Special to The Standard
Fredericton, Jan. 7.—Col. H. F. McLeod, M.P., who has been very ill of pneumonia here for the last week, died at his home this evening at nine o'clock. For several days after he was seized with the illness, he made what seemed like a winning fight against the attack, but complications set in this morning and the end came this evening. At five different times in the last few years he has been stricken with pneumonia, so that he was seriously handicapped in the final battle against the disease.

Born in Fredericton, Harry Bradley was born at Fredericton on September 14, 1861, the son of the late Rev. Dr. and Mrs. McLeod. He was educated at the University of New Brunswick, from which he graduated in 1881 with the degree of Bachelor of Arts and where he captured the Stanley Gold Medal. In 1890 he was called to the bar of his native province; five years later he was appointed a King's Counselor.

In 1908 he made his first appearance in the political arena when he was elected to the Provincial Legislature as member for York county. Four years afterwards he was successful a second time in the same riding. In March, 1913, he was called to the cabinet of the New Brunswick government; three years later he was made provincial secretary and treasurer.

These positions he resigned to enter the House of Commons by acclamation, and he was a member of the Interprovincial Conference at Ottawa from 1910 to 1914. He was mayor of the city of Fredericton in 1917 and presided in the local St. Andrew's Society.

His Military Career
He took a keen interest in the volunteer force of the province and was elected to the 7th York Regiment in 1904 and Lieutenant-colonel three years later. He was an official guest of the War Office in London in 1912. When the Great War broke out he was appointed officer commanding 12th Battalion of the First Canadian Contingent. This rank he held during the time he was made Colonel in command of the Divisional troops at Stormont, Eng.

A Conservative all his days, he was elected to the House of Commons in 1917 in a supporter of the Unionist Government and there were few members of that body who gave more careful attention to the duties of the country than Colonel McLeod.

AIRMEN WERE ALMOST DEAD WHEN RESCUED

Another Day and Americans Would Have Perished Near Moose Factory.

LONE CARRIER PIGEON KEPT TO CARRY WORD

Caribou Moss Was All They Had to Eat for Four Days.

Montreal, Jan. 7.—The United States balloonists who landed near James Bay, after their record-breaking flight, and who are now making their way back to civilization by dog team over the frozen wastes of Northern Canada, cannot possibly reach their starting point at Rockaway Beach, Long Island, before Thursday, January 13, according to S. A. Bradley, who has just returned here from the Hudson's Bay.

Mr. Bradley left Moose Factory, where he is employed as a clerk for the Hudson's Bay Company, the day after the arrival of the aeronauts. He says the balloonists were suffering from their experiences. They would naturally require a rest before starting on the trip south, he said.

Nearly Perished in Forests
Mr. Bradley said the balloonists told him that before striking the tree Indians' shack, they had been blindly roaming over wild territory since alighting from their gas bag for four days, subsisting on caribou moss. It was lucky for them that the ground was only slightly covered with snow and that the moss was still to be had, said Mr. Bradley. One more day and they must have perished.

Mr. Bradley told of how the aeronauts kept one carrier pigeon to the last. They intended, should they become convinced that they must die, to write the story of their experiences and approaching end, and attach it to the bird's leg in the hope that the pigeon would be able to reach civilization with the message.

Carried Bird Under Coat
Two other birds carried had been eaten. Lieut. Kloor carried the third under his coat, and it was found there alive when the officer removed his clothes. He attached the message to the bird and released it, hoping that it would reach the outside world in a short while and, by the telling it carried, relieve the anxiety of the relatives of the fliers. The message was addressed to the officer commanding the aviation camp at Rockaway Beach, Mr. Bradley said.

Describing the method that will be used by the balloonists to get back to the railway, Mr. Bradley said he thought that Lieut. Farrell, who seemed to have suffered most throughout the trying experiences, might have to ride most of the way, but that the other two would be able to accompany the sleds on foot and thereby keep warm.

There would be three dog sleds, one for the men and dogs, and the other reserve provisions, enough to feed the travelers for sixteen days. Another would carry a tent and camping stove.

CLAIMS PULP IS CUT ON CROWN'S LAND BY STATES

York County, N. B. Said to be Scene of Illegal Operations.

HAULED THROUGH PRIVATE PROPERTIES

Councillor Wetmore Makes Sensational Charges at Fredericton Meeting.

Fredericton, N. B., Jan. 7.—American companies carrying on lumbering operations in York county, along the New Brunswick and Maine international boundary were charged by Councillor Wetmore of North Lake at today's meeting of the York County Council with cutting pulp wood on crown lands and exporting it illegally to the United States by having the wood through private lands to the border and making it appear as if it had been cut on privately owned lands, from which export is legal.

Going to States
Councillor Wetmore declared that the provincial government should take steps to prevent this illegal exportation of Canada's raw products and said that with the United States placing a heavy discount upon the Canadian dollar the time has arrived for Canadian citizens to strike back in every possible way. There was also considerable discussion on the proposal to advance the rate of valuation for assessment purposes in the county as a result of so many large tracts being bought up by American companies at advancing prices. "Our resources are being taken out of the country while we sit back and watch it go," said Warden Everett declared during the discussion.

O'CALLAHAN HAD TO WORK WHILE CROSSING OCEAN

When Stowaway Was Discovered Captain Gave Him Hard Work to Do.

DRESSED AS LABORER WHEN HE HID HIMSELF

Rolling of the Ship Compelled Him to Surrender to the Crew.

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 7.—The story of how he had boarded the steamer West Cannon, at Cork, for his secret passage to this country, was told by Daniel O'Callaghan, port master of Cork, who came here late yesterday from Newport News, with Peter MacSwiney, brother of the late lord mayor.

"Getting aboard ship was not so difficult as it may seem," O'Callaghan said. "Dressed as a laborer, I hung around the quay for about an hour watching my chance. Many of the crew were absent from the ship, and when I saw my chance I climbed a ladder and slipped aboard and into the hold."

"After boarding ship O'Callaghan said he remained concealed for seven days in a bunker until driven out by seasickness.

Put MacSwiney to Work.
MacSwiney, also a stowaway for three days, he said, but finally came out of hiding and was put to work in the fore-cabin. Through him O'Callaghan said he received food for four days.

"When Mr. MacSwiney made his presence known, calling himself Muligan, our small store of food was 'about out,'" O'Callaghan continued. "He was put to work at once, and it was comparatively easy for him to reach the bunkers with food and water for me. I would have made out all right, but the ship was rolling very badly after being out a week, and I succumbed to seasickness. Finally I descended to the down a while where the air was better, and went to a bunk when the watch was on duty. One fellow, however, came down and discovered me. Despite my sickness I went to work with Mr. MacSwiney."

If you are sincere in wanting to be rid of your catarrh, write at once to: "New Jan-O-Sin, Rg'd., Apartment 10, 230 Craig St., W., Montreal, Canada," giving your name and address, and the rest will be attended to promptly so that you can try it seven days.

When Mr. MacSwiney made his presence known, calling himself Muligan, our small store of food was 'about out,'" O'Callaghan continued. "He was put to work at once, and it was comparatively easy for him to reach the bunkers with food and water for me. I would have made out all right, but the ship was rolling very badly after being out a week, and I succumbed to seasickness. Finally I descended to the down a while where the air was better, and went to a bunk when the watch was on duty. One fellow, however, came down and discovered me. Despite my sickness I went to work with Mr. MacSwiney."

U. S. COMPANIES ARE RUSHING IN

Big Boom Expected This Coming Summer All Through the Oil Belt.

(Copyright, 1921, by Cross-Atlantic)
London, Jan. 5.—The widespread interest in Canadian potential and natural oil fields, and the apparent growing desire of capital not only in the United States but in Britain also, to invest there indicates that Edmonton and other Canadian cities will be in the oil belt next summer and will be boom towns, said F. R. Jackson, the Edmonton oil promoter, who is in England arranging for financial backing for the active drilling of new wells 200 miles north of Edmonton. Jackson said he represented the New Anglo-Canadian Oil Co. "I have letters to Lloyd George and plan an interview with him before I leave in order to interest him in what I believe is a most lucrative proposition for development by the British Government on a large scale of these Canadian resources.

U. S. Interests Coming.

"United States companies are already rushing into the sector. I have focused considerably increasing desire for British capital to invest in Canada, but there is an obstacle in the general exchange situation. The general hope here is that this would be overcome by the entrance of the United States into the League of Nations and through a plan for the extension of long term credits.

Any drug can supply you with 2½ oz. bottles and fill this into a 16-oz. bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. If desired, this recipe makes 10 ounces of really remarkable cough remedy. Did Germany Help Desert France?

Change Which Has Made Stinner Sold Millions Tons to France During the War.

(Copyright, 1921, by Cross-Atlantic)
Berlin, Jan. 7.—That the German steel combine of which Hugo Stinnes is the controlling spirit, sold during the last two years of the war, nearly a million tons of steel which was delivered to France through Switzerland and used in making shells for guns, in the arms industrially made by Alphonse Heilmann, formerly managing director of the Thyssen Steel Works. Heilmann says the price paid by France was 20,000 marks a ton lower than the market price, which paid fifteen million marks into the combine's treasury annually. The charges have created a sensation here and part of the money has been drawn upon by the Stinnes combine, have denied them.

New Brunswick Girl Welcomed

Miss Margaret Porter of Chipman Delighted Women's Canadian Club Members.

Women's Canadian Club members were glad last evening to welcome a New Brunswick girl as their speaker. An audience which filled the lower room of the Pythian Castle listened to a programme of readings and monologues given by Miss Margaret Porter of Chipman, N. B. Miss Porter is a graduate of the Emerson School of Oratory, Boston. She has a most pleasing personality, and articulates very distinctly without the slightest apparent effort, so that she was heard very clearly at the back of the large room. Her naturalness of speech was delightful. Her selections were several of them very humorous, some of kindly admonition and a number dealt with war themes. She voiced her great pleasure in speaking before an audience of her own people, and she felt the Canadian nation is safe while its women set such high standards as those of the Women's Canadian Club.

Action is Deferred.

A proposal was placed before the council this afternoon as expected, but it is to be continued tomorrow.

This afternoon Mrs. A. O. Glenn, secretary-treasurer for the past four years and assistant for fourteen years previously, was granted six months' leave of absence because of ill health, and Capt. John Scott, who was acting city clerk of Fredericton during the absence of George R. Perkins, recently has been appointed acting secretary-treasurer of the county in the meanwhile.

Toronto, Jan. 7.—The Ontario Olympic Commission at a meeting today went into the question which they have had under consideration for some time—the preparing and issuing of a handbook of athletics for public and high school boys.

It was decided to have further and deeply into the matter which is really a most ambitious project and which will cost a good deal of money, but with the object in view of the supply of a book for the younger athletes, it was considered a matter well worth while going the limit for.

The NATIONAL

Has Wide Range of Speed

What Truck? Ask the driver—he knows.

The ideal transmission on a Motor Truck is the one delivering the greatest power with smoothness and flexibility under all conditions of load and road,—speed on level stretches, reserve power for steep grades.

To attain this was the aim of National Engineers, and after testing many they found it in the Brown-Lipe Transmission.

The National's Transmission gives three speeds on the light models—four on the heavy—in the former it is mounted as a unit with the engine. On the larger ones, with longer chassis, it is amid ships, to eliminate the "whip" of the shaft.

All gears are of nickle steel, carbonized and heat treated. The shafts are chrome-nickle steel, mounted on Timken Roller Bearings.

The National Truck is made in five sizes—1-1/2-2-3/4 and 5 tons. There is a National to suit your needs.

To Teach Canadian History In England

Special Text Books Dealing With Canada and Lectures to Be Used.

(Copyright, 1921, by Cross-Atlantic.) London, Jan. 7.—Canadian history, facts and statistics are to form a permanent subject in the English school curriculum commencing this month. This is in addition to the geographical information in the ordinary text books. A monograph on Canada will be compiled later by Professor W. L. Grant, of Upper Canada College, Toronto, and will be issued to every member of the national union of teachers in the British Isles for use in the series of Dominion school lessons. It includes Canada's climate and physical features, government and economic development, and there will also be illustrated lectures at the disposal of any school. Miss Durban, of Bethel, Columbia, is already lecturing to scholars under the auspices of the Victoria League, which is arranging correspondence between Canadian and British children.

SMELT FISHING ON NORTH SHORE

The smelt fishing has neither a disappointment to those engaged in that industry, but this common only refers to the quantity, as the price paid for these fish is very much above the ordinary. As high a price as 12 to 14 cents a pound has been paid on the ice and is quite a contrast to the ruling prices of some years ago, when smelts were sold as low as a half-cent a pound, while from 3 to 5 cents was considered a good figure.

TUXIS BOYS AND TRAIL RANGERS

BY FIRELIGHTER

The Old Year has gone, and the New is here. Let us all resolve to put the very best we have into our "Tuxis" and "Trail Rangers."

When you are reading this, the "Tuxis" Conchave will be in session, Dr. Roberts the speaker.

I hope every "Tuxis" boy and "Trail Ranger" got behind the week of Prayer services, for without Pray or our work would be a failure. Let each boy see to it that his Square or Camp has a prominent place in his quarters.

Mentors: Will not forget the Mentors' Association, Y. M. C. A., Monday evening, at 6.15.

"Trail Ranger" Grand Camp follows on Saturday next, and a good time is assured every one.

Badge work should not be forgotten and every boy should aim to win some, so as to not let the season pass by without winning a Badge.

Rev. J. Heaney reports progress with "Tuxis" work at Carleton Place. Every one wishes you luck!

This is the month to start and plan for your "Father and Son" Banquets. Get your speaker and fix your date.

February is National "Father and Son" Month. Our Anglican friends will have to note that the Season of Lent commences February the 9th.

If you desire C. S. E. T. supplies or Badges, see Mr. A. M. Gregg, at the Y. M. C. A.

WHAT IS A TRAIL RANGER?
How will you know a Trail Ranger when you see him in the street?

You might know him by the pin he wears. If you were to sing out "W. S." he would stop and look at you and wonder if you know the meaning of his password.

There are other ways in which you might know him, however. Look at this.

A Trail Ranger is:
T—true
R—reverent
A—ambitious
I—intelligent
L—loyal
R—resourceful
A—active
N—natural
G—enerous
E—earnest
R—reliable
S—strong.

Priest Was Killed When He Attempted To Take Revolver

No One Held Responsible for Death of Brother Darcy in Cork Raid.

Cork, Jan. 7.—A military court found yesterday that the Rev. Brother Finbarr Darcy, of the Twynford Abbey Nursing Home of London, who was killed in the course of a military raid on the Imperial Hotel here Wednesday morning, had been shot by the military in the execution of their duty. An army lieutenant testified that he was told by an auxiliary policeman that Darcy had jumped out of a back window of the hotel.

Tried to Get Gun.

He found Darcy stark naked, and the prisoner, while dressing, made several attempts to get the officer's revolver, and had to be knocked down. An order was then given that if he attempted to escape the escort was to shoot him. Soon afterwards the lieutenant heard two shots, and found Darcy lying in the middle of the street in a dying condition. The escort held that Darcy had tried to grab a rifle, and falling in this, attempted to escape, whereupon the escort had fired at him.

THE EXPORT OF PULP WOOD.

The leading article in the current issue of the Canada Lumberman deals with the question of the export of pulpwood, which it condemns, and strongly advocates its manufacture in this country and only the export of paper permitted. There are many of us who have advocated this course for years, but so far the only authorities who can interfere with the current practice, declines to do so.

As the Lumberman points out, it is of course well known that pulpwood cut on the Crown Lands of Quebec, Ontario and New Brunswick cannot be exported without being first converted into pulp or paper. This enactment is of a provincial character and was wisely placed on the statute books several years ago. There are, however, great areas of privately owned acres from which the wood is being taken and sent across the border. It would seem an opportune time for the Federal authorities to take this matter in hand, for Canadians wakened up to the fact that their great natural heritage has suddenly vanished and, like Esau of old, they have sold their birthright for a mess of pottage. Pulpwood is being exported today in its raw state across the border to the extent of millions of cords annually, whereas it should all be converted into the finished product at home, affording employment to a large industrial army and the investment of many millions of dollars of idle capital.

It may be pointed out that at the present time several pulp and paper mills in this province are standing idle for lack of orders. This does not affect the situation at all. Pulpwood is not a perishable commodity that has to be manufactured right away after being cut in case it should spoil. It will rot in good condition for years; and the matter of that, cutting might cease. The trouble has been that the high price paid for pulp wood of late has resulted in every farmer in the country who owns a decent wood lot proceeding to cut down every stick and turn it into money, with an utter disregard for future requirements.

Some sound advice on this matter has recently been given by two men who rank among the most eminent experts in the lumber industry of the present day. There is no more widely recognized authority than Dr. Howe, Dean of the Faculty of Forestry, Toronto University, who has always taken a sane, conservative view of conditions. He declares that Canada's pulpwood, under the present heavy cuts made upon it, cannot possibly last longer than 50 years. This may seem a long way to look ahead, but 50 years is a comparatively short time to look back over. Dr. Howe is strongly of the opinion that pulpwood, instead of becoming cheaper will constantly increase in value as the time goes on which supplies come from, and transportation problems become more acute.

Mr. Frank J. D. Barnum of Annapolis Royal, N. S., is another national watchman, calling vigorously for the protection of our pulp, paper and timberlands. In a recent article he states: "Within two years there will be little, if any wood going out of Canada, and I shall leave the reader to imagine what will happen when the annual supply of a million and a half cords is no longer available to the American mills." He asserts that Quebec has already been forced to notify its large limit-holders that they must reduce the cut on the Crown lands one-half, which will necessitate the purchasing by Canadian mills, of all free land wood, which has been going across the line. If they do not adopt this course, the Canadian mills will be prematurely "forced out of business."

Not only must greater conservation be exercised, but Mr. Barnum declares that he is willing to stake his reputation on the points raised.

Canadian spruce makes the finest pulp in the world. This tribute was paid the well-known Canadian conifer recently by Prof. McCarthy of Syracuse University, N. Y., who has been conducting a working plan survey on the pulpwood limits of a leading pulp and paper organization of the Dominion and Canadian pulpwood should all be turned into the finished product by Canadian mills. The only argument raised against such a restriction has been a plea put forth on behalf of the settler that he would be deprived of access to the market over the border. He would thus, it is said, be at the mercy of Canadian concerns and would not be able to realize the top notch price for his commodity. This contention is no longer valid, owing to the fact that competition among the 100 Canadian pulp and paper mills to sell their wood up to the highest market price.

Canada should sell up to the highest price she can get for her wood. The Telegraph after announcing that Mrs. Ralph Smith, who was elected at the head of the list in Vancouver, had been appointed Speaker of the B. C. Legislature, describes her as "one of the most aggressive members of the House." Does the Telegraph infer that she is to have the Speakership on this account? It would be one way to get rid of her alleged aggressiveness.

It has been charged that Canadians are lacking in national aggressiveness, public spirit and self preservation. It is not therefore time that the export of pulpwood from privately-owned holdings should cease, and a Federal Act to this end passed at the forthcoming session of Parliament?

"The reserves of pulpwood in Canada are disappearing altogether too rapidly. If the great pulp and paper industry is to continue in its upbuild and expansion and make of Canada the greatest pulp and paper country in the world, it is urgent that further restrictive measures be adopted in order that our future may be assured."

According to the Winnipeg Tribune, woman is "quite a dictator" because she "directs the consumption of 85 percent of the wealth of the average Anglo-Saxon nation." If official figures are correct, The Tribune goes on to say that eighty-five percent of the industry of such a nation busies itself with those things that minister directly or indirectly to the comfort, convenience, pleasure or taste of women.

Not only does industry devote the greater part of its energies to making the things woman herself uses, but also to the innumerable food and household articles the purchase of which helps man places almost exclusively in the hands of woman.

Man eats, but it is woman who directs what he shall eat. He has little to say in the matter. The wife goes to the grocery and, looking over the stock, determines what she shall eat that evening. It follows, therefore, that a manufacturer of food products is governed as to quality and style of his goods, by his desire to please her who, as far as he is concerned is his ultimate consumer.

A man goes to buy an automobile. He may prefer a certain car because of its engine. But, in the end, the machine he buys is the one selected by his wife on account of the lines of its exterior and the home-like comfort of its interior. Consequently, no small part of the business of an automobile designer is to turn out such machines as will delight the eye of her who is the supreme court in all issues relating to household purchases.

The furniture maker, the house builder, the textile weaver, are concerned endlessly with patterns, devices and designs pleasing to her. Woman proposes as well as she disposes, while man only pays the bills.

Woman, in fact, is the controlling factor in production, since she directs all but 15 percent of the consumption. It is much more simple to make a list of the industries in which woman has no influence than to call the roll of the innumerable industries that are fostered in part or in whole by her dictatorship in matters of style and taste.

Universal woman's suffrage is merely an extension of her authority to a field that woman's influence will improve, just as the material products of industry are constantly being improved to meet the progressing standards of good taste and quality as dictated by woman.

The death of Col. McLeod, M. P., removes from public life one of the most widely known men in the province. There is scarcely a man in the whole of New Brunswick who either did not personally know or had not heard of Harry McLeod. His public life may be said to have commenced with the Mayoralty of Fredericton in 1907. Elected with the whole of his ticket to the Legislature in the general elections of 1908, he became Solicitor General in the Hazen administration which went into power as a result of it, and later became Provincial Secretary, a position which he held until 1913, when on the appointment of the Hon. O. S. Crockett to the Supreme Court Bench, he went to Ottawa as member for York. On the outbreak of the war, he being then O. C. of the 71st (York) Regiment, took command of the 12th Battalion C. E. F. and went overseas with the First Contingent from Valcartier, remaining there till 1916. In the general election of 1917 he was again elected for York, which constituency now becomes vacant as the result of his death. He was prominent in the Masonic and Orange Orders, in both of which he attained to the highest offices. His genial bearing and general bonhomie made for him a host of friends, among whom the news of his untimely death will be received with the deepest regret.

The Telegraph after announcing that Mrs. Ralph Smith, who was elected at the head of the list in Vancouver, had been appointed Speaker of the B. C. Legislature, describes her as "one of the most aggressive members of the House." Does the Telegraph infer that she is to have the Speakership on this account? I SEE IN THE STANDARD

Mrs. Mary Ellen Smith, M. P., widow of the late Hon. Ralph Smith, is said to be the mother of the Legislature of British Columbia. If that honor goes to her, it will be the first time in Canada that a lady has held such a post. Women are members of city councils and boards of education in several cities of the Dominion—Toronto, for instance, has two lady "aldermen" and four school trustees—but the Parliament has not before been choosing them for post-folio or speakerhood.

Mrs. Smith is a brilliant orator and one of the most popular residents of the Pacific coast province, as was illustrated in the recent election when she secured the greatest majority of any candidate in the contest. For years she has been a leader in all women's societies and a frequent contributor to magazines.

Saw Two Kings Crowned.

She enjoys the unique distinction of having with her husband attended the coronation of two British monarchs. She was in London when the late King Edward and Queen Alexandra were crowned, as well as when the late King George and Queen Mary were crowned. Later they were presented to the two Kings.

It was in a by-election in January, 1918, that she carried Vancouver, by a majority of 3,600 votes, as an independent that she made her first appearance in the provincial arena. In the Legislature she was elected speaker, so much so that when she swept all opposition away in the recent fight the Cabinet realized that she must be regarded as a factor in the House and decided to offer either the Speakership or a portfolio.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

The Unemployed Problem.

Unemployed men in Toronto are said to refuse snow shovelling at 60 cents per hour. The men who are too proud to do such work ought to be too proud to accept free meal tickets.—Guelph Mercury.

A Determined Cuss.

"Through three-fourths of the population die of hunger and cold," says Trotsky, "the remainder will survive only by the grace of the world revolution." The true greatness of you! Trotsky's going to save Russia if it takes the last Russian.—Lansing State Journal.

Henry VIII's Style.

An agitator for the elimination of the word "obey" from the marriage service offers what she thinks ought to be a convincing argument. It was put there, she tells us, by Henry VIII, which was quite in keeping with his ideas about women.

Whether admitted that Henry was in a much better position to enforce the promise than the man of the modern world, however powerful he may be, the bridegroom who, when the bride hesitated over the word, told the parson never to mind as he would make her obey anyway, had the spirit of the much-married monarch.—Edmonton Journal.

Europeans and Others.

Canadians should not offend Hon. Wesley in Mr. Rowell's cheap suggestions to the effect that European diplomacy put 60,000 Canadians in soldiers' graves. In so far as diplomacy of the war in 1914, Franco was innocent of the responsibility for such diplomacy. FOR WOMEN

A MUSEMENTS

Women Awakening All Over World

Mrs. Ida Clyde Clarke, Writer
Studies Her Sisters in Many Countries.

LYDIA K. COMMANDER.
London, Jan. 7.—An American woman has won the heart of London, a slender, dainty woman, with the vivacious intelligence of a New York magazine editor combined with the feminine charm and soft intonations of the South. Mrs. Ida Clyde Clarke, author, lecturer, world traveler and contributing editor of "The Pictorial Review," brought to London not only an inspiring personality but a wonderful fund of information acquired in the past two years of constant travel.

Since the armistice Mrs. Clarke has visited forty of the states of the Union and twenty-two foreign countries, becoming intimately acquainted with the foremost women and women's organizations, and making close and careful study of the conditions affecting women and children. Her travels included the republics of South America and the principal countries of Europe. At the International Council of Women at Christchurch, where the women of twenty-eight countries met in conference, Mrs. Clarke was present as press representative of the National Council of Women of the United States.

Over the tea-table at the Victoria Hotel, Mrs. Clarke gave me brief, bright glimpses of her trip.

Power of the Future.

"The women of the world are the power of the future," she said. "Even in the most conservative countries they are awakening. In the whole continent of South America there is only one women's club, as we know the club women's club. Yet in every country I found women interested in all the leading movements of the day and eager to know of the great world movement among women."

Asked to say where women are most advanced, Mrs. Clarke replied: "American women have a wonderful degree of personal freedom; they are making the most determined and intelligent efforts to secure equitable laws; German women have the largest political representation; but, on the whole, Norwegian women seem to me to have achieved the greatest measure of justice and equity. Some of the laws of the various states are now to have the veto, all things are possible. The English are most earnest and thorough, though they have many binding old traditions to overcome. But the way of the women of Great Britain are attacking big questions in magnificent manner."

Germany Has Women M. P's.

"Germany is amazing. It is a new republic, with the shadow of absolutism still lingering over it. Yet it has already elected 100 women to the Reichstag and 100 more to the parliaments of the various states. England is still putting herself on her back over her one woman M. P. while Germany has quietly elected 137."

Norway has had woman suffrage longer than any other country, so we can discover its results. Scandinavian women are womanly. We have been told, long and often, that political rights would do us no good, and our femininity; but Norway plainly proves those forebodings to be groundless."

Jury of Women Found
Negro Guilty of Thefts

Anderson, S. C., Jan. 7.—A jury of four housewives and two single women and the first entirely feminine jury in the state took fifteen minutes yesterday in the District Court to find a negro defendant guilty of the theft of two kitchen chairs. He got a $10 fine.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked, get sluggish, clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly back aches and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches with stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

Mothers' Pensions To Be Increased

Ontario Now Spending $250,000 Per Year to Help in Homes.

Toronto, Jan. 7.—Mother's allowance in Ontario are to be based on a comfortable standard of living and the present flat rate, monthly payment will disappear, judging by the plans set on foot today. The cost of living is to be the basis for judgment as to how much widowed mothers with children shall be allowed. The law provides that an adequate allowance is to be made. Today 90 local boards throughout the province have received circulars from the commission, asking for detailed information of the cost of living for various sized families in each locality. The details asked for are cost of food, fuel, clothing, rent or taxes and upkeep, fuel and light, recreation, medical attention and education.

Big Cost for Province.

There are approximately 500 Ontario families already on mothers' pension allowances, making a total cost per month of about $200,000, or at the rate of nearly $250,000 a year. Rev. Peter Bryce, chairman of the committee, states that it will go up to $1,000,000 and an annual pay roll of approximately $400,000 a year.

CHECKS AND PLAIDS
FOR SPORTS SUITS

Scotch Cheviot Popular—
Cape Waistcoat and Inverness Shown for Motoring

Large checks and plaids and stripes in three-tone effects are considered especially good for suits as well-known makers of sports attire. The suits are inclined to be more fitted than those of last season, while in the top coats the collars are larger and the sleeves give a looser effect. In order to give the trim straight line, so much desired in skirts this season, and at the same time to permit of sufficient movement for sports, this house has designed a golf skirt with a pleat at either side of the skirt to button over with leather buttons on the pockets. The coat is made with broad shanks. The coat is made with broad shanks. The coat is made with broad shanks.

ASKING A FAVOR

It is not an easy thing to ask a favor. No one likes to. We do it only under stress.

When it is necessary to ask help of the purely gratuitous kind we plan our method of approach. It is a matter of importance. There is a certain amount of dread goes with the asking that makes our hearts beat faster. Obligations are going to follow in the wake—obligations that may be difficult to meet, perhaps.

We do not ask favors of any one whom we do not respect and care for—nor of any one who is not our equal. The indebtedness would be unbearable. Nor do we like to have the favor thrust upon us by those for whom we have little regard. We resent the obligations that follow them.

On the other hand, voluntary favors offered us out of purely kindly motive carry with them grateful acknowledgments that we do not forget.

There is no such thing as paying for a favor. We may do them in return—that is in one way of showing our appreciation, but that does not remove the sense of gratitude—the knowledge of the generous spirit of giving that went with the granting of what we asked. That will be with us to the end of time.

Some writers have said that to accept favors is to sell one's freedom. True, and it must be a rare and exceptional demand that will lead us to ask it, and then only from one whom we love and esteem.

To ask to grant favors to ask them. We feel not only unwillingness, but a sense of compulsion as being asked specially from these whom we care for, and it will even establish a foundation of interest for those whom we don't if they come to us asking help. We might grant the same feeling to others and know that they like to help too, but there's something that prevents.

Women Cannot Wear High Heels

Nebraska to Adopt Legislation
Limiting Heels on Shoes to One Inch.

Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 7.—A bill has been introduced in the State Legislature prohibiting the sale and manufacture of all heels for women's shoes more than an inch high. The bill is submitted by the State Osteopaths' Association and various women's clubs. Passage of the measure would radically change the sales of shoes throughout the state. Shoe men state that only ten per cent of the shoes sold in Nebraska are of the brogue, or one inch heel, wing-tip type. The great majority of heels worn are the so-called "military heel," which are one and five-eighths inches high.

Grand Manan

Grand Manan, Jan. 7.—The extensive operations of the lobster fishery at the beginning of the season have practically exhausted the near-shore lobster grounds for the present season. A number of fishermen have on this account moved their traps to a greater distance from the shore and are operating from three islands as a centre. Some fair catches are reported.

Had Bad Cough For Three Years.

The constant hacking, rattling, persistent cough that sticks to you in spite of everything you have done to get rid of it, is the kind that is dangerous.

The longer the cough sticks, the more serious menace it becomes to your health.

There is no remedy that will relieve coughs—coughs that won't let go—like Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. It has a healing and soothing action on the air passages, and at the same time acts as a stimulant of the respiratory organs, destroying the germs that produce serious lung complications.

CHEERFULNESS.

Thank God for the one who is cheerful in spite of life's troubles. I say: Who sings of a brighter tomorrow because of the clouds of today? His life is a beautiful sermon, and this is his reason for us: Meet trials with smiles, and they vanish. Face care with a song and they flee.

Took His Pants So Prisoner in Court Clad in Overcoat

For Last Two Weeks 'Breeds' Being Examined for Evidence in Christmas Crime.

Moncton, Jan. 7.—Having to go without trousers for two weeks and to appear in court in a similar condition was the unhappy fate of Albert Lonsdale, who appeared before Judge Lacombe this morning in the court, charged with appropriating ten thousand dollars worth of negotiable securities from the American Fund-ling Society on Christmas Day, on account of that portion of his wearing apparel being needed for evidence.

Were Overcoat Only

It is stated that those trousers have on them certain marks which are of the utmost importance in the case, so for this reason the prisoner was removed from the court immediately after his arrest and has been in the "pans" ever since. For modesty's sake the court provided the unfortunate man with an overcoat.

The case was postponed.

The Big Value in FLOUR for Bread, Cakes & Pastry

Good Times Will Return in the Spring

As day follows night, and flood-tide follows ebb, so inevitably must the existing business depression some time come to an end and the inflooding tides of prosperity begin to rise. But what the anxious business man asks just now is, "When will the tide turn, when will the dawn break, when will the buyer cease from striking and the wheels of industry again begin to revolve?" To these questions, after a careful search of the daily and financial press, THE LITERARY DIGEST, this week, is at least able to give an answer from men who should know whereof they speak. Herbert Hoover, E. H. Gary, J. Ogden Armour, Francis H. Sisson, B. C. Forbes, Guy Emerson, Charles M. Schwab, Roger W. Babson, and Governor Harding of the Federal Reserve Board, are some of the men whose opinions are mentioned.

This article is of more than usual interest and value to the American public and constitutes a survey of business conditions and prospects that should hearten every reader.

Manly Strength Self-Help Book Free

It matters not who, any man, young or elderly, needing more vital strength, who is not quite the man he should be, who feels himself weakened as a result of past practices and excesses, can, beyond the shadow of a doubt, hope for self-restoration of his lost or weakened powers if he is willing to make a fair, square effort along certain perfectly natural lines (of which he can easily learn), and will lead that sort of a decent existence which Nature demands that all of us SHALL lead, if we are to prove up to the normal standard of vigor and manly capacity, as we see it exemplified in the best men of the world today.

Just what I believe you yourself should do or should not do where more manly strength may be desired is told in a perfectly plain, common-sense, practical, every-day sort of way through the medium of a little book that I publish and am now sending free, sealed, by mail, to men all over the world, who write for it. This little compendium of self-help has, I hope, been of more lasting benefit to my fellow men than any similar publication of its kind before. Over one million copies have been distributed since my first announcement that they would be sent free of charge. Therefore, please use the coupon below, which entitles you to this wonderful little free book, a copy of which will go to you in a perfectly plain, sealed envelope by return mail. Remember there is absolutely nothing offered for sale in the whole booklet, excepting in that part which speaks of my little invention, the Sanden Vitalizer, and you are not expected to get one of those appliances unless you make up your mind it is what you want. The book is absolutely independent of all else, and is a free gift in every sense of the word. It carries with it no obligation on your part of any kind whatsoever. Please send your name and address. SANDEN, Author.

Real, sturdy, vigorous manhood never counted for more than it does today. If you are strong, vital, manly, the whole world appreciates you; if you are a weakling—well, it is a dark time, this age of ours, for the one who must stand aside. To my mind a vigorous, strong, manly man is one of the greatest inspirations in the world, because the very force of his character and manhood makes itself felt wherever he goes or wherever he may be. What he does he does well, and his reward is in proportion to the strength and sturdiness

REAL MANHOOD ALWAYS WINS of his manly energy and to the alertness of a brain which is fed by the vital energy of the man it belongs to.

It seems to me that any man, unless he is bowed down by extreme old age or by some consuming malady, may increase his physical and vital strength if he really WANTS to and is willing to make the right sort of a conscientious effort in the right direction and along right lines. We manufacture a little mechanical appliance called the Sanden VITALIZER (referred to above), and all about which it will pay you to learn, because some day you may want to use one.

This little Vitalizer is not expected to do its work unaided, but is meant to act as a powerful assistant to Nature and to the man who wants more vitality or vigor and is willing to do his part in regaining it. You simply buckle the Vitalizer comfortably on your body at night when you retire to bed. It starts its work at once. It sends a stream of air which it will pay you to learn, because some day you may want to use one.

SPECULATIVE ISSUES GAIN IN GOOD DAY

Wall Street's Most Active Session for Several Weeks Shows Substantial Advances.

SEASONED STOCK VERY QUIET YET

Steady Inquiry for United States Steel in Spite of Poor Report Coming Monday.

New York, Jan. 7.—The stock market today made numerous material additions to gains of the previous session, but the greater part of the activity and strength resided in issues of a speculative character, seasoned shares scoring comparatively small advances.

Sentiment among traders and the professional element continued to be influenced in large measure by the transaction now underway in commodities and industry. Lower commodity prices, it was argued, however, are being neutralized by an increase of buying power, due to an increase of unemployment.

Steels and Equipments
Transactions in the stocks were the heaviest of any day of the new year, but almost all of the turnover concentrated in steels and equipments, iron, oil, textiles and leather.

There was a steady inquiry for United States Steel at a net gain of 13 points, although forecasts of the Corporation's December unfilled tonnage, to be issued next Monday, indicate another severe shrinkage of bookings.

Final prices showed gains of one to six points for Crucible and Vanadium Steels, Baldwin Locomotive, Mexican Petroleum, American Woolen, International paper and rails, making only trivial changes either way.

Business Better Since New Year Credit Men Say

Optimistic Spirit Developing Among Wholesalers and Manufacturers.

Winnipeg, Jan. 7.—Business volume has been held throughout Canada during the first week of the New Year, but little below normal as compared with the same period in other years, states the weekly report of the Canadian Credit Men's Trust Association.

On the other hand there is a growing feeling of optimism to be noticed among manufacturers and wholesalers who are making plans for "business as usual." Retailers report that the public is beginning to buy those lines which have been especially dull during the past month or six weeks, such as women's wear, men's clothing and boots and shoes.

Collections Very Fair.
On the whole, collections may be said to have been very fair, a few houses reporting them below normal, while the majority now report them equal to last year.

Many wholesalers report travelers already on the road, while others are preparing to do so. Retailers are beginning to look around for new stocks.

A little more confidence by the general public is all that is needed to place business conditions in Canada on a much higher plane.

STRONG DEMANDS FOR CASH GRAIN; PREMIUMS DOWN

Greatly Increased Offerings at Winnipeg Appear When Premium Goes Lower.

Winnipeg, Man., Jan. 7.—The strong demand for cash stuff and the large premiums being offered, continue to feature the wheat market. Early in the session the premium was at nine cents, basis No. 1 Northern, in store, Pure William, but it eased off later to 7 1/2 cents.

These premiums had the effect of bringing out greatly increased offerings. Eastern Canada and United States millers were the principal buyers.

The undertone of the future market is very strong, and the trade, it is declared, is looking for the May crop to work upwards. Today after opening slightly higher, good selling was encountered, which caused the market to ease off sharply. Later prices worked back to around the opening. The close was unchanged.

Chicago, Jan. 7.—Wheat underwent a setback in price today owing more or less to estimates that the Argentine and Australian exportable surplus would total 261,000,000 bushels, instead of 228,000,000 bushels, according to earlier estimates. The market closed unsettled 1 3/4 to 2 3/4 net.

For about 100 passengers the very near future may make the trip from London to New York by airship in about 50 hours. LONDON TO N.Y. IN FIFTY-FIVE HOURS BY AIR

Giant Planes to Carry One Hundred Persons Are Planned.

FARE WOULD BE $300 PER TRIP

Would Make Weekly Trips Same as Passenger Steamers But Much Quicker.

By MAJOR W. J. BLAKE (Copyright, 1921, by Cross-Atlantic)

For about 100 passengers with 100 tons of cargo, the new type of airplane will be able to make the trip from London to New York by air in about 55 hours. This is one of the progressive ideas of Mr. Pratt, the inventor of the "airship," and goes into more detail of the cost of running the airship service than has any other man. An chief engineer of the airship department of Victoria, Mr. Pratt can speak with authority on the subject.

Would Carry 100 Passengers.

The idea for the future of a Cross-Atlantic airship service to have not less than three ships operating each being approximately of about 4,000,000 cu. ft. capacity. As the journey would occupy about 50 or 60 hours, each ship would make one round trip each week, carrying on each trip a maximum revenue load of about 24 tons. Mr. Pratt estimates that accommodation could be provided for 100 passengers, 100 tons of luggage and 30 pounds of food space. This would leave over 100 tons for light weight freight or mail. If the trip was made twice a week in each direction, all the first-class mail matter of England could be carried by airship.

Capital and Costs.

As to running costs, a capital of $2,000,000 would be required. This should provide three ships, costing $500,000 each, two airship sheds, two mooring towers, land, office, working capital and the usual accessories. The total running costs for each crossing are estimated at $2,250. The life of an airship is taken as four years, and its break-up value as $10,000. Allowing for a 10 per cent. dividend on capital and an average of 22 p. c. maximum load to be carried on each trip, Mr. Pratt comes to the conclusion after considering insurance, repairs, wages, and overhead charges that the fare per passenger would be $277 each way, and freight $875 per ton. Mails would be carried at the rate of four pence (eight cents) per ounce.

All Comforts and Conveniences.

It is generally admitted that airships will be used on these trans-oceanic services, and that the fares cannot be considered excessive, especially as the crossing would take less than half the time taken by steamer, we may confidently hope that passengers would not be confined to one seat throughout the journey.

First Authoritative Work.

"Commercial Airships" also contains interesting accounts of the early airships, the new machine that has been built, the Zeppelin which flew from Bulgaria to Central Africa during the war, and the flights of the R-34 and the R-35. General Maitland's log of the Atlantic crossing is added as an appendix, and Sir Trevor Dawson, who read a paper on airships at the recent Air Conference, contributes an excellent introduction. The book is well illustrated and is an authoritative work on the most important branch of commercial aviation.

HER EYES

A dusk enticed willow tree is very beautiful to me.

Such wonders, likewise, known to men As starlight in a mountain glen;

The wind among the ferns at dawn That wakes the robins and is gone;

The sun of summer on a lake Where little ripples flash and break;

The moon of winter on the low Unending hills of moodless snow;

And gardens at the fall of night; And fragile, puffy clouds of white;

And birds and flowers and light of day, And dusk which moons can take away;

The many things here left untold, As, butterflies and rainbow gold;

Yet what are these to one girl's eyes When they grow deep with Love's surprise?

—George Brandon Seal, in Philadelphia Bulletin.

Can Such Things Be?

With a wild shriek the train dashed through the country station without pausing.

"I say, porter," cried a startled passenger, waiting at the station, "isn't that the 4.15 to Newtown? Why didn't it stop here?"

The porter shook his head.

"It don't stop here now, sir," he explained. "The lady engine driver who quarrelled with our station mistress."

A Mere Begatelle.

Prosecuting Attorney—Have you ever been convicted of anything?

Witness—Yes, sir, once.

Prosecuting Attorney—All right, tell the jury what you were convicted of.

Witness—I was just convicted of venturing on myself in a grocery store.

MEN AND BUSINESS

(By Richard Spillane)

It is little short of grotesque that the Federal Reserve banks, which were not established for profit but for public service, should show occasional profits year after year.

Take the bank of the first district, that of New York, for example: in 1919-20 net earnings were 127 per cent. In 1920 they were 110 per cent.

There are twelve of these banks. They were organized to stabilize credit and keep it elastic. They pay no tax. The profits go, in small part, to the stockholders, banks and, in large part, to adding to surplus, and to the government for retirement of government bonds or for strengthening the gold reserve.

It is a debatable question whether the public would not fare better if these banks were operated on a business basis of profit, lower discount rates and with larger idea for mobility of money.

Certainly they set a bad example to the banking world today in the matter of profits.

Clerical Anecdotes

A Good Dance.

Some years ago the late Rev. Mr. Carey walked into the Y. M. C. A. building in St. John just before the meeting of the Evangelical Association began. His face was a picture of movement. He then said, "I have just had a remarkable compliment paid me. As I was walking over the square I saw a man watching my feet very closely. When I got up to him he touched his hat and said, 'You must have been a fine dancer when you were young.' Now what amused the doctor was that he had never danced. So the ministers concluded that it was not necessary to learn to dance in order to walk gracefully."

Something Wrong.

Dr. Carey used to tell us that when he began his ministry in St. John and was asked to take a service at the Provincial Asylum he thought that it was the custom to use the Anglican Prayer book. "Thus he did, selecting as much as he thought as necessary. At the close of one of the patients came up to him and asked him if he was Dr. Carey. To this he replied, then the patient asked, 'Are you not a Baptist Minister?' The Dr. replied that he was. Then said the patient, tapping his forehead with his fingers, 'There is something wrong here,' and he left the minister to think out whether he or the patient had manifested more sanity."

Husband (looking up from the paper which he had been reading): "I see Thompson's Shirt Store has been burned out."

Wife (slightly deaf): "Whose?"

Husband: "Thompson's Shirt Store."

Georgé Drew Hears Damaging Evidence

Witness Identifies Prisoner as Man He Saw With Children—Dr. Dunlop Testifies.

"I saw George Drew on the corner of Stanley street and City Road at about 4 o'clock on the afternoon of December 29. He was having two children on a frame. They were both little girls, whose ages ranged between 4 and 6 years. I would positively swear that the man I saw was Drew. I have known him to see him for the past four months."

Such was the evidence given by Howard Garnett, of No. 8 Cannon street, in the police court yesterday afternoon when the preliminary examination of George Drew, charged with raping and doing bodily harm to Evelyn and Pearl Northrup, was continued before Magistrate Ritchie.

Dr. Fred T. Dunlop and Howard Garnett were the only witnesses called. At the conclusion of the evidence of each, the magistrate asked Drew if he had any questions to ask, and each time he replied, "No, Your Honor, I haven't got anything to say yet."

Dr. Fred T. Dunlop, the first witness said that on Wednesday December 29 at about 5 p.m. he was summoned by phone to E. M. Northrup's residence 55 City Road. He left immediately, and on his arrival there examined the two Northrup children. Both were very nervous, crying and trembling at the time.

Examined Children On examining the elder of the two, who the mother said was about six years of age, he found she had been badly injured. Examination of the younger child showed evidence of bruising.

The doctor was of the opinion that both children needed hospital treatment and took them both there in his car. The mother of the children and Sergeant-Detective Powers accompanied him.

Later he went with the sergeant to Clyde street, off City Road. There they crossed the O. N. R. tracks and saw the recent marks of a sled which had been drawn across the tracks and which led directly to the steps of a railway colonist car.

On going into the car they found a seat similar to the one produced in court. The two adjoining seats had been drawn together to meet, and the window blinds were drawn down.

Sergeant Powers removed a seat from the car and put it in the police patrol. In reply to the magistrate, the doctor said the two children were still in bed at the hospital.

Howard Garnett, 8 Cannon street, said that he had first met the accused about three months ago. That on Wednesday, the 29th of December, at about four o'clock in the afternoon, while on his way to the Victoria Hotel, he saw the accused Drew on the opposite corner of City Road and Stanley street. The accused looked in his direction, but witness could not state whether he recognized him or not.

The accused was hauling two children on a frame at the time. They were both girls, and in the opinion of the witness, between four and six years of age. Drew went down City Road towards Wall street with the two children, but the witness did not notice where they went.

Garnett said that the frame produced in court was similar to the one seen by him. He would swear positively that it was Drew who was with the children.

Accused Remanded No further witnesses were called, and the accused was remanded. There was no one in the court room when the case was up, with the exception of the court and police officials.

Nothing in the accused's appearance or demeanor in court would indicate that he was the perpetrator of one of the most inhuman outrages ever recorded in the criminal history of St. John.

Read W. E. Ward's advt. on page 4 of this issue.

Fakir Wood Was Remanded

Criminal Who Claimed to Have Won V. C. Wants to Return to England.

Albert E. Wood, of Manchester, England, was charged with wearing a distinctive badge indicating services as the front to which he is not entitled, in the police court yesterday. The fake V. C. M. was not asked to make any plea but remanded to jail. A charge of obtaining money under false pretences by untruthful representations to city officials and citizens, whereby money was given him because of his plait of the old soldier broken down in his country's services and forgotten by the public, may also be preferred against him.

Representatives of the G. W. V. A. present in court said the society had no desire to press the charges against the accused, but would be satisfied to see him sent out of the country. Wood himself expressed a wish to return to his native England.

Holdup Cases. George McDonald held on suspicion of holding up Charles H. Johnson on Jan. 2, between one and two in the morning, and stealing about $70 from the King Cafe, pleaded not guilty but was sent up for trial.

Johnson stated that he was a clerk in the King Cafe on Prince William street, and about one o'clock on New Year's Eve the accused and another man entered, ordered something to eat and smoked for considerable time. Their bill came to $1.30; the other man paid the thirty cents and started to leave. When asked who would pay the rest the accused said he would. The first man then went to the door and looked around. The accused said he had $10 and asked if it could be changed. On being told it could, he put his hand in his pocket and drew a revolver, pointing at witness and said, "Hand me the money out of the till quick." When the request was refused the accused forced witness behind the counter, opened the till and took out $5 and $10 bills, and started to take out $2 bills, when the boss arrived in from the kitchen and saw him. The accused then fled.

William Hum, owner of the cafe, stated that on coming from the kitchen he saw the accused taking money from the till and when the accused saw him he ran.

Theft and Assault. Some evidence was taken in a case against Edward R. Jorcs, charged with stealing liquor from the C. P. R. sheds, West St. John. Policeman Drow, of the C. P. R., and Jules Binnette, C. P. O. S. headchecker, gave evidence and the case was postponed to next Wednesday H. H. McEwen, Jr., for the C. P. R.

A case against Arthur Stevens charged with assaulting Mrs. Julia Zed in her home, and also on suspicion of attempted theft, was postponed to today. Detective Biddesscombe said he had searched in the complainant's home for gin but failed to find any, although there was some in the fat below. W. M. Ryan for prosecution.

Other Cases. Five drunks pleaded guilty, and were remanded. All of them stated that they got their liquor from strangers. James Williams, chauffeur for Thos. Parks, pleaded guilty to driving his car on January 4 without a rear or front lights as the wires were out of order. Fined $10.

Max Lambert pleaded guilty to exceeding the speed limit and was fined $10. Daniel Fooks was arrested Thursday night by Officers Henry and Gray and held by the detective department on suspicion of stealing a pair of trousers valued at $14 from McDonald's tailor store on Princess street. A collection was taken in court for the Down and Out Fund, and the large attendance produced a result of $5.95.

VICTORIA RINK Skating and band this afternoon and evening. A shipment of milk is expected from Halifax this evening from the Scotia Pure Milk Co. From Halifax. The dairymen whoed the company yesterday to ship as much as they could, and as milk is cheap and plentiful in the Nova Scotia capital and surrounding districts, they are confident of receiving a fairly large supply.

It was announced last evening that while the Board of Health is unable to take any action until the supply is actually cut off, it should occur, a special meeting of the board will be called and arrangements will be made to procure milk and have it distributed as was done during the milk strike last June. At that time a ample supply of milk was secured by the board, who established a milk bureau under the supervision of the Victoria Order of Nurses and distributed it to all families with children or invalids at cost price.

FUNERAL NOTICE. The funeral of the late Captain Adams at Hampton, N. B., will take place tomorrow at the arrival of the afternoon express from St. John on Saturday, January 9th, not during the morning as previously stated. $10 Reward to anyone who can give information as to where a suitable furnished apartment could be obtained. Liquor Spilled On Strait Shore Road

Automobile Loaded With Liquor Crashes Into Telephone Pole.

It happened on the Straight Shore road. It is an ideal road for anything out of the ordinary to happen on. It all took place Thursday afternoon and as a result of the happening, some bootlegger of Fredericton is without a supply of liquor for his trade. A man arrived in the city by automobile from the Capital city Wednesday night for the purpose of securing a load of liquor, to take back to the "old home town." He was well entertained in the city on Wednesday night and when he awoke on Thursday morning he sought more entertainment. When he started for home in the afternoon he had stored away in his machine twelve cases of booze, and a quantity under his belt.

Smashes Into Pole. Telephone poles sometimes have a habit of getting in the way of automobiles, especially so if the pilot's vision is twisted by an over indulgence in the flowing bowl. The telephone pole was particularly in the automobile met on the road mentioned, and they came together like two old friends who hadn't met for "nigh on forty years."

The pole stood up bravely under the embrace, but the automobile toppled over and there was a scattering of choice brands of liquor over the highway. A crowd gathered and the liquid goods, that didn't go trickling down the bank from broken bottles, was eagerly salved upon and carried off by the thirsty crowd. The chauffeur was unharmed but a few more or less speechless and unable to make any objection.

Fredericton Losses. Fredericton lost an expected supply of wet goods, but a few parched throats along Straight Shore road were soled up. Thus ended the episode.

Office To Traveller Then To Manager

Worthy Rise of H. J. Rogers With Dunlop Co.—St. John Boy Is Being Congratulated

Starting in as an office boy with the Dunlop Tire and Rubber Goods Co., Ltd., H. J. Rogers, a St. John boy, has steadily advanced and made good with the company, and is deserving of the showers of congratulations he is receiving. Arthur Stevens, from the position of office boy, he was sent out on the road and proved very efficient. He took such an interest in the firm's business that by steady plugging he became one of the best informed rubber men in the business. The company was wise in their selection of this young, energetic representative. They placed him in the position as manager at Halifax, where he has been for the past two years.

Mr. Rogers has now been transferred to the St. John branch as manager, and his present executive position is ample proof of his ability and the faith the Dunlop Co. have in him. Starting in St. John as office boy and returning here as manager is something that Mr. Rogers has every reason to be proud of. His many friends wish him all kinds of success.
