

THE WEATHER:
COLD, WITH SNOW AND SLEET.
TUESDAY—SNOW.

London Evening Advertiser

LONDON, ONTARIO, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 1924. —SIXTEEN PAGES.

"SPORTING GREEN"
ON THE STREET AT 5:00
WITH LATE NEWS.

THREE CENTS.

SEPARATE TRIALS FOR MORRELL AND WILLIAMS Clarence Topping Not Expected to Face Jury Until March

MISS M'NAUGHTON TOO ILL TO APPEAR FOR MURDER TRIAL

Mr. Justice Lennox Grants Murrell and Williams Separate Trials on Plea From Counsel—Judge Refuses To Postpone Trial of Murrell on Account of Illness—Rigney Offers No Opposition to Application

WILLIAMS AND MURRELL BROUGHT IN AT 2:05

On application of J. M. Donahue, Judge Lennox decided to grant separate trials in the case of "Slim" Williams and Sid Murrell.

"It appears to me as though the case is one in which the doubt should be given to the prisoner. The only argument against separate trials is that the former judge refused the application. It is to my best judgment and in the interests of the prisoner to grant the application for separate trials," declared his lordship.

No Opposition From Crown.

T. J. Rigney, prosecuting attorney, offered no opposition.

The application of J. M. Donahue asking for a postponement of Murrell's trial on the grounds that his client had not sufficiently recovered from his operation, was refused by Mr. Justice Lennox.

Mr. Rigney stated he had been told by the jail physician Murrell was quite fit to be tried.

Murrell looked thinner when brought up the stairs from his cell. He was chewing gum and wearing a knitted yellow and black tie.

Slim Williams was handcuffed to Murrell in the box the two prisoners whispered to each other. As they entered the box at 2:05 Murrell turned and smiled at his relatives.

Shortly after 1 o'clock, Edmund Weld, clerk of the court, called the names of the 96 petit jurors, all being present with the exception of Ed Westby.

Mr. Justice Lennox mounted the bench at 1:20 o'clock, and called for the list of grand jurors.

Same Precautions.

The same precautions taken by Sheriff Graham at the last Murrell-Williams trial were evidenced this afternoon. All entrances to the court house were closely guarded by county and city police. Two county constables were stationed at each courtroom door, while the same two provincial constables who guarded Murrell and Williams in the prisoners' box at the last trial were again in evidence.

Inspector Stringer and Sgt. Arthur Palmer of the provincial police were sitting directly behind the seat shortly to be occupied by Murrell and Williams.

Mrs. Murrell, her son and daughter arrived at the court house shortly before 1 o'clock and took seats at the front of the room and in line with the prisoners' box.

At 2 o'clock Crown Prosecutor Rigney stated he was ready to go on with the Murrell-Williams trial.

J. W. G. Winnett announced that a settlement had been reached in the jury action of Mr. and Mrs. Cartledge against the city of London and the Public Utilities Commission. Mrs. Cartledge claimed damages for injuries received when struck by a guy wire. Mr. Winnett declined to give out the amount of settlement, but it is believed to be substantial.

A. G. Chisholm asked that the non-jury action of Chisholm vs. Erie Clay Products Company be traversed to the spring assizes, as neither party were ready to go on. His request was granted by Mr. Justice Lennox.

May Not Face Trial.

Clarence Topping may not face judge and jury on a murder charge at the winter assizes, which opened at the court house this afternoon before Mr. Justice Lennox.

One of the most important of the crown's witnesses, Miss Viola McNaughton, is too ill to appear in court today, and for this reason the case may be traversed to the spring assizes, which are scheduled for March 17. It is a peculiar coincidence that Mr. Justice Lennox is billed to preside at that court as well.

Topping's case will, however, will come before the grand jury at least, and as he has already confessed to shooting his sweetheart, Miss Geraldine Durston, at the residence of George Cook, York street, on the morning of November 23 last, it is a foregone conclusion that the grand jury will bring in a verdict of guilty. Topping may be remanded to jail till March 17.

Witnesses and jurors thronged the court house corridors this morning, and included the three new witnesses who will testify at the trial of Williams and Murrell. Elizabeth Mahler of Dresden will tell of the conversation between Sid Murrell and Russell Campbell, a brother when the former was lashed to a telephone pole in the village. Campbell is said to have accused Murrell of shooting his brother and Sid is alleged to have replied "I don't deny it."

Louis Lipsett, Mount Brydges farmer, will give evidence to show that "Pat" Norton, who escaped capture after the robbery of the bank at Melbourne, had a revolver in his hand when he abandoned his motor car at Lipsett's farm, while Inspector Stringer of the provincial police. Please See Page 2, Column 4.

MISS VIOLA McNAUGHTON, who is at present too ill to appear as a witness for the crown in the trial of Clarence Topping.

RESIDENT OF 50 YEARS PASSES ON SUNDAY

Mrs. Mary Jane McKenzie Was Prominent Member of St. John's Church.

Mrs. Mary Jane McKenzie, well-known resident of London for the past fifty years, died last night at her husband, John McKenzie, predeceased home, 512 Piccadilly street. Her husband was 80 years old.

Mrs. McKenzie is survived by her six children, three sons, John and James of this city, Alexander of Regina; and three daughters, Mrs. W. D. Bere, Miss Margaret and Miss Lillian, all of London.

Funeral services will be held on Wednesday from her late residence, Rev. A. L. G. Clarke of St. John Evangelist Church, of which Mrs. McKenzie was a prominent member, will conduct the service. Interment is to be made at Woodland Cemetery.

FUNERAL OF GEO. BROWNLEE.

The funeral of George Brownlee, who dropped dead in Guelph on Friday evening, was held Saturday from his late residence, 153 Wellington street, Guelph, to Greenwood Cemetery. Mr. Brownlee is survived by his wife, two brothers and three sisters.

THE WEATHER

FORECASTS.
Strong winds and gales from the northeast and north; cold, with snow and sleet today and Tuesday.

The highest and lowest temperatures during the 24 hours previous to 8 a.m. today were:

Stations.	High.	Low.	Weather.
Victoria	41	4	Cloudy
Vancouver	40	8	Clear
Calgary	40	8	Clear
Winnipeg	40	20	Clear
Port Arthur	14	16	Clear
Cochrane	22	12	Clear
Toronto	22	12	Clear
Kingston	14	6	Snow
Ottawa	12	4	Fair
Montreal	8	4	Fair
Quebec	8	4	Fair
St. John	14	0	Cloudy
Halifax	16	4	Clear
Minus (—) means below zero.

LOCAL TEMPERATURES.

The highest and lowest temperatures recorded in London during the 24 hours previous to 8 o'clock last night were: Highest, 33; lowest, 26. The official temperatures for the 12 hours previous to 8 a.m. today were: Highest, 27; lowest, 19.

Barometric Readings.

Sunday—8 p.m.—29.08.

Today—8 a.m.—28.97.

CLARENCE TOPPING, confessed slayer of Geraldine Durston, who is not expected to be brought up for trial until spring.

VACCINATION LAW HITS ATTENDANCE

Collegiate Classes Cut by 300 This Morning—Many Disinclined To Obey Order.

The order for the vaccination of students at the Central Collegiate Institute, following the discovery of a case of smallpox at that institution, has resulted in a decrease in attendance of approximately 300, according to Principal E. A. Miller.

Mr. Miller told The Advertiser this morning that there were but 600 students at school out of an enrollment of nearly 900, and that he had no idea whether more would remain away or not.

The order for vaccination was issued on Friday, and while it is likely that a large number of the absentees are away as the results of being vaccinated, it is known that many are staying away on account of the disease and the disinclination to follow out the orders of the health officer.

Those who have not been vaccinated must remain away for two weeks, this being the period of quarantine for the school.

Other cases have not been discovered, but no chances are being taken on the disease spreading.

CITY FLAGS LOWERED IN HONOR OF WILSON

American Consulate and Military Respect ex-President of United States.

Honoring in death Woodrow Wilson, ex-president of the United States, who served in that position during eight of the most momentous years in the history of the world, and who passed away in Washington Sunday noon, the flag of the American consulate of this city was flown at half mast today.

Similar respect was shown at Volesley Barracks, where the British flags were lowered.

The flag of the American consulate was lowered at 11 o'clock.

The flag of the American consulate was lowered at 11 o'clock.

The flag of the American consulate was lowered at 11 o'clock.

The flag of the American consulate was lowered at 11 o'clock.

The flag of the American consulate was lowered at 11 o'clock.

The flag of the American consulate was lowered at 11 o'clock.

The flag of the American consulate was lowered at 11 o'clock.

The flag of the American consulate was lowered at 11 o'clock.

The flag of the American consulate was lowered at 11 o'clock.

The flag of the American consulate was lowered at 11 o'clock.

The flag of the American consulate was lowered at 11 o'clock.

The flag of the American consulate was lowered at 11 o'clock.

The flag of the American consulate was lowered at 11 o'clock.

The flag of the American consulate was lowered at 11 o'clock.

The flag of the American consulate was lowered at 11 o'clock.

The flag of the American consulate was lowered at 11 o'clock.

The flag of the American consulate was lowered at 11 o'clock.

The flag of the American consulate was lowered at 11 o'clock.

The flag of the American consulate was lowered at 11 o'clock.

The flag of the American consulate was lowered at 11 o'clock.

The flag of the American consulate was lowered at 11 o'clock.

The flag of the American consulate was lowered at 11 o'clock.

The flag of the American consulate was lowered at 11 o'clock.

The flag of the American consulate was lowered at 11 o'clock.

BECK SURE PORT LINE WILL MAKE SUCCESS

Members of Railway Commission Inspect Property This Morning.

CHANGES ARRANGED

Believes Measures Will Take Care of Slight Deficit Expected.

Following an inspection of the lines this morning, in company with Mayor Wenige and other members of the London and Port Stanley Railway Commission, Sir Adam Beck, M. L. A., voiced to The Advertiser his supreme confidence in the ultimate success of the city's road to the lake-side.

While the final annual financial statement for 1923 to be submitted at the next regular session of the commission may show a slight deficit when compared, Sir Adam states that certain further economic measures already discussed by the commissioners in a general way, will be introduced to take care of this amount.

In brief, Sir Adam points out that while a small deficit may be shown, there is always two ways of viewing the question, aside from periods of depression, erratic weather conditions and other factors which handicapped all roads during 1923 as well as the L. and P. S.

Journey to Port.

The commissioners journeyed to Port Stanley by special car, conducting an inspection of an appreciable portion of the roadbed, rolling stock, depots, etc. They reported entire satisfaction.

Certain proposed alterations were considered and approved, affecting the road at Union and Port Stanley.

It is recommended that increased facilities for both passengers and freight be provided at Union. Sir Adam reports that certain buildings, owned by the road can be used there to great advantage.

In future Stop "A" will be known to the railway authorities as Union.

Rented for Store.

Other alterations of an economic value have been recommended for Port Stanley. An empty structure across from the depot, and next the river is not at all remunerative to the city. This will be removed forthwith to the opposite corner upon the understanding that it is to be rented for a store.

The roadbed of the L. and P. S. is now in better shape than ever, the chairman reports. "It is in first-class shape," Sir Adam stated, "and is well ballasted. About $12,000 was spent for this purpose during the last year."

Touching upon the financial situation of the road, Sir Adam explained that if the city during the next ten years meets its obligations as it has done during the past ten years, it will have paid off $100,000 on the capital debt. He is confident that it will be done. The city is making ventures on short periods, he stated, while in the meanwhile the line is being kept in A 1 condition.

The roadbed of the L. and P. S. is now in better shape than ever, the chairman reports. "It is in first-class shape," Sir Adam stated, "and is well ballasted. About $12,000 was spent for this purpose during the last year."

Touching upon the financial situation of the road, Sir Adam explained that if the city during the next ten years meets its obligations as it has done during the past ten years, it will have paid off $100,000 on the capital debt. He is confident that it will be done. The city is making ventures on short periods, he stated, while in the meanwhile the line is being kept in A 1 condition.

The roadbed of the L. and P. S. is now in better shape than ever, the chairman reports. "It is in first-class shape," Sir Adam stated, "and is well ballasted. About $12,000 was spent for this purpose during the last year."

Touching upon the financial situation of the road, Sir Adam explained that if the city during the next ten years meets its obligations as it has done during the past ten years, it will have paid off $100,000 on the capital debt. He is confident that it will be done. The city is making ventures on short periods, he stated, while in the meanwhile the line is being kept in A 1 condition.

The roadbed of the L. and P. S. is now in better shape than ever, the chairman reports. "It is in first-class shape," Sir Adam stated, "and is well ballasted. About $12,000 was spent for this purpose during the last year."

Touching upon the financial situation of the road, Sir Adam explained that if the city during the next ten years meets its obligations as it has done during the past ten years, it will have paid off $100,000 on the capital debt. He is confident that it will be done. The city is making ventures on short periods, he stated, while in the meanwhile the line is being kept in A 1 condition.

The roadbed of the L. and P. S. is now in better shape than ever, the chairman reports. "It is in first-class shape," Sir Adam stated, "and is well ballasted. About $12,000 was spent for this purpose during the last year."

Touching upon the financial situation of the road, Sir Adam explained that if the city during the next ten years meets its obligations as it has done during the past ten years, it will have paid off $100,000 on the capital debt. He is confident that it will be done. The city is making ventures on short periods, he stated, while in the meanwhile the line is being kept in A 1 condition.

The roadbed of the L. and P. S. is now in better shape than ever, the chairman reports. "It is in first-class shape," Sir Adam stated, "and is well ballasted. About $12,000 was spent for this purpose during the last year."

Touching upon the financial situation of the road, Sir Adam explained that if the city during the next ten years meets its obligations as it has done during the past ten years, it will have paid off $100,000 on the capital debt. He is confident that it will be done. The city is making ventures on short periods, he stated, while in the meanwhile the line is being kept in A 1 condition.

The roadbed of the L. and P. S. is now in better shape than ever, the chairman reports. "It is in first-class shape," Sir Adam stated, "and is well ballasted. About $12,000 was spent for this purpose during the last year."

Touching upon the financial situation of the road, Sir Adam explained that if the city during the next ten years meets its obligations as it has done during the past ten years, it will have paid off $100,000 on the capital debt. He is confident that it will be done. The city is making ventures on short periods, he stated, while in the meanwhile the line is being kept in A 1 condition.

The roadbed of the L. and P. S. is now in better shape than ever, the chairman reports. "It is in first-class shape," Sir Adam stated, "and is well ballasted. About $12,000 was spent for this purpose during the last year."

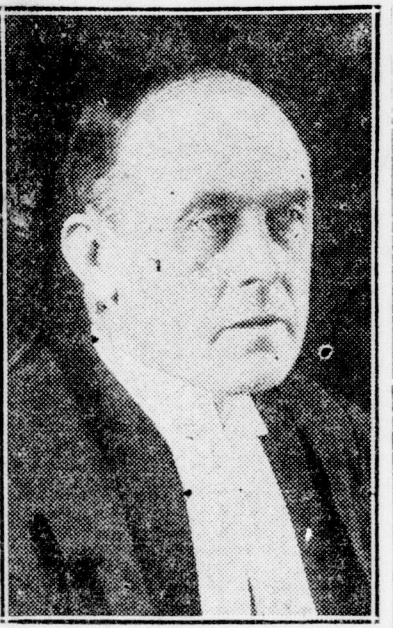

Touching upon the financial situation of the road, Sir Adam explained that if the city during the next ten years meets its obligations as it has done during the past ten years, it will have paid off $100,000 on the capital debt. He is confident that it will be done. The city is making ventures on short periods, he stated, while in the meanwhile the line is being kept in A 1 condition.

The roadbed of the L. and P. S. is now in better shape than ever, the chairman reports. "It is in first-class shape," Sir Adam stated, "and is well ballasted. About $12,000 was spent for this purpose during the last year."

Touching upon the financial situation of the road, Sir Adam explained that if the city during the next ten years meets its obligations as it has done during the past ten years, it will have paid off $100,000 on the capital debt. He is confident that it will be done. The city is making ventures on short periods, he stated, while in the meanwhile the line is being kept in A 1 condition.

The roadbed of the L. and P. S. is now in better shape than ever, the chairman reports. "It is in first-class shape," Sir Adam stated, "and is well ballasted. About $12,000 was spent for this purpose during the last year."

Touching upon the financial situation of the road, Sir Adam explained that if the city during the next ten years meets its obligations as it has done during the past ten years, it will have paid off $100,000 on the capital debt. He is confident that it will be done. The city is making ventures on short periods, he stated, while in the meanwhile the line is being kept in A 1 condition.

T. J. RIGNEY, K.C., crown counsel at the murder trials now under way at the courthouse. Mr. Rigney acted for the crown in the last trial.

CONDITIONS OF CONTEST GREAT HELP

Division of Territory and Two Grand Prizes Attractive To Many.

EXTRA VOTES POPULAR

The fairness with which The Advertiser's $20,000 Prize Contest is being conducted is appealing to the friends of candidates.

The division of territory and the allotment of prizes for each district, and the fact that there are two grand prizes—one for the City of London, and one for the country districts—have induced many to enter, who otherwise would not have done so.

The two grand prizes are identical in value. The one for the City of London is a McLaughlin Double Service Sedan, or $2,000 in cash. For the country districts it is a Hudson Coach, or cash. There are three automobiles given as first, second and third prize in each of the three districts, so that contestants work against other candidates in one district only.

Winners of any of the eleven automobiles also have the privilege of taking an equivalent in cash.

Extra Votes Help.

The 300,000 extra votes for every two yearly subscriptions will be a big boom to those already entered and to those who wish to make a whirlwind start.

If you secure only 14 yearly renewals it will give you more than 2,000,000 votes. You can secure them easily among your friends.

Then there are other big inducements. Two hundred dollars in cash will be given to the person who sends in the largest number of renewals.

There are other big inducements. Two hundred dollars in cash will be given to the person who sends in the largest number of renewals.

There are other big inducements. Two hundred dollars in cash will be given to the person who sends in the largest number of renewals.

There are other big inducements. Two hundred dollars in cash will be given to the person who sends in the largest number of renewals.

There are other big inducements. Two hundred dollars in cash will be given to the person who sends in the largest number of renewals.

There are other big inducements. Two hundred dollars in cash will be given to the person who sends in the largest number of renewals.

There are other big inducements. Two hundred dollars in cash will be given to the person who sends in the largest number of renewals.

There are other big inducements. Two hundred dollars in cash will be given to the person who sends in the largest number of renewals.

There are other big inducements. Two hundred dollars in cash will be given to the person who sends in the largest number of renewals.

There are other big inducements. Two hundred dollars in cash will be given to the person who sends in the largest number of renewals.

There are other big inducements. Two hundred dollars in cash will be given to the person who sends in the largest number of renewals.

There are other big inducements. Two hundred dollars in cash will be given to the person who sends in the largest number of renewals.

There are other big inducements. Two hundred dollars in cash will be given to the person who sends in the largest number of renewals.

There are other big inducements. Two hundred dollars in cash will be given to the person who sends in the largest number of renewals.

There are other big inducements. Two hundred dollars in cash will be given to the person who sends in the largest number of renewals.

CITY THEATRE WILL CHANGE OWNERSHIP IS REPORT

Famous Players-Lasky Corporation Rumored To Have Bought the Allen.

STORY IS DENIED

Toronto Manager States Deal For Local Playhouse Has Not Been Completed.

Notwithstanding persistent rumors to the effect that the Allen Theatre was about to be taken over by the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation, Toronto, Mr. Sedgewick, general manager of the corporation, in telephone conversation with The Advertiser, denied the story.

For some time past reports have been current in theatrical circles, both local and in Toronto, that the Allen was about to change hands, but no definite confirmation of the reports can be obtained.

It has been stated that within a few days there will be a change in the policy of the house. This lends strength to the rumors of a change in ownership and would seem to bear out the rumors.

A local theatre manager expressed himself as being confident that the theatre was being taken over by Famous Players, but beyond that could not make any statement.

City Clerk Sam Baker has notified Police Clerk John Moulde that it is now incumbent upon him to transfer to the city treasurer's department all money handed to him as bail for prisoners. This money must remain in the city coffers until an order of release comes from the police authorities, in accordance with a recent ruling from the city council.

City Clerk Sam Baker has notified Police Clerk John Moulde that it is now incumbent upon him to transfer to the city treasurer's department all money handed to him as bail for prisoners. This money must remain in the city coffers until an order of release comes from the police authorities, in accordance with a recent ruling from the city council.

City Clerk Sam Baker has notified Police Clerk John Moulde that it is now incumbent upon him to transfer to the city treasurer's department all money handed to him as bail for prisoners. This money must remain in the city coffers until an order of release comes from the police authorities, in accordance with a recent ruling from the city council.

City Clerk Sam Baker has notified Police Clerk John Moulde that it is now incumbent upon him to transfer to the city treasurer's department all money handed to him as bail for prisoners. This money must remain in the city coffers until an order of release comes from the police authorities, in accordance with a recent ruling from the city council.

City Clerk Sam Baker has notified Police Clerk John Moulde that it is now incumbent upon him to transfer to the city treasurer's department all money handed to him as bail for prisoners. This money must remain in the city coffers until an order of release comes from the police authorities, in accordance with a recent ruling from the city council.

City Clerk Sam Baker has notified Police Clerk John Moulde that it is now incumbent upon him to transfer to the city treasurer's department all money handed to him as bail for prisoners. This money must remain in the city coffers until an order of release comes from the police authorities, in accordance with a recent ruling from the city council.

City Clerk Sam Baker has notified Police Clerk John Moulde that it is now incumbent upon him to transfer to the city treasurer's department all money handed to him as bail for prisoners. This money must remain in the city coffers until an order of release comes from the police authorities, in accordance with a recent ruling from the city council.

City Clerk Sam Baker has notified Police Clerk John Moulde that it is now incumbent upon him to transfer to the city treasurer's department all money handed to him as bail for prisoners. This money must remain in the city coffers until an order of release comes from the police authorities, in accordance with a recent ruling from the city council.

City Clerk Sam Baker has notified Police Clerk John Moulde that it is now incumbent upon him to transfer to the city treasurer's department all money handed to him as bail for prisoners. This money must remain in the city coffers until an order of release comes from the police authorities, in accordance with a recent ruling from the city council.

City Clerk Sam Baker has notified Police Clerk John Moulde that it is now incumbent upon him to transfer to the city treasurer's department all money handed to him as bail for prisoners. This money must remain in the city coffers until an order of release comes from the police authorities, in accordance with a recent ruling from the city council.

City Clerk Sam Baker has notified Police Clerk John Moulde that it is now incumbent upon him to transfer to the city treasurer's department all money handed to him as bail for prisoners. This money must remain in the city coffers until an order of release comes from the police authorities, in accordance with a recent ruling from the city council.

City Clerk Sam Baker has notified Police Clerk John Moulde that it is now incumbent upon him to transfer to the city treasurer's department all money handed to him as bail for prisoners. This money must remain in the city coffers until an order of release comes from the police authorities, in accordance with a recent ruling from the city council.

City Clerk Sam Baker has notified Police Clerk John Moulde that it is now incumbent upon him to transfer to the city treasurer's department all money handed to him as bail for prisoners. This money must remain in the city coffers until an order of release comes from the police authorities, in accordance with a recent ruling from the city council.

City Clerk Sam Baker has notified Police Clerk John Moulde that it is now incumbent upon him to transfer to the city treasurer's department all money handed to him as bail for prisoners. This money must remain in the city coffers until an order of release comes from the police authorities, in accordance with a recent ruling from the city council.

City Clerk Sam Baker has notified Police Clerk John Moulde that it is now incumbent upon him to transfer to the city treasurer's department all money handed to him as bail for prisoners. This money must remain in the city coffers until an order of release comes from the police authorities, in accordance with a recent ruling from the city council.

City Clerk Sam Baker has notified Police Clerk John Moulde that it is now incumbent upon him to transfer to the city treasurer's department all money handed to him as bail for prisoners. This money must remain in the city coffers until an order of release comes from the police authorities, in accordance with a recent ruling from the city council.

City Clerk Sam Baker has notified Police Clerk John Moulde that it is now incumbent upon him to transfer to the city treasurer's department all money handed to him as bail for prisoners. This money must remain in the city coffers until an order of release comes from the police authorities, in accordance with a recent ruling from the city council.

City Clerk Sam Baker has notified Police Clerk John Moulde that it is now incumbent upon him to transfer to

INDIA IS DISAPPOINTED OVER PLANS OF VICEROY

LORD READING'S PROGRAM FAILS TO PLEASE INDIA

Liberals Urge Government To Establish Full Responsible Administration in Colony.

OFFICIALS CONFER

Delhi, India, Feb. 4.—Considerable disappointment is being expressed by Liberals and Independents over the speech from the throne read by the viceroy, Lord Reading, at the opening of the legislative assembly here over the British cabinet ministers' cautious pronouncements with regard to India in the matter of responsible government.

As an outcome of this disappointment, a conference has just been held between the viceroy and the Indian members of the legislative assembly, and non-Swarajists, with C. R. Das, leader of the Swarajists, the chief promoter of the conference. The viceroy, Lord Reading, and the Indian members of the assembly, including Mr. Das, were present at the conference.

There was also a round table conference of various committees and interests on the question of the establishment of responsible government. Mr. Das supported a resolution calling for responsible government, subject to the reservation that the army and the foreign political departments should not be transferred to popular control.

Aeroplanes Proving Worth As Means of Combatting Forest Fires In Northland

Renew Parley To End Strike

Canadian Press Despatch. Montreal, Feb. 4.—With the arrival of Andrew Steele, international officer of the United Mine Workers, who joined officials of the unions from Cape Breton, an attempt to settle the situation dealing up mining operations there was begun by a conference with officials of the British Empire Steel Corporation this morning. The miners' representatives go into the conference demanding a substantial increase in wages. As is usual with such conferences, no report will likely be handed to the press until the proceedings are over.

BISHOP'S DECISION TO END CHURCH WAR

Declaration Means That Belief in Apostles' Creed Obligatory on Clergymen.

Associated Press Despatch. New York, Feb. 4.—Conservative clergymen of the Protestant Episcopal Church today saw an end of the church's doctrinal struggle with the pronouncement of Bishop William T. Manning yesterday that belief in the apostles' creed was obligatory on clergymen of the church.

The bishop's statement, the first he has publicly made on the issues raised by modernist clergymen of the church, was regarded by some as tantamount to a declaration that any minister who would not subscribe to the tenets of the creed ought not to hold office in the church.

Particular interest attached to Dr. Manning's emphasis that affirmation of the virgin birth of Christ was an important part of the creed, as this doctrine has been declared by prominent members of the modernist group to be "unnecessary."

Acceptance of the creed in full, the bishop declared, was an obligation voluntarily accepted by all Episcopalian ministers before their ordination. It was not a question of liberty of conscience, he continued, but of whether those who accepted church offices were obliged to teach the faith held by the church.

BISHOP IS HERE.

The Lord Bishop of Keewatin this morning addressed a meeting of the Diocesan Women's Auxiliary on the work being done in the mission field of North Western Canada. The meeting, largely attended, was held in Bishop Cronyn Hall.

Meet JOHNSTON BROS. and Wear Diamonds. Use our Charge Account Plan. 206 Dundas Street, Next Allen Theatre.

WE WANT YOUR BUSINESS And We Will Serve You Right THE DAVIS INSURANCE AGENCY, LIMITED. 208 Royal Bank Bldg. Phone 776-W.

KEEP YOUR EYE ON YOUR EYES

The first duty of every parent is the health of their child. HAVE YOUR CHILD'S EYES EXAMINED. Don't Guess—Make Sure! Eyestrain is a heavy handicap to your child's progress at work or at school.

SEE F. STEELE London's Leading Optometrist. Dundas St. Opp. Loew's Theatre.

Short Term Bonds

Issued for either 1, 2, 3, 4 or 5 years.

5 1/2% per annum

The safety of ONTARIO LOAN DEBENTURES is assured by assets of $8,404,353 against liabilities for deposits and debentures of $4,045,572. Surplus security for depositors and debenture holders $4,358,781. We will be pleased to go into further details of the advantages of ONTARIO LOAN DEBENTURES.

THE ONTARIO LOAN & DEBENTURE COMPANY

"53 Years of Service" Dundas Street, Corner Market Lane, London. Manager, T. H. MAIN. Officers and Directors:

Alfred M. Smart, President. Charles R. Somerville, Vice-president. W. M. Gairshore, John M. Dillon, John G. Richter, Arthur T. Little.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH HAS KEY OF PEACE, SAYS PROFESSOR

Prof. G. A. Dorland of Western "U" Addresses Y.M.C.A. Fireside Meeting.

SOLIDARITY NEEDED

"Creation and maintenance by the Christian church of an international solidarity, as an effective means of promoting and maintaining world peace," was the solution of the present-day problem offered by Professor G. A. Dorland, of the University of Western Ontario, in an inspiring address delivered to an audience of young men at the regular Sunday afternoon fireside meeting at the Y. M. C. A.

Having pointed out that the church of the middle ages, with its large powers and influence, did to some extent, at least, establish an international solidarity of Christian ideals, which tended to prevent war by anything like a large force. The formation of national churches, however, altered the position of the church as a means of preventing war.

Professor Dorland said: "Patriotism became a religious duty, and there grew up the teaching that while certain things, such as murder, plunder and the like were wrong when committed by the individual, they were right and proper and even commendable when committed collectively as a state, for its own protection or advancement. This philosophy gained considerable headway in Germany previous to the war.

The meeting, which was well attended, was followed by a friendship tea, at which the members enjoyed a half hour of social fellowship. A pleasing feature of the program was a solo by Mr. Robertson.

MISS M'NAUGHTON TOO WEAK TO APPEAR

Concluded From Page 1.

will tell of the search made for the missing clothes of Russell Campbell. Case in Doubt.

Considerable doubt as to whether Clarence Topping will be tried for murder at the winter assizes which opened at the courthouse this afternoon, was forecasted by Mr. Justice Lennox, presiding judge, in his address to the grand jury. His lordship briefly outlined the case for the jurors, stating there was a possibility of their being called on to consider the evidence here being discharged from their duties, but not at the present time.

Whether Topping will be tried at this court depends entirely on the condition of Miss Viola McNaughton, who is recovering from bullet wounds in Victoria Hospital. Miss McNaughton is not well enough to give evidence at the present time, her physician Dr. Cameron Wilson states.

Elect Foreman.

After roll call the grand jury retired and elected Alexander Mcintosh foreman. On their return the jurors were sworn, after which they were charged by Justice Lennox.

In his charge he pointed out the importance of the duties of a grand jury in British judicial circles, urging them to fulfil, to their best ability, co-operating with the judge and petit jury, the full measure of justice.

"Perhaps at the present time to no part of Canada is the eye of the public turned as to London where serious and important questions are to be decided."

He referred to the Murrell case, stating that the grand jury had nothing to do with it, but that other criminal cases might be put to them to return a true bill or not.

Mr. Justice Lennox also outlined the duties of a grand jury in connection with public buildings and institutions. He stated that reports might sometimes be written in advance, but that sometimes things were not what they seemed. He urged that special attention be paid to sanitation and possibilities of escape in cases of fire.

Referring to the Topping case Justice Lennox stated that the crown would not place it before the grand jury immediately but that before it was discharged, it would be asked to deal with it.

"It is possible," he stated, "that the petit jury might be considered more important than the grand jury and I want to impress on the grand jury present, the importance of their position. They are the ones to decide whether their county is to be a law-abiding one or not, and this matter touches both county and country as a whole. It has been our boast that we could count on the rigid discharge of our duties by petit jurors."

"I have not the same confidence in petit jurors now as in past years," continued his lordship. "They do not stand as the same guard for the country as they used to and I don't know why." He recounted a case in which one man opposed to capital punishment defeated the ends of justice.

"No jurymen has the right to let personal prejudices influence him. He has sworn to God that he will fulfil his duties, and must do so. When petit jurors cease to carry out their duties we must do away with them."

"Jurymen must remember that the courts are a thing, consisting of the judge, grand and petit jurors. Take one away and the court collapses," he concluded. The personnel of the grand jury is Joseph Atkin, D. Beatty, Andrew Beatty, Charles Blair, William Chapman, Alexander Calder, Bert Logan, Alexander McIntosh, John Sutherland, Clinton Woodhouse, E. A. Sullivan, W. C. Poor and C. E. Wheeler.

W. Boss, called as a grand juror, was not present, and Mr. Wheeler, petit jurymen, was called to take his place.

Celestial Will Enter Plea That Great Grandfather's Name Omitted From Oath

Novel Defence Will Be Presented When Charge of Perjury Is Heard.

INSPECTOR COMPLAINS

Canadian Press Despatch. Windsor, Feb. 4.—When Ing Yick

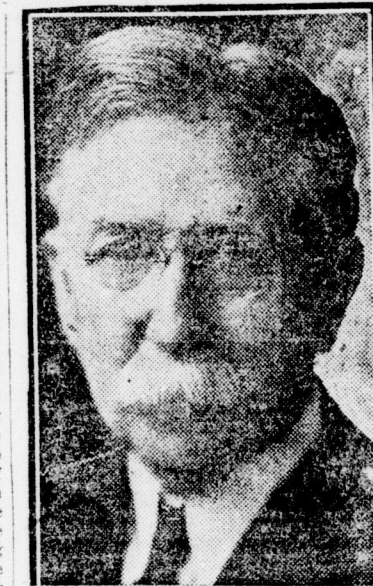

Ing, a Chinese, appears in Windsor police court next Thursday in answer to a perjury charge, Judge Gandy and court officials will learn something of the intricacies of administering the Chinese oath. Ing Yick Ing is charged by Orville Adams, immigration inspector, with falsely swearing to his possession of a passport in violation of the Chinese immigration act.

Probably Ing Yick Ing will fight the charge on the ground that he was not properly sworn when being questioned by the officer. For example, Ing too ka mild form of oath which is known among Chinese as the "burning oath." His fathers, grandfathers and great grandfathers' names were all written down on a slip of paper and burned by the immigration inspector when administering the oath.

Interpreting the oath to signify that Ing Yick Ing's soul would be forever in torture if he did not tell the truth. Ing Yick Ing's defence is expected to be that the oath was not properly administered, inasmuch that his great-grandfather's name was not written down on the paper that was burned. These familiar with administering the Chinese oath say that Ing Yick Ing should have been sworn under more binding procedure. They say that the highest oath is to cut off the head of a white rooster, reminding the person being sworn in that his soul will be sweeter to him than his body. The next most binding oath is the breaking of a saucer, which signifies that the person taking the oath will have his soul forever shattered if he deviates from the truth.

W. WILLIAMS FARM HOUSE DESTROYED IN NIGHT FIRE

Special to The Advertiser. Parkhill, Feb. 3.—The home of James McKean of West Williams was almost totally destroyed by fire last evening. The fire, when first discovered about 10 o'clock, had gained considerable headway. The neighbors immediately responded to a telephone millionaire oil operator, now testifying at Washington in the Teapot Dome case, declares that he paid large sums to W. G. McAdoo and Franklin K. Lane for private services after he retired from the Wilson cabinet.

EDWARD L. DORNEY,

alarm, but in spite of all their efforts the house was practically destroyed. They succeeded, however, in saving all the furniture. The cause of the fire is unknown.

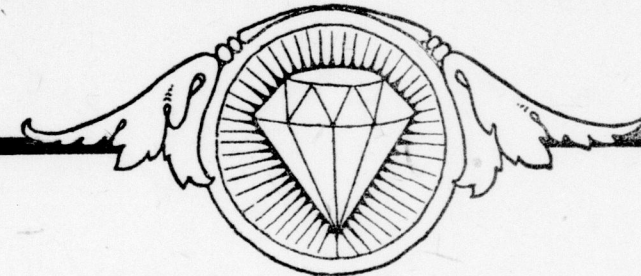

REVISION IS URGED OF THE GRAIN ACT

Edmonton Citizen Advocates a Complete Reorganization of Board of Commissioners.

Canadian Press Despatch. Winnipeg, Feb. 4.—Complete revision of the Canada grain act of 1912, which would include the reorganization of the board of grain commissioners, is the object of the Province of Alberta, declared George H. Van Allen of Edmonton here last night. He is here to attend the sessions of the royal grain inquiry commission as counsel for his province.

Mr. Van Allen said the Province of Alberta considered the twelve-year-old act obsolete, and advocates that in future the board of grain commissioners should be constituted as a court having a regular annual itinerary instead of sitting at Port William treating matters from long range.

"We shall also propose," said Mr. Van Allen, "that if the Dominion house feels it has not the legal competency to pass a revised act, such legislation as we have at present be supplemented by enabling provincial statutes to be passed so as to avoid all questions of unconstitutionality."

1864 - Diamond Jubilee Year - 1924

$2,900,000 Increase

The dependable "Old Huron & Erie" Mortgage Corporation

The Canada Trust Company (Under the control and management of the Huron & Erie) announce record increases for the past year

Huron & Erie Debentures

Issued in Canada
Issued in Gt. Britain

Total end of 1923

Increase

$11,504,000
2,226,000

$1,423,000

Savings Deposits

Guaranteed
Mortgage Certificates
Guaranteed
Trust Certificates

6,116,000

54,000

3,984,000

1,249,000

362,000

215,000

Total increase in four departments

$2,941,000

Assets

Huron & Erie
Canada Trust Company

End of 1923

Increase

$26,822,000

$1,655,000

15,253,000

2,036,000

Reserve Funds

Huron & Erie
Canada Trust Company

1,650,000
725,000

150,000
25,000

For the SIXTEENTH consecutive year the Huron & Erie had no real estate on hand—either directly or indirectly—other than office premises. The few properties which came into its possession during 1923 were sold outright to individuals who had no connection of any nature with this institution.

The absence of real estate on hand is the "acid test" of a mortgage or loan company's financial stability.

Huron & Erie Depositors and Debenture-owners have FIRST claim upon the Corporation's entire assets of over Twenty-six Millions of Dollars.

Surplus Security is now over $6,650,000.

The CONFIDENCE OF THE PUBLIC is the reason why such remarkable progress has been made during recent years by these institutions.

The HURON & ERIE MORTGAGE CORPORATION

"Older than the Dominion of Canada"

T. G. MEREDITH, K. C., President

Four Branches in London:

Richmond, opposite Post Office Market Square
Dundas, opposite Rectory
Corner Elmwood and Wortley

The CANADA TRUST COMPANY

"Faithful, Permanent and Impartial"

HUME CRONYN, General Manager

The Securities, Books and Accounts of both institutions are subject to annual inspection by Dominion Government Officials.

LONDON STREET RAILWAY WILL DECLARE SURPLUS

STREET RAILWAY SHAREHOLDERS TO GET DIVIDEND

Ivey Points to Improvements Made During the Past Year.

DECISION AWAITED

When the shareholders of the London Street Railway Corporation gather in annual session Wednesday they will hear the gratifying report that the road has shown a surplus during 1923.

In fact it is reported today by company authorities that it has been possible to pay the 5 per cent dividend to the shareholders and then have a substantial amount to go on with.

"We made a little during the past year," R. G. Ivey, vice-president of the company stated. "We paid our dividends of course at 5 per cent and then we have a few thousands over." The company stresses the fact also that considerable improvements were made during the past 12 months, new cars, rails, etc., all of which naturally necessitated additional expenditure. And in addition to this the city received the final payment for the Hamilton road track allowance, in accordance with the 1921 agreement and the first payment for its share of the Richmond, Epsom and Stanley street payments laid during 1923.

In the meanwhile the street railway issue, as far as the city is involved, remains "in statu quo" until the Ontario legislature considers the request from the city council to allow the company to pay its full share in ten annual installments.

FATHER-AND-SON WEEK IN CITY OPENS TODAY

Y. M. C. A. and Churches Co-operate To Bring Boy Closer to His Dad.

Today is the first day of Father and Son Week, a week considered by the churches of the city and the Y. M. C. A. as having the greatest influence in furthering the development of the boy in the direction of a good citizen and in consummating a closer friendship between the boy and his dad.

One of the features will be a confidential talk. This is being the greatest and most important of all the decisions included in the day's work. It is the golden opportunity for the fathers who are responsible for the welfare of their boys to explain to them all those conflicting facts and theories which have to do with sex education, for the lack of which so many fine boys are handicapped under the burden of a great handicap.

PUPILS ACTIVE.

A projection lantern has been secured for Talbot Street School through the activities of the pupils and teachers, and will be used for educational and recreational purposes.

20 Years Ago

In The Advertiser.

King Edward opened the British Parliament today amid pouring rain. "Holly-Tolly," the big musical comedy success, direct from Weber & Fields, New York, played to a capacity audience at the Grand Opera House last night.

Malden's Blush gives cheeks and lips that glowing and fascinating hue that the wind will not touch.—(Advertisement.)

An argument ensued at a meeting of the fire and light committee last night relative to the naming of the new steam fire engine. It was suggested that it be called "John A. Roe," in tribute to the late chief. Others held that as "Phoenix" was already painted thereon, it should be left, and the new chemical have the dead chief's name.

25 Years Ago

In The Advertiser.

"Have you seen the 'Society Cake-walk' the newest dance out? Sure to be very popular during the coming season."—(Advertisement.)

Ald. Pritchard, at a meeting of the fire, light and market committee, announced that he considered the street cars moved too fast, and that their speed should be restrained.

Principals' salaries were placed at $800, with increases of $20 per annum up to $1,000 for those in charge of six rooms or more, and $600 with increases to $700 for those in charge of less than a six-roomed school.

A woman, travelling from Hamilton to London, heard the conductor on the train pass through and state that London was the next stop. She picked up her valise and walking to the door jumped out, landing in a snowdrift. When the train stopped and she was found, she stated that she had never ridden in a train before, and that she thought the train was at London when she jumped.

The Bell Telephone Company offered the city $2,500 a year for a five-year exclusive franchise. There were 500 business subscribers and 550 dwellings.

GIRL IS CHARGED WITH OBTAINING MONEY BY FRAUD

Magistrate Adjourns Case of Violet Wimperis To Permit Further Inquiries.

PLEA IS CHANGED

A recommendation for adjournment, remand, suspended sentence, and a plea of guilty which was immediately changed to not guilty, featured the case of Violet Wimperis, 21, charged with receiving money under false pretences in police court this morning.

The affair was one of the most complex in recent police court history. J. M. McEvoy, K.C., appeared for the defendant. After a conference with his client he told the court the case had taken on an entirely new aspect. He volunteered to defend her because she told a different story to the one outlined at the court.

"I think probably this girl is guilty," Mr. McEvoy said. "She received $6 from two men. I paid one of them back, but if my client has made a practice of accepting money from men I may have to pay several of them. I would ask that she be discharged."

The court declared it couldn't discharge anyone on a criminal charge unless it were proven that the defendant were innocent or that she was mentally unbalanced.

Crown Attorney Albert Judd suggested she be examined by a physician, but Mr. McEvoy said Miss Wimperis wasn't bad enough for that. After much cogitation he asked that the girl be let out on suspended sentence.

"I never said that at all," the court declared. "Then, I'll change to plea of not guilty, with your permission," Mr. McEvoy said.

When the misunderstanding was finally corrected the case had made no headway whatever. Ultimately the court decided to adjourn it a week so a full inquiry could be instituted. Two men appeared to testify against the girl. A member of a local charitable organization was on hand in the young woman's behalf. She asked that Miss Wimperis be discharged, claiming her parents would look after her in the future, but the court could not admit this.

"If she is guilty she must be penalized," the magistrate stated, "but if she is found mentally incapable she must be protected."

The prisoner had been in jail all night, and appeared sick and ashen white in police court.

FEDERAL INCOME TAX FORMS REACH CITY

Inspector Tambling Points Out Forms Must Be Filled Out by April 30.

Federal income tax forms for individuals other than farmers and ranchers were received this morning at the local office of the department of income taxation, and are now available. The forms should be prepared in triplicate. One copy should be retained by the taxpayer and two copies must be delivered to the inspector of taxation, Carling Block, on or before April 30, to deliver the forms on or before April 30, explained this morning by Inspector George Tambling, calls for 5 per cent of the tax, payable with a return for a false return is, upon summary conviction, a fine not exceeding $10,000 or six months imprisonment, or both fine and imprisonment, and income tax forms T-1A for farmers and ranchers are not yet available, but it is expected they will be on hand in a few days.

APEX BOYS CONTINUE DISCUSSION ON 'THRIFT'

Hold Session in "Y" Last Night Following Their Gym Class.

Last night the subject for discussion was "Shall a Boy Save His Money?" The following questions under this heading were discussed by the boys. First: What are the reasons you save your money? What other reasons do folks give for saving? Which of these reasons are the ones which cause folks to be miserly? Which are justifiable? Of what worth to a boy is the habit of saving? Shall a boy save his money just to be saving? Two boys are saving, one just to be saving and the other to buy some special object. For which boy is saving the most important?

Those present last night were: Carl Beale, Arthur Dear, La Verne Fisher, Kermit Fisher, Ed. Barnes, Charlie Brereton, Leslie Bousden, Maurice Hobbs and W. H. Spearman of the "Y."

AIN'T IT A GRAND AND GLORIOUS FEELING
AFTER YOU HAVE WALKED TWO BLOCKS FROM YOUR PLACE OF BUSINESS TOWARD THE BANK TO MAKE A RATHER LARGE DEPOSIT
-AND, INSTINCTIVELY YOU FEEL IN YOUR INSIDE POCKET TO SEE IF EVERYTHING IS SAFE AND YOU FIND THE MONEY—GONE!
YOU RETRACE YOUR STEPS AS HURRIEDLY AS POSSIBLE

-AND YOU FINALLY REACH THE OFFICE IN A GREATLY WEAKENED CONDITION
SHAKING AT THE KNEES AND WITH TREMBLING AND NERVOUS FINGERS YOU OPEN YOUR DESK DRAWER
-AND THERE YOU FIND IT JUST AS YOU HAD LEFT IT, DEPOSIT INTACT AND EVERYTHING—OH-H-H-BOY! AIN'T IT A GRAND AND GLORIOUS FEELING?

SIR ADAM TO ACT IN CONFORMITY WITH GOVERNMENT

London Member Defines His Attitude With Respect to Street Railway Plan.

AWAITS APPROVAL

Apologies of the local street railway situation as it affects the city council and the Ontario legislature. Sir Adam Beck, M.L.A., stated today that he would be guided in his action by the general attitude of the government.

Through the medium of the city of London he is in a position to approve of their resolution, 1923, whereby the street railway company was to be allowed ten years in which to pay its share of the Richmond street and other paving projects of last year, and Sir Adam Beck was petitioned to lend his support on behalf of the city.

"I am a member of the government," Sir Adam stated today. "I am in a different position from an individual member of the House. I must be guided by the attitude of the government."

From this it can only be gathered that Sir Adam is willing to allow the company and the city to arrange their ten-year agreement, if it meets with the general approval of the House.

Obituary

MISS IDA HASKETT.
The funeral of Miss Ida Haskett, who died in Victoria Hospital Friday after a lingering illness, was held from the funeral home of George E. Logan & Sons yesterday afternoon. Interment was made in Woodland Cemetery.

Rev. James McKay. pastor of New St. James' Presbyterian Church, of Scotland.
ALEXANDER LAIDLAW.
The funeral of Alexander Laidlaw, who died on Wednesday, was held from the funeral home of George E. Logan, Charles Teffer, Elias Reynolds, E. Hurdle, John Craig, James Gilbert.

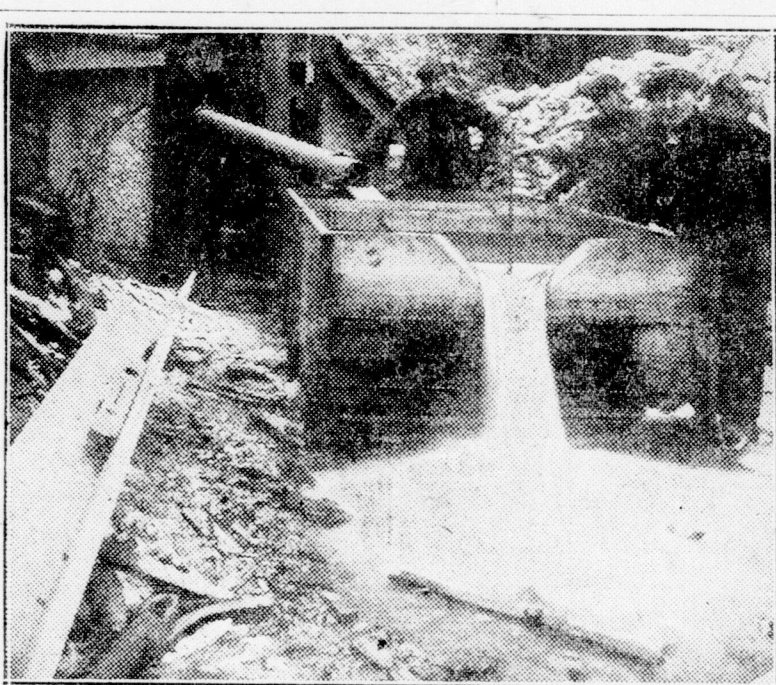

Mr. Laidlaw is survived by his wife and three daughters, Mrs. E. S. Letherly, with whom he lived at Glenora; Mrs. Lyman Cross of Croton and Mrs. E. T. Fellow of this city.

MISS FRANCES RANKIN.
Miss Frances Eleanor Rankin, died yesterday in this city, at the age of 55. The funeral will be held on Wednesday from the home of her sister, Mrs. E. E. Skuce, 40 Byron avenue, to Mount Pleasant Cemetery. Rev. Cosby Morris will conduct the services.

Miss Rankin is survived by four sisters, Mrs. T. Shere of San Francisco; Mrs. Eldon Smith of Muskegon, Michigan; Mrs. E. E. Skuce and Miss Sarah Rankin; and three brothers, Joseph H., Frederick and John.

DIRECTORIES OF INDIAN EXPORTERS NOW IN CITY

A number of directories of Indian exporters of Indian goods and products have come to the London Chamber of Commerce and are ready for distribution to any merchant wanting one, free of cost. These directories contain a full list of all exporters of Indian goods, and include every Indian product from curry powder to sheep skins. It is thought they may be of use to dealers in the city, such as wholesale grocery houses, and so on.

MEASURES IMPROVE FLOW.

The above photo shows the device used in measuring the improved flow obtained in the Beck wells at Ridout and Horton streets. During his stay here in connection with the London water survey, Engineer Card asked the public utilities commission to try out a new theory which he had arrived at in the improvement of established wells. Although the process which was used at the time cannot be divulged at present, the results obtained are worth noting. In one well which had formerly produced only 40,000 gallons daily, the supply was doubled, while a second well, which had given only 60,000 gallons, is now flowing at the rate of 500,000 gallons per day. The device pictured above is known as the miner's inch, and derives its name from a one-inch slot in the division between the compartments, which can be increased or diminished by a sliding rule. It is the amount of water passing through this inch slot while the water in the first compartment holds a constant level, that gives the calculated flow of the well.

UNEMPLOYMENT JUMPS ONE HUNDRED IN WEEK

Increase Attributed to Slackening of Work at Local Factories.

Unemployment has increased in London in the last week by about one hundred men, according to J. C. Spencer, superintendent of the London branch of the government employment bureau. He says this increase in the numbers of unemployed is probably due to a slackening on the part of some of the factories. He adds, however, that he is placing a few men on farms.

The man experienced at farm work who knows the duties thoroughly and who is willing to stay with the farmer through the summer and harvest, can always be placed without any difficulty. He says there are a few men coming in for this work now. The general weekly report for the whole province issued by the Toronto headquarters says:

"There is very little change in the industrial situation since the report of last week. Some offices state that conditions in their centers are showing signs of improvement; others report that there is not very much work now. The general weekly report for the whole province issued by the Toronto headquarters says:

AUSTRALIAN SENATOR ARRIVES IN CANADA

Canadian Press Despatch.
Halifax, N. S., Feb. 4.—Senator Reginald V. Wilson of Australia, arrived here yesterday from England on the White Star liner Doric and left for Ottawa, where he will confer with Premier King with regard to completing a trade arrangement between Australia and Canada.

FICTION SHEIKS NOT TRUE TO LIFE, MISSIONARY SAYS

Dr. Paul Harrison Dispels Popular Notions in Addresses Here.

ALWAYS CHEERFUL

The word "sheik" loses all its thrilling significance after addresses given in London yesterday by Dr. Paul Harrison, F.A.C.S., and medical missionary to Arabia.

"Sheik" as Dr. Harrison pronounces the word, isn't anything like the prevailing notion of "sheik" as it has been spread by moving picture and romantic fiction propaganda. The missionary, who is both a doctor and a humorist, creates an entirely new impression of "The Sheik of Araby." Dr. Harrison's sheiks don't take up their abode among layers and layers of silken cushions, after the fashion of the moving pictures, but in the meagre comfort of a camel's hair tent, and curlew's milk and dates are served instead of the fictitious diet of Turkish delight and rare old wines. The Bedouin's pocket is shallow, possibly more so than that of any race in the world. Dr. Harrison related, but he is rich in pride of spirit.

While they came to him readily enough for medical assistance, the doctor told his interested London audiences yesterday that he had to learn to make allowance for a rather contemptuous Arabian greeting with which they assuaged their resentment at accepting assistance from any one not of their faith.

To their loyalty to their own faith, Dr. Harrison paid a great tribute saying that the Bedouin, Mohammed, had worked out as fine a "Brotherhood of Man" as existed in the world.

One particular virtue possessed by the Arabians, in possibly a greater degree than any other nation, Dr. Harrison said, is their unflinching cheerfulness. The verb "to grumble" does not apparently belong to their vocabulary. If they seek heat and rains, they praise Allah, and if the day is one of blistering heat, they likewise praise Allah, rather than wallowing for the cooling drops.

Dr. Harrison's gift of humor scintillated throughout all his addresses. He spoke in the morning at the Robinson Memorial Methodist Church, in the afternoon at the University of Western Ontario, and at night in the First Presbyterian Church. In each case, his more serious reflections on the Arabian mission work were accompanied with amusing tales of his experiences with the sheiks.

APPROVAL OF BUREAU HINGES ON LOCATION

"Relief Exchange" Likely To Be Favored If It Is Placed in City Hall.

Should the question receive any consideration at tonight's session of the city council, it is more than likely that the proposal to establish a "confidential relief exchange" will be favored upon the understanding that it be located in the city hall.

SEPARATE SCHOOL STATEMENT FOR YEAR PRESENTED

Teachers' Salaries the Largest Expenditure During the Past Term.

MAKE IMPROVEMENTS

Disbursements of the Roman Catholic Separate School Board during 1923 were $23,594.68, according to the annual financial statement prepared by Rev. M. A. Brisson, secretary-treasurer, and Major Albert H. Murphy, chairman of the board. Teachers' salaries is the largest item in the statement, $22,411.50 having been expended in this regard. Fuel and gas used during the year cost $4,382.28, while $1,684.81 was spent for supplementary readers, maps, stationery and library supplies. Alterations and improvements were made in three schools at a total outlay of $6,842.70. St. Mary's School took the bulk of this amount with an expenditure of $4,844.45 for new steam heating equipment and other accessories. St. Angelo's College cost $398.35 during the year, and $1,599.90 was spent in improving the Sacred Heart School on Queens avenue.

An itemized account of receipts shows that City of London separate school taxes amounted to $43,060.69, while London and Westminster Townships contributed $741.91 and $168.40 respectively.

The value of school sites and buildings is now placed at $277,400 and assets in equipment and furniture are placed at $17,500.

The total assets are $295,525.32 and the balance of assets over liabilities is $222,532.78, which is regarded by trustees as a splendid showing.

The books have been audited by Auditors R. M. Burns and J. F. Nolan, and copies of the yearly statement were distributed to congregations in all the churches yesterday.

DOZEN FACE CHARGES FOR BREACHES OF O.T.A.

Aged Man Let Off With Promise To Appear Tomorrow.

A dozen charged with violation of the O. T. A. appeared in police court this morning, and, curiously enough, all but two were either dismissed or remanded. This constitutes a record for the year.

Five drunks appeared, two of whom pleaded guilty and were assessed $10 and costs. The remaining three were remanded.

Robert Irwin has been residing in the cells for the week-end, charged with keeping liquor in other than a private dwelling. On Saturday he strenuously denied his guilt. He is 77 years old, and asked the magistrate for permission to return home "to keep the fire going," fearing it had gone out. He had no money for bail but, on the suggestion of the court, offered his house at 175 Grey street, as security.

The old man was let off with the promise that he would appear again tomorrow.

Crown Attorney Albert Judd asked the court to adjourn the case of Samuel Silverstein until the end of the present winter assizes. Howard Crowe, who appeared for the defendant, also asked for an adjournment. This was granted.

COURT CANNOT REMIT TAX, STATES BENNETT

Commissioner Declares Revision Officials Have No Power to Exempt Students.

The members of the court of revision are vested with no power to remit the student's tax or exempt the students of the University of Western Ontario, according to City Assessment Commissioner H. J. Bennett.

The court retains no such authority, he states, although the members of the finance committee of the city council, at their last session, referred representatives of the chamber of commerce to that body.

The court could remit the tax upon the grounds of charity, however, the commissioner suggests, but insists that it has no power to give exemptions without the sanction of the city council. Nothing of that nature was forthcoming from the mayor and his associates.

GOVERNMENT MEN TO WATCH OVER IMMIGRANT BOYS

Federal Inspectors Will Be Appointed To See That Lads Receive Good Treatment.

HIGHEST TYPE NEEDED

That the federal government is taking definite steps to oversee the lives of young boys who are being brought out here from Great Britain is evidenced by the appointment of "Inspectors of British Immigrant Children," a new office in the civil service department.

W. Evans, secretary of the civil service commission, Ottawa, in a letter to the secretary of the London Chamber of Commerce says the commission is anxious to have the highest type of men in this work, realizing that the children brought out must be looked after with the greatest of care and tact.

The appointment and the qualifications required by the men to be appointed are outlined in the following civil service notice.

An Inspector of British immigrant children (man), for the juvenile branch of the department of immigration and colonization at Ottawa, Ontario, at an initial salary of $1,320 per annum, which will be increased upon recommendation for efficient service at the rate of $60 per annum, until a maximum of $1,680 has been reached. This salary will be supplemented by whatever bonus may be provided by law.

Duties: Under supervision, to visit and report on British immigrant children in homes and institutions in which they have been placed, to investigate the conditions prevailing in such homes and institutions and determine whether the children are receiving proper treatment, wearing apparel, food and education.

Qualifications required: Education equivalent to high school graduation, experience in investigation or supervision of a charitable or philanthropic nature, or the equivalent in business experience; quickness of perception, good judgment, tact, persistence and good address.

REV. H. A. KOEHLER GIVES INSPIRING ADDRESS

Answers Question, "Has God Gone Out of Business," in Sunday Sermon.

"Has God Gone Out of Business?" This was the question which Rev. H. A. Koehler asked and answered at a mass meeting held in the Patricia Theatre last night.

Starting his address, Mr. Koehler stated that it was nothing short of sacrilegious for one to ask whether God had gone out of business. Although he hid in the masses and their struggle for existence, he declared he was convinced that God retained his identity in the world, and evidenced this by the many discoveries of science.

"God is a man, and only to those who use His instruments, and that instrument is the church. We need to tune in with the messages that God sends to us through these instruments. God can communicate with us by this means, and we show, by nothing in this world can hinder Him from speaking to us."

"The things that separated the people in the past from direct contact with God," he concluded, "were sin, through the changing of His ordinances and fundamental laws. If this is true then we need only keep His Word, use the instruments through which we tune in, and nothing in this world can hinder Him from speaking to us."

COMMISSIONER TO JAPAN WILL SPEAK IN LONDON

A. E. Bryan, Canadian trade commissioner to Japan will be in London on February 28 and 29 and will speak to the chamber of commerce on the 28. Mr. Bryan who was born in Japan and speaks the language fluently has a most interesting story for the members. He will interview London manufacturers who are making any product suitable for export to Japan. He is returning shortly to the Orient.

ADJOURNED "SINE DIE."
The case of E. J. Buller who was charged with a breach of the war revenue act last week, was adjourned "sine die." Police Court Clerk John Muldoon announced this morning.

USE THIS—TODAY

Here is the form by which you may enter yourself or a friend in The Advertiser's $20,000 circulation drive.

THE LONDON ADVERTISER, London, Ontario.

Gentlemen:—Please enter my name in your $20,000 Prize Contest, and send me all particulars.

Name

Street

Town or City

Mail this coupon to the office of The London Advertiser today.

WILLIAMS ARRIVES IN CITY PREPARED TO TELL ALL

Melbourne Bank Bandit Confident He Can Prove Innocence—Health Improved.

WRITING SONGS NOW

"I Never Dreamed I'd Ever Get Jammed Up Like This," He Tells Reporter.

"Something has got to happen this time. If I travel these tracks back to Kingston, why it will be all right. If I have to stay in London till the end comes—well—that can't be helped either."

"If I'm guilty of murder, I should pay for it. I would expect to pay for it. I'm not though, and I can prove it."

The speaker was Henry Jack "Slim" Williams, Melbourne bank robber, who opened his heart to an Advertiser representative as the International Limited clicked off the miles between Woodstock and London Saturday night.

Very few people in the dimly-lit smoker realized that the young chap who shared the double seat at the forward end of the car with two husky police companions, was no other than the famous Melbourne bank robber, who was being hurried to London, to once more face a judge and jury on a murder charge.

Some Sensation.

"Gee, I'm glad to see you," said Williams, half rising from his seat and offering his free right hand.

"You're looking better. How do you feel?" asked the reporter.

"You couldn't expect a man to feel very good, going up against what I am next week," parried Slim. "Say boy, it's some sensation sitting in that prisoner's box. You haven't any idea what it's like?"

"How does it feel?"

"Just get yourself in the mess I'm in and you'll know fast enough," replied Williams.

"You're looking a lot better than you did last October. You were feeling pretty sick then, weren't you?"

"Yes, I was. I'm better now though, although I weigh just the same, 130 pounds."

"How old are you now, Slim?"

"Just 25," smiled Williams, taking off his blue-peak cap. "Look at those gray hairs. My head is full of them. I got some of them at the war, but I collected a lot at Kingston."

"How is everything at Kingston?"

"Just so-so. I saw Red Ryan the other day. I wasn't talking to him. He had some experience, didn't he?"

"You're looking a lot better than you did last October. You were feeling pretty sick then, weren't you?"

"Yes, I was. I'm better now though, although I weigh just the same, 130 pounds."

"How old are you now, Slim?"

"Just 25," smiled Williams, taking off his blue-peak cap. "Look at those gray hairs. My head is full of them. I got some of them at the war, but I collected a lot at Kingston."

"How is everything at Kingston?"

"Just so-so. I saw Red Ryan the other day. I wasn't talking to him. He had some experience, didn't he?"

"You're looking a lot better than you did last October. You were feeling pretty sick then, weren't you?"

"Yes, I was. I'm better now though, although I weigh just the same, 130 pounds."

"How old are you now, Slim?"

"Just 25," smiled Williams, taking off his blue-peak cap. "Look at those gray hairs. My head is full of them. I got some of them at the war, but I collected a lot at Kingston."

"How is everything at Kingston?"

"Just so-so. I saw Red Ryan the other day. I wasn't talking to him. He had some experience, didn't he?"

"You're looking a lot better than you did last October. You were feeling pretty sick then, weren't you?"

"Yes, I was. I'm better now though, although I weigh just the same, 130 pounds."

"How old are you now, Slim?"

"Just 25," smiled Williams, taking off his blue-peak cap. "Look at those gray hairs. My head is full of them. I got some of them at the war, but I collected a lot at Kingston."

"How is everything at Kingston?"

"Just so-so. I saw Red Ryan the other day. I wasn't talking to him. He had some experience, didn't he?"

"You're looking a lot better than you did last October. You were feeling pretty sick then, weren't you?"

"Yes, I was. I'm better now though, although I weigh just the same, 130 pounds."

"How old are you now, Slim?"

"Just 25," smiled Williams, taking off his blue-peak cap. "Look at those gray hairs. My head is full of them. I got some of them at the war, but I collected a lot at Kingston."

BACK IN LONDON.

"Slim" Williams, under guard, arrived in this city from Kingston early Saturday night. He is now in the county jail awaiting trial for murder. He told an Advertiser reporter that he felt sure he would prove his innocence.

to get it all off my mind, and then maybe I can rest.

"Say, if I ever get out of Kingston I'm going to Montreal and then to New York. That's the place to go, the boys tell me, and that's where I'll make tracks for. I won't stay there long. I want to get back to Australia. It seems a long way off now, but maybe I'll get home some day. I'm glad I've got no folks here. I wouldn't want them to know what a fix I'm in."

"Guess I'm counting my chickens before they are hatched, eh? I'm a long way from being out of this jam, but what's the use? I got to take my medicine, and I'm going to take it with a smile, even if the worst does happen. I'm not afraid, and they can't make me afraid to die. I seen too many fellows die in France to be afraid to go. That may sound funny to you, but it's God's truth."

Williams remained silent for a few minutes, gazing steadily out of the window. Some twinkling lights flashed into view and he jerked back into his seat.

"What lights are those?" he asked.

Prepares For Trip.

"Must be Ingersoll," answered County Constable James Gumb.

County Constable Ed. Guest, to whom Williams was handcuffed, began preparing for the trip from train to jail.

"Yes, I guess we'll soon be there," said "Slim," stretching his legs to the clanking of leg irons, which were placed on him at Kingston. "I wish the trial was over. I'll have to sit in that box with curious people staring at me and when we get out we'll go forward to state London East was but a few minutes away."

"Good-bye, Slim," said that bluff and hearty official, clasping the prisoner by the hand. "Luck to you, my boy. I brought you up last time from Kingston."

"Thanks," replied Williams. "I'll need all the luck in the world."

County Constable Gumb helped the prisoner into his heavy blue overcoat and asked him if he would like to finish a couple of doughnuts, the sole remains of the evening lunch.

"No thanks, but I would like a drink of water. Nothing like a drink of good, pure water, is there?" Just gave me a drink and I'll be all set for the trip to jail. Where do we get off?"

"We stop at London East. Everything has been arranged. I was talking to the operator at Woodstock," replied the genial conductor. "I guess we are just about at the station now."

Stops at East London.

The train slowed down and came to a halt amid screeching brakes. The coach stopped directly in front of the Rectory street crossing, and after shaking hands with The Advertiser man, Williams took short steps down the smoker to the clatter of steel chains.

"Good-bye," he said. "Don't forget to tell them that Mr. Gumb and Mr. Guest are the best fellows in the world. They couldn't have been better than they were. Did I tell you that Mr. Rigney (crown prosecutor) got on with us at Kingston? He spoke to me and gave me a smile."

"All right, I'll be careful I won't slip," went on "Slim," as he half stumbled from the train steps.

"Are you the right boy?" came the voice of Governor Byron Dawson out of the dark. The jailer was on hand with a big closed car backed up against the East London station.

"Hullo, governor, going to give us a ride down town?" asked The Advertiser.

"I should say not," came back the governor. "We are going to be full up on this trip."

The car shot away with Williams waving a farewell with his free hand. The trip to the jail was made in record time, and almost before the train had puffed to a stop in the main station Williams was safe in the big cell formerly occupied by his bandit companion, Sid Murrell. Sid is confined in a smaller adjoining cell and will be able to talk to Williams, whose old home at the Mid-dlesex Castle is occupied by Clarence Topping.

RYKOFF IS NAMED AS SUCCESSOR TO NIKOLAI LENINE

Becomes Head of Federal Council Commissars, Dominant Soviet Body.

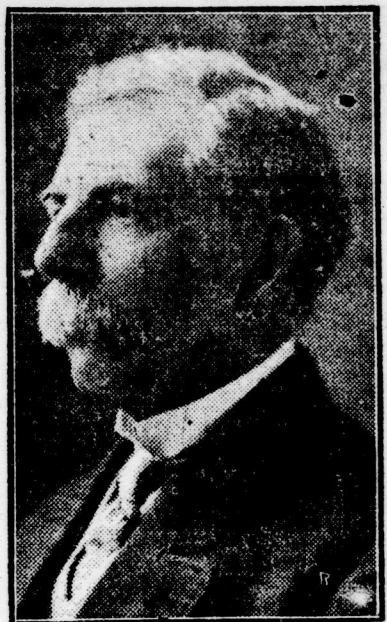

HAS FOUR ASSISTANTS

Associated Press Despatch.

Moscow, Feb. 3.—Official announcement of the appointment of Alexis Ivanovitch Rykoff as chairman of the federal council of commissaries, in succession to the late Nikolai Lenine, as the head of this dominant body was made yesterday.

Ivanovitch Rykoff will have four assistants, Leo Kamenoff, who also is chairman of the council of labor and defence; M. Thurpa, commissar of food supplies and chairman of the state planning commission; M. Chur-pur, chairman of the Ukraine council of commissars, and M. Orkalsvili, member of Georgia.

There are ten other federal commissars.

MR. JUSTICE LENNOX,

who will preside at the three murder trials this week, taking the place of Mr. Justice Riddell.

Lord Chancellor Refuses Salary

Gives Use of Official Residence To Lord Cave.

Associated Press Despatch.

London, Feb. 3.—The London Sunday Express states that Lord Haldane, lord chancellor in the Labor government, does not propose to draw his salary of £10,000 annually as lord chancellor, but will merely draw £6,000 as lord of appeal. He will also leave the official residence, to which he is entitled, in the occupation of Lord Cave, who was chancellor in the Baldwin ministry.

RAILWAY BOARD TO MEET FEB. 26

Several Assessment Hearings Slated For Session in This City.

The Ontario Railway and Municipal Board meets here Tuesday, February 26. The session will open at 10 a.m. at the Middlesex county courthouse, City Clerk Sam Baker announced.

Several assessment hearings are slated, including the appeal by the Smallman and Ingram and T. P. Kingsmill companies against the recent judgment handed down by Judge Talbot Macbeth that they should be subjected to an increased business assessment as departmental stores.

Messrs. Hyman and Jarvis are also appealing against the ruling of the court of revision, respecting debatable phases of their income assessment.

From the opinion of City Assessment Commissioner Harry Bennett, it would not be unexpected if the city council directed him to also appeal against the ruling by Judge Macbeth that the C. N. R. express department is not eligible for business assessment.

ATTORNEY ADJOURNED IN RESTAURANT CASE

Harry Crostus Claimed Free Meals, But One of Owners Calls Him a Nuisance.

Has a attorney for a restaurant owner the right to take his meals at a restaurant without paying for them?

This rather odd question confronted Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon at police court this morning, when Harry Crostus was charged with interfering with the operation of a local cafe.

Crostus, it is alleged, was given power of attorney by Mrs. Crostus and Mrs. Harris, two women who had entered partnership in a local eating establishment. It was necessary for him to sign checks, and, according to the charges, he refused to do so.

One of the owners of the restaurant, however, claimed that he was making a nuisance of himself.

A. R. Douglas, who appeared for Crostus, asked the adjournment be granted for a week. He explained the situation and declared that, in his opinion, Crostus should not be compelled to pay for any meals he took at the restaurant in question. Many other angles to the situation had to be taken account of, however, Mr. Douglas adding he was issuing a writ to wind up the partnership between the two women.

Owing to the complexity of things involved in the charge and the nature of the partnership which existed between the owners the court granted an adjournment.

DELEGATES FROM CITY INVITED TO MEETING

Urban School Trustees To Convene in Kingston From Feb. 26 to 29.

W. A. Tanner, secretary of the board of education, has received a letter from C. F. McBride, secretary of the Urban School Trustees' Association, announcing the annual convention of the association at Kingston from Feb. 26 to 29 inclusive.

The letter asks that delegates from the London Board of Education be sent to the convention, and Mr. Tanner states that it is probable that four or five London delegates will attend.

The delegates will be entertained at a twilight luncheon by the faculty of Queen's University on the opening day of the convention.

COMMITTEE TO MEET.

The audit committee of the board of education will meet tomorrow morning to pass on the board's accounts preparatory to the board.

TWO DIVERS WORK IN VAN TO LOCATE BODY OF CHALLIS

Hunt For Jack Challis Continues Throughout Saturday and Sunday.

HUNDREDS WATCH

After three days of diving and a week of grappling with irons by members of the fire department in the Thames, the body of little Jack Challis still remains hidden below the ice and water. The firemen, who were on the spot soon after the accident, and who labored from daylight to dark for three days, were aided on Friday, Saturday and Sunday by divers, who in their full equipment were better able to cope with the situation.

On Friday and Saturday Thomas James of 145 Bruce street, an experienced diver, donned the diver's uniform at considerable risk, owing to the fact that he had been gassed overseas, and made several descents. Sunday afternoon Mark H. Berry of 176 Richmond street, who has seven years of diving to his credit, and who has been for some years with the Hunt Towing and Wrecking Company of Sarnia, and with a wrecking company at Port Colborne, made three or four descents, and on the first occasion stood under water more than half an hour.

Meets Accident.

He was unfortunate in falling on his line just as he entered the water the first time, pinching it badly, which caused some delay. He traversed thoroughly the spot where the boy fell in, and would have been able to do more but for the fact that he lost one of his heavy iron boots out in the middle of the river. This was about 5 o'clock, and as it was impossible to get another immediately, he was forced to abandon the work for the day.

Mr. Berry was accompanied by his father, Captain Berry, who was for more than 30 years a diver, and who, though past 70 years of age, always mans the air pump when his boys go under water. Five or six hundred people witnessed the efforts of the diver on Sunday afternoon in spite of the wintry weather. They remained until the last shoe called a halt to the day's work. There was a great deal of favorable comment on the work of the diver under the very disagreeable weather conditions existing.

Weather permitting, Berry will resume his operations today. If it is freezing hard it is not likely he will go under.

Suit Is Loaned.

The diving suit and equipment worn by the divers was obtained through the courtesy of the Hunt Towing and Wrecking Company of Sarnia. The Advertiser, after it was apparent that all other means of finding the body were not likely to be successful.

Edward Challis, father of the drowned boy, expressed his gratitude for the work done by everyone concerned on behalf of his boy. He said: "Whether my boy is found or not, I can never say how much I am thankful to everyone for the work they have done. Everyone, the mayor, the firemen, the divers and the chaps who manned the air pump have been wonderful."

A pair of black woolen mittens similar to those worn by the boy were found yesterday afternoon at the dam. It was thought at first that they belonged to the lost boy, Mrs. Challis, however, said they were not his.

Mary Berry would have gone down again two, but was called away on business early this morning, and will not be back until the end of the week. It is expected that by tomorrow the body could rise to the surface. The men of the fire department continued their efforts today on the ice in spite of the bleak weather. During the searching operations there has been some trenchant criticism by many bystanders on the position of the city in such cases as these. It is felt that there should be a diving suit, a pontoon from which the diver could descend, and a couple of reliable men to man the air pump. It is also pointed out that there are quite a few men living permanently in the city who are perfectly capable of doing any diving that might be necessary. They might be retained and their expenses paid by the city.

HAYDEN IS AGAINST DISMISSING OFFICIAL

Urges Fair Hearing For Relief Inspector McCallum in Bureau Plans.

Ald. Edmund Hayden insists that the city council is not going to relieve any city official or employee of his duties "just to make a position vacant for some one else."

Appropos of proposal to inaugurate a "confidential relief bureau," Ald. Hayden agrees that the move would be desirable but he is not in favor of any suggestion to take the control of the city's share of the finances, from the hands of Relief Inspector McCallum or in fact from any of the city authorities involved now in that work.

Inspector McCallum is not performing his duties," let the council remove him. Ald. Hayden stated. "But let him have a fair hearing. We are not going to throw him out with my vote just on hearsay or to get a job for some one else."

MEMBERS TO DISCUSS SCHOOL PLAN TONIGHT

Deputation of Last Ratepayers Will Oppose Converting Tech. Into High School.

Tonight's meeting of the vocational advisory committee of the board of education promises to be one of the most interesting in the history of that body.

Prominent on the agenda, and one that will probably occupied the greater part of the evening, is the discussion on the conversion of the Technical High School into a Vocational Collegiate, as suggested at a special meeting of the board in order to relieve the secondary school congestion.

Dr. F. W. Merchant, inspector of education, is expected in the city on Wednesday in order to conduct an investigation as to the feasibility of the plan.

Ratepayers of East London, however, are strenuously opposed to any such plan and feel that they are entitled to a new collegiate. As a result of an indignation meeting held last week, a strong deputation will visit the vocational committee tonight, and urge them to combat the scheme.

TOTAL MOUNTING.

The February building record is steadily mounting, with permits issued to date, from the first of the month for work estimated at $11,200.

GROWERS' WILL MEET.

The London Fruit Growers' Association will meet at the department of agriculture office Thursday afternoon and will be addressed by Prof. Bell on "fertilizers for orchards."

YOU THE CAR THE OTHER FELLOW

WHEN IT COMES TO GETTING TOGETHER, THE London Appleby Plan Motomart

is the place. There all get a square deal—you in return value for the transportation unit you are selling, the other fellow in full value for his investment and the car in being given a guaranteed certificate.

How It Operates For You

Your car is appraised at its full market value—every penny the public will pay.

From this is deducted a nominal charge for handling it—10 per cent.

There also is deducted the cost of putting it into Standard Motomart condition—value received for the man who buys it.

You are given a warehouse receipt for the net amount. If you wish to buy a new car your dealer will accept the warehouse receipt. If you wish to borrow on it certain sources accept it as good collateral. As soon as the car is sold the warehouse receipt comes back and the cash is delivered.

What Happens to the Car

It goes to the dealer who handles that particular make and he puts it in first-class condition. Naturally he is eager to make friends for his make of car and therefore is certain to give it careful attention. It comes back with a guarantee of performance.

When the Other Fellow Comes

He finds your car with the price marked in plain figures. He knows this represents the full value—the actual worth of the unused transportation originally built into your car and he has the London Appleby Plan Motomart's guarantee that it will deliver that transportation. He buys in confidence.

All benefit because, for the first time, the merchandising of Used Cars is on a HIGH PLANE. And it is accomplished through the fact that the

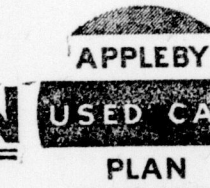

London Appleby Plan MOTOMART

is a part of a National Organization,

A PURELY PUBLIC INSTITUTION,

and is able, therefore, to give to the public all THE ADVANTAGES that accrue from such an association.

We want you to become acquainted with

LONDON USED CAR MOTOMART

TELEPHONE 7031

127-129 Queen's Avenue—Just West of Postoffice.

"NOT USED CARS—UNUSED TRANSPORTATION"

Copyright, 1923.

Everybody's Medicine

Beecham's Pills may be taken with perfect safety by young and old. Everybody needs something at times to help the digestive organs. Everybody will find benefit in Beecham's Pills. They aid the digestive organs.

BEECHAM'S PILLS

Sold everywhere in Canada.

Largest Sale of Any Medicine in the World

Cypress One of Oldest Trees.

Cypress is one of the oldest known trees. It dates back to mythological times. Its floral meanings are despair, mourning or sorrow.

HOME HYGIENE EXAMINATION RESULTS ARE ANNOUNCED

Members of Lord Kitchener Division Make Splendid Showing.

NEW CLASSES BEGINNING

Home Nursing and Maternity Nursing Will Be Taught During Coming Weeks.

Results of the recent examinations in first aid and home hygiene taken by the classes of the Lord Kitchener Division No. 28, St. John's Ambulance Corps, were announced this morning by Miss Ella Davis, superintendent of the division. The results show that the pupils, who have been studying for weeks past under the lecturers provided by this division, have been most successful. Following classes in home nursing and maternity nursing are now being filled and registration closes this week. The classes are conducted every Tuesday in home nursing and every Thursday in maternity nursing, in the division rooms on Talbot street, the best possible lecturers being procured.

The results of the recent examinations are as follows: First aid, with Dr. F. R. Clegg the lecturer and Dr. B. M. Keiller the examiner—Miss Thelma Bamford, Miss Florence Baldwin, Miss Alice Brown, Mrs. Erma Cotter, Miss Agnes Clarkson, Miss Lillian Field, Mrs. Edith Furlonger, Mrs. Jessie Heimbecker, Miss Letitia Kettle, Miss Myrtle McMillan, Miss Kathleen Munroe, Miss Margaret Moran, Miss Florence Reid, and Miss Kathleen Thorpe.

In the first re-examination in first aid for the medalion, the following were successful: Mrs. Emily Churcher, Mrs. Mary Dodd, Miss Margaret Fuller, Mrs. Blanche Forsyth, Mrs. Jean Lawton, Mrs. Emma Morgan, Miss Myrtle McMillan, Mrs. Ella Marsh, Miss Margaret Sutherland.

Further re-examination in first aid for the label resulted in the following successful candidates: Mrs. Mary Astles, Mrs. Alice M. Broderick, Miss Eleanor Davis, Miss Georgina Hoffman, Miss Margaret Hill, Miss Mary Moore, Mrs. Iva J. Mills, Mrs. Ada Mason, Mrs. Ella Marsh, and Mrs. Mary Routledge.

Bodice-Top Skirt.
New York, Feb. 2.—The skirt with a bodice has returned to style today. It is being purchased for wear with the short jacket by women preparing for the Florida and California resorts.

Flesh Satin Slippers.
New York, Feb. 2.—Flesh satin makes up an attractive pair of the newest evening slippers to be worn with nude hose.

Danny Finds Five Baby Mice in Their Nest in the Great Man-Bird

By THORNTON W. BURGESS.

The morning that the men went to hunt for the home of Trader the Wood Rat to get back the nuts and bolts and screws so much needed to repair the great man-bird Danny and Nanny Meadow Mouse did not go back under the stump where they were in a habit of spending their days. No, sir, they didn't. They remained right there in their nest in the little cupboard in the aeroplane. Danny had been sitting there for the first hint of daylight. But Nanny had said that she wasn't going. Danny couldn't understand it. Always Nanny had been the one in the greatest hurry to leave, anxious to get away before the arrival of the men for their daily work.

"Not going," replied Danny. "Did I hear you say you are not going?" "Yes, my dear, you heard me say I am not going," replied Nanny. "But what are you going to do?" demanded Danny.

"Stay right here of course. Now run along. When you come back you will find me right here and no one will be any the wiser," was Nanny's reply. Danny didn't know what to make of it. He couldn't understand it at all. He actually did start off. He didn't go to their day home under the stump. Instead he started over to call on Trader the Wood Rat. But on the way he caught a glimpse of Gray Fox and promptly hid. He remained a long time, not daring to come out. It was just as he made up his mind that the way was clear that he heard voices of men. They passed very close to his hiding place and they went straight toward the home of Trader. Danny didn't think anything about this at the time. But when he got where he could see what was going on he discovered to his dismay that those men were tearing the home of Trader back to pieces. He started to run back at once to tell Nanny. But curiosity got the better of him. He wanted to see what would happen to Trader the Wood Rat.

ENGAGEMENTS

A charge of 75 cents for one insertion, or $1.50 for two insertions. In case of notices under this heading. Orders for insertion of engagements must be sent to the publisher and address of sender and will not be taken over the telephone.

MISS MARY PECK, of Springfield, Mass., is engaged to Gene Sarazen, golf star.

CHILDREN'S FREE CLINIC OPENED AT ST. JOSEPH'S

The Catholic Women's League Initiates Move in Interests of Child Welfare.

The Catholic Women's League, under the convenship of Mrs. J. J. Rouch, have launched a new venture, which is filling a need which has been felt for some time past. A free clinic for children has been opened in St. Joseph's Hospital in charge of Dr. W. J. Tillmann and Dr. H. Little, and will be held every Thursday morning from 10 to 12. A clinic has been held in connection with Victoria Hospital for some time past, and the members of the league, realizing the need of another one in the north end of the city, are responsible for the clinic which opened last Thursday morning. There was a small attendance, as the opening was not made public, but it is expected that in future a large number of parents will take advantage of this splendid offer and take their children. Children of any denomination may attend.

Fashions by Wire

Special to The Advertiser. Copyright.
Paris, Feb. 2.—Soulie has created a sensational spring fashion by a combination of straw and fur. One hat by this designer, with a crown and brim of soft, light straw standing up behind, has the wide brim bordered with a thick band of black fox.

The Newest Lace.
London, Feb. 2.—Included in the list of new laces is a lovely one in black and cream, the foundation being cream and the pattern black. Lace overdrresses made of this material are worn over slips of peach or cornflower satin.

But on the way he caught a glimpse of Gray Fox and promptly hid.

home and escape. That was a relief to Danny. But the men didn't stop tearing that nest apart until there was nothing more to tear. They didn't seem in the least disappointed over not finding Trader. In fact, they seemed in the best of spirits when at last they climbed down out of the tree, and the whole party started toward the great man-bird.

Danny scampered ahead of them. He scampered just as fast as those short legs could take him. He must get there first. He must get Nanny out of that great man-bird before those men got there. Having seen what they had done to Trader's home, Danny was filled with fear of what they might do to their home. Into the aeroplane he scrambled and poked his head into the little cupboard where their nest was. "Come, Nanny. Come right away," he panted in his squeaky, little voice. "I'm not coming," replied Nanny very softly. "I can't leave here. I told you this morning I was going to stay here."

"What nonsense!" cried Danny. "Nanny creep close to Danny and whispered in one of his funny little ears. "What? What—what?" gasped Danny as if he had once more lost his breath. "It's true," replied Nanny happily. "And we've got to keep it a secret. There are five, Danny! Just think of it, there are five!" (Copyright 1924 by T. W. Burgess.)

The next story: "Fearful but Happy."

WOMEN and THE HOME

Social and Personal

Mr. Morell Blackie, Victoria street, is spending a few days in Ottawa.

Mrs. R. H. Cronyn, Waterloo street north, entertained this afternoon at bridge.

Mrs. Russell Croden, Waterloo street, was a bridge hostess Friday afternoon in Sarnia.

Mrs. R. K. Cowan, Hayman Court was the hostess of a bridge, Friday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Boyd, Waterloo street, were recent guests with friends in Sarnia.

Mrs. A. J. Goodall will be the hostess Thursday of a luncheon at the Highland Golf Club.

Miss Agnes Malloch returned to town Saturday after spending the past month in Detroit.

Miss Helen Davey, Ridout street, will be the hostess of a dance on Friday night of this week.

Miss Minnie Cox of Ottawa spent last Thursday and Friday with Mrs. W. G. Young, Colborne street.

Mrs. A. J. Goodall was the hostess recently of a bridge given at her home on Beacraft avenue.

Mrs. J. C. Duffield, Queen's avenue, is entertaining at bridge and mah-jongg tomorrow afternoon.

Miss Nellie Harris, Colborne street, is entertaining at a small luncheon at the Hunt Club on Saturday next.

The Meds are arranging an informal dance to be held in the Medical School auditorium Friday evening.

Mrs. Arthur Souster of Boston has returned home after spending a few days with Mrs. Grieron, Thornton street.

Mrs. W. N. Humphries was the hostess this afternoon of a mah-jongg party given at her home in St. James street.

Miss Eleanor Robinson has returned home after spending the past week in Toronto, the guest of Miss Helen Gibson.

Miss Isabel Lucas of Sarnia, was a week-end guest with her brother, Mr. Ford Lucas and Mrs. Lucas, Central avenue.

Miss Genevieve Overend entertained at Mah Jongg and bridge Saturday evening at her home in Waterloo street.

Mrs. Charles Sweet is entertaining at three tables of bridge Wednesday evening in honor of Mrs. Wismer of Gore Bay.

Dr. Paul Harrison of New York, formerly of Arabia, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Moorehouse Grand avenue.

The regular quarterly meeting of the Child Welfare Association is being held Wednesday afternoon at 4:15 at the Y. M. C. A.

Mrs. Hare of Nassau, the Bahamas (formerly Miss Molly Brown), is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Brown, Talbot street.

Mrs. C. R. Ead, president of the Alma Dufferin Association, is spending her home on Dufferin avenue tomorrow evening for the annual meeting.

Mrs. Hampson of Hamilton, is coming to town this week and will be the guest of her cousin, Mrs. Thomas H. Purdon, Waterloo street.

Mr. and Mrs. William Stone, Lion street, entertained recently in honor of their son Harold, who is leaving shortly for Moncton, N. B.

Mrs. Boehmer and daughter Dorothy of Kitchener were week-end visitors in town, guests with Mrs. May McColl, Cynthia street.

Mrs. W. E. Robinson was the hostess last week of a charming dinner party given at her home on St. James street. Covers were laid for twelve.

Mrs. H. A. K. Drury of Winnipeg who is visiting her sister, Mrs. James Boucher, Richmond street north, is leaving in a few days for St. John, N. B.

Class '14 of Western Ontario University held a happy re-union party at the arts building last week, the evening being spent in fortune telling and dancing.

Miss Phyllis Young and Miss Minnie Reid of Hensall were week-end guests at the home of the latter's brother, Mr. J. D. Reid and Mrs. Reid, South London.

Miss Mary Granger, Dufferin avenue, will be the hostess for Wednesday night's meeting of the University Players' Club, when the members will study Russian plays.

Mrs. F. E. Black of Sackville, N. B., who has been visiting in Philadelphia, is returning to town today and will be the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Douglas Weldon, Hayman Court.

Mrs. Charles Osmond Spettigue (formerly Miss Gertrude O'Dell) will receive for the first time since her marriage at her home 8 Drake boulevard Wednesday, Feb. 6, from 3 to 6 o'clock.

Professor J. W. Russell and Mrs. Russell chaperoned a jolly party recently, when members of Arts '24, following the Friday evening of the ball game returned to the arts building for supper.

Mrs. Douglas Weldon will receive for the first time since her marriage Wednesday, Feb. 6, at her home in Hayman Court. Her mother, Mrs. F. E. Black of Sackville, N. B., will receive with her.

Mr. and Mrs. Rawlinson, who have been spending the winter with their daughter, Mrs. J. Burnham, Longview, are leaving next Monday for California, where they will make their home in future.

Among the Londoners are attending the concert at Macdonald Hall, Guelph, Friday evening were Mr. and Mrs. E. R. White, Miss Eleanor Robinson, Mr. Stanley Raymond, Mr. Cowley and Mr. King Boughner.

Miss Evelyn Hayman, who is attending Macdonald College, in Guelph, will spend the coming week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Hayman, Hayman Court, bringing home with her Miss Helen Southcott of St. Catharines and Miss Esther Mann of Vancouver.

The home of Mrs. Page, Egerton street, was the scene of a happy gathering on Friday last, when about 40 friends gathered there to show Miss Alice Madge a popular bride of this month. During the evening, the guest of honor received numerous pretty gifts. A vocal solo by Master Woodrow Ward was very much enjoyed by the gathering. At the supper hour Mrs. Page was assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Willis and Miss Griffiths.

popular songster in an "Ironing Day" special program.

10:25 a.m.—Official weather forecast.

11:55 a.m.—Arlington time.

3:00 p.m.—The Detroit News Orchestra.

3:20 p.m.—Official weather forecast.

3:35 p.m.—Market reports.

7:00 p.m.—The Detroit News Orchestra; vocal numbers by Thaddeus Wronski.

Special Program—Toronto Star—400 Metres.

5 p.m.—New Symphony Orchestra concert from Massey Hall. Paul Wells, pianist, assisting artist.

8:15 p.m.—The Messiah, sung under the leadership of Dr. Broome, from Central Methodist Church.

KYW—Chicago, Ill.—560 Kilocycles, Frequency—536 Metres, Wave Length.

Central Standard Time.

9:30 a.m.—Late news and financial comment. (This service is broadcast every half hour during the twenty-four hours.)

10:30 a.m.—Farm and home service.

11:35 a.m.—Table talk.

2:30 p.m.—Studio program.

4:30 p.m.—News, market and sport summary.

5:50 p.m.—Children's bedtime story.

7:00 to 7:30 p.m.—Dinner music.

8:01 to 8:28 p.m.—Program furnished by the American Farm Bureau Federation.

8:30 to 9:30 p.m.—Musical program.

FOUNDER ORGAN COMPANY

REPORTED SERIOUSLY ILL

Special to The Advertiser.

Clinton, Feb. 2.—William Doherty, one of the best known men in Western Ontario, lies in a serious condition at his home here. Grave fear is expressed by his physicians for his recovery, and all the immediate members of the family have been called to his bedside.

Mr. Doherty, who was the original founder of the Doherty Piano Company, has for many years been actively engaged in Clinton's behalf, but of late has been forced to relinquish all activities because of failing health. He is 84 years of age.

7:15 p.m.—7:45 p.m.—Arthur Murray of New York City—Second of series of dance lessons.

7:45 to 8:15 p.m.—Addresses, "Purpose of the National and State Forestry Association. Conservation by Legislation."

8:15 p.m.—Discussion of national aspects of transportation by leading railroad executives at the evening session of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, midwinter convention, Philadelphia, Pa.

WWJ—Detroit, Mich.—400 Metres—580 Kilocycles.

Eastern Standard Time.

9:30 a.m.—"Tonight's Dinner" and special talk by the woman's editor.

9:45 a.m.—Fred Shaw, pianist and

ATTACKS MAN'S AVERSION TO DRESSING-UP NOWADAYS

Scores Young Man's Habit of Wearing Dinner Coat and Black Tie in Place of Cutaway—Points Out He Is the Man of the Future.

MEN IN OLDEN TIMES TOOK TROUBLE TO DRESS

By JULIA HOYT.
I fear that the remarks I am about to make on the subject of dress for men will not increase my popularity with them, inasmuch as I am going to be adversely critical. I can quite clearly hear some of their comments if they happen to read this article—or if their wives read it to them! But in spite of my conviction of the gentlemen's probable unfavourable remarks, I am determined to say that I think most men are becoming extremely careless in their dress and general attention to their appearance.

The question of the correct dress for men here is rather less clearly defined than in other countries; and also less clearly defined than it used to be in this country. Just the other night a foreigner who was taking tea with me amused me by asking in great distress whether he should wear a white or black tie at a dinner which was to be given that evening. He said he had not yet gone to a dinner at which all the men were dressed alike; that there seemed no way of knowing whether to wear a dinner coat or full dress. He said: "In Paris it is very easy, because from the beginning of the winter season until after the Grand Prix, which takes place in June, the white tie is always worn without question. In London very much the same thing holds good, but white ties seem to be worn less and less here."

Not Important Enough.
The very young man of today rarely seems to consider the occasion important enough to demand full dress. I think that a pity! In fact, I think it is too bad that men pay so little attention to their clothes here as they do. One rarely sees a cutaway and top hat, and yet there is nothing smarter or better looking than a well tailored cutaway and top hat.

London is the mecca for men's clothes, just as Paris is for women's. When one arrives in London one is struck by the good looks of the men. And it is merely that they take more trouble about their appearance. Certain men have lately taken the attitude that it is effeminate and unnecessary to "dress up," as they call it. We have only to look back through history, however, to realize that during years when men were certainly anything but effeminate in action they were extremely particular about their appearance.

Even if we grant there may be

3,000,000 Blind People.

It is computed that there are 3,000,000 blind people in the world. Facts are difficult to believe in this instance, and Canada has her share to support.

dressing for the evening is worth the trifling effort it entails. (Copyright 1924, in U. S. and Canada by North American Newspaper Alliance.)

ARRANGE DINNER PARTY FOR "Y" SECRETARIES

Clubroom at "Lenmore" Scene of Enjoyable Event on Saturday Night.

The clubroom at "Lenmore," the Y. W. C. A. residence on King street, was the scene of an enjoyable dinner party on Saturday night, arranged by Miss Morton, general secretary of the local Y. W. C. A., for the "Y" secretaries. Guests of honor were Mrs. Donald McLean, president of the association, and Mrs. C. B. King, past president of the association. The dinner table was attractively arranged with tulips, while valentine decorations were used effectively about the room.

Informal after-dinner speeches were a feature of this interesting little social event, the aim of which was to give the secretaries an opportunity of meeting together in a social way. Those present were Miss Sutherland of the Wellington Street Y. W. C. A.; Mrs. McIntyre and Mrs. Haining, travellers' aid secretaries; Miss Edith Wynne Pryce, physical work secretary; Miss Helen d'Avignon and Miss Beatrice Brown, girls' work secretaries; Mrs. Henry, "Lenmore" House secretary; Miss McLeod and Miss Robertson, office secretaries.

MONTREAL COMPANIES AGAIN ADVANCE PRICE OF SUGAR

Canadian Press Despatch.
Montreal, Feb. 2.—Following two increases of 10c per 100 pounds each last week, the price of refined sugar was advanced another 10c to $10 a 100 pounds by all companies here Saturday.

HOUSEWIVES' COLUMN

Would you rather have a hundred people give you one dollar each, or one person give you ten dollars?

I think most of us would prefer the hundred dollars. It's just the same way with Dominion Store profits. Each of the 300 Dominion Stores sells a lot of groceries at a very small profit on each sale. The result is that a million customers a week buy at our red front stores and the little profits add up into the biggest retail grocery business in Canada.

That's good for us—and good for you. You pay less for your groceries and our business keeps on growing bigger and bigger as more and more thousands of Canadian housewives discover that the surest way to steady savings is to buy regularly from the Dominion Stores.

It's a good thing to remember, too, that Dominion buying experts buy our high quality foods in enormous quantities—and therefore at surprisingly low prices. So you see why the prices tags on Dominion Store shelves are so low. We buy for less and sell at a very small profit indeed.

Thousands of careful Canadian housewives have proved to themselves that Dominion Store savings help them feed their families for less. They keep a record of their food expenditures. Then at the end of each month they add up their food costs and see how they actually came out.

They find that regular buying at their Dominion Store saves them three to ten dollars a month.

Aunt Martha
DOMINION STORES LIMITED
Canada's Largest Retail Grocers

Shave, Bathe and Shampoo with one Soap—Cuticura Cuticura Soap is the formula for safety and economy

Can You Afford To Speculate?

EVERY time you buy something you are either speculating or making a definite investment.

Few people can afford to speculate. Yet many do it continually, in making their every-day purchases. And it is so unnecessary! The advertisements make it easy for anyone to avoid taking a chance.

The merchant or manufacturer who advertises, realizes that the goodwill of his customers means money in the bank to him. He knows that public confidence in his product and public respect for his own character are as valuable as his credit at the bank.

So he makes the individual satisfaction of his patrons, their loyalty and their friendship paramount issues in his business.

When you buy an advertised product, you can know in advance what to expect in return for your money. You can count on its being right. You are making an investment.

But when you buy nameless, unbranded merchandise you are taking a chance. You are speculating.

KNOW WHAT YOU BUY. THE ADVERTISEMENTS WILL TELL YOU.

For Half a Century the Standard, Successful Treatment
Dr. CHASE'S OINTMENT

Caracul fur, now so much in demand for garments and trimming, is really lambskin. The kind used for fine furs are mostly from Russia and Mongolia.

§§§§§§§§§§

Published By The London Dollar Day Merchants

London Advertiser

The Advertiser was established in 1892, and is published four times daily by London Advertiser Company, Limited. The subscription rates are: London, 15 cents weekly. By mail: In Canada, $5.00 yearly; in the United States, $6.00 yearly.

The Advertiser is represented in Toronto at 95 King street east, and in Montreal at 217 Transportation Building, by J. B. Rathbone; in New York at 17 Park avenue, in Chicago at 122 South Michigan avenue, and in Boston at 294 Washington street, by C. H. Eddy Co.

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 1924.

Ex-President Wilson.

Woodrow Wilson, broken in health, weak from months of sickness, has passed on. It seemed a most improbable thing, as mortals view events, that President Harding should be called to join his predecessors in office before ex-President Wilson. Mr. Harding was strong, in the prime of life, sitting high in the saddle; Woodrow Wilson was a broken man by reason of the stress and clamor of the age in which he was called upon to direct the course of national affairs in United States. Yet we know little of the time of calling, nor of the hour of the beckoning hand that leads down through the valley of the shadow of death.

Ex-President Wilson was called upon to declare the issues of neutrality or war with Germany; he has been criticized for the length of time he took in signing the all-important document, but that criticism has often failed to take into account the peculiar composition of the nationalities of the people of United States. Once war was declared the then president unloosed all the financial and war power at his disposal, and U. S. participation in the war, though brief, was excellent.

When hostilities were over ex-President Wilson turned to the building of a machine that would work as hard for peace as the war interests had worked for bloodshed. He occupied a position of peculiarly strategic advantage, and although biographers and critics seek to trace events of those days, and place the finger of blame here and the voice of censure there, the fact remains that Woodrow Wilson was willing to take his political fortune in his hand in order to focus the minds of men on the League of Nations.

It was one of the cruellest chapters in political history that marked his appeal to his own people for justification of the course he had followed, the answer being that he was swept from office by the very people who should have taken their place in the forefront of the nations seeking peace and hating war.

It is such experiences that break men, that bring the bitterness of disappointment to their very souls. Where political advantage seeks to triumph on an issue where the life and death of men and nations is at stake—such is the ground where the irony of fate smites the spirit of the crusader, and the high hopes of the patriot are blown with dust and ashes of political selfishness.

History will accord to the ex-president a fair and an honorable place. He was well fitted for the office to which he was called, and while there his contribution consisted of all the mental, moral and physical strength he could summon.

Make a Fair Settlement.

A story has been circulated that Miss McNaughton, who was shot at the time a London officer was making the arrest of Topping, now charged with murder, would bring action to recover damages.

The basis would no doubt be a claim that she was injured by a bullet fired by a constable.

There should be no necessity for any such action in connection with this case.

Investigation would quite readily disclose the source of her wounds, and if she were shot by an officer, it was entirely an accident on his part. He was facing a man who had shot one girl and was prepared to shoot the officer. The room was dark and he could not see the other girl.

The young lady who was injured is entitled to consideration. She was in the hospital for many weeks, and out of employment during that period. It would be a kindly and a just act for the authorities to have a conference with her as soon as possible and arrange a satisfactory settlement. In the meantime citizens of the entire district can congratulate her on the magnificent fight she put up for her life, her courageous optimism as to the outcome of her battle being one of the most favorable features in determining its outcome.

Recognizing Russia.

The recognition of Russia by the MacDonald government is a bold move, and the wisdom or the failure of the step will depend on the attitude and action of Russia as much as it will on the initiative taken by the British parliament.

Russia has been cut off from the world practically since the beginning of the revolution, and to a lesser extent since the inception of the war preceding the revolution.

The war took large territories away from her; in fact she lost enough land to make a Dominion of Canada, but still has enough left to make two Canadas.

Britain is in no humor to tolerate the bolshevist tendencies of the northern country. Russia has tried communism in its most extreme form, and it failed. Her salvation, such of it as she has worked out in the last two years, has been at the price of abandoning much of it. It took her years of wretched experimenting, and it cost her executions, starvation and misery to demonstrate that there was no substitute for work, and nothing yet devised that could successfully replace individual ownership of property.

Britain, from the standpoint of economic necessity, needs the trade she can build up with Russia. Canadian implement plants need the business they can get from Russia; it was good business prior to the war, and there has been nothing to replace it. Canadians had studied the needs of the agriculturists there and had succeeded in turning out a product that filled the bill.

Trade, business, work and more work is the need of the world, and especially of Europe, today. Recognition of Russia may mean the wiping out of a lot of things Britain has done, and of measures she may have fashioned for the future, but the bald fact remains that MacDonald has given heed to economic necessity and a desire to bring the nations to a better understanding. We should not be in too great a hurry to state that the Labor government has done wrong or acted unwisely.

The Best in the World.

Canadian hockey players defeated U. S. in the Olympic finals by a score of 6 to 1.

The Canadians have made a great record in their games against Switzerland, Belgium, France, Czechoslovakia, Sweden, Great Britain and United States. In all the games there have been only three goals scored against the team from this land, while they have piled up a record of 110 straight through shots.

Hockey is peculiarly a Canadian game, and it would be a peculiar thing if, with our sheets of ice, fast skaters and persistent practice, this country could not have the best hockey team in the world.

And that is exactly what we have.

Eight Hours vs. Twelve.

The New York World looks for evidence to substantiate the claim of Judge Gary that the change from a 12-hour to an 8-hour day would be a bad thing for the steel industry.

When six months ago the steel corporation was operating on the grinding 12-hour day it was paying 5 per cent dividends and earning more.

Three months ago this alleged costly system of eight hours' work was being put into effect and in spite of that there was an extra dividend, and the company went on a 6 per cent basis.

Now for the last three months, operating on the ruinous 8-hour day plan, it moves up to 7 per cent and 5 per cent for the quarter on the common stock. This is the highest spot since the war-time earnings.

The steel industry has seen the last of the 12-hour day. It has been demonstrated that public opinion was the force that had to teach better business methods to a corporation that almost prided itself on having a corner on efficiency.

Note and Comment.

The man is to be admired who does not blame his bad habits to a nervous disposition.

Car drivers in London realize now how easy it is to get into a rut and how hard it is to get out.

The one reason why some men don't put a radio in is that they would have to stay at home to enjoy it.

Oil stocks have ruined many a speculator, and they now threaten to do the same thing with many of the U. S. politicians.

About this time of year when the old speckled hen takes a walk from the chicken house to the back steps—well, spring's somewhere in the offing.

London, Eng., people find that by eating onions their friends can find them in a fog. Some of the new kinds of hair grease would serve the same purpose.

The Brantford Expositor says the Ferguson orchestra is preparing to tune up for the opening on Wednesday. Not necessary at all, for the premier can get all the music he needs from the swarming of the trees on the timber limits of the north.

Tavish Mactavish

To His People At Home

Dear Jean:

"Mme Marie Telessa a grand opera singer died last night in the arms of a fellow singer, during the performance. The audience thinking it part of the play applauded." Thus read a recent newspaper despatch from Xerxes in Spain. I remember that Sir Henry Irving died practically on the stage when playing the role of Thomas a Becket and when he stumbled on the altar steps in the final scene the audience seeing nothing unusual in his weakness applauded. Within two hours he was dead.

Then again there was Caruso whose glorious voice you and I can enjoy in the evenings on the gramophone. It is not so long since he burst a blood vessel while singing in Palladium, but sang the part through to the end with the blood bubbling from his lips. It was one of his greatest parts of course and he sang it with a passion that would not be denied.

Isn't it just the same on our more intimate and less brilliant stage of everyday life Jean? Just as the artist who is worthy the name plays his part and goes on word-perfect as it were right to the end, unafraid even with the sure intuition of death in his heart, so there are people we both know who have played their parts as faithfully and as bravely, and faced the audience of their friends with the same serenity.

I was thinking of little Mrs. Brockert who lived on the old Sanderson place, how she served the finest and dandiest dinner to the threshers ever seen in the county and how two days later when she was dead Dr. Mac told us she had known just how long she had to live for two years? No one suspected it and I remember quite well how we all congratulated her that night on the supper and her wonderful Johnny cake. The world is more fascinating that any stage isn't it? How many actors and actresses are there not in our own circle who 'carry on' to the end of the play feeling the breath of death on their cheeks, yet talking, singing, and laughing, across the footlights of public criticism until the curtain drops and the play is done. It is just a little thing without much news value perhaps and I mention it merely as a passing thought interjecting itself in the midst of the busy daily routine of the office.

Your Loving Brother,

TAVISH.

Low Price of Farms.

Dublin Resident Claims That No One Is Allowed to Go Hungry in the Cities.

Editor of The Advertiser: Sir,—Although farms are selling very cheap, many of them are changing hands. Married couples without family are quite convinced that hired help cannot be kept unless where a man has specialized in some line, such as butter or fruit or veal calves, etc.

Even then with the high taxes, high cost of everything the farmer purchases, and the low price the farmer receives for his produce, makes a man sell out, pack up and move cityward.

And why should he not? No one is permitted to starve in a city, some one comes to the rescue. Who rescues the farmer in want? Not the neighboring farmer, for all are kept busy these strenuous times with their own farm, many of which would not sell for the price put into the buildings.

Dublin, Feb. 4. FARMER.

Pass, Friend, All's Well

A Tribute to the Late Capt. M. Ryan, R. C. R. With major chord and muffled drum, In phrases measured slow, They bore him through the starlit night.

Through avenue of snow, With faithful steed and cannon mount, With rattling chain and wheel, With clinking spurs and tightened rein.

And sword of polished steel, Go, lay him near the wave-tossed sea, Where breakers roll along, Where he may hear the accents of The Great Creator's song, Let rifle speak and bugle blow, Salute with gun and shell, And echo flings the password back—Pass, friend, pass, friend, all's well.

—J. E. JURY.

AUSTRALIAN OFFICIALS ARRANGE FOR LOANS

Associated Press Despatch. Melbourne, Australia, Feb. 4.—At a conference of the treasurer of the Commonwealth and the state treasurers here an agreement has been reached regarding future loans in order to avoid ruinous competition between the federal government and the state governments. The individual Australian states will not promote any loans, according to the agreement, until the federal government redeems soldiers' gratuity bonds to the amount of $19,000,000, due in May next, and the maximum interest is to be six per cent. The maximum period of the loans is to be ten years.

AWARDED DECISION.

Associated Press Despatch. Holyoke, Mass., Feb. 2.—Johnny Leonard, formerly of Allentown, Pa., now of Holyoke, was awarded the decision over Al. Shubert, New Bedford veteran, here last night in a 10-round bout.

The Guide Post—By Henry van Dyke

KNOWLEDGE AND HAPPINESS.

In much wisdom is much grief, and he that increaseth knowledge increaseth sorrow.—Ecclesiastes i, 18.

Why did Solomon have all that he desired, and yet remain unhappy?

The answer is simple and straightforward—because he never forgot or lost himself.

He tried to be happy.

That was the chief end and aim of his life, his own success, his own felicity.

In a high and grand and royal way he sought for happiness. The delight of knowing and understanding all things, the joy of feeling that in him more wisdom was centered than in all men before or after, the pride of the most splendid temple and the most prosperous kingdom and the most beneficent reign—thus he sought his happiness and thus he never found it.

For it is a law of God that they who will be happy never shall be; never shall clasp the phantom after which they run so eagerly, never shall feel the deep calm of a contented soul, never shall rest in perfect peace, until they cease their mad chase, forget and deny themselves, and are lost and absorbed in some noble and unselfish pursuit.

"He that loatheth his life shall live it."

The words of the Master, who was wiser than Solomon, are true now as then.

We cannot have happiness until we forget to seek for it. We cannot find peace until we enter the path of self-sacrificing usefulness.

We cannot be delivered from this "vain expense of passions that forever ebb and flow," this wretched, torturing, unsatisfied, unsatisfying self, until we come to Jesus and give our lives to him to be absorbed as his life was in loving obedience to God and loving service to our fellowmen.

(Copyright, 1924, by The Republic Syndicate.)

LANDING ON FREE SOIL

(By Prof. Fred Landon of the University of Western Ontario.)

D R. Alexander Milton Ross of Toronto and Montreal, who made during trips into the slave states in the fifties, spreading news of Canada and helping slaves to escape, describes a typical example of "underground railroad" workings of the experiences and a Negro man and his wife who were finally landed in London, Ont., coming in by Port Stanley. In 1859, just after the John Brown raid and while Southern nerves were still tense, Dr. Ross went to Harrodsburg, Ky., giving out that he was a Canadian looking for a farm. In his leisure he amused himself hunting in the forests and the man with whom he was bargaining for a farm allowed an intelligent Mulatto to accompany him. The slave told Dr. Ross that he had been separated from his wife a month after they were married, the woman being sold to a hotelkeeper in Covington. He feared that he was himself about to be sold further south and begged Ross to assist them both to Canada. Dr. Ross explained to him that if he wanted his freedom he would have to be ready to sacrifice for it. If he could reach Cincinnati himself there would be people there who would shelter him and aid him further. Dr. Ross agreed, for his part, to try and get the woman to Cincinnati so that they could be united there and sent on together. The Negro man, Peter by name, made good this escape, being aided by the compass with which Ross had supplied him. The doctor meanwhile went to Covington and put up at the hotel where the woman was owned. The owner of the woman told Ross that he had paid $1,200 for her but rather regretted his bargain because she refused to take up with his own negro man. He promised her a good lashing if she didn't give in and confided to Dr. Ross that he knew how to manage such negroes. He would even send her down to New Orleans if necessary, where she would bring $2,000 because she was "likely."

Getting Them Ready.

ROSS managed to get a word with the woman while she was waiting table in the hotel dining-room and told her that her husband intended to run away and that she must meet him in Cincinnati. He would aid her in the enterprise. Ross went across the river to Cincinnati, but the next Sunday night, at midnight, he crossed the river in a small boat, met the woman at a point agreed upon and an hour later had her on free soil in Ohio. Putting the woman in a cab he drove to a point near a friendly home, then dismissed the cab and entered the house by the rear door to escape observation. The woman was to await her husband here and then they were both to be sent on to Cleveland to embark for Canada.

Dr. Ross himself went on to Cleveland to make further arrangements and in a few days received word that Peter the man, had reached Cincinnati, though with badly torn feet. A few days later came another letter stating that right car No. 705 had been hired to convey a box containing one package of "hardware" and one of "drygoods." The key of the car was inclosed in the letter and the train of which the car was a part, was due to arrive on the following

HIGH, RED BLOOD BUILDS STRENGTH AND NERVE POWER

To Renew Vitality We Must Enrich the Blood, Which is the Driving Force of Life.

What gives the athlete his strength? Red blood. What drives the worker, and the business man, also, up the steep hill of success? Red blood. What makes the glowing, vital beauty of woman? Red blood.

Rich, red blood is the supreme driving force of life. If our bodies no longer respond to Nature's processes that should re-build strength and vitality, then we should look to our blood. We should enrich it, nourish it. Red blood feeds the body tissues, stimulates the nerves, makes our systems tingle with the pulsing of life.

If we lack strength and nerve power we should always think first of our blood. Discouraged or exhausted men and women should get from their druggists today a generous size bottle of Wincarnal. Start this home treatment at once. It costs less than ten cents a day. In twelve days see the improvement Wincarnal, the blood builder, brings. No need to worry. Wincarnal will give you new strength, vitality, nerve force—Advt.

the soil of Canada and thanked the people of the Dominion for their generous reception. Next day I took them to London and obtained situations for both Peter and his wife."

NEW BRUNSWICK READY FOR BIG TOURIST TRADE

Canadian Press Despatch.

St. John, Feb. 4.—New Brunswick will entertain between 45,000 and 50,000 American tourists, who will leave behind them $6,000,000 or $8,000,000 during 1924, was the statement of Premier P. J. Veniot, before the members of the New Brunswick Automobile Association here.

RED ROSE TEA 'is good tea'

Folks who want the very best use RED ROSE ORANGE PEKOE

25¢ PER TIN

The Empire Builders

From time immemorial, Britons have gone forth and pioneered the remote corners of the earth.

In the face of seemingly insuperable difficulties they have built up a world-wide trade—trade that grew and flourished in spite of the limitations of those primitive burden-bearers, the native carriers, the mule train and the camel caravan.

Ford carries the burdens of Empire trade on the hill-trails of India, on the African veldt, on the sheep-stations of Australia and New Zealand, on the plantations of Ceylon and Burma, on the rubber estates of Malaya and on the jungle-paths of Borneo.

Universal usage under all these conditions has stamped the Ford as dependable transportation.

Made in Canada for the Empire

The Ford car is completely made in Canada with the exception of parts to the value of $15.02.

Any Authorized Ford Dealer

Ford

CARS • TRUCKS • TRACTORS

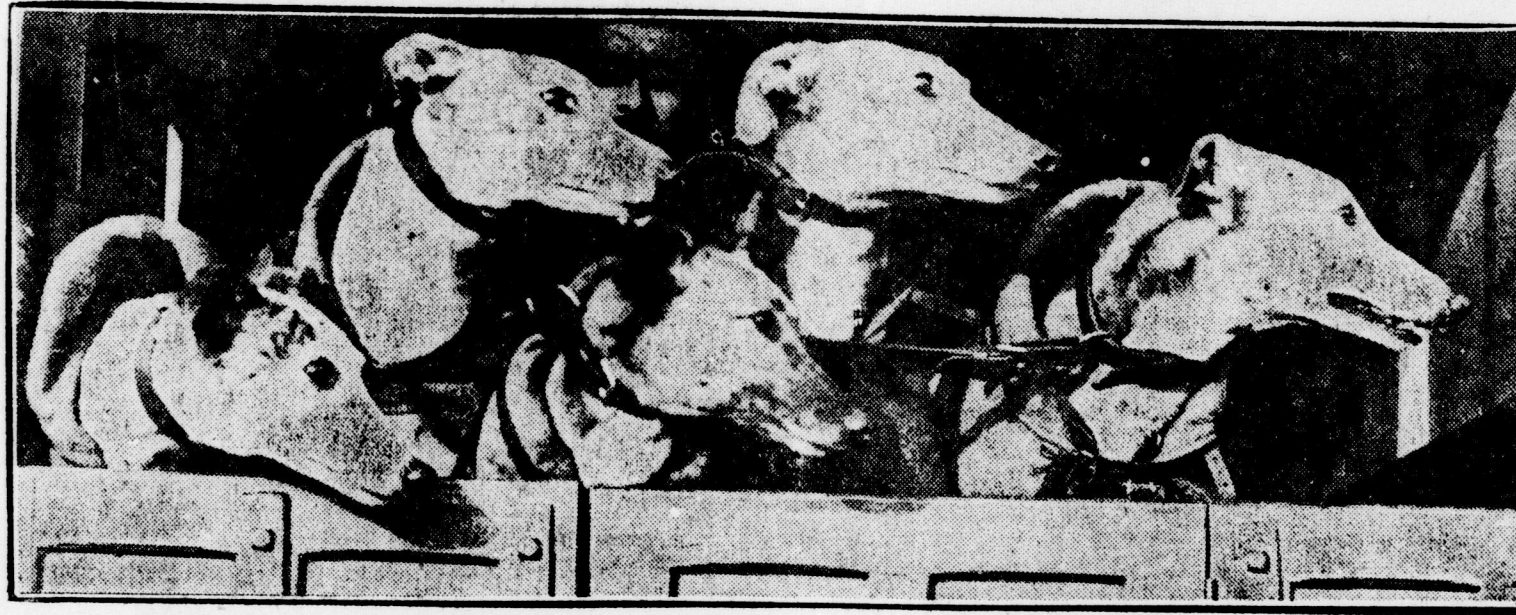

Ford of Canada is represented by Sales and Service Stations in the following overseas territories.

S. W. African Protectorate
Zanzibar Rhodesia
Union of South Africa
Kenya Colony
Uganda
Tanganyika
Gold Coast
Nigeria
Sierra Leone
Gambia
India
Ceylon
Burma
Straits Settlements
Federated Malay States
British Borneo
British Samoa
Mauritius and Reunion Newfoundland
Fiji
New Caledonia
British New Guinea
Australia
New Zealand
Aden Nyassaland
Java
Sumatra
Dutch Borneo

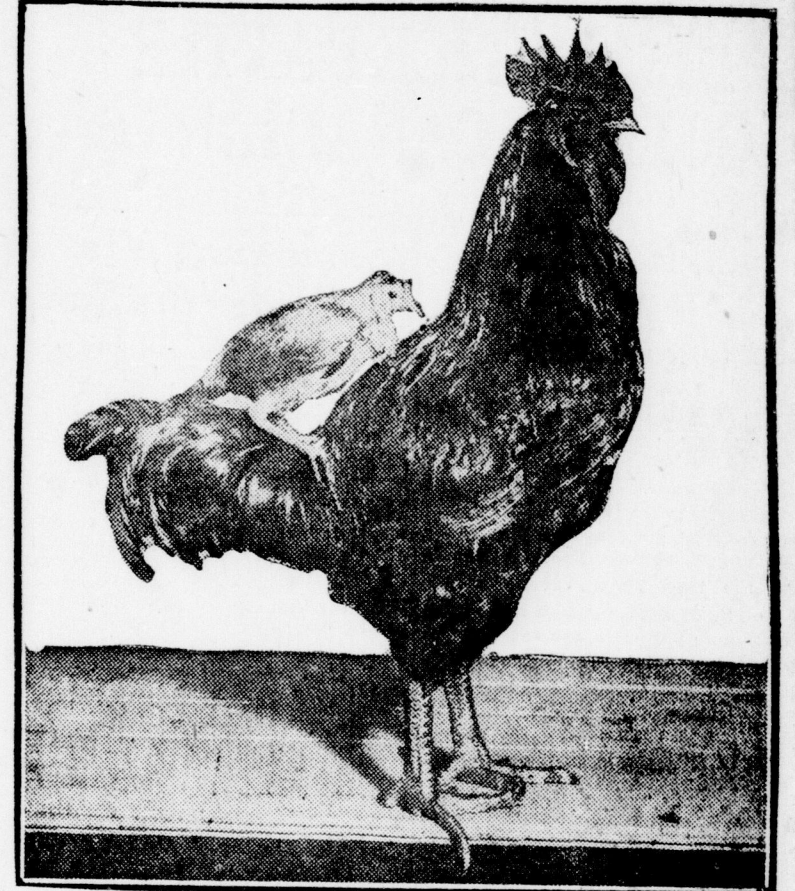

Music for Operations; Ice Mountain Grows; Light and Gas Trick

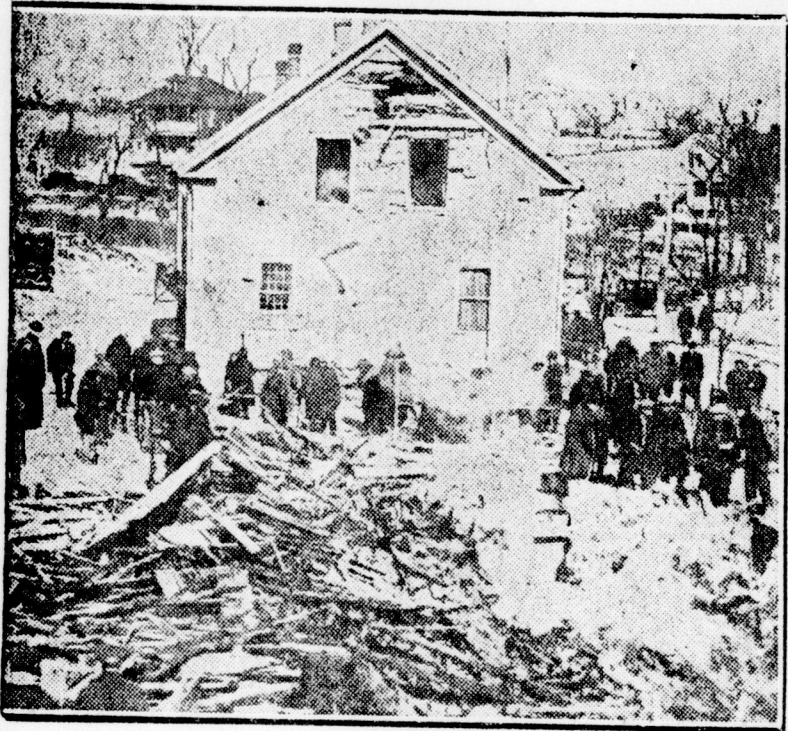

The former Mrs. Douglas Fairbanks and her husband, James Evans, are reported to have separated. Differences over the film career of Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., is said to be the cause.

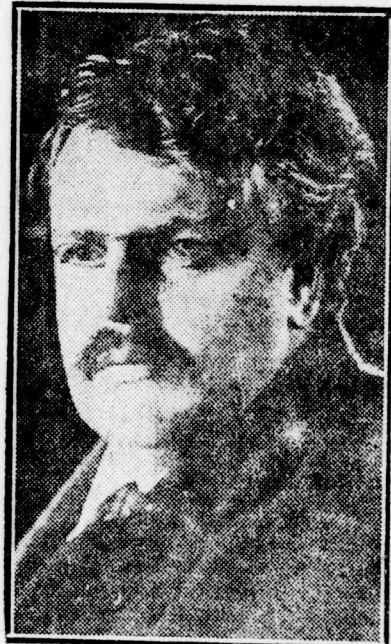

These greyhounds at a coursing club meet in England are eager for the run when a rabbit is to be let loose. The dogs are groomed like race horses and trained to a "hair".

The cameraman was right on time at a poultry show held in New York recently—in fact right at the precise moment when little "chicky" took the air on her mother's back. The big bird weighs fourteen pounds.

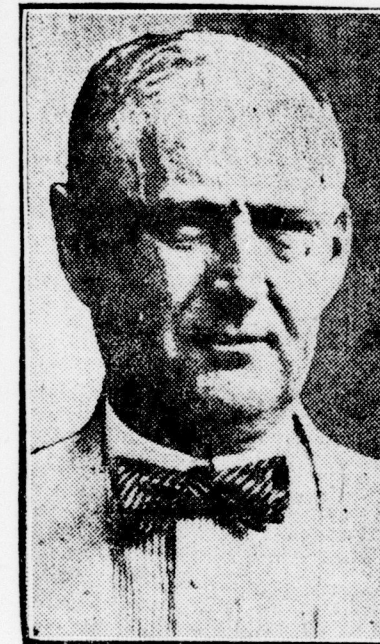

Here is what happened when one of the tenants of this house at Manville, R.I., smelling gas, struck a match to start a search. The explosion followed, wiping out one whole family of thirteen and one other.

Gilbert K. Chesterton, noted English author, declares that knighthood in Great Britain has decayed to a deplorable state. He has expressed his views regarding knighthood of the present generation to King George.

Miss Jean Shields, eighteen years old, has been declared the winner of five beauty contests in various cities and colleges. Her latest victory was in Cincinnati, which gives her a trip to Honolulu and the Orient.

Democratic senators are after the scalps of Attorney-General Daugherty of the United States (Above) and Secretary of the Navy Denby and other officers connected with the Teapot Dome Oil lease scandal.

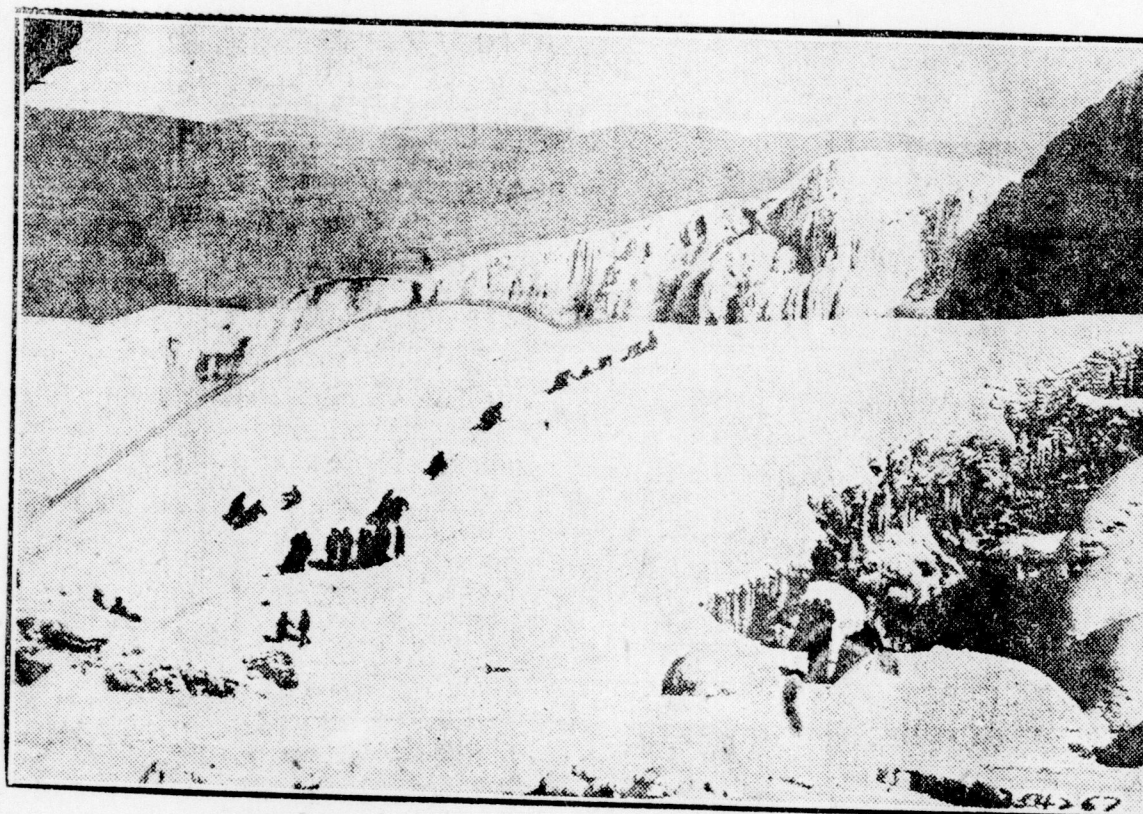

Correct this sentence: These little Canadian lassies at Montreal would far rather be at home helping mother with the housework than tobogganing on a nearby slide. They are resting from their exertions.

Herbert Drury, a former Canadian boy, figures prominently in charges of professionalism among certain hockey teams in the United States. Drury, it is said, has been the individual star of the American team at the Olympics.

Miss Caroline Whitney of New York, a twenty-five-year-old beauty, owns and operates a garage in which she does most of the work herself. She is shown attaching the what-you-may-call-it to the thingamabob.

Despite recent thaws, the ice mountain under Niagara Falls is growing rapidly. Dredging and the use of icebreakers, however, keep the ice broken at Chippawa and the water supply to the Hydro canal is normal.

Here's where the old "mud hook" gets its manicuring. One of the huge fifteen-ton anchors of an ocean liner is seen being scraped during the steamer's annual overhaul in dry-dock at Southampton.

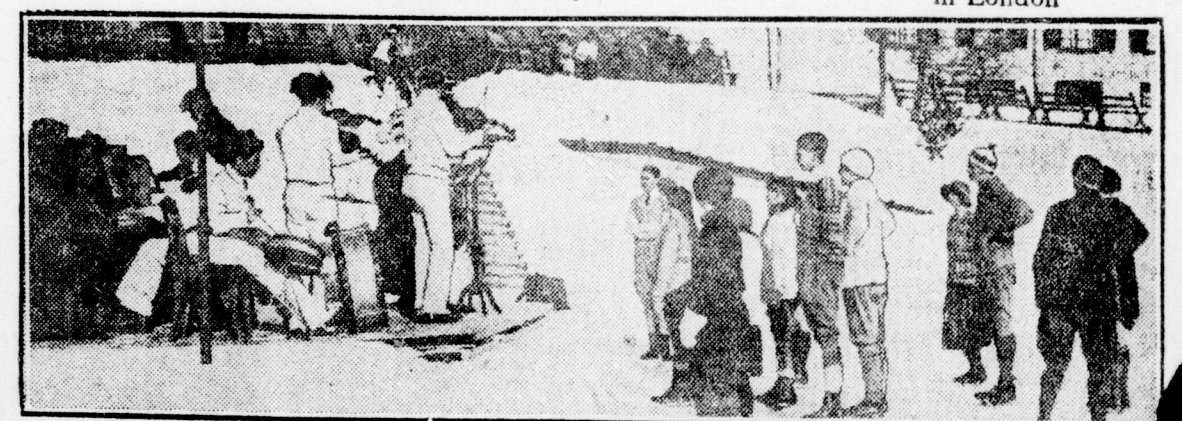

This remarkable study, entitled "The Weeping Woman," is expected to create a sensation at the exhibition of the latest work of Jacob Epstein in London.

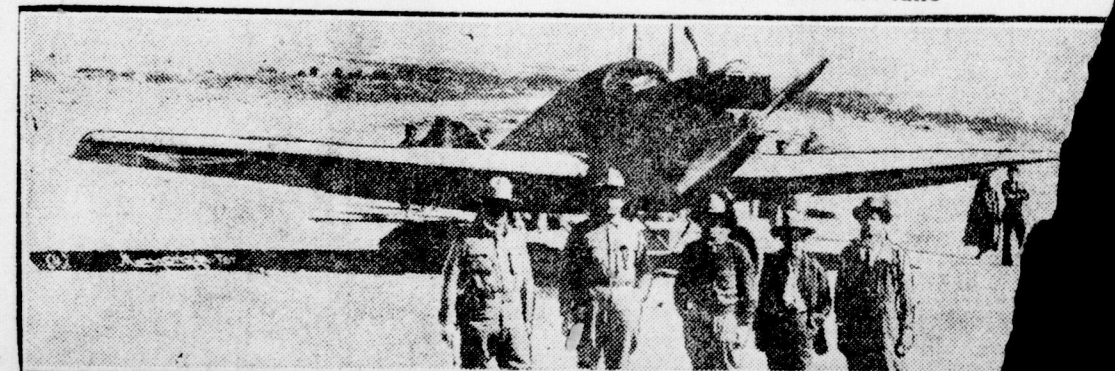

A surgeon of a hospital in Brooklyn is the originator of the idea that music canned or otherwise is a valuable asset in the performance of operations. He says it overcomes the physical element in operating with ether.

Dame Fashion says that Russian blouses such as this will be much in fashion for February and March. The sleeves are long, with flare cuffs. The whole combination, including the hat of the same material, is trimmed with beaver.

The latest innovation for the tourists at St. Moritz is a band of university students who play the outdoor rink while skaters keep time with the tune.

This plane was ordered by President Obregon of Mexico to attack the rebel Huerta. The pilot and plane, however, deserted the cause and joined the president.

SARNIA IS AGAIN ON TOP AFTER DEFEATING GLENCO

of the country's best sprinters in vari-

SPLENDID OPPORTUNITY TO OWN YOUR OWN CAR

Without Any Cost To Yourself

MAKE A WHIRLWIND START TODAY BY SECURING TWO SUBSCRIPTIONS TO THE LONDON ADVERTISER AND EARN 300,000 EXTRA VOTES IN ADDITION TO THE REGULAR VOTES.

300,000 EXTRA VOTES

--A Tip On How To Win--

Secure one yearly subscription (renewal) to The London Advertiser, $7.80 a year, delivered by carrier, which counts	11,000	Secure one yearly subscription (renewal), $5.00 a year, to The London Advertiser, which counts	6,000
Secure one yearly subscription (new) to The London Advertiser, $7.80 a year, delivered by carrier, which counts ..	16,000	Secure one yearly subscription (new), $5.00 a year, to The London Advertiser, which counts	10,000
Bonus for two subscriptions ..	300,000	Bonus for two subscriptions ..	300,000
	327,000		316,000

Two six-month subscriptions, both new and renewal, count the same as one yearly subscription. Four three-month subscriptions count the same as one yearly subscription.

Fourteen (renewal) subscriptions to The London Advertiser will count for you over 2,000,000 votes. The person who sends in the most subscriptions (whether renewal or new) will be awarded a special prize of $200 in cash.

All extra votes earned during this period, which closes Feb. 25, will count toward the Eleven Automobiles.

4 Special 4 Cash Prizes 4

$200 In Cash

will be given to the candidate who sends in the greatest number of yearly subscriptions (renewal and new) in all the districts by Monday, Feb. 25. This special prize will be known as the Grand Prize. The second highest in the district, winning the $200 cash prize, will be entitled to the $100 cash prize.

$100 In Cash

will be given to the candidate that sends in the greatest number of yearly subscriptions (renewal and new) in District No. 1, by Monday, Feb. 25.

$100 In Cash

will be given to the candidate who sends in the greatest number of yearly subscriptions (new and renewal), in District No. 2, by Monday, Feb. 25.

$100 In Cash

will be given to the candidate who sends in the greatest number of yearly subscriptions (new and renewal) in District No. 3, by Monday, Feb. 25.

Make Your Decision

START TODAY

$2,000
In Cash
Waiting For You

YOU CAN WIN THIS HUDSON COACH

HUDSON COACH—The person who secures the greatest number of votes in Districts Nos. 2 and 3 will have his or her choice of this handsome Hudson Coach, or $2,000 in cash. The winner of this Grand Prize will be barred from winning any of the district prizes.

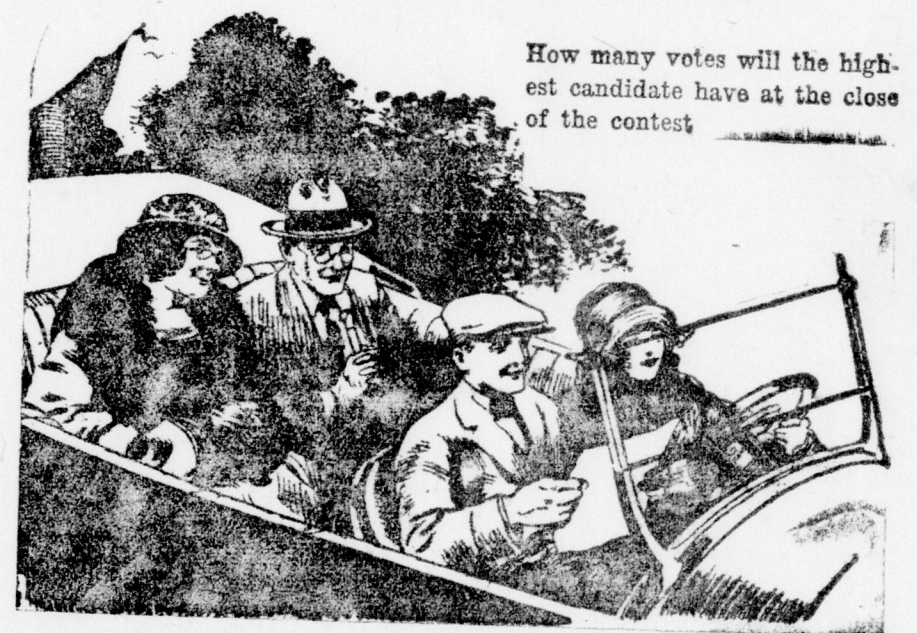

YOU CAN WIN THIS McLAUGHLIN SEDAN

McLAUGHLIN MASTER SIX DOUBLE SERVICE SEDAN—The person who secures the greatest number of votes in District No. 1, which is the City of London, will have his or her choice of this McLaughlin Master Six Double Service Sedan, or $2,000 in cash. The winner of this prize will be barred from winning any of the district prizes.

—11—
CARS
How often have you wished for a car when you see your friends whirling by in their big touring cars. Prove your ability by getting right into The Advertiser $20,000 cash and automobile contest, and winning one of the eleven cars. Send in your name today for all information.
CARS
—11—

The Family Car Are You Good at Guessing? A Test of Real Skill

How many votes will the highest candidate have at the close of the contest?

This Ford Touring Car or $500 in Cash will be given to the subscriber who guesses the correct or nearest correct number of votes that the highest candidate will have at the close of the contest. One guess will be allowed for each dollar paid in on subscription, whether it is given to some candidate or mailed direct to The London Advertiser.

Suggestions from which a subscriber may work out his or her guess:

One year's subscription to The London Advertiser by mail (new), $5.00 a year, counts 10,000 votes.
One year's subscription to The London Advertiser by carrier (new), $7.80 per year, counts 16,000 votes.

A bonus of 300,000 extra votes is given for two yearly subscriptions up to Feb. 25, in addition to the regular votes.

There will be extra votes given throughout the contest.

The contest was announced on January 16 and will close end of March.

Any candidate should secure from two to five subscriptions a day.

One year's subscription by mail ($5.00 a year) entitles a subscriber to five guesses. One year's subscription to The Advertiser delivered by carrier in the City of London entitles the subscriber to seven guesses.

CLIP THIS COUPON!

And mail with money for subscription, or you may secure guessing blanks from a candidate or by applying to The London Advertiser Contest Office.

To The London Advertiser, Contest Department.

Gentlemen: My guesses on the number of votes the highest candidate will have at the close of the contest are:

Name

Amount money

Address

Credit my Votes to

USE THIS BLANK—IT STARTS YOU

Entry Blank

TO THE LONDON ADVERTISER, LONDON, ONT.

Gentlemen:—

I Nominate
(As a candidate in your $20,000 Prize Contest, according to the Rules and Regulations thereof.)

Street

Town or City

Signed

Address

Names of persons sending in names of candidates will not be divulged if so requested.

CALL 7352

FOR ALL INFORMATION.

London
Advertiser Contest Office
Corner Richmond and King Streets, London.

Be Sure and Save All These Free Votes.

Good for 200 Votes

This vote ballot will be published in The Advertiser during the campaign, and will be counted for the name of the contestant it bears, when neatly cut out and mailed to the Campaign Department.

Name of Contestant

Address

Each of these coupons counts for 200 Free Votes, and any number can be sent in by the candidates or by their friends.

AMUSEMENTS

AMUSEMENTS

AMUSEMENTS

MALE HELP WANTED

FOR SALE

AUTOMOBILES

LEGAL CARDS

MEDICAL CARDS

TWO TWICE TODAY

GRAND

MAT., 2:15
EVE., 8:15

JOSEPH LEVITT ATTRACTIONS
INC. PRESENTS
A Rip-Roarous Whirly
Girly Columbia Revue

GIGGLES

WITH THAT ACE OF FUNNY MEN.

HARRY EVANSON AND WILLIAM DAVIS
And An All-Star Cast of Favorites.

EXTRA FEATURE:
"La Danse du Mort"

The European Sensation

EXTRA! EXTRA!
St. Clair, Dotson
& Millard McConn
Whirlwind Dancing Trio

YOU AIN'T SEEN NOTHIN' YET UNTIL YOU SEE THIS.

24—Bouncing Baby Dolls—24

AND EVERY ONE CHARMING.

EVENINGS — 25c, 50c, 75c and $1.00. LADIES' DAILY MATINEES — 25c and 50c. 25c

Don't Stand In Line! — Get Seats Early!

THURSDAY, FRIDAY AND SATURDAY EVGS., 8:15.

WITH POPULAR SATURDAY MATINEE, 2:15.

First Appearance In London of Screenom's Biggest Star

SMILING
TOM MOOREThe Idol of Stage and Screen (HIMSELF)
In Eugene Walter's New Comedy Drama Success

"THIEVES IN CLOVER"

COMING DIRECT TO THE GRAND FROM A PHENOMENAL WEEK AT HIS MAJESTY'S, MONTREAL.

"You've Seen Him Smile Now Laugh With Him"

BIG DISTINGUISHED ALL STAR SUPPORTING CAST

EVENING—Orchestra, $1.50 and $2.00. Box Seats, $2.50.

SAT. MAT.—Orchestra, $1.50 and $2.00. Box Seats, $2.50.

MAIL ORDERS NOW! — SEATS NOW!

THURSDAY, FRIDAY AND SAT., FEB. 14, 15 and 16.

WITH POPULAR SATURDAY MATINEE

Jacques Pierre Presents "The World's Most Unique Entertainment"

JULIAN ELTINGE — TOM BROWN, SIX BROWN BROTHERS

"BLACK AND WHITE"

REVUE OF 1924

WITH BLACKFACE EDDIE ROSS, 60 HEADLINE ENTERTAINERS, ZIPPY BEAUTY CHORUS, WORLD'S BIGGEST SAXOPHONE BAND, WITH THE INIMITABLE TOM BROWN LEADING.

EVENINGS—Orchestra, $2.00, $2.50, $3.00, $3.50, $4.00, $4.50, $5.00.

SATURDAY MATINEE—Orchestra, $1.50, $2.00, $2.50, $3.00, $3.50, $4.00, $4.50, $5.00.

GALLERY FOR ALL PERFORMANCES, 50c. MAIL ORDERS NOW!

LOVE'S

Today, Tuesday and Wednesday

WITH RICHARD DIX
LOIS WILSON
MARJORIE DAWZane Grey's
THE CALL OF THE CANYON

Red Blooded Drama of the West

The Acts of Supreme Vaudeville

MOBILES

WINDSHIELD plates for all makes of cars.

REPAIRS

Tire Repair

Phone 6151.

MONUMENTS

ARTISTIC cemetery monuments London
Marble and Granite Co., 494 Richmond.
Phone 259, res. 2816.SMITH MONUMENT WORKS
314 Wellington St. Phone 133W.
Est. 1852. Over 70 years of service.

SITUATIONS WANTED

CARPENTERING and electrical jobs undertaken promptly and cheaply.
Winter months. 96 Pipe Line Rd.
Phone 756E.PRACTICAL nurse, free to accept engagements, maternity cases accepted.
312 York St.ARENA
REDUCED PRICES
JUNIOR HOCKEYWoodstock vs
London A.A.A.

TUESDAY, FEB. 5, 8:15 p.m.

Seats on sale at Arena Box Office,
Strong's Drug Store and Flynn's
Book Store.Rush seats, 25c and 50c; reserved seats, 50c and 75c.

DON'T MISS THIS GAME!

ARENA
SKATING THIS AFTER-
NOON AND EVENINGAfternoon, 2 p.m. to 4:30 p.m.;
children 15c, adults 25c.Evening, 7:45 p.m. to 10 p.m.;
general admission, 25c.

BAND AT NIGHT.

Also skating every afternoon.

THE MUSICAL ART SOCIETY
CHOIR.Rehearsals for next concert, to be given on Feb. 5, at 8 p.m., and continue each succeeding Tuesday. There are a few vacancies in each section of the choir. Will any who wish to join be at the Institute of Musical Art, Dundas
at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, or to the secretary, E. B. Cottle, 511 Maitland
St., phone 4591W, or phone No. 1.

MEETINGS

ANNUAL MEETING—Loyal Orange County Lodge of East Middlesex will be held in Usher Hall, corner Dundas
and Clarence streets, Tuesday, Feb.
5, at 2 p.m. All Orangemen requested to attend. C. W. Langford, secretary.MAY QUEEN Rebekah Lodge, No. 5, will meet tonight, Mrs. Waugh, N. G.
Mrs. Betty Dundas, R. S. Visitors
welcome.REGULAR MEETING Tuscan
Lodge, No. 135, A. F. and A. M. G. R. C. this (Monday) evening, 7:30 p.m. sharp. Massonic Temple, visitors welcome.
Thomas C. Benson, W. M.; E. D. F.
Walter, Secretary.

PERSONAL

HEALTH BREAD contains more body-building, life-giving and life-sustaining elements than any white bread. Made by Thomas Algar, 50
Wilmshurst Rd., North.DRESSMAKING alterations and repair-
ing. Miss Marshall, 925 Dufferin.
Phone 5470W.DRESSMAKING, renovating, hand embroidery, exceptionally reasonable.
Meadows and Rainey, 1341 Dundas St.
W. Tel. 4355W.DRESSMAKING and sewing in your own home. Mrs. Priest, 42 Dundas St. W. Tel. 4355W.DRESSMAKING, Nervous, circulation and organic diseases permanently cured by electro-therapeutics. 549
Richmond. Phone 1093M.FANCY washing, home cooking, plain sewing at your home. Mrs. Mills, 75
Quebec St.GLENWOOD Private Hospital, 435
Ridout St. Rest cure, electric baths,
hydrotherapy.GRAD, Nurse gives massage, electric treatments, baths, at her home, 4021M.
HEMSTITCHING—Cotton, 6c; linen, 7c;
silk, 8c per yard; mail orders filled.
Viola Williams, 199 Hamilton Rd.
Phone 4325F.IT IS always safe to send Dominion Express Money Orders.LEWITT, M. J. (successor to Henry Edwards) 224 Dundas St. W. Tel. 2698.
Advice free. 329 Talbot St. Tel. 2698.LOOK YOUR BEST—Have a permanent wave. Grey Beauty Shop, 2214 Dundas St. Tel. 4522W. Mrs. Daugherty,
Mrs. Eady.MATERNITY Home, private—Mrs. T.
White, 1093 Maitland St. Phone 1042J.MOLES, Warts, superfluous hair permanently removed by electrolysis.
Miss May McCall, 19 Cynthia St.
3000F.MRS. BAATH, maternity nurse (practically) open for engagements. Phone
313W.STOP your pair from falling out. Use
Cook's Ambrette. Inquire 292 Nelson.THE SALVATION Army Industrial Department, 71 Dundas St. You can enable us to help others by giving us
your cast-off clothing, boots, furniture, newspapers, etc. Phone 4493, and our truck will call on you.WALKER'S RELIABLE HAIR GROW-ER—There is no need to be bald-headed. Use Walker's Reliable. Grows
hair and stops balding permanently.
Inquire Mrs. Sarah Walker, 152 Ann
St.

BORN, MARRIED, DIED

BORN.

GOODBURN—At 90 Walnut Ave., St.
Lambert, Que., on Jan. 30, 1924, to
Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Goodburne, a daughter.McCAIN—To Mr. and Mrs. Cecil M.
McCaig, Detroit, a daughter, Jan. 30.FOSTER—At St. Joseph's Hospital, on Feb. 1, 1924, Mildred Evelyn, eldest
and dearly beloved daughter of Mr.
and Mrs. Edmund James Foster, in her 14th year.Funeral service will be held at her late residence, 1400 Dundas St. W., on Monday at 2:30 p.m. Interment at Woodland Cemetery. Friends and acquaintances please accept this notice.McKENZIE—On Sunday, Feb. 3, 1924, Mary McKenzie, widow of the late
John McKenzie, aged 72 years,
deceased, passed away at her residence, 512 Piccadilly St., on Wednesday, Feb. 6,
at 2 p.m. Service at 1:30 p.m. Interment
at Woodland Cemetery.McPHERSON—At her home, town line,
near Carleton Place, Ont., on Feb. 2, 1924, Mary Catherine, widow of the late John McPheron.Funeral service will be held at her late residence, Tuesday, Feb. 5, at 1:30 p.m.
Interment at Oakwood Cemetery.RANKIN—Entered into rest, Sunday,
Feb. 3, 1924, Frances Elsie, widow
of the late Joseph and Mary Rankin.Funeral private, from the residence of her sister, Mrs. E. E. Skuse, 46
Byron Ave., on Wednesday, Feb. 6,
at 2 p.m. Burial at 1:30 p.m. at
St. John's Roman Catholic Church.
(Dr.) J. H. Ross, eldest daughter of
Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Modeland, Grey
St. Interment at Orwell, Ohio.

FUNERAL

McKENZIE—On Sunday, Feb. 3, 1924,
Mary McKenzie, widow of the late
John McKenzie, aged 72 years,
deceased, passed away at her residence, 512 Piccadilly St., on Wednesday, Feb. 6,
at 2 p.m. Service at 1:30 p.m. Interment
at Woodland Cemetery.McPHERSON—At her home, town line,
near Carleton Place, Ont., on Feb. 2, 1924, Mary Catherine, widow of the
late John McPheron.Funeral service will be held at her late residence, Tuesday, Feb. 5, at 1:30 p.m.
Interment at Oakwood Cemetery.RANKIN—Entered into rest, Sunday,
Feb. 3, 1924, Frances Elsie, widow
of the late Joseph and Mary Rankin.Funeral private, from the residence
of her sister, Mrs. E. E. Skuse, 46
Byron Ave., on Wednesday, Feb. 6,
at 2 p.m. Burial at 1:30 p.m. at
St. John's Roman Catholic Church.
(Dr.) J. H. Ross, eldest daughter of
Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Modeland, Grey
St. Interment at Orwell, Ohio.

FUNERAL

McKENZIE—On Sunday, Feb. 3, 1924,
Mary McKenzie, widow of the late
John McKenzie, aged 72 years,
deceased, passed away at her residence, 512 Piccadilly St., on Wednesday, Feb. 6,
at 2 p.m. Service at 1:30 p.m. Interment
at Woodland Cemetery.McPHERSON—At her home, town line,
near Carleton Place, Ont., on Feb. 2, 1924, Mary Catherine, widow of the
late John McPheron.Funeral service will be held at her late residence, Tuesday, Feb. 5, at 1:30 p.m.
Interment at Oakwood Cemetery.RANKIN—Entered into rest, Sunday,
Feb. 3, 1924, Frances Elsie, widow
of the late Joseph and Mary Rankin.Funeral private, from the residence
of her sister, Mrs. E. E. Skuse, 46
Byron Ave., on Wednesday, Feb. 6,
at 2 p.m. Burial at 1:30 p.m. at
St. John's Roman Catholic Church.
(Dr.) J. H. Ross, eldest daughter of
Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Modeland, Grey
St. Interment at Orwell, Ohio.

FUNERAL

McKENZIE—On Sunday, Feb. 3, 1924,
Mary McKenzie, widow of the late
John McKenzie, aged 72 years,
deceased, passed away at her residence, 512 Piccadilly St., on Wednesday, Feb. 6,
at 2 p.m. Service at 1:30 p.m. Interment
at Woodland Cemetery.McPHERSON—At her home, town line,
near Carleton Place, Ont., on Feb. 2, 1924, Mary Catherine, widow of the
late John McPheron.Funeral service will be held at her late residence, Tuesday, Feb. 5, at 1:30 p.m.
Interment at Oakwood Cemetery.RANKIN—Entered into rest, Sunday,
Feb. 3, 1924, Frances Elsie, widow
of the late Joseph and Mary Rankin.Funeral private, from the residence
of her sister, Mrs. E. E. Skuse, 46
Byron Ave., on Wednesday, Feb. 6,
at 2 p.m. Burial at 1:30 p.m. at
St. John's Roman Catholic Church.
(Dr.) J. H. Ross, eldest daughter of
Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Modeland, Grey
St. Interment at Orwell, Ohio.

FUNERAL

McKENZIE—On Sunday, Feb. 3, 1924,
Mary McKenzie, widow of the late
John McKenzie, aged 72 years,
deceased, passed away at her residence, 512 Piccadilly St., on Wednesday, Feb. 6,
at 2 p.m. Service at 1:30 p.m. Interment
at Woodland Cemetery.McPHERSON—At her home, town line,
near Carleton Place, Ont., on Feb. 2, 1924, Mary Catherine, widow of the
late John McPheron.Funeral service will be held at her late residence, Tuesday, Feb. 5, at 1:30 p.m.
Interment at Oakwood Cemetery.RANKIN—Entered into rest, Sunday,
Feb. 3, 1924, Frances Elsie, widow
of the late Joseph and Mary Rankin.Funeral private, from the residence
of her sister, Mrs. E. E. Skuse, 46
Byron Ave., on Wednesday, Feb. 6,
at 2 p.m. Burial at 1:30 p.m. at
St. John's Roman Catholic Church.
(Dr.) J. H. Ross, eldest daughter of
Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Modeland, Grey
St. Interment at Orwell, Ohio.

FUNERAL

McKENZIE—On Sunday, Feb. 3, 1924,
Mary McKenzie, widow of the late
John McKenzie, aged 72 years,
deceased, passed away at her residence, 512 Piccadilly St., on Wednesday, Feb. 6,
at 2 p.m. Service at 1:30 p.m. Interment
at Woodland Cemetery.McPHERSON—At her home, town line,
near Carleton Place, Ont., on Feb. 2, 1924, Mary Catherine, widow of the
late John McPheron.Funeral service will be held at her late residence, Tuesday, Feb. 5, at 1:30 p.m.
Interment at Oakwood Cemetery.RANKIN—Entered into rest, Sunday,
Feb. 3, 1924, Frances Elsie, widow
of the late Joseph and Mary Rankin.Funeral private, from the residence
of her sister, Mrs. E. E. Skuse, 46
Byron Ave., on Wednesday, Feb. 6,
at 2 p.m. Burial at 1:30 p.m. at
St. John's Roman Catholic Church.
(Dr.) J. H. Ross, eldest daughter of
Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Modeland, Grey
St. Interment at Orwell, Ohio.

FUNERAL

McKENZIE—On Sunday, Feb. 3, 1924,
Mary McKenzie, widow of the late
John McKenzie, aged 72 years,
deceased, passed away at her residence, 512 Piccadilly St., on Wednesday, Feb. 6,
at 2 p.m. Service at 1:30 p.m. Interment
at Woodland Cemetery.McPHERSON—At her home, town line,
near Carleton Place, Ont., on Feb. 2, 1924, Mary Catherine, widow of the
late John McPheron.Funeral service will be held at her late residence, Tuesday, Feb. 5, at 1:30 p.m.
Interment at Oakwood Cemetery.RANKIN—Entered into rest, Sunday,
Feb. 3, 1924, Frances Elsie, widow
of the late Joseph and Mary Rankin.Funeral private, from the residence
of her sister, Mrs. E. E. Skuse, 46
Byron Ave., on Wednesday, Feb. 6,
at 2 p.m. Burial at 1:30 p.m. at
St. John's Roman Catholic Church.
(Dr.) J. H. Ross, eldest daughter of
Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Modeland, Grey
St. Interment at Orwell, Ohio.

FUNERAL

McKENZIE—On Sunday, Feb. 3, 1924,
Mary McKenzie, widow of the late
John McKenzie, aged 72 years,
deceased, passed away at her residence, 512 Piccadilly St., on Wednesday, Feb. 6,
at 2 p.m. Service at 1:30 p.m. Interment
at Woodland Cemetery.McPHERSON—At her home, town line,
near Carleton Place, Ont., on Feb. 2, 1924, Mary Catherine, widow of the
late John McPheron.Funeral service will be held at her late residence, Tuesday, Feb. 5, at 1:30 p.m.
Interment at Oakwood Cemetery.RANKIN—Entered into rest, Sunday,
Feb. 3, 1924, Frances Elsie, widow
of the late Joseph and Mary Rankin.Funeral private, from the residence
of her sister, Mrs. E. E. Skuse, 46
Byron Ave., on Wednesday, Feb. 6,
at 2 p.m. Burial at 1:30 p.m. at
St. John's Roman Catholic Church.
(Dr.) J. H. Ross, eldest daughter of
Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Modeland, Grey
St. Interment at Orwell, Ohio.ARENA
REDUCED PRICES
JUNIOR HOCKEYWoodstock vs
London A.A.A.

TUESDAY, FEB. 5, 8:15 p.m.

Seats on sale at Arena Box Office,
Strong's Drug Store and Flynn's
Book Store.Rush seats, 25c and 50c; reserved
seats, 50c and 75c.

DON'T MISS THIS GAME!

ARENA
SKATING THIS AFTER-
NOON AND EVENINGAfternoon, 2 p.m. to 4:30 p.m.;
children 15c, adults 25c.Evening, 7:45 p.m. to 10 p.m.;
general admission, 25c.

BAND AT NIGHT.

Also skating every afternoon.

THE MUSICAL ART SOCIETY
CHOIR.Rehearsals for next concert, to be given on Feb. 5, at 8 p.m., and continue each succeeding Tuesday. There are a few vacancies in each section of the choir. Will any who wish to join be at the Institute of Musical Art, Dundas
at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, or to the secretary, E. B. Cottle, 511 Maitland
St., phone 4591W, or phone No. 1.

MEETINGS

ANNUAL MEETING—Loyal Orange County Lodge of East Middlesex will be held in Usher Hall, corner Dundas
and Clarence streets, Tuesday, Feb.
5, at 2 p.m. All Orangemen requested
to attend. C. W. Langford, secretary.MAY QUEEN Rebekah Lodge, No. 5, will meet tonight, Mrs. Waugh, N. G.
Mrs. Betty Dundas, R. S. Visitors
welcome.REGULAR MEETING Tuscan
Lodge, No. 135, A. F. and A. M. G. R. C. this (Monday)
evening, 7:30 p.m. sharp. Mas-
sonic Temple, visitors welcome.
Thomas C. Benson, W. M.; E. D. F.
Walter, Secretary.

PERSONAL

HEALTH BREAD contains more body-building, life-giving and life-sustaining
elements than any white
bread. Made by Thomas Algar, 50
Wilmshurst Rd., North.DRESSMAKING alterations and repair-
ing. Miss Marshall, 925 Dufferin.
Phone 5470W.DRESSMAKING, renovating, hand embroidery, exceptionally reasonable.
Meadows and Rainey, 1341 Dundas St.
W. Tel. 4355W.DRESSMAKING and sewing in your own home. Mrs. Priest, 42 Dundas
St. W. Tel. 4355W.DRESSMAKING, Nervous, circulation and organic diseases permanently cured by electro-therapeutics. 549
Richmond. Phone 1093M.FANCY washing, home cooking, plain sewing at your home. Mrs. Mills, 75
Quebec St.GLENWOOD Private Hospital, 435
Ridout St. Rest cure, electric baths,
hydrotherapy.GRAD, Nurse gives massage, electric treatments, baths, at her home, 4021M.
HEMSTITCHING—Cotton, 6c; linen, 7c;
silk, 8c per yard; mail orders filled.
Viola Williams, 199 Hamilton Rd.
Phone 4325F.IT IS always safe to send Dominion Express Money Orders.LEWITT, M. J. (successor to Henry Edwards) 224 Dundas St. W. Tel. 2698.
Advice free. 329 Talbot St. Tel. 2698.LOOK YOUR BEST—Have a permanent
wave. Grey Beauty Shop, 2214 Dun-
das St. Tel. 4522W. Mrs. Daugherty,
Mrs. Eady.MATERNITY Home, private—Mrs. T.
White, 1093 Maitland St. Phone 1042J.MOLES, Warts, superfluous hair permanently removed by electrolysis.
Miss May McCall, 19 Cynthia St.
3000F.MRS. BAATH, maternity nurse (practically) open for engagements. Phone
313W.STOP your pair from falling out. Use
Cook's Ambrette. Inquire 292 Nelson.THE SALVATION Army Industrial
Department, 71 Dundas St. You can enable us to help others by giving us
your cast-off clothing, boots, furniture, newspapers, etc. Phone 4493,
and our truck will call on you.WALKER'S RELIABLE HAIR GROW-ER—There is no need to be bald-
headed. Use Walker's Reliable. Grows
hair and stops balding permanently.
Inquire Mrs. Sarah Walker, 152 Ann
St.

BORN, MARRIED, DIED

BORN.

GOODBURN—At 90 Walnut Ave., St.
Lambert, Que., on Jan. 30, 1924, to
Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Goodburne, a
daughter.McCAIN—To Mr. and Mrs. Cecil M.
McCaig, Detroit, a daughter, Jan. 30.FOSTER—At St. Joseph's Hospital, on
Feb. 1, 1924, Mildred Evelyn, eldest
and dearly beloved daughter of Mr.
and Mrs. Edmund James Foster, in her 14th year.

KINDLY FEELINGS MARK MESSAGES FROM PREMIERS

Poincare's Reply to Ramsay MacDonald Paves Way to Co-operation.

SUCCESS ASSURED

Associated Press Despatch.
London, Feb. 4.—The correspondence which passed recently between Ramsay MacDonald, the British premier, and M. Poincare, the French premier, following a letter from Mr. MacDonald to M. Poincare advancing the hope that France might adopt a conciliatory spirit toward Great Britain and that the two countries might resume full cordial relations was made public here yesterday. Mr. MacDonald's letter was dated January 25. It was typewritten and was handed to M. Poincare in the Chamber of Deputies while debate on the French government's fiscal measures was beginning. Notwithstanding the confusion growing out of the debate M. Poincare wrote his reply by hand at the ministerial bench in the chamber and sent it within an hour to the foreign office in Paris, whence it was sent to London by the ordinary post. Mr. MacDonald's letter follows:

"My dear Mr. Poincare:
"Our two countries have gone through such trying times side by side and made such sacrifices together that, coming into office, I address you a personal note, not only to inform you of the change, but to send you my greetings and good wishes.

Many Unsettled Points.
"I grieve to find so many unsettled points are causing us trouble and concern, and I assure you it will be my daily endeavor to help settle them to our mutual benefit. You have your public opinion and I have mine; you have your national interests to conserve and protect, and I am sure by the exercise of your good will these conflicts can be settled and policies devised in pursuit of which France and Great Britain can remain in hearty co-operation.

"We can be frank without being hostile and can defend our countries' interests without being at enmity. Thus, the entente will be much more than a nominal thing and France and Great Britain can advance together to establish peace and security in Europe.

"Pray accept these assurances and my sentiments of personal respect and believe me to be,

"Your obedient servant,
"RAMSAY MACDONALD."

M. Poincare's reply was dated January and said:

"My dear Mr. Prime Minister:
"I am much touched by your letter, which you have been good enough to write to inform me of, and upon your high functions and to send me your personal good wishes. I hope with all my heart for the welfare of your country which will be crowned with success.

"The bonds which unite it to my own have been knit together as you recall, in time of common trial and sacrifice. You may be sure that the memory of these times is ever present to my mind as to yours. I also regret that several questions of importance to our countries have not yet been settled. Like you, I will do my utmost to solve them by friendly agreement, and to our mutual advantage.

Success is Assured.

"If we have to take into account public opinion in our respective countries; if we both have to safeguard our national interests, I am confident that in applying each in his own sphere the vigorous action and goodwill of which you speak to the settlement of problems arising between us, we shall solve them in such a manner as to maintain between Great Britain and France a policy of co-operation essential to our two countries, and to the tranquility of the world.

"My own frankness shall be no less than yours and if, in defence of French interests, I show the same fervor as you in defence of British interests, you may be sure that nothing will ever change the cordiality of my deep rooted feelings.

"It is impossible that, animated as both are by such sentiments, we should fail to make the entente effective and fruitful of results which it can and ought to bear in order that Europe as a whole should find once more peace, security and freedom to work.

"I beg you to accept my assurances, etc.

"POINCARÉ."

THE LONDON ADVERTISER

CLASSIFIED ADS.

Phone 3670.
Standardized and indexed for Quick Reference.

THE LONDON ADVERTISER reserves the right to classify property all advertisements submitted for publication.

Not responsible for errors in advertisements following date of first publication.

Ads. not cancelled after 10 p.m.

Ads. for morning paper must be in by 10 p.m.

Ads. for evening paper by 1 p.m. noon.

All advertisements for Saturday's papers must be in our hands by 10 p.m. Friday previous, to enable them to appear under their correct classification.

Otherwise they must appear under the classification "Too Late to Classify."

CLASSIFIED RATES.

Cash.

1 day..... 2s per word

3 days..... 5s " "

6 days..... 10s " "

When Advertiser's Box is required, allow 3 words. A charge of 10s for mailing is also added.

Marriages, Births and Deaths—One insertion, 1s; two insertions, 1s. 6d.

Memorial Notices—1s per cent line. (10 lines the minimum.)

Card of Thanks—1s per insertion.

Engagement—1s per insertion. Women's Page—1s per insertion. 2s two insertions. These notices must be signed by the sender, and will not be taken over telephone.

DISPLAY ADVERTISING.

TRANSIENT.

Amusements—15c per line each insertion.

Meetings—15c per line each insertion. The London Advertiser will not insert a "make good" more than once. Insertion of an advertisement ordered more than one time.

Phones 3670 and 7705 (between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m.)

THE LONDON ADVERTISER, WANT AD. DEPARTMENT.

MICHAEL RODZIANKO, Russian statesman who was president of the fourth and last Duma, prior to the revolution of 1917, is dead in Jugo-Slavia.

MR. AND MRS. WAUGH MARK SILVER WEDDING

Forty Friends Gather at Their Home To Wish Them the Best of Luck.

About forty friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Waugh, Princess avenue, on Saturday evening, to celebrate with them their silver wedding anniversary. During the evening, which was spent in cards, dancing and music, Mr. and Mrs. Waugh were showered with numerous lovely gifts. The successful winners of the card prizes were Mrs. J. Rogers and Mr. Waugh, while Mrs. Waugh and Mr. Kenzie carried off the booby prizes. Members of the family present on this interesting occasion were Mrs. Jack Stookes and Miss Velma Waugh, both daughters of the house, and Mr. Winston Waugh, a son.

Mr. and Mrs. Waugh were married 25 years ago Saturday, coming to London from Preston five years ago. Before her marriage, Mrs. Waugh was Miss Ann Mahen. At the close of the evening a delightful supper was served. Many congratulations were showered upon the host and hostess.

MOTORIST SAYS ROADS ARE IN BAD CONDITION

Returns From Hamilton and Finds Driving Almost Impossible.

Returning to this city yesterday afternoon from Hamilton by motor a local man reported the roads to be in such a bad condition that driving was almost impossible. He stated to The Advertiser the worst section of the road is between Thameford and London, where the ruts are so deep that traffic is almost confined to a one-way road.

From Hamilton to Brantford they are fair, but after leaving Brantford for London by way of Paris, one immediately gets into difficulty, and from there on one must drive any faster than 15 miles per hour.

The motorist gave his information, thinking that it might serve as a warning to any who are inclined to drive a considerable distance by motor at this time of the year.

CO-EDS MAKING PLANS FOR LEAP YEAR DANCE

Preliminary Meeting Held, and Date Is Set For
Feb. 14.

Preliminaries for the anticipated leap year dance planned by Western co-eds of Arts '25 and '26 were decided upon at an exclusive meeting of the sophomore and junior girls Saturday noon at the Arts Building.

According to the young ladies concerned, it was decided definitely at the meeting to hold the dance on Thursday evening, Feb. 14, at the medical gymnasium from 7:18 to 11:45. Tickets were distributed for sale among the girl students, and alumni of the university, and various committees formed.

For this affair, the girls will take the places, usually occupied by the sterner sex, and in some cases will call for their boy in a taxi.

Just what the nature of the dance will be remains a mystery, but it was said, there will be plenty of novelities and robber dances.

ARMY'S POULTRY FARM
PROVING PROFITABLE

Associated Press Despatch.
London, Feb. 4.—In connection with the Caterick camp, near Durlington, where soldiers are taking a six months' course of training on the army's farm in order to equip them for going on the land in Canada or Australia when their time in the army expires, such industries as pig and poultry keeping have proved so profitable that the authorities feel encouraged to continue therein and extend the operations in live stock.

New courses of training are now being undertaken, including the management of horses, instruction in plowing, sowing and harvesting and the training term is being extended beyond six months.

HERE'S A PAGE that puts "U" IN HUMOR

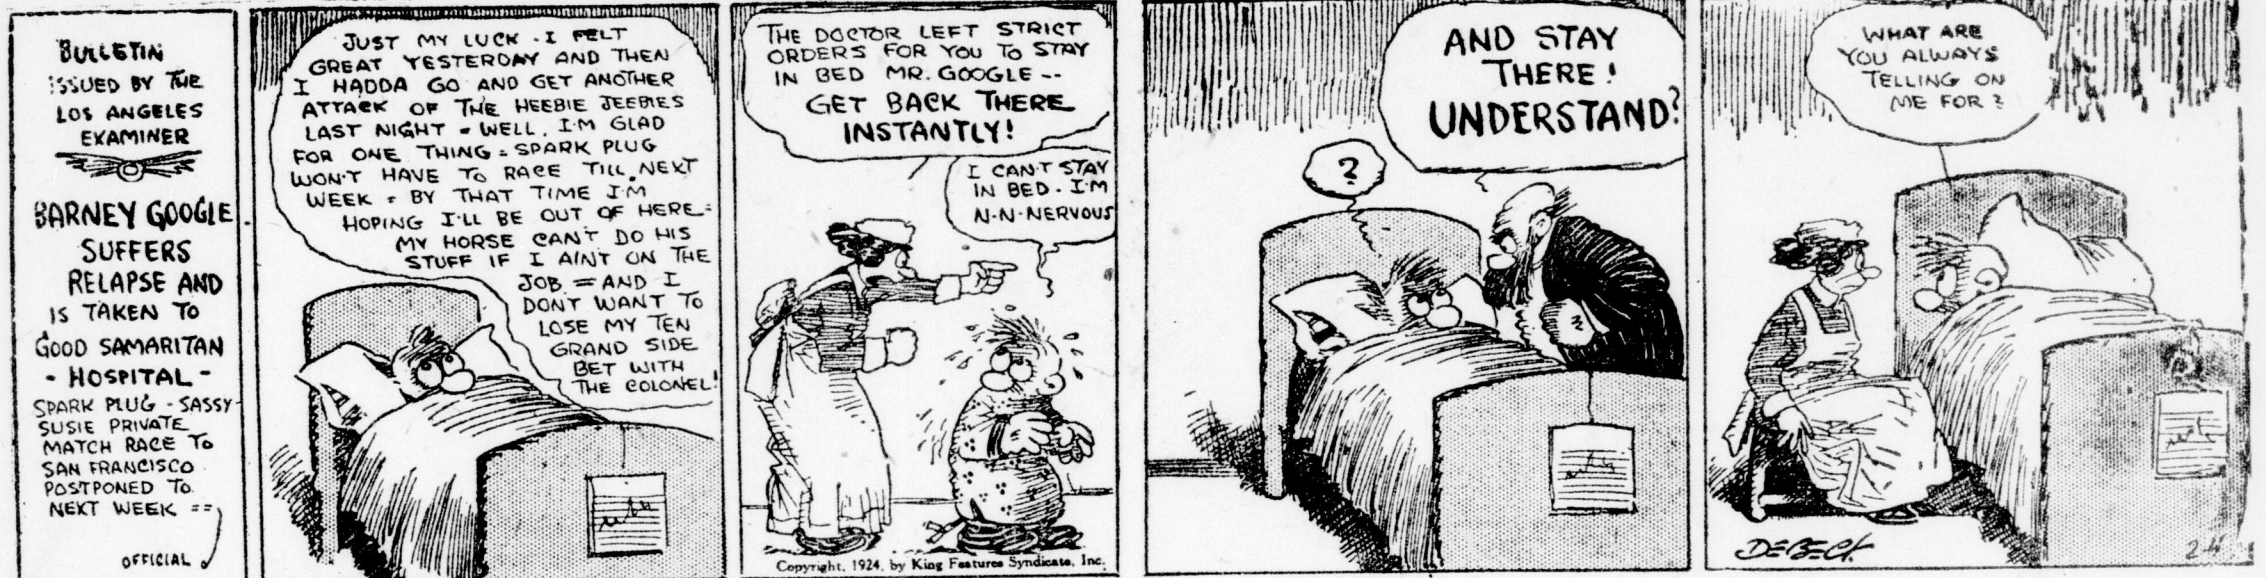

THE GUMPS—IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

BARNEY GOOGLE AND SPARK PLUG

Bed Is Barney's Best Bet.

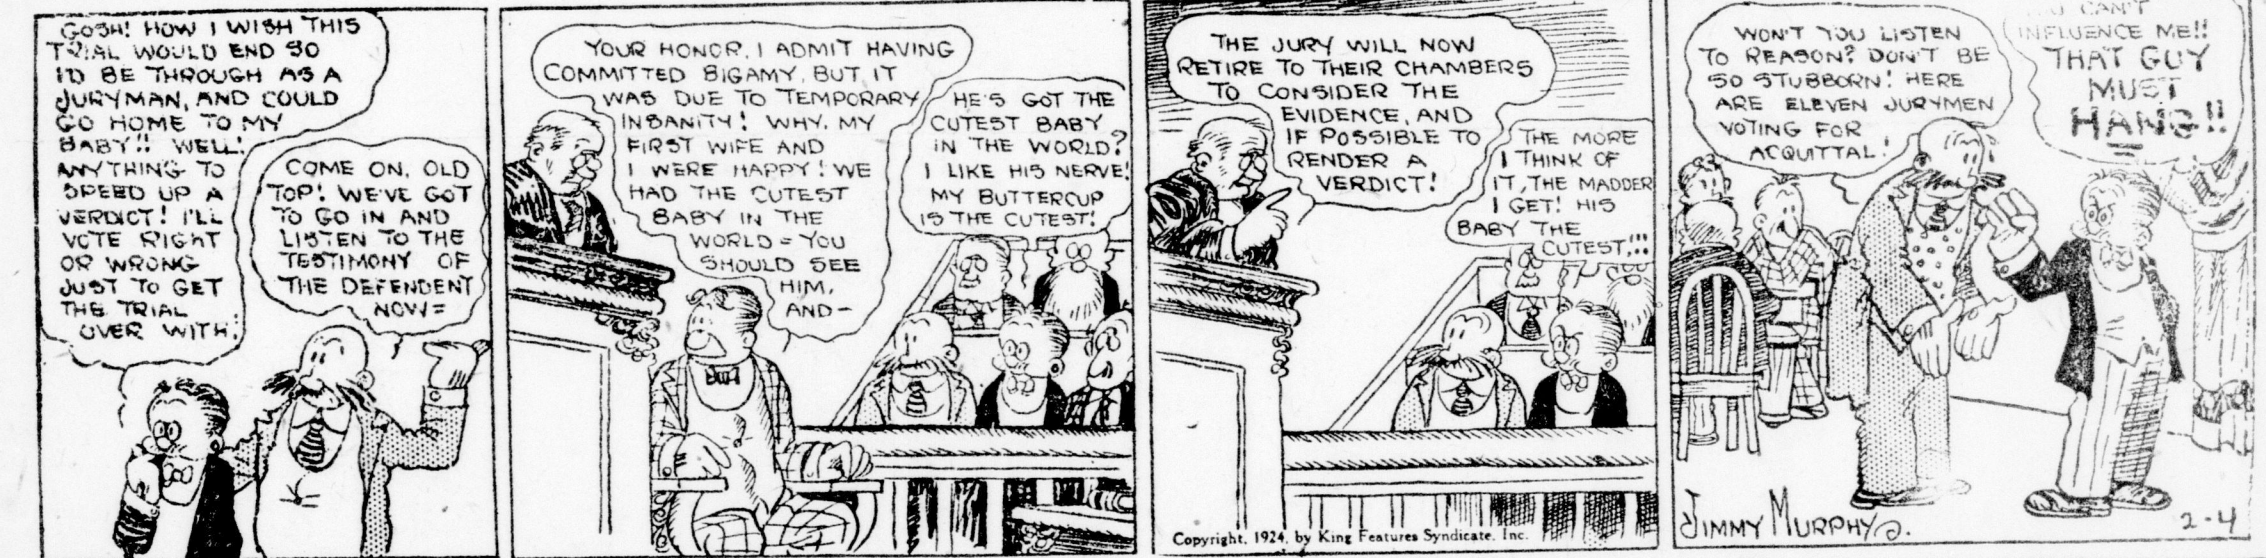

BY BILLY DE BECK

TOOTS AND CASPER

Casper Demands the Extreme Penalty.

BY JIMMY MURPHY

MUTT AND JEFF

It Was All News To Jeff.

BY BUD FISHER

REG'LAR FELLERS

Bump Is a Musical Guy.

BY GENE BYRNES

Rowat's Teas

Our Special Blends Please People Who
Are Particular. 75c, 50c, 30c, 15c, $1.10 and $2.00 a Pound.

T.A. Rowat & Co.

250 Dundas St. W. Phone 3051-3052.

BUY Your Magazines at Red Star News Co.

10 MARKET LANE.
WE SELL THEM AT REGULAR PUBLISHERS' PRICES

Our fitters are experts. $1.50 to $10.00. We have trusses to fit
all needs.
ANDERSON
& NELSON,
268 Dundas St. W.

"Say it with Flowers"
DICKS
FLOWER SHOP

WEGNER'S
Wholesale and Retail Dealer in Overalls, Sweaters, Coats, Gloves, Mittens and Raincoats.
LONDON'S LARGEST HIGH CLASS
WORKINGMEN'S OUTFITTERS Exclusive Manufacturers' Agent for the Best Canadian Make of Overalls.
WEGNER, The Heart of London.
371 Talbot St. Phone 1849J.
OPEN EVENINGS.

HOTEL STRAND
ATLANTIC CITY
FIREPROOF—AMERICAN PLAN
ON THE OCEAN FRONT
Open throughout the year
Hot and Cold Sea Water in all Baths Orchestra of Soloists Golf Privileges OWNERSHIP MANAGEMENT

LONDON OPTICAL CO.
HAVE YOUR EYES EXAMINED.
A. M. DAMBRA, Optometrist.
Dominion Savings Building, Richmond
Street, Phone 6180. ZKV

NEAL'S
GOOD WHITE BREAD

the loaf of richest flavor and complete, satisfying nutrition.

At Your Grocer's.
Phone 1313-2173

NEAL BAKING COMPANY LIMITED
Windsor, London, St. Thomas, Sarnia.

Reliability

PERHAPS the best indication of the absolute reliability of our service and of our "Quality Beyond Question" Shur-on Glasses is to be found in the thousands of satisfied customers who are now wearing and boosting them.

BROWN OPTICAL CO.

223 DUNDAS STREET. PHONE 1877.
Branches—Hamilton, Windsor and Montreal.

"Care for the Eyes That Care for You."

Confession Is Necessary For Soul, Claims Pastor

So Declares Rev. T. Cosby
Morris At Askin Street Methodist Church.

MANY SPLENDID SERMONS

Dr. Waller Conducts Evening Service in St. Paul's Cathedral.

Rev. T. Cosby Morris, speaking in the evening at Askin Street Methodist Church, took for his sermon, Nathaniel Hawthorne's famous book,
"The Scarlet Letter."

Telling the story of Hester Prynne and young Dimmesdale briefly, but nevertheless forcibly, the speaker dealt at length with the hiding of his sin by Dimmesdale, after Hester had suffered the consequence of participation in
it. He related how the young man, respected and worshipped by the whole community of Boston at that time, strictly Puritan, would not confess, owing to the fear of the consequences which meant death, and how, at the end, confessing, he was overtaken by death.

The lesson to be learned from the book, according to Dr. Morris, was that confession was necessary to the well being of the soul and happiness.

"I might point my finger at some

WINS BY ELECTION.

Sir T. Vansittart Bowater, former lord mayor of London, has been elected on the Conservative ticket to represent one of the city of London seats, in the House of Commons, made vacant by the elevation of Sir Frederick Manbury to the peerage.

of you and say: "Thou art the man, or woman," and until you confess you will not find peace. There is no peace as long as a sin remains hidden in your soul."

"There is an opportunity offered to all," he concluded. "It is the Cross. Accept it and Christ and you will find the peace for which you have been longing."

AT FIRST PRESBYTERIAN.

That Christ is a controlling factor in life was the burden of the sermon preached by Rev. William Beattie at First Presbyterian Church yesterday morning.

Mr. Beattie took for his text the words: "Lo, I am with you always," spoken to the disciples by Christ, and in explaining the words, showed how Christ at that time, was announcing an eternal principle. He stated that all we are or possess is but the accumulative interests of the past days and that this will go on accumulating century after century.
Referring again to the text, he asked whether we believed it or just believed that we did. This can be tested and an answer received in a very simple manner. Let a man in temptation, difficulties or loneliness think upon Jesus Christ and he will find the answer by His presence in the relief given to the trouble that besets him.

When Christ told the disciples that He would be with them always, there were some who doubted, just as many today doubt and want to be shown.
But even though there is no vision of spiritual presence, yet it is true that he is with us. There are multitudes who have lost dear ones that can testify to this as the presence of the dead is there in just such proportion as they were beloved and thought upon in their conscious presence.

"Likewise," he concluded, "Christ, the controlling factor in life, who is with us at all times, is felt in just the same proportion as he is loved and thought of and sought after."

ST. PAUL'S CATHEDRAL.

Dr. Waller, principal of Huron College, conducted the evening service at St. Paul's Cathedral, and in his sermon dealt with the Gospel of St.
John and the word manifestation, and God as manifested by Christ.

Starting at the birth of Christ
Dr. Waller declared that it was then that the name of God was first manifested as that of the Father.
Prior to this time man did not realize that God was love, but after having given His only Son to earth man knew that there was a God who was a father.

The second manifestation was that of glory, when at the marriage feast of Cana Christ turned the water into wine, thereby, proving that God was also a part of the joys of life, and must be taken into consideration in connection with them.

The man born blind was the next manifestation of God, the speaker declaring that the iron had been from birth without his sight in order that by his cure God might be made manifest as a participant in the sorrows of life as well as the joys.

The last manifestation was when He revealed Himself after the resurrection, thereby showing that even after death God was with man.

"In all phases of life," concluded Dr. Waller, "God is manifest, and we should see Him in everything, joy, sorrow, life and death, as He is there willing to be our partner in all."

ADELAIDE STREET BAPTIST.

Rev. S. Everton, Woodstock, was the preacher at both services at Adelaide Street Baptist Church, where good congregations prevailed.

At the morning service Mr. Everton took his text from the prophet Nathan, the words, "The Lord is good, a stronghold of trouble. He knoweth them that trust in Him."

Stating that the book quoted from was one of storm and trouble and that it dealt with the great desire of the Israelites for vengeance on the Egyptians, Mr. Everton declared that the above words were spoken as a means of relief from the stress and spirit of revenge that had descended on God's children. The words were meant to show that temporal revenge and fighting could safely be left in the hands of the Almighty.

Dealing with the present, the speaker said that there were certain defences that people and nations of today erected unto themselves—military, commercial, educational, etc.— thinking them sufficient. That they all had a place in life, he admitted, but they were not sufficient.
"Apart from God himself there is nothing that is sufficient to itself or to anything else. God must enter into everything before it can become the defence or the strength it should be.
Let us remember that and always look to God for our help rather than to material things. Material things have their part in our life, but without God they do not fill the whole need."

WHEN MOVING A DANGEROUS CASE OF SICKNESS OR ACCIDENT

Phone 586 for an ambulance. Our service is prompt and the patient's comfort is assured. A. L. Catman, Reliable Ambulance Service. Phone 586.—Adv.

FAITH REMOVES FEAR OF DEATH,
SAYS FR. POWELL

Urges Congregation At St.
Mary's To Be Always Prepared To Sever Life's Bonds.

DEATH BUT A DOOR

Those endowed with faith do not shrink from the thoughts of death, but look upon it as merely a door to the church triumphant. Rev. Father Francis Powell told the congregation at the 10:30 mass at St. Mary's Church yesterday morning.

"It is appointed that all men should die," Fr. Powell asserted, "but this was not intended at the beginning.
When God created Adam he not only gave him a soul but gave to that body as it came from His immortal hands immortality."

"As sin came into the world, so also did death, and it was by the death of man made God that the salvation of mankind was rendered possible."

"Those of little faith shudder when they realize they cannot enjoy the pleasures of the world indefinitely, but the time when God has ordained that they should die must inevitably come. Those blessed with faith realize that they are only transients, and that beyond the door of death lies their celestial home; it is the door between the church militant and the church triumphant."

In conclusion Fr. Powell urged his hearers to give more thought in future to the time when the bonds of life must be severed, and in their prayers to beseech God to give them the grace of being prepared when they are called to render an account of their stewardships.

EXPECTS STUPENDOUS
CHANGE IN HISTORY

Speaker To Bible Students Declares the Time Is At Hand.

"The most stupendous change that has ever happened in human history is soon to take place," said C. W.
Roberts to Bible Students at Hyman Hall yesterday, in dealing with the topic "The World Has Ended.
Therefore Millions Now Living Will Never Die."

"It will be that life will take the place of death," he said, "the present world distress is unparalleled. Man are losing faith and hope in the League of Nations, the church, labor movements or the Ku Klux Klans to supply the remedy. The only remedy is Jehovah's."

"To teach that millions will not die is not more ridiculous than to preach that millions will be preserved for ever in a lake of fire. The question is, does the Bible teach it? We might spend the rest of the allotted time quoting Scriptures which most emphatically state this."

"For example Ezekiel 18:21 says that if the wicked turn from wickedness and do that which is lawful and right he shall surely live, he shall not die. Some may object, with the Scriptural statement, 'It is appointed unto men once to die and after this the judgment, but all Scriptures bearing on the subject must be taken into account. So Psalm 78:11 asks how these appointed to death will be preserved by Divine power. Ps. 41:1-2 describes the course that any must take who will be preserved. All these teachings are earthly. The promise to Abraham was: 'In thee and thy seed shall all nations of the earth be blessed.' Heaven is for the few footstep followers of Jesus. Ezek. 37:1-12 is not Russellism, as Ezekiel was a Russellite. The prophet there emphatically states that people are to be brought out of their graves and placed in a certain land."

"Gentle Jesus of world dominion ended in 1904."

"We have seen almost all the signs given by our Lord fulfilled, including the budding of that Jewish national life represented by a fig tree. Jesus said: 'When you see these things come to pass, know that my kingdom is nigh, even at the door. Therefore, all Christians pray. Thy will be done on earth as in heaven.'"

PRESENT PLAYLET.

Special to The Advertiser.
Cargill, Feb. 3.—Cargill Young People's Association presented the playlet, "The Minister's Bride," which depicts the ups and downs of a minister's life.

The C. O. F. Hall was packed to the doors and all present were thoroughly pleased with the evening's entertainment. Almost $100 was taken at the door.

COAL, COKE AND WOODANTHRACITE COAL, SCRANTON

All sizes.

EGG, STOVE, CHEST-NUT AND PEA

Well screened.

POCAHONTAS SMOKE-
LESS BITUMINOUS COAL

Lump, Egg and Chestnut sizes.

DOMESTIC COKE

Egg and Chestnut sizes.

WOOD BLOCKS

12x16 lengths.

Chantler Bros.

Phone 347. 263 Bathurst.

Afternoon and Dance Dresses

Dance Frocks shown in shot blue taffeta, nine narrow frills edged with gold metallic ribbon forming the skirt, cap sleeve, straight line bodice. Price $35.00

Woman's Dress shown in sand georgette, sleeveless, four long loose panels extending below hem line, beaded in blue, mauve and white, beaded girdle.
Price $55.00

These frocks are so simple they charm by lack of adornment. But what need have they of ornamentation, for the lines are absolutely correct, the fabrics rich and lovely.
So they depend upon themselves—with much wisdom, as you will agree when you see them. Dull-surfaced crepe, georgette and taffeta; their simplicity, their well-cut necklines you will at once note and commend. Frills says Paris, and these dresses echo that sentiment. More smartness one could not desire; for good taste they are unrivalled.

Smart Afternoon Frocks for misses, shown in the sand georgette, short sleeves, front and back pleated, narrow yoke, loose side panels extending from hem, sash girdle. Price $30.00

Women's Dress of Crepe Romaine, shown in almond green, half sleeve, a straight line model, handsomely beaded, three frills at left side finishing skirt. Price $59.00

Misses' Dress of Blue Georgette, made over silk; dainty ruchings of silk finishing neck, sleeves and hip line; skirt shows the bouffant hip drapery. Price $30.00

Misses' and Women's Flannel Dresses

There is such a variety of becoming frocks in this collection that the young girl is certain of making a triumphantly successful choice, and their special prices will serve the ends of economy with equal success.

To-day I saw

The 1924 crop of Valentines which has already made its blushing appearance. Each year's offerings are more varied, charming and original than its predecessors. And centuries of observance have added dignity to this pretty custom of sending anonymous messages of love on February Fourteenth.

A delightful selection of Valentines has been grouped together at our stationery department, where an ever-changing but interested crowd gathers.

The Valentines are adorned with hearts and cupid's bows and lovers' knots—all the pretty symbolism, the quaint conceits and charming fancies of lovers. The subtle shades of meaning in the little Valentine verses! Verses in which "true" rhymes with "you,"
"heart" with "dart," and "miss"
with "kiss."

Picturesque ladies of the nineteenth century with their fans, patches and powdered wigs, and shower bouquets of forget-me-nots and bleeding hearts. The most modern of young "camps" with a complete equipment of feather fan, large jade earrings, sophisticated coiffure and devastating eyelashes.

A demure advocate of preparedness carries a bridal bouquet, a tulle veil and the legend, "Ask me—so I can wear it." Quite regardless of the fact that this is Leap Year!

Don't forget your Valentine!

Judith

Knitted Apparel
In the Infants' Shop

Suits, Sweaters, Overalls, Mittens and every little thing for children's winter comfort, all displayed where only infants to three-year-old sizes are kept.
Infants' Shop, Fourth Floor.

A splendid assortment of Children's Four-Piece Woolen Suits, coat style, in colors of silver, honey, rose, cadet and white—

Sizes 20, 22 and 24. Price....$6.75

Size 26. Price.....$7.50

Another style with Sweater, buttoning on right shoulder. Size 20, $5.75; sizes 22, 24 and 26, $6.75.

Woolen Overalls in colors of cadet, scarlet, tan and silver. Size 20, $1.75; size 22, $2.25; size 24, $2.50;
size 26, $2.75.

Children's All-Wool Sweater Coats, with brushed wool collar; colors
gray, rose, saxe and honey....$4.50

Pure Wool Sweaters, button front, in colors of brown, honey, white, saxe and gray. Price.....$3.75

Wool Gauntlet Mitts, in white, sand, tan, gray and scarlet. Price....65c

Pretty Wool Mittens, in white with gray brushed wool cuffs. Price $1.25

HEAR THESE RECORDS
"His Master's Voice"

Releases for February

19201-10", 75c—Dream Daddy, Fox Trot; The Only Girl, Fox Trot;
Jack Chapman and His Drake
Hotel Orchestra.

19209-10", 75c—Roumin' to Wy-omin', Fox Trot; Paul Whiteman and His Orchestra; That's My Baby, Fox Trot; Waring's Pennsylvanians.

19218-10", 75c—Rosita, Tango Fox Trot; Abandonado, Waltz; International Novelty Orchestra.

10173-10", 75c—The West, a Nest and You, Lewis James; Indian Moon, Claire Brookhurst-Lewis
James.

19194-10", 75c—Dear Old Lady, Sterling Trio; Lindy Lady, Peerless Quartet.

970-10", $1.75—Grand Adagio
(Glazounow); Hebrew Lullaby (Achron); Jascha Helfetz.

Third Floor.

ELECTRIC APPLIANCES
Heaters, Toasters,
Irons, Etc.
Basement.

SMALLMAN'S
Lingerie

SILK AND WOOL HOSE
IN COLORS.
Size 8 1/2 Only.
$1.19 Pair.