

As Others See You

THAT'S how you are going to be sized up this Fall and Winter. The "stare" you get on the street is either one of admiration or ridicule, when you don your new Topper or Suit for the first time. It's bound to be admiration if we are your clothiers, because our garments are all distinctive in character and make.

Getting down to brass tacks on the woolen situation we can honestly say that we are not putting into stock any undesirables, so that you can rely upon getting value for your money, no matter what others may say about scarcity and poor quality of the fabrics. It's just a good habit we have of not stooping to price, but bringing price up to value standards. By doing this we find no trouble in getting your money and keeping your friendship, both essential to the life of our business.

We are very strong on Overcoats this year, $12.00 to $45.00, in all the good styles. Suits the same from $12.00 to $35.00. Ours is the big clothing store on the corner that every one likes to shop in, and we keep open every Saturday night till 10 o'clock.

WAR SUMMARY

THE DAYS' EVENTS REVIEWED

COMBLES, one of the allied objectives in the battle of the Somme, and the pivot on which the Germans swung in launching their counter-attacks, fell into the hands of the British and French yesterday, after brief fighting. The allies attacked the village from all directions and they found it filled with German dead. About 100 wounded, who had been abandoned by their companions, were picked up by the French. Seeing what was coming, the unwounded Germans apparently had cleared out to prevent their being surrounded and taken by the allies. In the underground caverns and passages of Combles the allies found great quantities of ammunition and other supplies, stored by the Germans, in the belief that their lines would never be pierced.

In itself the taking of Combles is merely the taking of a village of 2000 inhabitants, but as a military event the reaching of this point, after almost a three months' battle, is highly significant. It is fraught with good auguries for the future operations of the allies; it is a sign that the allies have fought and defeated a great force of Germans, perhaps a million and a quarter of them all told; it is also a telling blow to the military prestige of Von Hindenburg. General Mud, as he is called in Germany, has staked his reputation on his ability to stem the advance of the allies in Picardy, while at the same time he accumulated a big army in the east to face the Russians. Since the allies have now overcome the third German system of defence north of the Somme, and have practically open country before them, they will henceforth be able to make large daily gains. Unless the Germans call up heavy reinforcements of men and guns they are liable to meet with a grave military disaster, when they must retreat.

The capture of Thiepval by the British, is in its way, more important than the capture of Combles, and, as in Combles, they took a large amount of ammunition and war material. Thiepval is situated on a strongly defended ridge. It was defended by a large garrison, and it had held out against all assaults for practically three months. The remarkable rate of the allies' advance is convincing observers of the war that the Germans are on the verge of a collapse.

Besides winning Combles, the British expelled the Germans from the important town of Thiepval, just south of the Ancre; they captured the high ridge to the east of it and they stormed the Zollern redoubt. In the centre the Germans back in disorder. The ridge east of Thiepval was strongly fortified by an elaborate system of heavily-wired trenches. The foe defended it with desperation. In commenting on the operations, the British official communication said last night: "The successes gained during the past two days may be regarded as of very considerable importance."

After the fall of Combles, the French continued the battle with considerable success. They captured a small wood situated north of Pregi-groun between this wood and the western horn of St. Vaast Wood, east 1200 men and at least 30 machine guns. The French communication says that the allied troops attained within a few hours the objectives assigned for the second day of the struggle.

In a review of the battle of the Somme, The Bulletin des Armees of Paris says that the French have captured since July 1 about 70 square miles of territory. They have taken 30,000 unwounded prisoners, 144 cannon, 500 machine guns and much other material. These figures denote the winning of a striking victory. Since the opening of the battle the Germans have thrown into the furnace 67 new divisions and 17 battalions. It is also said that the allies have broken the spirit of the Germans at Verdun, they have definitely deprived the enemy of the initiative and they have turned it in their favor.

In the Roumanian province of the Dobruja the Teutonic forces again attempted to break thru the Roumanian front, but they were repulsed. The foe made three attacks. In Transylvania the Roumanians have won

HAMILTON WILL BE A MILITARY CAMP

Nearly Four Thousand Troops Will Be Quartered for the Winter.

NEARLY COMPLETED

Highlanders Require Only a Few Men — Local Names in Casualty List.

HAMILTON, Wednesday, Sept. 27.—Hamilton is to become a big military camp during the winter. The regiments to be quartered here will include the local units, the 178th Highlanders, the 20th Sportsmen's Battalion, 207th and the 23rd The Mounted Rifles will continue to have their quarters here and it is estimated that the total number of troops in barracks will exceed three thousand.

Only a few men are required to complete the strength of the Highlanders and the battalion is making a special appeal to Hamiltonians. Colonel Bruce expects to have his unit complete before going into winter quarters. All eligibles attending fall fairs in this district will be confronted with a recruiter from the Canadian Mounted Rifles.

The women of Hamilton are going to assist in recruiting and at a meeting of the executive of the Recruiting League last night the recommendation of the publicity committee that the women's auxiliary of the league be asked to take charge of some of the future recruiting meetings was adopted.

Says Mayor Smith. For trespass and alleged destruction of a French poodle, W. E. Armstrong, 82 Webber avenue, is suing Mayor Smith of Burlington.

Word was received in Hamilton yesterday by James R. Allan, of the death of his nephew, Capt. James R. Allan, Capt. Allan was the front as a member of the first contingent and obtained his rank overseas.

S. S. Wynn, consulting engineer, Columbus, Ohio, has been recommended by the board of control to make a complete report on the gas situation in Hamilton. The United Gas and Fuel Co. and the National Gas Co. will cooperate and it is estimated that the report will cost $5000.

The names of nine local men appeared in yesterday's casualty lists, three of who were reported to be killed in action and one missing. Sergt. Thomas Ireland, 1st Bn., and Ptes. Harry Hepworth, 7 Ardvoilch street, and Arthur Edward Kerbey, are listed as dead, and Robert Bruce, 66 Oak avenue, is missing.

WOMEN SUCCESSFUL MUNITION WORKERS

Munition Board Pleased After Satisfactory Trial of Feminine Help.

PROVEN COMPETENT

Ontario Manufacturers Inspect Montreal Plants and Are Surprised.

MONTREAL, Sept. 26.—A party of Ontario munition manufacturers today inspected several plants in Montreal with a view to the practicability of employing women, looking toward the increased production of munitions in this country.

A plant producing large calibre shells was visited, where women are being successfully used in the production of the shells. They have proven themselves competent to undertake this work, and are being employed in large numbers with most satisfactory results as to output.

Another plant which is engaged upon intricate and delicate work, almost wholly done by women, was likewise visited. The sensitive touch of the women and their invariable reliability giving the best of results. In this plant, as in the heavier work, the women are rapidly being given the preference, having demonstrated a de-victory by defeating the Teutons in the Jiu Valley after heavy engagements lasting for several days. The enemy is now retreating and the Roumanians are advancing. Berlin admits the loss of the Vulcan and indicates that the enemy has fallen in the main purpose of his expedition tempted to create a diversion after Frederick the Great's old plan of tread- enough plan, but one condition is essential for its success. You must tread hard enough to make the dragon feel really hurt, and this the Teutons, Turks and Bulgarians were not able to do.

Despite bad conditions under foot the Russians appear to continue their pounding at the Teuton lines in Galicia. One reason for the lull that to make them fit in with the new situation which was created by the entry of Roumania into the war. Perceiving that the enemy has a vast concentration of forces on the eastern front, with the possible object of opening an offensive in order to regain the lost territory, the Russians have adopted the maxim of the benefits accruing to him who gets his blow in first and they are opening another offensive. The Teutons mention Russian attacks near Manastir, Galicia, while the Russian communication of yesterday notes merely the repulsing of German attacks in the northern sector about Dvinsk.

In the country north of Saloniki the fighting is lively. Instead of the British and French advances being made with the immediate intention of following them up, they are being made for the purpose of provoking the Bulgarians to attack them. In this way they plan to force the Bulgarians to wear themselves to pieces by attrition. The method adopted by the allies is that employed by civilized troops in savage warfare, that is, worrying tactics.

The Roumanians have been given some tokens of German hatred in the form of bombs dropped on Bucharest by a squadron of aeroplanes. Sixty persons were killed and a great many wounded. Two-thirds of the casualties are women and children. Five children were also slain by bombs dropped from a zeppelin at Bucharest.

GREECE MAY BE INTO WAR TODAY

not turn against them, but shoulders his rifle to fight the enemy. Will issue an Appeal.

ATHENS, Sept. 25, via London, Sept. 26.—Former Premier Venizelos, who is on his way to the island of Crete, is expected to proceed to Canale to address a proclamation to the people of Greece, stating the reasons for his departure from Athens and summoning King Constantine to head a movement to put Greece by the side of the entente.

Following the departure of M. Venizelos, a general exodus of his adherents began. Former deputies and former ministers of the Liberal party, army officers and government officials are leaving Athens as rapidly as they can obtain transportation.

Rear Admiral Paul Condouritis, former minister of marine, and Gen. Miliotis, accompanied the Cretan statesman.

Athens is Excited. The greatest excitement is prevalent in Athens. In some quarters the feeling is expressed that M. Venizelos' action has been hastened by the prospect of an early agreement regarding Greece's entry into the war between Greece and the entente powers, and is considered that the Cretan is now playing his last trump in the struggle with the king. The information that an agreement may be reached between Greece and the entente comes from official sources, and is based on telegrams from Greek ministers in entente capitals. The entente legations here, however, have not been advised of any change in the program of inaction.

One explanation of the departure of M. Venizelos advanced is that the foreign powers desire to nominate a prefect of Saloniki, thus definitely bringing about the separation of the city from Greece, and that M. Venizelos, to save Saloniki to Greece, is going to a conference with the entente allied authorities there, in an endeavor to arrange another solution of the situation. The general belief here, however, is that the visit of M. Venizelos is connected with an insurrection.

FORESTRY BATTALION HOPES TO CLOSE RECRUITING SOON

Outside Ontario points are still bringing in handsome returns for the 242nd Forestry Battalion, so good, in fact, that twelve or fifteen men will now bring the Ontario company of the Foresters up to full strength. Yesterday was a good day, Sergt. John Willis of Hamilton, sending in three men from that city and six from Preston. With that fine record behind them, the Foresters hope to close recruiting by the first of October.

SPEAKERS AT PRESS CLUB Show Need of Men for Navy

A meeting of the Women's Press Club was held yesterday, at which addresses were given by Mr. Justice Hodgins, Aemilius Jarvis and Lady Guinness. The speeches were in connection with recruiting for the royal navy, and each speaker showed the need of men and more men for the Canadian as well as the British services.

Furniture in The Mellow Brown Oak of Elizabethan and Jacobean Times

Most Happily Placed in the Spacious Living-room or Dining-room, Especially the Room With Beamed Ceiling and Big Open Fireplace

This is Interesting

ANYONE inclined to croak over the artistic limitations of Toronto should see the painted furniture here and there throughout the Furniture Building at 221 Albert and James Streets. It proves true all the stories of its fascinations in the working out of schemes according to the principles of the New Art movement in interior decoration. There is a set of boudoir or sun-room tables and chairs in yellow and black enamel, painted with roses, the sight of which cheers you like a compliment or a bit of good news. A breakfast-room set of ivory enamel, painted with big pink petals, includes beside the table and chairs, the quaintest old china cupboard imaginable. As for the fern boxes, and old-fashioned rocking chairs, they are sheer delight to the eye that craves something bright and new and interesting to relieve the familiarity of one's daily environment.

And speaking of breakfast, we should not forget to mention the charming little sets of china for the breakfast tray of the invalid, or of her who takes life easily and remains a bed for her morning meal. They consist of cup and saucer, small plate, and of teapot, cream jug and sugar bowl, which may be stacked up one on top of the other in the most compact "three-in-one" style imaginable. The china is in plain all-over, self-tone effect, pink, blue, yellow or green, and the price for the set complete is $2.95.

A real bit of antiquity come to life is the little dark oak fireside box to hold his slippers when he shuffles them off to draw on his outdoor footwear. It is beautifully hand-carved with the motifs of the Elizabethan period, and is priced $22.50. It will be found in the library of the furnished house in the Furniture Building.

If you want some jolly pictures for your children's nursery go to the Picture Department and ask for the series of Harry Rowntree's drawings. Each one portrays some delicious situation in animal life, with cunning pug dogs, precocious little kittens or frisky young foxes of rabbits playing the leading parts. They are reproduced in color, framed in dark oak, and priced at 55c each.

The Scribe.

THE PAGEANTRY OF THE DAYS OF QUEEN BESS and the Puritanism of the days of King James, King Charles and Cromwell—brush up your history and you will see the reflection of events in the sober magnificence of Elizabethan furniture, and the sturdy reserve of Jacobean.

Heavy structure and handsome carving characterize Elizabethan cabinet-making, the bulging leg being the most obvious feature. "Rope-turned" supports and a stalwart severity of line are the distinguishing marks of Jacobean styles. And how vividly the dark brown oak, rich and mellow, bespeaks the underlying earnestness of that age of adventure and conquest. There's a wealth of interest clinging to the furniture of these historic periods.

For the big dignified room of substantial type, furnishings in such old English styles are very justly popular. Hence a few suggestions from the superb showing of the same in the Furniture Building.

Jacobean Furniture for Libraries and Living-rooms

Hard to imagine a more interesting sofa than the splendid Davenport in the "Furnished Home" on the Third Floor. The long, wide frame is in brown oak carved in Jacobean style, six loose, flat, denim-covered cushions fitting snugly into the spring seat and cane-set back. It is a production of the famous Berkey and Gay, renowned from one end of America to the other for their peerless cabinet-making. The price of it is $122, with the big arm chair to match, $63.

A handsome library table with characteristic rope-turned legs is $47.50. A charming book case in the same style, with four shelves and glass doors banded with oak, is $75.00.

And down on the Main Floor of the Furniture Building is a delightful display of living-room pieces in Jacobean oak—quaint little gateleg tables for books or a tea tray ranging in price from $16 to $45; arm chairs inset with cane, from $14.50 to $69; magazine stands from $10 to $20; fern boxes on stands, from $12.50 to $23; pedestals from $10.50 to $18.50; and a charming little "trough" for books at $13.50.

Elizabethan Furniture for Dining-rooms

A joy to behold is a low, long sideboard in mellow old cathedral oak fashioned and carved in the happiest old English style. The china cabinet and dinner wagon are built along the same dignified lines, also the chairs which have cane seats and backs, and the round table. If a square drop-leaf table be preferred such may be substituted. This, too, is from Berkey and Gay, and is priced for the 10 pieces at $285.75.

That the style of the Jacobean period may be expressed in terms of modern comfort is seen in the sketch above. The twisted leg and carved scroll denoting the Flemish influence in this particular phase of old English cabinet-making are characteristic of the various pieces, prices for which are as follows: The Comfortable Extension Chair, without cushions, $38.00; the delightful Couch in the background representing a living-room set, the other pieces being two arm chairs and a straight back chair, all-including settee—having loose cushions covered in green denim. Prices for four pieces, $125.00.

In the Grand Fall Display of Millinery

An Excellent Array of Untrimmed Velvet Shapes, and Ornaments with Which to Adorn Them

IN THE FORMER there are many smart shapes, tams, and pokes, sailors, round and oval, flat shapes, with three and four corners; those turned directly off the face; those distinctly of Napoleonic shape; indeed, there are practically all the shapes you could fancy; colors are purple, green, brown, navy and black.

Metallic Trimmings are still enjoying an immense popularity, and to supply this demand we have a collection of charming ornaments. There are birds and beetles, bugs of queer shape, swans and many novelties. They are made in bead and embroidered effects, with generous sprinklings of silver and gold thread.

Ribbons, too, in many new effects, featuring extensively corded ribbons in the most required colors, as well as black, silver and gold.

Flowers and Fruits are also quite in evidence, and have some very lovely effects in both shape and shade.

New arrivals have come to hand of various wings and mounts, many pretty imitation osprey and heron, pheasant bands, in natural, purple, green and black, and other smart mounts, which would form the sole trimming of a hat.

—Second Floor, Yonge St.

From clever Canadian manufacturers is a most attractive dining-room set in Elizabethan design, showing characteristic panelling and turned legs. Besides the interesting-looking wide, low sideboard, in the set are china cabinet, round table and six chairs with cane backs and leather seats. Price for 9 pieces, $389.00.

English China Pieces Thursday at Rush Prices

THE only reason for offering these pieces at these prices is that some of them have slight imperfections in the decoration, but you can hardly notice it. The pieces are decorated in a light blue Indian tree decoration, have gold traced edges and handles, and a brilliant glass over strong white body. The assortment includes tea cups and saucers, each 12 1/2c; breakfast cups and saucers, each 20c; tea plates, each 15c; breakfast plates, each 15c; cake plates, each 20c; platters, $1.00; platters, $1.25; oval pickle trays, each 20c; covered muffin dishes, each $1.00; slip bowls, 20c; marmalade jars, each 55c; hot water jugs, each $1.25; open sugar and cream sets, pair 20c; cream jugs, each 35c; half-pint jugs, each 35c; teapots, each 65c.

Tapestries and Linens Are The Textiles To Use

Especially When Walls Are Plain. When Walls Are Patterned Then Choose the New Mohair Kells Cloth or the Silky Apsley Cloth in Self-tones

THE TEXTILES of the Elizabethan period are dark, rich tapestries, velvets and damasks. Printed linens huge in pattern and scale and scrawly in motion, are characteristic of the Jacobean period. So says Professor Parsons, and any decorator of authority will support the idea.

Wherefore it behooves us to draw attention to the magnificent showing of tapestries now on view in the Drapery Department—verdure, conventional and fruit effects, besides many successful reproductions of old Italian designs.

Blue, brown, green and old rose are the chief colors employed, mingled and toned in wondrously soft, soothing manner. For the covering of the big Chesterfield, and the arm chairs, which are an invariable part of the living-room or library, and for the making of portieres or curtains, such tapestries enjoy an immense favor. They are 50 inches wide and range in price from $1.00 to $3.50 per yard.

In printed and hand-blocked linens there is enormous selection—linens in the bold dignified designs demanded by old English styles of decoration. The color choice is practically unlimited. 50 inches is the average width and prices run from $1.50 to $4.50 per yard.

As a plain fabric for all manner of upholstery, Kells cloth enjoys well-deserved favor. It is a mohair weave of pebbled surface and is available in charming tones of deep blue, green, brown, tan and rose. 50 inches wide—price, $1.50 per yard.

As for the new Apsley cloth, it is a thick wool fabric with silky crepe-like finish—admirable for handsome upholstery where a self-tone effect is required. It is featured in the same width and colors as Kells cloth, and is priced $2.50 per yard.

Tapestry Papers to Replace Old Needlework Tapestries

And As a Background For the Rich Brown Oak of Elizabethan and Jacobean Furniture How Happily They Serve

NOT EVERY HOUSE boasts the oak panelled walls of the Seventeenth Century. But the spirit of the old needlepoint tapestries, which were hung over the paneling, may be most successfully revived with the use of these papers which reproduce so cleverly the dim old tapestry colorings and mediaeval patternings. They create a most satisfying background for Elizabethan and Jacobean furniture, especially when placed above a dark oak wainscoting.

Foliage and landscape effects are available in a host of softly blended combinations of green and blue, green and brown, tan and brown, tan and gray, and brown and gray, and with generally a gleam of yellow to offset the possibility of gloom. For hall, library or living-room furnished in Old English oak they present immense attractions.

In the immense selection of tapestry papers, the widths range from 18 to 30 inches, and the prices from 25 cents to $2.50 per roll of 8 yards.

At a Critical Stage

With the fall of Combes the crown has been placed upon the series of attacks constituting the long offensive against the Germans on the Somme which has been going on since June.

The Germans had turned the town (before the war of 20,000 population) into a strongly fortified position and its resistance served to check the allied advance towards Bapaume and Peronne.

Our United States friends are quick to see the change in the situation, and The New York Tribune accepts the latest developments as indication sufficient that Germany is beaten.

The only question now is how long it will take to compel Germany to acknowledge what everyone else knows. A great deal depends upon the action of the German people themselves.

Never before have the people of Canada taken less interest in the result of the United States presidential election.

The Race for President

Never before have the people of Canada taken less interest in the result of the United States presidential election. One reason is, that a few months ago we were nearly all of us denouncing President Wilson as a pro-German holding on tight to the German vote.

Perhaps, however, people conform with many customs, not because they think they are of divine sanction, but because the majority of good people with whom they associate are of that opinion.

Varsity's Heart Right

Varsity has sent 5,041 men to the colors. This was the good tidings that President Falconer had wherewith to cheer the new groups of students at yesterday's inaugural in Convocation Hall, when the 78th session was officially opened.

Besides the men with the colors Varsity has 1,300 undergraduates and 1,700 graduates—3,000 more men in training. With such traditions and such an achievement the University of Toronto has its heart in the right place.

PROHIBITORY LAW ABSOLUTE SUCCESS

Commissioners Ayeart and Smith Report on Investigation. IN PRAIRIE PROVINCES

Find Temperance Legislation Has Practically Stopped Drunkenness.

"The prohibitory law is an absolute success. We have scarcely any drinks left in the prairie provinces."

Figures supplied by Mr. Smith showed that in the Winnipeg police court, convictions for drunkenness and disorderly conduct were reduced from 284 in May, 1914 and 262 in June, 1915, to 72 in June, 1916, and 39 in July.

Mr. Smith's conclusion was that "prohibition is so far as it can be enforced, that it has not brought about the beneficial results, either financially or otherwise, that its opponents predicted, and that the government dispensary system, adopted in Saskatchewan, is not popular and is likely to be voted out of existence at the earliest opportunity."

Germany's Greatest Crime

GIVE CAPTIVES TUBERCULOSIS.

Charge is Made That Enemy Prison Camps Are Being Used to Infect Allied Prisoners With White Plague.

London, Sept. 25.—A Paris correspondent writes: "There have recently come into my possession copies of certain documents which have for their title 'Indisputable Proof of Germany's Treatment of the French Government has accepted the verity of these documents. This crime is that Germany is deliberately infecting her prisoners with tuberculosis. When the white scourge has sufficiently gripped them she casts them from her borders back to their own homes in neutral nations, spread contagion and to die. It is a gigantic manœuvre with living material. She already has 40,000 Frenchmen well inoculated, besides thousands or hundreds of thousands of men of other nations.

"Tuberculosis manufacture is carried on in other camps, secret camps—hundreds of them—known as labor camps, tucked away in every corner of her empire.

SECRET CAMPS.

"In one of these secret camps a German doctor, after mixing tubercular with conventional from mines diseases, and these, too, might become tubercular, voiced the manufacturer's idea: 'Thus do I wage war in my own fashion.'

"There are now 15,000 French and a thousand British consumptives in Switzerland, recently dumped out of Germany in such an advanced stage of the disease that they no longer need special treatment. Careful and doctors have all been checked one against another, and all have been found to be true.

PROVEN.

"From Switzerland and Lyons, and in a few instances from Swiss doctors who have had access to Germany, we have made the discovery of the secret camps. A majority of them are in salt, coal and iron mines and in drainage and marsh reclamation areas. The stock of hundreds of tuberculars and doctors have all been checked one against another, and all have been found to be true.

PRICES OF WHEAT RECEIVE SETBACK

Substantial Enlargement in World's Available Supply Causes Decline.

DEALERS SELL SHORT

Wall Street Concerns Realize on Holdings to Notable Extent.

CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—Substantial enlargement shown in the world's available wheat stock led to a setback today in wheat prices here. The market closed heavy, 3/4 to 1c net lower, with December at $1.54 1/2 and May at $1.54 1/2. Corn finished unchanged to 1/2c down, oats off 1/4 to 3/8c and provisions at a decline of 1 1/2 to 5c.

Notwithstanding that wheat developed fresh strength during the first half of the season, the market later was unable to resist the weight of offerings which were precipitated by assertions that the world supply was the largest ever known at this season. The available stock had increased 1,723,000 bushels compared with last week, and was nearly $9,000,000 bushels more than the case a year ago.

The resolution of the Thetford miners, presented by Delegate Rousseau, engaged the attention of the delegates, Trades and Labor convention, held in the Labor Temple. The minister of labor, Hon. Thomas Crothers, was present along with C. E. Compton of the labor bureau.

The resolution, which was presented by Delegate Rousseau, read as follows: "Whereas, at the outset of the differences between the mine operators at Thetford mines and their employees, the organized miners of Thetford petitioned the hon. minister of labor for a board of conciliation, so as to prevent a strike; and, whereas, the hon. minister of labor refused the granting of said board on the ground that there were five different concerns interested, and in this case would be forced to appoint a board for each one, this being impossible; and, whereas, the five interested concerns had appointed one representative to look after their collective interests and represent them in dealing with the board of arbitration; and, whereas, the board of arbitration would have been sufficient to arbitrate the trouble at Thetford mines, and the only reason this board was not granted is due to the bad faith of the hon. minister of labor; therefore, be it resolved, that the workers in congress assembled energetically protest against the bad faith of the hon. minister of labor in refusing, ungrounded reasons, the workers of Thetford mines the only method provided by law to obtain their just rights."

Explained Situation. With the content of the convention, Delegate Compton read the remarks he wished to make on this subject, as his knowledge of English did not enable him to speak without the assistance of writing. He said that the men at Thetford asbestos mines organized and asked the three companies which operated five mines for recognition of the union, a check-off system and an increase of 25 cents a day. These companies and the department of labor informed them that they could not strike without first asking for an arbitration board.

This was done, and at about the same time a number of interested Gailiacs were brought into the district to work in the country. After a great deal of delay, word was received from the labor bureau, stating that a board of arbitration would be appointed, and that the men were to agree on any one man to act for all of them in dealing with the men. The board of arbitration was set up on Aug. 3 a representative of the department arrived to effect a conciliation. The mayor of Thetford Mines called a public meeting and an agreement was reached by which the men were to receive an increase of 25 cents a day, and the understanding was that the men were to be taken back. Many of them who were on strike were not taken back by the mine operators, and the department of labor said that the operators were within their rights in refusing to employ any man for statements made by him.

Worse Than War. No department of labor, in the opinion of Delegate Franco, would dare to treat the citizens of a large city in the way the citizens of Thetford Mines had been treated, a small out-of-the-way place, where men were killed than in the trenches through the neglect of the operators. It was in his opinion the most flagrant injustice ever done in the world.

Richard Rigg, M.L.A., of Winnipeg, chairman of the committee on resolutions, followed Delegate Franco, and reviewed the situation at Thetford Mines. He was glad the minister of labor was present to hear the indictment and to defend the action of his department. It was the function of the resolutions committee to act in evidence that was presented to it in committee, and after several hours of discussion the committee was unanimous in concurring in the resolution of the Thetford miners.

He said that while the men were told by the labor bureau that it would be a criminal offence for them to strike and that the act was applicable in the case, there was a sudden switch and the men were refused board of arbitration because the companies could not agree to one representative to act for them. He strongly condemned the drafting in of interned aliens under armed guards to intimidate the workmen so that they might write and submit.

Pay for Working. These men were supposed to be paid $2 per day, but while some of them received pay envelopes, there was no money in them, and in one case a man got a bill in his envelope, stating that not only had he eaten all his earnings but he was in the debt of the company to the extent of $6.20.

In the final settlement of the dispute, which was accomplished by jockeying the provisions of the Industrial Disputes Act, the operators were represented by one man and the employees by two.

"I have not heard of a case assuming such importance concerning the industrial Disputes Act, and I shall listen with a great deal of interest to the statements of the minister of labor, if the charges are sustained. I believe that a very serious indictment has been made against the department of labor, the most serious ever made. It would brand the Industrial Disputes Act as a colossal farce," said Delegate Rigg.

The act could, he thought, if the indictment were true, be used at the caprice of the minister of labor to browbeat labor and procure a settlement favorable to the employers.

Helped to Organize. Delegate Gauthier said that Thetford mines was the biggest asbestos camp in the world, and told the party he has played in the organizing of the men under the western federation of miners.

CITY HALL NOTES

Despite the lateness of the hour, Ald. McBride led a vigorous debate in council to have Works Commissioner Harris prevented from instituting any more improvements on the initiative of the Controller Cannon, characterized it as an attempt to muzzle the works commissioner and council took the same view.

The city architect yesterday issued a building permit to Northrop & Lyman Co. to erect an additional story on their warehouse at 466 West Wellington street to cost $12,000.

Shortly after 3 o'clock Tuesday morning, Controller Foster secured a snap vote in council which reversed the previous decision of the members that Corporation Council Geary's salary should not be cut. Most of the Geary supporters had gone home. The vote in council was 11 to 6.

He was informed, said he, "that there were two organizations, one a local union organized long prior to the other."

"No, no," from a delegate. "I wasn't on the ground," the minister reminded the convention. "I was interjected by the delegate who differed as to the priority of the local union."

The local organization, the minister was informed, consisted of the members when the other was organized. He then told of the difficulty of employers having to deal with two labor organizations. In other similar cases he had refused to appoint a board.

The Industrial Disputes Act did not lend itself to cases where there were a number of organizations, and one man could be selected to act for the entire number.

He asked if the convention would have had him appointed as a delegate to the companies to act on a committee that was only supposed to be composed of three men. He had nothing to retract and no apologies to make.

The minister of labor then told how he had sent for the mayor of Thetford Mines, the president of the Western Federation of Miners and the secretary of that organization, and brought them to Ottawa at the expense of the department of labor. He was satisfied that the companies would pay the men $2.25 a day, and that would be the end of the matter.

Minister Surprised. The men were satisfied with this and returned, and it was to his surprise that a few days later he learned that the men had not accepted it. He then appointed a commission and sent Blanche, of Ottawa, to effect a settlement.

Blanche, of Ottawa, to effect a settlement. He was highly surprised that after being there three weeks he returned with an agreement signed by two men chosen by the Western Federation of Miners, closing the document in all. "Now," he said with the document held up in his hand, "what is all this talk about?"

He then made out a strong case for the interned men, saying that they were interned because they were a substitute rather than because of any suspicion attached to them.

"We invited these men before the war to come to this country. Rightly or wrongly, we did so, telling them that we had a better country than their own. Here we said every man may become a king!"

On the Thetford Mines Proposition," asked a delegate. "These men were allowed out to work on certain conditions, two of which were that they were not to take the place of other men and that they were to receive the same rate of pay," continued the minister. Forty-five had been allowed to go to Thetford Mines before there was any trouble at all on account of men being scarce and because the British Government required asbestos. It was right, he thought, that these men should work for the country. He then told of the Cobalt dispute involving 42 camps and how it was settled by a commission.

Court of Justice. At the conclusion of the minister of labor's defense, Chairman Waters said that the convention might not be a court of law, but rather, it might be a court of justice.

"I want to give the lie direct to the statement that there was a local prior to the one of the Western Federation of Miners," said a delegate, who then told of the trouble last November when the men, who had been brought back to the scale paid before the war. At the outbreak of war the wage had been cut 25 cents a day and not put back, the value of the product had increased from $200 to $600 a ton and business had improved. Subsequent to this the men had organized and later Roman Catholic Union was formed to which a few men belonged.

President Waters thought that the lie direct was an attack at the minister, who also took it as such, but the delegate made his position clear by saying that the information given the minister was a lie.

"If there are more than one company involved does that throw the act out of court, and does the matter deal with the matter as they see fit?" was a question asked the minister of labor.

He replied that he did not think so, as the men, in his opinion, should ask for a board to deal with their dispute with one company. At this point a motion to adjourn the debate was lost and Delegate Rousseau, the mover of the motion, spoke in French. He was later interpreted. The motion was lost and the debate was continued and it was in regard to the SPECTACULAR STRIKE MADE AT DAVIDSON Mine Manager Reports Finding of Vein Twenty-Five Feet Wide.

F. C. Sutherland and Company last night received the following telegram from Porcupine, telling of a new discovery on the Davidson property which appears to be the most spectacular yet made.

"Biggest strike ever made on Davidson made yesterday, four hundred feet depth of shaft. Regular jewelry rock Vein 25 feet wide. Sending ore specimens, which will run phenomenally high."

(Signed) Henderson, Mine Manager. Surface work was resumed on this portion of the property only a few days ago and the above discovery was evidently made while carrying on these operations. Underground development is proceeding rapidly, and the cross cut at the 400 foot level is now being run to the vein which should be picked up within the next few weeks.

On the 100 and 200 foot levels the ore body is very extensive and carries high values.

Greater Activity Prevails at Opening and Close of Market

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Trading in stocks today proceeded in a more orderly and rational manner, the sharp reversal of yesterday's final hour

The greater activity was shown in the first and final hours, the former being marked by a strong opening

The strength of investment issues probably resulted from some brilliant statements of railway earnings issued in the course of the day

Coppers, equipments and motors, Stutz proving the exception in the last named group

Activity continued at the Toronto stock market and prices varied as effect upon prices
