PAY TRIBUTE AT BIER OF PASTOR IN ST. THOMAS

Throngs Tax Grace Church Capacity At Service For Late Rev. W. J. Ashton.

125 MINISTERS PRESENT

Special to London Advertiser. ST. THOMAS, Feb. 13.—From all parts of the London Methodist Conference, ministers and laymen came to pay tribute at the bier of the late Rev. W. J. Ashton in the Grace Methodist Church of this city, when impressive services were held at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon.

The church was filled to overflowing for even the many chairs which were secured to augment the seating capacity failed to accommodate all who came to pay their last respects to a beloved pastor and brother.

The love and respect with which the Rev. Mr. Ashton was regarded by fellow ministers of the conference was shown by what was said to be one of the largest and most representative gatherings of Methodist ministers ever held in the conference. At least 125 ministers of this denomination were present from as far west as Kingsville, north to Goderich, while even Toronto was represented. But the love was not confined only to Methodism, for a large sprinkling of ministers from other denominations were present also.

Conducts Services.

The services at the church were conducted by Rev. J. W. Hibbert of Kingsville, president of the London Methodist Conference, assisted by eight other ministers. The service was opened by Rev. T. Sawyer, a college room-mate of Mr. Ashton. Dr. Henderson of the Central Methodist Church, this city, led in prayer; the lessons were read by Rev. W. A. Agnew, chairman of the London district, and Rev. W. A. Waldron, chairman of the St. Thomas district. Sermons were preached by Rev. George Jewett of Wyoming, ex-president of the London conference; Rev. J. E. Holmes of Stratford, a life-long friend of Mr. Ashton; Rev. J. W. Smith of Toronto and Rev. J. W. Hibbert, while the closing hymn was led by Rev. Walter Millson, a former pastor.

Rev. George Jewett spoke in loving terms of close friendship which had existed between Rev. Mr. Ashton and himself for 25 years. He first came to know Mr. Ashton when they were brother workers on the same circuit. He had always been deeply interested in Mr. Ashton, not only because of their close friendship, but also because of the splendid helpmate which his friend had chosen for his life's work.

"Needn't Be Ashamed." Friends far and near have come to pay respects, the speaker continued. "We think that there is an impoverishment of words as we try to express thoughts, but we do know that a brother was a worker who need not be ashamed to meet his Maker."

"He was a manly man, every inch of him was a man. He was outspoken, at times blunt, but he had always a tender heart. He was a hard worker, whose consuming care was to win souls for Christ. Methinks can ill afford to lose such a man."

Rev. J. E. Holmes spoke touchingly of an early friendship with Rev. Mr. Ashton, a friendship which had lasted down through the years. He referred to the evangelistic qualities of his friend, of the work accomplished by him, and of Mr. Ashton's marriage, which he had performed.

"Friday," Rev. Mr. Holmes said, "was Ascension Day for our brother. He left the twilight which he loved for the bright sunshine of Heaven. Today he stands before the throne of God washed in the blood of the Lamb."

Rev. J. W. Hibbert expressed deep sympathy on behalf of the ministers of the conference for the congregation of Grace Church at their loss. He thanked the members for the kindness and tender care which they had shown to the bereaved family during the past year. By their faithfulness and loyalty to their sick pastor and his family the people of Grace Church he said, had strengthened the heart of every minister in the conference. The ministers, he said, would not soon forget the love and devotion which had been shown.

Extensive Thanks. To Rev. Mr. Caven, who had taken charge of the church during the pastor's illness, Rev. Mr. Hibbert extended a great measure of thanks. "You have been a son to the pastor," he said, "and a brother to the family. You indeed have been a great comfort in the bereavement."

The speaker spoke feelingly of the time in which Rev. Mr. Ashton came into his life, and of the beautiful friendship which had ripened afterwards. He then referred to Rev. Mr. Ashton's work, comparing him to an Elijah in his fervency and to a mother for his tenderness.

During the service the choir sang a fitting anthem. The pallbearers were six fellow ministers, Rev. B. H. Robinson of Leamington, Rev. C. C. Kaine of Cootan, Rev. H. Graham of Brantford, Rev. Robert Hicks of Chatham, Rev. A. J. Langford of St. Marys, and Rev. John Morrison of Sarnia.

Your Income Tax

Fifth of a Series of Five Articles.

John W. Plewes, continuing to answer the questions below, gives in his answers important data that will help you with your income tax return immeasurably.

Question—Are there any special arrangements for farmers?

Answer—Yes.

(1) A farmer files his return on T-1A, reporting the entire sales of the calendar year and the expenses of the calendar year.

(2) In cases where the dealing are on one particular commodity and adequate records are kept the farmer may file for a financial year.

Illustration No. 1—A tobacco grower produces a large crop in 1920, but does not sell it, owing to the condition of the market. He produces another large crop in 1921. Both of these crops were sold in 1921. If the farmer has adequate records he may report the result of his 1920 crop as his 1920 return, and the result of his 1921 crop as his 1921 return.

Illustration No. 2—A farmer who engages largely and chiefly in the cattle business may submit business statements showing inventories as at the beginning and end of the year, when such procedure would exhibit his profits more fairly than by reporting the sales and purchases only of the calendar year.

Q—How does a farmer report his farm sale?

A—The farmer should report his farm sale completely, giving a list of the articles sold and the amount received for each; also the expenses incurred by the sale, such as auctioneer's fees, etc. Amounts received for the land, buildings, implements, work horses, breeding stock, dairy cows, etc., are regarded as return of capital and are not taxed. Amounts received for grain, vegetables, hay and other farm produce, beef cattle, hogs, etc., are regarded as income and are taxable.

Q—What consideration is given for farmers' sons employed on the farm?

A—Just the same as for any other taxpayers' sons.

Q—If a farmer pays his sons wages he should report the same, when they will be allowed as a deduction from income. Deductions for wages and board, however, cannot be allowed for sons under eighteen years of age where claimed as dependents.

Q—What expenses are allowed to farmers?

A—(1) Wages paid, cost of feed, seed, fertilizer, etc., repairs, fire and hail insurance, live stock purchased for resale, interest paid on farm mortgage, etc., rent, taxes, etc.

(2) Depreciation on the actual cost of buildings, machinery, motor trucks and autos (used for farm only). Depreciation is not allowed on autos used for pleasure.

Q—What is meant by capital outlay?

A—Amounts paid for land, new buildings, fences and renewals, machinery, breeding stocks, tiling, ditching, etc., are investments of capital and are not allowed as deductions from the taxable profits of the year.

An improved farm sells for more than an unimproved farm. The sale price though showing a profit is not taxable.

Taxpayer claims a fixed rate of the cost of such assets each year. In other words, the cost is spread over a number of years. This method of allowing the cost of assets to taxpayers is called depreciation.

cil of Ephesus 431 A.D., the Roman pontiff, Pope Celestine I is called: "The ordinary successor and vicar of Blessed Peter, the prince of the apostles." Chap. XVI.

"In the council of Chalcedon 451 A.D., the letter of Pope St. Leo the Great, the Roman pontiff of that time, was read, all the 630 fathers who were sitting in that council exclaimed, 'Peter has spoken through Leo.'"

(d) "The following Protestant writers of note admit the fact as incontrovertible:

Dr. Cave, Dr. Nathaniel Lardner, Dr. Pearson, Whiston, Dean Milman and Archbishop Bramhall. (Quoted by Bilsborrow, "Four Lectures on the Primacy" pp. 24-25.)

"I quote the following from Dr. Cave's Literary History of Ecclesiastical Writers:

"That St. Peter was the first bishop of Rome we affirm boldly with the whole multitude of the ancients. We give testimonials above exception, taken from the remotest antiquity, Ignatius, bishop of Antioch, disciple of St. Peter, and certainly his successor in the see of Antioch (epistle to the Romans); Papias of Hierapolis, hearer of St. John, the evangelist, at least in his old age (see Eusebius II, 15); Irenaeus of Lyons, a bishop belonging to the apostolic times, disciple of St. Polycarp (against Heresies III, 1); Dionysius of Corinth (see Eusebius II, 25); Tertullian (in his Book of Prescriptions, XXXVI—of Baptism, IV—Scripture, last chapter)—the Roman priest Caius, an ecclesiastic of great repute (see Eusebius III, 25); Origenes (see Eusebius III—IV, 14).

After names so venerable, and after monuments of antiquity so illustrious, who will call in doubt a thing so clearly and constantly attested? One might well ask with Dr. Cave, from the Anglican divine and historian of the XVIII century, 'Who will call in doubt a thing so clearly and constantly attested?'

OUTLINES NEED OF DOMESTIC LODGE

Salvation Army Official Expects Place To Be Selected Soon.

Several houses are under consideration for the proposed establishment of a domestic lodge by the Salvation Army, and it is expected that a final choice will be made some time during this week.

Brigadier Crichton stated Tuesday morning that homes of this sort were in splendid working operation in the west, and would prove a decided asset to Salvation Army operations in this city. Girls come over from the old country in groups of from ten to twenty, and some accommodation was necessary for them until work was found. Owing to the demand for domestic servants, few of the girls remained in the home more than one night at least.

The home would also be utilized for girls traveling or moving from one position to another.

Brigadier Southall is returning to the city in a few days when the final selection is to be made.

ganizations for the selling of fruit and vegetables, and other plans along similar lines will be developed during the present session. The rural credit system created by the legislation of last session, gives promise of beneficial results.

Unemployment Considered.

"Much consideration has been given to the unemployment question by my ministers, and by an advisory committee appointed some months ago. As a result of these deliberations the government has undertaken to encourage employment by a plan whereby the province will contribute to the extra cost of works initiated by the municipalities for relief purposes, the Dominion and local authorities also sharing the expense. In addition the province has agreed to contribute to the cost of supplying food and materials urgently required to relieve distress and privation."

After mentioning the labor minister's attendance at the Geneva labor conference, the address turned to the radial railway problem, and continued:

"The commission appointed to inquire into and report upon the proposed system of radial railways completed its labors some time ago, and its findings will be duly laid before you. In view of the report, and of the changed conditions, my ministers have found it advisable to avoid further commitments for radial railways until this House shall have had an opportunity to decide as to the policy to be pursued in the future. Legislation dealing with this subject will be submitted to you for your consideration."

"A contract has been entered into by the Temiskaming and Northern Railway Commission for the construction of the first section of the proposed extension of the railway to James Bay as authorized by you two years ago. It is expected that the undertaking will encourage industrial development, facilitate settlement and contribute to the general prosperity."

Prospective Legislation. "Progress in educational matters and in the building of highways was reported. A comprehensive survey of our forest resources had been undertaken by modern methods, and would probably be completed in two or three years. The information obtained would afford reliable data for future operations."

As to prospective legislation the address said: "Legislation has been prepared for the purpose of affording a necessary measure of protection to the interests of the public. Several bills have been drafted by the legislative committee on insurance. Among other measures in contemplation are bills concerning the mechanics' lien law, the police magistrates' act, the voters' list act, the probation act, the mining tax act, the mining act, the fish and game laws, the operation of motor buses on provincial highways, the registration of nurses, and the municipal franchise."

"The finances of the province have been administered with a view to maintaining the balance between revenue and expenditures and the outlook in this respect is satisfactory. At an early date the public accounts will be laid before you, along with estimates for the current and ensuing fiscal years."

TO GET REPORT ON NEW COLLEGIATE

Members of No. 3 committee of the board of education at a special meeting Wednesday afternoon will receive and consider a final report with respect to the new collegiate institute.

As anticipated the new school will be occupied Monday, February 20. "As I can see it," declared Trustee Silverwood, chairman of No. 3 committee, "there will be no change in the date. The latest report that I have from the architect is that everything is being placed in readiness."

Trustee Silverwood explains that although the trustees did nothing officially in the matter, he, acting on his own initiative, had the school inspected by an expert. He expressed the opinion on Tuesday that it may be decided to bring in another outside party to give an opinion. The committee has already been vested with power to do so should it be deemed fitting.

The task of reorganization at the collegiate institute will also claim attention at Wednesday's gathering.

SUPPLY NATURAL GAS TO BELMONT

Progressive Gas and Oil Company Announce Turning On of Fuel.

A. G. Hattersall, Progressive Gas and Oil Company, announces that natural gas was turned on for the use of the families of Belmont and vicinity on Monday.

Following the breaking off of negotiations with London for the sale of their gas, the company made a deal to supply the village of Belmont. The pipes were laid but for a time the actual turning on of the gas was held up pending the ratification of the franchise by the county council. When this was completed it was found that water had got into the unused pipes and had frozen, this made for further delay. On Monday the pipes were cleared and the gas from the smallest of the three wells at the Crumlin field was turned on.

Mr. Hattersall says that the pressure of the well, 150 pounds, was only reduced by 25 pounds after Belmont started using the gas. The pressure at Belmont was 35 pounds.

The company has two larger wells at present unused. They are now negotiating with Thamesford and Thorndale to supply these places. In the spring it is the intention to start sinking another well, said Mr. Hattersall. "We are satisfied that we are going to produce some big wells and we are also certain that when we get this supply we will be able to make an agreement for the supplying of the city of London with a good natural gas at a reasonable rate."

OPPOSE CLOSING OF FISH MARKET

While there has been some talk in council circles of closing the city fish market, there is bound to be strong opposition if a serious effort is made to carry out such a move. The contention of some of the aldermen is that the fish market as a public utility of the city is not only paying its way, but is piling up a surplus which, if not used to improve the stall, can go to reduce the tax rate.

The policy at the fish stall is to sell as closely to cost as possible and at the same time protect the city. Today the fish stall has a surplus on the books of the city of between three and four thousand dollars.

Of course were administration charges for bookkeeping, etc., charged up, points out City Treasurer Bell, this would be materially reduced, as at present, outside its actual expenses and a business tax, no other charges are paid.

"That surplus would chop about a fifteenth of a mill off the tax rate this year," said one proud public ownership alderman in discussing the matter.

TITE NOT TO MAKE DEFINITE CHARGES

Although William Tite, a delegate to the trades and labor council, appears before the board of health, Tuesday afternoon, to explain the attitude of the former body relative to alleged insanitary conditions in certain local dentist parlors, he will not make any specific charge, he says.

Delegate Tite explained Tuesday morning that he is asking only that the city's medical authorities take such steps as would be necessary to conduct a general inspection of dental parlors and work-rooms. The board of health has asked for specific cases.

The labor representative points out that last week the health officers asked for an inspection of cattle as a safeguard against tuberculosis but did not mention any cases in particular. He reasons that, he should not have to mention any names either.

ACTRESS TELLS SECRET

Tells How To Darken Gray Hair With a Home-Made Mixture.

Jolicey Williams, the well-known American actress, recently made the following statement about gray hair and how to darken it, with a home-made mixture:

"Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home that will gradually darken gray, streaked or faded hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half-pint of water, add 1 ounce of bay rum, a small box of Orlex Compound, and 4 ounce of glycerine.

"These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a gray-haired person look twenty years younger. It does not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off."

NELSON STREET MAN TELLS OF LIQUOR SOURCE

Secured Many Prescriptions
From Medical Friend in Port Stanley.

JUDGMENT IS RESERVED

Evidence Heard in Charges Against Leonard Berry
and Charles Bell.

Police court habitués licked their lips in longing and rolled their eyes into heaven as they listened to Charles Bell of 506 Nelson street tell Magistrate Bartlett that he had taken whiskey when his heart was bad, rum when he had a cold, and that Dr. Mothersill of Port Stanley had given him a "per" for 24 pint bottles of beer when he (Bell) was "run down."

"The colored population of this town seems to be in a bad way," observed Mr. Bartlett. "Last week every colored man that appeared in this court was sick. Hunter, Bell, Johnston, Berry and yourself all have been ill."

The evidence was given in the course of an action against Leonard Berry, charged with having liquor in a place other than a private dwelling. Mr. Berry was handed the "raspberry" in police court Monday morning when he was fined $200 and costs.

Charges Are Denied.
Mr. Berry denied the charge in court Tuesday and defied the prosecution to prove anything against him.

A similar charge was preferred against Bell. After all the evidence was taken, the court reserved judgment in both cases.

Licence Inspector J. E. Keenleyside told of going to the house of Bell on the afternoon of Feb. 8, with Inspector Lucan and Sgt. Roy Montfeth. Berry was in the dining-room, and in the kitchen was a table of whiskey on the table with three glasses. A bottle of rum, unopened, was found under the end of a sofa.

Frank Turville, manager of the Ontario liquor dispensary, said that Berry had filled a prescription on the afternoon of Feb. 8 on Dr. Waud's certificate. Another order from the same doctor had been filled by Charles Bell, this time for rum.

Berry, in the witness box, stated that at noon on Feb. 8, George Chantler (colored), had asked him to fill a "per" for him that afternoon, as he did not think he would have time to get it himself. Mr. Berry naturally was obliging, got the whiskey, and gave it to Chantler later on at the home of Mrs. Stewart, Ottawa avenue.

Witnesses in Bell at the corner of Ottawa avenue and Wellington street and they had gone together to the vendor's for their liquor. Bell hired a taxi and drove witness as far as Colborne street and Ottawa avenue. He delivered the whiskey to Chantler and then went to Bell's house on Nelson street, where the officers found him. The big bottle of whiskey produced in court and found at Bell's house did not belong to him.

Dates Forgotten.
Cross-examined by J. B. McKillop, K.C., Berry could not remember at first what doctor gave him a "script" three weeks ago, but finally remembered that it was Dr. Waud, who had an office at 84 Wellington street. He admitted signing Chantler's name to the order.

"They all know me at the dispensary," proclaimed Mr. Berry. "The evidence that you shall give shall be the truth and nothing but the truth," intoned Clerk John Moule in administering the oath to Mr. Bell.

"Sure," said Mr. Bell, parading a gleaming set of ivory. Bell told of meeting Berry and of their trip to the vendors.

Questioned by the crown attorney, witness admitted that he received several "pers" from Dr. Mothersill since the first of the year. He had a very bad cold when he went to see Dr. Waud. Personally he didn't think he needed any liquor, but Dr. Waud had "subscribed" rum for him.

Witness went to Port Stanley about twice a month, and of course went to see his friend the doctor. He couldn't swear to the dates.

"Well you will," said Mr. McKillop. "Well I won't," shot back Mr. Bell, his answer to the next few questions being, "I couldn't say."

Later on in the examination, Bell admitted that his friend Chantler had procured one of those precious "yellow slips" from Dr. Mothersill.

Expect G. T. R. Carshops Soon To Be Working On Full Time

IT will not be long before the employees at the Grand Trunk car shops are back working on full time. It was announced Tuesday.

Plans for important changes in both hours and general working conditions are now being formulated, it was explained, to be effective shortly.

It is proposed first that the hours for labor each week be increased from 40 to 44, while steady work throughout the month seems practically assured at this moment. At present the men have been working three weeks a month.

Officials of the federated railroad shop crafts admitted Tuesday that such negotiations were under way and expectations for a general improvement of conditions is promised.

SCHOOL CHILDREN ATTEND RECITAL

Pupils of Upper Grades Hear
High-Class Organ Program.

Children of the seventh and eighth grades of all the city schools filed St. Andrew's Church, Monday afternoon, to hear an organ recital by Choirmaster Wheeler.

E. W. G. Quantz, director of music in the public schools, deplored the fact that so much jazz was heard by school children and expressed the wish that other musicians of the city would follow Mr. Wheeler's example in giving recitals of really good music to aid in counteracting the bad effects of the jazz which is so prevalent.

The fact that the church was filled with splendid evidence of the interest taken in music by the children of the public schools. Mr. Quantz stated that at the next occasion of this kind, an attempt would be made to have children of the sixth grade present as well.

Following his recital Mr. Wheeler gave a very interesting talk on the development of the organ, which proved very interesting to all the children. Special lantern slides were shown to illustrate the lecture.

THINKS SCHOOLS OF LONDON LEAD

That he has seen none better throughout America, was the opinion of Professor Ernest Wood of the Sind National College of India, upon an inspection of the local schools Monday afternoon.

Accompanied by Trustee J. E. Wright, the professor visited, among others, the London Technical and Art School, the Ryerson public school and the new Collegiate Institute, and expressed frank appreciation of these institutions.

As well as himself, Chantler got his for whiskey and Bell for beer.

Obtained on "Per."
The big bottle of whiskey found in his house had been there for over a month and was obtained on a prescription from Dr. Mothersill.

"Surely you didn't have that bottle in the house for a month and only take a couple of drinks?" queried Mr. McKillop.

"I certainly didn't," said Bell.

"Come now, Charlie, you know you have a better reputation than that for hospitality," said the crown attorney.

"It keeps me hustling these days lookin' out for myself, Mr. McKillop," came back Charles.

"When Dr. Waud prescribed rum for you, why didn't you tell him that you had some whiskey in the house?" asked the court.

"Well, what is for the heart and the rum was for my cold. I got two dozen bottles of beer, but that was because I was run down," explained Mr. Bell. "I didn't have it all at the same time," he added as an afterthought.

George Chantler, residing at 1201 Trafalgar, admitted that he had been in court before.

"You seem to be getting your whiskey by proxy," stated Mr. McKillop.

Secured Three Bottles.
"I got one from Dr. Mothersill," said Chantler, "but there is no use asking me to swear to any dates, 'cause I can't remember 'em."

Witness stated that he had three bottles in the last six weeks, two on "pers" from Dr. Mothersill and one from Dr. Waud. He had "cashed" one himself, Berry cashed one for him and Bell the other.

Questioned by the court, Chantler said that the liquor Berry got for him was all "drank up" as he was troubled with asthma.

W. Henderson, appearing for Bell, stated that there was no case against his client. The liquor found in Bell's house had been procured for medicinal not for beverage purposes, and therefore was outside the act.

Mr. McKillop contended that Bell had been convicted of selling liquor and that his house was not now a "private dwelling place."

TELLS AD. CLUB CHARACTER IS NEED OF WORLD

W. E. Bilheimer, St. Louis
Sales Manager, Would Develop Hidden Possibilities.

GIVES SELLING POINTERS

Speaking before the London Advertising and Sales Club at a banquet in the Tecumseh House Monday night, W. E. Bilheimer, sales manager of the Franklin Insurance Company, St. Louis, Mo., strongly emphasized as the need of the world today character and the development of the hidden possibilities in men and women.

"I believe," said Mr. Bilheimer, "that there is a possibility of master manhood in every man and master womanhood in every woman." He referred to the hidden possibilities, in the words of Kipling, as "something left behind the ranges."

Marconi, in discovering the wireless, had advanced the world in that direction 4,000 years at a single leap. It was a case of "something left behind the ranges," and Marconi had gone to see, said the speaker, several references of a like nature were cited, the expedition of discovery to the Antarctic, the recent great dirigible disaster in England and its sequence in scientific discovery, the case of the loss of the ship Republic, were all taken as instances of the words of Kipling.

"The thought I have in mind tonight is that no man or woman does his best. The world is not looking for men who 'try,' who 'give all they got,' the world is looking for men who will do it," Mr. Bilheimer said.

"We want men who don't do things in halfway fashion. We don't respect the man who goes the limit. What the world needs is men who will go beyond the limit, humanity is waiting for him."

He spoke of the tremendous appeal and influence that literature, sculpture, art, fatherhood and motherhood yielded.

In art the master paintings, in sculpture the noble works of the masters, and in literature the thoughts of the greatest authors and the tremendous appeal to the heart, of the home that we come from, and fatherhood and motherhood. Fatherhood and what it meant was scarce recognized, said Bilheimer. Many of the great successes in the world were but the carrying out of the dreams of their fathers.

And in motherhood was an appeal that touches the hearts of men on account of the wonderful understanding of the mothers of men.

"These things that stand behind us let us not forget, they are our heritage, said the speaker.

Character Costs Most.
"The highest-priced commodity in the world today is character; character, which comes from a good home, a good father, a good mother, that is where we get it," declared Mr. Bilheimer.

During the last few years we were very much disturbed concerning the world's future, and all were seeking a new plane of adjustment, but all would come out all right when we find the turning to discover the "something hidden, the something great." So, with the development of the hidden possibilities, all could be glad, not in forebodings, but in faith, Mr. Bilheimer asserted.

Throughout the address of Mr. Bilheimer his words were permeated with a richness of illustration and imagery that served to aid in bringing home the keynote points of his address.

At the close of the speech of Mr. Bilheimer the meeting was thrown open for discussion along the lines of sales and advertising.

United States Consul McTaggart asked Mr. Bilheimer how the use of the long-distance telephone was brought into the taking of orders in the United States. He said that it had been brought to his attention that the long-distance telephone method was finding rapid foothold in this country.

Cannot Replace Human.
In responding to this Mr. Bilheimer said he was of the opinion that the telephone could never replace the human, the flesh and blood element in the taking of orders and that while the use of the telephone had entered to some extent, according to his knowledge into the business transactions in that part from whence he came, yet, he considered it only as a convenience. In like manner he told of and characterized the use of the telephone.

The discussion continued, several matters such as the question of salesmen and advertising, personality, the strategy of approach in making sales being brought forward by questions and answered by Mr. Bilheimer. Among those taking part in the discussion were: Tom Yull, Kathleen K. Bowker, Mr. Morley Adams and Walter Gunn.

Among the many points brought forward in answering Mr. Bilheimer, the questions were the value of dramatics in salesmanship, dress, manner of approach and the overcoming of difficulties placed in the road by the buyer.

Believe Board Will
Grant Use of Room

Although the board of education has not as yet given final approval, it is expected that the public library authorities will be allowed the use of a room in the new Victoria public school.

This question was referred back to No. 2 committee for further detail, and will be considered by that body at a regular session Tuesday afternoon.

The educational officials still retain the right to give two months' notice at such time as the room is required for school purposes.

Expect To Start Work Shortly On New Port Stanley Pavilion

Before the ice is out of Lake Erie work will commence at Port Stanley upon the new amusement pavilion, was the information given out Tuesday. Two alternative schemes have been outlined, and once a decision has been made, tenders will immediately be called for and work commenced directly arrangements are completed. June 1 has been set as the probable date for the conclusion of the new structure.

The new pavilion will extend over the lake for a distance of 400 feet at a point south of the roller coaster. Two types of building are under contemplation at this moment, one being oblong in shape and the other being octagon.

In any event provision will be made on the upper deck for a dance hall and a moving picture theatre. On the lower deck will be riding devices and the usual games and amusements to be witnessed along board walk. Circling the pavilion on the outside will be a commodious promenade.

Prices have already been quoted for the octagon-shaped structure but were deemed a trifle high at the time. It is now believed, however, that the figure can be appreciably reduced.

Mults explain that the sooner all detail is ready and actual work started the better it will be as they will be able, they say, by working on the ice, to eliminate the placing in position with considerable effort, the usual posts and scaffolding, etc.

NEW CUTS ADD TO HOUSING LOSSES

Further Price Reductions Will Total Close to $2,000.

The recent decision of the housing commission that it would shoulder a loss on the monies paid out for fencing, insurance and water charges and two years' interest while building, will add close to $2,000 to the city's total loss on the twenty Pine Lawn houses remaining to be sold, and bring the city's loss on this proposition to $11,169 plus the accumulated interest.

It is impossible at this time to tell what the loss is going to be on the 41 houses erected, for though 22 of them have been sold, there is now a movement on foot to cut the price for those who are up-to-the-minute in their payments. In fact, though not in a direct way, a cut has already been granted in one of the 22 sold. This was in a case where the purchaser was unable to carry on and another expressed a desire to take over the house.

The decision to sell the houses for $3,100 and $3,300 will give some real bargains. The difference in the price is regulated by the number of rooms. No difference is to be made between stucco and frame. The fact that some of the houses are fenced, others have furnaces and other extras will make no difference and the first to come will get the first choice and perhaps the best value for the money.

The sale price of the Garfield avenue houses, $4,560, remains unchanged.

All the above prices do not include the selling commission.

A THOUGHT
FOR TODAY

Wherefore, O king Agrippa, I was not disobedient unto the heavenly vision.—Acts 26:19.

THE more readily we admit the possibility of our own cherished convictions being mixed with error, the more vital and helpful whatever is right in them will become; and no error is so conclusively fatal as the idea that God will not allow us to err, though he has allowed other men to do so.—John Ruskin.

THE REGULAR MEETING of the Egerton Street Baptist Young Peoples' Society, Monday evening, took the form of a valentine social. A feature of the occasion was an unusual contest in salesmanship, dress, manner of approach and the overcoming of difficulties placed in the road by the buyer.

URGES TENDERS FOR GARBAGE COLLECTION

Ald. Dr. Douglas will ask the special garbage committee of the city council to call for tenders for the collection of the city garbage.

The committee will meet tonight at 7:30, prior to the meeting of the board of works. The membership of both committees is the same.

Figures as to the cost of collecting the garbage of the city have been prepared. Dr. Douglas contends that for the service given the cost is excessive, and believes that by the contract system a better service for less money will be forthcoming.

MRS. C. B. KING ASKS HELP FOR Y.W.C.A. IN CITY

President Reports $5,000
Has Already Been Received for Building Fund.

EXISTING NEEDS GREAT

At the annual meeting of the Young Women's Christian Association held Monday evening in the King street "Y," the reports of the various departments showed that the organization has enjoyed a very successful year.

An address of welcome was given by the president, Mrs. C. B. King, who stated that though the institution had suffered many disappointments in the past eight months, the greatest of which was the failure to start work on a new building, the year had been most successful one.

"A step forward has been taken in this direction," stated Mrs. King, "as five $1,000 Victory bonds have been donated to the institution to be used only for building purposes."

Frank White, M.P., addressed the meeting, speaking of the splendid work done by the Y. W. C. A. "Huge industries on the other side of the line go to a great deal of expense to provide recreation for their employees," stated Mr. White. "Judging from the support given to the Railroad Y. M. C. A.'s, organized throughout the country, they are a paying investment."

"What is the city of London receiving from its investment? $24,000 was invested in the Y.M.C.A. with a membership of 1,200, and the membership fees only one-third of the expense incurred in running the institution, $13,500 was invested in the Y.W.C.A. which makes a total investment of $37,500. People in time look for dividends, and the question is are we giving value for the money invested."

Not Self-supporting.
We have no immediate prospect of these institutions becoming self-supporting, but the greatest value we can render from them is clean strong boys and girls with high ideals and aspirations. They are the home-makers of the nation, and the greatest trouble of today is the weakening of the character of our people. The Y.W.C.A. can do a great deal in teaching the young girls to make and maintain a real home, and care for children properly, and in this way, stay the infant mortality which is rapidly increasing. "The crowning achievement, however, is to make girls and boys appreciate the better things in life," and this can be done by co-operating with the churches in giving our boys and girls spiritual training."

Income Less Than Expenses.
The treasurer's report given by Mrs. M. W. Bruce, showed that in the past eight months, the total receipts from the nine departments was $22,320; disbursements, $30,778; and revenue, $8,457. The revenue in most of these departments is less than the expenditure, in such departments as the traveler's aid, the girls' work, and the educational and industrial departments. The total assets were $28,597 and the total liabilities $18,221.

The report from the religious committee was given by Miss J. Moore, followed by the girls' work committee report, read by Miss Bessie McCamus. A resolution was passed by the meeting, that the great need of a home for the girls over sixteen years of age, would be presented before the social service council.

This resolution was passed following an explanation given by Helen d'Avignon, who told of many cases recently where girls have disappeared. "A home of this nature is greatly needed," stated Miss d'Avignon. "These girls may be picked up as vagrants but are either sent back to their homes on suspended sentence or to the Mercer reformatory," which is no place for girls of this type, as all they need in most cases is friendship."

The report of the physical education department by Mrs. H. E. Westland, showed an average attendance of 194 in these classes. Mrs. S. L. Taylor, reporting for Lennox House Committee, stated that in the past eight months, 895 transients had been harbored with an average of 50 girls as permanent boarders.

The dietitian's report showed that 45,000 meals had been served in the cafeteria. Mrs. Westland reporting for the Industrial Extension Committee, pointed out that excellent results had been obtained, and each club boasted of a small bank account.

The Traveler's Aid report was given by Mrs. Parker. Two secretaries are employed by this committee, and during the past eight months, 4,067 persons have been helped, 3,017 of these being women and girls.

Mrs. Lucas, Mrs. W. Brown and Mrs. Dennis were elected to fill the vacancies through the resignation of Mrs. Elliott, Mrs. Cleghorn and Mrs. Westland. Mrs. T. D. McFarland and Mrs. T. P. McCormick, Mrs. H. J. Cameron and Mrs. Morley Adams were re-elected.

The religious exercises were conducted by Rev. John McNair, and during the evening several delightful solos were given by Miss Corbin.

URGES NECESSITY OF BEING MANLY

Dr. Healey, Detroit, Lectures at Centennial Methodist Epworth League.

Dr. A. E. Healey, of Detroit, gave a very humorous lecture at the anniversary service of the Epworth league at the Methodist Church, Monday evening. "Don't trot around all day on a cabbage leaf," was the title of the lecture which was given in a very witty and entertaining manner.

"A man could not trot around on a cabbage leaf," said the lecturer, "unless he were a caterpillar and went around on his back, and led a very monotonous existence, in which case he might as well be a horse."

The prevailing note throughout the address concerned the thought that a person should look around and see the opportunities that presented themselves.

A man should fill a man's place and do a man's work.

It was very hard for people these days to concentrate for any length of time on any one subject, said Dr. Healey, and that was the reason that lectures were not as popular as they were a few years ago, when they were looked upon as a source of information even if they were dry affairs.

People had little use for a dry lecture today and the cause could be attributed to a large extent to the fact that news and information came with such speed from all quarters of the world that the people practically lived on and lived for surprises.

It would be a sad time, said the speaker, when the bomb shell of surprise ceased to have its effect especially in times of depression such as we were passing through just now. A life that was monotonous was not fulfilling its function.

The world always had a welcome for the man who could do the ordinary things in an extraordinary way.

Rev. A. M. E. Thompson occupied the chair and Mrs. Haywood rendered a delightful solo, "I heard the voice of Jesus say," accompanied by Bert Weir, organist.

INSURANCE MEN HOLD CONGRESS IN HYMAN HALL

Life Underwriters Meet in London for Western Ontario
Salesmanship Convention.

REVIEW YEAR'S WORK

Mayor J. C. Wilson Extends Civic Welcome to Visiting Delegates.

Life underwriters of Western Ontario, to the number of some 350, registered Tuesday morning at the opening session in Hyman Hall of the Western Ontario Salesmanship Congress.

A long program of speakers, among whom are some of the best experts on insurance and salesmanship on the continent, has been arranged for the congress, part of which was carried out Tuesday morning, when some eight speakers delivered addresses.

Singing, under the leadership of A. Allen, Windsor, opened the morning program, and this was followed by the invocation, given by Rev. Wm. Beattie.

The welcome to the city was extended to the delegates by Mayor Dr. J. C. Wilson.

H. E. Parsons, president of the London Life Underwriters' Association, greeted the visitors on behalf of the London association.

The year's work of the Underwriters' Association was taken up by the president and secretary, J. G. Stephenson and J. H. Graham, respectively.

The progress of the association during the last year was gone into by the secretary and the president in their addresses.

After this the congress listened to several speakers, who dealt with matters of insurance and salesmanship. Following the message of each speaker the congress was thrown open for discussion and questioning.

Ed. Reid, B.A., A. A., of London, spoke on "Character"; R. C. MacKnight, London, spoke on "Training in Insurance"; W. H. Haslam, president, Windsor, U. A., gave a short address on "System and Method"; and C. E. Gorman, London, spoke on "Selling Insurance."

Speaks on "Business Insurance."
Wm. May, president Toronto L. U. A., after another sing-song similar to the one that opened the congress, spoke at length on "Business Insurance," dealing mainly with case methods.

In the afternoon A. Gordon Ramsay, Toronto; W. E. Bilheimer, sales manager of the Franklin Life Insurance Company of St. Louis, Mo.; E. J. MacIver, assistant secretary Prudential Life Insurance Company, Newark, N. J., and Chas. M. Biscay, business manager of the Insurance Press, New York, will be the speakers.

FIFTEEN BOILS ON NECK AT ONE TIME

Anyone who has suffered from boils can sympathize with poor old Job. There was no Burdock Blood Bitters in those days, so Job had to suffer in silence. Now-a-days no one need endure the misery of boils.

Boils are simply evidences of the bad blood within coming to the surface and just when you get rid of one, another seems ready to take its place and prolong your misery.

All the poulticing and lancing you may do will not stop more coming. What you have to do is take

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS and the blood will be cleansed of all its impurities, and then every boil will disappear.

Mr. Roy McSwain, High Bank, P. E. I., writes: "I was troubled with boils for some time, and had as many as fifteen on my neck at once. After taking one bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters they commenced to get better, and after I had taken two bottles I was relieved of them and felt much better. I think B. B. B. is a grand blood medicine, and can recommend it highly."

For the past 45 years B. B. B. has been manufactured only by The T. M. L. Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont. Advt.

Gas, Indigestion, Stomach Misery —"Diapepsin"

"Diapepsin" really does put bad stomachs in order—"really does" overcome indigestion, dyspepsia, gas, heartburn and sourness in five minutes—that's just that—makes Diapepsin the largest selling stomach regulator in the world. If what you eat ferments into stubborn lumps, you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food and acid; head is dizzy and aches, remember the moment "Diapepsin" comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. It's truly astonishing—almost marvelous—and the joy is its harmlessness. A large sixty-cent case of Diapepsin is worth its weight in gold to men and women who can't get their stomachs regulated. It belongs in your home—should always be kept handy in case of a sick, sour, upset stomach during the day or at night. It's the most efficient antacid and stomach regulator in the world—Advt.

A Better Way Than Diets and Exercise For Reducing

Diets and exercise are sometimes helpful for reducing. But they are inconvenient and unpleasant, and usually produce only temporary results. Then, too, they are merely corrective measures. A better way is to aid the digestive organs to turn food into muscle, bone, and sinew, and not into corpulent tissue. This method allows you to eat many kinds of food which others eat and does not require strenuous exercise.

Thousands have found that Marmola Tablets give relief from obesity in just this way. Marmola Tablets are made from the same formula as the famous Marmola Prescription. If taken after meals and at bedtime, they retard the development of fat by helping the digestive system to obtain full nutrition from food. When the accumulation of fat is checked, reduction to normal, healthy weight soon follows.

All good drug stores the world over sell Marmola Tablets at one dollar per box. Ask your druggist for them, or order direct and they will be sent in plain wrapper, postpaid.

TO AID POLICE IN SEARCH FOR STOLEN GOODS

St. Thomas Committee Recommends Stores Report Transactions.

OPENS PARK TENDERS

Special to London Advertiser. ST. THOMAS, Feb. 13.—To aid the police in their search for stolen articles, all second-hand stores in the City of St. Thomas will be required to report every article purchased or sold each week, if a resolution, drawn up at a meeting of No. 4 committee of the city council Monday night, proves acceptable to the council as a whole at its next meeting.

At the present time the police have no way in which to trace stolen goods if by chance they are bought and resold by a second-hand store, as no records are kept by such stores at the present time. Under the new scheme a complete record must be turned in to the chief of police each week. St. Thomas is the only city of its size in Ontario where this system is not in vogue.

The committee opened tenders for the pavilion at Pinafore Park and for the Horton Market. The pavilion was awarded to the G. W. V. A., when it guaranteed to pay $550, plus ten per cent of the net profits for the summer months. The next highest bid was $500, with no profits.

The Horton Market will be rented to James H. Paddon, who guaranteed to pay $810 for one year. E. Hewitt made the next highest bid, at $775.

The use of Pinafore Park was granted to the Orangemen on July 12, and to the laborers, Sept. 4.

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., Feb. 13.—The police of the Niagara district have been warned to be on the lookout for the unknown murderer of two leaders of the Italian colony in Welland last night, Pasquale Villella and Dominico Prodetto. So far no person has been seen who can furnish a description of the murderer, although the tragedy took place on a Welland street just at church time.

Prodetto was instantly killed with one bullet through the breast. Five shots were poured into Villella. He died at midnight without having regained consciousness.

DECIDE ON ELGIN HOSPITAL NAME

ST. THOMAS, Feb. 13.—The bylaw providing for a grant of $50,000 from the county of Elgin for the proposed Elgin Memorial Hospital will be drawn up Tuesday afternoon, when the hospital committee of this city will confer with the special committee of the county council appointed to prepare the necessary bylaw.

The hospital committee held a meeting Monday night with County Clerk McKay in attendance. It was decided definitely to call the proposed hospital the "Elgin Memorial Hospital" when putting the bylaw before the people.

It was estimated that the cost of such a grant to each ratepayer of the county would be in the neighborhood of 15 cents on each thousand dollars of assessment.

AUDIENCE PLEASSED WITH "SOME BABY"

Full House At Majestic Theatre Applauds Popular Players.

If the applause of the weekly "first nighters" at the Majestic Theatre counts for anything, then the Popular Players, presenting "Some Baby," can count on the largest crowds of the season this week.

A farce-comedy in three acts, "Some Baby" is really one of the best plays that Messrs. Penwarden and Secrest could have chosen for their capable company. Each member of the cast handles his or her part as if the show had been on tour all season.

Possibly the most striking bit of work was that of Donna Bromette as Marcella, a young lady of Spanish descent. Miss Bromette is a decided acquisition to the company, and her work will be followed with much interest by the regular patrons of the Majestic.

Miss Gertrude Gustin, Miss Rose MacDonald and Elizabeth Fox, however, leave little to be desired when it comes to portrayal of their respective roles. Miss Gustin especially appears to advantage.

William H. Malone as Gen. Burbeck, a gentleman of extremely ancient vintage, who would very much like to renew his youth, is probably the pick of the male members of the cast, although Duncan Penwarden as Professor (Dr. Relyea), who thinks he has discovered the elixir of youth, is a mighty close second.

Rickey Secrest, Harry Lockhart and Raymond Poore are other members of the cast whose work is above the average.

The comedy moves with great swiftness, dull moments being conspicuous by their absence. It is well worth seeing.

Prince of Wales Rides in Four Races After Fall.

LONDON, Feb. 13.—The Prince of Wales narrowly escaped injury at Gwalior, Central India, last Saturday, when his polo pony reared and fell backwards, says a dispatch to the London Times today from its correspondent who is with the prince on his Indian tour.

The prince was knocking the ball about the polo grounds, riding a pony which objected to approaching a dead ball. He tried to urge the animal up to a ball lying in the middle of the field, when the pony reared and fell.

As evidence that he was only slightly injured, the prince, that same afternoon, rode in four races, finishing respectively, second, third, fourth and unplaced.

COCKSHUTT PLEASSED ST. THOMAS RECEPTION

ST. THOMAS, Feb. 13.—In appreciation of his visit to this city last week, Col. H. Cockshutt, lieutenant-governor of Ontario, through his secretary has written letters of gratitude to Mayor C. E. Haven, J. R. Harmer, managing secretary of the chamber of commerce; John Farrell, chairman of the separate school board, and R. J. Newton, secretary of the board of education.

In the communication to Mr. Newton, Col. Fraser, the secretary, stated: "His honor formed a very high esteem of the excellent work carried on in the schools, and was especially impressed by the fine modern conditions and the bright surroundings under which the teachers work in Elmdale School."

To Mr. Harmer, Col. Fraser wrote: "It gave his honor exceptional pleasure to meet the children in the schools, the teaching staff and the trustees, and he will long remember the cordial reception extended to him at the evening banquet."

A letter to John Farrell, chairman of the separate school board, reads: "The lieutenant-governor desires me to say how deeply impressed he was by the cordial reception extended to him at your school in the Holy Angels Parish, and with the warm words of welcome addressed to him by yourself on behalf of those concerned."

COMEDY AT GRAND MERITS APPROVAL

"Boob McNutt" Is Clean Show From Every Standpoint.

The cartoon musical comedy, "Boob McNutt," as presented at the Grand Opera House, is a revue of merit combining clean and witty comedy, with a wholesale sprinkling of burlesque.

The costumes are many and varied, and strikingly picturesque, being colorful and original in design. Danny Simmons plays the part of Boob McNutt to perfection, delighting the audience with his humorous sayings and peculiar dances. He plays his role with a finish that leaves nothing to desire, thoroughly deserving the applause which greets his every appearance.

Margaret Shelly, as Sylvia Dean, the girl from Greenwich Village, handles her part with grace and ease. Miss Shelly is the possessor of a well-modulated voice, which is heard to advantage in the various numbers rendered by her.

The part of Count Di Luni, a French nobleman, is handled with great merit by Percy Walling. His rendition of the musical tableau number, "Never Mind," assisted by the company, was enthusiastically received by the entire house.

Jess Willingham plays a double role, that of Rockfort, a French policeman, and Capt. Waller of the S. S. Franco, in a very successful and pleasing manner.

Gene St. Clair plays the part of Susanne L'Estrange, a French model, with great vivacity, acquiring herself creditably in one of the most difficult roles of the entire production.

Scotty Weston, the dancing bellhop, presents some original and entertaining dancing numbers. Frank Hanson enacts the role of Bobby Dean, an American boy in France.

The Musical Cates present instrumental numbers of considerable merit, winning repeated encores. The entire production is excellent, being of a vivacious and refreshing nature, and thoroughly meriting the approbation accorded it by a delighted audience Monday night. There is nothing heavy or enigmatical surrounding the play, and it is an event which can be enjoyed both by young and old alike, and merits the hearty support of London playgoers.

BY AHERN. RELAXING CANADIAN LAW AID TO RUM-RUNNERS

Buffalo, N.Y., Feb. 13.—The recent Canadian court decision that it was legally to transport liquor to the border for export purposes has changed the whole business of rum-running across the Niagara River. The night dangers are all eliminated. The smugglers now load their fast motorboats on the Canadian shore under the supervision of Canadian customs officials and dart off to the United States side, where they land long before warning can be telephoned to the United States customs officers. The United States officials have redoubled their vigilance but the river bank presents a long stretch of possible landings and so far there have not been enough men to check the liquor. On the ferry and on the bridges, however, automobiles are being searched very thoroughly.

A striking example—yet by no means an exceptional one. For it is not at all unusual for thin, nervous, over-worked or run-down folks to gain five pounds and more on the very first package of Ironized Yeast!

Results in Half the Usual Time!

Ordinary yeast vitamin preparations have in many cases been known to bring good results. But thousands now know that Ironized Yeast, the scientifically correct vitamin tonic treatment, brings results often in just half the usual time!

One reason for this marked superiority is that Ironized Yeast, besides containing just the right amount of all three essential vitamins, contains a type of yeast which has positively no equal as a reconstructive agent—a yeast which is cultured expressly for medicinal purposes, and which is entirely different from the yeast found in ordinary "yeast tablets."

Yeast Best When Ironized

But even more important than this is the fact that this yeast has been ironized—or treated through a scientific process with a special form of easily assimilated organic iron, similar to the iron found in spinach. When yeast is ironized in this manner it is found that results are not only more permanent, but are secured just twice as quickly.

RESIGN POSTS AT REQUEST OF KING CABINET

The International Commission Members Believed To Have Been Asked To Quit.

OTTAWA HOPES MAGRATH WILL AGAIN BE CHOSEN

Believes His Services in Past Merit Retention On Board.

Special to London Advertiser.
OTTAWA, Feb. 13.—It is understood that the resignation of the Canadian members of the international joint commission have been asked for and received by the King government.

The members of the Dominion end of the board are C. A. Magrath, H. A. Powell and Sir William Hearst. It is anticipated in well-informed circles that Mr. Magrath will be re-appointed as chairman.

It has been generally accepted on both sides of the line that the members of the commission should be men in sympathy with the particular party in power.

In 1911, Sir Robert Borden declined to approve the Canadian branch under Sir George Gibbons, nominated by Sir Wilfrid Laurier prior to the defeat of his government. In the United States the appointments have, in past years, been political, although President Warren G. Harding has not yet adhered to this principle.

On the Canadian branch of the commission, Mr. Magrath is regarded on both sides of the border as having carried out his duties in a most satisfactory manner, and his reappointment is believed certain.

His retention on the commission is looked upon as all the more likely because of this active part in connection with the St. Lawrence waterways scheme, which is now under consideration by the United States Congress.

Rescue British Sailors From Stranded Freighter by Breeches Buoy

A LONDON ADVERTISER photographer was right on the job when the crew of the Thistlemore was rescued after the British freighter went aground on Peaked Hill Bar, the "graveyard of Cape Cod." Pounding waves threatened it with destruction. Coast guards shot a line across the bow of the boat, and the breeches buoy was rigged up. The crew rode to shore, one by one, by means of the trolley-like arrangement shown above.

Risked Lives To Salvage Liquor Only To Have It Confiscated

Special to London Advertiser.

SARNIA, Feb. 13.—Following their salvaging a rowboat load of Seagram's liquor from the ice floes in the St. Clair River today only to have it confiscated by Constable Walton of Courtright, four youths, Verne Burton, Fred Dunne, Alex. Denomy and Charles Dryan, have secured the services of the legal firm of Haney & McNally, to open a battle in the courts for the return of the liquor that they risked their lives to get.

The youths seeing a rowboat out in the ice floes, they believing that a man had been drowned, secured another boat, and after an hour's battle with the ice and heavy seas managed to run alongside of the rowboat. To their surprise they found the boat unoccupied by a human being, but on a second look they discovered it was loaded to the gunwales with bottles of Seagram's liquor. Then, after another hard fight against the ice, wind and sea, they managed to get the liquor ashore, and divided it up into four lots, and with an equal share, they hid it in their respective homes. At this juncture Constable Walton entered the scene by phoning Crown Attorney Wilson. The latter gave him authority to visit the boys' homes and seize all the "wet goods."

This was done, and now the youths are asking for court action for the return of their liquor, stating that it was taken from them without a warrant, and that to take it the police must first secure a conviction. Considerable feeling exists here throughout the "down river" district over the situation, owing to the fact that two of the boys nearly lost their lives in the adventure.

CAMERON SIFTS LEGAL RIGHT OF CATHOLIC PLEA

Supreme Court Registrar Addresses Ministerial Association At Ottawa.

DOUBTS MINORITY CLAIM

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 13.—By request of the Ottawa Ministerial Association, E. R. Cameron, K.C., registrar of the supreme court, addressed their meeting today on the legal and constitutional aspect of secondary separate schools and a change in the distribution of taxes for existing separate schools.

The association took no action following the discussion, but tabled the question until another meeting. Mr. Cameron discussed two aspects of the question: The right to separate secondary or high schools, and the claim for more equitable division of taxes for existing separate schools.

On the former, he said: "I do not agree with the claim that under the British North America act, the Roman Catholic minority in Ontario have the legal right to establish secondary or high schools to be maintained in part out of public funds. The argument presented ignores the fact that at the time of Confederation there were in Ontario, established by law, grammar schools, common schools and separate schools, and the rights referred to in the recital of the act of 1867, upon which the Roman Catholics rely, says that the object of the act is 'to bring the provisions of the law respecting separate schools more into harmony with the provisions of the law respecting common schools.'"

"If Roman Catholics deem their legal right had not been fully and completely granted in Ontario I am of the opinion that they are entitled to a reference by the lieutenant-governor in council to the supreme court of Ontario to obtain judicial opinion on the question, subject to a final appeal to the privy council."

On the tax issue, Mr. Cameron said: "Having had my attention called to the circumstances under which protection of minorities in matters of education was incorporated in the British North America act, the desire to protect the Protestant minority in Lower Canada, and the further fact that in Quebec the corporation act for school purposes is equitably distributed between Roman Catholic and Protestant schools on the basis of the number

Think Nationally.

JUDGING BY the tone of references in papers from Eastern Canada, no particularly good feeling has followed the attacks of some Ontario papers on the reputation that appeared at Ottawa urging that the Intercolonial should continue to be operated as a road to develop the Maritime Provinces, and that its identity should not be lost from absorption by the National system.

An Ottawa correspondent of the Toronto Star, for instance, claimed that the reputation from the east came to the capital for the express purpose of levying political blackmail, and reminded them that they "are the worst equipped for playing it with success. After the next redistribution their political power will be considerably less than half the strength of either Quebec, Ontario or the West, and their proportionate weakness will steadily increase. If they set this fashion, the West or Ontario may imitate it with demands which the Maritime Provinces acutely dislike. What if Ontario and the West combined to insist that in order to save paying heavy freight rates, Portland should be made more use of as a winter port?"

The Halifax Chronicle replies with a stinging rebuke, directed at the Toronto press in particular, charging that in spite of all they have to say about "thinking nationally," they have neither the capacity nor the desire to do so themselves.

The Chronicle holds that if these papers were concerned with real national development, they would have lent their support "to the proposal for the restriction of the British Preference to imports through Canadian ports. That proposal, however, found little if any support from that section of the country. They cared nothing for the interests of the ports of Halifax and St. John, so long as they found it more advantageous to do their business through New York or Boston. Now we have the threat, handed to us openly, that if we do not bow down before the Toronto idol, Ontario and the West will combine to build up Portland, Maine, and put the Atlantic ports of Canada out of business."

The Chronicle also goes on to point out that during the time of the war the harbor of Portland was of no use to Canada, whereas "the value of the Atlantic ports of Canada was demonstrated during those five and a half fatal years in a way which the people of Canada should never forget."

There is always the problem of getting the people of a nation the size of Canada to think nationally.

It is so much easier for us to think of the community in which we live; of the building of a road or something that will bring more trade to our own town and take it away from some other place; of the perfecting of an educational system where our own children are concerned. But when it comes to the problems of the people down on the Atlantic coast, of the development of their harbors, of the turning of business to them instead of Portland, Maine, it becomes quite a different matter.

As a matter of plain truth, it takes a big man, and a big community to think and act nationally. It means the elimination of the parochial point of view, the pruning of local selfishness and the putting up in its place of a vision big enough for Canada, east to west, to get in on it.

Thinking nationally is not a very great problem but acting nationally is—so great in fact that few people have arrived at the stage where they are big enough to do it.

Quitting the Farm.

LOOKING OVER the "auction sale" ads. in a Western Ontario paper, the line is noticed in several of them: "Everything will be sold without reserve as the proprietor is leaving the farm" or in some cases, "quitting the farm."

A glance over 14 papers, some weekly, others daily, shows a total of 56 sales in these particular issues, where, from the nature of the stock and property offered, or from the printed statement to that effect, it is evident that 29 of the 56 are leaving the farm. In other cases the sales are for the purpose of getting rid of surplus stock, or because it is necessary to raise money at once to meet certain obligations. To what extent this is taking place in other parts of the country we do not know. The counties to which we have reference are Kent, Elgin, Middlesex, Wellington, Perth and Bruce, nor is it likely that we have record of all the sales in these places.

It brings the trend toward rural depopulation right down to today. It is not something that is taking place in a general sort of a way, but it is very real performance, of which we have a day-to-day record.

Sweethearts.

THE LOVER who sent the first valentine ranks with the inventor of Santa Claus, among the Great Unknowns of history.

Few men have done as much to make this a joyous world. Surely

OH, LOOK WHAT CAME THROUGH THE MAIL TODAY.

no one has done more to color life with romance.

No life is worth while unless it attracts and radiates love.

And the valentine is the messenger of Cupid.

If you are on the shady side of youth there are few memories you can look back to with the thrill and tenderness of the valentines of school days.

Sometimes we wonder what became of those first sweethearts of youth—the shy little lassie in ginghams and pinafores, the sweetheart of the old-time sleigh ride, the romantic love of our late teens and early twenties.

Each did her mighty bit to make us better men. Each helped develop us spiritually for the Only One who came later.

You remember those valentines you sent them? "Thena was the days." Looking backward, the valentine days are rosy lanterns in the mists of the past.

Those greatest sweethearts, our wives, may be getting grey. But the old-time love is in their hearts. The thrill of a valentine to them is as tense and glamorous as long ago. This is Valentine Day, and all sweethearts, white-haired or young, yearn for remembrance—violets, candy or, best of all, an honest-to-goodness valentine.

Helping the Packers.

OVER IN Hull, England, they have some samples of bully beef 100 years old, and those on whose constitution and system the stuff was tried out state it was sweet and good.

Now, we do hope that the live stock industry, or the packers, as folks call them, will see the possibilities of this new find. The stock yard has everything in its make-up except romance. When it comes to efficiency it bats about 150 out of 100. A farmer can sell his pet pig at the stock yards, and by the time he has secured his pay and wiped the tears out of his eye, he can apply at the sales office and take home a slab of bacon from his wee porker.

But efficiency can't stand up beside romance. There's something in human nature that likes to gouge holes into the past, and get a hand-shake with things that were and have ceased to be.

Now this hundred-year-old bully beef story gives the packers the chance they need to make some money, which they need, for a packer friend of ours stopped his limousine the other day, unbuttoned his beaver coat and told us times were bad.

Can't they see the sales chances in this new exploit. The editor of this paper has never been considered overly bright, but the thing to him is as plain as mud.

For instance—here we have a tin of beef from a cow that was pasturing near Rummymede the day that the barons took King John by the neck and advised him he better sign on the dotted line. This is put on the market as our Famous Democracy Brand.

On another shelf we have corned beef right off the cow that jumped over the moon. Name—Nursery Brand, for backward children.

Now for the future—HON. MAXIME DORRIS milked a handsome cow out in front of the Ontario Parliament Building one day when the U. F. O. was young in ruling Ontario. Said cow should have been carved and canned and certified by Maxime McDermid of Toronto, a bosom friend of the U. F. O. This would be placed on sale as our special Historic Brand.

Then over at the Guelph College some years ago they had "a calf with a cough" that provided a small bit of political capital when the election was on. This would be the Political Brand recommended at election times for stump speakers.

These are only a few suggestions, but they open up a tremendous field that has never been touched before.

It is now plainly up to the packers to supplement their efficiency with romance, history, politics and almost everything else under the sun that caters to popular fancy and well-filled purses.

LITTLE 'TISERS

On his birthday Edison was 19 minutes late for work. That's the beauty of being the boss. Nobody fired him.

Ottawa reports a drop of 51 degrees in the temperature there one day recently. The record drop at Ottawa took place on December 6.

A speaker in Toronto says Canada has very little interest in Greece and Rumania. Wrong again. Canada has an interest there on $50,000,000, of which nothing has been heard.

Arrangements seem to have been made to give Princess Mary pretty near everything under the sun to start housekeeping with. It's to be hoped some person remembers the pink pickle dish and the parlor lamp.

HON. DR. KING, minister of public works, has left Ottawa for East Kootenay, where he is to stand for election on March 14. Valuable time would be saved by an acclamation in this case, but that matter rests entirely with the electors of East Kootenay. Dr. King is needed at Ottawa. He possesses a fine capacity for administrative work, and there are many matters there calling for his personal attention.

If these people who are "quitting the farm" would only say in their sale notices that they are retiring, wealthy, or that they had made arrangements for some other competent person to carry on their work, there would be little or no cause for alarm. But we have no such assurance.

As the record stands, it is simply the week-to-week story of the drift-away from the farms.

Speaking of the school dance controversy in London, the St. Marys Journal-Argus says: "London is in the throes of a controversy as to whether dancing should be allowed in the schools. Other communities included, have had, and likely will have, periodical outbursts of debate over the same question. There are in every locality people who would like to have their particular social views officially recognized in the conduct of public institutions. People who have no such ambition may unite on the ground that the schools are maintained to educate the heads, not the heels, and that that more strictly they confine their attention to the business in hand the more likely they are to make a success of it."

Whips Old and New

TORONTO Saturday Night has the following reference to "Whips, Old and New." W. S. Calvert, Duncan C. Ross and Fred Pardee are three of the best-known men who have played a prominent part in the public life of Canada.

On the Liberal side during the Laurier regime William S. Calvert was the most prominent chief whip, and he was a splendid fellow. He was chosen for the position in 1901 and held it until he went to the National Transcontinental Railway Commission which, however, met an untimely end when the Conservatives came in. Mr. Calvert sat for West Middlesex and was succeeded by Duncan Ross in the representation of that riding. Duncan is a son of the late Sir George Ross and was himself one of the Ontario whips from 1911 onward, when Fred Pardee was the chief. By the way, Mr. Pardee's name is mentioned for the leadership of the Ontario Liberals, and there is no clearer, whiter man in public life.

(That's all right, Fred, you're quite welcome.) Other chief whips more or less prominent in recent years were John Stanfield of Colchester, who was picked out by Sir Robert Borden, and whose chief qualifications appeared to be that he came from Nova Scotia. John was not a real shining success, for the reason that he tried to drive his flock instead of leading them, which, of course, was a very mistaken course to follow. Mr. Middleboro succeeded John, and now he has gone. It is not a paid position of course, and it is full of toil and trouble, but there is a certain honorable dignity attached to it and men seek it therefore. In this new House with its miles of corridors and tiers of rooms a whip has to be a mind reader to know exactly what his precious charges are doing and where they can be found. In the olden days all that was necessary was to send a page boy down to the "Ark" and wayward Grit and Tory members alike would invariably be found, especially during all-night debates, listening to John Tolmie sing "Annie Laurie" in Gaelic or Glen Campbell deliver a campaign speech in the Cree language. Oh happy, happy days.

TO THE EDITOR

SHOULD GET TOGETHER.

Editor, Advertiser:

We have recently been treated to one of the most pitiable spectacles in our city's history. Those who are responsible for our highest development (religious and educational), pitted against each other, in which contest the ministers came off second best, and I noticed that there were four denominations represented.

It would appear that this is all to the bad. If there is a considerable number of parents who are opposed to public dancing, if there is a possibility of parental authority receiving an official knock by the action of the board of education, then I, for one, am very sorry.

Authority of all kinds is hard enough to maintain, and it would seem that if there is any one place where there should be an agreement it is between the home and the school. How is this to be kept under existing circumstances, for it is not very hard to see that every parent who is opposed to dancing, will either have to submit to the official sanction of the dance, or be definitely opposed to the action of the school board. This will be made all the more difficult by the fact that the board were (if public reports are correct), influenced by two of the teachers. This surely is unfortunate, for it brings many homes in direct conflict with the teacher.

I cannot think that the board of education intended to put their official stamp of approval on public dancing, and yet from what you hear—on the street, in places of business and on the street cars—the general public so interpret the board's action; some chuckle, some are openly triumphant, while some are feeling sad and wounded.

Could there not be a getting-together on the part of the ministerial alliance and the board of education? I do hope so, because as it is, real harm is being done to all concerned.

Yours, E. PRICE.

THE LATE DR. CL. T. CAMPBELL AND THE LONDON BOARD OF HEALTH.

Editor, Advertiser:

Sir,—Kindly permit me to remind your readers of another most devoted and efficient service rendered by the late Dr. Campbell, and one that certainly should not fail of remembrance. I refer to his attention to the health welfare of this city in the capacity of chairman of the board of health (which I believe he organized), continuously for, I should say, some twelve years at least. His energetic efforts following the London West flood in preventing an outbreak of disease in that locality, through polluted wells, etc., during his term of office, is fresh in mind. Also school sanitation; and while the late Col. J. W. Little was mayor, along with his earnest co-operation, the promotion of the sanitary sewerage system.

I am sure the medical profession of this city have felt honored in having so worthy a representative in every department of service graced by him, and too, I am gratified to note, they have not been slow to manifest it. Yours truly,

C. E. JARVIS.

COMMON SENSE WAYS TO KEEP WELL

YOUR DIET

BY DR. R. H. BISHOP.

It is impossible for the housewife to know how much fat, or protein or carbohydrate is contained in each food, for food materials vary greatly, some containing only one kind of fuel, some two and some all three, in varying proportions.

The chemical laboratory has solved this problem by burning various foods in the same manner and under approximately the same conditions as they are burned in the body to produce heat and energy.

They have taken as the unit of measurement what is called a "calorie." A calorie is the amount of heat required to raise one kilogram of water one degree centigrade or one pound of water four degrees Fahrenheit.

Most of our foods are mixtures of the three elements, fat, protein and

NO. 124—SHORT FINGERS.

As long fingers, if slender and tapering, indicate the dreaming mind of fine perceptions, and, if not tapering, the mind which enjoys and is efficient in detail, so short fingers indicate the opposite of both these tendencies.

Short fingers reveal the people who are practical and impatient of small things. Their minds are of the type which consider things in bulk rather than in detail. To use an arbitrary illustration, the long-fingered person would incline to examine the detail of a picture, and the technique of the artist's brush strokes. The short-fingered one would be more inclined to stand off at a distance and observe the complete effect of the whole.

Such people are practical and quick to get to the point; impatient to get the important thing done, whether it is in building a piece of furniture or explaining their viewpoint.

When short fingers are thick and stubby as well, they indicate in addition more than the usual amount of cleverness, an dislike those people who write their words in hasty and trailing-off fashion, a certain degree of ability at dissimulation, and a tendency to make use of it often.

What Women Are Accomplishing In London.

MOTHERS' UNIT HOLDS SOCIAL.

A well-attended affair of the week was the Valentine social held Monday evening under the auspices of the Mothers' Unit of St. John's School. A delightful feature of the evening was the bright program with dances by Misses Louis McLeod, Mary Frawley and Helen Galbraith, and a recitation by Miss Harding. Mrs. Murray acted as accompanist. Progressive euchre was played, and supper was served later in the evening. The committee in charge of the excellent arrangements included the president, Mrs. La France, Mrs. Newman, Mrs. Kennedy, Mrs. Galbraith and Mrs. Turner.

KNOLLWOOD PARK ELECTS OFFICERS.

Mrs. J. Short was elected president of the Women's Association of Knollwood Park Church at their annual meeting held Wednesday last. The other officers elected were: Vice-president, Mrs. John Taylor; secretary, Mrs. Ada Greenblatt; treasurer, Mrs. Wood; registrar, Mrs. Horner. The reports of the year showed the splendid work this association has done during the past year. A large amount of money has been raised in various ways, a part of which has been used to cover the church expenses.

BROWN BEES ELECT OFFICERS.

The Brown Bees was the name chosen by a class of young girls of 1111 Street Methodist Church which was organized Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Askew. Miss Edna Askew was elected president, with the following executive: Secretary, Miss Myrtle Hooper; treasurer, Pauline Edmonds; membership committee, Misses Bertha Clarke and Inez Noble; social committee, Miss Francis Johnston and Myrtle Dockstadter. Following the business part of the meeting a social hour was held, and a dainty supper was served by the hostess, Mrs. Askew.

Watch Waist Line

BY MARIAN HALE.

LONDON, Feb. 13.—The very low sashed gown has had an enormous run and probably will extend quite into the summer season. But there is a noticeable tendency in the advance models toward the natural waist line and even rumors of the really raised line.

However, the placing of the waist line is really an individual matter. The secret of the thing is in knowing oneself and one's gown.

This lovely Claire model—a graceful combination of chiffon, Italian lace and organdie—is sashed quite at the natural waist line, a thing done with an eye admirably sensitive to line and balance. Another swager bit which is done with the wide sash is the drape effect at the left—the heavy silk of the sash extends below the rather indistinct hem line.

Chiffon is used for the fashioning of the base of the frock. Italian lace and organdie—sashed quite at the natural waist line, a thing done with an eye admirably sensitive to line and balance. Another swager bit which is done with the wide sash is the drape effect at the left—the heavy silk of the sash extends below the rather indistinct hem line.

An interesting color note of the gown, which is otherwise black, is the fastening of little bunches of bright rose apples at intervals on the corn-colored organdie panel. The apples are handmade and give the frock a decidedly distinctive touch.

A pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Nelson, Seymour Township, near Burnbrae, when Emily Stewart Masson became the bride of Rev. James Harkins Douglas of Kemble, near Hepworth, Rev. J. J. Black, D.D., of Burnbrae officiating. The bride, who was given away by her father, Mr. Norman Masson, was prettily attired in a dress of embroidered navy canton crepe. Miss Gertrude Nelson, niece of the bride, played the Wedding March. Rev. and Mrs. Douglas will reside at Kemble.

Vocal duets by Miss McLean and Mrs. Andrews, and a paper on "Conversation and Culture" by Miss Wava Cornish were much appreciated. Plans were made for a box social to be held at the home of Mrs. Demary, Con. 4, Dorchester, on Wednesday, Feb. 15.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

WHO'LL HELP M. H. D.?
Dear Miss Grey,—It is some time since I wrote to you and have seen very many changes. The mailbox is coming back to its self again. I enjoy the letter so much, having been shut in all winter. I am going to ask for help which I really have to do. I cannot see any other way out, as I have a large family and an aged father and my husband has been laid up with neuritis all winter. I am not able to go out, and am looking for a little visitor very soon and nothing prepared and no means to get things. If any one will help me I will be obliged. I can sew clothes myself or make over. Some one offered old sheets in the paper of Feb. 3, if no one else wants them could I have them?

M. H. D.
If no one has received the sheets I am sure the Boxite who offered them will be only too glad to send them to you M. H. D. All the Boxites will be willing to help you out in any way they can. I am sure. There have been so many appeals recently and in every case the mailbox friends have responded splendidly.

ARE YOU INTERESTED IN INVESTMENTS?

Dear Miss Grey,—It is quite a long time since I last wrote to the Mail-Box, and as the letters appear to be going less thought I would just write a few lines and send a mite for the S. C. H. The fund is growing nicely. I think investments for women would be an excellent topic to discuss, and might be the means of doing a great deal of good, as a large number of women have a few hundred or a few thousand dollars very often do not know just what is best to do with it, whether to invest in stocks, or mortgages or something else, and probably someone who has had experience could give some suggestions. I would like to get a good recipe for chili con carne. I had a recipe once and lost it, and have never been able to get it again. Here is a tested recipe for yellow fruit cake: One pound each of cleaned currants and Sulana raisins; 1/2 lb. finely shredded citron; 1/2 lb. of what is called the fruit; the juice of two lemons, a teaspoonful of mace and one grated nutmeg. Cover and set aside until the batter is ready; 1/2 lb. butter, 1/2 lb. sugar creamed together; then the beaten yolks of six eggs, then alternately beat in flour and one pint of sour cream, in which 1 teaspoonful of soda is dissolved. When smooth, add stiffly beaten whites of eggs, then the prepared fruit. Bake in paper-lined tins two hours. I hope if anyone tries this they will have as good luck as I do.

ROYAL PALM.
I am sorry, Royal Palm, but I do not seem to have your address on file, so cannot send you the seeds asked for. Kindly send in your name and address, repeating your request, and I will be pleased to forward them to you. I think it a very good suggestion to discuss investments in the Mail-Box, and hope we will receive some good sound judgment on the subject. Thank you for the recipe, which I am sure is a splendid one. Thanks also for the generous hospital note. Here is a good recipe for chili con carne, the way I make it myself: One pound sausage meat, 1 pound chopped beef (or any leftover meat may be used, beef or pork). Rub a little garlic over a frying pan, add a taste of onion, and fry until meat is browned. Take 1 tin of tomatoes, 1 tin of kidney beans, 1 green pepper sliced, stew these while meat is cooking, and flavor to suit with chili powder, salt and pepper. Then add meat, and let cook for one-half hour.

A LITTLE SISTER ARRIVES.

Dear Miss Grey:—It is a long time since I wrote to you. I thought I would drop in and offer some help. I am a great cook. I go to school every day, so you see I only get time on Saturday to bake, so I make good use of it. Since I wrote last, we got the dearest little baby girl. I would just like to see her. Now, I am going to offer help to Mrs. Hoople. I am sending two white cake recipes. In return I would like a package of mixed hollyhocks. Wishing the Mail-Box a very prosperous new year.

"MOTHER'S HELPER."

The seeds and recitation have been mailed to you and I hope they will be satisfactory. I have forwarded your recipes to Mrs. Hoople, and I am sure she will be delighted to receive the tried recipes of such an excellent cook. I am quite sure your little sister is a darling. What is her name?

BELUB MAKES A SUGGESTION.

Dear Cynthia Grey,—Although an interested reader of your column, this is my first appearance and I hope that you will follow the Divine Law as you have so kindly done to others. Namely: "I was a stranger and ye took me in." I had occasion to go through London last week and while dining heard the Victrola play the most beautiful selection and on making inquiries found it was called "In the Sunshine of Your Smile." I had only time to try and purchase it but they failed to have it. I wonder if any Boxite has it in sheet music and would loan it to me or sell it? To me it was just a melody or a song without words, sweetly beautiful and seemed to embody what I consider the most beautiful stanza in the English language taken from Shelley's "To a Skylark": "We look before us after"

And pine for what is not;
Our sincerest laughter with some pain is fraught;
Our sweetest songs are those
That tell of saddest thoughts."

By the way Miss Grey let me suggest each Boxite sending in

"Moran of the Lady Letty," a Sea-Farin' Thrill

BY JAMES W. DEAN.

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—It had to happen sooner or later. Francis X. Bushman used to get away with it with considerable regularity. Wally Reid has been guilty of it several times.

Yessir, Rudolph Rodolfo Rodolfo. What's his name? Valentine just had to peel his shirt off and get out in front of the Klieg lights sooner or later in his sleeveless undershirt so the audience might gaze upon his manly muscles.

That's just what he does in "Moran of the Lady Letty."

And Dorothy Dalton appears with her lovely tresses shorn to within eight inches of the scalp. That, to fit the role of a seafaring maid who helps man her father's boat, all the time wearing breeches and never a morsel in her hair.

Dorothy accepts men as her shipmates, but thinks of none of them as life mates until Whatshisname appears.

Rudolf had been shanghaied when he missed a white-decks launch party in San Francisco Bay. Smugglers took him aboard their sloop as a galley slave, but when he peeled his shirt and knocked the sea legs from under a deck swabber he was made second mate.

The ship belonging to Dorothy's old man caught fire and all except Dorothy perished. Rodolfo salvaged her and then fought the smuggling captain of his boat for her.

The fight ended up in the rigging of the ship. That was much more exciting than it would have been on deck or on terra firma. It gave Rodolph an opportunity to kick the cap'n, and the cap'n a chance for a high dive into the blue sea.

Finally Dorothy and Rudolph re-

RUDOLPH VALENTINO

ERSKINE DALE PIONEER

by JOHN FOX, Jr.

BEGIN HERE TODAY.

DAVE YANDELL, pioneer of Pre-Revolutionary Kentucky, is mounting guard at a settler's stockade when WHITE ARROW, a boy of fifteen, flees to the stockade for protection from his Indian companions.

It is discovered that White Arrow is a white boy, who, when an infant, was taken captive by his mother. His Indian captives told him that he had been adopted by the Shawnee chief as his son.

The Indians attack the fort but are driven off. In the battle White Arrow saves the Indian who had treated him and caused his flight. One of the Virginians is mortally wounded. He gives a start of surprise on seeing White Arrow.

GO ON WITH THE STORY.

"Never mind now," said old Joel, soothingly, "you must keep still! The boy's eyes had begun to shut under the scrutiny and he started away."

"Come back here!" commanded the wounded man, and still searching the lad as he said sharply again:

"Who is that boy?" Nor would he have his wound dressed or even take the cup of water handed to him until Joel briefly told the story, when he lay back on the ground and closed his eyes.

Darkness fell. The dying man was laid on a rude bed within one cabin, and old Joel lay on the floor close to the door. The stranger had refused to sleep indoors and huddled himself in a blanket on the ground in one corner of the stockade. Men, women, and children fell to a deep and weary sleep.

An hour later the boy in the corner threw aside his blanket, and when Lydia Noe, feverish and thirsty, rose from her bed to get a drink of water outside her door, she stopped short on the threshold. The lad, stark naked but for his breech-clout, and swinging his bloody scalp over his head, was stamping around the fire-dancing the scalp-dance of the savage to a low, fierce, guttural song.

The boy saw her, saw her face in the blaze, stricken white with fright and horror, saw her too paralyzed to move and he stopped, staring at her a moment with the edge blood, and went on again. Old Joel's body filled the next doorway. With an oath and a threatening gesture Joel motioned to the corner of the stockade, and with a flare of defiance in his black eyes the lad stalked slowly and proudly away.

From behind him the voice of the wounded man called, and old Joel turned. There was a ghastly smile on the Virginian's pallid face.

"I saw it," he said painfully. "That's—that's my son!"

Suet Fine Shortening For Winter Puddings

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

UET is an excellent shortening for winter puddings. These must be very well cooked, steamed from two to three hours. The pudding is then more easily digested than any other type of pudding made as rich by the use of lard.

And another good point for suet is its cheapness.

Eggless Steamed Pudding.

One-half cup molasses, ½ cup brown sugar, 1 cup finely chopped suet, 1 cup seedless raisins, 1 cup sweet milk, 1 teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 2 teaspoons cinnamon, ½ teaspoon cloves, ½ teaspoon salt, 3 cups flour.

Work suet with hand till creamy. Stir in molasses and brown sugar. Mix and sift flour, salt, soda, baking powder and spices. Add alternately with milk to mixture. Mix thoroughly and add raisins. Turn into well buttered mold and steam three hours. Serve with lemon juice.

Since suet is unsalted more salt is required in a suet pudding than in a pudding shortened with butter. But remember that both brown sugar and molasses have a salty tang.

Chocolate Nut Pudding.

One-half cup chopped suet, ½ cup sugar, 1 cup flour, 1½ teaspoons baking powder, ½ cup milk, 1½ squares bitter chocolate, 1 cup nut meats, ½ teaspoon salt.

Work suet till creamy with hand. Mix and sift flour, sugar and baking powder. Work into suet. Add milk and stir to a smooth dough. Add salt, nuts and chocolate melted over hot water. Mix thoroughly and turn into a well buttered mold. Steam two hours. Serve hot with cream sauce.

Cream Sauce.

One-third cup butter, 1 cup sugar,

3-4 cup cream, 1 teaspoon vanilla. Cream butter. Slowly beat in sugar. Beat in cream a teaspoonful at a time.

Delicate Fig Pudding.

One-half cup chopped figs, ½ cup chopped suet, 2 cups stale bread crumbs from soft part of loaf, ½ cup sugar, 1 cup milk, 1-3 cup flour, ½ cup chopped almonds, 4 eggs, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1 teaspoon vanilla, ½ teaspoon salt.

Use the flour to flour figs and suet as much as they will absorb. Mix remaining flour with baking powder. Soak crumbs in milk for half an hour. Add sugar and yolks of eggs. Stir in slowly figs, suet, almonds, salt, flour and baking powder and vanilla. Fold in stiff and dry. Turn into a buttered mold, filling mold not more than three-quarters full. Cover and steam three hours. Serve with the preceding sauce or plain hard sauce or whipped cream.

TURKEYS.

Moderate-sized turkeys are usually more tender than very large ones. Hen birds are generally chosen for boiling on account of the whiteness of their flesh.

BIRDS ON HATS.

Many of the smartest of the small hats arriving from Paris are trimmed with a single bird—the whole bird is used, from bill to tail feather.

COFFEE HINT.

Try adding a prune to the coffee when you are making it. The fruit improves the flavor and makes it more easily digested.

ADD MOLASSES.

omit the sugar, but add an extra spoonful of molasses, and you will find the flavor improved.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS.

DEW TOWN

[By Olive Roberts Barton.]

"Nozzles for the hose," answered the fairy, touching his cap.

SCOOTALONG stopped the funny little train at Dew Town and again they all got out.

"This is where the dew fairies live," explained Buskins, "and as they are very busy now, we must not disturb them. It is the very busiest time of year."

The Twins wondered what there was to be so busy about, dew being only tiny drops of water and easily scattered. Surely it wasn't any harder than sprinkling clothes for ironing.

But suddenly they heard a great hammering and on turning a corner they beheld an unusual sight, something they were not looking for at all. A thousand little workmen were bustling about in overalls and caps and working as though there was never to be another day. Indeed they were so busy that Nancy whispered she thought they should be called "do fairies" instead of "dew fairies."

The little girl had visions of lovely sprites with gauzy wings floating gracefully here and there and dripping crystal drops from their fingers. This wasn't her idea of dew fairies at all!

But Nick was delighted beyond words at the sight of the sturdy, grimy little figures wheeling wheelbarrows, shovelling coal into furnaces, and keeping up a constant racket. Such a din and roar was music to his ears. It was exactly like the mill his daddy had taken him to once in the city. When he grew up he was going to work in just such a place. But in Fairyland it was rather odd!

"What are you doing?" he called out to a queer little fellow, nearly as black as a chimney-sweep. "What do you make in this place?"

"Nozzles for the hose," answered the fairy, touching his cap. "And watering pots. We use them both to sprinkle the flowers."

"Oh, don't you make dew?" asked Nancy.

"No," he answered. "We get that out of the lakes and rivers."

Here's How To Tell Imitation Furs From Real Thing!

BY LEON A. HAUSMAN, Ph. D.

ONE of the latest developments of industrial micro-analysis is in the field of the fur industry, where a study of the microscopic structure of animal hairs has shown it to be possible to identify any sample of hair no matter how much it has been stained, clipped, pulled or otherwise altered.

That such knowledge is of immense value in the fur industry can be readily seen. For the microscopist can now distinguish real furs from spurious in a definite and scientific manner.

Consider the structure of an animal hair shaft (Figure 1). The hair is not a single horny cylinder, but consists of definite structural parts, which are different for each animal. Through the center of the shaft runs the pith, technically known as the medulla, consisting of a number of cells or chambers, one above the other, with a network of horny threads between.

Like Scales on Fish.

Of course medullas differ in different hairs, but this is their usual make up. The medulla is inclosed by the cortex, a firm, horny, rather elastic, transparent substance, composed of many minute, elongated cells used together.

Within and among the cells of the cortex lie the pigment granules, which give the characteristic color to the hair.

The outermost integument of the hair shaft is termed the cuticle, and is made up of a number of thin plates or scales, laid over one another in an imbricate arrangement, much like the scales on a fish.

It is the forms and varying relationships of these different elements of the hair shaft structure which make it possible to say from what animal any given hair sample was taken.

Take some of the most common cases of fur misnaming, for instance the selling of the South American coypu rat (called ordinarily, nutria) for otter. Figure 2 shows the appearance of the hair of the nutria after it has been prepared and examined under the microscope. Compare this with a hair from the European otter (Figure 3). No one acquainted with the methods of the micro-analysis could for a moment be deceived.

Can't Deceive Microscope.

And let us examine a few hairs from a low-priced "beaver" set. It is likely this is nothing but clipped rabbit or hare. Figure 4 shows the appearance of typical rabbit hairs under the microscope, and figure 5 the appearance of true beaver hairs. Hairs are, for ordinary first examination, washed in a mixture of equal parts of 95 per cent alcohol and ether, to remove any oily material from the cuticle and then mounted in some one of the various media used by microscopists. Mounting means placing the hairs on a glass slide, dropping upon them a minute quantity of the mounting medium, and covering with an extremely thin circle of glass especially made for this purpose. This is the procedure in use for hasty examinations. Often no more complicated treatment is necessary. The equipment necessary, besides various stains and reagents, is chiefly the microscope and an electric lamp.

Nervous Breakdown

The extreme depression and discouragement which comes over one at times is the most alarming symptom of nervous exhaustion.

This letter is a message of hope to all who find themselves in this unfortunate condition.

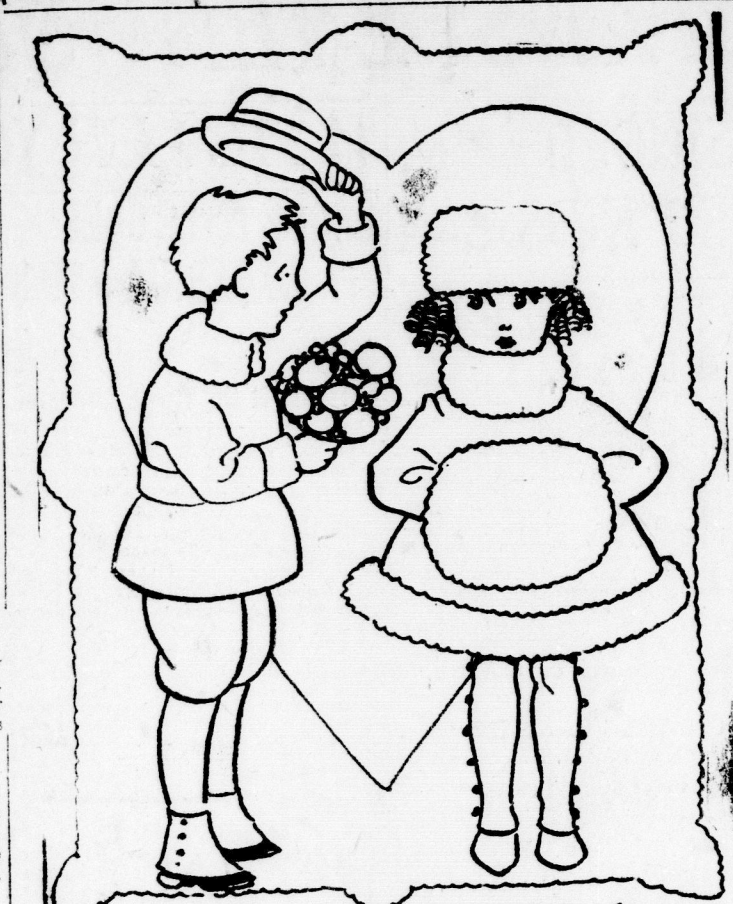

Mrs. Geo. T. Tingley, Albert, N.B., writes:—

"A friend advised the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and I can truly testify today to the great benefits received. POLLY AND PAUL AND PARIS

CHAPTER XXI—The Paverel Frock

By Zoe Beckley

THE brown-and-orange frock came home from Paverel's, and Polly took it from its tissue wrappings with trembling fingers. She could not afford to have this one go wrong. She had watched every stage of its progress from its silken lining, so carefully fitted to her slim figure, to the last detail of its finish. And it was, she told herself, holding it up against her, a perfect thing—a creation of art.

It was a joy just to look at the delicious lustre of the silk, the rich tint of it, the way it "almost stood alone" as she propped it on the bed—like Aunt Sue's "best black" that had lasted 20 years!

Polly could hardly wait for Paul to come home and be shown the masterpiece. Of course, it had cost a lot. But when you paid a lot and got something for it, there wasn't a feeling of guilt.

She heard her husband's step. Before he flung open the door, Polly rushed the dress out of sight.

"Oh, Paul, I've got something to show you!" She drew back, beaming, from her kiss of greeting. "Shut your eyes and don't peep while I get it arranged."

"Now—behold!" She drew back, waiting.

Paul turned, approached the dress casually, pinched the sleeve between his thumb and finger. "It's a nice little dress—put it on."

"But—but Paul! Don't you like it, dear?"

"Sure I do. But I can't tell much till you wear it. Does brown suit you? When will the one from Paverel's be ready?"

Polly tried to speak, but could only manage a gasp. She sat down quickly in the nearest chair. * * * And she thought he would rave. Her beautiful, carefully-chosen painstakingly supervised Paverel frock! And he didn't even guess it was the Paverel! Well—there was simply no use expecting a man to understand dress. Polly was heart sick.

"What is it, dear—don't look like that. I tell you I do like it. It's a real cutie. I bet you'll look a dream in it. You'd make any dress look swell."

This was too much.

"Miss Rand had nothing to do with it," blazed Polly. "I'd rather wear a potato-sack than have her choose my clothes! It's cruel of you to suggest that she knows more than I do about what's right for me. I hate her—I hate her—I hate her!"

Polly turned suddenly, catching her breath, and darted into the little dressing-room. Paul fled after her. But the key turned in the lock.

TWO TONES.

Very stunning are some of the new negligees which are being done in two tones of the same color. One of the loveliest of the models was made of very heavy but supple yellow satin with a loose lining of brilliant orange crepe.

FANS.

Lace and gauze spangled fans are quite the most correct and lovely accessory of the bouffant frock of the debutante. They are rivaling feather fans, which are effective only with long lined gowns.

ALL WHITE.

The all white sport togs for young girls are indescribably lovely; shaggy white scarfs with caps and wool gloves. Sometimes they are banded with shaggy bands of black.

CONSUMERS OF GAS UNLIKELY TO SHARE FUND

Calder's Audit Said To Justify Producers in Higher Charge.

REPORT KEPT SECRET

Company Officials Intimate That Slight Refund May Be Recommended.

The report of Alex. G. Calder on his audit of the books of the City Gas Company is in the hands of City Clerk Baker. It was sent to the city hall Tuesday morning.

Considerable secrecy is being maintained as to the findings of Mr. Calder. City Clerk Baker has not read the report. Mayor Wilson has not even seen it. Officials of the City Gas Company declare it is not their place to make the contents public and Mr. Calder is out of the city.

However, it is learned from one source that on the basis of the present audit, there will be not much of the ten-cent fund, which has been set aside by the company, to go back to the people. It will be after May 3, when the audit will be completed, that the real facts will be known. Officials of the Gas Company would not say they were entirely pleased with the audit and would not say that there was nothing to go back out of the ten-cent fund.

When the legislature granted the Gas Company a rate of $12.50 per 1,000 feet of gas sold, 10 cent should be set aside. At the end of the period an audit would be made and if it was found that the costs of producing gas were so low as to give the company an undue profit at $12.50, the monies contained in the 10-cent fund would be refunded to the people.

The report of Mr. Calder will, however, be useful when the legislature is considering the application of the Gas Company for the retention of the present charge of $12.50. The city proposes to fight the application and the audit, made by Mr. Calder on the order of the Ontario Railway Board, will likely be the guiding force for the private bills committee of the legislature.

The real disposition of the large fund piled up during the year will not be made until after Mr. Calder will complete the audit after May 3.

$8,000 OFFICIAL STILL CUTS HAIR

Hamilton, Feb. 14.—Although H. J. Halford is in receipt of a salary of $8,000 a year as chairman of the Workmen's Compensation Board, that does not prevent him from following the old trade of barbering on occasions. He rented his shop to his son, and when his son's $8,000 salary and the weighty matters of the compensation board, he did not need to help his boy with a razor and scissors.

Mr. Halford has found that he has not time to continue as vice-president of the Dominion Trade Union Congress, and has resigned that position.

PRESCRIBES CANDY FOR FLU PATIENTS

London, England, Feb. 14.—Sugar candy is being used with successful results as a remedy for muscular weakness of the heart after influenza.

"I was sent for on Sunday to see an old woman of over 80, with a pulse of 10 beats to the minute," said Dr. Thompson of Sunbury-on-Thames. "I gave her sugar candy at once, and next morning her pulse was down to 88."

Dr. Thompson is now prescribing sugar candy for many influenza patients that the local chemist cannot get enough.

CANADA GAZETTE ENDS YEAR WITH BIG PROFIT

Ottawa, Feb. 14.—(Canadian Press).—The publication of the Canada Gazette resulted in a gain in revenue during the last financial year of $17,960.51. In this period, paper for the publication cost $11,716.63, printing and distributing $28,895.91, and translating and editing $2,688.62. On the revenue side, subscriptions brought in $5,251.00 and advertising $55,230.57. Of the circulation, 1,259 copies were distributed gratis and 1,221 copies to subscribers.

GOVERNMENT SPENDS $183,657 ADVERTISING

Ottawa, Feb. 14.—(Canadian Press).—During the last fiscal year government advertising in newspapers cost $183,657.65, as compared with $255,682.30 for the fiscal year 1919-1920, and $222,197.21 in 1918-1919, according to the report of the department of public printing and stationery for the year ending March 31, 1921. The high figure for the year 1918-1919 is accounted for in part by the fact that it included the advertising for the Victory Loan in 1918, which amounted to $184,044.59. Ontario tops the list in amount expended last year, the total reaching $73,115.81.

FIRE DESTROYS OTTAWA WHOLESALE GROCERY

Ottawa, Feb. 14.—The wholesale grocery warehouse owned and occupied by John Dover & Sons at 21-23 York street was practically destroyed by fire which broke out about 2 o'clock this morning, and the contents were almost completely lost. The building, which was purchased by Dover & Sons some ten years ago, was valued at about $25,000, while the stock it held was valued at $60,000.

MCLARY'S SOCIETY ELECT OFFICERS

Fortieth Annual Meeting of Benefit Organization Is Held.

The fortieth annual general meeting of the McClary Manufacturing Company's Employees' Benefit Society was held Saturday. The officers elected for the current year were: President, C. W. M. Gartschore, president; F. J. Delaney, 1st vice-president; J. M. Pirie, 2nd vice-president; George Moll, 3rd vice-president; J. W. D. Wyse, secretary-treasurer; James S. Lindsay, assistant secretary-treasurer; and F. J. Delaney and R. E. Pearce, auditors.

A ballot for medical officer to attend the members of both plants was taken, the retiring doctor, Dr. Cameron Wilson, being re-elected. A notice of motion, re payment of sick benefits to be withheld from members in receipt of the workmen's compensation allowance, was lost, as also was a motion to increase the sick benefits from $3 to $3.50 per week.

SENDS STAMATIS TO JAIL FOR WEEK

Magistrate Orders Man Be Examined As To Sanity.

"What am I here for this time?" demanded Constantine Stamatis, when he appeared before Deputy Police Magistrate P. H. Bartlett in police court Tuesday morning.

"Because you are dangerous to be at large," said Mr. Bartlett. "I saw some of the letters that you wrote to Mrs. Martin."

"I'm just practicing English," stated the prisoner.

"He put that letter on my door, and lots of others," declared Mrs. Martin. "I've seen the letters and no one in his right mind would have written them," stated Mr. Bartlett. "I'm going to send you to jail for a week in order that you may be examined by the jail physician."

Stamatis, who owns the house the Martins reside in on Elizabeth street, was previously haled to court for having smashed the windows of his own house and for cutting off the plumbing. He was bound over to keep the peace by Mr. Bartlett, before Christmas.

HOBOS SEEKING BED EXCITES SUSPICION

Farmers Near City Turn Out With Guns and Pitchforks.

That district known as "The Gore," east and south of the city limits, could well be termed an armed camp late Monday night. Farmers were on the job with shotguns, rifles, pitchforks and revolvers when the news was passed around that a man had been rounded up in the barn of Thomas Beattie.

Provincial Constable Palmer was summoned from his cosy cot at 1 o'clock Tuesday morning, and with George Tustin proceeded to the scene of action. On the way, however, they met a band of farmers hustling a man along the road, who gave him the name of Alexander McIntosh and his place of residence, Hamilton.

The constables took him in charge and McIntosh appeared before Squire Chittick, Tuesday morning, on a charge of vagrancy. He was remanded to jail.

The farmers living east of the city have been losing chickens at an alarming rate and are more than anxious to discover the culprit or culprits. It was thought that the lonely hobo seeking a night's snooze in the hay might have been implicated in the thieving, but this is not the view held by the police at the present time.

REFORMS IN PRINTING BRANCH COST $162,475

Ottawa, Feb. 14.—(Canadian Press).—Reorganization of the department of public printing and stationery during the financial year ending March 31, 1921, cost $162,475.26, according to the departmental report. The parliamentary appropriation for this purpose was $167,000.

The investigation of the royal commission of inquiry with regard to the material and equipment purchased and sold cost $14,235.30.

The reason was a sensational advance in Liverpool and other foreign market centers while United States exchanges were closed during yesterday's holiday. May delivery, the most active trading option here, opened at $13.7 to $13.93 as compared with $13.3 to $13.3 1/8 on the close Saturday.

COMPANY REPORT SHOWS PROGRESS

The report of the London Life Insurance Company for 1921 emphasizes still more strongly the remarkable vitality in a life insurance business properly conducted. The year 1921 has been about the first normal year since the opening of the war for the life insurance business, and the achievements of the London Life therein are exceedingly gratifying to all interested in the company.

Notable items in the report are the high class of securities held, actually reduced proportion of arrears of interest, the placing of all the company's "ordinary" business on a full 3 per cent reserve standard and the placing of the weekly premium reserves on the highest standard in use on the continent for such business. The interest rate allowed, a good increase, and the mortality rate in the "ordinary" branch was only 35.2 per cent of that expected.

PLAN COMMISSION TO UNIFY SPENDING

Various Civic Departments Propose Joint Finance Body.

On Thursday afternoon the special committee named at the recent conference of civic department heads will meet to draft a scheme for the inauguration of a commission to handle the municipal works for a year.

A draft bylaw has been prepared and if it is adopted in anything like the form in which it has been prepared it will give the city a commission to deal with all legislative matters.

The proposal is that the commission shall be composed of one member from each body. They shall be appointed by their respective boards. Legislative matters which they launch can be rejected and sent back by any board on a two-thirds vote. It shall then be reconsidered. Matters of administration shall rest entirely with the several boards and council.

The commission will be asked to pass upon all estimates, and it is proposed that no body shall appropriate, expend or direct the expenditure of any moneys unless certified by the commission. All debt or under this provision, however, each body will have to pass a by-law adopting the commission scheme and this will be authorization for the different representatives to act on the commission. To withdraw from the commission it will be necessary to give notice in writing.

The proposed measure also provides for the appointment of a finance commissioner and the proposed duties are outlined in a manner similar to the resolution passed by the chamber of commerce.

READS PAPER ON "MUSIC OF CHOPIN"

A paper on "The Life and Music of Chopin," considered one of the most enjoyable ever heard by the "Organists' Club," was given by W. A. Bluthner at a meeting of the club in his home on Princess avenue, Monday evening.

Mr. Bluthner detailed the political conditions during the lifetime of Chopin and pointed out the influence of each condition on his music. He brought to bear upon his music, the tragedy of Poland was shown in all the great musician's work.

The paper was most interesting from both an historical and musical point of view.

BETHESDA HOSPITAL IN SOUND CONDITION

The books of the Bethesda Hospital, under the auspices of the Salvation Army, again show the hospital in a sound financial condition. In order to counteract a deficit Adjutant Martin stated that it had been necessary to ask grants from the councils of various towns and cities in this district. The army have had to cope with a $3,000 overdraft from last year, but owing to generous response to the appeal for assistance finances at present show no deficit.

BALFOUR PLEASED AT SUCCESS OF PARLEY

Southampton, England, Feb. 14.—Arthur J. Balfour, head of the British delegation to the Washington arms conference, and Lord Lee of Fareham, first lord of the admiralty, were officially welcomed by the mayor when they disembarked this morning from the liner Aquitania on their return from the United States.

In the course of a speech, Mr. Balfour expressed gratification at the accomplishments of the Washington conference, and said he had been greatly impressed by the incessant zeal and desire to arrive at settlements of the various problems displayed by the nations represented. He had no doubt the treaties would be ratified in this country and hoped the other countries would fall into line.

Lord Lee expressed similar sentiments and declared he believed a satisfactory way of dealing with naval problems had been reached.

SOUTH AFRICAN MINERS FAIL TO START WORK

London, England, Feb. 14.—Reuters correspondent at Johannesburg, South Africa, cables that on Monday afternoon few engineers, upon whose aid the success of the effort to restart the mines where the strikes have been in progress for some time, returned to work, but insufficient miners had turned up to enable a resumption of operations. The managements of the mines have warned the strikers that it will be impossible to take on all the old hands.

Fifty-six men have been arrested for picketing in defiance of the prohibition against picketing. The supreme court has refused the application for the release on bail of five labor leaders who are under arrest.

ENGINEER'S STAFF PROVIDES PARTY

Second of Delightful Events Held at City Hall Monday.

The members of the staff of the city engineer's department were hosts of a little informal evening at the city hall Monday night. It was the second event of the kind which has been held of late, the treasurer's staff showing the way. And both have proven deservedly popular.

In the past social events among the staff have been conspicuous by their absence, but with the ice broken it is proposed to have social evenings frequently in future. The decorations from the last event were left up, and the guests of Monday night were entertained in the auditorium and the city engineer's office. Cards and dancing were indulged in and a royal good time fell to the lot of all present, the assistants of the city engineer proving excellent hosts and hostesses.

Mr. Dawkins, of the engineer's staff, and Mrs. Pope proved to be the best card players in the evening, and went home with suitable prizes. Mrs. Turner, of the tax collector's office, was awarded the consolation prize for the lowest score of the evening.

Excellent music was supplied for dancing and the equally excellent floor in the auditorium's office was well patronized by the dancers. A dainty supper brought the evening to a close.

TWO MORE SHOT IN IRISH RIOTS

responsibility with Thomas Lyons, secretary of the American association for recognition of the Irish republic and the Dublin correspondents refrain from even speculating on it.

Dispatches from Belfast show that the Ulstermen are skeptical of the claims of Collins and Griffith to procure the release of the kidnapped Unionists.

They regard the Free State as in a state of anarchy and faith in any help the imperial government might give is practically non-existent.

Nevertheless the British government has promised to increase the bringing the total to fourteen, and to send more if necessary, and it is assumed that some of the forces held from embarking yesterday are destined for the north. Premier Craig, of Ulster, is said to have suggested to the British government the desirability of posting troops on the north side of the border, but this was firmly refused.

All available northern police are being moved to the frontier from the quiet areas according to the Daily Mail's Belfast correspondent and the boundary will soon be lined with ten thousand armed and disciplined men. The difficulty of preventing the "guns going off of themselves," under these circumstances is emphasized by the correspondent, who says that at Pettigo, in County Donegal, the rival forces are separated only by the width of a street, while at Belleau and Belleau County Fermanagh, they are watching each other from the opposite ends of a bridge.

Government is Worried.

The danger is not confined to the frontier, he adds, owing to the angry antagonism of the Sinn Féiners and Orangemen in various parts of Ulster, the results of which were evidenced in the shooting and bombing in Belfast yesterday.

The British government is gravely concerned over the latest developments, and their possible effects on the House of Commons. Many Conservatives who hitherto have supported the government's Irish policy are to be losing faith in the prospect of a settlement and may withhold support of the bill establishing the free state when it comes to the second reading on Thursday. Lord Carson plans to raise the subject of the Clones shooting and other matters concerning Ireland in the House of Lords today.

BAN PICTURES OF TWO ACTRESSES

Lynn, Mass., Feb. 14.—Local motion picture theatres have discontinued showing pictures featuring Mary Miles Minter and Mabel Normand, whose names have been mentioned in connection with murder of William Desmond Taylor, motion picture actor, at Los Angeles. The action was taken at the request of the city's board of censors.

W. TUPPER FRUSTRATES LANDS QUESTION ISSUE

Winnipeg, Feb. 14.—Attempts to get the provincial lands question brought to an issue in the legislature last night were frustrated by W. J. Tupper (Conservative), who after 10 o'clock resorted to blocking tactics, engaging in what he indicated would be an interminable speech, and eventually succeeded in getting the house to agree to adjournment of the debate.

The debate had reached an interesting stage when it was resumed. The main resolution proposed by the premier provided for foreclosure on lands purchased on a large scale if arrears of principal and interest were not paid within six months. There was an amendment by F. J. Dixon (Independent) providing for the government to consider the municipalities affected.

MONTREAL STOCKS

Montreal, Feb. 14.—The turn-over in Dominion Bridge was larger this morning than in any other individual issue on the local stock exchange, with the exception of Cement, but transactions were in large lots, so that trading was not at all general. Much the same was the case with Cement, though the number of transactions in this stock were greater. The advance chiefly to the local market was again quite dull. Prices throughout were sticky to firm. Brazilian sugar firm, trading fell a flag on the recent level.

PLAN TO MAKE CITY CENTRE OF FAIRS DISTRICT

Chatham Winter Exhibit Board Appoints Body To Arrange Purchase of Site.

NEW HANDCUFFS ISSUED Equipment Purchased For Police Department For First Time in 34 Years.

Special to London Advertiser. CHATHAM, Feb. 13.—The Chatham Winter Fair Board in session recently appointed a committee to meet the executive of the West Kent Agricultural Society for the purpose of making arrangements with that body for the rental of a section of the West Kent Fair Grounds.

It was stated today that the Chatham Winter Fair Board, encouraged by the big success of the recent winter fair at Tilbury, is seeking to have Chatham made the center of a winter fair district. With such an object in view they are making strenuous efforts to revive interest in the Western Ontario Winter Fair Association, which was organized in this city less than two years ago.

The annual meeting of the St. Joseph's branch of the Holy Name Society was held in St. Joseph's Parish Hall yesterday morning. Rev. Father Gnam, spiritual director, gave a short talk to the members, after which the election of officers took place, the results being as follows: Prefect, J. J. Brennan; first vice-prefect, J. W. Dulong; second vice-prefect, Thomas Egan; financial secretary, J. J. Zink; recording secretary, W. N. Houle; treasurer, A. J. McGregor; counsellors, A. E. Sterling, A. I. Jacques, Dr. J. Moriarty and J. A. McNevin.

For the first time in 34 years new handcuffs have been purchased for the city police department. In the past some of the officers, in order to keep up with the times, have purchased the handcuffs at their own expense. The old handcuffs will now be placed on exhibition in the "arms museum" of the police station as relics.

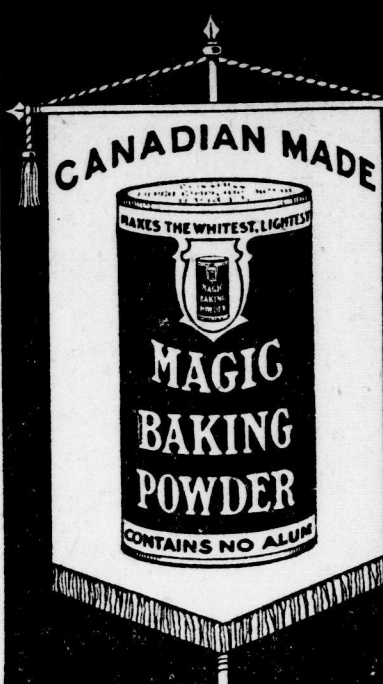

EXETER SOCIETY ADDS 100 NEW MEMBERS. EXETER, Feb. 13.—The committee appointed to canvass the town for the Horticultural Society has completed its lists, signing up 100 members. The committee in charge comprised: President, J. S. Harvey; first vice-president, Mrs. Amos; secretary-treasurer, J. G. Stanbury. Rev. J. Foote was unable to take either morning or evening service Sunday. A. T. Cooper conducted the service in the morning in behalf of the Social Service Council.

Mr. Houston, high school inspector, is here this week making his annual inspection. The pupils and teachers of the public school have joined the League of the Empire, and will correspond with pupils and teachers in different parts of the empire.

JELFS DECLINES TO BELIEVE "SPOTTERS" Hamilton, Feb. 13.—Magistrate Jelfs dismissed two more O. T. A. charges laid by provincial "spotters" because the spotters' evidence was not corroborated. He said he was going to follow his conscience in such cases.

William Campbell, Brantford, and Earl Cress, Hamilton, who were arrested by the police while riding on a truck bearing eighty cases of liquor, were among those charged with breaches of the O. T. A. Officers testified that the liquor bore 19 different addresses in Syracuse and several in Toledo. They said some of the names were those of police officers who signed statements that they had not ordered the liquor. Mr. Rose, an employee of the Seagram distillery, Waterloo, stated that the order had been received by telegraph from W. A. Henrick of Buffalo, and that Campbell had been engaged as a carrier. Judgment was reserved.

QUITS OTTAWA CHURCH TO COME TO KITCHENER. OTTAWA, Feb. 13.—Rev. A. Orson, pastor of St. Lucas Lutheran Church, Mackay street, has accepted a call to St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Kitchener, Ont. Border School Head Condemns Dancing Without Chaperones

WINDSOR, Feb. 13.—Principal William Lowe of the Windsor Collegiate Institute at tonight's meeting of the board of education strongly condemned the unchaperoned dances which have been held in the collegiate gymnasium following basketball games. He declared that he believed these dances were to a considerable extent responsible for incultivating in Windsor youth a growing taste for "light life."

Other members of the board described the dances as "jazzy affairs," and a resolution was passed instructing the secretary of the board, G. A. Courtney, not to lease the gymnasium for games at which an admission is charged until after the industrial committee made a full report in the matter.

Windsor City Council tonight passed a resolution unanimously asking the Dominion government to either electrify the Grand Trunk Railway in Windsor or remove the railway yards from the river front. Another resolution carried, endorsed Sir Adam Beck's stand on the hydro radial issue.

Directors of the Carnegie Foundation are to escort to their seats Queen Wilhelmina, Queen Mother Emma and Prince Consort Henry. The registrar will then read the oath which all judges shall repeat in the order of precedence. Speeches are to be made by foreign minister Van Karmabeek, representing the Netherlands government, the Hague burgomaster speaking for the municipality.

BOYS ATTEMPT THEFT OF PURSE IN CHURCH

WINDSOR, Feb. 13.—Caught red-handed by the rector in the act of stealing a churchgoer's purse at the close of the evening service at All Saints' Church Sunday night, two youths were later apprehended by Windsor detectives and admitted guilt.

Before Magistrate Gundy today the youths, Albert Freeman and Thomas Hornsby, both aged 18, pleaded guilty to a charge of theft, and were remanded until Saturday for sentence.

20 CARS DERAILED IN THAMESVILLE WRECK

CHATHAM, Feb. 13.—Twenty cars of a westbound Grand Trunk freight jumped the track and went into the ditch at Thamesville this morning. A broken axle is given as the cause of the wreck.

Auxiliaries from London and Windsor cleared the westbound track after working several hours. A number of cars were wrecked, but no person was injured. W O PAGE

HORNE ADMITS
ECONOMY VITAL
NEED OF EMPIRE
Doubts, However, Geddes Proposals Can Be Accepted in Entirety.

ASQUITH RAPS ESTIMATES

LONDON, Feb. 13.—(Canadian Press Cable).—In the House of Commons today on the Geddes economy report the chancellor of the exchequer, Sir Robert Horne, said he did not claim that the heads of the spending departments of the government had saved everything
they could. He added:

"The truth of the situation has been too much for us all. Expenditure has been aggravated by the circumstances of the times in which we found ourselves."
While it was obvious, he continued, that large reductions must be made in the services, it was perfectly certain that not all the Geddes recommendations for cutting expenditure could be accepted in their entirety.
Never had it been the country's policy to base the size of its army on the size of the other European armies,
but on the necessities of the empire,
and if members would look at the empire today they would see that far from the necessities being less they were greater than ever.

Asquith Assails Taxes.
Former Premier Asquith, speaking in the afternoon in the resumption of the debate on the address in reply to the speech from the throne, moved an amendment, expressing regret that the extravagance of the government had imposed on the country a pressing burden of taxation, and that it had been unable to make a definite promise that taxation would be reduced in order to stimulate trade and decrease unemployment.

The Geddes Report on possible government economies, he said, had justified the charge contained in his amendment.
Referring to the criticism of the estimates of the fighting services, Mr.
Asquith compared the pre-war expenditure of the army and navy—£170,000,000—to this year's estimates of £170,000,000, and remarked that the only thing that unhappily marred the gratification "at the most remarkable gathering in Washington" was that the question of land armaments was excluded from consideration, and that the conference did not feel able to deal, as he was glad to think the British representatives had pressed it strongly to deal—with the question of submarines.

Austen Chamberlain, the government leader, stated that the admiralty memorandum on the Geddes report was issued with the approval of the government. He foreshadowed the publication of similar memoranda from other departments.

RESUME POLICE INVESTIGATION AT BRANTFORD

Royal Commissioners Fail To Unravel Liquor Tangle At Lengthy Hearing.

FORWARD COST ESTIMATE

Striking Committee To Decide
On Body's Statement of $1,500 As Minimum.

Special to London Advertiser.
BRANTFORD, Feb. 13.—This morning the police probe swung into its second week before Commissioner
W. P. Gregory. Mr. Frank Hughes, counsel for the suspended officers, reappeared at the probe and took his former place. He had withdrawn on Thursday, following Mr. Spence's refusal to answer a question.
During the hearing this morning,
Stanley Truick gave evidence in connection with the vagrancy charge on which he had been dismissed by Magistrate Livingston.

At the time of the supposed shipment of liquor through the customs Commissioner Gregory said he did not care to make a ruling because he had not a copy of Mr. Spence's oath of office before him. Subsequently on Friday Commissioner Gregory wired the customs department at Ottawa, and the reply came back giving Mr. Spence permission to disclose the names of the consignees of the liquor.

Furnishes Expense Accounts.
County Treasurer A. E. Watts,
K.C., was called by Mr. Jennings
when the inquiry resumed after dinner.
He furnished expense accounts incurred by Detective Schulz and Inspectors Chapman for 1929.
Since that time, Mr. Watts said, certain expense accounts of that sort were handled by the city and did not come through his department as they had up to the end of 1929. The accounts referred to particularly to railroad expenses incurred by the two officers during that year.

Mr. John Young was cross-questioned by Mr. Hughes about his previous evidence involving Schulz.
He repeated that he believed Schulz had telephoned Carter, and as a result Carter and he took a taxi to Schulz's house. Carter, it is claimed, had a bottle of whiskey.
The witness said that Carter told him Schulz didn't pay anything for the whiskey in question. It would ordinarily have sold for $6.50. The witness was out $2 as his share, he said. When asked if he could bring corroborative witnesses to back up all these statements, he referred Mr.
Hughes to "Jim" Bullock and Herman Gould of the Brant Taxi, both of whom were in the car when the witness and Carter went down to Schulz's home.

Told to Deduct Money.
Once while Carter was making up his accounts he told Mr. Young to deduct $18 on one occasion and $27 on another for protection. On still another occasion five bottles of liquor were set aside. This was also for protection, though witnesses did not know who got the money and the liquor.
At this point the witness was asked to name some of the men at "Carter's" on an occasion when the policeman was supposed to have been there, according to the witness's testimony. Witness said Ike Olds, Jim Bullock and others were there.
"Did you ever see me at Carter's?"
asked Barr.
"Yes, lots of times," replied witness.

"I never was," emphatically denied Barr. He said he had gone into the place once with Sergeant Donnelly while they were after a "bad gang."
That was the only occasion he had ever been near the place.
Hercules Reeve, another witness called, said that Inspector Chapman and Detective Schulz were often at Carter's. Witness swore that the two police officers often got liquor there from Carter. They never paid for any, he said.

Tells of Raid.
The witness told of a raid by the police in which "Carter" had been "tipped off." Sgt. Borthwick, the witness believed, was the officer in charge of the raid.

Reeves admitted being a bootlegger, peddling from Carter's.

In reply to a question of Mr.
Hughes, the witness said he had once been convicted of fraud, the charge
being laid by Schuch.

The witness told of lending $20 to Mr. Deferas to go to Montreal on a trip. Later, the witness said, he was handed a check by Deferas from a "man" for $27. Deferas signed the check "Reid" instead of Reeves.
Later witness was arrested, charged by Schulz with forgery, then fraud, the trouble arising from the fact that
"Reid" should have been "Reeves,"
the witness said.

"If this is so, Reeves shouldn't have been convicted at all," commented
Mr. Jennings. The witness had received a suspended sentence.

Miss Fumring was called to hear the evidence of Constable Wilfred Gillen. The latter, sworn, said he was a constable on the Toronto police force. He had prior to that been on the Brantford fire department, and just before that the Brantford police department.

Witness Denies Charge.
Asked about Miss Fumring's charge that the witness took her out in a car, attempted to assault her.
"To my knowledge, I don't think the woman had ever seen me," he said in referring to Miss Fumring's charge. He understood that no action had been taken. The witness denied Miss Fumring's charge.
The town-planning commission
this morning forwarded an estimate of the money required for the commission during the year.
The amount named was $2,300.
Fearful of the civic pruning knife,
the commission added in its announcement that failing to secure this amount an effort would be made to get along on about $1,500. The estimate will come up before the 25 Italians Killed in Re- volt in Tripoli.

LONDON, Feb. 13.—Italian forces fighting rebels at Mihurata, Tripoli, have lost 25 killed and about 100 wounded, says a Central News dispatch from Rome today. Another dispatch quotes a semi-official statement as saying the enemy losses were very heavy.

This dispatch added that the Arabs attempted to tamper with the railway lines between Tripoli, Azizia and Mihurata.
The garrison made a sortie, but the rebels stoutly resisted them.

FORCIBLY FED TO DIE ON GALLOWS

CHICAGO, Feb. 13.—Harvey Church, condemned to be hanged next Friday for murder, must live to die on the gallows, county jail officials decided today, so they broke his hunger strike by forcibly feeding him through a tube.

Church killed two automobile salesmen whom he had lured to the basement of his home in order to gain possession of an expensive motor car.

CLAIMS POSTAL DEFICIT IS ABOUT £2,000,000

LONDON, Feb. 13.—(By Canadian Press Cable).—Speaking at Reading tonight, Postmaster-General F. G.
Kellaway said the postoffice deficit for the present year would be about £2,000,000, but he anticipated a surplus in 1922-23 of over £3,000,000.
He intimated that the question of a reduction of postage rates was being considered.

SEAMAN ADRIFT IN LIFEBOAT IN ATLANTIC GALE

British Skipper Reaches Port
After Futile Attempts At Rescue.

SWEPT AWAY BY WAVES

Sends Radio Messages Broadcast in Hope of Succoring Victim.

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—Somewhere in the Atlantic—about 500 miles from New York, if his luck has held
—John Bricker, a British seaman, is bobbing in a lifeboat, waiting out his sixth night in the hope of rescue.

The story of his loss in a high gale and of the heart-breaking game of hide and seek his little bark played with his would-be rescuers was brought to port today by Captain Walter Beckwith of the Steamship Gaffney.

The storm broke on the morning of Feb. 8. Captain Beckwith said, with a 110-mile wind, which quickly
lashed the sea into a fury.

Bricker was sent with another seaman to make fast the lifeboats.
Swinging on the out-turned davits, Bricker dropped into one of the boats to make fast a line, when a huge wave swept the boat away.

Captain Beckwith quickly turned the Gaffney about and began a struggle to get a line to the lifeboat, missing time after time by a few feet.
The boat was lost once in a rain squall, only to be discovered and lost again.

Nightfall put an end to the search,
and the Gaffney steamed on to port,
first broadcasting a radio message asking all ships to look out for the lost seaman.

tives of the Detroit United Railway, nounced today by Elliott G. Stevenson, counsel for the company.

The conferences will start with Mayor Couzens offer of $16,500,000, plus whatever increase in real estate values can be shown in the last three

LIBERALS EXPECT TO CARRY RIDING

Select West Lambton Delegates To Toronto Convention.

Special to London Advertiser.
SARNIA, Feb. 13.—Headed by F.
F. Pardee, K.C., ex-M.P. for West Lambton, the Liberals of this district are making a strenuous effort to have one of their party for a member in the provincial house, and as a result the following have been named to attend the Toronto convention: Silas Miller of Moore, I. Greenizen of Petrolet, Thomas Cook of Sarnia and Charles Watson of Moore.

On his return from Ottawa, F. F.
Pardee said, in referring to the general political situation, that at the present time there was only room in this country for two parties, and that no one party could arrogate to itself all the power to run the country, but that on the other hand a government was needed that would look after all classes.

A number of West Lambton Liberals will attend the Toronto convention in March in company with the delegates selected.

Following the hearing of evidence in the appeal of James Helling of Plympton Township, convicted of illegally keeping liquor for sale and fined $500 and costs by Police Magistrate J. J. Jarvis, Judge Albert E.
Taylor reserved judgment.

CREW QUILTS SHIP CRIPPLED AT SEA

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., Feb. 13.—Adding one more to the long list of losses to the Newfoundland fleet, the schooner Norma Strong was reported today abandoned at sea. Her crew landed safely at the Azores.
