BRUISED AND BATTERED JESS WILLARD DROPS UNDER TERRIFIC BLOWS OF TIGER-LIKE DEMPSEY

The Kansas Giant No Match for the Lively, Agile, Youthful Challenger, Who Hammered the Big Fellow at Will, Delivering Trip-hammer Blows When and Where He Pleas—The Big Fellow Floored Five Times in First Round But Managed to Stagger Through Two More Rounds, But Failed to Respond to the Fourth—Attendance a Disappointment.

Toledo, O., July 4.—By virtue of one of the speediest and most one-sided battles which ever decided a big flat event, Jack Dempsey, who may now wish to be known by his full name of William Harrison Dempsey, today became the world's champion heavyweight boxer.

To all intents and purposes he whipped the huge Jess Willard, favorite in the meagre betting, in one round. Dempsey thought the referee had announced him winner and actually left the ring. But he was called back and the butchery continued for two rounds more when Jess, sitting in his corner with a bewildered look on his swollen countenance, failed to respond to the gong for the fourth round.

Surprised Man.

"It was no use to continue," said the champion, "my strength went from me in the first round." He set there apparently the most surprised man in the United States at the moment.

GREAT WAR VETERANS' ASS'N PRESENT MANY RESOLUTIONS FOR CONSTRUCTIVE LEGISLATION

Among the Principles Approved by the Convention Were the Public Ownership of Cold Storage Plants, the Superannuation of Civil Servants Whose Positions Could Easily be Filled by Returned Soldiers; Longer Period of Training in Vocational Schools—Make War on Alien Enemies, and More Stringent Immigration Laws Demanded.

Vancouver, B. C., July 4.—R. B. Maxwell, of Winnipeg, today was elected first vice-president of the Great War Veterans' Association on the first ballot by an overwhelming majority.

Consideration of committee reports and the land settlement resolution occupied the time of the convention yesterday afternoon. In addition to considering the principles of law and order, minimum and maximum wage legislation, old age, illness and unemployment insurance, improvement of conditions for labor, proportional representation, restriction upon immigration and nationalization of aliens, equal opportunities for children, the convention passed resolutions on the report of the industrial commission disclaiming sympathy with factions controlled by the extremists who arrive, by all means, to overthrow their institutions, and breed discord and advocate riot or revolution.

Other principles approved by the convention were: Public ownership of cold storage plants.

The superannuation of a certain number of civil servants whose positions could easily be filled by returned soldiers.

A long period of training in the vocational training system, with properly qualified craftsmen in charge of every department.

Resolutions were passed affirming that steps should at once be taken to establish the Canadian air service under national ownership, control and operation, with the workers sharing in the management, and on petitioning the Dominion government to appoint a permanent committee composed of representative producers, manufacturers and wage earners, and such experts as may be necessary to investigate and fix the cost of production, of manufacture, of transportation and of the sale of all essential commodities of life, and to prepare a schedule of such costs, profits and wages for the reaction of parliament, such schedule to be embodied in the statutes with heavy penalties for the violation of the same. The schedule to be revised from time to time as changing conditions may warrant.

A resolution was passed, following discussion, of the report of the land committee which, amongst other suggestions, provides that returned men should be allowed to abandon their homesteads which prove unsuitable and retain their homestead rights.

Took the Air at Harbor Grace Yesterday Afternoon and Expects to Land on Long Island This Morning in Ample Time to Greet the R-34—The Machine Took Off Beautifully, Carrying a Crew of Three and Half its Capacity of Fuel—All Wireless Stations Ordered to Give Assistance.

Harbor Grace, Nfld., July 4.—The Handley-Page bombing machine, planned originally by Vice-Admiral Kerr for the London Daily Mail trans-Atlantic flight, started at 4:15 o'clock (New York time) this afternoon on an attempted non-stop flight to New York. Vice-Admiral Kerr and his crew of three hope to land tomorrow morning at Mineola, in ample time to join in the greeting to the British dirigible R-34.

The distance from Harbor Grace to Mineola is approximately 1,675 miles, and the fliers, counting on strong beam winds against them, estimated the flight would probably take between twelve and fifteen hours. With favoring winds it could have been made in about ten hours as the big plane is capable of developing a speed of 86 to 100 miles an hour. Besides Admiral Kerr, who is acting as manager and assistant pilot, the crew comprise Major Herbert Branchley, pilot; Colonel Gran, navigator, and Frederick Wyatt, radio operator.

Despite the fact that the start was made up an incline, the Handley-Page took off beautifully, being loaded with a little more than half its fuel capacity. The petrol tanks, having a capacity of 2,000 gallons, containing but 1,100 gallons, which was declared to be more than ample for the comparatively short flight to New York. The machine rose into the air, after taking about four hundred feet, and, ascending rapidly, made a sweeping glide seaward. She then straightened out and headed directly into the southwest course selected for the trip and in a few minutes disappeared beyond the horizon.

Admiral Kerr said, before starting, that the course would be in a direct line over Nova Scotia and New England, only about seventy-five to three hundred miles of the course being over water. The plane will fly at a height of about three thousand feet.

Plans were made before leaving for the Admiralty station at St. John's to receive messages from the plane during the first 200 miles of the trip. After this communication can be held only through ships which are expected to pick up and relay any message sent out by the plane. Admiral Kerr said he hoped to be able to report hourly through ships in the Western Atlantic.

The Admiralty station broadcasted a message to ships at sea, this morning, announcing the contemplated flight, and requesting that all steamers watch for and report promptly any signals sent out by the machines.

It was understood here that if the flight to New York was successful the

BILL FOR THE PURCHASE OF THE HARBOR OF ST. JOHN GIVEN ITS THIRD READING BY SENATE

The Appropriation of $20,000,000 for the Aid of Highways Endorsed by Second and Third Readings.

THE BILL PROVOKED A DIVISION

New Act Was Supported by New Brunswick Senators, Who Believed Good Roads Aided in Greater Production.

Ottawa, Ont., July 4.—In the Senate, this afternoon, the bill for the purchase of the harbor of St. John, and the naturalization bills were given their third reading.

The Government bill appropriating twenty millions for the aid of highways construction received the endorsement of second and third readings, after a debate that lasted throughout the afternoon, and terminated in a division in which the bill was approved twenty-three to twelve. Senator Fowler (New Brunswick) opposed the bill, and moved the six months' hoist. With the scarcity of money in the treasury at the present time, he said, the appropriation of twenty millions was unwarranted.

Senator Ross (Nova Scotia) thought the proposal outside the spirit of the Confederation Act, which assigned roads to the Provinces. He would rather see the Provinces spend their own money on roads, even if they had to come to Ottawa and make out a case for the increase of the Provincial subsidies.

That the commerce of the country required the improvement of Canadian highways, and that the scheme was sound, were the reasons stated by Senator Daniels (St. John) for supporting the measure.

Senator Poirier (Shediac, N. B.), supported the bill, declaring that the two best things the country could have are good crops, and good roads upon which to get them to market.

Congratulations to the government; on its policy were extended by Senator Crosby (Halifax). The Government had shown its courage in raising money to be applied for productive plans, and highways would make for greater agricultural production as nothing else would.

Senator Fowler, eventually, withdrew his motion for a six months' hoist, and the vote was taken on the second reading as follows:

Those who voted for second reading: Senators Sir James Loughes, Bolduc, Daniels, Robertson, Poirier, Crosby, Dennis, Gordon, Murphy, Smith, Donnelly, Blain, Girroir, Shattford, Laird, Bourque, Bernard, Harmer, Mulholland, Foster, Pope, Power and Thompson—23.

Those who voted against: Senators Ross, Milne, Fowler, Turf, Bradbury, Willoughby, Michener, Bostock, Yeo, Watson, Beith and Des Salles—12.

PARLIAMENT ABANDONS HOPE OF PROROGATION ON SATURDAY

Ottawa, July 4.—Parliament this afternoon practically abandoned hope of completing business in time to allow prorogation to take place on Saturday afternoon. Nevertheless, scores of members who planned to leave for their homes tonight, did so, but a sufficient number remained in the capital to ensure a quorum in the House until all the business is disposed of.

The plan now is to wind up the work of the session by one o'clock on Monday. If this is done, prorogation will take place at three o'clock on that day. The deadlock between the Commons and the Senate, over the government's prohibition measure, will reach its final stage at ten-thirty on Saturday morning when there will be another "free conference" between representative of both Houses.

There is talk of a compromise, by which the government Order-in-Council will remain in force until November 11th, or one year from the date of the signing of the armistice.

The most important bit of legislation before the House today was Hon. Mr. Meighen's bill to create a Board of Commerce, on the lines of the Railway Commission, to deal with matters relating to trade. This bill is based upon the recommendation of the committee which inquired into the cost of living. Exceptions were taken by the opposition to the provision which gives the Governor-in-Council power to overrule the findings of the board. It was pointed out, however, that in this respect the new board will be in the same position as the Railway Board from whose judgment an appeal lies to the government.

At the evening sitting, Hon. J. D. Reid's bill, covering the issues of the consolidated railway bill which the Senate declined to retain in that bill, which is designed to protect the rights of municipalities in dealings with power companies, was criticized by Hon. Jacques Bureau, who asserted that it would take away the vested rights of the Toronto and Niagara Power Company.

Hon. W. S. Fielding said that the measure would treat the rights of the company as a scrap of paper. Mr. Bureau moved an amendment in line with the action of the Senate, and the report of the Railway Committee of the Commons, but it was rejected on a division of 61 to 40. The bill was reported and given third reading.

The House then resumed consideration in committee of Mr. Meighen's bill respecting investigation and restraint of commerce.

Dutch Will Give up the Ex-Emperor

Allies Have Received Assurance the Dutch Government Will Not Refuse to Surrender William for Trial

London, July 5.—The Allies, according to the Daily Mail, have received assurance that the Dutch government in the last resort will not refuse to surrender the former German emperor for trial.

The newspaper says that the necessary formal objections will, doubtless, be raised to maintain the rights of Dutch sovereignty, but, as the demand for his person can be made in the name of the League of Nations, national rights will not be infringed, and there is no doubt the Dutch government will be quite ready to get rid of her unwelcome guest.

The chief count in the former Kaiser's indictment, the Mail understands, will be his action in causing violations in Belgium and Luxembourg. The proceedings will be conducted in English, but a translation will be made into several languages simultaneously.

CANADIANS TAKE PART IN BIG 4TH OF JULY PARADE

Houston, Me., July 4.—About 20,000 people attended the celebration of the fourth here, the crowd being the largest and the celebration the finest yet seen here. In the parade, which was of an imposing character, 300 American and 200 Canadian soldiers took part, while there was also in line a contingent of the Grand Army Veterans, a bevy of the Red Cross nurses, who have been overseas, a detachment of sailors, and the usual collection of civil societies. A feature of the procession was a baby tank which took part in the fighting around Chateau Thierry; it was driven by the officer who commanded it on the battlefield, and its antics attracted the enthusiastic attention of the small boys.

At the close of the procession, which was reviewed by Col. Hume, the D. S. C., was conferred on Sergeant Boutler, a member of the local company of the 163rd.

In the afternoon there was an exciting ball game between the American and Canadian soldiers, the former winning by the cheerful score of 12 to 0.

It was a modest gong which could not be heard before so many people and even Dempsey did not get it. He crowded through the ropes and was headed on to the shoulders of screaming fans when the truth was broken to him.

Willard Confident. Such fighting as the Kansas rambler produced was placed on exhibition on the onset. He stood in his corner, a picture of confidence. His smile seemed that of one who had a brief and not unpleasant before him. He certainly was all set to go, for just before time was called he was heard to remark "let's get this thing over."

Dempsey Worried. Dempsey presented a contrast. None of the confidence of his training camp statements appeared in his bearing. He looked nervous, and his eyes were wide and staring. He was plainly thoughtful and more than one ringside gazer whispered "he's looked right now."

Right to Jaw. Dempsey's first effective blow, and the one which apparently settled Willard's fate, was a right over Jess' shoulder to the jaw, a left to the body and a right to the face. Jess staggered. His eyes were closed and he reeled, the most of the crowd, from the energy of his youth, began hitting him at will.

Terrific Heat. The heat of the day was terrific, intensified as it was by the vast acreage of green lumber. During the preliminary bouts, when the temperature was in the thirties, a thermometer exposed, as were the spectators and fighters, jumped to 129 degrees, which was the limit of what the instrument could record. It showed 119 degrees when Willard and Dempsey entered the ring.

When Dempsey was declared winner, the crowd surged onto the mat in a wild scramble to shake the hand of the new champion. At times some of them toppled over on to the telegraph and reporter's feet, and some were striking in the mad desire to report what had happened.

Police eventually dispersed them by hustling Dempsey away. Willard was taken to an automobile and disappeared from view of the crowd, which then itself began the task of covering the four miles from the arena to the city as best they could, by street car, automobile or on foot.

Lacking Science. While the passing of the heavy weight championship was one of the most dramatic events of modern ring history, it was lacking entirely in high class boxing. With the exception of the first three snappy left jabs with which Willard opened the contest, the combat was simply a series of terrific drives and smashes, virtually all of which were delivered by Dempsey.

The first of these crashing swings to land on Willard's jaw and body appeared to completely daze and take away from the title holder all power to either protect himself or fight back as had been expected by his admirers.

How It Was Done. Whether he could have stood up better under the battering of Dempsey, a few years ago, will always be a mooted question in the years to come when today's battle is discussed. It cannot be denied, however, that Willard was in good physical condition, and displayed gameness up to the moment that his second persuaded him to relinquish the championship to Dempsey.

This was demonstrated by the fact that the Kansas giant received in ninety minutes of fighting far more punishment than did Jeffries at the hands of Jack Johnson in their fifteen round bout at Reno, and yet was able to respond to the bell had his second been caloused enough to send him again to the slaughter. Even after the disastrous ending of the first round, Willard flashed a momentary comeback in the second, when, for a few seconds, led to the belief among his supporters that it was a matter of time before he would be able to carry the battle along on even terms for a few sessions at least. It was the last flicker of a spirit which was stronger than the lead. Another sweeping right arm smash that fell over Willard's shoulder

ANOTHER WOMAN APPEARS IN FAMOUS DIVORCE CASE

Dr. Baxter, in Cross Examination, Draws from Fitz-Randolph His Intimate Acquaintance With a London Widow—More Letters to be Dealt With—Loving Epistle Signed "M."

Fredericton, July 4.—Under cross examination by Dr. Baxter, Lieut. Fitz-Randolph admitted that his wife had received presents from another man while she was in England, one of these presents being a cheque for £100, which was sent by mail. He said that he took the money and put it in his own bank account, although his wife could not draw on the account.

Dr. Baxter asked the witness if he thought it was all right for his wife to be receiving money presents from another man, and he replied that he had no suspicions as to the actions of his wife at that time, although he did not approve of the wife receiving that money present of one hundred pounds.

A letter was then put into the hands of the witness, Dr. Baxter, and he was asked who had written it. Lieut. Fitz-Randolph refused to answer, but the court said that he must say who had written the letter. He then said it had been written by Mrs. Leadam, a widow of London, England. He said he met her in England in June, 1916, or December, 1917, and that she had become intimately acquainted with her. When he was in England recently he had been in Mrs. Leadam's company at times.

Dr. Baxter then asked the witness whether or not it was his intention to make Mrs. Leadam, Mrs. Charles Fitz-Randolph if he were successful in obtaining a divorce, both wives covered with huge umbrellas to keep the sun from their uncovered heads. At nine minutes after four, the work group, which later caused so much confusion, cleared and the battle was on.

Willard loomed up like a Goliath against his five inch shorter David, and opened his right arm, and with his long left foot into Dempsey's face with force enough to make the latter blink. The challenger missed a swing, and tripping into a clinch landed three body blows with his right hand, carrying but little force. Willard had him easily in a clinch and partly turning him around used his right hand to the mouth and once to the body after the break.

Then Dempsey, as if he had not the range, opened his heavy artillery and landed a jab to the head, followed by a right and left to the body. The almost superhuman power of the punches was immediately apparent. A series of partly stupid expression overpowered the challenger's face and as he rocked on his heels, his whole body quivered. He pulled himself together and as Dempsey crowded in again, shot a body blow to the head and repeated to the eye. The blow did not even cause his youthful opponent to hesitate and dodge past the onslaught. He snarped for the third time, he whipped over a right and left almost simultaneously, the blows landing flush on Willard's jaw and the first time in his champion's face. Willard was dropped to the floor. He was up again at the count of six, only to be sent to the canvas with another right as he rose slowly to his feet. The blood began to pour from his mouth.

He turned away from his opponent who struck again twice with his right. When he arose, his hands and knees were crawling with sweat. He crawled to a corner and with a right and left to the face sent him to the floor again. As he arose a fusillade of body blows drove him to the corner, and when the bell terminated the round, and led Dempsey to believe that Willard had been counted out.

Round Two. Dempsey started where he left off, and with a big cut under his eye, appeared to be in bad way. He managed to snap a left to Dempsey's face and a puny right to the body. Dempsey replied with several body drives and Willard fell through the ropes. When he regained his feet he stumbled into a clinch, but Dempsey easily tore loose and proceeded to bat him in the stomach with the champion retreating with but three feeble stabs to the face during the melee. When Willard went to his corner he fell heavily into his chair, and it was seen that his right eye was completely closed and that the side of his face was swollen entirely out of shape, while Dempsey was unmarked.

Round Three. The final session was completely a series of rapid-fire swings which fell on Willard's face with little driving power, which left Willard completely helpless, as he staggered about the ring and wobbled along the ropes. Dempsey, who was in the ring, blood bubbled from his mouth with every gasp of breath, while the crowd about the ringside began to yell to Referee Peacor to stop it. Just as the ring before the new champion realized that Willard's seconds had thrown up the sponge. As soon as he pulled Dempsey toward the centre of the ring, the challenger, who was in Willard's corner, and the late title holder arose and stepped weakly to meet him. They shook hands, and Willard muttered something in reply to Dempsey's remarks, and the fight had passed into history.

ROYAL WELCOME ACCORDED NEW BRUNSWICK MEN WHO RETURNED HOME YESTERDAY

Two Hundred and Forty-seven Veterans Arrived Here Last Night—Private Harry Edwin and Corporal Watson Won Military Medals.

Two hundred and forty-seven war veterans, making the New Brunswick military party on the S. E. Belgis, which arrived at Halifax Tuesday, reached the city shortly before eight o'clock last night and were given a most enthusiastic reception. Warned by the fire siren, large crowds were waiting at the Union Depot when the train pulled in, and for a while the scene almost duplicated the victorious return of the Fighting 688th Central Postal Directory.

The Citizens' Reception Committee, Miss Worsley the Mayor, and representatives of the Red Triangles, Salvation Army, Y. W. P. A., Y. W. C. A., Knights of Columbus and other veterans' organizations, were on hand to give the boys the "glad hand" and to bestow gifts of oranges, chocolate, "fags," apples and other incidentals to appease their hunger until the automobiles and supper was reached.

Headed by the welcome committee and the City Corps Band, each musician wearing the arm-band insignia of the Knights of Columbus Welcome Committee, the parade formed and marched along Mill, Dock, King, Sydney, Mecklenburg and Carleton streets to the armories, where addresses of welcome were given by His Worship the Mayor and others.

Crowds thronged the route of march, a particularly nice feature of the parade being the action of some thirty girls in the M. R. A. staff, who waved flags and streamers, cheered and threw confetti as the boys marched past the store.

Arriving at the armories, the wants of the inner-man were first attended to and the canteen was duly patronized. Shortly before ten o'clock the work of demobilization began. Major H. H. Donnelly and Capt. Reg. Major, M. C., with some sixty assistants succeeded in getting the last man cleared from the "man's army" shortly after eleven-thirty.

Most of the men who returned last night were casualties, though a few were members of pioneer, construction and other reserve line units. With Harry Edwin, Sackville, has just finished serving fifty months in the Canadian army, during that time winning the military medal and getting three trips to "Blighty." He went overseas as an orderly with the 55th N. B. Battalion and transferred to the 60th Battalion. In June, 1916, he was badly wounded by shrapnel in the left eye, chest, ear and knee, but was able some time afterwards to rejoin his unit. In March, 1918, he received a "clean" bullet wound in the shoulder and in August following got another shrapnel wound, in the thigh, which was considered bad at the time, but was not sufficient to keep him out of the fighting. In September, 1918, he won the military medal for conspicuous gallantry at the Canal du Nord show, displaying great personal courage under heavy fire.

Corporal Oscar Guy Watson, Grand Falls, is an "original" of the First Cycling Corps, who went overseas in the great armada of October, 1914. He also wears the military medal which was awarded for action on August 29th, 1918, at the Pezay and Duke trenches when the gallant corporal repeatedly passed through a heavy barrage fire to attend and bring back the wounded.

FALLING OFF
IN STRAWBERRIES

Only About Sixteen Thousand Boxes Arrived at Indiantown Yesterday and the Prices Jumped Few Cents Higher Than Day Previous.

There was a considerable falling off in the quantity of strawberries arriving on the river steamers yesterday and the price was higher than on Wednesday. The Hampton brought about one hundred crates, the MacSobie two hundred and fifty-nine crates and the Champlain about fifty crates. Both the MacSobie and Champlain brought smaller quantities than they did on Wednesday but the Hampton brought considerably more. The total number of boxes was between sixteen and seventeen thousand and the price ranged from fourteen to sixteen cents per box wholesale.

This is a Greater Maxwell

There have been many improvements made in the Maxwell since the war ceased. Some of them have made the car look better. Others have made it run better.

You will note a new type radiator, a further advance in body detail, an improved electrical system, a Hot Spot and a Ram's-horn, a superior development in upholstery, and a top more durable.

Any of these is well worth any man's time to look over, and the sum of all represent a decided value added to the car.

But the fundamentals of the car are unchanged. 300,000 Maxwell on the highways of the world—all of the same model—have proved that a policy of never changing the base design is profitable in more ways than one to buyer and maker.

It means extra value at a lower price. It means perfection in design. It means perfection in workmanship. It means you pay for no experiments, no engineering knick-knacks. It means you pay for no mistakes. It means a car of everlasting reliability. It means a car of endless mileage.

You can easily pay $300 more and receive less. This Maxwell is old in antecedents but modern as far as sound engineering dare go.

There is no car of the day selling for so low a price to offer so many attractive inducements. See this recent Maxwell, and bear in mind that despite the eight great Maxwell plants the supply is already running far short of the demand. $1,395 f.o.b. Windsor.

THE JOHN ROBINSON CIRCUS WILL ARRIVE HERE TOMORROW

Miss Tetu Robinson, an Eighteen Year Old Japanese Girl, and the Ward of One of the Largest and Best Shows in the Country, is a Wonder—Will Greet the St. John Orphans Who Will be Guests of Mr. Robinson and The Standard Monday.

Presented of remarkable capabilities, power, speaking even languages fluently, a possessor of ability and the ward of the largest, oldest and best circus in the country, is Miss Tetu Robinson, an eighteen year old Japanese girl, who is expected to arrive in St. John, Monday, July 7th, to greet the little orphans at the John Robinson's circus. Despite the fact that she has been legally adopted into the Robinson family and has access to the millions of the circus folk, Miss Tetu has elected to remain a performer in the big show. She is of the circus—the life of the white tops is in her blood and her work in the arena gives her more pleasure than being hostess to a group of society butterflies.

Miss Tetu came to America twelve years ago when she was just six years old. She was with her father, a famous circus artist. The two worked together and pleased thousands with their wonderful shows. Then came a day when the father fell from a high perch and broke his neck. Efforts to find the mother or other near relatives of the little girl in far off Japan came to naught and finally John Robinson adopted her.

The girl has been given every educational and social advantage. During her school days she kept up her English and was walking work and when her education was finished she returned not to the dressing room but to the big circus arena. Just at present the pretty little Japanese girl is bubbling over with thanks to her foster parent for a gift of a beautiful black saddle horse. She has named the animal "Dixie."

Out at the various orphanages the little ones are eagerly counting the day until the arrival on Monday, July 7th of John Robinson's big circus. They have been told they will be the guests at the matinee performance of Mr. Robinson and The Standard and are fairly beside themselves with joy.

TIRED PEOPLE ARE DEBILITATED

Full Health and Strength Can Only be Regained by Enriching the Blood.

People who are tired all the time and never feel rested, even after a long night in bed, people who cannot regain weight and strength, who feel no joy in living, are in a condition described by doctors as general debility. A medical examination might show that every organ in the body is working normally, but the pallor of the face will usually show that the blood is weak and watery. This is the root of the trouble.

Debility is a loss of vitality, not affecting any one part of the body but the system generally. The blood goes to every part of the body and the use of a blood tonic like Dr. Williams' Pink Pills quickly tones up the whole system. The first sign of returning health is a better appetite, an improved digestion, a quicker step and better color in the cheeks. The rich, red blood, reaching every organ and muscle, carries new health and vigor. The nerves are quieted, sleep becomes refreshing and with persistent treatment and a good diet the patient is once more enabled to enjoy life. The case of Mr. W. Dorrance, R. R. No. 4, Tillamook, Ore., illustrates the great value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in cases of this kind. Mr. Dorrance says: "I was troubled with pains throughout my whole body, was extremely nervous, did not sleep at night, and was further afflicted with rheumatism. In spite of different treatment this condition persisted, indeed I was growing worse, and had fallen away in weight to 130 pounds and was scarcely able to do any work. Then I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and after a few weeks there was a noticeable improvement in my condition. I commenced taking the pills constantly gaining until I felt as well as ever I did. While taking the pills my weight increased to 170 pounds, and I can now do as good a day's work as anyone. My advice if you are not feeling well is to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and they will soon put you right."

At the first sign that the blood is out of order take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and note the speedy improvement they make in the appetite, health and spirits. You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

ST. JOHN, N. B., SATURDAY, JULY 5, 1919.

TURKEY'S POSITION.

Turkey, with unparalleled nerve, has refused, and has most emphatically refused, such concessions in the treaty of peace as will leave her territories entirely unimpaired. The subject has been put forward by the present government in a note to the Allied Council a few days ago set forth by reason of a secret treaty made with Germany in 1914 Turkey was compelled to enter the war as Germany's ally without the consent of the majority of her people and without the knowledge of the Sultan. It is added that the same Committee of Unity and Progress which had usurped the reins of government, dictated the persecution of millions of people, and brought about the massacres of Armenians and others, shocking the entire world. The comment is made that these massacres were not directed against Christians because of their religion, but were to have included millions of the Moslem faith. In the same breath the present Turkish government admits that a division of the empire among other powers and other rulers will result in religious difficulties with which such other powers, not being familiar, can with difficulty deal, while Turkey having governed millions of both Moslems and Christians for many years is in a position to continue the good work which has already been done.

Brunswick, on one-third of our area. Omitting for the present such states as New York and Pennsylvania, which are generally acknowledged to be somewhat wealthier than is New Brunswick, it is found that West Virginia with 25,000 square miles, which is 2,000 less than New Brunswick carries a population of 1,335,000 while Virginia, with 13,000 square miles more than New Brunswick has a population of 2,150,000. Going further down the coast we come to South Carolina, only slightly larger than New Brunswick, having an area of 30,100 miles, but this state exceeds us in population, having according to the 1914 census, 1,850,000. Ohio, which is fifty per cent larger than New Brunswick, has more than 5,000,000 people. Indiana with 36,000 square miles against our 27,000 has a population of 2,000,000, and Kentucky with 40,000 square miles has a population of 2,351,000.

Now, if Mr. Veniot will be so good as to point out those states corresponding in size with New Brunswick in population as well as in size which are spending more money on roads than is this province, he will make a notable contribution to the literature on this important subject. The expenditure of any government on public enterprise such as road construction should be based on the ability of that province to spend, as represented by its population and the revenue it enjoys, rather than in the extent of its territory, much of which has never been opened to civilization. Uncle Peter will have to search further for comparisons to excuse his extravagant methods in New Brunswick's public works.

THE TARIFF AND EXCESS PROFITS.

The fact that three or four manufacturing concerns in Canada have taken advantage of war conditions and have by adding a little here and there managed to accumulate substantial profits, is not evidence that this has been a general practice. It may quite naturally be supposed that those concerns which have already admitted—under pressure—such procedure, are those against which suspicion had previously been directed, and it is unfair to assume that all manufacturers are guilty of a like policy. Indeed the reverse is undoubtedly true, for without question the great majority of proprietors of industrial plants in this country may be considered as having entertained a truer sense of duty during the past few years and to have voluntarily maintained such prices for their goods as afforded nothing more than fair and reasonable profit. But the fact that even a few have been guilty of extortion and of practices which while perhaps not actually illegal are contrary to all rules of decency and fair play, indicates the possibility of any concern following that same plan if it desired to do so. And this in itself implies a condition well worth the closest scrutiny, followed by preventive legislation, and perhaps restoration to the country, not to the consumer, of the excessive and unjustifiable profits. Perhaps even more serious than this is the effect such revelations are apt to have on the minds of those who, prejudiced at any time, are now more than ever inclined to consider only those features detrimental to their own personal interests. Revelations such as have recently been appearing from the banks of arguments which although unjustified are difficult to answer, and only by such action as will prevent extortion on the part of the comparatively few offenders will this difficulty be overcome. Practicing in pre-war days was practically unknown. Competition was keen and all were looking for business. In the years of the war an abnormal demand existed, and prices were fixed not according to what a competitor was doing, but to the extent the consumer was willing to pay to get the goods. While the tariff is always a factor in business it is absurd to claim that high or even moderate protection made possible the policy which evidence has shown to have been adopted by a few of our manufacturers. Nor is it fair to contend that with the return of normal conditions of trade profiteering will continue unless what practically amounts to free trade is adopted.

COMING AGAIN, PETER. In his unpublished memoirs of what might have happened had the Federal Government not passed the highway bill, our genial friend, Mr. Veniot, points with admiration to the alleged fact that the republic to the south states with areas practically equivalent to that of New Brunswick are spending millions on highways, while New Brunswick, even under his generous guidance, has appropriated only half a million for road work for the present year. Let us have a look at some of these states for a minute or two. Beginning with our neighbor, Maine, which has an area of thirty thousand square miles, as against twenty-seven thousand square miles for New Brunswick. It is seen that that state has a population of 743,000 as compared with 350,000 for this province. New Hampshire, next in line, is very much smaller than ourselves, having only 9,000 square miles, but it has a population of 440,000. Vermont, another little one, has also 9,000 square miles of land, with a population of 385,000. Massachusetts is a great deal smaller than New Brunswick, smaller even than New Hampshire and Vermont, consisting of only 8,000 square miles, but in Massachusetts the population is 2,700,000—slightly more than the total for New Brunswick. Rhode Island, the tiniest of the lot, consists of only 1,000 square miles, but has a population of 800,000. Connecticut is five times as big as Rhode Island, being exactly 5,000 square miles in area and with a population of 1,222,000. New Jersey also falls much below New Brunswick in area, having only 7,600 square miles; but, too, has a population somewhat in excess of our own, numbering in all 2,840,000. If Delaware instead of comprising only 1,900 square miles were as big as New Brunswick and the population in accordance with the present density, its population would be 2,000,000, while we have only 350,000. Maryland with 9,800 square miles supports 1,350,000 people, a trifle of a million more than does New how headed by Mr. D. D. McKenzie in regard to supporting Canada's efforts in the war and they remember that party's policy in rejecting Wilson and endeavoring in every possible way to hamper the efforts of the government on behalf of our man. The Veterans have no intention of remaining out of politics. True, that Association is not a political body nor under its constitution is it provided that it may participate as a unit. But the decision of the national gathering must be interpreted as an expression of individual feeling on the part of the delegates and their prompt rejection of Mr. McKenzie's invitation is striking evidence of the attitude of these men towards the rump of the Liberal party. The Veterans did not even take the trouble to discuss this invitation. So is another hope shattered.

WHAT THEY SAY

Wipe Turkey Off the Map.

New York Globe: The Turkish note comes near to breaking the world's record for monumental effrontery. There is no shadow of excuse for the further existence of the Turkish empire; if Great Britain hesitated a moment at the prospect of demolition she gives no signs of reluctance now. Turkey was the world's worst failure as administrator; the continuance of the empire would prove our war aims a hollow mockery. Damad Pacha's participation in the war for a moment, and then he must be swept away into the dustbin with his universally and justly despised masters.

Premier of Ireland.

Quebec Telegraph: The report current that Lord Shaughnessy is to be the first Premier of the Dominion of Ireland is interesting in showing that the scheme for Dominion Home Rule for the Irish people is proceeding apace. The rumor of the role to be played by Lord Shaughnessy is probably the twin of the recent rumor that he was at the head of a movement to take over the control of affairs at Ottawa. Lord Shaughnessy's wonderful executive ability naturally makes fascinating the conception of him as the executive head of a nation, and this, no doubt, is responsible for the rumors circulated. It is unlikely, however, that Lord Shaughnessy would emerge from his well-earned rest to participate in the politics either of Canada or Ireland.

Different Now.

Harford Courant: For two years before the signing of the armistice Germany maintained that she was not only willing to have peace restored to the world, but was even anxious for it. Now she is not only unwilling to have peace restored to her she is to have a day of mourning for it. Some nations, like some people, are hard to satisfy.

New Era.

Federal authorities detained one hundred and ten aliens in New York who were trying to leave the United States without passports and had boarded ships all ready to sail for Europe. That was stupidity beyond understanding. Instead of holding these aliens up the federal officials should "speed the parting guests," passports or no passports. We should be glad to get rid of them.

Plenty of Water.

Rochester Express: A statistical expert says that there is more water in the Pacific Ocean than in the Atlantic. However, we dare say that there is enough water in the Atlantic for all practical purposes.

A Question of Vermin.

Kansas City Star: A New Jersey town is reported to have kept itself free of Bolshevism by threatening to trash any red card agitator found within its limits.

Very Likely.

Kansas City Star: The German clamor for immediate admittance to the League of Nations is hard to understand, unless indeed they think the league is more vulnerable to attack from within than from without.

Daylight Saving?

Edmonton Bulletin: Sixteen and a half hours between sunrise and sunset at this time of year in Edmonton. Not only so; but after the sun actually goes below the horizon its descent is so gradual that what is practically daylight is extended at least an hour in the morning and another in the evening, making over 18 hours of actual daylight.

THE G. W. V. A. DECISION.

There is something really delightful about the manner in which the Liberal newspapers interpret the action of the G. W. V. A. in flatly refusing to send delegates to the National Liberal Convention. This is assumed by Liberal party papers to be a declaration on the part of the Veterans' Association not to participate in politics. As a matter of fact it is nothing of the sort, nor is there any indication in the press reports of the Veterans' meeting that such a policy has been adopted. What the soldiers have done is to emphatically decline the invitation of the temporary Liberal leader to become associated with the Liberal party. The delegates to the convention in Vancouver realize as clearly as anyone possibly can the attitude of the group

A BIT OF VERSE

FLOWERS.

(Elegiac metre.) Blue is the bold bugloss, blue petals to spread, like merry flowers; Blue is the pride of the hedge, aj'kanet, April's delight; Blue with the sky's own blue myosotis, blue the primrose flowers; Blue upon earth's brown breast pimpernel, ever alight; Purple the tall fox-gloves, sweet comfrets that fatten the cattle, Cocks above green corn nodding and rodding again; Purple the lark loose-strife, false blue-bells, and the cowslip; Purple the gay woundworts gaze o'er their grassy domain; Scarlet the poppy, that stares at the sun's full splendor unshrinking; Countless the colors beside—summer's embossed array—Yellow, orange and gold, mauve, violet, rising or sinking; Each in its tone, with the tints blended and melting away; God set a bow in the sky, which shines with a heavenly splendor; Number its hues, if thou canst; name its embossed array; God set a bow upon earth, which shines with a majesty tender; Praise it, who can, as is meet—beauty that matches the sky; —J. A. Fort in The Spectator.

Doctors declare that we wear far too many clothes. Some of them would even help a man to remove the "coat" from his tongue.

A Good Hint. "That preacher used to be a baseball player."

The Difference. She: "I never see her anywhere without her husband. I wish you were as compegnial." He: "I wouldn't be as jealous as that fellow for all the money in the world."

Rather Slow. Elsie—My dear, you reached the age of 36. Isn't it wonderful? Bobby—Wonderful nothin'. Look at the time it's taken him to do it.

A Little Thing He Overlooked. Visitor—Of what were you accused? Convict—Stealing a watch. I made

DIPHTHERIA VERY CONTAGIOUS AND SPREADS RAPIDLY

The Extreme Communicability of the Disease is Particularly Manifest in Children from 1 to 11 Years—Preventive Measures to be Observed.

Diphtheria is a very contagious disease and is spread from one person to another by contact with the patient or the discharges from the nose and throat. These discharges may be present on his face, hands, bedclothes, or in fact anything with which the patient is brought in contact. The contagion of the discharges is due to the presence of the germ which is the cause of diphtheria and diphtheria croup. These germs are very small, about 725,000 of an inch long, and 1-2,000 of an inch thick, and many thousands are thrown off from the patient in very small particles of discharge or in the droplets of saliva sprayed from the lips during conversation. Each one of these germs if they lodge on a properly susceptible mucous lining such as that of the nose, throat or larynx, can set up the inflammation of diphtheria. This extreme communicability of the disease diphtheria is particularly manifest in children from one year up to eleven years of age. Their mucous membranes are the least resistant to the attacks of the diphtheria germ. Infants up to one year of age have a certain degree of natural immunity which makes them less susceptible to this disease, but they are not totally immune.

Persons over eleven years are less susceptible because of some degree of acquired immunity. This immunity is not so great as to permit carelessness in observation of the rules of hygiene in the presence of diphtheria in the household. Immunity to diphtheria and to other diseases is at best only a relative matter. As to whether one becomes infected or not depends largely upon the intensity of the exposure to the disease.

In view of the contagiousness of this disease the proper constituted health authorities must be notified as soon as the diagnosis is made or suspected. The purpose of this is to enable the disease fighting authorities to surround and isolate the source of contagion so that it may not spread to other members of the same family, to other neighboring households, or to more distant parts of the community. Every diphtheria germ possesses potential disease producing activities sufficient to produce a huge conflagration of disease just as a carelessly dropped match contains the germ of a great Chicago fire. If a fire occurs in town, the fire department is immediately notified. The chief idea back of the notification of the fire department is to save property, occasionally the lives of persons in danger, and to prevent the spread of the fire to other parts of the community. It is equally important, if not more so, to have the disease-fighting forces know of the whereabouts of a case of diphtheria, typhoid, scarlet fever, smallpox, measles, tuberculosis, as in these instances precious human lives of dear ones are in danger.

When the notification of the health authorities, the source of contagion is isolated, the persons of the household are properly safeguarded by anti-toxin if they have had contact with the patient, proper instructions are left for the care of the discharges from the nose and throat, for the care of the bedclothes, beds, walls, dishes, towels, in fact everything with which the patient has been in contact. The person attending the patient, and if should be only one person, has impressed upon her the extreme importance of protecting wearing apparel and of carefully scrubbing hands with brush, soap and water after each contact. The fingers are the great conveyors of contagion. Most of our infectious diseases are carried in to our mouths through the medium of our fingers. With proper care of one's hands and clothes we can thus largely reduce the chances of acquiring the diseases.

When the patient is no longer considered contagious by the health authorities he is discharged from surveillance. This condition of the patient is determined not by his well-being and recovery to strength and health, but by determining whether or not he still harbors the germs of diphtheria in his nose and throat. This is determined by taking cultures from the mucous lining of his nose and throat, incubating them at body heat for twelve to eighteen hours, and examining them by the microscope for the presence or absence of the diphtheria germ. If the cultures show absence of the germ after taking them on two successive days the patient is considered free from contagion and is discharged from surveillance of the health authorities. The community has been safeguarded from this point of contagion. But in every city there are many points of contagion, and if the precious lives of our dear ones are to be preserved from what is in this day and age an absolutely preventable disease and one which, if diagnosed promptly made can be successfully combated, the health authorities must be taken into the confidence of the community, tactfully and collectively. They must know where the source of danger is in order to effectively direct their forces in surrounding and combating the disease. Fire and police departments are notified of danger to property and personal safety. Then why not the Health Department whose functions are to prevent loss of health, life and also considerable money loss? Enlightened co-operation on the part of each and every citizen is called for if we are to lower our death rate from disease.

(Next week fuller discussion of the means of prevention and treatment of diphtheria will appear in these columns.)

DECORATE FOR BOYS' SUNDAY

Citizens Asked to Display Flags and Bunting and Assist in Welcome.

The Citizens' Reception Committee request that the people of the city take some time tomorrow to decorate their premises in honor of the return of the 13th Reserve Battalion. The soldiers are expected here on Sunday morning, and the Citizens' Committee express the hope that the citizens will join in giving them as hearty a welcome as their enthusiasm permit. It is especially requested that those along the line of march to the Armory will make a display of flags and bunting. Word was received last night by Charles Robinson that the Northland would dock about noon today and he is trying to arrange to have the men held until evening which would bring them to St. John about 8 o'clock Sunday morning.

THE PROBATE COURT.
In the Probate Court yesterday morning, before Judge E. O. McInnes, letters testamentary were granted to Jarvis M. Wilson, who was appointed executor of the estate of Mary Anne Wilson, of Carleton, who died on June 5, leaving real estate to the value of $2,200 and personal property valued at $5,500. J. B. M. Baxter, K. C. is proctor.

In the matter of the estate of Marjorie E. Lahey, of Lancaster, who died intestate on June 11, James Lahey was appointed administrator. She left personal property to the value of $1,100. C. P. Sanford is proctor.

The will of Dr. P. Robertson Inches, who died on February 10, was proved. He had appointed Dorothy Inches as sole executrix, but she had died before him. Letters of administration cum testamento annexo were ordered to pass to Kenneth R. Inches and H. C. Schofield. The estate amounted to $11,000 real and $1,000 personal.

In the matter of the estate of Thomas Lowe, farmer, who died intestate on May 21, leaving $1,000 real and $800 personal estate, James G. Lowe, grocer, was appointed administrator. C. H. Ferguson is proctor.

The will of Lieutenant-Colonel Andrew J. Armstrong, who died on June 1, was proved, and T. E. G. Armstrong was appointed executor. Real estate $2,700 and personal property $7,700. H. F. Puddington is proctor.

MR. LORENZO LEDUC.

3 Ottawa St., Hull, P. Q.

"Fruit-a-tives" is certainly a wonder. For a year, I suffered with Rheumatism; being forced to stay in bed for five months. I tried all kinds of medicine but without getting better; and thought I would never be able to walk again.

"One day while lying in bed, I read about 'Fruit-a-tives' the great fruit medicine; and it seemed just what I needed, so I decided to try it.

"The first box helped me, and I took the tablets regularly until every trace of the Rheumatism left me.

"I have every confidence in 'Fruit-a-tives' and strongly recommend them to every sufferer from Rheumatism."

COMPOSITION ON ANIMALS.
(By Willie Greengrass, Grade IV., Oak bin Setl., N. G.)

Excepting human people, every thing else we see has life in it. Some animals, such as hens, hogs, mules, cats, dogs, sheep, and many other creatures, are very useful to man. Some animals are very beautiful, such as the peacock, the butterfly, and the hummingbird. Some animals are very dangerous, such as the lion, the tiger, and the bear. Some animals are very small, such as the flea, the tick, and the mite. Some animals are very large, such as the elephant, the whale, and the giraffe. Some animals are very smart, such as the dog, the cat, and the monkey. Some animals are very stupid, such as the pig, the cow, and the horse. Some animals are very kind, such as the dog, the cat, and the horse. Some animals are very unkind, such as the snake, the spider, and the scorpion. Some animals are very brave, such as the lion, the tiger, and the bear. Some animals are very cowardly, such as the rabbit, the mouse, and the squirrel. Some animals are very lazy, such as the pig, the cow, and the horse. Some animals are very hardworking, such as the dog, the cat, and the horse. Some animals are very clean, such as the dog, the cat, and the horse. Some animals are very dirty, such as the pig, the cow, and the horse. Some animals are very smart, such as the dog, the cat, and the monkey. Some animals are very stupid, such as the pig, the cow, and the horse. THE GREAT WALL OF CHINA.

The Great Wall of China is, in reality, a great fortification, running for nearly fifteen hundred miles and meant to serve as the boundary line between the Chinese and the restless Tartar tribes to the north.

Life's Darkest Moment.

(By Webster.)
WHEN HIS MASTER SWIMS UNDER WATER.
A field of sugar-cane looks like a field of corn. The only difference noticeable at first glance is that the stalks are higher than corn. A cane field is planted by taking joints of cane, putting them in trenches and covering them with earth.

COMMISSIONER BULLOCK TALKS ABOUT THE HARBOR BILL

Says Bill Raises Several Points Which Require Serious Consideration—It Provides That Northern Limit be at Green Head Above Indian town—This Would Take in Hydro Powers of Reversing Falls Which Are Valuable Assets—Other Points Discussed.

"In the harbor bill the Dominion Government is looking to the future, and quite right, too," said Commissioner Bullock yesterday. "But the bill raises several points which require serious consideration by the city, and should be thrashed out before the transfer is made. The bill provides that the harbor commission shall take over a harbor, the northern limit of which is a line drawn across the river at Green Head, which is above Indian town; we never contemplated giving them jurisdiction over anything much above Navy Island. At Indian town we have a public slip that has been open to anybody (first come, first served) from early days. At Indian town, as at Market Slip, certain kinds of produce coming to the city have never paid any wharf charges. That has been a very old arrangement, and we will want to know how it will be affected if the Government Commission is granted control of these slips.

"The Government bill gives the St. John Harbor Commission absolute possession of all powers and privileges pertaining to the harbor. We will want to know something about hydro-powers. Some day the city may want to utilize the Reversing Falls or the tides for power purposes. If we accept the Government bill as it stands we won't be able to do anything of that nature without permission of the Harbor Commission; probably amicable settlements could be made, but still the city might very well reserve the right to exploit the Reversing Falls and the tides for power purposes, for in future they may be very valuable assets.

"Then there is the position of the ferry to Carleton, and also that at Indian town. Of course the understanding is that they will not interfere with our ferry approaches, but nothing is specified in the bill. There is also the question of a harbor bridge. Some day the city will probably be prepared to build the bridge to Carleton, which has been advocated from time to time, and which goes much farther than the city intended, will raise questions that will make it difficult to effect the transfer this year. However, I am not worrying about that. The city can go ahead with what repairs are needed, which will not be extensive or expensive."

Commissioner Bullock has received copies of the bill, which provides for the creation of a Harbor Commission and the taking over of the harbor in the name of the Government. Under the bill the commission will be composed of three men appointed by the Government, whose salaries, fixed by the Government, shall be paid from the harbor revenues. The commission will have power to appoint a harbor master, port warden, and all officials in addition to the city's harbor facilities. It will take over and operate the government elevator and the old Government wharves. As at Montreal it will have power to acquire or build tugboats, locomotives or any plant or machinery required for the successful operation of the harbor, and may acquire property by expropriation if necessary, and lay railway tracks and do anything necessary to facilitate traffic.

"The commission may fix all rates and charges, and has special powers for collecting the same; it may require the Collector of Customs to collect such portion of the rates as it deems expedient.

"The commission may borrow money for extensions and improvements and issue debentures for not less than $500, payable in not more than forty years, interest and loans to be paid out of revenues. This is a provision that interests shipping men, for whereas in the past the city of St. John has assumed burdens in order to keep the port charges low, the Commission may, unless it provides a more economical administration, raise charges in order to pay its way.

By taking over the Government wharves and the elevator the Commission will, however, have some additional revenue; it will only have to pay three and one-half per cent. on the cost of construction of the Government wharves and the elevator.

Terms of Transfer.

The Harbor Commission shall take over the bonded indebtedness against the city harbor property, amounting to $1,350,000, and the provision for interest and sinking funds. For the balance of $657,283 it will issue to the city of St. John its debentures, payable at the end of twenty-five years with interest at 6 per cent. If the Harbor Commission is not able to meet these obligations the Government will make good.

Under the Act two Commissioners constitute a quorum, empowered to transact all business, and even to issue bonds.

The rates on goods loaded or shipped from seagoing vessels shall be paid by the consignee, shipper, owner or agent of such goods, and goods shall not be removed from any dock or wharf within the harbor until such rates are fully paid. The rates upon the cargoes of all other vessels shall be paid by the master or person in charge of the vessel, saving to him such recourse as he may have by law against any other person for the sum so paid, but the Commission may demand and recover the said rates from the owner or consignee or agents or shippers of such cargo if it sees fit to do so.

The southern limits of the harbor shall be: Beginning with the high-water mark on the west face of the Negro Point breakwater; thence due south (astronomical) 4,460 feet to the intersection of a line drawn due south-west from the Partridge Island Light-house; thence due east 8,000 feet to an intersection of a line drawn due south-west from a point on the eastern boundary of the Military Grounds at Red Head cuts the high-water mark; thence due north-east 9,000 feet to high water mark.

For some time the committee of the Board of Trade whose duty it is to make known the advantages of St. John as an industrial centre for factories to locate in, have been trying to interest an American concern which is considering the opening of a Canadian branch of the enterprise. Yesterday a communication was received outlining an offer made by a city mentioned in the letter and asking if St. John had anything better to offer.

This offer included, according to the letter, an offer of a free site of 100 acres, the construction of a one-story fireproof factory building to contain at least 30,000 feet of floor space, exemption from taxes and water rates on the part of the city, and an offer from the Hydro-Electric Company to supply power at one-half cent per kilowatt hour. In order to get this offer on the part of the city, and an offer from the Hydro-Electric Company to supply power at one-half cent per kilowatt hour. In order to get this offer on the part of the city, and an offer from the Hydro-Electric Company to supply power at one-half cent per kilowatt hour.

GASSED AT VIMY

George C. Golding, of Cumberland Bay, Queens County, who was badly gassed at Vimy Ridge, has at last been discharged from hospital in England. In a letter to his mother, Mrs. Isabel McLean, Pte. Golding says that he is as good as ever and is looking forward to getting home soon. At the time of writing he was on leave in London and was seeing the sights of the big city.

Pte. Golding was a member of the 216th Bantam Battalion, leaving Canada with that unit.

The agitation which was started in St. John a short time ago to revive the Maritime Board of Trade is now being taken up in Nova Scotia. Halifax claims that in the last budget Nova Scotia coal was discriminated against in favor of American coal entering Ontario and the West, and want something done about it, if protection is to remain the policy of Canada. Another complaint is that the Canadian Government is now running steamers from Montreal to the West Indies, interfering with the trade which the Maritime Provinces have been for years trying to build up.

WHAT OTHER CITIES ARE SAID TO OFFER NEW INDUSTRIES

Board of Trade Asked to Make Arrangements for the Location of an Enterprise Here.

Among those who returned yesterday was Sergeant Laurens Scovil, who went overseas with an A. S. C. draft and was later transferred to the 26th Battalion. In France he contracted trench fever and afterward went in with Y. M. C. A. work. During April he was in Seaford when the riot took place. Before joining the colors Sergeant Scovil was taking an art course in Boston.
