The Premier's Stock [Still] Unexhaus[ted]

But the End is Belie[ved] Very Near.

The Quietest Day at Earnscliffe Since the Crisis Began.

Latest Bulletins Regarding Sir John's Condition.

The Patient Takes a Bad Turn Near Midnight.

The End at Hand.

OTTAWA, June 2.—This has been the quietest day at Earnscliffe since the crisis began. Miss MacPherson, of Kingston, a distant relative, arrived this evening. Sir Leonard and Lady Tilley also came up from New Brunswick. Mr. Dewdney and Mrs. Dewdney spent a great deal of their time at Earnscliffe. Mr. Geo. Johnson, Dominion statistican, sat up with Sir John all night. He says the Premier passed the best night yet and partook of more nourishment than he had done since the attack last Friday. Lord Stanley this morning received a cablegram from her Majesty in these words: "How is Sir John Macdonald to-day?" Signed V. R. I. "As a matter of fact," his Excellency added, "I send a message to her Majesty every day."

A BAD TURN.

At 7 o'clock the medical attendant noticed a change in his patient, and the 10 o'clock consultation resulted in the issue of the following alarming bulletin:

EARNSCLIFFE, 11:30 p.m.—The Premier passed a quiet day without notable change till 7 o'clock; since that time he has shown signs of great prostration, evidenced by perspiration and a labored respiration, numbering 30 per minute; pulse 130; weak and irregular: he took the usual nourishment at 9 p.m. (Signed) R. W. POWELL, M.D., J. A. GRANT, H. P. WRIGHT.

On receipt of this message the House of Commons, which was still in session, adjourned. The low respiration and excessively high pulse were most alarming symptoms, and it was generrlly agreed that they indicated an early end.

Great dissatisfaction has existed from the first over the meager character of the bulletin, and a prominent medical man voiced this opinion to-day in conversation with your correspondent. All the bulletins gave favorable symptoms, but yet declared he was dying.

AT MIDNIGHT.

Dr. Wright when seen at midnight after the final consultation for the day and the issue of the last bulletin, stated that the marvelous vital forces which have enabled the Premier to so long maintain his struggle for life are undergoing a process of slow but sure decay. He passed a far better day than yesterday, but there was no real indication of permanent improvement. His condition has from first to last confirmed the diagnosis taken on the day he was stricken with paralysis. The end may come at any time. The condition of the patient at midnight was simply this—no hope.

There has been none from the beginning, and this evening the evidences of decreasing vitality are more pronounced than they have yet been.

Sir James Grant was seen and asked: "Is the rumor true that Dr. Powell is not entirely at one with his colleagues in consultation, and entertains a more hopeful view of Sir John's condition than do yourself and Dr. Wright?" to which he answered: "There is no difference of opinion whatever between us in the Premier's case."

The general opinion among doctors is that death will take place from heart failure, which, it is admitted, may in the patient's condition take place at any moment, or that a fresh stroke may occur and prove fatal.

SOME OF HIS LAST WORDS.

On Friday last Senator Sullivan, who has been one of Sir John's most intimate friends, went down to Earnscliffe and was admitted to see the Premier, who was then apparently recovering from the slight attack of paralysis of Wednesday and was feeling much better than on the preceding day. Sir John greeted his old friend cordially, and in the course of conversation referred to his illness, ridiculing the idea of paralysis, which the physicians had informed him was the nature of the attack. To show the Senator that there was at all events no paralysis now, Sir John drew up his limbs and shot them out again, asking his visitor to note how he had full power over them. He complained of being asked to keep perfectly still, and keep his eyes closed, saying: "If I have to do that it will drive me insane." This will explain to some extent the difficulty, even the impossibility, of anyone prevailing on the aged leador to remain quiet during the critical days between the elections and last week. Dr. Sullivan congratulated him on feeling so much better and left him, shaking hands with him for what proved to be the last time.

IN ENGLAND.

A cablegram says Sir John Macdonald's illness divides with the baccarat scandal public attention. Mr. W. H. Smith, in the House of Commons, said: "Sir John Macdonald is a man who, however his public service may be viewed, has earned the respect of all who knew the services he has rendered the empire. There can be but one feeling of deep sorrow that a life so valuable seems about to end." Sir William Vernon Harcourt, Stavely Hill and Joseph Chamberlain joined the tribute to Sir John Macdonald. The House generally showed keen sympathy with Canada.

The Daily Chronicle devotes the first leader to Sir John Macdonald, and speaks highly of his services to the Empire. It says the choice of leader lies between Sir Chas. Tupper and Sir John Thompson. Sir Chas. Tupper is still in Vienna and gives no sign of an early return.

Tuesday's Bulletins.

OTTAWA, June 2—11 a.m.—Sir John's condition at this hour is unchanged. The physicians have issued the following bulletin as a result of their consultation and it concluded:

11 a.m.—We find Sir John resting quietly at the time of our visit, having recently partaken of light refreshment. The past night has been satisfactory. This morning, while we are gratified to find such an exhibition of vital strength as we see exemplified in him, yet we cannot alter our opinion as to the final results of his illness. R. W. POWELL, J. A. GRANT. H. P. WRIGHT."

1 p.m.—There is no change in Sir John's condition since our last bulletin at 12 o'clock this morning. R. W. POWELL, M. D.

EARNSCLIFFE, June 2, 2:40 p.m.—There is no change in Sir John's condition since morning.

To-Day's Bulletin.

DEATH MAY COME AT ANY MOMENT.

EARNSCLIFFE, June 3—2:15 p.m.—Sir John is sinking gradually. Perspiration of extreme weakness continues, and breathing is heavy and labored, and at intervals becomes stertorous. He takes no nourishment now, only champagne and apollinaris, and heart failure may come at any moment.

The Card Case.

Another Leaf from the London Scandal.

Continuation of the Baccarat Trial.

Sir William Gordon Cumming Tells His Story.

How the Game Was Played—The Prince of Wales Acted as Banker—An Unfortunate Document

LONDON, June 2.—Continuing his address to the court in the notorious faccarac case, Sir Edward Clarke commented on the fact that it was not until Sept. 10, 1890, the third day of baccarat-playing, that the slightest suspicion was breathed in regard to the plaintiff, when the latter gave Lord Coventry an absolute denial of the charges made against him, and later redenied these charges before the Prince of Wales and Gen. Owen Williams. Sir Edward then read the much-talked-of document which Sir William Gordon Cumming signed after the discovery of his alleged cheating at cards, and in which he undertook, as the price of his fellow-players' silence on the subject, never again to play cards. Sir Edward here said Sir William Gordon Cumming had made a great mistake in signing this document, but he explained that the plaintiff had allowed himself to be persuaded by his old friends, Gen. Owen Williams and Lord Coventry, hoping that in so doing he would avoid the scandal which his friends seemed to dread. Sir William Gordon Cumming, Gen. Owen Williams and Lord Coventry were all members of the turf club and they (Gen. Williams and Lord Coventry) would not have allowed the plaintiff to have remained a member of that club if they believed the charges brought against him. Mr. Clarke concluded by making a brilliant and passionate appeal to the jury on behalf of his client, who, he claimed, was plainly the victim of circumstances and of a false desire to avoid a scandal which would implicate his hosts at Trambycroft and his old friends who played baccarat with him there.

Sir William Gordon Cumming was called to the witness box and questioned by his counsel. The banonet detailed his career, and proceeded to give his version of the affair. The plaintiff said the Prince of Wales acted as banker upon the occasion referred to, and that Gen. Williams was the croupier. His (plaintiff's) attention was not called on the first night, Sept. 8, to the complaint made against him. On the following evening, when dressing for dinner, Lord Coventry and Gen. Williams came to him in his bedroom at Tranby Croft, and the former said: "Cumming, something very disagreeable has occurred; some people staying here have objected to your manner of playing baccarat." To this Cumming replied: "My God! what do you mean?" Lord Coventry, the plaintiff said, then repeated his remarks, adding that people said that he (Sir William Gordon-Cumming) had, while playing baccarat the previous evening, resorted to foul playing. The plaintiff said that he had replied this was a foul, abominable charge and a deliberate falsehood, adding, addressing Lord Coventry and Gen. Williams: "What am I to do? You two are my old friends. For goodness sake say what is to be done." Plaintiff said that after dinner, at the suggestion of Lord Coventry and Gen. Williams he (the plaintiff) had an interview with the Prince of Wales, to whom he had repudiated the charge brought against him. and said:

"Your royal Highness will see what a terrible thing this is for me—I, who have been attempting for twenty years to lead the life of an officer and gentleman." To this, according to the plaintiff, the Prince of Wales replied: "What can you do? There are five accusers." Sir William Gordon Cumming said that he answered: "My first impulse is to publicly insult my accusers on the racecourse to-morrow." To this the Prince of Wales, the plaintiff testified, replied: "What is the use of that? There are five people against you." Continuing, Sir William said that half an hour after his interview with the Prince of Wales he was summoned to another room, where he found Lord Coventry and Gen. Williams, who told him that the only way to avoid a "horrible scandal" was to sign the document which had already been produced and read in court by Sir Edward Clarke. The plaintiff added: "I said, 'Why, this is tantamount to an admission of guilt.' But I was eventually persuaded to sign the document, believing that I could trust my honor to Gen. Williams and Lord Coventry, whom I regarded as being true and intimate friends."

Sir William further testified that on the second night of the baccarat games at Tranby Croft, on Sept. 5, 1890, the Prince of Wales was banker and that Mr. Arthur Stanley Wilson won five "coups" running, which Sir William Gordon Cumming thought was very good "for a novice." "At the end of the game," the plaintiff continued, "the Prince of Wales laughingly said: 'Cumming, how came you to win so much?'—referring to the fact that I had won £225 in two nights' play. To this I replied: 'Well, sir, I could not help winning with such luck,' showing the prince a card on which I kept marked, under the headings of 'banker' and 'player,' the exact number of times which the banker or player had won during the evening's play." The baronet concluded his testimony with a solemn and impressive denial that he ever cheated at cards at Tranby Croft or anywhere else.

The cross-examination of the plaintiff was then commenced by Sir Charles Russell. Plaintiff said he had no reason to suspect malice upon the part of any of the defendants. Sir Charles glanced at a paper, and turning towards the plaintiff continued: "And does this express your opinion?" (reading) "the worst of it is that I feel that they are acting perfectly conscientiously in the matter and they believed that they did see me resort to foul play."

"Pardon me," cried Sir William quickly, "are you reading from any letter of mine?"

Sir Charles Russell replied: "Yes; does it express your feelings?"

"Yes," replied the plaintiff sharply.

Then Sir William, under cross-examination, explained at length several points in regard to baccarat playing. Sir Charles Russell asked the plaintiff a number of questions bearing upon various points in the case and sought to obtain an admission that the baronet increased his stakes when he won, the questions showing that plaintiff would be charged with so doing after seeing his neighbors' cards. Sir William said that Lord Edward Somerset and and Mrs. Coventry increased their stakes, and they also kept counters in their hands as well as on the table. Plaintiff admitted that on the second night of the baccarat game at Tranby Croft the Prince of Wales said: "I wish that people would put their stakes where they could be seen," but the plaintiff added that he did not think that this remark applied to him more than to any one else. The baronet also admitted that he kept a number of counters in his pocket. He did not ask to be confronted with his accusers. It was folly on his part, he admitted, but he did many foolish things that evening. When a man was in his position, he added, he was not responsible for his actions. When he had a pistol presented at him in the form of this most horrible charge he lost his head. He admitted that in 24 hours after reading this document he received a letter from Lord Coventry and Gen. Williams, saying that there was no possibility of doing otherwise than to believe him guilty, as there were five people against one. He (Sir William Gordon Cumming) signed the document in question because his friends advised him that he had no chance to prove his innocence, as there were five against him, and in order to avoid a scandal which would necessarily involve the Prince of Wales.

Sir Charles Russell then read a letter which Sir William Gordon Cumming had handed to Gen. Williams before leaving Tranby Croft, in which the baronet said he hoped that Gen. Williams would tell the Prince of Wales that he (Sir William) had been entirely guided by the advice given him by the prince, Lord Coventry and Gen. Williams (though he denied the allegations made against him), as it was essential to avoid a scandal. In this letter Sir William also said that he should never touch another card, and expressed the wish that his winnings should be given to some hospital.

Answering another question put to him by Sir Charles Russell, the plaintiff said he had received a memorandum signed by the Prince of Wales and by Lord Coventry and Gen. Williams saying that the signers of the memorandum did not like to be unnecessarily hard, but he (Sir William) must clearly understand that in the face of the overwhelming evidence presented it was useless to attempt to deny the accusation against him and that, so long as he complied with the conditions set forth in the document he (the plaintiff) had signed silence would be maintained.

The Prince of Wales was present throughout the proceedings.

LONDON, June 2.—The second day of the baccarat trial commenced this morning at 11 o'clock. The rush for admittance to the court room was greater than on Monday, for everybody looked forward to being able to see the Prince of Wales on the stand. The Prince arrived soon after the opening. Plaintiff said he took the present legal proceedings because the baccarat scandal had become a public matter of conversation and comment.

After Sir William Gordon Cumming had finished his testimony the Prince of Wales entered the witness box. He testified to his acquaintanceship with plaintiff. He himself saw nothing suspicious at Tranby Croft. Lord Coventry informed him of the cheating reports.

The dead body of a man, supposed to be Prentice Mulford, was found in a canoe at New York. In the canoe were a complete outfit for camping. Last June Prentice Mulford assumed the editorsnip of "The White Cross Library," a monthly magazine. On Monday he announced that he was about to spend a month or two in his canoe cruising about New York Bay, and gradually working his way along Long Island Sound to Sag Harbor, his birthplace.

French Interference.

LONDON, June 2.—Sir James Fergusson, in the House of Commons, said a message had been received from the Governor of Newfoundland, stating that a French officer had warned the inhabitants near St. Pierre Bay, Newfoundland, not to sell bait to the United States fishermen under penalty of seizure of their nets and boats. This, said Sir James, does not appear to be a specific infraction of the treaty of 1818 with the United States, which only secures United States citizens the right to fish in certain parts of the coast, but it constitutes interference with the rights of British subjects, and is an assumption of jurisdiction inconsistent with the sovereign rights of the British Crown. The Government has brought the matter to the attention of the French Government.

The Tarte - McGreevy Case Goes On.

Sir Hector Not Present—Mysterious Disappearance of One Witness—Another Has a Very Bad Memory—But Damaging Testimony is Not Scarce.

[Special to ADVERTISER.]

OTTAWA, June 2.—The Tarte-McGreevy investigation went on this morning in the Railway Committee room, oblivious of the bulletins from Earnscliffe. Sir Hector Langevin was not present, but Sir John Thompson was on hand looking after the interests of the Government.

Martin P. Connolly, the book-keeper of the famous firm, did not answer when called, and it turned out that since May 26 he had been suddenly and mysteriously dismissed from the employ of the firm, and could not now be found.

Michael Connolly was put in the box, but was most intensely ignorant of the whole transaction. He did not know when or why the bookkeeper was dismissed. Did not know his salary nor where he is now. He contradicted himself as to the time when he heard of the dismissal—first putting it in this morning and then on Saturday. He subsequently explained that the first statement was a mistake. He could not even say within $100,000 what the Kingston graving dock contract was worth.

Nicholas K. Connolly was next called and admitted that Martin P. Connolly had been dismissed by him. He knew nothing of where he went. He admitted indorsing a $5,000 note drawn by the firm in favor of individual members of the firm, and thought other members indorsed similar notes. These notes were subsequently paid and would be in the office at Quebec if not destroyed.

There was a complaint that the witness was not referring to any particular notes and in spite of a vigorous examination this point was not made very clear. Mr Tarte took the witness and made him admit that those notes, totaling $25,000 were made and paid in connection with the Crosswall contract. He did not know whether these notes were ever entered in the books of the firm. To Mr. Curran he positively denied that there was ever any such transaction carried out as the "trap door" incident described by Mr. Murphy; not a dollar to his knowledge had ever been paid to Hon. Thos. McGreevy by the firm for his influence.

Mr. Tarte said that Martin P. Connolly was a most material witness, and a discussion arose as to the best means of reaching this absent witness. Finally on motion of Mr. Edgar the chairman was authorized to use private detectives to find Martin P. Connolly.

A receipt of the telegraph company was read showing that Martin P. Connolly signed himself for Secretary Todd's telegram summoning him to appear before this committee.

TORONTO TOPICS.

TORONTO, June 2.—The street car traffic for the past week netted $16,402.

The body of John Taylor, 90 years of age, was found yesterday afternoon in a bush belonging to Archibald Herring, near Little York. Lying beside the body was a two-ounce bottle containing a small quantity of laudanum, from which it is concluded that the old man committed suicide. An inquest was not deemed necessary.

Geo. Gooderham's legal representatives have addressed a letter to the Bishop of Toronto with a view to arranging the difficulty with St. Augustine's Anglican Church, which has been seized under a mortgage for $20,000, held by Mr. Gooderham. The letter offers to capitalize the principal and interest due upon the mortgage, reduce the rate to 5 per cent., and possibly reduce the interest now due if the congregation will give satisfactory bonds and select another pastor.

There has not been a lumber cargo in port in Toronto this summer, and dock laborers who largely depended on such cargoes for employment are suffering from lack of employment. More coal and stone is being imported this year than ever before. Little grain is being exported, as nearly everything was sent off before the McKinley Bill went into operation.

IN ASHES.

NEW YORK, June 2.—Fire broke out early this morning in the four-story building, 105 East 14th street, adjoining Steinway Hall. Kraemer & Co., manufacturers of musical instruments, occupy the structure. Wm. Steinway is interested in the firm. The ground floor and basement were wrecked. Loss $60,000.

The Sting Within.

It is said there is a rankling thorn in every heart, and yet that none would exchange their own for that of another. Be that as it may, the sting arising from the heart of a corn is real enough, and in this land of tight boots a very common complaint also. Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor is a never-failing remedy for this kind of heartache, as you can easily prove if afflicted. Cheap, sure, painless. Try the genuine and use no other.

Elsewhere in this issue we republish an article from the Hamilton Times relating to the wonderful cure of a gentleman in that city, who had been pronounced by physicians incurable, and who had been paid the $1,000 total disability insurance granted members of the Royal Templars. The well known standing of the Times is a guarantee as to the entire reliability of the statements contained in the article.

Banks and Business.

MONTREAL, June 2.—The chief features of the Bank of Montreal general meeting yesterday were the addresses of the president, Sir Donald Smith, and of Mr. Clouston, the general manager. Sir Donald Smith, in reviewing the work of the year, said that although the statement showed that the net profits were not as large as former years the directors felt assured that the earning power of the bank was such that no apprehension need be feared for the future. The earnings had been entirely satisfactory, and had it not been that for exceptional losses impossible to control the directors would have been able to make an excellent showing. Referring to the effects of the McKinley Act, the president said that the outcome of business throughout the country had not been good, but there were indications that Canada would find other markets and go on progressing.

General Manager Clouston explained that the recent losses were due to the decline in the bank's securities on account of the Baring trouble. Dwelling on the business situation, he expressed the opinion that the commercial community was in no position to stand a succession of bad years. There were too many people in business with insufficient capital, and there was the greatest necessity for prudence. Business for some time had been conducted with little profit, and the losses had been above the average.

In consequence of the financial situation in Buenos Ayres the people have lost all confidence in the banks, and to-day (Tuesday) there was a general run on those institutions.

Regular features

of every "wash day" are clothes torn, twisted and rubbed out of shape; and an aching back. You can't have any of these if you use Pearline. It cleans the house or hands, as well as it washes clothes. It injures nothing except dirt. Your heart will be heavy 'till you get it; your labor will be light when you have it.

Beware Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, and if your grocer sends you something in place of Pearline, do the honest thing—send it back. 222 JAMES PYLE, N.Y.

Three Years Free

The Coming School of Medicine.

The Histogenetic System.

THIS SYSTEM IS COMPLETE, having different medicines for all the different diseases. The theory is entirely different from that of the old schools. The medicines are perfectly pure, containing nothing of a poisonous nature whatever, and are quite tasteless. For three years these medicines have been given away free and thoroughly tested in the most hopeless cases before being placed on the market. The result has exceeded the most sanguine expectations. Hundreds of cases supposed to be incurable have been cured, and abundance of proof can be produced to convince the most skeptical that Histogenetic Medicines have cured and are curing to-day DISEASES at a later stage than any other system of medicine in the world. In ACUTE cases the medicines act like magic. Chronic troubles require a longer time, generally from one to three months, according to the nature of the complaint. In FEMALE IRREGULARITIES, WOMB TROUBLES, etc., the medicines have been especially successful. Private EXAMINATIONS in these troubles are almost, if not quite, absolutely unnecessary. Call or send for one of our free books explaining the system. They should be in every house in the land.

RHEUMATISM and SCIATICA

LONDON, April 26, 1891.

I am happy to acknowledge, and now testify, to the efficacy of your medicines in curing Rheumatism. I have suffered with this painful disease in my shoulders, knees and hips for twenty-five years, also with sciatica for some time. I decided to try Histogenetic Medicines as a last resort, as nothing ever seemed to give me any permanent relief. The first week's medicine gave me relief, and in two weeks the sciatica disappeared and has not returned. I took the medicines for six weeks, and am cured of the rheumatism. I feel better in every way. I am sixty years of age, and feel quite smart and active. I can cheerfully recommend these medicines to the public, and will be glad to tell any sufferer about my case. It is now nearly two months since I ceased taking the medicines, and the effect is permanent.

REASONS:::

Why some Dealers Decry Domestic Manufacture.

ABOUT CIGARS.

THE majority of cigars imported into Canada are made up under different brands to the ones by which the factories are identified.

WHY? So as to permit of large profits, and compel smokers to buy at the same establishment as the majority of retailers, who handle quantities, have cigars packed under their own brands, so that they control the sale of them.

THEREBY enabling them to sell inferior goods at prices inconsistent with those asked for fine grades manufactured by recognized factories of known reputation.

SIZES denote quality in all first-class Havana factories, therefore it behooves smokers to familiarize themselves with the different sizes made by the several factories whose goods they purchase.

THE majority of sizes, as offered to the Canadian public, are not standard ones, but are made and packed to imitate them.

NOTE the difference between a Reina Victoria size in the "Upmann," or any other first-class Havana brand and the same mark in the majority of brands that are being offered as fine goods.

FINE GOODS. It is absurd to imagine that Cigars of recognized "Vuelto Abajo" factories could be sold at prices quoted by some dealers.

VUELTO ABAJO The district of Vuelto Abajo is recognized by all tobacco dealers to be the finest in the Island of Cuba and no other tobacco is equal in quality, or commands as high a price on the market.

$1,000 00 We will forfeit the sum of one thousand dollars, to be distributed amongst the charitable institutions of this city (and every other city, where this advertisement appears), if our statement that (5) seven-eighths of imported cigars brought into Canada are not of "Vuelto Abajo" tobacco can be disproved.

WE WILL forfeit a like sum for the same purpose, if our "La Cadena" brand of clear Havana Cigars is not manufactured exclusively of Vuelto Abajo Tobacco

WESTERN ONTARIO.

EL GIN.

James O'Donahue, G. T. R. conductor of Detroit, and Miss Julia McVey, daughter of John McVey, Yarmouth, were united in marriage at the Church of the Holy Angels in St. Thomas by Rev. Father Flannery. The marriage recalls the mysterious disappearance of the bride's sister, Maggie McVey, thirteen years ago. On Nov. 6, 1878, Maggie McVey, attired in her ordinary clothes, started about dusk to drive home the cows from the field, as was her custom, and has never been heard of since. Detectives worked on the case for months, large rewards were offered, every foot of the farm, adjacent fields, woods and creek were searched, but not the slightest clue has been obtained.

E. Boughner, St. Thomas, while jumping from the morning train Saturday, fell and dislocated his left knee joint. It is feared the leg will have to be amputated.

His reputation being established as a buzzer of giddy females, he was the other day himself buzzed by a lady with a child, who had just arrived from St. Marys. She was his wife, whom he had not contributed to support for two years, allowing her to earn her living by sewing. He denied her at first, and spoke of her as "an old acquaintance from Detroit." But her marriage certificate confirmed her story, and he was compelled to promise to contribute a weekly sum to aid her. She then returned to St. Marys.

Wun Lung.

This is the queer name of a Chinese laundryman in Hartford, but he has probably two lungs, like most of us. Some crying babies seem to have a dozen. Lungs should be sound, or the voice will have a weakly sound. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes strong lungs, drives the cough away, generates good blood, tones the nerves, builds up the human wreck and makes "another man" of him. Night-sweats, blood-spitting, short breath, bronchitis, asthma, and all alarming forerunners of Consumption, are positively cured by this unapproachable remedy. If taken in time, Consumption itself can be baffled.

Macbean Bros. will be open Wednesday morning. Please reserve your orders. 56-k bw

TAKE NOTICE THAT THE MUNICIPAL Council of the corporation of the city of London intends to pave with cedar blocks Dundas street from the east side of Waterloo street to Queen's Park, a point distant about 200 feet east of the easterly limit of Ontario, and to assess the final cost thereof upon the property abutting thereon and to be benefitted thereby, and that a statement showing the lands liable to pay the said assessment and the names of the owners thereof, as far as can be ascertained from the last revised assessment roll, is now filed in the office of the clerk of the municipality, and is open for inspection during office hours. The estimated cost of the work is $19,063, of which $6,554 33 is to be provided out of the general funds of the municipality. A court of revision will be held on at the City Clerk's office, for the purpose of hearing complaints against the proposed assessment or accuracy of the frontage measurements, or any other complaints which persons interested may desire to make, and which is by law cognizable by the court.

Dated at London, this 2nd day of June, 1891.

THE CAR SHOPS FOR LONDON

The proposition of the Grand Trunk Railway Company to build their car shops in this city, laid before the aldermen last night, is the most important subject that has claimed the attention of the citizens of London for years.

It has been known for some time past that negotiations were in progress, but not until last Saturday was the draft agreement arrived at. Under it, for a bonus of $100,000 from the city, payable as the work proceeds, the Grand Trunk Company stipulates to build the shops for the construction and repair of all the cars necessary for its entire system of railways west of Toronto. On the buildings must be spent not only the $100,000 voted, but $50,000 additional of the company's money. The company undertakes to employ 500 men continuously at work under conditions set forth in the agreement. If the shops are moved or the agreement is broken by the company the bonus must be refunded.

The Council last night considered the draft agreement arrived at by the city solicitor, the Mayor and Ald. Ivey with the company's representatives, and indorsed its provisions with a few trifling amendments, at which it is not probable that the railway company will cavil. One amendment is important; it stipulates that if the shops are burned down they must be rebuilt within a reasonable time.

At an early date, as soon as the agreement has been drawn up in legal form, it will be formally passed by the Council and a bylaw founded on its provisions submitted to the taxpayers. That it will pass by a substantial majority there is little doubt. It is no small matter to have 500 workmen and their families added to the population of the city, sharing in the sustenance of its business interests and paying their full quota of taxes. The establishment of the car works here means the addition to our population of probably 2,000 persons. At a time when, through one cause or another, business is dull and so many of the industrial establishments are either shut up or working short time, something must be done to aid in bringing about a change.

London occupies a splendid position for the establishment of the G. T. R. shops, and though other cities have been bidding for the works the company prefers London, all things being equal. The bonus of $100,000 will bring the desired results. It is for the ratepayers to say whether or not it shall be granted. The ADVERTISER is prepared to support the bargain brought forward by the aldermen. Though $100,000 seems a large sum, the interest on that investment, at the rate which we hope to obtain when the debt is refunded, will be but $5,000 a year, and the sum, with a very small additional amount as sinking fund to wipe out the principal, is all that the city will have to pay. Under the rearrangement of our civic indebtedness we will certainly save from $35,000 to $40,000 a year on interest, as compared with our present expenditure for that purpose. Thus it would be easy to pay the car shops bonus out of this saving, and still have that reduction in the general tax rate which we all desire. There is the further probability that, in the new bargain regarding the London and Port Stanley Railway, which the Grand Trunk authorities are anxious to arrange for, we will be able to make somewhat better terms than those now prevailing, and here again a saving may be expected. Thus the taxpayers can rest assured that the car shops bonus can be paid without adding to the taxes now collected, while the prospects are that the change in the rate of interest paid by the corporation, to be arranged for in the near future, will enable the aldermen to effect some reduction in the tax rate.

FIVE divisions have now taken place in Parliament. In the first division the Government had a majority of 27; in the second 27; in the third it was defeated; in the fourth its majority was 18, and last night 14. The squeeze becomes closer as the session advances.

A NEW MOVE.

Sir Hector Langevin wants Parliament to adjourn for several months. The Liberals can never consent to an arrangement of that sort. Not till the McGreevy-Langevin scandal is probed to the bottom and disposed of by Parliament would the Governor-General be justified in granting a prorogation. It would be too apparent an attempt to gain time, and afford too many opportunities to defeat the ends of justice that the investigation now in progress is calculated to facilitate.

HIS FIRST TRIUMPHS.

A legal gentleman who spent his student years in the office of Sir John A. Macdonald at Kingston, asserts that the biographers of the statesman are all wrong when they say that he made his first big strike at the bar as counsel for Von Shultz, the alien charged with fomenting the rebellion of 1837-9. Our informant maintains that Von Shultz was among the prisoners who were tried by court martial, they being aliens and not answerable to the charge of treason to this country. Disposed of in this way, Von Shultz was not entitled to counsel. The case in which young Macdonald made the brilliant defense that first made him famous as a barrister was either a charge of criminal assault on a woman or murder. The prisoner's name was Brass, and Macdonald defended him with great ability, but he was found guilty and hanged. Another case in which he displayed splendid ability as an advocate was the suit of Bray vs. Sandow, an action for false imprisonment. The plaintiff was the father of Dr. Bray, of Chatham, and the defendant commodore of the lakes. This suit he won, notwithstanding that the] experienced Robert Baldwin, Attorney-General for the West, was the opposing counsel.

CANADIANS BOYCOTTED.

A correspondent of the new London paper Emigration complains that in the High Commissioner's office at London but one man (Mr. Colmer) has resided in Canada, and he is not a native-born Canadian. He says the public would be better served if the offices were filled with native Canadians, and "inquiring emigrants would then be able to get practical and truthful information respecting the resources of the country without resorting to the reading matter and maps only." This is a serious allegation. Some one in Parliament should take steps to compel the application of a remedy. The civil service at Ottawa has been made the receptacle for many old world favorites of the present Cabinet, to the exclusion of native Canadians. It is not surprising that the native Canadian are slimly represented in the London offices of our Government.

WHAT THE "ADVERTISER" THINKS ABOUT IT.

THE Hamilton church troubles have been taken into the police court. "Behold how good a thing it is," etc.

THE car shops construction and the releasing of the London and Port Stanley Railway have been kept separate. That is right.

‡‡‡

THERE are 97,535 insane persons in United States lunatic asylums. How many crazy people are at large the census enumerators were wise enough not to attempt to ascertain.

‡‡‡

IN Cataraqui Cemetery, Kingston, lie the remains of Sir John Macdonald's first wife and infant child, as well as that of his sister's. By their side, no doubt, he will be laid.

‡‡‡

GLADSTONE'S star is on the ascendant. Yesterday in the election which took place to fill the vacancy in the fine old Radical town of Paisley the Liberal majority was advanced from 566 to 1,338.

‡‡‡

A NEW YORK lady has kept a record of the accounts of wife murders by drunken husbands published in the United States daily papers since Jan 1, 1889. The aggregate number is 2,004. It is a terrible record.

‡‡‡

THE City Council has agreed to give the Grand Trunk Railway a fixed assessment of $400,000 for a term of years. The principle has its objections, but inasmuch as other large employers of labor in the city have been granted fixed assessments, it is only fair that the Grand Trunk should be placed on the same footing.

‡‡‡

THE Legislature in Maine has enacted a law which requires all public school teachers to devote some time each week to teaching kindness to animals. This is an excellent idea. If we are not mistaken, not a few teachers in this Province, without instructions from the department, strive to make their pupils humane in disposition. A kind regard for the brute creation will not make the rising creation any less manly or womanly.

‡‡‡

BUFFALO has had a complete experience with asphalt pavement, and this is the verdict of the Express about it: "Good asphalt pavement can be laid. When the work is done in a proper manner, asphalt makes a sufficiently good pavement for most thoroughfares. But the fact is becoming evident that poor asphalt is the most worthless and expensive pavement which can be used. There has been too little attention paid to the quality of the work done in Buffalo." This is a correct estimate of asphalt, whether it be used for pavement or sidewalks. Bad asphalt is indeed very bad asphalt and most unprofitable.

‡‡‡

THE present "unity" of the Conservative conglomeration in Parliament was exemplified in the set-to between Minister Dewdney and Mr. N. F. Davin, the poet-patriot of Regina, last night. Mr. Davin called his leader a "green grocer statesman," charged him with having an "avaricious pocket," with being influenced by "petty malices" and with "fobbing" from the settlers. When Sir John was in the House he kept down these warring elements. Now that he is no longer there the hostilities begin. The coming collapse was foreshadow by the reduction of the majority for the Government to fourteen. It is now said that the Northwest members have met and unanimously decided that Dewdney must be removed from the control of the Interior Department. Dewdney only obtained the position by back-stairs influence.

LITERATURE OF TO-DAY

The Quarterly Register of Current History. (Evening News Association, Detroit, Mich.) A new periodical, aiming to give a systematic and accurate record of the world's doings. Every department of news receives attention, and a clear idea of the world's work and progress is given.

Harper's Magazine. (New York: Harper & Bros.) The first part of "Peter Ibbitson," a novel by George Du Maurier, appears in the June number, with fourteen illustrations by the author. The literary touch, like the artistic one, is light and bright. "Dear Paris!" he exclaims, "It is something to have roamed over it as a small boy—a small English boy (that is a small boy unattended by his mother or his nurse), curious, inquisitive and indefatigable; full of imagination, all his senses keen with a keenness that belongs to the morning of life; the sight of a hawk, the hearing of a bat, almost the scent of a hound." In the Editor's Study Mr. Howells gives such earnest praise to J. R. Lowell as will warm the hearts of the great humorist's admirers. "If the ingredients had been less kindly mixed in him," he says, "the world might have had another humorist like Swift or like Heine; that is, if there had been less heart and less conscience in him. But as there was so much heart and so much conscience we had Lowell."

The Arena. (Arena Publishing Company, Boston.) The paper of chief value in the June number is "Society's Exiles," in which, in simple, unexaggerated language and without the remotest intention of writing for effect, the wretched homes and lives of some of the very poor which have come under the writer's notice are briefly described. Prof. Buchanan's article on "Revolutionary Measures for Neglected Crimes" is a bold treatment of the problem of poverty and wealth. The sinfulness of luxury and ostentation are chiefly dwelt upon, the conclusion reached being that no man is fit to be entrusted with any more than he needs for his own comfortable existence. Camilla Flamarion has a striking essay on "The Unknown," in which every phase of physical phenomena is sifted in a severely scientific manner. Religious literature is represented by "Christianity and Evolution" and "Spencer's Doctrine of Inconceivability." The latter article is an admirable exposure of the fallacies in Spencer's argument by which religion is relegated into the "Unknowable."

That Tired Feeling

That extreme tired feeling which is so distressing and often so unaccountable in the spring months, is entirely overcome by Hood's Sarsaparilla, which tones the whole body, purifies the blood, cures scrofula and all humors, cures dyspepsia, creates an appetite, rouses the torpid liver, braces up the nerves, and clears the mind. We solicit a comparison of Hood's Sarsaparilla with any other blood purifier in the market for purity, economy, strength, and medicinal merit.

Tired all the Time

"I had no appetite or strength, and felt tired all the time. I attributed my condition to scrofulous humor. I had tried several kinds of medicine without benefit. But as soon as I had taken half a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, my appetite was restored, and my stomach felt better. I have now taken nearly three bottles, and I never was so well." MRS. JESSIE F. DOLBEARE, Pascoag, R. I.

Mrs. C. W. Marriott, Lowell, Mass., was completely cured of sick headache, which she had 16 years, by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Everybody needs and should take a good spring medicine, for two reasons:

1st, The body is now more susceptible to benefit from medicine than at any other season.

2d, The impurities which have accumulated in the blood should be expelled, and the system given tone and strength, before the prostrating effects of warm weather are felt.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best spring medicine. A single trial will convince you of its superiority. Take it before it is too late.

The Best Spring Medicine

"I take Hood's Sarsaparilla for a spring medicine, and I find it just the thing. It tones up my system and makes me feel like a different man. My wife takes it for dyspepsia, and she derives great benefit from it. She says it is the best medicine she ever took." F. C. TURNER, Hook & Ladder No. 1, Boston, Mass.

"Last spring I was troubled with boils, caused by my blood being out of order. Two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla cured me. I can recommend it to all troubled with affections of the blood." J. SCHOCH, Peoria, Ill.

Fast Time at the London Turf Club Races.

The 2:50 Class Gets Over the Ground in 2:30½.

Good Sports on the Opening Day—The Programme for To-day and To-Morrow—Sporting News of All Kinds.

A rare day's sport and wet weather were the leading characteristics of the opening of the London Turf Club's spring meeting at Queen's Park yesterday. The rain did not prevent the programme from being carried out, nor did it make the day a failure as far as attendance was concerned. There is no doubt, though, that fine weather would have seen four times the crowd in attendance. As it was, the club did everything possible towards making all the visitors comfortable, throwing open the covered grand stand when the first shower began. Several thousand additional seats are in position, and with a bright sky to-day there is reason to expect many thousands. The duties of judges were very satisfactorily performed by R. C. Scott, of Tilsonburg, T. D. Hodgens, president of the Turf Club, and J. H. Brown, vice-president of the club. The clercial work was well managed by J. B. Vining, while Treasurer Minhinnick and Secretary Ferguson were also constantly on the move, making things run smoothly. The first event was

THE 2:50 CLASS—TROTTERS AND PACERS.

It was a hard matter to get the horses away together on the first heat, and Mollie Clark, the pole horse, was a half length lead when they got away, but she did not need the advantage as she pulled ahead of the field nicely at the first half and was not once headed. The race for second place was a pretty one, Charlie G. being forced out by Gertie Wilkes after the former had held second for a good part of the course, while Girtie was in turn passed by both by Charlie G. and W. Wallace. The last named broke badly on the third quarter, but steadied down and finished second, with Charley G. a half-length behind and Gertie Wilkes well up. When the shingle went out with 2:30½ on it the old-timers opened their eyes. It was, indeed, a fast clip—perhaps the swiftest this season in the 2:50 class.

The second heat saw the horses get away in a bunch, with Woodstock Belle in the rear, a place she maintained throughout the heat. Mollie Clark moved into the lead, but steadier work gave the lead at the half to Wallace. The two made a grand fight on the stretch. Mollie gained on her opponent inch by inch, but was a head behind when they reached the wire. Wilkes and Charlie G. tussled hard for third place, but Charlie pulled out on the last quarter. While slower than its predecessor, this was the most closely contested heat of the day. Time, 2:34.

Wallace took the third heat handily. Mollie Clark and Charlie G. passed the half neck and neck for second place, but the former broke a little and fell back to fourth place, Woodstock Belle going to third. Time, 2:38.

The fourth seemed likely to prove a surprise all round, as Woodstock Belle made Wallace sift rapidly in order to hold the lead. Charlie G. fell back to fourth, and Mollie saved second money by getting her nose under the wire third. Time, 2:37.

Summary—First race, 2:50 class; trotters and pacers; for purse of $250:

J. B. Dennis' (Coteau Landing, Que.) b. g. W. Wallace	2	1	1	1
A. B. Appleby's (Peterboro) b. m. Mollie Clark	1	2	4	3
A. B. Johnson's (Brantford) b. g. Charlie G.	3	3	2	4
J. Bridgewood's (Hamilton) Gertie B. Wilkes	4	4	5	5
George Fraser's (Woodstock) b. m. Woodstock Belle	5	5	3	2

Time—2:30½, 2:34, 2:38, 2:37.

TROTTERS—2:35 CLASS.

A good deal of running characterized the first heat in the 2:35 trot. Ruby T. seemed to get over the ground in a way that none of the others could equal, but at the third quarter Ruby was passed by Amboy and then fell to third before the better motion of Livingstone. Time, 2:35.

Ruby T. and Dr. Livingstone covered the front ground for a time in the second heat, but they were both passed at the half by Amboy. Ruby T. then fell to the rear, while the last horse, Eva A., pulled forward and came within a foot of Livingstone for second. Time, 2:41.

Amboy got the lead in the third heat and held it to the finish, but was set back for running. Livingstone led off second, but was passed by all the field owing to unfortunate breaks. Eva H. scarcely left her feet from start to finish and deserved the judges' award. Time, 2:38.

The splendid showing of Tom Burk was the only feature of the fourth procession, barring a little lively work for third place between Amboy and Livingstone. Eva H. won in 2:38¼.

Eva H. was at the front in the fifth heat until the last quarter, when Amboy forged ahead and won the race. Livingstone had a nice lead for a time but behaved badly and the field passed him. Time, 2:37.

Summary—Second race, 2:35 class, trotters, for purse of $250:

W. Whitty's (Sarnia) c. g. Amboy	1	1	2*	4 1
R. B. Elliott's (Port Huron) br. m. Eva H.	5	3	1	1 2
F. Livingstone's (Blyth) c. g. Dr. Livingstone	2	2	5	3 5

N. Sage's (London) b. s. Ruby T.	3	5	4	5 4

Time—2:35, 2:41, 2:38, 2:38¼, 2:37.

*Amboy set back for running.

THE FREE-FOR-ALL.

One, two, three was the order of all the heats in the free-for-all (trotters or pacers), and the time was very rapid when that fact is considered. The winner, Florence G., is an excitable and skittish animal, but was cleverly handled. Rosa B. chased Florence around at a distance varying from one to half a dozen lengths, while Finnegan seemed merely to be able to prevent being distanced.

Summary—Third race, free for all, trotting and pacing, purse $300:

Coleman Bros.' (Seaforth) br. m. Florence G.	1	1	1
T. Heatherington's (Cedar Springs) ch. m. Rosa B.	2	2	2
J. R. Trimble's (Port Huron) g. g. Finnegan	3	3	3

Time—2:27, 2:29½, 2:31.

NOTES.

Rather moist.

To-day and to-morrow.

The attendance of ladies was large.

Quite a few private carriages braved the moisture.

The number of pool sellers and fakirs was not large.

With fine weather, there should be a big crowd to-day.

The steeplechase to-morrow will prove a strong drawing card, it is expected.

A 7-year-old stable boy is one of the curiosities of the track. He sponges Charley G.

The cardboard programmes which are sold for 10 cents are neat and wonderfully convenient.

Meeting tickets, entitling the holder to all privileges, can be purchased at the Grigg and Tecumseh.

E. Livingstone had been sick for ten days previous to the race, but he handled his horse (Dr. Livingstone) well nevertheless.

The track was in splendid trim during the first half of the afternoon, but heavy showers made a little mud in the last half.

Mountain Boy and Jack the Ripper, entered for the 2:50 class, were scratched, the latter having been taken out of the city, and the former being absent from a similar cause. In the free-for-all Corneracker was scratched.

Mr. N. C. McPhail, of St. Thomas, sold his 5-year-old horse the other day to Mr. Fuller, of Woodstock, for $145.

Lord Alington and Sir Frederick Johnstone, joint owners of Common, have received an offer of $100,000 for the Derby winner, but have refused the tempting offer, as they hope to win as much in stakes before the end of the year. It is said the owners won at the Derby £15,000 in bets in addition to £5,000 stakes. One American plunger, who is well known on every race course in the United States, won £13,000 on the Derby and Oaks, betting only on Common and Mimi.

FAST TIME AT BUFFALO.

ATHLETICS.

To the Sporting Editor of the ADVERTISER:

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 31, 1891.

Dear Sir,—I am getting in good shape for my match with Richardson, and if he beats me again I will be satisfied that he is the better man. I think that the intense heat and luck favored him that night. I am very much obliged to you and the people for the kindness I received while in London. Yours respectfully,

DENNIS GALLAGHER.

Gallagher is expected in the city to-day, and will finish his training here. Richardson is also trimming up in Dorchester, and with both men so confident the Grand Opera House on the evening of Tuesday next, June 9, should be the scene of a splendid struggle for supremacy.

CRICKET.

On the county ground at Taunton, England, a remarkable cricket match was played the other day between the Somerset and Glastonbury clubs. The Glastonbury men went first to the bat, and were disposed of in an hour for 86 runs. The Somersets got 656 runs for nine wickets. The feature was the work done by Nichols, the Somerset professional, who carried out his bat for 311. Going in with the first wicket down he remained till the call of "time" at 6 o'clock. His hits included 39 four, 10 threes and 21 twos. He took five wickets for 17 runs. Gerald Fowler made 121, and then purposely knocked his wicket down.

FLYS.

"Chub" Collins has resigned from the Western Association umpire staff. He could not stand the abuse he received, particularly in Sioux City.

The Northwestern League is already in distress. Detroit is not in much better shape than the other village clubs of the league, the Wolverines having played poor ball.

That was an extraordinary first base record made by Dave Rowe in a recent game between the Lincoln and Minneapolis teams. He had no put outs or assists and made one error.

The Czarewitch has opened the first portion of the Trans-Siberian Railroad.

The Japanese policeman who wounded the Czarewitch recently in Japan has been sentenced to penal servitude for life.

An election for eleven judges of the Circuit Court was held at Chicago yesterday, and the banks and Board of Trade were closed.

At the opening of the June term of the Queen's Bench at Montreal Judge Church strongly opposed the proposition to abolish the grand jury system.

Postmaster-General Raikes states that all efforts to induce the United States Government to institute parcel post with Great Britain have failed.

A waterspout burst near the little village of Fairmount, Kan., Monday evening. No lives were lost, but many houses were flooded and the Union Pacific tracks were washed out.

Grain dealers at Winnipeg have received reports from different parts of the country, which agree in the assertion that crops are 25 per cent. further advanced this year than they were at the same time last year.

Peasants in the districts of Samara and Simbirsk, Siberia, recently revolted against the authorities. The uprising was only suppressed after a number of desperate conflicts.

Bessie Pinney, aged 20, daughter of Supreme Court Justice-elect Pinney, was instantly killed at Madison, Wis., Monday evening by jumping from a carriage attached to a runaway team. Miss Evans, of Plattsville, was injured.

WORK AND WAGES.

The Ontario Factories Act Enforced—Chicago Lathers on Strike.

New men will take the places of the 800 striking coal and ore handlers at Ashtabula harbor, Ohio, to-day. Trouble is anticipated.

Five hundred Chicago lathers struck Monday for an increase of 20 per cent. in wages. All the big contracts in the city are interrupted.

One thousand men employed as drillers by shipbuilding firms on the Clyde struck Monday. The strike is steadily spreading, and threatens to paralyze operations in all the shipyards along the river. One thousand weavers in Perth also went on strike to-day.

Mr. John Herle, of Hanover, Ont., was convicted of a contravention of the Ontario Factories Act on May 29, for employing a boy between the ages of 12 and 14 years without having a certificate of age, as required by the act. He was fined $1 and costs.

A Socialist Summons.

BERLIN, June 2.—A Socialist manifesto has been issued calling upon Socialists throughout the country to meet and protest against the Government's decision not to reduce the duty on grain.

Walt Whitman's Birthday.

CAMDEN, N.J., June 2.—The 72nd birthday of Walt Whitman, "the good gray poet," was celebrated at his home in this city Sunday evening. About 40 friends and admirers sat down to a dinner, the poet occupying the seat of honor at the head. He was in good health and spirits, and entertained his guests with selections from his own works and comments on literary affairs. Letter were read from Lord Alfred Tennyson, Richard Watson Gilder, Edmund Stedman and others.

TERRESTRIAL HEALING

A branch office of the Magnetic Meridian Vitapoise Company is now permanently located at 294 Dundas street, for the purpose of giving practical demonstrations of the healing virtues of the "Vitapoise," (or miniature earth.) It is the most wonderful healing instrument ever discovered. It only fails to cure the afflicted when their case is hopeless, and it makes no difference what ails you.

If you would like to investigate "TERRESTRIAL HEALING," call at the office, and Prof Reid, will cheerfully explain to you the mysteries of the subtle healing force contained in a Magnetic Meridian Vitapoise.

Separate rooms are fitted up for the treatment of ladies and gentlemen. We want every family and physician in Canada to buy a "Vitapoise," and we will accomplish our object if an afflicted member of every tenth family will give the instrument a trial, by taking a "course of treatment." Its application is absolutely painless and is also harmless; but disease will flee from before it as if driven away by magic.

Physicians! try a "Vitapoise" on one of your patients, having either la grippe, inflammation, fever, insomnia, neuralgia or rheumatism, and thereafter your "medical case" will be a secondary consideration so long as you have a "Vitapoise" with you

Car Shops Coming.

Agreement Reached Between the City and G. T. R.

The Preliminary Draft Before the Aldermen.

For a Bonus of $100,000 at Least 500 Will Be Employed.

The London and Port Stanley Lease to be Considered Separately—Orangemen Ask a Grant—Crown Attorney Hutchinson's Warning—A Batch of Business.

Both hands of the clock were nearing the hour of midnight when the city fathers emerged Monday from the Council Chamber, and most of them felt as if a hard evening's work had been their lot. For the first time the detailed nature of the proposed agreement with the G. T. R. regarding the establishment of the car shops in this city, and the cause of so many deputations, communications and ruminations, was openly discussed and allowed to be made public. Full reports of this and other business matters handled are appended.

THE ORANGEMEN'S REQUEST.

Among a batch of communications that of F. H. Wright, on behalf of the Orangemen of London District, No. 1, asking a grant of $200 towards the intended celebration on Monday, July 13, was singled out for immediate consideration at the request of Ald. W. W. Fitzgerald. Mr. Wright, Maurice Baldwin and others of the committee were heard in support of the petition, and Ald. W. W. Fitzgerald moved that the request be granted. Previous grants had been made, he said, to bring people into the city, and the proposed celebration would bring more to London than those whom the Council had recently assisted. Ald. Taylor seconded the motion.

Ald. Skinner thought such a precedent as these grants should never have been established; but no exception could be made in this case. He would support the petition on condition that the business cease with the present grant.

Ald. Bartlett also opposed the precedent, and as a means of stopping it moved that the petition be filed.

Ald. Thomas said July 12 or March 17 were holidays for special societies, while those days for the celebration of which the last grants were made were general public holidays.

Ald. Winnett said he would sooner give $5 from his own pocket than take the city's funds for the purpose, although he sympathized with the Orangemen in the matter.

Ald. Ivey moved that it be referred to No. 1 Committee.

Ald. W. W. Fitzgerald ridiculed the idea. Surely when the concentrated wisdom of that committee resulted in a grant for other societies that committee would not go back on these principles. He would vote for the discontinuance of these grants after the present petition had been acceded to.

Ald. Ivey's motion carried by a vote of 12 to 5.

By Ald. Connor, chairman: 1. We recommend that R. M. C. Toothe's communication re flooding of H. Matheson's cellar be filed, as the drain complained of is a private drain. 2. That Susan Crombie's communication be filed. 3. That Hyman street from Wellington to Waterloo be graded, and the cost thereof be charged to No. 4 ward. 4. That tenders be called for drain on Wellington, Hyman and Richmond streets; also tile sewer on William street from Queen's avenue to Dundas street. 5. That tenders be called for cedar-blocking Maryboro Place, and for a drain on Hamilton street and Maple avenue.

Clause No. 3 was sent back to the committee. To the last clause an addition was made providing for the cedar-blocking of Richmond street from Fullerton street to the C. P. R., and on Dundas street from Waterloo street to the fair grounds.

THE SMALLPOX HOSPITAL.

Ald. Ivey, chairman of the Board of Health, submitted the following brief report: 1. That the sum of $2,000 be placed to the credit of the Board, less the grant already made. 2. We recommend the land lying immediately south of the present hospital enclosure (but outside of same), as a suitable site for a smallpox hospital, or that the Council communicate with the County Council to see if joint action could not be taken in the matter for the selection of a site and erection of a building.

After some discussion regarding the merits and demerits of the locality specified in the second clause, the former portion of it was laid over, and so amended was sent back to No. 1 Committee to confer with the County Council.

THE CAR SHOPS AGREEMENT.

Then came the biggest item of the evening, the Council going into committee of the whole, Ald. Judd taking the chair. The following, addressed to the Council, explains itself:

Gentlemen,—The undersigned, in company with W. R. Meredith, one of the city solicitors, met the general manager and solicitor of the Grand Trunk Railway Company, and after a full discussion of the subject of the proposed agreement as to the erection of the company's car shops at London, a basis of the agreement, substantially in the terms of the annexed memorandum, was proposed by the company's representatives to be submitted to your honorable body for its consideration and approval. An informal discussion as to the London and Port Stanley Railway matter also took place, the result of which is embodied in the memorandum. All of which is respectfully submitted.

GEORGE TAYLOR, Mayor.
CHARLES H. IVEY, Alderman.

1. The Grand Trunk Railway Company, in consideration of $100,000, will erect, keep and maintain in the city of London (on the present car works site) their principal works west of the city of Toronto (but not including that city) for the construction and repair of all cars for their purpose for the district west of the said city of Toronto, and will after the erection of such works construct and repair all such cars at the said works.

2. The said works to be commenced within a reasonable time after final arrangements are completed, and to cost $150,000.

3. As soon as final arrangements are completed the corporation to deposit in their bank the sum of $100,000, to be held by the said bank in trust and to be paid out upon the joint order of the treasurers of the city and company.

4. Upon the certificate of the engineer of the company that $20,000 or upwards has been expended upon the said works, the treasurers of the city and company shall make and deliver to the company a check or order for the sum of $20,000. The city to be entitled to all interest earned upon the said amount while on deposit.

The company's engineer to give a final certificate as to the cost of the works.

5. The company agree with the city that if at any time the said works are discontinued or removed from the city of London they will in such event refund to the corporation the said sum of $100,000.

6. The meaning of the expression "west of Toronto" to be the same as in the Stratford agreement.

7. The company agree to submit to the city engineer the plan of the works to be constructed and to construct the same according to it.

8. The company to employ at the works in car building and car repairing a force of at least 500 men on the average for the year, and to employ them continuously, subject to the right of the company to shut down for repairs, slackness of work, or any other sufficient cause, for a period not exceeding on the whole in the year six weeks.

9. The company desire a fixed valuation of their present property, including the proposed car shops, for the purpose of assessment, this basis of valuation to continue to be the basis for a term of years.

10. The company is desirous of negotiating for the renewal of the lease of the London and Port Stanley Railway, the two matters, however, to be kept separate and the city not to be bound to renew the said lease.

11. The company intimated its readiness to agree to a renewal of the lease of the London and Port Stanley Railway upon any fair basis. Either the renewal to be based on a traffic arrangement between the two roads, and the share of the earnings belonging to the London and Port Stanley Railway to be the rental, but a minimum sum, below which the rental is not to fall, to be fixed, or to renew the lease upon similar terms to what they have it now, the consideration to be agreed upon.

12. When the basis of the car shops agreement has been reached a draft agreement to be prepared by the solicitors of the city and the company, the agreement to contain all necessary provisions for securing to both parties the benefits contracted for.

Clause 1 passed.

Clause 2 was amended at Ald. Thomas' suggestion by the addition of the words: "That in estimating the $150,000 the value of the present buildings, plant and grounds be not included."

The 3rd clause carried, although Ald. Thomas moved in amendment that the $150,000 be composed of $100,000 guaranteed by the city and $50,000 by the company, to be paid out in the proportion of $1 of the city's money to $2 of the company's.

In amendment to clause 4, Ald. Gartshore moved that $30,000 be substituted for $20,000, the balance of the money to be paid in the same proportion as the work progresses. Carried.

Clause 5 was amended by the insertion of the words, "or any part thereof," after the word works, and by the addition of "And in case the buildings or any part be destroyed by fire, tempest or other casualty, the company be required to rebuild within a reasonable time."

Ald. Ivey threw light on clause 6 by reading the following portion of the Stratford agreement referred to: "The expression, 'west of Toronto,' shall cover all that portion of the Province of Ontario which lies west of a line drawn north and south through the western limit of the city of Toronto, and shall include all that portion of Ontario extending as far east as the Niagara River, and the said expression shall cover the Northern and Northwestern railroads, and all railroads which are now or shall be owned, leased or otherwise controlled by the company, or over which they have running powers within that portion of the Province lying west of a line drawn north and south through the western limit of the city of Toronto, but it does not cover the city of Toronto nor any part of the Midland division." Clause approved.

Clause 7 met with no objection.

Clause 8—Ald. O'Meara moved that the company be required to employ their men six days in the week, full time and at reasonable wages. Lost. The clause was adopted with Ald. Wilkey's valuable suggestion that the employes must reside in the city.

Clause 9—It was decided to fix the valuation of the property of the G. T. R. at $400,000 for a period of six years.

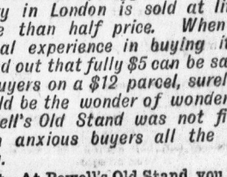

Clause 10 and 11 were laid over for future reference.

Clause 12 was adopted and the solicitor instructed to make provision for a bylaw to be submitted to the people. The Council adjourned to meet at the call of the mayor. In the meantime the solicitors of the city and company will meet and an agreement, with all legal exactness of phraseology, must be submitted to the Council for approval before it can be voted on by the ratepayers. Those present were: Mayor Taylor, Aldermen Wyatt, Connors, Taylor, O'Meara, Ivey, W. W. Fitzgerald, Winnett, Skinner, Gartshore, F. J. Fitzgerald, Scarrow, J. Fitzgerald, Bartlett, Wilkey, Thomas, Judd, Shaw, City Clerk Kingston and Commissioner Grant.

THE COMING CROPS.

Summary of the Prospects in Ontario.

Wheat Looking Fairly Well, But Hay in Poor Condition—Fruit Promises Fair.

Following are the crop reports from the various sections of the Province:

Tavistock, Oxford—Prospects for spring and fall wheat in this vicinity fair; barley, oats and peas looking well, but suffering for rain. Hay light; fruit only half a crop; prospects bad; root crops will be poor if dry weather continues long.

Lucan, Middlesex—The fall wheat in this district looks remarkably well; the spring-sown crops show up well, but require rain very badly. Clover, timothy and other grasses very backward, and there will be no second crop of clover taken this year. Root crops are also backward. However, with a few days' rain these will be all right. The general feeling is that there will be a very good harvest this year. The fruit trees have all blossomed well, and if no frost comes now there will be a good yield of apples and plums.

Tiverton, Bruce—At present fall wheat and spring grain look fairly well. Hay is short on account of dry weather. Fruit trees at present give a very promising crop; laden with blossoms. Prospects for coming season good.

Madoc, Bruce—Hay very light; fall wheat and rye light; spring wheat good; peas good; oats fair. Prospects depend very largely upon rain within a week or two.

Newburgh, Addington—Fall wheat and rye poor; spring grains looking well; good prospect for fruit, especially apples.

Carleton Place, Lanark—The crops are in a fair condition in this locality.

Hanover, Grey—The crops in this part of the country are suffering terribly for want of rain. The hay will be almost a total failure. Fruit will be scarce.

Beamsville, Lincoln—Winter wheat and grass looking well but short. Spring grains just up and at a standstill for want of rain. Prospects good for plums, apples, cherries, currants and berries. Grapes and peaches probably one-half crop.

Tara, Bruce—The crops in this vicinity are looking bad for want of rain. Not enough rain has fallen during the past six weeks to lay the dust in this locality. The prospects are poor. Hay will probably be not more than half a crop. Fall wheat, if we get rain soon, may be a fair crop, as it stood the winter well. The fruit crop here will be a poor one and below the average.

Newcastle, Durham—Crops in this vicinity are looking well.

Norwood, Peterboro—Prospects of a good crop this season are very poor.

Leamington, Essex—Fall wheat promises a larger crop than there has been for years. Oats suffering from dry weather. Fruit promises well.

Teeswater, Bruce—Fall wheat fair. All spring crops suffering from want of rain.

Dungannon, Huron—Fall wheat good; spring grain fair. Hay short. Apples not half crop; plums good; small fruits, prospects good. Roots, cannot say what they will be.

Palmerston, Wellington—Wheat looking well. Spring crop backward for want of rain. The fruit crop very moderate.

Hagersville, Haldimand—Fall wheat good; spring wheat rather poor; barley poor; peas backward; oats promise half a crop; hay very short; prospects of a light crop.

Delhi, Norfolk—Fall crops good; spring crops fair; hay average; large fruits poor; small fruits medium; very dry; prospects largely depend on rain.

Vienna, Elgin—Fall wheat good in this locality; spring wheat but little sown; peas, oats and grass is very light.

In advanced age the declining powers are wonderfully refreshed by Hood's Sarsaparilla. It really does "make the weak strong."

MIRACLE OF MODERN DAYS.

Hamilton Produces One of the Most Remarkable Cures on Record.

"Totally Disabled," Yet Cured.

Hamilton Times, May 27, 1891.

One of the most remarkable cures in the history of medicine has just been effected in this city and the fame of it is fast spreading throughout the land. Over four years ago Mr. John Marshall, then employed as manager of Mr. J. C. Williams' coal oil refinery works here, sustained a fall, which at the time was not thought to be serious. He doctored, but his trouble grew worse, and contracting cold after cold upon his other trouble he was compelled to give up work entirely. His troubles developed into ataxy, a nervous disorder, held by medical authorities to be incurable. For four years Mr. Marshall has been an intense sufferer. He lost the use of his legs entirely and could not raise himself from a chair except by the use of a crutch and a stick. Though there was power in his legs there was no feeling. They were like dead weights, cold as ice and not susceptible to feeling. He could take his heavy stick and hammer the flesh until the sound of the blows filled the house. During the course of these years no less than fourteen leading physicians of this city treated him. Sometimes two or three of them were in attendance at once. All agreed that his disease was incurable. Mr. Marshall went to Toronto for electrical treatment at a heavy expense, but received not the slightest benefit. He tried every patent medicine that was recommended to him, yet without getting any aid. The "suspension" treatment was resorted to, and he was suspended by means of appliances around his neck and under his arms from the ceiling of the barn, but got no relief. Electric belts and appliances of an endless variety were tried, and thoroughly tried, too, but all resulted the same way—they left Mr. Marshall just as they had found him. At one time twenty pins were run right into the flesh of his leg. He barely felt two of them; the others he did not feel at all. His flesh was cut into with a knife, and he felt not the slightest pain; and so he went on until the 13th day of April last, every remedy suggested by any one being tried, and hundreds of dollars spent upon patent medicines, to say nothing of doctors' bills.

Mr. Marshall was a member of the Royal Templars of Temperance. He was passed by the physicians of the order as totally disabled for life. The chief medical examiner passed him, and he was paid the $1,000 paid by the order in cases of total disability.

A day or two ago a Times representative called upon Mr. Marshall at his residence, No. 25 Little William street. The door was open, and upon knocking a strong, steady step was heard. Mr. Marshall opened the door and received the reporter cordially. He walked without either crutch or stick, and looked the picture of a sturdy fine man. He conversed freely of his case, as did Mrs. Marshall, who came in later. "Five weeks ago," he said, "I could not raise my foot or bend my leg. As for walking without a stick or crutch it was impossible. I had seen an advertisement of Dr. William's Pink Pills, and as they were especially recommended for nervous disorders, I resolved to try them. I had what the doctors called Locomotor Ataxy. I had not walked for almost four years. My wife said, 'Oh, what's the use of trying another patent medicine?' but I tried the Pink Pills. I had not used one box before I began to feel the effects. The feeling came back to my right leg first. After using them two weeks I was able to walk up to Mr. C. J. Williams' place on McNab street, over a mile and a half from here, and back. I had got nearly home when my left leg gave out, and I nearly went down. I had to stand and rub the leg for several minutes. Then it felt as if a thousand pins were running in it. That was the blood beginning to circulate in the leg that had been dead almost four years. From that time it has steadily improved. Now you see how I am. (Here Mr. Marshall arose and walked briskly around the room without artificial assistance.) I have used absolutely nothing but the Pink Pills and taken cold baths as directed on the boxes. To-day I walked to the market and back—a three-mile walk. I have lived in Hamilton for 30 years and am well-known. Hundreds of people stopped me on the streets. Some of them stopped me to see if it was really John Marshall. Hundreds of people have been here to see me. Among them came several physicians who attended me. One of them, and the one who did the most for me, said, 'Well, you are the first cure in 10,000 cases.' I can tell you of a bank messenger in this city who has not walked as straight in 25 years as he has this last week. He took Pink Pills on my recommendation. Scores more in this city are trying them and quite a number in this vicinity have been benefited."

Mr. Marshall is gaining strength rapidly and expects to be back to his work before long. He grows more enthusiastic in talking of Pink Pills and he has good reason to, for his is a remarkable salvation. Since beginning to use the remedy he has regained lost flesh and now weighs more than he has for nine years. He has not an ache or pain, but is conscious of a delicious feeling of healthy life in his legs.

The remarkable case noted in the above article from the Hamilton Times conclusively proves that the proprietors of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have in no way overstated the merits of their remedy. Pink Pills are a never-failing blood builder and nerve tonic, and are equally valuable for men or women, young or old. They cure all forms of debility, female weaknesses, suppressions, chronic constipation, headache, St. Vitus' dance, loss of memory, premature decay, etc., and by their marvelous action on the blood, build up the system anew and restore the glow of health to pale and sallow complexions. These pills are sold by all dealers or will be sent post-paid on receipt of price (50 cents a box) by addressing the Dr. Williams Medical Company, Brockville, Ont.

The Nugents of Carriconna

An Irish Story.

By Tighe Hopkins, author of "Twixt Love and Duty," "For Freedom," etc.

CHAPTER XXXV.

A TRIFLING ADVENTURE.

John Maher had to follow Dr. Maguire from the doctor's own house to that of a friend a mile and half farther on, and when Carriconna was reached again, some two hours later, the patient was in a high fever. He was worse the next day, and Dr. Maguire had to tell Miss Nugent that her nephew was suffering frem a rather sharp attack of brain fever.

"Now what has Arthur been doing?" asked the doctor of Barbara.

"Well, you know how hard he has been working at Doyne, and bothered about their matters there, doctor; and, I suppose, he wasn't fully strong from the fever he had in Africa, though he never looked better in his life than he did when he came home." Barbara did not care to add, though the doctor was a family friend of many years' standing, that a chief cause of Arthur's worries lay in his father's unaccountable attitude towards himself and Kitty, his unwillingness to make any settlement with Arthur, or even to suggest the prospect of one.

Word of his illness had of course been sent to Doyne; and of course also the message that was received there was answered quickly enough by Kitty in person.

Barbara had described Arthur's case as mildly as possible, so that Lady Frayne did not think it necessary to accompany Kitty, who was dispatched on a car with a policeman on the other side of her as escort.

"I knew he was going to be ill, Barbara; but he would go on till he could scarcely stand, and I am sure I wish those wretched crops had all been lost before it came to this. Can't I go up and see him?"

"My dear, I'd let you in a minute if I dared. But the doctor won't allow a creature near him except myself and his father."

"Oh, dear," sobbed Kitty, "and to think that it's all our fault."

"Now, there's foolishness for you," said Barbara; "'tis nobody's fault at all, and 'tis just a mercy that the whole of us are not down with fever this minute, you and your mother and all."

"Where's Mrs. Lytton?" asked Kitty, not quite assured as to Barbara's assertion that Anthony and his aunt were Arthur's sole guardians.

Mrs. Lytton? She went off at nine this morning to Rathfarline to get ice."

"Why, Rathfarline is ten miles away," said Kitty.

"'Tis, every step of it," answered Barbara with a sigh; "and how we'll manage to get a regular supply, I don't know."

"Must he have ice every day?"

"Every day, and all day for the present. But, my dear, I must go upstairs again. And tell me now, how will you manage at home?"

"Oh, never mind us, Barbara; we've had the worst of it now. Well, I shall get over somehow this afternoon or this evening, if I'm pelted on the road."

"Indeed, don't be running any risk. Won't we find means to let you know somehow? And for the next few days there's nothing to be done but wait the course of the fever."

Kitty went sorrowfully off, and Miss Nugent returned to the sick room, where, and during several succeeding weeks, all her interests, and affections were centered. It was a struggle for life with Arthur, and the resources of the household, isolated in that sequestered region, were strained to the utmost to obtain the means necessary to aid him in the contest.

Dora bore her part with the rest, nursing, watching and waiting, and had scant leisure to be troubled about her own concerns. She had seen Trenchard once or twice since their last meeting on the road, for he, as in duty bound, had made calls of inquiry at Carriconna; and when disengaged, it was Dora who had received him. But these visits had necessarily been of the briefest, and when he and Dora saw each other they both felt that their own affairs must wait until the acute crisis of anxiety about Arthur was over Once, as she was bidding him good-bye at the hall door, Dora said gently:

"You have not told me how you are yourself?"

"Not worse at any rate," he replied almost cheerfully. "Hope is a powerful lieutenant."

Dora had not replied in words, but a glad look sprang into her face, which was somewhat pale and weary with the close duties of the last few days; and he had seen her gladness before the door closed upon him. It was a strange time for Dora; a mere inmate of the house, yet called upon in this emergency to act as a daughter of the house. She felt half tempted more than once during this time of anxiety and trouble to declare herself to Barbara. She felt instinctively that their near relationship at this moment would be a comfort to her aunt, who had learned to depend trustfully on Dora's constant alertness and bountiful physical strength. But the remembrance of Anthony's secret withheld her. That hoard of gold in the tower cellar weighed upon her like a nightmare. One night, when she was keeping watch by the bedside of Arthur, who lay muttering to himself, his restless hands never ceasing to fidget over the sheets of his bed, the thought had occurred to her:

"If Arthur should not recover who will inherit all that hoard? Would Anthony die and make no sign?"

Then she went on to wonder what could be the meaning of his avaricious habit? out of what purpose could it have arisen? When she first came to Carriconna he had been all for spending. Had not his sister been anxious lest he should spend too quickly? What was it that had turned him about, and so suddenly? Had he any dread of losing the money? Could he possibly suspect her identity? The thought made her tremble, sitting alone in the dimness of the sick room. Could she in any way have betrayed herself? But no; she felt certain that she had not; it was absurd. She had touched the precipice more than once, she knew, but that was all. The mystery remained a mystery to Dora, and the anxious days and nights moved slowly away, and the crisis of Arthur's illness passed, and he began to creep back to convalescence.

Grey November days had succeeded to the brilliant harvest season before Arthur made his first descent to the dining-room, where Aunt Barbara and Kitty made a festival ot afternoon tea in his honor; and the days were shortening with woeful rapidity before he was strong enough to pass beyond the hall-door, leaning on Kitty's little plump arm.

"I'll have to drive over to Rathfarline to-day," announced Anthony one morning at breakfast, "to take the rents. Is there anything ye're wanting, Barbara?"

"I think I'll want to go with you, Anthony," replied Barbara. "I've some shopping to do, and I must do it there or in Dublin. Will you come with us, Mrs. Lytton? You weren't out this good while."

"I should like it very much; but can one really shop at Rathfarline?"

Barbara laughed.

"Well, if you don't want the modes," said she. "You mustn't be thinking about the modes. They're not too great at the modes in Rathfarline."

"And what'll Arthur do with the two of you away?" asked Anthony.

"Kitty's coming to drive him over to Doyne for luncheon to-day. The doctor says he may go if he's home quite early."

"Then I'll leave John here to hurdle up the new sheepfolds. Can ye be ready by ten?"

"Why couldn't we?" answered Barbara.

The rents which Anthony had to go to Rathfarline to collect were attached to a small property owned by him in that neighborhood; a property that always cost him money and never brought him any. He collected the rents there twice a year, or rather he went there twice a year to make a show of collecting them, for in general he spent the greater part of the day in listening to the arguments of his tenants as to why they should not or could not pay any rents at all. It was a long, lonely and dreary ride, a dark cold day, and nothing comforting in Anthony's conversation, for he talked of the days when the return journey from Rathfarline, with the rents stowed in the well of the car, was not unattended with dangers by the way. Indeed, through mere force of habit, Anthony still carried with him on his rent-day journeys to Rathfarline the old horse pistol, which had sometimes been a useful companion on similar journeys a generation earlier.

He favored (and tried to frighten) Dora with a sight of that arm; but Dora, being, as we know, a pistol woman, was only shocked at his hopeless antiquity.

"It won't go off very easily," said Anthony kindly, mistaking Dora's expression of contempt for one of alarm.

"No," she replied "I think I would rather stand before than behind it."

Anthony, crestfallen, returned the pistol to its leathern case.

"Have you many rents to collect, Mr. Nugent?" asked Dora.

Is a good name of Dr. Dorenwend's German preparation for the hair. It really works like magic. All who have used it pronounce it to be unequaled for remedying the lost vitality of the hair roots, restoring gray hair, removing dandruff, etc. Just try it. It is first-class. All druggists sell it

ABOUT HAIR

Editor of the Advertiser:

Sir,—I have, as you know, for some time advertised in Canada and the States a prescription for the hair called "Dr. Dorenwend's Hair Magic." I have received some thousands of flattering testimonials from those who have used it as to its merits as a restorative of gray or faded hair; also as a promoter of the growth and a certain cure for dandruff.

A great many of my correspondents ask the questions: "Why is my hair turning gray so early? Why is my hair falling out?" As it is impossible for me to answer every one, I take the liberty of encroaching on your valuable space to make a general reply. A great many persons do not seem to be aware that excessive washing and rubbing is injurious to the growth of the hair; such is the case, however. Constant washing and rubbing the scalp and hair causes over irritation and removes the oily substance which gives strength to the hair; undue heat caused by the wearing of heavy headgear is also injurious. Anything that will tend to dry up the sap or life of the hair will cause dandruff, falling out of the hair, gray or faded hair and finally baldness. Of course there are other causes as diseases, hereditary tendencies, etc., but the first mentioned are the main and most common.

Dr. Dorenwend, an eminent German physician, has given to the world after years of toil and experiment his now famous "Hair Magic." The object of this preparation is to assist nature in the production of this oily substance absolutely necessary to the growth of the hair. It is now sold by all reliable druggists at $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5, or will be sent on receipt of price to any address. See that each wrapper bears the seal and signature of the manufacturer.

Curative Fluid
FOR INDIGESTION—Use from a half to one teaspoonful in not less than from one to two wine glasses of water, three or four times a day. In cases of fever or inflammation of the bowels, use every hour until relief. For children, half the above. For infants under 6 months old use from five to ten drops.
FOR CATARRH OR ULCERATED SORE THROAT—Use as a gargle a teaspoonful in one-half a tumbler of water and gargle the throat frequently, both for Catarrh and Sore Throat. Use a douche or spray for the nose, a teaspoonful in a tumbler of water; spray often. It will positively cure the worst Catarrh and purify the breath. Take as for Indigestion.
A lady correspondent writes: "I had suffered from Indigestion for years. When I ate food I suffered great pain; was often bloated up; lost my rest at night; felt weak and languid; my kidneys became much affected; very frequently felt sick at my stomach. I was advised by our minister to use your Curative Fluid. I have used two bottles and am now perfectly well and able to attend to my household duties. Yours, MRS. ALECIA H——."

—Thomas B. Scott, Vanneck, has furnished the ADVERTISER with specimens of four, five, six and seven-leaved clover, each plucked last Saturday by his daughter Nettie. A few years ago Mr. Scott sent a similar combination to the ADVERTISER, making it still more extraordinary. Mr. Scott also mentions a remarkable stalk of alfafa, or California clover, 21 inches long, and having 13 branches and 74 leaves. No appearance yet of blossoming; said to bear three cuttings yearly.

A Serious Charge.

Eli Chandler, a private of "D" Company, I. S. Fire at Mechanics' Institute.

Fire started Monday night in some unknown way in the roof of the southern part of the Mechanics' Institute, now used by the Salvation Army as a barracks. The army was holding services at the time and the crowd moved out at a lively rate when the cry of fire was raised. The Mechanics' Institute library, the rooms of the Western Art League and the Orange Hall did not suffer. The fire was confined to the roof, but the damage will not fall short of $1,000. The insurance on the building amply covers all loss.

The Opening in the Dam.

The water commissioners yesterday decided to call for tenders for the construction of the opening in the waterworks dam, and will hold a special meeting in two weeks to consider the same. Plans and specifications have been prepared and are in the possession of the city engineer for the benefit of would-be contractors. A four-inch main will also be laid on Lyle street, between King and York streets.

The General Sessions.

The case of McGill vs. Grand Trunk, an action for damages on account of alleged non-delivery of fruit, was dismissed with costs to the plaintiff. Marshall vs. Ensign is now being tried. It is stated that defendant went surety, for $200 for an agent of the plaintiff named Anderson. The defense maintains that the transaction was made while defendant was under the influence of liquor. The grand jury brought in a true bill against Silas McNames, of the Wharncliffe Inn, for alleged larceny of $30 from Caleb Perkins, of Westminster.

TOURISTS IN TROUBLE.

English and German Pleasure-Seekers Captured by Brigands and Held for $40,000 Ransom.

LONDON, June 2.—It is stated that brigands in the vicinity of Tcheresskyi on Sunday derailed a train and made captives of several German and English tourists who were among the passengers. One of them was a banker of Berlin. The brigands demand $40,000 as a ransom for the captives, and Chancellor Von Caprivi has telegraphed to the German ambassador at Constantinople authorizing him to advance this amount. The other passengers were robbed of their belongings and were then left alone. The place where the act of brigandage occurred lies between Constantinople and Adrianople. The band which made the attack numbered 30, and was led by the noted robber, Anastasius. The brigands first seized the watch on duty at the railroad station, and then tore up the rails for some distance and allowed the cars to dash on to possible destruction. When the eastern express reached the spot the engine tumbled over on its side, dragging over with it the tender, a baggage car and all the third-class passenger coaches. The first-class passenger car remained on the track. When the train was thus disabled the brigands rushed forward, uttering loud yells and, brandishing their guns, threateningly boarded the cars. Several passengers resisted the attack of the brigands, who replied with a volley from their guns and dangerously wounded one man. The outlaws finally overcame the occupants of the cars, and then stripped the travelers of all their valuables and looted their baggage. When the brigands ended their work of robbery they seized four passengers in the first class cars, and also the engineer of the train, and started with their captives for their rendezvous in the mountains. The men carried away were Oscar Greger, Herr Israel, a banker, of Berlin; Herr Maquet, a landowner, of Sigelsdorf, Bavaria; Oscar Kortish, of Zorbig, Prussian Saxony, and Freundiger, the engineer of the express. Upon reaching their retreat the bandits sent Herr Israel to get a ransom of $40,000, which they demanded for the release of the prisoners. Herr Van Radowitz, the German consul, claims that the Porte will refund this money.

Killed on the M. C. R. Track.

ST. THOMAS, June 2.—The body of John Lee, aged 27, who was working for his father, John Lee, farmer, near Perry, was found by the side of the M. C. R. track Sunday morning. The deceased had left home at 8 o'clock the night before to go for the mare and is supposed to have been struck by a freight train and instantly killed. He was at one time M. C. R. agent at Perry station.

A BURNING SORE LEG.
Ulcers Form. Hospitals and Doctors Useless. Crazed With Pain. Cured by Cuticura Remedies.

About eight years ago I wrote you from Wilkesbarre, Pa., describing how your wonderful remedies completely cured me of a terrible case of eczema or salt rheum. I must now tell you what CUTICURA REMEDIES have again done for me. On the 22nd of last September I had the misfortune to bruise my leg, and I put a piece of sticking plaster on it. Inside of a week I had a terrible leg. My wife became frightened and advised me to go to a surgeon. I went, and doctored for two months, but no good was done me, besides costing me big money. My leg had by this time formed into an ulcer, and got worse every day. I could not stand it any longer, and made up my mind to go to a hospital and see if I could be helped. I went to several here in the city, in turn, but none could do me any good. I had a terrible leg, with a hole in it as big as a dollar, and pain that almost set me crazy. I got scared about it, and determined to try CUTICURA REMEDIES. I obtained a set, and inside of five weeks my leg was healed up as well as it ever was, except the terrible scar it left for a reminder of what was once a terrible sore leg. These REMEDIES are worth their weight in gold.

JOHN THIEL, 243 E. 93rd street, New York.
