

ST. GEORGE'S DAY WELL OBSERVED

Annual Dinner of St. George's Society a Brilliant Function. Hon. J. D. Hazen, Speaker of Evening, in Strong Patriotic Address, Advocates Closer Imperial Union and a Council of Empire.

Though the feast of St. George fell on Sunday the event was royally celebrated by St. George's Society last evening. The banquet given by the St. George's Society was held in the Dufferin hotel and surpassed all previous functions of a like nature in honor of the feast of England's patron saint.

About 100 members of the society and their guests sat down to the sumptuous dinner prepared. His Worship Mayor Prink, as president of the St. George's Society, acted as chairman. On the right of the chairman were Lieut. Gov. Tweedie and Hon. J. D. Hazen, and on his left, B. R. Macaulay, president of St. Andrew's Society.

The spacious dining hall presented a most brilliant appearance. At the head of the table the banner of the society was draped. The walls were hung with shields and flags, and the whole color scheme was red and white. The table was covered with a white cloth and decorated with red and white roses and potted plants.

A fine menu. The following elaborate menu was served: Oysters on the Half Shell, Queen Olives, Sliced Tomatoes, Mock Turtle Soup, Purced Artichokes, Fillet of Halibut, King's Sauce, Pommes de terre.

During the banquet Wallace and Holder's orchestra of six pieces discoursed a choice programme of music. The toast list was a lengthy and varied one, and the several toasts proposed elicited interesting and eloquent remarks by the speakers.

The toast to the King, which was the initial toast of the evening, was received with musical honors. H. A. Fowler, in well chosen words proposed the toast to the Governor General and Lieut. Governor, and paid high tribute to Lieut. Governor I. J. Tweedie whose name he coupled with the toast.

Lieutenant Governor Tweedie. In arising to reply, Lieut. Governor Tweedie expressed his thanks for the honor accorded him by the society, and declared that it was an easy task to respond to this particular toast.

The speaker referred at length to the loyalty of the people of New Brunswick who have inherited the love of liberty of their forefathers, and their sense of justice. He also touched upon the great resources of Canada and of this province, and declared that before long our young men who are going West will return to their own province in full realization of its wealth.

The orator of the evening was Hon. J. D. Hazen, who replied to the toast of "The Day We Celebrate." Hon. Mr. Hazen said in part: "The feast we are celebrating is most undoubtedly an important one. Not only in our fair Dominion, but all through the possessions of the British Empire, the feast of England's patron saint is honored."

"Tonight, St. George's Society celebrates its one hundred and tenth anniversary. The society has kept alive the flame of love for the grand old institutions of England; the society stands for a concrete idea, a closer union."

"The England of today has changed vastly from the Merry England of the days of St. George," the speaker declared. "In the days of St. George the English people lived a pastoral life, and depended on the soil for their livelihood. Today, manufacturers have sprung up throughout the land; the people are an industrial and commercial people and must look across the sea for their goods."

HOCUS POCUS TRICKS TRIED IN THE HOUSE

Deliberate Attempt On Part of Liberals To Entrap Conservative Members—Pugsley Worsted By Dr. Sproule.

Ottawa, Ont., April 24.—The House spent some time this evening over an afterglow of Mr. Sealey's laborious effort on Saturday morning, to vote for and against reciprocity at the same time. The opposition brought up and condemned a singularly childish and dishonest attempt which appeared in the Toronto Globe to make it appear that certain Conservatives voted to approve the agreement.

Mr. Sealey moved his amendment. He read it. It was as follows: "That schedule A, thereto be amended by striking out in lines seven and eight thereof the words 'onions, cabbage and all other vegetables in their natural state,' and in lines nine and ten thereof the words 'pears, peaches, grapes, berries, and all other edible fruits in their natural state' and in lines eleven and twelve thereof the words 'peaches, pears and apricots, dried, desiccated or evaporated.'"

This is the amendment which appears in the official record of the House. It is the amendment for which the Conservatives voted. But there was some hocus pocus. As it now appears, at the bottom of the sheet, following the typewritten words quoted above, were certain words, first, a paragraph including hog products in the proposal to preserve present conditions and secondly, some further observations, apparently intended as a shaft of his speech.

SCHOOL BURNED IN GLACE BAY

Aberdeen School Building Destroyed By Fire Yesterday Several Hundred Children Marched Quietly To Safety.

Sydney, April 24.—One of the most disastrous fires that has occurred in Glace Bay for some time, destroyed the New Aberdeen public school today. Apart from the loss of the building there were no serious mishaps attending the fire. The children, of whom there were several hundred in the building at the time, being marched out quietly by their teachers. There were five departments in the building, all of which originated in the basement near the foundation, though the exact cause is still unknown, the building was badly burned, being almost entirely gutted inside and only the walls remain standing. The loss will not be heavy, the building being worth about $9,000, on which there was $5,000 insurance.

RECIPROCITY BILL BEFORE U. S. SENATE

Cannot be Taken up Until Finance Committee, to which it is Referred, is Organized.

Washington, D. C., April 24.—The Canadian reciprocity bill was conveyed from the house to the senate today and without comment was referred to the committee on finance. It cannot be taken up until the organization of the committee is completed.

The announcement of the senate committee before the close of the present week was promised in the senate today. Moving for an adjournment until Thursday, Senator Gallinger, chairman of the re-organizing committee, stated that the committee probably would be able to report on that day. Mr. Gallinger's motion prevailed, and the senate concluded its session today with forty minutes.

KEEP WHITE ENSIGN AT MASTHEAD

Speakers At St. George's Society Dinner in Halifax Oppose Any Plan To Change The Naval Ensign.

Halifax, April 24.—Notable utterances were made by Rear-Admiral Kingsmill, Col. Dennison of the Royal Canadian Regiment, and Capt. Macdonald, of H. M. C. S. Niobe at the dinner of St. George's Society tonight in reference to the flag, as they believed should be flown by the ships of the Canadian navy.

There has been talk of a change in the white ensign of the Canadian navy but these officers are hot against any change. They all spoke in favor of retaining the white ensign of England and against any change, emblem, or mutilation in it whatever.

"Today we have in the harbor," said Admiral Kingsmill, "the Niobe, flying the white ensign. I hope it will always remain so flying."

It did not seem creditable to him, he said, that the flag should ever be done away with or in any manner changed if we are to have a great navy or be a part of the British navy.

Col. Dennison dwelt particularly on the fact that our navy and army as expressed on the toast list were Imperial, not local or auxiliary.

Captain Macdonald, the commander of the Niobe, said he was pleased that his ship was filled with men who are a credit to any nation; many of them were French-Canadians, and none of them did themselves or their nationality more honor as sailors than they. He hoped the white ensign would never be mutilated by any addition above, or by any other conditions. Captain Macdonald's speech was applauded by all present who had any influence to use it to prevent any change in the flag.

The speakers were loudly applauded by the company and there is no doubt that the remarks of the officers, which were somewhat unexpected, met with strong popular approval. "Neither the officers nor the people here want any change in the naval flag."

He thus wins prize of $4,000 offered by the Aero Club of France for the fastest flight between the two cities. Vedrine made several long stops en route. Recently he flew from Poitiers to Issy-les-Moulineaux, a distance of 208 miles in 132 minutes. Later he covered the 212 miles between Issy and Pau at a speed of 77 miles an hour.

OTTAWA MUSEUM SETTLING

Ottawa, April 24.—Official measurements have established the fact that the now famous fissure in the Victoria museum has been widening at the rate of 100 inches per day. It is believed, however, that the building will not settle further and that there is no danger of a collapse.

BURIED UNDER TONS OF DEBRIS IN COAL MINE

Twenty-two Miners Entombed In Virginia Mine—Slight Hope Held Out For Rescue Of Any.

Elk Garden, W. Va., April 24.—Twenty-two miners are entombed in Ot mine No. 2, of the Davis Coal and Coke Company, here, the result of an explosion early today, and little chance is held out for the rescue of any the alive, because of the tons of debris, that has thus far impeded the progress of rescuers. It cannot be learned yet whether the explosion was caused by dust or gas.

As soon as the accident became known Supt. Robert Grant, organized a rescue corps of the miners off duty, and these attempted to enter the mine. The rescue parties had not advanced far into the works before they discovered that it would take several days to dig through the heap of roof coal and slate that had been loosened by the explosion. It then was decided to effect an entrance nearer the probable point of the explosion by cutting through the wall of an adjoining mine owned by the same company. Late this afternoon the rescuers had penetrated to the No. 2 mine at a point about 4,000 feet from the outside entry. There still remained about the same distance to go before reaching the buried miners.

The Ot Mine No. 2, is almost directly under the town of Elk Garden in this case, with one exception, are Americans. They are: John Pritchard, Arthur Pritchard, Tabor Hudson, James Brown, John R. Wilson, Roy Wilson, Lester Wilson, William Pugh, Hawthorne Patton, Thomas Wilson, Geet White, William Pennington, John White, William Sheras, Harry Tatum, James Dempsey, L. O. Dempsey, Edward Hershberger, Thomas Yost, Charles Wilson, William Hesse, William Busky. The latter is the only one who is not an American.

The mine usually employs 500, and on the day shift, and about the same number at night. A temporary suspension of work was ordered by the mine owners in the mines, else the casualty might have been greater. Communication with the outside world is maintained by telephone wire being available, and that a private line of the coal company, which terminates three miles from here. The mine is situated in a deep valley in Cumberland. Only two trains daily run between here and Cumberland, and none of the officials from the headquarters in Cumberland can reach here until tomorrow. Two engines with rescue crews and equipment were sent here from Thomas, West Virginia, 15 miles away.

TRAPPED BY A FOREST FIRE

Man And Boy Burned To Death While Fighting Fire In Massachusetts Woods—Two Others Narrowly Escaped.

Topsfield, Mass., April 24.—Trapped in the centre of a forest fire in Boxford, near here, Frank Simmons, Jr., aged 15, of Boxford, and Albert Morgan, of Beverly, were burned to death today. Their bodies were recovered later burned beyond recognition. Two others, Frank Simmons, father of the dead boy, and William Simmons, 17, a brother, were also trapped by the fire, but broke through and escaped, although both are so seriously burned that they may not recover.

A brush fire started by George Frame, a farmer living on the outskirts of the town got beyond control, and before the blaze was finally controlled, more than 100 acres, much of it valuable timber land, was burned over. Frame's nearest neighbor, Frank Simmons, with his two sons and Albert Morgan, of Beverly, helped fight the fire and seemed to be getting the better of it, until unnoticed by them, the blaze crept around and surrounded all but Frame.

STEAMER TURNED BACK WITH FIRE IN HOLD.

Queenstown, April 24.—The fire in the hold of the British steamer Mobile which put in here Saturday, has been extinguished. The Mobile will discharge her cargo and will be docked for repairs.

The Mobile sailed from Antwerp for Baltimore on April 14. When 600 miles westward of the Irish coast, fire was discovered in the fore hold, and the Mobile was turned back for this port.

COBALT MINE BROKERS ARE SHY ON CASH

Warrants Issued For Men Who Embezzled $4,000 To $5,000 From Poor Men Who Were Clients.

Cobalt, April 24.—Warrants have been issued for E. P. Kadlecok and M. W. Crane, brokers, trading under the name of Kadlecok and Crane. It is alleged that they have embezzled between $4,000 and $5,000 all in hundreds, and from poor men.

The firm took an office in Cobalt about New Year's and began to trade in Porcupine and Cobalt stocks. Making some profits for holders they attracted many clients. They took big chances and when the Porcupine boom burst, they could not pay for the stock, and a writ was issued for $25,000.

Kadlecok, the head of the firm, on one pretense or another, held back certificates for which cheques had been given and it is estimated that between $4,000 and $5,000 is owing in town today.

Kadlecok left on Good Friday, telling the clerk that he was going to the King Edward Hotel, Toronto. He was last seen checking a trunk to Buffalo. Both men have been in camp for years. Crane formerly held a responsible position at the Nipissing mines, while Kadlecok figured in the early days of the camp as a promoter and made several good stakes. He comes of a good Cleveland family. Crane was last heard of in Montreal.

AUTOISTS START FOR OTTAWA.

Much interest is being manifested in the meeting to be held in St. Andrew's rink on Friday evening, when H. B. Ames, M. P. for St. Antoine Division, Montreal, and Prof. Stephen Leacock of McGill University, will speak on the reciprocity question. Both speakers have made a special study of the question and their views should carry weight.

Ladies will be welcomed.

HOUSE TO HEAR LANCTOT CASE

Further Airing of the Affairs of Liberal M. P. for Richelieu. Honest Liberals Disgusted at Action of Elections and Privileges Committee, will not Vote for Whitewash Resolution—Hot Debate Promised

Special to The Standard. Ottawa, April 24.—The government has at last decided to bring the discussion of the Lanctot case on in the house, and Thursday is the day fixed for the motion that the majority report of the Privileges and Elections committee, which exonerated the member for Richelieu, and even censured his accuser, Mr. Blondin, of Champlain, be concurred in.

It has taken some time for Sir Wilfrid Laurier to make up his mind to bring the subject formally before parliament. The report of the committee was received on April 1, and it is customary in cases of reports of such bodies that the motion that they be concurred in is made without delay. The chief reason, which is stated to be the cause of the reluctance of the Premier to have the whole matter ventilated, is that there is a pretty strong tide of feeling in the rank and file of the party, but in the country against the white-washing of Mr. Lanctot by a parliamentary committee, the majority of which were strong partisans.

It is known that several Liberal members have expressed their intention of not taking part in the division on Thursday next, and thus by not being paired bring the normal majority down to a point where the domination of Mr. Lanctot's action would really seem condemnation.

The facts of the case which were brought out in the privileges and elections committee showed that Mr. Lanctot, last summer, without securing the authority of the director of the Soviet shipyard, engaged with a subordinate to supply him with painters and materials from the shops to decorate his house which he was to decorate in that town. The work which took him months, was done and in December last year, after the session had opened, Mr. Lanctot sent a cheque for $275 to Mr. Papineau, the director, which was the first that gentleman had heard of the transaction.

Early in March last Mr. Blondin, M. P. for Champlain, from his seat in the House, openly charged Mr. Lanctot with breach of the independence of Parliament and a cheque was sent to the committee and after an inquiry which was shown from the first would have but one ending, the whitewashing of Mr. Lanctot.

The minority of the committee presented a report condemning Mr. Lanctot of conspiracy on the evidence taken as ascertaining the breach of the independence of parliament act had been amply proved.

The majority report was adopted by 19 to 10, and Hon. L. P. Brodeur turned to the recommendation of the minority members that the services of counsel employed in the case, be paid out of the parliamentary vote for such purposes. Mr. Brodeur declined to recommend this.

The Opposition have determined to press home the need of a general inquiry into the affairs of the marine and fisheries department and the ensuing debate promises to be one of the most engaging of the session.

FARMERS FREE LIST
BEFORE U. S. HOUSE

Debate On Democratic Tariff Bill Will Last Several Days—Promoters Confident Of Large Majority.

Washington, April 24.—The Democratic tariff bill, putting agricultural implements, cotton bagging, leather, boots and shoes, harness, meat, lumber, flour and many other articles on the free list of the existing tariff laws of the United States, came before the house in the last few moments before adjournment today, and will be taken up again as soon as the house convenes tomorrow.

A final vote on the bill will not be reached before the end of this week, and house leaders are in doubt whether it will come before the following week. Chairman Underwood, of the ways and means committee, expressed the opinion in the house this afternoon that the debate will last four or five days and Republicans leaders expect that it will take even longer. The Democrats are confident of passing the "farmers free list," as it is known, by a large majority. The indications are that the bill will have a number of Republican votes in its support, including a substantial proportion of the insurgent Republican strength.

WEDDED TO ART, AND TO EACH OTHER

MR. AND MRS. JAMES PRESTON
In Their "Workshop."
Here's a pair of married folk about whom we must say exactly the same thing, so far as business is concerned. They illustrate magazines and books. And as to looks, we must say that Mr. Preston is very good looking as men go, while his wife is exceedingly pretty as pretty women go—which betrays our intention to give the woman slightly the best of it. And why not? They met in art, they were married to art, both of them, and decided to marry each other also, and now they live by their art.

SAFETY BOARD WILL ASK FOR MOUNTED POLICEMAN

He will be One of Three New Men to be Appointed by Chief Clark and will do Duty on Douglas Avenue and in the Park.

At the meeting of the safety board last evening, a motion was adopted recommending the council to pass an order to authorize Chief Clark to appoint three new policemen, their salaries being provided for in the police appropriation. One of these will be mounted and patrol the park and Douglas avenue. Considerable routine business was dealt with.

Ald. Vanwart presided and there were present Ald. Jones, Russell, McLeod, Scully and Sprout, with the common clerk, Director Wisely and Chief Clark.

J. King Kelley county secretary, was heard in connection with the application of the Lancaster sewerage board to lay a sewer along the Union Point road. He said it was necessary to cross several lots owned by the city. Mr. Kelley who had a lease of one of the lots would give the county a right of way along the front if the city would give him as much ground in the rear as the county needed. The director recommended compliance with the application of the Lancaster board.

Ald. Scully moved that the exchange be made and that the county be asked to make a roadway along the sewer line. This was adopted.

Mr. Kelley then called attention to a previous request for a lot on Greenhead where he wished to erect a summer cottage. He offered $5 a year rental. The director said the lot was not included in the property formerly leased to the Craig Co.

On motion of Ald. Russell, the director was instructed to report on the application before the meeting of the council.

The director asked for an order to have repairs to No. 4 engine house made by contract. An order to this effect was passed, and the director was authorized to employ an architect to prepare the plans and specifications for the repair work.

W. J. Linton asked leave to surrender lot No. 44, Collins street, Fairville. It was decided to recommend the acceptance of the surrender and the granting of a lease of the same lot to Owen McDonald, for 50 a foot.

W. J. Linton was paying 40 cents.

The director recommended that the house on Lot 748, Duke street bought from Wm. Thompson be torn down, and this was approved.

M. and E. Dickey applied for the renewal lease of half of lot No. 354 on Crown street, in Prince ward. It was decided to recommend a renewal of the lease for 7 years.

A communication was received from

No. 2 Salvage Corps stating that E. N. Atkinson was also present at the meeting and that Blake Hoyt had left the city.

W. H. Barnaby wrote asking that the city be charged for the use of the Carleton public hall by the citizens' committee be refunded. It was decided to refund the money.

An order was received from residents of Lorne ward asking that an armp be placed on the corner of Metcalfe and Albert streets. The director said the board had the necessary money at its disposal and an order to place the light was passed.

Ald. McLeod said Carleton wanted an iron pole for the lamp in Queen's square and the director was instructed to see what he could do about it.

A report was submitted recommending that when Samuel Miller surrenders his lease of lot No. 17, Hill street, Lancaster, it be leased to H. Merryweather for $28.62. This was approved.

An order was passed authorizing the director to purchase summer helmets for the police.

The matter of purchasing a lot in the rear of No. 1 engine house for the purpose of providing additional room for the apparatus was discussed. It was referred to the director to report on what action it should take.

Chief Clark said he understood money had been set aside for more policemen, but he had never received an order in regard to the appointment of new men. He said he could not get suitable men every day.

On motion of Ald. Russell, it was decided to recommend the council to pass an order authorizing the chief to employ a mounted policeman and two other policemen, one of whom should be stationed in the West Side.

Chief Clark asked whether anything had been done to secure a place for the patrol wagon. The director said they were still looking for a place.

Before adjournment the chairman said that as he would probably not be at the next meeting of the board he wanted to register his thanks to his fellow members, the officials and the press for their treatment of him during his term of office.

Ald. Scully and Russell expressed their appreciation of the fairness of the chairman and their regret at his retirement.

Ald. Sprout said he was leaving without a grievance. He might not have always cast a wise vote, but he always had been conscientious.

After some further felicitations the board adjourned.

She lost her trawls and an anchor. The Tasmania lost all her cable and trawls and the Beatrice S. Mack suffered a similar loss.

Upwards of ten Lunenburg fishing vessels have put into port this spring with loss of cable and anchors indicating the severity of the weather. The cost of the new outfits required has averaged $500.

NEWFOUNDLAND FISH SUBJECT TO U. S. DUTY

Fishing Interests Of New England Viciously Affected By Treasury Department Ruling Sustained By Court.

Washington, D. C., April 24.—Fishing interests of New England are viciously affected by a ruling of the treasury department which has been sustained by the customs court in the case of the schooner Sarah O. Wharf, commanded by Capt. F. J. Carter. The Hague tribunal gave American fishermen, the right to operate in treaty waters with foreign labor, but some of the fishermen contended that fish caught by natives of Newfoundland, for instance, could be brought into ports of the United States duty free by Americans. In sustaining the treasury department's ruling the court defines an American fish, holding that fish caught in treaty waters by any other than an American owned or mastered outfit, must pay duty as imports.

London, April 24.—The annual report of the British Cotton Growing Association, just issued, sets forth the complaint that the work of the industry and indifference displayed in Lancashire. The government promised a subsidy of $50,000 yearly, on condition that additional capital to the amount of $750,000 should be raised in Lancashire, but the report says, this capital has not been raised.

The song for food supplies for the workers in the munitions factories. "Those colonies depending on England for protection, for so many years should see to it now, that they have cast off the avowed cloak of colonialism, and should realize the duty incumbent upon them to help bear their share of the burden in defending the Empire. There are many who scoff at the idea of a closer bond between Canada, or the colonies and the Mother Land, on account of distance or other obstacles. Neither annexation, nor independence are favored by Canadians, neither of these is acceptable to the people of the Dominion. No new Canadian can expect to be considered as such and entertain the idea of annexation, and I feel I'm safe in saying it, that the form of government obtaining in the republic to the south of us is not the one for us.

"As regards independence," said the speaker, "why should we wish to become so? We are young, we are progressing by leaps and bounds. In a few years the population of this country will equal, if not exceed that of the United States. It is not independence nor annexation that we need but a closer union to the great Empire of the British when Canadians go to England and seek a seat in parliament and have greater opportunity of election than many of those who belong to the old land. The idea of a great imperial council is easily within the region of possibility, indeed easily within the grasp of the future, and the day is not far off when such a council will be a reality, a council embodying representation of all the peoples of the Empire, to settle authoritatively questions of defence, trade, commerce and, in a word all that pertains to the general wellbeing of the British Empire.

In conclusion he advocated the tightening of the bonds which join the colonies and the Motherland, and characterized Canadians as loyal, patriotic and true.

The Premier's address was received with the greatest applause.

The toast to the Imperial Forces was proposed by Col. E. T. Sturdee, who in coupling the name of Col. Humphrey, D. O. C. with the toast, referred to the Conservative departure of Col. Humphrey.

In an eloquent reply, Col. Humphrey expressed his pleasure in being present and his regret in leaving St. John. In concluding he paid a tribute to the progress of the militia of the city and of the great advance made by the cadets.

The toasts to the sister societies were capably responded to by B. H. Macaulay, representing St. Andrews, and Hon. R. Ritchie, president of St. Patrick's Society.

The toasts to the city of St. John and its Commercial Interests were coupled with the names of His Worship the Mayor and P. H. Estabrook, both of whom made a fitting reply.

Frederick Campbell, the London Journalist, also spoke briefly.

The musical programme of the evening consisted of selections by the orchestra, soloed by Fred McKeon, D. Pidgeon, Rev. E. B. Hooper, chaplain of St. George's Society, and Mr. Ritchie. D. Arnold Fox accompanied the singers, and the dinner was concluded by the singing of God Save The King.

The chairman, Mr. MacIntyre, sent the sheet back for amendment and Mr. Sealey "blinded himself with his pencil on the paper. He returned the paper and it was understood that the Conservative members who were present leaving the amendment as just quoted and as it appears in the official records of the House. Mr. MacIntyre read it again and the vote took place.

It is now asserted that after Mr. Sealey had corrected the amendment, the words "That the resolution as amended be adopted," were on the paper.

It is a disputed point whether Mr. MacIntyre read this rider. He says that he recollects doing it and Mr. Pugsley and a number of Liberals say that they heard him do so. The Conservative members who were present distinctly say that they did not hear Mr. MacIntyre read them. It is admitted on all hands that the Conservatives present did not notice this rider, and that if it was read, they voted for the amendment under a misapprehension.

The Globe, on Monday, published a statement that the Conservative members who were present voted for the amendment, that they thereby approved the agreement, and it distinctly stated that they did so for the purpose of approving the agreement.

The situation, according to the Liberal version, is that Mr. Sealey, at the conclusion of his speech, read an amendment which the Conservatives could vote for, that he then made alterations in the paper on which this amendment was written, that when he had finished making these alterations there were on that sheet of paper additional words, offensive to the Conservatives, which Mr. Sealey did not utter; that the Conservatives thereupon were taken unawares, and did not notice the alteration, and voted for the amendment which had been tampered with.

Mr. Haughton Lennox brought the subject up. He began by saying that until lately the Globe had reported the house accurately and fairly. Of late, however, there had been a change. He went on to denounce "this lying, disreputable article" as he called it, "this utterly unjustifiable falsification," as he also described it, "the meanest and most contemptible falsehood that I recollect in the history of journalism in the Dominion," was yet another characterization. He asserted that the important phrase at the end had not been read, and had not been heard by the Conservatives.

Mr. Pugsley declared that the words in approval of the agreement had been read, he produced the document which Mr. Sealey had placed before the chairman and appealed to the fact that the phrase approving the resolution as amended appeared on it. There were erasures and Hansard had omitted these important words, apparently thinking that these also had been erased.

Major Currie said that it had been a plan—an attempt to trap the Conservatives into such a vote. It had been the talk of the wine room.

"There is no bar," called out a Conservative member, in allusion to the forts made by the government during the last election to deny that liquor is sold on the premises.

"In the boozing room," repeated Major Currie. The story was got by the Globe, not from the proceedings in the house, but from this talk outside.

Dr. Sproule in the course of a speech in which he adverted severely upon the Globe, said that he had been listening carefully and those words were not read out. "The man who says they were, is a liar and a libeller," he said.

He suggested that Mr. Pugsley had concocted "this devilish scheme," and got involved in a clash with the min-

MONCTON FORMS A CITY BALL LEAGUE

Amateurs And Semi-Pro's Will Play Together This Season, No Matter What M.P.A.A.A. May Decide.

Special to The Standard.
Moncton, April 24.—The city baseball league was organized here this evening and the general feeling was that whatever the decision of the M. P. A. A. executive, amateurs and semi-professionals will play together this season. It is felt that this is the only way to get such an article of ball as will be patronized by the public. The following officers were appointed for the season: A. E. McSweeney, president; J. F. Edgett, vice-president; E. Kelly, secretary; T. B. Murphy, treasurer; executive, Norman Rae, C. M. Lockhart and T. E. Kennedy.

H. A. Price, of Montreal, assistant general passenger agent of the C. N. R. was here today in conference with General Passenger Agent Lyons and the travelling passenger agents in regard to the season's business.

J. B. T. Caron returned today from Chicago and attended a meeting of the board of management.

PLANNED TO FIGHT; ARE NOW IN PRISON

Proposed Santo Domingan Invasion Repelled Before It Had Commenced And Promoters Were Speedily Jailed

San Juan, Porto Rico, April 24.—Gen. Carlos F. Morales, former president of Santo Domingo; Maurice Jimenez, former vice-president of the same republic, and Gen. Zenon Teribilo, formerly an officer in the Santo Domingo army, were arrested here today by U. S. Marshal Hubbard, charged with violating section 15 of the United States statutes, having to do with acts of hostility against a government with which the United States is at peace.

It is alleged that papers found among their personal effects indicated that the accused men were preparing to organize a military expedition from Porto Rico against Santo Domingo.

They were arraigned before the federal commissioner. The hearing was postponed and the court demanded bonds of $7,000. This was not given by the prisoners, who on being held applied to the supreme court for a writ of habeas corpus.

Fortnightly Club Dinner.
The annual dinner of the Fortnightly club was held in White's last evening. About thirty of the members with their guests attended. The chairman of the evening was W. J. S. Myles. The tables were very prettily decorated and a varied toast list was carried out.

which has a serious purpose and displays the author's stage craft at its best. Some of the peculiar touches of human character which permeates 'The Third Degree' are again brought to the attention of the audience in the story of the orphan who takes every opportunity to make it unpleasant for the simple little orphan whose father is living in poverty somewhere in the great city which contains so many heart aches. Mr. Dorente is excellent in the part of a young westerner. Previous to the opening of the story he has been an office boy in the great metropolis, but he took Horace Greeley's advice, and went west to grow up with the country. Little Doris Chapin, the heroine of the play, used to frequent her father's office when this boy was employed there. Since these years her father has met with reverses, her mother married again and we find little Doris leaving her life away in the employ of her stepfather. A plot is developed which grasps the audience from the very start. Through a natural chain of circumstances the humble little seamstress meets her office boy friend of former years, who now is one of those free and honest types of western manhood, known as a successful western mine owner, a marked contrast to the reaching, scheming money man of New York city, and a most happy denouement is written to a grand story. It is a play that must be seen to be appreciated. The advance sale already indicates that considerable interest is taken in the play by our local theatergoers.

SAINT JOHN, TUESDAY MORNING, APRIL 25, 1911.

THE TRADE PROGRESS OF AUSTRALIA.

Australia—confederated in 1901—has shown steady progress in development and trade. In the year 1901 her imports in round figures were $210,000,000, and her exports $245,000,000. In 1906 they stood respectively at $220,000,000 and $345,000,000. In 1910 they reached $295,000,000 and $370,000,000, making a total of $655,000,000. This compares well with Canada's total of $664,000,000 in the same year and the comparison is all the more favorable bearing in mind that Canada has 7,500,000 people to Australia's 5,000,000. The per capita foreign trade of the latter $130 is very considerably higher than that of the former $88 per head.

In another respect Australia compares most favorably. In every year since 1901 the balance of trade has been largely in her favor, running from $5,000,000 in that year to $75,000,000 in 1910. On the other hand Canada's trade balance is adverse, running up to over $100,000,000 in some years and for the last ten years averaging $56,000,000 per year. Whilst we have no desire to disparage Canada's advance in trade, which has been noteworthy, her figures are neither so large relatively to population nor so satisfactory as to balances as those of the younger sister nation.

It is also interesting to quote the Australian trade statistics for another reason—their relative bearing on preference with Canada. It will be remembered that Canada gave at once to South Africa and to New Zealand a preference on their exports, but reserved action as regards Australia until an exchange of negotiations had taken place. These have lapsed and dawdled along without result and the latest word was that the Australian Premier would have a personal interview with Sir Wilfrid at the Imperial Conference and if possible arrange terms of preference.

But suddenly the agreement with the United States was made, and following in the wake of this the placing of Australia and other British Dominions, and the twelve most favored nation countries on the same footing of free or reduced entry. As a result Canada has largely cut away by a free gift the grounds upon which preference could be based.

Australia exported in 1910: Horses, 256,694; Butter, 3,952,681; Fresh Fruits, 281,242; Wheat, 9,921,823; Flour, 1,241,327; Fresh Meats, 3,340,708; Preserved Meats, 626,778; Tallow, 1,890,564.

These were all articles upon which Australia was desiring a preferential rate in consideration of her giving Canada a preferential rate upon articles she imports largely and which Canada could well supply. Now at our free lists and a cut made on all the other articles in the list. We have given all Australia desires and for nothing. At one stroke we have opened our markets to a strong competitor, and by the same stroke shattered all prospect of getting preferred entrance into her markets for our products. Meanwhile Australia reaps the benefit and we the disadvantage: a fair trade and mutual advantage is denied to Canada. Such is one of the results of the senseless tariff tinkering of the pro-American policy mongers at Ottawa.

THE COST OF ARMED PEACE.

The latest statesman to give earnest expression to the manifold truth that the increase of expenditures for war preparations cannot go on indefinitely is Mr. Clementel, who in submitting the French army estimates in the Chamber of Deputies gave some figures that arrest attention. During the past twenty-five years, he said, the armed peace has laid upon Europe a burden of $25,000,000,000. The cost of the Napoleonic wars in 1806-1808, according to the army and navy budgets of Napoleon, averaged about $3,000,000 a year, and that was the period of the conqueror's most splendid triumphs and most wholesale destruction of human life. But for the coming year of peace the French army estimates alone call for $180,000,000.

The net cost to Great Britain of the wars with Revolutionary France and with Napoleon, from 1793 to 1815, a period of twenty-two years, was some $4,000,000,000. Yet in the fifteen years to come, assuming that the peace of Europe will not be disturbed, Great Britain's expenditures on preparations for war will exceed the British war expenditures during the entire period from the Reign of Terror to Waterloo. Taking only the expenditures into account, modern peace is vastly more expensive than old-fashioned war. A modern battleship costs twenty times what Nelson's flagship, the Victory, cost to build. The less civilized ancestors of the present highly civilized generation found their wars cheaper than twentieth-century armed peace.

Frederick the Great was at war during the greater part of his reign, and his people were taxed to provide the sinews of war for him. His military expenditure in time of peace averaged $4,500,000 a year, while his descendant, the present German Emperor, who has never fought a war, spends seventy-five times that amount for military purposes, though the population taxed to procure that amount is only twenty times more numerous than the population which Frederick the Great levied upon. The strain of the present advance in expenditures in preparation for war is being felt by modern France more and more keenly, in spite of the fact that in accumulated capital the French continue to be one of the richest peoples on earth.

Mr. Clementel, however, is more an alarmist in regard to the relation between the battalions and the birth rate than in regard to the increase in the French military expenditures. "In 1870 the number of births was one million," he said. "In 1905 they amounted to only 850,000, and since that year a rapid fall had 'set in, until in 1909 they numbered only 770,000, of whom 325,000 were males." If the present rates were maintained, he continued, by 22,000 men ten years hence, and by 58,000 men twenty years hence, and by 100,000 men twenty years hence, as compared with the current strength.

THE POULTRY INDUSTRY.

The poultry industry is one branch of agriculture to which little attention has been given in the discussion of the Reciprocity Agreement. The value of poultry and 'poultry products in Canada last year was $40,000,000. In the United States it amounted to $700,000,000 and in value there was exceeded only by the corn crop. Canada's position today is that of a country forced to import from the United States and other countries.

This was drawn to the attention of Hon. Sydney Fisher in the House of Commons recently and his reply was as follows:—"The poultry industry is very progressive and I think there never before has been as large a production in Canada as during the last twelve months. Ten years ago there was a large export trade in poultry, but of late years it has almost disappeared, because of the greatly increased consumption at home. The prices have been very high in Canada, and not as high in England, and consequently we have not been exporting to the same extent as formerly. We do still export some eggs, though a very small quantity in comparison with former years."

Here is a frank admission from the Minister of Agriculture of the point which the opponents of Reciprocity have been emphasizing all along, namely, that on many of the more important products of the farm the prices prevailing on the home market have been higher than those to be obtained even on the British market, usually regarded as the best market in the world. Prices have been high in Canada, the minister admits, higher on this commodity than in England, and at the same time the production has been greater than ever before. Yet to this home market he proposes to admit the products of the United States and of a score of other countries.

In the month of February of this year Canada imported from the United States alone three-quarters of a million dozen of eggs, valued at over $130,000, and paid the duty on them. It does not require very much calculation to see where the poultry and egg producers of Canada will stand when the Canadian market is opened absolutely free to the United States, Denmark, Argentine, New Zealand, and a dozen other countries.

NEWSPAPER "FAKING."

If there are journalists who are gravely dissatisfied with the existing libel laws, they should console themselves with thoughts of what might happen to them on the other side of the ocean. Thus in Berlin, the other day, two editors of the "Morgenpost" were fined $25 each, as an alternative to ten days' jail, for publishing a story, made out of whole cloth, in which no names were mentioned.

According to this veracious narrative, an officer, who was also a count and owned a castle, had grievously wronged a young girl, the daughter of a sergeant, and driven her into an insane asylum. Her heart-broken father, after marking the count for life, died of apoplexy in the most approved manner. In short, it was a charming melodrama, and, like most melodramas, entirely imaginative—as both the editors had to confess on the stand.

Now, in so called yellow journals, nearer home the skill of the writer in "faking" so charming a yarn would have been richly rewarded; in Berlin, the two men responsible had to answer for libelling every officer in the Imperial army who is a count and owns a castle, and the service is full of them. Every officer of the army, the prosecuting attorney insisted, was injured by that publication, and the court agreed, substituting fines for the imprisonment asked by the state.

If there is a touch of the comic in this, it will note the less make many people wish that the libel laws on this side of the Atlantic could in some way be extended so as to make newspaper "faking" an uncomfortable trade.

In Tacoma, which is under government by commission, the citizens have enjoyed five recall elections in a little over a month. The Mayor, A. V. Fawcett, has just been ousted on charges of graft, two elections within a fortnight being necessary to obtain the prescribed majority. On May 2 there will be another recall election involving the four city commissioners, who, like Fawcett, have been charged with incompetency and malfeasance. Tacoma newspapers have also been printing facsimiles of checks distributed by the Mayor on previous election days to workers at the polls. For a plan of government which has been heralded from the houseposts as eliminating graft and the surest way to bring out the "best men" commission hardly seems to be living up to the expectations of its sponsors.

Current Comment

(Ottawa Free Press.)

In Australia they take a broader view of the use of Sunday than we do in Canada. There the public art galleries are open (alas! in Canada we have none worthy of the name) and whole families go to these institutions on Sundays to drink in inspiration and hope from the work of those whose talents have lain in the direction of making the world better. This was the entering wedge, so to speak; it was followed by the opening of the libraries on Sunday afternoons and evenings, and the result has been only for the public good. The newspaper rooms are not opened; no fiction is given out; but those who want educative works can get the loan of them and read them all themselves of the time to improve their minds.

(Winnipeg Tribune.)

Dr. Robertson thinks that intending settlers in Canada should prove their fitness before leaving for the Dominion. Canada has a lot to learn from New Zealand and Australia with regard to citizenship. In these countries the ballot is not entrusted to any man or woman who doesn't speak, read and write the English language. And those countries are among the most progressive in the world.

(Victoria Colonist.)

The Right Honorable Mr. Jack Johnson, annihilator of the white man's hope, has recently been engaged in the worthy, but not exalted, occupation of whitewashing the inside of the jail at Inglede, California. The inside of the jail, he it observed. In this way Mr. Johnson is paying the penalty of infraction of the white man's law, which says that thus fast shalt thou go and no faster, when you are running a motor-car.

Reciprocity between Canada and Australia will be brought up at the Imperial Conference, it is stated. But what can Australia want from Canada that is not now to be given free as soon as reciprocity with the United States passes? The advantages with which Canada might have negotiated have been surrendered.

BAKING OF BREAD WITH DOLLAR GAS

Demonstration at St. John Railway Company's Rooms Today will illustrate Bread and Biscuit Baking.

The baking of bread and ten biscuit, which depends so largely for its success upon a proper oven, will form the subject of this afternoon's free cooking demonstration with $1.00 gas at the St. John Railway Company's showrooms, corner of Dock and Union streets.

The demonstrator of wide experience, assisted by Vincent the caterer, will give practical illustrations of the great superiority of $1.00 gas in this, as in other branches of the culinary art, and the bread and biscuits, when baked, will be served with either tea or coffee, thus affording an opportunity to examine the even texture and beautiful soft, golden brown crust, also to note the peculiarly pleasing flavor always assured with this modern fuel which reduces labor and expense to the minimum.

Those who have attended these free demonstrations in cooking have been surprised and delighted with the variety of gas recipes, especially with the combination steel range, burning either coal, wood or gas independently, or gas with either coal, wood, or gas, as in the case of the $1.00 gas, are rapidly finding places in St. John homes and it is to prove, beyond question, their superiority over the older methods, that these demonstrations are given.

ANNUAL MEETING OF KING'S DAUGHTERS

Encouraging Reports Received at Yesterday's Session--Resolution of Appreciation Presented to Retiring Pres'dt

There was a large attendance at the Guild Monday evening, for the annual meeting of the King's Daughters. The devotional exercises were conducted by Miss Laura McLaughlin, chairman of the spiritual committee.

Mrs. Geo. A. Henderson then took the chair. The treasurer's report for the year followed the yearly reports of committees, the spiritual, hospital, house, educational, entertainment, concert, meetings, the fund, fresh air fund, and travellers' aid.

Each report was interesting and showed an effort to render good service. Then followed the reports of the following officers:—"The Doorkeepers," "Ministering," "Lead a Hand," "Opportunity," "St. David's," "Winnegone," "Comfort," and "Forget-me-not."

Mrs. Henderson, who retires from the chair, presented with the following resolution which was passed unanimously by a standing vote:—"That we, the members of the city union of King's Daughters and Sons, met in annual meeting, wish to extend our heartfelt thanks to Mrs. Geo. A. Henderson who as president for the past two years, has served the order so faithfully and so well.

Throughout her whole term of office she has ever sought to advance the interests of our order in every possible way. In the spiritual as well as the financial side of the work, she has shown the real and devoted devotion. Therefore resolved, that we take this opportunity of expressing to Mrs. Henderson our deep gratitude and high appreciation of her splendid work. We trust that she may long continue to be a co-laborer with us in our service for the King and may His richest blessings rest upon her through all the coming days.

The report of Miss Etta Barlow, recording secretary, gave an interesting account of the year's work, and was referred appreciatively to the valuable services rendered by the retiring president during her two years of office. The executive committee, and new members were added, will meet later to select officers for the year.

WORKING ON THE C.N.O. RAILWAY

MR. BERT GOSTICK ALMOST BECAME A CRIPPLE.

But his trouble was caused by the kidneys, and he found quick relief and a complete cure in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Barnsdale, Lake Joseph, Ont., April 24.—"Thanks to Dodd's Kidney Pills, I am in perfect health again." So says Mr. Bert Gostick, a well known resident of this place. "Before I left the old country," he states, "my breath was bad and my urine was milky. When I came to this country I worked on the C. N. O. Railway, and while there I was taken with pains in my back and kidneys. I went to a doctor but he did me no good."

"I got so bad that when I came home from work I could not stand up straight and my limbs seemed twice their usual size. Reading of Dodd's Kidney Pills I decided to try them, and after taking five boxes I find myself perfectly cured of all my troubles."

Notice how gradually but surely Kidney Disease was getting Mr. Gostick into its clutches. First the urine, then pain in the back, then swollen limbs! But the cure was swift and certain when he used Dodd's Kidney Pills.

ACHING MUSCLES AND AFTER EFFECTS OF GRIPPE

Zam-Buk Gives Ease

As soon as you feel any deep-seated pain in the joints, back, wrists or elsewhere, place a liberal supply of Zam-Buk on the fingers or on the palm of the hand, and rub it well in. The penetrating power of this "embrocation-balm" is exceedingly great and once having reached the seat of the pain, it removes it speedily. It also ends the stiffness, which is so unpleasant.

Mrs. Frances Wyatt, of 25 Guy Avenue, Montreal, says: "I have found Zam-Buk most soothing and valuable in a very bad case of rheumatism, and also for stiffness of joints and muscles. I suffered long and acutely with rheumatism, and tried one liniment after another, but it also took medicines internally, but it remained for Zam-Buk to effect a cure. I began applying this balm whenever I felt the aches and pains, and also took medicines, or felt the stiffness. The result was truly wonderful. Zam-Buk seemed to penetrate to the very seat of the pains, driving them out completely, and I am now quite cured."

This case and scores of similar cases reported to us, is proof that Zam-Buk's penetrating and healing power is very great. In addition to its use as an embrocation, it is a sure cure for skin diseases, such as eczema, ringworm, ulcers, blood-poisoning, scalp scabs, etc., and is the finest known "first aid" for piles, it is a specific. Gives certain ease. All druggists and stores, at 50 cents box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price.

Mothers should also try Zam-Buk Soap for baby's bath and for the rashes, eruptions, pimples, etc. It is a common amongst children at this season. Shampooing with Zam-Buk Soap beautifies and strengthens the hair.

WEDDINGS.

Lavin-Kindred.

A wedding of much interest in Carleton will be celebrated at 5.30 o'clock this morning in the church of the Assumption, when Miss Lavin Kindred will be united to Miss Katie Kindred of the West Side. The groom has been engaged to Miss Lavin Kindred by the Allan and Co. P. R. lines for some years and numbers many friends in the city. Miss Kindred is one of the most popular young ladies. Both have been the recipients of many useful and handsome gifts. After the ceremony, which will be performed by Rev. J. O'Donovan, rector of the church, Mr. and Mrs. Lavin will leave on a wedding trip. They will make their home in Montreal for the summer.

AD WOLGAST WEALTHY. San Francisco, April 22.—Five years ago Ad Wolgast fought a preliminary in Cadillac, Mich., for $100,000. Today he is lightweight champion and worth $40,000.

"This coming year ought to be a regular good mine for me," said the champion, while discussing his financial standing. "I have saved $12,000 in the past six weeks, and I will make $100,000 in the next year."

"No automobiles and joy rides for mine. Fighting is a business just as anything else. If you don't handle your affairs in business way you go broke. Jimmy Britt is a fine example of a business fighter. He is worth a fortune. Young Corbett is a good type of an unbusinesslike fighter. He made several fortunes, but he hasn't a cent."

The fight followers are flocking around Wolgast now as they flocked around Jeffries, Nelson and every other champion from the first days of boxing. Advertising companies are after him to use his name on everything from cigarettes to patent medicines. The cranks also are lobbying up, writing letters and pestering the life out of him.

"THE ESTABLISHMENT OF APPLE ORCHARDS AND THEIR CARE UP TO THE TENTH YEAR"

By A. G. Turney, Provincial Horticulturist

Part 2—THE FAMILY ORCHARD.

While the first part of this bulletin treats only of establishing and caring for young commercial orchards, it must be remembered that the majority of our people are interested in apple growing from the standpoint of the small home or family orchard. In but few sections is it impossible provided the necessary precautions are taken to at least raise some varieties of apples, and in others to have a succession of delicious fruit from summer to spring. Many persons throughout the province have undertaken to plant and grow such an orchard, but either not understanding the essentials of success or through poor nursery stock, unsuitable varieties and lack of attention, their efforts have not been very successful and they have become discouraged. It is, therefore, in place to refer briefly to some of the more important points.

While many of the principles treated in Part 1, are applicable in the case of the family orchard, yet there are essential differences and these though quite important are apt to be overlooked. We will therefore treat briefly of those modifications of practice necessary where a person undertakes to raise apples in the amateur way.

The commercial orchardist must necessarily choose the best possible location and site. He has much at stake and cannot afford to take any undue risks. With the intending planter of the small home orchard, however, the case is different. Not only is it often impossible for him

SHIPPING NOTES.
 The steamer Grand Manan, formerly the Aurora, in command of Captain J. A. Ingersoll, arrived in port yesterday afternoon from Wilson's Beach. The Grand Manan is practically a new steamer having had her old hull timbers and planking taken out at Liverpool, N. S., and new boilers were put in the steamer at Yarmouth, N. S., by Burrill Johnson and Co. Her saloon has been upholstered in green plush, and the new boilers are to date for the comfort of the travelling public by this line. Captain Ingersoll and his vessel were given a royal welcome here by the many friends. The steamer will trade between this port, Wilson's Beach, Grand Manan, Campobello and Eastport, and other ports as business is increased with the border ports. The shipping merchants will now have an up-to-date steamer on the route.

Nova Scotian schooner Peerless cleared yesterday for New York from this port with 1,500,000 spruce laths.
 Steamship Manchester Importer will sail today for Manchester with a general cargo.
 Steamer Bengore Head, Captain Hoy which brought a cargo of coal to this port from Louisburg, has sailed again for this port with a cargo of coal probably for Montreal.

The Norwegian steamer Arnfrid, now in port, is in command of Captain Gunderson, no older son as before reported. The steamer is now at the C. P. R. wharf, West End, taking in cargo for Havana.

The report published in The Standard yesterday of the arrival of a West India steamer, was an error. The steamer put into Halifax in distress.

C. P. R. steamship Empress of Ireland sailed from Liverpool on Friday with 187 cabin, 448 second cabin and 815 third class passengers. It is not yet known whether everything will go up to date for the comfort of the travelling public by this line.

The C. P. R. liner Lake Manitoba arrived in port yesterday morning about 9 o'clock, and docked at Sand Point yesterday morning about 8. She had on board 1474 passengers, of whom 238 were cabin and the remainder third class. One hundred and twenty-nine of these passengers are booked for the United States and the remaining 1,345 are on their way to different parts of Western Canada. They were mostly English, Irish and Scotch, and were without any doubt the best looking class of immigrants that arrived this season.

 The more important insect enemies of the apple may be classified as follows:—Those devouring the foliage; those boring in the wood; those occurring on the bark; and those attacking the fruit.

to be so particular, but it is not so necessary. In the case of the ordinary farmer the orchard must be planted on his farm and in the case of the small lot holder, it must be planted on the lot. The choice, therefore, is narrowed down, but the orchard should be located reasonably close to the house and if the position of the house was well selected the soil near it will be fairly well drained. Proximity of the orchard to the house or buildings is not only a matter of convenience but it is very important in the case of the home orchard. Surroundings and adds to the general attractiveness of the house. It is still quite a common sight to see an orchard planted in some open hollow or ravine in most cases a sure death trap for the trees—frost and wet gettings in their work. Gently sloping land, usually facing the south, and deep should be sought after. One should remember that slight deficiencies in the site and soil upon which the orchard is to be planted may be more than made up for by the close attention and fostering care which it is possible to give.

In approaching the choice of the varieties the amateur may exercise a far greater freedom of selection. The points to be considered are those which are essential to the success of his family should plant a larger collection of varieties and aim to select those which will give him, as far as possible, a complete succession of fruit throughout the apple season, from summer to late spring. He should choose family favorites and put quality first. Varieties of special merit may be grown even though the trees possess some defects. Promising new varieties may be tested and some crab and sweet apples grown. The amateur orchardist ought to give better care and more attention to details of his trees than the commercial orchardist. He should aim to grow really choice fruit without particular regard to the expense of doing so. The situation and soil being favorable, the best method of growing should be in between the apple trees, thus giving the necessary cultivation and making the orchard a profitable investment.

There is but little difference in the feeding of the trees from the course to be followed in the commercial orchard. The best rotted barnyard manure may be used in moderate quantities and commercial fertilizers along the lines suggested. Since the home mixtures are not so carefully handled, some of the ready mixed fertilizers may be bought.

The pruning operations will follow the same principles as those mentioned in the previous articles. The pruning should be done carefully and to all the different operations and produce a crop of good apples which will provide suitable storage. Where the house and garden are close together the apples should be stored by themselves and not with other vegetables and garden produce. Nothing but good sound fruit should be stored. The family orchard established under favorable conditions and diligently cared for will play a very important part in making the farm home more attractive, and in the case of the town or city worker with a country home, it will be the best way of storing apples for this purpose in boxes and barrels unheated. Cellar storage in this climate should give good results, but the main points to be observed are first, very careful and thorough sorting before the apples are placed in the storage; and, secondly, to cool to a temperature as possible without freezing.

Spraying Essential.
 There are still fruit growers who profess to believe that just sunshine and rain are enough to produce the best fruit—that nature is self-sufficient. It is here again that good care and attention, and isn't it true that in all nature the same inscrutable source which nourishes the plant provides the best to destroy it? Spraying is absolutely essential to successful fruit growing. The man who raises the fine healthy crop year in and year out is the one most ready to acknowledge this fact, and it is the man who raises the poor fruit who is the most active in finding excuses, in blaming the soil, the weather, etc.—everything but his lack of proper attention to the trees. Go into your orchard and examine your trees. Don't you know that the moss on the top of the trees, and closes the pores of the bark? Notice the cracks in the bark—the rough appearance, the scale and the blight? Can you wonder that your trees become stunted and unhealthy and your fruit is undersized and worm-eaten? It is a question of how long they will last under that treatment even on the finest soil. You may depend upon it that larger, cleaner fruit and more of it always comes from the trees which with clean, smooth bark, free from moss, scale and lichen. Destroy the insects and fungi, and it will add fully one-third to the productive capacity of your trees, and over fifty per cent. to the market value of your fruit. There is just one way to do it—and the only way—spray.

Classification.
 The more important insect enemies of the apple may be classified as follows:—Those devouring the foliage; those boring in the wood; those occurring on the bark; and those attacking the fruit.

Insects may be separated into two general classes by the nature of their mouth parts, and a knowledge of this point is essential to the intelligent and effective use of the remedies. With the one class those insects which have biting mouth parts with which they procure their food, such as caterpillars, it is only necessary to coat the foliage and fruit with some poisonous material, which being swallowed with the food will cause death. In the other class the insects of which suck up their food in liquid form through a beak or hollow tube, such as plant lice and oyster shell scale, stomach poisons are obviously of no use, and they must be killed by some contact remedy such as kerosene emulsion which causes death by clogging up the breathing organs of the insect, resulting in suffocation. For such insects as borers, which cannot be reached by surface applications, the measure taken must be largely preventive and consist in applying strong smelling washes distasteful to the female adults, and in consequence on which they will not lay their eggs.

Spraying Mixtures.
 Bordeaux mixture is still the standard and most commonly used fungicide, and commercial lime and sulphur solutions are rapidly coming into greater use, and promise to replace it. They are easier and cleaner water; they are almost if not quite as effective a fungicide, and their use does not result in the russetting of the fruit, which is sometimes a serious disadvantage to the use of Bordeaux. The commercial lime and sulphur sells at from $8 to $9 per 40 gallon strength testing 22 degrees. This strength should be diluted about 1 to 4 for a winter spray and about 1 to 40 for a spring and summer spray. To replace Bordeaux in sprays Nos. 1, 2 and 3. Where this is done it is not advisable to use Paris Green or the poison, only arsenate of lead. The addition of five pounds of fresh slacked lime will make the solution show up better on the foliage, and enable the operator to ascertain if the work is being properly done. After this addition of lime the mixture should be immediately applied or a certain amount of crystallization may take place.

Poisoned Bordeaux Mixture.
 Blue Vitriol—4 pounds.
 Lime, (fresh)—5 pounds.
 Water—40 gallons.
 Arsenate of Lead—2 to 3 pounds.
 Dissolve the Copper Sulphate by suspending it inside a wooden or earthen vessel containing about 5 gallons of water. Shake the lime in another vessel. If the lime when slacked is lumpy or granular, it should be strained through coarse sacking or a fine sieve. Pour the copper sulphate solution into the spray barrel, or it may be dissolved in this in the first place, half fill the barrel with water and agitate thoroughly. A stock solution of copper sulphate and milk of lime may be prepared and kept in separate covered barrels throughout the spraying season. The quantities of copper and sulphate, lime and water should be carefully noted. If Paris Green is used eight ounces to 40 gallons is sufficient. Arsenate of lead is a safer and more reliable insect poison than Paris Green, as it is uniform in composition, is less apt to be adulterated, stays in suspension longer and is thus better distributed over the tree, remains on the foliage longer and does not cause injury by burning. The relative cost of these two insecticides per barrel of spray mixture is approximately as follows:
 Paris Green, 8 ounces, at 20 cents per pound—15 cents.

"MY BACK IS KILLING ME"

"Fruit-a-lives" Will Cure

Backache means congestion of the Kidneys. It aches in the back, sharp, shooting pains—headache and nervousness—mean that the Kidneys are overworked. The Bowels are constipated and the skin is inactive, so that the Kidneys thus become irritated and inflamed and backache results. The only possible way to relieve the congestion and cure the pain is to force the bowels and skin to do their share of the work.

"Fruit-a-lives", the great fruit medicine, is the best and most scientific Kidney Remedy in the world. It is the only medicine that will always cure pain in the Back and Kidney Trouble, 50c. box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. Dealers, or from Fruit-a-lives Limited, Ottawa, Ontario.

separate. This requires usually from five to ten minutes. For use, dilute one part of the emulsion with 8 or 10 parts of water for scale insects and hard bodied insects like the chinch bug. For soft bodied insects such as plant lice, lice on animals, etc., use 1 part of emulsion to 15 or 20 parts of water. The stock emulsion will keep good for months if kept in airtight vessels.

Kerosene emulsion kills by contact, and therefore the application should be thorough. It may be used against a great many different pests, but is especially valuable for destroying those with sucking mouth parts for they cannot be killed with arsenical poisons.

Caution—Only the dilute emulsion, 1 part emulsion to 15 or 20 of water should be used when the trees are in leaf, and in all cases it should be kept thoroughly stirred; also apply only on bright sunny days, otherwise the foliage or even the twigs will be injured.

Artenate of Lead.
 For leaf eating pests such as tent caterpillars, tussock moths, spring canker worms, etc., which may cause considerable damage after the regular sprayings have been applied, either Paris Green or Arsenate of Lead may be used as follows:—

Paris Green.
 Paris Green, ounces 8
 Lime, lbs. 3
 Water, gallons 40
 Where Paris Green is used without the Bordeaux mixture three pounds of freshly slacked lime is added to prevent burning of the foliage. Make the Paris Green into a thin paste before adding. Keep the poison well in suspension by thorough stirring.

Artenate of Lead.
 Arsenate of Lead, lbs. 2.5
 Water, gallons 40
 If the commercially made arsenate of lead is not procurable, or if it is desired to make it yourself, use the following formula:—
 Arsenate of Soda, ounces 4
 Acetate of Lead, ounces 11
 Water, gallons 3
 Dissolve the ingredients separately in from one-half to one gallon of warm water; mix together thoroughly and add one-half of the mixture to 40 gallons of water. Add milk of lime from two pounds of freshly slacked stone lime. By making arsenate of lead yourself, the cost is no more than that for Paris Green, as the raw materials can be bought wholesale for about nine and seven cents per pound respectively.

THE STANDARD'S PAGE OF SPORTS

THE VALUE OF BASE RUNNING; BY MANAGER HUGH DUFFY

HUGH DUFFY.

Base stealing is one of the accomplishments of a ball player that require more than an ordinary amount of skill.

Speed, of course, is essential to the good base runner, but it is not always the fastest man that does the most pilfering of bases.

I have known some rather slow runners who were grand base stealers. And I have known other players, who could run 100 yards in 10 seconds flat, who were always getting caught when trying to steal a base.

The base runner who signals that he is going to steal, is an easy man to catch, for the catcher who is wise quickly realizes he is about to go.

On the other hand, the base runner who watches the pitcher carefully and take advantage of the windup (for some pitchers when they breathe out the major leaguer brings their minor league tricks with them) or of some other motion that loses time, will gain a step or two on the fastest runner.

As a general thing a good base runner notes carefully the foot of the pitcher, for some peculiarity that indicates he is about to deliver the ball.

To get a long lead off first is essential when a runner intends to steal second. A six foot lead often means a stolen base in the race between the runner and the ball thrown by the backstop.

The clever runner keeps the pitcher worried and frequently makes him nervous.

The runner who can draw a throw from the pitcher to first frequently advances by reason of a wild throw or a muff by the first baseman. It requires considerable skill to return to first from a long lead when the pitcher whips the ball across the diamond.

Base runners should keep their eye on the pitcher every minute, and watch for his motion to discover if he intends to pitch or throw to first.

They should have the distance they stand from the bag measured to the fraction of an inch, to be able to get hand or foot on the base before the first baseman can touch them.

A good base runner always has a slide or dodging motion which helps him get around the second around the second baseman at the end of his sprint.

Fielder Jones used to slide around the infielder in a way that made him extremely difficult to touch. With his body on the ground he would shove one foot onto the bag and get away with a stolen base often when the fielder had the ball in time to retire him, but for his cleverness.

Base stealing cannot be overestimated as a value in winning games. Many a tight game has been decided by a stolen base. If the runner that gets on first can make his way to the next station unaided, he is in a position to score on a long single, while it would be next to impossible to score from first on a two base hit unless it was an exceptionally long hit and he a particularly fast runner.

Many players fail to make good on the paths because they do not keep track of the ball. They run blindly. It is necessary to know just where the ball is all of the time, but it is not necessary to turn and watch the ball to know where it is, and thus interfere with a runner's speed. I consider a good base runner as valuable as a good hitter. When I find the combination in one man I consider myself doubly fortunate.

JACK TWIN SULLIVAN AFTER THE MIDDLEWEIGHT TITLE

One of Famous Brother Pugilists May be Stanley Ketchel's Successor—Jack will Make 158 Pounds for any Middleweight in the World.

Dave Sullivan, mentor of the Sullivan twins, Jack and Mike, says incidentally making a general challenge on behalf of Jack to the world's middleweights, that he is busy in correspondence with the best men in the country, and hopes to break up both his brothers with a good man east or west before very long.

"Jack," said Dave, "has really got a good many of those middleweights dodging him. They know that not only can he step a lively bout for a long distance, but that he can also go the route, which many of them cannot. Nothing would please us better than to get on with Frank Klaus, Hugo Kelly, Jimmie Gardner, Montana, Jack and Dan Sullivan, Billy Paake, Jimmy Clabby, Cyclone Thompson or any of them. Jack will make 158 pounds for any middleweight in the world."

With his customary show of activity Freddy Welsh hiked to a New York telegraph office and scribbled the following: "Beat Pal Moore in every round. An exceptionally fast fight. Moore is a rugged boy and with more experience will show championship form. Address me Hotel St. Paul, this city."

Welsh's win over Moore was expected, and proves nothing except that the former English lightweight champion is still a tiger at the ten-round game. Promoter McAree, believing that Welsh is one of the best drawing cards before the public, has endeavored to get Freddie to the Pacific coast again. Welsh is willing to make the trip, the trouble is to secure a worthy opponent for him.

You will note that Welsh, after beating Moore, is the first to boost the New York boy. Boosting is one of the best things that the Poutyprindger does. He lashed out at the clouds after whipping the featherweight champion at Vernon, Matt Wells, who defeated Welsh for the Los Angeles belt, has received the roughest of notices from Freddie. If Welsh ever swings the hammer the act did not come to my notice. Perhaps his boosting tactics are a measure for the little foreigner's great popularity.

The Sullivans were not a little interested in the accounts of the Klaus and Gardner fight in Pittsburgh. Mike has beaten Gardner. Jack has been expecting a Buffalo bout with either Kelly or Thompson, but from the latest accounts, they are matched for Racine some time this month.

Johnny Coulon, now that he has pumped the banianweight well dry, is

SOME DASTARDLY TRICKS PRACTISED BY FIGHTERS

Ordinary Five Ounce Gloves Look Innocent, but they are Sometimes "Doctored," and in Hands of Some Seconds Harmless Appearing Mitts Become Murderous Weapons.

The five ounce glove of commerce—the common or garden variety of boxing glove—which has been used in fistic battles ever since the bare knuckles and the skin-tight coverings were counted over-strenuous—is a harmless looking little thing. Any innocent would decide that it might deliver a jar or knockout blow, but that no other harm could be possibly inflicted. In the hands of skilled and tricky seconds, the five-ounce glove is manipulated until it is the most venomous of weapons, capable of inflicting punishment far beyond its intents or scheduled limitations.

All seconds pull away the padding over the knuckles, thus allowing the man to hit with practically a skin-glove over his hands—unless he happens to have a sore or damaged finger. Then they are solicitously heaped up the padding over the injured knuckle, and thus strive to protect their boy from further suffering. Manipulation of the padding, it is understood and expected by every fighter—it is the things they put inside the gloves that must be watched for and detected.

Powdered plaster of paris, dropped in the gloves, will harden and form a cast over the knuckles of the fighter who puts a wet hand into the glove, but only a "boob" of a second will let the glove out of his sight while he is opposing second monkeys with it. Hard tape bandages wound in many thicknesses from wrist to finger tips, are another specialty. Many fighters have always had their own tricks, and have got by with them on manifold occasions.

Charlie Neary, the Milwaukee lightweight, would cut the fingers off driving gloves, don them, and wrap the bandages around the gloves till they were completely hidden. Walter Parker, a formidable lightweight, had a chunk of boiler iron, curved to cover his knuckles, and he wrapped bandages over it, so the whole hand until there was no trace of the iron. Parker accumulated 13 successive knockouts on gentlemen whom he carried with his good right hand—armor-plated—and most of the 13 were tired from the ring rather than risk with a whack again.

Kid McCoy soaked his bandages in a solution of plaster-of-paris, and then looked innocent while his seconds adjusted them. Two minutes later—safe inside the glove—they solidified and became as hard as granite.

Little Jimmy Barry didn't care so much about the bandages, but always hid a piece of oakum in his hand, and then clutched firmly upon it. This gave his hand a better grip than the inside of the glove usually afforded, and enabled him to hit more forcibly.

Tommy White had a stunt that was all his own. His seconds would knead the tips of his gloves into a peak, and then clutched firmly upon it. This would brush the enemy's eyes. While the brushing wouldn't as much as leave a mark, it would blind the sight and make the

TOM LONGBOAT IS AFTER THE LONG DISTANCE MEN

Question Now is "Can the Indian Come Back?" He is Willing to Run the Best of them, but Can He Make Good?

(Winnipeg Tribune.) Tom Longboat, the Indian runner, wants to have another chance at the running game. He has just issued a challenge to run any man in the world over the full Marathon distance and his manager sent word to the promoters of the Holmer-Ljungstrom fifteen mile race at New York tonight for a match with the winner.

His only stipulation was, that the distance be not less than fifteen miles. When he was told that the winner of the Shrubbs-Quaal race was to be matched against the winner of the Holmer-Ljungstrom event, he asked making a three cornered match, and agreed to run for nothing if Longboat did not carry off first money.

Things are perking up a bit hereabouts in the professional running line, and though there be no remunerative Marathon derby staged at the Polo grounds to entice the simoleons from the pockets of the running fans, two minor races have been arranged for the dollar chasers, says Sprinter, the New York athletic critic. On April 18 in the Saint Nicholas rink, Hans Holmer, the Powder Hill Marathon winner will hook up with Gustav Ljungstrom, the Swedish flyer, in a fifteen mile match.

None of these races offer anything to rave about. Shrubbs, who, despite his alleged record-breaking performance on the tank-town circuits, is said to be living on his former reputation; Holmer hasn't done a thing since winning the Powder Hill race, and Ljungstrom twice recently has been

HOW A LONDON JOURNALIST'S VIEWS EASTERN PROBLEMS

Frederick Campbell Speaks to Members of Canadian Club on the Awakening of the Mysterious East--The Development of China--Caste and Degradation of Women in India.

The awakening of the mysterious East, the land of vivid and terrible contrast of the simplest splendors and incredible degradation, pregnant with mighty possibilities of good or evil, was the theme of an eloquent and illuminating address delivered by Frederick Campbell, the London Journalist, before a meeting of the Canadian Club, last evening.

The president, George A. Henderson, presided, and there was a large attendance. In opening Mr. Campbell pointed out the effects of the China-Japanese war and the action of the European nations in establishing spheres of influence in the Celestial Kingdom, upon the Chinese people, the giant who had slumbered for ages, and showed how these events had awakened China, and directed its attention upon the need of adopting western methods.

But China was changing. And the Chinaman is always thorough in all he undertakes. Already China has a well organized army of 2,000,000 men—men who know nothing of fear. The rate at which China was awakening was alarming. Western methods were being adopted in other things besides its military affairs. China has awakened more in five years than Japan in 18 years. It has a more definite mission than Japan. The most serious feature of this awakening is its materialistic character. China has recently produced an epoch-making book—an attack upon Christianity. This book sums up the Oriental attitude to Christianity in the query: "Do you believe that the sun revolves around the earth because your forefathers said so?"

The Chinese were cynical of the characteristics made manifest by the action of Germany in demanding a vast tract of country as a punishment for the murder of two missionaries; the result not of any innate cruelty of the Chinese character, but of the excitement of a mob. The speaker remarked that a Japanese commission had visited Europe with the object of finding out the effects of Christianity. They found around the churches which preached brotherhood, multitudes in poverty and misery, and they went back and reported that Christianity was not the faith they wanted to elevate the Japanese people.

Continuing, he said that India was the key to the East. The downfall of the British government had made a blunder in educating the natives for clerical occupations. If it had tried to give them a technical education, the results might have been different. But the Indian colleges had been turning out young men faster than the government could provide them offices, and while those who received offices used them to extort money from the less fortunate, those who were unable to secure positions had a grievance. Two per cent. of the people educated to western ideas were responsible for the agitation—these men ran the native papers, and create the impression that India was on the verge of mutiny. But there was little probability of another mutiny, the Mohammedan soldiers were loyal; the agitators could not secure arms, and unity of purpose was hardly possible among them. Then the great mass of the people, the groves of the paddy fields, were sunk in deep ignorance—many of them had never heard of Queen Victoria.

Mr. Campbell concluded with an eloquent description of the fascinations and wonders of the east. The Allan liner steamship Victorian Captain Outram, arrived in port last evening at 7 o'clock from Liverpool via Halifax after a very stormy passage. The Victorian sailed from Liverpool on April 14, came by the southern route and had bad weather all through the trip. Last Thursday she ran into a storm which continued at intervals right up to the time she docked at Halifax.

The Victorian arrived off Halifax at six o'clock Friday morning, but on account of the thick weather would not attempt to enter but lay to off the coast until Saturday morning. On the 19th when in lat 42 N, lon 49 W, Captain Outram sighted a large iceberg and another smaller one. Another vessel, also a passenger one, the Victorian, also C. A. Buzgar. The Victorian landed here 640 passengers; the rest of her 1510 landed at Halifax. This is the last Allan liner for St. John this season. Steamers of this line have made thirty trips here during the winter.
