ROTHESAY COLLEGE.

Ninth Annual Closing - College Sports Old Boys' Association.

The ninth annual closing exercises of the Rotlesay college for boys began on Thursday afternoon with some of the preliminary sports, which were well contested. The main portion the programme, however, was carried out yesterday.

A very large number went out from the dity, and there was a good attendance of Rothesay people. Among visitors from a distance were his honor Lieut. Governor and Mrs. McClellan, Dr. Scott of the New Brunswick uni-versity, W. T. Whitehead, M. P. P., of Fredericton, and many others.

The afternoon sports yesterday were keenly contested and two of the school records were broken. The high jump, won by Allan Kerr with 5 ft. 13-4 in., was an especially creditable perform-

The prizes for the highest average in the written examinations was awarded to Nellie Morgan; the gold hedal for Christian doctrine to Annie Clark-in, and the gold melai for good conduct to Ursula Gallant. Fred Murphy of Kensington was fined $50 and costs Saturday for a violation of the cises. 一月 九八四八林、金子生 At the conclusion of the sports the assembly adjourned to the tennis court, where the prizes were presented to the winners by Mrs. McClellan. Speeches were made by a number of gentlemen present. On the platform were Lt. Gov. and Mrs. McClellan, Reverends R. Mathers, W. B. Arn W Rainnie, T. E. Jones, Hall, Dr. Scott and others. Rev. W O. Raymond, who acted as chairman, congratulated Principal I. E. Moore and his aids, Messrs. Allin, Bale, Meredith and Collinson on the results of the year's work. At the closing a year ago there were 34 boys in attendance. The number had increased this year to 42, nearly all of them in residence. The prospects for an increase in the immediate future are bright. The health of the boys had been exceedingly good, and the only event that had marred the year's record was the sad and unexpected death of the classical master, E. W. Watson, during the Christmas vacation. Referring to the attendance of a large number of the "old boys," Mr. Raymond observed that while the old boys were proud of their school, the school was proud of them. The record of Taylor, Peters, Arnold, the Bayfields, Bitchies and others had re-bounded to the honor of their school, while that just attained by W. H. Harrison at the University of New Brunswick in gaining three gold medals and first rank in every subject taken in his college course was perhaps unsurpassed. Three of the boys are now in the field in South Africa, viz., Messrs. Markham, Fairweather and Adams, and they will undoubtedly uphold the honor of the school by their courage and conduct. Short addresses all couched in very appreciative terms of the school and its work were made by Lieut. Gov. McClellan, Dr. Scott, Rev. W. B. Arm-strong, Hon. T. R. Jones and Rev. W. Rainnie. It was announced that the lieutenant governor had offered as a prize next year a silver medal for proficiency in history and English literature. The announcement of prize winners was made by vice-Principal Allin and the prizes were presented by Mrs. Mc-Clellan. At the close of the presentation the rooms and grounds were all thrown open for public inspection and refreshments were handed around by an effi-cient committee. The fifth annual meeting of the Old Boys' association of the school was held at the close of the exercises. A large number of the old boys were present. The object of the association is to keep the old boys in touch to help advertise the school and to encourage the students in their studies and physical exercises. Two medals are given annually by the association for competition, a silver medal for the best English essay and a gold medal for the best all round athlete. A cricket bat will be given next year to the boy making the best batting average in the school matches during the year. The following officers were elected: President, D. R. Arnold; vice do., E Graham: sec.-treas., L. W. Barker; asst; sec.-treas., C. R. Hamilton.

OTTAWA, June 16 .- There was once a showman who advertised an elephant that would play the plano. From far and near people came to see the elephant perform. When the hour came the animal was marched in and struck the keys a blow with his trunk. At the first sound he fied from the instrument and the tent, amid the groans of the audience. The showman finding himself confronted with an indignant mob, proceeded to explain. "My friends," he said, "you will excuse my elephant when you understand his position. He is a good musician, but the moment he touched the ivory keys the recognized in them the tusks of a dear departed brother. His feelings overcame bim."

Mr. Monk of Jacques Cartier told 'this story yesterday, explaining that the ministers who demanded from him a formal charge had been overcome at the sight of a clause affecting one of their colleagues. So touched were they that they could not permit charge to remain until this mo the ving portion was eliminated. It was indeed an extraordinary position on the part of the premier. Last week the minispart ter of militia was indignantly de-manding charges against himself. The solicitor general thrashed the air and challenged Mr. Monk to put in a single allegation against Dr. Borden. From the clerk's desk to the rear passage a clamor went up from the government side. "make your charge" Mr. Monk assured the house that that was exactly what he meant to do, and he was then invited to include the minister in the allegations. He said he would do that too. Whereupon the solicitor general taunted him and challenged him to go somewhere else outside and make them. Mr. Monk did not go anywhere else. He stayed in the house and asked for a committee of the house to investigate. the question of the emergency rations purchased for our soldiers in Africa. He made his charges distinct-Iv and specifically against the department and the contractor, and closed with a charge of criminal, culpable and gross negligence against the minister himself. Then was witnessed a spectacle. The prime minister, the minister of trade and commerce, the minsister of marine, and all their supporters who could be got in the house demanded that the clause reflecting on the minister should be struck out. Mr. Monk might make charges against so, and having taken steps which some unknown official. He might accuse a Vitaline company whose headquarters cannot be found, and which has not corporate existence. He may make an indefinite statement that a wrong has been done. But perish the member who offers to show before a committee that a minister has done on if it could not be discussed, and wrong. The member who asks for that opportunity will not get it, but he may expect a ministerial castigation. Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper can testify to this. There were nineteen allegations in Mr. Monk's statement on which he asked for a committee. These state ments contain charges which he said he believed he could establish by satisfactory evidence. It was the nineteenth which alleged that Mr. Borden was guilty of gross and culpable negligence. Sir Wilfrid Laurier began by saving that the minister was detained at home by illness in the family, but that the government would not delay the proceedings longer and would agree to the enquiry into the first eighteen charges. Then he gave the house its first surprise. He had the members reaching in a surprised way for their copy of the notice of motion to see whether they really had misread the document. For the premier was contending that adoption of the nineteenth claus the would be a declaration of the hous that the minister was guilty. As the nineteenth clause began just like the others, and like them affirmed the belief of the accuser and his intention to produce evidence to support it, and as the substantive part of the resolution asked for a committee to enquire into the truth of the charges including the nineteenth, it hardly appeared that the premier was serious. But he was followed by Sir Richard Cartwright, who, in his most striking tones, declared that he for one would not condemn a colleague unheard, and by Sir Louis Davies, who pranced around and pounded the desk, accus ing the opposition of want of manliness and other meanness in calling upthe house to pronounce on minister guilty before the evidence had been brought, even the minister was at the when bedside of one near and dear to him. It did appear that the ministers sericusly believed what they were say. ing.

tion into the whole of them. If the acceptance of the motion involved a declaration that Dr. Borden was guilty, it also contained a declaration by the house that the troops had been furnished with inferior food, and that $4,600 had been paid for an article worth only $500. The government did not claim that in adopting the previous clauses the house affirmed the truth of these other allegations, and therefore could hardly assert that the house would be affirming the truth of clause nineteen.

However, to make the matter abso lutely clear. Mr. McNeill amended the clause so that there could no longer te any doubt about it. He made the clause simply say that Mr. Monk charged the minister with negligence and that this charge would be included in the reference to the committee.

Then the hypocrisy was exposed. The ministers were as much opposed to the clause as ever. The premier called upon the members to vote down the proposition to change it. Of course the followers responded, at least those who refused to respond got away out of the house and were not heard from at all. The government majority was only 16, but it was sufficient to remove the charges which the govern-ment had demanded, which the minister had challenged, and which Mr. Monk would have been accused 01 cowardice if he had not made.

Sir Louis Davies, who has the faculty of simulating indignation made a cheap appearance as a lee turer of the opposition, because 01 their alleged want of generosity to a minister in his hour of trouble. He protested that accusations should not be made against a minister under such circumstances. But the chival-never did.

Mr. Foster, set there facts before the government in the most calm and businesslike manner last night, closing with a question, "What is the government going to do about it ?

Then Mr. Paterson made a wonderful speech. In the first place he did not deny or contradict a word of the accusations. Mr. Lemieux had not ventured to say that he was innocent of these offences. Both Mr. Paterson and Sir Wilfrid Laurier acknowledged everything. The minister of customs pleaded the statute of limitations. The personation and fraud were outlawed and Mr. Lemieux ought not to be in-vestigated about a matter that ocstaff curred more than a year and a half before. Mr. Paterson could not think of going back so far, or of sending a commision at great expense 600 miles away to Gaspe to investigate this matter of partizanship. It did not occur to Mr. Paterson that if the offence were admitted it was not necessary to do more than send for Mr. Lemieux himself and accept his story, as the minister practically did.

Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper asked Mr. Paterson if he really considered that this was merely a case of partizanship and nothing more. Mr. Pater son, with childlike innocence, said that he was not a lawyer and really could not tell what the legal effect of Mr. Lemieux's transformation processes might be. He left that to the prime minister, who understood such things. He admitted that Lemieux had been promoted after the offence, but this was before the charge had been made. However, he was left to enjoy this promotion. Mr. Paterson pointed out that after all, though the thing might not have been quite right, it was done by a father in the interest of a son and could not have been criminal or else somebody would have had the man arrested. The minister seemed to think that since the officer had escaped the penitentiary he was quite worthy of promotion in the public ser-

Naturally the premier had now to say comething, and he began by remarking that he owed it to an old and faithful employe and the father of a respected member to put in a word on behalf of the many-named official. OTTAWA, June 18 .- It is now clear that the premier has become troubled about Mr. Tarte and his sayings and doings. Sir Wilfrid informed the house Friday that Mr. Tarte had written complaining of the incorrectness of certain reports of his sayings. Mr. Tarte has not yet sent in any correct reports, but those which have arrived were all from friendly sources, and ome of the most troublesome were sent to Mr. Tarte's papers in Canada by persons attached to the exhibition

There is no doubt that Mr. Tarte ha been making an exhibition of himself in his dear France. Almost from the day he landed he has been proclaiming in France that Canada is to all intents and purposes independent of the British empire. He makes light of the British connection on every occasion and emphasizes every day the import ance of the relationship betwee France and Canada. No one objects in the least to his praise of the French.

Canadian. The Canadian French population is worthy of the commendation which Mr. Tarte bestowed. But why cannot he talk in France as a Scotch-Canadian would talk in Scotland? If a Scotchman in the cabinet were to return to the home of his ancestors he could show that the Scotch people had played an important part in the history of Canada. But he would not find it necessary to proclaim the doctrine that the British empire and Canada were practically separate institutions. Certainly he would not apologize for the conduct of the government in sending troops to Africa to fight the battles of Great Britain. Much less would he deny that the government had sent the contingents and plead that the ministry had done no more than permit the blood thirsty volunteers to go. . The Scotchman would not dwell with emphasis upon the fact that he had himself caused an official declaration to be made that the Africa expedition was no precedent for the future.

Not only would a Scotchman refrain from the effort to make little of our, British connection, but almost any other French-Canadian would have done the same. No one ever heard which had been refused the year besuch language from the late Sir George Cartier as Mr. Tarte is now shouting fore. It vas a report or letter from in the ears of France and of the world assembled at the exposition. Sir Henri Joly does not talk in this way. The though of course Sir Henri Joly does not count now. At the same time this matter is a serious one. Macdon-ald presumably owed the government some $70,000 for royalty due, out of which only about $2,000 was paid. Under ordinary cir-cumstances the man would lose all his claims, but as this was authorized by the late commissioner, of course Macdonald could not be made to suffer for his acts. But it will have a very bad effect on the public when it becomes known that this was dona." Sir Charles Hibbert has succeeded in getting a little more correspondence tion, and explained in that way why they could not prevent the offer of a contingent. Sir Henri stands for the empire and does not count. It is true that he is a Protestant, but one would suppose that a professed liberal like Mr. Tarte would not make much of that. However, Tarteism has gone so far at Paris that even the English papers in London are expressing surprise and in getting a little more correspondence disgust. It is, therefore, not surprising that Sir Wilfrid should be in combesides this alleged private letter which Mr. Sifton suppressed. It is munication with him. The public may take another view of the case, seeing that the Yukon is a country where we are spending some millions of dollars and from whence we are receiving a revenue equally large. The Yukon dose not belong to the Siftons, the Walshes, the Wades, and the Sutherlands, to be fabrics. exploited for their individual benefit. and the administration of that country appears to be as important a subject as may be discussed in parliament.

Mr. Fraser and Mr. Sutherland also omplain that Sir Charles Hibbert pays particular attention to ex-Com sioner Walsh and ex- Government Solicitor F. C. Wade. Mr. Fraser wants to know why Mr. Wade is dragged in on every occasion.

The reason is obvious. Mr. Wade eems to have dragged himself in whenever an important and suspicious job was going through. In the case of the mining claims taken up in the name of Walsh's employes contrary to law and for the benefit of the Walsh family, Mr. Wade figured. In the case of the Yukoner, the vessel which was released by the customs authorities and then seized again and held 'until the collector had satisfied Mr. Wade and his client, Mr. Wade came in for several hundred dollars. In the case of the Bara, which was entered at an undervaluation, Mr. Wade was solicitor for the owners. In the case of the Macdonald water front Mr. Wade was retained by Macdonald. And in the other Macdonald case which came up vesterday Mr. Wade was also acting as Macdonald's solicitor. Yet in every one of those transactions Mr. Wade was adviser of the crown or of the rown officer dealing with the case.

A year ago Mr. Sifton was asked to bring down all papers and documents received from Commissioner Ogilvie, then holding an investigation in the Yukon. The minister brought down some papers and said they were all except private communications. This year it was found that the public documents continually referred to those which were described as private. Finally a document was brought down

It turned out afterwards that it was all bogus emotion. The ministers were cnly pretending. Mr. Monk showed that his nineteen charges were all in the same category, and that the house by adopting the resolution did no more than authorize an investigarous Sir Louis appeared in an light shortly after, when the facts were explained. It was made clear that when Dr. Borden sent word that he was detained and gave the reasons. his cousin, Mr. Borden of Halifax, told Mr. Monk about it.

Mr. Monk at once stated that he would hold his motion over until next week, and the word was circulated among the opposition members that the case would not come up. Mr. Monk himself was about leaving for Montreal, when the prime minister surprised him and the house by bringing on the Monk resolutions. Having done made it absolutely necessary to discuss the minister's proceedings, it appeared to be a very small business for Sir Louis Davies to be appealing to the pity of the house. Still worse was it when a member, interrupting, asked Sr Louis why the matter was brought Sir Louis replied that if the government had asked for a postponement they would have been accused of trying to evade the charges. When Sir Louis said this he knew, though some of his supporters did not, that the postponement had been offered by the other side.

The discussion has been pretty fully reported in the despatches, and the matter may now rest until the evidence is produced. The learned and highly technical junior member for Halifax, Dr. Russell, and his friend, Mr. Britton, who gave him valuable assistance at the privileges committee in ruling out evidence, are in this special committee. They will know how to get the advantage of the exclusion of Mr. Monk's charges of negligence We shall see some excellent ruling out at a critical moment.

At various times reference has been made in these letters to the case of Mr. H. A. Lemieux, formerly customs officer at Montreal, lately promoted to be assistant inspector for the Quebec district. For the benefit of those who have forgotten it may be stated that Rudolph Lemieux is the member for Gaspe, that the Gaspe riding includes the Magdalene Islands, and that Mr. Lemieux immediately after his election began a general attack on the officials in his county. Every one who could be accused of partisanship was dismissed, and Mr. Lemieux seemed to be able to turn every man out who displeased him. Dr. Ennis had been the candidate against Mr. / Lemicux, and in the midst of the career of dismissal he sent forward to Mr. Paterson a little accusation. He stated and offered to prove that Mr. Lemieux of the Montreal Custom House, father of the member, had left his work and taken part on behalf of his son in the campaign in the Magdalene Islands. Mr. Lemicux, senior, not only left his work at home, but he left his name there. He appeared in Magdalene Islands under an allas, and was addressed there as Mr. Lamirande. By this name his son addressed him when others were present. Under this name he acted at the poll as agent for Can

might have been necessary to dismiss him, but this happened many miles away from his place of business. premier seems to say that it is much worse for an officer to go honestly and openly into an election contest, than to sneak off to a distant quarter under a false name and commit all sorts of perjuries and forgeries in order to get a son into parliament.

And then the premier pleaded that this was really not personation, because probably there was no such man as Lamarande. It was merely a case of travelling incognito, which the Prince of Wales sometimes did. Sir Wilfrid was good enough to admit that Lemieux was "perhaps imprudent," and perhaps "forgot himself." But he asked the house to remember that the indiscretion was committed on behalf of a much-loved son and to look upon it with leniency. There was no crime against the law. If there had been, somebody would have prosecuted Lemieux. Mr. Davin pointed out that Lemieux had taken the oath in which he called himself Lamaarande, and that this oath was on reord in the department. The premier admitted this was "indiscreet," but still pleaded that it was done out of paternal affection and with the knowedge that the young man might depend upon one vote which his father could save for him. "After all," said the premier, "I can forgive him, and I hope the house will do so also.'

"Let us drop a tear," said Mr. Davin. But Mr. Gillies declined to weep. He did not believe that crimes could be outlawed, or that public officers were justified in committing perjuries and personations in order to send their sons to the legislature. He showed the hypocrisy of Mr. Paterson, who, though refusing not to go back two years into worse offences, had dismissed the collector at Arichat for partisanship in an election six years before. The minister could not go 630 miles to punish a confessed crime in one of his own officers, but he covid go twice that far to dismiss a conservative who was falsely accused of partisanship six years before. Mr. Gillies accordingly moved a vote of censure on the minister.

Mr. Davin held up the premier and Mr. Paterson to contempt for , their utter disregard of morality and decency in this matter. Mr. Paterson dared not take the blame for aiding and abetting this offence. He had made the premier the keeper of his conscience, and came to the house profeesing not to know that it was wrong for an officer to take an oath under a false name. Mr. Davin thinks that Sir Wilfrid Laurier is a poor custodian for any man's conscience. This seems to show a want of logic on Mr. Davin's part. When Mr. Paterson handed over his conscience to the premier he placed a proper value on the commodities transferred. All this plea about paternal affection reminds Mr. Davin of the lawyer who, finding all other means of saving a criminal fail, parades the wife and children before the jury. Mr. Paterson came to the house refusing to take up a case a year and a balf old, when only the other day an officer in Moose Jaw was dismissed for an offence alleged to have been committed four years ago

All this Dr. Ennis offered to prove. Mr. Foster dwelt upon the lesson

The liberal party has gone to pieces in Manitoba, in British Columbia and in Prince Edward Island. Only the machine has kept the Ross government in power in Ontario. Everywhere there are signs that the machine is breaking up, and if the machine goes where is the government ? The main reliance of the ministry is on Quebec, and the chief hope of Sir Wilfrid and Mr. Tarte is to stampede the French vote in a body for the government. To this end every attack made upon the government is described in the Quebec ministerial press as an attack of the tory fanatics, or the Orangemen on

This seems to mean that if the facts catch for an extension of powers which Mr. this government Mr. Fielding does not Sifton did not give and made certain recommendations, which were not intend to be caught. adopted. Mr. Sifton simply withheld

In the end the house voted down Sir Charles Hibbert's motion for an accounting by an independent auditor of the Macdenald royalties. The little matter of discrepancy between Mr. Ogilvie's $70,000, Mr. Fawcett's $41,000 said to be due, and the final acceptance of $34,000, struck the government supporters as of no consequence and they seemed to have agreed with Mr. Fraser that the Yukon better be left alone.

In supply the Yukon came up againin another way. Mr. Ryley, accountant of the department, has had a salary of $1,600. The government proposes to give him $2.200. Sir Charles Hibbert has objections and these are the grounds of them.

Last year when Sir Charles Hibbert made his charges against Mr. Sifton and his department he stated among other things that certain Brandon gentlemen, including Mr. Philp, law partner of Mr. Sifton, had received special favors. There are many Philps and some of them seem to be figuring under two or three names. They applied for gold dredging leases on the Yukon creek. It was charged that some of them went about the country offering these leases for sale at high prices, claiming that Mr. Sifton is a partner in the transaction, so that they were sure to be successful. In fact a letter of that kind is on record.

Now, when Mr. Sifton was replying, he told the house that he would "crowd that false statement down the throat of the member for Pictou." This he proceeded to do by reading a report from the accountant of the department, this same Mr. Ryley, who stated that no leases were granted to any of the Philps or other members of that ring who had applied for them. This was the one successful feature in Mr. Sifton's defence, and he was, so triumphent over it that he and his friends claimed to have broken down the whole charge.

Another part of Sir Hibbert's charge was against Major Walsh and referred while drawing his Yukon salary, but to the clusing of the areas on the benches and hills of Dominion Creek. Without going over the question again. tain Norwood, the master of the whaling ship who had been also made it may be mentioned that this district was opened without notice, and that gold inspector, was asked, but he could early in the morning of the first day only remember that Macdonald had various men and one woman in the empaid him some royalty. He did not ploy of the government, under Major know how much ought to have been Walsh, were on the ground staking paid. Later Mr. Fawcett discovered claims which were afterwards assigned in the back of a memorandum book a to the Walsh family. Mr. Sifton met note to the effect that he had collected this charge by another report from his $1.300. Neither in the Yukon nor at accountant, this same Mr. Ryley, who Ottawa nor in Manitoba could any declared that the district was not statement be found to show how much closed by Major Walsh but by Comgold Macdonald had taken out and missioner Fawcett on his own responsibility.

Several things have been found out since, among others that Ryley was wrong when he said that it was Fawcett and not Walsh who closed the district. Ryley has admitted that he made the mistake of confusing the creek itself with the hills and benches, though the creek had nothor an enquiry into the operations of must have seen such a statement. #### out that while the Philps gang had no leases from the government, they had what suited them a great deal better, an exclusive option for leases. That is to say, Mr. Philps and his friends had an undertaking from the department that the areas for which they applied would be held for then for certain periods, to take or not to take. This gave all the advantages of the lease without responsibility. When Mr. Sifton therefore "crowded down Sir Hibbert's throat" the alleged false charge, he knew that the charge was true and was taking advantage of a technical feature of his own contract. Mr. Ryley must also have known it, or if he did not he was badly used by his minister.

It comes to this, that the only defence that Mr. Sifton put in in these two cases was a false defence, based on the statements furnished him by his accountant. On these he gained whatever temporary triumph and immunity he received. That is the reason why Sir Charles Hibbert objects to the sudden jump of $400 in Mr. Ryley's salary. It is pointed out that Mr. Sifton used Commissioner Ogilvie to help him out of his scrape, and after declaring that Ogilvie was a thoroughly independent man, raised his salary from $1,800, allowed him by the late government, to $5,000 as com-missioner, then to $6,000, then added $2,000 as living allowance, then $3,000 as a rent allowance, then $720 for a housekeeper, so that this independent judge now received $11,720 a year. Mr. Clement, another official, sent in to perform among other duties that of whitewashing the government, has had his remuneration increased from $2,000 to some three times that amount. Mr. Treadgold has assisted somewhat. and Mr. Sifton bought large quantities of a pamphlet he wrote about the Yukon. During the evening Sir Charles Hibbert asked the premier if it were true that a distinguished member, of the house and government was to succeed Governor McInnes in British Columbia. Sir Wilfrid promised a statement tomorrow.

OTTAWA, June 21.-After routine Sir Charles read a despatch from the Sydney Board of Trade containing a resolution condemning the departure from the printed time table, whereby th trains for Sydney and from Sydney were all taken to North Sydney, caus-ing a delay of half an hour at Sydney knew about them. Bessere said that and making it impossible to get mail his rations are as good as any in the at night. Sir Charles had understood that the time table represented a settlement by compromise. If it could not remain as settled he proposed an equal service to and from both towns, separate trains leaving both places and joining at the Junction.

Hon. Mr. Blair said the people had been accustomed to the direct service. The manager of the I. C. R. had reported an arrangement which he thought would suit both places. The minister never had much faith in this project, but gave his officers power to deal with it. The experiment had failed, but the minister hoped it might yet be possible to effect an arrangement which would do iustice. Mr. Gillies said that the town of Sydney had no doubt a just grievance. It was not only in the interest of Sydney, but of the travelling public generally, that this service to Sydney should be improved. At the same time North Sydney should not be neglected. Mr. McLellan of Inverness said that the Board of Trade of Sydney and Mr. Gillies appeared to think that the whole of Cape Breton revolved around Sydney. Since a certain enterprise came to Sydney, the people of that town, who never did anything to bring prosperity to the place, but had remained at a standstill for twenty years, considered themselves of great importance. The government would be giving the greatest satisfaction to the people if they treated the two towns alike and did not establish a terminus at the Junction. Hon. Mr. Fielding said the present system was the same as had existed under the late government, and therefore it must have some merit.

Mr. Borden of Halifax deprecated the contemptuous reference of Mr. Mc-Lellan to the Sydney Board of Trade. He assured the house that they were an enterprising and public spin

Sir Charles said he suffered some inconvenience from the unfair and untrue allegation that he was rich, and humorously observed that it exposed him to calls to which he regretted to say that he was unable to respond. The debate was continued by western members and the vote was taken at 10.30, when Mr. Richardson's motion was rejected by a vote of 99 to 6. The half dozen were Richardson,

Oliver, Puttee, Pettit, Rogers and Graham. In the evening the house was in sup-

Sir Louis Davies said that in the maritime provinces there was an agreement that the dominion would administer the service and get the revenue, pending adjudication.

Mr. McAllister hoped nothing would happen to interfere with the proper protection of fisheries. NOTES.

CTTAWA, June 22 .- Sir Wilfrid Laurier today moved that on Monday next and thereafter morning sessions shall be held.

Sir Charles Tupper was pleased to see the government was at last taking that the matter was one of great im portance. He described the extent and importance of the granite industry in Charlotte county and elsewhere, point-ing out that the scale of wages was higher than in Great Britain, and that high freights and climatic conditions were to be met.

The finance minister was obdurate and the bills passed. Mr. Borden of Halifax brought up the case of the late Major Maxwell of Halfax, who died from injuries re-ceived in equatation exercises. Mr. Borden brought the matter up last session and the minister gave him hope that the request would be met. Mr. Logan supported Mr. Borden's equest. The minister of militia informed Mr. Borden that he had not lost sight of the matter and hoped to be able to make a statement in a day or two.

The house took up the election bill in committee and most of the afternoon was occupied with a long series of amendments proposed by Martin of Prince Edward Island, and advocated by him and Macdonald of P. E. Island for the purpose of making the act workable in that province. Ninety of these amendments were accepted with out modification.

At ten o'clock in the evening, after a long discussion of Martin's amend-ments, progress was reported and several clauses were held over.

This afternoor Sir Charles Tupper again brought up the question of trains at Sydney and North Sydney. He referred to representations received from North Sydney, and said he thought it ought to be possible to do justice to both towns.

This evening Mr. Borden of Halifax brought to the attention of Hon. Mr. Blair the statement of the Halifax beard of trade that Intercolonial freight rates from Halifax to Sydney were higher than from Montreal to Sydney.

Mr. Blair said the department was trying to remove the causes of complaint.

Most of the items in the supplementary estimates for the current year were passed in committee tonight.

ST. MARTINS.

The St. Martins mail arrived Thursday night in a very dilapidated condition, having passed through a severe fire on its way from St. John. While at dinner at the York house, on the Black Biver road, the alarm of fire was given. The mail driver rushed out to find the barns in flames. With great difficulty he saved his horse, but did not succeed in getting the mail bag until most of its contents were burned. It is supposed somewhere over one hundred letters were burned, beside many papers. Those who received mail got it in a very scorched condition. Mr. York was a heavy loser, as three barns were burned, all containing much that was valuable, including a handsome buggy and sleigh. A fire was burning in the yard, consuming rubbish, and the high wind which arose at noon is supposed to be the cause of the fire.

The superior school closed today for the summer vacation. The pupils at the morning session presented the principal with the following address, accompanied by 13 handsomely bound volumes of Ruskin's works:

To G. J. Trueman, from his Scholars: Dear Teacher-As the time draws near that takes you from us as our teacher, we. the pupils of St. Martins superior school, wish to express our grateful appreciation of the uniform patience and Christian kindness which have been exemplified by you in our school life. We thank you most heartily for the faithful manner in which you have endeavored to open up to us the paths of learning, and we are assured that thoughts of school days during the five years you have been with us will ever call up pleasant memories. Please accept the accompanying works as a token of our affection: and our heartfelt desire is that Providence may shed choicest blessings all along your pathway.

So successfully did the pupils , arrange this matter that the gift was a complete surprise to Mr. Trueman, who responded in a feeling manner, especially urging upon his pupils the necessity of mind culture as an entrance into a noble and successful life. CHINA.

The news from China is of to con tradictory a nature that the full meaning of the outbreak is not yet clear. It' cannot be that the government has deliberately chosen to make common cause with the Boxers, and defy Europe, America and Japan combined. If that should prove to be the case, then the greatest danger lies, not in the war itself, but in the division of the spoils after the armies of is absurd to blame Lord Kitchener the combined powers have overrun the empire. England has vast commercial interests in China. Russia's aims are chiefly territorial, and since is exposed and the correct method of her acquirement of Port Arthur she the been busy constructing railways, so often of late in means of reorganifounding towns and strengthening her zation of the war office should be enposition. Port Arthur is only some three hundred miles from Pekin, and at Port Arthur Russia had a year ago an army of twenty thousand men. The chief interest of the United States is commercial, and her trade has been greatly developed as a result of Russian enterprise. The Russians have been purchasing from the Americans large quantities of lumber, steel rails, locomotives and rolling stock, tools, flour and provision, and through that agency American flour has gained favor among the Chinese. The United States also ship large quantities of cotton to China, many of the southern mills being largely dependent on that market. Germany has both territorial and commercial interests in China. In the commercial field, England, Germany and the United States are rivals. but the interests of the last named country are more closely related to those of England than those of Germany. On the other hand, the United States has profited greatly by the development of Russian enterprises in the north of China, so that in this respect they have a common interest. Then there is Japan, intensely jealous of Russia, and eager to profit by any territorial or other advantage that may present itself. The interests involved in a possible partition of China are therefore so various and so complicated that the flame of war once kindled might easily, develop into a tremendous conflict. There is, however, ground for hope that the Chinese government will be forced by pressure of the nations to restore order in the country, and that the rival powers will be content to work in concert to that end, without rushing at each othporters, and that the smaller fry of portunists, all over the country should strut about with an air of greater importance than the honest liberal, who was content to be sincere without fear or favor. The question that irresistibly suggests itself now to the electors is this : If in their first term this government of professing reformers could produce such a crop of scandals and such a record of misgovernment as they have done, what may we expect if they receive the people's mandate to go on for another term ? Can this country with credit to itself stand another term of Tarte, Blair and Sifton ? Honest, old line liberals are asking themselves this question now, and asking it very seriously. They feel, and feel it keenly, that the good name of their party has been given over to the keeping of men they neither trusted nor admired in the past, and that as a result the principles for which the party protessed to stand have been set aside for purposes of the pledge breaker and the opportunist.

(From Our Own Correspondent.) BOSTON, June 20 .- The usual summer movement to the country of a large part of the city population is well under way. It is a little early for the rush of travel to the provin es. but the volume of business with the transortation companies is increasing taily, and the outlook for a prosperous eason is considered bright. the weather here has been cool, in fact, not warm enough for comfort. This has haturally retarded the tourist business. While again many families are weiting until the public schools and the colleges enter upon the annual summer vacation. The educational institutions will all be closed at the end of another week. The French Canadians of New Engand are making preparations to adequately celebrate on Sunday the feast of St. John the Baptist, the patron, saint of their race. The various branches of the St. Jean de Baptista Society, Canadian clubs, etc., will officialy observe the occasion. President Alexander McElwee and the other officials of the New Brunswick Cannel Coal Co. (Ltd.) have invaded the Boston investment field and are disposing of shares to local men, who are promised dividends 📥 the near future. The company owns mining rights, leases, etc., on 27 square miles of coal lands in Albert county and virtually controls the Salisbury and Harvey railway, which passes through the mining region. The company expects to produce 1,000 tons per day in time, and estimates a profit of $2.20 per ton or $660,000 per year. Whether it can realize that amount remains to be seen. The officials are all New York men with two exceptions.

Two of the directors are Matthew Lodge and William B. Chandler, both of Moncton. An application has been made to the Boston stock exchange to have the shares of the company listed.

The bride was becomingly gowned in white silk, with pearl trimmings, and carried a show-er burguet of bride toses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Lena Laechler, who wore white organdie over pink silk and carried American beauty roses. The groomsman was Robert S. Ritchie of St. John. Had Sir Wilfrid Laurier, when he attained to power, surrounded himself with the best element of the liberal party, and chosen his colleagues from among the brightest and best of the men who had for years fought the battles of the party, his government would appear in a better light before the people today. But pressure was brought to bear upon him, and he wavered and fell. He called to his counsels the prince of 'opportunists from New Brunswick, an ex-secessionist from Nova Scotia, a discredited and spendthrift politician from the prairies- and Mr. Tarte. Then began a carnival of broken pledges, political deals, gross favoritism, extravagance, humbug and scandal, such as the country had never before witnessed. Attaining power at a time when the whole world was entering upon a period of great industrial and commercial expansion, they found a buoyant revenue at their hand to spend and they spent it. They devised great schemes, some of which were prompted by a timely discovery of gold in the Yukon, and in every scheme the

An Ottawa despatch says: "Quebec lumbermen are urging the government to try and bring to the notice of the Cape authorities the fact that this country is prepared to supply any quantity of lumber. It is believed that when the present war is over there will be a boom in building operations throughout South Africa, and a great demaand for lumber. This will be Canada's opportunity, and, in view of the sacrifices she has made in connec tion with the war, it is thought the loyal settlers would be only too willing to purchase their supplies from the dominion.'

Acting under instructions the grit press in these provinces is booming Mr. Blair and praising his management of the I. C. R. In the laudatory articles no mention is made of Mr. Harris, the price at first proposed by Mr. Blair to be paid for the Drum mond Counties railway, the car famine caused by friends of the government keeping loaded cars on the track for months, or the general dissatisfaction of patrons all along the line. These little matters are of no 'importance and of course are overlooked.

GERALD SHARKEY

Wins a Pulitzer Scholarship in New York City.

Canadian blood tells in academic halls as well as on the South African veldt. The Sun takes pleasure in chronicling the fact that Gerald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sharkey, formerly of Fredericton, was one of the ten from all the graduating schools in New York, who out of some 200 competitors, secured Pulitzer scholarships this year. The scholarship means a seven years' course at Columbia, N Y., University, all expenses paid, and a cost bonus of $20 a month. Gerald Sharkey had to his credit the highest honors of the group. His father, who was for a number of years a resident of Fredericton, married Miss McDonald, daughter of the late John McDonald, merchant, of that city. It was some time before their removal to New York that Gerald was born. Not only residents of Fredericton, but St. John people who made the Queen hotel their neadquarters, will recall in Gerald Sharkey the little boy with luxuriant curls. whose makeup was a charming picture.

The prisoners conspired to release the rest of the convicts in the penitentiary and were sent to Kingston for safer keeping. After serving about half his sentence the prisoner, Campbell, was released as a ticket-of-leave man. He was out only a short time when he made his way to these provinces again, and, as alleged, committed the robberies for which he now awaits his trial. With regard to the present detention of the prisoner in the county jail here he has, owing to the condition of the jail, been kept handcuffed every night and for

Mr. Justice Ritchey, who is holding supreme court here, this morning visit ed the county jail and in his remarks to the grand jury expressed himsel as follows on the condition of the jail: "The jail in this town is a disgrace to the county and a disgrace to humanity. As regards its being able to keep prisoners in, it is perfectly useless. A person cut his way out with a jack cnife. A man put in jail has to be handcuffed. The jail is filthy dirty, not fit for a pig to be put in, much less a human being. A man wearing handcuffs is put in the jail with a lunatic, occupying the same cell. Should the lunatic during any night attack him he might be killed. There are dirty little water closets in the corner of each cell. It is absolutely necessary that something should be done. Some one is to blame, and I want you (the g:snd jury) to see what you think about it, and if you think it desirable to make a presentment to the county council you can do so. I think that you will all say that it is a disgrace to humanity for a man to be confined in such a place. It does not look as if it had been cleaned out for months, and is swarming with vermin. I have no command of language to express my opinion. I did not think that it was possible for such a place to be in a civilized country."

SOUTHAMPTON, N. S., June 18 .- Forest SOUTHAMPTON, N. S., June 18.-Forest fires, originating in flying sparks from J. S. Schurman's mill, are sweeping over a large and valuable block of timber over the river. The fire began on Thursday afternoon, a gale then blowing, and in two hours had swept through the properties of Jacob Har-rison, J. Schurman, Ger. and Charles Harri-son, Luke Hoeg and Arthur Fillmore, most of whom have lost about all of any value on their lands. Yesterday the shifting winds carried it in the direction of Westbrook, where it is destroying Isner and Atkinson's timber, considerable of which is pit timber, prepared for shipment. Geo. Some of the boats secured as many as four usand with drift nets on one night. tho The buyers had more than they could handle and the fish were placed in the home market at twelve cents per dozen. ment in the Church of England and the discussion in English church circles and in the British parliament arising therefrom, has of late attracted considerable attention in this country, particularly among members of the Protestant Episcopal church, which is the Anglican body in the United States. Although there are no accurate statis. tics available, there is no doubt but that the ritualists are gradually be coming more of a power in the United States, particularly in the east. One of the most prominent parishes in Boston, that of the Church of the Advent, may be said to be the leader of the ritualists here. It is similar to the Church of St. Mary the Virgin of New York and commands a widespread influence. The Mission Church of St. ohn the Evangelist, conducted by the Cowley fathers of England, is also a tower of strength to the high churchmen. Among others of strong ritualist tendencies in Poston are St. John's (Roxbury) and the Church of the Mes siah. This party in the church have now two bishops in New England, the bishops of Vermont and Maine. The bishop of Vermont' was better known here as Father John Hall of the Cowley fathers, and the new bishop of Maine, Rt. Rev. Robert Codman, jr. was rector of St. John's (Roxbury.) In New York city, one of the leading exponents of ritualism is Rev. Father Christian of the Church of St. Mary the Virgin. Another in this country is the bishop of Fon-du-Lac, Wis. So far the growth of ritualism has caused practically no friction in the Anglican church of the United States. Under a recent decision of the board of classification of the U.S. genera appraisers in New York, herring box shooks, made from wood grown in the state of Maine, but sawed in the province of New Brunswick, are admitted into the U.S. free of duty. The case just decided originated in Eastport. William Jeffers and Agnes Boyd o Yarmouth, N. S., are under arrest in Lowell of charges resulting from their alleged elopement from the Nova Sco tia town. The Boyd woman is the wife of an employe of the Yarmouth Steamship company, and the arrests were made at his instance. Jeffers has a wife and three children in Yarmouth, They have been held for the grand of Father Michaud of Buctouche, will leave for Rome about July 1. Col. H. H. McLean of St. John wa in town a few days ago.

The spruce lumber situation he appears to have gone from bal to worse. Of late business has been at a complete standstill on account of the alling off in business operations. What little lumber has been sold has apparantly been disposed of below the prices fixed by mill men, although most o the leading lumber firms are endeavoring to stand by the manufacturers. In some cases frames have been sold at $15 to 15.50. The mill men call for $18

HARD TO STAY GREAT.

orces in Nature Intended to Level Those Who Push Ahead of the Mass.

By brains, hard work, and self-denial a man reaches a position of wealth and greatness.

Right then, by a natural law, the contrary forces set to work to tear him down, to prevent his getting too far ahead of the regular evolutionary development.

Think it over and you will remember your own and your friends' experience.

When fortune's face begins to smile, misfortune's iron hand appears, for the man yields to some or many of the "tearing down" forces, anxiety, worry, whisky, tobacco, lust, coffee, etc., etc. Health begins to leave and the man is unable to hold his lofty position.

Only the grim, determined fellows, who recognize the fellows that would rob and slay him, and who sturdily and steadily refuse to allow them to. work on him, are able to "stay great, Is it worth while?

You are your own master and judge. You can kill them or you can vield. and they will down you.

A man says, "I can't quit." There is but one answer, "Get down then to the lower place that the big crowd of 'commons' occupy." It is only the "masters" who can re-

FATAL ACCIDENT AT THE HOS. PITAL.

A sad accident happened at the General Public hospital Monday morning by which Peter Crawley, an aged re-sident of Bocabec, Charlotte county, lost his life. Another patient named Wilson, who was in the same ward, states that a few minutes before the accident he ley. had assisted Crawley to the bath room 2 M ( and that the accident must have oc curred as the old man was groping his way back.

BACK FROM THE WAR.

James Johnston, Who Was Wounded at Paardeberg, Is Home.

James Johnston, the first of the St. John men to return from the war in South Africa, arrived unexpectedly yesterday. He was wounded in the left leg at Paardeberg, and after a time in hospital in Africa, was sent to Woolwich, and arrived at Quebec on Saturday. He looks well, and but for a little soreness is none the worse for his experience at Paardeberg Private Johnston lay on the firing line with his feet crossed, taking snapshots at any Boer that showed his head, when he felt a sudden sting and found that a Mauser bullet had entered his left leg at the calf, splintering the bone. Private McCreary, since killed, bound up the wound and told Johnston to lie quiet, as he could not be taken to the rear until the firing was over. He was afterwards picked up and taken to the hospital. Private Craig of Windsor, Ont., returned on the same ship with Johnston.

In the Conference's Opinionithe Service is a Necessity

A Resolution Embodying the Information Obtained in General Terms Introduced, and Calling Upon the Government to Take the Necessary Steps to Establish the Line-The Dominion Government to be Memorialized in Regard to the Preference of Canadian Ports.

The summer service convention opened its first session Thursday afternoon in the Church of England Institute. Representative in character, the views of practically the whole province were obtained upon the question which was the cause of the convention being called. The weakness as well as the strength of New Brunswick as an exporting province was shown, and much valuable information was collected.

Among the delegates present outside of representatives from St. John were: W. G. Clark, Fredericton; Hon. L. J. Tweedie, Chatham; F. M. Murchie, St. Stephen; F. S. Whittaker, Hampton; Hon. A. T. Dunn, Musquash; H. F. Grosvenor, Meductic, York Co.; W. W. Graham, Prince William; Geo. Dibblee, Fredericton; F. R. Everett, Fredericton; Mayor Beckwith, Frederictor; Hon. C. H. Labillois, Dalhousie; W. P. Clark, Belmont; Ald. G. W. Merrithew, Fredericton; Harvey Mitchell, Sussex; W. W. Hubbard, Sussex board of trade; H. Montgomery-Campbell, Apchaqui; Hon. H. R. Emmerson, Dorchester; S. L. Peters, Qucenstown. Shortly after 3 o'clock Mayor Daniel took the chair and gave a brief address of welcome. He said that it gave him great pleasure as mayor of the city to welcome the delegation, It does not need any argument to show the necessity of a summer service. It interests not only St. John but the whole province, and the executive are deserving of the thanks of all the people in taking the initiative in this matter. The matter of providing freight might be said to be in our grasp. In fact there might appear to be sufficient pulp produced alone to ensure the service next summer, to say nothing of Railway freight rates were then discussed. J. N. Sutherland, for the C. P. R., said there was no reason to suppose that the C. P. R. would not go forward in unison with the shippers, as in the past. He could make no promises. In regard to cold storage, he agreed that there should be two warehouses, one on each side. W. G. Robertson said that the I. C.

"Whereas, The large increase of all farm products, especially butter, cheese and hay, the certain supply of pulp from the several mills erected since 1893, and the yearly increasing output of canned fish, fruits, vegetables and other manufactures, demand close and rapid steamship connection with Great Britain in the summer, so as to give our farmers and manufacturers easy access to the markets of Liverpool. On motion this resolution was ferred to the committee before appointed for action. It was discussed by Hon. W. Pugsley, Premier Emmerson, Ald. Macrae, W. S. Fisher, W. F. Hatheway, T. J. Dillon and S. Schofield. His worship stated to the visiting delegates that the Neptune Rowing Club had placed their boats at the disposal of the delegates. Meeting adjourned until two o'clock this afternoon The summer service convention completed the business before it yesterday afternoon. The resolution brought in by the committee appointed sums up in a brief way the position taken by the convention. While there has not been a great deal of definite information obtained as to the amount of freight which would be at hand, there was a large amount of valuable information obtained, and the convention will no doubt serve as an educator and stimulus. At the opening of the session yester-

No longer any necessity to feel embarassed over unsightly warts. A new remedy has been discovered which removes warts, corns and bunions in a few days. A sure, safe and painless treatment.

Putnam's Painless

Charlstans and quacks have long plied their vocation on the suffering pedals of the people. The knife has pared to the quick. Caustic applications have torment-ed the victim of corns and warts until the conviction shaped itself-there's no cure Putnam's Painless Corn and Wart Extractor proves on what slender basis public opinion often rests. If you suffer from corns, or if you are bothered by a host of unsightly warts, get Putnam's and you will be satisfied.

It goes right to the root of the trouble and there acts so quickly and so painlessly that nothing is known of the operation until the corn is shelled. Beware of dangerous substitutes. Put-

Manchester to St. John. As a majority of the stock of the Battle line is held in New Brunswick it would be a great disadvantage to the owners to have a foreign line subsidized with provincial money to compete with them. The company promises to do all possible for St. John by bringing goods westward at a very low rate.

S. Schofield said he did not want to throw cold water on the movement, but he had grave doubts as to its success. In the communication from the Elder Dempster Co. the value of a line from the West Indies to the provinces was remarked. There is such a line now subsidized for five years. Another matter which he wished to refer to-the importation of goods into Canada through Canadian ports. If Canada is the agent of the marine and fisheries to give British goods one-third preference it is only fair and right that the idea be pressed. Mr. Schofield read several letters received by him from Bissett replied. Then came speeches steamship companies in regard to the resolution passed by the city council that Canadian goods be imported through Canadian ports. Each of the companies endorsed the idea as a splendid one, and that would give a great impetus to Canadian ports.

C. J. Osman took up the subject of manufactures generally, especially day afternoon, Mayor Daniel read a touching upon the oil shales of Albert letter from H. H. McCain, Florence- Co. It is quite reasonable to suppose that in the near future the shale beds sending hundreds of tons of hay to of Albert might furnish a considerable pointed, to report tomorrow afternoon: Boston in bond for England. If a sum-Hon. H. R. Emmerson, Hon. W. Pugs-mer service from St. John to Great There is besides the plaster paris, of Britain were established, this hay which a good deal is produced in Albert Co. The business is quite large, and a great deal has been sent into the United States, 30,000 barrels last year besides 90,000 tons of the raw product. Much of this might go to Great Britain were the service established. Mr. Osman moved that a committee from this convention be appointed to memorialize the dominion government stating that in the opinion of this meeting it would be to the advantage of the provinces if the preference were granted only to goods brought in through Canadian ports .- Carried.

Daniel to look after the estert of the company did their part in manner which could not fail to satis everybody. The City Cornet band oc ed a position just forward of the bridge and played their best music. The steamer went up the harbor and gave the gentlemen on hoard an excelent opportunity to view the improvements being made there in conne with the I. C. R. She was then headed down stream and Sand Point was visited. Here the steamer was moored and the mayor and aldermer present showed the excursionists over the wharves and through the warehous After that the Lansdowne took the company out some distance beyond Partridge Island. She steamed up as to give the sightseers a good idea of Mispec and its great pulp mill. A run down almost to Mahogany Island was made before the ship returned to port. The weather was perfect, the harbor and bay as smooth as glass, so that the outing was thoroughly enjoyed. The members of the govern-ment and other visitors complimented the city very highly on what had been done by the common council to place St. John in a position to do the winter port business of Canada.

A luncheon was served which seemed to please everybody. It was gotten up by Wm. Brown, the steward of the Lansdowne, with assistance from R. J. Lang. The table in the saloon was most attractively arranged, and Mr. Brown and his corps of assistants were congratulated by everybody.

When the steamer reacted port the company assembled in the saloon, when a number of toasts were honored. The Queen, of course, came first. Then came the City of St. John, proposed by Provincial Secretary Tweedie, who was made chairman. Mr. Tweedie paid a high compliment to Mayor Daniel. Cheers were given for, the mayor, who made a very pleasing speech in reply. The City of Fredericton, proposed by Hon. Mr. Emmerson, brought out a good speech from Mayor Beckwith. The C. P. R. was responded to by J. N. Sutherland, who also sang Hearts of Oak. The health of the local government was drunk with all honors possible, and Hon. Messrs. Emmerson, Tweedie, Dunn and Mc-Keown responded. The next sentiment was the gentlemen of the common council, who arranged for the excursion. Warden McGoldrick spoke most acceptably in reply, as did also Ald. Christie. The health of Mr. Harding, department; Capt. Bissett and his officers was received with great applause, and Mr. Harding and Captain from Councillors Graham of Prince William, York Co.; Geo. Y. Dibblee of Fredericton, and others.

His worship then briefly explained the programme, and asked the meeting to organize.

On motion of Premier Emmerson seconded by Mayor Beckwith of Fred ericton. Mayor Daniel was appointed chairman, and on motion of Col. Markham F. O. Allison was appointed secretary.

After the election of officers Premier Emmerson was called on to address the meeting. He said that he believed he could serve the objects of the meeting best by speaking briefly. The meeting was for action, not speaking. The idea of it arose from the action of C. A. Duff-Miller in carrying out what he thought were the best interests of the province in conference with the Elder-Dempster line. On his representation it was thought fitting to have this meeting called, and by the city of St. John. The government are daily receiving communications in regard to the trade between the province and Great Britain, and inquiries in respect to this or that product. As an example, only a short time ago inquiry was made concerning sea grass, in which it was believed a profitable and important trade might be developed, and there are many other similar cases. It is, however, the question of transportation that directly brings you here today, and there is the secondary reason, the discussion of what we have to send away. The further question of the possible connection between New Brunswick and the West Indies, though a subsidiary one, is still of importance to the steamship people in their discussion of direct service between this province and Great Britain. He hoped that this meeting would be productive of good and that the scheme would receive an impetus to day that would launch it into success. (Cheers).

Letters of regret were read by the chairman from Hon. A. R. McClellan, Col. Tucker, M. P., J. V. Ellis, M. P. G. M. Bosworth, C. P. R., Montreal; C. F. Chestnut, Fredericton board of trade; Mayor Sumner; Moncton; Chas. Harrison, Maugerville; James O'Brien, St. George; W. A. Mott, M. P. P., Campbellton, The first of the discussions was open ed by T. J. Dillon, who spoke on the Dairy Products. All would agree, he said, as to the advantage of a summer service to the province and city. If it can be shown that sufficient freight can be obtained, the line of steamers from Liverpool would be forthcoming. That city was one of the best centres in Great Britain for the distribution of dairy products. The cheese and butter industry in New Brunswick is well established, and is increasing at a tremendous rate. At Sussex the other day 1,046 pounds of butter was made. However, it would be necessary, if sending butter away, to have refrigerators on the steamers. If we can show the steamship people that there will be sufficient butter and other products forthcoming, cold storage will be obtained. Personally, he would do all in his power to collect dairy products for shipment. (Cheers.) H. Mitchell asked why Mr. Dillon shipped from Halifax rather than from St. John.

Mr. Dillon said he wished to get his cheese into the Manchester market, and he could only do that through Halifax, which had a direct route, to Liverpool. In reply to another question, he said he shipped 9,000 boxes, or 270 tons last year.

McGee, Somerville, Carleton Co. He stated that Carleton county exported about 100 cars of live stock annually. Several car loads would have been sent to Great Britain recently if space could have been had at St. John. We are now shipping live hogs to Monreal. During season will send 20 car loads there. Have contracted to send 4,000 sheep to London by the cheapest route, probably via Portland, Me. A port at St. John would cause great advance, as our prices are small now on account of shrinkage over long hauls. A. Sherwood, Hillsboro, wrote his worship stating that he believed the county of Albert would send considerable hay and a little live stock were the direct service to be commenced. Ald. Macrae said that as he under stood it the production of live stock in the province is not large enough at present to warrant a service on that account. But there is much live stock sent from Canada, and the great heat at Montreal is a disadvantage to it as a shipping port.

Dr. Frink did not think much inducement could be held to steamships to get live stock as freight for some time. The Leef used in St. John is supplied mainly from Ontario. We have not the horses here either to ship. In the four or five years that the steamers have run here only a couple of horses have been sent from tS. John. Hon. C. N. Skinner asked if Dr. Frink could explain this state of affairs.

Col. Markham said that he thought he could explain the lack of horses for the English market. Some time age the great demand was for trotters for the United States market, and the farmers here began to raise them, and as a result we have a large number of small mares, which are useless to produce the animals needed in England. .

W. Frank Hatheway asked Mr. Graham of Prince William, who said New Brunswick could raise anything that was required, why seven-eighths of the peas and beans sold here came from Ontario.

Mr. Graham said the reason was that these things could be raised more cheaply in Upper Canada than here. W. S. Fisher asked to have the views of the gentlemen who are interested in pork packing.

Hen. A. T. Dunn said there was not pork enough raised here to warrant the establishment of a big packing establishment. Were our farmers to use a better system we would have hogs for shipment. Dr. Frink said that if the embargo on cattle were raised in England, cattle could be sent there for feeding. O. W. Wetmore, Clifton, wrote that quite a trade could be had from that district in poultry. The meeting adjourned until 7.30.

EVENING SESSION.

At the evening session discussion on the question of egricultural products generally was open-i by Hon. C. H. Labillois. He said that it was a difficult matter to say just now if we had sufficient products to warrant the Hon. Mr. Labillois said there were service. But all experience went to

W. S. Fisher asked Mr., Pugsley if he thought the site selected by the storage company was a suitable one to serve the railroads. Mr. Pugsley said it was thought this site presented greater advantages, on account of the local trade.

S. Schofield asked if it would not be better to get the company to erect two warehouses of smaller capacity on each side of the harbor. The C. P. R. trade was a certainty, the I. C. R. as yet was not.

Mayor Beckwith agreed with Mr. Schofield. The C. P. R. served the up river counties, the I. C. R. did not. W. F. Hatheway asked if any provision had been made for the scale of fees. Mr. Pugsley explained that there

W. Frank Hatheway opened the discussion on the subject of canned goods. In regard to this subject two letters were read. The Maritime Pure Food Co. wrote that they packed 20,000 cases of canned goods last year. One-quarter of this went across the Atlantic. A summer service would greatly help.

R. O'Leary, Richibucto, wrote that his pack of canned lobsters was from 3.000 to 4.000 cases annually. A fortnightly service from St. John would greatly assist. About 1,000 cases are put up within a short distance from him.

O. Melanson wrote that he shipped from 2,500 to 4,000 cases of lobsters and that the service would materially aid him.

The question of pulp manufacturing was introduced by M. F. Mooney. He said he was greatly interested in the establishment of this line, as it would help pulp manufacturing. Last year he could have shipped three to four thousand tons. This year he has an offer to send 4,000 tons, and has closed to ship 2,500 tons f. o. b. St. John. Last year he sent 6,000 tons to the United States, which, if there had been proper accommodation and freight right, would have gone to Great Britain. Last year 23,000 tons were sent to Great Britain from Canada and 21,000 to the United States. There is considerable pulp made in Nova Scotia, which could be diverted to the port of St. John if there were a regular service. Sissiboo Pulp and Paper Co., Weymouth, N. S., wrote that their product would be sent to England this year, and if a service were obtainable here a considerable portion of their product would be sent through this port, if freight rates were satisfactory.

Wood manufactures was the next subject introduced. Donald Fraser wrote that such a service as is contemplated would be of material assistance, and he could send considerable shipments. As affairs are now, they can not send except a full shipment which does not suit their customers. Mayor Murchie said there was wood working establishment at St. Stephen, which has sent several shipments to England. There is no limit to the box business that could be done if there were an outlet. Hon. Mr. Emmerson emphasized the rossibility of establishing certain wood industries looking toward the ly fortnightly trips from Liverpool and would go through this city. The subject of manufactures generally was introduced by James H. Mc-Avity. In introduction, Mr. McAvity referred to a remark made at a previous session in regard to return freights, and suggested that a clause be put in the preferential agreement, that vessels carrying goods coming in under it must come to Canadian ports. In regard to exports, he said that his firm had certain shipments for New Zealand, South Africa and other places, which go by way of St. John. Considerable quantities would also be sent by James Pender. The iron industry at Sydney would assist, and there are besides considerable shipments which would come from Montreal.

J. E. Irvine, representing Troop & Son, agents of the Elder-Dempster line, said that it had been impossible for any members of the concern to be present at this meeting, and there was no proposition from them to lay before the convention. The Elder-Dempster people have been giving the cuestion of summer service consider able attention. Although nothing has been said about subsidy, it can hardly undertake the service without it. If we have the facilities at St. John, a large business would be done. On account of the strong competition a summer service must be subsidized. Mayor Murchie of St. Stephen re ported for the committee which had been appointed at a previous session,

Whereas, The large increase of farm pro-ducts, especially butter and cheese, within the province of New Brunswick, the supply of pulp from the mills recently erected, and the increasing development of manufactures and products of various kinds, demand close and rapid steamship connection with Great Britain throughout the year, so as to give the farmers and manufacturess of the prov-ince easy access to the markets of Great Britain in the summer as well as in the win-ter months:

The resolution was taken up clause by clause and adopted.

On motion of W. F. Hatheway it was resolved to send copies of the resolution to city and municipal councils, the proper department of the government and the boards of trade.

A letter was read from William Thomson & Co. by the mayor. The letter stated that the importations by steamers of the Battle line from Liverpool or Manchester do not average 200 tons per trip exclusive of bag salt, which is not a profitable cargo. The company considered that steamers of 3,500 tons register for the summer service would be too large. Next year the company hopes to have practical-

. Z. R. Everett opposed the motion, saying that it was the importer, not the exporter, who was to blame for the manner in which the goods were imported.

The following committee was appointed: C. J. Osman, W. Frank Hatheway, J. H. McAvity.

Hon. H. R. Emmerson read the following cable, received by him from London :

"Suggest following nominations, Congress Chambers Commerce, London, meeting Tuesday: Robertson and Thomas Walker, representing St. John board of trade; McLeod, Chatham; Hickman, Dorchester or Moncton.

"AGENT GENERAL."

The convention, as such, took no action in the matter.

Mayor Daniel said that there had been a great deal of information received during the convention. It would have at least a great educative influence upon the people of the , whole province, on account of the representative character of the conference. Hon. Mr. Labillois's report was extremely gratifying and was a surprise to many who have not followed the advance in agricultural products closely.

Hon. Mr. Emmerson concurred with Mayor Daniel as to the value of the conference. There had perhaps not been a great deal of definite information brought out, but that could not be expected. The point is that this idea of a summer service has been stimulated. This conference will tend to make people think, its educative influence must necessarily be great. The great idea is that trade may be promoted, and the premier again referred to the industry that might be established in sea grass. He was grateful to the mayor and the common council for their efforts, and moved that the thanks of the convention be tendered them. Seconded by Mayor Beckwith and carried by a standing vote. Mayor Daniel, Ald. Christie, Ald Macrae, Ald. Seaton, Ald. McMulkin respond

The church people of Hampton have been looking forward for some weeks to a visit from the bishop of this diocese for the purpose of administering the rite of confirmation. Sunday, 17th June, was the date fixed for his lordship's visit. There was an early celebration of the Holy Communion at the church at the station, at which the bishop was celebrant. At 10.15 morning prayer was said at the parish church. Punctually at eleven the bishop, attended by the church wardens and the two parish clergy, proceeded through the churchyard into the church during the singing of hymn 240. Thirty-eight candidates (nineteen of either sex) were then presented for the laying on of hands. Before administering the rite the bishop addressed the whole congregation, explaining to them the nature of the service in which they were about to engage, and after the laying on of hands he again addressed the candidates. giving them words of counsel and ad-

OTTAWA, June 22 .- There is a persistent report that Judge King, of the supreme court of Canada, is likely to ask for retirement on the ground of ill health. The source of this report cannot be learned. It does not seem to have come from the judge himself, who is now on his way to England, and reported before he left home that he had nearly recovered from his recent illness. The politicians all seem to be agreed that if the judge should retire he would be succeeded by Sir Louis Davies. The minister of marine is evidently tired of politics. He has been greatly worried over the state of affairs in Prince Edward Island and realizes that the misdeeds of his friends of the provincial government, who have been acting under his direc-tions, will be visited on him.
