convention at Montreal, will report on the matter to the city council.

Task Too Big.

"I do not think we should press for a separate hydro telephone service," announced the mayor. "It would be best to take over the Bell Telephone Company. They have to be forced into a position by the Dominion Railway Board where they will listen to a proposition from the provinces. It is too big for the Dominion with the present railway situation and war debt. We want the best counsel in Ontario and ... to fight the company with a levy for same from each municipality, thus accomplishing more with less expense than each city solicitor could do."

"We should back up Toronto," declared Ald. Watkinson.

A communication from J. A. Ellis of the Provincial Housing Commission, was read, which stated that it is necessary for the council to pass another bylaw under the Ontario Housing Act, for a further $100,000 or a further $300,000, the latter sum being the remainder of a $400,000 appropriation for housing purposes. Up to July 27, $163,366 had been advanced and to date only one debenture bylaw for $100,000 had been received. It was referred to the city treasurer with instructions to have a suitable bylaw drawn up for next Tuesday.

An invitation from the Hydro-Electric Railway Association for London to send delegates to the convention to be held in Hamilton, Sept. 16, was laid over until Tuesday night, when the council will appoint delegates from that body or the public utilities commission.

Wants Statement.

The trades and labor council wrote asking what industries had been procured by the city through the chamber of commerce, and what the prospects were in this line. The mayor announced that there was no way of giving out this information, owing to the fact that prospective industries for London had been lost through publicity, other municipalities doubling their efforts to obtain them. William Tite explained that London obtained so few industries in comparison to other municipalities in the province that the trades and labor council would like to become familiar with the local situation.

Fire Chief John Aitken reported that George Gray, who has been a member of his department since May 1, 1878, a period of over 42 years, wished to be superannuated. It was decided, on Mayor Little's suggestion, to investigate, and see what could be done for this veteran, his worship explaining that the cash grant of $3,625 allowed at present was not sufficient recognition for such faithful service. On recommendation of City Engineer Brazier, a petition for two street lights on Arundell street was granted.

Trades and Labor Council Will Storm City Hall in Support of Street Car Men

Remarks of Various Aldermen At Meeting of No. 1 Committee Rankles Delegates—D. McCann of Ottawa Asks Men To Stand by International Trades Unionism.

London Trades and Labor Council will storm the city hall en masse Tuesday evening to back up the London Street Railway employees in their demands for higher wages. The members of the labor party in their meeting Wednesday evening did not exactly agree with the estimate of the street railwaymen, expressed by Mayor Little yesterday afternoon, according to Secretary Wm. Tite of the labor council. Mayor Little is alleged to have said that "he didn't care a damn for the street railwaymen. They were a lot of farmers anyhow."

It also rankled the labor men to hear that one of the former labor aldermen, Cameron Wilson say "if they didn't like their job why didn't they quit? It wasn't a job for them anyhow. It was a job returned soldiers ought to have; men with one arm or one leg could fill the job."

"Did Ald. Cameron Wilson say the returned soldiers should only get 44 cents an hour for it?" asked a returned member of the council.

"His idea for one-legged operators," said another delegate, trying hard to relax the delegates who appeared to be thinking very hard just at the moment, "is to have more room for the feet of the standing passengers."

Not a Suggestion.

"Alderman John Bridge said he heard the men were going to strike again fair week. We told him we hadn't heard even a suggestion of it," continued Mr. Tite.

"Well, if they go out fair week, they can stay out and rot," said Ald. Bridge. "I wouldn't be in favor of letting a car run again."

Down in San Quentin Prinson Tom Mooney lies in the cells for an alleged bomb outrage in San Francisco, but the labor men back of the defence fund believe he was railroaded as an innocent man through to a prison cell because of his prominence in the labor movement. His devoted wife, Rena Mooney, is now doing the outside work on a paper called "Tom Mooney's Monthly," while Tom thinks up the editorial policy behind the steel grating of his narow window. An appeal signed by Mooney for assistance for his little publication was referred to the Molders' Union, because Tom used to be a molder, and the London Trades and Labor Council has not got acknowledgments for donations previously made, so Treasurer Cummings stated.

Grievance Committee.

Fred Young, who claims to be the officially accredited organizer for the London Trades and Labor Council, in a letter, alleged that Secretary Tite was "maliciously circulating reports" about him, and waited some time downstairs in the Labor Temple, hoping for an opportunity to address the council. Mr. Young's letter was referred to the grievance committee which also has to consider a letter from the musicians' union, claiming him to be one of their accredited delegates.

D. McCann of Ottawa, representing the Dominion Trades Council, was in town and addressed a fervent appeal to the London Council to stand united for international trades unionism. He deplored the action of Toronto Council a few days ago in going on record in favor of the One Big Union.

"If you're not satisfied with trades unionism, change it," said Mr. McCann, "but don't divide the forces of Canadian labor."

Toronto Council also passed another resolution which Mr. McCann deemed unwise and unreasonable, a resolution asking the Dominion Trades Congress to turn $5,000 of the funds of the congress over to the Independent Labor party.

I. L. P. Spreads.

Joseph Marks was also present and gave a very bright report of the spreading of the I. L. P. branches to Ingersoll, Chatham, Courtright and other district points.

He believes the Farmer-Labor alliance will be permanent, and down at Ingersoll it was largely owing to the farmers' efforts that the I. L. P. branch was organized. In some respects the farmers are away ahead of the labor men, said Mr. Marks. It was the people themselves who started the Labor-Farmer political alliance and "the disreputable thing of various names" down at Ottawa is going to be "cracked" by a united popular sentiment at the earliest opportunity.

Premier Drury had a right to know what he wanted to know about hydro radials, and the claim of the hydro-electric authorities that labor was holding up the Chippawa hydro scheme was "a lie, and everyone knew it was a lie." Hydro and hydro radials were two different things, said Mr. Marks, but opponents of the Ontario Government were trying to make them out as one and the same thing.

Somebody reporting on the street railway situation quoted the mayor as saying Sir Adam Beck's pronouncement as to what the hydro-electric commission would do with the Illiway, was awaited before the city took action.

"What has he got to do with it" asked Delegate Cummings. "Adam Beck is no good to labor in any shape or form."

John F. Thompson got representation on the high cost of living committee authorized for the women's auxiliary of the G. W. V. A., but later in the meeting was ordered out of the council meeting by President McKay, because he wouldn't retract a statement made in crossfire that the president hadn't given him a fair chance to speak on one of the subjects being threshed out.

"I'll have to ask the sergeant-at-arms to expel you," said the president. The situation looked tense for half a minute, but Mr. Thompson announced that he would retire voluntarily and went.

It took quite a few minutes of discussion before the council appointed two delegates to a labor forum asked for by Professor Louis Wood and Frank Crockford of the I. L. P. Several council members were afraid that politics would be discussed at the forum, and the trades union movement bases a large amount of its dignity upon being non-political.

Finally, with only two minority votes, James P. Hevey and William Lyons were appointed. Then the council closed a strenuous meeting, elongated well past 11 o'clock, by singing "God Save the King."

MISSIONARIES ARE URGENTLY NEEDED

Dr. McKellar, in India Thirty Years, Narrates Experiences To Presbyterians.

The urgent need for more medical missionaries in India was impressed upon a large audience at St. Andrew's Hall on Wednesday evening, when Dr. Margaret McKellar, a returned medical missionary, gave a brief talk on her work during the last 30 years in India.

Dr. McKellar, who is a London lady, said during her address last night that it was 38 years ago in St. Andrew's Church that she decided to be a missionary. Dr. McKellar is home on furlough, and is renewing old friends and acquaintances. One of the most appalling things she mentioned was that when she went to India 30 years ago there were two medical missionaries in her field, and when she and a fellow-worker left for home recently they left only two there, and many schools had been built in 30 years. This she said showed the dire need for more medical missionaries. Most interesting were the details the speaker gave of the unrest, chiefly political, in India at the present time. Dr. McKellar related an incident of a raid on the missionary settlement, on which occasion the missionaries, Christian workers and students had to abandon the school and dispensary and seek refuge in the homes of Mohammedans until the military authorities sent help. The customs which were in vogue four thousand years ago, the speaker said, were still the same today, and she narrated some of the heathen customs which will always remain in India until it is Christianized.

Rev. D. C. MacGregor introduced Dr. McKellar to the audience, calling attention to the fact that it was a distinction to Presbyterians the world over as well as to Dr. McKellar herself to have been decorated by the King for her services during the war.

G. A. WENIGE ELECTED SECT. OF BIKE DEALERS

George A. Wenige of London was elected secretary-treasurer of the Canadian Bike Dealers at Toronto when the fourth annual convention was held in the King Edward Hotel. Three hundred dealers were present. The following officers were elected: J. L. Isaacs, Brantford, president; P. A. McBride, Toronto, vice-president; G. A. Wenige, London, secretary-treasurer. Executive: Walter Gurd, London; J. Isaacs, Hamilton; E. C. Briscoe, Chatham; A. E. Tredgold, Kingston; William Gladdish.

The next convention will be held in Chatham, although a bid to have it held in London was made.

Talks on trade conditions brought out the opinion that there would not be a drop in prices. There would be an upward tendency if any. Mr. Wenige spoke on "Advertising," giving facts and figures in connection with newspaper advertising.

WILL RUSH MAINS FOR RIVER WATER

Work To Commence On the C. P. R. System As Soon As Materials Come.

The Canadian Pacific Railway here will be supplied by the city with water from the River Thames in the near future. Authority and debentures have been issued for the laying of a large main from the north branch of the Thames along Central avenue to Quebec street, and Manager Buchanan of the Public Utilities announced today that the material for same has been ordered and work will be begun as soon as it arrives which will be early this fall. When completed the main will convey water to the railway to be used in all engines passing through London.

A branch main is included in plans to pipe water from Central avenue to Victoria Park, where the river water will be used on the lawns and gardens, which owing to the sandy nature of the soil at this point requires a great deal of moisture during the summer months to maintain this beauty spot at its best.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS ENTERTAIN ORPHANS

Children at Mount St. Joseph and Protestant Orphans' Home Receive Treat From Committee of London Council.

The children of the Protestant and Mount St. Joseph's orphans' homes enjoyed a happy afternoon Wednesday as a result of visits made by a committee of the London Council of the Knights of Columbus.

Candies and cakes were served to the children, and a plentiful supply of ice cream cones was distributed. After all had eaten of the "goodies" pockets were filled for later needs, the older children helping in a truly paternal manner to supply the smaller tots, who were unable to scramble after the "treats."

The knights derived much amusement from the quaint manner in which a diminutive 8-year-old boy at Mount St. Joseph, came forward and moved a vote of thanks, followed by a still smaller boy as seconder. A third, still smaller, asked "All those in favor?" and the answer was three cheers for the Knights of Columbus.

Among the members of the committee who acted as good fairies to the children yesterday were: E. J. Ryan, E. C. Killingsworth, Roy Kenny, V. J. Colgan, S. Amero, Dr. Claude Brown, Joseph Hickey, George Henry, R. Forristal, William Van Egmond, Thomas Ranahan, Paul Gravelle, R. Hayden, James Quigley and Martin Donohue.

TORONTO ALIENISTS REGARD ARNEL LOVE MENTALLY DEFECTIVE

Authorities Have Not Decided What To Do With Flesherton Young Man.

TORONTO, Sept. 1.—Arnel Love, the young man of Flesherton, Grey County, who confessed that he had killed his mother, and that his father, who was hanged for the murder was innocent, is said to be a mental defective. It is understood that the alienists who have had the young man under observation at the asylum here since Love was brought to Toronto in connection with his sensational story, have decided that he could not have murdered his mother, and that his professed guilt was imaginary.

Love's story of having used a butcher knife on his mother is said to have been disproved by a reference to the evidence taken at the trial.

Just what will be done with Arnel Love is not known yet, but it is probable that he will be kept under observation for some time to come. His so-called confession of guilt of homicide was made to an evangelist during a series of revival meetings which young Love had attended this summer. From the outset the attorney-general's department, it is understood, took little stock in Love's story.

SAYS CONDITION OF FISHERIES IS GOOD

OTTAWA, Sept. 1.—(By the Canadian Press).—"On the whole the condition of the salmon fishery on the west coast is very satisfactory," said Mr. W. A. Found, assistant deputy minister of fisheries, who has recently returned after a prolonged inspection trip. "The run to the Fraser, while comparatively small, is considerably larger than was anticipated," he continued, "but this river can never be brought back to its maximum of productivity until some international agreement for its protection has been consummated."

The administration of the fisheries service on the whole coast is in a splendid condition, he stated, and the laws are being well enforced by capable and energetic local officers. He said that there was not the development of deep-sea fisheries that was desirable by the department.

OWEN SOUND MAN PAYS $190 FOR HIS AVOIDANCE OF TRUTH

OWEN SOUND, Sept. 1.—It pays to tell the truth. John Orford of Owen Sound is quite convinced of this now for in the police court this morning he paid $190 for not telling the truth.

Yesterday Orford was charged with being drunk, and pleaded guilty. He was asked to tell where he got the liquor, and stated that he got it from James Hicks, who is at present serving a four months' sentence in the local jail on a charge of selling whiskey. The case was adjourned, as the magistrate thought Orford was not telling the truth, and Hicks was brought to court today to confront Orford, who backed down and admitted that the statement was a lie. Hicks told the court that they both got a bottle each from a man named Sargent.

A charge laid against Sargent, whom Hicks accused of employing him as an agent to sell liquor, was dismissed last week for lack of evidence.

As Orford had not told the truth yesterday the charge of being intoxicated was changed to a charge of having liquor in a public place, and he paid $200 instead of $10.

HAVING ALE BOTTLES IN WRONG PLACE BRINGS $200 FINE

Magistrate Refuses To Consider Plea For Reducing Amount.

Alex. Olizarevitch was fined $200 and costs for having two bottles of ale in a place other than a private dwelling, by Acting Magistrate P. H. Bartlett in police court today. Through his solicitor, W. R. Meredith, he pleaded guilty.

"He keeps a rooming house, and on a technical point is guilty of a breach of the O. T. A., but he kept the liquor for his own consumption, and I ask you to impose the minimum fine of $100 in this case," requested counsel.

Acting Magistrate Bartlett objected to the minimum fine being imposed. Chief Birrell stated that he had evidence to show that accused was getting two cases of ale a week, equal to four dozen bottles.

Defendant's solicitor stated that the minimum fine is now $100, through an amendment to the act by the Legislature.

Magistrate Bartlett stated that the Legislature gives the magistrate the discretion to reduce the fine to $100. "But I do not see why I should not impose the usual fine in this case," he remarked.

Edith Gibson, alias Carruthers, was fined $200 for a breach of the O. T. A. by having a bottle of Scotch in her possession, contrary to the law.

George Robins for the second time did not appear to answer the charge of trespass laid against him by George Beadle. The case was adjourned until Friday.

For breaches of the motor vehicle act J. Pause, A. J. Turner, Charles Spittal, M. Ryan, J. F. Finch and G. T. Edgecombe deposited $2 and costs with Police Court Clerk John Moule. For a breach of the same act F. Dykes was fined $5 and costs.

RECORD RUSH OF AUTO TOURISTS

Fifty to Sixty Every Day Are Going Through the City.

Fifty to sixty automobiles of American tourists are daily passing through London, according to an estimate C. E. Bernard, secretary of the London Motor Club. The tourist traffic from the United States started in June, and is jus now about at its height. An average of 20 inquiries a day are made to the office of the Losdon Motor Club in the Tecumseh House, and the office is only open during usual business hours. The greater proportion of tourists strike London in the evening and secure information, route cards and directions from the desks in the Tecumseh House, or one or two other hotels catering especially to motor tourist traffic.

SOCIAL SURVEY WILL COMMENCE SHORTLY

LONDON TP. CLERK ASKS AMENDMENT TO ASSESSMENT ACT

Miss Mary Grant Considers Present System Not Satisfactory.

FAVORS REGISTRATION

Canadian Union of Municipalities Convention Is Well Attended.

Toronto, Sept. 2.—On behalf of the Canadian Union of Municipalities, of which he is vice-president, Controller J. G. Ramsden welcomed the Ontario Municipal Association delegates, and also, as chairman of Toronto's special committee on Bell Telephone rates, presented the committee's two resolutions as approvd by the board of control, and secured their adoption by the convention.

The first of the resolutions called for public ownership of Ontario telephone services, and the appointment of a deputation from the Municipal Association to wait on the Ontario Government with that end in view.

The other resolution asked the Ontario municipalities and the Government to unite in securing a postponement of the rates incrase hearing so as to give time to arrange for expropriation of the Bell System.

"Why should the municipalities be saddled with the immense expense of preparing the voters' rolls for the four or five years between elections" asked Miss Mary Grant, clerk and treasurer of the London township council. The rolls should be prepared only before an actual election, she maintained.

It was moved by her, seconded by E. Douglas, "that the Legislature be respectfully requested to amend the assessment act so that only freeholders, tenants and farmers' sons are required to be entered on the rolls, and that some system of registration should be adopted."

The extra expense, it was pointed out by the municipal clerk, would be tripled especially by the third division of the voters' act, providing for all British subjects, men and women, who do not come under the first classification of all property owners and those assessed for income for the municipal and provincial legislative elections, and, secondly, non-resident property holders of the second class for only municipal purposes.

SENDING PATIENTS TO BYRON SANATORIUM

Many Soldiers From Guelph Hospital Are Being Moved.

An official of the Speedwell Hospital at Guelph stated to The Advertiser today that the object in removing tubercular patients from the hospital was because the authorities are doing away with tubercular wards, and are sending such patients to hospitals near their homes.

"All patients from this district will be sent to the Byron Sanatorium," he said. "It is not because of the recent trouble that we are removing the patients. There are 130 patients who will be affected by this, and many of them are from London and the district. Preparations for transferring them are now being made, and it is thought that all will be in hospital near their homes before the end of next week.

"Personally, I think it is a very good idea, as the boys will be near their homes and can be visited by relations."

Asked regarding the matron resigning last Saturday, he said it was for purely personal reasons, and had nothing to do with the walkout last June.

"The report that was published in a local paper Wednesday that she had resigned because of the strike, is scandalous," he said. "As far as the patients and nurses who are there now, are concerned, they are satisfied."

SAYS ALL EUROPE IS PLEASURE MAD

Ex-Ald. William Heaman Tells of Conditions Noted On Trip Overseas.

"England and France appear to have gone simply mad over pleasure," said ex-Ald. William Heaman to The Advertiser today on his return from a three months' trip abroad. He visited many parts of England, and then went to France, visiting among other points of interest Ypres and Louvain.

An interesting sight he witnessed was the operations of the raising of the British cruiser Vindictive, which was sunk at the entrance to the harbor at Zeebrugge.

"After seeing the devastation in France and Belgium," said Mr. Heaman, "Canada looks pretty good. Nothing remains of the once prosperous city of Ypres, but piles of bricks and stone. In spite of the damage done the inhabitants are busy re uilding their city and hope to restore it."

All through the country districts in France and Belgium, Mr. Heaman says one may see the women at work in the fields. Comparatively few men are left and there is a great scarcity of farming implements with which to till the land, as the Germans took everything in sight.

"One of the things that impresses a visitor most," said Mr. Heaman, "is that there is not a tree or a bird to be seen. There are thousands of stumps of what were formerly beautiful trees, but the devastation wrought by the Hun is complete. It gives one a peculiar sensation not to see a tree or hear a bird sing through all the countryside."

In the Ypres district alone more than 250,000 soldiers are buried, Mr. Heaman states that most of the graves are fairly well cared for and in good shape.

"In spite of all these people have been through," he said, "a visitor finds it hard to believe from their conduct that there ever was a war. They all seem to have one purpose in life, and that is to seek pleasure. It may be only a temporary reaction after the strain of war, but in both England and France this pleasure mania is especially noticeable. Everyone seems to have plenty of money, and they are spending it freely."

Mr. Heaman went also to Antwerp, and was present at the Olympic games when the British team won the world's championship for the tug-of-war. They pulled their way to victory, he said, in a very few minutes.

The last trip Mr. Heaman made to England was just before the outbreak of the war, and he was much struck by the difference in prices then and now.

"Everything is at least twice as dear as it formerly was," he said. "At that nobody seems to mind, particularly. They are all out for a good time, and the cost seems to be neither here nor there."

CEDAR SPRINGS MAN HEIR TO MILLIONS A TEACHER AT MERLIN

David Walker, Cedar Springs, Brother of Arthur T. Walker, Says New York Story Substantially Correct — Lawyers Advise Reticence Until Will Is Probated — Brother Went To Gotham Twenty Years Ago.

In a brief interview last night, David Walker, a well-known stock dealer residing near Charing Cross, after stating that the lawyers acting for his brother, Arthur T. Walker of Methuan, Mass., who is reported from New York to be the residuary legatee of E. F. Scarlee, the millionaire, has requested that he make no statement to the press in connection with his brother's reported good fortune until after the will has been probated, acknowledged that the facts already published are substantially correct.

The statement in the press reports from New York that his brother Arthur was, prior to going to high school, bookkeeper in the hotel run by his father, Arthur Walker, now deceased, the speaker declared, is incorrect. "He never had anything to do with the hotel at all. As soon as he passed his entrance examination he went to the high school, and later secured the appointment as teacher at the little country school at Merlin, which position he held for three years.

Of Arthur's experiences in New York, to which city he went after resigning his position as teacher, David refused to make any statement, declaring, "That is his business. If he wishes to talk about it, all right; but you must get it from him."

Answering a question, Mr. Walker said he did not know where his brother secured his first position in New York, or in what way he came under the notice of Mr. Scarlee. "It is five years since I last saw my brother, and I am not able to give any further information about his affairs."

IN DILEMMA OVER SOUTH LONDON ST.

Deeds Cannot Be Granted to Property Holders Owing to Technicality.

Property-owners on iGrard street are in a dilemma because of the fact that according to municipal statutes a street is not a street unless 66 feet wide, failing special permission granted by a city council bylaw or permission of the Ontario railway board. Girard street is not more than 50 feet wide, and hence the dilemma. The street was opened in a new real estate survy in South London east of Carfrae Crescent by a private concern, which city officials believe was aware of the statutes when the street was laid out.

However, clear deeds to lots on this property cannot be obtained unless the thoroughfare is registered, and it cannot be registered as a street because technically it is not one. The solution of the problem would be to widen the street or have the council pass a bylaw designating the thoroughfare as a street. It may not be possible to accomplish the former due to the position of the houses and layout of the boulevard, and authorities aer reluctant to recommend the latter course owing to the fact that a precedent would be created, and there is a principle involved. City Engineer H. A. Brazier was instructed to investigate the situation and will report No. 3. Committee in the near future on a means of adjusting the matter satisfactory to all concerned.

URGES MORE AID FOR FLAX GROWERS

S. Frank Glass Believes Ontario Government Should Assist Farmers.

S. Frank Glass, M.P., East Middlesex, generally honored with the title, "Father of the Canadian Flax Industry," this morning took occasion to gently rebuke the Ontario Government for seeming indifference to the growing importance of the industry. In 1914, the flax crop of Ontario amounted to half a million dollars in value. This year it will be worth fifteen million dollars, and a great bulk of it is being grown in Middlesex.

"I think I would be safe in saying that there is more flax growing in Middlesex this year than wheat," said Mr. Glass.

He said he didn't want to criticize the new Provincial Administration, because this is really the first flax crop since the new Government arrived, but there ought to be more agricultural experts available for touring of the flax-growing districts and advising the farmers and flaxmen how to handle the crop. The Ontario Government years ago used to make a big splurge encouraging the dairy industry of the province, which at the time amounted in value to about $20,000,000. The flax industry is now much bigger than that, and the province in which it is concentrated is paying little or no attention to it.

WELLAND RESIDENTS SEEKING "WILD MAN"

ST. CATHARINES, Sept. 1.—Residents of Welland have become alarmed about stories concerning a "wild man" reported to have taken up his abode in the neighboring woods and making occasional excursions near the town and frightening children. A searching party scoured the woods yesterday and found a roughly-constructed wigwam and evidence of some person having been domiciled there, but the man himself was not found. Another search will be made this week.

SAYS NATIONAL

out that the inculcation of the logical faculty by education would prevent such illogical ideas of government.

President's Address.

G. A. Wheable, in making the president's address, spoke of the two new ventures of the association, in the formation of an advisory committee of representatives from the various grades for the purpose of consulting the inspectors on various points, and in the establishment of the teachers' library. Speaking of new ideas, Mr. Wheable gave it as his opinion that the trouble with the teaching profession was a tendency to following too closely the ideas of one or two of the "great ones" of the profession. This habit began in training school, when the instructors and critic teachers were followed closely, then extended to fields of work where inspectors or trustees were constantly considered. Thus merely a duplicating machine might be produced instead of a true teacher. Teaching is a science, and one only in its infancy, said Mr. Wheable. We must take care to investigate and experiment and add new ideas. There is little diference between getting into a rut and getting into a grave—try new methods, emphatically stated Mr. Wheable, in conclusion.

Reports of various types were then taken up, the treasurer's report bringing out the fact that finances of the association were in a critical condition. The auditors' reports were left open until the afternoon. The librarian Mr. Knight, was not able to be present and the president speaking for him reported that the teachers' library, located at the Alexandra School, and consisting of 130 volumes of an educational nature, was now ready for the use of teachers. Inspector O. K. Greer speaking later on the reading course, spoke very highly of the valuable work done by Mr. Knight in classification and arrangement of the library. F. H. Galpin gave the report of the committee on the Strathcona Trust, mentioning the increased interest being displayed in correct physical training by the teachers of the city. Arrangements are to be made for special lessons for teachers desiring to brush up along this line.

The Work of the Schools.

The inspector then gave short addresses on the subject of the general progress of the work in London schools. Inspector Edwards, in speaking of the splendid buildings that are to be found in London, said that no matter how perfect the material equipment of education was made it would at the best be worth only 5 per cent as against the 95 per cent which stood for the spiritual equipment. The average community is more willing to put money into material things than immortal things.

"The teacher," declared Inspector Edwards, "should be removed from financial worries." Things were improving in this regard, as the school came to be recognized as a central institution in the community. Relations between the home and the school are daily becoming more pleasant.

The speaker quoted the findings of the Lambeth Conference as to causes of unrest and disunion, and said these were applicable to educational conditions too, where these were not right. These causes were self-will, ambition, lack of charity and blindness to the sin of disunion. Co-operation must be invoked to keep up the great educational democracy.

Must Be Tried Out.

Inspector V. K. Greer, in commending suggestions made in the speech of the president, said he had felt in listening that here was a Daniel come to judgment. "New ideas must be tried out even if failure results, or we will never get anywhere," said Mr. Greer. He touched on various new ideas to be tried out, the closer correlation of the English subjects, the departmental system of allowing a teacher to teach subjects, for which he is especially fitted in several grades.

Oral work in composition in the earlier grades was to be emphasized, and the pupils must not be aided so much, but encouraged to express themselves. In the upper grades, letter writing between members of the same grades in the same and different schools was to be encouraged. A motive for writing would be given in this way that would add great interest to the work of composition.

Mr. Greer also spoke of the writing in the schools, recommending that a definite plan be followed to insure improvement in this "tool" subject.

The last speaker of the morning was Alexander MacQueen, the veteran principal of Ryerson School, who spoke on "The School as a Community Centre." A community is a body of people having common rights, interests and privileges. A community centre is a sort of headquarters of all efforts and co-operations for the advancement of the community in the management of which everyone should take part. The early settlers had the community spirit developed to a high degree. A new-comer received help and kindness when he was establishing his home. Bees of all sorts when the whole neighborhood turned in to work on some such person's behalf were a common feature of pioneer life.

Class Distinctions.

Advancing years have brought class distinctions, however, and selfishness and cupidity have crowded out this spirit of mutual helpfulness and kindliness to a deplorable extent. The Government, in recognizing the necessity for fostering this spirit has provided for the building of community halls and the education of community leaders.

Our public schools, said Mr. MacQueen, seem to offer ready-made centres for community work. Addresses, discussions, concerts, social and dramatic entertainments, sports and games can all be featured in this comomn centre.

The crux of the situation is skillful leadership. Leaders in other lines than that of teaching will be found to give their services and talents to this cause. Leaders in church and state, in the realms of art, music, literature and sport will all find that their efforts may well be directed to the furthering of the community spirit.

OPERATING AT NORMAL AGAIN.

Montreal, Sept. 2.—W. S. Attwood, a director of operations of the Canadian Car and Foundry Company, Limited, stated yesterday that the company was operating at 100 per cent again, more men having applied for work than they were able to use. J. T. Foster, president of the trades and labor council, stated that a few men were understood to be still out, but not very many. There did not appear to be any grounds for further trouble.

POPE—BUTLER NUPTIALS

One of the most fashionable weddings of the season was solemnized at 4 o'clock this afternoon in the Church of St John the Evangelist, when Miss Julia Butler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Butler of St. James street, became the bride of Neville P. Pope, son of J. K. H. Pope of this city.

The bride, clad in her nuptial robe of satin, panniered with lace, and a court train caught from shoulders, wore her veil of Limerick lace in Juliet fashion, and carried a shower bouquet of roses and orchids. She entered the church on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage, to the strains of the Lohengrin Wedding March played by the church organist.

Her maid of honor was Miss Margaret Scatcherd, who wore a frock of mauve charmeuse, with black picture hat, and carried pink sweet peas. Miss Louise Beck and Miss Margaret Glass were her bridesmaids. Their gowns were of peach charmeuse, and they carried old-fashioned posies of mauve sweet peas, and wore black picture hats. Little Miss Diana Pope, niece of the bride, was her flower girl, and looked charming in a little white smock and she carried a colonial bouquet of pansies. Mr. Jack Pope was groomsman.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. L. G. Clarke, rector of the church. The chancel was a mass of white blooms, gladioli and cosmos The ushers were Jim Cowan, Gerald White, Russell Beattie, G. Wainwright, Frederick Beattie and Richard Butler.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home.

Mr. and Mrs. Pope left later for Quebec. On their return they will reside at 180 St. George street.

WILL CONSIDER WATER PROBLEM

General Manager Buchanan To Give Figures At Meeting This Afternoon.

At the meeting of the public utilities commission this afternon the report of Manager E. V. Buchanan on Kilworth and Komoka as a future source of the city's drinking water will be tehe chief point of discussion. This official will make no recommendations on the subject, but will merely submit figures on the amount of water available at these places, and probable cost of piping same to London.

While the city's population has been gradually increasing during the past few years, the watter supply has practically remained stationary. The Foster wells are yielding more water than last year, because more is being pumped from them to maintain the supply, and hence there is less water in them as a result. However, with increasing consumption of aqua pura, experts declare that new sources will have to be sought in order to increase the supply, and with this end in view estimates on the Komoka and Kilworth projects, which are believed to be prohibitive, have been prepared.

Meanwhile well drilling operations at Carling Heights, in an effort to obtain a cheaper supply, continue, and today the workmen reached a depth of 70 feet with tools. The soil is mostly of clay composition, and water is hoped to be located at a deputh of 80 feet on Friday. The well source of water is favored over the Kilworth and Komoka projects, because this method is much cheaper, and even should the wells peter out in a few years the city would be repaid the expense of drilling and maintaining them. For this reason several wells will be drilled on Carling Heights in case the present venture does not prove a success.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.

New York, Sept. 2—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—An advance of 2 points in the preferred shares of the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis road at the opening of today's stock market pointed to a continuance of the recent broad buying movement in speculative rails. Other transportation stocks were fractionally higher with several of the steels, equipments and oils, but trading in other quarters of the market was more contracted than at any recent period.

1:30 p.m.—Leaders such as Replogle, Vanadium, Bethlehem and United States Steels, became more active later in the day. Sentiment was favorably influenced by the decline of call money to 7 per cent. Rails were less prominent, but yielded none of their advance.

STEADY INCREASE IN IMMIGRATION FROM BRITAIN AND U. S.

12,178 Persons Came to the Dominion in July This Year.

Ottawa, Sept. 2.—(Canadian Press).—Immigration to Canada is steadily increasing from overseas countries and the United States. The approximate July figures, which were secured today, shows a total of 12,178 persons entering Canada from overseas, as against a total of 11,077 for July, 1918.

The net increase is 5,401 for the month.

The immigrants reaching Canada during July were chiefly British. The farmng class led with almost 30 per cent of the total, and next came laborers and mechanics with about 25 per cent for each class.

Immigration officials here are of the opinion that the influx will continue for some time at the present rate. Information reaching Ottawa is to the effect that passengers on liners from British and other overseas ports are booked in some cases for months in advance of sailing dates.

SAYS LONDON LABOR PARTY IS OPPOSED TO DIRECT ACTION

E. Naylor, labor's representative with the Imperial Press Conference. Mr. Naylor, who is chairman of the London branch of the British labor party, spoke of the disapproval of the present British Government, which had prompted labor's representative to withdraw from the war cabinet, and said that, with its five million membership, the party regarded victory at the polls as only a matter of brief delay.

BEWARE OF TENDER GUMS

Unhealthy soil kills the best of wheat. Unhealthy gums kill the best of teeth. To keep the teeth sound keep the gums well. Watch for tender and bleeding gums. This is a symptom of Pyorrhea, which afflicts four out of five people over forty.

Pyorrhea menaces the body as well as the teeth. Not only do the gums recede and cause the teeth to decay, loosen and fall out, but the infecting Pyorrhea germs lower the body's vitality and cause many serious ills.

To avoid Pyorrhea, visit your dentist frequently for tooth and gum inspection. And use Forhan's For the Gums.

Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhea—or check its progress, if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's will keep the gums firm and healthy, the teeth white and clean. Start using it today. If gum-shrinkage has set in, use Forhan's according to directions, and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

OTTAWA DECIDES PEACE AND WAR ISSUES, RANEY

Attorney-General Says Canada Will Make Own Treaties in Future.

PICK GOVERNORS, TOO

Nation Will Make Own Court Decisions—Sees Possible Irish Solution.

OTTAWA, Sept. 1.—Canada's growth to nationhood was the subject of the address of Hon. W. E. Raney, attorney-general of Ontario, before the members of the Canadian Bar Association tonight.

Emphasizing the new status of this nation, he said that the war had not only destroyed, but it had built up. The old colonial bottles would no longer hold the new national wine. Under the new order, Canada would in future amend her own constitution and make her own treaties.

"The issues of peace and war for Canada," Mr. Raney declared, "will be determined, both actually and technically, at Ottawa. Canada will make her own treaties, and the governor-general of Canada will be appointed by the King on the nomination of his majesty's privy council for Canada—not, of course, that Canada has any fault to find with the governors-general of the past or present. They have been of the very highest type of statesmen which means the highest type of statesmen in the world."

Moreover, Mr. Raney continued, a nation could not be a nation and have its ultimate court of judicial appeal located outside its own boundaries and independent of its own government. Mr. Raney suggested a reconstituted judicial committee with jurisdiction on the footing of reciprocal rights and responsibilities of the nations in the British confederacy — Great Britain, Ireland, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, Newfoundland and in good time, India and the West Indies.

"And," Mr. Raney proceeded, "here may perhaps be found the solution of the age-long Irish question, for to this high court of international justice for the imperial commonwealth will be referred—not, as now, questions between citizens of Canada or Australia or even between different provinces of Canada or different states of Australia (all of these will be determined finally by the supreme court of these nations), but questions between the different nations represented in the international court—between Great Britain, for instance, and Ireland, or between Canada and Newfoundland or between South Africa and Australia."

THRESHING IS FAIRLY GENERAL THROUGHOUT MANITOBA THIS WEEK

Grain Fields of Western Canada Continuous Scene of Harvesting Activity.

Canadian Press.)—The grain fields throughout Western Canada present a continuous scene of harvesting activities, according to a crop report issued today by the Canadian National Railways. In eastern and southern Manitoba wheat cutting has practically been completed, and threshing is in progress in all sections and many farmers have finished and are now engaged with their fall plowing. In central and northwestern Manitoba from 60 to 70 per cent of the wheat cutting has been done and threshing will be fairly general this week.

In central Saskatchewan and Alberta cutting is also well advanced and threshers are appearing in the fields in greater numbers every day. Rapid progress has also been made in southern Saskatchewan and Alberta with the sawing of the crops and plowing operations are following close upon the threshers.

Up to the present the weather has been favorable for the harvest. A few days' delay has been caused by rain, but the indications are that the work of cutting and threshing the grain will be cleaned up in good shape and in good season. From all parts of the country the reports are that the grain is of good quality and the yield from 15 to 40 bushels to the acre. The heaviest yields seem to be in Alberta, but the other provinces also report some crops that yield from 25 bushels an acre upward.

EXPLAIN PROPORTIONAL REPRESENTATION PLAN TO DRURY COMMITTEE

TORONTO, Sept. 1.—Advocates of the new voting system explained its workings to the proportional representation committee of the Ontario Legislature this afternoon at the parliament buildings here. At the suggestion of Premier Drury, who was present, it was decided to hold the next meeting on October 20, when the views of the opponents of the system are to be heard.

R. Hooper of Ottawa, honorary secretary of the Proportional Representation Society, explained the scheme and used diagrams to show how members were elected under its operation. He claimed that the present system of voting practically had the effect of disfranchising the minority.

T. B. PATIENTS AT SPEEDWELL TO GO TO OTHER HOSPITALS

Recent Trouble At Hospital Believed Responsible For the Decision.

MOVE 130 PATIENTS

Buildings Declared Unfitted For Patients Suffering From Lung Trouble.

GUELPH, Sept. 1.—Since the recent trouble at Speedwell Hospital several changes have been made in the staff, and it was learned today that another important move is to take place within the next ten days, when the institution will no longer be a tubercular hospital, but will be reconverted into a convalescent home, such as it was when it first opened on Sept. 1, 1917.

At present there are some 120 T.B. patients confined in the institution, but it is the intention of the medical branch of the department of soldiers' civil re-establishment to have all these men transferred to other places before the middle of September.

Buildings Damp.

At the time the trouble took place at the hospital the tubercular patients were complaining that Speedwell was not a suitable place for patients suffering from lung trouble, owing to the dampness of the buildings, and it is believed that this has something to do with the authorities' decision to move the ex-soldiers to different surroundings.

Remove Patients.

When the T.B. men depart there will be scarcely 200 patients at the hospital, but it is understood that active patients from other institutions will be brought here to fill the places of the men sent away.

Dr. McMurrich, the new medical superintendent of the hospital, stated this morning that he could not say for certain where the T.B. patients are going, but thought that they would be broken up into groups and placed in other T.B. hospitals which are located not far from Guelph.

RETURNED SOLDIERS' INSURANCE ACT NOW IN FULL OPERATION

Policies To Be Issued As Rapidly As Possible To Applicants.

OTTAWA, Sept. 1.—The returned soldiers' insurance act, passed by Parliament last session, come into effect today. Applications are now being received, and policies will be issued as rapidly as possible.

Any returned soldier who served in the naval, military or air forces of Canada in the great war, or who were domiciled or resident in Canada on August 4, 1914, and served in any of his majesty's naval, military or air forces, or in the forces of any of the allied or associated powers, may obtain life insurance under the act.

The applicant must at the time insurance is issued, be domiciled and resident in Canada. Widows or returned soldiers who have died after retirement or honorable discharge from the service, and before the expiration of twelve months from the coming into force of the act, are also eligible for insurance under the scheme. Policies will be issued for a minimum of $500 and up to $5,000.

The Government insurance policy is different in some respects from policies issued by regular insurance companies, as the object of the scheme is protection of the dependents of the insured. Only immediate dependents may be named as beneficiaries, and no provision is made for policy loans. The insurance money is not subject to the claims of creditors of either the insured or beneficiary, and cannot be assigned. Only one-fifth of the policy is payable at death in a lump sum, the balance to be applied as an annuity under various plans to be selected by the insured.

STOMACH TROUBLES ARE DUE TO ACIDITY

Tells Safe, Certain, Speedy Relief For Acid Indigestion.

So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, gas, sourness, stomach-ache and inability to retain food are in probably nine cases out of ten, simply evidence that excessive secretion of acid is taking place in the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acid indigestion.

Gas distends the stomach and causes that full, oppressive, burning feeling sometimes known as heartburn, while the acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the excess development or secretion of acid.

To stop or prevent this souring of the food contents of the stomach and to neutralize the acid, and make it bland and harmless, a teaspoonful of bisurated magnesia, a good and effective corrector of acid stomach, should be taken in a quarter of a glass of hot or cold water after eating or whenever gas, sourness or acidity is felt. This sweetens the stomach and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments and is a perfectly harmless and inexpensive remedy to use.

An antacid, such as bisurated magnesia which can be obtained from any druggist in either powder or tablet form enables the stomach to do its work properly without the aid of artificial digestents. Magnesia comes in several forms, so be certain to ask for and take only Bisurated Magnesia, which is especially prepared for the above purposes.—Advt.

RESCUES GIRL FROM DEATH IN NIAGARA RAPIDS

Montreal Man Leaps Rocks and Plucks Woman From Gorge.

FELL OVER BRINK

Philadelphia Woman Hung To Projecting Rock Until Help Came.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 1. — Miss Matilda Schoenert, Philadelphia, was plucked from certain death in the Whirlpool Rapids at Niagara Falls this evening by Gordon W. Dunn, Montreal, who was severely cut in the rescue. They were among the passengers on the Gorge route trolley car that was blocked at the edge of the whirlpool rapids by a fallen rock. The passengers got out of the car and were walking on the brink of the river. The girl fell over the slight embankment, some fifteen feet, into the river tonight, but caught and hung onto a projecting rock. Dunn saw her instant danger and vaulted the embankment. He landed on a beach of rocks and cut himself severely on hands and head. Getting to his feet, he seized the girl before she was swept away. Help was quickly at hand, and the pair were taken back to Niagara Falls.

Dunn, after his cuts were dressed, left the hospital. The girl is still suffering from shock.

Canadian and American Passengers Delayed by the Tie-Up of Boat.

ST. THOMAS, Sept. 1.—The strike among the minor officers on the Teddy Roosevelt has put some hundred of people at Port Stanley to no little cost and inconvenience. Similar conditions were reported from Cleveland, where many Canadians are stranded, who went across on the boat's last trip, expecting to return next day. The boat has not shown up in Port Stanley since Sunday, and no notice has been received when she will return again.

The delayed passengers are put to considerable expense by the failure of the boat to resume her trips. But as other boats are also tied up in Cleveland under similar conditions the management of the Teddy Roosevelt cannot replace her striking staff.

INJURED IN A ROW; RECOVERY DOUBTFUL

ST. CATHARINES, Sept. 1.—Jack Coules, a Canadian, is in Welland Hospital with a fractured skull and several severe stab wounds following a row at a Hungarian boarding house near the cement works at Port Colborne. Coules was still unconscious and his recovery is considered doubtful.

The police are looking for a Hungarian named Frank Georges, who is alleged to have been Coules' assailant.

SOUGHT LIQUOR IN DETROIT.

WINDSOR, Sept. 1.—George L. Yost came to Detroit from Windsor to get liquor, he told Judge Cotter in Detroit today.

"You left the oasis to wander in the desert, didn't you?" asked the court.

Yost thought perhaps he had. He was found draping a fence. He was ordered to pay $15 and costs in American money.

THOUSANDS ATTEND CEMENT CO. PICNIC; SEVERAL FEATURES

McConnell Club Girls Have Best Float—C. Schurman Best Clown.

DONKEY PROVIDES FUN

L. Hill, 12-Year-Old Indian, Rides Bucking Animal Successfully.

[By Staff Reporter.]

ST. MARYS, Sept. 1.—Two thousand people attended the second annual picnic of the St. Marys Cement Company, held in the exhibition grounds here today. The picnic completely eclipsed the one held last year. One of the features of the picnic was the big calithumpian parade. A prize donated for the best-decorated automobile was won by A. B. Creighton and M. J. O'Dea.

The McConnell Club girls were the winners of the best-decorated float, and for the clowns, which were numerous, C. Schurman was the winner.

The parade was a mile in length, nearly all the big firms of the town participating. It was formed in the big field just south of the cement company's houses, and proceeded down Church street, turning onto Queen's street to the exhibition grounds, with the St. Marys Kiltie Band in the lead, followed closely by a picked band from the town.

Probably the greatest amusement was caused when the riding of the outlaw donkey was attempted by the more daring of the picnickers. A valuable prize was offered, and after many had been thrown to the ground in attempting to ride the bucking animal, L. Hill, a twelve-year-old Indian, an employee of the cement company, in some unknown manner got the donkey under control and heroically drove it around the inclosure.

In the open events the cement company's team defeated a picked team from the town in the tug of war.

All A1.

In the baby show the babies were all too good looking for the judges to pick out any winners which resulted in the prize money being divided among the ten contestants.

A number of special policemen were on the grounds, and all but one attempted in vain to keep the crowds from encroaching too far onto the race track where the races were run off. This particular policeman hailed from Stratford and carried with him a heavily charged baton. The stick had a piece of sharp pointed steel at the end which would penetrate an intruder's clothes and upon the alleged constable pressing a button on the end of the stick, the person touched would receive a shock, the cop having a battery concealed under his coat. In whatever direction he turned the crowds dispersed, fearing to be prodded with the electric baton.

JUDGE SCORES POLICE METHODS OF GETTING EVIDENCE BY BOYS

Early Closing Bylaw Under Review—Judgment Is Reserved.

SARNIA, Sept. 1. — Judge A. F. Taylor, a police commission official, scored the tactics used on the Sarnia police department when members of the police force used boys to secure or attempt to secure convictions against local grocers and butchers in connection with the new early closing bylaw.

In hearing a case against A. White, a local butcher, the judge, during the evidence, learned that the patrolman had sent a newsboy into the butcher shop after hours for meat. According to the butcher's version, he made the boy a present of some meat, but did not take any money. Following this action he was summoned to court by Patrolman Esson. Judgment in the case was reserved.

Says Election Does Not Mean Decision on League Question

Taft Tells Canadian Bar Association That Presidential Contest Does Not Necessarily Amount To People's Decision On League of Nations.

OTTAWA, Sept. 1.—(By Canadian Press.)—Speaking before the Canadian Bar Association at a luncheon today, Hon. William Howard Taft, former president of the United States and official representative of the American Bar Association, dealt with the constitutional aspects of the League of Nations.

"I do not think," he declared, "that these people who contend against the power of the United States to make contracts and enter into obligations with other nations fully realize how completely such a construction of the constitution would relegate our great nation and government to the limbo of infants and persons irresponsible who may not undertake obligations that are binding upon them."

The luncheon of the Canadian Bar Association at which Mr. Taft spoke was attended by his excellency the governor-general members of the Dominion and Provincial Governments, leading figures of the Canadian bench and bar and a great gathering of the legal fraternity. Premier William Martin of Saskatchewan was in the chair, and in welcoming Mr. Taft referred to him as "one of the greatest authorities on jurisprudence and international law on this continent." He remarked humorously that Mr. Taft had now been appointed to sit on the Canadian commission and that it would be a good thing for Canada to do away with certain features of our naturalization law so as to make the visitor a citizen of the Dominion.

Made Honorably Member.

Following Mr. Taft's speech, Sir Douglas Hazen rose to move that the representative of the American Bar Association be made an honorary member of the Canadian Bar Association, a motion which was carried with enthusiasm by the meeting.

Mr. Taft, who limited his remarks to the legal aspect of the case, said that in the United States they had more discussion on constitutional questions than in any other country. Every political issue had its constitutional side, and it was the question of the relation of the League of Nations to the constitution of the United States which was under consideration.

The treaty-making power of the president and Senate, said Mr. Taft, had been the subject of contention from the very beginning of the United States. Congress held the purse-strings, and if a treaty was consummated involving the expenditure of money it sometimes felt called upon to protest. Congress, however, had never refused to perform the obligations entered into by the treaty-making power of the nation.

Mr. Taft said that the result of the presidential election in the United States would not necessarily mean the decision of the people of the United States regarding the League of Nations. There were other issues involved in the election. It was claimed that to enter the league the United States would have to part with some of her sovereign powers. This contention he disputed. The fact of the matter was that a sovereignty which could not enter into an agreement with other nations was a minor and ought to have a guardian. Any nation living with other nations must have the power to enter into agreements with them. A sovereign had the right to enter into agreements, and he had also the right to break them if his conscience would permit it. It would be a great interference with the usefulness of the United States, and also the usefulness of her neighbors if the United States might not enter into agreement with other nations to perform certain acts in consideration of their performing the same or other acts.

HAND CLASP OF FREE MEN BINDS EMPIRE, SAYS CAVE

OTTAWA, Sept. 1.—(By Canadian Press.) — Imperial relationships and Canada's part therein were discussed at tonight's gathering of the Canadian Bar Association. The speakers were Viscount Cave, a lord justice of the court of appeals of Great Britain, and Hon. W. E. Raney, attorney-general of Ontario. Lord Cave's reference to imperial relations came at the end of an address in which—as a former home secretary and solicitor-general—he had been able to present an intimate view of the British war legislation.

The League of Nations, Lord Cave said, was a grand conception. But much time and effort must be expended before it came to full fruition. Meantime there was in existence the League of British Nations, and the bond which united its great component units was no chain of possessions, but the handclasp of free men. It was founded on two principles, the autonomy of each and the voluntary co-operation of all, and "while we are true to those principles, to each other and to our King, no enemy can prevail against us."

Mr. Raney spoke of Canada's growth to nationhood, suggesting a reconstitution of the judicial committee of the privy council with jurisdiction to consider questions arising between the different nations represented.

The minister of justice presided.

Feeling Tribute.

Lord Cave opened with a feeling tribute to the part which Canada had played in the war, making the sense of brotherhood deeper and more vibrant. He gave a review of the war emergency legislation in Great Britain and of the great part which members of the bench and bar had played.

"You," Lord Cave remarked in passing, "were prompt in adopting the compulsion of military service which we adopted just in time and without which the war would have been lost."

Lord Cave was of the opinion that the British Government had made an error at the commencement of the war, in adopting the declaration of London as a guide for contraband.

"In saying this," Lord Cave added, "I do not intend for a minute to depreciate the value of the established rules of international law, or of well-considered agreements operating in war time. England kept her agreements and observed all the rules by which she was bound. Even Germany kept some of them; and there was no belligerent nation which did not pay at least a verbal homage to the principles which suffered in this war a partial eclipse; but I still think they were of service."

Lord Cave referred to the effect of the war upon the constitutional relations between the old country and the dominions.

Forge Further Link.

"For a generation," he said, "some of the ablest statesmen of the time—Rosebery, Chamberlain, Grey and others whose names will occur to you—were considering how best a further link could be forged between the Central and Dominion Governments, which should be neither so stiff as to gall nor so weak as to break under the strain. It may be that the problem has been solved quietly and almost unconsciously (as our habit is) by the establishment of the imperial war cabinet as an effective council of the empire. That assembly of the leading statesmen of the self-governing parts of the empire, first called together in 1917 for the purpose of discussing the conduct of the war and some of the higher issues of imperial policy, proved to be of so much service both to its members and to the countries concerned that it was unanimously determined at the instance of the British prime minister to keep it in being.

So other meetings took place at a later crisis of the war and again when the terms of peace were under consideration. The experiment—for at first it was nothing more—proved an unqualified success; and to many of us it seems possible that the Imperial War Cabinet many (if the Imperial conference should so determine), drop its middle name, and, while remaining wholly voluntary and consultative, may become in the world's affairs the nerve centre of the autonomous nations of an imperial commonwealth."

"The League of Nations," Lord Cave concluded, "is a great conception, but, much time and effort must be expended before it comes to full fruition. In the meantime, there is a league in being, a league strong, effective and peace-loving, nurtured in independence, skilled in self-government, ambitious for no world empire, but only for a world peace—the league of the British nations. The bond which unites its great component units—Great Britain, Canada, Newfoundland, Australia and South Africa—it no chain of possession but the hand-clasp of free men.

NO HIGHER FARES ON WINDSOR STREET RLY. SAYS MAYOR WINTER

WINDSOR, Sept. 1.—There will be no change in the fare rate charged on the hydro-electric street car system in Windsor, Mayor Winter stated today after a long-distance conversation with Sir Adam Beck. Sir Adam characterized the rumor that six for a quarter strip tickets would give way to a straight 5-cent fare as absolutely groundless. A short time ago Sir Adam showed that the local street railway system was making money, instead of going behind as the opponents of hydro control asserted.

ASK $1,000,000 FOR MONTREAL HOUSING

MONTREAL, Sept. 1.—An official application has been made to the provincial government at Quebec for the sum of $1,000,000 for the purpose of building houses for workingmen and returned soldiers by the city clerk, acting on instructions from the administrative commission.

A sum of $3,000,000 was originally set aside as the city's portion of the allotment for housing purposes.

It is not expected there will be any material delay in obtaining the money and it is possible that some of the houses to be constructed out of the proceeds of the loan may be ready before the winter sets in.

LONDON'S RAILWAY PROBLEMS.

London's railway problems were dealt with before the Chamber of Commerce on Tuesday by Mr. Noulan Cauchon. If the plan proposed some years ago by Mr. McGuigan when with the Grand Trunk, had been carried out London's railway problem would have been practically solved. He favored the elevation of the Grand Trunk tracks through London and the building of a station between Richmond and Wellington streets across Clarence street. Nothing better has yet been suggested. That it was not carried out has been a great loss to London. Every foot of land south of the track would have increased in value. Mr. Cauchon approves of the elevation.

Mr. Cauchon favors a cross-town railway running north and south from the Canadian Pacific to the Grand Trunk. He would have a union station at Dundas street and a skyscraper city hall at the point between the corners of Wellington and Waterloo and Dundas streets. This proposed line would run through the heart of the best residential district of London. Its rumbling trains would not help "tired Nature's sweet restorer, balmy sleep." The trains crossing the city are quite bad enough. This would make things worse. All the good to be had by a central union station can be secured by adopting Mr. McGuigan's plan. It is quite central enough.

We do not agree with Mr. Cauchon's reference to our wide streets. They practically make the central streets a park. Land is worth more on a wide street than a narrow one. It is a pity they were not continued indefinitely eastward. The wide streets are one of the things of which London has reason to be proud. The north and south line proposed would go a long way towards destroying the beauty of this part of London.

It would not be necessary for many years, if ever, to elevate the Canadian Pacific. If the Canadian Pacific came in over the St. Marys branch and used the Grand Trunk through London, leaving it again out by Hyde Park, there would be no great use for the Canadian Pacific in the north end. It could be used for local purposes. The Canadian Pacific has always desired an arrangement for a union station where Mr. McGuigan proposed it, and also freight accommodation with the Grand Trunk. Now that the Grand Trunk is a national railway the arrangement long sought by the Canadian Pacific should be accomplished and the Government should do all it can to obtain a result so desirable.

The result, therefore, of the problem as to elevation is solved by adopting Mr. McGuigan's plans, by enabling the Canadian Pacific to come over the Grand Trunk tracks, have a union station there and abandon any track through the best part of London's residences.

Mr. Cauchon's reference to the London and Port Stanley Railway and transferring the asylum to the line of the London and Port Stanley are erroneous. All big public institutions should be west of the city. The sewerage from them should not require to pass through the city. The London and Port Stanley should be sold to either the Grand Trunk or Canadian Pacific. It is illegal for the city to own or operate it. It has cost the municipality up to the present time an appalling sum and should be disposed of as soon as possible

These are suggestions which have been made in the past, which, coupled with the stride London will make when the Western University is built, would complete a good program for the future building of London, and which would contain none of the objectionable features advocated by Mr. Cauchon.

THE CHURCH AND THE BETTER DAY.

Addressing the archbishops and bishops assembled in London for the great conference of the Anglican Church, King George urged that the church should take the lead in dealing with the solution of vexed social problems. There has been some cynical comment on the suggestion in certain English newspapers which have quoted the old proverb "Shoemaker, stick to your last," but it is a question if King George was not really voicing the deeper feeling of the nation, and of the world at large, when he looked to the great organized bodies of religion for help in difficulties.

It is possible that there is sometimes a confusion over the word church. There are those who visualize the church only in terms of archbishop and bishop, synod or conference, cathedral or chapel, those whose idea of the church setting itself to the solution of a problem is chiefly the appointment of a new committee of bishops or clergy. We feel sure that it was quite another idea that was in the minds of the king when he asked the representatives of a great church body for their help in making England better and brighter than it is today. We rather think that what the king thought of was the force of "all good Christians" exerted silently but none the less surely on the objective of "making straight the path" and "the rough places plain."

There has recently been witnessed the collapse of a great church effort in the United States that for a time seemed to have within it the possibilities of great things for that country. It is a little difficult, so soon after the tragedy, to estimate all that contributed to the collapse, though the mind recalls that old passage which declares that God is not in the whirlwind, or in the hurricane, or in the tempest, but in the small still voice. And that small still voice, today, as in all times past, is in the hearts of the men and women the world over who prove their love to God by their service to their fellows.

There are great forces at work among the Christian men and women of the world today, as there have ever been in times of testing. It is sometimes said that men are not being raised up today as they were raised up in days gone by, that there is no Savonarola, no Saint Francis, no John Wesley, to kindle a flame that sweeping through the hearts of men inclines them to new love for erring mankind and zeal for its redemption. But men are raised up as William Booth was raised up almost in our own day to be a light to the wandering and the lost and, as well, to kindle new spiritual zeal in the age-old churches. Of our own day it is perhaps more accurate to say that its spiritual phenomena is not the raising up of men but of masses. It is the day of united effort with not a little of the crusading spirit revived. When has the world seen missionary organizations like those of our time, when has it seen the Sunday school movement so great a force for the betterment of mankind as it is today? And when, since the time of Saint Francis, has there been such a gathering of men into Christian service as is taking place today? The Brotherhood movement is no little parochial affair, bounded in its vision by its own denomination or its own associates. The Brotherhood movement is realizing in the lives of thousands of men today the desire they have to lend a hand to the other fellow. Here, in our own city, brotherhoods are doing more than anything else to break down denominational rivalries and sectarian prejudices. It is because these things are absent that an appeal can be made to men and they can be enlisted for a real man's work. The brotherhoods do not sing "I want to be an angel," because to them the life of an angel seems rather inferior to the life of a man among men. Work for the good that is nighest still has some advantages over dreaming of greatness afar.

The world has its fill of troubles these days. After all, it is the work of humble men and women in every street and in every home that betters things far more than all that the politicians or the parliaments or the synods or conferences ever do. King George's appeal to the great army of those who love God is not falling upon deaf ears or indifferent hearts.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Self-determination should soon be a good substitute for insanity as a plea for acquittal.

In Tennessee the legislators opposing woman suffrage usurp woman's privilege in so suddenly and radically reversing their mind.

The National-Liberal-Conservative party is the latest ugly hyphenate. The kind was unpopular in the war and no less so in peace. Note the stinger in the rear end of the name. The front part is the beautiful camouflage. The head is all gold, the tail solid poison.

CAPITALISM AND STATE CONTROL OF CAPITAL.

(Extract From Essay by Professor Cole of Are You a Capitalist? Harvard University.

You are a savings bank depositor, or a holder of an insurance policy. That means that you have saved money. Did saving involve a sacrifice? Did you, in order to save, give up what you very much desired and even thought you had a right to buy? Did you ever give up something that you had hoped to buy for those who are dear to you in order that you might save the insurance money, or make a savings bank deposit? Did the payment on a Liberty Loan bond or an insurance premium, or on a savings bank account ever come hard? If so, you know what saving means. If you have lent money to the government, if you have placed money in a savings bank, if you have paid premiums on a life insurance policy, you are a capitalist—not a make-believe or imaginary capitalist, but an actual capitalist, whose capital is furnishing a part of what is called "capitalism."

What Is a Capitalist?

1. You know that more food can be produced, more clothes made, more houses built, with tools and machinery, and the means of conveyance like wagons, trucks, and railroads, than without these assistances for labor. These things are capital, and if you are a capitalist you own some of them. Capital is nothing but the product of the past saved and devoted to the assistance and production of the present and future. You know very well that if you have saved a hundred dollars out of your earnings and have loaned or invested that saving, you have never had the satisfaction of spending that money. It was yours to spend; but you did not spend it. If the earnings that you have saved are to do you any good, you must put them to use; and you have a right to decide whether you shall now spend them and get the satisfaction you previously earned, or shall lend to someone else that power of getting satisfaction. If you choose to spend them, you may now enjoy the fruits of your labor; and any interference with that right is robbing you of your wages, for wages that may not be spent are not real wages. If, on the other hand, you choose not to spend them, but to lend to someone else, any interference with your right to demand the return of them by the borrower is equally robbing you of your wages. It is true that capital is the product of labor—for no capital could exist unless someone consumed less than he produced. The fact that the capital exists shows that the labor which produced it has not consumed what is earned. To possess such unconsumed earnings is to be a capitalist; if one possesses them honestly, one is an honest capitalist; if one possesses them dishonestly, one is a dishonest capitalist.

Getting Along Without Capital.

If all the capital in the world were destroyed today, men would work only with their bare hands upon the bare soil. What they would produce would not be enough to feed, clothe or shelter anything like a tenth of the world's population today on the average scale to which the world is accustomed, unless we were contented to live with few of the comforts and conveniences of food, shelter, and clothing that we now have—to say nothing of other comforts. Have you ever tried to do any important work without tools or other mechanical assistance If so, you know a little of what it means to work without capital. Suppose, moreover, that you had no raw material, lumber, iron, or cloth, to work with. How much could you have done?

WHAT THE WEST WANTS.

[Winnipeg Free Press.]

The West does not demand free trade, but it will not support a fiscal policy the main principle of which is the same as that of the old National Policy. The three Prairie Provinces, at least, are strongly favorable to the tariff laid down by the Canadian Council of Agriculture; and unless there is at least some approximation to this in the tariff revision promised for next session, the government will have hard sledding in the constituencies west of Lake Superior. No unprejudiced observer of political conditions will challenge this statement of fact.

LITTLE DIFFERENCE.

[Hamilton Spectator.]

Toronto boasts of having had only one murder during the past six months, but no mention is made of the alarming number of automobile fatalities that have taken place during the same period.

"I've no reason to do otherwise. Elphick is the man who ought to have married your mother. When things turned out as they did, Elphick took you and brought you up as he has done, so that you should never know of your father's disgrace.

"Elphick never knew until last night that Cardlestone is Chamberlayne. Even the biggest scoundrels have friends. Elphick's very fond of Cardlestone. He——"

Spargo turned sharply on Myerst. "You say Elphick didn't know until last night?" he exclaimed. "Why, then, this running away? What were they running from?"

"I have no more notion than you have, Spargo," replied Myerst. "I tell you, one or other of them knows something that I don't. Elphick, I gather, took fright from you, and went to Cardlestone—then they both vanished. It may be that Cardlestone did kill Maitland—I don't know. But I'll tell you what I know about it, though, as I say, I don't know who killed Maitland. Now, first, you know all that about Maitland's having papers and valuables and gold on him? Very well—I've got all that. The whole lot is locked up—safely—and I'm willing to hand it over to you, Breton, when we go back to town, and the necessary proof is given—as it will be—that your're Maitland's "son."

Myerst paused to see the effect of this announcement, and laughed when he saw the blank astonishment which stole over his hearers' faces.

"And still more," he continued. "I've got all the contents of that leather box which Maitland deposited with me—that's safely locked up, too, and at your disposal. I took possession of that the day after the murder. Then, for purposes of my own, I went to Scotland Yard, as Spargo there is aware. You see, I was playing a game—and it required some ingenuity."

"A game!" exclaimed Breton. "Good heavens! what game?"

"I never knew until I had possession of all these things that Marbury was Maitland of Market Milcaster," answered Myerst. "When I did know then I began to put things together and to pursue my own line, independent of everybody. I tell you I had all Maitland's papers and possessions by that time—except one thing. That packet of Australian stamps. And I found out that those stamps were in the hands of Cardlestone!"

CHAPTER XXXVI.
The Final Telegram.

Myerst paused to take a pull at his glass and to look at the two amazed listeners with a smile of conscious triumph.

"In the hands of Cardlestone," he repeated. "Now, what did I argue from that? Why, of course, that Maitland had been to Cardlestone's rooms that night. Wasn't he found lying dead at the foot of Cardlestone's stairs. Aye—but who found him? Not the porter—not the police—not you, Master Spargo, with all your cleverness. The man who found Maitland lying there that night was I!"

In the silence that followed Spargo, who had been making notes of what Myerst said, suddenly dropped his pencil, and, thrusting his hands in his pockets, sat bolt upright with a look which Breton, who was watching him seriously, could not make out. It was the look of a man whose ideas and conceptions are being rudely upset. And Myerst, too, saw it and he laughed, more sneeringly than ever.

"That's one for you, Spargo!" he said. "That surprises you—that makes you think. Now, what do you think, if one may ask?"

"I think," said Spargo, "that you are either a consummate liar, or that this mystery is bigger than before."

"I can lie when it's necessary," retorted Myerst. "Just now it isn't necessary. I'm telling you the plain truth; there's no reason why I shouldn't. As I've said before, although you two young bullies have tied me up in this fashion, you can't do anything against me. I've a power of attorney from those two old men in there, and that's enough to satisfy anybody as to my possession of their checks and securities. I've the whiphand of you, my sons, in all ways. And that's why I'm telling you the truth—to amuse myself during this period of waiting. The plain truth, my sons!"

"In pursuance of which," observed Breton, dryly, "I think you mentioned that you were the first person to find my father lying dead?"

"I was. That is, as far as I can gather. I'll tell you all about it. As I said, I live over Cardlestone. That night I came home very late—it was well past one o'clock. There was nobody about—as a matter of fact, no one has residential chambers in that building but Cardlestone and myself. I found the body of a man lying in the entry. I struck a match and immediately recognized my visitor of the afternoon—John Marbury. Now, although I was so late in going home, I was as sober as a man can be, and I think pretty quickly at all times. I thought at double extra speed just then. And the first thing I did was to strip the body of every article it had on it—money, papers, everything. All these are safely locked up—they've never been tracked. Next day, using my facilities as secretary to the safe deposit company, I secured the things in that box.

"Then I found out who the dead man really was. And then I deliberately set to work to throw dust in the eyes of the police and of the newspapers, and particularly in the eyes of young Master Spargo there. I had an object."

"What?" asked Breton.

"What! Knowing all I did, I firmly believed that Marbury, or rather Maitland, had been murdered by either Cardlestone or Elphick. I put it to myself in this way, and my opinion was strengthened as you, Spargo, inserted news in your paper—Maitland, finding himself in the vicinity of Cardlestone after leaving Aylmore's rooms that night, turned into our building, perhaps just to see where Cardlestone lived. He met Cardlestone accidentally, or perhaps met Cardlestone and Elphick together—they recognized each other. Maitland probably threatened to expose Cardlestone, or rather Chamberlayne—nobody, of course, could know what happened, but my theory was that Chamberlayne killed him. There, at any rate, was the fact that Maitland was found murdered at Chamberlayne's very threshold. And in the course of a few days I proved, to my own positive satisfaction, by getting access to Chamberlayne's rooms in his absence, that Maitland had been there, had been in those rooms. For I found there in Chamberlayne's desk the rare Australian stamps of which Criedir told at the inquest. That was proof positive."

Spargo looked at Breton. They knew what Myerst did not know—that the stamps of which he spoke were lying in Spargo's breast pocket, where they had lain since he had picked them up from the litter and confusion of Chamberlayne's floor.

"Why," asked Breton after a pause, "did you never accuse Cardlestone of the murder?"

"I did! I have accused him a score of times—and Elphick too," replied Myerst with emphasis. "Not at first, mind you—I never let Chamberlayne know that I ever suspected him for some time. I had my own game to play. But at last—not so many days ago—I did. I accused them both. That's how I got the whiphand of them. They began to be afraid—by that time Elphick had got to know all about Cardlestone's past as Chamberlayne. And as I tell you, Elphick's fond of Cardlestone. It's queer, but he is. He wants to shield him."

"What did they say when you accused them?" asked Breton. "Let's keep to that point—never mind their feelings for one another."

To Be Continued.

THE RAILWAY BURDEN.

[Halifax Chronicle.]

Interesting facts about the high cost of railroading are given by the Railway Age. A locomotive, which in 1914 cost $27,870, now costs $75,750, and on money borrowed to make the purchase 7½ per cent is paid, against 5 per cent. To meet the interest charge on the locomotive, $5,681 per annum is now necessary, instead of $1,394, an increase of 310 per cent.

An average box car in 1914 cost about $1,000; it now costs about $3,000. Thus a car adds $225 to a railroad's fixed charges, an increase of 350 per cent.

Bridges, plates, rails, ties and ballast are all up in proportion. To build a mile of side track takes more than double what it did in 1915. The general increase in prices makes a heavier demand for freight lost or damaged in transit. A car of Washington apples, for example, is worth $2,300, instead of $900, while the freight charges are up but 25 per cent from the rate of 1909. There is scarcely a branch of the railroad business whose unit costs are not up 100 to 300 per cent. The wages that are 100 per cent higher are only part of the new railway burden. All of which adds to H. C. L.

THE SHRINER'S DAY OFF.

[Miss J. Carr.]

At Stratford, August twenty-five,
The Shriners, very much alive,
From various cities did arrive.

To hold a picnic, their intent,
Enjoyed by all on pleasure bent,
The weather man the sunshine lent

The day was fair as day could be.
The people came in throngs to see
The Arabs in their majesty.

The long parade wound in and out,
With Shriners thin, and Shriners stout,
While from the crowd rose many a shout.

The monkeys rare with tails gigantic
Capered in a way most frantic,
While the crowds laughed at their antics.

Elephants of enormous measure
Added greatly to the pleasure
As they stalked along with leisure.

Camels from the deserts dreary,
Passed along with footsteps weary,
While their eves looked sad and bleary.

Arabs in their turbans lofty
Trailed the sands so very softly,
Clad in garments strange, yet nifty.

Weird the music there was swelling
Of the hot plains sadly telling,
Plainsmen far from home were dwelling.

To Victoria Park they wandered
There the happy hours were squandered
While on eats the hungry pondered.

When the moon lit Avon's waters,
Then the Shriners, sons and daughters,
On the lakeside lawn were squatters.

While the bands were music playing,
Happy couples past them straying,
Arm in arm, soft nothings saying.

Thus one day on memory's pages
Will remain all down the ages,
If well told by scribes and sages.

THE IMMORTAL.

[Marjorie L. C. Pickthall.]

Beauty is still immortal in our eyes,
When sways no more the spirit-haunted red,
When the wild grape shall build
No more her canopies,
When blows no more the moon-grey thistle seed,
When the last bell has lulled the white flocks home,
When the last eve has stilled
The wandering wing and touched the dying foam,
When the last moon burns low, and, spark by spark,
The little worlds die out along the dark—

Beauty that rosed the moth-wing, touched the land
With clover-horns and delicate faint flowers,
Beauty that bade the showers
Beat on the violet's face,
Shall hold the eternal heavens within their place
And hear new stars come singing from God's hand.

Mrs. de Bohn—I think Professor Brayney is perfectly charming. He knows so much, and yet in conversation he doesn't make one feel like a fool.

Miss Shippey—Yes, isn't' he clever?

FORGOTTEN.

[Mary L. D. Macfarland.]

Nary a visitor in the ward this week—
Aw, they're tired of us now!
When we was well and whole
And they needed us to go across
To stop the U-boat on our shores
And chase the Hun across the Rhine.
Then every last blamed chump among us
Was a "hero" and they couldn't do enough.

Now——
Well, the war is over, so they say
(It looks to me like it wasn't finished yet),
And they're sick of all
The whole danged business.
So are we!
We're sick of this 'ere hospital,
We're sick of this 'ere grub,
We never want to see another doctor or a nurse,
And they never want to see another wounded cuss.
I don't blame 'em, but—
Here we are!
This buddy next me here he hasn't got
Much left to decorate his carcass,
And he's blind, too; the boche
Shot out one eye for sure;
The doctors thought they'd save the other one,
But yesterday they took the bandage off
And he couldn't see a goldarned thing.
He's a sport. He never said a word,
But I could see his lips a-shakin'.
My, ain't it hot!
And these danged flies are such a nuisance,
I wisht that I could hike out to a shady place
And "cool my fevered brow," as they say
In high-toned stuff.
But I can't, you see, until
They hitch sumpin' goin' on to
These two pretty stumps of mine.

WILLING TO GO.

"Want to go on an investigating commission?"

"Maybe," said Senator Spug. "What's it about?"

"Dunno."

"Who's on it, and what are they going to investigate?"

"Dunno."

"Well, it's all right, so long as we meet in Paris."

MORE OR LESS.

[Edmund Vance Cooke.]

One man makes more and one makes less,
But what's the standard for success,
Since neither reaches happiness?

He who makes more is not content
No matter what his cent per cent.
For "More!" is more and never meant
To teach its own equivalent.

He who makes less feels more denied
And hurt in pocket and in pride
Is less and less than satisfied.

So let us labor on and bless
The labor by our willingness
To make our service our success.
And we'll be happy—more or less!

NOT HIS FAULT.

Shopwalker—"Do you realize that you were four hours selling those two women a yard of ribbon?"

Salesman—"I know, sir. But just as they got to the counter they discovered that they each had a baby just learning to talk."

LATE SUMMER.

[Georgia Wilde, in The New York Times.]

In regal splendor, supple, full of ease,
She walks the hills and trails her shining gown,
Loosening the purpling roses of her crown
And scattering showers of gold dust to the breeze,
She laughing spies in green of rustling trees,
All but concealed, the coat of russet brown
Where jolly autumn, ambushed tosses down
Audaciously a few, small crimson leaves.

Matilda holds a teacup poised for me.
Undimmed by years her blue eyes softly smile,
And, matron-like, she chatters to me while
The shadows creep. But in her glance I see
She feels the purpling on the wall,
The wind-blown seeds, the little leaves that fall.

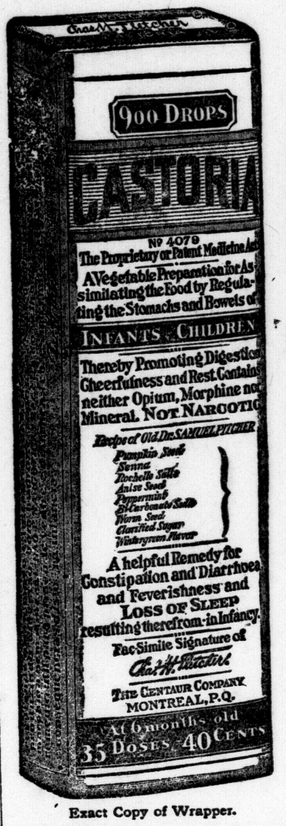

Are You Human?

A little baby. A little child. Don't they appeal to you? Doesn't your heart yearn to pick them up, to cuddle them close to you, to shield them from all harm? sure it does else you're not human. Being human you love them. Their very helplessness makes you reach out in all your strength to aid them. In health there's no flower so beautiful. In illness there's no night so black.

Save them then. Use every precaution. Take no chance.

When sickness comes, as sickness will, remember it's just a baby, just a child and if the Physician isn't at hand don't try some remedy that you may have around the house for your own use.

Fletcher's Castoria was made especially for babies' ills and you can use it with perfect safety as any doctor will tell you. Keep it in the house.

CASTORIA

A Word About Truth.

"Great is Truth, and mighty above all things." So says the Old Testament, yet it is equally true to-day. Truth shows no favors, fears no enemies.

From the inception of Fletcher's Castoria, Truth has been the watchword, and to the conscientious adherence to this motto in the preparation of Fletcher's Castoria as well as in its advertising is due the secret of its popular demand.

All imitations, all substitutes, all just-as-good preparations lack the element of Truth, lack the righteousness of being, lack all semblance even in the words of those who would deceive.

And you! Mothers, mothers with the fate of the World in your hands, can you be deceived? Certainly not.

Fletcher's Castoria is prepared for Infants and Children. It is distinctly a remedy for the little-ones. The BABY'S need for a medicine to take the place of Castor Oil, Paregoric and Soothing Syrups was the sole thought that led to its discovery. Never try to correct BABY'S troubles with a medicine that you would use for yourself.

KERWOOD W. M. S.

The Kerwood Mission Circle and W. M. S. met at the home of Miss Beatrice Foster, and held a most successful meeting, about forty being present. The first sewing of the arch was done on a quilt which is now for sale. Considerable work was also done on a patchwork quilt, material being kindly donated by one of the members of the W. M. S. The girls furnished an excellent program, consisting of solos by Miss Hazel Patterson, Miss Eva Wright and Miss Beatrice Foster, readings by Miss Minnie Wright and an address by Mrs. George Johnson. A picnic supper was afterwards served by the circle.

Miss Beatrice Foster was elected president for the balance of the year, to take the place of Miss Thelma Brunt, who is leaving shortly for Windsor.

TEACHERS IMPRESSED BY POSSIBILITIES OF NORTH COUNTRY

Unlimited Industrial Prospects in New Ontario, Says Principal Dearness.

"One of the things which impressed us most in connection with Northern Ontario was its tremendous development possibilities," said Principal Dearness of London Normal School, in discussing with The Advertiser the recent trip taken by the teachers through the north country.

He pointed out that many people have the idea that New Ontario is fitted only for farming and mining. This is a mistake, he says, as it offers unlimited industrial prospects, with its rich natural resources.

"The purpose of our trip," said Mr. Dearness, "was to inform the people of old Ontario of the extent and resources of Northern Ontario. Information received first-hand by the teachers who took the tour, some 170 in number, would be given to their respective teachers' associations, to be passed on by the attending teachers to the people through the schools. The scheme was discussed before the war broke out, but this summer presented the first opportunity for carrying out the plan.

"Every teachers' association in Old Ontario was to select one or more delegates. This plan was carried through in practically all cases. Some vacancies, however, remained, and so additional representatives were taken from the cities, London being favored in this respect, a total number of eleven teachers being in the party.

Financing of the Tour.

"The Government of Ontario undertook to pay one-half of the expenses of the trip from Toronto, the point at which the expedition started. The respective associations sending delegates were expected to bear at least a portion of the remainder of the expenses, the rest being made up by the delegates themselves. To this purpose the Government voted $7,500, and most of the associations responded to the invitation to send delegates on these terms. These delegates are expected to give addresses at the association meetings in the fall, Miss Knott and Miss McNaughton, who represented the London Teachers' Association, being the speakers on the subject at the local association meetings shortly to be held.

The Territory Covered.

A round trip of over 600 miles was made, the main part of the traveling being done at night, various industries and institutions being visited in the day time. Six Pullman cars filled to capacity halted at Cobalt Monday forenoon on the outgoing trip and reached North Bay on their return trip on Saturday night. Six complete days of sightseeing!

Cobalt, Haileybury and New Liskeard.

A day and a half was spent at Cobalt, Haileybury and New Liskeard, which are conveniently connected by street car service. At Cobalt the largest silver mining camp in Canada was inspected. A few went into the mines, but the large majority were content to see the processes through which the ore was passed. At New Liskeard, which is at the foot of the southern clay belt, the teachers were driven out to the Hudson Consolidated School, the best example of consolidation in the north country. Here, too, they visited the Kennedy stock farms, and were driven past the demonstration farms. Improved farm lands in this neighborhood sell from $60 to $100 the acre, 400 acres of land along the railway having recently changed hands for $40,000. At Haileybury, the business and educational centre of the district, the high school and mining school, which are under the principalship of Mr. Tuke, a former London Collegiate boy, were visited. These schools, said Dr. Dearness, would be creditable to any country. The buildings and equipment are in the best possible condition and right up to date.

Horticultural Grounds.

At Englehart, the party visited the demonstration horticultural grounds, where they saw flowers and lawns that would do credit to any place in Southern Ontario. The most remarkable single feature of the trip, however, said Dr. Dearness, was the visit to the college in Monteith, which was inspected along with the experimental farm situated there. The college is a fine, large, well-equipped building, the accommodations of which are on such a scale that 160 people can be comfortably served at one time in the dining hall. It is to be used as a sort of boarding school and general training school for teachers. A very important and unique educational experiment will be tried here when the teachers will be trained along lines independent of the regular form of course governing other schools of the province, the needs of the north country being especially featured. The Hon. Mr. Grant, minister of education, and a number of northern school inspectors delivered addresses here.

The next stop was at Capuskasing, where the party was given an opportunity of seeing the Canadian Government demonstration farms, and the remains of barbed wire entanglements formerly inclosing detention camps for interned Austrians and Germans. The party also went through the stllement where the returned soldiers were put on the land. The reason for this experiment proving disastrous was accounted for by Dr. Dearness in the fact that the men were not pioneers, a number of Quebec French settlers having proved successful pioneers on much poorer land about ten miles south of the Kapuskasing district.

May Be Capital.

"An opportunity of visiting the town, which its residents believe will be the capital of the north country, was given when the party reached Cochrane. At Timmins the party went through the Hollinger mine, and saw the process of gold mining down at the 500-foot level. There is said to be 30 miles of tunneling at depths varying from 500 to 1,500 feet in this mine. A pile of genuine gold bricks was shown the visitors, the heaviest of which could be lifted to the height of a man's head with some difficulty, but which he would find it impossible to run away with comfortably," added Dr. Dearness, smiling.

On Friday the party visited Iroquois Falls, where the Abitibi pulp and paper mills, the largest in the world, are situated, and examined with interest the handsome fireproof school which is nearing completion there.

Saturday was given to sightseeing in the maze of islands on Lake Temagami, whose total shore line, including the islands, is said by those in possession of information to be 3,000 miles in length. The scenic possibilities of the north land and its utilization for summer resorts was a topic of great interest to the party. Judge Clark of Pittsburg has a boys' camp on one of the islands of such a size the 170 people of the visiting party were dined at the one time in perfect comfort.

The entire party came back full of enthusiasm for the north and its possibilities, says Dr. Dearness, and it is expected that the trip will be productive of much greater interest in the subject on the part of old Ontario people. Other London teachers in the party were the Misses Ingamells, Upshall, Stockwell, Runians, Weir, Brenton, Bryans and Fawkes.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTES MEETING IN NOVEMBER

Several Hundred Delegates From All Over District Will Be Here.

The Women's Institutes of Western Ontario will hold their annual convention in London, either on November 3 and 4, or earlier on October 23 and 28. G. A. Putnam, superintendent of the Ontario department of agriculture, writes to the Chamber of Commerce that there is a probability that a three-day session will be held, as there are more matters and topics up for discussion than in any previous years.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

Talking shape our thoughts for us; the waves of conversation roll them as the surf rolls the pebbles on the shore.—Holmes.

A Handful of Maples Leaves.

Dear Miss Grey,—I am writing to ask for the address of the Mail-Boxite that wanted the song and music of "A Handful of Maple Leaves," as I have it and will be glad to let her have it, as I like to help. It is one of my favorite songs. I like to sing it, but it brings up sad memories.

Well, the harvest is nearly over and the summer is going all too fast. Hope all the Mail-Box friends have enjoyed the beautiful warm weather.

I don't know what I would do without the Mail-Box Page. If we miss a paper (and we sometimes do), I am just lost—can hardly wait until next day's mail. A FALLEN HERO'S MOTHER.

Ans.—Thank you for your appreciation of the Mail-Box, Fallen Hero's Mother. Your offer is referred to reader who asked for this song.

On Vacation.

Dear Miss Grey,—Well, once more I enter your Mail-Box. I suppose you have piles of letters by your side, Miss Grey? You will wonder why my address has changed. Here is my reason: I am away on my holidays, having a fine time. Don't you wish you were with me?

That was a very sad letter from March Wind, although I am not the first to sympathize with her.

Miss Grey, would you please forward the inclosed letter to Cripple Annie, as I do not know her address? Will close, thanking you. FORGET-ME-NOT.

Ans.—Hope you will be much benefited by your vacation. Letter forwarded to Cripple Annie.

Dear Miss Grey,—As I would like to train for a nurse, would be very pleased if you could tell me in your column what hospitals in London (if any) one could enter to train when one has no high school education but has passed the entrance exam. for high school education, but has passed the entrance examinations for high school. Would like to correspond with some other would-be nurse, if they would write me. Thanking you for the trouble, I am, A WOULD-BE NURSE.

Ans.—You did not inclose your name and address, Would-Be Nurse, in case of correspondents for you. The hospitals in London require high school education. You might try smaller hospitals, such as Strathroy, Petrolea, Woodstock, Ingersoll, Stratford.

Dear Miss Grey,—I have read letters in your Mail-Box for a long time, but never wrote before. I wish you, Miss Grey, or some of the readers would send me the words and music of "Beautiful Ohio." I would like some of the readers of my age to write to me. I am 12 years old. Yours truly, EBB.

Ans.—Sorry, Ebb, I haven't the words of this song in the Mail-Box. Perhaps someone your own age will make a copy for you and write you a letter with it.

Wants To Make Candy.

Dear Miss Grey,—Will some one print a recipe for candy that requires white sugar? Isn't this August weather just beautiful? I do hope September will be just as pleasant, don't you?

Summer vacations will soon be ended and my visit to the beautiful country will be ended, too, and I will have to return to the horrid dusty, old city again. I had a lovely vacation this summer. I have been to Lake Erie and St. Clair several times, I am, as ever, VIRGINIA CREEPER.

Ans.—Glad you enjoyed your vacation, Virginia Creeper. Here is a recipe for chocolate fudge: One cup sweet milk, three cups granulated sugar, lump of butter size of small egg, shave off from half an inch to an inch of chocolate or more if you want it. Let it boil until it will form a soft lump when dropped in cold water. Then take off and pour in a teaspoonful of vanilla. Stir vigorously until it candies a little around the edges. Pour into flat dish and cut in squares while warm.

Potatoe Pie.

Dear Miss Grey,—I have not written to the page for a long while, so just thought I would drop in and see how all the Boxites are keeping this fine weather.

I just wish you could see our garden, both flower and vegetable. It is lovely. We have some of the largest potatoes and tomatoes around this part of the town.

Miss Grey, could you or any of the Boxites tell me how to clean a set of wolf furs? I would like to know how to clean them myself without sending them to the dry cleaners, if you would oblige me I would be very thankful.

I am inclosing one of our favorite tart recipes. Roll out pastry very thin and cut with cutter size of graham tin and set in, fill with following: One tablespoon to each or more, if desired; 1 cup brown sugar, 1 cup currants, 2 eggs, ½ cup cream, teaspoon butter, pinch cloves; fill tarts and bake in a quick oven.

Here is a potato pie recipe, which we all like very much: Slice into a dish some freshly boiled potatoes, then some finely chopped meat, any kind; cover that with sliced tomatoes, pepper and salt. Continue this until you have three or four layers of same, having sliced potatoes on top. Put in oven and bake from 15 to 20 minutes. This is delicious.

I enjoyed March Wind's letter, and can sympathize with her in the loss of her baby. I lost a sister recently and know what it is to lose a loved one. Wishing the Boxites who attend school all kinds of luck the following term. MERRY MAY.

P.S.—Will tell you of an English sunset seen at sea next time I write, if you want me too.

Ans.—If the furs are white use gasoline and flour. Mix to a paste and rub in fur, then brush out carefully after it has dried. Would like very much to have you write of the sunset you saw.

THE SAILOR DOGS.
Part Eight.

Now, when the other dogs heard of Spot's resolve they were filled with dismay. What if he never caught old King Beauty, how then could they live on the island without rabbit meat?

"Don't you fear, I'll catch him," Spot told them confidently; but just the same they did fear, and fear very much for two days passed and the ugly mean old rabbit who called himself King Beauty had not been captured. That meant that the dogs had had nothing to eat except fish and a bird that Darkey had caught.

Spot had not shared in the fish and bird meals; he was too busy trying to catch the bad rabbit. He had been away all day and night. The other dogs called a council to discuss the matter.

"I used to be very good at rabbit hunting, and my ancestors were great hunters," Darkey, the spaniel, spoke up. "They weren't ordinary kind of hunters, either. I've heard my master say they used their brains. Spaniels are always good hunters because they all use their brains like my ancestors, so I should be of help to Spot. Just leave it to me." So off Darkey started to find Spot.

At first Spot would have nothing to do with Darkey's plans. He wanted to do the capturing all himself, but it did not look as if he would, for although he had dug more and more, the king rabbit was hidden away down in the ground. At last Darkey hit on a good plan. There was another hole close by that they knew was the way out for King Beauty. Spot had filled in all the other coming-out holes, and had just left the going-in hole, and this one coming-out hole. Nearby was a little creek of water.

"Now, then we will call the others and we will all dig," Darkey said. "We will dig a trench from the creek over to this hole, and then the water will all run in, and Mr. Rabbit will either come out or be drowned." It was a good plan, and when Spot consented to it, Darkey called the other dogs, who willingly set to work. How they did dig, and soon the trench was ready to connect with the creek. Spot insisted upon doing the last digging, and then as soon as the water started to run into the rabbit hole he took his place by the coming-out hole.

Gurgle, gurgle, gurgle! sang the water as it went down the hole. Spot's sharp ears caught the sound of hurrying feet down in the deep passage that went to King Beauty's hiding place. There was a little shriek, a head appeared, and then the bad rabbit was caught, and his evil rule ended forever, much to the joy of the young rabbits, who had watched it all from safe hiding places nearby.

MINERAL CONTENT OF MILK.

When milk is dear the housewife may say, "Oh, well, we must just buy less," but if there are children in the family this is not a safe thing to do, nor is it wise in any case. Milk is the great staple food of babies and children, supplying, as it does, not only protein in a form suitable to their needs, but lime, phosphorus and vitamines, which are absolutely essential to normal growth.

Milk stands first among foods in the amount of available lime, and hence is necessary in the formation of the bones and teeth of children. Few of the other foods contain enough lime for normal development, and in them it is not so easily assimilable as in milk.

Milk is an important and comparatively a cheap source of phosphorus, and though low in iron content, should be used when the blood lacks iron, because the lime in fruit is believed to increase the baby's ability to take up iron from other foods. Despite its low iron content, infants up to one year can thrive on milk, because, normally, they have at birth enough iron stored in their bodies to last almost a year. Another very important constituent of milk is its vitamines. These are present in some foods, but not in others. In some they are destroyed by cooking or storing. There are two kinds of vitamines, known as Fat Soluble A and Water Soluble B. Milk possesses both. It is the chief source of Fat Soluble A, and is a most important source of Water Soluble B. These vitamines are two great factors in food which are essential to normal growth and health. Even when the price is high, children must have milk.

TALKS ON HEALTH

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D., Noted Physician and Author.

The Flesh Is Weak.

Once, not so long ago, you and I had to learn the wisdom, if not the necessity, for a daily use of the toothbrush, and the ceremony of washing behind our ears. We found these customs exceedingly repulsive to our instincts. But we had to adopt them, and aside from the sanitary question involved, certainly it was good training, good discipline for us. Our teeth and our ears might have been preserved without all the ceremony, were it not for the misuse we make of both in civilization; but the moral effect of the abhorrent morning wash and the time-consuming toothbrush was wholesome and healthful in that it instilled in us a certain regard for cleanliness.

In these days physicians have comparatively little to say about auto-intoxication, but others with an eye to easy profits have a great deal to say about it, and practically all they say is rich humor, unless you happen to be a credulous soul. The title which these shrewd merchants of plausibility formerly gave the hypothetical state was "that tired feeling," but they have seized upon "auto-intoxication" as a more classy and impressive substitute. "Auto-intoxication" will probably keep many families guessing for at least ten years yet, and by that time someone will have invented something new.

Most people have good health. That is, they are not ailing enough to need the doctor. On a test they would pass about 70 or 75 per cent well. They seem content to ignore or neglect the thousand and one little minor complaints which keep them in the 70 per cent class.

Now and then an individual actually enjoys good health. In order to enjoy good health it is necessary to have good health plus. Anything from one to four plus.

There is this difference between just good health of the 70 per cent sort and health plus. Where the individual with good health fetches up a symptom, such as that tired feeling, to occupy his idle moments, the individual with health plus works up instead of a chuckle. The symptom and the chuckle both arise from the same place, down around the diaphragm. They are both fished out of the splanchnic pool. The 70 per cent chap has a rather stagnant pool, whereas the health plus chap has his blood all in circulation. It's a glorious feeling.

The 70 per center has a lot of dignity. The health plus man or woman doesn't let dignity spoil the joy of living.

The 70 per cent variety of health is just heredity, good fortune, the amount vouchsafed the citizen by the state and administered or controlled by the public health department. Health plus, however, is the kind you build up by your own personal effort. It can't be inherited, found or purchased. You want it. Sure. But the question is: Is the flesh weak? It is acquired through regular daily exercise, about fifteen minutes. What do you say? I have the system. Anybody want to try it?

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.
For Example.

Last week I wrote asking for your Karell regimen and in reply you said I failed to give sufficient data. I am anxious to lose 20 pounds. I am 22 years old, 65 inches tall and weigh 146 pounds all dressed up.—E. R.

Ans.—That is precisely why I sent you a "rejection slip." I don't want to advise any young woman to reduce when her proportions are so well nigh perfect. Allowing that your clothes weight eight pounds—which I know is a lot for 'em to weigh these parlous times—your weight dressed up in a contented or cryptic smile would be 138 pounds. The perfectly proportioned woman happens to be 65 inches tall and weighs 138 pounds at the dangerous age of 35 years. I do not pretend to understand why young women blessed with so much pulchritude should yearn to convert themselves into fragile clothes racks, but whatever the reason I refuse to be a party to the deed.

Iodine and Goitre.

Is iodine a good remedy for a goitre? How often should it be applied? If iodine is not a remedy could you suggest something for a goitre?—Miss E. N.

Ans.—Goitres are of several types, requiring very difficult treatment. The chief types are simple goitre, a slight prominence or swelling of the thyroid gland (in front or beside the Adam's apple) common among girls 10 to 18 in some sections of the country; exophthalmic goitre, which may cause slight or unnoticed enlargement of the thyroid, but produces several general disturbances, such as nervousness, palpitation, rapid pulse, prominent eyeballs, tremor, loss of weight, fever or complete prostration, conditions not at all noticed in simple goitre; and third is cystic goitre, usually a very large bunch. Iodine internally, not applied to the neck, is often curative in simple goitre; it would be a dangerous remedy to take, unless by your physician's personal direction, in exophthalmic goitre; it would probable have no influence of cystic goitre. In Dayton, Ohio, it was found very minute doses of sodium iodide, administered, dissolved in the drinking water, prevented simple goitre and cured many cases in young school children, both boys and girls. If two drams of sodium iodide be dissolved in one pint of boiled water and a teaspoonful of this be administered to the boy or girl in a glassful or more of drinking water twice a day for a period of six or eight weeks, it will probably cure simple goitre.

Shag Goes Into Box as Hams Crumble Up

Mountaineers Lose Two Games To Beavers—Heck and Schwartje Both Sent To Showers.

KITCHENER, Sept. 1.—The Beavers took both ends of the double-header from the Hamilton Tigers here this afternoon, winning the first by 3 to 2 and the second by 10 to 3. Bornhaeft pitched the initial game, and outside of the fourth inning kept the eight hits fairly well scattered, and a bunch of four hits in the fourth and a single with two errors in the sixth gave the Tigers a lead of two runs when the Beavers went to bat in their half of the eighth. Schwartje, who had held the Beavers runless up to this period, lost control, and with one down, Norris walked and Kyle was scored on Beatty's triple. Schwartje was sent to the showers and Reddy finished the innings, Eckstein hitting out a sacrifice fly which brought in the winning run. In the second game MacCallum pitched for the Beavers against his old team-mates, holding them down to four hits. Bobby Heck made another start against the Beatty-ites, but was hammered out of the box in the fourth, and Manager Shaughnessy took the mound himself, notwithstanding the protests of his players. Shaughnessy was wild and issued seven passes and allowed four hits.

The fielding sensations of the day were furnished by Blake in left for the Tigers and Morgan at short field for the Beavers, each of whom made spectacular one-handed catches, both of them being in the second game.

The games were witnessed by a large mid-week crowd. The scores:

FAMOUS BULLDOG PRIZE WINNER DIES ON TRAIN

An autopsy will be performed to discover the cause of death. He was valued at $1,200.

THOMPSON AND SCOTT TO GO WITH TEAM

New York, Sept. 2.—Canadian Press.—The far western members of the golf team selected to represent Canada in its match with the United States at the Engineers' County Club on Saturday, have notified the officials of the National Golf Association that they will be unable to make the trip. Consequently the places of Cuthbert, Winnipeg, and Gillespie, Calgary, have been given to Frank Thompson, the 21-year-old Toronto star, and Norman Scott, of Montreal.

In addition to the ten regulars, Canada will have three substitutes in P. A. Yeates, A. A. Adams of Hamilton, and C. L. Anderson, secretary of the Canadian Golf Association. Some of the Canadian players are already here, and others are on their way, and it is expected that the full team will be on hand tomorrow for practice over the Engineers' course.

Tribe Shower Hits on Sox in a Clean Sweep of Series

22 Hits in First Game, Won by Score of 15--7, and Neitzke Blanks Red Legs in Last Session 4--0.

London didn't leave a speck on the whole Brantford series, completing the sweep yesterday over in West London by taking both games of the Siamese bill by scores of 15 to 7 and 4 to 0.

The first game was luridly played out to a hectic finish, 22 swats having been put away by the local sluggers off the delivery of a new hurler, Gray by name, whom Knotty perkily trotted out to view. Everything must have looked pretty grey to Knotty when he staked a game on this hurler's ability. Anyway there was a confirmed greyness to the atmosphere when the Tribe were done with him, and taking of the last game caused even Knotty's defiant tilt of the head to sag into dejection, and his springy form to huddle and settle down into his bright red blazer.

Despite the fact that the pennant interest had departed; that the Tribe were putting a mal de mer tinge over the brightly decorated Sox bench, and getting more hits and runs than four good ball games ought to produce on a sunny day, there were good features to the game and enough bad ones to fill out a fairly good afternoon's ball.

First Crime Wave.

In the first crime wave, Pittenger and Shay batted 1000 per cent, the former hitting for a double, and, therefore, one more bag than the latter, but giving Walter a chance to even in one less trip to the plate, Shay sacrificing his first time up. Triples by Calbert and Harper and doubles by Kuhn and Crichlow constituted the heavy battery work. Shay, though he had a perfect day at bat, did not cross the pan with a run.

Harper pitched after-pennant ball for his seven innings, though apparently trying hard and never getting near anything like danger. Neitzke relieved him in the eighth, and two of the best innings of the day was played behind him.

Gray was about the least formidable of all the pitchers to deliver from the local mound this year. Not content with letting the Tecs gather the runs themselves on hits, he uncorked two erratic heaves in the third which brought in runs without an effort.

The second game was a much better exhibition of what a ball game should approximate. Neitzke was warmed up by this time, and Walters, who opposed him, was hurling ball that would have made it an interesting duel for a full game. The London boy held the Sox hitless for four of the frames, but hits were bunched off him for pairs of hits in two others, and a lone single creeped in in the final gallop.

The two runs in the first frame which overtook the Red Legs' one run gathered in the same canto, and put the Champs where they were never in danger, came rather easily. Kennedy walked, was sacrificed, and went to third on a passed ball, scoring from there on Calbert's three-sacker. Kuhn's sacrifice fly to right brought Cal in, and Briger, who shot a hot one through short to left, was left stranded when Crich grounded out.

Pitt's double turned into a run in the second, when Dowling's intention to sacrifice himself wasn't allowed, and Harper came through with a sacrifice fly to centre. The fifth was just as bad as it looks in the scores. A double again messed things up, sired by Kuhn this time. Briger sacrificed and Kuhn came in on a wild pitch. Crichlow singled, and was advanced to third on Pitt's single. He also came in when Gray unloosed another aimless pitch. Clarke made a miscue on Dowling's drive, Dowling going to second. Jawn Harper then came up and put a chaste three-bagger out to right, driving in Pitt and Dowling. Kennedy sent a long one out to Dye for an out, but the Babe was miles wide of the plate, and Harper came in. Shay was out, after having hit to left for a single when he tried to stretch it. They had a bad time in the fourth, only getting one run. Calbert hit to centre, and Kuhn crashed one through between second and first, putting Calbert on third. He scored from there, while the Brants made a double play of Briger's smash to second, which Johnny Murphy knocked right down on the bag for the play on Kuhn.

In the fifth it became noisy again. Pitt and Dowling lead off with singles before Harper whiffed. Kennedy's single scored Pitt, and then Shay came through with a single to right, which scored both Dowling and Kennedy, which no ordinary single should be allowed to do.

No scoring happened in the sixth, strange to relate, but some smart ball occurred, as with one gone, hits by Crich and Dowling put them on second and third. Dowling laid down a choice and Crichlow tried to slip in and was nabbed by the throw from the box, and when Dowling drew the throw to second an instant after, Pitt steered for home, but the relay back from second got him neatly, making an unusual two putouts at the plate in succession, with the ball still in play.

Harper drew a base in the seventh, but was cut down at second after on Kennedy's fielder's choice. Kennedy stole second, and was scored by Shay's single to left.

The eighth was luridly played, Briger being forced into a double play by Crichlow's grounder, after he had hit safely. Then Pittenger strolled and stole second. Then Babe Dye showed the fans something unusual himself, when he dropped Dowling's fly, and Pittenger came on from third on it, while Dowling chased to the spot just vacated by Pitt. He was scored from third by Neitzke's single. Kennedy hit, and Shay walked, filling the bases, but the best Cal could do for the tender-hearted crowd was pop out.

Kuhn's error left Orme in with the Sox first counter in the first, when Murphy sacrificed and then Kuhn threw the pill around. Orme scored again in the third, after he had hit a double, been carried to third on a passed ball, and scored by Dye's infield hit. Brady and Moorefield scored in the fifth, when Murphy's hit to centre followed two outs. Polly Werre pulled himself a triple-sacker out of the bat bag in the sixth, and scored when Westlake laid down a choice, forcing the play at second on Clarke.

Orme strolled in the seventh, and advanced to third on Pitt's error, and Dye's single, scoring on Werre's sacrifice fly to Kennedy, who made one of the most sensational catches of the season. Neitzke's trials were easy for the next two, another of Kennedy's sensational catches coming in the ninth.

MUCH BETTER, THIS.

The second was much better baseball, even if there was less noise of hide against wood. The Tribesmen gathered theirs in modest little sorties in the scond, fifth and sixth, the total of four. Witry scored with the first counter in the second when he was walked, and two outs advanced him to third, from where he scored on Dowling's single to left. Two were gone in the fifth, when Dowling and Neitzke got on, and both got over the pan, when Dye made another wild heave for the plate.

Babe Dye chalked up two more errors for himself in the sixth, though they didn't figure in the scoring of the last run. This was straight hitting, for Kuhn lit on a two-bagger, went to third on an out, and come in on Pitt's single, both Pitt and Crichlow pulling up on second and third on Dye's wild heave, but they were left stranded there when Dowling whiffed. Tilbury Defeats Miller, National Leaguer, 3 to 1

Reis, Local Pitcher, Allows But Five Hits To Kingsville Nine.

TILBURY, Sept. 1.—Undoubtedly the most exciting game of baseball ever played on Memorial Park was the Essex County League fixture on Tuesday afternoon between Kingsville and Tilbury. Tilbury was winner by a score of 3 to 1. The game was delayed in starting, as the Tilbury management objected to Miller, a Pittsburg National Leaguer, taking the box for Kingsville. However, Miller took the mound, and one of the most thrilling pitching duels ever staged in this section was the result. Reis, for Tilbury, fanned 13 men, and Miller had 13 strike-outs to his credit. Each pitcher was only touched up for five hits. One of the largest crowds of the season witnessed the contest, and enthusiasm was at fever heat from start to finish.

YANKS AGAIN LEAD IN TRAPSHOOT AT NAT. EXHIBITION

Western Ontario Shooters Are Grouped Close in 90's.

TORONTO, Sept. 1.—The second day of the trap shooting tournament at the exhibition again saw some good scoring. In the morning Ed. Doerken, Paterson, N. J.; J. D. Clay, Houston, Texas, and F. M. Troeh, Vancouver, Wash., each broke 98 birds out of a possible 100, and in the shoot-off the last named won. E. F. Woodward, Houston, Texas, broke 99 birds, but having won trophy already, was debarred from the prize. R. H. Bungay, Ocean Park, who broke 97 birds in the morning, went one better in the afternoon, and was successful in the shoot-off with F. D. Kelsey, East Aurora, N. Y., and F. W. McNeir, Houston.

In the morning there were altogether fifteen scores and in the afternoon sixteen scores off 95 or better. The professionals, E. G. White, Ottawa, and F. H. Morris, Montreal, were well up with 98-97 and 96-95, respectively.

The best amateur performance among the Canadian competitors was that of C. N. Candee, Toronto, with 97 and 93, followed by E. Harris, Hamilton, who scored 84 and 95, and S. G. Vance, Tillsonburg, and W. Barnes, Hamilton, who broke 94 in each hundred.

Rowland Day of London, Ont., scored 91 in each hundred; James McCausland, London, 91 and 86; James Payne, Tillsonburg, 88 and 85; J. Passmore, Hensall, 88 and 92; R. D. Bell, Hensall, 93 and 86.

CANNOT TAKE PLACES

Winnipeg, Sept. 2.—Neither J. T. Cuthbert, Manitoba amateur champion, nor Tom Gillespie, the Calgary amateur who was runner-up in the recent Canadian amateur championships, will be able to take their places on the Canadian team for the international golf match with the United States, September 4, at Roslyn, L. I., according to statements made here. They were the only western players on the team, but the date conflicts with the Manitoba and Alberta amateur championship tournament, which will engage the attention of the two stars.

REARRESTED—NOW FACES VAGRANCY CHARGE

Brantford Man Took Out Motor License in Another Name.

GALT, Sept. 1.—Henry Shultz, the Brantford young man fined in the local court on Tuesday for carrying a loaded revolver, was re-arrested by Chief Gorman and today faced a nominal charge of vagrancy on which he was remanded until Sept. 4. The police have learned that Schultz took out the Ontario license for the car which he was driving in the name of Harry Cooper, claiming he lived in the country near Galt, where he bought a farm.

Eighty Permits Issued.

Fire Chief Keyes today reported that during August he has issued twelve building permits with a value of $23,-925, bringing the total to date to 80 permits valued at $223,255, as compared with 98 permits valued at $245,846 for the same period of 1919.

Customs collections at the port of Galt for August amounted to $57,952.10, compared with $40,322.50 for August, 1919, an increase of $17,679.

The public and separate schools of the city reopened today with record attendances. The Collegiate will reopen on Tuesday next.

HOUSE DESTROYED BY FIRE AS RESULT OF LAMP BEING UPSET

DURHAM, Sept. 1.—The home of Robert Griffin, Durham road, Glenelg, was the scene of a disastrous fire about 7:30 o'clock Sunday evening, when it was totally destroyed. Mr. Griffin was in Hamilton at the time, and his wife was about to put the baby to bed when in some way the lamp was upset and exploded. The house, which is a large frame structure, was quickly a mass of flames, and by the time the neighbors could reach the scene little could be saved. There is a small insurance on the house. It was formerly owned and occupied by the late Christopher Firth of Durham.

BUILDING IN GUELPH SHOWS BIG INCREASE

GUELPH, Sept. 1.—The building permits for the month of August took a big jump, the total for the month being $161,388. The cause of the increase is due to the fact that all the houses under construction by the Guelph Housing Commission are included in the list, 37 dwellings in all. The other big item is $18,000 for the two-story extension to the National Standard Company's factory on Woolwich street. The grand total for this year to date is $374,913, a substantial increase over last year.

The customs returns for the port of Guelph for the month of August show another substantial increase over the figures of last year, the receipts for August, 1920, being $56,001.04, as compared with $46,250.47 for the same month last year. The increase is $9,750.57.

Meet Saturday Probably Will Mark Revival of Interest in Horse World For London.

Judging by the interest shown in Saturday's combination running and harness meet being staged at Queen's Park Saturday, London will have a place on the Western Ontario Short Ship next year. Interest of local horsemen will demand it.

While the meet Saturday is largely for the revival of interest in the runners, the promoters of the meet have made room for the harness events and these latter will do a lot toward quickening interest in the trotters and pacers.

Whether there is a book or not, good races are certainly in prospect for the whole card. It is said that one of the entries has been groomed to lower the track record set by Victoria, owned by Mr. John Coventry of Woodstock, and the dam of this entry into the bargain.

The two pacing events will have a good entry. There is a band of young pacers in the city which have yet to be tried out seriously and the youngsters should provide some real excitement.

Sufficient interest in Saturday's meet will probably be the forerunner of bigger things for London in the horse world.

ORIOLES STEP INTO FIRST PLACE WHEN LEAFS LOSE TO STARS

Devine Pulls Ump's Ear, So Is Sent To Showers — 100 Loses For Stars—Dick McCabe Wins Twenty Straight For Buffalo.

ROCHESTER, Sept. 1.—Rochester evened the series with Toronto by winning today's game, 5 to 4. Clifford outpitched Ryan and had better support in the pinches. White's hitting was a feature. He drove in three runs for the locals and scored another. Devine was put out of the game in the sixth inning for disputing a decision by Umpire Warner. The Leaf's catcher pulled the umpire's ear, but a mix-up was averted when players hustled Devine away. The score:

		R.H.E.
Rochester	400 010 00x—5	6 4
Toronto	040 000 000—4	6 5

Ryan and Devine, Sanberg; Clifford and Ross.

MINT JULEP AND MIXIN' 'EM

President Maines was in the stands yesterday and watched the roughness.

* * * *

A suggestion was made that Knotty and Buzz pitch the last innings of the second game, but Knotty, when approached by the president, shook his head in an emphatic no. Knotty had had enough baseball for one day.

* * * *

The London manager would have won doubtless, because he hurls fair ball and works out at batting practice every day. He pitched a shut-out game against semi-pros in Port Huron this season.

* * * *

It is expected that after yesterday's display on the part of both the Hams and the Sox that the controversy over who helped most to win the pennant will be closed for a year.

* * * *

As a matter of fact, both Bay City and Flint have been more of an obstacle than either the two Ontario teams.

* * * *

Pittenger pulled one of the nicest fielding stunts seen this year when he pulled Werre's liner down out of the air with one hand in the third inning of the second game.

The Hamilton Spectator says: Tom Nelson feels that it was no fault of his Red Sox that London won the pennant so early in the Michigan-Ontario League race this year.. Thomas points out that Brantford won the majority of the games played with the league leaders, but puts all the blame for the Chirpers' success on the Hamilton Club. The Shagmen won but one game from the leaders all season, which is the poorest showing that any team in the league had made against the new champions. And when one thinks it over, there is no denying the fact that Thomas has spoken wisely.

* * *

"Pop" Williams will probably tender President Maines a banquet if he goes to Kitchener to see the games. To complete the love feast, Morrisette and O'Hearne ought to occupy seats around the board.

* * *

Joe Briger has not played against Kitchener this year. With two double-headers in as many days, Joe will attain a cherished ambition.

* * *

Donnelly has not reported yet, but is expected hourly. The player was well liked by the fans during his short stay here last year, and big things are expected of him.

URGE MUNICIPALITIES TO OPPOSE DEMAND FOR PHONE INCREASE

Mayor Church and Doyger Speak—London City Clerk Favors Experts.

TORONTO, Sept. 1.—Mayor T. L. Church of Toronto and Francis Dagger, telephone expert of the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board, aroused enthusiasm at the opening of the 22nd annual convention of the Ontario Municipal Association here today, when they urged the various municipalities to oppose the application of the Bell Telephone Company for permission to increase its rates and introduce the measured service system.

S. Baker of London, president of the association, advocated the employment of experts in the administration of civic affairs and suggested that a university status in a faculty of municipal affairs should be required of every municipal treasurer, clerk, engineer and assessor.

Matters of rural municipal interest and committee work will occupy the delegates' attention tomorrow. Premier Drury is to address the association on Friday morning.

Welcomes Delegates.

Toronto, Sept. 1.—Mayor Church welcomed the Ontario Municipal Association delegates, who are in the city attending the 22nd annual meeting at the city hall today.

"You are assembled here at a critical hour in the history of public ownership," said his worship. "The steam roads of the country do not want hydro radials." Continuing, he sketched the history of the Grand Trunk and G. T. P. railways. In 1917, he claimed, the province could not get coal because of the lack of transportation. The huge success of the hydro scheme was an example to private ownership. Montreal interests, he said, were opposed to hydro radials and were doing everything possible to throttle them. Referring to the Bell Telephone's rate increase application, the mayor said: "We must present a united front against all these applications for higher rates. The railway commission doesn't represent the people."

T. J. Moore of Guelph thanked the mayor for his address. He said all the municipalities believed a great deal depended on the development of the hydro-electric system. They were all carefully watching the various applications for increased rates.

Training of Citizens.

President Baker's address was a lengthy one, covering a wide field of municipal activity. One important point was touched upon that of training in citizenship. The president said, in part: "It is a disgrace that Ontario gives the vote to anyone, without any test as to what citizenship means. Steps should be taken by this organization to see that not only the foreigners, but the youth of our own land, be trained in good citizenship."

Other points touched upon by the president were the need of a provincial commission to report on reform of municipal government.

The advisability of municipalities employing as civic officials of only persons who have had a university training in municipal affairs.

The employment of an expert who would advise municipalities on all affairs of public importance.

Create Purchasing Body.

The advisability of the creation of a purchasing commission along the lines of the purchasing department of the hydro-electric commission to purchase supplies for the municipalities.

An amendment to the legislation to provide for the employment of a person "competent to watch and report upon all legislation affecting municipalities coming before the Legislature.

Ald. Carter of Guelph gave an interesting address on the success of that city in reorganizing the municipal government. The basis of the new government is the appointment of a "city manager," who has supervision and control over all departments, and is responsible to the committees and council.

Following the reading of the paper by Ald. Carter, there was a short informal discussion, after which the association adjourned for luncheon. This afternoon, W. B. Doherty, city solicitor of St. Thomas, is presenting a paper on "Public and Private Legislation of 1920."

COMPLETE RETURNS INDICATE GROESBECK REPUBLICAN CHOICE

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 1.—Complete returns from 28 Michigan counties tonight indicated the nomination of Attorney-General Alex. J. Groesbeck as the Republican gubernatorial candidate and the renomination of four of Michigan's congressmen who met opposition in Tuesday's primary. The 1,959 precincts reporting out of a total of 2,453 gave Groesbeck a plurality of 17,536 with a total vote of 78,778; Milo D. Campbell, his nearest competitor, had 61,242, and Charles E. Mott was third with 49,173.

Speaker Thomas Read of the Lower House of the Legislature, was nominated by the Republicans for lieutenant-governor.

Former Governor Woodbridge N. Ferris and Colonel Guy M. Wilson were unopposed for governor and lieutenant-governor respectively, on the Democratic ticket.

An interesting feature of the primary was the active entry of women into state politics. Fifteen sought nomination for various offices, and eight were successful, the incomplete returns indicate. One woman was nominated to run for the state senate; five were nominated for county treasurer, and two for lesser county positions. Mrs. H. C. Statler and Mrs. Aletta Wheeler lost by only small margins in their campaign for congressional nominations.

Voting in the primary was exceedingly light, some of the larger cities reporting only a 25 per cent showing.

INQUEST INTO DEATH OF FORMER PARKHILL RESIDENT IN WEST

WINNIPEG, Sept. 1.—Dr. J. B. McConnell, coroner, announced today that he would conduct an inquest Thursday night into the circumstances surrounding the death of Harry R. Hawkey, who died in the General Hospital Monday night. Hawkey was injured during an automobile race at the exhibition grounds last Saturday afternoon, when his car turned over twice.

He was well known throughout Canada as a successful and daring automobile driver. He came to Winnipeg from his home at Parkhill, Ont., ten years ago. For some time he was in the wholesale hardware business, and about five years ago started an automobile, tire and accessory business, which he was still operating at the time of his death. Hawkey was 36 years of age, and married. There are no children.

ALDERMAN DECLARES SWEEPER PURCHASE WOULD BE ILLEGAL

Dean of Railway City Council Demands Reference To People.

WINS FIRST PRIZE

St. Thomas Horticultural Society Secures Honors At Toronto Exhibition.

ST. THOMAS, Sept. 1.—The decision of the street railway department at its monthly meeting tonight to purchase a sweeper at a cost of $3,000 was characterized by Ald. Meehan as illegal and beyond the power of the committee to undertake, unless provision had already been made in the yearly estimates. As a precedent Ald. Curtis referred to the payment out of the general fund for a flusher secured last year. This investment, which entailed an outlay of about $4,000, was also, said Ald. Meehan, beyond the power of the council without first getting the indorsement of the ratepayers.

Windsor was instanced, when the purchase of a flusher had been voted upon by the people, a procedure which is called for and insisted upon by the municipal act, declared Ald. Meehan.

The proposal to buy the sweeper will again be discussed by the council on Tuesday evening.

The committee considered the purchase as an economical move which would save the cost of power and considerable inconvenience during the winter season.

The Monthly Statement.

The monthly statement shows the receipts to have been $21.41 and the expenditures $4,358, leaving a deficit of $2,216. The cash fares were $1,156; ticket sales, $898. The chief items of expenditure were: Operating expenses, $1,577; barn wages, $699; line wages, $247; track wages, $669; Chairman Johns, $262; power, $377. The passengers carried, 48,848; a year ago, 50,446.

The manager was directed to keep the lamps lighted in the Elm street semaphore on Sundays.

Arayed in a Hockey Stock.

John Graham was fined $15 and costs at Magistrate Maxwell's court for being intoxicated and creating a disturbance at his brother's home on Oliver street. Mr. Graham, maddened by the booze, threw a big part of his brother's fruniture out the front door, and his conduct badly frightened the neighborhood. Constable J. M. McCully found him "arrayed" in a hockey stick, and it was with a mighty effort Graham was subdued.

L. and P. S. Summoned.

The county magistrate issued a summons against the London and Port Stanley Commission today, at the instance of Chief MacIntosh, for failing to pay the license fee charged on the railway booths at the lakeside. The chief feared that the neglect or oversight of the commission to meets its obligation to the village corporation would not "count" after this season closed, so there was a rush order given at the magistrate's office this morning

Items of Interest.

The price of coal in St. Thomas is now $18, a jump of $3 over that in May.

The remains of Mrs. (Rev.) George Jackson, who died in Walkerville Monday, will be brought to St. Thomas Cemetery for interment. Dr. Jackson of Union is a son.

The Staffordville Cheese and Butter Company has a contract to ship milk to Toronto for the next nine months.

The Wednesday half-holiday among the merchants having ceased today, the lawyers have decided to take a rest on the afternoon of Saturdays, and the first rest will be held on Saturday next.

During the past month there were 35 born in the city, 15 married and 16 died. During that period a year ago there were 34 births, 23 marriages and 15 deaths.

About a dozen blackbirds were found electrocuted this morning under a tree on Margaret street.

Another Bootlegger Pays $1,007.50.

Harry Cummins, Toronto, who was convicted a week ago for bootlegging and fined $1,007.50 with a term in the county jail, paid the money into court today, and will be liberated tomorrow. That the whiskey business paid at the Port was fairly well in evidence when Harry handed in his check this morning for $1,007.50, which was drawn on the Sterling Bank at Port Stanley. The bootleggers' fines of $3,000 go to the department. If charges had been laid by the village constable the amount would have reached the treasurer of Port Stanley.

St. Thomas Takes First Prize.

Dr. Bennett, president of the Horticultural Society, wired today that the exhibit of the local society at the Toronto exhibition has been awarded first prize with cash and special diploma.

Farmers On a Pilgrimage.

The Elgin County yeomen will make their annual pilgrimage to noted landmarks on tomorrow and Friday. The West Elgin farmers start on Friday for a tour of Kent, leaving Dutton at 9 o'clock, and will have lunch at the Government Park, Rondeau. The Elgin board will motor into Oxford County, starting from Aylmer at 9 o'clock Thursday. The members and their families will dine at South Park, Woodstock.

NORTHERN WING OF POLISH ARMY STILL ADVANCES

Warsaw Claims Group of Bolshevik Detachments Are Repulsed.

WARSAW, Sept. 1.—Continued fighting in the region of Zamosc, 45 miles southeast of Lublin, is reported in a Polish official communique issued yesterday.

The northern wing of the Polish army is reported to be advancing without resistance. It has captured Grodeck, says the statement, taking more than 1,000 prisoners.

A group of Red detachments operating east of Cholm for the purpose of supporting Gen. Budenny's cavairy, was repulsed with heavy losses when it attempted to take the aggressive by attacking the Poles in the district between Dubienka and Moniatyaz. Gen. Budenny's forces in the region of Zamosc continue to meet with resistance on the part of the Poles, continues the communication. Although Zamosc has been surrounded by the Bolsheviki, "the brave garrison is defending itself heroically, inflicting heavy losses upon the enemy." A Russian column said to have been proceeding in the direction of Grabowie, has been repulsed after heavy fighting.

In Galicia the situation remains unchanged. Polish cavalry which has occupied Chodorow is in pursuit of the Bolsheviki, who are retreating towards Rohatyn.

MINISTER MAY RETIRE.

FREDERICTON, N. B., Sept. 1.—Hon. Dr. E. A. Smith, minister of crown lands, is said by the Gleaner today to be about to retire from the provincial government.

Pressure of private business is being given as the reason for his impending retirement.

When Premier Foster was asked this morning if Hon. Dr. Smith had resigned, he declined to either confirm or deny the report, and said he had nothing to say on the matter at this time.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

HAY PRICES FIRM AND DEMAND BRISK; OLD OATS EASIER

Heavy Offerings of Tomatoes Sends Quotations Downward.

An active demand for hay today sent prices up again, the majority of sales being made at from $26 to $30. Business on Friday is expected to be brisk owing to Monday being a holiday.

New oats brought from $2 to $2.10 per cwt., and from 68c to 71 2-5c per bushel. Old oats were plentiful, and the demand so slow that quotations of from $3 and $3.25 per cwt., and $1.02 and $1.10½ per bushel, changed to $2.50 and $2.75 per cwt., and 85c and 93½c per bushel.

Tomatoes, which were selling all week at 50c per 11-quart basket, went down to 35c and 40c.

Pears were plentiful and easier at from 60c to 70c per 11-quart basket.

Dressed hogs sold for $27 per cwt., and live hogs brought $19. A shipment was made to Toronto today.

Hay—No. 2, per ton, carlots, $25.

FLOUR.

MONTREAL, Sept. 1.—There were no further developments in the local flour situation today.

Owing to the reduction of millfeed prices there was a decided improvement in the demand today, and a fairly active business was done.

Rolled Oats—Per bag, 90 lbs., $5.45 @5.60.

Bran—$52.25.

Shorts—$57.25.

October and December oats opened unchanged, May ¼c lower.

October barley opened ½c lower.

Corn—Dec., $1 17; May, $1 14.

Oats—Dec., 66⅛c; May, 69¼c.

Chicago, Sept. 2.—Wheat took an upward swing in price today after a hesitating start. The strength which developed was ascribed to prospects of a continued good export demand. Selling pressure ceased when it became apparent that offerings were being quietly absorbed. Opening prices, which ranged from ¼c decline to ½c advance, were followed by a moderate general sag and then by a sharp rise to well above yesterday's finish.

After opening ⅛c to ⅜c lower, corn prices scored fair general gains.

Oats were governed by corn, but kept within narow limits, starting a sade to ¼c lower fo December at 66⅛c, went down a little more, and then recovered.

DEADLOCK BETWEEN STRIKERS AND HEAD OF TRANSIT COMPANY

Mayor Hylan Will Make Another Effort To Arrange Settlement.

New York, Sept. 2.—The strike of Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company employees that has seriously crippled service on the subway, elevated and surface lines in Brooklyn since last Sunday, appeared to have evolved today into a deadlock with considerable bitterness in evidence between the strikers and 3,000 strikebreakers brought in by the company. Little hope of peaceful settlement was seen by the strikers, the company or the would-be riding public.

Following refusal of the strikers yesterday to accept a proposal of Federal Judge Julius M. Mayer, legal custodian of the lines in receivership, to submit all but wage questions to arbitration, Mayor Hylan today was considering a counter-proposal of the men that the company make an offer of a wage increase that would be acceptable to Judge Mayer, and that all other questions be arbitrated. One of the chief bones of contention has been Judge Mayer's refusal to permit arbitration of a wage increase, because, he held, an award might be made which would be ruinous to the already involved lines. Mayor Hylan promised to intercede for the men with Judge Mayer on their new proposal, but only faint hope of amicable adjustment by this method was expressed.

W. D. Mahon, international president of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees of America, was due here from Detroit, Mich., early today, to take a hand in directing the strategy of the strikers. The strikers are members of that organization.

AGED B. C. PIONEER DIES IN VICTORIA

He arrived on this coast with 80 other poineers in March, 1850. Five years later he was elected to the first Assembly of Vancouver Island, and was chosen speaker. He held that position for a number of years, and was a member of the executive council for a long term.

REVERSES DECISION.

Windsor, Sept. 2.—Officials of city of Windsor were notified yesterday afternoon that the lieutenant-governor-in-council had reversed decision of the railway municipal board allowing the town of Walkerville to annex property lying to the south of Windsor and owned by the Walker Building Company, one of the Walker interests.

Windsor opposed the granting of the application at a hearing of the railway board, which decided in favor of the applicants. Windsor appealed to the lieutenant-governor, and had the board's decision reversed.

soldiers averted serious conflict. Many dwellings and stores were looted during the day, and rumors of new attacks made by the respective factions contributed to the general excitement.

BELFAST TROUBLE SETTLES DOWN TO EXTENSIVE SNIPING

BELFAST, Sept. 1.—The troubles in Belfast today resolved themselves into sniping on an extensive scale. Only the Ballymacarret district was not affected. The worst spot was in North street.

This evening the military dashed along Gresham street, which abuts on North street, in pursuit of a man who was alleged to have fired on them from close range. The troops are being hampered by the curiosity of friendly onlookers, who persist in getting across their line of fire. Their unfamiliarity with the winding of the streets, constituting Millfield and Carrick Hill, the latter Sinn Fein localities, is also proving a great handicap.

The Falls Road Orangemen continue in an aggressive mood. A descent this afternoon on Shankill road by way of Boundary street seemed proof of this, as the rioters could have reached the same objective through friendly quarters. Evictions are proceeding on a large scale, and the Sinn Fein population of Ballymacarrett has almost entirely disappeared.

An attempt to attack a Catholic church in Alfred street tonight resulted in an exchange of shots lasting for half an hour. Several persons were wounded before the military dispersed the combatants. The total death roll in Belfast up to the present is 25. There have been more than 200 persons badly wounded. Fires to the number of 216 have occurred and the ambulance brigade has answered 245 calls

COLBY PROMISES TO DO IT QUICKLY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—Frank P. Walsh, chairman of the American Commission for Irish Independence, after a conference today with Secretary of State Colby, announced that Mr. Colby had promised "to endeavor to do something, and do it quickly," in behalf of Terence MacSwiney, lord mayor of Cork, now on a hunger strike in Brixton Jail, London.

MACSWINEY IS TRIFLE WEAKER

LONDON, Sept. 1.—The condition of Lord Mayor MacSwiney in Brixton prison tonight appeared unchanged, except that he seemed a trifle weaker. His relatives were less anxious than they were a few days ago. Mrs. MacSwiney not paying her customary visit tonight.

Lord Stamfordham, private secretary to King George, has replied to a letter from Horatio Bottomly, member of Parliament, urging the release of MacSwiney. He told Mr. Bottomly that, even if the King favored the release of the mayor of Cork, it could be effected only by the sovereign's personal action in the face of the advice of his ministers, with the presumable result that they would resign. He declared, also, there was the further risk that the "country at large might regard the price paid too high for the object obtained and blame the King for creating a grave crisis at a time of special national stress and anxiety."

CIVILIAN IS SHOT.

DUNGARVAN, Ireland, Sept. 1.—During a raid on a private residence near Dungarvan Monday night by twenty armed men, one of the occupants resisted and was shot dead.

CRITICIZE PEACE TREATY

Ethnography and Anthropology Also Interest Learned Men At Cardiff.

London, Sept. 1.—The doors of British laboratories, studies and observatories were opened this week to throw the light of pitiless publicity on the annual meeting of the British Association for the Advancement of Science, which met in Cardiff. There were revealed, incidentally, realms which were not dreamed of in the philosophies of Dan and Beersheba, much less contained within those reputed wide limits. Learned gentlemen discussed before sections of the association such abstract, academic subjects as Einstein's theory of the magnetic deflection of light, sources of subatomic energy, and the probable future duration of this world, in view of its horrible "rocks."

But whether the British scientific man has taken a practical turn because of his practical employment during the war, or whether British journalists succeeded in effecting a triumph in translating the proceedings into everyday language, the conference did consider such man-in-the-street subjects as why a boy "muffs" a ball, the probability of the kippered herring holding out to supply the British breakfast tables, the gross inadequacy of the political decisions embodied in the Versailles treaty, the Irish coercion bill, and which nation will "go broke" first in view of the present international economic chaos.

Incidentally, bets were on America in the last named cheerful contest, while in so far as the Versailles treaty was concerned that document, upon which labors of ethnographic squadrons in the Hotel de Crillon and other headquarters were supposed to have been lavished without regard to cost, met with complete scorn from other ethnographic experts in Cardiff, who insisted that the government ought to have hired them.

Dark Outlook for United States.

Dr. J. H. Clapham of King's College, Cambridge, was the prophet of evil for America. He asserted that the United States, as a newly established creditor country, was in the same position as England after the Napoleonic wars, with a huge exportable surplus of food, iron and steel products, and unwilling to accept foreign goods in payment for them. Although he predicted a general industrial and commercial depression in all countries with inflated currencies, England, he said, was in the best shape with regard to currency inflation and America in the worse generally, on account of her unaccustomed role as a creditor nation.

"She has cut off one of the chief means of payment in kind through prohibition, thus cutting off wines from France, for instance," he said. "While she can accept payment in gold for a time, she will soon see the truth of the adage that 'a country which won't buy neither shall she sell.'"

It was Prof. Karl Pearson, in the anthropological section, who first attacked the anthropological aspects of modern statesmanship, instancing British relations with Ireland, India, Egypt, Italy and America as proof that the government ought to hire some man handy in the anthropological aspects of national psychology. He had also to admit to his ethnographical brethren in Downing Street that "it was only necessary to study the peace of Versailles to see that it was ethnologically unsound and not possible of being permanent." He would not go so far as to say that, if the science of man had been developed to the same extent as the physical sciences in all European countries, there would have been no war, but he did venture to say that it would have been a war of a different character, and that European society and culture would not now hang in the balance, as they at the present moment certainly do. He declared that the outbreaks of science would not cease until the trogiodyte mentality was bred out of man.

Discuss World Map.

The president of the geographical section, John McFarland, dealt with the changed map of the world as a result of the peace treaties, which he outspokenly criticized even to the point of condemnation of some of the decisions reached by the peace makers. He stated that if Poland would insure her position she must forget the limits of her former empire, turn her back upon the Russian plain and set herself to the development of the Vistula basin, where alone would she find strength and safety.

Miss May Smith described a machine for testing the mental effects of alcohol and drugs. The test consists in the subject making dots in red circles on a tape which passes slowly before his field of vision, the stages of the mental disturbance being clearly visible on the tape, whether after the subject had taken alcohol, drugs or strong tea. The test, however, had no influence on a "Paddy" in the audience, who had recently become a "pussyfooter." Miss Smith enforced her arguments by the use of a magic lantern, the first slide she showed depicting a highly magnified drop of drinking water which, as usual, was full of matter that had been killed. The verdict was "I had rather drink them things dead than alive."

Prof. Stanley Gardner, in the zoological section, said that the greatest problem of medical science was the eradication of cancer. In order to do this, he said, the zoological side of the subject must be studied carefully. He asserted that a typically cancer stomach had been found in a rat. He asserted that a host of cockroaches had been brought to Europe from America in sacks of sugar.

RECORD ATTENDANCE AT INGERSOLL SCHOOLS

Berry Growers in District Report Splendid Second Crops of Fruit.

INGERSOLL, Sept. 1—The opening of the public schools today was marked by a record attendance. At the Central school the attendance numbered 505, and as a result there is considerable congestion. In Principal Walker's room there were 56 pupils, while the regulation number is 45. It is known that other students will shortly enroll in Principal Walker's room if they can be accepted, and the attendance will doubless be increased to 60. The congestion at the Central school has been a serious matter for some time and teachers, pupils and parents will appreciate the accommodation which will be afforded by the new school, but which will not likely be completed for several months.

Second Crop of Berries.

Several residents of the town and district have reported a splendid second crop of berries. Both black and red berries have developed during recent weeks and in some instances the second crop is almost equal to the first, both in size and quality of the berries.

UNITED MINERS ACCEPT AWARD UNDER PROTEST

Scale Committee of Hard Coal Districts Agree To Schedule.

MAY TAKE VACATION

Between 20,000 and 30,000 May Leave Work, Dissatisfied With Decision.

HAZELTON, Penn., Sept. 1. — The scale committee of the United Mine Workers of America, representing the three hard coal districts, late today agreed to accept the award of the anthracite coal commission under protest, and follow this up with the presentation of new demands. The miners' committee will meet the representatives of the operators in Scranton tomorrow, in pursuance of a call issued by Secretary of Labor W. B. Wilson for the purpose of writing the terms of the award into a two-year contract.

TO TAKE VACATION.

Pittsfield, Pa., Sept. 1.—Between 20,000 and 30,000 miners will be on "vacations" in district No. 9 by tonight, according to the reports received at the various headquarters this morning. More than 20,000 were already out at 9 o'clock, and the remainder were rapidly joining the movement.

TRIPLE ALLIANCE WILL NOT ADOPT MEDIATION, WORD

London Journal Says Rail and Transport Men Pledge Strike Support.

LONDON, Sept. 1.—The Evening News asserts tonight the triple alliance of labor—the railwaymen, transport workers and miners—will not adopt mediation between the miners and the Government. On the contrary, the newspaper says, the railwaymen and transport workers have pledged full and active support to the miners should a strike be decided upon at tomorrow's conference of delegates of the three unions.

FERRY PRESIDENT CHARGES MAYOR WITH OBSTRUCTION

W. E. Campbell Declares Petitions For Dockage Facilities Were Ignored.

WINDSOR, Sept. 1.—Charges that Mayor E. B. Winter of Windsor is doing everything in his power to obstruct the expansion of the Detroit and Windsor Ferry Company were made today by Walter E. Campbell, president of the company.

President Campbell charged the Windsor executive with being the partner to a plan which would add the ferry company to the long list of municipally-owned enterprises. Petitions for greater dockage facilities are ignored, he said, and better handling of the huge crowds crossing daily has been prevented by Mayor Winter's refusal of assistance in any form.

While admitting that more people than ever before are using the ferryboats, President Campbell asserted that the increased cost of operation more than offset the general increase in traffic.

"Windsor will not have better ferry accommodation until it is ready to co-operate with us," was his parting statement.

OVER HALF COST OF WINDSOR-DETROIT BRIDGE SUBSCRIBED

Edward Huff Expects Bridge To Be Started Within a Year.

WINDSOR, Sept. 1.—That the proposed overhead bridge between Detroit and Windsor will be started within a year, is the opinion of Edward Huff, president and general manager of the Tanner-Gates Corporation, one of the largest realty brokerage firms in Michigan.

President Huff is a Canadian, from Peterboro, Ont., and one of the principals behind the scheme. He says that over half of the $10,000,000 to be raised is already available.

Considerable impetus will be given the plan when the international joint commission decides in favor of a lakes-to-ocean waterways, he said. According to Mr. Huff the Canadian end of the bridge will be located between the city of Windsor and town of Sandwich, according to plans provided by engineers of Detroit Board of Commerce.

At The Theaters

"GIRL WITH THE JAZZ HEART" BY MADGE KENNEDY AT THE ALLEN.

Jazz has become an institution like chewing gum, prohibition, Will Rogers, and other things and persons. Now it is being taken up by the movies as is attested by the new Madge Kennedy production starring that dainty little star at the Allen today, tomorrow and Saturday. It's the picture all have been unconsciously waiting for. Its humor is infectious, its atmosphere is intoxicating. It does what few pictures have done since the celluloid first began to flit—it catches the real spirit of night life that has made the gay white way famous throughout the world.

The famous Allen orchestra will present as a special treat, a novel jazz program. Among the many extra attractions of news pictures, scenics, etc., will be a big Sunshine comedy.

AT THE GRAND.

"The real thing," was the verdict of every service man who saw "The P. B. I.," or "Mademoiselle of Bully Grenay," on its first appearance last spring. As the return engagement shows identically the same performance, the public may feel sure that a faithful presentation of conditions and types in the war zone is given. When it is remembered that this play is written, staged and acted by veterans of the great war, the average trench experience of whom is 30 months, it is possible for those who could follow the fortunes of their fighting men in imagination only to realize to some little extent what things must have been really like over there.

The play was written by Pte. W. L. McGeary, who won his captaincy on the field and was the recipient of the military cross. It was first produced in Hart House Theatre, Toronto University, and after a tremendous success there played the Princess in Toronto to crowded houses, and tried out a month's road tour, and they expect to travel as far as the coast. One more night in London should see a full house, as the play is excellent in plot, staging and acting.

The cameo-like clearness with which the characters stand out in type from one another in such a large cast is remarkable in itself. Probably the most popular with the audience was Pte. 'Erbert 'Awkins, the first of the Three Musketeers, known as The Grouch, who perpetually grumbles and growls at anything and everything, and yet carries on under all emotions. Lieut. Edward Brook Green, the cocky young subaltern, whose attitude to "out since Mons" men on his arrival from an officers' school in England is insufferable in the extreme, is a type which even the civilian will recognize. Experience of trench life and good stuff underneath develop him into a real man, and his platoon learns to like and respect him.

Brig.-Gen. Wellington Montague-Smythe, a dugout from the United Service Club, is perhaps the characterization which most delights the service man. He is a red-faced, white-mustached old officer, with a ferocious bark, who is yet utterly dependent for protection, information and general management upon his subordinates.

The plot is well developed, the treachery of a spy and the love story of a heroic Canadian with the pretty little Belgian refugee serving as the connecting thread. Numerous incidents of clever comedy characterization, exciting details of trench life and snatches of trench ditties in excellent voice render the whole a splendidly sustained piece of work. Mlle. Hildegarde Filmiere, who plays the part of the little cantiniere, Julie, is a Belgian who lived in Brussels during the German occupation. Service men say that practically every type encountered in the war zone is portrayed in the play. Satirization, humor, tenderness, heroism, all characterize the play. It is what the play bill states, "A Rollicking Comedy," and yet as it proceeds before the eyes there's an ache in the throat too. We forget so easily what we never knew. Those who act this play are simply living over again what they knew so well, and the gay lighthearted-ness and plucky grit which they portray so entertainingly was what maintained the morale and won the day. It is a unique performance, and should be well attended, from the two points of view of entertainment and of first-hand information. Glimpses of real humor, beings doing the things we have read about, stay with us when the written word departs. No one should miss the "P. B. I."

EDNA GOODRICH IN "SLEEPING PARTNERS," AT THE GRAND FRIDAY AND SATURDAY.

Edna Goodrich is now touring the country in person, and will be seen at the Grand Friday and Saturday evening next, with special Saturday matinee, in "Sleeping Partners," a comedy direct from a seven months' run at the Bijou Theatre. The managers make the important assertion that the organization which will play this city is the only one on tour, and that the original production, the only one ever built for this play in this country, will be seen in the local presentation. "Sleeping Partners" is totally different from anything that has ever been seen in this country. It is typically French. The atmosphere is there, the adroitness of situation and dialogue, and the consummate expertness of workmanship which characterize French farce in its highest form.

HISTORY OF "CHU CHIN CHOW."

There is a remarkable bit of theatrical history back of the appearance here of "Chu Chin Chow," the wonderful extravaganza of the Orient, which F. Ray Comstock and Morris Gest will present at the Grand, September 16, 17 and 18, with Saturday matinee. "Chu Chin Chow" is said to be the biggest attraction ever sent on tour. It is in fourteen scenes; it utilizes the services of 300 people, and the brilliant costumes and scenes were all created in London, exact duplicates of Mr. Asche's production now running there. "Can Chin Chow" was an enormous success in New York, and it has broken all records on tour. Mail orders now.

AT THE PATRICIA.

The one big oustanding feature picture of the year is "When Bearcat Went Dry," which will be the attraction at the Patricia Theatre today for three days.

The characters of the picture are those hardy mountaineers of Eastern Kentucky, who, from time immemorial, have shown slight regard for man-made laws. It is of such kind of men and women that "When Bearcat Went Dry" has to do, and needless to say a picture-play of unlimited entertainment qualities is provided.

AT LOEW'S.

The frantic struggles of a woman who discovers that she is being taken to a sanatorium force the automobile in which she is riding over a cliff and brings the story of "Jenny Be Good," in which Mary Miles Minter is presented at Loew's for the balance of the week, to an exciting climax. Born to occupy a place of security in New York's smartest society, the woman by one of the strange tricks of fate, has become a drug victim. Discovering at length the plight in which she has involved herself she fights to avoid the inevitable. But the sunshine of life breaks at this point when Jenny, played by Mary Miles Minter comes finally to discover the love and happiness, she has struggled against odds to attain. The pretty Realart star is supported by an excellent cast in presenting this story of smart social life for the screen. A Funny Hank Mann comic, Loew's Pictorial of world events in pictures and Loew's High-Class Vaudeville completes a real bill for the balance of the week.

"The Singing Teacher," the feature vaudeville attraction at Loew's for the balance of the week, is a musicalized dramatic playlet based on the ambition of a country girl to become a prima donna, and the methods of many of the fake singing teachers that abound in New York. Lovers of musical and dramatic art will find the "Singing Teacher" an entirely different theme than is usually offered in vaudeville. It abounds in humor and pathos and is interpolated with violin selections and in all is a complete singing lesson.
